WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, TUESDAY, JUNE 18th 1912

NUMBER 31

WICHITA AND RED RIVERS ARE UP

OVER TWELVE FOOT RISE RECORDED HERE—TOTAL OF 4.30 INCHES OF RAIN.

DENVER TRAINS DELAYED

Southbound Does Not Go Through Until 9 o'clock—Burk Burnett Bridge Threatened.

Both the Big Wichita and the Red Rivers are booming as the result of the heavy rains Sunday night, Monday and last night over all of this section of Texas and throughout Western Oklahoma. Yesterday's rains continued last night until an early hour this morning.

The gauge at the wagon bridge over the Wichita River showed a stage of twelve and a half feet early this morning being two thirds bank full and steadily rising. Immense quantities of drift wood and occasionally a hog or a calf could be seen floating down the turbid current, indicating that some of the smaller streams tributary to the river must have reached an unusual height.

The total precipitation up to this morning was 4.30 inches of which 1.14 inches fell last night. The precipitation Monday was 2.17 inches and Sunday night .99 inches.

Traffic over the Fort Worth & Denver was held up from 2 o'clock this morning until 9 o'clock by washouts this side of Iowa Park. Water had run over the track for a distance of nearly 150 yards washing away the grade in some places. A large force of laborers were sent out to the scene of the washout and by 8 o'clock had the track in passable shape.

The swollen current of Red River threatened damage to the railroad bridge at Burk Burnett last night and materials and forces of men were sent out from here. It was believed this morning that there was no further danger of a washout there. Although high water was reported at all points not a single washout had been reported at the Northwestern office this morning. The Wichita Valley, too, got through without a washout, although heavy rains fell throughout the territory traversed by that line.

FIGHTING NEAR BORDER IS EXPECTED SHORTLY

Federals Are Approaching From Sonora and May Try to Recapture Juarez.

By Associated Press.
Juarez, Mexico, June 18.—Distinct tension is apparent here today over news of government plans to capture this town and the city of Chihuahua the only important rebels points. The approach of the federal column from the State of Sonora makes it obvious that fighting will occur close to the American border within a few days.

HEARING ON INTANGIBLE ASSETS OF RAILROAD.

Austin, Texas, June 18.—The State tax board is in session hearing protests from the representatives of the railroads as to the value of the intangible assets fixed by the board on the lines. About twenty representatives are here and after the protests have been heard the board will fix the final valuations of intangible assets which will be about June 23.

It is already apparent there will be a decrease in the intangible assets of the railroads this year from last when the total intangible assets aggregated $174,000,000. Many of the lines disclose deficits in their net income.

Governor Will Address Voters at Opera House

Governor O. B. Colquitt will reach Wichita Falls over the Wichita Valley sometime this afternoon and will speak at the Wichita Theatre tonight. The Governor comes here from Seymour where he was scheduled to speak this morning.

It is expected that a large crowd will turn out to hear Governor Colquitt and if he speaks as interestingly here as he has at other points, the address will be one worth hearing.

The inclement weather forced an abandonment of the plan to have the speaking in the open air at the court house.

The Governor is probably the last of the important candidates to speak here. His opponent, Judge W. F. Ramsey of Cleburne, spoke here last month and all three of the senatorial candidates—Walters, Randall and Sheppard—have also addressed the local voters.

The visit of Governor Colquitt here is of considerable interest by reason

TWO FOOT RISE RECORDED IN LAKE WICHITA TODAY

Bridges Across Pond Creek Washed Out—Shocks of Wheat Are Carried Away.

A two foot rise had been recorded at Lake Wichita at noon today and the water was coming up rapidly at that hour. The water is now in less than a foot of the spillway and Manager Orth of the Water and Light Co. expects that water will be running over the spillway before 18 stops running into the lake from Holliday Creek.

Bear Creek overflowed into G. E. Friberg's wheat field last night and carried off a number of shocks of grain. Most of the sheaves lodged along the roadside and Mr. Friberg and his neighbors are busy today picking up and hauling them back into the field.

Two county bridges across Pond Creek near Iowa Park are reported to have been washed out by the high water last night. Reports that have come in during the day indicate the new grades on the county roads have been damaged by the flood waters and it is expected that later reports will show that a number of bridges have gone out.

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Wedding of B. S. Brookins and Miss Helen Fitzpatrick Solemnized This Morning.

A wedding of unusual interest by reason of the prominence of the contracting parties was that quietly solemnized this morning when Miss Helen Withers Fitzpatrick became the bride of Bertram Lewis Brookins. The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Fitzpatrick on Austin street, Rev. Father Dolje officiating.

The groom, although he has been a resident of Wichita Falls for a few months, has a host of friends here whose heartiest congratulations are being extended him upon his good fortune. He came to this city from Buffalo, New York, being interested in the oil developments in this section. The bride has resided here about three years and is one of the fairest and most popular of the young ladies of this city; member of one of the city's most prominent families socially and endowed with many accomplishments, she becomes a welcome addition to the ranks of the matrons.

Only the relatives and a few friends attended this morning's ceremony. The bride was robed in a traveling suit of blue French serge trimmed in red and white, with a black Gage hat with ostrich effect. She carried a bouquet of American beauty roses. The groom's gift was a beautiful jeweled dinner ring.

This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Brookins left for a month's trip to Eastern points. Upon their return they will make their home on Tenth street.

TWO "WEATHER" REPORTS; FORECASTS FOR CHICAGO.

Chicago, June 18.—Conflicting forecasts of this week's weather conditions were published here. One forecast from the United States weather bureau read like this:

"With the development of a cool, high area in the northwest, the indications are favorable for generally fair and comparatively cool weather in Chicago for three or four days."

This was the forecast issued by the political prophets:

"Forecast of area: Great excitement forming in Michigan avenue centering tonight at the Coliseum with low barometric pressure, air waves generally through the week over a heated substrata. Look out for tornadoes."

ENNIS WATERWORKS CASE GOES TO SUPREME COURT.

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, June 18.—The case of the Ennis waterworks against the city of Ennis regarding the right of a city to give an exclusive franchise to a public service corporation will go to the United States supreme court.

Jacksonville, Texas.—A Chicago commission company has purchased the first car of tomatoes shipped from here this season at a price of $1.45 per crate.

LATE NEWS FROM SCENE OF ACTION

McGOVERN, INSTEAD OF BORAH, ROOSEVELT'S CHOICE FOR CHAIRMAN

"GOOSENECK" IS FAVORED

Chosen By Texas Delegates As Member of Platform Committee. Roosevelt Not on Floor

By Associated Press.
Chicago, June 18.—Senator Borah announced an hour before the convention assembled that Gov. McGovern of Wisconsin and not himself would be the Roosevelt candidate for temporary chairman. This decision was reached at a conference which Col. Roosevelt had with his leaders before they left for the coliseum.

President Taft unexpectedly gained a delegate today through the illness of Delegate Cooper of the 23rd district. Cooper is a Roosevelt man, but his alternate, Mr. Newcomer is for Taft and is serving. Two Taft delegates from the Fourth District of California clamored for their credentials but were unable to obtain them. The Roosevelt forces contended they would take the solid delegation into the convention. The Taft delegates were finally seated.

Senator Dixon, managing director of the Roosevelt campaign rushed around headquarters all morning conferring with various ones and with Col. Roosevelt. He said:

"It is past the time now for predictions. We are going into the convention to win."

Congressman Murdock of Kansas, progressive leader predicts there will be two conventions. He would not go into details.

Roosevelt said today he had no idea of going to the convention hall. Scarcely had the convention been called to order when Roosevelt went to his private phone with the coliseum—and by this method took personal command of his forces on the convention floor.

The strains of "Dixie" which followed some rather doleful melody brought the Southerners to their feet just before the convention was called to order. Many Northern delegates joined them. The negro delegates from Florida were particularly in evidence with the yells directing their attention to New Jersey directly across the aisle.

The Texas members of the committee on platform and resolution selected by the delegation today was William McDonald. Oklahoma's member is J. E. Echols.

BURKBURNETT OIL STRIKE RUMORED REPORT SAYS PAY SAND WAS REACHED BY CORSICANA COMPANY.

CONFIRMATION IS LACKING

Story Receives Considerable Credence Among Oil Men Who Pay Visit To Scene

Rumors flew thick and fast today that an oil sand had been struck in the Corsicana Petroleum Company's well on the Christ Schöcker farm near Burk Burnett.

The rumor received some credence here and oil men who caught onto it yesterday braved the rain to go out to investigate. The well was shut down and nothing definite could be learned.

In the latter part of last week a number of leases were taken in the vicinity and other leases have been taken this week. This apparently gives some support to the rumor.

One report in circulation today was that drilling would be resumed tonight.

The hole is now reported to be down between 1800 and 2000 feet.

GAYNOR LITERATURE IS BEING SENT DELEGATES

Claims of New York Mayor For Presidency Apparently Being Active. Pushed

Hon. R. E. Huff, delegate to the Baltimore convention from this district, says that he is being flooded with mail, and among other things with speeches delivered by Hon. W. J. Gaynor, of New York, and with literature from the Gaynor association booming Mayor Gaynor for President.

From this it would appear as if there is going to be an active effort made in behalf of Mayor Gaynor at the Baltimore convention.

TAFT FORCES DRAW FIRST BLOOD ON EFFORT TO SEAT ROOSEVELT MENROOSEVELT SAYS FIGHT TO LAST

SAYS HIS NOMINATION ONLY WAY TO SAVE PARTY FROM INTERESTS.

"MY FATE UNIMPORTANT"

Declares Only Motive Is to Save Party From Defeat—Addresses Mass Meeting.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Ill., June 18.—Reiterating with particularity and emphasis his charges of "stealing," making dire predictions of what would happen to the country in general and the Republican party in particular if such tactics were not checked and closing with an earnest protestation that his candidacy was not the fruit of excessive ambition but a sincere desire to save his party from defeat and the country from the rule of special interests, Col. Roosevelt addressed a mass meeting here last night. He said in part:

"I address you as my fellow Republicans, but I also primarily address you as fellow Americans. Fellow citizens, for this has now become much more than an ordinary party fight. The issue is both, simpler and larger than that involved in the personality or any man or than that involved in any factional, or in any ordinary party contest. We are standing for the great fundamental rights upon which all successful free government must be based. We are standing for elementary decency in politics. We are fighting for honesty against naked robbery; and where robbery is concerned, the all important question is not the identity of the man robbed, but the crime itself. As far as Mr. Taft and I are personally concerned, it little matters what the fate of either may be. But with Mr. Taft's acquiescence or by his direction and in his interest his followers have raised an issue which is all important to this country. It is not a partisan issue; it is more than a political issue; it is a great moral issue. If we condemn political theft, if we do not resent the kinds of wrong and injustice that will injuriously affect the whole nation, that not merely our Democratic form of government but our civilization become habitual, it would mean the wreck of popular government. The actions of the Taft leaders in the National committee taken with the active aid of Mr. Taft's private secretary and of one of Mr. Taft's cabinet officers, are monstrous and they should be instantly condemned by the moral sentiment of the whole country. Tonight we come together to protect against a crime which strikes straight at the heart of every principle of political decency and honesty, a crime which represents treason to the people, and in the usurpation of the sovereignty of the people by irresponsible political bosses, inspired by the sinister influences of moneyed privilege."

"We, here in this hall, are engaged not only in a fight for the rights of every decent Republican, we are engaged in a fight for the rights of every decent American whatever his party may be. And, oh, my friends, for one thing at least we should be profoundly grateful. We are more fortunate than our fathers in that there is no slightest tinge of sectionalism in the fight we are now waging. The principles for which we stand are as valuable for the South as for the North, for the East as well as the West. We make our appeal to all honest, far sighted and patriotic Americans, no matter where they may dwell.

"When in February last, I made up my mind that it was my duty to enter this fight, it was after long and careful deliberation. I had become more convinced that Mr. Taft had definitely and completely abandoned the cause of the people and had surrendered, his himself to the biddings of professional political bosses, and of great privileged interests standing beside them. I had also become convinced that unless I did make the fight, it would not be made at all. And that Mr. Taft's nomination would come to him without serious opposition. The event has justified both my beliefs. I very earnestly ask our fellow progressives, who have supported other candidates, to remember that one of the cardinal principles of the doctrines which we hold in common, is our duty, normally, loyally and in good faith to abide by the honestly expressed action of a majority. The overwhelming majority of the Republican progressives have declared for me. It has become clear, beyond a shadow of doubt, that if I had not made the progressive fight, it would have been completely broken down, and there would have been no substantial opposition to the forces of reaction, and of political crookedness. Let those progressives who stand for principles and who are concerned with the fortunes of any particular man only as a means for securing the triumph of principle, ponder these facts and refrain in this crisis from playing into the hands of our enemies."

"Mr. Taft at first denied that he represented the bosses. His denial was of little consequence for his deeds believied his words. But I doubt if at present he would venture to repeat the denial. As it has become constantly more and more evident that the people are against him he has more and more undisguisedly thrown himself into the arms of the bosses."

"There never has been a clearer line than this between the plain people of the country on the one side and on the other the powers that prey, the agent of the special privilege in the world of business and their tools and instruments in the world of politics."

"There can be no compromise in such a contest."

"It is natural that the representatives of special privilege, who know that special privilege can not continue if the people really rule, should resort unblushingly to every kind of trickery and dishonesty in order to perpetuate their hold upon the party and callously to destroy the party if necessary to prevent its being controlled by its rank and file. But for this very reason we feel we have a right to solemnly appeal to all honest men to stand with us on what has now become a naked issue of right and wrong."

"The parting of the ways has come. The Republican party must definitely stand on one side or the other. It must stand by deeds and

RAIN INCREASES BUSINESS IN CORPORATION COURT.

The effects of the rain were evident in the corporation court this morning where nine cases of public intoxication were docketed, the largest number in many months. The rain yesterday kept many men from work. These came to town and loafed around the saloons. Others felt jubilant over the rain and celebrated with the result that the jail was full of full men last night.

CONVENTION UNORGANIZED AT 2:30 THIS AFTERNOONMuch Confusion Attends Opening Hadley Declared Out of Order on Motion To Unseat Taft Delegates

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, JUNE 18.—THE TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN, ROLL CALL BEGAN AT 3:30.

Chicago, June 18.—At 2:30 this afternoon after being in session since 12:02, the Republican National convention had not yet effected temporary organization.

Taft men drew first blood at the convention when the chairman after listening to argument by Roosevelt and Taft forces ruled out of order the demand of the Roosevelt men that the roll call be amended.

By the proposed amendment Roosevelt delegates that were under contest would have been substituted for Taft delegates admitted by the National committee.

The action of Chairman Rosewater prevented a vote by the convention on the Roosevelt proposition.

The convention was called to order at 12:02 o'clock amid much confusion. Policemen were sent to different delegations to secure order, and silence was obtained at 12:15.

The greatest confusion came when the various delegations entered the hall. The California delegation caused much confusion when the banners they carried were entangled in overhead signs designating delegations. Following this all banners were tabled.

At 11:50 practically all delegates were on the floor but many were unseated. Aisles were choked and there was much confusion. Rosewater began pounding for order at 12 o'clock. The band was droning away and it was with difficulty that it could be stopped.

Except for the momentary confusion there was none of the disorder that had been feared. A few minutes after the gavel had sounded quiet had been obtained and Chaplain Callahan repeated his prayer. Immediately after this, however, developments came like shots from a rapid fire gun. Hadley of Missouri rose to question of information and took the platform amid cheering.

Watson of Indiana, the Taft floor leader followed Hadley to the platform. Barnes of Missouri, rose to a point of order. The delegates leaned forward expectantly.

In a loud voice Hadley asked if the temporary roll had been prepared. The Taft floor leader met this with the point or order that no business was in order until the convention had been organized. (Loud cheers). The chair ruled Watson's point well taken.

Hadley said he asked for information only and then moved that the temporary roll be amended by removing the names of certain delegates and substituting others. However, Watson's point was sustained.

The two sides were allowed 20 minutes for discussion. Gov. Fort had not gone far in his argument before the crowd began to laugh and interrupt him with cries of "sit down." Fort made the mistake of answering the galleries which seemed to be for Taft.

Watson took the floor again on the ground that the whole business was out of order because the convention was not organized. When he finished Chairman Rosewater ruled Hadley out of order on the motion to amend the temporary roll.

Hadley immediately appealed from the decision. Watson moved to lay it on the table. Both motions were declared out of order.

Then came the presentation of the names of Root and McGovern. Ruling on the point of order against Hadley's motion, Rosewater said he had under advisement for several hours and had consulted other better parliamentarians than himself. He wished to have a statement read.

Chairman Rosewater presented the name of Elihu Root for temporary chairman. Delegate Cochems of Wisconsin, present Gov. McGovern's name. Job Hedges seconded Root's nomination.

Keen for the excitement they thought awaited them on the battle ground in the Republican convention delegates and spectators began to file into the coliseum at 10 o'clock. Earliest of the arriving delegates were those from Texas, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Policemen at every corner, at every door and in every aisle were the distinguishing features at the scene in the coliseum before the doors opened to ticket holders. The tension was very apparent on every side. The police were as nervous as anybody else.

Along the front row between the seats and the platform a solid row of uniformed police as early as 9:30 sat waiting for nobody knows what. Five minutes later a thin procession of men in plain clothes came in at one of the entrances. They were assistant sergeants-at-arms but the police pounced upon them as if they were a hostile army.

Col. William Stone, sergeant-at-arms of the convention who was on tip-toe with solitude for the maintenance of peace and fulfillment of orders, had his assistants quickly ordered out of the aisles and seats.

President Taft's managers had concluded their plans for the fight on the floor of the convention on the assumption that the temporary roll call as prepared by the committee would show a Taft majority by a small margin.

Col. Roosevelt and his advisers, evidently familiar with the Taft figures, evolved an eleventh hour scheme for reducing this small Taft majority by means of an arrangement to eliminate from the temporary organization those who are challenged by Col. Roosevelt.

The scheme, hatched by the Illinois delegation and ratified by the Roosevelt delegates seated this morning, was embodied in the following resolution:

"Resolved, that no election of temporary or other officers in this convention or resolutions or other proceedings shall be taken as the act of this convention or have any effect unless it shall receive on roll call the affirmative votes of 540 delegates whose seats are uncontested, and this resolution shall govern and be in force during the temporary organization of this convention and until the permanent organization shall have been effected."

Every possible effort was made by the Roosevelt managers to have the Taft leaders agree to accept and abide by this proposal.

The prayer of Father Callaghan hallowed by Thy Name. They King-dom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. Amen.

BOY CAMPER IS MISSING; LEFT HERE FOR VERNON.

Some anxiety is felt here by friends of Hendrix Darnell, a young boy 12 years of age, who has been a member of the summer camp at Lake Wichita for some days. Young Darnell when he came to the camp was under the impression that everything was free of charge and brought with him but a small sum of money which he soon exhausted. He then refused to wait until his parents could be communicated with, but left last Thursday for Vernon, without any money. He told some of the boys that he expected to reach Vernon on foot in one day, but the heavy rains which have fallen since it is feared have interfered with his progress. Nothing so far has been heard of him and it is feared that he has not yet reached Vernon.

MAKING TESTIMONY IN NAVAL STORES CASE.

Mobile, Ala., June 18.—Testimony in the case of the United States vs. the Union Naval Stores Company was taken here before Special United States Commissioner Walter H. White. The case involves $110,000 and witnesses are present from Mississippi, Florida, Georgia and all parts of this State. The government is being represented by Antonine Paul, chief of the field division of the general land office of the United States.

The government alleges that the Naval Stores company took from trees standing on government land, turpentine valued at the amount above mentioned. A hard fight is expected before the case is closed.

DAILY DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By J. J. ALLEN

Food Specialist

TABLES OF FOOD VALUES SOMETIMES MISLEAD.

Tables of food values are interesting and helpful. They indicate the time required for the stomach digestion of each of the principal foods, the percentage of moisture, heating and flesh-forming and mineral elements contained in them.

Tables showing the comparative economic values of foods have also been prepared. Such knowledge is necessary to enable one to make an intelligent selection of food. Whether, for instance, figs are to be preferred to bananas or bananas to potatoes depends upon this knowledge as well as upon the taste. But nowhere is a little knowledge more dangerous.

For instance, a well known standard table shows that for 25 cents one can buy more nutrition in sugar than in wheat bread, corn or beans. It is true that the fuel value of 25 cents worth of sugar is greater than that of bread or of beans, and yet a fuller understanding of the practical considerations reverses the estimate, even making it doubtful whether sugar (cane sugar) should be used at all. Fat pork is represented as being four times as valuable as an equal amount of round beef, and yet as neither is necessary in an economic diet, it becomes rather a question of which is the greater luxury for occasional use. In determining the value of any food a variety of circumstances must be considered.

MRS. ALICE LONGWORTH'S TRUNK LOST AT CHICAGO.

Chicago, June 18.—Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth is in Chicago minus trunks filled with beautiful gowns which she needs for convention week. She is plentifully supplied with hats, her trunk with eight of the creations, having arrived on the same train with her and her husband, Congressman Longworth on Saturday night.

Last night Mrs. Longworth was obliged to ask one question a score of times. Each time she received an invitation for herself and the congressman, she asked:

"May I come in a tailored suit?"

Since her arrival the former president's daughter has appeared about the hotel in a simple dark colored suit of swanage cut and she admits that it is all she has to wear until her trunks arrive.

Railroad trunks have been kept on the jump ever since the discovery has been made that the trunks have gone astray but so far they have not been found.

"I'll try and figure a way out of it," said Mrs. Longworth today, "but now I don't know what I am going to do."

SAILORS AND FIREMEN WILL NOT JOIN STRIKE.

London, June 18.—The result of the ballot of the sailors and firemen's national union on the question of joining in the dock strike shows that 2,137 members voted in favor of supporting the strike and 3,578 are against it. The sailors and firemen's union is the strongest body in the National Federation of Transport Workers and the decision reached by its members practically puts an end to the dock strike.

With Summer Around the Corner

It behooves us to get our houses ready for the warm weather. Perhaps there is a chair that needs a new seat, a couch that has begun to show "the touch of time," a door that would be improved by grill-work, a crying need for a window, seat or a clothes box or a number of little things that are now an eye-sore for the lack of the proverbial "stitch in time." The handy man can remedy all these things is prepared to answer all emergency calls.

CURRENT BASEBALL GOSSIP

Fred Morris has a new one that is said to make the spit ball look like a left-handed woman throwing a bean bag; it is the "perspiration ball" and is Fred's own invention. As the name implies, the ball is dampened with perspiration which makes it fully as effective as the splitter. Of course, the pitcher has to be warmed up pretty well before he can use it.

Charlie McDonald who used to be with the Irish Lads and who was with Dallas last year, is hitting a dark blue streak with the Cincinnati Reds. He is among the league leaders in the batting average column and seems to be holding his position well.

Wichita Falls and Sherman are marking time until the weather clears up and the ground gets dry enough to play. If it is dry enough for a game tomorrow a double-header will probably be scheduled. In the meantime these two teams are tied for first place.

McCart, the new short stop, has been playing good ball since the first day when he made those costly bobbles. It was a case of the rattle that day and that will happen to even the best ones. McCart has not made an error since and has been hitting hard and heavy.

Houston has a commanding lead in the Texas League and will be hard to head off. This time last year Oklahoma City had a long lead, while Austin, which won the pennant, was in the sixth place. The Senators are seventh now.

The South Central league season has been split in two so as to give somebody besides Cleburne a chance at the honors. Cleburne is now leading by something like 200 points.

The Washington team annexed its seventh straight victory yesterday and is certainly proving the sensation of the decade in third circuit. Chicago has dropped to third place, with Connie Mack's Athletics only a short distance behind.

Sport writers are predicting that the New York Giants will never be in danger this season and that they will make a runaway race of it. The Giants' lead is now better than 200 points.

Marquard made it fourteen straight victories over Pittsburgh yesterday, defeating O'Toole, the $23,500 purchase. Marquard's thirteenth game came near proving his unluckiness one, but he got credit for the victory.

AIRSHIP PASSENGERS ARE INJURED IN ANGERS, FRANCE

Angers, France, June 18.—At the resumption of the aviation meet sixteen airmen started in a contest which contemplated the covering of about 292 miles during which the flyers must fly three times around the circuit from Angers to Cholet, Cholet to Saumur and Saumur to Angers. The prizes are two equal amounts of $5,000 each. Twelve passengers were carried by the airmen.

Shortly after the start, Allard's aeroplane broke and fell to the ground from a low altitude. His mechanic sustained a broken leg but the airman and his three passengers were unhurt.

DeBusay, another Frenchman, while flying from Cologne to enter the contest also came to grief.

Chinese Black Up and Try to Cross Border at Negroes.

A new scheme to smuggle Chinese over the Canadian border has been discovered by United States officials, who say five Chinese cyndicators were working it.

The Chinamen were backed up to look like negroes and given picks and shovels. They were rowed across the St. Lawrence from Prescott, Canada. Five of them were caught at Ogdensburg, N. Y.

Hires Expert to Kill All

Rattlesnakes on Mountain.

The rattlesnakes have increased so rapidly on Rattlesnake Mountain that William D. Sloan's superintendent has hired an expert from Connecticut to kill them all off.

Many summer visitors now travel over the mountain near Lenox, Mass., and need protection. The wholesale extermination of rattlers will begin as soon as warm weather brings them from their dens.

William Weston of New York, after being fined $3 for disorderly conduct by Magistrate McQuade in the night court, talked back to the court and was fined $3 more. He paid it and turned at the door to say it was a shame and add: "Now go ahead and give me a year."

"Ten days in the workhouse," said the court. Weston kept talking and the sentence was made 15 days. He later tried to apologize but it was no use.

Hog Lives 100 Days Without Food Under Church.

A hog that had been imprisoned under the ruins of a church near Evergreen, Ala., for 100 days without food or water was found alive.

The church was blown down by a cyclone February 21. When the debris was removed the animal was still able to walk and is all right now.

Aunt, 108 Years Threatens to Spank

Her 86 Year Old Nephew.

Moses Lazarowitz, 86 years old discovered yesterday that his aunt, Mrs. Ethel Plonsky, 108 years old was also a resident of the Home of the Daughters of Jacob. Since they parted in Warsaw in 1861 he had lost track of her.

He embraced her so strenuously she laughingly threatened to spank him, declaring that he was "the same impudent boy he always was." He has been in the home but a few days.

Cornet Instead of Bell

Calls People to Church.

S. R. Payne of Baltimore has temporarily taken the job of the bell for St. James Methodist church.

Residents within a half a mile of the church heard a hymn played on a cornet. Mr. Payne, in the tower, was the soloist, the pastor having taken this method of calling his congregation. It was a success, so it will be repeated every Sunday night.

SAYS 1000 ARE SUFFERING

IN THE FLOOD DISTRICT

New Orleans, June 18.—After traveling 122 miles through the lower Barataria district, Secretary M. B. Trezevant, of the New Orleans Progressive League, who has been in charge of the flood relief funds, said that 1,000 persons in that territory were in immediate need of rations and other supplies. He said the water from the Hymelia crevasse had risen five feet and was over the floors of the dwellings, that scores had no places to sleep, except their shifts, and they were suffering from exposure and lack of food.

"Actual conditions can hardly be described," said he.

Related reports from Franklin and Vermillion Bay last night stated that four persons lost their lives in last week's storm. Rising waters have stopped train service on the Grand Isle railroad and the only means of communication is by boat. It is not believed that any effort will be made soon to close the Hymelia break and flood conditions are expected to continue until fall.

Austin, Texas.—The railroad commission has approved the $550,000 construction bond issue of the Missouri, Oklahoma & Gulf railway company. The bonds are to cover the cost of construction of the ten mile line from Denison to the State line, which has been in operation since the first of October, 1910.

The GREATEST PLAY I EVER SAW

AS TOLD TO

Hugh S. Fullerton

By JAMES ("DOC") CASEY.

Manager Fort Wayne, Central League

Team, Former Third Baseman of the Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn.

I had the luck to have a small part in what I believe to be the greatest play ever made on a ball field, although Joe Tinker and Johnny Evers made the play. My part of it was to catch the ball and complete the thing, although I always have wondered that I didn't forget to catch it through sheer wonder. I was as much surprised at the play as any of the spectators could have been, and hardly could keep from applauding Tinker and Evers myself when it was over.

The play was pulled off in a game with Philadelphia. The Cubs were making their first bid for a pennant, although we did not win out that season, and we were fighting hard. It was the first time in many years that the team ever had a chance and we were giving every one a fight. The game was in early September while we still had a chance and the score was 5 to 2 in our favor, with a runner on second base and no one out. We had moved in, expecting a bunt, and I was close, while Tinker had edged up closer and closer across the dirt almost to the edge of the grass. Magee was the runner at second, and I think John Titus was hitting. Anyhow, instead of laying down the bunt as we expected him to do, he whaled away at the ball and sent a hard bouncer a few feet to the shortstop's side of second base. If Tinker had been playing back where he usually plays he could have stopped the ball without much trouble, but he was so close in that he didn't seem to

Since the stringent food laws have been in operation, much of the Mocha and Java coffee so called has disappeared from the market. As a matter of fact, there is not a great amount of the genuine article produced, which accounts for its high price.

The real Mocha and Java flavor when properly blended and perfectly roasted is something so uncommonly good and so much sought after that a great many people once they taste it are never satisfied with anything less good. I haven't handled much of this blend of coffee, but in my new line it is put up at 45c per lb. and if you want the world's best coffee, here it is.

303 UNION LABEL 303

The fun, or the fight begins at Chicago today, and from the present outlook it's going to be a two ring affair.

A very good way to reduce taxes is to increase business, and the best way in the world to increase business is to keep Texas money in Texas.

It is too much to expect good morals of a boy whose parents permit him to prowl the streets at night; even if that boy is a regular attendant at Sunday Schools.

So long as congress cannot agree as to whether it was J. P. Morgan or Uncle Sam who saved the banks when the panic was on, why not ask the "Money Devil" himself. Money talks.

Isn't it about time Wichita Falls were shooting the etheral clutes with explosives again? It's a trifle dusty down here.—Waco Times Herald.

Just received four and a half inches up this way, and sent the clouds down your way. When you want more, just let us know.

Senator Culberson, an anti on the question of prohibition, said several years ago that if the saloon was to remain in Texas it must get out of politics. Culberson was right, and his saying that the saloon must get out of politics has not hurt him in the least with Texas people. Both pros and anti support him every time he asks anything at their hands. He is of the right sort, and knew well when he spoke that the only way to eliminate forever the question of prohibition from Texas politics was for the saloon to get out of the game. Instead of taking his advice, they have continued to meddle, and no one who has been a close observer can doubt but that for the past few years the saloon has grown in power, and when it is necessary for them to carry their point enormous campaign funds are subscribed and turned over to their managers to be used and no questions asked. Such methods are rotten to the core, and the mere fact that there are thousands of Texas people—both pros and anti, who have made up their minds to not support for office any candidate who has the solid saloon vote at his back, is not to be wondered at. It is a suspicious circumstance that fully justifies their action.

The best way The Times knows to eliminate the question of prohibition from State politics is to eliminate every candidate for State office whose is appealing to the liquor interests for support, and who the liquor interests are lined up solidly for. The liquor interests are blind to the law, not only in Texas, but in every State in the Union, and it (the liquor interests) should not be allowed to dominate our State or local government. With the right kind of men to enforce the law, the question of prohibition will disappear as it should. But it will never disappear so long as any set of office-seekers appeal for any support at the liquor interests.

Isn't prohibition the great means of Texas people want. It is respect and observance of our laws. Nearly all pros and a very considerable number of the anti are sick and tired of the politics of Texas being dominated by the law defying liquor interests and if The Times reads the signs aright they are going to put a stop to that kind of rule in Texas on July 27th.

SOME ROOSEVELT GEMS.

Charging that outrageous frauds had been committed in Indiana, and that delegates had been stolen for Taft, Mr. Roosevelt made the rounds of the political circuit in State after State demanding that he be supported in the cause of righteousness and honesty. In a speech delivered in Chicago on March 27 Mr. Roosevelt said:

Against all the money, all the patronage, all the efforts of the "Kestine" machine in Indiana, with nothing but the plain people of the State to rely upon, we carried the State convention handsomely, and then, by fraudulent action which can only be called brutal in its utter defiance of decency, nearly two hundred delegates were thrown out and the will of the people reversed. The men honestly elected, of course, declined to abide by the result and held a separate convention. They would have been derelict in their duty had they done so, for the Keating-Taft State delegation in Indiana does not represent the people at all, and its action is in no shape or way representative of or binding on the rank and file of the Republican party in Indiana.

Early in May Mr. Roosevelt gave out this signed statement from Oyster Bay:

In Kentucky, in Indiana, in New York and elsewhere Mr. Taft knows well that the delegates elected for him represent barefaced fraud. He stands guilty of connivance and condonation of these frauds, stands guilty of approving and encouraging fraud. He deprives all people of their rights to express their wish as to who shall be nominated. In all these primaries I have stood for absolute honesty and fair play. Mr. Taft has stood for absolute crooked misrepresentation of the will of the people.

Meanwhile the apostle of "absolute honesty and fair play" had had his agent, in the person of the astonishing Mr. McHarg, at work in the South setting up bogus delegates and engineering disreputable contests. All the world now knows just how much honesty and fair play there was about these Southern contests. They have been thrown out of the National Committee bodily, and in nearly every instance this was accomplished by the united vote of the committee. So miserably dishonest were these contests that even the rampant Roosevelt men on the committee could not risk their reputations by standing by them.

But if the Southern contests fizzled out so disastrously, what must be thought of Indiana?

Indiana was the strong club that Roosevelt has been wielding over the country. Everwhere he told of the crimes committed against Roosevelt in Indiana. He appealed to the people. He told them that he had been robbed; that there was a combination of bosses against him, and that the issue was the people against the bosses. Indiana had been stolen by the bosses. The issue was the people against the bosses. (In this connection, it is necessary to remember that the most conspicuous and brutal of all the bosses, the Hon. Bill Flynn, now in charge of the Colonel's campaign in Chicago, is regarded by Mr. Roosevelt as a "lead er.")

Thus did the Restless one of Oyster Bay preach to the people and, he it said, he gathered in many a delegate because of his fiery denunciations.

But how quickly was the bubble pricked when the Indiana cases came before the National Committee! The Indiana State convention's work was approved by the unanimous vote of the committee. Every Roosevelt man on that committee declared through his vote that Mr. Roosevelt had been conducting a false campaign in so far as Indiana was concerned. His violent denunciations were without merit. Indeed, Mr. Roosevelt was convicted of deliberate falsification.

Well it is that the sessions of the National Committee have been open for every man desirous of ascertaining the truth has been able to discover for himself how wickedly unjust has been Mr. Roosevelt's attitude; how willfully malicious he has been towards President Taft. It is not Taft who has been attempting to steal delegates; it is Roosevelt, and his own friends on the National Committee have convicted him of it attempted theft.

Unjust? Malicious? Why, no longer ago than Monday Mr. Roosevelt gave, in the shape of a forthcoming editorial in his magazine, the following additional gem of the purest water:

But the case was far worse in Washington, in Indiana, in Michigan. In many of these cases the Taft delegates represent nothing but fraud, as vulgar, as brazen and as cynically open as any ever committed by the Tweed regime in New York forty-odd years ago.

And even before he had handed out this latest screem he had received the news from Chicago that his charges against the integrity of the Indiana State convention were so flimsy, so outrageously untrue, that no one single Roosevelt follower connected with the National Committee had been able to vote against seating the regularly elected Taft delegates.

Is it possible that there are delegates in Chicago who would take the chance of the Presidential campaign under a man who would go into the contest so heavily discredited as Mr. Roosevelt has been?

The banner of hypocrisy and deceit is not usually a winning one.—Philadelphia Enquirer.

The intent from the seat of the Republican war in Chicago is that Cecil Lyon has been succeeded as Republican National Committeeman by H. F. MacGregor, and that Goosenack Bill McDonald was made a member of the platform committee.

WOES OF SAILORS

Grievances of British Tars Weakening the Navy.

Condition of Men on Lower Decks of
More Importance Than Building
New Ships—Reforms Are Demanded.

London.—First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill is never long out of hot water. This time he has roused the indignation of the radical extremists of his own party because the reduction on the naval estimates for the current year did not go far enough in the direction of retrenchment to please them.

Whereas the "Little Englanders," as they are called, hoped that a saving of at least $5,000,000 would be effected, Churchill only found it possible to reduce the naval estimates by just over $1,500,000. But if he has not pleased some of his own parliamentary supporters, Winston Churchill has been subjected to little but friendly criticism by the opposition, who are bent on accelerating the building program rather than retarding it.

While there has been the usual amount of talk about new ships and armaments, not much attention has been paid to the factor without which England's vaunted navy is useless—the man behind the gun. From time to time it has been whispered that there is considerable unrest in the lower deck rating, where, says Lionel Xexley, one of the service critics, many grievances exist, unless rectified, will one day shock John Bull out of his complacency.

As the jackies are forbidden by their terms of service to form a trade union, the general public knows little about their wrongs, and half an hour's talk with some of the men at a naval station is required to show that "it is high time some reforms were introduced on the lower deck."

All the trouble has arisen through the conversion of the warship from a stately sailing vessel into a floating gunnery platform. Much of the work and discipline necessary to the early form of fighting ship has been retained on the latest types, where cleanliness is still the fetish. Most of the unrest is undoubtedly due to the way punishment is meted out for minor offenses entirely void of criminality. All the disciplinary regulations, Lionel Xexley points out, were framed "when the seaman's main duty was to pull on ropes and to punish him if he did not get from one to another quick enough, but you cannot drive men to shoot straight with modern ordnance."

The state employs the sailor during the day at work which calls for the full use of cultivated intelligence, and then it will take him and stand him in a dark corner for two hours each night because he did not have his cap on straight or dared to wear a waist belt to keep his trousers up."

Another of the seaman's grievances relates to the decreased chance of promotion owing to the increase in the number of stokers in the personnel. The leading seaman complains that he has less chance than ever of becoming a petty officer. Increased pay is also another demand of the lower deck. An experienced able seaman, if married, is expected to support a home on just under $3 a week; less the cost of his uniform.

It is not suggested by any one that the English jackies are on the brink of mutiny, but it is known in the best informed circles that a large proportion of them are discontented, and as the first line of defense is not the ships, but the men, pressure is being brought to bear on the admiralty to hold an impartial inquiry into the facts of the case.

THRILLING RIDE ON AUTO

Leaping for Life as Machine Suddenly
Starts, Autist Survives Two Smash-Ups.

Atlantic City, N. J.—Taken off his guard by the rush of an automobile which he had just finished cranking and with no other alternative than to climb upon the hood of the car as it started running, a man on Pacific avenue, John Worthington, proprietor of the Hotel Worthington, Pacific and Missouri avenues, had a thrilling experience within a short distance of that hostelry.

Mr. Worthington had brought his car to a halt outside a garage located near his hotel, and after chatting for a few minutes with a friend, alighted for the purpose of cranking up the auto for a spin about the city, overlooking the fact that the gear of the car had been "left in," he turned the crank for the purpose of starting the engine. The next moment the car, started from the high speed, lurched forward, almost sweeping Mr. Worthington from his feet. He clutched wildly for the hood and as the car gained speed he climbed partly up the front axle.

The machine finally hit a lamp post and its victim was taken to the hospital.

Boy Has 24 Fingers.

Bilbao, Spain.—A woman called at the hospital here, bringing her son, who has enormous hands and twelve fingers on each. The most curious part of the case is that all her sons possess similar hands. One has twenty-one fingers, another twenty-three and the other five children twenty-four fingers each. All are living and enjoying good health. Many doctors are studying these cases.

Ralph Mathis is among those on the sick list today, he being confined to his bed with a severe bilious attack.

ROOSEVELT SAYS

FIGHT TO LAST

not merely by empty phrases for the rights of humanity or else it must stand for special privilege. Our opponents are fond of calling themselves regular Republicans. In reality they have no title to membership in any party that is true to the principles of Abraham Lincoln. They are fighting for the cause of special privilege and their chief strength is drawn from the beneficiaries of entrenched economic and social injustice. I do not in the least mean that they are all of them or even a majority of them, influenced by improper motives any more than I would say the same thing of the men in the north who during the civil war were favorable to slavery and hostile to the Union. But most of the master spirits among them have a strong selfish interest in resisting the campaign against industrial wrong. The masters among our opponents are often by no means the men nominally in the forefront. These real masters of the reactionary forces have a tremendous interest in perpetuating the rule of the boss in politics with its necessary accompaniment the safe guarding of privilege and the enlarging of the sphere of special interest.

"A period of change is upon us. Our opponents, the men of reaction, ask us to stand still. But we could not stand still if we would; we must either go forward or go backward. Never was the need more imperative than now for men of vision who are also men of action. Disaster is ahead of us if we trust to the leadership of men whose souls are seared and whose eyes are blinded, men of cold heart and narrow mind who believe we can find safety dull, timidity and dull in action, the unrest cannot be quieted by ingenious trickery of those who profess to advance by merely making time, or who seek to drown the cry for justice by loud and insincere clamor about issues that are false and issues that are dead. The trumpets sound the advance and their appeal cannot be drowned by repeating the war cries of by gone battles, the victory shouts of vanished hosts. Here in this city of the State of Lincoln, I can get forth the principles for which we stand today in the words which Lincoln used 54 years ago when in speaking of the then phase of the eternal struggle between privilege and justice between the rights of the many and the special interest of the few.

"That is the real issue. That is the issue which will continue in this country when those poor tongues of Judge Douglas and myself shall be silent. It is the eternal struggle between two principles—right and wrong—throughout the world. They are the two principles that have stood face to face from the beginning of time. The one is the common right of humanity the other the divine right of kings. It is the same spirit that says 'you toil and work and earn bread and I will eat it. No matter in what shape it comes, whether from the mouth of a king whether from the people of his own nation, or from the fruit of their labor or from one race of men as an apology for enslaving another race, it is the same tyrannical principle."

"We who stand for the cause of the uplift of humanity and the betterment of mankind are pledged to eternal war against wrong, whether by the few or by the many, by a plutocracy or by a mob. We believe that this country will not be a permanently good place for any of us to live in unless we make it a reasonably good place for all of us to live in. The sons of all of us will pay in the future if we of the present do not do justice to all in the present. Our cause is the cause for justice for all in the interest of all. The present contest is but a phase of the larger struggle. Assuredly the fight will go on whether we win or lose, but it will be a sore disaster to lose.

"What happens to me is not of the slightest consequence; I am to be used, as in a doubtful battle any man is used, to his hurt or not, so long as he is useful, and is then cast aside or left to die. I wish you to feel this. I mean it; and I shall need no sympathy when you are through with me, for this fight is far too great to permit us to concern ourselves about any man's welfare. If we are true to ourselves by putting far above our own interests, the triumph of the high cause for which we battle, we shall not lose. It would be far better to fall honorably for the cause we champion than it would be to win by foul methods, the foul victory for which our opponents hope. But the victory shall be ours and it shall be won as we have already won so many victories by clean and honest fighting for the leftest of causes. We fight in honorable fashion for the good of mankind; fearless of the future, unheeding of our individual fates, with inflaming hearts and undimmed eyes, we stand at Armageddon, and we battle for the Lord."

Rohatch's Mineral Water. Is highly recommended by physicians, and patrons who have tested its merits, for indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, kidney and bladder trouble. This water stimulates the secretion of the stomach, increases digestion and favors a more complete absorption of the food and prevents the action of germs that cause typhoid and other infectious diseases.

This water can be purchased at the wells or delivered in jugs or cases. This well is located one mile south of Alamo school building in Floral Heights, two deliveries daily morning and afternoon. G. J. Rohatch, Owner. Phone 1601—1 long—4 shorts.

ANOTHER REVOLUTION IN NICARAGUA THREATENED.

New Orleans, June 18.—Business and political conditions in Nicaragua are becoming so serious that a revolution threatens according to mail addresses received here. In New Orleans the belief is general in the Central American colony that a revolution will break out in Nicaragua in the next six or eight weeks.

For the first time in the history of the republic people are starving in the interior, according to prominent Nicaraguans here. In the States of Chontales, Matagalpa and Jinotega conditions are declared to be critical.

Talk-O-Grams

By T. H. P. DUNCAN

We want to apologize to two or three doctors in this town. It seems that one in particular took to heart something we said in one of our short medical talks. For it be from such our advertisements are never aimed at individuals—if I ever have a cause to say anything about any physician personally there will be no doubt who I refer to. Wichita Falls is blessed with several splendid physicians, capable men, reliable men, sincere men, men worthy the title of doctor. As a class, they are all above the average of a city of this size. Of course there are some boneheads, some quacks, some ignoramuses but they are in every community. They are the minus gauge with which we measure the maximum worth of other physicians. The physician who teaches you how to avoid doctors is the true physician. The scalawag who prays for pestilence, open manholes and calamities is a curse to humanity. There are a few in this place.

want you to read an article in "The Era" magazine by Elbert Hubbard on osteopathy. By the way every one should read "The Era." It is the most up to date publication in America. It is a Roy craft product. So elegantly printed, on rich ragged paper, that you feel a sensation of pleasure just from touch. Ask your book man. A. Joy from seeing an ex-osteopath reading. Ask your book man. We hope that the doctors will let us continue the practice of osteopathy, electricity, vibration and Haebeo medicine without displaying their ignorance upon the subjects.

You know we are giving free consultation and examination and our prices are $1.00 and $2.00 a treatment.

TAKING TESTIMONY IN JONES TRIAL TODAY

Testimony is being taken in the trial of Jim Jones, charged with the murder of Charles Morgan, at Electric last December.

The jury was completed this morning and is made up as follows: E. H. Price, B. Stiles, J. H. Shaw, J. H. Myrick, J. H. Shultz, J. S. Smith, M. F. Yeager, J. S. Bridwell, D. W. Bittick, R. H. Lyon, A. C. Cook and Ben. McFarland.

One of the witnesses put on the stand by the State this afternoon was J. W. Allen, whose tent Jones killed Morgan. Allen told of Jones coming to the tent and calling Morgan who was Allen's partner, out side the tent where words were passed and Jones stabbed Morgan in the neck causing his death almost immediately.

District Attorney Foster is being assisted by County Attorney T. R. Boone. Fred Weeks is representing the defendant.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Ferguson, who have been making their home in Fort Worth for several years have returned to this city and are now located at 807 Eighth street.

Summer Hot Winds Brown Skin PEROXIDE CREAM

Ladies if you care for your complexion don't use just any old receipt that you may pick up.

PEROXIDE CREAM is harmless and when applied to the face, arms and neck acts as a mild bleach and leaves the skin white, soft and smooth. Try it and you will use no other.

A WOMAN'S HAIR

has more to do with her beauty than anything else. A nice head of hair, properly taken care of will give to the most ordinary features an indescribable charm which cannot be obtained by any other means. On the other hand, no woman without pretty hair will ever be considered beautiful or attractive, or even pretty.

We have shampoos—preparations that will strengthen, invigorate—cure dandruff—in fact, everything to make your hair the beauty nature intended.

We Have Triplets

which is something that should be in every home. Probably you think you know your own business and can tell that you do not want triplets. Triplets you understand are twins and a half, one-fourth of a dozen or three in number.

Now if you think you do not need triplets come in and if we do not prove to you beyond a reasonable doubt that you are wrong we will give you a season ticket to Henrietta.

These triplets are not as expensive as most of the ones you have met, they cost one dollar and fifty cents and if you want to get in as a charter member of the Association of wise ones wake up the operator and ask for 341 and they are coming right up to sit on your dressing table. They are IMOGENE TOILET WATER, JAPANESE MASATA TALCUM POWDER, and DIKE'S PEROXIDE CREAM. They are all that the dictionary means when it says quality and elegance.

DANGEROUS PRACTICE ENGAGED IN BY BOYS

Youth Risk Lives in Jumping Across Courtyard Between Two Buildings.

A gang of boys have made a practice of engaging in the hallway of the Guggenheim building and during the warm weather within the past ten days it is believed some of them have been roosting there all night. From a window in the Guggenheim building some of the more venturesome have made a practice of jumping across the five foot court way to the roof of the building occupied by the Stampfli bakery adjoining. This is attended with peril for in jumping back and forth the boys must land in one case on a narrow wall that projects above the roof and in the other case on the narrow window sill. In jumping back to the Guggenheim building the boys must also stoop so that their bodies may go through the half opened window. A few years ago a man was killed in a fall from this window to the concrete paved walkway twenty-five feet below and if the boys keep up their present practice it is only a question of time until one of them falls to his death.

REV. EUGENE SALLEE WILL DELIVER OPENING ADDRESS FOR BAPTISTS

DELAY CAUSED BY RAIN

Regular Program Will Be Taken Up In Morning, Campers Are Arriving

Although the heavy rains and washouts have delayed the arrival of many of those who will be here, a fair sized attendance is promised at the Lake Coliseum tonight at the opening of the Interstate Baptist Assembly.

The cots and tents to be used during the encampment are on the ground and the hotel is open for the reception of visitors. Rev. Eugene Sallee will deliver the opening address at 8:30 tonight and the regular program will be taken up in the morning.

A number of speakers who will take part in the program are already here. Those on the ground include Rev. Sallee, Rev. J. B. Fivell of Baylor University, who will conduct the quiet hour services; Rev. J. H. Snow and wife of Dallas and Miss Margaret Terry of Baylor University.

Rev. Boone wishes to again call the attention of the public to the fact that reduced street car fare tickets can be purchased from the Miller and the Stonelpher & Smith drug stores and from the Morris Transfer line.

THEFT OF AUTOMOBILE FOLLOWED BY ARRESTS

Two Fort Worth Youths Taken Into Custody Here By Officer From That City

Bicycle Policeman Lewis of Fort Worth, arrested a Fort Worth youth here last night on a charge of stealing an automobile from that city last Saturday night.

Lewis came to Wichita Falls yesterday afternoon on the trail of the thieves and was at the depot to take the southbound train back home without having found them when one of the young men wanted jumped off the train and started toward the newsstand in the station to buy some cigarettes. The young man was on his way to Denver when arrested. He was taken back to Fort Worth this morning.

He is reported to have implicated several other youths and two were arrested here this morning and are being held on a charge of vagrancy. One of them is only 13 years old. The other is 18 or 20.

PRESIDENT WILL BE FURNISHED WITH NEWS.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—White House officials will keep President Taft informed of each move made on the floor of the Republican National convention. Convention news will be carried to the President immediately as it comes over the wires so he may know each development.

Although the President has accepted an invitation to attend the Philadelphia and Washington ball game here tomorrow, the plan of the Roosevelt managers to force the fighting from the opening hour of the convention may keep Mr. Taft at the end of busy wires in the White House.

ORPHAN GIRL SAYS SHE TRIED TO POISON OTHERS.

Griffin, Ga., June 18.—Fourteen-year-old Bessie Metz, an orphan, today confessed that she attempted to poison officers and patients at the Griffin hospital yesterday by putting strychnine in the milk at the hospital. Nearly a pint of the poison was used and the milk solution was so strong that it was detected before any one drank of it. The girl's act was prompted, she said, by a desire for revenge because the superintendent had reprimanded her.

San Benito, Texas.—The new home of the Commercial Club of this city has been completed and the organization is now busy moving into its new headquarters. The building is conveniently arranged for all purposes of the club and is modern in every respect. It is the intention of the organization to keep on display at all times the farm, factory and mineral products of San Benito and Cameron county.

BOYS CAMP BREAKS UP. COMING BACK NEXT YEAR

Pleasant Session On Shore of Lake Wichita Ends For Y. M. C. A. Members

The boys' camp at Lake Wichita broke up this morning and the Fort Worth contingent, tired and tanned by the ten days of activity took their special car for home. The Wichita Falls campers also came in.

That these two associations, probably accompanied by several others, will again join in a camp at the same place next year is already a practical certainty and plans for the event are taking definite form, even at this early date.

The camp has been enjoyed to the utmost by every member and all are enthusiastic over the success which attended it. There were no accidents and no untoward incidents of any kind, there being nothing to mar the unalloyed pleasure and profit of the play at the lake.
