Reds Give Warning Of H-Bomb Missile

Backers Of Adlai Are Depending On California Voting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai Stevenson's backers apparently believe that if he can win the California primary he will ride into the Democratic presidential nominating convention with more first-ballot votes than anyone else.

Some of his friends indicated today that while they are not slackening their efforts, they are not counting heavily on the May 18 Oregon and May 29 Florida primaries.

In Florida, the Stevenson forces seemingly will be happy to get an even break with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee in any division of the state's 28-vote delegation. They contend they are fighting an uphill battle in a write-on contest with Kefauver for Oregon's 16 votes.

But in California, where the 68-vote delegation goes as a unit to the winner of the June 5 primary, they are prepared for a desperate battle.

Since it is the last contested primary before the convention opens in Chicago Aug. 13, it may have strong psychological effect on delegates chosen in conventions in other states.

With 68 votes from California, Stevenson's other first-ballot strength would come largely from Illinois, with 64 votes, Pennsylvania with 74, New Jersey with 36 and Massachusetts with 38. He has scattered delegate strength already enlisted in some other states. That would seem to assure him 300 or more. Nomination requires 686½ votes.

Even if Kefauver should win all of Florida's 28 votes and Oregon's 16, he seems unlikely to reach 300 on the first ballot. His present strength les primarily in Minnesota with 26 votes, New Hampshire with 8, Wisconsin with 28 and Tennessee's 32.

Vet Pension Program Is Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Veterans' pensions would be tied in with social security payments and gradually eliminated under a proposal offered yesterday by President Eisenhower's Commission on Veterans' Benefits.

The proposal was one of 70 made to the President in a lengthy report which, if adopted, would greatly change the benefit program now covering the nation's 22 million veterans.

The recommended changes involve GI insurance, disability compensation, survivor benefits, widows' pensions, readjustment benefits, Veterans Administration structure, discharge benefits, GI loan privileges and servicemen's benefits.

The commission was headed by retired Gen. Omar N. Bradley and spent more than a year studying the veterans' program. Bradley formerly headed the VA.

The report did little to chart the actual impact of the recommendations it contained, but the proposals apparently would lower or cut out many of the payments now being made to veterans, servicemen and survivors.

The recommendation to tie in veterans' pensions with social security, for example, would reduce some pensions since more than half of the 700,000 pensioned veterans are drawing social security payments. These, under the commission's recommendation, would be deducted from pension payments. Maximum combined payments would be $70 a month for a single veteran or $105 a month for one with a dependent wife.

By Special Request

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aides to Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa) are pondering this request received recently from a constituent:

"Please send me one copy each of the secretary of agriculture, the secretary of interior and the attorney general."

Deep Oilwell Begins Flow

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A four-mile-deep well in Plaquemines Parish gave indications today it would become the world's deepest oil producer.

Edwin Hill, vice president of the Richardson and Bass, said from Fort Worth the well began Saturday to flow mud and oil.

The well, Louisiana Land and Exploration Co. 1-L, is 35 miles below New Orleans on the west bank of the Mississippi River.

Hill said the well is perforated at 21,443-21,465 feet. That is more than 3,500 feet deeper than the record holder near Bakersfield, Calif.

The oil is 38 gravity, he said, the tubing pressure 6,300 pounds and the casing pressure 5,400 pounds. Richardson and Bass began drilling the well over one year ago and went down to 22,570 feet. It cost an estimated $2,400,000, and is owned by Freeport Sulphur Co., and John Mecom.

NO IDENTIFICATION—Stevie Allgood, two-and-one-half-years old is shown with Patrolman Henry Bartels in the police station at Lawton, Okla., after being taken in two for riding his tricycle nude through the city streets. Stevie shed his clothes while playing in his backyard and peddled nude for 6 blocks before he was stopped. His mother, Mrs. B. J. Allgood, thought Stevie was still in the backyard.

Union Backs Sen. Johnson

AUSTIN (AP)—The AFL-CIO's top leaders in Texas urged union members today to enter the May 5 Democratic precinct convention and to support Sen. Lyndon Johnson in is party leadership fight with Gov. Shivers.

"The issues in these conventions involve a lot more than just a choice between two political personalities," said Leroy Williams and Jerry Holleman, president and executive secretary of the Texas State Federation of Labor.

"The basic issue," they asserted, "is whether the Texas Democratic party is to be owned and controlled by a corrupt political machine or is to be run by and for the real Democrats of Texas."

The call for union participation in the precinct conventions was sounded in the Texas Federationist, official publication of the labor group.

Williams and Holeman said organized labor is supporting the Democratic Advisory Council in what they called "its campaign for party integrity." The AFL-CIO also is supporting Speaker Sam Rayburn in his proposal that Johnson be named favorite son candidate for president and chairman of the Texas delegation to the Democratic national convention.

"At stake in the (Texas) conventions is the question of whether Texas is again to be represented in the Democratic national convention by a delegation which will once again come back and turn the Democratic party over to the Republicans or by a delegation which believes in the principles of the Democratic party and will fight for those principles by supporting the party's nominee for president," said Williams and Holleman.

Their utterance was a dig at Shivers' bolting the party to support President Eisenhower in 1952. Shivers has said he again will be unable to support the Democratic nominee if the nominee is Adlai Stevenson this year.

Justice Calvert Seeks Reelection

AUSTIN (AP)—Justice Robert Calvert of the Supreme Court said today he would seek reelection.

'If elected I will continue to perform the duties of the office with as much diligence, fearlessness and fairness as my apabilities permit," Calvert said.

Calvert ws elected to a six-year term to begin Jan. 1, 1951. He took his place earlier when he was appointed Oct. 1, 1950 to succeed Justice R. H. Harvey, who died.

Calvert was practicing law in Hillsboro before he was named to the state's highest court in civil matters. He graduated from high school at Corsicana in 1923. Calvert was in the legislature from Hill and Navarro counties for three terms, one as speaker.

Age Linked With Feeling

GALVESTON (AP)— Mental attitude toward age has more to do with growing old than most people will admit, the president-elect of the American Medical Assn. said yesterday.

"It is not age but the reaction to age which is significant. There can be no question but that the mental attitude has more to do with the process of aging than most people will admit," Dr. Dwight Murray of Napa, Calif., told the Texas Medical Assn.

He said society is already feeling the pressure of economic issues magnified by the increasing proportion of the aged in the population. The 1954 census showed 3,800,000 persons 65 and over with the rate increasing about 400,000 a year.

Dr. George Herrman, professor of the University of Texas Medical Branch, was honored at the close of the Texas Heart Assn. meeting. A scroll was presented in recognition of his 25 years of teaching.

Dr. Holland Jackson, 47, of Fort Worth was named "General Practitioner of the Year" at the State Medical Assn. banquet.

Trouble Brewing In Arab Nations

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The Arabian Peninsula "Land of the Tollgate Sultans" looks like the next major battleground in the cold war between the Arabs and the British.

Signing of a new military alliance Saturday by Egypt, Saudi Arabia and the little desert kingdom of Yemen promises trouble in the sandy stretch of land around the rim of the Arabian Peninsula. That strip forms the last stronghold of direct British control in the entire Arab world.

Around this perimeter are numerous sheikhs and sultans who in theory are as soverign as Queen Elizabeth II but whose "independence" depends almost entirely on treaties of protection with Britain.

Their desert frontiers rarely are well defined, and the British-backed rulers recently have come increasingly into conflict with their larger neighbors to the north—Saudi Arabia and Yemen.

Yemen's conflict with Britain centers mainly around the Aden protectorates — 30 "independent" states jammed into the 100-mile-width of the peninsula's southwest corner between Yemen's southern frontier and the Indian Ocean.

Some of these sultans and sheikhs live on as little as $10 a month, derived largely from the tolls they charge on camel caravans plodding through their roadless domains. The inevitable tollgate, a dirty mud-hut village and possibly a Beau Geste type fortree with mud walls often constitute the entire populated area of the sultan's domain.

Lonely British agents, many of them the only Europeans in the area, act as the link between the sultans and the British government with only a few locally raised troops for protection.

Ellender Hopeful For Soil Bank Proposal With Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ellender (D-La) said today President Eisenhower can get quick congressional action on another soil bank bill "if he agrees to a few additional provisions."

Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said in an interview that these would include:

1. A ceiling under cotton acreage allotments at about the level of this year, 17.4 million acres, plus special protection for small cotton farmers.

2. An increase to 51 million acres in the basic commercial corn allotment eligible for price supports.

3. Some compromise system of supports for oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums, the chief livestock feed grains in addition to corn.

"These would offer a fair compromise for the vetoed bill without including mandatory rigid supports or dual parity," Ellender added.

The provisions Ellender named, along with the soil bank, were included in the omnibus farm bill which Eisenhower vetoed a week ago today. The President expressed opposition especially to the bill's provisions for higher, rigid price supports and other price-raising requirements which he has said would increase surpluses.

Congress tacked those provisions on to Eisenhower's own proposal for a soil bank program, which farmers would be paid for taking out of production land now being used for producing crops in surplus.

In the House, meantime, Republicans sought to include authoriation for the soil bank program in a bill to appropriated $1,200,000,000 for its operation this year. The contending no further authority is needed, approved the money bill last week and based it on a 1935 conservation law.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, in a TV appearance yesterday said the said bank must be included.

In its present form, he said, the money bill "is a sort of gold brick that has been handed to us."

The money bill goes before the House Rules Committee tomorrow for clearance.

Trial Of Sainburg To Start

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—A Texas physician was called to trial today on charges of twice kidnaping his son from the child's mother here.

Dr. Frank Sainburg, 36, of Big Spring is charged with kidnaping, second degree assault and third degree burglary.

One kidnaping charge is based on the taking of Philip Sainburg, now 5, from the home of the boy's mother here Jan. 14, 1954. That indictment also accused Sainburg of second-degree assault and burglary.

The other kidnaping charge was based on the disappearance of Philip from a nursery school here last Nov. 14.

Ater that incident, Sainburg turned up in Texas with Philip. Miss Doris Blanchard, the mother who resumed her maiden name after her marriage to Sainburg was annulled, won a court order in Texas directing Sainburg to give up the boy.

The doctor refused and was cited for contempt. He fled with Philip and Mary Nance, 4, daughter of Sainburg's present wife.

Acting on a tip from Ithaca police, Arizona police arrested Sainburg at a Yuma motel Dec. 7. He had the children with him. Sainburg surrendered to police here Feb. 16.

Two other men have pleaded innocent to kidnaping charges in the case. They are Murray Morton, 32, of Hollywood, Fla., and George Varris, 38, of New York. Both are private investigators. The are accused of being Sainburg's accomplices in 1954. Sainburg has been free on $10,000 bail.

French Planes Strike Algeria Rebel Bands

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — More than 30 French planes machine gunned two big rebel bands for two hours Sunday in the Tlemcen area of western Algeria, near the Moroccan frontier, French sources said today.

The bands were described as "completely disorganized."

Crowds Jeer Two Leaders

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union will soon have long-range guided missiles capable of carrying H-bombs and warned the West: "Never shake your fist at a Russian."

The Soviet Communist party boss, apparently nettled by jeering crowds who met him and Premier Nikolai Bulganin here, told a Chamber of Commerce luncheon the Russians have already have exploded an H-bomb from a plane and claimed Russia was the first nation to do so.

"I am quite sure that we will quickly have a guided missile with a hydrogen bomb that can fall anywhere in the world," Khrushchev said in a Russian-language speech as reported by the British Industries Fair, co-hosts at the luncheon.

A translator read out Khrushchev's speech in English sentence by sentence as it was being delivered. Most Western newsmen here did not hear the translator read out the clause "that can fall anywhere in the world." But a BIF official text, based on a shorthand writer's version of the oral translation, included it. Premier Bulganin indicated last December the Soviets already had guided missiles capable of intercontinental flights.

Khrushchev said he had seen people shaking fists at him and Bulganin since their arrival in Britain. Then he launched into a vivid account of Soviet strength.

In claiming Russia was the first nation to explode an H-bomb from a plane, he said:

"The United States only now is intending to do this. The United States' first H-bomb explosion was from a ground installation."

Then, listing the areas in which the Soviet Union can compete with the Western world, Khrushchev said:

"Guided missiles — we can compete there, too. I am quite sure we will quickly have guided missiles carrying an H-bomb."

In Birmingham, some demonstrators passed out anti-Communist pamphlets to the Soviet party as it arrived at the industrial fair. Many of the Russians — but not Bulganin or Khrushchev — accepted the pamphlets before realizing what they were.

A radio truck patrolled the streets blaring anti-Communist slogans.

At City Hall, Budganin stood under the crossed flags of Britain and Russia and spoke of his aims in Britain. His remarks were translated by an interpreter.

He said no one wants another war.

"In past history, our peoples lived as two friendly nations," he said. "That friendship was cemented by the common effort against the common enemy—fascism.

"After the war, certain misunderstandings arose which led to a deterioration of our relations.

"Let us not try now to determine why that took place and the reasons for those misunderstandings. It is quite possible that both sides are to blame for part of that.

"We have come to try to do away with that and to establish closer and friendly relations between our country and Britain."

Bulganin and Khrushchev were guests at a luncheon party given by the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

LATE BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today banned racial segregation on buses operating within states.

The court did so by refusing to review a decision by the U.S. Circuit Court in Richmond that segregation on intrastate buses violates the federal constitution.

The high tribunal's action—which thus left the Circuit Court ruling stand—was announced in a brief order. It said an appeal by South Carolina Electric & Gas Co. from the circuit decision was dismissed.

The Surpreme Court's action was unanimous.

Trumpeting Bothers Women In Virginia

DUBLIN, Va. (AP)—The sound of trumpeting heralded the dawn here today. And two women—awakened from their slumbers—didn't like it at all. The trumpeting came from three elephants in their back yard.

They called police to report the elephants had torn down some fences, knocked over several outbuildings and were tearing up their cow barn while munching hay and grain.

Officers said the elephants belonged to King Bros. Circus, and were put in the stockyards after a trailer broke down. They were headed to stock pens.

Preliminary Plans Made On Projects

The Scurry County commissioners court was to begin canvassing returns late this morning in the $205,000 bond election which was held here Saturday and in which voters approved a county library, park improvements, and an additional runway at Winston Field.

Also in the morning's business, the court employed an architect for the library project and an engineer for the runway project.

Butler-Kimmel Co., architects and engineers of Lubbock, was employed for the library project at a fee of five per cent. A sum of $90,000 was approved for the library and mobile book unit in the bond election.

M. C. Butler, head of the firm, met with the court and showed members a sample plan for a library building with 6,300 square feet of floor space which could be constructed for approximately $70,000. The court took no action on the sketches yet, however. Butler said that size building would have more space than is in the present city-county health unit building here.

Butler said his firm would consult with the state librarian on books which would be made available by the state for such a county library. He said the state will make available immediately 5,000 books, adding that he did not believe the state has any "strings" attached to furnishing the books.

The Butler-Kimmel firm will keep a fulltime representative in Snyder during construction of the library building.

The commissioners court has yet to locate a site for the building.

W. W. Greif & Associates was employed by the court for engineering work on the east-west runway at the county airport at a fee of six and one-half per cent, which is a standard fee for that type project. Greif will perform engineering work on the runway, and will work with the Civil Aeronautics Administration on the project.

Voters here approved in the Saturday election $50,000 for the runway project. The county already had $15,000 remaining from the original airport bond issue, making total county money available to $65,000. The CAA has already set aside $69,000 for the runway. On this project, the county must secure some additional property for the runway, which will probably be 4,200 feet long.

The commissioners tentatively discussed the park improvements authorized in the Saturday bond election, but no action concerning this had been taken late this morning. A total of $65,000 is designated for building a park in the south part of Snyder in the neighborhood of the Lincoln School and for constructing picnic areas of Hermleigh, Dunn, Ira, and Fluvanna.

In other action this morning, the court purchased a road grader for precinct 2 from the low bidder of five firms which bid. The low bid, submitted by Patton Equipment Co. of Abilene, was $10,250 difference between a Huber-Warco grader and a used Adams grader being traded in. The grader will have a 115-horsepower diesel engine, electric starter, hydraulic control, booster steering, and an enclosed cab. Other bids included $10,390 by Texas Machinery & Equipment Co. of Lubbock, 111,370 by Plains Machinery Co. of Abilene, $14,498 by Fred Berryhill Equipment Co. of Lubbock, and $14,805.80 by Central Texas Machinery Co. of Abilene.

Boost For Mexican Labor Is Requested

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today for an added $237,000 for Labor Department salaries and expenses in connection with bringing in Mexican farm labor.

Harmony Appeal Is Made

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles appealed today for positive unity in the free world in the face of Soviet soft talk, and called for development of the North Atlantic Treaty alliance into something more than a military pact.

"The time has come to advance NATO from its initial phase into the totality of its meaning," Dulles said in a speech prepared for The Associated Press annual luncheon.

Dulles did not spell out in his prepared text just what he had in mind as to NATO.

But he talked about "more economic development" and "more independence" in discussing the attempts by Western nations to improve the world's lot.

Aides suggested in Washington that Dulles' speech might be comparable to one made by the then-secretary, George C. Marshall at Harvard University June 5, 1947. Marshall at that time proposed a European self-help program, with United States backing, that eventually became known as the Marshall Plan.

Dulles, in making a strong plea for free world unity, declared:

"Because Soviet military capabilities remain so vast and because their intentions are subject to rapid change, we must maintain our vigilance and our strength.

"But also we must increase the unity and dynamism of the free world by greater emphasis on cooperation for something rather than merely against something."

Officer Shot By Cypriot

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A fleeing gunman today shot dead a Turkish Cypriot police constable in the heart of Nicosia's teeming Turkish quarter.

Fearing the incident might spark British troops threw massive road blocks around most of Nicosia's inner city.

He was the second fatalty of the day and the 73rd in the year-old campaign of violence for union of this British-ruled island with Greece.

Earlier, a British soldier died of wounds received when a military patrol was ambushed east of Limassol during the night. Two other soldiers were wounded. The attackers fired 10 shots and threw a bomb as the patrol drove by a wooded area.

OVERFLOWING HAPPINESS—Mrs. Joseph Archuletta cries unashamed and joyfully on the coaldust-begrimed face of her husband after his rescue along with two other miners from a cave-in in Sunnyside, Utah. For 40 hours he lay under a piece of machinery which sheltered him from tons of rock and coal. Both hands were caught between a falling beam and an edge of the mine machine. Archuletta pulled his left hand free, got his pocket knife and cut off the tip of his right thumb, but he couldn't free another finger and rescuers cut it off with a hammer and cold chisel.

WEATHER

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: Saturdays' high 64; Low 46; Yesterday's high 87; Low 47; Today's 7:30 a.m.: reading 49.

West Texas—Partly cloudy with no important temperature change through Tuesday. Scattered showers or thundershowers except in El Paso and Big Bend areas.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

4 Wildcats Set For Basin Area

Four new wildcats and a deepening operation have been staked in Permian Basin counties, headed by an 11,500-foot project in Ector County.

The deep Ector test will be drilled by United States Smelting, Mining & Refining Co as No. 1 Paul Slator in Southeast Ector County.

Drillsite is 13 miles southeast of Odessa, 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 10, block 42, T-4-S, T&P survey.

W. M. and A. P. Fuller announced site for a 3,000-foot wildcat nine miles southeast of Justiceburg in Northwest Scurry County. Location for No. 1 M. A. Fuller is 2,310 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of an 80-acre lease in section 87, block 5, H&GN survey.

Another Ector County wildcat is T .F. Hodge, Fort Worth, No. 1 J. Lee Johnson, Jr., 660 feet from south and east lines of section 31, lock 42, T-1-S, T&P survey, 1½ miles southeast of the North Cowden field and the same distance northeast of the Foster pool.

Location is five miles northwest of Odessa.

Lone Star Producing Co. spotted a 3,500-foot Grayburg wildcat in the Heluma (Ellenburger) area of Southwest Upton County.

It is a twin to Lone Star's No. 1-A Jacobs Livestock Company, an Ellenburger operation, 2,971 feet from north and 2,345 feet from west lines of section 38, G. W. Patterson survey.

Roark, Hooker & Hill, Abilene, spotted a one-mile west outpost to the Varel (San Andres) field of Est Howard County.

It is No. 1 J. T. Masters and others, 330 feet from north and east lines of section 11, block 34, T-1-N, T&P survey, a 3,300-foot test.

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., and R. L. Foree, Dallas, No. 1-A Spires, one mile northwest of the Nena Lucia (Strawn) field of West Nolan County, recovered gas, oil and water on drillstem test.

Interval checked was from 7,270 to 7,295 feet, with tool open 90 minutes. Gas surfaced in 42 minutes and the test recovered 155 feet of oil-cut mud, plus 360 feet of salt water.

Test from 7,080 to 7,137 feet surfaced gas and recovered oil along with heavily oil and gas-cut mud.

Drilling continued below 7,346 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 131, block 1-A, T&P survey.

W. M. and A. P. Fuller spotted No. 1-A Fuller as a 4-000-foot wildcat in Southeast Garze County, four miles southeast of Justiceburg.

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 112, block 5, H&GN survey.

Continental Oil Co. No. 1-A W.A. Cash is to be drilled as a 4,100-foot project in the recently opened Garza (Glorieta) field of Northwest Garza County.

Drillsite is 330 feet from south and 2,310 feet from west lines of section 1,215, TT survey, four miles northwest of Post.

The Dora, North (multipay) field of East Nolan County has gained its second Odom lime producer.

The new well is The Chicago Corp. No. 2-C-A TL, 12 miles northwest of Nolan.

It was finaled for a daily flowing potential of 288.35 barrels of 47 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 960-1. Production was through a ¼-inch choke and perforations from 6,004 to 6,035 feet.

Earlier, the well was completed from the Caddo for a daily flow of 391.72 barrels of 46 gravity oil, from pay at 6,088-6,111 feet. It will be dual produced.

Location is in section 59, block 20, T&P survey.

Neighbors Do Plowing For Area Farmer

Sam Martin of the Canyon community will have his spring plowing done despite injuries that have kept him in the hospital the past three weeks.

Early this morning, tractors started moving into Martin's 292 acre farm, 15 miles southwest of Snyder, to begin listing his land. It will be ready for planting by the time he gets out of the hospital.

Mrs. Martin estimated as many as 20 neighbors started coming in about 7:30 to do the work. A dinner prepared by the men's wives was to be held at noon in the farm home.

"It sure was a surprise," Mrs. Martin said. "I didn't expect anything like this."

Martin was injured the night of April 2 while working on an oil rig. Mrs. Martin said a pipe was dropped on her husband, causing back injuries.

Recently, a blood clot developed in his foot, she said. His condition was reported to be good at Cogdell Memorial hospital this morning.

Mrs. Martin didn't know when he could be released from the hospital. But he'll have part of his farm work done, thanks to neighbors, she said.

Two Gunmen Are Killed

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Two gunmen were slain and a third was wounded yesterday when a police ambush in a darkened bakery here erupted into a blazing gun battle.

Shot to death were Eddie Taylor, 54, Parkersburg, and Dearman Lott, 44, Palestine, W. Va.

Lt. J. Norman Mehl, head of the Parkersburg Detective Bureau, identified the wounded man as Ronnie Roberts, about 21. Found outside the bakery, where he had crawled despite shotgun wounds in the chest, he was reported in satisfactory condition today.

Apparently tipped that a ring of safecrackers planned to move in on the bakery, Mehl set up the predawn ambush with Sgt. W. R. Radon and Detective C. H. Swain.

About 3 a.m. Rardon and Swain saw a man enter the building through a window, unlock a door and admit two others.

Mehl, stationed in the upstairs office, said he surprised one of the men coming up the steps.

"Hold it!" he called.

The man drew a gun, said Mehl, so he opened fire. With this, Rardon and Swain opened up downstairs.

"The downstairs was nothing but gunfire," Mehl said later.

Shoemake To Be Released

MCKINNEY (AP) — A. B. Shoemake, former president of the defunct U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. of Waco, may leave the veterans administration hospital here this week.

Dr. W. H. Buckholts, manager, indicated Shoemake, who has been at the VA hospital since Feb. 1, has attained his "maximum hospital benefits."

Buckholts explained that means the hospital has done all it can and the person can do just as well somewhere else.

The doctor said he plans to give Shoemake other checkups before making a final decision.

He said he did not know where Shoemake would go after he is discharged. He becomes the responsibility of his family.

Shoemake shot himself in the brain Jan. 7 after the collapse of his insurance firms. He left a suicide note saying he had no money to fight in court. He was moved here from a Waco hospital.

Cosden Acquisition Taken Under Study

NEW YORK (AP)—A plan to acquire the Cosden Petroleum Corp. by the W. R. Grace & Co. was announced yesterday by heads of the two firms.

The proposal calls for exchange of 1,025 shares of Grace common stock for each share of Cosden stock. It will be considered by directors of both firms in May and if approved will be submitted to stockholders.

Raymond Tollett, president of Cosden, sad he would remain head of that firm and that Cosden headquarters would remain in Big Spring, Tex., where the company is building a 3-million dollar styerene plant.

Cosden also manufactures aviation gasoline for the government as well as gasoline, oil products, asphalt and chemicals.

Souvenir Idea

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A souvenir idea for new parents—a recording of the newborn baby's first cries—is offered by the California Hospital.

It takes about $20,000 invested to create one job in U.S. industry.

Honky-Tonk Trips End

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When you're 102, says Uncle Bud Clagg, "you don't do much honky-tonkin'. There are other things."

There's always the back fence gossip with other retired oldsters in the neighborhood and long discussions on fishing and hunting.

Uncle Bud, who celebrates his birthday today, says "I don't know who will win the coming election, but I hope the right man gets to be president." He then makes it plain he thinks the "right man" is Adlai Stevenson.

A native of Bellefontaine, Ohio, he worked 44 years for the Pennsylvania Railroad, never missing a day because of illness.

Uncle Bud doesn't follow any strict rules for longevity. He eats no special foods. Nor does he smoke any more. But he still takes a little wine "to keep my blood circulating."

Dies Of Injuries

ERICK, Okla. (AP)—Richard McCandles, 26, of Twitty, Tex., died yesterday of injuries received when his car overturned east of here Saturday night.

Tropical disease long delayed the white settlement of Africa.

McLarty To Face Trial In Land Deal

JOURDANTON (AP)—Former land promote T. J. McLarty faced trial here today on one of 39 counts springing from the sale of the McLarty ranch to the state for $117,510.

The indictment charges the Cuero man with falsely representing the contents of a written instrument.

In a 1952 veterans land deal, the state paid the South Texas land promoter $117,510 for 3,700 acres of C ue County land for resale to 24 veterans.

Defense attorneys may ask for a continuance. The case has been twice postponed.

R. E. L. Looney, chief defense attorney from Austin, was shaken up when his auto was demolished in an accident near Austin Saturday.

Looney was reported seriously hurt. Defense attorneys may ask for a continuance since Looney ill be unable to handle the case. Another motion may be offered on grounds that Rep. John Bell is a "material witness" and is not available until the current session adjourns in mid-summer.

Looney has said that some 80 or 90 subpoenas have been issued for defense witnesses, including Gov. Shivers, Sen. Price Daniel and Atty. Gen. Shepperd.

Shivers and Shepperd are members of the Veterans Land Board, and Daniel was a member as attorney general in 1952.

Motorboats Are Spotted

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The Coast Guard relaxed today after one of the biggest air-sea search operations in years located 36 outmissing in a race from the mainland to Santa Catalina Island. Cowboy star Roy Rogers and actor John Derek were among some 80 persons lost.

There were 209 boats entered in the race which began Saturday morning, sponsored by U. S. Sportsmen, Inc.

The winner, Bud Doyle, 26, Winterhaven, Fla., made the 21-mile run in 37 minutes.

Foggy weather, ground swells and perhaps lack of seagoing savvy on the part of the weekend pilots played havoc with the race. Many returned to mainland ports, others got lost or ran out of fuel, or both.

A seaplane rescued R. A. McDearby, Denison, Tex., and John Miller, Venice, Calif., after they drifted all night. They had run out of gas.

There are about 20,000 units in a dragonfly's compound eye.

Acrobatic Thieves

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Acrobatic thieves with axes took several watches and rings from the Mullins Credit Store — and earned them. They smashed through a skylight, chopped through an attic floor and jumped 12 feet into the store. Then they broke into three glass showcases. They left by the rear door.

WHEN YOU CALL LONG DISTANCE, REMEMBER —
STATION-TO-STATION RATES ARE BARGAIN RATES
The next time you call out-of-town relatives, friends or business acquaintances, remember that station-to-station rates are lowest.
On the average, station-to-station rates are about one-third lower than person-to-person rates. And your call goes through faster!
Whether phoning from office or home, just tell the operator you'll talk with anyone who answers the telephone.
With these bargain rates, you'll find you can call Long Distance more often. Make station-to-station calling a habit!
And remember, too, that your call goes through twice as fast when you call by number!

PICNIC SALAD BOWL
1 No. 2 can asparagus tips or
1 No. 2 can of green beans
Mustard French Dressing
3 hard-cooked eggs
1-3 cup deviled ham
Heart of lettuce
2 strips pimiento
6 wedges Swiss Cheese

Marinate asparagus in dressing; chill. Cut eggs lengthwise and remove yolks. Stuff with deviled ham mixed with mashed egg yolks and moisten with dressing. Toss lettuce hearts in salad bowl with dressing. Arrange asparagus tips in center (held together with pimiento strips), surround with cheese and border with stuffed egg halves. Serves 6.

MUSTARD FRENCH DRESSING
1 cup olive or salad oil
¼ cup vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains cayenne
¼ teaspoon white pepper
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
Clove of garlic

Rub bowl with crushed clove garlic. Combine and beat or shake thoroughly before using. Makes 1 ¼ cups.

CHEESE CAKE
2 cups fine zwieback crumbs
1½ cups sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup melted butter
4 eggs
⅛ teaspoon salt
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind
1 cup cream or evaporated milk
1½ pounds cottage cheese
4 tablespoons flour
¼ cup chopped nuts

Mix zwieback with ½ cup sugar, cinnamon and butter. Set aside cup of mixture to sprinkle over the top; press remainder into 9-inch spring form pan, lining bottom and sides. Beat eggs with remaining 1 cup sugar until light; add salt, lemon juice, rind, cream, cheese and flour; beat thoroughly and strain through a fine sieve. Pour into lined pan, sprinkle with remaining crumbs and nuts. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) about 1 hour or until center is set. Turn off heat, open oven door, let stand in oven 1 hour or until cooled. Serves 10.

ATOMIC STYLES—These two gay summer dresses, in festive mood, are of permanently glazed cotton with a shiffti embroidered motif inspired by molecules of chemical benzine rings. The dark dress at left features back panel interest, the white part dress at right has full skirt, strapless top. Both are designed by Lorraine Budny.

Gay Party Aprons Needed For Protecting Clothing

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Where there are children there are bound to be parties. Where there are parties there must be ice cream, and inevitably some cherub dumps a full dish of it down the front of her best party dress.

Here' a practical suggestion from the experts at your local sewing center, who point out that it s a good idea to spend a couple of hours before the party whipping up party pinafores for the guests. Make them out of plastic, appropriately decorated, and give them as party favors just before refreshments are served. These aprons are a cinch to make, cost very little and will earn you a vote of thanks from all the mothers in the neighborhood.

When stitching on plastic, use a fine needle, light tension and a fairly long stitch on your sewing machine. Remember not to use pins since they leave holes which may tear the plastic.

Cut an oval shape that will extend from the youngster's neck to her knees, and wide enough to cover the width of the body in front. Next cut out a rounded neckline from one end of the oval, to fit under the chin. Cut plastic strips ½-inch wide and thread through the multislotted binder attachment of your machine. Since plastic does not fray, you don't need to turn under the edges. Stitch this band of plastic binding around the neck of each apron, leaving six inches at each end for tying. Stitch on ties at waist level also. This simple formula gives you the basic apron.

You can add your own imaginative touches to dress it up. You may sew little cut-outs on each apron, or personalize them by painting the name of a guest on each apron. After the party, the aprons will come clean with a swipe of a sudsy sponge, and they can be taken home as part favors.

Shower Is Given For Mrs. Yeilding

A pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Ralph Yeilding was given Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Nellie Williamson, 300 Thirty-third Street. Mrs. Yeilding, whose husband is stationed in North Carolina, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Autry of Snyder.

The color theme of pink and white was carried out in the center piece and the favors. Cake and punch was served to 21 guests.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Freddie Everton, Mrs. Billy Prince, Jo Ann White, Patsy Norred and Mrs. Williamson.

Removing Drippings

You can remove oil drippings and other stains from your sidewalk, garage and driveway in a matter of minutes. Simply scrub the surface with thick hot soap (or detergent) suds and a broom, then use your garden hose to blast away the loosened dirt.

Good side-kick for roast pork: halve bananas lengthwise and spread with soft butter or margarine; top with hot cranberry sauce and bake in a moderate oven for about 15 minutes. Use canned whole cranberry sauce and break it up as you heat it in a small saucepan on top of the range.

Cut out tiny rounds from scraps of pie dough. Put a dollop (small) of anchovy paste, Roquefort cheese or grated cheddar cheese near the center of each; fold over, seal and bake. Serve with tomato juice.

MATCHED PAIR—Gay summer robe is made from a flower-printed blanket, easy to sew. It matches blanket on bed.

The Polltax Issue

One of the older points of controversy between the liberal and conservative wings of the Democratic Party in the civil rights field has been the polltax issue.

The liberals have tried to force the states to abandon the polltax as a prerequsite to voting by a federal statute.

This approach has been bitterly fought by the conservative wing led by Southerners, on the ground that the federal government has no constitutional warrant to regulate the manner in which the individual states may qualify their electors. All states have regulations of some sort requiring the citizen to fullfill certain obligations before he can become a qualified voter. Some outside the South levy a polltax, one of the oldest forms of taxation in the English-speaking world, but most Southern states—not including Texas until about 1903—made possession of a polltax receipt a prerequiste to voting.

Now only Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia require a polltax receipt of all who would vote.

Now it seems likely the Democratic factions may get together on a way of settling the dispute, thanks to a resolution introduced by Senator Spessard Holland (D-Fla), on which hearings have been under way. The Holland bill proposes an amendment to the federal Constitution banning the polltax as a prerequiste to voting. If approved by 36 of the 48 states, it would become the law. (Nine other Southern senators backed the Holland resolution.)

Senator Humphrey (D-Minn), a leader of the movement to abolish the polltax by federal statute, has indicated he will accept the Holland approach to the problem—that is, a constitutional amendment.

Thus if it works out as planned, one cocklebur under the Democratic blanket will be removed, though other civil rights differences within the party will continue for the foreseeable future.

Let People Decide

The break between Governor Allan Shivers and Senator Lyndon B. Johnson over leadership of the Texas delegation to the Democratic National Convention is causing a great deal of soul-searching among Texas Democrats who are friends and admirers of both men. There are many of these, though there are others who either like or dislike one or the other without regard to the issues at stake in this particular controversy.

That issue, as we see it, boils down to this: Which man is best qualified to stand up and speak for Texas at the convention with every certainty that his voice will be influential on all segments of the party in determining the platform and the nominee? Which has the best chance to make the Texas (and Southern) viewpoint felt in that convention?

The answer is Lyndon B. Johnson, by a wide margin. He is respected as the leader of the Democratic majority in the Senate. His work in that capacity has received almost universal praise by the nation's press, Democratic, Republican and independent. He is the most potent political figure in the nation's capital, a man who is recognized as presidential timber in his own right. His legislative skill is widely hailed, and his views as widely respected.

Texas in general has reasons to hail Lyndon Johnson as a leader who gets things done. Leaders of the oil industry, Texas' greatest empire-builder, have found him an eager champion. His skill and eloquence helped hold the tidelands for the benefit of Texas school children. He was a potent factor in passage of the gas decontrol bill, unhappily vetoed by President Eisenhower. And he has been a rallying point in the continuing fight to preserve the depletion allowance that has enabled Texas to lead the world in petroleum production, and to pour so many millions into Texas tax coffers, and to give employment to so many people, and royalties to thousands of landowners.

The decision between Johnson and Shivers must be made by the Democratic voters of Texas on Saturday, May 5, when precinct conventions will be held in every voting box in Texas. As go the precinct conventions, so go the county conventions and the state.

The Shivers people have the advantage in these conventions. They have had a great deal of practice since 1950. They are skillful, experienced and aggressive. Unless the friends and supporters of Lyndon Johnson muster the same strength, skill and devotion at each little precinct convention on Saturday, May 5, the decision will go to Shivers, even though the overwhelming sentiment of the Democrats of Texas might be on Johnson's side.

A Risky Business

Non-Commercial TV Concerns Itself With 'The Delights Of Understanding'

By KATHERINE INKHAM

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23 (AP)—It should give us pause to the cynics that one of the fastest growing movements in this speedy age — noncommercial television—is devoted to what proponents call "the delights of understanding."

It's a nationwide development, with 19 noncommercial stations now on the air in the fourth year after the Federal Communications Commission set apart 242 channels for educational purposes.

San Francisco's two-year-old station KQED, like most of the others, seems to be thriving. Its operating policy is simply defined by its manager as trying to give to as many people as possible "that delightful feeling of suddenly understanding something which has been familiar but meaningless before."

"It isn't more information we all need," says 37-year-old James Day, former NBC public affairs director and a cofounder of Radio Free Asia. "We have it in massive quantity, flowing through so many channels it nearly smothers us. What we do need is to digest and relate it and take the mysteries out of it. That's what we are aiming at with KQED."

A splash of publicity fell on the station when it was announced it was to be first in the nation to be used for teaching regular academic classes under a $125,000 grant to San Francisco State College by the Fund for Advancement of Education, a Ford Foundation agency.

The experiment, to begin next September with about a third of those enrolled in four courses studying the regular way and the rest via TV, will help assess value of a new way to handle outsize college enrollments with limited teaching staffs.

KQED was sponsored by the Bay Area Educational Television Assn., organized in 1952. It sprang into the air like a glider in 1954, launched on $72,000 from local founations, but without machinery for continuing propulsion. It got helping hands from many sources, including well-wishing commercial radio and TV stations and newspapers.

But a year later the money ran out and KQED was about to crash-land, dead broke, until Bay area residents shelled out $67,000 in a hoopla fund-raising campaign. That was last June and July.

Now the project is approaching financial respectability. There are 3,000 regular viewer supporters who get printed programs for their $10 annual dues. This is "just a start," station officials say. There are substantial business contributions along with highly-prized program contracts which will bring money from the educational TV and radio center at Ann Arbor, Mich., backed by the Ford Foundation. Weekly broadcasting has risen from 2 to 17 hours a week, and rosy future prospects loom beyond the still penny-pinching present.

The program fare responsible for the station's initial success has touched some high points. Some people in the area bought their first TV sets to watch the KQED broadcast in toto of the United Nations' 10th anniversary sessions last June. Top nuclear scientist Edward Teller gave a simplified explanation of the atomic fission which produced the A-omb.

A HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH-SPEAKING PEOPLES: Vol. 1: THE BIRTH OF BRITAIN. By Winston S. Churchill. Dodd Mead.

Churchill's long - planned history of the English - speaking peoples begins with Caesar, withdraws briefly to the still more remote past, comes down in these 500 pages to the end of the 15th century.

There were three Roman centuries when Britons, says Churchill, had it better than ever before or since. Then came invaders, like the Vikings in their shallow swift boats, Alfred, Athelstan and Canute; William the Conqueror; Henry Plantagenet; Richard the Lion-Hearted, Runneymede and Magna Carta; Bannockburn and Bruce; Edward 111 and Crecy; Henry V and Agincourt.

Churchill is concerned with the growth of law, the speard of liberty, the increasing checks on the power of nobles and kings. He says little about the common people and the way they lived, this is a history of kings, courts, Paliaments, judges and generals, a hisory of the great exclusively. This lacks the irresistible urgency of Churchill's World War 11 history. Yet this is handsomely, vigorously told, and deserves the popularity which the author's renown will surely win for it.

SAVROLA. By Winston S. Churchill. Random House.

Sir Winston's only novel, this is a tall tale about a bit of love and —you guessed it—a lot of politics. The her. overthrows a tyrant, and gets nothing for his pains. Almost 60 years old, the story is a pleasing reassurance that Sir Winston chose for himself the right career.

America Is Still Facing A Case Of Growing Pains

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—America still suffers from growing pains.

Gigantic as almost everything already is — you talk about billions today while still trying to comprehend millions — there are services and goods you want more of right now and others you're told you'll want more of soon.

The pains show up first in these inadequate services or goods, later in the search for money to meet the new or expected demands, and finally in the mounting paper work just to keep track of the bigger operations.

American Telephone & Telegraph is so convinced that more people are going to want to talk more to others in more places that it is the first corporation to announce a two-billion-dollar outlay in one year for expansion.

But it's only one of many corporations and industries putting up huge sums either to keep up with their customers or to beat out their rivals for markets, here now or expected in the yeas ahead.

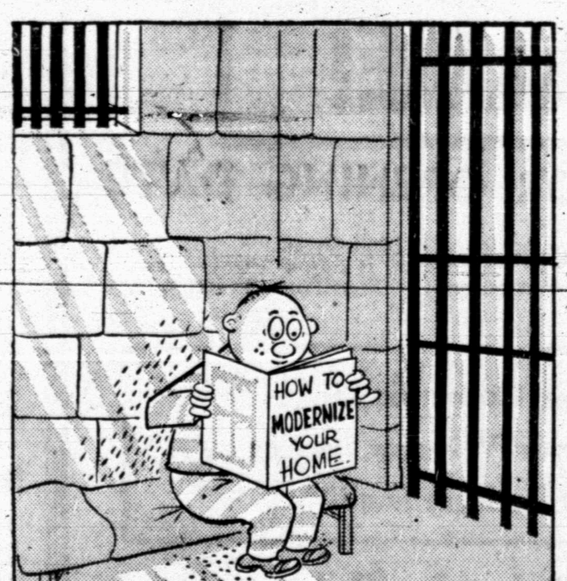

And the search for new sources of raw materials to feed America's widening maw will take still more stacks of money or credit.

Big and little companies are spending to develop new iron deposits or to find ways to produce iron more economically from older ore bodies. They are bringing in more aluminum and copper. They plan more steel mills to meet the greater demand and replace ancient furnaces. They talk of more newsprint. The oil industry is looking years ahead in its search for new fields. And industry looks for more water, either in conserving present sources or experimenting with taking the salt out of the seas.

The ailines are having their financial growing pains. They are looking for stacks of dough to ease their way into the jet age.

Individuals aren't immune. As Americans' standards of living grow higher, the quest for funds to keep up with the Joneses or to keep up with the new models of the auto and gadget makers can be painful indeed.

One Out Of 100 Americans Now Lives Outside Boundries Of Home Country

By CARL CRANMER
AP Staff Writer

By strict definition the United States consists of 48 states and a federal district, extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific and is bounded on the north by Canada and by Mexico on the south.

But about 1½ million Americans —nearly one out of every 100 Americans — live beyond these accepted boundaries of the United States and its possessions and many have created for themselves 'Little Americas" in nearly every corner of the world.

They are the servicemen and their wives and children, the diplomats and experts in the many assistance programs, the engineers, technicians, businessmen and salesmen, the missionaries, artists, writers and newsmen, the lawyers and doctors, the expatriates and the retired, the homegoing naturalized citizens.

Associated Press correspondents abroad were asked to report on the number of Americans in their areas, who they are, what they are doing, how they are living and how they are meeting the problems of food, housing and education for their children.

The highlights of some of their dispatches follow:

FRANKFURT, Germany—Nearly 400,000 Americans live in West Germany. No other foreign countr has so many. Most of them are soldiers and airmen guarding the Iron Curtain frontier, their families, civilian employes of the armed forces, diplomatic personnel and businessmen.

Generally, the Americans are a bit clannish, primarily because they find the language difficult. The U.S. Army and Air Force, for example, have big community center wherever the men are stationed.

But some Americans appreciate German opera, the scenery, the many tourist attractions the restaurants with their heaping portions. And American youngsters can be seen in Bavarian lederhosen (leather shorts) jabbering in fluent German, and German kids in cowboy jeans yelling in comic book Americanese.

In Berlin the American community of 5,000 maintains an atmosphere of "home" 100 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

The American stay has left its imprint. German boys throw baseballs around and their sisters wear dungarees. American adults are apt to look up the opera and concert programs first, the movies later, and they have learned to like red wine with meat, white wine with fish, beer with sauerkraut.

Tokyo — One minute you're driving down a narrow Oriental lane between rows of bamboo and paper houses through swarms of bicycles, motorcycles and pedestrians.

The next minute you are in a different world — pastel — tinted bungalows and duplexes surrounded by trim lawns, rows of late model cars and scrubbed, freckled kids wearing bluejeans instead of the Japanese school uniform. There are several of these transplanted islands of America in Japan with names like Washington Heights, Sagamihara, Shrapnel Village and Area.

The Japanese government, by agreement wth the United States, has built more than 13,000 comfortable, well-heated dwellings which house more than half the 24,400 U.S. service families in Japan. The other service families live at less comfort and more expensively in Japanese neighborhoods.

There are 170,000 Americans in Japan, including 675 members of State Department and other civilian government families and about 8,500 missionaries, businessmen, students and teachers.

Military families can buy 19-cent ethyl gasoline and dollar steaks, and enjoy 25-cent movies and dance orchestras several night a week. A maid can be hired for $28 a month, at most. Americans in Japanese neighborhoods find living more difficult. The rent on a Western style, three-room house is $100 or more a month. Prices on American goods include extremely high Japanese import duties—85 to 110 per cent on automobiles. Most Japanese look upon all Americans as millionaires.

London—The 100,000 Americans, ranging from soldiers to movie actors, who live in Britain today find it easy to slip into the British way of living. Many form close friendships with their British neighbors.

Some American children are enrolled in U.S. Air Force schools, but most go to British schools.

The boys may wear cowboy boots with their English school uniforms and gain prestige with their British playmates by posing as a descendant of a fierce Indian fighter. The girls like tea parties and cultivate English accents which set the rest of the family's teeth on edge.

Supermarkets in a few neighborhoods make the American housewife feel more at home. Rents are about $120 a month for a furnished place. And by Americans standards it is likely to be almost uninhabitable in winter when pipes burst and the housewife, face blackened from soot, spends hours stoking a fireplace.

Paris—There are about as many Americans living in France as in Little Rock, Ark.—around 100,000.

For about 80,000 of them, men in uniform and their families, life is as if they were on a U.S. Island. At the 39 Army and Air Force installations housing, post exchanges, schools and commissaries are provided. They can buy canned goods and clothing at duty-free prices.

"We never meet any French people and we hardly know we're in a foreign country," says the wife of an American lieutenant colonel living in the Eucom (U.S. European Command) settlement near Paris.

There are around 1,000 students, some studying under Fulbright scholarships and the GI Bill of Rights, 154 news correspondents, and some 1,100 members of the American Chamber of Commerce specializing in everything from plumbing supplies to fine china. Several hundred retired Americans live on the Riviera and in Paris mansions. Some painters and opera singers who missed their goal live on charity.

Seoul — Korea means hardship in one way or another for most of the 62,000 Americans who live there. All but about 2,000 are in military uniform. All but 700 missionaries and educators and 100 businessmen are on the U.S. payroll.

But mountains of foodstuffs, cosmetics and recreational extras poured in by ship enable those connected with the government to live well, American style at reasonable prices.

Civilians have many problems in this bleak, poor, war-ravaged land. Many rats, open sewers and water unfit for drinking present sanitation difficulties.

Ottawa—Officials believe there are about 168,000 people in Canada who can claim U.S. citizenship. It is estimated there are about 18,000 with U.S. armed forces in Newfoundland bases and at scatered outposts across northern Canada.

Rome—There are approximately 25,000 Americans in Italy. About 6,000 live in Rome, including diplomats, movie stars, priests and religious students and art and music students.

Of the 9,000 in southern Italy, most are returned Italo-Americans plu military peronnel at NATO' outhern Europe headuarters.

There's a U.S. shipping colony in Genoa and a scattering of wealthy Americans along the Italian Riviera or in other famed resorts.

Carasas, Venezuela—Some 37,000 Americans, most of them employed by the big oil, steel and rubber companies, find themselves in a "home away from home" in this oil-rich country.

They enjoy an exotic tropical setting, good salaries, orchids, low taxes, sunshine, superhighways, supermarkets but get a shock at the prices—$10 for shirts, $1 for a head of lettuce, $200 to $300 for an apartment.

Rabat, Morocco—Life in North Africa, with its palm trees, lush oases, veiled women and dazling beaches can be a picture-postcard existence. But bloody nationalist rebellions sweeping from Tunisia to Algeria and Morocco have changed that for the 15,000 Americans living there.

Taipei, Formosa—Life for the growing American colony of 8,000 here is pretty suburban.

"But I like it" says Bosley Brotman, a Pittsburgh working girl for International Cooperation Administration.

Americans enjoy club life, golf, swimming, tennis.

Most of the 3,000 officers and men in the Military Assistance Advisory Group and other Americans with the embassy, the U.S. Information Service, consultants to the Formosa government and the U.S. FLEET'S Formosa Command live in community compounds or hostels.

Others—such as the 500 missionaries and their dependents, a handful of businessmen and education and engineering teams — find life expensive. Coffee in Chinese shops costs $2.50 a pound. Most live in Japanese-style or jerry-built Western style houses where the water pressure is low, the electricity system undependable and the plumbing not overly modern. Chinese landlords think nothing of asking $250 a month.

Madrid—there are 8,000 to 10,000 Americans in Spain—about 5,000 of them employes of the armed forces, and another 900 working on air and naval bases.

Central America— Some 7,000 Americans call Central America home .In U.S. embassies, military missions or Point 4 projects are 473 in the republics of Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Ni t and Costa Rica. Nearly 3,000 came here with banana companies, as engineers or highway projects or to go into business for themselves.

Buenos Aires— Approximately 3,100 American citizens take revolutions in their stride and eat choice 20 cent beefsteaks in Argentina.

There are thousands living in other countries—nearly 50,000 in Mexico, 13,000 in Cuba, 35,000 in the Philippines, nearly 10,000 in Brazil, 5,000 in Turkey where many are working as engineers, technicians and instructors with Turkish Army units, 5,500 in India, 3,300 in Holland, 1,300 in Sweden, and many more in such strategic spots as Panama, the Canal Zone and Guam.

Other thousands of oil men live in air-conditioned settlements in Saudi Arabia, some 4,200 in the Aores which a large proportion help maintain Lagens Air Base where nearly 9,000 planes refueled last year.

International agencies, such as the European headquarters of the U.N., the International Labor Organiation, the World Council of Churches, the League of Red Cross Societies and the International YMCA., have drawn most of the 2,600 Americans who are in Switzerland.

There are over 12,000 in Southeast Asia — including 3,000 in Thailand, 4,800 in Indonesia, and 3,300 in South Viet Nam where French business men are moving out in droves and Americans are moving in.

Other dispatches report 4,300 Americans in Israel, 2,400 in Egypt 5,300 in Australia and 1,000 in New Zealand, 3,000 in Norway, in Austria, and about 600 in Yugoslavia. There are very few Americans in Iran, 2,000 in Greece, more than 2,000 cans in countries behind the Iron Curtain Their numbers are largely confined to State Department and other government personnel.

Our Gal, Inez, Victim Of The 'Monaco Raffles'

By INEZ ROBB

MONTE CARLO — As I sit here with my memories of the Grace Kelly spectacular and nurse my bruises, both physical and psychic, it can now be told that I, too was a victim of the Monaco Raffles whose lift fingers lifted $45,000 worth of jewels from Mrs. Matthew McCloskey, one of the Philadephia wedding guests, and $5,000 worth from Mrs. Maree Pamp, one of the bridesmaids.

At the time, I asked local police to suppress word of my losses, mainly because my heart was breaking with disillusionment with high society or the international cafe set.

I was robbed at the $100,000 gala given in honor of Rainier and his bride at the International Sporting Club by the omnipotent Scoiete des Bains de Mer. Frankly, it was the first time I ever had been invited to a $100,000 party, as I belong more or less to a $5 beer-and-barbecue crowd at home.

But I realized I would be traveling in fast company, associating with a segment of society boasting class. Even if she didn't realize it, I would be in the same room with the Begum, the wife of the Aga Khan and many others of equal ilk.

So I felt I ought to take notes with my gold pencil as the only suitable instrument with which to record this splendid occasion. I took my gold pencil, all right, and when I got there, I clipped it to the beautiful souvenir program—one to a guest—that even people like the Begum were snatching as sacred keepsakes.

Well, I had quite a few things to take notes about.

For instance, I never dreamed that at a strickly private $100,000 party for a Prince any note of commercialism would or could creep in.

But there were plugs for Dior, Fath and a few other Paris dress establishments, free samples of a new perfume for the ladies, free bottles of a certain cognac for the men and free phonograph records by one of the artists singing at the gala.

Eventually, when the dancing began, I got towed a measure to the Dixieland music of Stan Rubin and his Tigertown Five.

When I went back to my table, imagine my amazement and my chagrin to find that both my gold pencil and my souvenir program, to which it had been clipped, were gone. Vamoosed into the night. Swiped right out from under me as it were, at a party for the Prince attended only by guests hand - picked by Rainier himself from the Almanac de Gotha and the Philadelphia telephone book. I think the rich ought to steal from each other!

I reported my loss to the police, but at the moment they seemed too busy to investigate any thefts under $29.95. So I guess my gold pencil and my souvenir program have gone glimmering, the way valuables do on the Riviera.

Of course, I can always get another gold pencil by hook or by crook, as did the person who now owns my old one. But how, without the souvenir program, am I ever going to be able to prove to the folks back home thet I, too, once belonged to international society.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS

POSTPONEMENT OF Saturday's Abilene - Wichita Falls game didn't exactly help the Tiger nine.

For one thing, Tiger coaches Speedy Moffett and Horrace Bostick were on hand to scout the two teams since the Tigers had an off day. Now the Tigers will have to go into tomorrow's game with the Coyotes knowing very little about the team.

Secondly, the Coyote ace, Howard Franklin, was slated to face the Eagles Saturday. Now Franklin will have a full week's rest before taking the mound here tomorrow.

Franklin, more than likely, would have faced the Tigers, anyway, tomorrow even had he pitched against Abilene. But it only stands to reason he wouldn't have been as sharp for the Tigers with just three days rest as he will now with a week's rest.

The Coyotes, you see, are pinning their title hopes solely on Franklin's arm plus some hitting attack, of course.

Coyotes Have Sound Batting Attack

The Coyotes boast of a pretty sound batting attack, by the way. Two Wichita Falls starters are hitting above .400. David West, with 13 for 27 and .481 is the top Coyote batsman with Reg Kimbrough not far behind with 17 for 40 and .425. Both West and Kimbrough are outfielders.

Four other Coyotes are above the .300 mark, meaning the Coyotes will have six players in the starting lineup tomorrow with .300 or better averages while the Tigers have five in this category.

Despite the presence of so many .300 hitters, the pitching will still probably dominate activity in tomorrow's game here.

The other Coyotes above .300 are outfielder Fritz Land, .391; pitcher Franklin, .379; third baseman Milton Coker, .333; and first baseman Jimy Humphrey, .308.

The remaining three Coyote starters tomorrow are hitting thusly: shortstop Aaron Case, .369; second baseman Larry Phillips, .227; and catcher Eddie Fuller, .138.

You'll find the Tiger batting averages elsewhere on this page.

We believe the big crowd on hand for the Tiger - Abilene game Tuesday might have helped the Tigers over the "hump".

Trust everyone who can will be on hand to back the Tigers in tomorrow's contest with the dangerous Coyote nine.

Maxwell Overcomes 'Last Round Jinx'

West Texas golf fans, we're sure, were elated to learn Billy Maxwell finally overcame that "last round jinx" yesterday when he captured top money in the Hot Springs Open.

Maxwell, although is listed from Odessa, actually is an Abilenian. Maxwell grew up in Abilene where he learned all of his golfing. Upon graduation from high school, his parents moved to Big Spring where they still reside.

Billy, perhaps, hasn't spent more than a half-dozen nights in Odessa and only then when he played in a tournament there.

The catch of calling Odessa home, of course, is that the Odessa Chamber of Commerce or someone is paying Billy to list Odessa as his home town.

Purpose for this is the publicity Odessa gains, especially so when Billy wins a tournament such as he did yesterday at Hot Springs, Ark.

Patty Berg Wins Dallas Fem Open

DALLAS (AP)—Patty Berg, the sturdy veteran from St. Andrews, Ill., had her first tournament victory of the year and was leading the money winners as the women's golf tour moved on to Spartanburg, S.C., today.

Miss Berg won a playoff over Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg and Marlene Bauer Hagge of Asheville, N.C., yesterday to win first money of $1,350 in the $7,500 Dallas Women's Open. They had tied over the 72-hole route with 291. On the first extra hole Miss Berg sent a 10-foot putt down while Miss Rawls and Mrs. Hagge missed theirs.

The next tournament is the Peach Blossom Open at Spartanburg and Miss Berg will step to the tee as leading money-winner of the year with slightly more than $6,000. She replaced Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., in the money-winning race.

Miss Rawls and Mrs. Hagge each won $855. Winding up in a tie for fourth with Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., was Miss Suggs. Each had 295.

Miss Rawls had the day's best score — a two-under-par 69—to forge into the first-place tie. Miss Berg shot a 70 over the 6,213-yard Glen Lakes course and so did Mrs. Hagge.

Miss Berg, 38 and in tournament golf 23 years, won her first tournament since September when she tied Joyce Ziske of Watford, Wis., then an amateur, for the championship of the Glock Open at Whittier, Calif. She was leading money-winner last year when she won six tournaments.

"I've been second so many times this year I can't remember them all," said Miss Berg after taking first money here.

She won the Dallas tournament with some great putting. She called it "absolutely terrific."

Tall Beverly Hanson of Apple Valley, Calif., finished sixth with 296, shooting a 71 on the final round. Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Urugua, and Miss Ziske tied for seventh with 297.

Eagles, Buffs Share TL Lead

By The Associated Press

The Dallas Eagles can look on their Oklahoma colleagues in the Texas League race as "cousins." The aid rendered by Oklahoma City and Tulsa has made Dallas what it is today—tied for first place in the young campaign.

First Oklahoma City, largely through wildness of its pitchers, dropped three games out of four to Dallas. Now the Eagles have gotten help in the form of two straight victories over Tulsa.

Sunday night Dallas whipped Tulsa 6-3 to pull into a tie for the lead with Houston, which had a 5-game winning streak snapped by San Antonio, 11-5.

Lowly Austin has kept Shreveport out of first place by taking two straight from the Sports. Sunday the Senators clouted the Sports 10-9 with an amazing comeback that saw them battle from an 8-0 deficit.

Fort Worth pushed into a tie for third place with Shreveport and San Antonio by lacing Oklahoma City 9-4. It tumbled Oklahoma City down to a half-step out of the cellar.

Raiders Land Three Schoolboy Grid Stars

LUBBOCK (AP)—Three more Texas high school football stars, including a member of the state champion Abilene Eagles, have signed scholarship agreements with Texas Tech.

They are Homer Rosembaum, tackle, Abilene; Todd Henson, tackle, Harlandale, San Antonio; and Gene Lay, Lake View, San Angelo.

Abilene, Lubbock Bow In Big State Tilts

By The Associated Press

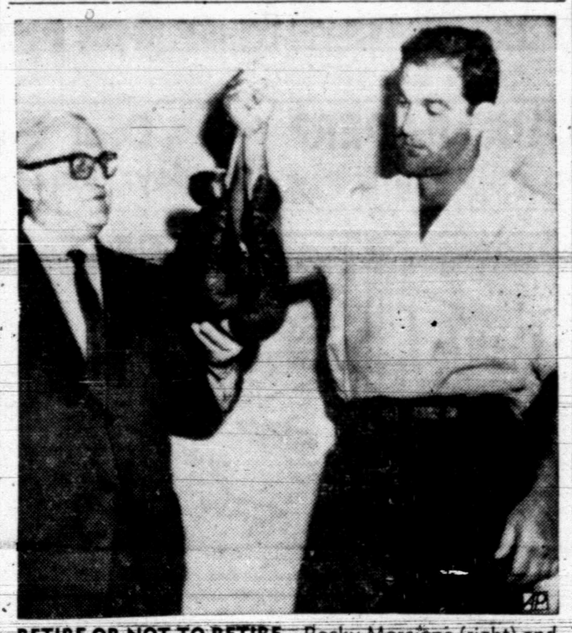

A gulf was opening up between the three top clubs—Corpus Christi, Port Arthur and Wichita Falls—and the rest of the field in the Big State League race Monday.

Corpus Christi clung tightly to its first place standing Sunday night as the Clippers bashed Beaumont 11-7 with lightning strikes in two innings.

Port Arthur stayed a game behind with an 8-1 decision over Victoria, with Leo Scarpa twirling one of the best games of the season. Scarpa gave up only five singles and chipped in with three hits of his own.

Wichita Falls clubbed Lubbock 7-0 to stay a half-game back of Port Arthur.

Waco downed Abilene 6-3 and it dropped Abilene a game and a half back of Wichita Falls.

Unbeaten Tigers, WF Clash

All-Southpaw Duel Slated In Crucial Game

For the second time in the young District 3-AA baseball campaign, the Tigers will be involved in the feature game tomorrow afternoon when they play hosts to the Wichita Falls Coyotes at City League Park.

The Tigers and Coyotes currently share the lead in the 3-AA race, each with 1-0 records. The Bengals edged the pre - season district favorite, Abilene, 4-3, for their loop win while the Coyotes subdued the Vernon Lions, 13-2. Both games were played last Tuesday.

All four 3-AA teams were to have seen action again over the weekend but rain washed out the scheduled games. The Tigers were to have met Vernon here Thursday and Wichita Falls and Abilene were slated to meet at Abilene Saturday but rain postponed both games.

The Tiger - Vernon game has been re-set for May 8 at Vernon. The new date for the Abilene-Wichita Falls game hasn't been re-set.

Tiger coach Speedy Moffet revealed this morning that he plans to send left hander Ronnie Baker against Wichita Falls tomorrow. Baker owns a 4-2 season record.

Tomorrow's game, thus, will be an all-southpaw duel since left hander Howard Franklin is expected to get the starting call for the Coyotes. Franklin sports a 4-0 record.

Moffett revealed also today that he may juggle his lineup somewhat tomorrow to get as many right hand hitters in the game to face the Coyote lefty. The two anticipated changes will put Alan Snead at third in place of left hand hitting Jerry Taylor and Dwayne Prince in right field.

The right field spot is usually manned by either Baker or Pat Fowler, both left hand hitters. Baker, however, will be in the game since he is the probable starter on the mound.

The other positions will probably remain intact, Milton Ham at first, Joe Reaves at second, Tommy Prichard at shortstop, Neal Boyd in left field, Gary Vice in center field, and Don McNew, catching.

The Tigers will carry a 16-5 season record into tomorrow's game as compared to 7-4 owned by the Coyotes.

Tomorrow's game will start at 3:45.

Abilene will go to Vernon tomorrow in the other 3-AA tilt.

Franklin, the Coyote ace, has racked up 70 strikeouts in 42 innings on the mound this season. He whiffed 13 in five innings against Vernon last week in the 3-AA opener.

Maxwell Captures Hot Springs Title

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Billy Maxwell, who was a boy wonder as an amateur, played like an old pro yesterday in winning the $15,000 Hot Springs Open Golf Tournament—his biggest triumph so far.

Maxwell, 26, has been a "promising youngster" for several years on the pro circuit. He "arrived" yesterday when he birdied the final hole for a 72-hole total of 272 and a one-stroke victory over Ernie Vossler, Fort Worth, Tex., and George Bayer, Cincinnati.

Maxwell, from Odessa, Tex., opened with an 8-under-par 64 to take the lead. He held or shared it all the way, following up with score of 69, 70 and 69 over the par 36-36—72 layout.

Yesterday he started only a stroke ahead of Bo Wininger, Oklahoma City, the defending champion, and Bayer, who also remained remarkably steady with three straight 68s and a 69.

Maxwell needed a birdie to win on the 510-yard 18th after Bayer and Vossler had eagled that hole. He calmly drove his 180-yard second shot to within 15 feet of the hole and he was all smiles when he walked onto the green.

He putted to within about a foot of the hole and tapped it in to take the $2,400 check.

Vossler missed a one-foot putt on No. 17 that would have given him a tie for the top. His 66 still was the best round of the day.

Wninger, troubled by a crick in his neck, shot a 70 and finished fourth at 274. Cary Middlecoff, Dallas, Tex., finished in a tie for fifth with home town pro Pete Fleming at 277.

Airmen Trip Local 9, 7-3

Webb Air Force Base of Big Spring defeated Snyder Furniture in an exhibition game at City League Park here yesterday, 7-3.

Charlie McNew, a Snydertie but who is now stationed at Webb, pitched the Airmen to victory with a four-hitter.

"Junk" Bowers and Lee Gatewood divided mound duties for the Furniture- nine with Bowers, the starter, taking the loss.

Dick Sisler, whose home run for the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Brooklyn Dodgers out of the 1950 pennant on the last day of the National League campaign, is back playing first base with San Diego in the Pacific Coast League.

FIRST 2-TIME WINNER

Roberts In 2nd 1956 Victory

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

Robin Roberts to win 20 games is as close to a sure thing as you get in baseball.

The Philadelphia Phillies ace has a head start toward a seventh straight year in the select circle. But he insists he never set a goal, just doing his best for the club.

He doesn't put too much stock in low-hitters either. With him a "winning game" in which he gives nine hits is a better job than a lost one-hitter.

His first two starts this season illustrate. He barely staggered through against Brooklyn opening day, yet he won it. Yesterday at Philadelphia, he needed a tight effort to beat Johnny Antonelli's three-hitter. He gave the New York Giants five hits but Antonelli threw one bad pitch—a three-run homer by Ted Kaanski—and the Phils won 3-1.

The Giants climbed on Curt Simmons, making his first start, and batted out a 9-7 edge in the second game. Willie Mays hit a three-run homer off reliefer Bob Miller in the ninth.

Don Newcombe got on the beam with a three-hitter as Brooklyn downed Pittsburgh 4-1 in a game called by rain in the seventh.

Milwaukee remained in the National League lead by slugging St. Louis 13-5 in the second game after St. Louis took the first 10-4 on an eight-run sixth-inning.

Homers by Ernie Banks, Monte Irvn and Solly Drake gave the Chicago Cubs a 5-4 decision over Cincinnati. Their second game was called by darkness, a 1-1 tie after seven innings.

The New York Yankees cooled off the Boston Red Sox, taking three in a row at Yankee Stadium to tighten their grip on the American League lead. Five Red Sox errors and homers by Don Larsen, Yogi Berra and Joe Collins added up to a 13-6 Yankee victory.

Billy Pierce of Chicago shut out Kansas City with three hits 3-0 in a quick turnabout by the White Sox, who were slugged 15-1 by the A's Saturday.

Two homers by Detroit's Al Kaline helped account for a first-game victory over Cleveland 6-4, but Bob Lemon went the route for the first time since last May 30 to give the Tribe an even break with a 5-2 verdict in the nightcap. Rookie Fred Besana topped Washington in Baltimoe's 7-3 opening victory, but Camilo Pascual earned a split for Washington with a 4-1 four-hitter in the second.

Two Auto Racers Die In Crashes

By The Associated Press

Two well-known auto racers died violent deaths yesterday in separate races in California.

Walt Faulkner of Long Beach, Calif., was crushed to death when his 1956 Ford went out of control in a qualifying trial at the West Coast Speedway at Vallejo and rolled over several times. Promoter Fred Agajanian said Faulkner was thrown partially out of the car because his waist belt held but his shoulder strap snapped.

Ernie McAfee, 37, of Beverly Hills, Calif., died instantly when his powerful Ferrari crashed into a tree at 75 miles per hour on a sharp hairpin turn in the first fatal accident in seven years of road racing in the National Sports Car races at Pebble Beach.

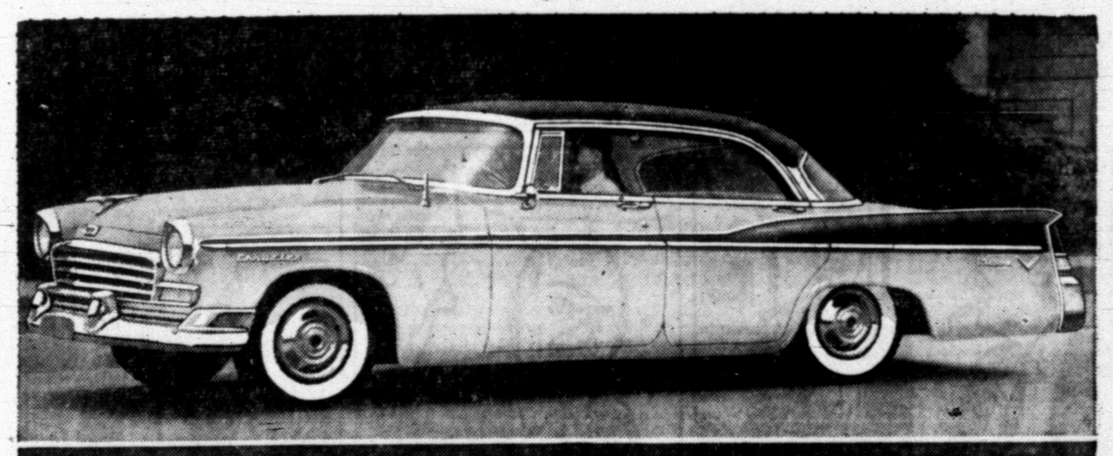

Troy Ruttman of Fresno, who lapped the field, won the 100-lap Vallejo race on a ⅝-mile graded clay track in 47 minutes, 39.75 seconds. Les Snow, Bloomington, Ind. was second and Marshall Teague, Daytona Beach, Fla. third. All drove 1956 Chevrolets.

At Pebble Beach, Carroll Shelby, of Dallas won the Del Monte Trophy event for modified cars of over 1500 CC. He averaged 71.74 M.P.H. for 100 miles over twisting, narrow roads. Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif. was second and Jack McAfee was third. All drove Ferraris.

Youth Shoots His Family To Death

MANSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy, aiming awkwardly because of poor eyesight, shot to death his entire family — mother, father and older brother.

He told police they picked on him and he feared he would be sent to reform school.

Fifth-grader Robert Curgenven said he killed the three late Saturday afternoon at the family's rural home here, 30 miles east of Hartford. He slept in the farmhouse that night, then reported the killings to a neighbor Sunday morning.

One night last week his father spanked him because he wouldn't put out his bedroom light and go to sleep, Robert said.

After telling his story to police yesterday, Robert was committed to the state hospital at Norwich for a 30-day menal examination.

Robert is built stockily but he has poor sight in his right eye and wears glasses. He said he had to sight the rifle with his left eye.

He told State Police Lt. Harry Taylor he reloaded the .22 caliber rifle after every shot, carrying spare bullets between his teeth.

First he killed his brother, Richard Jr. He walked into the barn where Richard was milking a cow about 5:30 p.m.

"I'm going to shoot you," he told Richard. But he said Richard paid him no mind and snapped: "Get out of here."

When Richard resumed milking, Robert fired a shot that caught the brother in the hand. The brother flung a milking can at him and Robert fired again—hitting him in the stomach.

Robert backed out the barn door and Richard stumbled after him. Again Robert fired and again he hit him in the stomach. The brother crumpled to the ground and Robert fired the last time at his brother—a shot into the head.

Reloading, Robert went to the farmhouse where he saw his mother, Beatric, 41, through a bedroom window. He said that when she saw him aiming the rifle she shouted something that sounded like "hey." 'Robert shot her dead with one shot, police said—just above the heart.

Robert said he slammed another round into the rifle chamber, and his father, Richard, 42, ran out of the house toward him. "Hi Dad," Robert said—and fired a shot that hit in the abdomen. Although wounded, the father shouted to him:

"Give me that rifle."

Robert said he loaded once more—the last time, for the next shot caught his father in the head, and he fell to the ground dead.

Taylor quoted Robert as saying he covered the bodies with blankets and went into the house. He ate something and went to bed about 9 p.m., but he said he didn't sleep very well. He got up at 9 a.m. Sunday.

It wasn't until 11 a.m. that he went to the home of a neighbor, John E. Powers, a placement officer at the University of Connecticut.

Powers said that at first he didn't believe the boy's story. He said he seemed quite normal and talked "in a normal way." But Powers went to the farmhouse and found the three bodies.

Dixie Group Plugging For Law, Order

BILOXI, Miss., April 21 (AP)—Leading Dixie citizens taking part in the Southern Assembly joined today in the view that state governments should take active leadership in relieving racial tension.

In panel discussion, they emphasized the importance of maintaining law and order, and urged that the governors set the proper tone and atmosphere for rational consideration of segregation and associated problems.

Former Gov. Sam H. Jones of Louisiana declared in an address that "the time has come, and is overripe, for the establishment of a permanent two party system in the South."

Prefacing his remarks with the statement that "I am a Democrat and hope to remain a Democrat," Jones said:

"My chief reason for advocating the two party system for this region is that it will release from political bondage that great unused and largely wasted leadership of the south which can be used to the political advantage of both the south and the nation as a whole."

The assembly is sponsored by Tulane University in cooperation with the American Assembly of Columbia's University, which was founded by President Eisenhower in 1950 when he was president of Columbia.

The meeting has brought together approximately 50 leaders from various aspects of Southern life for a four-day discussion of the functions and problems of state government. The session ends tomorrow.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The man who enjoys puffing on that big fat cigar merely is indulging in an adult version of thumb sucking.

And the same goes for the cigarette smoker and the gum chewer, said Dr. Maury Massler, head of the children's department at the University of Illinois' College of Dentistry.

Massler, speaking to the annual Oklahoma State Dental Assn. convention, urged parents to use more understanding in dealing with problems of thumb sucking and nail biting in children.

He said every person needs some habit to relieve tension and give relaxation. "It is a method of relieving the inner tensions that build up," Massler said.

"Kids who bite nails, although it is not socially acceptable, are releasing the tension they live under," the Illinois dentist said. He emphasized that it is perfectly normal.

The man who puffs contentedly on a cigar "is sucking his thumb" and the man who chews vigorously on his stogie "is a nail biter," Massler said.

Massler claimed it was no accident that people chew gum or smoke, citing research which he said shows that gum chewing started when the typewriter was invented. The need to use both hands ruled out nail biting or hair twirling as a release for stenographers.

"Parents should recognize the fact that every infant sucks his finger when he has nothing else to do," Massler advised. "But if he continues to suck his tumb past the weaning age and persists after 3 or 4 years, the dentist should begin to worry about it."

Work Horse Kills Child

MOUNT OLIVE, Miss., April 21 (AP)—A "gentle" work horse pulled a 20-month-old boy across a barbed wire fence with his teeth and then kicked the child to death.

The strange incident was reported today by the child's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Vester Bond.

The couple said little Johnnie Ray Nichols had gone up to a barbed wire fence that separated the yard and pasture at their farm home near here.

While the tot stood admiring the horse, the animal suddenly stretched across the fence and picked up the boy by his clothing and dragged him across the wire.

The horse then dropped the child, the uncle reported, and kicked him 15 to 20 feet away.

Dr. A. S. Calhoun of Mount Olive said the child "gasped once or twice and died a few minutes after he was brought to my office."

The horse was used to pull logs, the farmer said, and was never considered dangerous.

The child's mother, Mrs. ondale Broadway had left him with the Bonds while she recuperated from an operation in another town.

Yacht Is Reported Stolen In Maryland

CONOWINGO, Md. (AP)—Stolen: one yacht, value about $12,000. And one rowboat, too.

State Police said the rowboat was stolen Saturday night from a boatyard 10 miles up Northeast River, and apparently was used by the thieves to get to the yacht, moored down river. The 42-foot yacht, owned by Richard K. Barnes of Charlestown, Md., was reported last seen off Turkey Point on Chespeake Bay—towing a rowboat.

Brothel Keepers Join Japan Party

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's ruling Liberal-Democratic Party today reflected a swarm of prospective new members — prostitutes and brothel keepers anxious to block passage of a government - sponsored anti-prostitution bill.

Shigemasa Sunda, national organiation committee chairman of the party, said: "I intend to refuse such persons or groups whose aims and actions run counter to the benefit of the country."

The newspaper Asahi said more than 100,000 brothel keepers and inmates had planned to join the party. The National Venereal Disease Prevention Society, which advocates legal prostitution, had circulated pamphlets asking each madame to sign up at least three new Liberal-Democrats by May 20.

REMODELED M&M RADIO & ELECTRIC—Some of the results of a newly completed remodeling and expansion program at M&M Radio & Electric, 1910 Twenty-seventh Street. In the top picture the Firm's display of television sets are displayed, and in the lower picture is the new office with merchandise display on the outside of the office. M&M Radio And Electric Remodels And Expands Firm

Remodeling and expansion of the activites of M & M Radio & Electric, 1910 Twenty-seventh Street, has just been completed and a special sale of electical appliances including TV sets is being held to celebrate the expansion.

Milton Mapes, owner, said that the store has been remodeled to give quicker and better service to the firm's many customers.

In the television set repair and service department several pieces of testing equipment have been added to assure quicker and more accurate diagnosis of reception troubles and to point up the exact cause of troubles thereby greatly reducing the time necessary to make the correct repairs, and resulting in a big saving to the firms TV service customers.

The small appliance repair department of the firm has also been expanded and many mere parts for all types of small appliances are now being stocked to eliminate any delays while necessary repairs are being ordered.

"We can now give service on all types of appliances, and in most of the cases we have all the necessary repair parts in our stocks," Mapes said.

Along with these expansions of the service facilities of the firm its sales and display departments have been remodeled and expanded.

Occupying the newly remodeled television display area are Hoffman and Packard-Bell television sets, with the Packard-Bell line having been recently added.

"The Packard-Bell television sets have long been the leader in sales on the west coast, and the sets popularity has recently resulted is a demand for them in this area," Mapes said.

"We are proud to be distributors here for the Packard-Bell line in which all the television sets have three distinct features in all their sets," he added.

Those features common to all Packard-Bel sets are hardwood cabinets which come in any style, color or wood desired to fit with any room decor, all sets have aluminized picture tubes for better [illegible] picture, and all have power transformers—a chassis feature which insures better reception and longer life especially in areas of problem reception.

Garland Williams, a television, tower, and general electonics man has been added to the staff to complete the expansion program. Williams recently moved to Snyder from Ballinger where he was associated for four years with a national chain's store appliance store there.

Leroy Thrower, a graduate of the Oklahoma A & M College school of electonics, is head of the TV repair department. Thrower served in the U. S. Navy in the radar field during World War II.

Bill Cantwell is head of the appliance service department.

Bill Butler, formerly associated with the Pan American Pipeline Co., is business manager of the firm.

Rail Workers Slate Strike

TYLER (AP)—Some 6,000 Cotton Belt Railroad workers were poised to strike at 6:01 a.m. Wednesday unless a settlement is reached on the railroad's discontinuation of passenger service in East Texas, Union spokesmen said yesterday.

Service was discontinued yesterday with the permission of the Railroad Commission. The seven railroad brotherhoods contended the move had adverse effects on the wages and working conditions. Reporting the unions had voted overwhelmingly for the strike, Rayburn Roberts of the trainmen said the strike "probably would have no effect on other railroads unless it disrupts their schedules."

The president of the Cotton Belt, H. J. McKenie of Tyler, withheld comment.

The Cotton Belt applied Nov. 14 for permission to drop service on its last two passenger trains in Texas. Hearings were held in Mt. Pleasant and the commission granted permission April 2.

The company said passenger service was losing money. The trains operated between Dallas, Tyler and Texarkana.

Chain Reaction Ends In Death Of Youth

CHICAGO (AP)—A 2-year-old who fell against the gas pedal of his mother's car set off a chain reaction that killed an older boy playing behind a six-foot brick wall.

Mrs. Winifred Breakey, 36, told police she was driving her three children home from church when the youngest, James, fell to the floor and struck the accelerator. The car bounced over a curb and truck the brick wall at the entrance to the Trumbull Park housing project on the Far South Side. Flying bricks killed James Buchanan, 9, behind the wall.

Mrs. Breakey was charged with reckless homicide.

19 In State Are Killed Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

Violent deaths over the weekend took at least 19 lives in Texas.

Electrocutions, fires, shootings, stabbings and a hanging accounted for most deaths. Seven were attributed to highway mishaps.

Officers investigated the death Sunday of A. B. Damron of Hereford. He was first thought a traffic victim. His body was found in his car which had left the highway and smashed into a pole. Morticians found two bullet holes in his head. A revolver was in the car.

Noe Balderama, 22, of Dallas wa shot to death in a Dallas tavern Sunday night. He ignored cops' orders to halt as he advanced toward them with a knife.

Mrs. Sallie Moore, 50, of Pampa and Liss Lola Goolsby, 16, of Roby were killed near Anson in a two-car collision Sunday. Three were injured.

Willis Childers, 14, was found hanged at his home near Pleasant Grove in Dallas County. Suicide was ruled.

Ray Stevens, 25, of Corpus Christi, a gasoline transport truck driver, was killed about 40 miles southeast of Victoria Saturday when his truck and an auto collided.

Alice Boa, 51, of Bridgeport, and Judy Boyington, 11, of Sherman, were killed in a two-car crash four miles east of Jacksboro Saturday.

Three oilfield workers were electrocuted at Darst Creek Field, 15 miles west of Seguin, Saturday when a truck hit an electric line. They were Francis Johnson, 37, Sydney Shumake, 26, and Joe Rodenberg, 24, all of Luling.

Mrs. Ima Patterson, 43, of Smithville was found shot to death in a car near the Bastrop State Park late Saturday. A pistol was near.

Alonso Selera, 17, was stabbed to death at San Antonio Sunday by a boy, 14, who said the two had argued.

Danny Howton, 2, was killed at Bryan Saturday. The door of a car driven by his father, Sgt. Burt Howton, came open and the baby fell out.

Youth Wins Large Prize

TUJUNGA, Calif. (AP)—Ten-year-old Leonard Ross, the wizard of Wall Street information, isn't a genius, he "just worked and studied," says his father.

Wiliam Ross, 56, a Los Angeles accountant, said yesterday that Lennie, who won $100,000 on the NBC-TV "Big Surprise" show Saturday night, is really more interested in politics than the stock market.

However, the father said he let his son select some of Mrs. Ross' stock last year and 'They've earned at least 10 per cent."

As for the $100,000 the father said: "It's all his. I don't get any of it." And what if Ross Sr. hit Lennie for a loan?

"Hah!" said the father. "He'll probably be protected by some stone-hearted bankers looking after a trust account. They might not consider me a good risk."

The boy answered five complicated questions about the stock market Saturday night, becoming the fourth contestant to capture the top money. Lennie said in New York he would give some of the money to charity, see that his grandmother gets a trip to Montreal, his father some new hi-fi recordings and his mother a tape recorder.

Miss Lucy Is Married In Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A shy, nervous Autherine Lucy married her poised and smiling college sweetheart, the Rev. H. C. Foster, 27, here yesterday.

The big auditorium of the St. John Baptist hurch was jammed with Negroes and a few whites who craned their necks for a view of the ceremony.

The 26-year-old Birmingham, Ala., secretary who was the first Negro to enter the University of Alabama then was expelled after a series of race riots, quietly said "I do" amid the glare of television floodlights and flash bulbs.

The Tyler, Tex., student minister's "I do" was loud and clear.

Micropnones hidden in the bower of white carnations over the couple picked up the proceedings for TV and radio reproduction later.

After a seven-minute ceremony the groom and bride kissed. A ripple of applause ran through the crowd in the high-ceilinged church. Photographers asked for another kiss but the bride refused and the crowd laughed politely.

After a brief reception at the home of the Rev. E. C. Estell, church pastor, the couple left on an automobile trip in east Texas for a honeymoon.

On May 6 the bride is scheduled to begin a tour of Texas sponsored by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in interests of a membership campaign.

After that, she said, she hopes to continue her education at the University of Alabama or some other Southern College. The couple will call Tyler their home. He preaches at two rural Negro Baptist churches there.

Victories Listed In Long Cold War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is developing its own test of the widely advertised peaceful purposes behind Russia's new look foreign policy.

The heart of the challenge as defined by President Eisenhower is that Russia's leaders should wipe out the "wrongs of Stalin" which he said still prevail against other nations. He said those wrongs include the division of Germany and Korea, the European satellite regimes and the uncertainty of peace in Asia.

Eisenhower laid out his ideas on Soviet relations in a speech before the annual dinner of the American Society of Newspaper Editors Saturday night.

In an off-the-cuff addition to his prepared speech, he listed a series of what he termed "cold war victories." He said he doesn't believe anyone knows who is winning the cold war, but added that those who say the West is winning "can point to some facts rather than merely allegations."

He proposed creation of a sort of brain trust to advise the government on foreign policy—a "rotating advisory board" of private citizens, he called it.

At the same time he renewed his appeal for a long-range U.S. foreign aid program, an issue now pending before Congress. He said that as a former colonial subject of the British Empire, the United States understands and respects the views of nations more recently free and accepts "the right of each nation to choose its own path to the future."

The United States must maintain a foreign aid program "so long as freedom is threatened and armaments are not controlled," he said.

Eisenhower spoke at the conclusion of a two-week period during which he and his advisers had been reviewing Soviet policies more intensively than usual. Participating in the restudy was U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, due back in Moscow this week.

Furthermore, Eisenhower spoke at a time when Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev are visiting Britain and proclaiming the Soviet peace line.

"The future alone," he said, "can show whether the Communists realy want to move toward a just and stable peace."

State May Receive Scattered Showers

By The Associated Press

Continued cloudy weather with scattered showers was predicted for Texas but there was no prospects of badly-needed general soaking rains.

A light drizzle fell at Brownsville early Monday but no other moisture was reported.

A cool front that entered the state over the weekend had slowed to a near halt Monday. At dawn, it lay on a line from south of Texarkana and Dallas westward through Abilene and Midland and northwestward into New Mexico.

Early morning temperatures Monday ranged from 37 degrees at Dalhart to 71 at Brownsville. Wink with 87 was the warmest spot in the state Sunday afternoon while Dalhart's 60 was the coolest.

Wedding Tunes Are Played All In Vain

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The organ played the traditional wedding tunes. A church packed with guests craned their necks for the bride to walk down the aisle.

The groom fidgeted.

The Rev. James Inglis, there with book open, was ready to marry his son, Robert Inglis, 24, and Miss June Wilson, 19.

It would have been a beautiful wedding but for one thing. The bride never showed.

The bride's mother explained: "She was scared. The wedding's been called off indefinitely."

The mother said that her daughter was home in bed.

"She almost had a nervous breakdown. And I'm pretty sick myself," the almost mother-in-law added.

Body Is Found

DALLAS (AP)—The body of a high school student was found last night hanging on a rope hooked over a door in his parents' home near Pleasant Grove. The body of Willie Childers, 14, was found by his mother, Mrs. Roy Watson, when the family returned home after dark. Suicide was ruled.

Red Tactics Are Blasted

MOSCOW (AP)—The standard Soviet practice of trial by confession—which served Stalin so well in erasing his foes—has been denounced in Russia's leading law journal.

The magazine Soviet State and Law labeled the procedure a "glaring violation of . . . socialist legality." It roundly criticized the late Andrei Vishinsky, who prosecuted the famed purge trials of the 1930s at which many veteran Bolsheviks were convicted on their own confessions and put to death.

Vishinsky subseuently served as chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations. He died in November 1954.

The unsigned article said Vishinsky's legal theories had turned into "unimpeachable dogma." It called on judicial workers to "make a deep and manifold study and throw light on the questions of guarantees and the means of insuring legality in the matter of guarding the rights and interests of citizens of the U.S.S.R."

In line with the current campaign to take the emphasis away from Stalin, the Soviet Union paid enthusiastic homage to Lenin yesterday—the 86th anniversary of his birth.
