WHERE FIRE MAY HAVE STARTED
Fire in fireplace (black arrow) escaped through chimney crack (white arrow)

Quick Action Saves Family From Fire

Quick action by a policeman may have saved the lives of three Big Springers early this morning as fire struck the Jack Davis home in the Indian Hills Addition.

Mrs. Davis and her three children escaped from the burning house through an upstairs bedroom above the garage after being awakened by Patrolman Joe Henry. The officer saw flames on the roof of the house while patroling the area and awakened the occupants.

"Fifteen minutes later would have been too late," H. V. Crocker, fire chief, said. "I believe he saved their lives," A. D. Meador, fire marshal, added.

The policeman called the fire department about 3:30 a.m. Jack Davis, a vice president of the First National Bank, is away deer hunting. Attempts were being made at noon today to contact him. The Davis children are aged from four to 18.

Meador estimated damage to the house at $15,000 and damage to the contents at $10,000. The fire apparently was caused by sparks from a fire in the chimney, which ignited a covering over a hole in the brick flue of the chimney between the ceiling and the roof, Crocker said. Meador said smoke damage to the split level home was heavy.

Flames spread, and burned the roof over the den and 10 feet of the hallway outside the upstairs bedroom. A scuttle hole connecting the hallway with the roof and ceiling was blown out, Crocker said.

Nineteen firemen fought the inferno in sub-freezing temperatures. Firemen answered the call with a pumper unit from the 18th and Main Station and a booster unit from the central station. Four 2½-inch hoses were hooked up at the fire main at 16th and Indian Hills. Firemen also used two one-inch lines. Ladders were placed on the south and north sides of the house and firemen fought the blaze from a hole in the roof near the chimney and through the scuttle hole.

The blaze was extinguished in one hour, 40 minutes. Firemen returned to the station at 5:10 a.m.

Sinatra Ransoms Abducted Junior

WEARINESS SHOWS ON SINATRA
Father tells of ransoming kidnaped son

Boy Safe After $240,000 Payoff

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Frank Sinatra's 19-year-old singer son, kidnaped at Lake Tahoe and held blindfolded 54 hours, was released unharmed on a street today after secret maneuvers in which his father paid a gang $240,000 ransom.

The FBI conducted an intensive search for the abductors, but would say nothing about progress.

Frank Sinatra Jr., whose goal is to duplicate his famous father's entertainment success, was taken at gunpoint Sunday night from a motel on the California-Nevada border just before a casino singing engagement.

HEARD SHOUT

A private policeman patrolling the exclusive Bel-Air district picked him up — the blindfold still dangling from his neck — after he heard a shout of "Hey" from darkness behind his car.

The patrolman drove him to the nearby home of the boy's mother, Mrs. Nancy Sinatra, long divorced from the actor-singer. There, emerging from the trunk of the car where he had hidden to avoid newsmen, came a dramatic reunion.

The elder Sinatra, who had been negotiating with the gang since Monday and flew here Tuesday night for the payoff, lost his look of haggard tenseness as he greeted his son.

"Father, I'm sorry," the youth said.

EMBRACE

"Sorry? Sorry for what?" said Sinatra, embracing him.

Young Frank then embraced his mother, who broke down and wept.

"Don't cry, mother, I'm well. I'm in good shape."

Young Sinatra went to bed without talking to newsmen but a spokesman said he probably would do so later in the day.

Sinatra, observing his 46th birthday, spoke briefly to newsmen, saying, "This is about as good a birthday present as I could ask."

He continued:

BLINDFOLDED

"Frank (junior) didn't see much of the men. He was blindfolded most of the time. He said something to me about being in more automobile trunks than anyone else in the world.

"The first phone call I got from the kidnapers let me know they had the boy and that he was all right. The man I talked to sounded like he meant business.

"I spoke to Frank (by telephone) twice.

"They took him out of the motel without socks and let him wander around in the snow with just a T-shirt on. He wasn't bothered physically, but he's pretty weary. I talked to him at 9 o'clock last night and yesterday afternoon in Reno about midday.

ANOTHER CALL

"In Reno, I got a call to be here (at Mrs. Sinatra's home). They said I'd get another call.

"They told me, 'Get $240,000.' "I got it. The money was in small bills—fives, tens, fifties, hundreds.

"I came here and got a couple more telephone calls. They told me to go to a service station at Camden . . and I don't remember the other street. Then I had to go to another service station.

"Then they took me off the thing and a federal man took over as courier.

"Then I got a telephone call from a man who said he dropped the boy off at Mulholland and the Freeway. We went out but couldn't find him."

NO DEAL

Sinatra said the payoff point was on Wilshire Boulevard in West Los Angeles and no deal was made to protect the abductors after they received the ransom. "They're on their own now," he said.

Young Sinatra apparently was driven the 485 miles from the Lake Tahoe area to Hollywood in the trunk of a car. California and Nevada authorities relaxed certain roadblocks in the area, presumably after the ransom demand.

Young Sinatra was quoted by the patrolman who found him as saying he thought there were but three in the gang. The elder Sinatra said he thought there might be as many as nine.

TWO MILES

George C. Jones of the Bel-Air Patrol, a private service that watches exclusive homes in the area, said young Sinatra told him he walked two miles after being dropped off—hiding every time a car came by for fear his captors might be after him again. When he saw the patrol car, he hailed it.

College Building Fund Bill Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has sent to President Johnson the $1.2-billion college construction aid bill — hailed by its supporters as the most important measure of its kind in a century.

Democratic leaders said jubilantly after the 54-27 vote that they looked to education as the brightest feature on the record of the 1963 session of Congress.

They said the college measure would be followed, perhaps late this week, by a $1.56-billion vocational education bill on which Senate-House conferees reached final agreement Tuesday.

And they pointed to the $231-million medical education bill, carrying funds to build new medical and dental schools and to make loans to students in these fields, signed Sept. 24 by the late President Kennedy.

Under the college bill, the nation's 2,100 private and public colleges would be eligible for aid to help in building class rooms, laboratories and libraries.

However, priority would go to those making plans to expand their facilities sharply to help meet the doubling of enrollments, expected to reach 7 million by 1970.

The three-year measure authorizes annually $180 million in grants to four-year colleges, $120 million in loans for the same institutions, $50 million in grants for public junior colleges, and $25 million the first year plus $60 million each the second and third for grants to graduate schools. The programs would be on a matching basis.

The grants would be limited to buildings to be used for instruction of research in the natural and physical sciences, engineering, mathematics and modern foreign languages, and for libraries.

CHEER FUND FREEZES UP

Something, perhaps the weather, almost froze the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND in its tracks today.

There was only one contribution, a $5 gift from Mr. and Mrs. Duke Baker. Other warm hearts are needed desperately to thaw out the campaign to raise funds for spreading Christmas cheer through toy repair and Christmas goodies. All remaining funds are used throughout the year for food and drugs during dire emergencies. So when you give, you perpetuate the spirit of Christmas through the year.

Today's lone gift brought to $311 the amount so far given. Won't you please mail or bring your gift to the Herald and experience the joy of helping?

Bolivia Militiamen Head To Mines

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Fears of clashes heightened today as peasant militiamen were reported marching to Bolivia's tin mines to defend President Victor Paz Estenssoro's government against rebellious Communist-led miners.

Reports reaching Bolivia's capital said bands of armed peasants were moving on Oruro, hub of the mining district, and planned to set up camp there in a show of support for the government.

Oruro is 30 miles north of Catavi, where dissident miners are holding 15 hostages, including four Americans, in retaliation for the government's arrest of two Communist mine union leaders.

U.S. ARMS

The government asked Tuesday night for U.S. arms, including planes, to effect the release of the hostages but gave no indication it planned an immediate attack.

Paz Estenssoro, under heavy U.S. pressure to secure the release of the captives, moved cautiously to assure their safety. It was feared any precipitous move might touch off widespread conflict.

The government warned the miners their food supplies would be cut off unless they released the hostages by tonight. It showed no inclination to exchange two jailed Communists for the hostages which the miners demand.

MAKE STAND

Leftist union leaders in Oruro exhorted workers to make a stand against the peasant militiamen.

About 3,000 government troops are also poised in Oruro, high in the Andes 120 miles southeast of La Paz.

The four Americans, all attached to the U.S. embassy, were seized Friday night.

Newsmen interviewed them Tuesday at union headquarters and reported them in good health but said their living conditions were deplorable.

The Americans are Thomas Martin, 27, of New York, and Michael A. Kristula of Cadillac, Mich., both information officers; Bernard Rifkin, 52, of Montclair, N.J., a labor officer; and Robert Federstrom of Honolulu, a Peace Corps volunteer.

Hostages Found Healthy But Sleeping On Floor

Editor's Note—Associated Press staff writer Jorge Canelas has visited the four Americans and 11 others held hostage by Communist-led tin miners at Catavi, Bolivia.

By JORGE CANELAS

ORURO, Bolivia (AP) — The four Americans and 11 other hostages held by rebellious Bolivian tin miners are crammed each night into one room 18 by 12 feet and sleep on the floor without mattresses.

They all appear in good health but seem understandably concerned and annoyed at their unexpected imprisonment, now in its fifth day.

The hostages were interviewed by newsmen at nearby Catavi Tuesday for the first time since they were taken prisoner Friday in retaliation for the government's arrest of two Communist labor leaders, Irineo Pimentel and Federico Escobar.

Under a close guard, the newsmen were led into two small rooms at the headquarters of the mine union and met the hostages, who also include a West German, a Dutchman and nine Bolivian technicians.

Thomas Martin, 27, of New York, a U.S. Information Service officer, said he and the other Americans were arrested after a dinner Friday night at the home of Cornelius Bloot, a Dutch mine manager.

"We just want to be set free," said Michael A. Krustula of Cadillac, Mich., information chief for the Alliance for Progress in Bolivia.

Robert Fergerstrom of Honolulu, a Peace Corps volunteer, said all the hostages were well. Bernard Rifkin, 52, of Montclair, N.J., a U.S. labor officer, is the fourth American.

Newsmen asked Bolivian Vice President Juan Lechin, the miners' leader, why the hostages were not being kept at the mine's comfortable guest house. He replied union headquarters provided better security.

Lechin gave no indication when the hostages might be released.

Winter Moves Into County

First convincing sample of winter moved into Big Spring area Tuesday night and held on stubbornly Wednesday.

The temperature toppled to a chilly 25 degrees and overcast skies offered light drizzle which tended to freeze on windshields and sidewalks. A few scattered snowflakes were sighted in mid-morning.

There were reports that north of Big Spring from Fairview to the county line on US 87 the roads were icing over and some slipperiness was indicated.

The prospect tonight calls for even more frigid weather. Cloudy, windy and colder through tonight is the general forecast. There are chances of light freezing rain or snow. This should end, however during the night. It will be partly cloudy and perhaps a little warmer Thursday. Northerly winds are in store ranging from 10 to 20 miles an hour. The low tonight will be between 15 and 20 degrees and it should warm up to 40 degrees sometime Thursday.

Yesterday's maximum, as reported by the U. S. Experiment Station, was 57. The low last night was 25 degrees which matched the record low of the fall so far. It was not anticipated the high today would get above 30 degrees.

A cold wave sweeping in from the north had dropped the temperature in Denver 29 degrees in a 24-hour period. The drop was from 18 degrees to a minus 11.

The cold brought a halt to the cotton harvest. The light drizzle would have stopped this work by itself but the cold clinched the shutdown.

Shopping did not seem to be materially diminished. Christmas buying was still going ahead. Parking spaces were a little more abundant than has been the rule for the first two days of the week but there was considerable downtown traffic.

Coin Shortage Worries U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury expressed its concern today over the coin shortage which has become steadily worse during the Christmas shopping rush.

In the past few months, the Treasury has tried not to call attention to the shortage, apparently on the theory that publicity would lead to hoarding.

But the shortage was obvious long before the start of the Christmas season. There are now shortages in every denomination except silver dollars. The supply is tight in almost every area of the nation.

Some banks have been asking the public to keep their coins in circulation. Some companies which rely heavily on coins in their business have been shipping large amounts from one area to another.

The shortage is said to be due to good business in retail sales and increased use of vending machines, parking meters and other such devices.

Call Increased

AUSTIN (AP)—State Selective Service headquarters said today the January draft quota for Texas is 812 men. This compares to 667 in December.

Nation's Cotton Growers Okay Continued Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cotton and rice growers voted overwhelmingly Tuesday to continue price support and marketing quota programs in 1964.

When the Department of Agriculture stopped tabulating, the count on upland cotton stood at 215,729 for and 13,211 against, a percentage of 94.2.

That was the vote from 17 growing states.

For extra long staple cotton the vote from five states including Texas was 790 for and 304 against, a percentage of 70.2.

In 11 states, rice growers had voted 7,371 for the support-quota program and 841 against, a percentage of 89.8.

For both upland cotton and rice, the tabulation from the start ran well over the two-thirds favorable vote needed to keep the programs in force.

The cotton industry has been hurt for years by mounting surpluses and increasing competition abroad. A still tighter squeeze was indicated this week by a report estimating the 1963 crop at 15,584,000 bales, biggest in a decade.

The output, achieved on acreage allotments less than those of the preceding year, represented a sharp increase to an average of 524 pounds per acre, 58 pounds above the previous record of 1958.

This year's vote for cotton price supports and quotas was somewhat higher than last year's favorable percentage of 81.8.

Rice results were affected by the record 1963 crop, estimated at 69.4 million 100-pound bags, and a supply of about 75 million bags, largest since 1956.

An average support price of $4.71 per bag has been fixed for the 1964 crop, with growing allotments of 1,818,166 acres. Without the vote for continuation of the program, the price support rate would have dropped to 50 per cent of parity or about $3.72.

Howard County Farmers Favor Quotas By 76%

Howard County farmers are highly in favor of a continuation of the federal cotton quota program. In a referendum Tuesday, 76 per cent of the cotton planters voting endorsed the program. For it to be approved, two-thirds of the voters had to approve it.

Gabe Hammack, manager of the Agriculture and Conservation Stabilization Committee office, said that 99 Howard County voters voted for the quota and 30 against. Only one voting place failed to provide the program with the required two - thirds majority. That was in the Luther Community where the vote was 12 for and 8 against.

At the ASC office on Lancaster Street, 31 farmers voted for the quotas and 11 against. Knott voted 29 for and 8 against and Coahoma 27 for and three against.

Hammack said that the vote was within three of the total cast in the referendum last year. He said plans to canvass the election returns Friday have been changed and, because the weather is bad, the committee will canvass the votes Wednesday afternoon. He pointed out that the farmers on the committee will not be able to work today but, if weather conditions change, they might be able to do so Friday.

Nude Not Lewd Without Crowd

NEW YORK (AP)—A judge says there's nothing disturbing about a nude posing in the middle of a deserted Manhattan street on a quiet Sunday afternoon.

The court decision was handed down here in the case of the People vs. Jan Tice.

Miss Tice, 27, a model, took off her clothes Nov. 10 on Liberty Street in the financial district to pose for a photographer taking pictures for a book. A policeman happened by and arrested them.

Criminal Court Judge Richard F. Daly acquitted them, saying a breach of the peace requires the presence of the public and "there weren't any people there. . ."

Warren Group May Take Year With Kennedy Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some officials predicted privately today that it may be a year before Chief Justice Earl Warren's commission finishes investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The predictions followed disclosure by government sources that threads from the shirt of Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin, were found snagged on the rifle which authorities say was used to kill Kennedy as he rode in a Dallas motorcade Nov. 22.

Government sources also reported Tuesday that Oswald's palm print was found on the rifle. They said some latent fingerprints — identified as Oswald's — were lifted by FBI technicians from wrapping paper which hid the rifle when it was carried into the Text Book Depository building where Oswald worked.

FIVE VOLUME

As the Warren commission continued its study of a five-volume FBI report on the assassination, a friend of the chief justice predicted the commission's work would not be completed for "a good many months at least. Warren moves with all deliberate speed, but he doesn't cut a single corner."

Another official said it would not bother the White House if the commission takes a year, adding: "Nobody wants a quickie job. President Johnson made that clear in creating the commission."

There was evidence from Warren himself that the commission considers the massive FBI investigation report, delivered to the seven commission members Monday night, just the starting point for its task.

FIRST STEP

Within 24 hours, Warren announced the appointment of a general counsel, former U. S. Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin, as the first step in providing the commission with a staff.

Earlier, he disclosed that the commission has discussed plans to establish offices, but told reporters this must wait until the group had studied the FBI report. Until then, he said, the commission could have "no idea of the magnitude of its task."

Merely evaluating the FBI report appeared likely to be a big job. When this and other information has been evaluated, the commission is empowered to "conduct any further investigation it seems desirable."

NOT COMPLETE

The FBI report, moreover, is itself not complete. Officials said supplemental reports would be sent to Warren "from time to time" as teams of agents still at work check out leads and information.

The report as it reached Warren was known to indicate that Oswald, 24, committed the assassination without accomplices and that Oswald had no connection with Jack Ruby, 52, the Dallas night club owner who killed Oswald two days later.

Ruby's deed inspired countless rumors and suspicions of collusion, conspiracy, and even foreign intrigue. Some commission members have declared they will not consider their work done until all such doubts have been resolved.

DEAR ABBY

Sermons In Semantics

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that bothers me immensely. We have a new minister whose language is atrocious. I can hardly sit through his sermons any more. He says, "He done," "had went" and "they is." Abby, don't you think that after four years in Bible college he should be able to do better than that? My 10-year-old son notices these mistakes and mentions them to me. Is there a remedy? DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is interfering with my marriage. We have lived with her ever since we've been married and she is the type who likes to run everything herself because nobody can do anything as well. I have never made a meal, and I am not allowed to clean or iron. If I do anything, she does it over. My husband thinks I should consider myself lucky to have free room and board. When his mother criticizes me, my husband never says a word to defend me. Should I leave him now before we have any children? UNHAPPY

DEAR UNHAPPY: If it's a question only of whether you should leave him BEFORE you have children, or AFTER you have had them, I'd say leave him now. Better yet, why don't you BOTH leave his mother? The room and board is far from free—it's costing you your happiness.

DEAR ABBY: I have recently moved to a city where I have no friends and know very few people. I would like to meet a handicapped girl between 20 and 30. This may seem strange to you, but I have my reasons. Where can I meet such a girl? "S"

Lights To Be Left Burning

The offices in the Howard County Courthouse, from top to bottom, will be left illuminated Christmas eve and Christmas night.

L. J. Davidson, county commissioner, suggested that the illumination would add a touch of holiday gaiety and go along with the colored lights which have been strung around the upper ledge of the building.

The county commissioners, cooperating with the city merchants, had authorized expenditure of $350 for the lights to adorn the county building for the holiday season.

MORAL ISSUES

"Dear Sir: . . . I have never known a 'Church of Christ' to cooperate in anything such as a community-wide service of worship, as on Thanksgiving Day or Resurrection Day, or to stand united with other churches on any issue where the morals of a community are involved." (Letter from a local pastor.)

Well, I have never known a church of Christ to fail to take a clear stand on moral issues. What is the pastor talking about? Perhaps he means we stay clear of the political aspects of these issues. And well we should, as a church. As individuals we may help to pass laws regulating the practices of citizens. As a church, it is our business to teach, to persuade and to convert people to Christ and away from immoral practices. Church and State should be kept separate (Matt. 22:21).

Cancer Society Chapter Takes Still Another Step

The second step toward organizing a Howard County Unit of the American Cancer Society was taken at a meeting Tuesday night at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building. Twenty-six persons attended. A by-laws committee was named by Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, temporary chairman, and a nominating committee named to report at the next meeting, Jan. 7.

R. C. Taylor, field representative of the American Cancer Society at Midland, explained the purpose of the meeting, duties of officers and board members, gave an explanation of the various committees and their duties, and answered questions.

The by-laws committee, headed by Dr. W. A. Hunt and including Mrs. W. N. Norred, Miss Bessie Love, Mrs. Alton Underwood, and M. A. Webb, met immediately after the regular meeting and approved by-laws, for the unit, to be recommended for adoption at the January meeting. Officers to be elected, if the by-laws are approved, will include a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. A board of directors will also be named, with a minimum of 15 members. Eight board members will constitute a quorum for transacting business.

The nominating committee, to report in January, includes Dr. C. B. Marcum, chairman; Dr. R. B. G. Cowper, G. D. Gingold, Mrs. Ralph Hendrix and Mrs. Curtis Driver.

Those present at the meeting were asked to name their preference for one of five committees.

The purposes of the organization, as set out in the American Cancer Society's major policies, include:

Research—the society makes grants for research and for personnel for research. These grants are made by the board of directors of the American Cancer Society, acting upon recommendations of the research committee, the research advisory council and appropriate advisory committees on research.

Professional Education — The primary objective of this program is to alert the physician to the latest proven methods of diagnosis and treatment.

Public Education and Information—To save lives from cancer by alerting the public to cancer's danger signals, and encouraging annual health examinations . . . to help overcome traditional fear of cancer by stressing the fact that hundreds of thousands have been cured of the disease.

Taylor told the audience that no goals are set in the annual fund-raising crusade to be held once each year. He said necessary materials for education, and supplies for local services were provided to each unit regardless of the amount raised in the campaign.

Dr. Lloyd invited the unit to meet in the Elizabeth McDowell Sunday school room at the First Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 7.

Louie Welch Captures Houston Mayor's Post

HOUSTON (AP)—Louie Welch was in the mayor's job today by a comfortable margin. He ran in vain three times before.

Complete returns of a runoff election Tuesday gave the former city councilman a 68,288 to 54,700 vote margin over Bob Hervey.

The 122,000 voters turned out in mild, rainy weather to elect a mayor and four councilmen.

One of the councilmen elected, Bill Eliott, is the first Republican ever known to serve on the council.

He defeated C. W. Thompson, a Negro doctor, 72,054 to 43,855.

In the three other council races, incumbents Frank Mann and A. L. Miller were re-elected and Homer Ford, 42, an architect, was elected to succeed Bill Swanson.

Swanson and Lewis Cutrer, mayor for six years, were among four mayor candidates dropped in the Nov. 12 election.

Earl Pruitt, a Negro funeral home owner, was in the race. Had he or Thompson been elected, it would have been the first time a Negro councilman had been elected since Reconstruction days.

Pruitt ran against Miller, who polled 76,137 votes to Pruitt's 38,937.

"We are humble and grateful for this opportunity to serve the people of Houston," Welch said.

He said he looks forward to working with the other elected officials "to see that this city achieves the greatness to which it is entitled."

Cutrer said he was "shot out of the saddle" over the increased city water rates which he felt were essential to providing a future water supply from the Trinity River.

Opening lead: Five of ♠

When South sorted his cards, he thought he had been made the victim of a practical joker. His holding appeared to be completely devoid of value, and he feared the worst before the auction commenced. His hand would actually have been worth several tricks to North, and a substantial profit could have been registered had he shown a bit of faith in his partner and seen matters thru.

West opened the bidding with one spade and North made an immediate cue bid of two spades which is unconditionally forcing to game. In other words, partner is bound to keep the bidding open either until a game contract is reached or else the opponents have been doubled for penalties.

North's hand is worth 23 points in high cards counting an extra point for possession of all the aces. Valued as a dummy for partner, an additional three points is added for the singleton. North was willing to gamble out a game undertaking on the chance that South held nothing more than a distributional fit for one of North's suits.

South dutifully responded with three diamonds since that suit was slightly superior in texture to the clubs. North now showed his five-card heart suit in an attempt to probe for a game contract one level lower. At this juncture, South suddenly became fearful of the consequences of proceeding further with his bust, and chose perhaps unwisely to pass.

North was set one trick at his three heart contract. It was his contention that South should have rebid four clubs over three hearts, and then he, North, would have gone to five diamonds directly. We are in complete accord with him, inasmuch as the cue bidder—like the player who opens with a demand bid—assumes full responsibility for the proceedings, and partner is not permitted an opinion of his own. South was duty bound to go along with North until the latter had an opportunity to determine in which suit the contract should be played.

At five diamonds, South should lose, at the outside, two trump tricks. By criscrossing in hearts and clubs, he is able to establish dummy's side suit, and at the same time avoid the loss of a club trick by taking repeated finesses thru West's king.

Baptist Board Offers Lyndon Prayer Help

DALLAS (AP) — Executive board members of the Baptist General Convention of Texas dispatched a telegram Tuesday to President Johnson assuring him of prayerful support.

A message of condolence and sympathy went to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and the family of the late President.

The 192-member board adopted a resolution appealing for Texas Baptists to make these "sorrowful days opportunities for re-examination and rededication to a demonstration of Christian love." Urging that love be substituted for hate, the resolution said:

"We have been made keenly conscious of those elements in our society who despise law and create disorder. In the aftermath of the tragedy of the brutal murder of our President we are driven to renew our dedication to God."

CHAIRMAN

Dr. J. Carroll Chadwick, 48, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Center, was promoted from vice chairman to chairman of the board. He succeeds Dr. L. L. Morriss of Midland.

Executive board members approved three proposals from the Asian New Life Movement Committee, which coordinated a Texas Baptist-sponsored evangelistic crusade in eight counties of the Orient last spring.

The committee recommended that 10 Japanese Baptist pastors be brought to Texas for three months of study and work in Baptist churches. On returning home the Japanese pastors would apply methods used in the United States churches to Christian work in Japan.

TO JAPAN

It was further suggested that five music and educational directors from Baptist churches in Texas be sent to Japan for three months to try to improve music and education programs of churches there. Their expenses would be paid by the churches involved.

The executive board granted permission for its crusade committee to study the possibility of establishing a "foundation for evangelistic crusades" to provide financial support for such efforts.

Dr. Chadwick, the new chairman, was directed to appoint a committee to study suggested amendments to the constitution of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. These would provide that no person serve on more than one Baptist board of trustees at the same time.

The board was informed that eight pages of the public school history book "Men and Nations" had been revised in 1964 editions by the State Education Commission.

In a resolution adopted at San Antonio last month, the state Baptist convention opposed sections of the volume which it said presented religious history from the Roman Catholic perspective.

Ticket Sales Are Going Well

Refreshments will be available Friday and Saturday night to spectators at the high school production of "Oklahoma."

Plans for providing the refreshments were firmed up Monday at a special meeting of Choir Boosters. Coffee and soft drinks will be sold, Mel Ivey, choir director, said.

Ticket sales to the joint production of the high school drama and choir departments have been good among students, Ivey said, although sales to the general public are not as high as the students are seeking. They are expected to pick up Thursday and Friday.

Next meeting of this booster organization for choir will be Jan. 21, 1964.

BERYL DAVIS

Quality Clothes Make Lasting Impression

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — "Lasting impressions are greatly influenced by the way you look," Beryl Davis declared. "Now singing seems to be secondary. My nightclub act gets a much warmer reception when I'm wearing a dress that the audience likes rather than one they don't care for. I think this applies to a date, your job and your husband.

"Making the most of what you have means constant discipline. You have to analyze what suits you and avoid what doesn't. Sometimes you find that the highest fashion is NOT for you, and this means sticking to your guns with adaptations."

Some of the valuable discoveries that Beryl has made are helpful to others.

"Looking your best is achieved more by the time you spend on yourself than the amount of money. Some of my most costly gowns have been flops. My biggest mistake was a beautiful chiffon with lots of beads and feathers. The dress wore me. Dresses can be sympathetic to your personality. This dress wasn't. Don't fall for big productions unless you are sure you can get away with them. I am constantly asking myself when I shop if I can wear this and still keep my identity.

"It is helpful to admit your flaws and to try and cover them. My bones are big, and I prefer a dress that follows the line of the whole body. Anything that is obviously sexy I dislike extremely.

"Clothes can influence your personality for the good or bad, and if I am going to a special event I am prepared to be a little uncomfortable if I feel elegant. You know they say you can't be chic without suffering a little. This is fine with dresses, but never with shoes. A shoe that is too tight can ruin an act or an evening."

Do you have confidence in your taste? If not, don't despair. Let Leafie' M-104, "Developing a Fashion Sense," help you. For your copy send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1111, Los Angeles, California 90053.

WMU Has Program On Prayer

The Week of Prayer programs were condensed for an all-day session held Tuesday by the Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church in Sand Springs.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Bill Tucker where a salad supper preceded the program. Those participating and the day's program they gave were Mrs. Bill Ford, Monday; Mrs. Tucker, Tuesday; Mrs. Bob Johnson, Thursday; and Mrs. Harvey Paul, Friday. The Wednesday program will be given tonight at the church by Mrs. Bob Johnson.

The prayer calendars were read by Mrs. Melvin Atwell. A goal of $100 was set for the Lottie Moon offering in which the church congregation will participate. The meeting closed with each of the nine present offering prayer.

The women will meet at a date to be announced to sack fruit and candy which will be distributed at a church program.

B&PW Club Has Dinner

A Christmas dinner for 42 members of the Business and Professional Women's Club was served Tuesday evening at the Wagon Wheel. The evening also included a program presented by Mrs. Jack Stricklan.

The hostess committee was comprised of Mrs. Beth Ferguson, Mrs. Ruby Gilmore, Mrs. Ollene McShan, Miss Lorene Williams and Mrs. Robert Smith. Mrs. Gilmore gave the invocation.

After giving The Christmas Story, Mrs. Stricklan showed films of the Holy Land.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Elizabeth Ethridge of Lovington, N.M., Mrs. Shine Philips, Mrs. Douglas Clemmer and Mrs. Thelma Lewis.

Supper Will Be Served To Society

Supper will be served to members of the Altar Society of St. Thomas Catholic Church and a Christmas party held in the church basement at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 17. The plans were made at a committee meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Leo Gomez, 1101 Ridgeroad Drive.

The supper will be served by Mrs. Gomez, Mrs. Ines Velasquez, Mrs. Benito Rubio and Mrs. Diego Olague. There will be a gift exchange afterward. Those attending are requested to bring a gift not exceeding $1.50 in value.

Spirit Of Christmas Prevails At Dinner

The prevailing spirit of Christmas and memories of Christmases past were depicted in festive decorations and a program Tuesday evening. Combining their talents and company, Toastmasters and Toastmistresses had a joint Christmas dinner with the Toastmixers from the state hospital as honored guests. Also guests for the Cosden Country Club affair were wives and husbands of the host groups.

Red and green swirls extended the length of each dining table. Poinsettia blossoms and single green candles based in red bows completed the table decor. Placed in front of the podium was an arrangement of candles, poinsettia and gilded leaves.

TABLE TOPICS

Toastmaster Roy Thruston presided, and Mrs. Eugene Sieja gave the invocation. In keeping with the program theme, Mrs. Lewis Vale conducted table topics calling on various members to tell of their treasured childhood memories of Christmas. To some, memories included wading in snow drifts to find a tree, returning to a warm house and fire and attending midnight services; helping to stir the plum pudding made from an English grandmother's recipe; happy confusion of a family gathering; electric trains; and an express elevator direct to toyland in a city department store.

"What Christmas Means to Me" was the subject for talks made by representatives of each Toastmasters club and the Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club. F. L. Crinks was the Talon speaker; Mrs. Larson Lloyd, the Tall Talkers' speaker; Lt. Bob Bateman representing the Tumbleweed Toastmasters, and V. A. Whittington, the Downtown Club. Lt. Rick Clark was the presiding toastmaster.

STORIES TOLD

Toastmaster Crinks' experience as a department store Santa was related, followed by Mrs. Lloyd's personal experience of a Christmas celebration in a Rio Grande valley school. Bateman's narration concerned a boy's train ride to Utica, N.Y. where he hoped to have Christmas at home. And finally, the story of a child's West Texas Christmas and the true meaning of the celebration as told by Whittington who said, "Christmas was not just a 'happenstance.' It was created by One who recognized the need of all mankind."

Capt. Alan J. Grill, the general evaluator, placed the evaluators into categories, stressing the need for superior evaluation —the essence of toastmastery. Each speech was evaluated as he called upon Wally Slate, Sgt. George Schweickert, Mrs. B. F. Meacham and Capt. Richard Durant.

Grill also presented the boner award which was received by Thruston. Before adjournment the closing thought was given by an honored guest and member of the Toastmixer group.

Pre-Nuptial Event Honors Bride-Elect

A tea given Tuesday afternoon was one in a series of pre-nuptial events complimenting Miss Marilyn Bigham, bride-elect of Bill French. Mrs. K. H. McGibbon and her daughter, Mrs. Ewing Werlein, were hostesses at the McGibbon home, 108 Cedar.

The honoree, attired in a brown ensemble, her mother, Mrs. Ira Bigham, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. W. A. French Jr., were in the receiving line. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

The silver-appointed tea table was covered with an embroidered, imported cloth of organdy detailed with white linen appliques. It was centered with an all-white winter arrangement of glittered leaves and white candles with touches of emerald green.

Members of the house party were Miss Delores Howard, Mrs. James Drake, Mrs. Bob McAdams, Mrs. Frank Powell, Mrs. Rick Terry, Miss Kay McKiski, Mrs. Rodney Brooks and Mrs. Denton Marsalis of Lubbock.

Miss Bigham's wedding to Bill French is planned for Dec. 28.

Egg Cartons Create Convenient Crates

Dear Heloise:

I just found that egg cartons are great for storing Christmas decorations when boxes have been lost. It keeps all of the small bulbs and lights from hitting together.—Jan Kirby

• • •

So . . . save your egg cartons now, gals. They are great.

HELOISE

Dear Heloise:

When I buy cotton mittens for my children I immediately put them in my sewing box.

The next time I have the buttonhole attachment on my sewing machine (these could be worked by hand for those who do not have buttonhole attachments) I make a buttonhole on the inside cuff of each mitten. I sew a corresponding button (which is the exact size of the buttonholes on their gloves) on their coat or jacket sleeve so that when they take them off, they can attach them to the jacket. This way the mittens are never lost.

Another thing it does is remind the child to put his mittens on! Especially when mother is not there to tell him!—Constance

• • •

Dear Heloise:

Instead of having a Christmas tree "burning" ceremony after the holidays, we have a Christmas tree "planting" ceremony.

For approximately the same price as a cut tree—except that it is smaller—we buy a live potted tree and put it on our table.

No dropping needles, no drying out, and after the holiday we have a lovely new tree to plant in our yard and we even leave the popcorn strings on the tree . . . for the birds.—Pearl

• • •

Dear Heloise:

When making a salad, many people object to using onion in pieces. I grate the amount to be used and add it to my dressing, mix well and then pour this over the salad. This gives the flavor of onion but still no one bites into a big piece of it.—Pauline

• • •

Dear Pauline:

Did you ever try cutting an onion in half before removing the skin and juicing it as you would a lemon on a hand juicer? This way you get pure onion juice.

Also for those who do not like to swallow chunks of onion, when making a salad (and all you want is a little bit of flavor) cut an onion in fourths (this is especially good for potato salad) and just lay it in the salad itself for a while.

Those who like the onion can grab the big chunks, those who don't like it can set it aside, still get the flavor, and just keep eating . . . Heloise

Stitching Is Easy On Character Doll Gifts

Little girls and dolls just naturally go together at Christmas time . . . and even little boys take to whimsical character dolls like sailors or clowns.

For the youngster on your gift list add a trio of lovable stuffed dolls. They're easy to make and will give you lots of sewing fun.

All three can be made from the same basic pattern. They are so simple that you can draw your own on brown paper. The dolls measure 20 inches in height and can be stuffed with cotton batting.

To make a basic pattern, draw the head and body in one piece measuring 11 inches in over-all length and five inches in width. Add one-half inch seam allowance. Then draw separate patterns for arms and legs, making the arms five inches long and the legs 10 inches. Again, add a one-half inch seam allowance.

Use white cotton satin for the body, cutting front and back sections from same pattern. Stitch around arms on three sides, turn, and stuff with batting. Stitch in position to front side of doll's body at seam line. Make legs in same manner and attach to front of body.

Then sew front and back sections of body together, leaving an opening on one side under the arm for stuffing. Slip-stitch opening.

TRIO OF DOLLS

STITCHED, STUFFED

With your basic dolls stitched and stuffed, you can now create different types by varying their costumes, hair-dos, and facial features. And this is where the fun comes in . . . apply your imagination to give each doll a distinct personality.

Here are three possible variations:

Make a true sailor lad by fashioning a nautical suit with bell-bottom trousers from bright blue cotton fabric. For his sea-going pullover, sew narrow red and white ribbon in stripes on the nautical dickey and use red ribbon to trim the sailor collar. Add V-shaped stripes on his left sleeve, setting your sewing machine for a wide satin stitch. Use red thread for two of the stripes, and white for the one in the center. Shape a French-type sailor cap from blue fabric, and finish it off with a red pompon which you can snip from cotton ball fringe.

For a lovable little girl doll, outfit her in a floral - printed dress, lace-trimmed pantalets, and a saucy cap. Make a simple sleeveless dress by gathering fabric at neckline and edging with lace. Add ribbon ties at back to make it easy for young mothers to dress and undress the doll. Use solid-colored batiste for dainty, lace-trimmed pantalets and run a narrow elastic band through the top hem. Crown dolly's head with bright yellow braids, made by plaiting seven strands of cotton yard. The mopsy cap is a simple circle of printed cotton dress fabric, edged with a lace-bordered two-inch ruffle of the solid-colored pantalet fabric.

CLOWN DOLL

Every child loves a clown doll and his costume is one of the easiest to make. Choose a brightly colored polka dot cotton and gather at ankles, wrists, and neck. A gathered ruffle in contrasting fabric shapes a face-framing collar, and red pompons trim his dunce cap.

To make facial features and shoes for each of the dolls, use scraps from your sewing basket and handtack in place.

Beautiful Hanoi Drab With Communist Rule

EDITOR'S NOTE — Much is written about South Viet Nam, but what of the other Viet Nam, the area above the 17th parallel that is ruled by Communists? Westerners rarely get into this area. Here is a report based on the accounts of diplomats and others who have been in North Viet Nam recently.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — "Somehow Communists just don't seem to approve of nice things," said a traveler who had passed through the North Vietnamese capital, Hanoi.

"Hanoi is basically one of the most graceful, beautiful cities in Asia, and yet the Communists have somehow managed to make it seem drab and ugly."

Despite acute agricultural problems, no one in Hanoi's 300,000 population seems to be starving. Plenty of fruit and vegetables are on the market stands.

BOULEVARDS

In the cool evening hours crowds stroll the wide, tree-lined boulevards, and young couples sit and talk in Hanoi's parks. If a worker has done all right on his production quota, he may have enough certificates to take his girl to dinner at one of the few state restaurants where well-prepared food is available.

There is little else in the Hanoian's life to lighten the monotony of existence—no bars, cafes or coffee shops. The old French opera house is the National Assembly building.

There's lots of propaganda to read or listen to, of course.

People talk about the war in South Viet Nam, and everyone seems convinced the Communist-led National Liberation Front — Viet Cong — eventually will throw out the "American imperialists."

ATROCITIES

Many residents seem to have accepted the Communist charges of American atrocities in the south.

Propaganda exhibits range from spy trials to baskets of animals allegedly killed by exposure to the American "poison gas campaign against the southern people."

For the past six months, tribunals in Hanoi have been processing scores of Vietnamese prisoners charged as "American puppet spy commandoes," supposedly infiltrated to organize an anti-Communist guerrilla campaign.

If such a campaign actually had begun in the provinces, there are no symptoms of it in Hanoi.

"But the spy trials are interesting," a foreign observer said. "They seem almost like the U2 spy trial in Moscow. Some officials seem a little embarrassed, having to admit that North Vietnamese defenses are weak enough to permit spies in."

Because of rigid state security and constant police surveillance, few people have any good idea about the capabilities of North Viet Nam's army.

A scheduled parade of mechanized army units through Hanoi was canceled recently. Some observers believe shortages of gasoline and oil are the reason.

The North Vietnamese war machine seems to be riding high, however. Large units are believed still playing a major role in Laos, and the Viet Cong in the south certainly is getting support.

PRESIDENT

Political problems may lie ahead. President Ho Chi Minh is 73 and reported ailing. His public appearances are rare. No one in North Viet Nam seems anywhere near the stature of the old Bolshevik. "Uncle Ho's" death may create a power struggle.

The likeliest contenders are Premier Pham Van Don, a veteran political infighter, and Gen. Vo Nugyen Giap, hero of the battle of Dien Bien Phu and Hanoi's defense minister.

One of the issues in future power-struggles certainly will be whether North Viet Nam is to remain an isolated "neutralist" in the Communist camp, or whether it will actively embrace the Chinese line. North Vietnamese relations with the Soviet Union have been correct but cool.

DAILY LIFE

High politics apparently has little to do with daily life in Hanoi.

Shortages of most consumer goods keep people working long hours. Majestic villas once owned by the French are badly in need of paint. Cars are owned only by high officials or foreigners. When an American car belonging to some neutralist embassy drives through the swarms of bicycles and pedestrians it causes a stir.

Clothing seen in the streets is generally immaculately clean but faded, and showing many signs of mending.

Only a handful of women whose positions involve dealing with foreigners are authorized to buy enough material to make the flowing Vietnamese dress. Everyone else wears the baggy black trousers and white blouses of the poor and peasant classes.

If there is popular dissatisfaction with the austere regime, no hint of it ever reaches foreign ears. Foreigners have virtually no contact with anyone but officials. A worker who talks to a foreigner faces immediate arrest.

Potential Workers Must Have A Card

"Housewives and students who expect to get temporary jobs during the Christmas season should be sure they have social security cards when they apply for a job. Many employers insist that a worker have such a card before he may be put to work." This is the advice of Erven Fisher, district manager for Social Security in Big Spring.

Fisher explained that it normally takes 10 days to process applications for social security account numbers through the records center in Baltimore, Md.

"In emergencies," he said, "we can shorten this period by sending a telegram at the worker's expense for the number. We can also issue temporary work cards to be used while we are checking an application through our records center."

The social security district office at 700 Runnels, Big Spring, phone AM 4-5226, will mail out an account number application to anyone requesting it.

Anderson Given Life For Killing State Cop

FORT WORTH (AP)—A jury assessed a life term Tuesday for Jerry Don Anderson, after he pleaded guilty to the slaying of a state highway patrolman June 8.

The verdict was returned after 80 minutes of deliberation by a jury of nine men and three women.

Anderson, 27, was charged in the shooting death at Gainesville of Kenneth Harrison, 37. The officer was shot five times in the back as he drove three persons to jail following a disturbance call.

State law required Anderson, a one-legged ex-convict, to enter his plea of guilty before a jury, since he was charged with a capital offense.

Classing Office Has Busy Week

LAMESA (SC) — The Lamesa cotton classing office has classed 147,509 bales so far this season after its busiest period last week when 24,531 bales were classed. The Dawson County bale count is 118,082 bales.

Classing office officials indicated that the count last week was less than expected, because about 20 per cent of area bins are selling cotton without classification.

Meet Judge

Students from the Big Spring YMCA making a trip to Austin Thursday to take part in Youth and Government Days receive their commission from County Judge Lee Porter. Judge Porter signs the commission for each local delegate. These will later be stamped with the seal of the governor in Austin.

School District May Take Property For Back Taxes

The Big Spring Independent School District may soon take title to numerous pieces of property on which taxes have not been paid.

Trustees at Tuesday's regular meeting discussed the delinquent taxes for more than two hours, but took no action. This decision will be made following a status report on each delinquent account at the January meeting by John Burgess, tax attorney.

Delinquent taxes through Monday totaled $183,604.81, with $120,585.72 of it more than one year in arrears. Back taxes owed for the years 1958 and before total $42,674.77.

Handling of delinquent accounts also came under fire, with the recommendation by J. O. Hagood, tax assessor, and Pat Murphy, assistant superintendent for business, that the contract of Burgess be terminated and other arrangements be made to handle the accounts on the grounds that Burgess has not lived up to the terms of his contract. Further clouding the issue is the fact that the contract betwen Burgess and the district is extremely vague on handling of the accounts and payment for the service. Burgess began collecting the accounts July 1, 1959.

Burgess Tuesday told board members that it had been his belief that each year's delinquent accounts would be added to his contract when they became delinquent. Trustees, however, have been under the impression that the addition of each year's accounts was contingent on clearing the backlog of accounts for 1958 and previous years.

From March through June of 1959 some 432 suits were filed against owners of property on which taxes were delinquent. To date 312 of the cases have been cleared. Judgment has not been taken in the remaining 120 suits.

Burgess proposed that the school foreclose on the property and take it for the amount of delinquent taxes or at its fair market value and that suits on which judgment cannot be taken be cleared from the books.

S. M. Anderson, superintendent, also proposed that a policy be formulated for handling of future delinquent accounts. It was the feeling of board members, and of Burgess, that court action be taken should taxes become more than two years delinquent. At that point each property owner should be given proper notice through three letters and, if the taxes are not paid, suit should be filed and the property sold at auction.

Too, Burgess requested that something be done to make him eligible for a collection fee for back taxes collected for the years 1959-62. Currently, he receives 15 per cent of the amount collected for 1958 and previous years. In 1959 he received $4,212.90; in 1960 $3,774.06; in 1961 $485.38 and in 1962 $224.81. Accounts which have been relatively easy to collect are now cleared and judgment will probably have to be taken to collect in the remaining cases.

One of the reasons for taking judgment in these cases is to get the property back into the hands of persons who pay their taxes. Should the school take the property for taxes, it could be sold for that amount, or perhaps more, clearing the account and putting the property back into circulation.

At the next meeting Burgess will present a progress report on each account for which taxes are delinquent for 1958 and previous years. At that time trustees will determine which to drop from the rolls as uncollectible, which should be foreclosed and what action should be taken in the future to keep the rolls comparatively current.

Clubs To Help Kettle Drive

Christmas weather has arrived and with it the Salvation Army is stepping up its appeal for funds to carry out a program of Christmas giving. Through today 285 applications had been received for Christmas food baskets and more are expected before the closeout date Friday.

"The demand is as we anticipated, but donations from the Christmas Kettles and from the letter appeal are far behind the need," Capt. William Thomas, commander of the local Salvation Army Post, said.

To date $700 has been received from these two sources. About $3,500 will be needed to cover expenses of the program.

Local service clubs will begin lending their assistance Saturday by manning Christmas Kettles. The Kiwanis will handle the work that day.

Optimists will man the Kettles Dec. 17, the Noon Lions Dec. 18, the Rotary Club Dec. 19, the American Business Club Dec. 20 and the Evening Lions Dec. 21.

Toys and food baskets will be distributed Dec. 23 from the warehouse at Second and Nolan.

Hi-Y'ers To Attend Annual Youth Event

Seventeen Big Spring youths will represent the local YMCA Thursday through Sunday during Youth and Government in Austin.

Going from here will be Baxter Moore, Charlotte Shive, Bill Worley, Patty Haralson, Dick Irons, Gary Fish, Tommie Lou Hutto, Andrea Askins, Beverly Womack, Rick Robertson, Mike McAlister, Terry Cauble, Sue Cook, Coye Conner, Lynn Heith, Robert Gossett and Nancy Hedleston.

The Big Spring clubs have five bills which will appear in the Bill Book during the program. This is more bills, for the number of clubs, than for any other city in the state.

Bills include an amendment providing for a thirteenth, or alternate juror, an act prohibiting use and sale of re-grooved tires and an act making it compulsory for motor vehicles to have safety belts. Clubs have been in the process of drafting the bills since the start of this school semester. They were approved for presentation in Austin during a Pre-Legislative Conference held in Abilene during November.

Dick Irons, of the Theta Kappa Senior Hi-Y, will be chairman of a committee on conservation and public safety bills, and Tommie Lou Hutto will be clerk of that committee. Bill Worley was elected to serve on the elections committee and Patty Haralson was elected to the legislators' council.

The election of a Youth Legislature governor will take place Thursday evening. Senators will be administered the oath of office by Associate Justice James R. Norvell and representatives by Associate Justice Meade Griffin, both of the Texas Supreme Court. Attorney General Waggoner Carr, chairman of the YMCA Hi-Y Youth and Government Program, will address the Senate and House in joint session Friday morning.

Adults accompanying the Big Spring delegation will be Mrs. Jimmy Harper, Mrs. Jerry Cockrell, Mrs. Celia Terry, Mrs. Robert Fuller, Mrs. R. L. Heith, R. G. Robertson, and Wade Choate.

The plaintiff's case has been made up largely of depositions which have been read to the jury. The case began Monday afternoon.

Court attaches said there is a good chance it will be completed Thursday.

The case grows out of a fire last January in which the plaintiff's Coahoma lumber yard was destroyed by fire. The plaintiff alleges the fire was caused by sparks from the gin company bur burner.

No Movie Career For Her

Pretty 20-year-old Penny Pasco, a third-year student nurse at Los Angeles County General Hospital, says she doesn't want a career in the movies. Columbia Pictures officials say they offered Miss Pasco a contract and role in their movie, "The New Interns," when they spotted her on duty during location filming at the hospital. But she turned 'em down flat, adding: "I feel I can perform a more useful service as a nurse!" (AP WIREPHOTO)

Trustees OK Pact For Oil Valuation

Pritchard and Abbott, valuation engineers, Tuesday were given a new contract to evaluate oil and related properties in the Big Spring Independent School District.

The contract calls for performance of the service for a flat fee of $6,500 a year for a two-year period. Previously, the firm has performed the service for five cents for each $100 of valuation.

Prior to annexation of the Gay Hill and Center Point schools, there was very little oil property in the district. The fee of the present contract would have been exorbitant. As an alternative, Pritchard and Abbott proposed to evaluate the properties on a contingent basis at a rate of three cents on each $100 valuation, which would have cost the district about $7,400 a year.

Pritchard and Abbott currently performs the same service for the county at the rate of 4½ cents for each $100 of assessed valuation.

Earl Bruce and Jim Rapier appeared before the board to make the propcsal.

Resignation of Mrs. Barbara Gillis, first-grade teacher at Marcy Elementary School, was accepted effective Nov. 27. Her replacement is Mrs. Lora Warren.

Sixteen teachers and administrators were appointed to the textbook coomittee for 1963-64. They are S. M. Anderson, chairman, C. L. Ainsworth, Hubert Murphy, Joseph Dawes, Frank Medley, Tom Henry, Bernard Rains, Pat Lawrence, Elizabeth Johnson, Mrs. Bobby Grant, Mrs. Betty Lou Green, Douglas Wiehe, Helen Lidstone, Ione McAlister, Bob Kelley and Sebron B. Williams, a non-voting member.

Dan Conley was reappointed census trustee for the 1963 school census.

Trustees voted to send a letter of thanks to the Washington P-TA for donation of 100 bicycle racks at that school. Each rack is valued at $2.

Discussion of the school district's proposed building program was postponed because of a lack of time Tuesday. Currently the architects, Atcheson, Atkinson and Fox, are waiting on a topographical survey of the high school campus before pursuing their planning any further.

Council Studies Problem Of New Chief Of Police

STANTON — S. W. Wheeler and Albert A. Johnson took the oath of office as mayor and councilman at a special meeting of the Stanton city council Tuesday night. They were elected at a special election Dec. 3. Juil Reid, councilman, was named as mayor pro-tem at the same meeting.

The council considered appointment of a chief of police at the meeting, and decided to call two of the men formerly interviewed back for personal conferences at 7 p.m. Dec. 16.

"The man named is the whole police force, office secretary as well as bookkeeper," City Secretary Harvey White said Wednesday morning. "The council wants to be certain that the right man is employed because it is a hard job. Two applications have been received since the first interviews were held early in the month, and these will also be given personal interviews."

White said the office was supposed to be filled by Jan. 1. He also said the city offices would be closed for the holidays Dec. 24 and 25, and Jan. 1, except for emergency calls.

Assault Charged

A charge of assault with intent to murder has been filed against Harold Ray Anderton in the court of Justice Jess Slaughter. The complaint alleges that Anderton made an attack on T. H. Hopper Dec. 9.

Carrying Arms Case Under Way

Eugene Moten, charged with carrying arms, is on trial before a county court jury in Howard County Criminal Court today.

His case was called for trial when that of Albert Rodriguez, slated for disposition, was passed. It was reported that Rodriguez might enter a plea of guilty to the complaint against him. He is accused of possession of barbiturates. His case was one time tried, appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals and reversed by that court.

Operetta Planned

FORSAN — An operetta, "Christmas For Others," will be presented by the Forsan elementary school Dec. 19 at 2 p.m. in the high school auditorium-gymnasium. The high school chorus will sing selected Christmas carols. The public is invited to attend.

Weather Forecast

Precipitation should cover much of the eastern half of the nation Wednesday night. Occasional rain will fall along the Gulf states and extreme southern Plains into portions of the south Atlantic states, with snow from the eastern Plains to the Appalachians. Heavy snow warnings have been issued for parts of the east-central Plains and the mid-Mississippi valley, with flurries expected over the northern Plains and eastern Rockies. It will be clear in the western states and quite cold generally, for this time of year. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Students To Attend Odessa Symposium

Outstanding students of this area will attend a symposium on atomic energy Saturday on the Odessa Junior College campus. Some 600 are expected and will be luncheon guests of Texas Electric Service Company, which is sponsoring the event with the college.

The all-day conference will feature some of the nation's leading scientists. Among students in this TESCO district planning to attend are those from Howard County Junior College, Big Spring, Garden City, Forsan, Lamesa and Dawson High Schools.

"It is our hope that this program will not only be informative," said R. L. Beale, TESCO district manager, "but that it may inspire some students to consider science as a career."

The Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation, of which TESCO is a member, has arranged the program. The foundation is composed of 10 investor-owned electric utility companies in Texas. It is engaged in a program of nuclear fusion research with the General Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corporation seeking to harness the energy process of the hydrogen bomb for peaceful purposes, including the generation of electric power.

An respected nuclear scientist, Dr. John H. Malmberg, group leader of the fusion research project, will appear on the symposium program. He is from General Atomic's John Jay Hopkins Laboratory in San Diego, Calif., where the fusion research is being carried out.

Other speakers at the conference will include Dr. W. O. Milligan, president of the TCU Research Foundation; Dr. B. H. Amstead, associate dean, college of engineering, University of Texas; Dr. Harold P. Hanson, professor of physics, University of Texas; and Howard R. Drew, executive vice president, Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation. Beeman Fisher, TESCO president, will help welcome the visitors.

The program will also include a film showing progress in fusion research at General Atomic and will conclude with a panel session on careers in science and college science curricula.

DR. JACK H. MALMBERG

Nuclear fusion is the process which provides the power for the hydrogen bomb and is responsible for the energy of the sun and the stars. The foundation program is the world's first and largest privately - financed project in the field of controlled fusion research.

Kiwanis To Install Officers

Big Spring Kiwanis Club will not hold its luncheon meeting Thursday in the Settles Hotel but will meet Friday at 7 p.m. in the Cosden Country Club for the annual installation banquet.

All Kiwanians and their wives are urged to attend. Dell Barber, Colorado City, lieutenant governor for the 23rd Kiwanis International District, of which Big Spring is a unit, will be installing officer.

New president of the club to be installed is Rev. V. Ward Jackson. He will succeed Soc Walker, presently holding the office. Others to be installed are Bob Travis, first vice president; Clyde Hollingsworth, second vice president; Bill Johnson, secretary-treasurer; Jack Alexander, Ed Corson, Roscoe Newell and Jim Thompson, directors.

All Kiwanians are urged to attend. A special program will be offered, in addition to the installation ceremonies.

Fire Code Is Approved

City Commissioners Tuesday passed an ordinance adopting a Fire Prevention Code for the City of Big Spring. Approval of two additional readings of the ordinance is necessary before it becomes law.

The code is contained in a 210 page booklet which has been sanctioned by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Approval came after City Manager Larry Crow said, "The State Fire Insurance Commission has been wanting us to adopt this for some time."

Various provisions of the code sparked considerable discussion. Commissioner John Stanley said that permits would be required "for several different things." Fire Chief H. V. Crocker described the code as "rigid." Commissioner Arnold Marshall and Fire Marshal A. D. Meador said discretion would have to be used in the enforcement of the code.

Commissioner Stanley noted that a permit would be required for storing more than 15 cases of matches. Mayor George J. Zachariah observed that a sprinkler system would be required in some instances.

The code also provides for a control board. Crocker pointed out the board is already provided for in the existing organization of the fire department.

Optimists Get Member Pins

Membership pins were given to Jess Looney and Wayne Gray at Wednesday morning's breakfast meeting of the Optimist Club. New members, Sidney Clark and Mal Korchenko, were also present for their first meeting.

President W. D. (Slim) Broughton, told the 29 members and guests, Jim Hyman, Lt. Tony Giardina and Doyle Crick, the Optimists' one significant fund-raising project, the sale of Christmas trees, was proceeding at a normal pace.

"Approximately 75 per cent of the cost of the trees has been returned," he said. "If the club's motto, 'Friend of the Boy,' is to be maintained, a little extra time by all members will have to be put in to see that trees are sold during the next week."

Alert At Webb

A practice alert was in operation at Webb AFB today. Only Webb was involved in this particular test, officials said. Alert practices are frequently called in order that all persons on the base will be kept intimately familiar with their duties.

Los Angeles Legal Eagle To Aid Ruby

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A Californian considered one of the nation's foremost trial lawyers will head the defense staff at the murder trial of Jack Ruby, who killed the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Melvin Belli — pronounced Bell-eye — of Los Angeles and San Francisco, said Tuesday night he was undertaking Ruby's defense "and I'm going to lead on it."

Belli, author of 28 law books and a past president of the American Academy of Trial Lawyers, said Ruby, 52, would plead innocent by reason of insanity.

NO CHANGE

Asked if he believed Ruby could receive a fair trial in Dallas, Belli said: "There is no assumption that he cannot." He said there was no plan at present to ask a change of venue.

Ruby's trial for murder in the shooting of Lee Howard Oswald, 24, the accused assassin, is set for Feb. 3 before Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown of Dallas.

Brown said three national networks or their affiliates have asked to televise the trial.

"I've done a lot of thinking and praying about it," he said, "but I don't know about it yet."

CRITICIZED

Brown, 55, a bulky man with graying, wavy brown hair, predicted he would be criticized widely regardless of what he decides about television.

Ruby shot Oswald before a nationwide television audience Nov. 24 as he was being transferred from Dallas' City Hall to the county jail, where Ruby now is held without bond.

Belli said relatives of Ruby contacted him soon afterward but he could not commit himself then. One reason, he said, was a murder trial in Los Angeles which went to a jury Tuesday.

"I also wanted to be certain that there was no connection between Jack Ruby and Oswald, or between Ruby and anybody else," Belli said.

CONSPIRACY

Belli said he did not believe Ruby "was just a publicity seeker" and he was convinced Ruby had no association with Oswald or any conspiracy.

After talking to Ruby in his cell, Belli said: "He's sincere, disturbed and troubled. He's not all the type of man I expected."

In the lineup for Ruby's defense with Belli are Sam S. Brody, 37, a Los Angeles legal associate; Joe Tonahill, 55, Jasper, Tex., another associate; and Dallas lawyers Tom Howard and Jim Martin.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade of Dallas has said he will ask the death penalty for Ruby.

Little Change In Enrollment

Little change was noted in enrollment for Big Spring public schools last week, with the total showing a loss of only two at week's end. Enrollment in all grades was 7,565 pupils.

The student population at this point is 89 above the same report period of last year, when there were 7,476 pupils in the district.

By school, enrollments Friday were: Airport 498, up one; Bauer 524, down three; Boydstun 485, down six; Cedar Crest 293, down four; College Heights 456, up eight; Gay Hill 117, down four; Kate Morrison 241, up three; Kentwood 113, no change; Lakeview 201, up one; Marcy 532, up six; Park Hill 251, no change; Washington 690, no change; Goliad 808, up four; Lakeview Junior High 69, no change; Runnels 851, down six; Senior High 1,283, down two; and Special Education 153, no change.

Bridge Completion Due In A Week

Work on the culvert type bridge being constructed over Big Spring Creek on Birdwell Lane should be completed in about a week, according to public works director Ernest Lillard.

The work is being done by the J. D. Jones Construction Company. The contract called for completion within 60 days. There are still about 20 days remaining for completion, Lillard said.

"Rainy weather should not hamper the work," Lillard said.

Policemen Net Almost $600

The first Policeman's Ball held at Cosden Country Club last month, netted a profit of $593.80, according to the police fund committee.

Cost for a band, printing and miscellaneous expenses totaled $370.20. Gross proceeds were $964. Committee members said a part of the proceeds will be used to finance a Christmas party for policemen and their families. The remainder will go to Boy Scout Troop 301, sponsored by the police department.

Friend Says Oswald's Wife Great Admirer Of Kennedy

DALLAS (AP) — The housewife who sheltered the family of President Kennedy's accused assassin says Marina Oswald was a great admirer of the nation's chief executive.

Mrs. Ruth Paine, who took Russian-born Mrs. Lee Harvey Oswald into her home at nearby Irving for two months, told about the Oswalds' family life in an interview Tuesday with newsman Wes Wise of Dallas station KRLD-TV.

On the day of the assassination, Mrs. Paine said she arose before Mrs. Oswald and her children, turned on the television set so they could watch Kennedy's arrival, and took her own young daughter to the dentist.

ADMIRATION

"I left the television on for Marina," Mrs. Paine said, "because I knew of the great admiration she had for the President."

Before the day ended Oswald was arrested and charged with killing both Kennedy and Policeman J. D. Tippit. About 48 hours later a nationwide television audience and scores of newsmen saw Jack Ruby, Dallas striptease joint owner, kill Oswald.

Mrs. Paine said Mrs. Oswald came to live with her Sept. 24 because Oswald was out of work and worried about their new baby, expected in about a month.

Mrs. Oswald now is held in protective custody of the U. S. Secret Service at an undisclosed spot.

TWO CHILDREN

Mrs. Paine said when they learned a hidden rifleman had killed the President, Mrs. Oswald was almost overcome with grief and remarked how "awful it will be for Mrs. Kennedy to raise those two little children without a father."

Mrs. Paine said she and her husband met the Oswalds at a party before the Oswalds left Dallas to live briefly in New Orleans.

Oswald didn't try to argue about his Marxist beliefs, she said, but just stated them as settled fact.

"She had no political beliefs," Mrs. Paine said of Oswald's wife, adding that "Marina was mostly interested in her children."

Mrs. Paine said she never noticed anything wrong with Oswald that "could have matched his later actions." She said the couple seemed normal in their relations and "I never saw anything that made me think he'd mistreat her."

She said Marina often referred tenderly to how upset Oswald appeared when she went into labor with her first child—daughter June, now 23 months old—when the child was born in Russia.

QUAKER GROUP

Mrs. Paine said she was a pacifist and once worked with a Quaker group which helped arrange student exchanges between other countries and the United States. She learned a bit of Russian in college but was learning more by talking to Marina Oswald, who was learning English.

The Irving housewife called Marina "quite a bright girl," with a Latin vocabulary from her pharmaceutical training in Russia.

"She wanted to learn English so she could get a job, perhaps in a laboratory," Mrs. Paine added.

Smiling in recollection, Mrs. Paine said Oswald seemed to keep most of his thoughts to himself, seldom displaying a light mood except when he played with his children.

RENTED ROOM

"He seemed particularly fond of little Junie," she said.

Oswald had a rented room in Dallas but visited his family at the Paine home.

She told of teaching Oswald in recent weeks to drive a car, recalling he was "not so good at driving at first but learned rather easily."

Asked if she believed he was engaged in any conspiracy to kill the President, she replied:

"No, I think there was not (any conspiracy). He was such a lone, ineffective person and nobody to be trusted by a group."

Released On Bond

Alfonze Aquila Flores, accused of burglary, has posted $1,500 bond and has been released from custody. Mike Graham, charged with car burglary, has been apprehended and bond set at $1,500. He had not posted bond at noon.

Trial Slated In Tiny Room

DALLAS (AP) — If present plans hold, a great legal drama of this century will be played in a small, intimate courtroom a stone's throw from where President Kennedy was assassinated.

In this courtroom Jack Ruby is scheduled to go on trial Feb. 3 for the murder of the man accused of killing the President, Lee Harvey Oswald.

Newsmen from around the world are expected here to see Texas justice meted out to the pudgy, emotional Ruby, 52, whose crime was witnessed by millions of TV viewers.

58 PERSONS

But the small courtroom seats only 58 persons outside the rail. The area for lawyers, defendants and bailiffs is even smaller.

Obviously, it is not an ideal place to hold a trial of worldwide interest. But to move the case to a large, more suitable courtroom might bring cries of "circus."

The walls of Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown's courtroom are paneled with yellow pine, now yellowed by age and smoke. Tables, bench and spectators' seats all are of yellow wood. The green tile floor and the green walls above the paneling afford some color relief.

LARGE SEAL

Brown, a big, handsome man, sits in a black, upholstered chair in front of a large seal of the state of Texas. His bench is raised only slightly.

Those unfamiliar with Texas court procedure probably will find Ruby's trial relaxed and informal. State courts — and Brown's has been no exception — evidence little of the austerity of federal courts.

It was only recently that Dallas judges donned judical robes. Previously business suits were standard attire.

RELAXATION

Brown, 55, deliberately cultivates an atmosphere of relaxation. After four heart attacks he knows he must take it easy. A pipe and cigar smoker, he lets principals and spectators smoke in court.

Lawyers like him. He usually allows them a good deal of give-and-take, and often participates himself.

Talking about his dislike of stilted courtroom procedure, Brown explains:

"The law is based on common sense. There isn't anything so technical but what the court can't explain it to the jury and witnesses. I want the jury panel to be relaxed — to feel they are among friends.

COMMON SENSE

"There's nothing mystic about a trial. All the jury has to do is handle the common sense end of the law. I'll take care of the technicalities. I want them to apply their human experience to the facts."

Ruby will be tried by the state. The federal government has no law against murder except in special circumstances, and this is not one of them.

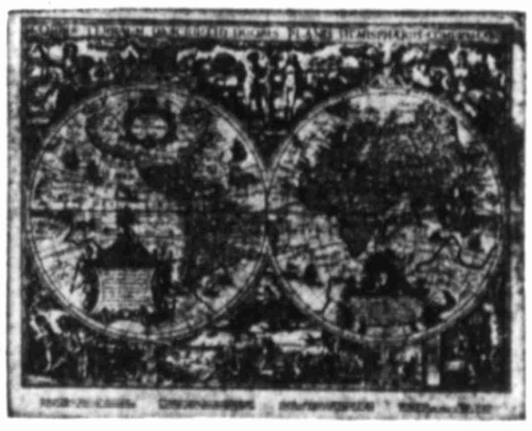

From the time he was elected a justice of the peace here in 1935, Brown estimates he has tried more than 30,000 cases. The Ruby trial, of course, will be his biggest yet.

They're Building Space Engines

North American Aviation released this picture today, saying it's the first photo made public on the thrust chamber production line at its Canoga Park, Calif., plant where they're building the hydrogen-fueled J-2 rocket engine. North American says the J-2 will supply power in the upper stage of the Saturn IB, to launch the first orbital flights of three astronaunts. And plans call for the J-2 to be used in the Saturn V, to fly the Apollo spacecraft on its trip to the moon. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Oil Compact To Be Led By Campbell

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Election of one of the staunchest supporters of a comprehensive but controversial study of oil conservation practices as chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission was expected today.

Gov. Jack Campbell, New Mexico Democrat, was the only candidate being mentioned as successor to Gov. Matthew Welsh of Indiana as the 33-state commission began the final session of its annual meeting.

Campbell is a member of the special committee of eight governors who next year will draft recommendations based on the oil conservation efficiency study requested by Interior Secretary Steward Udall.

MEMBERSHIP

Election of Campbell as commission chairman probably would not affect the present membership of the study committee. Compact officials said Welsh was likely to continue as chairman of the study group and Campbell would retain membership in the group.

Campbell, 47, is a former executive secretary of the New Mexico Oil & Gas Association and general counsel of the Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association of New Mexico.

No controversial resolutions were expected at the final session although the Texas delegation was known to be drafting a proposal on oil imports.

OIL IMPORTS

The commission has made definite recommendations on restricting oil imports in the past, but there was some feeling new action today might be inadvisable in that it could conflict with recommendations to be made later by the efficiency study group.

Campbell described the efficiency study Tuesday as a very strenuous and worthwhile effort to develop a historic oil and gas conservation document. He said he is confident the study will make the compact's contributions to conservation even more valuable.

A FORUM

The interstate advisory body, established in 1935, serves as a forum on oil and gas conservation matters. It can submit recommendations to member states but each state may accept or reject as it desires.

Welsh said Tuesday he expects the governors' committee to draft a monumental document.

"Although the ultimate goal and purpose of the study is to assist the states in more effective conservation practices, the principal beneficiaries will be the oil and gas industry and the consuming public that utilizes the products," he said.

Christmas Buildup Begins For Mail

The first 10 days of December have seen 663,729 pieces of mail handled at the Big Spring Post Office, E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said today.

He noted that for the period Dec. 1-25, 1962, the total pieces of mail handled by the office was 2,925,711.

The big build-up in Christmas mail is now under way. With a fifth of the volume of last Christmas already in the mail bags, Boatler anticipates that a new record could be scored for Christmas mail volume.

The lobby of the post office is assuming a typical Christmas season appearance. The flood of Christmas cards, the cataract of Yuletide packages have made their appearance.

The flow of mail, Boatler said, is about the same this year as last year.

He warned that gift parcels to distant points sent now should be by airmail if the sender wants to guarantee their arrival ahead of the holiday.

He also said that a considerable number of packages are being offered at the office which are not properly wrapped to insure safe delivery. He urges that the senders make certain their gifts are securely packed.

He also stressed again the importance of using 5-cent stamps (he recommends the new Christmas tree special issue) for all Christmas cards. He recommends that return addresses be placed on all such cards in order that they can be returned if delivery at their scheduled destination fails.

Another Enters Sheriff's Race

LAMESA (SC) — J. A. (Shorty) Hancock, native Lamesan and former deputy sheriff, has announced his candidacy for the Dawson County sheriff's position in next year's Democratic primary. He will oppose incumbent Henry Mayfield.

Hancock, who is presently serving as assistant chief of police until Dec. 31, 1963, has nine years experience in law enforcement. He was in the truck business 21 years and has farmed. He owns farm land in Dawson and Martin counties.

A World War II veteran, Hancock is married and is a member of a pioneer Dawson County family. The community of Hancock was named for his grandfather, J. A. Hancock.

Commissioners Call For Higher Rates At Cemetery

City commissioners Tuesday delayed action on an ordinance establishing a permanent care city cemetery. City manager Larry Crow was requested to work out a new set of higher rates for services provided.

The ordinance would make it possible for the city to enter into a contract with the Masonic and IOOF Lodges for operation of the cemetery as a permanent care type. Spokesmen for the Masons indicated the lodge would deed cemetery lots over to the city in exchange for upkeep.

Commissioner John Stanley objected to the use of the term "perpetual care." He suggested "permanent care" be substituted for the term as the city does not wish to compete with the private cemetery.

Ray Nichols, local cemetery official, said he wanted to know if all sections of the city cemetery would be operated under permanent care. Commissioners told him every section of the cemetery would be permanent care except for "Potter's Field" and the Catholic section.

Commissioners also suggested $150 be charged for inside lots and $175 for outside lots, $25 be put in a permanent fund for each grave opening or closing. In addition, commissioners suggested 50 per cent of the money received for lot sales be put in the permanent care fund with the remaining 50 per cent earmarked for maintenance expenses.

The present budget includes $14,625 for operation of the cemetery. Receipts are expected to bring in $10,030. This would leave a deficit of about $4,595.

Courthouse To Close Two Days

Howard County courthouse offices will be closed Dec. 24 and Dec. 25 in observation of the Christmas holiday. The offices will be closed one day only Jan 1.

These dates were set by the Howard County Commissioners Court.

The two-day holiday for Christmas applies to all county workers, including the road and bridge crew. The same rule applies for the New Year's Day layoff.

Rogers Rites Held Today

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Services for David Corley Rogers, 42, Colorado City stock farmer and dairyman, who died following a shotgun blast Tuesday morning, were set for 2 p.m. today at the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Darris Egger, pastor, officiated. Burial was in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

Mr. Rogers died about 7:30 a.m. Tuesday when the blast from a 12-gauge shotgun struck him in the head. Justice of the Peace T. E. Arnold, who investigated the accident along with Mitchell County Sheriff Lewis Claxton, said that it would be today or later before a verdict would be rendered.

Sheriff Claxton said the death occurred in a lane about three miles northwest of Colorado City, and near the Rogers' home. He said he believed that Rogers had seen a covey of quail, reached into his pickup and pulled the shotgun out by the barrel. The gun was discharged.

Mr. Rogers was born July 9, 1921 in the Cuthbert Community about nine miles northwest of Colorado City. He was a member of the First Methodist Church, and was a cavalry captain in World War II. He married Glenna Harwell June 28, 1947 in Colorado City. His father, Howard Rogers, died of a heart attack Nov. 9.

Survivors are the widow; two daughters, Lynda Rogers and Maxine Rogers; and his mother, Mrs. Sally Rogers, all of Colorado City.

C-City Man Hanged In Angelo Jail

COLORADO CITY (SC) — A metal clothes hanger formed the noose for a hanging in the Tom Green County Jail Tuesday morning. Clyde R. Thompson, 53, Colorado City man who had been in the jail since Dec. 4 on a worthless checking charge, improvised the noose, using the hook to slip over a bar. He was in another man's cell when he hanged himself.

Tom Green County Sheriff Cecil Turner said three other men, playing cards in a nearby cell, saw Thompson and called jailer Gene Hill.

Justice of the Peace O. L. Miller ordered an autopsy, but so far has withheld a verdict.

Thompson was born June 15, 1910 in Mitchell County. He was a farmer and a Baptist. Police records show him to be single.

Services were set for 4 p.m. today at Kiker and Son Funeral Chapel. Burial was in Colorado City Cemetery.

Survivors are his mother, Mrs. J. M. Thompson, Colorado City; four sisters, Mrs. Keith Miles and Mrs. Bill Gale, both of Colorado City, Mrs. Lester Webb, Loraine, and Mrs. Dorothy Taylor, Denver, Colo.; three brothers, C. E. Thompson, Midland, J. A. Thompson, Silver, and Leroy Thompson, Cherry Hill, N.J.

Club To Meet

Big Spring Coin Club will elect new officers at a meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Crawford Hotel building. All members of the club are urged to attend and take part in the election. Plans for a perty are also being made.

City To Take Bids On Two Big Projects

City Commissioners Tuesday authorized letting of bids on the Eleventh Place improvements project and the Beale's Creek sewer line. The bids will be opened at 2 p.m. Jan. 28.

Specifications on the Eleventh Place project indicate original cost estimates will be far below the actual cost. Clifton N. Bellamy, consulting engineer, presented the engineering plans and specifications to the commissioners.

Cost estimates were given for 44 and 64 foot widths of roadway base and retention dams from the 1400 block of Eleventh Place to about 150 feet east of the south end of Abrams Street. The construction cost of the 44 foot width would be about $128,630. Estimated cost of the 64 foot width would be $154,500. Commissioners noted the city has only about $80,000 in available bond funds for this improvement.

The city had planned to tie in the roadway with a flood control project with the road being laid out over the tops of the retention dams. Cost of paving is not included in the estimates. Engineering and contingencies at the rate of 15 per cent would boost the total estimated cost for the 64 foot width to $176,700 and the 44 foot width to $147,930.

Original plans called for the roadway base to be paved at a later date as funds become available. The retention dams would be fitted with six-inch to 12-inch pipes at the base to provide slow drainage of water.

Some 260,000 cubic yards of embankment at a cost of $130,000 would be required for the 64-foot width in addition to 20,000 cubic yards of core trench excavation at a cost of $10,000. Other costs would be: $10,400 for four 12-inch outlet structures, $2,400 for three six-inch outlet structures, and $1,700 for extension of two existing 12-inch outlet structures.

The 44-foot width would cost $105,000 for 210,000 cubic yards of embankment, and $10,000 for 20,000 cubic yards of core trench excavation. Other expenses would be: $9,920 for four 12-inch outlet structures, $2,250 for three six-inch outlet structures, and $1,460 for extension of two existing 12-inch structures.

This is the second letting of bids for the Beale's Creek sewer line. A low bid of $312,601, submitted about two years ago, was turned down due to the expense of the project, according to Mayor George J. Zachariah.

The sewer line would run from the city sewage plant southeast of town to the vicinity of Birdwell Lane and US 80 west to relieve sewage congestion in the downtown area. Some $60,000 in unused bond funds for paving has already been earmarked for improvements elsewhere.

Zachariah pointed out the city has about $225,000 in federal funds available for sewage improvements. This would still be about $87,000 less than the low bid figure submitted during the first letting of bids for the Beale Creek line.

Commissioners voted unanimously to hold the next meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 19 since the next regularly scheduled meeting would fall on Christmas Eve.

Choir Entertains Evening Lions

The Evening Lions Club marked Ladies Night Monday with a supper and Christmas program for 20 members and their wives.

Lions Bob Tawater and Bill Birrell arranged the program of Christmas songs by the Runnels Junior High School choir. The choir was directed by Mrs. F. C. Gambill, and was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Sims, one of the school's science teachers.

Eyssen Returned To City Bench

W. H. Eyssen Jr. was re-appointed Tuesday as judge of the municipal court. He had taken a leave of absence from the post after suffering a heart attack last spring.

City Commissioners, in taking this action, also commended John R. Coffee for filling the bench.

The reappointment becomes effective Jan. 1, 1964. Eyssen, in making the request, said his doctor assured him ". . . it will be all right for me to resume sitting as corporation judge. . ."

Dinner Planned

AUSTIN (AP)—Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and House Speaker Byron Tunnell will join supporters of State Rep. Ben Barnes of DeLeon at an appreciation dinner Dec. 17 in Brownwood

Zone Changes Are Approved

City Commissioners Tuesday approved on first reading three recommendations of the Planning and Zoning Board for zone changes.

Approved was (1) a request by Rendal Hamby for a change from two-family residential to neighborhood service at the southeast corner of Nolan and Seventh streets; (2) a request by Marshall Fields for a change from residential to retail for a 1.49 acre tract of land in the 2000 block of Birdwell Lane; and, (3) a request by Mrs. Johnnie D. Winham for a change from two-family residential to retail for her property at 904 Nolan (the entire half block was changed at the request of the owners).

There was some discussion of the change requested by Marshall Fields since two members of the Planning and Zoning Board had opposed the request.

Commissioners also approved on third reading, a zone change from one-family residential to retail for a 0.644 acre tract of land owned by Hank McDaniel. Another request by Hank McDaniel for a change from neighborhood service to retail for a 4.14 acre tract of land also was approved. Both tracts of the affected property are located at the southeast corner of Avondale and Wasson Road.

A Devotional For The Day

God so loved the world that he gave his only Son. (John 3:16. RSV.)

PRAYER: O God, who canst make of us new creations through Thine own Son, we look thankfully upon the works of Thy mercy. Cleanse us from all stains of sin that we may be new creatures in Christ Jesus, whom Thou didst send into the world to redeem us. In our Savior's name we ask. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

State Crime Rate Causes Concern

Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr is making a commendably intelligent and energetic effort to sharpen public concern for this state's alarmingly rising crime rate. It is difficult to awaken such concern, even more difficult to sustain it, but certainly concern is justified.

A comparison of Federal Bureau of Investigation and Texas Department of Public Safety analyses shows that during the first quarter of this year the overall crime rate in this state increased 12 per cent, against a nationa increase of only 7 per cent. As later figures become available they are expected to show that trend continuing.

The rising crime rate in Texas has been outrunning this state's surging population growth for some time. For example, the adult prison population more than doubled between 1947 and 1962—from 5,762 to 12,203—while total state population was increasing only by a fourth from 1950 to 1960.

Public concern about that is hard to stimulate and sustain because the causes of a soaring crime rate are so many, and means of combatting it so complex, that public opinion is confused on the problem. Concern is blunted by lack of understanding or agreement on what can be done about it, or it is frustrated by realization of the magnitude and multiplicity of the things that must be done.

Generally, Texas' rising crime rate reflects social and economic problems aggravated by rapid change, deteriorations in our moral climate and respect for rule of law, political irresponsibility, deficiencies in educational opportunity, in short, the lag in betterment of our society. Specifically, it reflects failure to maintain an adequate rate of improvement in state and local police systems, the administration of justice, criminal law and procedures, prison rehabilitation and parole supervision, juvenile correctional institutions, and all the rest of the machinery for preventing, policing, punishing and curtailing the repetition of crime.

That, roughly, is the formidable dimension of the problem posed by statistics on Texas' upward crime rate. Clearly it is a problem that must engage the attention of all responsible citizens and all constructive institutions, if the trend is to be reversed.

Performance Dulls Prospect

Tucked away among one of the many appropriations bills which should have been passed, by law, on or before July 1 is a Christmas present for Congress. It consists of a $10,000 a year increase in the salaries of senators and representatives.

There is no firm prospect at the moment that Congress will find time to pass this bill, just as there is no assurance that, in a moment of generosity to self, that members will not pass it before adjourning for the Christmas holidays. The moment the bill hits the floor of either house, however, there will be at least a few members who will object and try to eliminate the raise to a new high of $32,500 yearly.

The American people are at least entitled to a full discussion of the salary raise proposal. Among other things the people will ask, and legislators should ask, this question: Is a raise merited? The answer, based on the performance or lack of it by this session of Congress, is a resounding "No!"

Possibly a good argument could be made for a congressional pay raise, but not in the absence of good performance, nor without assurance that legislators will devote full time to their duties and abstain from the private practice of law or other ventures which they influence by legislation.

David Lawrence

Succession Law Needs Clarifying

WASHINGTON—Many of the plans for presidential succession that have been offered thus far seem to ignore the basic principle of government in a republic—that the people should select their chief executive.

This wasn't provided for under the old law and it is not provided for completely under the present law, enacted in 1947, whereby the Secretary of State and the other members of the Cabinet are designated in a theoretical line of succession following the Speaker of the House and the presiding officer of the Senate.

CABINET OFFICERS in the United States have never been elected by the people. The vice president, on the other hand, is on the ballot in a national election, and the Speaker of the House and the President Pro Tem of the Senate are chosen by the people's representatives in Congress.

Criticism of the current plan has developed in the last few days because the present Speaker happens to be 72 years old and the State's President Pro Tem is 85, and because the present line of succession presumably goes back to the Cabinet if the Speaker and the Senate's presiding officer, who have in turn succeeded to the presidency, should die or become disabled while holding that office. But it may also be pointed out that, once the Speaker has become President, the next Speaker — who would be promptly elected by the House—could be construed to be in line ahead of anybody in the Cabinet. It is this anomaly in existing law which needs clarification.

ONE CRITICISM being mentioned is that, while a Vice President who succeeds to the presidency is, of course, of the same party as the departed President, the Speaker of the House of Representatives or presiding officer of the Senate might not be. Thus, the party which has been in control of the administration could overnight be removed from executive power. The four-year term for which an administration of one party had been elected would suddenly be ended by the accession of an administration of a different party.

IN CANADA, in Great Britain, in Australia, the cabinet which is selected from the party members in a Parliament consists as a rule of men who have come up through the ranks of the party—just as Lyndon Johnson did. While in recent years there has been a tendency in this country to put a majority or minority leader from one house of Congress or the other on the ticket as the vice-presidential nominee, no provision has been made for all possible successors to be selected from Congress.

The present law is satisfactory as far as it goes in providing that the leaders of the two houses of Congress are next in line after the Vice President. The real defect in it is in the succession beyond these two individuals. This could be a problem if the accidents of fate, including war, should wipe out the top leaders in both branches of the government.

THE PRESENT statute needs amendment to make it crystal clear that the succession will not go to the Cabinet if anything happens to a Speaker of the House who has become President, but that the power will definitely pass to the next individual who has been elected Speaker of the House or to be President Pro Tem of the Senate.

Billy Graham

I have heard you say, "All you have to do to be a Christian is to 'repent of your sins, confess Christ openly, and you are saved.'" Mr. Graham, is this really all there is to being a Christian? —M. S.

While I don't recall making that precise statement, it is in fact the core of 'beginning' the Christian life. The Bible says, "As many as received Him, to them gave He the power to become the sons of God." But birth and development are two different things, and we should not confuse the two. To be 'born of God' is one thing, but to develop into Christian maturity is another. Birth may be simple and easy, but growth practically always involves 'growing pains.'

To be a mature Christian is one of the most rigorous, challenging adventures in the world. One must resist conformity, be self-effacing, and above all; bend one's will to the will of God. An acorn can be dropped into the ground with little effort, but to nurture that tiny seed into a mighty oak takes patience and toil. If I left the impression that it is a light, easy thing to be an effective Christian, I am sorry. But, though it is a tough challenge, the rewards in this life to come, are enormous. "And everyone that hath forsaken houses, or brethren or sisters or fathers, or wife or mother, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundred fold, and shall inherit everlasting life."

Johnson Enjoying Rare Political Honeymoon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will never see the likes of it again. It probably will last through Christmas, but not much longer.

The Republicans are muted. Premier Khrushchev is as quiet as a doll, and Fidel Castro must be playing a mandolin, he's so quiet.

This isn't the first time a man in Johnson's spot — suddenly thrust into the White House on a president's death — was given a period of grace.

IT HAPPENED when Vice President Harry S. Truman took over in 1945, after President Franklin D. Roosevelt's death.

The tasks confronting Johnson since he became president are just a mild daily routine compared with what faced Truman.

He had to end a war in Europe (Johnson's main problem now is with the budget) and another in Asia, help get the United Nations started, decide to drop atomic bombs on Japan, reconvert the county to peace, hold down living costs and settle strikes.

FOR SOME months after he moved into the White House Truman practically had a honeymoon with the Republicans in Congress. That was in 1945. The honeymoon didn't last long, the next year was a congressional election year.

The Republicans made their attacks on Truman so convincing that in the 1946 elections the voters gave them control of Congress. From then on few presidents ever had so much raucous trouble with Congress as Truman.

Johnson, a shrewd manipulator, may do better. But it's not a good bet.

RIGHT NOW the congressional Republicans are laying off him. The Republican would-be presidential candidates have declared a moratorium on speechmaking until after Jan. 1.

But then they'll come back, re-charged by their rest, and able to make more noise than ever, particularly since Johnson, like Truman, has to encounter an election year, this time a presidential election, with himself no doubt a candidate.

But Johnson, deliberately or not, has followed the Truman pattern in a general way up to this point.

TRUMAN lost no time, after becoming president, in addressing a joint session of Congress to say he would continue Roosevelt's policies. Johnson did the same, to express his support for the late President Kennedy's programs.

Truman asked the Roosevelt Cabinet to stay, although there were changes later. Johnson has asked the Kennedy Cabinet to stay.

Truman paid the House of Representatives a surprise visit 19 days after taking office, and had lunch there. Twice within the 19 days since he took office Johnson has visited the House, and had lunch there.

TRUMAN early favored a tax-aid program. Right from the start Johnson favored Kennedy's tax-cut program.

Within six months after Truman became president the Republicans began opening up on him. They seem to be getting restless already about their moratorium on Johnson.

One of them — Rep. Frank J. Becker of New York — complained Tuesday that "when Democrats call for a moratorium on politics, it's just to gag Republicans." His wasn't the only voice of complaint.

So things ought to be getting back to normal around the first of the year.

Man May Overcome Weather

NEW YORK (AP)—Sidewalk comments of a Pavement Plato:

There are those who predict that in time man, who as yet cannot control himself, will be able to control the weather.

The prospect of such a victory by science has only one pleasing aspect to most of us—it probably won't happen in our own lifetime.

In 1890 in the Hartford Courant, Charles Dudley Warner, a friend of Mark Twain, wrote the most widely quoted observation ever made about the weather, a remark which most people attribute to Twain himself:

"EVERYBODY talks about the weather, but nobody ever does anything about it."

The profound irony of this observation is based on the truth that, at least until recently, there wasn't much a fellow could do about the weather except to accept it, enjoy it, complain about it and, when necessary, take what steps he could to protect himself from it.

The weather has been the Creator's greatest instrument for teaching humility to arrogant man. No other device, not even that devil-inspired instrument, the income tax, has done so much in this respect—to keep man reasonably humble, or at least restrain him from overreaching himself with excessive and unreasonable schemes based on his own selfish desire to have his own way.

RAIN FALLS upon the just and the unjust with a fine and moist impartiality.

With the same grand and unconscious impartiality, the weather blows down a farmer's barn with a tornado, starts a forest fire with a lightning bolt, speeds 10 times 10 billion seeds to spurts of growth, assassinates a wilderness of bloom with killing frost, or freezes a lake so children can go ice skating.

In childhood and youth, we pay little heed to the weather except to complain about it querulously as it frustrates our dreams.

..BUT AS A man grows older, he learns to appreciate the weather and its moods more.

He develops a love as well as an awe for all its endless vagaries, its deep and changing chords of peace and unrest so like the music in his own soul. No wonder it is of such incessant and timeless interest to him.

Who doesn't look with some apprehension upon a future when controllers of the atmosphere will inflict their choices of the weather upon us?

Do we really want to do much more about the weather than go right on talking about it?

Syphilis Can Damage Heart And Brain

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told that there are three stages of syphilis, and that the disease can be cured in the first two but not in the third. What are the symptoms in the first and second stages?—L. T.

What you were told isn't entirely true. However, treatment is advisable as soon as possible if you detect the disease—and treatment if you have been indiscreet but don't know whether you have contracted it.

Syphilis is transmitted by a germ. One reference book says that at least 99.9 per cent of all cases are caused by kissing or sexual contact. That estimate may be too low, in my opinion, but why quarrel over a tenth of a per cent?

The germ in a few hours works its way through a mucous membrane (including the membrane of the mouth, if that is the point of contact) and then begins spreading through the bloodstream.

There are no immediate symptoms. It may be anywhere from about 10 days to three months before a primary chancre (usually pronounced "shanker") occurs at the point at which the infection, or germ, entered. This is a painless "sore," hence frequently ignored by the ignorant.

From one to six weeks, and this "primary chancre" will disappear, even without treatment, but the germ is still active and spreading. From six to 10 weeks (it may be either more or less) marks the beginning of the secondary stage. Small red, raised spots appear on the skin; or patchy marks in the mouth or on the genital organs; lymph nodes may be a bit swollen. These signs, too, can disappear, and may or may not come and go. All through these two stages, treatment with penicillin is very effective in curing the disease.

The third stage then begins. Signs may be quick or slow (even many years) in appearing —lumps, running sores on the skin.

But worse damage is occurring elsewhere in the body: Heart, brain, blood vessels, liver, spinal cord and other organs can be harmed.

It is still—I emphasize this—it is still not too late to be treated. The germ can be subdued and kept from doing further harm. But it is more difficult. Sometimes it will no longer be possible to get rid of the germ entirely.

And it is too late to undo such damage as has been done to the heart, brain or other parts of the body. All you can do is try to keep the disease from getting worse.

Around The Rim

And So Was He

Next to my father, I think Jimmie Greene was the most remarkable and wonderful man I ever knew.

I don't know what there was about him, but I could never say no when he asked me to try to do something. Others felt the same way; perhaps it was because we all knew he was doing a lot more than he ever asked of any of us.

JIMMIE GREENE was so completely human that you instinctively were at total ease around him. When he liked you, there were no qualifications. You felt flattered, because he could smell a phony in nothing flat.

Once it was my privilege to serve a year as president of the chamber during his long tenure as manager, and I would have been hopelessly frightened at the prospect had it not been for him. This experience set up a series of many trips we were to make together, and never on any of them did I find him to be less than a real gentleman. In fact, I had a tinge of regret when each trip was over, for he was such a delightful recounter of incidents out of his inexhaustible reservoir of experience. He had started making his own way as a lad, and he had some mighty tough rows. He had his share of successes, but he also knew what it was to lose everything. But he could always laugh.

HE SEEMINGLY had it made in the early days of the Mitchell County oil boom, but his health broke and he almost lost his life as well as most of his fortune. Bad tonsils had hopelessly poisoned his system, yet his heart was so bad no surgeon would risk an anesthetic. Determined to get well, he got a doctor to take them out without any deadening—and he got well.

He was equally stubborn about a course he knew to be right, and I have seen him sweat it out for years in order to get a highway near straight-line route (which modern highways now universally follow). I have seen him face the wrath of some of his board and townspeople because he wouldn't press for certain schemes, which almost invariably turned out to be impractical or else fake promotions.

JIMMIE GREENE was a man of integrity, too, as exemplified by an incident when the choice for the state hospital site appeared to narrow down to Big Spring and one other town. A certain character hinted that a sizeable sum of cash might swing the issue. He snorted defiance, but the other town fell into the trap. When a member of the board of control, who had the decisive vote, heard of the rumored offer, he decided for Big Spring and nothing could have changed him.

THIS PART OF West Texas owes Jimmie Greene a far greater debt than is generally known, for there might not have been any Colorado River Municipal Water District had it not been for him. He was hurt when chambers of commerce had not been taken into the original promotion, but he recognized it as a critical key to the future and pressed for the passage of an act creating the district. In the final days of the 51st Legislature, the bill which had been passed by the House was not only stalled in the Senate, but it was literally lost. It was Jimmie Greene who went to Austin and dug until he found it, got another senator to push it through on May 26, five days before the House concurred just before adjournment. After that session water district bills became much harder to pass, and many of the things which the CRMWD Act had, they could not get, and the two years he saved meant almost everything to the district and the area.

HE WAS A SPLENDID family man, giving it his first loyalty. He deeply loved his wife, and she recalled that in 54 years of wedded life there was scarcely a dozen days which in some way he did not tell her that he loved her. Jimmie Greene was out-going to his other friends, too, and when the voice at the other end of the telephone said "ol' deah." you knew who was there. Whatever you did in response to his request, he rewarded you with: "You is a nice man." I hope they welcomed him with this when he got to heaven.

New Art Gallery In New York

Something new and very beautiful has just been unveiled in New York in time for the city to congratulate itself on a Christmas gift of princely splendor (although it is not really a gift to the city, but more of that later).

It is only now, when all the scaffolding has disappeared, that New Yorkers can see that the new Huntington Hartford Gallery of Modern Art is the most wildly improbable, gemlike building to be erected here in many years.

IF THE gallery reminds me of the Taj Mahal it is only because of its great elegance and the use of white marble in its construction. Somehow, it makes all the glass buildings put up since World War II look as impermanent as a dime-store goblet.

Anchored on a small island of land on the south side of Columbus Circle, the gallery at long last gives Christopher, on his tall column in the middle of the circle, something worthy of the New World at which to look.

IF THE 10-story gallery is sumptuous both inside and out, setting a new standard in museum opulence both here and abroad, it is, nonetheless, designed for maximum efficiency as a showcase for art. The architect, Edward Durell Stone, has seen to that.

Mr. Stone, who designed New York's famous Museum of Modern Art more than a quarter of a century ago and the equally famed United States pavilion at the Brussels World's Fair in 1958, has provided four floors for the display of art as well as a penthouse restaurant and, beneath it, a large lounge for gallery visitors suffering from any museum's most common complaint—sore feet.

THE GALLERY is not really an outright gift to the city, says the man who put up the $5,000,000 for its construction. He is Huntington Hartford, who once estimated that he was probably worth $100,000,000.

"In a way, the gallery is a nonprofit, indirect gift to the city," Mr. Hartford said recently over the luncheon table. An heir of the great A&P grocery fortune, he has irons in a confusing number of fires. But art burns brightest.

IF MR. HARTFORD keeps a string on the gallery, he is doing his darndest to make an outright gift of a $1,500,000 outdoor cafe to New York City. No man has ever had such hard work to make a big municipal gift stick.

There has been considerable court action in opposition to such a cafe in Central Park, but Mr. Hartford has won the last round. However, if opponents appeal, Mr. Hartford already has his dukes up and will continue to fight for a place at the south end of the park where "people can just sit and enjoy themselves."

The Man Next In Line

(William S. White's column appears in place of that of Marquis Childs, who is on vacation).

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's action to bring the next man in line for the Presidency, Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, into the highly secret National Security Council puts a Speaker of the House for the first time into the most intimate war-and-peace deliberations of this government.

It will do a great deal more, however, than this. It will enormously increase Speaker McCormack's real power base outside Congress, and most notably within it. There, a quietly gathering "revolt" by a handful of ultra-liberal Democrats against McCormack's authority had been signalled several weeks ago by some of those directly involved.

THIS WHISPERED coming palace revolution—or, more exactly, this potential putsch of good intentions and disorderly implications for responsible operation of the House—may now be said to be doubly dead before it started.

That official who is truly next to the President—this or any other President—is not lightly rebelled against. Even less is he successfully rebelled against.

ALL THIS ABORTED and minor cloak-and-dagger stuff is only accidental and incidental, however, to the true meaning of Speaker McCormack's elevation into a second hierarchy, that of the executive branch. The genuine and lasting significance of what has been done is this: The United States has made certain before history that there cannot again be such a situation as occurred when Franklin Roosevelt died in 1945 and left his successor without any real knowledge of what had been going on in the White House.

OF COURSE, there was then an elected and sitting Vice President, Harry S. Truman. But Mr. Truman had to assume the Presidency at a moment's notice in almost total ignorance of what his late chief had been doing and thinking and planning and promising. Because he had not been taken into Mr. Roosevelt's confidence —perhaps because of the cruel pressures of a two-front war—Harry Truman had not even been aware that something called an atomic bomb had been made.

CONGRESS RESPONDED with a bill to make the Speaker of the House the next in line of succession for the Presidency in such circumstances. Today, Mr. Johnson, too, has no Vice President. Today, Speaker McCormack is by law his appointed successor, should tragedy strike.

As it happens, too, the close association is not only a clearly necessary one, in the highest of national interest, but also a happy and relaxed one. Speaker McCormack and the President have been for nearly two decades—a time going back to Mr. Johnson's service in the House—on a "John and Lyndon" basis.

THE SPEAKER, moreover, though an early backer of the late John F. Kennedy for the 1960 Presidential nomination, was an equally early backer of Lyndon B. Johnson for Vice President. McCormack was one of the few who believed from the beginning — rightly, as it turned out—that Mr. Johnson would accept second place if this became necessary to promote Democratic fortunes.

Three Ex-Champions Still Contending

By The Associated Press

Three former champions are in the field as the Texas schoolboy football race rolls into the semifinals this week. One is Corsicana and it has been a long wait.

Corsicana won the state championship back in 1932 when there was only one division—31 years ago. And it took the title in very unusual fashion—without scoring a point in two of the last three games.

The Tigers, then coached by the late Johnnie Pierce, beat Greenville with a penetration in a scoreless tie in the quarterfinals. They defeated Masonic Home for the championship on penetrations in another 0-0 tie.

Corsicana is in Class AAA this year and it will play Graham at Arlington Saturday in the semifinals.

Other former champions are Corpus Christi Miller, which won the Class AAAA title in 1960, and Albany, champion of Class A in 1960 and 1961.

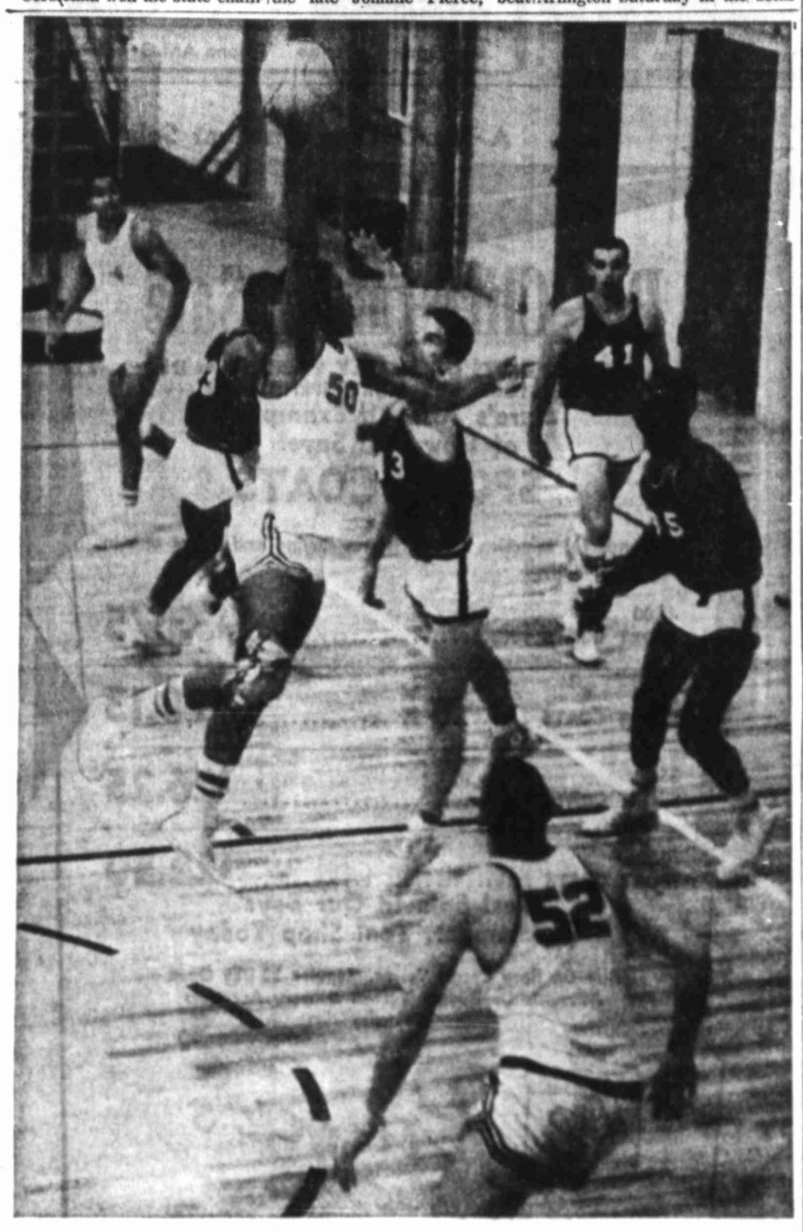

Miller actually is a two-time champion. It was known only as Corpus Christi High in 1938 when it also took the title.

Miller will play Spring Branch at Spring Branch Saturday in one Class AAAA semifinal. The other matches Amarillo Tascosa and Garland at Amarillo, also Saturday afternoon.

In Class AAA, LaMarque and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo will clash at Corpus Christi Saturday night, a few hours after Corsicana makes its greatest bid for a return to glory.

Class AA semifinals send Liberty against Missouri City Dulles at Pasadena Friday night while Dalhart and Rockwall clash at Vernon Saturday.

In Class A Albany meets Petersburg at Lubbock Friday night while Hallsville and George West tangle at Beeville Saturday night.

Hawks Record Third Cage Victory, 66-46

In a game that evolved into a hully-gully type of ball as it wore on, the HCJC Jayhawks battered Cisco College's Wranglers, 66-46, here Tuesday night.

The win was the third in five starts for the Big Springers, who return to play Friday night in Odessa against Wharton.

The Hawks had things all their own way early in the game. They ran their patterns and led by a score of 19-3 with 12:00 to go in the first half.

After that, the Wranglers began to come on and make a game of it for the rest of the way, although they never got closer than ten points.

Tom Carter led the local collegians in scoring with 15 points. Only other HCJC player to hit in double figures was Terry Williams, the mercurial outside man, who had 13. Eight Hawks got into the scoring act, however.

Cisco was led by Fred Washington, who banged away for three field goals and five free pitches for 11 points. David Callerman had nine for the visitors, who had lost to Odessa the previous night.

HCJC built up a 33-20 advantage at half time. Coach Buddy Travis substituted freely throughout.

The Hawks beat the Wranglers badly from the field, sinking 25 baskets to only 13 for the visitors. Cisco made 20 of 28 gratis pitches, however, while the Hawks connected on 16 of 27.

HC won't be seen in action here again until Dec. 30, at which time they tangle with Jacksonville Baptist College.

Fox Glad He'll Be Back With Colts' Richards

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball's hottest seat for little Nellie Fox was the bench.

The Chicago White Sox knew Fox would fret as a part timer ball player, so under their current youth movement, he was dispatched to Houston in an inter-league trade Tuesday for two Colt Farm hands — pitcher Jim Golden and outfielder Danny Murphy.

Fox will be 36 Christmas Day.

In return for the peppery second baseman, who has a lifetime batting average of .289 and six times hit .300 or better, the White Sox received a pitcher who was 9-11 at Oklahoma City last season and a former $200,000 Chicago Cub bonus baby who batted .234 with San Antonio and .268 with Oklahoma City last season.

Fox batted .260 in 1963 but was being pushed off his job by a pair of youngsters, Al Weis and Don Buford.

"Actually, we may be doing Fox a great favor, said White Sox General Manager Ed Short. "He may play two or three more regular season for Paul Richards (Houston general manager), who really wanted him to stabilize the young Colt infield."

Fox, who was deer hunting in Chambersburg, Pa., when the deal was announced, said he was relieved.

"At least now I know where I'm going," he said. "I'm very glad to get back with Richards."

Fox came to the White Sox in 1949. In 1950 he became the regular second baseman and went on to compile such records for most consecutive games without a strikeout (98); most years leading the league in fewest strikeouts (10); most consecutive years leading the league in singles (7); most consecutive games played at second base (749) and so on down the line.

He played in 14 All - Star games and was the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1959 when the White Sox won the pennant.

FLOWER GROVE — District champion Christoval landed five of the 12 gridders on the 3-B (six-man) all-star team.

Rudy Menchaca of Christoval and Tommy Vanzant of Water Valley were chosen representatives for the summer six-man coaching school game. Alternate is Anthony Hanson of Flower Grove.

Menchaca and Vanzant also rated the all-district team at ends, with Philip Montalvo, Christoval, and Alfredo Hinojosa, Mertzon, listed at end-backs.

Centers are Joe Ben Garcia, Christoval, and Hanson.

Backs are Bobby Menchaca and Norman Jenkins, Christoval; Oscar Molina, Mertzon; Weyne Fincher and Bobby Deatherage, Flower Grove; and Barney Sisco, Water Valley.

Odessa Defeats Chiefs, 74-61

ODESSA — The Odessa High Bronchos smashed San Angelo Lake View, 74-61, here Tuesday night.

Joe Hartman tossed in 32 points for Lake View. Odessa was led by Terry Trippett, who counted 25. Odessa led at half time, 38-31.

Fans Descend Upon Garden To Eye Frank

NEW YORK (AP)—"I thought he'd get killed before he got his first foul shot," said Red Auerbach.

"Frank, I felt sorry for you out there," said Walter Brown.

"Don't say that, Mr. Brown," said Frank Ramsey. "It's all over and done with."

"Personally, I haven't even seen the article," said referee Earl Strom.

"Fake," said the fans, from all over Madison Square Garden.

And so it went in the National Basketball Association game between the Boston Celtics and the New York Knicks, the night after Frank Ramsey of the Celtics turned author.

"The article" was one in a magazine, under Ramsey's byline, detailing how he lures opponents into committing fouls, and fools the officials. The article drew a reprimand from NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy.

Some 8,237 fans turned out at the Garden Tuesday night, mainly to see how the officials reacted to Ramsey, and vice versa. There wasn't much else of interest, as the Celtics toyed with the cellar New Yorkers for a 132-113 victory. That gave Boston an 18-2 record for the first quarter of the long season.

In the first game of the doubleheader, the St. Louis Hawks fought off the Philadelphia '76ers down the stretch for a 113-103 decision.

In the other NBA game on the card, the San Francisco Warriors defeated the Baltimore Bullets 117-108, as Wilt Chamberlain scored 49 points.

But Ramsey held the spotlight.

Actually, Ramsey is about the last player in the sometimes hard-bitten pro league you'd expect to become an object of even mild controversy. He is a well-spoken Kentucky gentleman, now in his ninth season in the league and the co-captain of the Celtics with Bill Russell.

Bears, Packers And Giants Hog Places

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The defense-minded Chicago Bears, Green Bay's ground troops and the pass-happy New York Giants dominated the National Football League All-Star team announced Wednesday by The Associated Press.

The Bears placed six players on the 22-man first offensive and defensive units. Green Bay had five and New York four.

Y. A. Tittle, the Giants' superb passer, was a near unanimous choice for quarterback and Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's record-breaking ground gainer, received all but two votes for fullback. Mike Ditka, fine tight end of the Chicago Bears, also polled all but two of the 42 votes cast.

The selections were made by a committee of three sports writers and broadcasters from each of the 14 league cities.

Ditka was the Bears' only representative on the offensive team but the fine defensive club placed five men on the first unit. They were 6-foot-8 end Doug Atkins, linebackers Bill George and Joe Fortunato and the two ball-hawking safety men, Richie Petitbon and Roosevelt Taylor.

Only nine of the 22 men selected last year repeated—six on offense and three on defense.

They were Del Shofner, New York Giants' split end; tackle Forrest Gregg of Green Bay; guards Jerry Kramer of Green Bay and Jim Parker of Baltimore; center Jim Ringo of Green Bay and Tittle of the 1962 offensive team. The defensive repeaters were tackles Roger Brown of Detroit and Henry Jordan of Green Bay and corner back Herb Adderley of Green Bay.

Shofner and Ditka were picked for the two end jobs with Gregg and Dick Schafrath of Cleveland at tackles and Kramer and Parker at guard with Ringo at center.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

In an effort to neutralize some of the dissension on its club, a big league team recently traded off a player who had made the mistake of printing what he thought was right in a national magazine.

The article not only failed to make a hit with the management but with the baseball commissioner, Ford Frick, himself.

In return, the team got a competent veteran but a man who is regarded as the biggest clubhouse lawyer in baseball.

The changes should be interesting for all principals concerned.

Now that San Angelo has been removed from the state playoffs, perhaps we here sports scriveners should stop writing about the excellence of District 2-AAAA football until the champions can prove themselves on the field.

When the San Francisco 49ers drafted Texas Tech end David Parks in the recent NFL poll, a wag out on the coast professed to be shocked about it all.

First, second and third teams will be selected by a 16-man panel (one writer in each Class AAAA district is on the committee). The elite elevens will be announced between Christmas and New Year's Day, in all probability.

Spec Gammon, Texas A&M sports publicist and former Odessa scribe, is chairman of the committee.

Loyola Works To Get Win

By The Associated Press

NYU is five minutes better than Loyola.

That's about the only thing the nation's top two teams proved Tuesday night in a doubleheader at Chicago.

It took Loyola's top-ranked Ramblers 40 minutes and a five-minute overtime session to get by Detroit 113-108. NYU's second-ranked Violets managed to get the job done in regulation time, edging Northwestern 75-66.

Both games were in doubt until the talent-rich clubs sprung a pair of sophomores for key baskets. Tom Manzke sank the basket that pulled Loyola ahead in overtime and Stan McKenzie hit the key shot to put NYU out front to stay.

Ron Miller's 25-foot jump shot as time ran out pulled Loyola into a 98-all tie and forced the overtime.

Manzke then took over in the overtime, stealing a pass and racing in for a lay-up that put Loyola out front to stay 108-106.

NYU trailed at the half, 40-35, spurted ahead early in the second half, but was still locked in a struggle with Northwestern at 63-63 with 4:45 remaining. MacKenzie then found the range, connecting for the basket that put the Violets ahead for good.

Tenth-ranked Kansas was the only other Top Ten team in action, and also ran into difficulty before subduing a stubborn Texas Tech team 73-67.

Elsewhere, Bud Koper's 44 points led Oklahoma City to a 95-90 victory over SMU, Dave Stallworth collected 30 points as Wichita walloped Duquesne 91-74 and Notre Dame whipped Bowling Green 79-65 despite a 41-point performance by the Falcons' Howard Komives.

Cager Takes It Out On Board

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Gus Johnson of the Baltimore Bullets slammed a jump shot so hard Tuesday night that the basket's glass backboard broke, holding up the Bullets' game against the San Francisco Warriors.

His successful field goal came with 1:04 to play in the third period and the Warriors leading 84-78.

Maintenance men at Oakland Auditorium searched for a new backboard.

But after an 18-minute delay they rigged up a brace behind the huge crack in the backboard and the game resumed.

San Francisco won 117-108.

Warriors Coach Alex Hannum announced he was playing the game under protest.

Ranucci Leads Loop Scoring

By The Associated Press

Trinity hasn't won a game but its Pete Ranucci certainly can't be blamed—he leads the Southland Conference in scoring.

Ranucci has collected 88 points for an average of 22 per game.

David Wheeler of Abilene Christian College is the most accurate shooter, however. He has a field goal percentage of .704 and also is tied for top honors in free throw accuracy with 11 of 12 for .917.

Don Heller of Lamar Tech also has a .917 average at the free throw line.

Bruce Tibbets of Arlington State leads the conference in rebounding with an average of 14. He has grabbed 43 rebounds in three games. Jerry Mattingly of Trinity has raked off 44 in four games.

Tibbets is second in scoring with 62 points for an average of 20.7.

SW Quintets Take Lumps On 3 Fronts

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference basketball went back into its intersectional shell Tuesday night as three teams lost and the league dropped five games behind in the fight with outsiders.

Just when the league seemed on the way to recovering from its early season disasters, things went haywire.

Texas A&M, one of three undefeated teams, took a 94-71 whamming from Utah State. Southern Methodist was toppled 95-90 by Oklahoma City University. Texas Tech was whipped 73-67 by Kansas.

Now the conference record is nine intersectional victories against 14 losses.

Two more chances to pick up some lost ground come Wednesday night as Texas A&M plays Utah at Salt Lake City and Rice is host to Florida State.

Utah State ran up a big lead and then let its sophomores see action in crushing Texas A&M. Wayne Estes poured in 41 points, which was more than the margin between the two teams. Bennie Lenox, Aggie scoring star, was limited to two points by a rugged Utah State defense.

Texas Tech made a fight of it but George Unseld, who had 23 points for the night, did some clutch shooting in the final minutes to put Kansas over. John Malaise pitched 20 points for Tech.

Bud Koper was the big show as Oklahoma City University beat SMU by the same score as last year. Koper sank 21 of 32 field goal attempts and hit two-for-two on the free throw line for 44 points. Gene Elmore managed 24 to lead SMU.

Blough Lauds Grid Sport

NEW YORK (AP) —Roger M. Blough, a one-time Susquehanna tackle who now calls the signals for U.S. Steel, credits football with teaching the value of team play and the "unique difference team play can make in the years after school is over."

At Tuesday night's sixth annual awards dinner of the National Football Foundation, Blough received the foundation's Gold Medal given annually to the national leader "who has profited in later life by football's disciples and lessons learned on field.

Blough was a 160 - pound lineman at Susquehanna in 1921, 1922 and 1924 before embarking on a business and law career that led to chairmanship of the board at U.S. Steel.

Sharing the spotlight with Blough were 10 all-time greats inducted into the Foundation's Hall of Fame.

The Foundation also presented Coach Darrell Royal of Texas with the Douglas MacArthur Bowl, in recognition of the undefeated Longhorns' No. 1 ranking.

The new Hall of Famers included seven modern players and three deceased old-timers. Honored posthumously were Thomas (Bum) McClung, Yale back; Charles (Buck) Wharton, Penn guard and George Woodruff, Yale back.

The seven moderns inducted were Alex Agase, Illinois and Purdue guard; George Connor, Holy Cross tackle; Edwin (Goat) Hale, Mississippi College halfback; Ken Kavanaugh, Louisiana State end; Cliff Montgomery, Columbia quarterback; Henry R. (Peter) Pund, Georgia Tech center; and Eddie Tryon, Colgate halfback.

Wood May Play

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Jets expected to learn today whether No. 1 quarterback Dick Wood, injured in last Sunday's loss to the Buffalo Bills, will be available for duty in Saturday's rematch of the two American Football League clubs.

Tom Harmon Strikes Gold Vein As A Broadcaster

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Tom Harmon has been widely known for more than 20 years, first as an All-America football player and then as a radio and television sportscaster.

Now he is Tom Harmon Enterprises, Inc.

"Harmon of Michigan," which was all you had to say to identify him in the years 1939-40-41, has reached another level of renown.

Next thing we know they'll be selling stock in "Old 98."

Ninety-eight — that was his jersey number and he wasn't at all old—earned All-America, the Heisman and Maxwell trophies and all-Big Ten Conference honors as one of the most exciting ball carriers in football.

Harmon was one of the first name athletes to carve out a successful career in sports broadcasting.

He began his airways career on a sort of frat house-to-house hookup on the campus when he was in school at Michigan.

Today Harmon is nation-wide and comes in a package deal—a tidy little package with a $1 million price tag.

He conceived the package, hired his own crew, acquired his own equipment, went out and got his own sponsors and sold the works to the American Broadcasting Company.

Harmon answers to but one boss, himself. Well, possibly another, his picture-pretty wife, the former Elyse Knox of the movies.

Tommy came from a family of most modest means in Gary, Ind. He worked his way through college. His story is wonderfully pleasant.

Harmon's feats on the gridiron were fascinating.

Against a powerful Iowa team on 1939, Michigan won, 28-7, and Harmon scored all 28 points.

Against California at Berkeley in 1940 Tommy took the opening kickoff and ran it back 98 yards and scored three more touchdowns before Coach Fritz Crisler yanked him in the 41-0 rout.

Michigan lost only four games in Tommy's three years on the varsity.

Harmon, pointing for the career he adopted, majored in English and speech at Ann Arbor. In the off season he worked in a steel rolling mill in Gary.

"The university got me the job—and that was all the university did for me," Tom declares, scorning rumors of fabulous enrichments tendered the school's star players.

Harmon's first real broadcasting job was in Detroit. Then came World War II.

Tom enlisted, won his wings and spent five years in the Air Corps in the North Africa and China campaigns.

Harmon emerged from service a captain and winner of the Purple Heart and Silver Star decorations—honors you have to learn from friends, not Harmon.

After two years with the Los Angeles Rams' football team, Tommy launched his broadcasting career.

Lions Will Pose A Big Problem

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bears are shuddering at the thought of the Detroit Lions and nobody can blame them.

Assuming the Green Bay Packers defeat San Francisco Saturday, the Bears will have to tie or defeat the Lions to qualify for the National Football League championship game Dec. 29.

"It's unfortunate that we're hitting the Lions when they are at the top of their game," said Owner-Coach George Halas. "Not only are the Lions in fine shape but they're going to be loose and the pressure will be on us. Look what they did to Cleveland Sunday. Need I say more."

Coyotes Defeat Wildcat Teams

WESTBROOK—The Gail Coyotes took the measure of Westbrook in a boys' basketball game here Tuesday night, 68-64.

In the girls' game, Gail also won by a score of 58-45.

In the girls' game, Gail also won by a score of 58-45.

Bob Nunnally led the Coyotes with 22 points while Elmer McMahan had 29 for Westbrook.

McKinley Turns Down Pro Offer

MELBOURNE (AP) — U. S. tennis star Chuck McKinley will not turn professional after the Davis Cup according to pro organizer Frank Sedgman.

Sedgman said Wednesday McKinley had turned down an offer of $60,000 to join the pros immediately after the Davis Cup challenge round in Adelaide Dec. 26-28.

Stage All Set For AFL's Windup To '63 Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Football League has the stage all set in the event a playoff is needed to determine either of its divisional champions—or both.

Commissioner Joe Foss and two staff members flipped coins Tuesday to decide the possible playoff dates and sites.

Six of the league's eight teams are still in the running for divisional crowns. San Diego, 9-3-0, and Oakland, 8-4-0, could wind up in a deadlock for the Western title.

In the East, it's a four-way battle for supremacy involving Boston, 7-5-1; Buffalo, 6-6-1; Houston, 6-6-0, and New York, 5-6-1.

The playoff possibilities:

Western Division

If San Diego and Oakland tie, playoff at San Diego, Dec. 29.

Eastern Division

Two-team ties

If Boston and Buffalo tie, playoff at Buffalo, Dec. 28.

If Houston and Boston tie, playoff at Boston, Dec. 28.

If New York and Houston tie, playoff at Houston, Dec. 28.

Three-team ties

If Boston, Buffalo and Houston tie, Boston will play at Houston Dec. 28, with the winner playing Buffalo at Buffalo, Jan. 5.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Ft. Gordon authorities are probing the explosion of a 105-millimeter howitzer this week. One soldier was killed and two others injured.

Modern Jails Brightening Penal Outlook In Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) —Construction of ultramodern jails is brightening the penal picture in West Germany.

Millions of dollars are being spent to make them as cozy—but also as escapeproof—as possible in this nation of rising wealth and rising crime rates.

The new jails are badly needed. In some of the old German prisons, up to 12 men were crammed into 4-man cells. Many of the buildings are 100 or more years old. A bucket in the cell serves as the sole sanitary facility.

West Germany's jails of the space age are a far cry from these depressing Prussian-style lockups.

COST MORE

A new jail at Stuttgart cost more to build than the city's theater or the modernistic concert hall.

Life for the 800 inmates of the $5.5-million building features bright rooms, mostly single, with handsome, magnetically locking clothes closets, radio reception and a two-way telephone linking the prisoner with the supervisor's glass cabin at the end of each corridor. Running water and modern plumbing in each cell go without saying.

Food is served in white plastic dishes kept hot on electrically heated trays. The nine-story main cell building gives upper-floor inmates a breathtaking view of the surrounding countryside. Daily walks for exercise are held on the roof.

TELEVISION

Closed circuit television covers the area between the jail and the 15-foot-high outer walls. The moment a prisoner crosses this section, an electronic eye sets off an alarm. Powerful searchlights are switched on and the television cameras, suspended from high masts, begin operating.

With 800 inmates, including 150 women, the average construction outlay per inmate is $6,875 or about half the price of a modest German one-family house.

For the new 900-inmate jail in Hannover, the per capita cost was $5,000. Facilities are similar to those in Stuttgart. Every cell has a socket for electric razors. The recreation wing includes a theater hall and hobby rooms.

But let no prisoner believe it is easier to break out of the more comfortable jails. Prison officials say the window bars are lined with so much concrete that a convict would have to spend most of his life sawing before he could slip out.

"We had the bars tested by a worker," a warden explained. "It took him one and a half days with an electric drill before he had an escape hatch wide enough. But the noise was so immense that no inmate would dare try it."

Choir Sings For Rotary

The 14-member Howard County Junior College choir, under the direction of Ira Schantz and accompanied by Jack Hendrix at the piano, rendered eight Christmas songs for members of the Rotary Club Tuesday. They were introduced by Dean Ben Johnson. Sam Anderson, December program chairman, said the high school choir would sing at next week's program.

President E. P. Driver announced the Big Spring State Hospital Christmas program for 7 p.m. Dec. 19, and that the Rotarians were to bring Christmas presents for the Salvation Army's needy children program next Tuesday.

Baptist Board Picks Chairman

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Baptist Executive Board unanimously elected Dr. Carroll Chadwick of Center chairman of that influential church body Tuesday.

The election surprised some of the 192 board members who had expected Dr. L. L. Morris of Midland to be re-elected chairman.

It was learned today, however, that Dr. Morris was ineligible since he rotated off the board in November and is not now a member of the body.
