Prohibition Can Be Enforced, Pinchot Says

HEAVY RAIN STORMS CONTINUE IN STATE

FOUR KILLED AND TRAIN SERVICE IS BADLY HAMPERED

THE RIVERS IN STATE RISE RAPIDLY AND FEARS OF FLOODS HELD

(By The Associated Press)
DALLAS, Tex., April 21.—Unabated in violence, heavy rain storms that maltreated Southwest Texas yesterday, moved on early today to the central and Northeastern part, adding another victim to the three already dead, and bringing fears of floods.

Numerous railroad washouts disrupted train schedules.

Olmos Creek near San Antonio was on a threatening rampage, but damage may be averted if there is no more rain.

Eighteen hours rains in central Texas swelled streams to overflowing, and resulted indirectly in the death of Little McMahon of Dale, who was drowned in a creek torrent in which his automobile stalled early today. His death was the fourth since early yesterday when two little girls were drowned near Snyder in a flooded gulch, and J. H. Burroughs, Lubbock county farmer, was killed by lightning.

Austin reports said the deluge in central Texas reached eight inches at Houston, while the whole section was liberally drenched.

San Marcos received six and one-half inches accompanied by violent electrical disturbances.

Dallas was in the center of general downpours that covered all North Texas, extending to the extreme Eastern border.

STATE AND NATIONAL HEADS MUST DETERMINE TO ENFORCE LAW, LETTER TO BOARD SAYS

COOPERATION OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES MAKES TASK STILL EASIER, GOVERNOR SAYS IN CITING STATISTICS OF THE STATE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
WASHINGTON, April 21.—The prohibition law can be enforced in any place where the state or the national government firmly determines to enforce it, Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania said today in a letter sent to the Senate committee which is conducting hearings on modification bills.

Where local authorities cooperate, he said, the task is made still easier, and he submitted statistics of Pennsylvania conditions which he said proved that the law was being enforced there with steadily increasing success.

When the committee assembled, the drys formally demanded three additional hours in which to conclude their case. They explained that much of the twenty-four hours allotted them had been taken up with cross-examination by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, the committee wet prosecutor. The Senators took the demand under advisement and the drys went ahead with their case, calling Oliver W. Stewart, of Chicago, president of the flying squadron foundation of Indianapolis, as the first witness.

Stewart made a brief statement in which he declared conditions were improving prohibitory and then the drys put on the stand S. L. Stringings, of Castle, N. Y., who said he spoke for the National Grange. He filed a brief recapitulating the attitude of the Grange over sixty years on moral questions, and opposing any change in the dry laws. Many farms are going into the hands of foreigners, he said, and the one way to inoculate patriotism in these people is for Americans to obey the law.

In the absence of Senator Reed, cross examination of the dry witnesses, was conducted by Julien Coleman, counsel for the wet managers. When Coleman concluded his statement, Coleman asked:

"How do you represent the National Grange?"

"I was appointed by the executive committee."

"How many men compose that committee?"

"So, by a vote of three men you represent all the farmers of the country?"

"No, I represent the million in the National Grange."

"Do the farmers know you represent them?"

"Yes."

"Did you communicate with them after your appointment?"

"It would be impossible to communicate with a million."

"I thought so."

"Farmers can make cider and wine under the Volstead act?"

"Yes."

"Isn't it made extensively?"

"I don't know and I can speak only for myself."

"Wouldn't it be fair to give the working men the same privilege as the farmers?"

"They have it now."

"Oh, no they don't and you know it. They have not the facilities."

"They can get them."

"Are you in favor of repealing the section of the Volstead act allowing you to make cider and wine?"

"No."

"Do the farmers want it repealed?"

"No."

"That's all."

Another United States District Attorney, A. E. Bernsteen, of Cleveland, Ohio, was called next by the drys. He said his office handled 814 liquor cases from July 1, 1924 to July 1, 1925.

"From July 1, 1925, to April 1, last, we had 831 cases," he added. "Since April 1 there have been 51 cases."

"What's the best way to bring about enforcement of the law?" asked Senator Coffey, republican, West Virginia. "Prosecution with full sentences," Bernsteen replied. "Fines mean nothing."

Canon Williams Chase, superintendent of the International Reform Association, declared prohibition had not caused any "crime wave."

"The lawlessness and revolt of youth is as strong in countries which do not have prohibition," he said. "Young people in Germany and England are carrying hip flasks, and revolting against inherited conventions of morality and respect for law as well as in America."

The witness gave it as his opinion that "the greatest one universal cause of crime" is the unregulated motion picture. He protested against the motion picture before the committee, saying that what really was sought was "intoxicating liquor."

BETTER HIGHWAY FACILITIES ARE TALKED AT MEET

C. OF C. LUNCHEON SEES FIRST GUN FIRED IN ROAD CAMPAIGN

First plans in the calling of a special road bond election for Lubbock county, were laid Tuesday in a noonday luncheon, held at the Tech cafe by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, with State Highway Commissioner John Cago, as honor guest. According to a statement issued Wednesday morning by J. A. Rix, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce who presided in the absence of President Oscar L. Slaton, the twenty one persons present at the luncheon were practically unanimous in opinion that bonds should be voted in a sum large enough to insure the construction of real, high grade hard surface roads in the county rather than depending on caliche construction, which at its best is little more than temporary.

Situation Discussed

At the luncheon, which was attended by members of the Chamber of Commerce, including George A. Fields and R. K. Garrett, and other interested persons, the highway situation was discussed fully and the most logical outcome decided as a call for a special election. Mr. Field was asked to arrange data on the proposition and to make a later report to the organization as to his findings.

R. J. Murray, Mayor Pink L. Paris, City Manager A. B. Davis, Garland Woodward and W. K. Dickinson made short talks concerning the need of good roads and Commissioner Cago also spoke to the group.

Just what method will be followed in calling the election is not yet decided. Mr. Rix told the Journal this morning that what the Chamber of Commerce wanted before getting actively behind the movement was the opinion of the individual citizens of the county and the city. "We want to know what the people want," Mr. Rix said, "and at the same time we want real roads while we are getting them."

A. E. Davis, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said the trouble with road building, as he has seen it during the past ten years of actual experience, that people wanted the most miles for their money rather than the most roads. He says that it is his opinion that the Chamber of Commerce should be active.

Slaton Men Go After WHEN IT RAINS IT POURS

(Special To The Journal)
SLATON, Apr. 21.—"When it rains it pours." The bird who sent the news out over the world that it never rains in West Texas should have been here yesterday, following the lurch and three-quarter deluge which swept the city. He would have seen something to change his mind.

Following the rain the downtown section was flooded and two strong men found an innkeeper. They scolded row a boat to the postoffice, they said, and they made good their boat, paddling a row boat down the main avenue to the postoffice, and back again. Only one time did they have to forsake the boat and that was to lift it over a concrete crossing on one of the main corners.

The men are M. O. Napps, who weighs 295 pounds, and Bob Whitacre, who tips the beam at 170.

Believe it or not—but it's true for in West Texas when it rains it pours.

While in the city Doctor Harris, who is widely known as one of Chicago's leading specialists, highly praised the work of Doctors Hutchinson and Krueger and of the staff of the sanitarium. Mrs. G. W. Officials and Jurymen Labor To Clear Docket; Judge Is Highly Pleased

Cooperation on the part of county and district officials, jurors and attorneys is making the present term of District court highly efficient and in spite of the enforced absence of Judge Clark M. Mullican from his bench at the dockets is being rapidly diminished, it was shown at the courthouse Wednesday.

Special Judge Hill Stewart, who was elected by members of the District Bar association to sit in the place of Judge Mullican, has the machinery of the court running smoothly and, while giving the credit to his associates in the work, expressed himself as being highly pleased with the condition of the term thus far.

Three cases tried Tuesday

Three jury cases were disposed of Tuesday and Wednesday court was opened at eleven-thirty, immediately after the arrival of Slaton jurymen, who were forced to come to Lubbock on the train, due to the heavy condition of the roads. Cases disposed of Tuesday included R. H. Purkinson, vs. T. H. Sears; First State Bank of Slaton vs. H. G. Hawley, and Katherine Taylor vs. Arthur Taylor. Verdict in the first case favored T. H. Sears and that of the second the Slaton bank. The Taylor case was dismissed.

99 Inch of Rain Here Past 24 Hours

The fall in the South end of the county was heavier than any other portion, reports reaching here indicate.

We Just Now Thought of a Comparison Between a Building and a Suit of Clothes

You can build of wood, brick or stone, can't you? But if the architecture is poor it's going to be a homely building in any case, isn't it? Just so a suit of clothes can be made up in worsted, flannel or cheviot. But if it is poorly cut, it's going to be a poor suit, even though the fabric's a fine one. Right?

table decorations for the evening. The table was formed into the shape of a "T" and the maroon and white of Trinity adorned the centerpiece. White candles and maroon candles completed the decorations. Tiny silk Texas flags were used as plate favors. The meal had been planned under the direction of Miss Pauline Triplett.

All who were present made talks during the evening on what Trinity University had meant to them. W. H. Meador, a student at the university from 1884 till 1886, when it was located at Tluuena, told of Trinity as he had known it. Mrs. J. S. Johnson told of her experience there in 1897 and James H. Goodman discussed athletics in 1920-22. A telegram was sent to President John H. Burma, of Trinity, during the evening.

Those who were present were Mrs. J. S. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Whitehead, of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gordon, Miss Pauline Triplett, Miss Lorelei Wallace, Miss Eula McCorkle, W. H. Meador, Miss Mary Meador, Miss Frances Wilson and Miss Marguerite Bennett.

Upside-Down Cake

Two tablespoons butter, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup canned cherries, 4 tablespoons broken walnut meats, 2 eggs, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-4 cup water, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt butter in iron frying pan. Add brown sugar, making a smooth layer. Cover evenly with canned cherries and sprinkle cherries with nuts. Pour over the following batter: Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon colored, beating in sugar gradually. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder and stir into first mixture. Add water and then vanilla and when mixture is smooth fold in the whites of the eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Bake forty minutes in a moderate oven with the most heat on the bottom. The brown sugar must melt and form a sirup. Turn cake out, up side down and cover with cream whipped and sweetened. Any kind of fruit can be used as preferred.

LONGHORN DIAMOND MENTOR WEEDS OUT FINE COMBINATION FROM MANY STARS AVAILABLE

AUSTIN, April 21. (AP)—After considerable jockeying of the large number of stars at his command, Billy Diech, Texas University diamond mentor, has hit on a lineup that is the odds-on favorite to win the 1926 championship of the Southwest Conference. Winning of the title would make the thirteenth for Coach Diech in the 14 years he had coached orange and white baseball cohorts.

The Diechmen got away to a flying start by trouncing the Rice Owls last Saturday 12-2. "Granpa" Woods, owl right-hander who in 1925 was considered about the best hurler in the conference, had nothing deceptive on his shoots, as far as Longhorn batsmen were concerned.

Pratt Heads Hitters

Heading the batting order is the speedy Clyde Pratt of Bradshaw, captain and the best centerfielder in the conference. Last season, Pratt was acclaimed the outstanding "ball hawk" in the loop, and this season he is hitting harder than ever before. He has a splendid whip, and is a clever and daring pilferer. He swings from the left side of the hitting station, and is a lefty both 300-wheeler.

Following the Longhorn leader is Howard Williamson of Texarkana, right fielder, an even more dangerous hitter than Pratt. He is a southpaw both in throwing and in hitting. Williamson came to Texas University with a big reputation as a twirler, but Coach Diech decided he had even more brilliant prospects as a hitter than as a pitcher. Last season, Williamson hit around .400. He is large and powerful and speedy, and has already awakened the interest of at least one big league manager, Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals. Williamson is playing his second season with the Steers.

Edwin Oles of Flatonia hits third and plays the hot corner. Oles is a former Texas Military College star, will make plays in three spots his first year on Longhorn teams. He lettered in football and basketball, and is certain to win his "T" in baseball. He is a heavy hitter, and a capable fielder.

Thompson Hits Clean-Up

Hitting fourth is Fred Thompson, the flaxen-haired athlete from Rusk, the most dangerous hitter in the conference. Last season, Thompson played left field; but he is holding down second base this year, partly because there was no outstanding candidate for the bag, but primarily because of a weak throwing arm, caused by a football injury. Coach Diech is hopeful the short peg second-sacker ordinarily makes will not hamper him. If Thompson's arms recover from the effects of the injury, this natural hitter is certain to be given a big league tryout. He's a righthand slugger, who stands up to the plate and takes a full swing—as promising a natural hitter as was "Bill" Falk of the Chicago White Sox, when he was with the Longhorns. Thompson is playing his second year.

Henry Baumgartner, powerful athlete from Schuilenburg, follows Thompson. He is a splendid left-hand slugger, who has won a regular job his first season. Baumgartner weighs around 195 pounds, but is fleet in the field and on the sacks. He plays left field.

Falk Is First Sacker

Collie Falk, who is playing his third and last season on Longhorns, holds down first base and hits sixth. The elongated Falk is easily the best fielding first-sacker in the conference. He stands well over six feet, and knows how to stretch his long legs and arms. The first-sacker is giving every promise of batting above the .300 mark this season. He throws and bats right hand. Collie is a brother of "Bill" and "Spot" both of whom are in the big show. He lives in Austin.

James (Jackie) Radford of Nocona weighs only 125 pounds, but he is a great little short fielder. Predictions were rife at the start of the spring training season that Radford would be ousted from his job by one of a number of brilliant prospects; but the little fellow is more firmly entrenched than ever just now. He bats from the left side, and is a capable hitter.

"Hustling Charlie" Ramsey of San Augustine is the first string receiver. Ramsey is just about the size of Radford; but he doesn't always allow his lack of bulk to handicap him. Ramsey has a splendid whip, and is a handy receiver. He is only a fair hitter. The San Augustine lad is playing his third and last season.

Cox Is Hurling Ace

The ace of the hurling corps is Leslie Cox, tall righthander from Stephenville. Cox is known as the "speed-ball king." He also has a nice curve, good control, and above all mound courage. Cox is pitching his second year.

Neal Baker of Heringer, powerful righthander, is the other hillock dependable. Baker, a former Texas Military College mound ace, is pitching his first season for the Diechmen. He has a nice assortment of stuff.

Among the most capable substitutes are: "Cy" Williams of Austin, hard-hitting outer gardener, and Joseph (Pottsy) Allen of Luling, maskman.

Winner

Baylor Bruins.

Coach Jack Meagher's lads will not have "soft pickings" in a single engagement, but will have to travel under pressure in practically every game. Fortunately, Meagher, a former Notre Dame football star, will have at his disposal a host of brilliant gridiron performers, led by Captain Marvin Durrenberger, one of the best ends yet seen in action in this section.

Failure of Ryan, giant tackle and captain of the 1925 aggregation, to return to normal after Christmas was a blow to the hopes of the Bruins; but the partitions of the school believe that even this stellar athlete may be replaced without great loss of strength.

Meagher will be assisted by "Moose" Oepper, now a substitute outfielder with the Dallas Steers of the Texas League. Woeber was a football, basketball, and baseball star at St. Edward's.

The school that will oppose the Bruins in the opening tilt of September 25 has not been selected, but negotiations are under way with Abilene Christian college. Indications are that A. C. C. will meet the Bruins at Austin on that date.

The schedule follows:

September 25, open.

October 2, Simmons university at Austin.

October 9, Texas Tech at Lubbock.

October 16, Rice institute, at Houston.

October 23, Southwestern university at Georgetown.

October 29, Howard Payne, at Brownwood.

November 5, Southwest State Teachers college, at Austin.

November 11, Daniel Baker, at Brownwood.

November 19, Baylor, at Waco.

Thanksgiving Day, State School of Mines, at El Paso.

Billy Evans Says

Superstitious or Not, Dazzy Vance is Going to Let His Sleeve Flap

Dazzy Vance, famous Brooklyn pitcher, refuses to admit that he is superstitious, yet there is a rather interesting story back of the flapping sleeve of his undershirt.

As a matter of fact, the tale of the shirt as explained by Vance is one of psychology rather than superstition. Possibly it is fact.

When Vance pitches it seems as if the right sleeve of the undershirt he wears under his uniform is about ready to drop off. It flaps hither and thither in the air and makes it appear as if a collection should be taken up to supply Dazzy with a new one.

Several years ago the trainer of the Brooklyn club gave Vance a new undershirt that fit the pitching arm all too tightly for comfort. So Vance slit the right sleeve.

He had a good day that afternoon. He also noted that several of the opposing players complained that the flapping of the loose sleeve interfered with their vision and made it difficult to follow the ball.

Since there is no rule to prevent a pitcher from slitting the sleeve of his undershirt, if he so desires, Vance has continued the practice.

The great pitcher is firm in the belief that the flapping sleeve is a big asset in his strikeout record as well as general effectiveness.

And he doesn't care whether it is laid to superstition, psychology or fact.

SWIMMING LATEST SPORT OF TEXAS LONGHORNS

AUSTIN, April 21. (AP)—Swimming is the latest sport to arouse the enthusiasm of Texas university athletes. Thirty aquatic performers are trying out for the varsity and freshman squads.

Roy Henderson, athletic director of the Texas University Interscholastic League, is serving as coach without pay. Henderson is one of the outstanding swimmers and diving instructors in the state. Under his instruction, the Deep Eddy team of Austin for two years won the Southern AAF team championship.

Former members of the title-winning Deep Eddy teams are stars of the varsity squad. Among them are: Fred Nuzzle, of Austin, a back-stroke artist; Jack Fields, the best performer on the squad in planning for distance.

Among the others eligible for the varsity team who have been showing to advantage are: Bernard Berghaus of Dallas, breast stroke performer; H. W. Hendrix of Fort Worth, free style sprinter; Rupert Harkrider, Abilene, free style and back-stroke swimmer; and Irving Loeb of Austin, diver and one hundred yard free style performer.

The freshmen squad boasts a number of promising water athletes, among them Frank Fields of Austin, who is acting captain of the freshman team. "Panama" is the nickname given Fields by his mates, because he formerly lived in the Republic of Panama, and is said to have learned to swim in the Panama canal. Fields is a versatile performer, being a capable diver as well as a back-stroke and free style swimmer.

Efforts are being made by Coach Henderson and his charges to arrange meets with independents and with college teams.

Dempsey Signs With Rickard For September Bout

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 21. (AP)—Jack Dempsey put his name to the dotted line today.

The heavyweight champion of the world signed articles of agreement here shortly before noon with Tex Rickard to fight a championship bout around September 15, at a place and against an opponent to be selected by Rickard.

Although the contract drawn up and approved by Kenneth Grant, Dempsey's attorney, did not specify the amount Dempsey is to receive as his end of the expected million-dollar gate, both principals let it be understood that the champion is to receive about $450,000.

FORT WORTH, April 21. (AP)—Signing of articles for Jack Dempsey's next big fight might be a more long drawn out affair than it was at first thought, it appeared after the champion, who arrived at 3:40 a. m., had breakfast with Tex Rickard. Dempsey stated that he probably would remain in Fort Worth two days, and neither he nor

Bambino Opens Fire On Senators With Homer, Two Doubles, And Two Singles; Circuit Drives Are Common

(By Associated Press)

Baseball warfare has become more strenuous for Babe Ruth, artillery chief of the Yankees, has fired on Washington.

When the smoke cleared at the capital yesterday it was found that the Yankees had scored 22 direct hits.

Five hits, a home run, two doubles and two singles from the big Bertha alone, indicate that the Yankees are out this year to blast their way to a championship after remaining quiet for a season. The tally in runs was 18 to 5.

Walter Johnson was knocked out of the box.

Ruth was not alone in home run hitting. In Chicago the gray haired manager of Cleveland, Tris Speaker, left-handed a blow to the far spaces in 9 to 5 conquest over the White Sox in the ninth inning a pinch hitting Chicagoan, Grabowsky, poked one to the bleachers, recording three futile runs.

Ninth innings homers are becoming common in the major leagues. Jimmy Johnston performed the feat on the first day of the season for the Braves but too late to win the game. Cy Williams did it for the Phillies and scored therefore fully populated bases for a victory. Pat Collins registered a four base blow in the ninth at Boston recently for the Yankees. Bob Meusel made one on Sunday which tied the game but the Yankees lost out in the eleventh.

The Cardinals split even on their series when Coopers put out the Hornsby, 7 to 0, on five safeties. Wilson of the Cubs hit a home run.

All other games were frozen out.

A Carnation for Mother's Day Sentiment

Southland Life Protection for Real Love and Gratitude

Is it enough? ... you fellows who can wear a carnation of pink to honor a Mother still living—is it enough to pay the slight tribute of "wearing a flower" on Mother's Day?

No need to tell you the debt you owe to her... nor to tug at your heartstrings with sentiments she so well deserves.

You'd fight like a demon to protect and comfort her... to care for her as long as you live... yes "as long as you live."

But suppose—and it DOES happen—that you were called away while she still lives. Your love and devotion would live on... beautiful as the sentiment of the Mother's Day Flower you wear so jauntily.

But sentiment alone is a poor substitute for material support of those dependent upon your strength and efforts in life.

God Bless Mother's Day. It makes us appreciate her more... and do the things we ought to do... for her.

Isn't adequate Life Insurance protection for that "certain little old lady" about the least a son can do... at least a son who is worthy of a love like hers?

Wear your carnation as usual, to be sure, but THIS Mother's Day, give her some additional insurance besides. Express your sentiment in a practical way. Talk to a Southland Agent about it. He will help you plan the right kind of protection for her.

YOU CAN NEVER TELL

Yesterday a bolt of lightning took from the midst of his family and his community an acknowledged leader in Lubbock county rural circles. A slight storm, carrying with it only a few belts of lightning, brought death to a man in his prime—a man who probably had no idea that he would be taken at least for years. Yet the death of J. H. Burroughs was not an accident. It was one of those occurrences which are considered as accidents, yet in reality was guided by the hand which guides the destinies of us all. Prepare now lest you be the one taken—snatched from the bosom of family and friends—without a moment's notice. Today seems to carry with it no threat but you never can tell what tomorrow will bring.

NO MEAN COMPLIMENT

An exchange says that Trotsky, the Russian Soviet leader, stated in a recent speech that the United States is the greatest obstacle in the way of communism. Of course, this indictment was not intended as a compliment to the United States or the American people. On the other contrary, he intended it as an explanation of his contempt for this country and her institutions. But most of us will not feel hurt that Mr. Trotsky thus thinks of America. He unwittingly paid us the greatest compliment that could possibly come from a foreigner. Evidently there is something deeply imbedded in the thought of the American people that remains our greatest bulwark against the peculiar political and economic nostrums that have been coming out of Russia and the rest of Europe during the past seven or eight years. It could not possibly be due to our laws because these deal leniently with all schools of thought. A man may think or believe or preach most anything in America without interference. He may go to church or not, as he prefers. He can believe in communism just as much as he wishes, so long as he stops short of some overt act against the government. It cannot be due to any neglect of opportunities on the part of communists to spread their doctrine among the American people. We know that the Russian Soviet party spent much money and no little effort to arouse the American workman to an appreciation of the particular brand of freedom that is being exemplified in Russia. We may look elsewhere for the explanation. It may be that our very laxity in dealing with radicals is a source of strength for our institutions. Sometimes radicalism is found to be an innocent sort of thing when its proponents are permitted to talk freely. Much of it is vocal, and yet, if it was in other countries, notably Russia, it could easily become a real menace. The average American is a safe citizen. He has learned that an enlightened public opinion will assure him a square deal when the facts of a condition are known. He has learned that most Americans, regardless of position, believe in fair play and equal opportunity and they support both on every suitable occasion. Somehow the American people have learned that decency and respect for the rights of others are more than mere expressions. They mean something, and in proportion as communism is at war with these it has failed to take hold in America.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

SENATE SURPRISED BY BINGHAM'S STAND ON BROOKHART

By CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON—When Senator Bingham of Connecticut declared himself on the side of Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, in the latter's fight to keep his seat, against the claim of his contesting democratic rival, Daniel F. Steck, it was quite a surprise. Brookhart is a conservative to the core. Brookhart has a record as one of the deepest dyed radicals in the upper house.

Among the regular republican senators of whom Bingham by reason of his conservatism, which automatically signs him with them, is one, there was a pretty general inclination to favor Steck's kind of democracy over Brookhart's kind of republicanism. Bingham, however, didn't allow his conservative preference to influence him. He believed Brookhart had the stronger case. Examination of the Brookhart-Steck ballots seemed to indicate that a majority of the electors meant to vote for Steck, but an unusual number of those cast for him proved to have been incorrectly marked. The Iowa law doesn't permit an incorrectly marked ballot to count. Subtracting such votes from Steck's score left Brookhart ahead. The Stockites in the Senate were for taking into account solely the voters' intent. The Brookhartites stood pat on the law. Bingham's position on the Brookhart-Steck question despite the way he undoubtedly felt, speaks extremely well for the quality of his integrity. He didn't pretend to be enthusiastic over Brookhart, but he was for giving him what he considered him entitled to, nevertheless. Not but that there are other equally conscientious members of the House and Senate, but their name isn't legion, so to speak.

Making both ends meet is for some an acrobatic feat that causes them to break in the middle. The possession of a fortune doesn't always imply an abundance of talent—very often it indicates lack of conscience. Many a cartoonist is probably lamenting because he can't draw balloon trousers as funny as they are. The chief difference between yourself and the average hero is that he was born without a bump of caution. An agreeable companion is often a dangerous associate.

During the late unpleasantness in Europe a certain British regiment was ordered to occupy a devastated and deserted village. On arriving, the only living thing discovered there was a cow, which was promptly commandeered for the benefit of the Colonel. The Adjutant was fortunate in finding a bed of strawberries, to which he laid claim for his own use. As the days passed he noticed that some of his strawberries disappeared and he had grave suspicions as to who was responsible; he therefore wrote out and posted a notice, which read: "Anyone found stealing my strawberries will have his cow shot." Frank B. Noyes Presides Over A. P. Luncheon At New York; He Offers Toast To Mr. And Mrs. Coolidge

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, April 21. (AP)—Frank B. Noyes, presiding yesterday at the annual luncheon of the Associated Press welcomed Latin-American publishers, gave a brief description of the Associated Press and offered a toast to President and Mrs. Coolidge.

Mr. Noyes, publisher of the Washington Star, is president of the Associated Press.

His remarks followed: "Our luncheon this year is marked by a feature both pleasant and important—that of the presence of a number of Latin-American delegates to the first Pan-American Press Congress held last week in Washington. Some of these delegates are of our brotherhood of the Associated Press and to these and other delegates, we extend a most cordial welcome."

"Many Canadian newspapers wished to become members of our Associated Press but we argued and indeed insisted that it would in every way be better for them to form their association, under which they would be the masters of their news service; and we must insist in full alliance with the Canadian press, organized on the same lines as the Associated Press, but with the independence of action as is enjoyed by our Associated Press."

"This was comparatively easy to accomplish as to our immediate North, where one far flouts from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

"The task of forming of such organizations to the South is more difficult and for that reason we have taken into full membership important newspapers throughout Latin-America."

A. P. Principles Stressed. "It is entirely possible that our form of organization is not suitable to your conditions, but I am sure that you will find the basic principles of the Associated Press necessary in your organization."

"You see the Associated Press here today. There is no separate entity. The Associated Press is merely the instrumentality through which 1,200 newspapers exchange news, one with the other, and collect original news throughout the world through a staff employed by these same 1,200 newspapers. There is no stock and profits and dividends are forbidden by its charter."

"The administration is through a board of directors of 15 newspapermen, members of the organization. The news service must be non-partisan in its broadest and in its strictest sense, it must be without bias of any sort, and it must be as accurate as is humanly possible."

Toast To Coolidge. "Only one toast is offered at this annual occasion. Although we drink this toast in a laudatory fashion, I point out that this must not be construed as an evidence of bias on any pending questions, by the Associated Press."

"The members of the Associated Press, regardless of party affiliations, honor the great office of President of the United States and are ever to evidence their respect and affection for the great American who fills it. I ask you to drink to the health and happiness of the President of the United States—Calvin Coolidge—and to the grapes and lovely lady of the White House."

A CELEBRATION OF SAN JACINTO DAY OPENS. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 21. (AP)—Festivity at its greatest heights will rule San Antonio this week, beginning today, with the celebration of the Fiesta de San Jacinto. This annual event, commemorating the battle of San Jacinto, which meant independence for Texas, will draw thousands of persons here to celebrate on a scale rivaling New Orleans' famed Mardi Gras.

While the formal opening will not be until today, the early coners were beginning the week by attending the military opera, "The Spirit of the Argentine," at Fort Sam Houston. This presentation will be under the auspices of the Second Division.

The Fiesta will be formally opened tonight with a band concert on Alamo Plaza, and the military opera will be repeated at the Army Post. The State Association of Texas Pioneers will close its annual one-day meeting with a ball.

The recently organized Texas Cavaliers will have their Tournament of Roses Tuesday afternoon in San Pedro Park, and in the evening the "Battle of Flowers" fête will take place at the Municipal Auditorium. Three hundred dancers, who have been participating for the event for two months, will participate in the ballet scenes on the grand stage of the city's newest edifice.

A pilgrimage to the Alamo is on the program for Wednesday afternoon, to be followed by the Fiesta parade, featuring "queens" from San Antonio schools. At night at San Pedro park there will be a water ballet, "Apolo and his Loves."

One of the biggest events of the week will be the coronation of the Fiesta queen at the auditorium Thursday night. At the same time fireworks depicting the defense of the Alamo will be displayed at the San Antonio baseball park. These fireworks, costing $7,500, will be shot off also Friday and Saturday nights.

YOUNG PEOPLE OF AMERICA ARE SLANDERED BY WET TESTIMONY, SAYS DOCTOR CLARENCE WILSON

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 21.—"It is nothing less than a slander upon America—a slander which wet propagandists are sending around the world—to say that America is infested with criminals," Dr. Clarence Wilson, general secretary of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, of the Methodist Episcopal church, declared today before the Senate liquor committee.

"A slander ten thousand times worse," he added, "is the frequent assertion that American girls and women are drunkards and debauched because of conditions existing under prohibition."

Says Moral Improved. "Our ministers find in their visitations to the homes of the American people that prohibition has produced infinite benefits in the improved moral tone of young people. We deny emphatically that the young people are consuming liquor in quantities or that they are being morally degraded by the operation of the prohibition law."

He Presents Figures. Dr. Wilson, who said his board is an official agency of a church with a constituency of 15,000,000 people, presented an array of official figures to refute statements of the wets to the committee that arrests for drunkenness are increasing, that crime among the young is on the advance and that the moral welfare of the people is on the downgrade.

Recreation is Stressed. "The sale of musical instruments and photographs had increased tremendously and the radio has become common-place. Much of this business is built up on the installment plan, but we believe that the enormous installment business of today would be impossible if the drink traffic were licensed."

"Our ministers report that the children of the country are much better clothed than in former years and we believe to this fact is directly due the great increase in school attendance throughout the nation."

No matter where one tests the federal figures relating to social conditions of the people, we find the outstanding fact that they are enormously improved since prohibition and that to a considerable this improvement was sudden with the coming of the prohibition law.

Scores "Beer Monopoly". Dr. Wilson told the committee that it would be a doubtful policy, as he held the modification bills propose, to "give the brewers a monopoly."

"From June 1921 to August 1925," he charged, "78 brewers fell afoot the law. They have been found to be the most persistent and bitter violators with which the prohibition unit has had to deal."

The law of the people can and will be enforced," Dr. Wilson said in conclusion, as he made an appeal for a tightening up of the Volstead act in place of the modification of the wets he proposed.

HOUSTON HOPES IN HARBORS BILL ARE HIGH

HOUSTON, April 21. (AP)—With the announcement from Washington that the house rivers and harbors committee has unanimously reported the bill providing for the construction of Texas-Louisiana intra-coastal canal, high hopes are held by President C. S. E. Holland, of Houston, of the Intra-Coastal Canal association. He hopes that the measure will be passed by both houses of congress and approved by the President within a short time. Exactly $7,810,000 is to be made available for construction.

Of this amount, $4,610,000 is allocated to the construction of the canal over the Harvey route from New Orleans to Morgan City in Louisiana.

In Texas $3,000,000 is to be spent on the section of the canal between Galveston and Corpus Christi, where it will connect with the deep water channel.

In a letter to members of the association, President Holland asked immediate action on the part of local committees toward securing rights-of-way and bridge building in order to expedite the project.

The canal will give Texas and Louisiana access to 6,627 miles of navigable waterways through the heart of the continent. It will mean, according to canal building advocates, much cheaper freight rates on bulky commodities from the manufacturing region centering around Pittsburgh, grain products from Minneapolis and Chicago, and the wholesale centers of Kansas City and St. Louis, to the entire coastal region of Louisiana and Texas.

Littlefield Buys More Equipment For Street Work. LITTLEFIELD, April 21.—The city officials here made a purchase of additional street repairing equipment last week which completed the line of road and street repairing apparatus, making it possible for the city alone to build and repair its own dirt streets without any assistance on the part of outside labor or tools.

Along with the repair and rebuilding of the streets, a park has been altered, planted in trees, grass and flowers and the civic league has started a "Yard Beautiful" contest which will insure Littlefield a beautiful residential section.

At a meeting of the officers and directors of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, it was decided, with the assistance of the city commission that all of the streets in Littlefield should be marked and all the houses in the city numbered. Committee is at work laying plans for this move, which will be only a short while until the town will be decorated with street posts set in concrete.

Canyon Artists Offer Program At Hereford Thursday. CANYON, April 21.—The Faculty Artist Group from the Lycous Service of the West Texas State Teachers College will be heard in a program at Hereford Thursday night. All of the artists in this group are well known in Hereford as well as in the entire Panhandle.

Mr. Wallace R. Clark, tenor, is head of the music department of the Teachers' College. Miss Pauline Belcham, pianist, is head of the piano division of the department, and Miss Mary L. Clark, violinist, is head of the violin division.

These artists are being brought to Hereford under the auspices of the public schools and arrangements were made by Superintendent C. H. Dillehay.

Mr. Clark is director of the college orchestra which furnished a musical program at the recent Amarillo May Festival in Amarillo. Miss Clark is the teacher under whom Merschel Coffee, the soloist at that occasion, received his training.

TRUTH KEY-NOTE OF ASSOCIATED PRESS MEN

DIRECTORS OF GREATEST NEWS ORGANIZATION HOLD SESSION. NEW YORK, April 21. (AP)—The annual report of the board of directors of the Associated Press shows that during the past year efforts were made to present a more complete picture of what the world is doing. The Associated Press continued to strive for truthful reporting, but made greater effort to obtain news of the activities of women, art, music, amusements, science and literary affairs.

The report noted that there had been a greater degree of co-operation among the members. The use of automatic printers had grown. More than 100 machines had been installed, but due to the growth of regional state circuits, more telegraph operators are employed than ever before, the total number being 1,124.

The members discussed the question of liberating the present policy of broadcasting news by radio, but no definite action was taken. Permission has been given the members during the past year to broadcast exceptional news, with credit to the Associated Press.

PREPARE FOR TOURISTS. LONDON, April 21. (AP)—Window dressing designed to attract the American spring and summer tourists has begun in London.

As nearly all American travelers are supposed to be millionaires, large diamonds have been dusted off and placed on display. All the down town antique shops have had window signs pointed announcing that all silverware, furniture and other articles more than a hundred years old are admitted free in the United States.

COTTON SCHOOL AT JUNIOR AGGIES ARRANGED

ARLINGTON, Texas, April 21. (AP)—W. T. Williamson of Brownwood, government cotton classifier and for the past six summers in charge of cotton classing courses at Texas A. & M. college, will conduct a similar course at North Texas Agricultural college here this summer. Dean Davis announced today.

This course, to be held June 7 to July 17, will be the first in the history of the junior agricultural college. Its object will be the preparation of young men and women for cotton buying and the management of cotton warehouses, as well as the instruction of the farmers in grading his chief product.

Special attention will be paid to staple, under the direction of experts, Williamson said, and a full layout of samples will be prepared under government standards of classing. Study will be made of the elements determining commercial grades of cotton and of influences affecting price, as well as of the relation of exchange to the cotton business. Samples used in the summer school will be of varieties grown west of the Mississippi and efforts will be made to familiarize the student with the various characteristics of the numerous varieties.

At the close of the course, examinations will be held for those desiring to meet the requirements of public cotton classing for bonded warehouses as provided for by the laws of Texas and certificates will be granted those making a satisfactory showing.

WILLIAMS LOSES COCKTAIL FIGHT

General Butler Wins and Col. Will Know Penalty in a Week's Time, Said

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 21. (AP)—Colonel Alexander S. Williams will know within a week or two whether he is to be dismissed from the marine corps, reduced in rank or dropped to lower altitudes on the promotion list for being drunk on the night he gave a dinner party in honor of Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler.

The colonel's conviction on a charge of intoxication preferred by General Butler was revealed yesterday when the court martial trying his case adjourned without saying what verdict they had reached.

In Courteous System

This officer familiar with court martial procedure explained, was merely the court's delicate way of breaking the bad news to the defendant with the utmost courtesy permissible under naval regulations. After the findings of the court have been passed by the Judge Advocate General of the navy and passed on to Secretary of the Navy and the defendant has had a week or two to become accustomed to his conviction, he will be informed what the dinner party and its aftermath at the Hotel Del Coronado is going to cost him in the way of a sentence.

May Be Dismissed

Dismissal from the service is the maximum penalty assessable under navy regulations, but in a case such as the present one in which intoxication on duty is not involved, the punishment usually does not exceed reduction in rank or number. Colonel Williams declined to comment on the outcome of his trial. General Butler issued a statement, but confined its circulation to a newly established San Diego daily and such newspapers and press associations as agreed to apply to it for permission to use it. "It is the only newspaper which has given me a square deal, since the trial began," he explained.

An Average Baseball Player Shown To Be 28

NEW YORK, Apr. 21. (AP)—Rosters of the sixteen major league baseball clubs, containing more than 350 prospective starters in the 1926 pennant races, reveal the average player as an athlete of 28 years, 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighing 172 pounds.

Definite physical requirements of the game have not eliminated the performer who takes a marked deviation from these figures, however, for nearly every club has its midget and its giant, its promising youth and its veteran warrior.

The little man of baseball, nevertheless, is a rarity, and the rosters reveal a mere handful of players whose height is less than 5 feet, 6 inches.

The outstanding exception has brought to the Boston Braves its brilliant young second baseman, Walter (Doc) Gautreau, one of the curiosities of the major leagues. Gautreau, who leaped from the keystone sack of a sensational Holy Cross nine to fame with the Boston club, is the smallest man in baseball, a midget of 5 feet, 2 1/2 inches, weighing approximately 22 pounds.

At the other end of the line, towering 6 feet, 6 inches from his cleated boots, is Connie Mack's pitching lath, Bryan Harris, revealed in the rosters as the tallest man on the major league diamond.

Bryan, however, has only one inch on Eppa Rixey, of the Red's hurling staff. There are several players of 6 feet, 4 inches, including Leo Dickerman, of the Cards, Bill Jacobson, of the Browns and Earl Sheely, of the White Sox.

Seven of the teams have at least one player who tips the beam beyond the 200-pound mark, with Backus, the Cleveland hurler at the head of the diamond "whales" with a generous lead at 225 pounds.

Dabe Ruth, erstwhile home run king of the Yankees, is not far behind at 215, while "Tiny" Osborne, of the Bohems, of the Reds, and Oscar Melillo, outfielding for the Indians, each weighs 210, according to the club rosters.

Although Gautreau holds the midget honors in both weight and height, Rabbit Maranville, who makes his start as a Robin this year, still is one of the smallest players in the game at 147 pounds. The Rabbit's height is given as 5 feet 5 inches, half an inch greater than that of Earl Adams, the Cub infielder. Charley Drossen, of the Reds, Max Flack, of the Cards, Jack Tavenor, of the Tigers and Ramon Lerrera of the Red Sox each weighs less than 150.

All but two of the clubs have at least one player over 35 years of age and all have at least one starter under 25. Outstanding veterans are Babe Adams, of the Pirates, 42, Cobb, of the Tigers, Walter Johnson, of the Senators and Grover Alexander, of the Cubs, each 37. Zach Wheat, of the Braves, Fred Williams, of the Phillies, Tris Speaker, of the Indians, Eddie Collins, of the White Sox, and Grover Hartley, of the Giants, each 38.

Leading players in the early twenties are Charley Ruffing, Red Sox pitcher, Cochran, Athletics' catcher; Wayland Dean, Phillies pitcher; Flint Rhom, Cardinal hurler, and Lou Gehrig, Yankee first sacker.

DISCH AND EKDHAL TO AID STEWART SUMMER CAMP

AUSTIN, Tex., April 21. (AP)—Billy Disch, famed Texas University baseball coach, and S. N. Ekdahl, instructor in physical training for men at Texas University, have been added to the staff of counselors who this summer will direct the activities of more than one hundred youngsters at Stewart's Camp for Boys near Kerrville.

The boys' camp, as well as one for girls will be run under the general supervision of E. J. (Doc) Stewart, Texas University head football and basketball coach. The boys' camp is located a mile and a half from Kerrville, while the girls' camp is located on a 1,500 acre tract in the hills 18 miles from Kerrville.

Under the coaching of Disch, Texas University has won 2 Southwest Conference baseball championships. Because of his insistence on high ideals of living and clean sportsmanship, Disch is loved by thousands of Texas alumni and students. As one of more than 20 camp counselors, all of them school men, Mr. Disch will come in close contact with the boys.

Mr. Ekdahl, who holds a major's commission in the Officers Reserve Corps and who was decorated for gallantry during the World War, will have charge of the rifle instruction for both boys and girls. Regulation United States army target rifles, and the regulation range equipment will be used.

An expert rifleman, Ekdahl is coach of the Texas University girls' rifle team, which a short time ago in a handicap match defeated the strong team of the Austin Rifle Club.

"We believe the rifle training will be most beneficial for both boys and girls," Stewart said. "The rifles will be small bore and easily handled even by the boy or girl of 12 or 14 years."

Mr. Ekdahl will devote three days of each week to instructing the boys and three days to the instructing of the girls. Of course, not more than two hours a day at the most will be given over to marksmanship. Toward the end of the camp, the boys and girls will stage a shoot for the championship of the two camps, with the boys giving the girls a handicap.

The Stewart camps are the largest in the Southwest. This summer 75 girls will attend Log Cabin Lodge for girls, and close to 150 the camp for boys.

Commission Meeting Held

After the luncheon Tuesday Commissioner Cagle, Engineers Field and Corbett and members of the Commission court with the exception of H. D. Talley, of Slaton, held an open meeting and at its close it was decided to go ahead with the county's hard-surfacing plan as rapidly as possible.

Commissioner Cagle told the commissioners that the state was ready to back the county and the commissioners in turn told Cagle that the county was ready to carry its part of the program.

Plans will be completed in the very near future, bids will be advertised for and construction will be begun as a result of the open session, it was said Wednesday.

According to Judge Nordyke the type of surfacing has not yet been fully decided although it was the first plan to have a caliche surface. The understanding which was had yesterday, however, Judge Nordyke said, is that if found practicable a better top-siding would be used but if not the caliche would be put in. In other words, the Judge pointed out, "Lubbock county will have hard surface roads of some type and whatever type is used will be of benefit to the county."

Division Highway Engineer George Field was highly optimistic over the situation following the meeting. Mr. Field has been shouldering the engineering burden for the county highways for the past year and is anxious to benefit Lubbock county highways to the best of his ability.

Rotarians Listen To Three Lady Singers

Mrs. Carl Seagins, soprano, and Mrs. Nell Harvey, contralto, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Mamie I. Neal, made the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Lubbock Rotary club a most enjoyable occasion Wednesday when they presented to the pleasure of the clubmen, several musical selections.

Plans were made for the club's trip to Amarillo Thursday night, via special pullman car, when a two day convention of Rotary clubs of this district will be held. Nell H. Wright was in charge of the program, which was added to by addresses by Rev. Walter P. Jennings, Hubert L. Allon and Roscoe Wilson.
