Home-Making Cottage Opened

Tahoka High School Home-Making Department moved early this week into the new, brick "Cottage"—recognized as being one of the most modern and revolutionary buildings of its type in all Texas.

Plans of the structure were drawn by Arnold Maeker of Lubbock, and Everett Nevill of Tahoka was the builder.

Fully equipped, the building has cost about $37,000.00, or approximately $3,000 under the lowest bidder's estimate.

Located southeast of High School at the corner of North

Second and Miller streets, the building faces northwest. It covers 2,900 feet of floor space, is constructed of rose chip brick, has turquoise and aluminum trim, and resembles a private residence in appearance. Construction was begun about September 1.

The building includes an entrance foyer, combination living and dining room, foods laboratory, pantries, clothing laboratory and storage space, a model bedroom, bath, rest rooms, and central heating and cooling.

Living room of the rambling brick structure features modern blonde sectional furniture and end and coffee tables, with wrought iron dining chairs. Rose chip brick planter boxes add to the effectiveness of the scheme.

The foods laboratory has six kitchen units with three gas and three electric stoves. One kitchen unit is a demonstration unit with island surface unit and a near-by wall oven.

The sewing laboratory has blonde drop-leaf cutting tables and 96 tote drawers for individual students. There are seven new sewing machines.

The bedroom is also furnished in modern blonde furniture. The bedroom and living rooms are carpeted, and the rest of the building has in-laid tile floor coverings.

Mrs. Fred B. (Madeline) Hegl, teacher, says the draw draperies to cover the aluminum trim windows will be made by the girls of the department as a project.

An "open house" will probably be held early in April in the new building.

New Home Starts Church Drive

New Home Baptist Church will observe its 46th anniversary this Sunday by launching a fund campaign for the erection some time in the future of a new, modern church structure.

This decision was reached in regular conference of the church on Feb. 3, and members of the Board of Deacons states: "We recognize the fact that 1953 has been a poor year financially for many of our people, but we also feel that a special blessing has been handed out to many of us."

No high-powered, high pressure campaign is planned at this time, but it is hoped a worthy start on a building fund can be made, a member of the Board states.

New Home Church was organized Feb. 16, 1908, with 21 charter members. For many years, the church struggled like many other rural churches, but in recent years it has enjoyed new life, a great increase in members, and has done a great work in its community in addition to sponsoring the establishment of a Mission in Lubbock.

Deacons of the church are J. B. Edwards, Will Harris, J. H. Smith, H. D. Dean, Loyd R. McCormick, and J. H. Newman.

Rev. R. L. Clements is the pastor, having succeeded Rev. Ben Hargrave, who moved on to the Lubbock Mission about three or four months ago.

New Home Brotherhood was to entertain their ladies with a "Sweetheart" banquet at the church Thursday night of this week.

Boy Scout Week Is Observed In Tahoka

Thomas S. Reed, 59, long-time Lynn county citizen, who died at Brownfield Monday of last week. He was a member of the Brownfield police force at the time of his death from a "stroke."

Tahoka Boy Scouts, Troop 21, are observing National Boy Scout week with a full program of activities.

Tuesday, the Scouts were in charge of the City of Tahoka for a day, and patrolled the streets to collect "fines" to raise proceeds for Scout activities and to call to the attention of citizens traffic violations. The day's work netted them $192.00 in "fines."

Officers for the day, elected at Monday night's Scout meeting, were: Guy Witt, Judge; Denver Ford, chief of police; Karl Prohl, deputy; Cecil Hammonds, Prosecuting attorney, and John Redwine, court reporter.

Following the day's activities, the Scouts were guests of the Rose Theatre for a show.

The week's program opened last Saturday, when they had inspection at the WOW Hall and went to the show.

Sunday morning, they attended worship services at the First Baptist Church, and that evening they attended the Church of Christ.

Monday night's regular meeting was attended by 38 Boy Scouts, Scoutmaster A. V. Barnes, and Cecil Hammonds Sr.

Officers for the new year were elected, as follows: Karl Prohl, quartermaster; Denver Ford, scribe; John Earl Sanders, librarian; Cecil Hammonds, bugler; John Redwine, reporter.

Guy Witt was appointed Junior Assistant Scoutmaster, and N. E. Wood Jr. was named Senior Patrol Leader.

Wednesday night, the boys attended the First Methodist Church.

Thursday night, they went skating.

Tonight, Friday, is play night, to which all fathers are also invited. Games and contests will be featured.

Wednesday, Feb. 17, the Scouts will go swimming at the Boys Club in Lubbock in their year around heated indoor pool.

"The Scouts would like to thank the people for their co-operation and support for the past year and hope we may prove worthy of your support and cooperation the coming year," John Redwine writes.

R. Bosworth, 80, retired Lynn County farmer who has been living in Corpus Christi about 12 years, died at his home there Monday afternoon.

Funeral services were held there on Wednesday, and the body was brought here for services Thursday at 2:30 p. m. in Stanley-Jones Funeral Chapel.

Burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery.

Mr. Bosworth farmed west of Central Church for many years before retiring. He was born December 12, 1873. Mrs. Bosworth died here about 1930.

Survivors include three sons, R. L. of Alice, Clifford of Corpus Christi, and Otis of Harrison, Ark.; and five daughters, Mrs. O. E. (Mildred) Eubank of Tahoka, Mrs. Douglas (Earlene) Jones of Ropesville, Mrs. Katie B. Hawthorne of Missouri, Mrs. Gladys Moore of Harrison, Ark., and Mrs. Lewis Wood of Portland, Oregon.

On this day, Mr. Sloan will be at Room 7 on the second floor of the First National Bank building.

Tahoka Basketball Teams Will End Season With Floydada Tuesday

Tahoka Bulldogs will close their 1953 basketball season next Tuesday night with the Floydada boys and girls playing here, the girls game to start at 7:00 p. m. and the boys game to follow.

Tonight, both boys and girls are at Spur for conference affairs, and Saturday night the boys A and B teams play non-conference games at Seagraves.

Tahoka boys were eliminated from a chance at first place in District 5-AA Tuesday night on a 50 to 44 victory by Abernathy. The girls also lost 38 to 23, and the B team boys lost 40 to 39.

Lost To Abernathy

In the A team boys game, Abernathy took a quick 17 to 9 first quarter lead, and the Bulldogs could never recover. The visitors led 28 to 21 at the half, and 41 to 35 at end of the third. Actually the game was lost at the free throw line, Abernathy making 20 points on free shots to Tahoka's 12.

Tahoka girls played the Abernathy girls a close game for three quarters, the score being Abernathy 10-8 in the first, 20-13 at the half, and 18-23 at the third.

Officiating in these two games was not the best, to put it mildly. Tahoka drew 21 fouls to Abernathy's 16 in the boys' game, while in the girls game the rough visitors drew only 16 to Tahoka girls' 24.

Private Financing Proposed For Dam

Clint Walker, representative of the City of Tahoka on the Canadian River Municipal Water board, attended a meeting of the organization in Plainview Monday.

Purpose of the meeting was to discuss means of financing the proposed Canadian River dam and water distribution system to 11 Plains cities.

Many nationally-known investment banks and bond houses have expressed interest in private financing of revenue bonds for the project. As a result of the interest shown, engineers were instructed to prepare proposals for the board's next meeting on March 8 on the amount of time and the probable cost of a feasibility report which can be submitted to the bankers for proposed financing.

Pioneer Citizen Dies In Kentucky

Mrs. C. M. Whipp of Lubbock, a pioneer citizen of Tahoka, died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. S. M. Waugh, in Crestwood, Kentucky, Wednesday afternoon, according to a message received by Mrs. G. R. Milliken, an old time friend and neighbor. Burial was set for Friday afternoon in the Kentucky town.

The late Mr. Whipp operated the Lynn County Abstract Co. in Tahoka 35 or 40 years ago, moving from here to Lubbock.

City Winner In Fire Truck Case

City of Tahoka was awarded damages of $4,400.00 by a jury in District Court here Tuesday on its No. 1 fire truck, which was almost wrecked in the explosion of a Keystone-Fleming Transport Co. butane truck last April 26 six miles west of town.

The suit was against the butane firm and its insurance company. Calloway Huffaker and Harold Green represented the plaintiffs, and Charles Cobb and Ernest Griffin the defendants.

Wednesday and Thursday another damage suit was being held in the court, Mrs. W. M. Harris vs. Olin Stewart Grocery Co. et al. Mrs. Harris was seeking $13,000 damages for injuries received in a car-truck accident, five miles south of Tahoka Nov. 7, 1952. John Salah and Truett Smith represented the plaintiff Jim Milam and Mitchell Williams—the defendants.

J. H. King, an old time resident of the Dixie community, has been visiting with the J. O. Kings at Wilson and with old friends in Tahoka. He now lives six miles west of Dora, which in near Portales, N. M. His son and wife brought him down for the visit.

Fire Damages Local Building

The Knight building, now owned by Mrs. M. M. Boyd, and occupied by the McKinnon's Tahoka Laundry and L. H. Bain's Army Store, was badly damaged by fire which started at about 8:30 p. m. Tuesday. In fact, the east portion, occupied by the laundry, was almost gutted.

Efficient work by the Tahoka Fire Department saved the building and contents from complete destruction. The building was partially covered by insurance, but there was no insurance on the laundry.

L. H. Bain received only water and smoke damage to his stock, much of which was moved out during the fire, but Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McKinnon's laundry equipment was badly damaged, some of which can be rehabilitated.

Mrs. Boyd said the building would probably be rebuilt, and Mrs. McKinnon said the laundry will be reopened as soon as possible.

Almost 7,500 varieties of apples are grown in the U. S.

Heck Reports City Finances In Fair Shape

Interesting facts and figures on the City of Tahoka's operations and finances were given by City Councilman Herman Heck at Tahoka Rotary Club last week.

The first part of his talk dealt with two major projects of the past year, the new city hall and new city park and swimming pool. The latter part dealt with the City's financial condition as of February 1, 1954.

The 11-acre park site in south West Tahoka was bought last spring for $1,713.00 he said in addition to the swimming pool, improvements already made include about five acres of Bermuda grass on the east half of the park site. Already, 43 shade trees have been planted, and just recently 407 poplar trees have been planted around the fringe of the 5-acre tract now being developed. The City bought aluminum sprinkler pipe with which to water the area.

City employees hope to build some picnic units and garbage disposal pits this spring, and Tahoka civic clubs are being asked to take over some park improvement projects in order to make this a playground for people of Tahoka and Lynn county.

The area has been lighted by six mercury vapor lights, installed by Southwestern Public Service company.

Pool Shows Profit

Rotarians were happy to learn that the swimming pool showed a profit to the City of $1,838.00 during its two and a half months operation last summer. Tahoka coaches who operated the pool, paid all expenses and salaries except for chemicals, lights, etc., which cost the City about $75.00 per month.

The swimming pool, wading pool, bath house, filtering plant, and cyclone fencing around the area cost the City a total of $40,000, of which $25,000 came from the $85,000 bond issue and the remaining $15,000 came from other City funds.

The main pool is 32 feet long, 55 feet wide at the shallow end, and 35 feet wide at the deep end, and ranges from three to 10 feet in depth.

City Hall Cost $58,000

The new, modern City Hall has 5,200 feet of floor space, and includes a foyer, general office, vaults, water superintendent's office, Council meeting room, City police office and space for jail equipment to be installed some time in the future, fire truck and equipment storage space, fireman's meeting and recreation room, and living quarters for a resident fireman, rest rooms and closets and central heating and cooling equipment. Furnishings and some landscaping are included in the total cost of $58,000.

Space is being provided along the south and west sides of the City Hall for off-street parking. Caliche has been applied to this area, curbs and gutters will be poured, and in the Spring a hot top of asphalt will be applied.

The old City Hall, 40 by 50 feet in size and containing four large rooms and a bath, has

Odds and Ends

(BY E. L. THE ELDER)

Senorita Aurora picks up her pen again and begins to write down some more of the things that a traveler might see in the mountain country west of Veracruz—still in the vicinity of Fortin de las Flores, Cordoba, Amatlán, and El Potrero, names that it will be difficult for our readers to remember but unforgettable on the part of those who have seen these places. Aurora begins at once:

Below Orizaba, the Valley winds about as rivers from the north, the south, and the west rush fiercely at each other, and then, united, dash off turbulently toward the Gulf.

Both rail and automobile roads leave the Rio Blanco Valley, and, after crossing the hills into the Cotaxtle River canyon, pass the lush, beautiful Fortin de las Flores on their way to historic Cordoba, shipping center for some of the finest and highest-priced grades of coffee grown anywhere.

Like Orizaba, Cordoba is steeped in the colonial tradition, with wide, shady portals, on which one may sit on the few warm days and sip cooling drinks of papaya, chichapote, tamarindo, Jamaica, and many another tropical flavor. Melodious old churches, largely absent from the newer centers, are here, too, for those who love to pause for a moment of solitude in the midst of high adventure. In Orizaba, Fortin de las Flores, and Cordoba, the traveler finds excellent hotels where English and French are spoken in addition to the Castellano of the land.

Throughout Mexico, as one approaches the seacoast, he is likely to note an ever-increasing epicureanism. This region is no exception, for here, even in the most modest home, a good deal of artistry characterizes the cookery. When this art is combined with a pleasant ambient and gracious unhurried service, as it is in the better hostelerías of the region, the result is wholly agreeable, and many a traveler who expected to spend a day here has remained for a month or more.

In addition to the great natural beauty, the almost flawless climate, and the good food, there are still other attractions. Dozens of delightful trails entice one to stroll through orchards and jungles in search of orchids and many other rare flowers. The more strenuous walker will find enough fascinating hikes to keep him happy a month of Sundays, including, if he is that ambitious, the one up the lofty Pico de Orizaba, one of the highest mountains on the continent south of Canada. Those with cars will find numberless places just off the road. Good wishes for you.

Your sister in our Lord—Aurora Gutierrez.

Senorita Aurora is a very de out Christian, but her well-written articles sound very much like those of an experienced immigration agent, seeking to draw heavily upon the United States for newcomers. Well, Mexico is a land of enchantment and opportunity, with multitudes of the politest and most accommodating people on earth, especially among the better classes of people. At least that is the impression I gained after spending ten weeks in Mexico City two years ago.

But in spite of the existence of ancient pyramids, buried mounds under lava beds, picture writing on numerous ruins that can not be fully deciphered now, innumerable evidences that the country of Mexico has been inhabited by a primitive people for unknown ages; and in spite of the pyramids, some 75 of them still standing in Egypt and other ancient ruins at Ur of the Chaldees and at many other places in ancient Babylonia, Assyria, India, China, Japan, and thousands of islands in the Atlantic and the Pacific, there are those, I am sure who still believe that this little world of ours was created not more than six thousand years ago, simply because Archbishop Ussher figured it out that way in 1650 A. D., just a little more than 300 years ago, and Bible publishers there after began publishing these figures on the margins of their Bibles and some of them have kept it up until this day.

I made the statement last week that these figures were not a part of the Bible and were not intended to be, and that I had a Bible dictionary in my bookshelves that would back up that statement. Now, for the benefit of any doubting Thomases, I am going to quote from an Appendix following, the main body of this dictionary dealing with this very matter. I am doing this because I think we ought to know the truth, as nearly as we may. I am quoting from Peloubet's Bible Dictionary, Page 767.

"The Chronology of the Bible"
"There is the greatest possible uncertainty with regard to all the early dates of the world's history, and it is impossible to determine the truth. The extremes are in fact from a reckoning by the Jews of the date of the Creation as 3760 B. C., to the generalization of some scientific schools that it may be millions of years in the past."

"The date found in the margins of our Bibles are at most points admirably accurate. They were reduced to system by Archbishop Ussher in 1650 A. D., and first added to the English Bible by Bishop Lloyd in the great edition of 1701. "Its greatest fault is in its attempt to reduce the history to millennial periods. Ussher believed that the earth was created just 4,000 years before the birth of Jesus and that Solomon's Temple was dedicated just 1,000 years before the birth of Jesus, and he pulls some parts of the Chronology awry, to make it fit his theory."

"The dates of Archbishop Ussher for this period are convenient for keeping the succession of events, but are not authoritative as is agreed even by the most conservative scholars. They are only one of several possible arrangements. Opinions of Chronologists as to the "era of Creation" vary indeed by many centuries."

"The probabilities from geological facts, and the inferences from Egyptian and Babylonian civilization, place the date of the beginning of the human race hundreds, perhaps thousands, of years earlier."

And that is what a modern-day Bible dictionary has to say about the Chronology of the Bible. Practically all well-informed Bible Scholars and leading churchmen, I believe, will agree that this is a very conservative statement regarding Bible Chronology. Who can look at the starry skies and contemplate the thousands and thousands of heavenly bodies that are visible to the naked eye and the numberless multitudes of heavenly bodies that are invisible to the naked eye and fail to realize that there is an Infinite and Eternal God who rules it all? Who can go into a Carlsbad Cavern and not be amazed by its beauty and its grandeur? Who can peer down into Royal Gorge or a Grand Canyon or lift his eyes to the summit of the Rockies or the Tetons without being charmed and delighted beyond the power of words to express the emotion? Yet the same great God who gave us the sacred Book created also the heavens and the earth. There can be no conflict between Science and Divinity. The greatest Christians, in my estimation, are those who most devoutly worship God and who are deeply charmed and thrilled by His matchless handiwork.

And so, since God is eternal, and since His Book says that it was "In the Beginning" that He began His work of Creation, I cannot for the life of me understand why people should be incredulous when informed that there is convincing evidence that Creation was begun twenty or fifty or a hundred thousand years ago or even an infinite number of years ago. I wonder if they think that God has been idle all of these years that have transpired since the "Beginning."

While I am in the mood, permit me to say I think that religiously most of us live within too narrow limits. We ought to look up at the stars more. We need to have broader vision. We ought to listen more for the heavenly messages that the night winds bring to us in the tree-tops. We need to have keener ears for the voice of God, for the spiritual forces of this world. There is no power, no virtue, in the mere observance of forms and ceremonies. Superstition and formality and vain-pomp and show are not for real Christians. We are not to be like those Moslems over at Allahabad, India, last week. These benighted superstitious, caste-ridden people, had been misled and mistaught until possibly they were as irresponsible as babes, though highly emotional and excitable. Having been taught that the waters of the Ganges River were sacred, 3,000,000 "frenzied pilgrims" met on its banks at a previously appointed hour on Wednesday of last week to plunge into or to bathe in its waters to "wash away their sins," and the mad rush to get into the waters was so great that several hundred of them were crushed to death. Poor victims of spiritual ignorance and superstition!

A powerful Roman governor more than 1900 years ago, was so completely intimidated by a furious mob that he yielded to their cries for blood and surrendered to them the Savior of the world, to be crucified and then vainly tried to wash the fancied bloodstains off his hands. There is no evidence that he ever repented but his after life was so wicked and his remorse so great that he eventually committed suicide. He went to his grave with bloody hands.

It is doubtless true that a vast majority of the people who have been born into this world have been compelled to suffer for their religious convictions, if they had any, for the greater part of their lives.

Although we have almost universal religious liberty in this country in so far as the laws of our country are concerned, yet we are not free from religious narrowness and intolerance by any means. Often we devote much attention to the letter and fail altogether to catch the spirit of a passage of Scripture. Jesus was never more powerful as a teacher and leader than when he was tearing away the ruff-raff of religion. He was a great iconoclast in blasting away the trivial traditions of the Jews. He ever went into the heart of things. He threshed out the wheat and blew away the chaff. He placed little value on the merely formal in worship but great value on the spiritual.

We had a Sunday School lesson last Sunday that forcefully illustrated the point.

This is the story of a man who had been afflicted with some malady for 38 years. He had heard a story to the effect that an angel came down at certain intervals and troubled the waters of the pool of Bethesda in Jerusalem and the belief was that the first afflicted or sick person who stepped in after troubling of the water would be healed. (The King James Version says that this part of verse 3 and all of verse 4 does not appear in the Sinai Manuscript, and for that reason some of the modern versions omit this part of the story. Verse 4, which is omitted, reads as follows: "For the angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: and whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had." Now whether verse 4 belongs in the passage or not, it certainly was a fact that this afflicted man and others living on the portico at the pool confidently believed in the healing powers of this pool when

Local Firm Gets Highway Award

The Bray Chevrolet Co. of Tahoka has received a Highway Safety Award in recognition of the part the firm is playing in the current school year by lending an automobile for high school driving training purposes.

The award was made by the Texas Automotive Dealers Association, the State organization of factory authorized new car dealers.

Loan of the training car was to Tahoka High School in a program that each year is helping to turn out a constantly increasing number of high school students who are thoroughly versed in all phases of safe and courteous driving.

C. B. Smith, Austin, Safety Chairman, and E. J. Pennington, Galveston, President of the State Dealers' Association, termed the driver training program one of the most significant developments in the field of safety in recent years.

"Our youths form the reservoir from which drivers of the future are drawn", they said, "and if we are to have safe highways it will be through their education in the proper handling of motor vehicles."

Nearly 300 members of the factory authorized new car dealers group received Safety Awards, according to Tom J. Crooks, Austin, Manager of the Association. Their participation in the driver training activity represents a loan of equipment each year valued at approximately $600,000, he said.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Supervisors, the main business was a discussion of the Fort Worth Press awards program.

The awards program is a means of recognizing the work of farmers, groups, and districts who have done an outstanding job in getting conservation applied in Texas.

There are 23 firms and institutions in Texas who are co-sponsors in this awards program. Cash awards, plaques, and other prizes go to District, Regional and State winners in the following categories: Outstanding district, outstanding farmer or rancher, best comeback farmer, outstanding non-farmer conservationist, home-maker of the year, and seven other categories.

The Lynn County Soil Conservation District has had some regional winners in the past years. Some of these past winners are the Northwest New Home group, the Thomas Brothers group, and K. K. Moore.

The Lynn County District itself has won three regional awards—third place in the 55 county Region 1 in 1946, fourth place in 1948, and third in 1949.

This week the Board of Supervisors will be examining the records and inspecting the work done on the farms in the District in a search for the outstanding conservation group and farmer.

The weather early this week was very favorable for field work. Terraces have been run for O. H. Rinne, H. B. Rinne, and Mrs. Minnie J. Rinne on their farms five and a half miles east of Wilson. These three farms, three quarters on the same section, will be terraced together with some of the terraces continuous across all three farms. Lines have also been run on the farm operated by Leonard Brieger and which is just north of the Rinne farms.

Fred Kiesel has completed a terrace system on his farm a half mile north of Morgan school.

Juniors Win Some At Post

Tahoka Junior boys basketball team did fairly well in the Post tournament last week end, the Eighth grade taking second place and receiving a trophy for the accomplishment, and the Ninth grade taking second place in the consolation bracket.

Tahoka Eighth grade defeated Post in the opening game 36 to 35, then eliminated Graham Chapel 45 to 22, but lost in the championship final to Snyder 51 to 30. Ninth grade boys lost their opener to Ralls 40 to 31, then defeated O'Donnell 40 to 25, and lost in the consolation finals to Idalou 50 to 33. Post Blacks and Golds tied for the Ninth grade championship, both ending up in the finals and their game ending in a tie.

Tahoka was minus its coaches Saturday night for the finals, as these men were attending the athletic banquet but Tracy Brown substituted as their coach. Also, some of the Ninth grade boys attended the banquet.

Odds & Ends

troubled by the angle. It sounds very much like just a superstitious belief.)

Now, at this point Jesus comes along, and now we quote:

"When Jesus saw him lie (lying there), and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, wilt thou be made whole?"

"The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool; but while I am coming another steppeth down before me."

"Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk."

"And immediately the man made whole, and took up his bed and walked; and on the same day was the sabbath." End of Quote.

But here is the rest of the story briefly told: The Jews saw the man walking and taking his bed on his way home. They chided him for violating the sabbath by carrying his bed on that day. He answered that the man who helped him told him to take up his bed and walk, but Jesus had disappeared in the crowd and the fellow told his inquirers that he didn't know who the man was.

A little later Jesus saw the man in the Temple and said something like this to him: Now, since you are well, go and sin no more. lest a worse thing come upon you. The man then went and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had healed him. He was happy about it, but the Jews became furious; and the Scripture says: Therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day.

Jesus simply answered them, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work."

"Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God."

Now there are a number of excellent practical lessons for us to get from this incident, but there is one that stands out far above all others. What could be more obvious and more wicked and more hateful than the intolerance and the malice which those crooks displayed in actually trying to get a good chance to kill Jesus. They first wanted to kill him simply because he had healed a helpless invalid and then bade him to get up, take up his pallet, and go home. They were aggrieved, professedly, because Jesus had healed a sick man on the Sabbath day (offense No. 1) and then caused him to tote his bed off, thus violating the sabbath again (offense No. 2). I submit that killing a man for either of these "offenses" would have been cold blooded murder of the blackest type.

And then we are told they all the more wanted to kill Jesus because Jesus had called God his father. If anybody had the burning desire and the authority today to kill folks for addressing or referring to God as their father, I know of a lot of good Christian men and women too who would be compelled to flee in terror to keep their heads from being cut off.

We are thankful that things like that are not being done very often these days anywhere except in Russia and Red China.

But, wait a minute. There is another big lesson in that incident that I wanted to notice. I seriously doubt if any of those patients hanging around that pool of water got any real permanent relief. Just a little imaginary relief, possibly, that didn't last long.

I think that Jesus not only wanted to heal that fellow in order to show him and the others that folks can not be healed by resorting to such fol-de-rol. When he put his faith in Jesus he was actually and permanently healed. And while Jesus healed the body in that case, he healed the soul in the same way. A whole pool of water will not get the job done.

235 Attend Banquet Honoring Boy And Girl Athletes At Tahoka High

Tahoka High School's 1953-54 varsity athletes were honored Saturday night at the annual Athletic Banquet held in the school cafeteria and attended by 235 people, including players, coaches, and fans.

Wade Walker, line coach at Texas Tech and former all-American at Oklahoma University, who is moving to Mississippi State next year, was the feature speaker. He also showed colored moving pictures of the Texas Tech-Auburn 'Gator Bowl' game at Jacksonville, Fla., on Jan. 1.

In this day of investigation, charges and counter-charges, and threat of Communism to the world, he said he thought that there are three things that are right in the United States. Number one is religion, number two is freedom of speech and press, and number three is the idea of athletics. The latter develops a competitive spirit, desire and teamwork that helps make America great. If the world would settle its problems like we settle athletic battles, everything would be all right.

Walker was introduced by Coach Bill Sharpley a former end at Texas Tech.

Clint Walker acted as master of ceremonies, welcomed the fans present and gave praise to the athletes and coaches. Bobby Williams responded on behalf of the athletes.

Opening the program, Billy Tong, Senior football letterman, gave the invocation, and as the session ended, Gordon Smith, Sophomore letterman in football, basketball and track, gave the benediction.

Coach Bill Haralson said the present boys and girls were as fine a group as he had ever coached, had the right attitude, team spirit, the desire to win, and that conduct on and off the field was tops.

He introduced the football squad by classes, giving special recognition to Co-captains Willie Lee, Garland Huddleston, and Billy Tong, Jimmy Whorton, Lee, Billy Tong, Jimmy Whorton, Jimmy Bragg, J. B. Ables, and Bobby Lehman; all-district players, Huddleston, Ables, Jimmy Williams, and Lehman.

Haralson praised highly his girls basketball team for their hard work, which is now beginning to pay off as they are now winning a few games.

Others recognized include Coach and Mrs. Homer Tompkins of Slaton, Coach Royal James of Abilene, and Coaches Sam Hawks and Bill Hahn of Spur. Granvel Ayer, who took game movies; Robert Harvick, who did the scouting work; the cheer leaders, and the Football Queen Jane Shepherd; the Bulldog Mothers, and the fans.

Coach Jake Jacobs seconded Haralson's remarks in giving praise to the athletes for their performance, introduced the boys' basketball squad by classes, and gave special recognition to the seniors, Bobby Lehman, Roy Gene Sherrod, J. B. Ables, and Donald Paris. He said he thought the team was doing exceptionally well this year considering the fact that the entire starting lineup from last year's team graduated.

A. M. Bray, chairman of the committee from the Rotary Club, was in charge of the general arrangements for the banquet. Fred McGinty and Calloway Huffaker assisted the ladies in preparing and serving the delicious fried chicken dinner.

Wilson Club Will Present Comedy

The "Beauty and the Beef" is the title of the three-act comedy chosen by the Junior Class of Wilson High School to be presented in the school auditorium the evenings of Feb. 18 and 19, at 7:30 p. m.

The "Beauty and the Beef" is truly a novel comedy of modern teen-agers. It tells the story of how a city girl becomes adjusted to life in a small town. Ginny Allen had been on a quiz program in Chicago and wished to hide the fact in order to become popular with the boys.

The means to which Ginny and friend Franny go in order to prove themselves dumb becomes a story which is humanly heartwarming and full of laughter.

To be presented in this play are Don Evelyn Joines, Jimmy Schneider, Sylvia Montgomery, Javan Schneider, Marcena Reisdorff, Charlie Coleman, Myrna Kaatz, Judson Hewlett, Charles Ray Mason, Patsy Jones, and others.

Tickets may be bought at the door, adults 50c, children 20c.

April 15th Is Deadline For Securing Safety Sticker

Captain E. L. Posey, commanding officer of District 8 of the Texas Highway Patrol, with headquarters at Lubbock, announced today that Highway Patrolmen would give tickets to persons who operated an auto on the streets and highways after April 15 without a current inspection sticker.

The Patrol Captain said that the men in his command have all received orders to that effect as the result of a directive issued at Austin by Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Posey said that Garrison's order was made following definite instructions from the State Public Safety Commission that enforcement of the modified motor vehicle inspection law which was enacted by the last Legislature would definitely begin following the April 15 inspection deadline.

Captain Posey also pointed out that local and county police officers are empowered to enforce the inspection law.

According to the Patrol commander, only about 32 percent of the cars in the Lynn County area have been inspected to date. This means, he said, that car owners who have not yet had their vehicles checked will run the risk of being caught in the last minute "log jam" at the inspection station if they delay longer in complying with the law.

"Our Patrolmen will continue to issue warnings to motorists whose cars do not bear a current inspection sticker through April 15," Captain Posey said in a prepared statement for the press and radio.

"After that date offenders will face court action."

The Bulldogs took a 47 to 37 victory over the Post Antelopes here Friday night, but the game was not as easy as the score might indicate.

Tahoka started well and scored 7 points before Post hit the basket, but the rest of the first quarter scored only one while Post hit the bucket for 9. Heck said Tahoka needs sites for some new water wells. Tahoka has not as yet been threatened with a water shortage, but, some of the present wells have been pumped pretty heavily, and if they do give down in the summer, Tahoka could be short of water.

Prior to Mr. Heck's talk, program Chairman, Wynne Collier called on three new Rotarians to give a little background on them selves prior to coming to Tahoka. These include Guy Wheatley, "Dub" Kenley, and Rev. Clifford Harris. Each injected a little humor into his talk.

Junior Rotarians for the month of February are Bill Sanders and Milt Draper, Tahoka High seniors.

The score by quarters, Tahoka was 8-7, 20-18, 28-14, and 35-32. The game was close all the way, tied up six times, but Tahoka kept a slight lead most of the time. At one time, in the third quarter the local girls led six points. Hook shots by Susie Smith, who scored 13 points, and the accurate shooting of Virginia Gable, 12 points, kept Tahoka ahead, in spite of the fact that the local girls drew 20 fouls to Post's six and in spite of the fine play of DeElva Lofton of Post, who scored 19 points.

New style... New power... New economy... and yet

Lowest-priced line in its field!

That's why people are calling the new 1954 Chevrolet the outstanding motor car value of this new year!

Men and women everywhere are deciding that Chevrolet for 1954 gives more for the money than any other car in its price range.

Here are the reasons why... New style—more beauty of line, contour and color—with stunning new Bodies by Fisher and luxurious new modern-mode interiors.

New power—more pickup, more passing ability, more smoothness and quietness of operation with either of Chevrolet's two advanced 1954 engines—the thoroughly proved "Blue-Flame 125" engine teamed with Powerglide (available on all models at extra cost) or the thoroughly proved "Blue-Flame 115" engine!

New economy—yes, even stronger gasoline savings—because both of these great high-compression engines are designed, engineered and built to wring more power from every charge of fuel.

Moreover, these new Chevrolets remain the lowest-priced line in their field, again this year.

Come in... see and drive the new 1954 Chevrolet... and place your order now!
