

Air Force Sets Seven MX Missile Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force will hold public hearings next month in seven cities on alternative proposals to locate the MX missile system in West Texas and eastern New Mexico.

The Texas-New Mexico hearings will follow a series to be held March 30 through April 9 in Nevada and Utah, the area identified by the Air Force as its preferred location for the massive mobile missile system.

The hearings were scheduled to collect public comment on the draft environmental impact statement the Air Force released in December.

The first is scheduled April 13 in Santa Fe, N.M., followed by hearings in Austin, Texas, April 14-15; Lubbock, Texas, April 16; Amarillo, Texas, April 20; Dalhart, Texas, April 21; Clovis, N.M., April 22; and Roswell, N.M., April 23.

The Air Force has scheduled afternoon and evening sessions in each city on the same day, except in Austin where an evening hearing is scheduled April 14 followed by an afternoon session the next day.

The exact time and locations for the hearings will be announced at a later date.

Six of the eight possible choices outlined in the draft environmental impact statement would locate the entire system of 200 missiles and 4,600 shelters in Utah and Nevada.

The seventh alternative would place the entire system in eastern New Mexico and West Texas, with support bases at Clovis and Dalhart. Under the eighth choice, half of the system would be in Utah-Nevada while the other half would be located in eastern New Mexico with its base at Clovis.

Texas congressmen and officials have predicted it will be highly unlikely for the missiles to be located in the state, in large part because of land costs.

The Air Force's format for the hearing calls for a 30 minute briefing on the MX system, about one and one-half hours for a question-answer session and two hours for public comments.

A representative of a group will have five minutes to speak while an individual will be able to spend three minutes at the microphone. Speaking order will be determined by a random drawing.

Written comments can be submitted for the official record.

The Air Force schedule was made available to reporters by the office of Rep. Kent Hance, a Lubbock Democrat.

The Reagan administration has started two new studies of the plan to base the MX system on land, saying they will decide by early summer on whether to proceed with it or switch to a sea-based system.

Bullfrogs and Butterflies

The youthful faces of the Camp Fire Adventurers each tell a story as they sing the Reaching Song, "Bullfrogs and Butterflies," one of the selections from the closing ceremony, "Growin' Up," at the annual Father-Daughter

Banquet. "On Behalf of Tomorrow," was this year's theme for the banquet, which was held at the Hereford Bull Barn. Approximately 1,000 people attended. (Photo by Mauri Montgomery)

Camp Fire Member Awards Banquet Fetes Achievement

By ALLISON RYAN
Women's Editor

Four members of the Camp Fire Horizon girls received the coveted Wo-He-Lo medallion award at the Annual Award Banquet held Thursday night at the Hereford Bull Barn.

Willa Bess Lawson, Denna Jo Pool, Kelly Joyce Killough and Rebecca Kathleen Hughes, 11 year members of Camp Fire, were this year's recipients.

In order to receive the awards, members must have participated in the program from the first step of Camp Fire and must write a paper explaining what Camp Fire is and how it will help in the future.

The recipients' fathers were at the banquet to present their daughters with the medallion.

Cindy Norvell, Romilda Friemel and Billie Layman were cited for their extra service and dedication to the Camp Fire Organization with the presentation of the Wakan award from the national office.

Leader, membership and candy sale awards were also presented at the banquet in which approximately 800 people attended.

Those receiving three year leader awards were Ann Cummings, E.J. Struve, Eva Casarez, Alene Tindal, Grace Skelton, Nan Conaway, Carol Gerke and Loyce Driver; Five year leader award, Patsy Sparkman; Ten year leader award, Romilda Friemel, leona Mazurek, Marcy Hughes, Cindy Norvell and Shirley Barber; Fifteen year leader awards, Ellen Collins and Mary Sledge.

Membership awards were given to those girls who have been members of Camp Fire for ten, seven, five and three years.

Ten year members include Rita Collins, Kimberly Sims, Melodi Moore, Hope Arellano, Annette Lafuenta, Anna Beth Friemel, Sandra Evers; Carla Weemes, Reecie Willson, Kellie Howell, Marcia Crowley, Jana Sledge, Shannon Gerke, Michelle Clark.

Seven year members include Karen Friemel, Kelly Burrus, Loree Adams, Duann Rettman, Anna Lisa Perez.

Dawn Casarez, Tori Mazurek, Amy Mason, Angie Abalos, Sylvia Vera; Donann Cummings, Whitney Drake, Julie Gallagher, Georgia Collins, Mikala Moore, Esmer Arellano, Tammy Gomez.

Five year members include Amy Conaway, Consuelo Herrera, Kristi Milton, Criselda Delgado, Velora Briones;

Shona Driver, Mischa Keese, Carolan Owens, Andrea Wall, Edna Soliz, Leticia Pesqueda;

Sandra Daugherty, Betsy Perez, Jennifer Bandston, Paula Montoya, Melissa Sims.

Three year membership includes Carrie Skelton, Jessica Dearing, Tracy Flood, Daphne Roddy, Annette Thorell, Tina Avent, Angela Brumley, Jerilyn Baker, Jill West, Toni Campbell, Denise McEachern.

Also, Vickie Mongold, Valerie Holt, Brandi Hudson, Angela Montoya, Melissa Parman, Lori Ramirez, Yvonne Pena, Deann Thompson, Glenda Kendrick, Susie Herrera, Angela Thomas.

Also, Leticia Pesqueda, Anna Lisa Perez, Tammy Gamez, Angela Garza, Misty Hardin, Anissa Parks, Darlene Morales, Karman Kirkpatrick, Jackie Marquez, Poppy Richardson, Cindy Kuper, Kylla Struve, Kandy Bagley.

Camp Fire members were cited for their work in the recent candy sales.

Andrea Wall was the outstanding council seller, Brandy Messer was the Highest selling Blue Bird Kandi Sparkman was the highest selling adventure, Whitney Drake was the highest selling Discovery club; Lynn Prather was the Adventure club member selling 150 boxes, Tracy Flood sold 150 boxes for the Blue Bird Club.

Members were awarded for selling 100 boxes.

Discovery Club selling 100 - Donann Cummings.

Adventure Club selling 100, Mischa Keese, Michelle McCormick, Lynette Briones, Sharla Richards, Robin Carlile, Paula Ponder.

Blue Birds Club selling 100 - Rhonda Hawkins, Glenda Kendrick, Jessica Dearing, Deann Thompson, John D. Rickman, D'Ann Hill.

Discovery Club selling 72, Julie Gallagher, Mary Ruth Hamman, Becky Layman.

Adventure Club selling 72 - Jovita Cervantez, Vonnice Gamez, Criselda Delgado.

Blue Birds Club selling 72, Geneva Campos, Carrie Wilcox, Veronica Casarez, Brenna Reinauer, Toni Campbell, Sally Longoria, Tammie Holmes, Jill West, Jeri Ann Parker.

Discovery Club selling 48, Denise McEachern Duann Rettman.

Adventure Club selling 48, Theresa Lee, Belinda Garcia, Tammy Jones.

Also, Emily Thornton, Aaron Higgins, Robert Serna, Annette Thorell, Karman Kirkpatrick, Monica Amaro, Kandy Taylor, Lupe Balderama, Stacy Cochran, Terri DeBord, Emily McClelland, Christie Caraway, Kari Malamen, Misty Pagett, Gina Alley, Jennifer Betzen.

Discovery Club selling 36 - Dawn Casarez, Sandra Daugherty, Mikala Moore, Esmer Arellano.

Adventure Club selling 36 - Jill Johnson, Melissa Flores, Anissa Parks, Edna Soliz, Heidi Higgins, Melinda White, Angela Thomas, Katie Ramey, Cami Struve, Andrea Gates, Kristi Milton, Vicki Marasco.

Blue Birds Club selling - 36 - Lucinda Madrid, Jargett Baker, Shala Stone, Sara Rose, Susie Herrera, Crystal Cook, Camille Betzen, Lydia Flores, Heather Rogers, Ashley Thompson, Eulla Bell, Stephanie Fox.

Also, Vicki Mongold, Cathy Armor, Ruthie Aguilar, Cheryl Schlabs, Renee Sublett, Mica Landess, J.J. Bookout, Jayme Moore, Chari Suttle, Robin Sublett, Jill Dutton, Raina Kelly.

Pair Arrested For MJ Possession

While federal agents closing in on a major narcotics smuggling operation in Florida captured the big headlines yesterday officers of the Metro Intelligence Unit of Amarillo and the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office were conducting their own crackdown on marijuana as well.

Two Hereford men were arrested at a construction site north of East Highway 60 yesterday and charged with felony possession of marijuana.

A quantity of the weed was also confiscated.

Travis Gilliam, 22, and Carlos Pacheco, 20, both of Hereford, were arraigned after 5 p.m. yesterday before county Justice of the Peace O.K. Neal.

Bond for Gilliam was set at $15,000 while bond for Pacheco was set at $100,000.

According to Neal, Pacheco was already on felony probation at the time of his arrest yesterday, prompting the higher bond.

Neal pointed out that

Pacheco's probation will probably also be revoked.

Both suspects remained in the Deaf Smith County jail this morning in lieu of bond.

Undercover Metro Intelligence Unit officers and sheriff's officers made the arrest here yesterday at a construction site north of Boots West on East Highway 60.

Reportedly, the suspects were arrested after they attempted to sell marijuana to undercover officers.

Tax Board Okays Insurance Contract

Members of the Deaf Smith County District Tax Appraisal Board continued some routine "housekeeping" during a called meeting held at the Hereford ISD board room last night.

Board members are preparing for the launching of the central tax office here and discussed matters pertaining to that office in their session.

Trustees accepted a bid submitted by Plains Insurance Agency of Hereford for liability insurance, workman's compensation and comprehensive insurance coverage for the tax district, as well as for automobile liability insurance.

Plains Insurance submitted a winning bid of $1,784. Property Enterprises of Hereford was the only other bidder on the insurance coverage.

Child Enticement Attempt Reported

Police are investigating a case of a man trying to entice a child into his car here Wednesday morning.

According to police reports, at 7:45 a.m. Wednesday a man pulled up beside a group of children enroute to school and asked if they wanted a ride. The children started running, but the man was able to catch up to a 10-year-old girl. The girl told police yesterday the man grabbed her and tried to pull her into the car but was unable to.

The girl gave the police the license plate number and a description of the car and of the man. A suspect was later questioned and released.

wreck yesterday at the intersection of First and Main. A woman driving an east-bound 1980 Oldsmobile stopped for a red light. A man driving a cattle truck approached the intersection but could not stop in time. The front wheel of his truck struck the trunk of the car. No one was injured.

Six traffic citations were issued Thursday.

Steep Hike In Gas Tax Possible

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — It would take an 11-cent per gallon gasoline tax to cover the increasing costs of building and fixing Texas highways during the next biennium, according to a state energy panel staff report.

Texas' gasoline tax is five cents a gallon, the lowest in the nation. Three-fourths of the money is spent on highways, one-fourth on public schools.

The problem is inflation: motorists are buying more efficient cars in order to skirt the rising gas prices. Less gas used means less gas tax collected. Meanwhile, the cost of highway construction is rising.

In the 1982-83 biennium, the difference between the motor fuels tax and the amount

Beware The 13th!

Beware Friday the 13th! Superstition will have you believe that it is a bad luck day — a day when you don't cross the path of a black cat, walk under a ladder, get married, turn your mattress, trim your nails, or visit the sick.

Since it's also believed it is bad luck to start an endeavor, many Americans stay home from work on any Friday the 13th.

The superstition reportedly dates back to Norse mythology and, later, to the crucifixion of Christ.

If you escape the wrath of Friday the 13th today, it happens again in November. There was also a Friday the 13th last month.

White Asks Smith

To Reconsider Order

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Attorney General Mark White has asked U.S. Attorney General William French Smith to reconsider the U.S. Justice Department's proposal for Texas prisons.

The Justice Department, which intervened on behalf of inmates who filed a civil rights suit against the prisons, wants individual cells for each of the 29,000 inmates, and several other costly changes.

U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice, who has held that Texas prisons violate the constitutional rights of inmates, will issue an order in the case within the next few weeks. Justice's opinion said the prisons are overcrowded and violate prisoners' constitutional rights.

White formally asked Smith to review the Justice Department's position in the prison suit.

"The dramatic costs alone to implement these plans indicate the urgency with which I hope you will address these issues," White said.

"It is critical that the plan submitted by the U.S. Department of Justice be reviewed as quickly as possible before it is too late to modify this plan, which I hope does not reflect the policies of your office and of the Reagan administration," White told Smith.

White singled out three Justice Department recommendations "which should immediately be reviewed" by Smith:

— A proposal that each of the 29,000 prisoners have a private room or cell by 1982.

— A suggestion that prisons should be placed near cities of at least 50,000 people.

— A recommendation that prison units have no more than 500 inmates each.

Legislators

Get Windfall

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Comptroller Bob Bullock has told legislators they have $377.4 million more to spend on 1982-83 appropriations than he thought in January.

While Bullock's new estimate, issued Thursday, was good news for legislators, it still fell about $169 million short of what they need to pay for the Legislative Budget Board's recommended general appropriation bill.

Legislators are forbidden by the Texas Constitution to appropriate more money than the comptroller predicts will be available.

Bullock's new estimate indicates the surplus for this fiscal year will be $137.9 million higher than previously estimated while 1982-83 revenues will exceed his January projection by $239.5 million.

He said decontrol of oil prices, an increase in taxable retail sales and rising natural gas prices accounted for the increase in his revenue forecast.

"Even with the significant increase in major fund revenues, the recommendations of the Legislative Budget Board are $134 million over the revenue estimate," said Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, LBB chairman.

Another $35 million will be added to the excess if the Legislature passes a bill, as it is expected to, providing money to build prefabricated metal housing for 2,880 prison inmates.

Algebra Grievance

Rejected by Court

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A Fort Worth, Texas, high school student's complaint about his algebra grade got to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, but no farther.

The appellate court threw out the complaint, saying the matter was too trivial for federal justices to decide.

U.S. District Judge David O. Belew Jr. of Fort Worth had ordered a teacher to restore three points he deducted from Roberta Raymon's six-week algebra test grade as punishment for an unexcused absence, reducing a 95.478 grade to 95.413.

Roberta's parents filed suit claiming the punishment violated her right to due process of law.

The Raymons had appealed because Belew refused to order the teacher to pay their attorney's fee — and they wound up losing the entire case.

House Passes Bill

On Shipping Water

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The House has sent Gov. Frank White a bill aimed at preventing western states from getting Arkansas' water.

The bill by Sen. Wayne Dowd of Texarkana would prevent large shipments of water from being exported to other states. But it would allow the governor to export water if he declares an emergency.

The bill was well-received in the House, which has been concerned about shipping water out of state since Texas Gov. Bill Clements said last month that he believed Arkansas would give surplus water to Texas. Clements also said Gov. Frank White was agreeable to the idea.

Many legislators, especially those from rural areas, objected strongly, saying Arkansas had no surplus water and that farmers needed all of the water they could get.

White told House members last week that he had not talked with Clements and had no plans to export water.

The bill approved Thursday would allow the exportation of bottled drinking water as long as the containers hold 6 gallons or less.

Authorities Report Nation's Largest Smuggling Crackdown

MIAMI (AP) — Authorities who acknowledge they were outgunned in the past by drug traffickers have arrested more than 120 people and seized $1 billion in drugs in what they are calling the nation's largest marijuana-smuggling crackdown.

U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration officials estimated Thursday the arrests and seizures effectively stopped the flow of about a third of the controlled substances used in the United States.

"This will put them out of operation temporarily. We hope ultimately it will mean an elimination of them," said

Vernon D. Meyer, southeast regional director for the DEA.

Federal officials said they had rounded up 122 of an estimated 155 "high level managers" named in indictments stemming from the investigation dubbed "Operation Grouper." More suspects were being sought today.

Federal grand juries in Florida, Louisiana and Georgia returned indictments Thursday charging defendants with one or more counts of possession with intent to distribute a controlled substance, conspiracy to possess with intent to distribute a controlled substance and participating in a continuing criminal enterprise.

DEA Administrator Peter Bensinger said in Washington the 22-month probe resulted in the seizure of 1.2 million pounds of marijuana, 831 pounds of cocaine, 3 million doses of methamphetamine, 30 ocean-going ships used to smuggle drugs, two airplanes and $1 million in cash.

He placed the value of the drugs at more than $1 billion and said the crackdown dismantled 14 drug rings responsible for $22 billion in retail drug sales annually.

He said "Operation Grouper" was "the single largest enforcement activity ever domestically against the marijuana trade."

Three defendants, Jose Fernandez, 36, of Vero Beach, Fla.; Reuben Perez, 37, of Miami; and Paul Hinderling, were being held on $20 million bond or more, Bensinger said. Hinderling's address was not immediately known.

"Operation Grouper" began in Panama City, in the Florida Panhandle, and spread to other points, Meyer said.

Bensinger said nine DEA agents gained the confidence of drug smugglers by posing as drug off-loaders, providing smugglers with sophisticated electronics equipment wired to the Coast Guard and "safe" storage areas in the Bahamas and the United States.

Tax

needed for highways will be $950 million, according to Ted Taylor, director of the policy analysis division for the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council.

That difference — which will top $1.3 billion in 1984-85 — has to be made up from the state's general revenues.

At the request of Speaker Bill Clayton, Taylor on Thursday reported to TENRAC on the effects of raising the gas tax.

Taylor's charts showed that a one-cent increase would give the state an additional $70 million a year for road building and maintenance — barely a dent in the $950 million drain on general revenues.

The council, chaired by Gov. Bill Clements, took no action on the gasoline tax.

Clements said he, Clayton and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby have talked about the tax and the wisdom of raising it. Clayton and Hobby are on TENRAC, but were presiding over their respective houses when Taylor made his report.

Taylor had no recommendation on whether the tax should be raised. He offered a system which would tie the tax to inflation factors, raising it as prices jump.

Clayton has said raising the gasoline tax could become a major issue before the regular legislative session ends June 1.

"It's a continuing problem and it will get worse as inflation continues and gas demand falls off," Taylor said after the meeting.

Projections show gas demand in Texas will drop about 1 percent a year through 1990, he said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Regulations everywhere, more than you'd ever think; regulations everywhere, so water you can drink.

In one way or another, nearly every federal department, all of the states and most local governments have rules, policy, planners and projects affecting the nation's most precious liquid asset — water.

"Everybody is in charge (of water). It's kind of like the weather, everybody is in charge, and nobody is," said Russell Langford, associate chief hydrologist for the U.S. Geological Survey.

"It is totally confusing," added Gerald Seiwil, acting director of the Water Resources Council, the agency with the task of trying to bring order to water policy.

Water quality is one major focus of all the work. Simply finding water and getting it to people and places which need it is another. And different agencies often are responsible for each function.

Water management historically has been primarily state or local matters, but the federal government is taking a bigger part, both as a project builder and as a regulator of water use and quality.

Perhaps the biggest of the federal offices involved in water matters is the Army Corps of Engineers with its flood control, power, transportation and other projects across the country, and a civil works budget proposal of more than $3 billion for the coming year.

With a 1979 budget of more than half a billion dollars, including $399 million for construction projects, the Bureau of Reclamation also is a force to be reckoned with.

Primarily active in 17 dry Western states, the bureau started out in the 1920s to help restore dried out farmland. Over the years it has grown to include water power projects, recreational uses of water, flood control, municipal water systems and environmental enhancement.

Under the new name "Water and Power Resources Service," the agency recently issued a study of its work: It covers 1,462 pages.

The Agriculture Department's Forest Service and Soil Conservation Service are active in the small watershed program, setting up flood control projects on watersheds that aren't big enough for the Corps of Engineers; that is, 250,000 acres or less.

Both also work closely with the Environmental Protection Agency in battling water pollution.

The EPA has been most visible in fighting what it calls "point source," pollution, that is, pollution originating at one place such as a factory or sewage plant.

But there is also "non-point source" pollution, and here EPA turned to the Soil Conservation Service for help. Most of this type of pollution is soil and fertilizer washing off farm fields so the agencies work together to try and correct the problem.

EPA wants to keep soil and fertilizer out of the water, SCS wants to keep the soil and fertilizer down on the farm, so they are really both seeking the same result, just for different reasons, explained SCS spokesman Hubert W. Kelley Jr.

Interior Secretary James G. Watt said recently that the Reagan administration is committed to developing the nation's water resources, but cannot afford to propose any new projects right now.

Increasing authority for states and decreasing authority for the federal government also may be in the cards.

"There is, even among water people in Washington, a realization that water allocation and management is basically a state responsibility," said Seiwil.

Joseph Tofani, head of the Water Resources Congress, a private, non-profit organization that describes itself as working for wise use and development of water, says: "We've got too many regulations. Quite a few could be handled better by the states, each state has its own problems."

Seiwil said he hopes the states will do a better job in the future than they did in the past in maintaining water quality.

"They didn't in the 1940s and 1950s and the federal government stepped in, but we are all a whole lot smarter now than we were then," he said.

Hostages Cheer News of Deal

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The hostages cheered and in the jetliner that had been their crowded home for 11 days the lights came on for the first time after Pakistan's ruling generals capitulated to the three hijackers.

"They certainly have a lot to cheer about, and not just because the threat of violent death doesn't hang over them any longer," said an official of the Pakistani airline.

"When they come off that plane, they'll certainly be a miserable smelly lot. They have been wearing the same clothes for 11 days and we doubt they have been able to wash properly."

He said his company has been supplying the plane with 40 packets of paper tissues every day but did not send any shaving cream, cologne or other toiletries.

More than 100 passengers and crew members have been held prisoner aboard the Pakistan International Airlines plane since three young foes of Pakistan's military government seized control of the airliner on March 1. On Thursday, after the hijackers threatened to kill the three American men among them, the Pakistani government agreed to exchange 55 political prisoners for the hostages and let the hijackers go to Libya.

Despite the obvious hardships of their protracted confinement, the passengers and crew "maintained remarkably high spirits," said Maj. Gen. Saifur Khan, the Pakistani ambassador to Syria, who negotiated with the hijackers through Syrian intermediaries.

One of the Americans aboard had his guitar along and helped keep up morale by playing and singing, a U.S. Embassy official reported.

Last Seven Atlanta Cases Called 'Disturbingly Similar'

ATLANTA (AP) — The medical examiner who performed an autopsy on the latest victim in a series of 20 child slayings here says the last seven cases are "disturbingly similar" and show evidence that links the victims to a "gentle killer."

Joe Burton, chief medical examiner for suburban DeKalb County, said Thursday that 13-year-old Curtis Walker, like the six youngsters before him, was asphyxiated.

Burton said neither Walker nor the others had been mutilated, and their remains showed no indication of violence or signs that they had resisted abduction.

The only signs of injury to Walker's body, Burton said, were "indications of minimal trauma" to his neck and bruises and abrasions on the nose. The nose injuries indicated Walker was suffocated with an object other than fabric, he added.

"It seems that this person is doing just enough to kill the child," Burton said.

He said the seven cases "are disturbingly similar, and we're finding evidence also to connect the cases. I would not argue with anyone who says they are connected."

Physical evidence found on Walker's body, including fibrous materials, lend credence to a theory that one person was responsible for the last seven killings, all of which have occurred since city officials formed a task force to probe the mysterious child disappearances and slayings. One child still is missing.

The Fulton County district attorney had said Wednesday, in a copyright story by the Atlanta Constitution, that he believed as many as 10 killers might be involved in the 20 deaths.

But Lewis Slayton also said he felt evidence — including fibers — indicated the last seven cases could be connected. He said the deaths of three other children, all found in the adjacent community of East Point, could be the work of another individual.

Three children found earlier also were asphyxiated — either strangled or suffocated. Others were shot, stabbed or beaten to death, and several bodies were too decomposed to determine a cause of death.

Like 14-year-old victim Lubie Geter, Walker was clad only in underwear when his body was discovered March 6 in the South River, 15 days after he was last seen, Burton added.

Burton cautioned against assuming too much from the physical evidence.

"If you pulled 100 people from outside, you'd find that two or three of them have fibers on them that match. The fibers alone are not enough to me to tie the cases."

However, Burton said, "This evidence serves to aid us in connecting cases where we have evidence that would tend to connect them."

El Salvador Talk Softer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reacting to concern that it is risking a new Vietnam-type conflict, the Reagan administration is suddenly speaking softly about its involvement in El Salvador while sending Green Berets to train government troops in guerrilla warfare.

Several officials said the administration has decided against any deeper involvement in El Salvador, barring some major setback to the government at the hands of Marxist guerrillas. And even then, no one was prepared to predict the United States would do anything more.

"They are clearly backing off," one State Department official said Thursday. "They apparently feel they went too far, and the Vietnam analogy has a lot of people worried."

While the administration was trying to draw a distinction between El Salvador and Vietnam, however, Pentagon officials said Thursday night that 15 Army Special Forces troops have been ordered to the Central American country to conduct counter-insurgency training.

Congressional sources, meanwhile, said the administration is working on a $140 million package of new economic aid for El Salvador, with $63.5 million from the United States and the rest from international organizations.

The Green Berets are among 20 additional U.S. military advisers approved by Reagan last month. The Pentagon said three of the Green Berets already are in El Salvador with 39 other advisers and the other 12 are expected to arrive from the Panama Canal Zone by the end of the month.

The Green Berets will not go into combat with the Salvadorans, as they did with South Vietnamese soldiers, but will conduct training at three centers, Pentagon officials said.

The elite Special Forces unit was created before the Vietnam War to train armies of friendly countries to cope with insurgencies, and some members have been assigned in other Latin American countries.

The deployment in El Salvador, however, comes as the administration is playing down the importance of events there.

Canada's Capital

Named after the Outaouac (or Outaouais Indian Tribe), Ottawa was founded as Bytown in 1827. Located on the Ontario side of the Ottawa River border with Quebec, the city was incorporated under its present name in 1855. It became the capital of the Canadian Confederation in 1867.

Draper Homemakers Plan Garage Sale

Members of the Draper Extension Homemakers Club will have a garage sale in May to raise additional funds for the club.

Members voted on the decision when they met in regular session at the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room Wednesday.

In other business members voted to attend the home furnishing demonstration March 25 at the Hereford Community Center. The demonstration will be presented by Deaf Smith County Agent, Louise Walker.

Tonie Vaughn, club member, gave a slow cookery demonstration at the meeting.

She listed advantages of the method including saving time and energy.

Members who attended the meeting and covered dish lunch were Anna Messer, Sherrie Blackwell, Loyce Driver, Johnnie Messer, Martha Rickman, Louise Walker and Penny Cribbs.

Larry Sinclair Family

Will Perform at Dawn

Dawn Baptist Church will host a gospel music concert by the Larry Sinclair Family of Fort Worth Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

Formerly Larry Sinclair sang with The Followers, an evangelistic singing group. After three years with the group Larry left to begin a music ministry with his entire family. The group sings both traditional and contemporary gospel music.

Since beginning their work together the family has sung at revivals, concerts, youth rallies and retreats. Freida Sinclair, a ventriloquist, will present a special program for children. She will be helped by her "son" Willie Jo.

The church is located 13 miles east of Hereford on Highway 60.

Sheriff McPherson Talks

To Extension Homemakers

Travis McPherson, Deaf Smith County Sheriff talked to members of the Frio Extension Homemakers Club about rape prevention.

The club met for its regular meeting at the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

Some of the advice presented to the group included carrying a can of mace; keeping the house and car locked, avoiding going out alone at night, avoiding dark areas and making the choice of fighting or not.

McPherson emphasized the importance of reporting a crime of rape and said reporting small irregularities and details can often help in building a substantial case.

The next meeting will be

March 24 and Dorothea Prowell will lead the program, "Flattering Styles."

Refreshments were served by Georgia Andrews and Ellen Warrick.

Guests present at the meeting were Denie Caro, Marguerite Cole and Mary E. Williamson. Members attending were Ruth Robins, Ruth Fought, Ruby Sparkman, Helen Barber, Virginia Yandell, Ella Caudle, Florine Struve, Loleta Vinson, Ellen Warrick, Beverly Paetzold, Darlene Richardson, Bonnie Baldwin, Barbara McMillon, Anna Vogler, Nadine Warrick, Anna Lee Dobbins, Georgia Andrews and Sharon Caro.

St. Anthony's Students Plan For Wild Wild West Carnival

St. Anthony's Catholic Parish Wild Wild West Carnival is scheduled to get underway March 29 with various activities planned for the event.

Students at the school are preparing for the carnival by participating in a poster contest. In addition, each class is sponsoring different games and activities.

Some 40 students have entered the poster contest. After judging is completed, the posters will be placed throughout the city to advertise the carnival.

First grade students are sponsoring penny pitch, wheel of fortune and a cake walk. Donna and Joe Lindeman are serving as chairmen. Second graders will have the fish pond, bean bag throw and bingo with Eileen and Larry Alley as chairmen. The third grad class will conduct the ball toss and jail. Claudia and Dale Smith are the chairmen.

Fourth grade students have planned a country store, balloon darts and number darts with Dolores and Dennis Gerber serving as the chairmen.

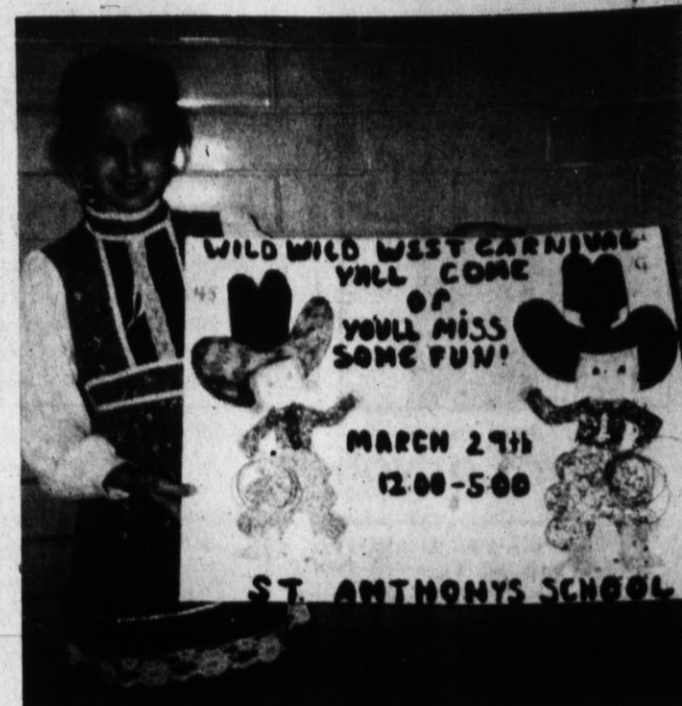

The fifth and seventh grade classes are working together to prepare food for the carnival. Food to be served includes hamburgers, barbecue on a bun, corn dogs, frito pie, homemade sausage links, homemade bread, pickle spears, cheese sticks, beans, french fries, chili and pies. Betty and Butch Connally and Judith and Joe Ed Andrews are serving as chairmen.

Sixth and eighth grade students will have a money drawing under the direction of Alice and James Judd.

An auction is also planned for the carnival. John Kreighauser will direct the event.

Proceeds from the carnival will go towards the school's operating expenses.

Preparing for Carnival

Stacy Sherbon, a third grade student at St. Anthony's School, is one of the 40 students who has entered the poster contest in conjunction with the parish's Wild Wild West Carnival. After posters are judged, they will be placed throughout the city to advertise the carnival scheduled for March 29 at the church from 12-5 p.m.

BB/BS Nominated For National Award

By ALLISON RYAN
Women's Editor

Big Brother-Big Sister Appreciation Week was highlighted Thursday night when Robert Madina and Norma Walden were named Hereford's nominees for National Big Brother-Big Sister of the year.

The nominations were announced at the BB-BS seventh annual appreciation dinner which was held at Caisson's Restaurant.

In addition to the presentation of story and poster contest winners, special recognition awards, friendship degrees and appreciation awards, Zeke Castro, 1980 National Big Brother of the Year, spoke about his involvement in the program.

Petra Benavides, executive director, made the announcements of the nominees explaining the guidelines used and describing the work both individuals have been involved in with the Hereford program.

Little Brothers and Little Sisters of the program had participated in story and poster contests this week and winners were announced at the dinner.

Those participating in the story contest described why they liked their Big Brother-Big Sister. The poster contest involved describing the program through a painting.

Mary Ann Martinez won first place and Anthony Montelongo won second in the story contest while Becky Garcia won first place and Joe Francis won second in the poster contest.

Steve Hodges, who has been a Big Brother since 1975, and Penny Jessup, who has been a Big Sister since 1974, were presented special recognition awards for their work in the program.

Friendship degrees were presented to Big Brothers and Big Sisters who have just entered the program including Ricky Lloyd, Edlanda Estes, Gloria Garcia and Allison Ryan.

Appreciation awards were presented to several businesses and groups who have supported the program including the Hereford State Bank, The Hereford Brand, First Christian Church Women's Group, the Women's chapter of the GI Forum and BB-BS of Amarillo.

Following the presentation of awards, Zeke Castro, 1980 National Big Brother of the Year, of Amarillo spoke to the group about his involvement in the program.

"When I received the award of Big Brother of the year, my first thought was I'm not worthy because there are so many people around doing the same thing. It is the people behind the scenes who deserve the award," Castro said.

He told the group he had become involved with BB-BS in 1973 after hearing a commercial and has since been a Big Brother to seven boys.

"There are people who say they don't have time and don't want to become involved, but anyone can incorporate their family life into the roll of a Big Brother," he said.

"I have failed at times, but being a Big Brother has become a part of life. I won the award, I was lucky, not worthy. All of you are doing what I do and I hope you keep up the good work," Castro concluded.

Businesses Urged To Submit History

Every business in Deaf Smith County is being urged to purchase space now to tell their history in the forthcoming history book, "The Land and Its People." Space is available in 1/4, 1/2 and full page sections. Histories may be submitted in form of copy and - or photographs.

All business histories will be featured in a special section of the book. Old time businesses could tell when their firms came into existence, why they established their company here, changes they have experienced and other items of interest such as changes anticipated in the future and family involvement in the business.

New businesses organizations should tell why they chose to come to Deaf Smith County, when they organized and how they feel the development in the past has provided an opportunity for their business.

Along with histories the businesses could also submit photographs to aid the interest of their story.

Advertising copy cannot be used; however, since the book will be read by hundreds of people, it will have advertising value. The purchase of the special pages assures more free space in the book for the general history of the activities of the county.

A committee being headed by Don Hicks will begin contacting businesses in the near future.

The tombs of chiefs of the Afar Tribe in Dankali, Africa, were once constructed by piling branches in the form of a hut. The number of stones lining the path leading to its entrance revealed the number of enemies the chief had killed.

The Newspaper BIBLE

SO YOU WANT HAPPINESS?

Jesus turned to His disciples and said, "What happiness there is for you who are poor, for the Kingdom of God is yours!"

"What happiness there is for you who are now hungry, for you are going to be satisfied! What happiness there is for you who weep, for the time will come when you will laugh with joy!"

"What happiness it is when others hate you and exclude you and insult you and smear your name because you are Mine!"

"When that happens, rejoice! Yes, leap for joy! For you will have a great reward awaiting you in heaven. And you will be in good company--the ancient prophets were treated that way too!"

"But, oh, the sorrows that await the rich. For they have their only happiness down here."

"They are fat and prosperous now, but a time of awful hunger is before them. Their careless laughter now means sorrow then."

"And what sadness is ahead for those praised by the crowds--for false prophets have always been praised."

"Listen, all of you. Love your enemies. Do good to those who hate you. Pray for the happiness of those who curse you; implore God's blessing on those who hurt you."

"If someone slaps you on one cheek, let him slap the other too! If someone demands your coat, give him your shirt besides."

"Give what you have to anyone who asks you for it; and when things are taken away from you, don't worry about getting them back."

Luke 6:20-30

Big Sister Norma Walden (left) and her little sister, Michele Hamilton spend time together watching television as one of their many activities. Mrs. Walden is one of the volunteers to be honored this week during Big Brother-

Big Sister Appreciation Week. "Sharing A Child's tomorrow" is the theme of this year's event which is held each year to make the public aware of the program.

Fire Safety

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This column will surely save some lives if the people who read it will take it seriously. These suggestions are from a Los Angeles fireman, Richard Kauffman, who believes that he would have survived the Las Vegas MGM Hotel fire. Because of what I have learned from him, I am sure I would have survived it, too.

First, when you check into a hotel, make sure you find out exactly where the fire exits are. Check to see if they are open and where they lead to. In other words, be familiar with them. If they are NOT open, call security and ask them to open the fire exit on your floor at once.

Know where your room key is at all times. Some of the Las Vegas victims were wandering in the halls. The smoke was terrible, but they were unable to get back into their rooms (which would have been a lot safer) because they didn't have their keys. There is a bedstead table in all hotel rooms, and that is where your key should be - not on top of the TV or in your trouser pocket or your pocketbook. The room key belongs on the bedside table. Make it a habit to keep it there.

At the first hint of the smell of smoke, call the fire department, NOT the desk. The desk will probably send up a security guard. The fire department will send fire-fighters. Tell the fire dispatcher what room you are in.

Then feel the doornob. If it is hot, don't open the door. If it isn't, peek outside. If it's not too smoky, go to the fire exit. Keep a wet towel over your face. NEVER USE THE ELEVATOR. When you use the stairwell, walk - do not run - down. If it gets too smoky, turn around and go ALL the way up. A fireman will greet you on the roof.

If you are forced to stay in your room, DO NOT break the window. If there is smoke outside, you will need to close it.

Fill the bathtub with water. Wet the towels and sheets and stuff them around the door. Block all vents with wet towels and sheets.

If the walls are hot, use the ice bucket and throw as much water on the walls as you can. Put a wet cloth over your nose and mouth. Smoke inhalation kills more people than fire. Above all, keep fighting. Don't quit. The longer you stay conscious, the better your chances for survival.

DEAR READERS: I suggest you tape a copy of these rules inside your suitcase so you can refresh your memory before every trip.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I didn't care for your advice to the woman whose husband divides the newspaper with her and then falls asleep under his half.

You have an eye for business, all right. You told her to buy TWO papers. I say, why waste the money? If the big oaf is going to sleep, he can sleep just as well under yesterday's paper. I wish you would correct that answer. It bothered me. - Minnie In Davis, Cal.

DEAR MINNIE: Sorry, dear, you didn't read the whole letter, and I did. It seems Sleeping Beauty likes to fall asleep with the paper over his face. When she tries to lift it off, she wakes him up and he gets mad. He wants to sleep under the current paper, so when he wakes up he can start in where he left off.

In-Betweeners Special Tasks

COLLEGE STATION -- Your nine-year-old may be experiencing the first sparks of his life's philosophy or religious faith.

Your 11-year-old may be establishing character traits she will keep for life.

Ages 9-13, the "in-between" years, are busy ones, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

Parents should pay attention to their "in-betweeners" and help with the special tasks this age group faces, she says.

Mrs. Welch is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

WHO'S AN 'IN-BETWEENER'?

"In-betweeners" have special characteristics and feelings. It's important that parents understand these, Mrs. Welch advises.

During "in-between years," children may begin to reject adults--or feel that adults have rejected them.

They may treat the opposite sex with scorn.

And they may look at their own age and sex group as being very important.

'IN-BETWEENER' TASKS Developmental tasks during ages 9-13 concentrate on moral, philosophical and social activities, Mrs. Welch explains.

During these years, both boys and girls need help from parents with these tasks, the specialist stresses.

Parents can help their "in-betweeners" with the following important tasks: become self-directing (doing the "right" thing without being told), form moral judgments, establish character traits, develop a beginning philosophy or religious faith, establish relationships with peers, and participate in group and community activities.

HOW PARENTS CAN HELP

Parents can help their youth during these years in numerous major ways, Mrs. Welch says. Here are her suggestions:

When children behave as children, adults should act like adults. Children feel more secure with mature, responsible adults.

Respect your "in-betweeners" as growing individuals--not as babies or adults but as they are.

Use good judgment in timing "discussions"--and punishments.

Take time and trouble to provide natural outlets for individual and group activity.

Have faith and confidence in your child's growing independence.

Act consistently and as fairly as possible without unreasonable irritation.

Remember, each child is an individual--with his or her own set of needs.

Know that children have feelings and emotions that need positive outlets.

Cards Upset Missouri in Tourney

By The Associated Press

Back in December, the Missouri Tigers thrashed the Lamar Cardinals in the "Show Me Classic."

Thursday night, it was the Cardinals' turn to show the Tigers.

Getting revenge for a 92-70 rout in the holiday tournament, the Cardinals upset the Tigers 71-67 in the NCAA basketball tournament and headed for a second-round game of the Midwest playoffs Saturday.

"We wanted the game real bad," said Lamar Coach Pat Foster. "I think we had an advantage coming into the game with Missouri having beaten us as bad as they did the first time."

With center B.B. Davis of the Southland Conference champions in foul trouble, the Cardinals played at a deliberate pace most of the game. And it paid off.

"We had to get deliberate," said Foster. "We didn't feel we could run with Missouri. The first time we tried to run with them, they blew us out."

A 25-point performance by Mike Oliver led the Cardinals, who pulled off their second upset in as many years in the NCAA playoffs. Last season, they knocked off Pac-10 winner Oregon State in an early round. The Cardinals advanced to the second round Saturday against No. 4 Louisiana State.

In Thursday night's other

Midwest game at Austin, Tex., 20th-ranked Arkansas held off upset-minded Mercer 73-67. Darrell Walker came off the bench to score 19 points for the Razorbacks, who advanced to a meeting Saturday with Louisville.

Atrocious free-throw shooting by the Razorbacks helped keep the 13-point underdog Bears in the game. Arkansas hit only 19-of-40 free throw attempts and Walker could hit just 3-for-13. But the Razorbacks just had too much depth for the Bears, who finished third in the Trans America Athletic Conference but won the postseason tournament.

In other tournament play, Linton Townes led James Madison on a nine-point run midway in the second half, and the Dukes held on to beat Georgetown 61-55 in the first round of the East Regionals at Providence, R.I. The victory sent the Dukes into a Saturday game with seventh-ranked Notre Dame.

Danny Ainge scored 21 points and Brigham Young University solved Princeton's deliberate offense in the second half to beat the Tigers 60-51 in the other first-round East game. The 16th-ranked Cougars will face 10th-ranked UCLA Saturday.

"It's not as big a surprise as some thing," said James Madison Coach Lou Campanelli of the upset. "I know a lot of people will pick up their newspapers tomorrow morning and be pretty surprised, but we thought all along that we could beat Georgetown."

"This is the best victory ever for our basketball program. To have the opportunity to compete against Notre Dame Saturday on television will be a tremendous thrill."

Tony Costner's 14 second-half points, including two free throws with three seconds left, rallied St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania to a 59-57 victory over Creighton in NCAA Midwest Regionals.

Costner finished with 18 points and John Smith added 20 for the Hawks in the game at the University of Dayton Arena. Kevin McKenna had 18 points for Creighton and George Morrow added 17.

St. Joseph's, the East Coast Conference champion, moved into Saturday's second round game against DePaul.

"Tony in a quiet way has had as productive a season as any freshman out there," said St. Joseph's Coach Jym Lynman of Costner. "We have come from behind to win several games and the big fellow has played an important part in all of them."

Albert King scored 25 points to lead Maryland to a come-from-behind 81-69 victory over Tennessee-Chattanooga in the night's second game. The Terps, of the Atlantic Coast Conference, will meet No. 9 Indiana Saturday.

Held in check most of the way, Rolando Blackman put Kansas State ahead to stay with 2:19 remaining as the Wildcats rallied for a 64-60 victory over the University of San Francisco in the West Regionals at Los Angeles. Randy Reed led the Wildcats with 24 points.

The Wildcats moved into Saturday's second round against second-ranked Oregon State.

"I never got loose during the whole game," said

Blackman, who finished with just eight points. "In fact, I never even got into the game. My last four points were just a matter of being at the right place at the right time."

Kansas State Coach Jack Hartman, whose team trailed by as many as 12 points early in the second half, praised the Dons of the West Coast Athletic Conference, calling them "a very fine and talented team."

"I feel very good to have won," said Hartman. "We were very fortunate. It takes a lot of poise to show patience and not try to catch up in a brief period of time. I thought our players did a good job of controlling that urge."

Charles Bradley and Bill Garnett combined for 38 points as 17th-ranked Wyoming crushed Howard University 78-43 in the nightcap of the West doubleheader. Wyoming will face 19th-ranked Illinois Saturday.

First-round action continues tonight at other sites in the four regions.

In the East at Charlotte, N.C., it's Virginia Commonwealth vs. Long Island University and Houston against Villanova. In the Midwest at Tuscaloosa, Ala., Ball State faces Boston College and Alabama-Birmingham meets Western Kentucky.

In the Midwest at Wichita, Kan., it's Kansas vs. Mississippi and Southern University against Wichita State. And in the West Regionals at El Paso, Tex., Idaho takes on Pittsburgh and Fresno State tackles Northeastern.

Motta Happy With Upbeat Mavericks

By The Associated Press

Their record is only 12-61, but Dallas Coach Dick Motta likes the way the expansion Mavericks are finishing their first National Basketball Association season.

"I'm happy we're on an upbeat," said Motta after the Mavericks trimmed the Golden State Warriors 120-118 Thursday night. "This team has had a thousand opportunities to just play-act out the rest of the season, but we're going to finish strong."

"I don't know how many games we're gonna win, but this will make our preparation for next fall much easier. And it will make our players' vacation a lot nicer."

Tom LaGarde converted a missed shot by teammate Jim Spanarkel into a three-point play with three seconds left to give Dallas its second straight victory and nullify a 45-point outburst by the Warriors' Purvis Short.

In other NBA games, the Milwaukee Bucks defeated the Denver Nuggets 131-113, the Indiana Pacers edged the Washington Bullets 114-107 and the Los Angeles Lakers beat the San Diego Clippers 122-116.

Short hit 18 of 30 field goal attempts, including a pair of three-pointers, and made all seven of his foul shots in the highest scoring game of his career, but fouled out with 7:26 to play.

Golden State outscored Dallas 14-2 in 2:50 to take a 117-113 lead with 1:53 but was unable to hang on.

"Dallas just keeps coming after you," said Warriors Coach Al Attles. "They improve each time out. They must have our number because they've beaten us twice."

Spanarkel led the Mavericks with 26 points, Bill Robinson scored 22 and Brad Davis contributed 18 points and 14 assists.

Bucks 131, Nuggets 113
Mickey Johnson scored 12 of his 22 points in a 42-point third quarter as the Bucks dealt Denver its third straight loss. The Nuggets led 59-54 at halftime before behind outscored 42-19 in the decisive third period.

Milwaukee outrebounded Denver 67-53 and shut down the Nuggets' running game.

"When you play bad defense you get outrun, and we were just awful on defense," said Nuggets Coach Doug Moe. "When the other team scores every time down the floor, you can't run because there are no rebounds. We can't outrun anybody if we don't play defense."

Pacers 114, Bullets 107
Washington fell 2½ games behind Chicago in their race for the final Eastern Conference playoff berth as the Pacers pulled away with an 8-2 burst early in the fourth quarter. George McGinnis, back in the starting lineup because of an injury to Mike Bantom, led Indiana with 24 points.

Lakers 122, Clippers 116
Jamaal Wilkes scored 29 points and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar added 26 for the Lakers, who took control with a 10-2 spurt to start the second half and never let San Diego catch up. Earvin "Magic" Johnson scored 26 points, his high since returning to action last month following knee surgery, and added nine rebounds and seven assists for the Lakers.

Floyd Takes Lead in Doral-Eastern Tournament

MIAMI (AP) — Home cooking makes a difference, said Ray Floyd.

"It's like a homecourt advantage in basketball," the veteran Floyd said after posting a 6-under-par 66 that gave him a share of the first-round lead in the $250,000 Doral-Eastern Open Golf Tournament.

"You can sleep in your own bed, eat home cooking, have a lot of good people out there rooting for you," said Floyd, whose home is only a few miles away from the 7,065-yard Blue Monster course at the Doral Country Club where Floyd beat Jack Nicklaus for this title a year ago.

"There's got to be something to it," Floyd said. "I was born and raised in North Carolina and I won all the tournaments in that state before I moved down here."

Floyd, who counts the Masters and PGA among his 12 Tour titles, shared the first-round lead with Australian David Graham, the former PGA champion, and Dr. Gil Morgan, a non-practicing optometrist.

Keith Fergus was alone at 67.

The group at 68 was headed by Lanny Wadkins, who scored two eagles on the front nine in the warm, sunny weather. Also at that figure were Tom Weiskopf, Hale Irwin, Fuzzy Zoeller, Leonard Thompson, David Edwards, Bob Murphy and Dan Pohl.

Tom Kite shot a 69 and kept alive his chances of obtaining one of the biggest prizes in the history of the game. Kite won last week's Inverrary Classic. A special prize of $500,000 has been established for any player able to sweep Inverrary, Doral and next week's Tournament Players Championship, with $250,000 to a man winning two of them in a row or $100,000 to the winner of the first and third.

South African Gary Player opened his 25th American campaign with a 70. Seve Ballesteros of Spain, the current Masters champ, matched par 72 despite a triple bogey-7 from the water on the 18th.

Nicklaus, a playoff loser in this event a year ago and a runner-up last year, could do no better than a 74 that left him far back in the pack and facing the need for improvement Friday if he is to qualify for the final two rounds.

"The course is in too good shape to shoot 74," Nicklaus said. "I hit the ball reasonably well and the putting wasn't that bad. I just didn't make anything."

Bruce Lietzke, winner of the Bob Hope and San Diego events earlier this year, shot a 73 that stopped his streak of rounds at par or better at 22.

By The Associated Press
Holy Cross, Alabama, Temple and Connecticut began their march toward the National Invitation Tournament title the hard way — posting first-round victories on the road.

Reserve forward Dave Mulquin took a pass from Ed Thurman and sank a 10-foot baseline jumper at the buzzer Thursday night as Holy Cross nipped Southern Mississippi 56-54. In another close game, Alabama reeled off the first six points of the overtime period and defeated St. John's 73-69.

Guard Keith Parham scored 25 points to lead Temple to a 90-82 decision over Clemson. Bob Dulin's 16 points led five Connecticut players in double figures as the Huskies topped South Florida 65-55.

In other first-round games Thursday night, Michigan beat Duquesne 74-58, Purdue topped Rhode Island 84-58 and Duke defeated North Carolina A&T 79-69.

Those winners join Georgia, Toledo, Minnesota,

South Alabama, Texas-El Paso and Dayton in the second round. The remaining spots will be filled tonight with the final three first-round games: Marquette, 20-10, at Syracuse, 18-11; Penn, 20-7, at West Virginia, 20-8, and Pan American, 18-10, at Tulsa, 21-7.

Southern Mississippi's Eddie Jiles had tied the score at 54-54 with a free throw with 23 seconds left before Thurman set up Mulquin's game-winning shot for Holy Cross.

"I was thinking, 'Get loose, throw it up soft,'" said Mulquin, who was carried off the court on the shoulders of his Holy Cross teammates after his clutch basket.

Holy Cross, 20-9, will face the Marquette-Syracuse winner in the second round.

Wayne McKay's basket for St. John's with 52 seconds left sent the game into overtime, but baskets by Mike Davis and Ken Johnson and two free throws by Eddie Adams at the start of the extra period put Alabama in command. David Russell of St. John's led all scorers with 25 points but was held to just six after halftime. Eddie Phillips had 17 points for Alabama, 18-10, which next plays Duke.

"Once we got into the overtime I insisted that we wait for good shots," said Alabama Coach Wimp Sanderson. "I told our kids to be patient, run our offense and let them foul us — and that's what happened."

Temple, 20-7, turned back two second-half rallies to beat Clemson despite 34 points by the Tigers' Larry Nance. Temple moves into a second-round match against the winner of tonight's Penn-West Virginia game.

Connecticut, 20-8, went without scoring for eight minutes of the second half but still had enough to beat South Florida and advance to a second-round game against Minnesota.

Mike McGee, the Big Ten Conference's all-time leading scorer, posted 20 of his game-high 26 points in the second half as Michigan beat Duquesne. The Wolverines, 18-10, will play Toledo in the second round.

"McGee does the best job of anyone I've seen in leaving the defensive end to get downcourt," said Duquesne Coach Mike Rice. "You can't let him get behind you because if he gets free, he has no hesitation about shooting."

Purdue outscored Rhode Island 10-0 from the foul line in the first half to take a 32-22 lead, stretched that advantage to 17 points shortly after intermission and coasted past the Rams. Keith Edmonson scored 27 points, Drake Morris 20 and Russell Cross 15 for the Boilermakers, 18-10, who will face Dayton in the second round.

Duke got 18 points from guard Vince Taylor and 17 from forward Kenny Denard in beating North Carolina A&T. Forward Gene Banks of Duke suffered a wrist injury midway through the first half and sat out the rest of the game.

Red Cross Slates Family Fun Night

Red Cross will celebrate Family Fun Night and the organization's 100 birthday March 28 with the naming of the Volunteer of the Year highlighting the event.

A chili supper will kick off the activities beginning at 5 p.m. at the Hereford Community Center. Cost of the meal is $2 with proceeds going to the Red Cross.

Also scheduled for the evening is the awarding of a handmade quilt. Lottie Wertenberger spent more than 500 hours making the hand-embroidered quilt. Tickets for the quilt can be purchased at both local banks, the Hereford Credit Union and the Red Cross office.

"This is her fourth quilt and it was made to commemorate the Red Cross' 100th birthday this month," Betty Henson, executive secretary of the Hereford office, said.

Following the supper, bingo and a country bazaar are planned. At 7 p.m. Red Cross volunteers will be recognized and the naming of the volunteer of the year will be announced.

The public is invited to attend.

DMSO Users Testify About Cancer Cure

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Tears welled in Alva Ruth Wilson's eyes as she told a House committee that DMSO — now sold in Texas as a cleaning solvent — helped cure her of cancer.

Moments before, Dr. E.J. Tucker of Houston introduced Mrs. Wilson and two other patients as people who owe their lives to DMSO (dimethyl sulfoxide), which cannot be prescribed by Texas physicians.

"I beg you to allow the people of Texas to have it," Tucker said. "... These people would all be dead today if not for DMSO."

Mrs. Wilson, 48, of Porter, north of Houston, said, "My three other doctors didn't give me any hope." But, she said, a year of DMSO treatments under Tucker's guidance cured her. The DMSO, which penetrates the skin rapidly, was used to carry other chemicals into the bloodstream, Tucker said.

Rep. Gene Green, D-Houston, wants the Legislature to allow physicians to prescribe DMSO, now purchased as a "degreaser" at chemical supply stores. Veterinarians use it to treat some animal diseases.

House Health Services Committee Chairman Ron Wilson, D-Houston, sent the measure to subcommittee.

Tucker said DMSO is not a cure-all, and his treatments are effective only for some cancer forms.

DMSO has not been approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Users of the substance say it relieves the pain of arthritis and other diseases.

Tucker predicted DMSO never would gain FDA approval because the agency requires a "double-blind study" before approving substances. The study requires that subjects never know what substance they are using. DMSO's distinctive garlic-like smell makes it easily detectable, Tucker said.

Witnesses talked about DMSO as a relief for fever blisters, arthritis, ear infections, wasp stings and sinus problems.

Tucker said the treatments cured Clyde Lindsey of Pasadena. The boy, now 15, had cancer at age three, and other doctors said there was no cure, according to Tucker.

Suzanne Frias of Fort Worth testified, "My husband would be alive today if DMSO had been more widely known." She said he died at age 55 because no doctor would tell him about the substance.

Mrs. Frias said her father also died of cancer.

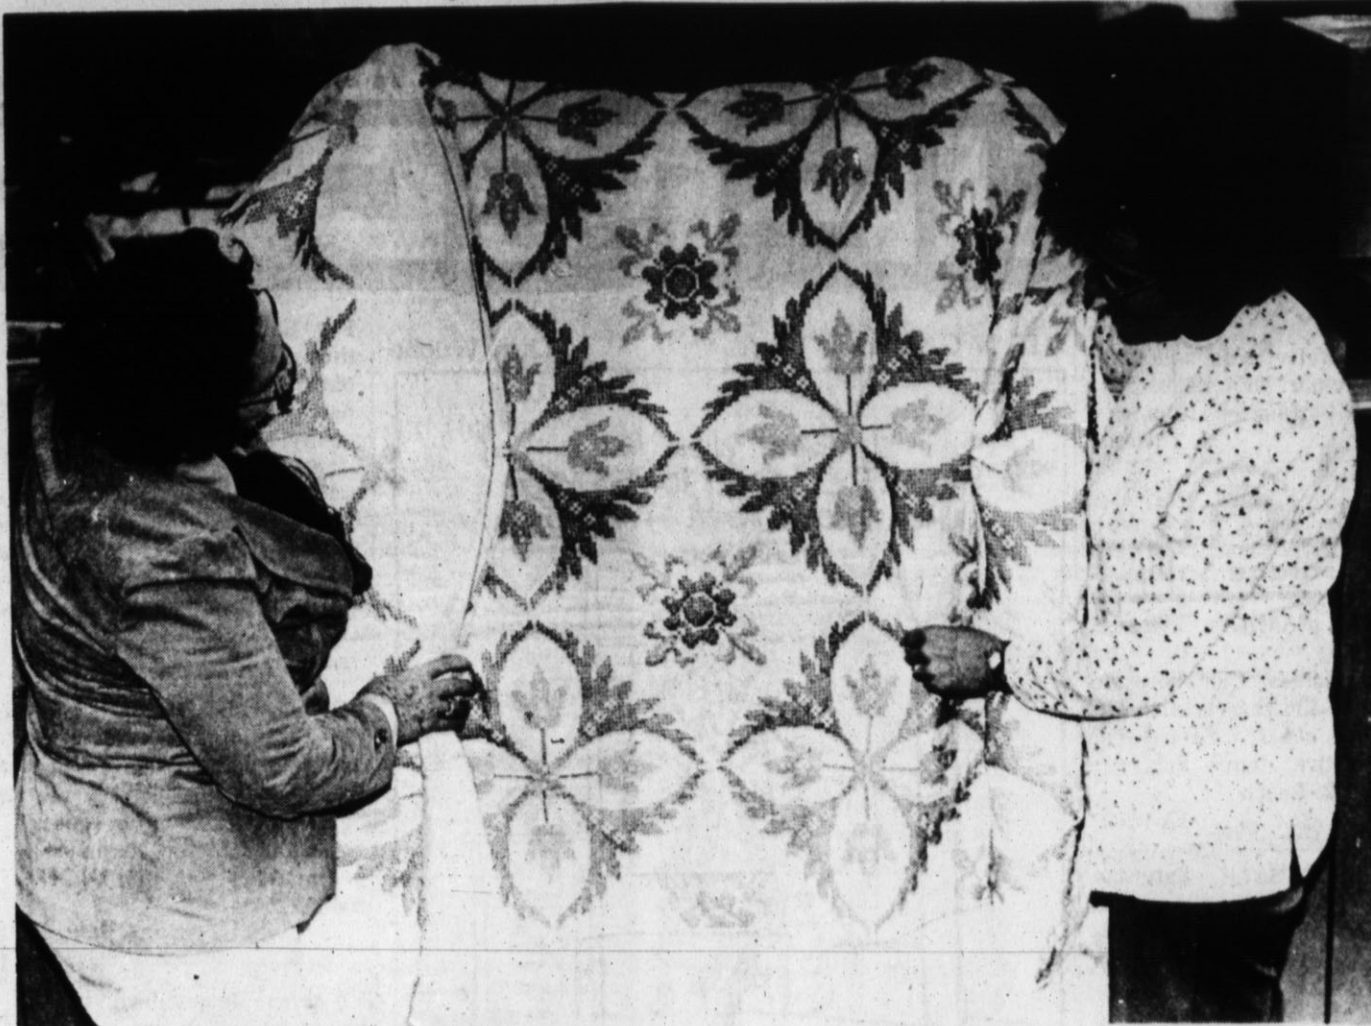

"It could have extended my father's life and saved my husband's life," she said.

Green said his bill is needed to allow Texans to take DMSO under a treatment plan set up by a physician.

Self-prescribed treatments used now by Texans are based on "hearsay," Green said.

"I am trying to bring DMSO into the health care field," Green said.

The bill would require physicians to tell patients that DMSO is not approved by the FDA, and also advise of other possible treatments.

Happy Birthday Quilt

A hand embroidered quilt will be awarded at the Red Cross Family Fun Night set for March 28 at the Hereford Community Center. Lottie Wertenberger spent more than 500 hours making the quilt to commemorate the Red Cross'

100 birthday this month. Tickets for the quilt can be bought at both Hereford banks, the Hereford Credit Union and the Red Cross office. Proceeds will go to the Red Cross.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, March 13, the 72nd day of 1981. There are 293 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On March 13, 1974, oil-producing Arab countries agreed to end their 5-month embargo on petroleum sales to United States.

On this date: In 1963, the Soviet Union said it would scrap its seven-year plan because it was out of step with the times.

Five years ago: President Ford's campaign chairman, Howard Calloway, went on "temporary" leave amid charges he had misused his influence in a Colorado ski resort deal.

One year ago: The Ford Motor Corp. was found innocent of reckless homicide charges resulting from the fiery deaths of three teenagers in the automaker's Pinto model.

Today's birthdays: Band leader Sammy Kaye is 71. Former U.S. ambassador to Britain Walter Annenberg is 73.

Phillips, Nunley Given Promotions

Promotions in the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. have elevated two Hereford men to new management-level positions.

A.J. Phillips, former Hereford office manager, took over the reins of the district manager in Brownfield March 1, and Gerald Nunley, formerly a general utility man here, has been selected to succeed Phillips as office manager here.

Nunley joined Pioneer Natural Gas Co. on December 16, 1971, and he has held the positions of senior distribution plant clerk, draftsman, general plant operator, engineering and engineering technician.

Nunley, a 1971 graduate of Hereford High School, and his wife, Mary Ann, are the parents of two children. The Nunleys live at 213 Douglas and are members of the First Methodist Church.

Phillips has been with Pioneer for 14 years and was promoted to office manager in Hereford in December of 1976.

Phillips is a graduate of Springlake High School and is a member of the board of directors of United Way in Hereford and Deaf Smith County Red Cross.

Phillips is also a member of the Hereford Zoning and Planning Commission and the Kiwanis Club, which he served as a past president.

Phillips and his wife, Janis, are parents of two children and are active in Temple Baptist Church in Hereford.

Pioneer Natural Gas Company Co. is the utility division of Amarillo-based Pioneer Corporation. The company serves almost 270,000 customers in over 65 cities and towns in West Texas.

DOES THIS CONFUSE ANYONE?

It's very simple. It's explaining how the crop residues - or raw manure applied to your field for that matter - largely escapes to the air - EVAPORATES! Now in compost the humus is concentrated. The humus gives your soil structure - meaning less tillage needed and better water efficiency. And did you know the value of the N&P in our compost gives you free humus. Get the facts.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Some time ago you had a column on weight control. You said that you could do a lot to decrease your calories and still have plenty to eat if you just ate the right foods.

Well, what are the right foods? I have never been very successful with a diet because I cut down for the diet and then when I am off the diet I gain all the weight back again. I'm a real yo-yo.

This time I thought I would try to prepare foods I really like but use only those that were not high in calories. If I do that and exercise regularly, perhaps I can stand to diet and stay slim forever.

DEAR READER - You can certainly avoid regaining your excess pounds of fat if you stay with a sensible diet and exercise program.

Yes, you can have a fine balanced diet and have enough food to be satisfied if you follow some basic principles in food preparation.

The underlying principle is to eliminate all the fat you can in food preparation. Fat is the major source of calories. If that isn't enough, eliminate all the concentrated sweets you can.

Finally, learn that many foods are low in calories because they contain lots of water. That includes lean meat, fresh vegetables and most raw fruits.

The mute swan is so-called because it is said never to use its voice in captivity.

FAITH TEACHES US THE LAWS OF RETRIBUTION

One of the most commonly held fallacies is the notion that we can "get away with something". This false premise is strengthened by the sight of those around us who have apparently succeeded in doing so; while at the same time it would appear that others are being punished out of all proportion to any wrong they may have done. However, you are destined to learn that in the long run you will receive whatever reward or punishment you deserve, according to the way you have conducted your life. And that choice is yours, as is the Church you should go to in order to learn how this divine merit system works.

"Whatever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."
— Galatians 6:7

We ought to do our neighbor all the good we can. If you do good, good will be done back to you; but if you do evil, the same will be measured back to you again.
— Pilpay (Circa 326 B.C.)
