Special Gas Tax Weighed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special tax on gasoline, once rejected by President Ford, is gaining favor in the administration and may be a major proposal in the program Ford sends to Congress to fight inflation.

A White House source said Ford is considering raising the federal tax on gasoline by anywhere from 10 to 20 cents a gallon.

"We know the public won't be happy about this and we can't be sure Congress will go along," the source said. "But we think it's something that would help."

Ford closed his economic summit conference Saturday with a pledge to send anti-inflation recommendations to Congress within 10 days. A higher gasoline tax is being promoted within the admistration on grounds it would discourage gasoline consumption while raising new tax revenue to finance federal programs, such as public service employment.

The higher gasoline tax was first advocated by Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, but met with resistance from Ford.

However, a White House spokesman confirmed Sunday the idea has been resurrected as "one of many ideas under study."

Other elements of the economic program are expected to include help for the housing industry in the form of mortgage interest subsidies, budget cuts, a public service employment program and some tax relief for groups hurt worst by inflation.

Even without a special tax, gasoline prices would go up in the future if the government decides to release the rest of the domestic oil industry from price controls, as proposed by Simon. About 60 per cent of the nation's domestic production, referred to as "old oil" is held to a top price of about $5.25 a barrel, while the rest of production sells for near the world market price of about $10 a barrel.

ON US-CUBAN RELATIONS

Senators Say Ice Broken

Talks Are Friendly

HVANA, Cuba (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro met with two American senators who said afterward they got the "impression that Cuba is interested in working toward a normalization" of relations with the United States.

"The ice has been broken," Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., told reporters after he and Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., spent three hours with Castro late Sunday night.

The two senators were to end their three-day visit today.

Pell said the meeting with Castro was "frank, warm and friendly," but neither senator would say why he believed an improved climate between the two countries may be in the offing.

Javits said among the issues raised during the meeting were Cuban attempts to export revolution, the status of nine American political prisoners on the island and American property taken over by the Castro government.

Twenty-hours earlier, Castro attacked President Ford in a speech for his defense of CIA operations against the Allende regime in Chile. He also charged that the United States rather than the oil-exporting countries is responsible for the world economic crisis.

Asked how a normalization of relations could be in prospect in view of these statements, Pell replied: "There is a difference between words and actions."

The senators likened Cuba's attitude to that of the Soviet Union and China, both of which have improved relations with the United States while maintaining a tough anti-American posture in official declarations.

Javits said their visit was "in no way, shape or form approval of any of the policies of this government."

He said he told Castro he took strong exception to the prime minister's speech.

The New Yorker said Saturday after meeting with Foreign Minister Raul Roa that it was his clear impression that the Cuban government was prepared to discuss a more normal relationship with the United States.

Castro earlier expressed hope that President Ford's accession to the White House might lead to an improved climate between Cuba and the United States, and the visit by the two senators and 29 American newsmen who accompanied them was a step in that direction.

The senators, the first members of Congress to visit Cuba since before the United States broke diplomatic relations in 1961, were not in Havana's Revolution Plaza when Castro spoke Saturday to hundreds of thousands of Cubans.

AS PORTUGAL PRESIDENT

Spinola Resigns

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Gen. Antonio de Spinola resigned as president of Portugal today, claiming he was powerless to prevent the country's slide into chaos and anarchy.

The Junta of National Salvation, comprising the military rulers who overthrew the heirs of the Salazar dictatorship last April, quickly appointed as Spinola's successor Gen. Francisco Costa Gomes, long considered the president's top assistant in the junta.

Spinola resigned after leftists forced his rightist supporters to cancel a weekend rally in the general's honor. But the underlying causes of Spinola's departure were basic disagreements with the left over the pace with which reforms were being introduced in post-revolutionary Portuguese society.

"I cannot and will not take part" in a "betrayal of the spirit of themovement" that brought the military to power, the 64-year-old general declared in a national telecast.

He said part of that spirit was a commitment to "harmony among all political beliefs" and added: "This harmony will never be possible when on one hand the declared chiefs of some political parties make appeals to good sense and on the other hand respective active groups choose the path of psychological warfare through the big news media and even through violence in flagrant negation of liberty."

"I find myself facing evidence that the program of the movement of the armed forces is developing in a direction that would result in its own neutralization in a climate of a reversal of moral standards within which true democracy and liberty are impossible," Spinola said.

He charged that there has been a "systematic surrender" to "reforms carried out in a maniacal way" which threatened the capacity of the Portuguese people to define their "democratic institutions."

He said the "pervading atmosphere" was "total absence of law" that was depriving the Portuguese "of their true ability to exercise sovereignty.

"In this general climate of anarchy, where everyone dictates his own law, crisis and chaos are inevitable, in flagrantocontradiction to the purposes of the movement."

Condition Of First Lady Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — As First Lady Betty Ford's doctors awaited a crucial pathology report to determine the extent of her cancer, they reported today she had spent a "much more restful night" and that her condition is good.

A medical bulletin prepared by doctors at the Bethesda, Md., naval hospital said Mrs. Ford "has had some mild temperature elevation, typical of a post-operative course."

They said "all laboratory data and vital signs are within normal limits," and said Mrs. Ford "has been sitting in a chair and walking for short intervals and is taking fluids this morning."

Ford Opens IMF Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford told government financial officials from around the world today that economic problems are serious and complex but the United States believes they can be solved through international cooperation.

In his text for the opening session of the annual meeting here of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, Ford said:

"I think I can sum up our thinking very briefly. We want solutions which serve broad interests rather than narrow, self-serving ones. We want more cooperation not more isolation. We want trade not protectionism. We want price stability not inflation. We want growth not stagnation."

Ford declared that the United States is prepared to play a constructive leadership role.

He described the major economic problems as "a worldwide inflation at a rate far in excess of what we can tolerate; unparalleled disruptions in the supply of the world's major commodities; and severe hindrances to the real growth and progress of many nations, including, in particular, some of the poorest among us."

"We in America view these problems soberly and without rose-tinted glasses," Ford said. "But we believe that the same spirit of international cooperation which brought forth the Bretton Woods agreements a generation ago can resolve the difficulties we face today."

Accords reached at Bretton Woods, N.H. at the end of World War II fashioned an international monetary system that functioned essentially unchanged until the early 1970s. The IMF has been seeking to draft a replacement system.

Strachan Ordered Separate Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica today ordered a separate Watergate cover-up trial for former White House aide Gordon Strachan.

The order leaves five defendants to face charges in the main cover-up trial scheduled to begin Tuesday.

Strachan's lawyer, John M. Bray, told reporters as he left the U.S. District Courthouse today, "we've been severed from the cover-up case."

Sirica also was expected to rule today on whether he will allow typed transcripts to be used along with some 33 presidential tapes the prosecution wants as evidence at the trial.

A separate request from Strachan that the conspiracy, obstruction of justice, and perjury charges against him be dismissed was denied without prejudice by Sirica.

The fact that the motion was denied without prejudice means Strachan can raise the issue again later.

The separate trial for Strachan is based upon a special legal problem. The one-time personal assistant to White House chief of staff H. R. Haldeman claims the evidence used to indict him is tainted.

Strachan's attorney has said Strachan was promised immunity from prosecution in exchange for testimony before a Watergate grand jury.

In a series of appeals, Bray also said his client's testimony before the Senate Watergate Committee was improperly used to obtain the indictment.

Two U.S. Court of Appeals judges, while refusing to dismiss the charges against Strachan acknowledged that his legal argument has merit.

Gertrude Stalls In Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Gertrude stalled in the Atlantic today and began to weaken about 200 miles southeast of Barbados, the National Hurricane Center reported.

Gertrude, with early morning winds up to the minimal hurricane status of 75 miles an hour, could be downgraded to a tropical storm later today.

WITHOUT HOSTILE ACTION

Terrorist Deadline Passes

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — U.S. diplomat Barbara Hutchison was reported in good spirits but uncomfortable today inside the sweltering Venezuelan Consulate where six leftist terrorists held her and five other persons hostage under threat of death.

Early today the gunmen demanded that police and troops pull back from the two-story stucco building within two hours, but the government did not comply and the deadline passed without any evidence of hostile action by the terrorists.

"Miss Hutchison has not been maltreated, is in good spirits and is being treated as well as she can under the conditions," said U.S. Ambassador Robert A. Hurwitch. "But she is not comfortable."

Miss Hutchison, director of the U.S. Information Service in the Dominican Republic, Venezuelan Consul-General Jesus de Gregorio and the others were seized Friday and threatened with death unless the terrorists got $1 million and safe conduct to Cuba or Mexico for themselves and 37 Dominican prisoners. The government rejected all the demands except transportation out of the country for the terrorists.

On Saturday, the government cut off the consulate's electricity, which in turn shut down the air conditioning and water pumps. The temperature inside the building has ranged between 90-95 degrees, and the gunmen have refused to open the windows, apparently afraid the hostages would try to escape. On Saturday, one hostage leaped to freedom from a second-floor window.

Hurwitch, who needed a shave and spent a sleepless night, told newsmen after conferring with police that mattresses would be taken into the building soon.

"We have been reviewing some of the measures to make them more comfortable in there and this is one of the things we came up with," he said.

Asked about progress in negotiations to free the captives, he said: "I wish I could say something about this to you but my inability to is only over the concern for Miss Hutchison and the others."

He said the Dominican government has "primary responsibility" in any negotiations, and that he was "hopeful for a peaceful solution."

Archbishop Hugo Polanco, the only person to enter the consulate Sunday, said the guerrillas asked that a negotiating commission be set up, "but the Dominican government has not agreed to act upon that request."

The six hostages and their captors got their first food and drink in 24 hours Sunday when the archbishop took sandwiches and soft drinks into the consulate. Police sources said the government had agreed to the delivery of food and other necessities twice a day.

He's a reconditioned exhibitionist

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by The Chicago Tribune

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from "Scared," the 19-year-old girl who just found out that her steady boyfriend had been arrested several times for indecent exposure.

Thank you for your compassionate and understanding attitude. You said, "It's an illness. He needs therapy." Abby, you are so right.

I am a 28-year-old man who was cursed with that illness for about 15 years. It's called "exhibitionism." And it's as difficult to control as alcoholism. In plain language, it's an uncontrollable urge to expose oneself.

I was normal in all other respects and couldn't understand this fierce urge I seemed powerless to control. I won't go into the humiliation, problems with the law and tremendous guilt feelings I suffered until I finally found a psychologist who knew how to treat this illness. He used the "conditioning" technique, and it cured me.

I have been married for five years to a woman who stood by me through the worst. She gave me the courage to seek professional help, and the strength the stick with the treatment. Had it not been for her, I could not be signing myself.

EX-EXHIBITIONIST

P.S. Abby, because I trust you, and know that you will not betray that trust, I am signing my real name and address. If you print my letter, please don't divulge my name or location. Although I am cured, and, God willing, will never regress, I am still ashamed of my past.

DEAR EX: Because I feel that an unenlightened society has misunderstood this problem for years I shall print your letter.

Perhaps in an effort not to seem self-serving, you failed to mention an important fact: Exhibitionists are usually gentle, non-violent people, and the chances of their attacking anyone are very, very remote.

But in fairness to society, exhibitionists cannot be allowed to go about traumatizing children and shocking adults.

Those who sincerely wish to overcome their problem have an excellent chance of being helped, either by psychotherapy or conditioned reflex therapy. I urge those who are still fighting this battle to seek out such help.

DEAR ABBY: "Stumped Divorcee" didn't know how to say "no" to a man. (She said, "If I had never been married, I could say I was saving myself for marriage, but a divorcee can't say that.")

I have a solution for her. I was a divorcee for ten years. I never said "no" to a man because I didn't want him to think I was a prude. And I never said "yes" because I didn't want him to think I was a tramp. So I always said "maybe."

It worked like a charm. I had so many proposals I couldn't count them.

I am now married to the greatest guy in the world.

THE MAYBE GIRL

DEAR MAYBE: I can only assume that your "maybe" turned into a "yes." What was the time schedule on that?

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman who is very much in love with a man who says he loves me, but I can't seem to hang on to him. He disappears for weeks at a time and I don't know how to locate him. When he is gone I just about go crazy. He is gone now.

I went to a spiritual person who does healing, reads palms, and communicates with people who are far away. She says she can help me get my man back for good, but first I have to sign up for a program which costs $50 for the first session, and $10 every two weeks after that.

I don't have a lot of money, but I would sure pay that much to get my man back. Should I sign up?

LOUISIANA

DEAR LA: Save your money and report that "spiritual person" to the Better Business Bureau and the Bunco Division of your local police department.

If your man loves you, you won't need a third party to get him back. He'll COME back.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Kissinger Meets With Mavros

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is moving toward a bigger role in the efforts to work out a settlement of the Cyprus crisis.

Kissinger's first task on arriving in New York Sunday was to meet with Greek Foreign Minister George Mavros. The next item on his schedule was a breakfast meeting today with the Turkish foreign minister, Turan Gunes.

Kissinger has been moving gradually into a more direct role in the Cyprus situation in recent weeks as other efforts to arrange a settlement have failed to bring the Greeks and Turks back into negotiations. He hopes that the two sides will let him be a go-between similar to the role he has taken in the Arab-Israeli crisis.

Kissinger and Mavros gave no indications of progress after their meeting and talked in generalities to newsmen.

The Middle East may occupy Kissinger as much this week as Cyprus.

He is giving a dinner tonight for representatives of the nations of the Arab League and plans meetings with various Arab leaders during the week. And on Wednesday he will have a session with Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon.

Before leaving Washington, Kissinger met for 90 minutes with Syrian Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam. Their discussion reportedly centered on two main points — the possibility of U.S. aid to Syria and extension of the deadline for the withdrawal of U.N. troops from the Syrian-Israeli cease-fire line. Neither man gave any indication of progress in either area.

The White House has asked Congress to provide $100 million for aid to Syria if Kissinger feels that the Syrian government is seriously interested in a peace settlement with Israel and better relations with the United States.

Socialist Workers File Suit

AUSTIN (AP) — Sherry Smith, Socialist Workers candidate for governor, said today her party has gone to federal court in an attempt to keep supporters' names and addresses from being made public.

Ms. Smith, a feminist activist from Houston, stood on the front steps of the Capitol to announce the filing of a suit against Secretary of State Mark White and Atty. Gen. John Hill challenging state election campaign reporting laws. She said the suit was filed this morning in a Houston federal court.

The suit asks a temporary restraining order to keep the party from having to report names of contributors by the Oct. 7 deadline.

Ms. Smith, who wore a lapel button reading: "Capitalism Fouls Things Up," also said the party had filed suit against "the U.S. government, the FBI and the CIA seeking a halt to undemocratic and illegal attacks on the Socialist Workers Party."

"In Texas we have documented dozens of incidents of harassment, from the machine-gunning and bombing of our campaign office, to the admitted infiltration by the House police to harassment by the Department of Public Safety," she said.

The secretary of state's office at first refused to put the Socialist Workers candidates on the Nov. 5 Texas ballot but reversed itself after the Texas Supreme Court ruled in favor of the party.

Four Burned In Explosion

POST—Four oilfield workers suffered burns Saturday when a fuel tank on the vehicle in which they were riding is believed to have exploded.

Brought to a hospital here were Bill Tune of Snyder, Russell Custer of Whitharral, Warren Graham, address unknown, and Richard Hayworth of Post. All reportedly suffered second and third degree burns.

The incident occurred some 10 to 12 miles south of Post. The four were reported coming off a job in the oilfield when the tank on their vehicle blew up. One was found walking in the area in a daze condition and later the others and the explosion-damaged vehicle were found. Hayworth remained in the hospital at Post this morning.

Firemen Called

Turkish Premier Resigns Again

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Premier Bulent Ecevit resigned today for the second time in two weeks after failing to form a new coalition government.

President Fahri Koruturk accepted the resignation and was to make a statement later in the day on the government crisis.

Ecevit resigned two weeks ago because of "irreconcilable differences" between his own Republican Peoples party and their partners-in-government, the Moslem National Salvation party.

The two parties had been at odds over Cyprus policy and cultural, educational and economic matters.

Koruturk returned Ecevit's mandate to form a coalition government after his first resignation. The small, right-wing Democratic party twice rebuffed appeals by the premier to join in partnership with Ecevit's Republicans.

After Koruturk gave Ecevit his second mandate, a compromise was reached in parliament to hold elections next spring, but Ecevit still was unable to form a coalition and he resigned despite the agreement.

Oppositon leaders have accused Ecevit of trying to cash in on his "Cyprus victories" by demanding elections in December, although they are not scheduled for three more years.

Political experts feel the premier would win a solid majority in the 450-seat parliament now because of his overriding popularity that followed Turkey's invasion in July and subsequent military partition a few weeks later of Cyprus, in the Mediterranean 45 miles from Turkey.

Ecevit's party is liberal and Western-oriented. Western powers have been generally critical of what they saw as a hard-line Turkish policy over Cyprus. The Moslem Salvationists favored an even harder line.

The tenuous Republican-Moslem Salvation coalition was formed eight months ago after indecisive fall elections and a political crisis during the three months that followed.

Market Drops

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market dropped sharply again today amid unrelieved gloom over prospects for the nation's economy and the market itself.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 10.64 at 611.31, and losers led gainers by close to 3-to-1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said the Dow's slide to a new 12-year closing low Friday apparently convinced many investors that chances for any significant rally soon were slim. The market posted a big loss last week despite some seemingly encouraging news.

Kissinger Going To Mideast Oct. 9-13

CAIRO (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will visit the Middle East Oct. 9-13 in his search for a peace settlement, the official Middle East news agency said today.

The agency said he will visit Egypt, Syria, Jordan and Israel, but did not give specific dates for his trips.

He is expected to start with Cairo, visit Syria Oct. 11 and Jordan Oct. 12, ending the tour in Israel, an informed source said in Damascus.

The trip would be Kissinger's eighth to the area since the outbreak of the Arab-Israeli October war.

Seven Perish In Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — Fire sent smoke billowing into a rooming house above a South Side tavern, killing seven persons and injuring two others.

Deputy Chief Fire Marshall John McCarthy said the fire broke out Sunday night at the bottom of a stairwell at the entrance of Harold's Club. Dense smoke and some flame rose into the 16 sleeping rooms above.

Harold Nichols, owner of the building, said he was unsure of how many of the rooms were occupied. Many residents were elderly, retired persons.

The dead, one woman and six men, lived on the second floor of the brick structure and apparently were overcome by smoke, McCarthy said. Most of the fire damage was confined to the staircase.

Police Sgt. John Cio said Jimmy Moseley, a bartender in Harold's Club, was notified of the fire by passersby.

"He couldn't get up the stairwell because of the fire, so he went outside and threw beer bottles through the second-floor windows to awaken the residents," Cio said.

Arson investigators were called to the scene but said they found no immediate indication the fire was purposefully set. They said they would continue to investigate.

Burleson Gets Award For Economy Vote

WASHINGTON, D. C. —H. Vernon Scott, President, National Associated Businessmen, Inc., presented Representative Omar Burleson with the organization's "Watchdog of the treasury" Award in honor of the Congressman's economy voting record for the Ninety-Third Congress, 1973-73. This was the third economy award Congressmen Burleson has received from the National Associated Businessmen.

In congratulating Representative Burleson, Mr. Scott said, "Your outstanding economy voting record indicates to your constituents and to our membership that you have a keen awareness of the need for fiscal responsibility. I know it takes much courage to resist the pressures for unnecessary Federal spending."

"As you know so well, unnecessary Federal spending contributes to a higher cost of living which touches all of us." he continued. "Your votes for economy in government merit the appreciation of each of your constituents."

Made up primarily of small business firms, the NAB is a nonpartisan organization with its headquarters in Washington. Its goals include fiscal responsibility in government and the elimination of the Federal Government from competition with private business.

Burglars Take Television Set

Battles Expected Over Panels

WASHINGTON (AP) — A controversial proposal to realign House committees touches off a bruising week in Congress, with battles also expected over foreign aid and funds for former President Richard M. Nixon.

The House has set aside a full week for the intramural struggle over committees.

Opponents will try to prevent consideration of the measure today by seeking to defeat the resolution that brings it to the floor. Failing there, they hope to convince the Democrats at a special party caucus Tuesday that it should be put off until next year.

The bill, drafted by a special committee headed by Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., would eliminate two committees, drastically revise the jurisdiction of most others, and limit membership to one major committe.

The last time the committees were shuffled was in 1948 and supporters of the bill claim the proposed changes would permit Congress to operate more efficiently.

The opponents are backing a substitute proposal that leaves committee jurisdictions untouched but would make some procedural changes. They say the sweeping changes proposed in the Bolling bill would cause such confusion and resentment that the House would be unable to function.

The House will take time out from the committee fight to act on a couple of appropriations bills, including one that would provide $398,000 to help Nixon make the transition from the White House to pivate life.

The sum was cut from the $850,000 figure proposed by the Ford administration and an effort to reduce it further is expected. The vote is due Tuesday.

Also on the Senate agenda is the foreign aid authorization bill, but the administration strongly opposes a number of restrictive amendments that have been added by the Foreign Relations Committee.

The Senate is scheduled to act today on a bill providing appropriations for programs and agencies that have not yet had their regular money bills passed. It contains a provision that would cut off military aid to Turkey, but it is not as strict as the one passed by the House last week.

The Senate version, worked out in conference with the State Department and reportedly acceptable to Ford, would permit aid to Turkey to be continued if Ford is satisfied Turkey is showing good faith in seeking a negotiated settlement of the Cyprus issue with Greece.

McNamara Asks Aid For Poor

WASHINGTON (AP) — World Bank President Robert S. McNamara called on the oil-producing countries and the highly industrialized nations today to provide $36 billion over the next five years to assist people in poorer nations.

Addressing the opening session of the annual meeting of governors of the World Bank, he said the increasingly turbulent world economic scene has created a desperate situation for the poorest of the developing countries whose people have per capita incomes of less than $200 per year.

McNamara said the World Bank must increase its lending. The program approved by the bank's executive board for the 1975 fiscal year would provide $5.5 billion, up $1 billion from the fiscal year which ended June 30.

McNamara maintained that the world has not suddenly lost its wealth, even though there is severe inflation, unacceptable unemployment and uncertain growth prospects.

He contended the oil-producing countries have gained huge amounts while the traditionally wealthy nations may be less wealthy than they hoped to be at this time.

It is the poorest nations, he said, that are faced with inflation that penalizes the poor more than the rich.

"Almost every element in the current economic situation has worked to their disadvantage, and has been compounded even further for many of them by the natural disasters of flood, drought and crop failures. These countries need $3 billion to $4 billion more per year in the 1970s," he said.

2 pounds tart apples
2 cups chopped onion
15-ounce package seedless raisins
1½ cups firmly packed dark brown sugar
3 cups cider vinegar
3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons ground ginger

Pare, quarter, core and dice apples — there should be about 2 quarts. Turn into a large saucepot with remaining ingredients and mix well. Bring to boiling point; simmer, uncovered, stirring often until thick — about 45 minutes. Ladle into hot sterilized canning jars, leaving ⅛-inch head space; add caps and screwbands according to jar manufacturer's directions. Process in boiling water bath for 10 minutes. Makes three one-pint jars.

Increased Travel Fails To Up Violence Toll

By The Associated Press

Although mild weather encouraged travel, Texas counted fewer violent deaths during the past weekend than for many others.

The over-all toll reached 20 fatalities, all but nine in traffic accidents.

The Associated Press began the regular weekend tabulation at 6 p.m. Friday and continued counting until midnight Sunday.

These were among the victims:

Van Vincent Sanders, 18, of Kingsland and Patricia Drake, 18, of Seguin died Sunday night as two cars collided eight miles west of Eden on U.S. 87 in West Texas. Four other young people suffered serious injuries.

Joyce Duran, 50, was killed and three other persons seriously injured Sunday when two cars collided in Dallas. Mrs. Duran's husband Jimmy, 56, Michael Bursey, 25, and Daren Ray Williams, 27, suffered serious injuries.

Erick J. Carther, 7, of Houston burned to death Sunday after a pilot flame from a water heater apparently ignited his gasoline-soaked clothing. Officers said he apparently was playing with gasoline in the garage at his home.

Arthur Weisenbaker, 21, was electrocuted Sunday when the mast of his sailboat touched a power line at Austin. Police said normally the mast would have cleared the power lines over Lake Travis, but the water level has risen in recent weeks because of rains.

Austin police said a man was taken into custody after the slaying of Mrs. Kermitt Williams, 23, who was clubbed with a pool cue.

Rescue units recovered the body of Jane Hunter, 47, Sunday. She was reported missing Saturday in Lake Arlington.

Two Weatherford men died early Sunday when their car left Farm Road 113, hit a tree and overturned one mile north of Millsap. The victims were Robert Carl Vice, 23, and Ricky Derrell Baldwin, 20.

Mary Wood, 29, of San Antonio was killed early Saturday in a three-car collision on Interstate 10 in San Antonio's east side.

A Hereford man, Daniel R. Padilla, 23, was killed early Saturday when his car overturned on U.S. 285 north of Dimmitt.

Four-year-old Charlen Gail Bryant of Port Neches was killed Saturday when struck by a car on a beach about 10 miles west of Sabine Pass.

John Hilliard McClure, 55, of Irving drowned Saturday in the Trinity River. He slipped from a muddy bank where he was fishing.

Ed's Business Saved By Nose

VALLEY CITY, N.D. (AP) — Popcorn Ed's nose saves him from bankruptcy.

A customer unfamiliar with Ed may wonder why the popcorn vendor sniffs, fingers and jerks a dollar bill offered for a bag of popcorn.

But it is the only way 80-year-old Ed Artis, known as Popcorn Ed, can be sure he won't end up with a cash register full of useless paper at the end of the day.

The eyes behind his dark glasses were blinded 33 years ago, but Ed says he doesn't need to see to run the stand in this town of 8,000 about 90 miles east of Bismarck.

Tall and thin, he moves with confidence in the cramped 8 by 16-foot wooden stand which houses a popcorn machine, freezer, refrigerator and counter.

"I know exactly where everything is," said Artis, reaching unerringly for a popcorn bag.

"I can tell real money by the smell," he said. "Real dollar bills have a kind of gooey smell. It's hard to describe...

"I feel the bill with my fingers and thumbs," he said. "There are fine pieces of silk in real money. You can't snap it in two. Fake money feels thinner — there's no fiber in it."

The popcorn man says his expertise comes from 25 years of selling popcorn, candy and soft drinks.

A wire mesh separates him and his customers, but it wasn't always that way.

"Until a few years ago I had an open counter," he said. "I used to have the candy right up there in front. It's just the last few years the kids started stealing."

School Honors Cooper

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Dr. Kenneth H. Cooper, first to come up with the aerobics concept of physical fitness, received an honorary doctor of science degree Sunday from Oral Roberts University.

It was conferred as the school dedicated a $2 million building in his honor and bearing his name. Dr. Cooper received it for work as a physician, author and founder of the Instutute for Aerobics Research in Dallas.

At the same time officials disclosed that Oral Roberts University will join Southern Methodist University, Harding College of Arkansas and the Instutute for Aerobics Research in an 11-year joint research program.

The institutions will try to determine what are the long-range effects of a four-year, required, aerobics-oriented, physical education program for college men and women.

Aerobics places emphasis on enlarging the lung, heart and blood vessel capacity of the body through exercises such as swimming, running and cycling.

Dr. Cooper said recent research has shown a program of aerobics has resulted in drops in cholesterol level, percentage fat, blood pressure, weight and heat rate.

"The research program planned here will add great impetus to the whole field of physical fitness," he told newsmen.

"It is the most outstanding project of this type. There is no other facility and no other program like the one you have here."

Work began on the aerobics center in 1972.

Cow Belles Criticize Mrs. Ford

COLEMAN, Tex. (AP) — West Texas women say First Lady Mrs. Betty Ford is going at it the wrong way if she thinks that reducing beef consumption at home will stop inflation.

The Texans' reaction was expressed this weekend during the annual Coleman County Fair where the Circle C Cow Belles, most of them wives of cattlemen, protested Mrs. Ford's statements. The wives were showing to visitors newspaper stories quoting the First Lady as saying that the Fords are eating more casseroles and less beef in the White House.

The wives gave visitors propaganda literature explaining the origin and work behind beef production and its many by-products.

"Mrs. Ford seems to think that the only way to fight inflation is to cut down on the number of steaks and roast she feeds her family," said Mrs. J. P. Miller Jr., president of the Cow Belles group.

Mrs. Stancil Edington, another member of the group said: "Beef is bringing the same amount of money to the cattleman that it did in 1948, but look at the difference in his cost."

Mrs. Henry Newman, a spry woman at 79, said she had lived around cattle all her life.

"I know one thing," she said. "You've got to have so much beef in your diet for good health and Mrs. Ford better know that."

New England Knocks Off Los Angles 20-14

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

It used to be that a visit to New England was a breather for a National Football League club. For the Baltimore Colts, though, it couldn't come at a worse time.

But Howard Schnellenberger can breathe easier. He won't be making next Sunday's trip.

The Baltimore coach was fired Sunday, right after his young and punchless team had suffered its third straight loss, bowing 30-10 to Philadelphia. Robert Irsay, president of the Colts, named Joe Thomas, the club's vice president and general manager, as the new sideline pilot.

So it's Thomas who's going to be gasping when he gets a look at what's happening up in New England. His first job is to try and knock off the National Football League's astonishing Patriots.

It won't be easy. They've been knocking off everybody in sight so far.

Then they whipped the New York Giants 28-20. An upset, everyone said, but not much of one.

Sunday they beat the Los Angeles Rams 20 to 14.

In Sunday's other games, St. Louis clubbed Cleveland 29-7, Oakland shut out Pittsburgh 17-0, Miami had to struggle to pull out a 28-21 victory over San Diego, Buffalo beat the New York Jets 16-12, New Orleans nipped Atlanta 14-13, the Giants upset Dallas 14-6, Cincinnati muzzled San Francisco 21-3, Green Bay edged Detroit 21-19, Kansas City turned back Houston 17-7 and Minnesota struggled past Chicago 11-7.

Tonight, Washington hosts the Denver Broncos.

Joe Lavender returned an intercepted pass 37 yards for a touchdown, Tom Sullivan scored on runs of 28 and three yards and Tom Dempsey kicked three field goals in the Eagles' rout of Baltimore, which scored on Jones' 22-yard pass to Glenn Doughty and Toni Linhart's field goal.

Patriots 20, Rams 14

Two touchdown passes by Jim Plunkett and two field goals by John Smith sent Los Angeles into the loss column and at least one Patriots' fan to dreaming about Super Bowls.

Tony Baker's one-yard burst gave the Rams the game's first touchdown. But the Patriots got it right right back with Plunkett passing to Darryl Stingley for 20 yards, then New England moved in front to stay on a 39-yard field goal by Smith early in the second half.

Smith made it 13-7 with a 23-yard field goal late in the third quarter and, at the start of the fourth period, Plunkett hit Randy Vataha on a 21-yard scoring play. John Hadl's 36-yard pass to Lance Rentzel with about four minutes to play gave the Rams their final score.

Cards 29, Browns 7

Terry Metcalf exploded 94 yards with the second-half kickoff to put St. Louis on top 14-0 and, after Cleveland bounced back with its only touchdown, Mel Gray hauled in a 68-yard touchdown pass from Jim Hart.

Raiders 17, Steelers 0

"They beat our butts, it's that simple," Joe Gilliam said of the Raiders following Pittsburgh's first scoreless game since 1964.

Ken Stabler passed 19 yards to Cliff Branch for one Raider touchdown and plunged in from one yard out for the other one.

Dolphins 28, Chargers 21

Trailing 21-7 in the fourth quarter, Bob Griese calmly marched Miami to three touchdowns, preventing the Chargers from pulling off their second straight big upset. Jim Kiick's five-yard scoring run with 15 seconds to play was the winning play.

Griese completed 14 of 27 passes for 248 yards, and it was his accuracy in the waning minutes that kept the Dolphins hopes alive.

JV Wins Exciting Tilt 21-19

The Snyder junior varsity withstood a late rally by Midland High to score a 21-19 victory in an exciting football contest here Saturday afternoon. The victory boosts the JV record to 4-0.

Late in the fourth quarter, Midland pulled within two points at 21-19 with a pass interception and 50 yard return. With a chance to tie the game on the conversion attempt, Midland tried a run play, but the stout Snyder defense held and preserved the 21-19 victory.

Midland scored first in the contest on a 63 yard drive in the first quarter, then kicked extra point to take a 7-0 lead.

Snyder tied it up in the second quarter on a 70 yard drive with Bobby Thompson plunging across from the one for the touchdown. David Rice's extra point kick made it 7-7, and the score stood up until halftime.

Snyder got a comfortable lead in the third frame with two touchdowns. Rudy Rodriguez scored on a 10 yard run to cap a 45 yard drive, and David Rice plunged across from the one to climax a 35 yard march. Rice kicked successfully from placement after both touchdowns.

Midland scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to make an exciting contest. One of their late TD's resulted from a 30 yard run that capped a 70 yard drive. The other one was the interception and long return.

Snyder had 264 yards in total offense. Fullback Bobby Thompson gained 126 yards on 22 carries and tailback Rudy Rodriguez netted 118 yards on 13 thrusts. The offensive line did a fine job of opening holes. Rice completed 3 of 6 passes.

Defensively, ends James Smylie and Billy Allbritton did outstanding jobs. Nose guard Pat Dryden had an exceptional game, but was forced to leave in the second quarter due to an injury.

The Snyder JV will host Abilene Cooper at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Woman Takes Coaching Job

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Linda Sprague of Spokane went to Koonung High School in Melbourne, Australia to be an English teacher. She also has become the school's head football coach.

Miss Sprague wrote her parents here that the school added a new sport this year called "gridiron," or American-style football.

The Eastern Washington State College graduate was the only teacher who had seen many gridiron games, so she became the coach.

Her father, Donald Sprague, is sending her, at her urgent request, books on football coaching and strategy.

Corporate Managers Are Rebelling Against Moves

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Managers of corporations are rebelling these days against the geographical moves that became associated with upward mobility, or success, during the 1960s.

The reaction, says Eugene Jennings, management professor at Michigan State University, is creating pandemonium in some large corporations, which had come to think of their management group as totally predictable.

"Now they have uncertain markets and uncertain supplies, and on top of those they have managers whose behavior in regard to geographical changes also is uncertain," Jennings said. In the 1960s, he said, the need to move was unquestioned.

Now, however, both managers and their wives are asking a lot of questions before agreeing or disagreeing with a planned move. They are putting their family first, after learning that all geographical moves weren't necessarily upward moves on the ladder of success.

Jennings, who pioneered in the study of corporate routes to success, has identified four common types among the immobile:

1. The middle manager, age 35 to 40, who is making $26,000 to $30,000 a year in salary. He has moved 8 to 10 times already, with probably five of those moves producing no noticeable climb up the ladder.

2. The "entree" manager, just one step above the beginner. He is less than five years into his career. He believes that husband and wife can make as much money staying put as they could if they were mobile and had only one salary.

3. The broken home type. He is a man who probably lost his marriage and home because of too many moves in the 1960s. Now he is happily married again, and he is willing to forgo success for happiness.

4. The wife who is approaching middle-age and whose children are grown up and living away from her home. She has a need for established relationships with other women or organizations. She refuses to move.

As a result, says Jennings, the reservoir of managerial ent available to a growing, graphically diversified co. pany is shrinking.

Whereas a company once could order an executive to another area and expect complete compliance, it now must assess the possible impact on the executive's family and prove to the man that it will contribute to his success.

America, said Jennings, was founded on two opposite concepts—that of mobility, the "promised land ethic," exemplified in the advice "go West young man;" and the stay-at-home attitude in which a person is urged to sty home and develop roots.

The same conflict, says Jennings, still exists today, to the confusion of many personnel departments. In the 1960s an immobile person could be shelved and forgotten, but immobility is now so common that such procedures would irreparably damage a company.

Some companies, he said, are now happy to have one out of three transfers accepted by its managers.

Junior Editors Quiz on MUCILAGE

QUESTION: What is mucilage?

* * *

ANSWER: Mucilage is a thick, glutinous substance related to natural gums. It is a sticky fluid secreted by certain plants, such as marshmallow, flax and some seaweeds. In the plant, it is useful in checking loss of water, aiding the dispersal of seeds and as a food reserve. It is used in medicine to bind together insoluble ingredients. Commercially, mucilage is used as an adhesive to stick two substances together.

The term mucilage is projected to include other substances, such as gum arabic, dextrin, glue, gelatin, etc. The ingredients of mucilage vary with the uses. Gum arabic dissolved in hot water with the addition of aluminum sulphate makes an adhesive for sticking paper to glass. Dextrin, a fruit sugar, dissolved in cold water makes a mucilage which is used on postage stamps. Glue and gelatin make a mucilage but require vinegar, acid or glycerin to hold a fluid state.

Penology Course Pays Off

By MARY SCHEIER
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — James Spivey thinks he knows more about prisons than most criminologists because he took a 36-year course in penology the hard way: behind bars.

"After all that time living with prisoners you know what they pull off and you know what the administration is pulling off," the tall, heavily built Spivey said with a laugh.

Spivey, 62, has been free since 1970 and lives in Detroit. He's now married and the father of a 5-year-old son. He is putting what he learned in prison to use as Michigan's legislative corrections ombudsman. He handles grievances both from inmates and prison employes and works as problem solver and reformer.

Spivey was found guilty of murder in 1934 when police said he drove a get-away car after a fatal shooting. His sentence was commuted and his lawyers discovered his trial transcript had been destroyed and his conviction rested on the unsigned confession of another man convicted in the case.

Spivey says he never knew the other man and has consistently denied his guilt.

Since he's been out of prison, Spivey has devoted himself to working with youngsters in trouble, mainly through church organizations.

The legislature created the ombudsman post last year, and Spivey got the job simply by applying for it.

"I studied for this," he said. "I took up sociology, journalism, management, business administration, chess, law ... I stuck with law for about 20 years (through correspondence courses), until I found out that everything was at the judge's discretion.

"We've got too many laws," he said.

"I'm not bitter," Spivey said. He said he waited a long time to try to get his sentence commuted because "You don't have the money, you don't have the knowledge."

Even now, he said, not all prisoners know their legal rights.

"When you're sending a fellow to 10 years or to life and someone says: 'Here's your rights,' do you think he's listening?" Spivey asked. "It's a nightmare you wait to awake from."

Spivey was 22 years old when he entered prison. He spent most of his years behind bars at Southern Michigan State Prison at Jackson.

"I was too shocked to be angry," he said of those first few years. "I was in a daze, not really aware of what had happened. When it hits you, when 'Hey, I'm in for life' really hits you, you build up a hope that the truth will come out."

Spivey said prisons are worse now than in the past. He said that up to the 1940s: "Wardens gave inmates as much leeway as possible. After that it tightened up."

After all those years in jail, why did he decide to take a job that brought him back into a prison?

"What was done to me — that's why," Spivey said. "I don't think it is the meaning of living, that human beings should suppress other human beings lives. I think we should add to each other's life.

"Life is so short."

The longest recorded burial alive is one of 100 days ending on Sept. 17, 1968, in Skegness by Mrs. Emma Smith of Ravenshead, Nottinghamshire, England. The coffin was at a depth of 10 feet.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Consumers whose gas and electricity bills are soaring have a tool to assist them in conserving energy—a new energy conservation labeling program.

The program is designed to give consumers, for the first time, the information they need to choose household appliances that make the most efficient use of energy.

For individual consumers, buying more "energy efficient" appliances could mean significantly lower monthly gas or electricity bills.

And, since about 20 percent of all energy used in the U.S. is used in apartments and homes, and since in 1973 alone, more than 13 million major appliances were sold in this country, there is a potential for energy saving on a nationwide scale.

The energy conservation labeling program for household appliances and equipment was begun this past summer by the Department of Commerce as a voluntary cooperative venture between consumers, retailers, and manufacturers.

Although the labels that tell how much energy an appliance uses were designed mainly to help consumers make buying decisions, the program also aims to encourage retailers to stock such supplies, and manufacturers to design and produce products that waste less energy.

Since the program now is entirely voluntary, its success depends on the cooperation of all three groups to make it work.

Manufacturers who participate in the program will be labeling household appliances to show how much energy they use and their relative efficiency compared to similar models.

A bill approved last year by the U.S. Senate would also require appliance manufacturers to state energy use in dollars and cents on the labels, although manufacturers say different rates of use and regional variations in utility costs would make such information useless.

Retailers cooperating in the program will provide information on how the energy conservation labeling program works, and will use the energy efficiency information in advertising and point-of-purchase material. Some retailers are cooperating by distributing booklets on energy conservation published by local agencies.

Consumers can use the energy efficiency information to compare appliance models and see which will cost less to operate.

Sometimes an appliance may cost more initially than a competing brand, but operate so much more efficiently that within a few months it has made up the difference by reduced energy bills.

For example, a major appliance that costs $40 more than a competing brand may use only $10 of electricity a month, while a cheaper brand uses $20. In only four months. a consumer could have made up the difference in price. After that, the appliance that initially seemed more expensive would actually be more economical.

The first appliances to be labeled with energy consumption information under the new program were room air conditioners. Eventually, other household appliances that use large amounts of energy and vary greatly in efficiency between models will also be labeled. Refrigerators and freezers, washers and dryers, dishwashers, kitchen ranges and ovens, water heaters, space heaters, and central air conditioning and heating equipment have already been proposed for the energy conservation labeling program.

Consumers can look for three letters on appliances covered under the program to show operating efficiency: EER. They stand for "energy efficiency ratio."

Their appearance on room air conditioner labels this past summer indicated that a unit had been tested and certified by the manufacturer in accordance with program standards for cooling capacity and electrical power requirements. To get the EER for room air conditioners the cooling capacity (BTU's) is divided by the power needed to run the unit (watts). The higher the EER, the more efficient the unit.

The energy conservation labeling program, if it is a success, will be a good illustration of what can be achieved when consumers and businessmen work together toward a common goal.

If you have a question about the possibility of misrepresentation in labeling, or have other consumer problems, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

Question Raised On Ford's Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Betty Ford's bout with cancer has cast a question mark over President Ford's immediate and long-range political plans.

Soon after the First Lady underwent surgery for breast cancer Saturday, the President told aides to curtail his public schedule for the next week.

Ford also enlisted Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller to substitute for him on a planned speech-making trip to Utah and California Tuesday through Thursday.

Mrs. Ford is expected to be hospitalized for at least 10 days, and White House aides say it is questionable whether the President will make any out-of-town speeches during that period.

Also placed in question by his wife's illness is Ford's plans to make 25 or more speeches in behalf of Republican candidates in the two weeks prior to next month's elections.

As he entered Bethesda Naval Medical Center Sunday night to visit with Mrs. Ford, the President was asked about his campaign plans.

"We haven't looked beyond next week," he replied.

Then he was asked about a report that his wife's illness has caused him to reconsider his tentative plans to run for a full term as President in 1976. The response was nearly identical: "We haven't thought beyond next week."

Audit To Reveal Bank Loss

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Officials planned to begin an audit of bank records today in an attempt to determine exactly how much was taken in the biggest bank robbery in U.S. history.

Three armed men made off with an estimated $1,044,000 from a downtown branch of the First National Bank of Nevada after handcuffing and tying up nine bank employes Friday night.

Authorities said Sunday they had no concrete clues as to the whereabouts of the robbers.

Police and the FBI circulated a composite drawing of one robber based on a description provided by a witness who may have seen the men shortly before the holdup.

Employes told police the men were polite and one even checked an employe to make sure handcuffs were not too tight.

The robbers wore Halloween masks and overalls and carried handguns.

One police theory was that the men used an elevator to enter a basement area, made their way to a safety deposit office and then surprised two employes shortly after the bank closed.

The two employes and seven others were forced into a bank vault and tied up.

The robbers, after scooping money into canvas bags, escaped into a crowd watching a parade in front of the bank. A stolen vehicle used in the getaway was found abandoned a short distance away.

The FBI said the bank robbery was the largest in its records, topping a $741,000 robbery in Las Vegas last May.

Police said it was not unusual for the bank to have so much cash on hand on a Friday night because it serves nearby casinos, which exchange bills for coins to be used in slot machines.

Red Agents Ask POW Ransom

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — A widow says two Communist agents have demanded between $25,000 and $500,000 for proof her son is alive and to start negotiations for his release as a prisoner of war in Laos.

Jean Macdonald returned over the weekend from a meeting in Mexico City with two men who showed her a picture of a man she identified as her son. They would not let her keep the photo but told her she would be contacted later, she said.

1st Lt. George D. Macdonald, a navigator aboard an Air Force C130 cargo plane, was shot down Dec. 21, 1972, over Laos.

"It was my son all right. He was terribly malnourished and had grown a beard, but it was my son. They said the picture was taken three months ago," she said.

"They wouldn't say who they were or who they represented. All they would say was that they were Communists."

She met the agents through the Rev. Paul Lindstrom, a fervent anti-Communist who has been active in work involving men listed as prisoners of war or missing in action.

The Rev. Mr. Lindstrom said in an interview that he arranged the Mexico meeting after two previous meetings with persons whom he believes are "tied to a diplomatic mission in Southeast Asia."

He said he talked to different representatives at each of the three meetings, but wasn't sure whether they are "working for a government or on their own behalf for monetary gains."

The U.S. government has discredited previous reports that prisoners of war are still being held in Southeast Asia.

The minister vowed in 1971 he would form a force of 100 commandos to free Southeast Asian war prisoners, but later abandoned the plans.

He also attempted in 1970 to form a fleet of boats to encourage defections by Soviet seamen. That plan never developed.

However, he accurately revealed in 1972 before it was officially announced that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger made secret visits to the Soviet Union prior to the Nixon summit.

The Rev. Mr. Lindstrom said he and other representatives of the Christian Defense League, an umbrella for POW-MIA groups, have established contacts in Vientianne, Laos, and in Thailand.

Autumn Weather Prevails In Texas

By The Associated Press

Skies were clear and mild autumn weather prevailed throughout Texas today. Forecasts called for little change.

Dry air enveloped the state and temperatures eased as high as 84 degrees Sunday afternoon at Alice. The coolest spot was Texarkana with a maximum of 74.

Readings near dawn today slipped down to 45 degrees at Junction and Marfa while it was still 65 at Brownsville and 67 at Galveston.

The nation's major collegians achieved an all-time high in field goal accuracy in 1973 at 49.9 per cent.

Everybody Expects The Other To Do Sacrificing

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Catholic priest, Msgr. Lawrence J. Corcoran, made one of the few offers of personal sacrifice at President Ford's weekend economic summit conference.

Msgr. Corcoran, a delegate representing the National Conference of Catholic Charities, said he would accept a 10 per cent reduction in his income to help the economy if everybody else would do the same.

But it seemed that most everybody else expected somebody else to do the sacrificing.

Homebuilders wanted subsidies, thrift institutions wanted incentives for more savings activity, people on welfare didn't want their programs cut, Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger said defense spending already was cut to the bone, businessmen said price controls wouldn't work for them, labor leaders said inflation has eroded wages enough.

Still there was virtually unanimous recognition by all of the 800 delegates who expressed themselves that somebody is going to have to make some sacrifice if the nation is going to come to grips with its economic problems.

"Inflation strikes society unevenly," Ford said Saturday. "Government must concern itself with those on whom this burden falls excessively."

He promised a program in the next 10 days that will include help for the jobless and tax adjustments to help those hurt most by inflation.

But how much help, and how to give it, is the second big challenge.

If help for the jobless means a public service employment program, which is likely, then the money must come from somewhere.

Housing and Urban Development Secretary James T. Lynn acknowledged the dilemma in talking about a proposed special program for home mortgage subsidies to help the sagging housing industry.

He said the government would have to turn to the credit markets to borrow the billions that would be required, and that would result in some slight upward push on interest rates, with some inflationary consequences of its own.

Swiss Work Permits Scarce

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain Kennedy

Dear Joyce: Can you tell me how to get a Swiss work permit? I've always wanted to live and work in Europe and am considering a move to Switzerland. -- F.H., Los Angeles

Don't pack your ski boots yet! Donna Vos, my correspondent in Geneva, reports that work permits in Switzerland are as scarce as American cheese. Immigration to the country has been cut drastically in the last few years. And a national referendum this fall may reduce the number of foreign workers even more.

The American Women's Club of Geneva supplies these . . .

ADDITIONAL DETAILS: "Permission to work in Switzerland, whether full time or part time (even for students) has to be obtained by an employer at the Swiss "Controle de l'Habitant" before an employe comes into the country. No application for a work permit can be made while the person is in Switzerland. The employer will arrange for the "visa d'entree" (entry permit), the "permis de sejour" (work permit), and certain financial guarantees."

BANK ON THE FACT that Swiss work permits are hoarded like gold. You can void the permit problem, however, by working for an international organization such as the United Nations, World Health Organization, or International Red Cross (there are some 185 of these in Geneva alone). Foreign employes of most international organizations are not required to have work permits.

Instead, you obtain a "carte de legitimation" from the "Department Politique Federal" in Bern, the Swiss capital. This handy item exempts employes of international organizations from Swiss immigration regulations. If you're lucky enough to find an employer, he/she can supply additional information regarding licenses, custom formalities, housing, and so forth.

IN SUM, don't plan to pound Swiss pavements looking for a job. You have to be transferred by an American firm or work for an international organization that will assist in your move. In any case, avoid cuckoo schemes by contacting a Swiss consular office for information before making definite plans.

BOOKS: "I've Had It – A Practical Guide to Moving Abroad," by Robert Hopkins; Holt, Rinehart & Winston, New York City;

"Whole World Handbook – A Student Guide to Work, Study and Travel Abroad," published by the Council on International Educational Exchange, 777 United Nations Plaza, New York City 10017;

"Engineers Overseas Handbook," U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Domestic Commerce, order by title and stock number 0308-0138 from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402, $1.50.

Minnesota Turkey Wins Race

CUERO, Tex. (AP) — Minnesota has won this year's Traveling Turkey Trophy of Tumultuous Triumphs with a clear victory over Texas in the annual turkey race between a bird from Worthington, Minn. and one from this South Texas city.

Paychecks, a fleet-footed gobbler who had won the first round in Worthington defeating Cuero's Ruby Begonia II, lost the race by a step Sunday, but took the trophy on the basis of accumulated time.

Ruby Begonia II won with a time of 28.3 seconds over the 100-yard course and Paycheck came right behind with 28.5. Paycheck had taken the first round with a time of 57.3 seconds over a 150-yard track, almost a whole minute ahead of Ruby Begonia.

Nixon In Excellent Spirits

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon was described as "a man remarkably alive and in excellent spirits" by the archbishop of the Los Angeles Roman Catholic diocese who visited him at the hospital during the weekend.

"He looked better than I've seen him in two years," said Archbishop Timothy Cardinal Manning. "He showed no signs of strain or illness. He said he was in no pain. I was amazed. He was in excellent spirits, very happy."

Manning said he has known Nixon since 1946, "when he was a young congressman and I was a young bishop."

No official word on the former president's condition was issued during the weekend.

After seeing Manning, Nixon was visited for more than two hours by his wife, Pat, and eldest daughter, Tricia Nixon Cox, who arrived accompanied by Secret Service agents.

Leaving the hospital, Mrs. Nixon said, "We had a pleasant visit with him. He is feeling much better."

Nixon, 61, was being treated for phlebitis in his left leg and a blood clot in his right lung. He entered the hospital last Monday and has been receiving anticoagulant drugs to prevent further clots from forming and to solidify the clot in his leg so no parts of it break off and travel through his system.

Return Of Pardon Offered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon offered to return the blanket pardon granted by President Ford after it touched off a political controversy, a White House source says. However, the offer wasn't regarded seriously.

The offer was "not a formal legal offer to turn back the pardon because I don't think there's any legal way to do that," the source said Sunday night.

Instead, he said, Nixon's statement was "a sort of casual, off-handed, figurative statement mentioned out of politeness."

The source said Nixon began a telephone conversation with Ford on Sept. 17 by saying he was sorry about the trouble the pardon had caused and would send it back if that would help. Ford didn't take it as a serious offer, the source added.

After discussing the pardon, Ford and Nixon talked about foreign affairs, the SALT talks and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, the source added.

Ford granted the pardon Sept. 8, a month after Nixon's resignation, for any crimes the former President may have committed against the United States while in the White House.

Pecos Man Top Roper

POST, Tex. (AP) — Pecos McEntire has won the OS Ranch Steer Roping Benefit and Art Exhibit with a record time, and the sale of cowboy art also has set a record in the two-day event.

McEntire, 21, won the roping contest with a time of 78.3 for four steers to win his second title in the four-year history of the event. He won it first in 1972.

Second place went to Sonny Worrell of Altoona, Kan., who posted a time of 84.2 seconds. He was followed by Walter Arnold of Silverton, Tex., with 87.8. Arnold was the defending champion.

Charles Good of Elada, N.M., was fourth with a time of 88 flat.

Spokesman for the event said that 40 cowboys and western artists sold more than $94,000 worth of paintings, charcoals and sculptures.

The annual affair was originated by Jim Prather who operates the ranch for the benefit of the West Texas Boys Ranch in San Angelo.

Reagan Urges Fed Budget Cuts

PAMPA, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan says the most important measure in the fight against inflation would be reduction of the federal budget by $5.5 billion.

Reagan made his statement Sunday while stopping in Texas for a brief visit at the ranch of Rep. Bob Price, R-Tex., where he was the main speaker at a fund-raising luncheon.

From here Reagan went on to Little Rock where he was expected to make another speech boosting the campaign of congressional candidate Judy Petty.

Reagan said in this West Texas city that the federal government "should take a good, hard look at the Federal Power Commission to see if it is not time to deregulate the natural gas industry."

The Republican governor also called for the lifting of price controls on natural gas, saying that such action would encourage domestic exploration.

He cited inflation as the number one issue in the congressional campaign and suggested five measures, which, he said, would curb the inflationary spiral.

He first referred to the $5.5 billion reduction of the federal budget and then to a welfare reform program similar to that one in California which, he said, has taken 400,000 persons off welfare payrolls.

Regan also called for a change in personal income tax rates to prevent higher tax brackets from absorbing cost of living wage increases; elimination of certain federal agencies and a ten per cent reduction of the federal bureaucracy.

Reagan said that "if Congress is truly concerned about inflation, the Democratic majority it is going to have to do something about."

Health Bill Chances Are Uncertain

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Finance Committee members have virtually reached agreement on a health insurance bill they would like to see passed in the closing months of the 93rd Congress.

But chances for such legislation still are highly uncertain even though it has been given a top priority by House and Seate Democratic leaders.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the Finance chairman and chief sponsor of the bill his panel is expected to approve, says one of the key factors is how much effort President Ford is willing to put behind the legislation.

Ford has asked this Congress to act on a broad health care bill.

But Long comments that, if the President "really wants a health bill," he is going to have to rally some Republican support for it.

Another hurdle for the legislation may be erected by Senate and House members who want a much broader measure than the one under consideration in the Finance Committee.

Chief features of the bill are a plan to protect families from the huge expenses of a catastrophic illness and an improved health care program for the poor.

Its annual cost would be about $9 billion, far less than other national health insurance proposals.

Long argues that it will lay the foundation for a broader program later.

The catastrophic illness section would finance most health care costs after a family had incurred expenses of $2,000 in a year or after an individual had been hospitalized 60 days.

The program for poor families would replace the present medicaid benefits and set national standards of benefits and eligibility.

The catastrophic illness benefits would be financed by a three-tenths of 1 per cent increase in the Social Security tax. The cost would be $3.6 billion a year.

The $5.3-billion program for low-income families would be paid for out of general revenues.

If the Senate passes the measure, it will go back to the House.

PLO Groups Expected To Go Along With Strategy

By JOSEPH PANOSSIAN
Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Most of the Palestine guerrilla groups are expected to go along with Yasir Arafat's new peaceful strategy despite the opposition of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine.

The Popular Front, a Marxist organization led by George Habash, last Thursday withdrew from the executive council of the Palestine Liberation Organization and repudiated the agreement made by Arafat, the head of the PLO and of the Al Fatah guerrillas, to work with the Egyptian and Syrian governments for a political settlement with Israel.

The Popular Front vowed to continue the "armed struggle" against Israel.

Two small guerrilla groups, the Iraqi-backed Arab Liberation Front and the Popular Front — General Command, approved the PFLP's move and were thought likely to support it at a meeting of the PLO's executive council in Damascus today. But they indicated they would not quit the council and instead would "work from inside."

The other 11 guerrilla organizations in the PLO are all expected to stick with Arafat.

The central council is expected to endorse Arafat's moderate line.

Arafat's position was strengthened by the agreement of the U.N. General Assembly to debate the Palestine question as something more than a refugee question for the first time, and by the recognition of the PLO by Egypt and Syria as the sole legitimate representative of the Palestinian people.

The PLO maintains that this recognition is a "major political victory" that is worth following up at the United Nations and later at the Middle East peace talks in Geneva. However, the PFLP said the PLO had joined "the two Arab countries on the road toward defeatist solutions" and that participation in the Geneva talks would result in capitulation on the Palestine question.

It accused the PLO leadership of going along with U.S. efforts for an Arab-Israeli settlement and of holding secret meetings with the United States.

The PLO replied that the charges were "based on false information" and invited the PFLP to reconsider its withdrawal.

The Arab press unanimously criticized the PFLP's action, calling it untimely.

Veterans Day Caught In Pull

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Day holiday is still caught in a pull between those who celebrate it and those who make money from it.

Congress has several bills to change the date of the holiday celebration, but chances are viewed as slim for any revision this year.

Since 1971, Veterans Day has been one of four federal Monday holidays, giving workers a three-day weekend. It is celebrated on the fourth Monday in October, the 28th this year.

Veterans' organizations are lobbying Congress to move the holiday back to Nov. 11, once Armistice Day, marking the end of World War I. It was renamed Veterans Day in 1954.

For emphasis, such organizations as the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion are saving their ceremonies and parades for Nov. 11 again this year. That date, in fact, is the official state holiday in 42 states.

"There will only be token celebrations on the 28th," said Legion spokesman Bob Cohen.

"Nov. 11 is Veterans Day and always will be in the hearts and minds of millions of Americans," said Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kans., a backer of legislation to switch the holiday to Nov. 11.

Senate hearings to change the date were held this year and Dole aides think a bill will at least be put on the chamber calendar.

In the hearings, the chief opponent of a switch was a group formed for just such an occasion: The National Council for Monday Holidays.

The council is composed of associations representing major and charter airlines, bus and sightseeing companies, hotels, motels and the AFL-CIO restaurant, hotel and bartenders union.

"These people are involved in getting money on three-day holidays," said VFW spokesman T. H. (Tip) Marlow.

"Monday holidays are beneficial to industry," said Jim Gaffigan of the American Hotel and Motel Association. "It's not in the best interest to switch back."

Business could be flexible over designating another three-day weekend, Gaffigan said. "We're just trying to preserve the concept. Someone may want to move another holiday."

There are bills to switch the federal Memorial Day back to May 30, instead of the current last Monday in May.

Under the federal holiday law the other Monday holidays are George Washington's Birthday and Columbus Day. Labor Day was enacted under separate legislation.

Second LBJ Awards Given

NEW YORK (AP) — Lady Bird Johnson and her daughters have presented the second annual Lyndon Baines Johnson awards to a former mayor and the head of a self-help organization for the poor.

The widow of President Johnson and daughters Lucy Nugent and Lynda Robb presented the awards to former Mayor Ivan Allen of Atlanta, Ga., and Franklin A. Thomas, president of the Bedford-Stuyvesant Restoration Corp., here Saturday.

The awards, $12,500 each to Allen and Thomas, were established to honor Americans who have made a substantial contribution to mankind in their particular fields of endeavor. Mrs. Johnson said of the award to Allen:

"I'm proud that it was the tool of politics, of which I have a high regard, that Ivan Allen used to achieve the changes he did in Atlanta."

Thieu Makes Appearance

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu made his first public appearance in Saigon in two months today amid mounting political dissent and accusations of personal corruption.

Thieu opened an exhibition at an education center and spoke for 10 minutes to a crowd of 1,000 students. He made no mention of the charges of corruption against him and his family but is expected to reply to them in a broadcast Tuesday night.

Elsewhere in Saigon today, plainclothes policemen roughed up Associated Press photographer Neal Ulevich and Haney Howell of the Columbia Broadcasting System as they tried to photograph a small antigovernment demonstration outside the National Assembly.

Howell was kicked in the kidney but recovered quickly. Ulevich was not hurt.
