The SDN Column

Keeping tab on our neighbors:

At least one member of the C.W. Post family is willing for the Post statue, located in the city of that name, to be cleaned and polished. The Post Dispatch reports that Dina Merrill, the well-known actress and daughter of Marjorie Meriweather Post, has written Scoutmaster Jimmy Mitchell III a letter stating that it was fine with her to clean the statue of C.W. Post.

"Someone evidently had sent her a copy of Frank X. Tolbert's column in the June 10 Dallas Morning News that tells of his visit to Post and the present condition of the statue," the Dispatch continued.

However, the cleaning project still has not materialized. The Dispatch says Garza County Judge Giles Dalby had received a letter from Fred Korth, Washington attorney who handles some legal work for the Post estate, and he advised that executors of the estate "do not desire any polishing done."

Walter Buckel of the Lamesa Press-Reporter, tells about the editor of a newspaper in Indiana who grew tired of being called a liar and announced that he would begin telling the truth in the future. The next issue of the paper carried these items:

1. John Coyle, local grocerman, is doing a poor business for a good reason. His prices are high, his store is dirty and his clerks are insolent. How can he expect much?

2. The Rev. Bob Jones preached Sunday night of "charity." He'll need all the charity he can get from his congregation because his sermon was so poor.

3. David Conkey died at his home here Tuesday night. The doctor called it heart failure, but those who knew him say whiskey killed him.

4. Married—Miss Sylvia Rhodes and James T., Colvin, last Sunday at the Baptist parsonage by the Rev. Gordon. The bride is a very ordinary town girl who doesn't know any more about cooking than a jackrabbit and never helped her mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty by any means and has a gait like a duck. The groom is an up-to-date loafer. He has been living off the "old man" at home all his life and is not worth having. A dim future for the couple is predicted.

5. Died—aged 56 years, six months and 13 days. Deceased was a mild-mannered pirate who here in the night with another man's wife and joined the church at the first chance. He owed us several dollars for his paper, was indebted to almost everyone else in town, but you could hear him praying six blocks away. He died singing "Jesus Paid It All" and we think he is right, because he never paid anything himself. He was buried in an asbestos casket and his friends threw palm leaf fans in his grave because he'll probably need them.

Needless to say, that changed a few minds.—WACIL McNAIR

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Aug. 8, the 220th day of 1975. There are 145 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1974, President Richard Nixon, announced his resignation, saying that Watergate had so eroded his political base in Congress that he concluded that he must step down in the national interest.

On this date:

In 1588, English sea forces under Sir Francis Drake destroyed the Spanish Armada in a battle off the coast of France.

In 1673, the Dutch recaptured New York and New Jersey from the British.

In 1815, Napoleon Bonaparte failed for St. Helena to spend the rest of his life in exile.

In 1940, in World War II, Germany began concentrated bombing of Britain.

In 1963, masked robbers held up a mail train near Cheddington, England and escaped with more than $7 million.

Ten years ago: The city of Singapore withdrew from the Federation of Malaysia and became an independent state.

Five years ago: There was peace along the Suez Canal under a new cease-fire agreement between Israel and Egypt.

One year ago: It was the time of the Nixon resignation. Vice President Gerald Ford said he would continue Nixon's foreign policy and that Secretary of State Henry Kissinger would stay on in the new administration.

AFTER FOUR-DAY DRAMA

Jap Terrorists Surrender To Libyan Authorities

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Japanese Red Army terrorists freed their final four hostages early today and handed themselves over to Libyan authorities after a four-day drama that began with the seizure of the U.S. Embassy in Kuala Lumpur.

Tight security measures were in force at Tripoli airport as the Japan Air Lines DC8 landed after a 6,900-mile flight from the Malaysian capital, Libya's Arab Revolutionary News Agency reported.

The agency said all aboard the aircraft were safe. The flight took 15 hours, including a two-hour refueling stop in Colombo, Sri Lanka.

The plane, flown by a nine-man Japanese crew, left Kuala Lumpur on Thursday with the five terrorists, another five radicals freed from Japanese prisons and the four hostages — two Japanese and two Malaysian government officials.

A Japanese Foreign Ministry spokesman in Tokyo, quoting a report from Tripoli, said ambulances and four or five cars pulled alongside the plane after it landed and the four hostages stepped out unharmed.

The spokesman said the terrorists and the freed radicals left the airport in three cars, but he could not say whether they were in custody or where they had been taken.

Libya said earlier it had agreed to allow the plane to land as a "humanitarian measure to help save human lives," but did not say what arrangements had been made concerning the terrorists.

The freed hostages and the crew were taken to an airport lounge and would hold a news conference later, the spokesman added.

The drama began Monday when the five hooded terrorists invaded the U.S. Embassy and seized 52 hostages, including U.S. Consul Robert Stebbins and a Swedish diplomat.

They threatened to blow up the building and kill their hostages unless the Japanese government freed the imprisoned radicals. Four of the convicts were members of the fanatical Red Army that has carried out several international terrorist attacks, including the 1972 Lod Airport massacre in Israel in which 26 persons died.

The terrorists, who wounded two policemen, a watchman and a hostage during the siege, drove to the airport with 15 of their captives after the radicals arrived from Japan.

They spent a day conducting further negotiations from the airliner and took off after freeing the final 15 Embassy captives in exchange for the four substitute hostages.

Stebbins, a 42-year-old father of two from Clovis, N.M., was among the last of the Embassy hostages to be freed. In a telephone interview with the Albuquerque Journal he described the seizure of the Embassy as "like a James Cagney movie — a hell of a lot of gunfire."

The diplomat described his captors "as perfect gentlemen," but he said they would not have hesitated to kill all hostages if their demands had not been met.

"They were very dedicated, determined and well organized. They were very precise in everything they did — everything was calculated," he said.

Burglars, Thieves Hit Local Stores

Snyder peace officers today were looking for suspects in a theft and burglary, both in business firms on the downtown square within the past 24 hours.

Three trays of diamond rings were taken Thursday from Erwin Jewelry on the southwest corner of the square, and burglars took clothing from the C.R. Anthony Store on the north side of the square early this morning. City police discovered at 4:30 a.m. that the front door of the Athony store had been foreed open.

Marshall Erwin, owner of the jewelry store, estimated the retail value of the stolen rings at between $10,000 and $12,000. If all three of the display trays were full, there would have been 37 rings. However, Erwin said he thought one or two of the rings had already been removed from a tray, which would mean around 35 rings were missing.

The theft at the jewelry store could have happened any time from 11:30 to 3 p.m., Erwin said. The thieves apparently just took the trays while personnel of the store were busy and had their backs turned.

Howard Limmer, manager of the Anthony store, said some leisure shirts, suits and shoes, along with a couple of leather jackets were missing in the burglary there. The exact amount of the loss at Anthony's had not been determined, however.

Police reported that there were few clues in either the theft or the burglary. Officers were reported looking for a car that had been seen on the square shortly before the burglary at Anthony's was discovered.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Norris Cotton returned as the senator from New Hampshire today and promptly announced he will vote against President Ford, an old friend, on two key issues.

Cotton, a Republican who was in the Senate 20 years before retiring, was appointed to fill a New Hampshire seat vacant since Jan. 3.

He told reporters he will vote to override an anticipated presidential veto of a bill to extend oil price controls for six months.

"If I stood by the President, with the New England winter coming on, I wouldn't dare go home," he said.

Cotton, who did not seek reelection last year, also said he will vote to cut off funds for further negotiations to relinquish some U.S. control over the Panama Canal.

Cotton went on the Senate payroll again after the administration of an affidavit of citizenship administered by the Senate's financial clerk. This is required of all senators and Senate employes.

However, the 75-year-old Cotton will not take his formal oath of office until the Senate reconvenes Sept. 3 after an August recess.

He is to serve until after a special election in New Hampshire on Sept. 16 growing out of the long squabble over who was elected to succeed him in the Nov. 5 election last year.

During his interim service, however, both a presidential veto of the oil price controls bill and the Panama Canal negotiations are expected to come up for Senate action

Ma Bell, Hill In Agreement On Rate Hike

AUSTIN (AP) -- Atty. Gen. John Hill said today Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. had withdrawn its proposed $45 million rate increase on intrastate calls and agreed to accept an average of $20 million over each of the next two years.

Hill said the agreement between his office and Bell, after two negotiating sessions, would be filed Monday with District Court Judge Tom Blackwell.

Hill claimed a "court victory" over the huge telephone company, which had maintained until Thursday afternoon that it needed a minimum of $45 million in the next year to pay construction costs and return a reasonable profit to stockholders. Hill said the agreement would save Texas consumers $50 million.

He figured the savings this way: the new rate schedule would go into effect in August—rather than this past March as Bell wanted—and the company would get a $15 million increase through next March.

Then, from March 1976 to March 1977, the company would be allowed a $25 million increase.

Had the $45 million increase remained in effect, the company would have obtained $90 million, but now will get a total of $40 through March 1977 for the $50 million savings.

In addition, Hill told a news conference, the company has agreed to not attempt to raise rates again until the new state utilities commission makes a full review after Sept. 1, 1976.

Also, full refunds will be ordered for customers who paid phone bills at the higher rate—for approximately 20 days—before the Texas Supreme Court reinstated an injunction against the increase.

The refund would amount to about $2.2 million, Hill said.

He said the new, revised increase would provide a rate of return of approximately 8.7 per cent to the company and a 12 per cent return to stockholders.

Hill said he "had no reason to believe" Blackwell would not accept the agreement Monday.

He said he would ask the judge to dismiss the suit he filed to block Bell's $45 million increase.

Hill said he had often been asked why he filed the suit—an unprecedented legal move by a Texas attorney general—and he said, "It was clear to me that if I did not challenge this unreasonable proposal, no one else would."

Also, he said, "It was clear to me that if there was to be validity to the proposition that a state attorney general was first and foremost the lawyer for the people this was the time to test out that proposition."

Surety Bond Posted For Jacobsen

SAN ANGELO (AP) — District Court Judge Curt Steib said today a surety bond has been posted for former milk industry lobbyist Jake Jacobsen, making it unnecessary to hold a bond hearing for Jacobsen.

Steib had required that Jacobsen's bond be changed from a personal recognizance bond to a surety bond, which the judge said had been mailed by Austin lawyer Joe Long.

Jacobsen, himself a lawyer, was freed from jail Wednesday night.

The Ausuin lawyer was arrested following indictment by a Tom Green Grand Jury here charging him with four counts of felony theft stemming from an $825,000 loan he authorized while he was an officer at the San Angelo First Savings and Loan Association.

Jacobsen is already under federal indictment in connection with the same case.

The former lobbyist for the Associated Milk Producers Inc. was the main government witness this spring against former Texas Gov. John Connally.

Portugal Under 'Stopgap' Rule

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Pro-Communist Premier Vasco Goncalves formed a temporary government in riot-torn Portugal today and announced it would use "severity and repression" against those who oppose it.

Acknowledging that he had difficulty putting together even a stopgap Cabinet in the midst of the worst political and military crisis of the 15-month-old Portuguese revolution, Goncalves also warned the nation it faced more austerity measures.

Four persons have been killed and scores injured in anti-Communist violence in northern Portugal in the past week. The demonstrators are enraged at the radical leftward turn of the Portuguese revolution despite the clear mandate given to Socialists, Popular Democrats and other moderate leftists in last April's consitutent elections.

The Socialists and the Popular Democrats, frustrated with the country's extremist leadership, quit the government last month, provoking the latest crisis.

There were fears that the confrontations, which have forced the government to send marines into northern towns, could reach into the Portuguese capital and turn into full-fledged civil war.

Saying the country was "in the most difficult moment of the revolution," the premier warned:

"In the fight against the neo-Fascist phenomenon that lately has been multiplying in our country, severity and repression will be used."

President Francisco da Costa Gomes, pleading for moderation in the face of civil strife and military dissent, said the new cabinet was "a transitory solution."

The cabinet was divided between military men and civilians but contained no members of the nation's two biggest political parties, the Socialists and Popular Democrats, or dissident military officers opposed to the premier's Communist-line policies.

Goncalves named two vice premiers, a civilian and a military man, to head the cabinet, Lt. Col. Antonio Arnao Metelo and Joaquim Teixeira Ribeiro, an economics professor.

Weather Suspected In Crash

By KENNETH T. WALSH
Associated Press Writer

DENVER (AP) — "It was like trying to get out of a sardine can," said one of the passengers after a Continental Airlines 727 jetliner plummeted from an altitude of 100 feet on takeoff and skidded across a grassy field. All 131 persons aboard survived the belly-down crash.

Hospitals reported that 38 persons were treated, 15 were admitted.

A spokesman for the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) said it would be premature to speculate on the cause of Thursday's crash. But he added that wind turbulence had been reported in the area.

Passengers and airport officials said an engine burned briefly, apparently before the crash, but there were no flames inside the plane.

The FAA spokesman said the plane, on a flight from Denver to Wichita, Kan., took off from Stapleton International Airport about 4:20 p.m. with 124 passengers and 7 crew members aboard. He said it ascended about 100 feet, then dropped on its belly in a grassy field just beyond the runway and skidded for a quarter of a mile. The landing gear had been retracted before the plane hit, he said. The impact cracked the plane's front and tail sections.

Ed Suddarth of Los Angeles, a passenger, said he noticed the jet was not making an ascent as steep as required. He recalled telling a companion, "This plane is ot going to make it." Then the jet hit the ground. "There wasn't any warning, there was nothing," Suddarth said.

He said several passengers began screaming but there was no fire in the passenger area "and that's what saved our lives."

The passengers rushed to escape and "it was like trying to get out of a sardine can," he added.

Lois Anderson of Wichita said she had no time to worry as the plane descended. "These things happen so fast," she said.

Bert Walther of Ponca City, Okla., said, "I heard some screams, but, in general, people behaved very well."

Suddarth said that as the plane crashed, he thought of the June 24 crash of an Eastern Airlines 727 at New York. That crash claimed 114 lives and was the worst single plane disaster in U.S. aviation history.

Widowed Spouses With Good Marriages Go for Second Round

By Abigail Van Buren

1975 by Chicago Tribune-N Y News Synd Inc

DEAR ABBY: George and I have been married for 32 years, and with so many of his friends dropping dead of heart attacks and my friends dying of cancer, we started talking about what we would do if the other one were to die.

I told George that if he were to die, I'd never marry again, and he said I obviously didn't have a very high opinion of our marriage.

Then George told me that if I were to die, he would definitely marry again, which proved that he thought more of our marriage than I did.

I asked him if he had anybody in mind, and he named a woman whose husband is still living. I asked him what about her husband, and he said, "Well, if YOU can die, HE can die, too, so I'm just assuming you were both dead."

One word led to another, and now we aren't speaking.

Abby, is it true that people who think highly of their marriage will marry again if a spouse dies, and those who don't, will not?

If that's true, I'll apologize.

- GLADYS

DEAR GLADYS: Apologize.

DEAR ABBY: To begin with, from August through December of last year, I had a running battle with the credit department of a large, well-known, high-class, New York-based department store. They claimed I owed them $100.

After much correspondence, they finally admitted that due to a computer error, instead of MY owing them $100, THEY owed me 10¢.

For the last six months, they have been sending me a monthly notice that I have a credit of 10¢.

Abby, so far, it has cost them 60¢ in postage to call my attention to a 10¢ credit. Don't you agree that this is absurd?

It's no wonder the state of New York is broke. Those know-it-all easterners think they are so smart that nobody can tell them a thing.

Please print your comments on this ridiculous situation, and I will gladly spend a dime to mail it to them.

HAD-IT IN L.A.

DEAR HAD IT: I agree, it's foolish to spend 10¢ month after month to inform a customer of a 10¢ credit. But why indict a whole state for the nonsensical business practice of one company?

DEAR ABBY: A woman complained that her husband deserted her and their children, and when she tried to locate him through the Social Security office, they told her he was alive, but they refused to disclose his whereabouts. (You said, "Even bums have rights.")

No more! Beginning July 1st, a new law has gone into effect that permits wives to have access to federal data (I.R.S., Social Security, Civil Service, Defense Dept., etc.) to locate deserting ex-spouses who have failed to pay alimony and or child support.

Designed primarily to keep mothers off welfare, the law can be used to locate even middle-class or upper-class nonsupporters.

It would be helpful if you published the following address of the Parent Locator Service because so few attorneys, and even fewer mothers whose husbands have deserted them, know of its existence.

DEAR MR. S.: Thank you for the extremely helpful information. Thousands of deserted wives will bless you tonight. And an equal number of runaway spouses who have been successfully hiding out will curse you.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

YEAR SINCE RESIGNATION

Nixon Expected To Keep Silent On Anniversary

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — One year ago tomorrow, Richard M. Nixon, besieged by the Watergate scandal, surrendered his presidency, the first American president in history to resign.

Living in self-imposed isolation, Nixon is not expected to mark the painful anniversary with any public comment.

A year ago tonight, on Aug. 8, 1974, Nixon went on nationwide television to announce his resignation. But officially he was still President until the following day when Gerald R. Ford was sworn in as his successor.

Publicly silent since he stepped down, Nixon has chosen to become one of America's most private citizens.

"Sometimes we forget that he even lives here," says one resident of this small seaside city. "Weeks go by and we don't even think of him."

But some Americans remember. Tourists on vacation along the California coast make pilgrimages here daily, driving down "Avenida del Presidente" to the point where it dead-ends at the stone walls guarding Nixon's rambling estate from public view.

"We just wanted to see what it looked like" said a family from Indiana who approached the gates Thursday. "We didn't really think we'd see him."

The beach below Nixon's blufftop villa is open to the public now, and youngsters who say it's the best surfing beach in town hike miles to get there. They rarely look up the hill toward the Nixon compound where uniformed guards march among the cypress trees bordering the estate.

"We have respected his desire for privacy," said Emil Radics, president of the San Clemente Chamber of Commerce. "If he decides that he wants to participate in community affairs, I'm confident he'll be welcomed wholeheartedly."

But no one has pressed Nixon to participate in the town's elaborate bicentennial celebration which began with a parade called "Landmarks of Liberty."

But old friends who have visited Nixon say his exile may be only temporary, a period of emotional and physical recovery.

He still takes injections of anticoagulant drugs to prevent recurrence of phlebitis. His recovery from surgery last fall has been slow, and visitors say he still has periods of weakness.

AT TAXPAYERS' EXPENSE

Congressmen Traveling Abroad During Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the name of detente and at the taxpayers' expense, several House and Senate delegations are traveling abroad during the August recess.

The range of trips being taken by members this month include swings into France, the Soviet Union, Romania, England, Germany, Saipan, Cuba, the People's Republic of China, Italy and Switzerland.

Congressional critics call these foreign trips "junkets" because most expenses are paid by the congressional committees which arranged them. Defenders of the trips say members will gain knowledge about the nations being visited.

The delegations usually receive red-carpet treatment from foreign leaders who hope to woo them into looking at their country favorably.

It's the usual practice for spouses to go along, but members must pay for their spouses' expenses. Congressional funds, however, pay for committee counsels or other official aides in the party.

After returning home, they will write newsletters and hold news conferences to tell things they learned about the foreign mood, military hardware, waterways, banks, food supplies and what those other nations think of Americans.

One of the most ambitious trips is the current visit by 19 House members to the Soviet Union, Romania and Yugoslavia. Headed by Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., the members are meeting with government leaders and visiting industrial and agricultural sites.

"In the wake of the Apollo-Soyuz space mission and the Helsinki Treaty we have a unique opportunity to contribute to the easing of tensions and the goal of world peace which we all share," said traveler Robert H. Michel, R-Ill.

Michel also said he intends to gain insights into U.S. grain sales to the Soviets — "We want hard dollars and good prices for our products and I hope on my return to be satisfied that will be the case."

Besides Albert and Michel, others in the group include Armed Services Committee Chairman Melvin Price, D-Ill., Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., Edward P. Boland, D-Mass., Phil M. Landrum, D-Ga., John Brademas, D-Ind., Delbert L. Latta, R-Ohio, James H. Quillen, R-Tenn., Phillip Burton D-Calif., William J. Green, D-Pa., Sidney Yates, D-Ill., Tim Lee Carter, R-Ky., Agriculture Committee Chairman Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., Tom Beville, D-Ala., Marvin L. Esch, R-Mich., Bill Archer, R-Tex., George E. Danielson, D-Calif., and Millicent Fenwick, R-N.J.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, accompanied by his wife, staff members and Secretary of the Senate Francis R. Valeo, is on an official tour for the Foreign Relations Committee which now finds him in Burma for four days after stops in Portugal and Saudi Arabia. The Montana Democrat's party also will visit Thailand, Hong Kong and the Philippines.

In other trips, Reps. William C. Wampler, R-Va., ranking minority member on agriculture, and W. R. Poage, D-Tex., chairman of the livestock and grains subcommittee, are planning a two-week excursion to Moscow, Leningrad, eastern Russia and Mongolia to study agriculture conditions. They will be accompanied by two staff aides.

House Armed Services member William L. Dickinson, R-Ala., and two committee aides are on a week-long inspection of Cuba, the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay and military installations in the Panama Canal Zone.

Another Armed Services delegation will go to Saipan and Tinian to inspect properties that would be leased to the United States for defense under the covenant approved by the House establishing the Northern Marianas as a U.S. commonwealth. That group consist of Reps. Charles H. Wilson, D-Calif., and Mendel J. Davis, D-S.C., and Del. Antonio B. Won Pat, D-Guam, all members of the military installations and facilities subcommittee.

The People's Republic of China is being visited for two weeks by a joint Senate-House group: Sens. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., and Reps. Margaret M. Heckler, R-Mass. Paul Findley, R-Ill., and Paul N. McCloskey Jr., R-Calif.

Prevent Obesity By Knowing Problem

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
(Last of six parts)

There is a lot more to preventing obesity than just "burning off calories" or starving yourself. If you understand this, you can eat a healthier diet that gives you more energy and still not get fat.

The problem with most programs for the treatment of obesity is that they are not designed to treat the real cause. We have been engaged in "symptomatic treatment". If a person is too fat, the symptom is attacked by decreasing the amount he eats, rather than treating the underlying cause for the obestiy. Obviously, once the symptomatic treatment is stopped the person gets fat again because the underlying problem has not been treated.

Some of the problems of obesity are indeed caused simply be overeating and eating the wrong things. The fact remains that most people get fat while continuing to eat about the same things they ate in earlier years and while doing the same amount of physical activity.

The real problem in most cases of obesity begins with how many calories you use while you are not doing anything, not while you are exercising. The calories you use at rest under standard conditions (the basal matabolism) decreases as you get older. If you eat the same number of calories you ate when you were younger and do the same amount of physical activity, you will still get fat.

Muscle cells are active cells, busy all the time, even then you are resting. They process food around the energy circle to enable us to have more energy. A heavy laborer or well-trained athelte does use more calroies at rest than a sedentary individual at rest. The difference is important and significant in terms of obesity. Fat cells are fairly inactive.

As we get older we tend to lose our muscle cells—we say our muscle mass decreases. There are many reasons for this, and certainly one of these is failure to maintain physical activity of the type that builds and strengthens muscles. Sex hormones are important. Male hormones tend to stimulate the formation of muscles, female hormones do not.

The average 25-year-old man will use 186 more calories a day at rest than a 75-year-old man of comparable height and weight. This means the 75-year-old man will need to walk three miles a day just to use the same energy the young man uses resting. It's diabolical, but if you don't maintain enough active cells in the body, you will need to work harder and harder as you get older just to keep from getting fat.

You can think of the calorie balance problem as having three parts, not two. There is the point of how many calories you eat, calories in. Then, there are two ways calories are spent, calories out. One is by physical activity and the other is the resting requirement. The resting requirement is literally the body's overhead. What is left is the profit and can be spent on activity. In many people, the overhead factor is the most important.

A man working in a sedentary office job may use 1500 calories a day as overhead or resting requirements and only 500 a day for physical activity. That's not much. While I agree it is important to improve the activity program and use more calories, the reason this man starts getting fat all at once is because his overhead requirements start going down, not because he has a further decrease in actitivy.

Obviously, an important approach to the problem of obesity is to do what you can to maintain the use of calories at rest. This means trying to maintain our bodies so they are strong and have adequate muscles.

It doesn't take very long to do strength-type exercises. You needn't become exhausted to build and maintain a suitable amount of muscle mass. If you diet unwisely, you can decrease the number of active cells you have. That means your body is less capable of producing energy for you and your resting calorie requirement will go down. If that is already the underlying problem, you can see the treatment will actually make the problem worse.

You can see from this problem the importance of a combined exercise and diet program in combating or preventing obesity. Of course, food intake is important in weight control. It remains true that the degree of obesity is directly related to the amount of food energy consumed and the amount of energy used. The only shift in emphasis I would like to make in this discussion is that the energy used isn't all just visible physical activity.

There are numerous ways individuals can plan the consumption of their calories for their diet program. One desirable system is to be on a relatively restricted intake one day and eat a normal, nutritious optimal diet on the second day.

Another approach is to make a limited reduction in the calories, not of sufficient degree to cause a major energy crisis, and stick to it longer while increasing your exercise level.

Once you've started on a diet, stick to it. Cheating on a diet is far more detrimental than most people realize. The stimulus that tells us we're hungry comes from a center in the brain. It's turned on to make us hungry when the blood glucose falls, then when enough glucose is present in the cells within the appetite center, it shuts off and our hunger stops.

This center can be reset just as the thermostat in your house can be reset. To do this, though, requires a period of training it to a new level.

Kilmer To Make Debut As Undisputed Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill Kilmer will learn how fickle the Washington fans are tonight when the Redskins meet the Atlanta Falcons in RFK Stadium in an exhibition game.

Kilmer, a 13-year veteran who has been in the middle of controversy during the off-season, will be the undisputed team leader when he opens at quarterback and plays at least the first half.

During the off-season, the Redskins retired Sonny Jurgensen, who had become as much a part of the scenery as the Capitol Dome, the White House or the Washington Monument.

Kilmer expects to hear some chants from the stands from fans of Jurgensen or Joe Theismann, who has been the No. 2 quarterback, and possibly advocates of Randy Johnson, the No. 3 signal caller.

"I always love to play at RFK," said Kilmer. "The fans have been good to me. I certainly understand their feeling for Sonny. I had the same feeling, too, because he was a great, great player."

The Falcon-Redskin game opens the first full week of exhibitions in the NFL.

On Saturday, Philadelphia is at Pittsburgh; Minnesota meets the New York Jets at Phoenix, Ariz.; Dallas travels to Los Angeles; Cincinnati is at Miami; Buffalo plays at Green Bay; St. Louis goes to Kansas City; Baltimore is at Denver; Houston and New Orleans play the inaugural game in the new Superdome, and Chicago visits San Diego.

The first full weekend of preseason games wind up Sunday when Detroit and Oakland clash at Berkeley, Calif.; Cleveland is at San Francisco and the New York Giants take on the New England Patriots at Foxboro, Mass.

Kilmer got the Redskins off to a winning start last Saturday by hitting on 11 of 16 for 130 yards, including a 48-yard touchdown to Charley Taylor, for a 17-9 victory over Cincinnati in the Hall of Fame game in Canton, Ohio.

The Falcons, with Marion Campbell beginning his first full season as head coach, are coming into RFK Stadium with a record of never beating the Redskins in three preseason and three regular season games, although his Atlanta team managed a 20-20 tie in 1967.

Jack Pardee also begins his first season as Chicago Bears coach. And like Atlanta, the Bears are experimenting with quarterbacks, including veterans Gary Huff and Bobby Douglass and rookie Bob Avellini.

At New Orleans, a sell-out crowd of 74,000 is predicted for the first game to be staged in the yet-to-be-completed Superdome. Houston, which came on strong at the end of last season, has added All-Star rookies running back Don Hardeman, linebacker Robert Brazile and wide receiver Emmett Edwards.

The St. Louis-Kansas City matchup will be the 10th tussle for the Governor's Cup. The Chiefs have a new coach, Paul Wiggin, while St. Louis Coach Don Coryell will open with virtually the same team which won the NFC East with a 10-4 record last season.

Another intra-state rivalry pits the defending Super Bowl champion Steelers against the Philadelphia Eagles. This time, the Eagles have quarterback Rom Gabriel from the start of the year.

Al Woodall will get the starting nod at quarterback for the Jets, but Joe Namath is sure to see some action against the defending NFC champion Vikings.

At Green Bay, signal-caller John Hadl will be starting his first full season and former Packer quarterback Bart Starr will be making his coaching debut. Buffalo, with O.J. Simpson, is anxious to make a strong bid for AFC Eastern title.

Baltimore also has a new coach—Ted Marchibroda—and Denver might be a rough place to start. In Los Angeles, about 65,000 fans are expected to see the 30th annual Los Angeles Times Charities game. While the Rams hold an 8-7 edge over the Cowboys in pre-season play, Dallas has won the last four.

Forrest Gregg will make his coaching debut when his Cleveland Browns meet the 49ers. Both teams have undergone extensive revamping in the off-season. Detroit will start Greg Landry, out most of last season with a shoulder fracture, at quarterback, while Oakland will go with veteran Ken Stabler.

Craig Morton is starting his first full season with the Giants, but New England is out to prove that last year's success was no fluke.

'Unknowns' Find Glory In PGA's First Round

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — "Are you aware," a reporter asked Jack Nicklaus as the world's greatest golfer savored his even par 70 in the opening round of the PGA Tournament, "that you are trailing such household names as Benson, Wampler and Dougherty?"

"Who?" Jack asked. "I know Wampler, but the others—how do you spell that last name?"

Nicklaus' consternation was generally shared as the pros' big family championship—one of the game's Big Four—moved into the second round behind a phalanx of the most implausible pace-setters imaginable.

Oldsters and rookies, the infirm and the insecure, the downtrodden and the down-and-out are on top, kicking divots in the faces of golf's aristocrats—Nicklaus, Weiskopf, Trevino, Palmer and Player.

The first-round leader is a slim Oklahoman, one Mark Hayes, 26, playing his second year on the tour and in his first PGA, his bags carried by a man with a broken arm and a Masters degree in business.

Hayes shot 67, three under par over the back-breaking, 7,180-yard Firestone course. "It's too soon to get excited about leading this tournament," he said nervously.

Tied for second with 68 were Bob Benson, 35, a club pro from Easton, Conn., who operates a couple of bowling alleys on the side, and Larry Hinson, a gaunt young man with a withered left arm whose fortunes of late have been so depressing he was considering a different career.

Benson's main claim to fame is that as a teen-age assistant pro in Palm Beach, Fla., he gave lessons to the Kennedys, correcting a hook of the late President John Kennedy.

Only four other players managed to break par. They included a pair of grizzled veterans, Fred Wampler, 51, who hasn't played the tour in 15 years, and Bill Casper, 44, a two-time Open champion who has been devoting more time to his 7,000 fruit trees in Utah than to golf.

Wampler and Casper were tied at 69 with Bob Wynn of Santa Clara, Calif., a free-wheeling, 35-year-old tour veteran, and Ed Dougherty, a mustachioed Pennsylvanian.

It was not until the first day standings got down to the par 70s that names of the advance favorites began to show up.

Nicklaus was tied at that figure with eight others, among them Tom Weiskopf and British Open champion Tom Watson. The others were Al Geiberger, who won the PGA on this same course in 1966; former champion Ray Floyd; 51-year-old Art Wall, Bruce Devlin, long-hitting Jim Dent and Mike Morley, one of the plugging tour brigade.

Gary Player, seeking his third PGA crown, shot 72. Lee Trevino and Arnold Palmer had 73s. Johnny Miller, pro golf's Player of the Year in 1974, skied to a 78 and was so disgruntled that he hinted he might take the next plane home to San Francisco.

Landry Says '75 Camp Best

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Dallas Cowboy Coach Tom Landry says he can't remember a better training camp. Landry ought to know, he has been the only coach in the 15-year history of the National Football League club.

"The rookie crop is just super and the veterans reported in the best condition of any group we've ever had," said Landry as Dallas practiced for Saturday night's exhibition opener in Los Angeles.

Landry added, "We have a very difficult pre-season schedule. While it's important that we get a look at our young players under fire, it's also important that we win as many games as possible.

"You don't want to develop a losing habit, especially with a young team like ours."

Flames-Canyon Game Delayed

The Syder Flames had their their softball game with Canyon delayed for a day. The Canyon team was scheduled to come here last night for a game with the Flames on the North Park diamond.

Instead, the game will be played at 7:30 tonight on the Winston Park diamond.

The Flames will go to Lampasas tomorrow to participate in a double-elimination tournament. Their first opponent in the tournament will be Killeen in a game scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

Royal Sounds Off On Unpleasant Recruiting

HOUSTON (AP) — College football coaches often complain about having to recruit athletes but there's something indellible about the complaints when they come from University of Texas football Coach Darrell Royal.

"I'll tell you this, I am sick and tired of chasing 17 and 18-year-old kids around when they take the phone off the hook and dodge you, run off and stay with somebody else, Royal said.

"Or have me come from Harlingen, Tex., take a private plane and fly all the way across the state to sign a guy the next morning at his request, and then get there and can't find him."

Royal got into the unpleasantries of recruiting during a discussion Thursday of ways to "trim the fat" from spiraling athletic budgets. Royal thinks the Southwest Conference and National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) should limit the number of visits a school can make to a prospect to three.

"After many years of experience in recruiting, I think it's become very distasteful," Royal said prior to the annual Southwest Conference Football Jamboree.

"I think it's harmful to the prospects that we are recruiting, to their families, to the high school programs, and I think in some instances it's degrading to the coaches who are actually doing the recruiting."

Royal, despite his ability as an outstanding recruiter, said the trend has led to an expensive battle of one-upmanship to have more coaches and visit recruits more often.

"If they hire 12 (coaches) we've got to hire 14," Royal said. "We hire 14 and somebody else has to hire 16. So after awhile nobody has an advantage. We wind up with 15 coaches. We wind up going to see a prospect 20 times. And none of us gained an advantage because we both saw him 20 times.

Despite Royal's eloquence he did not get a united stand from the other eight SWC head coaches attending Thursday's kickoff luncheon.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said the legislation he has seen only benefits metropolitan schools and schools with already established programs.

"We want to do what is best for college athletics," Texas Tech Coach Steve Sloan said. "We want to allow a team to go from the bottom to the top, from the middle to the top and to stay on top."

Texas A&M Coach Emory Bellard said he didn't think any legislation would help recruiting spending. "I think all the legislation is more to equalize rather than economize."

Okies Fearful Of David Hodge

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Aside from the simmering August heat, the hottest topic of conversation prior to Saturday night's 38th annual Texas-Oklahoma Oil Bowl game featuring the cream of schoolboy football talents from the two states, was David Hodge.

Hodge is a 6-foot-4, 230-pound linebacker who bordered on awesome last week in the Texas High School Coaches Association All-Star game. The University of Houston-bound Hodge intercepted a pass, recovered a fumble and made 13 tackles in the South's 14-0 victory over the North.

"I know Hodge had a great game in Fort Worth and just looking at him is enough to scare you," said Oklahoma Coach Rene Huckaba of Ukon.

Texas Coach John Wilkins of Odessa Permian agreed and added that along with Dwight Jefferson of San Antonio Fox Tech and Daryl Hunt of Permian "I don't know of any three better linebackers in the state."

While the strength in the Texas defense is the linebacking corps, Oklahoma has three huge and agile linemen. They are 240-pound Earl Stripling of Tulsa Washington, 255-pound Robert Hardy also of Washington and 250-pound Randy Weaks of Comanche.

Texas' task will be to stop Oklahoma's Player of the Year, Mike Gaither, a running back who has 9.7 octane in the 100-yard dash.

The Lone Star outfit can counter with swift Kenneth King of Clarendon and tough-running Eddie Hardin of Houston Madison.

For the first time, the game will be played at Memorial Stadium which has such luxuries as Astroturf and an air-conditioned press box.

A crowd of some 18,000 was expected in the 24,000-seat stadium for the 8 p.m. kickoff.

Texas leads the overall series 22-6-1 and won 20-13 last year.

Now you can air condition your home and save both electricity and money—when you buy a new Payne model RCUH or RCUHL high efficiency system. These models are up to 28% more efficient than standard models. That means they use only about three-fourths as much electricity. In fact, an average family could save enough electricity in one year to cook up to 1,600 meals on an electric range—or run their color TV free for up to three years.*
The new Payne high efficiency system may cost you a little more to buy—but real quality always does.

L. Patrick Gray Has Major Surgery

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — L. Patrick Gray, a former FBI chief, was in satisfactory condition today after undergoing what his wife described as "pretty major surgery."

Neither Mrs. Gray nor a hospital spokesman would say what type of operation was performed on Gray at Lawrence & Memorial Hospitals Thursday.

Gray, who served as acting FBI director in the Nixon administration, lives in nearby Stonington and practices law in New London.

Environmentalists Claim Big Thicket Destruction

DALLARDSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — While two congressmen attempt to push through a bill to protect the East Texas "Big Piney Woods" from lumber harvesters, buzz saws and bulldozers are wreaking havoc on the area, environmentalists say.

U.S. Reps. Charles Wilson of Lufkin and Bob Eckhardt of Houston are sponsers of the bill that would provide immediate transfer of Big Thicket land to the federal government.

Environmentalists say the Big Thicket National Preserve, 84,550 acres of Deep East Texas forest, is being desecrated by small lumber companies.

The National Park Service, which plans to buy the area in the next one to three years, says there is nothing it can do about destruction of the woods.

The Big Thicket, 12 separate pockets of quiet wilderness, was designated a national biological preserve last October. Since then, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Park Service have been surveying the land preparatory to acquistion.

No money has been appropriated yet for purchase but Park Service officials have said they expect some funding within six months to a year.

The Big Thicket Association, the organization that spearheaded efforts to save the forest as a public monument, estimates that about 2,000 acres of the woods have been stripped of their marketable timber.

Maxine Johnston, past president of the association, and now its legislative committee chairman, recently led a Wilson aide and a troop of newsmen to the scene of one logging operation.

Miss Johnston expressed her discontent above the roar of machinery, the crackling of snapping branches and the thud of tall trees slamming into the ground.

"The landowners have got to know that the Park Service will pay them for their land as well as the timber standing on it. Many of them think they will be paid just a pittance, but that is not true," she said.

Park Service spokesmen have confirmed that the landowners will be paid market value for their land and trees when money is appropriated by Congress.

"Until we purchase the land, there is really nothing we can do," said Rinehart Johannsen, local Park Service acquisition officer.

"We do not own the land, and we cannot stop them. It is their property, and they can do what they want with it until we acquire it."

Johannsen said the only possible avenue he can see to stop the cutting would be a lawsuit by individuals asking for an injunction. No such suit has been filed in state or federal court.

Money Is Missing In Crash

NEW YORK (AP) — A Baton Rouge, La., restaurateur who survived the crash of an Eastern Air Lines jet at Kennedy airport June 24, says his wife had $22,000 in cash in her purse when she died in the accident. He says $15,000 of the money is now missing.

In a letter to New York police on behalf of Joseph Dispenza, lawyer Donald P. Netchka of Clifton, N.J., said Dispenza's wife Connie, 39, was carrying the money to their native Sicily to repay relatives who had loaned them funds years ago to open the restaurant.

When Mrs. Dispenza's purse was recovered with her body from the wreckage of Flight 66 from New Orleans, it was undamaged but contained only $7,000, Netchka wrote. Detectives have been assigned to look into the case.

Police are holding $15,200 in unclaimed cash which was picked up at the scene of the crash.

Dispenza, 40, said his wife and their daughter Tina, 7, were among 114 persons who died in the crash. He and another daughter, Sandy, 9, were dismissed from a Bronx hospital last week.

The crash was the worst single aircraft disaster in U.S. aviation history.

Quake Shakes Sacramento Valley Today

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP) — A moderate earthquake, among the strongest of the aftershocks that followed Oroville's big quake a week ago, jolted portions of the Sacramento Valley early today.

No damage was reported from the shock that occurred at 12:01 a.m. It measured 5.0 on the Richter Scale, according to the University of California seismograph station at Berkeley.

A Butte County sheriff's dispatcher in Oroville said the shock came as "a twisting motion" but "we didn't think it registered as high as it did. We've had very few calls."

The Richter Scale is a measure of ground motion as recorded on seismographs. Every increase of one number means a tenfold increase in magnitude.

Hearing Set In Church Suit

HOUSTON (AP) — State Dist. Judge Reagan Cartwright has set a hearing for Sept. 3 on a suit filed by three parishioners of St. Paul's United Methodist Church who seek to assure the upkeep of the church's magnificant cathedral-like structure.

The suit alleges the church is in disrepair and asked the court to order a study of the deterioration and an audit of church funds. The suit also asked that the court halt construction of a proposed children's playground at the church.

"Repairs to the structure are urgently needed," the suit said. "Just viewing the structure shows a great deal of deterioration of the limestone due to climate and 29 slates are missing from the roof as well as an obnoxious air conditioning system in complete view of the public."

The church, now is an area growing more commercial, once was known as a congregation for the city's socially and financially elite Methodists.

Dr. Lamb

Patient wants to find doctor

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Can you recommend a good doctor locally I can start with as a family doctor? I'm a 61-year-old married man and have always been in good general health. Recently I haven't been up to par. I went to two local doctors, both made a cursory examination and no diagnosis. In the past year I have gone from normal weight of 200 to 135 pounds. The first 25 or so went rapidly and the rest gradually. I have a good appetite. I have signs of diabetes, such as vision changes and easy tiredness but they advise me my blood is normal.

I have frequent bloating of the lower abdomen, usually with pain and pressure. The pressure has caused me to have a pain which I can relieve with a few minutes of massage. And, I have occasional black stools. I take no medications, exercise a little and am retired as a postal inspector.

DEAR READER—I advise people with your problem of locating a family doctor to call the county medical society and ask for their recommendations. In your particular case I would ask them for a specialist in internal medicine.

I do not wish to alarm you but major weight loss with a normal appetite must be carefully evaluated. It can mean diabetes, with loss ot sugar in the urine. It can also be from an overactive thyroid, anxiety-depression, or it can be a cancer. No stone should be left unturned until the cause of the weight loss is pretty well established.

You have two other symptoms that need further investigation, specifically a change in your bowel habit with gas problems and occasional black stools.

Anyone with a change in bowel habit or black stools, even without weight loss, should have an examination of the colon and rectum. That includes a finger examination, an instrument to examine the lower bowel and X ray studies. If you haven't had these your case has not been completely examined if your history is as you state.

Black stools, particularly if they have a tarry consistency, may be from digested blood from internal bleeding. Just black stools can also be cause from taking iron tablets.

It is important for the public to realize that the most common serious cancer in the general population is cancer of the colon and rectum. Breast cancer is more common in women and prostate cancer more common in men, but for a mixed population of men and women, colon and rectal cancer is first. It is a major killer. It can be cured if detected soon enough. That is why good examinations are important. No so-called complete examination is really complete without at least a finger examination of the rectum. This is a small indignity compared to the opportunity to detect a large number of the most common form of serious cancer.

Early detection and surgery results in a high rate of cure. The problem is achieving early detection, either because of inadequate examinations or the patient's reluctance to seek an examination when he needs it. Remember any unexplained change in bowel habit, bleeding or black, tarry stools all demand an immediate examination.

Send your question to Dr. Lamb in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. For information on the bowels send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents and ask for The Health Letter number 2-1, Irritable or Spastic Colon and Constipation.

The Supreme Court upheld New Deal legislation such as the National Labor Relations Act and Social Security, in 1937.
