Greyhound buses roll

By the Associated Press

Greyhound buses — many of them virtually empty — pulled out of stations to the jeers of union members today for the first time since a strike halted the nation's largest intercity bus line two weeks ago.

Two dozen people were taken into custody in Boston after strikers threw eggs and delayed the departure of one bus by an hour. Pickets shouted "Scab bus, scab bus!" in Mobile, Ala., but no violence against Greyhound workers was reported.

About 250 Boston pickets rushed from exit to exit at the terminal trying to guess where the driver was going and block the bus.

Local police and unarmed Greyhound guards were out in force.

In Detroit, two gasoline bombs sparked a fire in a Greyhound yard Wednesday and slightly damaged two buses. Pickets delayed, but did not stop, two buses from leaving the downtown depot there.

Pickets for the most part outnumbered passengers on the first buses leaving the bigger cities, apparently because bus riders feared violence and because Greyhound's main competitor, Trailways, matched the low fares being offered today.

But one passenger in Boston, David Waldman, 23, said his one-way fare to New York — $9.95 — couldn't be beat. "I'll drive the bus if I have to," he said.

There were four passengers on the first bus out of Mobile; four or five in Boston.

FHA sponsors smokeout here

Members of the Snyder High School Future Homemakers Chapter are participating in the Great American Smokeout Thursday sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Chapter members organized a Great Balloon Release Wednesday in preparation for the big day. Brightly colored balloons were released in front of SHS at noon containing small notes with Smokeout messages.

FHA sponsors ask that anyone finding these balloons or notes to contact them at the high school.

All day Thursday, FHA members were to be encouraging students and adults alike to quit smoking for one day. Posters and stickers advising "Kiss Me, I Don't Smoke," were passed out also.

FHA sponsors at SHS are Carolyn Derouen and Carolyn Limmer.

QUIT FOR A DAY — Stickers advising "Kiss Me, I Don't Smoke" and a Great Balloon Release Wednesday are among the local activities planned in connection with the Great American Smokeout observance sponsored by members of the Snyder High School Future Homemakers Chapter. All day Thursday, FHA members — like Trina Seaton and Jennie Ynguanzo (right) — will be encouraging students and adults alike to quit smoking for one day. Senator Farabee seeks re-election

State Senator Ray Farabee announced his candidacy Thursday for re-election to the Texas Senate representing the 30th District. The 30th Senatorial District covers a 29 county area and part of Denton County in North Central and Northwest Texas.

"Scurry County is an important part of the 30th Senatorial District. It has been a privilege to represent this county in Austin. I would like to continue my public service for an additional four-year term," Farabee said.

Farabee, a Democrat, was elected to the State Senate in 1974. The 51-year-old native of Wichita Falls is married to Helen Farabee and has two sons in college.

Farabee is chairman of the State Affairs Committee and a member of the Legislative Budget Board, which has primary responsibility for preparation of the state budget. He alsc serves on the Finance and Jurisprudence Committees. He was recently appointed to chair the Select Committee on Judiciary, and to serve with Governor Mark White, Lt. Governor Bill Hobby and Speaker Gib Lewis on the Fiscal Policy Committee.

During his eight years in the Senate, Farabee has sponsored significant legislation which has benefited the 30th District and the State of Texas, including:

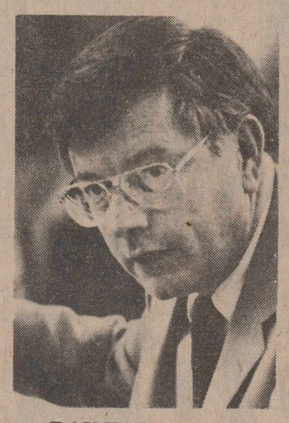

—Drug Trafficking Act, providing stiffer penalties for large-scale drug dealers.

—Teacher competency testing for improved public education.

—Laws to help agriculture and rural communities.

—Bills to strengthen child support enforcement

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Life is give and take. The only people who have trouble are those who only give or only take."

This is our last appeal for the United Way. After today, we promise not to say anymore despite the great need for funds to support a host of youth-oriented organizations in Scurry County.

The Scurry County United Way is about $10,000 short of its goal of $77,300. It was the design of the 1983 campaign not to drag it on and on and on.

Despite the hard work of many volunteers and the generosity of many folks, the drive is still short of the goal. With 6,000 families in Scurry County, a contribution of $2 per family would push the campaign over the top.

Since the campaign has been extended, many firms have come back to give a second time, and such action is appreciated. Now, we're not asking for big gifts, just two bucks per family.

J.D. and Jane Hinton recently returned from a six-week trip abroad. Jane brought us a copy of the Egyptian Gazette, an English-language newspaper printed in Cairo.

J. D. has concluded one thing from his trip. "If you look like your passport photo, you aren't well enough to travel."

A local physician is said to have prescribed some potent pills for a Snyder man, and the doctor cautioned him about the various ways he could react to the medication.

The patient was told that they could make him be extremely irritable and agressive."

"So," demanded the patient, "have you been giving these to my wife?"

Hungry bears prompt journey

By Shirley A. Gorman

Two Snyder men — J.M. "Mule" Kayser and Jimmy Thompson — traveled to Canada recently to participate in the Great White (Polar) Bear Explorer Tour.

The tour is conducted each year in Churchill, Canada, where the bears emerge from a limited hibernation during Canada's warmer months.

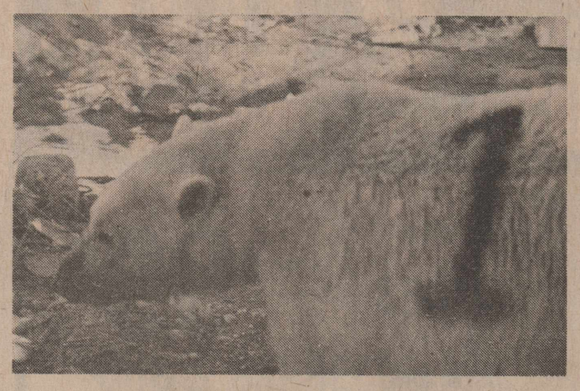

The huge white beasts wait for the nearby bay to freeze over, enabling them to walk onto the ice to catch seals emerging from blow holes or small whales. It is the principal feeding time for the polar bears.

From May through November, they live with little or no food, existing on

Ask Us

Q. — It has been stated that there are two types of hepatitus — Type A and Type B. A recent television report told of a third type. What about it?

A. — U.S. scientists have discovered a third type, but local health officials say that according to their research, very little is known about it. Its name illustrates this, calling it Non-Type A/Non-Type B.

In Brief

Yasser Arafat stands firm

TRIPOLI, Lebanon (AP) — Guerrilla mutineers today threatened to bomb Yasser Arafat's sanctuaries in Tripoli "down to the earth" unless he leaves, but the besieged PLO chief said he would go only if asked by the city's elders.

Beirut radio said Arafat ordered his fighters to cease fire, but he said he had "no choice" but to fight on. Beirut television, meanwhile, said Syrian gunners fired at Israeli reconnaissance jets over the Bekaa Valley where the Israelis bombed guerrilla bases Wednesday, but no jets were hit.

Ahmed Jibril, who led the assault Wednesday that drove Arafat's loyalists into Tripoli from their last stronghold in the Baddawi refugee camp, said, "All we want at the moment is for Arafat to leave."

He warned that if Arafat stays, "We shall level all places he frequents in the city down to the earth. We shall not attack but shall bombard him mercilessly."

Missile talks are to resume

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — U.S. and Soviet arms negotiators were scheduled to resume medium-range missile talks today, two days after their shortest bargaining session ever, but France's president said the Soviets are on the verge of a walkout.

Moscow has threatened to withdraw from the talks if NATO began deploying new U.S. cruise and Pershing 2 nuclear missiles in Western Europe.

The first cruise missiles arrived in Britain on Monday, but on Tuesday — after a negotiating session of only 35 minutes — Soviet Ambassador Yuli A. Kvitsinsky agreed to meet the Americans again today.

Tuesday's session was the shortest plenary meeting in more than 100 negotiating sessions since the intermediate-range nuclear force talks began two years ago.

French hit guerrilla bases

PARIS (AP) — French warplanes bombed a Shiite Moslem guerrilla base in eastern Lebanon's Bekaa Valley today in retaliation for the suicide bomb attack on French forces in Beirut.

Israeli jets hit the same area Wednesday. Lebanese police said 43 Moslem extremists were killed in the Israeli raids.

The Defense Ministry said Super Etendard jets from the carrier Clemenceau hit "a military objective east of Baalbek" to "prevent new terrorist actions."

President Francois Mitterrand said Wednesday night that the deaths of 58 French soldiers killed in a suicide attack on their Beirut barracks Oct. 23 "will not go unpunished."

Supporters have lots to do

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters of tuition tax credits for private-school students, defeated in the Senate despite pleas from President Reagan, say there is a lot of work to be done before they bring up the matter again.

The Senate voted 59-38 Wednesday to table an amendment which would have provided a tax credit for up to half the tuition in a private elementary or secondary school, with a maximum level of $300 when fully phased in.

Foat says she was vendetta victim

GRETNA, La. (AP) — Feminist Ginny Foat says her acquittal on an 18-year-old murder charge is a "symbolic victory" for women who are battered and abused, adding that she hopes to "go back to California and put my life together."

Cheers and tears swept a packed state District Court chamber Wednesday as jurors announced they had found Ms. Foat, 42, innocent of killing an Argentine businessman in 1965.

The six-man, six-woman jury took only two hours to reject the testimony of Ms. Foat's former husband, John Sidote, who was the prosecution's key witness.

Sidote claimed that he and Ms. Foat, then a barmaid in a seedy Canal Street bar, had lured 62-year-old Moises Chayo to the outskirts of New Orleans. He testified they clubbed Chayo with a tire iron after robbing him of $1,400 he was carrying to pay his son's hospital bills.

However, Ms. Foat testified that Sidote's accusations were born of malicious vengeance because she left him after enduring five years of physical and psychological abuse.

Ms. Foat, who was president of the California chapter of the National Organization for Women when she was arrested in January, was mobbed by friends and supporters after the verdict was announced. Several jurors asked for her autograph on placemats they saved during the nine-day trial.

"She is finally free, she is finally free," said her sister, Emilia Guigi of New Paltz, N.Y.

Ms. Foat, a contender for the national NOW vice presidency at the time of her arrest, said her next step would be to try to raise an additional $100,000 to pay off the $200,000 cost of her defense.

"I was going to law school, so I'm planning to do that and to go back to California and put my life back together," she said.

Many of Ms. Foat's former colleagues in the women's movement greeted her acquittal happily.

At Wit's End

by erma bombeck

My husband's idea of ambiance is a restaurant with restrooms marked with a graphic ewe and ram, a cook with a tattoo on his tongue, and a dog asleep in a booth.

He says you can't eat ambiance. I say you can.

I think dining out should be a high matched only by the exhilaration you experience when you finally pull on the tights in your aerobics class. He wants to get in to eat right after Dan Rather and out by the time the NFL kicks off.

The way I figure it, if I wanted to eat in a dump, I'd stay at home.

Men don't seem to understand that women love the idea of not having to wash the silverware between each course and being able to grind butter stains into the linen and not soaking it. They love violets on the table in December, and candles that don't smell like citronella.

They love the luxury of large tumblers that don't smell like creme rinse when you bring them to your lips. They love being asked if something is to their taste, rather than, "Do you know what that green vegetable looks like? A festered sore."

I know some men who even get up to dance with their wives between courses. My husband eats like he has five minutes to catch the last flight leaving a country before the communists take over.

I have always believed you can tell how long a couple have been married by watching them eat out.

Those married under five years never eat the bread. They spend less than three minutes ordering. They always toast something with their wine. They always have a request for the musical group.

Those married under ten years eat off one another's plates. They always order more butter. They ask for a doggy bag when they order the meal.

Those married 25 years or more don't talk. They just eat. They drink Scotch and soda with their meals. If they can't read the check, they light a match.

All of our lives, my husband and I have fought over ambiance. He says waiters in white gloves have a skin disease to hide. The gift of a rose is a bribe. Violins cause stomach disorders. Cooking at your table saves on the heating bill.

One night the late Arthur Godfrey invited us to dinner. As we arrived 20 minutes late, he smiled and said, "Well, if it isn't the last happily married couple in North America."

We were. But that was before my husband found out valet parking would cost him a dollar and he parked our car at the loading dock behind the hotel and I walked a mile and a half in gravel in open-toed shoes.

Arthur never mentioned the fact that my husband and I ate at separate tables that night. Maybe he didn't notice.

Good news, bad news

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

Last weekend's predictions were one of those good news, bad news, things. The bad news was I did terrible. The good news was it was the last week I have to put up with it.

The season ended on a pretty poor 11 right, 9 wrong weekend, with the pros zapping me 1-3 and the Aggies showing me their usual respect. For the season, it was 144 right, 76 wrong for .654.

The Aggies took a good-size chunk out of that. I missed 'em six times.

It's pretty hard to maintain respect when it suddenly dawns on you that you're an Aggie joke.

Speaking of jokes, how about the way some of the bowl games are shaping up? West Virginia to meet Kentucky in the Hall of Fame Bowl, for instance. Kentucky, which still has to play Tennessee, could go into the bowl with a 6-4-1 record. West Virginia is 8-2 and will probably go in as a two-to-three touchdown favorite.

Meanwhile, Southern Methodist, the winningest team in football over the past several years, is being spurned by the major bowls. They cite the lack of a large following and the fact that Texas may be on television on New Year's - thus a conflict of interest among SWC viewers - as a couple of reasons. It's hard to fault the bowl committees. They have to weigh top matchups against big bucks. It's pretty easy to see what's winning.

The matchups are bringing on the cries of playoff advocates again this year and I must admit, they have a point. As in the past, there will be only one team designated as the "No. 1" team by the polls, but in reality, it's only an educated guess, a prediction. And we know how predictions often turn out.

Six games into the season, Western Texas' Westerners have already won half as many games as they did in 1982-83. It's still too early to tell how the team is going to compete in conference play, but I'm betting the squad will make an impact. Meanwhile, Coach Barry Davis is concerned with rebounding.

"One area we've got to improve on is rebounding. We've got to set some rebounds inside from somebody instead of Larry (Banks). I may move Fred (Johnson) inside or something, but we've got to get some other people rebounding for us."

Western has a lot of other things going for it - speed, quickness, shooting, ball handling and leadership - to name a few. As usual, it's an exciting team to watch.

WTC's Dusters have gotten the short end of the stick in this weekend's tournament at Big Spring but you can't get Coach Joe Cushing to complain about it. The girls were to play at 10 this morning. A win today and one tomorrow (at 6 p.m.) would give them an 8 a.m. ballgame Saturday.

If the early morning hours aren't bad enough, then consider that the Dusters are bracketed on the same side with Odessa and McLennan - favorites in the 16-team tournament.

In Waco and Big Spring...

WTC cagers take court

Western Texas College sends its cage teams into action again this weekend, both playing in tournaments on the road.

The Dusters open play first. They were to face Weatherford at 10 this morning in the first round of the Howard College Hawk Queen Classic at Big Spring.

Coach Barry Davis' Westerners are headed for Waco to compete in the McLennan Classic. They will face Texas State Technical Institute of Waco at 6 p.m. Friday.

Over in Big Spring, Joe Cushing's girls were to play a team they already defeated 61-44 this season. It was the first victory of the 1983-84 season for the Dusters, who are now 5-1.

The rest of the tournament was to shape up this way today:

At 8 a.m., Navarro was to face the new kid on the WJCAC block, New Mexico Junior College, followed by the WTC-Weatherford match at 10. At noon, Lubbock Christian faced McLennan; and at 2, Odessa was to challenge Southwest Christian.

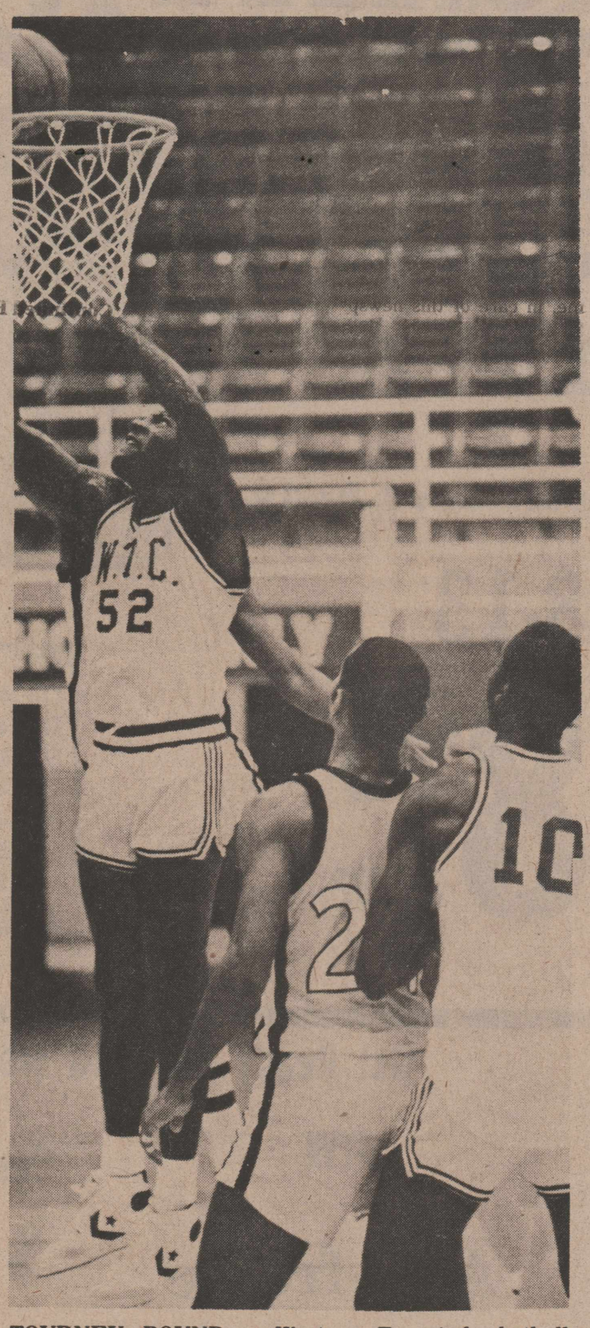

In the lower half of the bracket, Grayson tries Ranger at 4; Tyler challenges TSTI (Waco) at 6; Cisco meets Howard at 8; and Phoenix and Temple take the floor at 10.

Should Western beat Weatherford, the Dusters would play at 6 p.m. Friday against the Navarro-NMJC winner. A loss would put them against the Navarro-NMJC loser at 2 p.m. Friday.

In contrast to the Hawk Queen Classic tournament format, the McLennan Classic is a true classic. In other words, all games are already set and there is no designated champion at the completion of play. Besides playing TSTI on Friday, the Westerners, also 5-1, will vie against McLennan Community College at 8 p.m. Saturday.

The next home game for the men is Nov. 22 when they host Angelo State junior varsity at the coliseum. That takes them into conference play as they trek to Midland on the 28th.

The women will play in Cisco on Nov. 22, then host the WTC Classic on the 25th and 26th.

TOURNEY BOUND -- Western Texas' basketball players are involved in tournament play this weekend. Tigers open play Nov. 22

Snyder High School basketball teams open the 1983-84 season next Tuesday.

Coach Larry Scott's boys will open in Midland against Midland Lee at 8 p.m. The boys will also hold a sophomore game at 4:30 and a junior varsity game at 6:15 in Midland.

Coach Ken Housden's girls tip off the season in Brownfield, with the JV taking the court at 4:30 and the varsity vying at 6:15.

First home dates are Nov. 26 against Abilene Cooper for the boys and Dec. 1 against Rotan for the girls.

The boys, meanwhile, will scrimmage Midland High at 3 p.m. tomorrow (Friday) in the Scurry County Coliseum.

SMU officials apologize for player's remarks

EL PASO, Texas (AP) - Southern Methodist officials have apologized to this West Texas city and Sun Bowl officials for some remarks their football players made about El Paso, and a bowl spokesman says "everything should be fine now."

"We're looking forward to the game and I think once these men get here, they'll see the Sun Bowl is just great," said Tom Starr, Sun Bowl executive director.

While bowl invitations cannot be issued until Saturday, Starr said SMU and Alabama are expected to be asked to play in the Dec. 24 Sun Bowl.

That announcement, made earlier this week, disappointed some SMU players, who had hoped to play their final game of the season in a New Year's Day bowl, Starr said.

"They've been the best team in the country for the last three years and they wanted a chance to prove it in a New Year's Day bowl," Starr said Wednesday. "I don't think they were consciously trying to put down the Sun Bowl or El Paso. They were just angry at the New Year's Day bowls for not picking them."

The athletes' comments about the Sun Bowl ranged from: "El Paso. Pitiful town." to: "We're talking about getting seriously shafted."

"I'm not fired up about going to El Paso," said quarterback Lance McIlhenny. "I believe we deserve better than that."

The No. 6-ranked Mustangs have two games left against Arkansas and Houston. Their only loss is to Texas, which can earn the Cotton Bowl Saturday with a victory over Baylor.

SMU was under consideration by the Sugar Bowl before a deal was made between the winner of the Michigan and Ohio State game.

Despite the players' comments, Starr said SMU Athletic Director Bob Hitch told him the team voted Tuesday night on whether to play in the Sun Bowl.

Cage tilt cancelled

Coach Joe Cushing said Wednesday that Henderson has cancelled its Nov. 28 game with the Western Texas College Dusters here.

Playoffs upcoming; Snyder to host one

Tiger Stadium will host a Class 2A area playoff game Friday night as Morton, from 6-2A, and Wall, from 8-2A, square off at 7:30.

In other upcoming action, district 2-4A champion Monahans has drawn a Saturday playoff date with Canyon, while San Angelo Lake View plays highly touted Lubbock Estacado in Class 4A bi-district wars.

Monahans, which finished the season at 7-2-1, takes on 1-4A runnerup Canyon, 5-5, at 2 p.m. Saturday in Jones Stadium in Lubbock.

Tenth-ranked Lake View, which won second representation rights in 2-4A with a 9-1 record, faces No. 6 Estacado at Lowery Field in Lubbock, 8 p.m. Friday. Estacado is also 9-1.

Six-man defending state champion Highland will play Whitharral at 7:30 Friday in Grady. Trent, which was runnerup to the Hornets, faces 1-1A champ Dawson at 7:30 Friday in Gail.

Medich being treated now

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Former Texas Rangers pitcher Dr. George "Doc" Medich, arrested for writing illegal prescriptions, won't return to his full practice until he kicks his drug dependency, officials at Children's Hospital said.

Medich, 34, who spent 11 years in professional baseball, was arrested this week for improperly writing prescriptions for pain killers and muscle relaxants. A Children's Hospital official announced Wednesday that Medich is being treated for a drug dependency.

Since July 1, Medich, a former pitcher for the Rangers, Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Yankees, has been working in the residency program at Children's Hospital as part of a five-year specialization in orthopedic surgery at the University (of Pittsburgh) Health Center. Hospital officials said they learned of his drug habit only last week.

"We saw to it he immediately underwent medical care and observation," said Dr. William F. Donaldson, medical director at Children's.

"Until we can be assured by the people who are caring for him that he is not under medication, he will not go into the operating room. (But) he is still seeing patients," Donaldson said. "As far as I'm concerned, he was handling his residency very well. He's such a fine person, and he's a good doctor.

"The appropriate way for us to look upon it (the drug problem) is an illness. When the people treating him indicate he is OK, he will go back to his regular duties."

Medich, however, sees both his license to practice medicine and his new career in jeopardy. He also risks the possibility of one year in jail and a $5,000 fine for each of the seven prescriptions he is charged with writing.

Between July and October, Medich allegedly wrote prescriptions at an Oakland pharmacy for several drugs, including 121 tablets of Percodan, a pain killer; a high blood pressure medication called Catapres; the muscle relaxant Flexeril and an anti-inflammation drug called Indocin.

Non-smokers asked to aid addicted

By the Associated Press

A cigarette bonfire in a Georgia town kicked off today's Great American Smokeout as nonsmokers cajoled the addicted into quitting for 24 hours with cold-turkey sandwiches, chances at free vacations and friendly support backed up by "gum and candy and clubs."

Eight psychiatrists put taped messages on a nationwide hotline, offering tips for what the American Cancer Society hoped would be 20 million people trying to kick the tobacco habit in the 7th annual event.

An estimated 19 million of the nation's 55 million smokers participated last year. The society hopes its "adopt-a-smoker" theme, calling on non-smokers to help smokers get through the day without a cigarette, would enlist even more this year.

Smokers were warned that lighting up today in the west Georgia town of Carrollton, population 15,000, could be especially dangerous to their health because of a town-wide pledge to quit.

"If I see a cigarette being smoked, I may cut it in half with a scissors or douse it with cold water, whatever it takes," said Daniel Jackson, public educaton chief for the society's local branch.

Mayor Tracy Stallings, a pack-a-day smoker, threw away his cigarettes at noon Wednesday and joined about 250 people at a Wednesday night rally where the high school band played. A half-dozen smokers threw packs into a bonfire.

At Sundstrand Data Control, a suburban Seattle electronics firm that has non-smoking and smoking stalls in restrooms, inspector Pam Cour "adopted" three smokers who pledged to quit for the day.

"We'll bring in gum and candy and clubs to keep them in line," she said, laughing. "It's kind of a game."

Mayor David Coeyman of Concord, N.H., admitting "I'm not proud" of his heavy habit, took the challenge from Somersworth Mayor George Bald. The stakes: A rickshaw ride for the winner around his city hall, with the loser doing the hauling.

Bald, who heads the state smokeout, quit two years ago to avoid the consequences — riding backwards through town on a donkey. Last year he challenged Dover Mayor Raymond Hennessey to quit, and wound up marching in the Dover Christmas parade in red flannel underwear.

At the Monmouth Mall in Eatontown, N.J., the cancer society's local unit was raffling off frozen turkeys and serving cold turkey sandwiches to remind smokers of the fastest, surest way to quit.

Two regional airlines, Dallas-based Muse Air and Chicago-based Midway Airlines, promoted the smokeout, with Muse raffling off two expense-paid, round-trip tickets to Disneyland as well as a "complete non-smoking vacation" in Los Angeles.

On the American Pyschiatric Association's hotline — 900-210-KWIT, for a 50-cent charge — eight doctors offered advice on how to "let go of what is, after all, an acquired habit."

"Instead of saying to yourself 'I will not smoke,' say, 'Smoking is a poison,'" urged Dr. Steven Locke of Boston's Beth Israel Hospital.

Dear Abby

Grateful Mother Has High Praise for Peerless Pooch

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1983 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "Dog Tired," who hates animals, that while on vacation it was one of those "stinking animals" that brought my 4-year-old son back after he had been lost for three long hours in the woods. When I saw our beautiful German shepherd tugging our son by the sleeve of his sweat shirt, I could have kissed that dog's feet!

I thank God every day for creating such a noble animal!

DOG LOVER IN ELMIRA, N.Y.

DEAR DOG LOVER: My mail has been running 100-to-1 in favor of dogs. But here's one that has me stumped:

DEAR ABBY: Tell the woman who hated barking dogs to go to Holland. The dogs there do not bark. I visited my daughter and her husband in Holland two years ago, and their golden retriever didn't bark at all.

They moved to Germany, where all the dogs bark, and now their dog is barking, too. Did you know that dogs learn to bark from barking dogs? And if a dog has never heard another dog bark, it won't bark either?

MRS. M. IN HUNTSVILLE, ALA.

DEAR MRS. M.: My dog expert says that dogs bark instinctively, whether they have heard another dog bark or not.

But that's only the "arf" of it—the exception is a barkless African breed, the basenji.

DEAR ABBY: When "J." answered my ad for a non-smoking roommate, she admitted that she smoked but was 'trying to quit." I told her that I would encourage her efforts to quit smoking and I accepted her. It's been six months and J. is still smoking! She keeps promising to quit but she's still smoking.

I really dislike it because (1) I am a nurse and I know what smoke does to the lungs; (2) she smells bad; (3) even though she smokes only in her room, the rest of the apartment smells of smoke.

Since I advertised for a non-smoker, do I have the right to tell her she will have to move?

CLEAN LUNGS

DEAR CLEAN: You accepted J. as a roommate knowing that she smoked but was trying to quit. She thought she could, and you thought you could help her. You were both mistaken. Talk turkey. Tell J. if she isn't "clean" by Thanksgiving, she will have to find another roommate.

DEAR ABBY: After 20 years of dieting, "Fat, Female and Feeling Fantastic" found a support group of fat people who decided to quit dieting and accept themselves the way they were. Then figuring that she had accomplished something that merited national applause, "F.F. and F.F." bragged about it to you. You told her, "There's nothing wrong with being heavy—as long as you're healthy."

Abby, it's not possible to be hefty and healthy. Excess weight impairs both the immune system and liver function. It breeds diabetes, gallstones, arthritis, puts a strain on the heart and contributes to bad backs and high blood pressure.

"F.F. and F.F." may try to justify her gluttony, but before the American Medical Association says obesity is OK, Yuri Andropov will be a born-again Christian!

Hunters kill horses to live

CALDWELL, Idaho (AP) — Two hunters suffering from hypothermia on a freezing, windswept mountain say they stayed alive by shooting their horses, cutting them open and crawling inside the carcasses for shelter.

Richard Dailey, 35, and Steven McCoy, 27, said Wednesday they used the horses as shelter last week when high winds and snow trapped them on a 7,000-foot-high ridge.

The respite gave them the strength they needed a few hours later to stagger down the mountain and find their truck, they said.

The men had become soaked to the skin and pummeled by sleet and trapped by high drifts.

Cops host hotel bash

DALLAS — A group of police officers found there was an easier way to make drug arrests than by traipsing around the city — they threw a party and the suspects came to them.

Many of the guests at the early morning soiree worked in clubs and bars. Their undercover hosts said a good time was had by all — until the surprise announcement, "Police ... this is a raid."

The party, held in a suite at NorthPark Inn, netted 15 arrests and the recovery of marijuana, cocaine and methamphetamine, or speed, police said.

"It's pretty common for a lot of folks who work together in late night jobs to party afterward. But to find out the party was given by police was kind of a shock (to them)," said Lt. David M. Davis of the police department's drug abuse division.

Davis and other officers threw the party at 2 a.m. Sunday to lure people who had been named in arrests warrants after a five-week undercover investigation into illegal drug sales.

Two hours after the party began, "our uniformed officers came through the door and said, 'Police ... this is a raid, you're under arrest, get back up against the wall' and so on," Davis said.

Of the eighteen listed on arrest warrants, eight came to the party and were arrested, as were seven uninvited guests.

Those named in the warrants were charged with delivery of drugs, while the seven others were arrested for possession of drugs, Davis said. He added police are still searching for 10 others who were invited but did not show up.

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

South's double of one heart was ideal, although on the minimum side. North's hand was so strong that he started with a game-forcing heart cue-bid, continued with an ace-showing diamond bid and finally made a jump to five spades. South carried on to six, since he felt that his ace of clubs and singleton heart were just what North hoped he had.

Hearts were opened and continued. South ruffed the second heart high, led a trump to dummy's nine, ruffed dummy's last heart high and led two rounds of trumps to discard a diamond from his hand and to pull East's last trump.

Next came three rounds of clubs in case he could drop the Q-J. They didn't fall, and at first glance it looked as if the slam would depend on a diamond finesse.

That chance didn't look good after South Reviewed the bidding and Analyzed the lead in accordance with the acronym ARCH. It looked as if West would have raised hearts with four hearts and a spade singleton, so East held at least six hearts. He had followed to six black suit leads so he could hold only one diamond.

There was very likely a squeeze. Dummy's last trump was led. South chucked a diamond, and sure enough, West had to come down to two diamonds to hold the club jack. Dummy's third diamond became the key winner.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Nov. 18, 1983

Your best chances for success this coming year will come from enterprises where you are free to call the shots. Partnership arrangements might not work out as well.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) All issues have two sides and problems have alternatives. Be careful today that you don't dwell too heavily upon the negatives. Order now: The New Matchmaker wheel and booklet, which reveals romantic compatibilities for all signs, tells how to get along with others, finds rising signs, hidden qualities, plus more. Send $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Mail an additional $1 and your zodiac sign for your Scorpio Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Taking on more than you can comfortably manage will prove self-defeating today. Be sensible about the tasks you want to perform.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Think carefully before accepting social invitations today. Instead of relaxing and enjoying yourself, you might feel guilty about neglected duties.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Guard against tendencies today toward being unreasonably demanding of family members. Being overbearing will create discord.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Debates can be avoided today if you keep your opinions to yourself on issues about which you feel strongly. Your emotions may distort your logic.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be very businesslike in all of your commercial and financial dealings today, especially if you've involved with unfamiliar persons. Insist upon receipts.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Avoid associations today with individuals who have caused you problems in the past. Don't put yourself in positions where you require their support.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You might be faced with limitations regarding your freedom of action today, owing to responsibilities you've neglected.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) In social situations today, if you are dissatisfied with the way things are going, try not to react in a manner that could spoil the fun for everyone.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) In order to satisfy your ambitions and achieve your objectives today, it may require more fortitude than usual. Be prepared to bear down.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Keep the mood of your listener in mind today so that you don't expound upon topics about which you feel strongly, but about which they couldn't care less.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Make a conscientious effort to clear up any obligations that are due today. If you try to sweep them under the rug, it will only cause them to get worse.

Hermleigh News

By ADALA DRENNAN

HERMLEIGH—Dean Wemken returned home Sunday and is doing well after having surgery at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Della Marth of Roscoe visited Rachel Lassiter and Adala Drennan last week.

Elsie Stahl accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Albert (Cuba) Hrbacek of Sweetwater to Fredericksburg last week where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Manske, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Itz. They came back by Brownwood where they visited Annie Coldeway and Mr. and Mrs. Lois Curry, a former resident of Hermleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover (Maurine) Wall visited Sam Houston, a former Hermleigh resident, at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock where he had major surgery. His condition is satisfactory.

Ophelia Hobbs is seriously ill and in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Melford (Mit) Davis of Colfax, Calif. visited Eula Farr last Sunday. They were enroute to Pearsall where they will visit his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph (Zera) Wilkinson. Davis is a former Hermleigh resident and attended school here.

The Canasta Club met last Thursday at the community center with Verda Johnson as hostess. High scores were won by Marlene Richburg and Gaye Stahl. The next meeting of the club will be Dec. 1 at the center.

Rev. and Mrs. Rex Reynolds, formerly of Hermleigh and now pastor of a Baptist Church in Atlanta, have accepted the pastorate at First Baptist Church and are due to arrive here Dec. 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth (Leona) Brackeen of Midland visited his mother, Eva Mae Brackeen, last week.

The alembic, an onion-shaped potstill, was used by ancient alchemists in their effort to create gold. It is used these days to double-distill cognac. The alembic was introduced to France's Cognac region some 400 years ago by invading Moors who had used it to distill perfume.

Buses roll during strike

vice in 27 states was marred before it began by two accidents — one of them fatal — as the company trained replacement drivers. Police said neither was caused by the bus driver.

Meanwhile, contract talks in Phoenix, Ariz., between Greyhound and union representatives continued past midnight but recessed a few hours before the first scheduled run.

Federal mediator Sam Franklin has been reporting some progress since talks resumed Tuesday in the strike by 12,700 members of the Amalgamated of Greyhound Local Unions, but the company and union have said a settlement was not close.

A Greyhound bus pulled out of an Alabama station to the jeers of union members today as the nation's largest intercity bus carrier resumed partial service despite a two-week-old strike.

The resumption of service in 27 states was marred before it began by two accidents — one of them fatal — as the company trained replacement drivers. Police said neither accident was caused by the bus driver.

In Detroit, a busyard was struck by firebombs.

In Mobile, Ala., a crowd of about 50 strikers this morning shouted "Scab bus" and tried to block the path of what was scheduled to be the first Greyhound bus to return to the road. The trip to New Orleans was delayed by 10 minutes, to 7:25 a.m. EST, by state inspectors checking to make sure the bus was fit and the replacement driver was qualified.

Only two passengers — not counting reporters — were aboard, one of them a man who said he was heading to Texas.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Food allergies

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 25-year-old woman and my only medical problem is my allergy to foods. I know that food allergies are common, but my reaction to foods that I am allergic to seems to be uncommon.

I have had this problem for about six years. It started with a banana. One hour after ingestion, I had a strange taste in my mouth and severe heartburn. Two years later, I experienced the same reaction to a tomato. After the heartburn, I had very bad stomach cramps. The list of things I am allergic to has grown. Grapes and grape products, including vinegar, seem to be a major group because vinegar is in so many foods.

I got pregnant and was hopeful that would help my allergies. Unfortunately, I miscarried in my third month. But I tested my reaction with wine and, to my surprise, had no reaction.

Most of the allergists I have seen recommend that I stay away from foods that I am sensitive to. That is not always easy. First I get heartburn; then it moves to my stomach. My stomach becomes distended and I have severe pain. I have tried antacids without results. I would appreciate your comments.

DEAR READER — Your reactions are not as unusual as you think. Digestive symptoms, sometimes quite severe ones, can occur with food allergies. The same immune globuline that some people develop in the skin that causes hives may also be in the digestive tract. When it reacts with the offending substance you are allergic to, you literally develop giant hives of the digestive tract and the resulting irritation. You don't have to postulate an acid factor.

When you are allergic to something other than food, your food allergies may be worse during its season. Those allergic to ragweed often are more sensitive to food allergies during its season. Alcohol may make the reaction worse as well.

Staying away from the things that cause a reaction is still the best advice. I am sending you The Health Letter 19-12, Food Allergies, which will help you understand all the symptoms that can occur. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband has a problem that is somewhat annoying to both of us. He wakes up two to four times a night to urinate. He claims the feeling to urinate is the cause for waking up. He is 37, 5-foot-11, 160 pounds and in excellent health. He does not drink liquids excessively before going to bed.

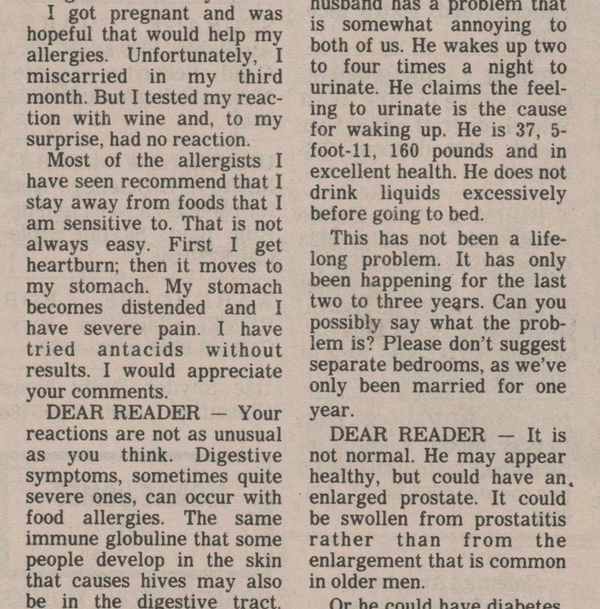

This has not been a lifelong problem. It has only been happening for the last two to three years. Can you possibly say what the problem is? Please don't suggest separate bedrooms, as we've only been married for one year.

DEAR READER — It is not normal. He may appear healthy, but could have an enlarged prostate. It could be swollen from prostatitis rather than from the enlargement that is common in older men.

Or he could have diabetes, feel fine, but still be passing too much urine by eliminating sugar through the kidneys. I would suggest that he see a doctor for an examination and keep right on sleeping with his wife.

Psychic's aid is necessary

ROCKPORT, Texas (AP) — Aransas County authorities have turned to a psychic for help in their dead-end investigation of a Dallas woman's murder.

Sheriff's chief deputy Doug Carroll said he turned to the psychic after law enforcement officers reached a dead end.

SHS break-in said cleared

Police detectives reported clearing a recent break-in at Snyder High School with the arrest of a 16-year-old juvenile male suspect Wednesday evening.

According to reports, the suspect was arrested in connection with the Nov. 9 incident at the school's science building. The suspect was turned over to county juvenile authorities and later released to the custody of a parent.

Nothing was reported missing from the school.

In other action, local officers arrested a 19-year-old Snyder woman on misdemeanor theft charges. The suspect was charged with the Nov. 8 theft of an undetermined amount of cash from the C&W Food Basket in the 3900 Block of College Ave.

City police also jailed one local man on public intoxication charges outside a local private club late Wednesday evening.

Husband may get life term

GEORGETOWN, Texas (AP) — Richard Sauer, 51, of Round Rock, convicted of killing his wife last March by dousing her with gasoline and setting her on fire, faced a possible life sentence today in the punishment phase of his trial.

Sauer testified Wednesday that his wife, Elsie Edmond, 52, dominated him and had threatened him with a knife a few weeks before the fire. He said he took two cans of gasoline into a room where she was ironing and told her, "If you're going to kill me, here, do it now. We'll both go."

She struck his hand, he said, causing the gasoline to spill down her back.

Sergeant files civil action

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — A Corpus Christi police sergeant has filed a civil rights suit against the city's police chief and the city manager. He said they have discriminated against him because of his activities as president of a police officers' union.

The suit was filed in federal court by Sgt. Ruben Cisneros, who drew a 30-day suspension without pay last week for the second time this year.

Bear viewing prompts trip their body's reserve of fat. During this period, they are relatively inactive, waiting for the colder months.

Both Kayser and Thompson said their desire was to observe these great Polar bears in their natural habitat.

From Snyder, their travels went from Winnepeg, Canada to the mining town of Thompson, Manitoba, to Churchill.

"It was minus-50 degrees Centigrade when we got off the train," Kayser said, "And the wind was blowing.

There ultimate destination was still 160 miles away, however.

"We observed high powered rifles everywhere because the town has to be geared to the activity of the bears," he said.

A few miles east of Churchill they boarded a Tundra Buggy, a huge vehicle sitting some distance off the ground and sporting gigantic tires each weighing 1,000 pounds.

"It was the roughest, bumpiest ride ever," Kayser said of the six-hour journey over the snow covered bedrock in search of polar bears.

To attract and keep the bears in the area, the Tundra Buggy's exhaust pipes were smeared with the scent of sardines.

Prior to taking the Tundra Buggy ride in search of "real" polar bears, Kayser said they observed "junk yard" bears which venture into the town to raid trash cans. They are particularly attracted to Churchill because of the city's odors.

These bears aren't afraid of man and if one ventures onto the city's streets, a "bear alarm" is sounded. People then try to scare the bear away. If that doesn't work, they tranquilize the bear and place it in jail. When the bay freezes, they again tranquilize the bear, take it out on the ice and let it loose.

"While we were in Churchill they had three bears in jail but we were discouraged from making any contact at all," Kayser said.

He noted they try to avoid over-tranquilizing the bears because it can be harmful to them.
