Americans Are Preparing To Celebrate Birth Of The Baby Jesus

'GLASS MENAGERIE' TONIGHT — The first performance of the Pampa Little Theatre's production, "The Glass Menagerie," will be presented in the Pampa High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. today. In the scene above, Dale Walker, as Jim O'Conner, the gentleman caller, is being entertained by Dorothy Walker, as Laura Wingfield. This is not a pleasant experience for the painfully shy Laura in the play by Tennessee Williams. The production is also scheduled for tomorrow night, same time, same place. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from any member of the Pampa Little Theatre at $1 for adults and 75 cents for students. Promotional theme for the play is, "Make Your Christmas Party A Theatre Party." (Smith Studio)

Negotiations For Prisoner Release Said Completed

HAVANA (UPI) — New York attorney James B. Donovan put finishing touches today on lists of medicines, drugs and food offered in exchange for 1,113 imprisoned Cuban invaders.

Donovan was expected to meet Premier Fidel Castro sometime today to show him the completed lists of about $53 million in goods, revised as a result of his hurried Wednesday trip to Miami.

Longshoremen in the Florida city were working around the clock loading the freighter African Pilot with goods which have been pouring in by truck and plane.

The freighter Wappen von Hamburg was standing by, ready to leave for Cuba to pick up the prisoners when their release is arranged.

Although Cuban refugees in Miami hoped the captives would be freed on or before Christmas Day, their relatives here said it is unlikely they will be out of prison much before New Year's "unless a miracle occurs."

The relatives of the prisoners said negotiations for their release have been completed and nothing remains to be expected but the "big announcement" of Castro's agreement.

Donovan returned here Thursday, accompanied by an unidentified medical technician. The Cuban negotiators who came here with him earlier in the week remained in Havana during his overnight trip to Florida.

The prisoners are Cubans captured in the ill-fated 1961 invasion of Cuba. Negotiations for their release have dragged on for months, starting with Castro's original offer to swap them for tractors.

'Historic Agreement' Sealed In Bahamas

U. N. Adjourns 17th Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —The General Assembly accepted credentials of Yemen's revolutionary government, newly recognized by the United States, before adjourning its 17th annual session early today.

This was the first General Assembly in memory to end before its target date. Adjournment had been set for Saturday.

The 110-nation world parliament is expected to be called back into special session, probably in May, to consider the problems of financing the highly expensive peace-keeping operations of the United Nations.

Recognize Yemen Revolutionaries

In its final action before the gavel fell at 12:05 a.m. EST the assembly voted 74-3 with 23 abstentions, to accept the report of its credentials committee which recommended recognition of Yemen's revolutionary government. It also withheld approval of Communist Hungary—as it has every year since the 1956 freedom revolt — and, over Communist objections, upheld the right of the Formosa government to hold China's U.N. seat.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin both called news conferences today to offer their assessments of the session.

Western diplomats were generally satisfied with the session. Most felt the debates had lost the emotionalism of the past two years and had moved ahead steadily under the firm leadership of assembly President Muhammad Zafrulla Khan of Pakistan.

The overriding issue of the three-months session was the Cuban crisis, which was handled outside the assembly. The lingering Congo problem remained unsolved. The Berlin question, which had been expected to receive keen attention, barely was mentioned.

The session ended with a flurry of financial items, which included authorization for Secretary General Thant to continue the Congo and Middle East operations until next June 30 at a cost of $11.6 million-a-month.

Final-stage actions also asked Thant to do what "he deems helpful" to restore human rights in Hungary and called for contin-

Leftist Wins Dominican Election

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI)—Juan Bosch, candidate of the left of center Dominican Revolutionary party (PRD), appeared to have won the presidential election today by an impressive majority.

He also apparently was carrying his party ticket to victory in congressional and lesser elections, according to unofficial and still incomplete returns.

As of 8 a.m. Bosch and the PRD had a reported total of 177,273 votes throughout the nation compared to 90,134 for the rival National Civic Union (UCN) and its presidential candidate, Dr. Viriato A. Fiallo.

Although ticket splitting was possible, Dominican voters apparently voted straight party tickets.

An early edge by Fiallo based on early rural returns apparently was wiped out by a strong capital showing for Bosch. Three other candidates were also-rans.

Although the campaign was marred by minor violence, no election-day disorders were reported.

Jose A. Mora of Uruguay and other members of the team sent here by the Organization of American States to observe the election praised the "high spirit" shown by voters and election officials.

Rafael F. Bonnelly, president of the outgoing junta government, congratulated the Dominican people for their orderly behavior in the nation's first free election in nearly 40 years. The new president will be inaugurated Feb. 27, replacing the seven-man junta that was installed after the assassination of Rafael Trujillo.

British-American Split Over 'Skybolt' Program Is Healed

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press International

NASSAU, Bahamas (UPI) — President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan met today to seal an historic agreement on long-range nuclear weapons strategy with approval of an emergency session of the British cabinet.

Kennedy and Macmillan planned to issue a communique at the close of their morning session winding up their conference with its broad-guage implications for Western defense.

The communique was expected to give some details of the agreement under which Britain will receive Polaris missiles and other atomic age assistance in place of the abandoned Skybolt. The compromise program will look forward to the eventual participation of France, and possibly others, in a combined European nuclear force.

The compromise healed the British-American split over the Skybolt missile program.

British Warheads

Authoritative sources in London said the accord reached in the talks here provides for a three-point plan which will give Britain an up-to-date vehicle to carry its own nuclear warheads for a limited, but unspecified, period.

This vehicle will be the U.S.-made Polaris missile, which will be supplied instead of the Skybolt which is too expensive, has not worked successfully, and is no longer considered vital to American defense needs.

Britain had counted on using the Skybolt to equip its jet bomber fleet and thereby give it an independent nuclear deterrent for at least the next decade.

The U. S. decision to scrap the Skybolt caused a great strain in British-American relations, but the move to provide the Polaris as an alternative apparenly has eased the tension.

Expensive Switch

The switch will be expensive for Britain, and may even cause a tax increase, although the cost probably can be spread over a few years to ease the need for higher levies by the politically-vulnerable Macmillan government.

Use of the Polaris instead of the Skybolt also probably will mean a switch in emphasis by th British from an airborne to a seaborne nuclear deterrent capability. This, in turn, could set off an

Today was the last full day of Autumn with Winter arriving officially on the scene tomorrow.

To Help Obtain Release Of Cuban Prisoners

Airborne Ransom Is Gathered

By ROBERT J. SERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — This is the story of how 800,000 pounds of drugs landed near Miami today — an airborne ransom delivered in time to help obtain the promised release of 1,113 Cuban prisoners captured in the Bay of Pigs invasion.

It began on Thursday, Dec. 13, when American Red Cross representatives walked into the office of Jack Slichter, traffic vice president of the Air Transport Association which represents the scheduled airlines.

Red Cross officials secretly briefed Slichter on Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's ransom demands — which included $7.5 million worth of drugs and medicines, the first shipments to arrive in Havana before Christmas.

"They have to be in a staging area at Opa-Locka, Fla., by Dec. 21," they told Slichter. "Can the airlines do it?"

Calls Airline Executives

Slichter merely picked up a telephone and began phoning top airline executives throughout the country. Their answer was unanimous — "Tell us exactly what you want and we'll get the stuff down there," said one carrier president.

Drug firms already had pledged the necessary supplies to the Justice Department. Slichter quickly assigned one traffic expert from each airline and an official from each drug company to work with him on coordinating shipments.

The logistics problems could not have come at a worse time, with the airlines' freight capacity jammed by Christmas loads. Slichter worked up to 14 hours a day juggling the complicated maneuvering of drugs to airports and from airports to available planes.

His tools were a yellow scratch-pad, a collection of airline schedules, several gallons of coffee and a telephone in almost constant use.

Available Space Checked

Each drug shipment had to be weighed in value and size against available space. Deliveries had to be made by 10 airlines from such widely separated spots as Los Angeles, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Chicago and New York.

By last Wednesday, Slichter had completed an airlift schedule involving 10 special charter flights into the Miami area. Pan American will fly the 800,000 pounds into Havana — at no charge, just as 10 other cooperating airlines handled the shipments to the staging area.

The 10 carriers included United, Eastern, American, Northeast, Delta, Northwest, National, Trans World, Riddle and Slick.

Grim Warning Of Traffic Deaths Is Only 'Dampener'

By United Press International

Americans begin observance of Christendom's most famous holiday tonight in gay spirits but with a grim warning that 750 may die in traffic accidents.

From a tiny church in the heart of Chicago's slums to jammed air terminals in San Francisco to a janitor in Erie, Pa., who plays Santa Claus every year, Americans prepared to celebrate the birth of the Baby Jesus.

There was a frenzied rush to buy last-minute presents and get off overlooked Christmas cards. And thousands upon thousands prepared to take to the highways to spend the long Christmas weekend with friends and loved ones.

The National Safety Council said between 650 and 750 persons could lose their lives in traffic accidents during the 102-hour period from 6 p.m. tonight until midnight Tuesday.

From 27,000 to 33,000 could suffer injuries, the council said.

Take Extra Precautions

Across the land, officials took steps to boost law enforcement in the prospect of crowded roads, possibly hazardous driving conditions and drinking drivers.

In New Jersey, Atty. Gen. Arthur J. Sills ordered 620 state troopers and 150 motor vehicle inspectors and supervisors on traffic enforcement patrol from 6 p.m. today until midnight Christmas.

In Montana, an organization of tavern operators sponsored a "have a cup of coffee for the road" program. The Utah highway patrol said it would use radar extensively and set up road blocks selectively to check for drunk drivers.

The California Association of Insurance Agents asked ministers to preach sermons on the morality of good driving.

Hopes For Snow

In Pennsylvania, Commissioner Frank McCartney hoped for snow which he said "experience shows means fewer highway fatalities." Iowa Safety Commissioner Carl Pesch said drivers who had been drinking would be taken out of their cars and jailed.

Bethlehem Church, a small parish of about 50 members of Chicago's South Side, looked forward to distributing gifts gathered by a religious organization at Wartburg College at Waverly, Iowa.

All airlines and railroads in San Francisco said they were adding extra sections to accomodate the holiday loads. Airlines said reservations were up to 10 per cent more than last year.

As he has for six years, a member of Alcoholics Anonymous planned to play Santa Claus for 28 underprivileged families in Erie, Pa.

"The holidays to me meant getting drunk. I couldn't remember anything from Christmas to the end of the year," he recalled. "I found that Christmas spirit means more to me than spirits from a bottle."

Police Chief In Warning On Drinking

Police Chief Jim Conner today issued an appeal to Christmas party-goers who may imbibe a bit too freely to not get behind the wheel of an automobile.

"At this time of the year," Chief Conner said, "we are inclined to be a bit lenient with persons attending office parties and home parties, but the exception is drunken drivers."

The police chief said no leniency will be shown to persons driving while intoxicated.

"Our officers have instructions to bear down on any persons caught behind the wheel of an automobile after they have been drinking," Chief Conner stated. "They are just as dangerous at Christmas time as any other time of the year and we will handle them accordingly."

Bob Hope Gives His First Of This Year's Programs For Servicemen

TACHIKAWA AIRBASE, Japan (UPI)—Thousands of U. S. servicemen and their families jammed a huge hangar at this sprawling airbase today to watch comedian Bob Hope stage his first holiday show this year for GIs in the Far East.

Hope arrived with a troupe of 50 persons, including comedian Jerry Colonna, actresses Lana Turner and Janis Paige, singer Anita Bryant, the Les Brown band and Amedee Chabot, the current Miss U. S. A.

During the transpacific flight aboard a C135 military jet—made rough by turbulent 150-mile per hour head winds—Hope broadcast a 30-minute show to Midway as the plane flew over the island.

Hope and the other stars beamed jokes, songs and holiday greetings to men on Wake Island and to the crew of the U. S. navy ship Victor, on station in the Pacific.

"It took us nine hours to fly from Hawaii and only 10 hours to get to the hotel from the airport," Hope told a crowd of more than 8,000 at today's show.

"You know I was here in 1957 and I'm glad to see you finally solved the traffic problem. It's interesting the way you drive on top of each other. I changed taxis twice on my way from the airport to the hotel without even knowing it."

Miss Turner and the shapely 17-year-old Miss Chabot (36-21-34) were greeted by a chorus of ear-shattering wolfcalls.

Hope will give two more shows in Japan before flying to Korea to spend Christmas with American troops there.

Police Suspect Attempted Safe Burglary Here

Police believe safe burglars made an unsuccessful attempt to break into the Harold Barrett Ford building, 701 W. Brown, Tuesday night.

Chief Jim Conner said a report was filed with police yesterday that a would-be burglar removed the cylinder lock from a rear door at the side of the building, but failed to get it open.

Police theorized that the attempt was made at that door in order that the office safe could be rolled out and hauled away.

Apparently the burglars were frightened away before they could complete the entry. No attempt was made to break in at any other place around the building, police said.

DICKINSON, N.D. (UPI) —Police Chief Matt Zabel said a patrolman was more surprised than irritated when he saw a 15-year-old girl back up her car on a state highway, stop for a red light and continue backing up.

Zabel said the girl told the officer she had put too many miles on the car and was trying to take them off before returning it to her parents.

Horse Took A Liking To Inside Life

CRANHAM, England (UPI) — Mrs. Beamont Drake, an animal-lover, thought it only natural to bring her sick horse, Boy, into her house until he got well.

But then, she said today, it was a bit of a problem getting rid of him.

"I know people think I am a little mad," Mrs. Drake said. "But Boy had the colic from eating snow and it was a case of me sleeping in the field all night with him or him coming into the house with me."

She said she covered the living room carpet with straw, led the horse in through the french windows and bedded him down.

"Boy settled down in front of the fire and I gave him a pillow for his head," she said. "Then I lay down on the sofa.

"Several hours later he woke up with a snort. There was a wicked twinkle in his eye and I knew he was better."

He was so much better, she said, that he ate a plate of cookies, a vaseful of flowers and half a loaf of bread before she put him out of the house.

But Boy had grown used to the domestic life. The next night he was back, demanding to be let in for the night.

When she refused he attacked her front door with his hooves and bit off the doorhandle.

Mrs. Drake said she finally got him to go back to his stall by giving him a cup of tea spiked with beer.

Man Is Released From Prison After 47 Years

JOLIET, Ill. (UPI)—The year that William R. Pethick was sent to prison was a memorable one.

The British liner Lusitania was sunk by a German submarine. Alexander Graham Bell made the first telephone talk from New York to San Francisco. Ford Motor Co. employes were enjoying a $5-a-day basic wage for eight hours of work.

Today, after 47 years in prison, Pethick was to enter a world of space flights, superhighways and nuclear bombs.

"I'm happy but not excited," he told warden Frank J. Pate of Stateville penitentiary Thursday.

A quarrel over change for a $20 bill changed Pethick's life in 1915 when he was a grocery delivery boy.

He had deliverd groceries to the Chicago home of Mrs. Ella Coppersmith, 29. He claimed the woman slapped him and that his memory blacked out.

Mrs. Coppersmith was found slashed to death. So was her 2-year-old son. Pethick was convicted of murder and sent to prison.

After four unsuccessful attempts at parole, Pethick today was paroled to the Salvation Army, and he will live and work at its social service station in Chicago.

interservice fight in Britain.

The key part of the arrangement — the Polaris-for-Skybolt swap — appeared good for both sides.

Get Proved Weapon

Britain will get the 1,800-mile Polaris, a tried and proved weapon, for its submarines instead of the 1,000-mile Skybolt, an air-to-ground weapon that has failed five test flights.

For its part, the United States will be able to stop the flow of millions into the Skybolt program — which it felt it did not need anyway because of its Polaris and Minuteman missiles.

Beyond that the two government chiefs for the first time have drawn up a blueprint for bringing France — and possibly other European nations in the future —into their nuclear club.

Macmillan and Kennedy were expected to issue a joint communique shortly after noon following their final business session.

Kennedy then will join Macmillan in welcoming Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker who will remain overnight for talks with the British prime minster.

Kennedy planned to take off between 3 and 4 p.m. EST for Palm Beach, Fla., where he hoped to spend the Chrstmas holidays with his family. Barring any new international crisis Kennedy expected to remain at Palm Beach until after New Year's.

Macmillan will fly to London late Saturday afternoon.

Concentrate On Defenses

The big two conference, which began here with an informal meeting late Tuesday, covered a broad range of subjects but the major share of attention was devoted to Western defenses.

Britain had counted on Skybolt to serve as the principal arm of its independent nuclear deterrent.

Kennedy came to Nassau realizing Britain expected an acceptable substitute for Skybolt, which the Kennedy administration already had decided to scrap.

Kennedy and Macmillan covered not only the intricate defense situation but general East-West relations and the impact of Chinese Communist aggression against India.

Talks resume at 10 a.m. EST.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Spear & Staff continues to believe that a reaction to the 600-620 Dow area is a reasonable near-term expectation.

However, the advisory service adds, if the volume of trading holds at 3.8 million shares a day or less, a quick correction will probably not occur unless the market receives a sudden outside jolt. "Under prevailing conditions, the most we look for are moves in either direction of a relatively restricted nature."

Investors Research Co. says the action by major trend indicators shows that substantial upside momentum has been gathered in the 1962 recovery. Under these conditions, it thinks the bull market should continue following any consolidation phase in late December and early January.

Note Said, At 25 He Was Too Old

CHICAGO (UPI)—"...If I was 18 I'd stick it out, but I'm 25..."

The note was scribbled on crisp white hotel stationary.

Police found it tucked in a walnut desk in a $15-a-day hotel room Thursday.

The body of Paul Kiernan Jr., 25, Sioux City, Iowa, lay sprawled on a restaurant roof 20 floors below.

"Here I am—21, high intelligence, not bad looking, fairly good athlete," the note read, "ready to get enough guts to jump out of a 21st story building. . .

"Maybe if I was 18 I'd stick it out, but I'm 25. That's not old unless you're like me and never kissed a girl without her turning away. . .

"I can't think of ever being kissed by anyone but a tramp," the note said. "I'm so scared of girls I can't even say hello without shaking. And I'm so lonely for love that it gnaws at me every minute I'm awake and a lot of the time when I'm asleep...

"I can't fall asleep. I must jump out that window. Of course, it won't be easy. It's cold out there, but not for long..."

Police identified the youth as Kiernan through papers on his body, although he registered at the hotel as Marvin Hennessey, Sioux Falls, S. D. Papers on his body said he was an employe of a candy company in Sioux City.

Dear Abby....

Not Good Enough!!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I admit I don't keep a very clean house but it's not my fault. My mother hated housework and she never bothered much with housekeeping. She taught me to put the housework last and said, "If you don't clean your house, your husband will." Maybe this is a poor excuse, but it's the truth and I just had to get it off my chest.

POUR HOUSEKEEPER

DEAR POOR HOUSEKEEPER: Your mother's advice sounds like a feeble excuse for poor housemanship. To complete the picture she should have added, "There are many husbands who are mopping the floor with their wives every day." Get organized, Honey.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for some girls who need it. It expresses my feelings and the feelings of many of my friends. If a girl doesn't wear lipstick — even if she isn't so hot — I would sooner kiss her than the girl with lipstick, because guys who come home with lipstick on their shirts almost get killed by their mothers. I thank you.

FIFTEEN AND ALMOST KILLED ONCE

DEAR ABBY: You may consider this a silly question, but please, darling, try to help me. I have just lost my fifth garbage can. The last one I painted with black enamel, "PLEASE DO NOT STEAL THIS CAN." And I put my address on it. My neighbor said she saw a man stop and get out of a Cadillac car and HE took it. Can you imagine anything so cheap and dirty? So this morning I put my garbage in a Maison Blanc bag, and the garbage collector refused to take it. Is this the way they take care of beautiful St. Charles Avenue? The authorities pay me no attention. Can you give me a solution?

MRS. MARIE DE M.
New Orleans, La.

DEAR MARIE: Telephone your Department of Public Health and ask them to put you in touch with the Sanitation Department. Then tell them your story! If you get no results, take it right up to the mayor! (The problem — not the garbage.)

DEAR ABBY: My 22-year - old son came home heart - broken last night. He has been working and saving his money for a year to marry what we thought was a fine girl. He surprised her with a diamond ring and she refused it, saying she would rather wait until he could afford a BIGGER one. She said she would rather have no diamond than a small one. Is this modern thinking?

HEARTSICK MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: No. There have always been girls who place a great deal of importance on the size of a diamond. Tell your son to save the little gem for a girl who appreciates it. And him.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self - addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Bob 3361, Beverly Hills, Calif.

POLLY'S POINTERS

NOVEL YULE BAUBLES!!

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I would like to on the uses I have found for y plastic lime and lemon- ed juice containers. For stmas, the children enjoy dec- ng them with multicolored sequins for tree ornaments and wreath decorations. I insert screw eyes in the punctured ends, add a regular tree decoration hook and on the tree they go.

These screw eyes also make it simple to attach the lemons and limes to a wreath. Just insert a piece of wire through the eye.

They make a colorful addition to fresh fruit centerpieces and dried flower arrangements, too.

I always hated to throw away those plastic limes and lemons. I am so glad to know what to do with them, thanks to Mrs. L. T.

DEAR POLLY—This is a trick we have used for several years. Our children always want to light their own birthday cake candles. The match was always too short and the result was burned fingers and tears. We hit upon the idea of lighting a soda straw so the little ones can light their cake candles easily and happily.

MRS. R. U.

DEAR POLLY—And mothers of small children, when company is expected and the house is in "shipshape" condition, arrange a "picnic" (minus the food) for the children by putting an old blanket or quilt on the floor and letting them play with their toys there. Even my 11-months - old caught on and brought toys from her room to the blanket. When the doorbell rings, quickly scoop up the toys in the cover and temporarily store in a closet.

MRS. R. Z.

DEAR POLLY—I never used a saucepan to make formulas for either of my two babies. I buy an inexpensive coffee percolator, remove the coffee basket and the inserts. Measure the water and milk directly into the percolator, add the other ingredients and proceed as usual. You will need no funnel; the bottles can be filled directly from the percolator.

Optimist Boxers Edge Clovis Fighters

Once the fights got started at the Pampa Optimist Boys Club building last night the matches proved to be stem-winders with Pampa edging Clovis, eight bouts to five.

The bouts were delayed almost 30 minutes in getting started as the Clovis team arrived later than anticipated and the matching of the fighters took considerable time.

Shotgun Given Away

C. A. Huff, 708 N. Gray, is the owner of a new 16-gauge automatic shotgun given away last night at the matches.

In the hardest fought battle of the night, Pampa's Ronnie Fletcher won a slug fest over Clovis' Bobo Nichols. The scrappers, weighing in around 150, battled at a tremendous pace throughout the match, pelting each other freely with stunning blows. Fletcher knocked Nichols to the canvas in the first round.

Pampa's Dickie Wills, appearing in much better condition than in his last outing which he lost to Lester Ebert of Blackwell, Okla., out-slugged Clovis' Clarence Archie in the 150-pound weight. Wills staggered Archie, former state champion in New Mexico, in all three rounds. The boys traded several hard punches to the face in the tussle.

Close Decision

Pampa's Gary Wilhelm won a decision over Pete Esquibel in another Saturday night fight. The fans booed the decision even though the hometown boy won.

Joining the Pampans in dominating the heavier divisions was Richard Rexroat. Rexroat won a TKO over Marvin Dixon.

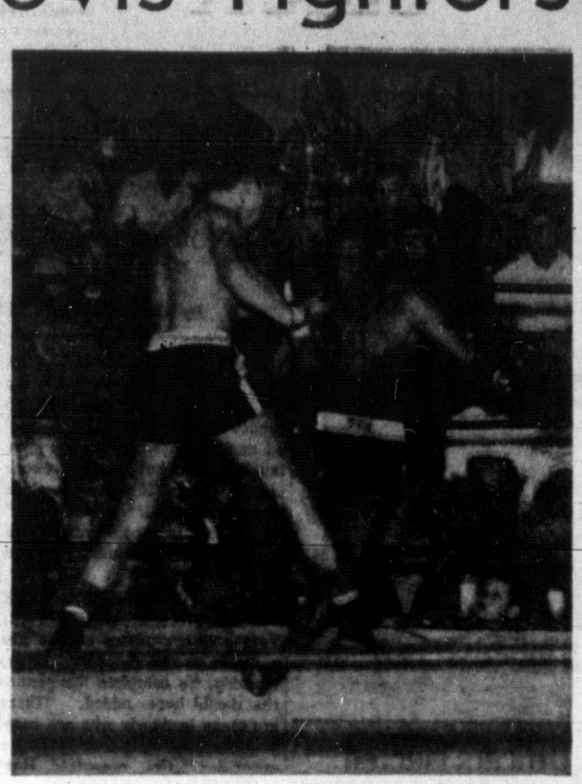

Other Bouts

In other bouts last night, Pampa winners over Clovis fighters were: 90 Dean LaRue over Matthew Smith; 80 Richard Dismuke over Earl Large; 105 Jimmie Watson over Henie Anaya, TKO; and 122 Jesse Dean Reed over Charlie Garcia, TKO.

Pampa fighters falling to Clovis ringmen were: 55 Troy Holtman to Jimmie Don Starkey; 80 Vince Stracener to Andy Chavez; 95 Alfred Brown to Eddie Smith; and 130 W. D. Thomas to T. C. McDonald.

Next fights for the Pampans will be against the Amarillo-Canyon team on Dec. 29.

AMATEUR LEATHER SLINGERS — Pampa's Optimist Boxers "mixed it up" with the visiting Clovis fighters last night in amateur fights. The Pampa club edged the visitors, eight bouts to five. In the first picture, Pampa's Jesse Dean Reed loses his balance after knocking Clovis' Charlie Garcia to the canvas. Reed won the fight on a TKO. In the second picture on the right, Richard Rexroat bounces Clovis' Marvin Dixon against the ropes. Rexroat also won on a TKO.

Wilson Wants More Money

DETROIT (UPI) — Edwin J. Anderson, general manager of the Detroit Lions, would like George Wilson to play Santa Claus and drop a signed two-year contract in his stocking.

But George isn't cooperating.

Wilson, who guided the Lions to the most successful record in his six season as head coach, balked at the offer of a new $80,000 two-year contract. He still has 12 months to go on his present two-year pact.

The shrouded confusion centered around Wilson's negotiations with the front office has inspired speculation that:

1. He is seeking more security in the form of a four or five-year contract, with stockholder privileges in policy matters.

2. He has been approached with job offers from other National Football League clubs and is carefully weighing them. Los Angeles, Baltimore and Chicago are high on the guessing list.

Wilson failed to shed much light on the matter Thursday night. However, the 48-year-old coach did not deny that he had been approached by another team.

"To put it in a nutshell, it's against the rules to offer a job to someone already under contract. But some teams get around this by asking if the party would be interested if he could be freed of his contract."

Had anyone inquired as to George's interest?

"Let's just leave it at that," Wilson said.

Bulldogs, Dumas, Rotan All Picked To Win Championships

By United Press International

Jacksboro, which has been beaten but twice in 38 starts over the past three seasons, meets Rockdale Friday night at Arlington to get the Texas schoolboy football championship weekend under way.

The pair of Tiger teams will battle for the Class AA crown held last year by the Donna Redskins in the only non-Saturday game on the four-game program.

Saturday afternoon, Borger plays San Antonio Brackenridge at Abilene for the Class AAAA throne given up by Wichita Falls. Dumas stakes its defense of the Demons' Class AAA title against Pharr-San Juan-Alamo at Fort Worth, and Rotan and Ingleside clash at Temple for the Class A throne Albany grudgingly gave up in last week's semifinal loss to Rotan.

The complete schedule with the teams' won-loss records and scoring totals:

CLASS AAAA

Borger (13-0, 342-89) vs. San Antonio Brackenridge (10-3, 443-168) at Abilene, Saturday, 2 p.m.

CLASS AAA

Dumas (12-1, 453-87) vs. Pharr-San Juan-Alamo (1-1-1, 221-77) at TCU Stadium, Fort Worth, Saturday, 2 p.m.

CLASS AA

Jacksboro (14-0, 550-43) vs. Rockdale (13-1, 329-120) at Arlington, Friday, 8 p.m.

CLASS A

Rotan (13-1, 521-128) vs. Ingleside (13-1, 303-135) at Temple, Saturday, 2:30 p.m.

Bulldogs-Eagles

United Press International

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI)— The methodical, ball-controlling Borger Bulldogs run up against the quick pass-minded Brackenridge Eagles in Abilene Saturday in a battle that will determine the state Class AAAA football champion.

Borger will be going after its 14th straight win with an offense that piled up 346 yards last week in dumping Lufkin from championship consideration.

Brackenridge of San Antonio moved into the finals with a 30-23 win over Spring Branch. The Eagles' 144-pound quarterback, Victor Castillo hit 14 of 25 passes for five touchdowns and 368 yards.

A crowd of more than 15,000 is expected for the 2 p.m. kickoff.

The two coaches, Gene Mayfield of Borger and Weldon Forren, the Brackenridge mentor, were busy praising the other's ball club this week.

"Borger is a real tough, ball-control ball club," said Forren. "We've got to force them to give up the ball to win. They can do it all."

Forren said his club was free of injuries, a luxury that Mayfield doesn't enjoy.

Borger's star halfback, A. C. Tillman is a doubtful starter for Saturday's game and three of his teammates are definitely out. Quarterback Dean Alexander, halfback Jerry Wilson and guard Don Wilcox all were injured before the playoffs started. Howfield said, "and he said it was the best offensive high school team he had ever seen."

Brackenridge has a 10-2 season record and Borger boasts a 13-0 record.

ever, Wilson may play Saturday.

Mayfield figures his team is in for a difficult time.

"We talked to one coach who had played Brackenridge," Mayfield said, " and he said it was the best offensive high school team he had ever seen."

Brackenridge has a 10-3 season record and Borger boasts a 13-0 record.

Borger On TV

The Borger-Brackenridge Class AAAA state championship playoff game, scheduled for 1:45 in Abilene, will be televised live on KGNC TV, Amarillo. (Channel 4).

Previous reports denied the possibility of the game being telecast live. However, the game will be televised on two stations in Texas.

Demons-Bears

United Press International

The Demons, winners 6-0 over Nederland for the crown last season, are rated 18-point favorites to beat their Rio Grande Valley opponents.

Only three times this season has Dumas failed to win by more than 18 points, and Demon coach Bill Spann said he is not surprised that his team is favored.

Dumas has averaged 35 points per game this season while limiting their opponents to 6.7 points per game. The Demons have a 13-1 record, losing only to Class AAAA finalist Borger.

Paced by 146-pound halfback Poppy Rodriguez, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo enters the championship game with an 11-1-1 record. A stout Bear defense has held seven opponents scoreless and allowed only 77 points all season.

Dumas will outweigh the Bears 28 pounds per man. This has prompted Bear coach Charlie Williams to comment, "I just hope we are able to stay on the field with them for 48 minutes."

Spann has a different view.

"Look at what we do on defense," he said. "We take out a 220-pounder and two boys who weigh 203 and replace them with linebackers who weigh 130 and 150 and a middle guard who's 160. Does that sound big?"

Dumas has a fine backfield operating behind its massive offensive line. Seven different runners have gained more than 250 yards each this season. The team's leading scorer is third team halfback Joe Ballard who has been helped by adding the extra points after the frequent Dumas touchdowns.

Quarterbacks Carlos Vela and Johnny Warden engineer the Pharr-San Juan-Alamo attack. Up-the-middle power is supplied by fullback Gary Emrick.

But Spann said he is worred most about stopping Rodriguez. "He does a tremendous job," Spann said. "You can't get hold of him. He darts, rolls and spins. It's hard to get a good shot at him."

Tigers Battle

United Press International

Jacksboro, winner of 36 of its past 38 games, has scored 550 points this season while whipping 14 foes.

But despite its high scoring approach to football, Jacksboro made it to the finals on a pair of field goals last week in a 6-0 victory over Winters. Gary Winton booted the field goals, the only ones he ever kicked.

Another defensive battle may be in the making. Rockdale, sporting a 13-1 record this season, fought its way into the finals on touchdowns that were set up by its defensive team.

Jacksboro, losers to Quanah in the semifinals last year, is also long on defense. Only four teams have scored on the Tigers this season for a total of 43 points.

All-state halfback Robert Leach paces the Jacksboro attack. The power running is done by fullback Dale Gideon. Quarterback Steve Wheelis handles the passing game with Leach and James Leatherwood as top receivers.

Rockdale's scoring game is triggered by quarterback Dickie Summers, a converted tackle who has pitched a dozen touchdown passes and scored 94 points.

The middle power is supplied by fullback L. B. Kubiak and halfbacks Ronnie Brannon and Mike Sowers are good outside threats.

Rotan-Mustangs

TEMPLE, Tex. (UPI)— The young, upset-minded Ingleside Mustangs, surprise team of the year in Texas schoolboy football, will come here Saturday afternoon to clash with mighty Rotan for the state Class A championship.

Rotan, the pre-season favorite to win the Class A crown, is favored by more than a touchdown over the sophomorish Mustangs, picked by the experts to finish no better than fourth in their own district.

Both Ingleside, the Southern Texas representative, and their West Texas rivals sport 13-1 records for the season. The Mustangs rocked unbeaten New London from the playoffs a week ago 14-8 and Rotan downed Albany 28-20 to advance to the finals.

New London, suffering its first loss of the year at the hands of Ingleside, and Rotan were rated No. 1 and 2 respectively throughout the season in Class A ratings.

Rotan placed end Bill Ashton and tackle Howard Van Loon on the United Press International Class A All-State team, and the Yellowhammers' outstanding quarterback Steve Herron was named to the second team. Ingleside failed to have a single player on the first, second or third teams.

Herron, a 165-pound senior, has averaged over 300 yards in total offense through the Yellowhammers' 14 games this season. He threw one touchdown pass, scored once on a 55-yard pass interception and lunged one yard for another to usher Rotan into the finals last week.

Rotan lost its opening game 12-10 at the hands of Hamlin in Class AA, then breezed through the remaining regular season games. The Yellowhammers through 14 games amassed a total of 521 points while giving up only 126.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sports of all sorts:

Major league baseball and college football both set attendance records in 1962, both drawing approximately 21 million...counting two pro grid leagues and vast numbers of high schools, the total for football easily surpasses baseball in the race for the title of "national pastime" but it's a little early to start funeral arrangements for baseball even though the 1962 gate record was due to adding two more National League teams.

Weekend picks: Georgia Tech and Billy Lothridge over Missouri in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, North All Stars over the South at Miami, Dallas in an upset over Houston in the American Football League title game.

Penn State footballers, prepping at Annapolis, Md., for the Gator Bowl game against Florida, will break up Saturday night to spend Christmas at home...They'll reassemble Christmas night at Olmstead Air Force Base, Middletown, Pa., for the flight to Jacksonville, Fla., to meet the Gators Dec. 29.

Old and Young

Oldest and youngest players on Pittsburgh's 1963 roster are pitchers...Harvey Haddix, 37, is the oldest and 18-year-old Pat Donnelly is the baby Pirate.

The world champion Yankees report their '63 roster has an average age of 26.5 years, young for a title club...And included in that group are 38-year-old Hal (Skinny) Brown as well as 37-year-old Yogi Berra.

Gene Mauch of the Phillies says, "You can put together a good team in the National League and finish anywhere from sixth to first...a lot depends on injuries—or avoiding injuries."

When Bobby Bragan took over as manager of the Milwaukee Braves one of his opening remarks was, "it's nice to have power hitters like Joe Adcock on your side"...so Joe promptly traded to Cleveland.

Pampa's Harvesters Favored In Top O' Texas Tournament

Pampa's highly successful Harvesters will be the defending champions of the Top O' Texas Tournament slated for tonight and Saturday night. The Pampans, having won the tournament every year, are favored to win first place honors again this year.

On hand for the tournament this year will be Dumas, Lawton, Okla., and Arlington Heights of Ft. Worth to contest the Harvesters for the tourney crown.

First game in the tourney is scheduled for 7:30 tonight between Arlington Heights and Dumas with the Harvesters playing Lawton in a 9 p.m. tussle. The games will be played in the Harvester fieldhouse.

Favored to win the annual Top Texas Invitational Tournament, the Pampa Harvester's will likely play without the services of Keith Swanson, 6-0 starting guard. Swanson suffered an injured wrist in the game against Thomas Jefferson of Dallas recently in the Denton Tourney.

Swanson will probably return to action for the Ft. Worth Tournament Dec. 26-29 if he is unable to play in this week end's tourney. Donny Ayres, who has been filling in for Swanson in a starting berth, will probably get the starting nod for the opening game against Lawton along with center Randy Matson, 6-8½, forwards Gordon Balch, 6-1, and Gary Ikes, 6-3½, and guard Wayne Kreis, 5-11.

Top Pampa Scorer

Kreis is pacing Pampa scorers after 10 non-conference tussles with a 21.1 average. Sikes is the club's two scorer so far in the season with a 14.8 average and Matson third with an 11.3 average.

The Harvesters, riding a four-game winning streak, are averaging 74.8 points a game with the opponents averaging 49.9 a contest.

The Harvesters suffered their first defeat of the season last Friday at the hands of the defending state champions of Class AAAA, Thomas Jefferson of Dallas, 55-52. Before the Denton tournament, the Pampans had battered five opponents in five games—Phillips, 79-39, Vernon, 86-54, Lamar (Colorado) 82-35 and 71-38, and Perryton, 70-28.

Following the initial defeat of the year and in the Denton tournament, the Harvesters have handed losses to Richland Hills of Ft. Worth, 75-52, Grand Prairie, 68-58, Elk City, 81-38, and Perryton, 52-37.

The Top O' Texas tournament, in its five years, has been won each year by the hosts.

Last Year Champs

The Pampans trimmed the Dumas Demons, 47-40, for first place honors last year. The game avenged an earlier loss in the season to the Demons, 36-35. Lawton won consolation honors last year with a 53-42 victory over Elk City.

Pampa's opponent in the first round of this year's tournament, Lawton, has a 3-1 season record having downed the Wichita Falls Coyotes twice and Ardmore, Okla., once. The loss was at the hands of Duncan, Okla.

Two of last year's all - tournament team selections, Pampa's Randy Matson and Wayne Kreis, again will be in the starting lineup for the Harvesters this year.

Lawton Wolverines

The Lawton Wolverines will start an all-senior team of Vernon Paul, 6-4, at center; guards Wesley Hann, 5-8, and Rudy Ramos, 5-9; and forwards Mike Morgan, 6-3, and Scott Long, 6-2.

In the first contest of the tournament, Dumas plays a tall Arlington Heights team. Both teams have 4-5 season marks.

The Ft. Worth school will probably start either 6-8 Jeff Saary or 6-5 James Belknap at center; forwards James Ankele, 6-5, and James Duis, 6-0; and guards Charles Williams, 5-11, and James Wehman, 5-11.

Top scorer for the Demons is 6-3 Mike Wendele who is averaging around 18 points a game this year. Starters at forwards for Dumas are Eric Beagle, 6-3, and Hulon Kirkland, 6-3, with Scott Ledgerwood, 6-0, and Jimmy Rhodes, 5-9, at guard spots.

The Demons are playing without the services of four boys presently engaged in football playoffs.

READY TO PLAY — Pampa's second unit of Kenny Hebert, Donny Ayres, Charles Price, C. E. Cantrell, and Dannie Heil are ready and waiting to go into action for the Harvesters. The second unit has seen considerable action this year. Ayres will probably start for the Harvesters in place of injured Keith Swanson in the first round of the Top O' Texas Tournament slated for tonight and Saturday night. (Photo by Smith Studio)

Bruhn, McKay Honored Coaches

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Wisconsin's Milt Bruhn and Southern California's John McKay, opposing strategists in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1, are among eight candidates for the 1962 Kodak award as the major college football coach of the year.

The American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) announced the nominees from eight geographical districts at a luncheon here Thursday. Eastman Kodak Company sponsors the award to be presented to the winner after balloting by the 2,500-member AFCA at the annual convention Jan. 6-8, in Los Angeles.

Bluebonnet, Tangerine Bowls On Tap For This Saturday

Tigers, Ga. Tech

HOUSTON (UPI) — Two coaches with similar low key approaches put their squads through no-contact drills here today in preparation for the Bluebonnet Bowl contest Saturday afternoon.

Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech is no believer in hard practice scrimmage. He says the system of infrequent contact works well for him, but admits that other coaches might do better with a more rugged kind of training.

Coach Dan Devine of Missouri said his team had its last contact scrimmage a week ago and then only for a few minutes.

Georgia Tech has moved through the air during the season, mostly on the passes of Billy Lothridge, a junior whiz who has rewritten several pages of the Yellow Jackets record book.

But Missouri ranks fourth in pass defense and total defense.

The Tigers will stay on the ground if they follow the pattern of the past season. Halfback John Roland was seventh in the nation in rushing with 830 yards.

But Devine would not promise that his team would not try a few more passes than usual.

If the Tigers do go into the air, quarterback Jim Johnson will do the throwing. One of his receivers would be Conrad Hitchler, right end who has done well on short patterns.

BILLY LOUTHRIDGE ... In Bluebonnet Bowl

Cougars, 'Skins

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — The Houston Cougars and the Miami (Ohio) Redskins tapered off today with limbering up drills in preparation for Saturday's 17th annual Tangerine Bowl football game here.

Miami, 8-1-1 on regular season play, and Houston, 6-4, are the biggest name colleges ever to play in the Tangerine Bowl and a record crowd of about 15,000 persons is expected to be on hand for the kickoff.

The game pits two strong ground attacks against each other. But Houston has been stressing passing during practices this week.

Miami has an explosive breakaway runner in halfback Scott Tyler. He is aided by the upfront blocking of a pair of huge tackles — Tom Nomina at 270 pounds and Paul Waters at 265 pounds.

Houston has been a running team all season, having tried only 145 passes. Senior quarterback Billy Roland handled most of the Cougar passing with 60 completions in 123 attempts for 753 yards and five touchdowns.

Cincinnati Bearcats Race On To Pace College Cage Teams

By United Press International

Cincinnati's top ranked Bearcats borrowed that sage old highway slogan — "slow down and live" — to keep alive the longest current winning streak in college basketball.

Slowed down to a near walk by Dayton's tight zone and deliberate offense, the versatile Bearcats promptly switched their own style accordingly to flatten the Flyers 44-37 Thursday night.

Although Tom Thacker was the high man for Cincinnati with 21 points, it was tenacious Tony Yates, with only six points, who emerged as key man in leading the Bearcats to their 25th consecutive victory dating back to last season.

A crowd of 8,078 which braved a snowstorm in Cincinnati saw Dayton's defending NIT champions take the lead four times during the first half although the Bearcats, last season's NCAA champs, shot in front 18-17 one second before the intermission.

Yates, Cincinnati's top defensive player for the past two seasons, was the man behind the stick as the Bearcats outscored the Flyers, 15-6, in the first 10 minutes of the second half to pull ahead 33-23. Repeatedly stealing the ball and bottling up Dayton's offensive maneuvers, he forced the Flyers to give up possession on at least 20 different occasions.

The Bearcats' point total was their lowest in two seasons but it was enough to keep them unbeaten with their seventh straight win of the campaign. Gordon Hatton led Dayton with 16 points.

Southern Methodist connected on 78.3 per cent of its second half field goal attempts to crush Minnesota 100-80 as sophomore forward Jim Smith netted 33 points for the Mustangs.

Center Fred Slaughter pumped in 22 points to spark UCLA to a 70-62 triumph over Northwestern in another intersectional clash that marked the Uclans' sixth victory in eight outings.

SMU Racks Minnesota

By United Press International

Five Southwest Conference basketball teams, bolstered by Southern Methodist 100-80 trouncing of Minnesota Thursday night, swing into action tonight against intersectional foes.

Rice meets the Phillips Oilers, Texas tangles with California at Berkeley, Calif., Texas A & M plays in the Houston Classic, Baylor travels to Provo, Utah to battle Brigham Young, and Texas Christian plays Oklahoma City University at Oklahoma City.

SMU hit a tremendous 78.3 per cent of its field shots in the second half to beat the Golden Gophers. The victory was the second this week for the Mustangs over a Big 10 foe. Earlier, SMU whipped Northwestern 80-75.

Jim Smith, star sophomore forward from Portland, Ore., scored 33 points to pace SMU. Co-Capt. James Thompson made 23. Thompson, who made 17 of 17 free throw attempts against Northwestern, hit on 7 of 7 Thursday night.

The Mustangs held a 49-38 halftime lead and quickly stretched that margin with pinpoint shooting in the second half.

Keeping Christ In Christmas Is Uphill Work Now

IN SUNDAY NIGHT DRAMA — Here are two of the participants in the production, "Cry, the Beloved Country," scheduled to be presented in the Sanctuary of the First Methodist Church Sunday night at 7:30. They are, left, Sam Vlahos of Los Angeles, veteran of Hollywood television and films; and Ann Webb, who was in summer stock at the University of Illinois. She is an accomplished singer, flutist and pianist.

Bishop's Company To Give 'Cry The Beloved Country' At First Methodist Church Here Sunday Evening

The public is invited to the unusual production "Cry, The Beloved Country," which is adapted by Phyllis Benbow Beardsley from the famous novel by Alan Paton, to be presented at the First Methodist Church for the Sunday Night Service at 7:30 by The Bishop's Company.

The human hero of the story is an old and humble Zulu parson from the hills above Lxopo in South Africa. He sets out for Johannesburg in search of his only son. Finally he finds the boy in prison, the murderer of a white man who had devoted his life to justice for the black race. In the scenes between the native father of the murderer and the English father of the murdered, the story reaches a height of drama seldom equalled in contemporary fiction. Beyond the intense and insoluble personal tragedy is the story of the beautiful and tragic land of South Africa where racial ferment and unrest break the harmony of men.

St. Matthew's Members Bring Food Offerings For Needy

The Fourth Sunday in Advent completes the preparation for the festival of Christmas at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church. Members of the church will bring offerings of food to be given to a family in need and the children will give their food to St. Nicholas who will visit the Parish House following Sunday School classes.

Sunday evening the members of the Episcopal Young Churchmen will meet at 6:00 to decorate the church for the Christmas season. Following the decoration party the young people and adults will visit various homes to sing carols to those who may not be able to attend services.

A festival Holy Communion Service will be celebrated at 11:00 p.m. on Monday, December 24th, the regular Christmas Eve midnight service. The service will be broadcast over radio station KPDN and the combined youth and adult choirs will sing "O Holy Night" as the offeratory anthem.

On Christmas Day the service of Holy Communion will be at 11:00 a.m. with Mr. James Chenoweth at the organ.

The rector, the Rev. William E. West will preach on the text. "The True Light", and has invited everyone in the community to attend either or both of the Christmas services. For those wishing to attend the midnight service they are advised to come early in order to find a place to sit.

Plans are also underway for the Annual Community Wide "Burning of the Greens" on January 6th. Christmas trees and greenery are burned to signify the end of Christmastide and the beginning of Epiphany, the time the Magi brought their gifts to the Christ-Child. The trees will be burned at the High School practice field and then a service of worship in the church will be held.

The members of the Jr. high youth group will present a one-act play at this time. Following the service and play everyone is invited to enjoy hot chocolate and cookies in the Parish House. Members of the church, their families and pupils in the Day School and their families will join in this celebration on January 6th. Everyone in the community is invited to participate in all of these festivities on January 6, 1963.

Candles, Carols Highlighted By Presbyterians

The Presbyterian Church will have two special worship services on Christmas Eve, both in honor of the birth of the Lord Jesus. The annual children's service will be at 7:30, and it is at this special service that all children and young people in the primary grades will bring their white gifts for the Amarillo Children's Home and will place them at the manger during the service. The Children's Choirs, under the direction of Mrs. John Conway and accompanied by Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, will sing two special Christmas selections.

Gifts needed at the home include such things as towels, wash cloths, sheets, pillow cases, toilet articles, canned goods and clothing.

During the Service members of the Senior High Fellowship will enact the Christmas story.

The Midnight Candlelight Servicewill begin at 11:30. This annual observance of Carols and Candles will be highlighted by the lighting of the Congregational Candles, as all worshippers accept the light of the Christ and pass it on to others.

The pastor, The Rev. Donald S. Hauck, will bring a Christmas meditation to this service.

Old Time Giving Service Sunday At Highland Baptist

Sunday School at the Highland Baptist Church will begin at 9:45 a.m. Sunday morning, with a class and department for every age level. The adults in all adult departments will be studying the lesson "God With Us." We do not know what this Christmas Season will bring, but we do know God has not changed. He is always with us.

For the Morning Worship Service, Rev. Allison has chosen to speak on the subject, "Why The Jews Rejected Jesus". He will read the scripture as found in Matthew 2:11-26.

During the Training Union Hour, which begins at 6:30 p.m., the subject, "Favor or Fellowship" will be discussed. Training Union will be followed by the Evening Worship Service at 7:30 p.m., during which time Rev. Allison will read Matthew 2:1-12 from the Bible and speak on the subject, "The Wise Men At Christmas."

Roy Harper, Minister of Music, will present the Adult and Junior Choirs in a special song service during the Evening Worship House. There will be an "old time giving service" to give every person the opportunity to share with those less fortunate than they. Each one will pass by the offering table and give their offering as was done in churches in time past. This will let every person give the Lord His gift for His birthday. Your life will be blessed if you attend this service to honor the birthday of Jesus.

Wednesday Services will begin with the Officers and Teachers meeting and Sunbeams and G.A.s at 6:45 p.m. For the Prayer Meeting at 7:30, Rev. Allison will speak on "The Teaching Of James About Temptation." The scripture will be taken from James 1:2-21.

The service will close with everyone lighting the candles and repeating the scripture "Ye are the Light of the World."

Rev. T. O. Upshaw, pastor, has selected for his topic "Good Tidings of Great Joy" for the morning worship service.

Sunday School for all ages will begin at 9:45 a.m., with the morning worship beginning at 11:00. Training Union for all ages will be at 6:00 p.m. with the evening worship service at 7:00.

YWAs, GAs, RAs, Sunbeams, and Teachers and Officers meeting will be at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. Prayer meeting will follow at 8. There will be no choir rehearsal that night.

The staff would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Christian Science Services Outlined

The great significance of the birth and life of the Master, Christ Jesus, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings will include the account in Matthew of wise men who followed a star to Bethlehem: "And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (p. 315): "Jesus' spiritual origin and understanding enabled him to demonstrate the facts of being, — to prove irrefutably how spiritual Truth destroys material error, heals sickness, and overcomes death. The divine conception of Jesus pointed to this truth and presented an illustration of creation."

The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

Christmas Hymns To Be Featured

The Rev. Russell G. West, Sr., will preach at eleven o'clock Sunday at the Church of the Brethren, 600 North Frost Street, on the subject, "My Gift-exchange With God". The Choir will sing "Angels we have heard on High." The congregation will sing "Angels from the Realm of Glory", "Silent Night", "O Little Town of Bethlehem", and "Joy to the World." "O Holy Night" will be sung as a duet by Peggy Patrick and Russell G. West, Jr.

The worship service will come to a climax with the story of the Wise Men who brought their gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh in token of their homage to the new-born King. The congregation will come to the altar by Sunday School Classes and place their cards of commitment and dedication upon the altar, thus entering their gift-exchange with God for the coming year.

The Sunday evening service will consist of a Christmas program by the children and young people. This program will open at six o'clock. Following the program there will be a period of fellowship in which the children will be given Christmas treats of fruits, nuts and candy.

Astronauts Give Yule Greetings

HOUSTON (UPI)—America's 16 astronauts sent Christmas greetings to the American people today, promising to work toward the peaceful exploration of space and the good of mankind.

The message was issued after many requests from churches, civic and fraternal groups and organizations.

"Since the days of Christ man's knowledge of heavenly objects has increased a hundredfold and now he desires to reach out and touch that which has become familiar to his sight," the message said.

Keeping Christ in Christmas is uphill work.

Even the most devoted Christian is apt to find himself caught up at this time of year in costly and time-consuming activities which seem to have nothing to do with the birth of the Savior.

He may feel that it would be far more appropriate to spend this season in quiet and reverent reflection on God's wondrous gift.

But as a member of human society, he is involved willy-nilly in its customs. He cannot ignore the card-sending, gift giving and other secular trimmings of Christmas without hurting the feelings of his family and friends.

What can he do about it?

Short of withdrawing into a monastery, the only solution may be to do what the church did when it initiated the celebration of Christmas, about 16 centuries ago.

Date Of Festival

At that time, Dec. 25 was a pagan holiday widely observed in the Roman empire as the festival of the sun god. It was then, as now, an occasion for gift-giving, feasting and general revelry.

The church "Christianized" the holiday by inaugurating a special observance called "Christ's Mass" in honor of the birth of Jesus. (No one knew then, nor knows now, the actual month and day of Jesus' birth, so the church was free to choose an arbitrary date for the celebration.)

Which of the customs which grew up around Christmas during the ensuing centuries were, like the holiday itself, pagan traditions invested with a new Christian significance.

Thus evergreen wreaths (which now symbolize the Christian hope of eternal life) were taken over from Britain's druids, who used to deck their halls with boughs of holly to provide shelter for woodland sprites threatened by wintry frosts.

Teutonic Origin

Decorating Christmas trees in honor of the Christ child is a legacy from the Teutonic tribes of northern Europe, who worshiped sacred oaks before they were converted to Christianity in the 8th century.

If the modern Christmas has become "paganized" again, the obvious remedy is to repeat the historic process of Christianizing the folk customs of the season.

Take gift-giving, for example. As practiced between relatives, friends and business associates, it may be nothing more than a selfish and ostentatious exchange of luxuries. But gifts can also be given as an act of love, in the spirit of Him who said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My children, ye have done it unto Me."

Can Be Chore

By the same token Christmas cards can be an annual chore, grudgingly undertaken to avoid social ostracization. Or they can be a way of touching hands with old friends across the miles and years. It all depends on why they are sent — and how much love they convey.

Christmas hospitality, like gifts and cards, can be extended to those whom we count on to reply in kind. But it is also possible to share our Christmas feasts with the poor, the lonely, the unloved.

"Behold, I make all things new," said the King of Kings (Rev. 21:5). Any human activity — even the modern Christmas— can be transformed by the spirit of Christ into something good and beautiful.

Local Church Outlines Activities

The services at Lamar Christian church this coming Sunday emphasize the Christmas spirit and message.

The Bible School assembly at 9:45 a.m. will sing hymns familiar and appropriate for the season of Christmas.

At the 10:45 a.m. Worship Service, the Junior Choir will occupy the choir section and will present special numbers.

The subject of Dr. Joseph Hunter's Christmas sermon will be, "Following Wise Men."

At 7 p.m., the church choir, directed by Mrs. Gene Pitmon and accompanied by Mrs. Danny King, will present a Christmas Cantata which will feature solos, duets, and choruses, as they will tell the familiar story: "The Sound in the Air;" "The Savior Comes," "Let us go to Bethlehem, and other events in the Christmas narrative.

The audience will be reminded of the strange miracle which took place in the mind and heart of George Frederick Handel two hundred and twenty years ago as he was writing "The Messiah."

First Christian Youth Schedule Outdoor Program

The youth of First Christian Church, Starkweather and Kingsmill, will present a live outdoor nativity scene on both nights, Sunday, December 23rd, and Monday, Christmas Eve, December 24th. Times for the presentation each evening will be 7, 7:45, and 8:30 p.m.

Taking part in the presentation will be Connie Kuntz as Mary, Ronnie Wheeler as Joseph, Jerry Goff as the Angel Gabriel, Tim Vance, Ronnie Klein, and Danny Laramore as the wise men; Freddie Tinsley Jr., Larry Elledge, David Bailey and Eddie Smith as the shepherds, and Carole Enloe, Kathy Anderson, Jean Pierce and Barbara Vance as the heavenly host. Keith Swanson will be narrator. Mary Ellen Cooper will handle the recorded music. And Steve Dudney is in charge of properties and lighting.

The story of Christmas is told as recorded in the Gospel according to Saint Luke. The public address system is being provided by Jim Terrell of Radio Station KPDN. Rev. Gene Buchanan is directing the presentation.

First Christian Young People To Carol Shut-ins

"The Heart of Christmas" will be the sermon delivered by Rev. Glyn B. Adsit at the First Christian Church 10:50 a.m. worship service Sunday. The Sanctuary Choir will sing traditional Christmas music. The evening service will continue its study of the Book of Galatians at 6 p.m.

A Candle-Light Communion Service will be held at 11:30 p.m. New Year's Eve. It will consist of a brief Communion Meditation and the participation of the Lord's Supper. This is the one time in the year when the members of the Christian Church go to the Communion Rail to receive the emblems. At all other times the bread and wine are served them in the pews.

Following the Communion service a twenty-four hour prayer vigil begins. Someone will be in the Sanctuary in meditation and prayer for the period ending January 1, midnight. Members are at present signing up for the hour they want to pray.

The Young People will meet at the Church and then go Christmas caroling to shut-ins. Following the caroling they will present a live manger scene on the lawn in front of the Church. They will have refreshments and recreation during this time.

Jr. Missionettes In Monday Meeting

The Junior Missionettes of the First Assembly of God Church met Monday in the home of their leader, Mrs. Dorene Bruce, 112 Seneca.

The members wrapped gifts for their mothers. Cookies and punch were served.

First Baptist To Have Guest Speaker Sunday

The First Baptist Church of Pampa will have for their guest speaker Sunday morning Rev. Woody Northcutt, from the seminary in Fort Worth, for the 11 o'clock Worship Service. He is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Franklin of Pampa.

The Church Choir, under the direction of Joe Whitten, will sing "As of Gladness, Men of Old," by Dix, and Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "Bethlehem," by Malling, for the organ offertory.

The Evening Worship will be in the form of a Vesper Service at 5 p.m. Mrs. Tom Rose Jr. will read from memory, "The Sermon on the Mount." Joe Whitten will sing, "The Holy City" and the Church Choir will sing, "Gentle Mary Laid Her Child," by MacMillan. The organ offertory Miss Lane has chosen is Carol on "Greensleeves" by Richolson.

Training Union will follow this service at 6 o'clock.

The pastor, Dr. E. Douglas Carver, will be here to welcome visitors and the young people home from the colleges and universities.

These public spirited firms are making these weekly messages possible — and join with the ministers of Pampa in hoping that each message will be an inspiration to everyone.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

REV. WILLIAM E. WEST

ST. MATTHEW'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

The event which we celebrate on the feast of Christmas is not the birth of an important human hero. If that were all there is to it, it is hardly possible that we would be observing it in the year 1962. Great heros are remembered for a few years, but times change, old civilizations die and new ones take their places with new men of greatness to remember and commemorate. It is precisely because Christ is no mere hero that His birth has been observed down the ages and will be observed to the end of time.

What we celebrate on this feast is the utterly stark fact that God entered this world in a special, unique way, the way of human birth. It was an event which shook the very foundations of creation. The world has been a totally different place since God entered it.

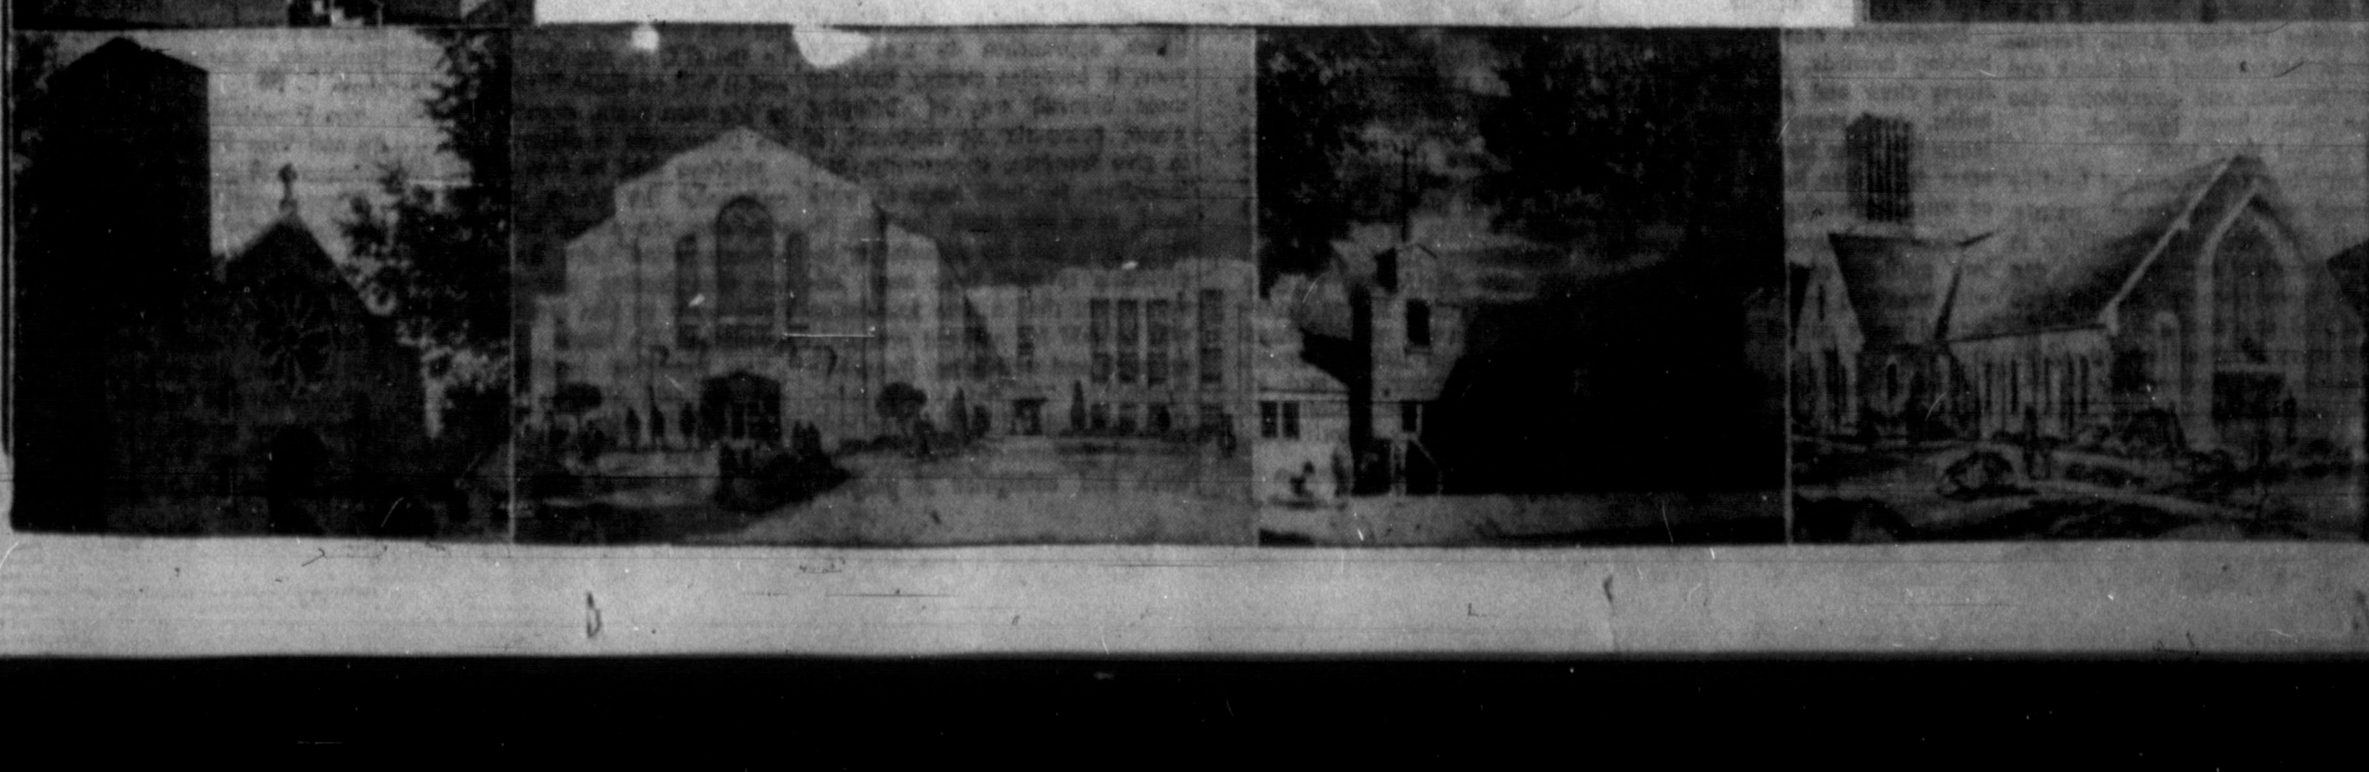

When God became man, a new power began to operate in human nature which enabled men to do that which they could not do in their own power. Among other things it enabled men to participate in the activity of heaven while they still lived in this world. It was no accident that before his human life was ended, Christ instituted a means whereby men could actually stand "with angels and archangels and all the company of heaven" and join their earthly voices to the heavenly worship. It is this which distinguishes Christian worship from other human worship of God. And this is why our Fathers in Faith named this feast "Christmas" or "Christ's Mass."

The fact is that the Christmas event is a mighty cataclysm which affected all life, both in heaven and on earth. The Baby in the manger is lovely and appealing, but he is also Almighty God of heaven and earth, deliberately facing all the evil of the world's life. To stand with him is not a matter of having enjoyable feelings. For example St. Stephen stood with him and was stoned to death for it. St. John stood with him and earned a sentence of long years in a Roman slave labor camp. Even innocent babies who happened to be born in Bethlehem when this mighty event occurred, were brutally murdered by an evil king, fearful of his throne.

The message of Christmas, is that God became incarnate, not to give us nice feelings in the midst of life's woes. Nor is the practice of His religion a facility in mustering up pleasant emotions. Devotedness, faithfulness, dedication are the marks of following Christ and until we are willing to face the powers of evil which are arrayed against God (even though we get no pleasure out of it), we have not begun to practice Christian living.

Christmas means that God is at hand. He is with us, not only on this one day but on each of the three hundred and sixty five days of the year.

Christmas means — "God of God . . . who for us men and our salvation was made man."

Keep Safe During Holidays

Comes now the ne plus ultra of "public" ideas, "pubiic happiness."

Believe it or not, President Kennedy has appointed a man, one August Heckscher, to become America's first "public happiness cultural motivator."

Mr. Heckscher hails from New York and apparently was brought to Mr. Kennedy's attention because he wrote a book called "The Public Happiness."

Some are saying that our founding fathers had culture and art in mind when in the Declaration of Independence the phrase, "pursuit of happiness," was deftly introduced. At least this is implicit in Heckscher's reasoning.

Thomas Hart Benton, a distinguished painter, has stated that the Kennedys "have entrusted the development of the government's artistic conscience to a real pro," in the person of Heckscher, who says: "The greatest public happiness should be participation in a common life which is recognized as being enriched, which is known to be illuminated and made coherent, by all forms of art."

This, the President and Heckscher believe, will be the final triumph of freedom and democracy.

The real program, of course is not just to stimulate attendance at the Metropolitan Museum, altho it is reported gleefully that it is up 2 per cent over 1961. The White House's art consultant sees his task as "seeking ways the government can stimulate, guide and be hospitable" to theater companies, symphony orchestras, concert artists, poets, painters, actors, sculptors, choir singers and chamber musicians. Even amateur athletes are to be included in the lavish touch of tax money.

Heckscher believes in a "share the cost" system of cultural endeavor beginning with citizen patronage and working up thru foundation aid, until the really big money can be obtained from city, state and federal support via the grab route of the tax collectors.

"Government at all levels," he says, "must aid the arts, because government sets the pattern in ways that often are scarcely discerned by which the citizens weave the fabric of their lives."

Hitherto, Congress has not been generous in this area, altho it is a fact that the area has not been entirely neglected. During the alphabetic enchantment of F.D.R., millions were spent out of government treasury receipts and debts for little theater efforts, playwriting and beatnik subsidy.

Heckscher wants it understood that Congress and the local newspapers can help in letting everyone know that the bearded, dirty, greasy, be-sweatered habitues of expresso houses who are called "artists" are not crackpot or fringe citizens but are respectable.

Heckscher, known as "Augie" to his familiars, isn't worried about the arms race. If money is being spent there, all the more reason to spend it for artistic pursuits, too. "My view is that because we spend so much on arms, we must spend more on art, or the arms may eventually defend only a hollow shell."

Heckscher would like to see the government compete with such private agencies as New York's Museum of Modern Art. If private organizations can promote art, then the government ought to do a bigger and better job.

Somehow this report, which was prepared by a United Press International writer, has reminded us of Edward Bellamy's immortal classic, "Looking Backward."

In this novel, Bellamy caused his hero to sleep thru the 20th century to emerge, like a new Rip Van Winkle, in the 21st century where the entire United States had gone socialist while the hero slumbered.

In the brave new world of Bellamy, all work was performed by young men between the ages of 18 and 20. No one else had to work. Prior to age 18, everyone went to government schools. After age 20, everyone became an artist. The entire adult population was preoccupied in writing plays, singing operas, acting in dramas, composing poetry, painting, sculpting or otherwise extracting "meaning" from the similar actions of others.

The entire 21st century of Bellamy took on the cacaphony of an aesthete bedlam, altho Bellamy and his vast audience of readers seemed to regard the whole as not only possible of attainment, but desirable as well. Heckscher is apparently a late comer to this group.

Sorry, but we're going to have to beg off. There is only one thing worse in our view than the amateur actor, dancer or painter; that is the amateur singer. If this nation is about to embark on a cultural jag at federal expense in order to inspire "public happiness" we've about had it.

This one harks back to Nero's pursuit of culture while Rome burned.

Recognition

Our nation is like a bedroom in which the sleeper has just been awakened to learn that there is a burglar in the house. Too many, having rubbed some of the sleep from their eyes want to call the sheriff. They aren't awake enough yet to know that the sheriff is working for the biggest robber baron of all time, the government.

The 'Public Happiness'

Each year Santa Claus and his workers outdo themselves in the production of new and wonderful toys for kids.

With wise selection by parents, the toys can educate, stir the imaginations and release artistic talents in children or just plain entertain them long after Christmas is over.

Thoughtful selection can also prevent the joy of Christmas from ending in heartache that may mar all Christmases to come.

While shopping for toys, the American Medical Assn. recommends that mothers and dads and grandparents and everybody else keep these things in mind:

For real little kids:

Don't buy toys made of lead or painted with lead-based paints. Small children put everything in their mouths; serious illness can result from chewing off the lead paint and swallowing it.

Be wary of small toys that can be swallowed, flammable toys and toys with sharp edges. Baby's toys, especially, should be too large to be swallowed, washable, lightweight and not brittle.

For older kids:

When buying electric toys, look for the UL (Underwriters' Laboratory) label on the toy and on the cord.

Missile - throwing toys—from archery sets to BB guns — are obviously dangerous. Safety rules for the use of such toys must be established and enforced. Air rifles are illegal in many places; a check of local laws is advisable before buying one.

Decorations also are potential holiday hazards. Children sometimes chew and swallow small bulbs. And many people will learn this year how easily fire can start from tree lights with flimsy or worn-out wiring.

Glass ornaments shatter easily into millions of slivers. Handle with care and keep extras and discarded bulbs out of the reach of children.

Have a merry Christmas. Help your doctor have a merry one, too, by letting him stay at home with his family.

He laid out the routes for Pan American to Europe via Greenland and Iceland and also to Asia via Alaska. He was a scholar and often was asked if he had visited the North Pole. "I am a scientist and not a tourist," was his standard reply. The explorer was considered the greatest authority on the northern regions of the globe before his death last September at the age of 82. Stefansson wrote numerous books on the lands he had visited and studied and for some years was the curator of polar literature at Dartmouth College.

Water is so much a part of daily existence that many are inclined to take for granted that it will always be present in plentiful supply. But such is not the case. In numerous cities and in vast rural areas the supply of water is not adequate to the present or immediately anticipated needs of the people for drinking purposes, sanitation, or agricultural and industrial uses. Many parts of the country are running short of water, and not exclusively those that have been thought of as being arid regions.

The Unmerriest Christmas List

It's Up To You

by HOWARD KERSHNER L. H. D.

As outlined by Secretary Douglas Dillon, the Alliance for Progress program in Latin American includes a large measure of socialization. Prominent in the program are commodity stabilization, which implies government management of prices, and equitable distribution of land. A Joint Congressional Economic Committee headed by Senator John Sparkman reports that "uncompensated expropriation has unfortunately been read into the Alliance program as one of the conditions of U.S. aid." The words "agrarian reform" are being used in connection with the program in much the same sense that they were used by the so-called "agrarian reformers" in China 15 to 20 years ago.

The distinguished Brazilian economist, Eugenio Gudin, has said, "What the governments of these countries can do for their economic development is not programming; it is simply not to disturb or prevent it by indulging in such evils as political warfare, demagogy, inflation, hostility . . . to foreign capital, unbalanced or excessive protection to industry and-or agriculture. If these evils can be avoided, then economic development is almost automatic. If they cannot, then economic development is doomed."

The Sparkman Committee reported, "Every time we encourage reliance on centralized planning we risk playing into Soviet hands by showing a distrust of our own characteristic national method and encouraging the technique of our ideological competitors."

In an appeal to its members the Argentine Chamber of Commerce declared: "Those of us who attended the last sessions . . . could not fail to be alarmed at the authoritarian, not to say, socialist tendencies shown in the projects and in the majority of speeches made in the Conference, as well as the disregard of the role played by private enterprise in the economic and social development of Latin America . . .

The socialism being proposed by the Alliance for Progress program is probably driving $10 out of Latin America for every $1 the program is expected to bring into our neighboring countries to the south.

The First National City Bank LETTER comments very appropriately as follows: "As the Alliance approaches its second year, it becomes clearer that the most assured way of bringing about economic development is to give freedom, opportunity, and incentives for individuals to work hard, save and build for the future. It is only by stimulating individuals to seek their own advancement that a firm foundation will be laid for national economic strength and well-being. Economic "miracles" do not just happen; they are created by sensible policies of government and the hard work and enterprise of people."

Allen-Scott Report

Patronage Okayed by President Still Funnels Through 'Bobby,' N.Y. Chairman McKeon Finds

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy apparently has a powerful rival as the patronage boss of his administration.

His brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, seems to have the final say.

At least that's the bewildering experience of New York State Chairman William McKeon. At an unannounced White House conference, the President personally assured him all federal patronage in the state would be channeled through him. But McKeon still has to collect on that promise.

Bobby Kennedy appears to have a firm hold on the dispensing of those jobs, working through a personal representative, Paul Corbin, controversial special assistant to Democratic National Chairman John Bailey.

Also with close ties to Bobby are Kenneth O'Donnell, special assistant to the President in charge of his appointments calendar, and Richard Maguire, Democratic National Treasurer. Maguire's secretary is O'Donnell's sister, Justine. White House insiders credit the O'Donnell-Maguire team with virtual control over the selection of jobs over $10,000 — after clearing them with Bobby.

Increasingly, party leaders consider Bobby the real power at the National Committee, with Chairman Bailey largely a figurehead.

Maguire is Bobby's man in wielding this backstage control. When Maguire was installed as Democratic Treasurer earlier this year, he was shifted from the White House payroll to that of the National Committee. But he is still in charge of the so-called "special projects" office of the White House. It is this agency that passes on all job appointments.

Where Mayor Robert Wagner fits into the muddled New York patronage picture is another mystery.

Following his re-election for a third term, after a bitter primary battle in which powerful borough bosses were arrayed against him, Wagner proclaimed himself federal patronage dispenser. But since the party's debacle in the November election, he has been ignored by the administration.

ASTONISHING RUN-AROUND—After the Republicans' sweeping November victory in New York, State Chairman McKeon was summoned by the President to discuss plans for reorganizing and rebuilding the Democratic party.

Both agreed that is essential to win the 1964 presidential election. The President expressed the belief that Governor Rockefeller will be the G.O.P. standard - bearer, and it will be difficult to beat him in his own state, especially with the Democrats in disarray.

McKeon said he was willing to undertake the trying job of revitalizing the party, but needed administration help. He pointed out that turning patronage handling over to him would greatly strengthen his hand.

The President readily concurred. He told McKeon he would immediately inform Chairman Bailey and others that McKeon was in charge of New York patronage.

This presidential - granted authority was extremely short-lived.

As McKeon was leaving the White House to meet with Bailey, he was notified by O'Donnell that all patronage matters would have to be cleared with Attorney General Bobby Kennedy.

McKeon flatly balked at this astonishing order—delivered within minutes after he had talked to the President.

The ruffled New York chairman told O'Donnell that he considered the President's word was final, and proposed proceeding on the basis of that. McKeon added he was willing to discuss how he should operate with Bobby, but had no intention of clearing patronage with him.

To that, O'Donnell replied that all state patronage had to be cleared with the young attorney general.

And that is exactly the way it is working out in New York.

No jobs have been channeled through McKeon. On the other hand, Corbin is continuing to impress on state Democratic leaders that he is handling federal patronage for Bobby. To give substance to this claim, Corbin has filled some minor jobs.

McKeon and his backers are not taking this setback lying down. They are counter-attacking.

They are proposing that the House Un - American Activities Committee reopen its investigation of Corbin. Last year, testifying before the committee, he denied he had ever been a member of the Communist party or had knowingly associated with Reds.

What happens next remains to be seen.

SUPER - PLUSH DINNER — President Kennedy himself is the author of that plan to hold a $1,000-a-plate dinner as part of the January 18 celebration of the second anniversary of the New Frontier.

It has long been an open secret in party circles that he thinks little of the usual $100-a-plate affair, featured by chilled food, chalky desserts, and equally indigestible long, dull and numerous political harangues. Before his White House election, Kennedy stalked out of one of these shindigs saying acidly, "This must have been arranged by an undertaker."

The President also hand-picked Bedford Wynne, wealthy owner of the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League, to run the anniversary celebration. In addition to the $1,000-a-plate dinner, it will include a $100-a-ticket Hollywood-Broadway star-studded variety show.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy and Vice President and Mrs. Johnson will grace both events.

Wynne confidently believes the double-barreled fund-raising affair will net the Democratic National Committee more than $1,250,000—an estimated $400,000 from the $1,000-a-plate dinner, and some $900,000 from the gala show.

The dinner will be held in Washington's new swank hotel-motel a half-dozen blocks from the White House. There will be no speeches—another of the President's ideas. Instead there will be short toasts, and he and the First Lady and Vice President Johnson and his wife will "mingle" among the guests.

The $1,000 tab also will include transportation to the Armory, where the gala show will take place, and choice seats there.

A stellar feature of the performance will be Vaughn Meader, whose record spoofing the presidential family has been a best-seller. He will entertain with take-off's of the President.

To improve the notoriously poor acoustics of the huge Armory, the Democratic Committee is spending $30,000 for sound equipment. The committee hopes to recoup this outlay by renting the equipment to other organizations.

FBI Indicts Crowding And Prosperity For Crime Ris

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There are some U.S. cities where the chances are 1 in 13 that any citizen will be the victim of a serious crime within the next 12 months.

Within zones of high crime incidence in these and other cities, the chances of being victimized are considerably greater.

The citizen's prospects naturally improve when wider circles are drawn. In the United States the ratio is 1 in 100. But in the Pacific states as a group it drops to 1 in 60 and in certain states it is 1 in 45.

This is just one way the FBI measures the impact on the average citizen of today's great and continuing rise in major crime.

The periodic evidence of that upward spiral is duly recorded by the FBI. The latest report shows U.S. crime for nine months of 1962 5 per cent higher than the same period in 1961.

Yet the long-range look tells better what is happening. From 1940 through 1961, the climb in serious U.S. crime was 170 per cent, though population in the same span was rising just 38 per cent.

Much has long been made of the enlarging role youthful offenders play in these increases. Individuals under 18 commit two of every five serious crimes. Most staggering is the fact that last year children under 15 committed 32,000 burglaries and 62,000 larcenies. The latter total was nearly four times that in the 25-29 age bracket.

Some students of crime, law enforcement specialists and psychologists argue that the well remarked increases are more apparent than real. A point frequently stressed is that reporting and tabulation of crime is far more complete and accurate than it used to be.

While conceding the point, FBI authorities question whether it goes very far toward explaining the crime rise.

They put a finger on two big historical changes — the steady growth of urban centers, with resulting heightened population density, and the social instability arising from the constant movements of people from farm to city, city to city and state to state.

In the view of government criminal experts, these changes are creating conditions for crime which never existed in similar measure before.

An important element in these conditions is opportunity, and present-day U.S urban life vastly magnifies opportunity.

There are more people tightly packed together today, and can be victimized in against the person. The r street assaults and rob shows this opportunity is seized.

Likewise, in this affluent try, material standards ar going up. Consequently th more money and more je furs, cars, television sets, eras and other goods to temptation.

This abundance, spread city centers out to swelling urbs, is too great for any force to keep close watch FBI men say, too, that m these tempting prizes are lessly guarded by their owners.

The agency notes, for ex sharp increases in thefts parked cars, from residenc unlocked from shops which the peril of "lifting." If big today are hard to crack, the ly multiplying suburban banks and savings and lo fices are vulnerable targets, safeguards are limited.

Even if these attractions not steadily proliferating, ficials suggest crime rates be sharply up. Here they to the cited social instabilit parental discipline, we neighborhood controls, inte conflict, the city-ward rush al folk ill-equipped to live hold jobs in the complex centers.

The net of all this, it gued, is to heighten the ur crime at a period in history the prospect of acting upo urge is maximized by th tion's unparalleled growth.
