Proposed Line Runs From Amarillo To Las Animas, Colorado, Offering New Direct Route To Denver

Series Of Applications To Be Filed With Interstate Commerce Commission For Permission To Build

(By Associated Press) SAN ANGELO, Oct. 11.—The San Angelo Standard today said the Aitchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway will file a series of applications with the Interstate Commerce Commission tomorrow or Monday asking permission to build a line from Amarillo north to Las Animas, Colo., which would give it a new short line to Denver and a shortcut for freight and passenger service connecting Texas with Colorado.

In addition it would intersect a number of branch lines and feeder spurs on the various Santa Fe systems and would seek at the same time to build two additional spurs off the new line.

Plan Dumas Line
The Panhandle and Santa Fe, the publication continued, expects to ask permission to build straight north from Amarillo via Dumas and Stratford through Potter, Moore and Sherman counties to a point about five miles from the northeast corner of Dallam county.

Another application, the Standard said, will be filed for the Elkhart

Mexican Woman Is Returned To Jail

Victim Of Alleged Attack Asks To Be Arrested And Then Attempts To Escape From Local Officers

Released Friday afternoon in the custody of local Mexicans, Senora Julia Alonzo, 37-year-old Mexican woman, whose address has not been ascertained since she was brought from Shallowater to Lubbock Thursday for investigation after she had alleged that two men had kidnaped and assaulted her, was returned to the Lubbock county jail late yesterday when she appeared at the office of Sheriff Wade Harby and requested that she be placed in the cell again.

While being taken to the jail, she was after signifying that she wanted to be placed there, she attempted a get-away when she ran across Main street to Ramo's restaurant and tried to escape in an automobile. When placed in the cell she directed vigorous epithets at officers and beat upon the bars until almost exhausted.

Charge Insanity
"The woman shows every sign of insanity," said Sheriff Wade Harby late last night. "Every effort to discover her address and investigate her allegations that she had been assaulted by two men who kidnaped her from her home late Wednesday has proved futile. A thorough investigation in Shallowater, where she was found beaten and bruised, has revealed no information which would lead to an arrest."

One man, held in jail here for a short while, was released yesterday when nothing was found to substantiate charges.

YOUTH IS JAILED

Sixteen-year-Old Lad Held For Slaying Boss

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Arthur Lee Land, 16, was in jail tonight facing a charge in juvenile court because of the slaying today of Howard Colwell, 21, foreman of the department of an upholstery company. Bond, set at $2,000 had not been made tonight. Colwell had threatened to put a gun in Land's trousers, the youth said, and the two had quarreled several times. This morning, Land carried his father's pistol to the plant. He said Colwell made a lunge for him and that he shot him.

More than two-thirds of the counties of the state will take part in the boys and girls club contests. Applicants for space in the section devoted to agricultural exhibits for space in the section devoted to agricultural exhibits have exceeded the available room and many have been turned away.

Less Prohibition Of Foreign Books Sought By Senate

Amendment Passes To Bill Barring Literature Held Immoral By Officials Of Customs Department

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The senate today went on record for a less rigid prohibition against the entry into the United States of foreign literature that might be regarded as of an immoral or seditious character.

By a vote of 38 to 36 it adopted an amendment by Senator Cutting, republican, New Mexico, striking from the tariff bill the provision in existing law barring the importation of books held by customs officials to be of an immoral nature and eliminating part of a new provision which would have closed the doors to entry of literature advocating treason or insurrection.

Proposal Modified
At the suggestion of Senator Catts, republican, Michigan, the New Mexico senator modified his proposal to retain that section of the new provision prohibiting entry of literature urging forcible resistance to any law of the United States or containing a threat against the life of an American citizen. In this form it was adopted.

Senator Cutting held the floor most of the day for his proposal, although he had assistance from others, including Senators La Follette, republican, Wisconsin and Tydings, democrat, Maryland. Like a schoolmaster lecturing a class in the classics and the philosophies of such literary geniuses as Shakespeare and Milton, he was almost exhausted.

It was stated that three men and a girl entered the store through the skylight, packed up goods valued at $500 but escaped, taking nothing with them when Greenville police approached the building.

Fall Leaves His Sickbed To Come To Bribery Trial

Aged Defendant Determined To Force Government To Either Dismiss Charges Or Continue With Trial

Slumps In Chair

Motion For Mistrial Gets Opposition From Defense Counsel; Fall Carried To Court In Wheel Chair

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The determination of Albert B. Fall to force the government to try him now on charges of bribery or dismiss the indictment caused him today to leave his sickbed, enter court in a wheel chair, and through counsel successfully oppose the government's motion for a mistrial.

With that the trial continued. Slumps In Chair
Two witnesses were heard while Fall slumped weakly in a tall chair. He will be taken to court by relatives again tomorrow.

Earlier in the day and prior to Fall's dramatic appearance Justice William Pitt announced from the bench that four physicians who had examined the former cabinet officer at the court's request had found he was suffering from bronchial pneumonia, and that his attendance at court would endanger his life.

Ask For Recess
At that session, government counsel urged the court to declare a mistrial on the basis of the physicians' reports. The defense objected, saying Fall should have the opportunity to "secure vindication" and asked a recess until Monday.

Justice Pitt reserved decision until this afternoon, saying "it is not a trial by jury, it is a trial by ordeal."

Frank J. Hogan, chief counsel for the defense, said Fall would continue the trial or die in court. He said he regretted it was necessary for Fall to continue, adding Pitt himself insisted that the government finish his prosecution or dismiss the case. Fall, Hogan said, had told him he would rather die in court than have a mistrial declared and the charge continue to hang over him.

Eight Members Of Board Confirmed

Confirmation Recommended By Senate Of New Farm Board; Legge, Williams Get Opposing Votes

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Confirmation of the eight appointed members of the federal farm board was recommended by the senate agriculture committee today and administration leaders predicted the entire board would be approved by the senate.

Five members of the board were approved unanimously, one vote was cast against Chairman Legge, and three against Carl Williams, of Oklahoma, and Sam R. McKelvie of Nebraska.

Seventeen Vote
Seventeen of the nineteen senators on the committee voted. Senators Wheeler of Montana, Caraway of Arkansas, and Smith of South Carolina, all democrats, voted against McKelvie. The three voted against Williams were Senators Smith, Wheeler and Heflin, democrats, Alabama.

Although it was reported Senator Wheeler had cast the only ballot against Chairman Legge, the Montanan declined to comment. He said, however, he did not intend to attempt formulation of an organized movement against Legge on the senate floor.

Misappropriation Of Funds Charged Against Aimee Semple McPherson By Discharged Temple Ministers

(By Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—Five pastors of Angulus Temple and its branches, two of whom had been discharged within the past forty-eight hours by Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson, appeared in the district attorney's office today and accused her of misappropriation of funds.

The ministers brought alleged photostatic copies of the temple's records as evidence but they were instructed to obtain the original books and return. Simultaneously, Deputy Dis-

Today Commemorates Discovery By Columbus—Our Idea Of A Man

(AN EDITORIAL)
TODAY, even though it is unobserved throughout the United States, is Columbus Day. It is the anniversary of that day, in 1492, when Christopher Columbus discovered land of the western hemisphere, proving that his idea of the earth being spherical was the correct idea.

Columbus was no mere follower after illusions. His belief and calm reasoning, convinced in his own mind, he had the determination to defy a scoffing world. What has followed is a matter of common knowledge.

That characteristic of his, whether or not we concede Columbus was the first to discover America, will forever stand out as the mark of a man of his own mind. The courage of one's convictions is an indefinable fibre. It is responsible for our Lindbergh. It made possible the martyred heroes of our own Alamo. It has changed a cattle country on the Plains into an agricultural empire. It has made of Lubbock a city. It gave us Texas Technological college.

And so, on this day, it is well to pause a moment in contemplation of Christopher Columbus—our kind of a man.

Probe Of Police Affairs Follows McPherson Death

Senate Orders Investigation Of Washington Cops As Effort Is Started To Exhume Body

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The senate today ordered an investigation into the Washington police affairs as department of justice agents moved to exhume the body of Mrs. Virginia McPherson, bride of eight months, to determine whether a fractured skull instead of strangulation caused her death last month.

Meanwhile, another spectacular violent death was added to the capital's recent total, and announced by the police department. A woman had been retained for Dexter Church, 311 Dayton, formerly of Kansas City, who has admitted strangling eighteen year old Marjorie O'Donnell of Pittsburgh.

Leaps To Death
Joseph Eugene Agan, 31, correspondent for a Paris newspaper, provided the latest death sensation today by leaping six floors from his apartment on fashionable Sixteenth street after slashing his throat and wrists with a razor blade and stabbing himself ten times over the heart with an ice pick.

Decision to attempt further examination of the body of Mrs. McPherson, followed testimony by a physician that her body showed evidence of a skull fracture after it was found September 24 in her apartment. Special agents were immediately sent south to seek permission of state authorities to disinter the body from the family plot in China Grove, N. C. Department of justice investigators believed her father, A. A. Hurley of Chester, S. C., would consent to the autopsy, but word from there said that he was uncertain whether to consent.

Borger Awaiting Action Of Grand Jury Next Monday

Investigation To Be Made Of City And County Officers Held In Probe Of Alleged Crime Ring

To Study Evidence

General Wolters, Ruling Under Regime Of Martial Law, Indicates Arrest Of Others

(By Associated Press) BORGER, Oct. 11.—Borger today began waiting for the grand jury to convene Monday, investigate city and county officials and return indictments against members of the "entrenched criminal ring" which led Governor Dan Moody to declare martial law.

After 12 days of activity, the military court of inquiry adjourned until Monday. Many witnesses who had appeared before the court are to testify before the grand jury.

To Study Evidence
The jury also will study evidence in the assassination of District Attorney John A. Holmes Sept. 13.

Brigadier General Jacob Wolters, in command of Texas national guardsmen enforcing martial law, indicated today other persons would be jailed under general order six, upheld yesterday by District Judge E. J. Picken.

Permits Holding
General order six permits indefinite holding without bail of all persons believed to be members of the "entrenched criminal ring."

Assistant Attorney General Paul D. Page, Jr., who successfully defended the order in court yesterday today wired Attorney General Robert Robb at Austin, "we have met the enemy and they are ours."

The Texas ranger force was decreased and both captains were gone. Captain Frank Hamer went to Brownsville and Captain Tom Hickman to San Marcos where they are court witnesses. Ranger M. B. Gonzalez and Ranger J. F. Hild, Devall, a specialist of the federal court witnesses, Sergeant J. B. Wheatley, acting sheriff since the removal of Sheriff Joe Owenby, was in charge of the remaining rangers.

Houston Payroll Robbery Averted

Street Car Motorman Fires At Escaping Bandits To Attract Police Attention And Recover $5,150 Loot

(By Associated Press) HOUSTON, Oct. 11.—Because street car motorman G. W. Dooland spent part of his "off time" riding on another motorman's car, the Houston Packing company's $5,150 payroll was saved from bandits today. Robbers who struck up E. Hantschke, paymaster for the packing company, on the street car probably would have got away had not Dooland shot at them four times as they fled.

His fire aroused policemen in the neighborhood and they caught three alleged bandits J. A. (Jimmy) Merriman and two others, whose names were not announced. Merriman's head was seen above the brush on a vacant lot where he had hidden. The money was found in a rusty stove pipe joint nearby by A. F. Devall, a specialist of the case which Merriman led his captors.

Two Entered Car
Only two of the two robbers entered the car which was operated by C. E. Penn. Police believed a third waited for them in an automobile.

FATE WITH JURY

Testimony Is Completed In Covin Slaying Case

BEAUMONT, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The fate of A. D. Covin, charged with slaying of T. J. Benefield on a downtown street corner last June was expected to be placed in the hands of the jury late tonight.

Testimony was completed early this afternoon. Attorney's continued tonight in a night session with the hope of having the jury take the case before retiring.

Declaring the killing of Benefield was the result of a love triangle, Covin took the stand in his own defense. He alleged that Benefield had broken up his home by paying too intimate attentions to his wife when the Covin's and Benefield's all lived in a rooming house here. He claimed that because of his wife's affair with Benefield he left their apartment and went to live in a hotel.

Revenge Held As Slaying Motive

GALVESTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Working on the theory that underworld revenge motivated the slaying here last night of Jimmy Clinch, a baker's apprentice, detectives today arrested one man and questioned several others in connection with the shooting.

Clinch, a dapper young man well known in Galveston was riddled with buck shot on the upstreet in a residence section of Galveston after midnight Thursday. Residents told of hearing the shot and seeing a large automobile speed away.

Police and detectives today studied the identification by rear record of the slain man as they prepared to sift the statements of those questioned and sought alleged underworld characters of the city for further light on the mysterious shooting.

Scattered Rains Fall Over South Plains On Friday

Moisture Threatens Delay In Cotton Picking For Several Days; Feed Crop Is Offered Boon

Threatening to delay cotton picking for several days, rains fell scattering over the South Plains area Friday night to offer a boon to winter feeds and pasturage, the precipitations ranging from one-half to one inch.

The North Panhandle, drenched by rains Thursday night, was untroubled by threatening clouds, while a similar telephonic report came from sections below the caprock.

Half Inch Here
Precipitation in Lubbock, which fell between 7 and 10 o'clock last night, was estimated as one-half to three-quarters of an inch.

A bus en route last night to Lubbock from Amarillo stopped at Plainview for the night, after encountering heavy roads and a torrential rain in Hale county.

The bus scheduled to arrive last night at 9:30 o'clock from Littlefield, had not arrived at a late hour, indicating heavy rains along the route to Clovis, N. M.

Buses from eastern and southern points were arriving on scheduled time.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The Mackay radio company tonight announced it had picked up an SOS from the British steamer Pacific saying she was ashore on Flying Fox Shoals, 11 miles south-southwest of Cape Fear, on the Virginia coast, and required assistance.

Later message picked up by Mackay radio said the steamer Pacific coast guard cutter Maddox, at Wilmington, Del., and that the cutter was preparing to go to the steamer's assistance.

State's Case Moves Fast Against Pantages

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The state's case against Alexander Pantages, theatrical multi-millionaire, charged with attacking 17-year-old Eunice Pringle, a dancer, began to move rapidly today as examination of most of its principal witnesses was completed. Some corroborated testimony that Pantages attempted to influence testimony.

William Jobelman, press agent for the accused, brought to the stand yesterday, finished testifying today. He left in the records his assertions that his employer attempted to influence him and that he refused to yield to the influence.

Two Men Exchange Shots In Gun Battle From Autos; Bystander Is Killed By Stray Shots

(By Associated Press) SAN MARCOS, Oct. 11.—Two men were killed and a third wounded in a shooting on the court house square here late today. A. J. Wimberley, sixty, cottonseed salesman, surrendered after the shooting.

Riley W. Plant, 35, land salesman and Helmut Harbold, 25, truck driver, were killed and M. B. Cochran, 62, was wounded in the arm and shoulder.

Witnesses said that Wimberley and Plant exchanged shots from their automobiles and that stray bullets killed Harbold and wounded Cochran. None of the charges struck Wimberley.

Plant had been indicted for criminal assault in connection with an alleged attack on Wimberley's daughter and the trial was set for today. The case had not been reached when the shooting occurred.

Plant was backing his automobile from the curb when Wimberley swung around a corner near by. The two men started shooting as soon as they saw each other, officers were told. Harbold, who was driving past,

Youthful German Birdman Nearing End On Journey Around World In Tiny Plane; Now On Final Hop

DALLAS, Oct. 11.—A 21-year-old boy and a wee "mosquito" airplane that weighs only 550 pounds when fully loaded are pausing in Dallas for a few days in the midst of a remarkable flight around the world.

The boy is Baron P. K. Koenig Warthausen of Berlin, who left his home 13 months ago on a pleasure flight and liked it so well that he hasn't been home since.

His plane is a two-cylinder, 20-horsepower Mercedes-Benz of the glider type, unbelievably small and unbelievably safe. It costs $1,800 in Germany, has a maximum speed of 70 miles an hour, will travel 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline and has an incredibly slow landing speed.

Just at present the baron and the plane are pausing. Landing on a dark and muddy field at Sweetwater, the other day, the baron cracked up and damaged a wing. Unable to fix it there, he put the little plane on a truck and brought it to Dallas for repairs. In a few days he will take off again.

Baron Warthausen had had just 23 hours of solo flying when he began his world tour. From Berlin he flew to Moscow. Thence he followed his nose through the orient, by way of Baku, Calcutta, Burma, Bangkok, Singapore, Hongkong, Shanghai, Kobe, Tokio and Yokohama. At the latter city he put his plane on a liner and came to the United States, debarking at San Francisco. From San Francisco he came down through the southwest in easy stages.

Injured—In Auto Crash. In all of this flying in his tiny plane Warthausen has only had one mishap, aside from the affair at Sweetwater. That was at El Paso a couple of months ago, when a taxicab in which he was riding from the airport to a hotel hit another car and threw him through the windshield. His face was badly cut, and he spent six weeks in a hospital. Now he is eager to get back home.

"I only planned to be gone for a year," he says. "I'd have made it easy if it hadn't been for damages, and I may have to go back to El Paso for the hearing. I think I have something coming to me—my hospital and doctor bills were $1,500.

From here Baron Warthausen plans to fly to Tulsa, St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Washington and New York. He thought some of attempting a trans-Atlantic flight, but finally reconsidered and decided to cross "like a sane person," as he says—by ocean liner to Cherbourg, from which point he will fly to his home in Berlin.

He carries with him a letter of introduction to Henry Ford, whom he is very anxious to meet.

His companion on his trip thus far has been a blooded Siamese cat, given him by the king of Siam. In El Paso he added two more passengers—a pair of Texas horned toads. Otherwise he carries no cargo, except for a huge can of castor oil. This, however, is for the engine.

"It is the ideal for a small motor," he says. "And it can be bought in any place in the world."

His trip has been devoid of any narrow escapes or spectacular thrills. Only once was he nervous. That was when he soared over 500 miles of uninhabited jungle in southern Asia. He admits that thoughts of a forced landing kept coming into his head while he was on that flight, but nothing happened and he got through in safety.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 11. (AP) Rev. Dr. Frank Frankendorf, minister of Salem church, this city, today refused to accept an unanimous election to the office of president-general of the Evangelical synod of North America, now holding its twenty-fifth general conference here. He requested that he be not asked to give his reasons for declining the honor.

Labor Federation Hears Debates On Political Policy

American Labor Convention Under Way In Toronto as Advantages of Railroad Cooperation Are Shown

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 11. (AP)—An impromptu debate over political policies and an exposition of the advantages of full cooperation between railroads and labor unions featured the proceedings today of the American Federation of Labor convention.

Two English trades union delegates stressed the accomplishment of trades unions in their country in building an independent labor party and William Green, president of the Federation, responded with a defense of the non-partisanship of the Federation in the United States.

Cooperation Asked. Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National railroads, asserted that cooperation with labor unions in his system, under a plan followed by the Baltimore and Ohio, and other lines in the United States, had "come to be regarded as our greatest asset."

J. T. Brownlie, representing English machinists swung into an address whose tone contrasted sharply with Sir Henry Thornton's from the moment that he announced the labor party of that country to be "new the government of Great Britain."

Talks Of Revolution. "I'm not one of those who imagine that the labor government is going to effect a revolution," he said, "but labor will yet effect an economic and industrial revolution in society. We are yet faced with the representatives of organized predatory wealth; maybe they'll forego their rights and if they do, they'll be well advised, for they can no more arrest the onward drive of organized labor than they can arrest the sun. But I think it would be rank unintelligence to expect those people to get off our backs and say, 'thank you.'"

President Green took issue quickly with the speakers. "We see in political power the same virtue that our English brothers do, but we are hard-headed men," he said. "We have a different country. It has 48 states, 48 governments, and at least half of those states are each larger than Great Britain. We have a cosmopolitan people, with language and interests of great diversity. It is not possible in this great expanse and with this great diversity to create a single party organization like that which exists in compact Great Britain."

"Here is the difference that must always be considered. We know we are on the right track now in abstaining from party organization, but if the time ever comes when the best interests of organized labor can be served by a labor party, we'll face the issue in this congress of labor."

Officers of the United Textile Workers made public today a resolution advanced for consideration, proposing a general union organization campaign for southern territory. It asked that a general conference of international union executives be summoned to finance the effort, and to lay down a policy for it. It was referred to the convention's committee organization for preliminary consideration.

TO START INQUIRY Source Of Secret Document Object Of Probe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. (AP)—Inquiry into the source of the alleged secret British document now before it will be undertaken next week by the senate committee investigating William B. Shearer's activities for American shipbuilders at the 1927 Geneva naval conference.

The committee will confer tomorrow. Photostatic copies of the so-called British paper were presented to it by Shearer at the recess of hearings last week.

Chinese Consul H. K. Kwong filed a complaint with the government of the Philippines against the general of the Philippines against alleged discriminations by the bureau of customs in the handling of Chinese immigrants and emigrants.

Observers say that in two years Germany's unemployment figures may temporarily drop, owing to the smaller number of children born during the World War years and ready to enter the employment field for the first time in 1931.

Sub-Committee Of Centralization Commission To Make Tour Of Potential Locations For New Pen

AUSTIN, Oct. 11. (AP)—A sub-committee of the prison centralization commission today began an inspection of approximately 20 Central Texas locations which have been offered as sites for the proposed new penitentiary plant.

The group started with the sites near Austin. Two tracts 15 miles east of Austin on the Bastrop road and another 12 miles south-east of the capital city were visited this afternoon.

Manor Estate Inspected. The J. B. Manor estate near the town of Webster, comprising 200 acres, was one of the three sites inspected. An adjoining 228 acre tract owned by P. S. Matthews of Austin was embraced in the visit. Most of the 228 acres was in cultivation and Matthews told the committee he could obtain 260 additional acres if more land was desired.

The committee also visited the 620 acre place of Mrs. Helen Wallace, 12 miles southeast of Austin. They found an electric high line nearby. Mrs. Wallace told the committee that her property was considered good farm land, that the water supply was abundant and that only 100 acres was subject to overflow.

Fifteen Described. Fifteen proposed sites were described briefly to the committee members today and other offers were submitted in writing. The committee asked each of the landowners to prepare a written report in order that the salient facts regarding each piece of property might be permanently impressed on the mind of each member of the group.

While the committee did not ask for the land prices prior to the written offer some of those who appeared today volunteered that information. Prices ranged from royalty on the rock quarried to about $120 an acre.

Questions Answered. Questions to be answered by each of the land dealers included elevation of the property, abundance of water supply, whether subject to overflow, kind of soil and the proximity to electric and gas facilities, a sizeable city, highways and railroads.

W. A. Paddock, of Houston, chairman of the sub-committee, was authorized to procure the services of an experienced appraiser to value the lands as soon as that was deemed necessary. Most of the property offered was farm land.

A. A. Barron and daughter, Miss Barron, of Lamesa, spent the day in Lubbock.

Mr. Pent Stallings, of Clovis, N. M., is visiting friends in Lubbock a few days.

Former Chicago Gangster Given No Picnic On Home Coming From Italy

CHICAGO, Oct. 11. (AP)—Jim Genna's happy home coming from Italy was interrupted rudely today by his first experience in a Chicago police cell.

Once chief of a flourishing clan of alcohol cookers, Genna fled to his homeland four years ago after the slaying of three of his brothers in gang battles. But Italy, too, was inhospitable. He spent two of his years there in prison awaiting trial on a stock fraud charge of which he emphasized he was eventually acquitted. Police in Chicago had never molested him, so he decided to come back to the "olive oil and cheese" business here.

Placed In Cell. Genna sat forlornly in his cell today and listened to a recital of the list of his friends killed since he departed.

John Stege, deputy police commissioner, reminded him of the death of his brothers—Angelo, Mike and Tony—and then drew out one by one the photographs of the liquor racketeers that followed them. "Tony Lombardo," Stege pointed a finger. "Shot to death."

Clippings Shown. "Jim, you'd better get out of town or the newspapers will be carrying pictures of your funeral." He showed the gangster clippings of the elaborate funeral of his brother Mike, who, dying, had gathered up his last ounce of energy to kick the face of his stretcher bearer. "Jim" said Stege, "you're sitting

Ex-Senator Pays Tribute To Clarence Gilmore In Statement Mourning His Death At San Antonio

AUSTIN, Oct. 11. (AP)—Former United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield, former colleague on the railroad commission with Chairman Clarence E. Gilmore, paid a tribute to Mr. Gilmore Friday night in a statement mourning his death. "I was shocked beyond measure when I learned of the sudden passing of Mr. Gilmore, chairman of our railroad commission," he said. "I served six years with him on the commission and knew him intimately."

"He was a capable servant of the people. His greatest ambition was to render a service worth while. He was an untiring worker. He was an honest man. He was one of the noblest characters Texas has produced. Above all, he was a sincere Christian, who was prepared to meet his Maker face to face."

"Our state has suffered an irreparable loss in his death. The influence of Clarence E. Gilmore's life will be felt in Texas through the years."

PROPOSAL SUBMITTED

Release Of Prisoners Is Object Of Action

BERLIN, Oct. 11. (AP)—The German government, as guardian of Russian and Chinese interests in China and Russia respectively, today submitted proposals to Moscow and Nanking for release of interned and imprisoned citizens of each country held by the other.

Germany suggested that the who disputing governments renounce measures against private individuals releasing those who had been interned or imprisoned and granting them amnesty.

Making the suggestion for reasons of humanity, Germany added that if both countries agreed to it, she was prepared to submit a further proposal for actually carrying it out.

Dr. Paul W. Horn is to return Sunday from Groesbeck where he has been in attendance at a teachers institute.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ater, of Berlin, are to arrive today to visit their son, Dr. G. H. Ater, and Mrs. Ater, 2703 22nd street.

Capitalist Party Makes Visit Here Inspecting Lines

President of Radio Corporation And Santa Fe Vice President In City For Short While Friday

A party of eastern capitalists, including in its personnel, E. F. Engel, executive vice-president of the Santa Fe railroad; General J. G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America, and other prominent financial figures, were visitors in Lubbock for a few hours yesterday.

Arriving here at 8:30 o'clock by special train, after a two-hour drive over the city, they left at 12:20 o'clock for Sweetwater.

Mr. Engel stated that the visit to this city and others on the railroad line was one of inspection. He declined to make any statement.

General Harbord, retired army officer, second in command of the American Expeditionary forces in France, a veteran of Indian fighting days in Texas and of the Spanish-American war, when approached by newspapermen expressed himself as being favorably impressed with this section.

While I campaigned in my early days over almost every part of this great state, this is the first time I have ever had the pleasure of visiting in this region," he stated. "On my tour of your city this morning I was very favorably impressed with the seeming spirit of progressiveness as expressed in the building program underway."

Merely inspection. The purpose of our visit is merely one of inspection of the Santa Fe lines and holds no particular significance. As a director of the road I accepted Mr. Engel's invitation to make the trip and have enjoyed it immensely. We plan to go from here to Sweetwater, Alpine, Houston, Galveston, back north to Dallas, Oklahoma City and thence to New York.

Once again lapsing into praise of the South Plains country, General Harbord declared that in his opinion this area was destined for a mammoth program of development as yet unrealized by its citizens. Here Modern City.

"Your people have gone at the thing in the right way, you have a clean, up-to-date and modern little city here. I have been studying the map this morning and find that there are seven railroad outlets from this city. That in itself speaks a sure sign of pending development making this city the center of activity. Very few cities in Texas, or even in the United States can boast of such transportation facilities. Possibly the one great thing that struck me is the contrast of the suburbs entrance into cities now with the entrance several years ago.

"In former years railways entered cities, indifferent to the public, indifferent to its needs or demands. Today they have entirely abandoned that policy and build with the sole idea of service, planning for the growth of the territory which they serve. You have the transportation facilities, you have the trade territory, your banks, all of them seemingly substantial, are backed by a vast agricultural territory. Nothing can stop you if you go at it."

How to Achieve Beauty

If ever there was a technique for waving away the ravages of time, for shutting out the reality and literally transporting a woman into Elysian quiet, then this Parisian mask treatment fulfills that qualification.

Before I tell you in detail how the treatment is given, I think it would be interesting for you to know what it has come to mean to many women. One woman who traveled all the way in from a town far away from New York, said to me: "I can be literally exhausted from the social season; my nerves can be so tense that I am constantly on the verge of tears, and just one Parisian mask treatment can brush aside all this tenseness and leave me quiet and rested."

A prominent business woman in New York, famous for her brilliancy of mind, runs away from the bother of a hot mask treatment. She once said to the operator giving the treatment that the money which she spent in this manner brought her more dividends than any of her other investments, because she returned to the office ready to do truly big things.

Step for a moment out of the reality which surrounds you and let me take you into a salon for this treatment. First, you enter a luxuriant waiting room, full of soft blue-

New Red Tones Are Chic In Fashions For This Fall

Mrs. E. Livingston Burrill

By BETSY SCHUYLER
NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—There is no law to prohibit couturiers serving wine—as the favorite color of fall fashions.

I have been surprised to note the popularity of light wines and dark have for whole costumes, for accessories and even for shoes. Of course, greens are good, too, and all the old favorites in brown. But the new colors have a burgundy hint to their tone, be it soft or rich.

Mrs. William Day strolled down Park Avenue in a wine colored outfit consisting of a frock with length and fullness, topped by a three-quarters coat which seems to be the new solution to the fuller, longer, dipping daytime hemlines.

In the Red Mode
Virginia Thaw, Mrs. Deering Howe and Eleanor Barry are three who look extremely chic in the new red tones.

Color, however, is by no means the topic of conversation at couturiers. These new high waisted and long-limbed fuller skirts do a lot for the feminine figure.

I have never seen Mrs. Jerome Bonaparte look smarter, and she always looks smart, than at Sherry's in a new black flat crepe with long side fullness introduced by novel vertical shirring on both hips. The belt was at normal waistline and soft white touches at neck and wrists added the last delicately feminine touch. Her large brimmed hat had a becoming one-sided flare.

Velvet Hats to Fore
Velvet hats have gone to many women's heads. If a woman has that gift of inherent smartness which enables her to give everything a chic twist, a velvet hat has a head start toward being the last word in style.

Mrs. Gurnsey Curran, Jr., the former Florence Kip Clark, has that gift. She looked lovely in a quite large-sided black velvet one that she wore for a Park Avenue stroll. Its narrow front brim is held back from the face by a little arrow of droop. Both sides flare and drip and there was a lot of hat in the back, too. Her white outfit sponsored new modes, with the black coat fuller and longer, the sleeves flaring at the cuffs and gorgeous silver fox neckpiece.

Tweed touches against silk, and even chiffon, show the true acceptance of tweed into the entire wardrobe. At the Madisonbrook cup races at Westbury, L. L. Mrs. E. Livingston Burrill wore a smart three-piece tweed suit in beige and tan, with the beige tucked-in blouse decorated with bows of tweed down the front and on the sleeves.

Checking the Styles
For jersey sporty shirring now, shadow checks, much more subtle than blatant regular ones, are sponsored in new green, tan and brown, and several shades of wine and grey. Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse wore a red, tan and beige outfit at Westbury, with tan and red wavy lines, fashioning shadow checks in a diamond pattern. The cardigan and the neckline, sleeves and bottom of the skirt all were finished in the two shades of silk braids.

Instead of rose beige, there is a new beige rose this year that is stunning for blouses, lingerie touches, evening frocks. Mrs. K. Winslow wears a satin blouse of this tone with a black broadcloth suit with circular skirt and a sweet feminine collar, and it is a triumph.

There is no denying that the new sports frocks that have fitted lines to the low hips, then flare by pleats, godets or whatnot, all to a lady's

Pretty Shower Given For Bride

Hallow'en Motif Used As Theme At Party Which Honored Mrs. Andrew Angelo

Miss Andrew Angelo, who was formerly Miss Gladys Odum, was named as honor guest at a miscellaneous shower given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. D. Buchanan, with Mrs. Buchanan, Mrs. E. B. Holland and Miss Ethel Cadenehead as hostesses.

The Hallow'en theme was used in the decorations in the home. Games and contests were played during the affair, with the bride finding the assortment of gifts after a search through the house with a string as a guide.

Guests for the afternoon were Mesdames Leon Hale, M. H. Sneed, Roy E. Ingram, Andrew Angelo, Mary Dean Tubbs, Elsie O'Harran, Odum Cardwell, A. W. Cardwell, R. C. Odum, and A. G. Odum; Misses Carrie and Ora Little, Gladys Williams, Nina Mae Odum, Alberta Odum, Violet Agon, Hazel Duncan, Ruby Lee Brooks, and Ethel Cadenehead.

The thing right which, from all appearances, you have done. Can Remember Section.

"I can remember when I was a boy, this part of the country was then merely a portion of the great American desert, inhabited only by the wildest of life. Since then progress has forged its way and made of it a great coming center of development."

Pleasant to converse with General Harbord did not confine all of his conversation to affairs of business. In graphic language he told of his experiences in Texas many years ago, of escapades in Cuba and of the great war in Europe ending with a bit of humor describing his feeling for Texas and that of others the world over.

"While in France," the general related, "a Frenchman was greatly interested in the size of the Lone Star State. One of the doughboys, striving to satisfy that curiosity, gave him the best description he could and one, which I believe is rightly founded, 'If Texas' the doughboy described, were a lake and France were an island, it would take two days to travel to the mainland.'"

The WOMAN'S DAY

Guessing at the matter, I suppose there may be a million women in love with Rudy Vallee—whose hearts have been won by his romantic, yearning songs.

But I am afraid he will remain a bachelor unless he can temper his requirements in his ideal wife, which he sets down quite calmly in a magazine article under his signature. For he demands quite an order.

"Her face and form must be beautiful," says he. "That's not so hard. There are lots of pretty girls, and there are beauty shops and French corsets. He won't have so much trouble there."

"I want her to realize that if any woman is to be given on either side of marriage, the man is more privileged to have it than the woman."

NO BREAD WINNERS:
A girl that insists on paying her own checks or in making her own way in the world, is out. He wants one that will struggle in his arms, demanding and needing protection.

When she dances with other men, he wants her to show reserve—yes, frigidity. But when she dances with him—the sky is the limit. He wants her eyes to glow with an alluring light and he wants warmth and consciousness of his presence.

By this time, most women will realize it is just as well they married the men they did marry—that holding out for Rudy would have been futile. But there are more requirements.

The ideal must have patience and understanding, and let him alone when he wants to be. She must love him when he is grubby and gloomy (fancy that—what a thought that Rudy has his grubby, gloomy moments!) She must look charming while he is in a temper, and he admits he is terrible when he gets mad.

BRAINS? NOT ESSENTIAL:
Rudy admits he's not sold on the smart woman if she wears her brains on the outside. If she has charm and looks, and is crazy enough about him, she can go easy on the gray matter.

If Rudy is really expecting to find such a girl, he will never find her except in his own mind. Fortunately only an ideal, carefully cherished and never incarnated, could ever fill the bill.

Other young men have put in such an order, and in accepting the substitute offered, found the high degree of adventure and hazard involved in matrimony.

— so we lay our cards on the table to the people of the Southwest

OVER A HALF CENTURY ago, when six-shooters and longhorn cattle were in vogue, the Waples Platter Company started the distribution of coffees and foods, housed in a tent on the banks of Red River in Indian Territory. Shortly thereafter the business was moved to Denison, which was then the terminal of the Katy Railroad.

Texas is a big state. Technically it is one state, but geographically she is a half dozen. To those who think a trip through seven states from Boston to St. Louis is never-ending, this same distance can be covered without leaving the borders of Texas.

The grit and courage of the people of the great Southwest is reflected in the development of its vastness, laying the foundation for the homes of great industries and enterprises which have today materialized.

During the forward march of Texas, more than 1,000,000 loyal people of the Southwest have made the Waples Platter Company one of the largest food distributors in the United States. That is important. Not just because it is now a big business—but because it presents an obligation which must be discharged in full to deserve the continuance of your patronage.

Lubbock Westerners Slaton Aggregation, 7 To 0

Formidable Class B Eleven Holds Lubbock Crew On Even Terms For Three Periods Of Hard Football

Perfectly Executed Pass In Last Quarter, Smith To Price, Gives Local Club Lone Touchdown Of Game; Bengals Show Strong Line

BY ALLAN GARNY
Avallanche-Journal Sports Editor
After the Slaton Tigers had batted the Lubbock gridiron to a standstill for three quarters, the Westerners opened up late in the final period to push across a touchdown and defeat the Wright-coached eleven in the annual clash between the two teams Friday afternoon, 7 to 0.

A perfectly executed pass, Moody Smith to Yancy Price, gave the Lubbockies their sole counter after it had appeared that the Class B team would hold the locals to a scoreless tie. Smith flipped a 12-yard pass to the fleet Lubbock end, who in turn galloped the remaining distance to cross the Slaton goal line for the first time this year. Smith's kick for extra point was good by inches.

Tigers Show Strength
Backed by a howling delegation of Slaton rooters, the Purple Tigers held their own with the Class A Westerners for the most part of the hard-fought battle, displaying a powerful defensive combination and an effective running attack.

A crowd, estimated at 3,000 persons, saw the Lubbock eleven thrown back time after time by the husky Slaton forwards. In the early stages, the Slaton backs threatened repeatedly to penetrate the Western defense but met a stubborn Lubbock line when they were within actual scoring distance. Five first downs were registered by the Bengals during the first half while the Westerners were scoring two. Slaton was in possession of the ball inside Lubbock's 20-yard line when the first half ended with the count standing 0-0.

The Tigers continued their battering tactics in the third quarter but never were able to put across their goal line punch. While the Bengals were running rampant, the Lubbock forces seemed content to guard their own goal line, kicking repeatedly on the first down. Both teams reported to the serial game with varied results in the last half and many were intercepted just as the team appeared headed for the goal line.

Pass Starts Drive
A pass, Smith to Lawson, started the march which ended in Lubbock's touchdown in the last quarter. With the ball on Slaton's thirty-yard line, Smith stepped back and tossed a 12-yard pass to the flying Yancy Price, who raced the remaining distance to the final check.

After the Westerners had scored, Slaton made a desperate effort to break through the Lubbock defense via the aerial route. Pass after pass was hurled by Otis Cannon, but the majority of these were incomplete or were intercepted by Lubbock backs. The shining light in Slaton's formidable running and passing attack were Cecil Austin, Tiger fullback, Otis Cannon, quarterback and Demp Cannon, halfback. Austin is a hard-driving back, who if turned loose in an open field, is likely to outdistance any high school aggregation. Much credit for the strong showing of the Tigers goes to the sturdy forward wall, which held its own with the Lubbock forwards throughout the battle.

Westerners Under Wraps
Playing for the most part under wraps, the Lubbock eleven showed positions that would indicate it will be a contender for the crown among the Class A schools of District One. Lubbock coaches last night were apparently satisfied with the Westerners' showing having decided at the last minute yesterday not to uncoil their strongest attack unless such was needed for the final check.

Despite the lack of scoring strength exhibited by the Lubbock crew, the game produced a number of defensive stars for the Gold and Black aggregation. In the Lubbock line, Big Greer Frizzell was the outstanding figure, crashing through the Slaton forwards to snare the Tiger backs repeatedly. Rich and Price, the Lubbock ends likewise made their presence felt through their defensive play.

In the Lubbock backfield, Watkins and Lawson turned in air-tight defensive games in their positions of backing up the line.

Leicester, England, has passed an ordinance that all passengers on motor coaches must be insured.

Longhorns Face Tough Battle In Opening Conference Game Today With Razorbacks At Fayetteville

By GATLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Oct. 11.—Two outstanding college football games are being played today at Fayetteville, Texas. The Texas Longhorns, 1928 conference champions, were batted tonight at Fayetteville, Texas, by the Arkansas University Razorbacks. The two big eleven, having waded through the preliminaries with ease, were expected to wage a tight battle. It will be homecoming day at Fayetteville.

Chicago, Tuesday—Chicago won the second game of the world series today. Kid Gleason pitched for the Cubs until the eighth inning when struck by a stray line-drive. Eddie Collins pitched for the Sox and proved easy for the Cub sluggers. The final score was 19 to 15.

PHILADELPHIA, Friday—Philadelphia authorities were investigating conditions at the county jail here after the Macks won today's ball game. It was denied at the jail that Al Capone had been allowed to attend the game, though several of the Chicago players say they recognized his marksmanship. Cochrane Simmons and several others were slain.

PHILADELPHIA, Saturday—After several of the umpires had been slain, Bill McGowan took up the job of arbitrating in the fourth game of the series. McGowan proved his bravery by calling a strike on Mule Haas and escaped with scalp lacerations and powder burns.

Mustangs Pushed To Defeat Austin College, 16 To 0

S. M. U. Eleven Opens Up In Final 10 Minutes Of Play To Down Spunky Club From Sherman

DALLAS, Oct. 11 (AP)—Fought to a standstill for three quarters, the Southern Methodist University Mustangs, pulled themselves together in the last 10 minutes of play here today to pound out a 16 to 0 victory over a spunky Austin College eleven.

Pictured to win by five or six touchdowns, the Ponies were hard pressed to win by any margin over the scrappy Kangaroos. A second Mustang team did not good at all during the first quarter, and it took the Methodists' strongest combination almost three periods to cross the visitors' goal line.

Less than 10 minutes of play remained when the conference eleven scored its first points. The Kangaroos held S. M. U. for downs on the one-foot line. Lillis, Austin College halfback, got off a long punt but in so doing stepped beyond the end zone. Automatically handing the Mustangs two points.

Within three more minutes the Ponies rushed over a touchdown starting from Austin's 38-yard line. Mason, Davidson and Kattman smashed straight down the field. Mason fumbled as he crossed the goal line and Hopper recovered for the score. Mason converted.

Mason paved the way for the second touchdown when he intercepted a Kangaroo pass and returned to Austin College's 25-yard mark. Bob Gilbert went in for Mason at that point, and on the second play heaved a long pass to Johnson across the goal line. Kattman kicked the extra point.

Austin College made its strongest bid in the second quarter, shortly after Coach Ray Morrison had inserted his first Mustang eleven. Starting on their own 30-yard line, the Kangaroos went to their opponents' two-yard marker before a fumble broke up the March. A long pass to Henderson carried the oval to the Mustang 38-yard line. The veteran Ira Hopper, inserted at this point, talked out of turn, and the resultant 15-yard penalty planted the sphere on the Ponies' 23-yard stripe. Henderson then broke loose and sprinted 21 yards across the end. He fumbled on the next play and Southern Methodist recovered. Mason booted a beautiful spiral that came down past the 50-yard line, and the danger was averted.

Antelopes Down Crosbyton, 25-0
(Special To The Avalanche)
CROSBYTON, Oct. 11.—Post Antelopes ran wild on the local gridiron today to defeat the Crosbyton Chiefs 25 to 0.

The victors started in the first quarter by scoring their first touchdown. Two more were registered in the third period and a final marker pushed across in the final stanza.

Floyd and P. Williams were outstanding in the Post forward wall, while for Crosbyton, R. Karr, Bigwood, Herley and Captain Smith were the most consistent.

Lamesa Defeats Levelland Team

(Special To The Avalanche)
LAMESA, Oct. 11.—Lamesa Golden Tornadoes continued their conquest of rival Class B teams of District Two here today by swamping the Levelland crew, 26 to 0.

The plucky Levelland gridders fought valiantly against stronger odds, but could not match the stronger offense of the Tornado machine. To Levelland goes the honor of penetrating Lamesa's 30-yard line for the first time this season.

LAS CRUCES WINS

Coach Corley's Crew Cops From Albuquerque
(Special To The Avalanche)
LAS CRUCES, N. M., Oct. 11.—Coach Vaughn Corley's Las Cruces High school eleven downed the Albuquerque Indians here today by the score of 12 to 0.

Albuquerque last year won the state championship.

The two Aggie elevens that tie up here. Both lost last week, the K-Aggies to Permian, a powerful Big Ten outfit, and the T-Aggies to Tulane on a muddy field at New Orleans. Both are strong, however, well capable of representing their respective sections. They last met here in 1912, with the Kansas team victorious.

Victory Puts New Life Into Ranks Of Chicago Cubs

Discovery That Macks Can Be Beaten Turns Bruins Into Playful Lot Of Ball Players

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs have suddenly discovered Connie Mack's Athletics can be beaten and the results of that discovery are indeed wonderful to behold.

Two days ago if a newspaperman was lucky enough to cajole his way into the sacred precincts of the National League champions dressing room the stillness that reigned there could almost be broken up into chunks and saved for silent tributes. But that was before the militant Cubs found out today that those slugging A's could be beaten by 3 to 1, or any other score.

Two straight world series defeats do things like that to a ball club. Cubs Playful

One swift, decisive victory turned the Bruin's dressing room from a place of angry silence into a playground where the burly Hack Wilson, a hero even in the early defeats and the two reprieved scape-goats Rogers Hornsby and Kiki Cuyler, crowded around their young pitching star, laughing, full of ginger and new-found hope.

That one win makes all the difference in the world. Joe McCarthy, the happy manager, shouted, "We'll get them now. It's our turn to talk about four straight."

"When do we get our meal money?" the Athletics shouted back. Giving every bit of credit possible to Bush's courage in the pitcher's box, his control and all round spectacular pitching performance despite the nine hits of the Athletics, McCarthy decided still that the difference between his team today and the club that lost the first pair of games in Chicago was a matter of Hornsby and Cuyler. Today they hit in the pinches, drove in runs, where before they struck out.

Hornsby was happy but not talkative. Cuyler was smiling and confident again.

Victors Cocky
Bush excused himself hurriedly after his mates wisecracked from all corners of the room at the Gilda Gray dance the Mississippi mudcat staged at home plate in the sixth inning to win a base on balls from George Earnshaw and start the rally that won the ball game.

Jack Taylor, the grizzled catcher, was full of talk and admiration all at once, however. "Bush just pitched his normal, easy game," he said, "and he was never in much trouble even though there were men on bases. He bore down when he had to and he sure had it when he needed it."

The Athletics, likewise, hoisting the bars to all newspapermen, were a vicious, angry team as they crowded down the runway to their dressing room after the final out.

"How do I feel about it?" snapped George Earnshaw, the husky hurler, "how would any one feel about it?"

Whereupon his language passed on into the unreportable.

Connie Mack, tall, gracious, the perfect sportsman, looked but a few moments after the struggle was over. He did not visit his warriors in the dressing room.

Hill Billies Are Here To Register First Triumph Over Matadors With Promise Of Ideal Football Weather

Bull Fighters Hope To Hit Stride In Engagement With T. I. A. A. Aggregation; Frosh Tilt Off

With promise of ideal football weather, the Texas Tech Matadors and Daniel Baker Hill Billies will clash on the college gridiron today in the third game of the season for the Bull Fighters.

The T. I. A. A. crew arrived in Lubbock Friday afternoon in time to take a brief limbering-up exercise on the Tech field. Coach Baker pronounced his squad in splendid playing condition and indications point to one of the hardest games of the home season.

Encouraged by their 13-12 victory over the Austin College Kangaroos, the Goats come here this year, determined to register their first win over the Matadors. During the four years of football competition between the two teams, the Billies have fought the Matadors two tie games and on the other two occasions, Tech has been the victor.

The showing of the Tech aggregation during the past week leaves the impression that the Higgins-bosham-Payne forces will hit their real stride today against the T. I. A. eleven. Tech coaches were uncertain last night as to the starting lineup in today's encounter but it is certain that a large number of squad members will get into the game.

A scheduled practice scrimmage between members of the Tech freshman squad before the Daniel Baker-Tech game today has been called off because of the condition of the playing field. A heavy down-pour last night has wet the turf considerably and the early game would put the field in poor condition for the day's main battle.

Today's game has been set to start at 3 o'clock. Gates will be opened at 2.

Associated Press Sports Editor. SHIBE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11. (P)—Just when it looked as though they intended to spend the rest of the series striking out, Rogers Hornsby and Kiki Cuyler suddenly recovered their batting eyes this afternoon and propelled the Chicago Cubs to their first victory in the 1929 World's series.

Hornsby and Cuyler were tied for the dubious distinction of striking out six times when they came to bat against George Earnshaw, big right hander of the A's in the sixth inning of the third game but in rapid succession they did enough damage to account for the entire margin by which the Cubs won, 3 to 1. Behind the crafty twirling of Guy Bush and put themselves back into the battle for the championship.

Cubs Are Outhit.
The Cubs were out-hit, nine to six and Bush was hard pressed most of the way but the batting Bruins packed enough punch in their one-inning rally to check the wild dash of Connie Mack's agile young men, break their strike-out streak for the time being and spoil the homecoming of the American league champion.

"At the same time, the Cubs bagged the National league's first series victory since Oct. 10, 1928, hereby ending a record losing streak that had extended through 10 games in three years.

The Athletics still lead by the commanding margin of 2 to 1, needing two more victories to clinch Mack's fourth world's championship. They are still big favorites, but it is at least a tight now. Instead of a rout. The series is certain to go through five more games, scheduled here tomorrow and Monday, but if Charley Root can square accounts for the Cubs tomorrow, with Lefty Grove in the box for the A's it will be anybody's battle once more.

Crowd Disappointing.
The home town reception for the historic conquering A's was marred by a paid attendance of only 29,521 spectators, the smallest in nine years of World's series play and astonishingly short of the expected figure of around 38,000 to 40,000. The big shortage was understood to be due to the refusal of the club gate tenders to accept passes that had gone through the hands of speculators and emerged without the regulation government tax stamping.

Even allowing for this situation, however, and the erection of big bleacher stands along a row of houses outside the park, not many more than 30,000 fans actually viewed the proceedings in which their favorites went down to defeat. Ticket speculators, in any event, apparently took a terrific trimming while the enterprising resident owners of the Houston bleachers failed to have anything like a full house of customers willing to pay for a long view.

Game Is Colorless.
The disappointingly small turnout, in the face of much optimism and enthusiastic prospects, witnessed a ball game that also fell considerably short of the best World's series standards, a pitchers' tussle for the most part between Bush and Earnshaw, starting his second straight game as Connie Mack again handed a job to the experts. It was a contest of unusual breaks, colorless and uninspiring for the most part to the experts as well as to the home crowd.

The Cubs won because they cashed in on their one big opportunity, where Kiki Cuyler, with two-out, two on base and the count two strikes and three balls, bounced the deciding hit over second base. It was a long time coming but Cuyler, for the day, at least, shared the winning laurels with Bush as he turned in his first World's series feat of consequence since he drove over the winning run for Philadelphia in the final game of the 1925 series against Walter Johnson.

Bush himself had started things rolling in the sixth, after the A's ganges against the Athletics. Bush Tight In Pinches.

The A's lost chiefly because they could not hit Guy Bush in the pinches. Ten runners, eight in the first four innings, were left on bases, as the American league champions failed to show any of their assurance of the previous two days at the plate. Jimmy Fox and Al Simmons, the two big guns, went hitless.

The last and best chance the A's had to break through was in the seventh when Bishop singled, went to second on a wild pitch and Cochrane walked, after a fly-out by Haas. Simmons tried hard but the best he could do was a long drive to deep center, a sacrifice fly that advanced the runners to second and third. Most any kind of a hit by Fox would have tied the score but the kid first baseman and home run hero of the first two games had nothing in his bat but a weak bouncer in front of the plate that Taylor gobbled up for the third putout.

Dykes Falls Bemer.
The A's threatening throughout the first four innings, got a bad break when Jimmy Dykes had stolen home, only to find out that the third strike had just been put over on George Earnshaw for the final out. Umpire Charles Moran had called Dykes safe as he took advantage of Bush's long windup, raced home and beat the throw with a great slide but the arbiter immediately reversed himself by calling the third strike as the Cubs rushed out en masse to protest.

This was the first time that the great strategy of the House of Mack had gone awry. Somewhere the signals must have been mixed for the count was 2 and 2 when Dykes started home and the fact that Bush's toss was a strike defeated the spectacular maneuver. As a matter of fact, it was probably the turning point of the game, for it blocked off a promising Mack rally, encouraged the Cubs and gave them only one run to overcome when they staged their rally in the sixth.

Bush Gets Break.
Bush, especially, seemed to regain confidence after this break in his favor. He found himself in the third with the bases full, due partly to English's fourth error of the series, but he got out of this hole when Miller flied out to Stephenson. There were two Macks on base in the fourth and in the fifth, they finally scored on Cochrane's single. Fox's infield out and Miller's single to center. But after that Bush was in complete command. All the tall right hander needed was a lead and when he got it, he bore down, holding the Athletics to one hit in the last four innings, a single by Dykes in the seventh.

Cuyler earned what few fielding honors there were for the day by a great running stop and quick throw to second base that held Mule Haas to a single on his sharp drive in the third inning, as the bases subsequently were filled, this play was important in keeping the Macks from scoring.

The gate receipts for the third game were as disappointing as the attendance. The paid admissions of slightly less than 30,000 were about 20,000 below the count for either game at Wrigley Field and the receipts of $140,915 fell more than $75,000 short of either day's figure at Chicago.

Claim Churches "Intolerable"

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 11. (AP)—Too many churches make a neighborhood an "intolerable place in which to live," according to a petition filed with city clerk Fred Fries Tuesday by residents of Iowa and Driess streets. The city was requested to prevent the construction of another church in the neighborhood, claiming that four are sufficient.

The petition sets forth there are two churches on the block in which the petitioners reside and two more less than two blocks away. It is proposed to construct a third on the block in which the petitioners reside and the city is requested to deny a building permit.

"If a third church is built in the block the noise and the overflow crowd would make it an undesirable place in which to live."

"You don't know what love is," Brent retorted, a touch of his real self showing through the role he had assumed for the occasion.

Helen's startled glance sought his face for an answer to his unexpected warmth.

"Some raw kid has attracted you," Brent went on letting his feelings ride him a bit, "and you think you're in love."

Helen's anger flared up in return. "It's better than thinking I'm in love with a man like you," she cried hotly.

Brent recovered himself and smiled. That smile cut through Helen's new-found sense of freedom like a knife, destroying it almost instantly. She knew that behind it lay his determination to hold her to her promise at any cost.

Acceptance Sent British Capital

America Agrees To Attend Naval Limitations Meet To Be Held In January At London

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The American acceptance of Great Britain's invitation to the naval limitations conference in London next January was sent to the British capital this morning almost at the moment of the departure of Prime Minister MacDonald from Washington.

It was the first acceptance in response to the invitation of October 7 asking the powers to participate in the proposed conference. With the formality disposed of, American officials were awaiting word from Tokyo, Paris and Rome regarding the attitude of those governments toward the British invitation.

Dispatches Watched Press dispatches from Japan, France and Italy concerning the attention which is being given by the officials of those countries to the invitation were being keenly watched. President Hoover, in his information talks with MacDonald during the week assured the Premier full cooperation could be expected from the United States in the limitation movement.

The attempt to secure either a reduction of limitation of sea armaments in categories other than those included in the Washington armament treaty of 1921 was initiated by President Hoover soon after coming into office through Ambassador Davies in London negotiations looking toward an agreement between the United States and Great Britain on the points of difference which stood in the way of a successful conference of the three powers, the United States, Great Britain and Japan, were begun immediately after the Ambassador's arrival in London.

Discussions Climax These discussions between the Ambassador and MacDonald had as their climax the invitation to the powers after Anglo-American naval parity had been agreed upon. Another result of these discussions was the visit of the United States of the Premier, who left today for England by way of New York and Canada.

The American response to the British invitation was unusual, brief, consisting of a single sentence: "I have the honor to refer" the acceptance said. "To the note which you were good enough to address to the Ambassador on October 7, and I take great pleasure in informing you that the American government has agreed to accept the invitation of His Majesty's government to a conference on naval armaments to take place in London the latter part of January which will unite the powers signatory to the Washington treaty in a discussion which will settle the problems raised under Alabama Tells How She Heeds Warning Sign By Taking Pinch of Black-Draught.

Mobile, Ala.—Mrs. Alafair Howard, of 8 Harris Street, this city, tells below what she thinks about Theodore's Black-Draught: "I have found Black-Draught to be an excellent medicine. I have used it in my home, whenever I have needed a laxative. "I am the mother of several children, and it is necessary to keep a medicine in the house which can be depended upon to quickly relieve constipation. Whenever my children complain of headache, or upset stomach, or if they show signs of taking cold, I begin giving them Black-Draught, as I have found that it clears the system and removes the cause of the trouble. "When I got up in the morning, and my tongue is coated and rough, I know it is a sign of trouble. A pinch of Black-Draught, three times a day, is all I need to regulate this. "I have found it so handy to keep, and easy to take, that it has come to be our family stand-by. I am glad to recommend Black-Draught to other people, for it has been a great help to me." for you! This Excellent Building Has Been Constructed At A Large Cost

A good department store, like any other good thing, cannot be built in a day. For five months experts, men whose sole job it is to plan the construction and decoration of retail department stores, have been working out the plans for Lubbock's new store. Carter-Houston.

During the whole time two things have been kept constantly in mind; to make our store pleasing to your eye, and to make it convenient for your use.

The windows have been torn out and redecorated in a modified Spanish style. The balcony has been torn away and a lovely Mezzanine put in with stairways leading to it from either side. The offices, beauty salon, and a book shop will occupy the space on the Mezzanine floor.

As you enter the front door the uncrowded arrangement gives the effect of a large lobby. Handsome dark walnut fixtures are being installed throughout the store. Polished hardwood floors will be used all over the house except in the Ready-to-Wear department which will be covered with a thick gray and blue carpet.

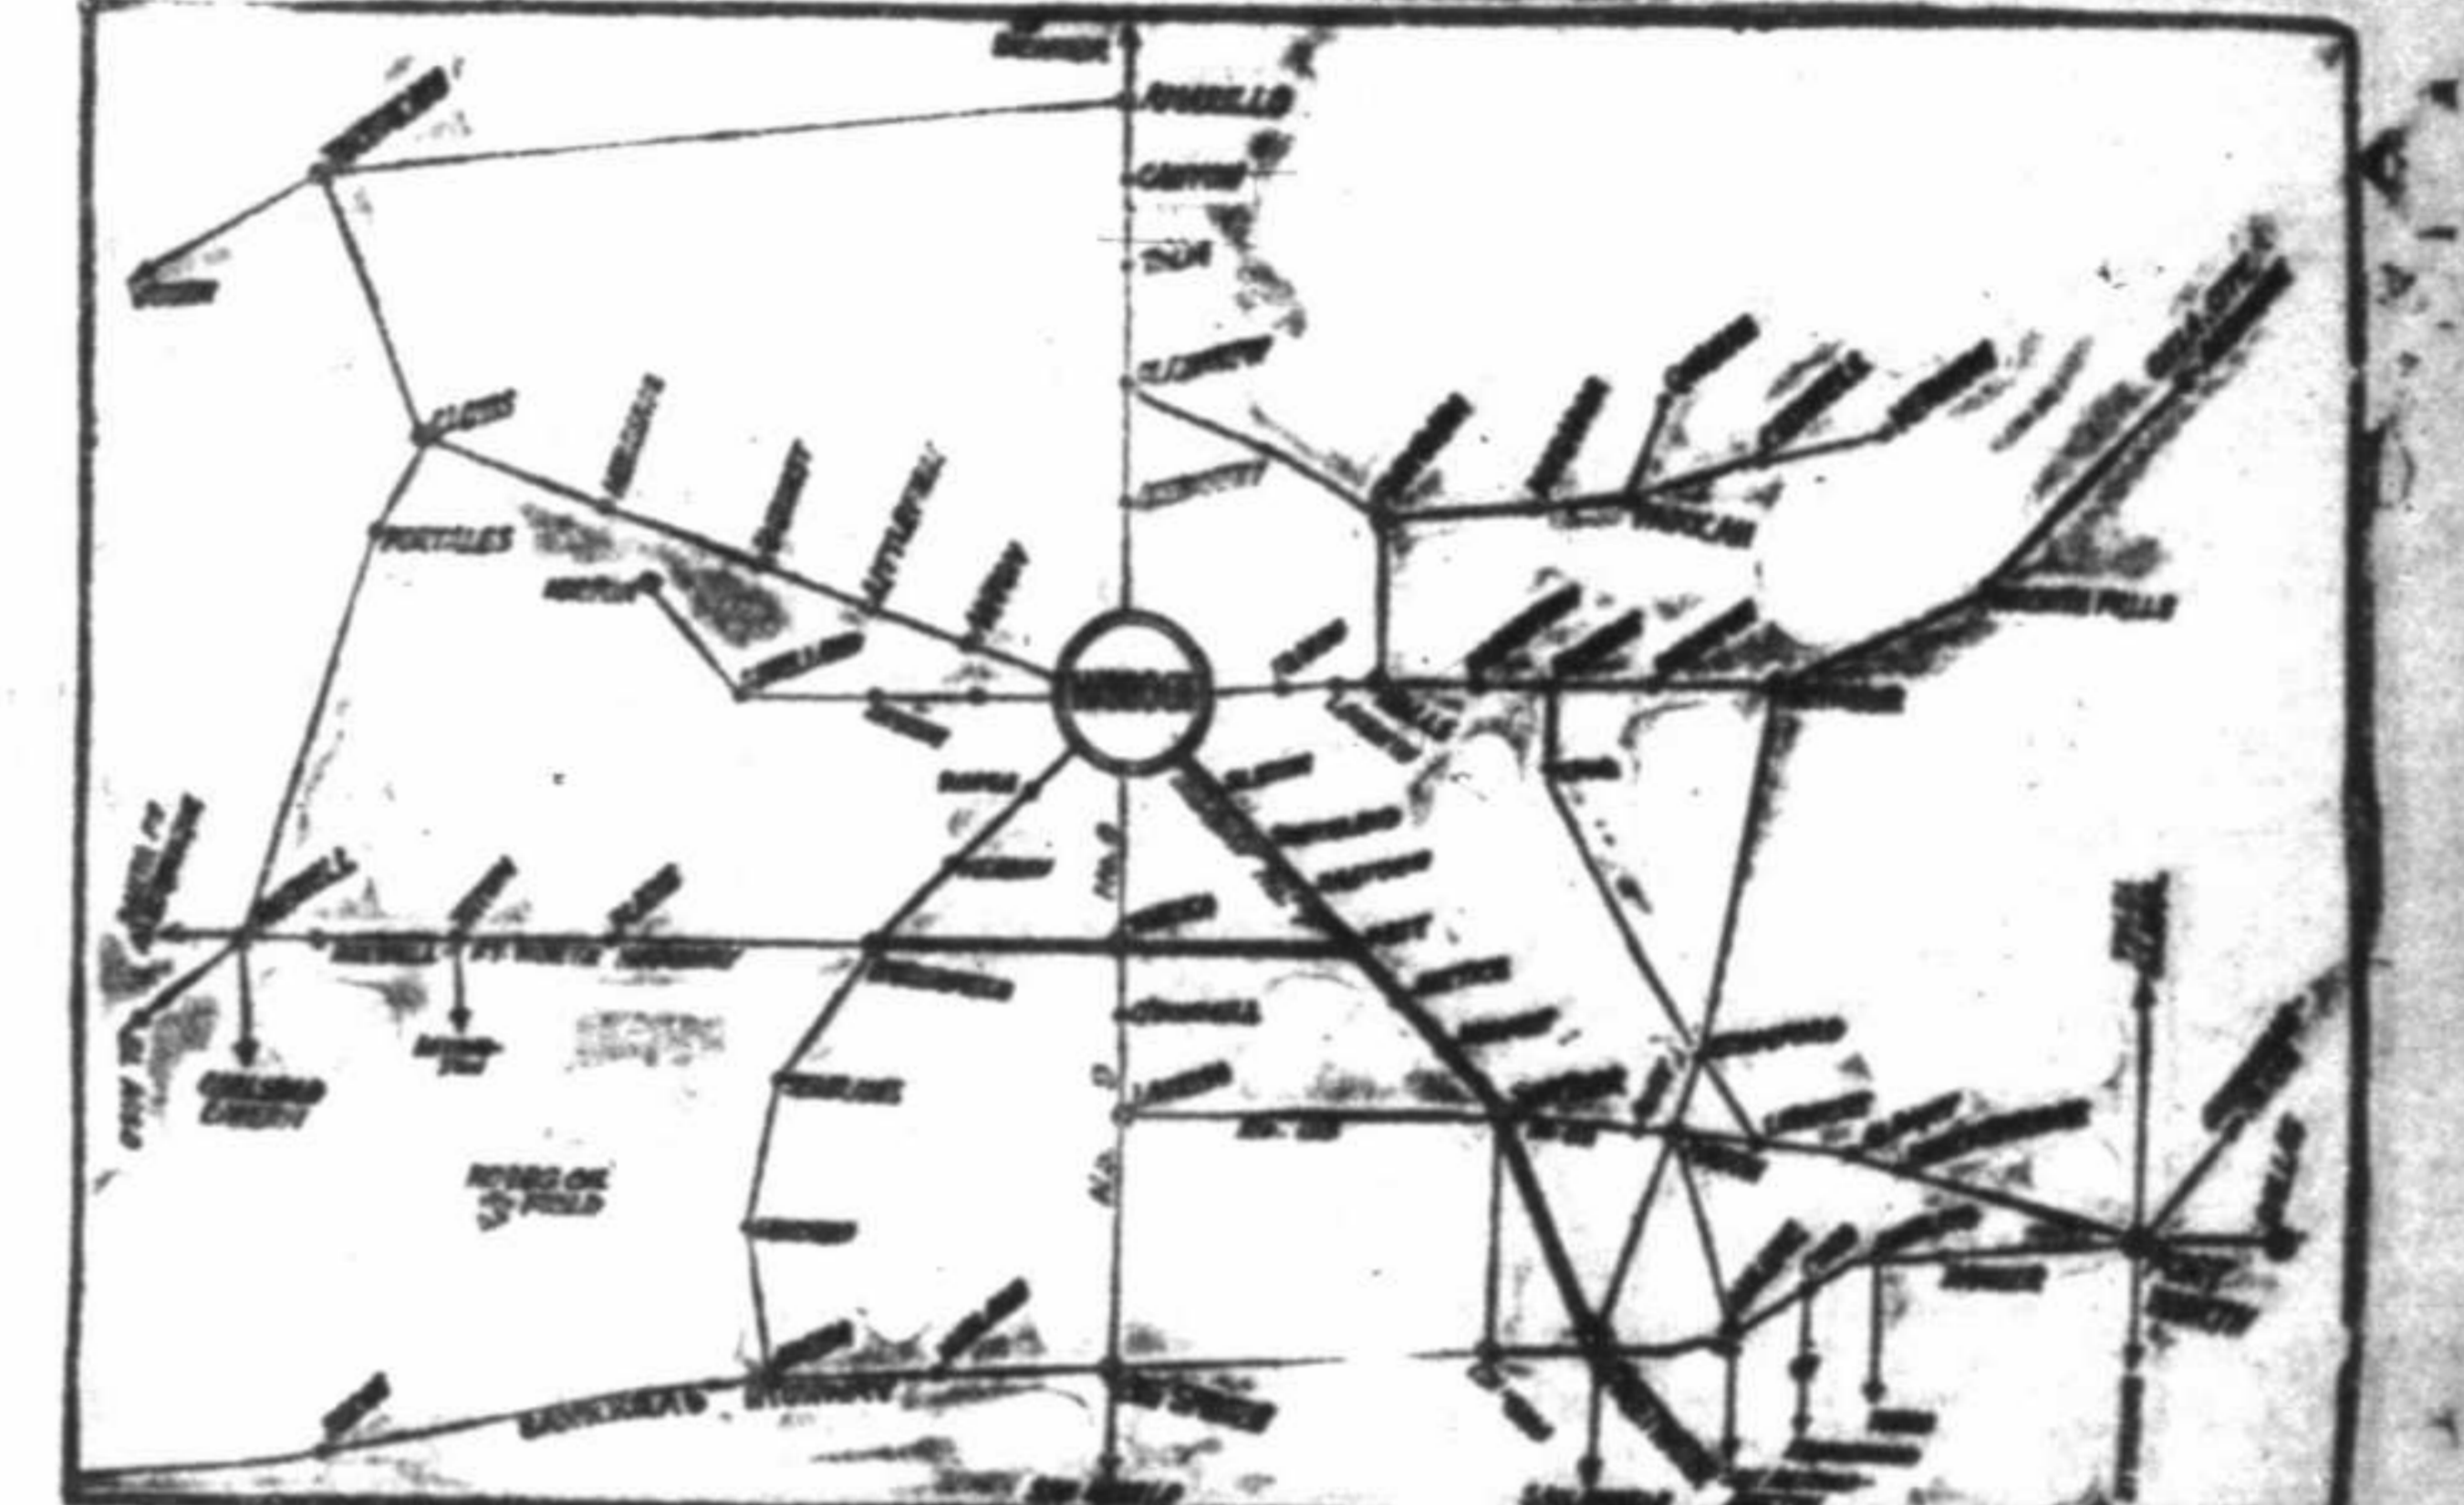

Mirrors will be used unsparingly; bountiful fitting room space has been planned for. The Ladies' Ready-to-Wear department is so sequestered that it almost appears to be on a floor by itself.

Every shelf, every table, drawer, counter or cabinet has been installed with you in mind. They are for your use and your pleasure. And every counter and shelf will be full of fresh, new merchandise for your inspection and approval on our opening night.

Business In Mart Session In Nature Of Evening Up And Hedge Selling After Opening Advances

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 11. (AP)—With the impending holiday tomorrow holding trading in check, business in today's cotton market was mainly in the nature of evening up and some hedge selling.

January contracts after trading up to 18.65 dropped to 18.57, then rallied to 18.58 by the final slump traded off to 18.45 and closed at the latter figure for a net loss of 19 points.

Market rallies At the beginning of the final hour there was some short covering and the market rallied 6 points but the bearish character of British Board of Trade statistics for September influenced enough selling to carry all active positions to new levels for the day.

Cotton Lower Under Southern Selling NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)—Cotton was lower today under Southern selling and a renewal of liquidation which appeared to be promoted by the proximity of the holiday, reports of favorable weather for picking and ginning in the South, and the west-end statistics showing a continued net movement of cotton into sight.

Stock Market Is Churned Without Getting Anywhere

Reduction In Brokerage Loans Is Gratifying To Bull Forces And Number Of Issues Are Bid Up

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER, Associated Press Financial Writer NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)—The stock market churned about without getting anywhere today. Bulls found the reduction in brokers' loans gratifying, if smaller than expected, and rapidly bid up a number of volatile issues, but met with heavy liquidation. Closing prices were irregular, with gains and losses evenly balanced.

As the market will be closed in observance of Columbus Day tomorrow, the week-end liquidation was heavy, and was swelled by disappointment in many quarters over the reduction of but $91,000,000 in loans, announced last night, and several brokerage houses advanced to lighten commitments on rallies. Trading was but moderately active, 3,863,820 shares changing hands.

Money Easy Money continued easy. Call loans once more renewed at six per cent, as compared to 8 1-2 yesterday.

Her condition is not thought to be critical, it was announced at a local sanitarium yesterday.

ALLEGIANCE SOUGHT Agreement with 60,000 Coal Miners Is Object

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 11. (AP)—Alliance of 60,000 Illinois coal miners was the stake for which two opposing miners' chiefs strove in Illinois tonight.

One was the regularly elected president of the Illinois mine workers, Harry Fishwick of Springfield, and the other Frank Hefferly, of Collinsville, Ill., named as provisional president by International officers at Indianapolis, who today ordered the elected officers displaced.

SUIT WITHDRAWN CHICAGO, Oct. 11. (AP)—Professor David Gaville Muzzey, Columbia University history instructor, withdrew his $100,000 libel suit against former Congressman John J. Gorman today upon the introduction in United States district court in Gorman's apology for his charges that Muzzey's textbooks are "pro-British."

New Rail Line (Continued From Page 1) Av and Santa Fe to build from a point five miles from the northeast corner of Dallas on the Texas-Oklahoma line to a point on the Oklahoma-Colorado line about 27 miles west of the northeast corner of Cimarron county, Okla.

Followed By Another This would be followed by another application, according to the newspaper, by the Dodge and Cimarron Valley Railway company to build a line from the point last mentioned in the application of the Elkhart and Santa Fe Railroad company to its own main line at Las Animas, Colo., just east of the Lejuna. This line would pick up a spur of the Santa Fe out of Dodge City, Kan., at Pritchett, Colo.

This extension, the newspaper said, would give the Santa Fe a commanding position in a great territory from north to south that at present has but east and west lines.

The Panhandle and Santa Fe application, the Standard said, will include a petition for a line from Dallas to Spearman and the Elkhart and Santa Fe application for a line from Ft. Tarrant to Colmar, New Mexico.

All of the companies are owned by the Aitchison, Topeka and Santa Fe.

PURCHASE RAILWAY El Paso and New York Men Buy Orient In Mexico

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 11. (AP)—Charles M. Newman of El Paso and Benjamin F. Johnson of New York, and Los Michis, state of Sinaloa, Mexico, today were in charge of the Orient lines in Mexico, having closed a deal with the Aitchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad for the property which the Santa Fe acquired when it purchased the capital stock of the Kansas City Mexico and Orient railway company. The consideration was not made public.

The Santa Fe organized a company known as the Ferro Carril Kansas City, Mexico L. Orient which acquired all the Mexico property of the Orient as a foreclosure sale in Mexico last month. All of the capital stock of that company was sold to Johnson and Newman, and in Chicago yesterday the deal was finally closed and the stock delivered by Newman.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

OCT. 13, 1929. General Topic: Keeping Fit for the Sake of Others (Temperance Lesson).

Scripture Lesson: Dan. 1:8-20.

8. But Daniel proposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's dainties, nor with the wine which he drank; neither would he eat the flesh of the king's dainties...

9. Now God made Daniel to find kindness and compassion in the sight of the prince of the eunuchs.

10. And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my Lord the king who hath appointed your food and your drink; for why should he see your faces worse looking than the youths that are of your own age? so would ye endanger my head with the king.

11. Then said Daniel to the steward whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Michael, and Azariah:

12. Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days; and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink.

13. Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the youths that eat of the king's dainties; and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.

14. So he hearkened unto them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

15. And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer, and they were fatter in flesh, than all the youths that did eat of the king's dainties.

16. So the steward took away their dainties, and the wine that they should drink and gave them pulse.

17. Now as for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams.

18. And at the end of the days which the king had appointed for bringing them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

19. And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Michael, and Azariah; therefore stood they before the king.

20. And in every matter of wisdom and understanding, concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters that were in all his realm.

Golden Text: Know ye not that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit which is in you, which ye have from God? and ye are not your own, for ye were bought with a price: glorify God therefore in your body.—1 Cor. 6:19, 20.

Place, Babylon.

In our modern, complex, practical age, the question of efficiency has come to the foreground with rapid and irresistible strides.

And discovers which offer their rewards to those only who are efficient to the highest degree.

To achieve success in any line now, men and women must keep themselves fit in every respect.

Bodily fitness is one requisite. To live the simple life is tremendously necessary just now.

No one can be ready for the difficult and strenuous tasks of our day who dissipates his time or energies even slightly, who impairs his nervous force by late hours and blunts his sensibilities by even the moderate use of intoxicants.

But moral fitness is even more needful. This will provide what is necessary to physical efficiency.

Nothing can take the place of moral character in the world of business or achievement. Dependability, self-reliance and courage are all conditioned on it.

He who is untrue to God will certainly fail both himself and others in a crisis. Keep fit, not primarily for one's own sake, but for the sake of others.

The Four Hebrew Youths, Dan. 1:8-20.

Our first extract from Holy Writ is the story of the temperance triumph of Daniel and his three friends. These four youths, probably from fourteen to sixteen years old, were taken captive in Judah by Nebuchadnezzar in the third year of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and carried off to Babylon to serve as hostages for that monarch.

They were young noblemen, handsome in appearance, with no physical blemishes, sprightly in bearing, and they were at once selected to be trained for service in the palace of Nebuchadnezzar, and for attendance on his royal person.

But first they must spend three years under tutors, learning the Chaldean language, and being instructed in their prospective duties at the court.

For these three years the four Hebrew youths were placed in charge of Ashpenaz, the chief of the palace attendants and Nebuchadnezzar gave orders, as a special favor, that they should receive daily from the royal table a supply of the choice food and the wine which he himself consumed.

"Daniel Purposed in His Heart," v. 8.

"But Daniel purposed in his heart." This young hero built his success on his steady purpose, which showed itself at the very outset of his career.

Indecision is fatal to any substantial progress. Especially is decision necessary if one is to gain the sturdy strength which flows from temperance, for that is built on will-power, on firm resistance to temptation.

"Men must be decided on what they will not do," said Mencius, the Chinese sage, "and then they are able to act with vigor in what they ought to do."

"There is nothing more to be esteemed than a manly firmness and decision of character."—William Hazlitt.

Hananiah, Michael and Azariah, v. 11.

"Then said Daniel to the steward whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Michael and Azariah."

These were Daniel's three friends. All four of these names are compounded with the Hebrew names for God—"El" and "Jah" and as one step in weaning them from their homeland, they had received Chaldean names of heathen character.

The steward was some subordinate officer whom Ashpenaz had appointed to be directly in charge of the four youths.

Prohibition Progress, Step by Step "Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days; and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink."

Daniel's "purpose" which had carried him thus far was of much too stout a fibre to weaken before a single mild refusal. It has been thus from the beginning, with the temperance reformer.

If the temperance workers could not get prohibition, they took what they could get. First they sought Sunday closing, the forbidding of liquor to minors, the doing away with saloons, the shutting of saloons on election days, and especially temperance education in the public schools.

Then they sought local option, then county option, then state prohibition, then prevention of liquor importation into prohibition territory, and finally the grand climax of national prohibition.

"Try it out," has been the temperance reformers' motto. The people have tried it out, on an ever-extended scale; and the trial has always, when fairly made, proved successful.

Temperance Strengthens Body And Mind.

"Among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Michael and Azariah." These four Hebrew youths were not alone in the examination. They had many competitors, young fellows who had been reared with them in the royal palace and by the king's officers; but they had not had the moral stamina of the Hebrew lads, they had not lived abstemious lives, and when the testing time came they fell behind. So it is always with the tipplers in the race of life.

Edwin F. Bowers, M. D., closes a vigorous chapter on the relation between alcohol and "efficiency and deficiency" with these words: "It requires 15 men, indulging in one glass of beer daily, to do the work which properly should be done by 14 abstainers. Employers are realizing that a drinking man cannot stand extremes of temperature as well as he cannot bear or see or smell as well, that he cannot lift as much or lift it as often, that he cannot walk as far, dig as much, or carry as enduringly, as though he were abstinent. And with what Herbert Spencer would 'astrutistic' business is determined that for the mutual interest of workman and employer drinking shall cease."

The Christian Life a Race.

"Now the Christian life, Paul says, is a race, and a hard race, too. If discipline and constant self-restraint are necessary to enable the athlete to win his race, discipline and rigorous self-restraint are necessary to enable a man to run successfully the Christian race."

"It is only by continually putting down temptation—keeping under it under, and bringing it into subjection, like St. Paul—that we can make sure it shall not prove our ruin."

"If ye start up the Christian
