COMPLETED "BUS-PORT" - Maintenance and Grounds Supervisor Tim Stewart, right, with employees Santos Carrizales and Russell Clopton stand in front of the bus stalls they constructed at a significant savings to the school district. Originally proposed in the 1989 bond issue, funds ran out before the stalls could be built. Stewart, knowing the district was in need of the port, designed the cover and built it at a cost of $6997 to the district. Supt. Mike Caplinger said the job was completed by the three in between other duties, and with no overtime pay.

Council finalizes list of year's street projects

The city council finalized its list of streets to be worked on this year, during Monday night's meeting.

There were a couple of changes made from the original list that had been under consideration.

It was decided to widen and resurface the 600 block of West Magnolia, which will align the street's sides all the way to West Highway.

Because of the land's slope on the north side, changes will be required to part of the two residential driveways, preventing water from running into the garages, Mike Price, city administrator, explained.

That addition to the project list was made possible when aldermen accepted a proposal to cut back on how much of West Smith will be resurfaced.

The change is to resurface only part of the street, from Jackson to the west side of the bridge, Price explained. The initial proposal was to do the work all the way to the city limit.

Included in the resurfacing project is the complete base replacement and storm drainage work.

The other two streets approved for resurfacing include Surrey Circle, from Wagon Wheel around and back to Surrey, and North First, from Magnolia to Texas Ave.

Streets approved for slurry work include: Manes, from First to Third; First, from Bank to Magnolia; Bond, from East Highway to Texas; Lafayette, from Wall to Yosemite; Emerald, from Wall to Colorado and Wall to Victoria; Poe, from Park to Bond; Aldine, from Wall to Yosemite, and Jackson, from Bank to alley between Clara and Louisa.

OTHER BUSINESS

The council officially called for this year's election to be on Saturday, May 6, and named Patty Mayfield and Ruth Gard election judges.

Terms expire this year for Mayor Tim Hunter and Aldermen Joe Ward and Joe Singer.

Charles Seets and Leonard Davis were re-appointed to three-year terms on the Planning and Zoning Committee.

Aldermen took no action, but generally agreed, to instituting a local program of the Wichita County Teen Court. When implemented, teenagers will be allowed to perform community service for restitution of their punishment following minor violations of the law, Susan Fraker, coordinator, explained.

Following an appearance by Doug Hill from TXU Electric, who explained details of an ordinance he had presented relating to revising certain rate schedules, aldermen approved the ordinance.

The changes were created by Senate Bill 7, which provides for electric customers to be able to purchase electricity from competative companies, and establishes rates to be charged for the next four years.

Another ordinance approved involved the requested replatting of two lots owned by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Chesser, which will permit building of a home on their property.

A resolution authorizing the city administrator to sign the paper work concerning the city's purchasing of 135.24 acres of land from Gene Wigley was approved.

During discussion on that topic, Alderman Ward pointed out that the land, located between Lake Iowa Park and US 287, is being acquired as a potential location for several projects, and not for the city to finance development of a golf course.

Ward said he would not support the city's expending of money to build a course, but it would be available for someone wanting to build one.

Alderman Wayne House added that the council was not intending to build a course, but have the land available for someone else to do it.

Mayor Hunter mentioned that two men had approached him six months ago who were interested in developing a golf course on the west side of the lake.

At the suggestion of city attorney Jay Cantrell, the council gave a standing approval to allow city workers to perform secondary tasks, such as dumping and leveling dirt, on city-owned land which has been leased to individuals.

Following a 14-minute executive session with their attorney, the council agreed to accept settlement to threatened litigation brought against the city by former police officer Di Ann Alderman. No monitary amount was stated, however.

Police arrest man wanted in Germany

In an unusual situation Sunday, Iowa Park police took a man into custody who was wanted in Germany.

Police were notified at 4:13 p.m. that a man, carrying a duffle bag and accompanied by a small boy, was walking west of Johnson Road and hitchhiking.

When approached, the man provided papers he said were from the immigration service, but when the numbers were checked out, they were told to hold the man and boy.

They were notified by the Immigration Service at 7:28 p.m. to hold the man, because he was wanted in Germany on a charge of criminal abduction.

Michael Charles Schuster, 39, was transported to the Wichita County jail, and Monday the INS transported him to Dallas to await extradition.

The boy was turned over to Child Protective Services.

Cook of the Week

Kim Williams Price

Wild Game Recipes

This week we are featuring the recipes of Kim Price, an Iowa Park High School graduate, who is now living in Pagosa Springs, Colo.

Kim, the daughter of Judy and Felton Williams of Valley View, is married to Shawn Price, also a graduate of IPHS. They have a five-year-old daughter, Faye, a kindergarten student.

Kim and Shawn have lived in Colorado since October, 1996, moving from Sonora, Texas, where they lived for five years.

They own and operate Saddle Creek Wildlife Studio, a custom taxidermy studio in Pagosa Springs. Kim also has a real estate license and works part-time in land sales for Land Properties, Inc.

"In the warmer months we spend most of our time outdoors, hiking and fishing as a family," Kim said. "We truly enjoy 'God's Country' spending much of our free time in the national forest."

Shawn is active in sports, playing in softball and flag football leagues, and the family goes to a lot of tournaments. His softball team placed fifth in the triple crown world series last summer in Steamboat Springs, Colo.

All three of them enjoy shooting longbows, and travel to 3-D tournaments around the area. Kim said it has become a family sport for them.

Kim said they spend the cooler months inside, near the fire, reading, crocheting, baking, or playing games.

Kim likes cooking and baking. She said that so much of what she cooks is game that when Faye sits down at the table she asks, "Mommy is this elk or deer?" Her favorites are elk and wild sheep.

Kim has a handwritten cookbook, full of her Grandmother Williams' favorite sweets, that she refers to often. She collects cookbooks and frequently tries new recipes. "I work up many of my game recipes myself," she said.

"I cook basically all wild game for our family and friends, and everyone seems to like it," Kim said. She thought now would be a good time to share her recipes, because after the hunting season people have a lot of game stored in their freezers.

Kim and Shawn hunt a lot in Colorado, elk and mule deer, and also hunt whitetail and turkey when they are in Texas. Shawn pheasant hunts in Kansas, and they both hog and exotic hunt near San Antonio. She said her cooking varies with what she has in the freezer at any given time.

Sarah Elizabeth Marie Kennedy and Scott Daniel Self exchanged nuptials vows in a double-ring candlelight service Saturday evening at Christ the King Catholic Church.

Rev. Mr. Patrick Burke directed the recitation of vows for the children of Pat and Sheri Kennedy of Iowa Park and Phillip and Kandi Self of Childress.

Designed with an off-the-shoulder neckline and an empire waistline, the bodice of her gown featured a weave pattern designed with crystal bugle beads and highlighted with embroidered rum-colored flowers. The flower and weave pattern was repeated on the skirt and chapel-length train. A fingertip illusion veil secured by a halo of white flowers completed her ensemble.

She carried a bouquet formed of white calla lilies, roses and stephanotis tied with silver ribbons. A handkerchief belonging to the bride's great-grandmother, was tucked into her bouquet and held a penny dated the year of her birth.

According to bridal tradition for "something old" the bride wore and carried something that belonged to each of her maternal grandmothers. She wore a pearl bracelet and necklace that belongs to her grandmother, and in honor of her great-grandmothers, she carried a handkerchief belonging to one, and the wedding band of the other. In memory of her great-great-grandmothers, she wore a wedding band of one and a pearl brooch of the other. She also wore a wedding band that belonged to the groom's late grandmother.

To complete traditions, she chose her gown for "something new;" her veil, which she borrowed from the groom's sister, Kaci Crouch, was "something borrowed;" and the "something blue" garter, which was handmade by her great-grandmother.

The bride was attended by Lindie Shook of Iowa Park as matron of honor and Melissa Black of Iowa Park as bridesmaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Daniel Self

with princess seams, a flared skirt and a scoop back accented with fabric roses. They each carried a single, linen-colored hydrangea wrapped with silver ribbon.

Flower girl was Kaygan Walker of Iowa Park. She wore a burgundy short-sleeved long dress with an empire waist and scoop back accented with fabric roses. She carried a silver basket filled with burgundy hydrangeas and accented with silver ribbons.

The groom was attended by Jimmy Perkins of Childress as best man, and Scott Landreth of Wichita falls was groomsman.

Ushers were Patric Kennedy of Iowa Park, brother of the bride, Kelly Crouch of Childress, brother-in-law of the groom, and Jason Yeager of College Station.

The groom was attired in his dress uniform of the United States Coast Guard, complemented with a boutonniere of white roses and stephanotis.

Male members of the wedding party wore black, single breasted tuxedos with double satin notch lapels and black vests. Each wore a white rose boutonniere.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar illuminated by two seven-branch candelabras with burning tapers. Each candelabra was wrapped with ivy and accented with burgundy tiger lilies and silver bows. The mantel behing the altar held an arrangement of wisteria accented with burgundy tiger lilies and crystal candleholder with white tapers.

The bride's book, presided by Karley Riney, cousin of the bride, was on a table with a silver candelabra accented with burgundy roses. White magnolia bushes were at the entrance.

Organist Jim Quashnock played various selections as guests were being seating before the ceremony. After the mothers of the couple lit the candles, soloist Rick Patrick sang "When Love Is Found."

During the ceremony, Rick Patrick offered "Wherever You Go" while the couple lit the unity candle. "Vieux Noel" was played for the recessional.

During the ceremony, scripture readings were given by the bride's grandmother, Marie Disselhorst of Palmyra, Mo., and by the groom's grandmother, Mary Lou Summers of Childress.

The focal point of the reception hall was the table that held the bride and groom's cakes. Covered in burgundy with a white Battenburg lace overlay, it held three bridal cakes, each on its own acrylic stand. Each cake was iced in white, and topped with a burgundy tiger lilly. Grapevine greenery intertwined through the cake stands.

The groom's cake was a black forest cake topped with whipped cream and cherries and drizzled with chocolate.

A large head table, skirted in silver and covered with a burgudy cloth, was decorated with tulle, white lights and greenery. The bridal bouquet served as the centerpiece, and silver candlesticks were at each end of the table.

Guest tables were skirted in silver and covered in burgundy. Each table was centered with candles and greenery.

When guests entered the reception, they were greeted at two tables covered in burgundy and accented with silver.

One held a small lamp, the guest book and a cross-stitched wedding sampler that the groom's mother made for the couple.

The second table held a white rose in a vase, along with a candle and framed photos of the couple. It also held an album that celebrated the lives and relationship of the bride and groom. The bride's "Pretty As A Picture" collection completed the setting.

Luminaries lit the hallway.

Special guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. M.E. Disselhorst of Palmyra, Mo, grandparents of the bride; Ms. Joyce Kennedy of Austin, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Robert Riney of Taylor, Mo., great-grandmoher of the bride; and Mr. and Mrs. Del Summers of Childress, grandparents of the groom.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Buckley, Lance nd Laci of Georgetown; Kyle Summers of Bartlesville, Ok; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Disselhorst, Steven Disselhorst, Ken Disselhorst, Sally Gotttman, Pam Hoenes, Heather Kite and Karley Riney, all of Palmyra, Mo., and Christine Rumple and Kevin Brock, both of Petersburg, AK.

The bride is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and attended Midwestern State Univ. She will continue her education at the Univ. of Alaska. The groom is a graduate of Childress High School and also attended Midwestern State Univ. He is a member of the United States Coast Guard, stationed on Mitkoff Island in Alaska.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

You may remember that I had a comment in this space last week about those new coins that were minted to replace the dollar bill.

I've checked with the bank, and they still don't have them.

Wire stories earlier reported they would initially be distributed as change at Wal-Mart stores, and then at banks.

It occurred to me: you don't think the fact that Wal-Mart is headquartered in Arkansas, Bill Clinton's home state, would have anything to do with that, do you?

The headline I used a few weeks ago has apparently misled a lot of readers, and I certainly didn't intend to do that.

When I reported "City buys land for golf course," I didn't say that the city was going to build it.

Some readers assumed that would be the case.

No, the city has purchased the land from Gene Wigley, and that land is available to some investor who might wish to develop a golf course.

The Wigley place is an ideal location for a course, with great exposure to the traveling public. It covers the acreage between Lake Iowa Park and U.S. 287.

There have been a number of prospective course developers who have looked at Iowa Park with great interest over the past 20 years, but location and land purchase prices have been a stumbling block, I'm told.

Now that situation has been eliminated. The city is ready to work with some developer, not to give them the land but to make it available on a long-term, low-cost lease, as I understand it.

A golf course here would be a considerable contributor not only to the quality of life for our residents, but also a major savings to a lot of golfers who must leave the area to enjoy our sport.

It would also contribute tax revenue to the city.

That quality of life issue could possibly also generate more jobs for residents, in case you hadn't thought about it.

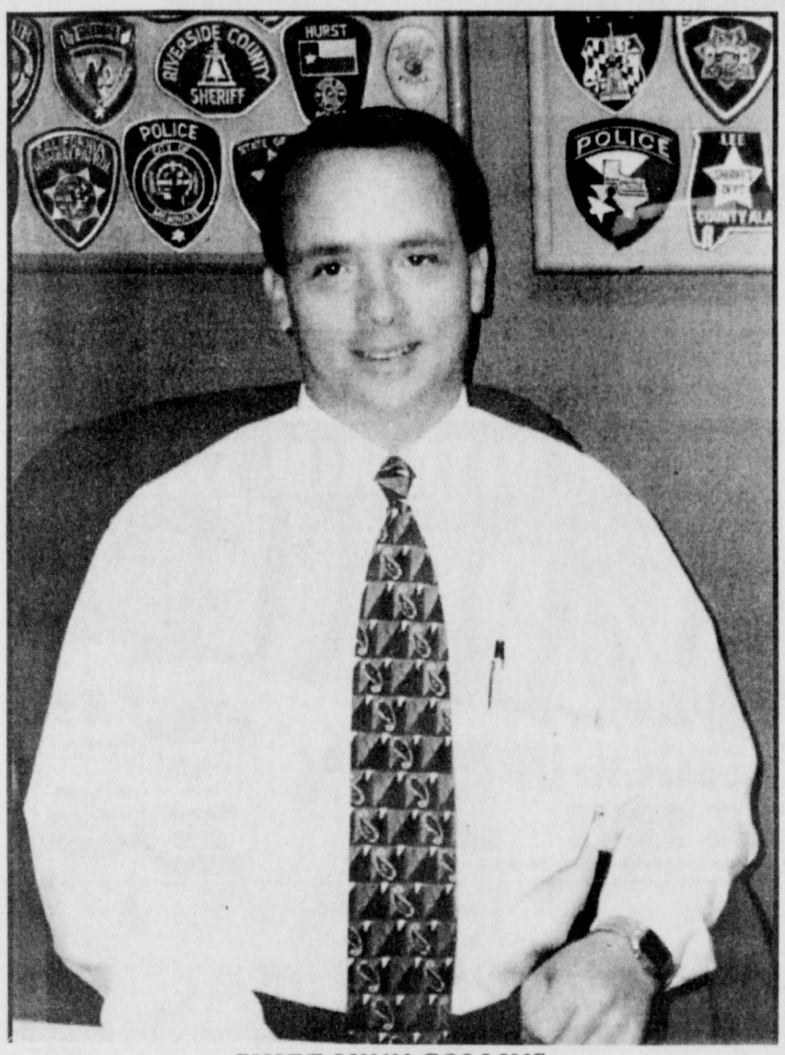

I remember a business-recruitment specialist who spoke to the Industrial Development Corporation members three decades ago.

He pointed out that quality of life issues are a major attraction to new, as well as existing, employers.

He said, "It's important because, a worker who is happy with his quality of life is a good worker, which makes employers happy."

Okay, the stage is set. Now I hope my next major headline will be announcing a course developer taking advantage of what is available here.

And I'll do my best not to mislead you again with my headline.

CHIEF LYNN COLLINS

Know your local police

By Sherrie Williams

Iowa Park Police Chief Lynn Collins is living his child hood dream. He had always told his father he wanted to be a policeman and follow in his footsteps.

Chief Collins says his father, the late Wilburn Collins, was a police officer 20 years. Collins said," I always looked up to him and admired the pride he took in his work."

The late Collins was an Iowa Park Police Officer in the late 1950's and early 1960's. He later took a position as a patrol officer with the Vernon Police Department and was assigned badge #14.

He and Kenneth Dozier, father of Lieutenant Mike Dozier, had worked together at the Wichita County Sheriff's Department.

Collins began his career in the police field in Vernon, badge #14, as a patrol officer in June 1984. He was promoted to detective in 1989. He left Vernon and took a position as patrol officer Feb. 3, 1993 in Iowa Park. He was later promoted to Detective and then Lieutenant. June 8, 1998 Collins was named Iowa Park Police Chief.

One regret Collins has is that his dad passed away in 1980 and wasn't here when he (Collins) began his career in law enforcement.

Collins takes his job seriously and is proud of the accomplishments of the police department since he has been chief.

Iowa Park currently has nine patrol officers and a Lieutenant of Operations / Detective.

Five officers have completed 196 hours of refresher course. Eighty percent of the officers are intermediate certified. The others only need the field time, they have the class time required to be intermediate officers. Collins says most departments the size of Iowa Park only have about 50% of the department intermediate trained, the rest are basic certified.

Each of the police cars also have video cameras, which is not only good for the citizens but a good training tool for the officers. The officers recently received eight hours of training on the use of the car video cameras.

Collins stated that crime in Iowa Park is down and one of the safest towns in North Texas.

Collins said, "my primary goal as chief is to assist in the development of the agency and personnel in such a manner as to be recognized as a professional police agency. "All too often people stereotype small agencies as being less capable than larger departments. This is simply not true," Collins said. " I am proud to say that we have professionally trained police officers and communications staff with as much or even more training and experience than our neighboring agencies. He added, "it's of course up to us as a team to direct our experience and professionalism in a positive way so we may be recognized and accepted as a professional police agency."

"This, together with continued focus on community policing, will hopefully allow the department and staff to be recognized as professionals," Collins stated.

Collins emphasized community policing is to have good public relations and have school and community programs that expose the officers to the citizens. "Officers and K-9 Rika do programs for various groups and organizations and try to educate the public about drugs, crimes, and other areas of policing," he added.

Collins is also responsible for organizing the Emergency Service Chaplain program in Iowa Park. The chaplains are used by the police and fire department when a situation may arise that a victim, family members of victims, fireman or a police officer might need spiritual support.

Despite all the goals Collins is working to achieve and the hours his job demands he will also begin teaching a class at the Police Academy at Vernon Regional Junior College in March. Recently he was appointed to the Training Advisory Board at VRJC. He attends Faith Baptist Church and is a member of the Iowa Park Lions Club.

Collins and his wife, Desiree have two sons, Cameron, age three and Colton, 20 months. He has two sons in Vernon, Eric, 16 and Ryan, 13.

During the open forum portion of the meeting, a parent addressed the board with the complaint that her son's civil rights had been violated.

She said that her son's ear was pierced and he had been sent home from school for wearing an earring. She felt that this was sexual discrimination because girls were allowed to wear earrings to school.

Superintendent Mike Caplinger explained that this was in the school's dress code that was distributed to all students at the beginning of the year, and was a part of the school district's policy.

He said that according to the school's attorney, the district is legal on this.

The parent was told that the dress code committee meets in the spring and she is welcome to attend the meetings and make suggestions.

Bids for used equipment and school busses were accepted, with Keith Roberts having the high bid for three busses and a pickup; Tim Stewart had the high bid for three computers; and Ron Woods bid was accepted for a soft drink box.

In his report, Supt. Caplinger told about the mid-winter Administrators Conference he attended in Austin. He said there is going to be increased emphasis on student testing, and passed out brochures telling of the new exit level test for juniors, starting in the spring of 2004.

In other business, the board approved a request from Coach Brenda Hodges to host a girls' volleyball camp May 29 - June 2, at the middle school gym. They also approved a request from Coach Todd Chamberlain to hold a girls' basketball camp June 12-16, at the high school or middle school gym.

He was transported to the county jail, according to the police blotter.

Police are investigating the reported theft of a race car trailer, valued between $1,500 and $2,000.

School board slates called meeting today

A meeting of the school board has been called for 12-noon today in the board room of the administration building.

The agenda calls for action on bid proposals for construction of school facilities; discussion of on-site project supervision; and relocation of portable buildings to the high school for temporary use.

December business down

December was not a good month for Iowa Park businesses, when compared with the same month the previous year.

According to a report from the state comptroller's office, sales taxes collected that month and in the fourth quarter of the year were down 15.59 percent from the previous year.

Iowa Park received a sales tax rebate of $33,497.38, which was lower than the $39,640.47 reported this same time in 1999.

However, because of sales taxes collected in November, the city still is 9.01 percent above February's report last year, having received $62,890.89, as compared with the $57,508.51 last year, according to the comptroller's report.

Apparently December business was down throughout Wichita County, the report indicates. Wichita Falls received 1.79 percent less than last year, Burkburnett was a minus 14.18 percent, and Electra minus 17.31 percent.

The city of Holliday, however, enjoyed a gain over last year, 19.51 percent.

This month's payments include sales taxes collected by monthly filers in December, and reported to the comptroller in January, as well as fourth-quarter filers and returns from annual filers for the entire year of 1999.

Water gardens topic of Garden Club program

A program on the construction and care of a water garden was presented for members of the Iowa Park Garden Club at their meeting on Friday.

Jenny Warren, president of Texoma Water Garden Society, from Wichita Falls, explained the steps in building a water garden, such as the need for a good sealer in the bottom of the pool; placing small pea gravel with larger stones on top over the bottom, and having lots of pretty plants and fish.

She said an air filter is necessary in order for the fish and plants to survive, and the filter should be cleaned regularly. Also, in order to bloom, water lilies need at least six hours of sunshine a day. She said that these ponds attract birds and butterflies.

Mary Frances Farris gave the thought for the day, "Blessed are they who can laugh at themselves, for they shall never cease to be amused."

Each member brought decorated tennis shoes to be judged. The shoes will be worn to the District II Spring Convention on March 2.

The shoes were judged by personnel at the Recreational Activities Center, and the winners were: Freddye Skinner, first place; Shirley Reaves, third place; and Aretas Spruiell, third place.

Hostesses for the meeting were Evelyn Thompson and Bernice Williams.

Consecutive losses end Hawks' basketball season

"We had another one of those poor shooting first halfs like we had against them at their place," said head coach Tim Clark. "We were down four here and down three there. We just were not getting our shots to fall tonight."

In the third quarter, Iowa Park got a layup from Justin Penn, who finished with nine points, and a three-pointer from Chris Simmons, who finished with 13, to go on top 23-22 with 6:39 left in the third.

Vernon went up seven at 31-24 with a 7-0 run at the 4:14 mark but saw that lead dwindle to only two at 33-31 following a three-pointer by Landon Miller and a short jumper by Andy Simpson.

Simpson came on late in the first half, replacing an injured Chase Wright and finished with eight points.

"Chase is one of those pieces of glue that holds things together," said Clark. "When he went down it hurt us, but we came back and played well without him and took the lead in the game."

Heading into the final quarter Iowa Park trailed by only two, at 37-33. The Vernon lead ballooned back to seven at 42-35 with 6:02 remaining in the game. Iowa Park fought back to pull to within a deuce on a three point play by Penn and a 15-footer by Landon Miller with 5:04 still showing on the clock.

Vernon's Jereme Tyra, who finished with 13 points, scored the game's next seven points to push the lead to 49-40. Tyra added four more points in the period to finish with 11 in the fourth.

"When they went up by six with a little over four minutes to go, I started to gamble and that gave them some easy shots late," Clark added.

When Iowa Park and Vernon play each other, no matter what the sport, it's a big game.

But Tuesday night's game between the two rivals was an even bigger game than usual because the winner advanced to the State Playoffs in basketball, while the loser's season was over.

Iowa Park, Childress and Vernon all three tied for third place in the District 5-3A race behind first place Graham and second place Bowie. A coin flip on Saturday won by Iowa Park forced Childress and Vernon to play on Monday night in Quanah to see which team would play the Hawks on Tuesday.

The Lions prevailed down the stretch against the Bobcats on Monday night, then did the same on Tuesday, beating Iowa Park 59-45 in a game that was much closer than the score indicated.

This was the third meeting between the two teams this season with Iowa Park winning 57-42 at home, then edging the Lions in Vernon 43-40.

Tuesday's game started out like the last meeting in Vernon, with neither team showing a lot of offense. After the first eight minutes of play Iowa Park led 7-5. Vernon missed it's first 13 shots from the field and finished the period 2-of-15 and 1-of-5 from the free throw line.

Iowa Park wasn't on fire either, connecting on only 2-of-9 shots from the floor but was perfect from the line going 3-for-3.

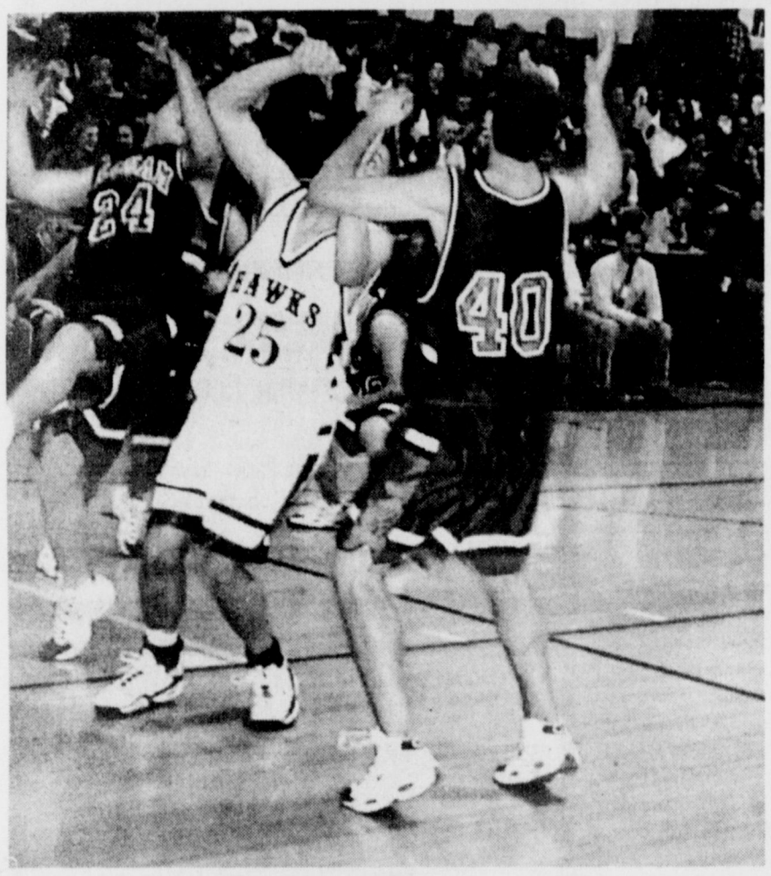

The Lions grabbed their first lead of the game at 12-11 with 5:21 left in the half on a three pointer by Heath Smith who finished as the games leading scorer with 14 points. Vernon finished the half with a 22-18 lead.

The two teams combined to hit only 15-of-49 shots from the field for a combined percentage of 30%. Vernon finished the half 8-of-26 while the Hawks finished 7-of-23.

Vernon finished the period with a 10-2 run, with all the points coming on either layups or from the foul line, to make the final seem more out of hand than it really was.

Iowa Park finished the season with a 14-14 record.

"This was a fun season for me as a coach," said Clark. "We had fewer discipline problems than I can ever remember and that's because every one of my players are good men. They worked hard all year long and they did the very best that they could do. I never doubted the effort they gave me, they gave it their all every time they hit the floor. I enjoyed working with each and every one of them."

Nelms going to Glen Rose

Iowa Park's former head football coach and athletic director, Weldon Nelms offically accepted the position of head football coach and assistant athletic director in Glen Rose last Wednesday and will be leaving Iowa Park this month.

Nelms, who led the Hawks to five straight playoff apperances, will offically take over as the head coach of the Tigers on March 1.

Glen Rose, like Iowa Park, is a 3A school and plays in District 7-3A. Joining the Tigers in the district are Breckenridge, Dublin, Eastland, Lake Worth, Aledo, and Springtown.

Last season the Tigers finished with a 3-7 mark in the regular season before losing in the first round of the playoffs.

Nelms leaves Iowa Park in good hands, with his long time offensive coordinator Chris Ellis taking over as the head football coach and athletic director. Nelms leaves Iowa Park with a record of 38-31, including five straight trips to the post season, with the last two seasons ending in the Regional Round of the playoffs.

SPORTS Shorts

Bowie is looking for another head football coach and athletic director. Mark White has resigned after only one year, and reportedly is taking a similar position at Early High School, a 2A school located just outside of Brownwood.

The newest Class 3A coach in the state is Glen Jones, who is leaving Lampasas after three years to take over at Kermit. Ironically, back in 1986 Iowa Park played both schools. The Hawks defeated Kermit 36-14, and the following week fell 7-16 to Lampasas in the quarter-finals.

The only 3A school to move up to 4A in the recent UIL realignment was Frisco. And chosen as Frisco's new football coach recently was Ronny Mullins, who has held that position at Naaman Forest High School in Garland.
