Chamber Happenings

The Chamber of Commerce needs a storage place for the Christmas decorations for the downtown business district. The space should be at least 14 by 14 feet to store the boxes. If any community-minded resident has such space and would like to help out, please call the Chamber office, SO 4-6554. Your assistance certainly would be appreciated. The decorations will be arriving soon, so the storage space will be needed in the near future.

The Chamber received the following letter from a young boy named Bruce McKean, who lives in Huntington, West Virginia:

"Dear Sir:
"I saw a Whooping Crane. Just outside Hunting Shoals, W. Va., was where it was. It was about Sept 3, 1969."

Refreshments at the C of C office this week are being furnished by the Sea Foam Motel of Fulton. Thank you, folks.

Two weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Thomas of Miami, Ariz. stopped in the Chamber office, said they were having trouble with their car and asked for the name of a dealer who handled that make. Names of the dealers in Aransas Pass and Sinton were given to them.

A week later Mr. and Mrs. Thomas stopped by again to express their appreciation for the information given them. They explained that they had decided to visit the Sinton dealer, that they had received excellent service, and they wanted to thank the Chamber of Commerce again.

Youth Center Progress Told

The Rockport Youth Center which will occupy the old Del Mar Grill building, probably will open in about two weeks, according to the Rev. Lester C. Hill, rector of St. Peter's Church and one of the adults who has worked with young people in connection with the Center.

Reverend Hill was one of the speakers at the "Husband's Night" meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Key Allegro Islander Club Monday night.

He explained that the Center is being sponsored by the Rockport Youth Recreation Association, Inc. composed of young people and adults interested in establishing "a place where high school age youths can talk and do their thing."

The movement began last winter at a "Know Your Community" program at First United Methodist Church. Reverend Hill explained. One night was set aside for youths, and eight young people were on a panel on "What does our community need?"

They said, "We have nothing to do, no place to talk, no place to do our thing."

This led to a group of boys and girls getting together and starting to look for a place to serve as a youth center. They drew up bylaws which made it clear that they wanted to run their own center.

Several adults formed the Rockport Youth Recreation Association, Inc., and leased the old Del Mar Grill building as a youth center. Much work has been done and is still going on, including cleaning, painting, paneling and decorating in the psychedelic trend.

When the center is completed, it will have a library, discussion room, recreation room, snack bar, ping pong table and pool table.

Reverend Hill said at least one adult supervisor will be present at the center whenever it is open. Each adult supervisor will be known as a R.A.T. — Responsible Adult Tonight.

"What can adults do to help promote the center?" Reverend Hill asked himself. "They can be R.A.T.s, if asked. They also can assist financially which such projects as a current major plumbing bill."

The center will be open week day afternoons and weekends. It will be closed whenever a dance is held at the airport by the Aransas County Youth Sponsors.

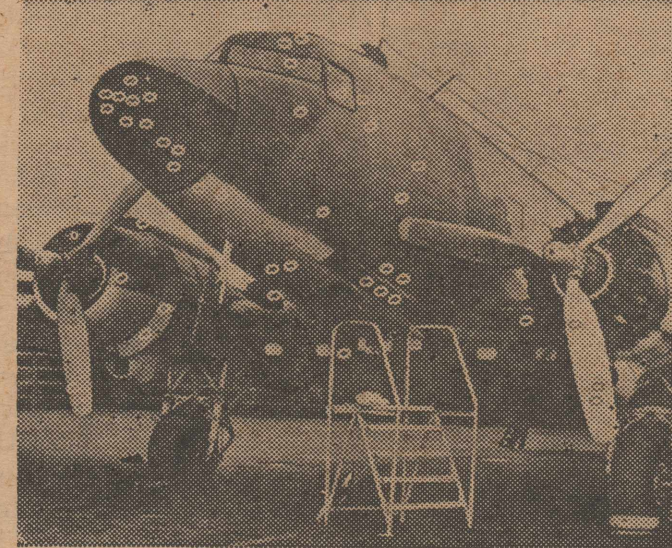

Another speaker at the B&PW meeting was attorney Lola L. Bonner who discussed a number of "World Affairs" topics including the shrimping industry.

In 1940, she said, the shrimping industry was sup-

Pirates Beat Panthers 39 to 0

By Dan T. Oliver

The Rockport-Fulton High School Pirates opened their 1969 season with a 39 to 0 victory over the Aransas Pass Panthers last Friday night.

The game opened with the Panthers kicking off 27 yards to the Pirates. Rockport moved to its 42-yard line before being forced to punt. Aransas Pass took the ball on its 31-yard line and then had to punt.

The Pirates began a march toward the Panthers' goal, climaxed by quarterback Royce Itchner dropping back and tossing a 30-yard touchdown pass to end Ted Deason. Glenn Davis made the one-point conversion kick.

Deason kicked off and the Panthers returned 10 yards. The Panthers moved well but then attempted a pass which was intercepted by Rockport. The Pirates advanced to the Panthers' 42-yard line and then had to punt.

Later after Rockport forced Aransas Pass to punt, Itchner made a 19-yard pass to half-back Robert Brooks putting the ball on the Panthers' 23-yard line. After the Pirates gained five yards halfback Ruford Huff scampered 18 yards for a touchdown. The one-point kick was good.

Deason kicked off 45 yards and Aransas Pass returned only nine yards. The first quarter ended with the score: Rockport 14, Aransas Pass 0.

Early in the second quarter the Pirate defense forced the Panthers to punt. Itchner completed a 17-yard pass to Deason putting the ball on the Aransas Pass 3-yard line. Brooks slammed through for a touchdown, and Davis kicked the point-after.

Deason kicked off 47 yards and the Panthers returned to their 27-yard line. Aransas Pass failed to advance the ball and had to punt, with the Pirates taking over on their 35-yard line.

The Pirates again went to the air, but an Aransas Pass player intercepted and returned the ball to Rockport's 36-yard line. The Panthers moved to Rockport's seven-yard line but fumbled and Deason recovered on the three-yard line. The first half ended: Rockport 21, Aransas Pass 0.

The third quarter opened (Continued on Page 8)

August Shrimp Landings Down

Brownsville - Port Isabel area: Aug. 1969, 1,708,300 pounds; Jan.-Aug. 1969, 9,615,400; Jan. - Aug. 1968, 11,742,900.

Totals 7,041,100 pounds; 24,366,400; 28,914,600.

Shrimp trawlers working waters from southeast of Port Isabel to south of Morgan City, La., made poor to fair catches of brown shrimp. Vessel captains reported average catches of 350-400 pounds per 12 hours' effort on extended trips of 8 days or more. Many captains reported catches as low as 100 pounds per night during the month, however, sporadic 600-700 pound catches prompted crewmen to keep working. Brown shrimp catcher-unit-effort dropped some 40 per cent compared with catch rates of 1968. The cost-per-unit-catch increased twofold under poor fishing conditions. Costs in decreased volume landings are further accentuated by vessels searching for workable concentrations of shrimp. This running time is (Continued on Page 8)

New Telephone Book Delivered Here

The new telephone directory for Rockport has been mailed to telephone customers.

This directory introduces some important changes in Rockport telephone service. Effective Sunday, Sept. 21, the familiar SO4 prefix will change to 729. This change was necessary in order to offer Direct Distance Dialing to Rockport. DDD service also becomes operational on Sept. 21.

Bud Richards, manager, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., pointed out that although people have received their new September 1969 telephone directory, they should wait to dial the 729 prefix or to dial station-to-station long distance calls.

DDD will enable Rockport telephone users to dial most of their own long distance calls. Richards said to dial a station-to-station call to any of the 100 million phones in the U. S. and Canada, you simply dial the digit "1", plus the area code (if it's not 512), then the telephone number in the distant city you wish to reach. To make a DDD call to south Texas cities also have the 512 area code, you do not (Continued on Page 8)

SOCIAL SECURITY REPRESENTATIVE TO VISIT ROCKPORT

RUMMAGE SALE, BAKE SALE SET

The Lamar Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary will hold a rummage sale and bake sale Friday afternoon, Sept. 26 and all day Saturday, Sept. 27 at 508 South Austin Street.

Long Distance Dialing Starts September 21

Rockport telephone users will begin dialing most of their long distance calls beginning Sunday, Sept. 21. That was the reminder given today by C. Bud Richards, manager for Southwestern Bell.

Besides being able to dial station-to-station calls from their own phones, Richards also reminded customers that they will also have a new telephone number Sunday when the familiar SO4 prefix becomes 729. The last four digits of phone numbers will remain the same.

Richards explained the direct dialing process this way:

The customer first dials the numeral "1". This gives you access to the long distance dialing equipment.

Then dial the three-digit area code if it is different from your own. When dialing long distance calls to South Texas cities which also have the 512 area code it is not necessary to dial the 512 area code.

Finally, dial the seven-digit telephone number that you wish to reach.

After you finish dialing, an operator will come on the line and ask for the number from which you are speaking. This is for the purpose of billing records.

After DDD service is established, it will still be necessary for operators to handle person-to-person calls, collect calls, calls from coin phones and other than the originating calls charged to a number under.

The DDD network includes some 100 million telephones in 7,000 cities in the U. S. and Canada, including more than 600 in Texas. Richards pointed out that a city does not have to have DDD service to be able to receive customer-dialed long distance calls.

Additional dialing instructions, including a list of area codes, are printed in the front of the new telephone directory which was mailed to Rockport telephone customers this week. Richards pointed out that to find out a phone number in a distant city you can dial the numeral "1", then the appropriate area code, then 555-1212. This will connect you, at no charge, to Directory Assistance for the distant city. To get a number in the 512 area code region, simply dial "1", then 555-1212.

If a wrong number is reached when dialing directly, the caller should ask what city and what number he has reached. Then hang up and dial the operator and give her this information and you will not be charged for the wrong number.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

Some say memory is man's greatest solace. Memories to relive and enjoy what has gone before. As a conscientious forgetter, it seems that a great deal more enjoyment is gained from life from the things that are forgotten. The embarrassments, the sorrows, the popped balloons, lost ball games could crowd a mind to a point where there would be no refuge from frustration.

The memory bank luckily has few pigeonholes and prefers to have them filled with more useful items. So, what matters if you fumble with names, lose grocery lists and miss anniversaries.

Join the tugwith group and relax with the slogan, "Forget It"—Concrete (Wash.) Herald.

THE KNIFE CUTS DEEP

It has been observed that in many successful organizations there is a man of authority who is viewed by his subordinate as "thoroughly mean." In some of his associations the same man might be the soul of geniality, but in deciding hard and ugly questions, few would dare to stand in his way.

Such problems must be met. Rising expenses, dwindling profits, poor production or sales records, inefficient help all may require action of an unpleasant nature. The nasty job of establishing new and possibly policies is not for the man who would like to win a popularity contest.

Success is often partly the consequence of being willing to undertake unpleasant duties. Postponing the pain of an operation may send a sick person to the grave. A sick business may have the same fate if its director puts off until tomorrow what should be done today. Sometimes a little meanness keeps a business healthy. When the cure has been effected, however, the wise man puts the "scapel" back in its case.—Frederic (Wisc.) Inter-County Leader.

FICKLE COURTSHIP

No one really expected it to be the greatest love affair since Antony and Cleopatra—this affection of the American electorate for presidential candidate—for there was always a feeling that the successful suitor won on the rebound because of rejection.

One thing is certain, however, and that is a remarkable ability for the head of the household to handle domestic and foreign problems, and keep everyone reasonably happy while doing so. It won't be but a short time until one will wonder "will you love me in June as you did in November?" If so—it'll be the love story of the year.—Daily Oklahoman.

H'S TOO SIMPLE

To the delight of those who are fed up with mechanical devices, the ancient abacus has beaten the modern computer in a calculating contest at Seoul, South Korea.

The abacus, known to us as a child's toy, consists merely of beads on wires in a portable rack. In the Orient, it gets lots of steady work. Its users, thanks to long practice, make it add, subtract, and multiply with great speed.

A nice thing about the abacus is that it never spits out a check for $13,000,000 which should be $130. It's faster than a slide rule, too, and it doesn't have any little marks on it to vex the eyesight.—Boston Globe.

FUN IN THE PRESS

A pretty stewardess on a Washington-Miami flight had her hands full fending off two drunks who would not let up. The one seated in the front of the plane was doing his best to persuade her to come to his apartment. At the rear, the second drunk was trying for an invite to her apartment.

As the plane headed for the runway, the front-seat pest handed her a key and a slip of paper on which he had written his address. "Here's the key and my address," he whispered. "See you tonight?" "Okay," she whispered back with a smile as she headed for the drunk at the rear.

She handed him the key and slip of paper and said, "Don't be late."—L&N Magazine.

One of the Apollo astronauts has likened the surface of the moon to "dirty sand," but at least the place is free of beer cans and candy wrappers. On the other hand, Coney Island is a lot easier to get to. —Winston-Salem Journal.

Fanny Townsend Circle Meets

The Fanny Townsend circle of the United Methodist Church met with Mrs. T. A. McIlheran on Tuesday morning. Mrs. R. H. Van Horn read the Scripture Matt. 26:24-40, Romans 12:3-8. Mrs. H. C. Bristow read a condensed sermon on "Are you disturbed by the new religion?"

A commentary written by Tom Goodnew, "Our Father Who Art in Heaven—in other places" was given by Mrs. D. T. Adams.

Discussions followed the program. Mrs. D. T. Adams, president, conducted a short business session. Mrs. Jane Sprigg joined the circle, making a total of 14 members and five visitors, Mrs. Jim Campbell, Mrs. Leonard Hensley, Mrs. Albert Crisp, Mrs. Paul Wilhelm and Mrs. Billy Dunlop.

It was reported that Mrs. Wm. McCoy had received the special membership pin from the W.S.C.S. this year. Her pin is the first one received here in the new design.

Mrs. H. C. Bristow was appointed co-chairman.

Mrs. Leonard Hensley reported on the rummage sale to be held on Oct. 4. Articles for sale are to be brought to the Fellowship Hall Friday morning.

Meeting was dismissed with the WSCS prayer.

R.F.H.S. Library Club meets

The Rockport-Fulton High School Library Club held its first meeting of the school year Tuesday.

With seven members present, the first order of business was election of officers: Donita Setterbo reporter; Martha Lindenmayer, parliamentarian; Shirley Hesselstine, historian; and Charlene Wegener, treasurer. President Beverly Young and secretary Patricia Bardwell were elected last year.

Projects discussed include an October book fair and year-round work on the history of Rockport, an accumulation of pictures, slides and written material.

Lynn Jeffrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Jeffrey, spent last week with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hooper of Elroy.

It was agreed that all new officers would make uniforms to wear to special FHA events. The dress is a red A-line with a large white collar. The FHA emblem will be sewn on the left side of the collar.

Monday Sept. 22, there will be a weiner roast at the home-making building for all members. The party will start at 5:30 p.m. During this time, each old member will be assigned to two new members. It is the "Big Sister's" duty to explain any questions her "Little Sister" may ask, and to make them feel at home in FHA.

Pirates Win—

with Deason kicking off 45 yards and the Panthers returning the ball 10 yards. The Pirates' strong defense forced the Panthers to punt.

Late in the third quarter, with Rockport on the Panthers' 25-yard line, Itschner rammed 25 yards around left end for another Pirate touchdown. The conversion failed.

Deason once again kicked off, this time 43 yards, and Aransas Pass returned 13 yards. The stalwart Pirate defense again forced the Panthers to punt. In the fourth quarter the Pirates covered 60 yards in six plays, highlighted by Huff making a 25-yard touchdown run.

Later, the Pirates scored again on Brooks' 60-yard run. The game ended: Rockport 39, Aransas Pass 0.

The Pirates made 21 first downs to six for the Panthers. Rockport gained 396 yards rushing to 62 for Aransas Pass.

Brooks carried the ball 19 times for 186 yards, an average of 9.8 yards per carry.

Huff carried 12 times for 107 yards for an average of 8.9.

Itschner carried five times and gained 36 yards—an average of 7.2.

Davis carried nine times for 34 yards—an average of 3.8.

R. Schendel carried six times for 18 yards—an average of three yards.

Alan Leisenheimer carried four times and gained 22 yards for an average of 5.5.

Itschner completed three of six passes for 30 yards, 19 and 17 and had only one interception.

need to dial the area code. Just dial the digit "1" then the seven-digit telephone number you want to reach.

Certain long distance calls will still be placed through the operator, such as collect calls, credit card calls, calls charged to another number and person-to-person calls.

On a DDD call after you finish dialing the number, the operator will come on the line and ask for the number from which you are calling. This is for billing records, and Richards emphasized that you should not give the number you are trying to reach.

The new directory contains 19 pages of alphabetical listings for Rockport and 3,140 up-to-date listings of Rockport telephone subscribers.

The directory cover features a colorful photograph of Giant Daggers and Indian Paintbrushes in a field of Bluebonnets the state flower of Texas.

Richards said more than 7,000 copies of the new directory have been printed for distribution to telephone customers and for future requirements.

very costly, especially for larger vessels.

Texas bays were opened to large trawls on Aug. 15. Catches from all areas were poor as expected since drought conditions have prevailed throughout the period of juvenile development. White shrimp catches from Gulf waters were considerably higher than the seasonal normal due to heavy fishing pressure on the early movement of small whites from bay systems. The early exodus resulted from poor conditions in coastal estuaries.

Blue crab landings amounted to 640,000 pounds in August. This was the highest monthly landing in recent years and fishermen reported a good to excellent crop of crabs from Galveston Bay to the Laguna Madre. Shrimp trawls accounted for about 17 per cent of volume catch in all areas. Fishermen received from 8-12 cents per pound for live crabs, depending upon size and quality.

The menhaden fishery in North Texas had another good month with good weather and large workable schools of fish.

plying the United States with most of its needs for household shrimp, and the total importation of shrimp was only about five million pounds annually.

In 1967, Miss Bonner pointed out, the importation of shrimp from foreign countries had risen to 204 million pounds per year.

"For more than eight years, local people have been fighting this trend and seeking federal legislation to govern the importation of shrimp," Miss Bonner said adding:

"The United States government has poured millions of dollars into the shrimping industries of other countries, and many people have gone from our own country to work in the shrimp business in the countries aided by our government."

"Efforts to get federal legislation to protect the U.S. shrimping industry have failed, but fortunately the U.S. people have increased their consumption of shrimp."

"Texas supplies about 64 million pounds of shrimp per year."

Bernita Kinsey president, presided at the B&P meeting. Margot Del Rocco, world affairs chairman, introduced the speakers.

Letters to the Editor

September 15, 1969

The Rockport Pilot
Rockport, Texas

To the Editor:

A "letter war" is being waged against Mrs. O'Hair, sponsored by the Texas Jaycees. Mrs. O'Hair states she will receive 27,000 letters backing her atheistic views. The Jaycees believe they will receive 300,000 letters from God-believing Texans. Mrs. O'Hair said people did not care that much about God.

If you do care, copy the following quotation and sign. Send to the address below by October 6th.

"We believe that faith in God gives meaning and purpose to Human life. We feel that astronauts or anyone has as much right to worship God in any manner they see fit as Mrs. O'Hair has the right not to."

Direct Distance Dialing Starts Sunday For Rockport Telephone Customers

Starting Sunday, telephone customers in Rockport will be able to dial their own Long Distance calls direct to more than 100 million telephones throughout the United States and Canada.

This improvement in telephone service, at no increase in rates, has taken years of planning and engineering. Miles melt away when you dial someone far-away with DDD, giving you a sense of nearness.

And when you dial your own Long Distance numbers, calls always go through at low station-to-station rates . . . about one third less than person-to-person.

HERE'S HOW TO MAKE A DDD CALL . . .

1. Dial "1" . . . this connects your phone to the vast DDD network.
2. Dial the Area Code only if it's different from your own.
3. Dial the 7-digit number in the distant city.
4. When you finish dialing, the operator will come on the line and ask for your number. Give her your phone number, not the one you're calling.

Suppose, for example, you want to call 825-4199 in Denver. The Denver Area Code is 303 (see the front pages of your directory.) So you'll dial:

1 + 3-0-3 + 8-2-5-4-1-9-9
DDD Code + Area Code + Telephone Number

To make a call within your home 512 area, you will not need to dial the Area Code. To call 225-2411 in San Antonio for example, you would dial:

1 + 2-2-5-2-4-1-1
DDD Code + Telephone Number

In a few seconds, you'll hear the phone ring in the distant city.

Some Questions and Answers About Direct Distance Dialing

Q—"Will I be charged if I reach a wrong number?"

A—There is no charge for a wrong number. If you get a wrong number, try to find out what city and number you have reached. Then hang up, dial "Operator" immediately and report it to her. She will see that you are not improperly charged for the call.

Q—"Will I be charged if the number I call is busy or there is no answer?"

A—No. Just hang up and try again later. DDD calls are recorded and billed by electronic machines which record only completed calls (when someone answers the distant telephone).

Q—"What if I run into trouble on a call?"

A—Most DDD calls go through quickly, efficiently, and trouble-free. However, if you should be cut off, if you cannot hear well on the connection, or experience any other trouble, please hang up, then immediately dial "Operator" and report it to her. She will take steps to correct the difficulty.

Q—"How do I call collect or person-to-person?"

A—Your DDD calls are station-to-station calls. For other types of calls—person-to-person, collect, credit card calls, calls to Piedras Negras, those charged to another number, or those from coin phones—dial "Operator." She will handle the call for you.

Q—"How do I get the area code for the city I want to call?"

A—The front pages of your telephone directory have a list of area codes for frequently called cities. Cities called less frequently are omitted to shorten the list and save you time. If you cannot find the area code for the city you wish to call, dial "Operator" and tell her the city you want.

Q—"What if I don't know the telephone number I want?"

A—Just dial "1", plus the area code if it's different from your own, plus 555-1212. The Directory Assistance operator will answer. When you receive the number, jot it down. Then hang up for a few seconds before you dial your call. There is no charge for the call to Directory Assistance.

THUNDERBIRD FOR 1970

Thunderbird for 1970 presents a bold new look, highlighted by a dramatic front end design. All models feature a longer, lower hood and three section extruded aluminum grille for a more formal appearance. Included in the Special Brougham option group, shown here on the Thunderbird two-door Landau, are such features as grille lamps, color-keyed wheel covers and high-back bucket seats. Thunderbirds also have hidden windshield wipers and hidden radio antennas to emphasize the clean design.

Boat Operators Must Render Aid

Austin—The Texas Water Safety Act requires boat operators involved in a collision with other boats to assist each other and to file a report of the accident if the amount of damage exceeds $50, according to J. B. Phillips, law enforcement coordinator for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The operator must assist so far as he can other persons affected by the collision "without serious danger to his own vessel, crew and passengers" in boat damaged by the accident.

The accident report must be filed with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, the enforcement arm of the Water Safety Act, within 30 days of the accident. The reports are confidential and are not admissible as court evidence.

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM

By Preston Smith
Governor of Texas
Austin Texas

Greetings:

During the past year more than $37 million was raised by 207 United Community Campaigns in Texas. These campaigns generally referred to as United Funds or Community Chests, are a great American invention to meet the needs of a modern complex society.

These coordinated efforts to raise operating funds for local state and national health, welfare and character-building agencies make fund raising more efficient and equitable.

This year the needs of voluntary agencies are greater than ever before.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas do hereby designate the months of September, October and November, 1969, as UNITED COMMUNITY CAMPAIGN MONTHS in Texas, and urge all people of our state to participate generously in the campaigns in their local communities.

(SEAL)
In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 13th day of June, 1969.

PRESTON SMITH,
Governor of Texas
