Agents Report German Plants Build Weapons

Sites Are Believed Staked From Black Sea To The Baltic

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 26—Russia has dotted eastern Europe with launching bases for deadlier rockets than Hitler ever used in World War II, German and American sources said today.

Reliable German sources said at least the Nazi-built munitions plant in Soviet-occupied Germany is producing rockets for Russia.

The exact location of the Soviet launching bases is not known. But Allied military intelligence officers said they believed Russia had constructed a chain of them—aimed at western Europe—stretching from the Baltic to the Black sea in Soviet satellite territory.

Big Nazi Base Used

A U. S. intelligence officer said "it is a matter of speculation" whether rockets launched in Czechoslovakia, Poland or the Balkans could reach the farthest points of western Europe.

Military informants said there was no evidence the Soviet zone of Germany was being prepared as a rocket launching base.

The Soviet zone, however, includes Peenemuende, one of the biggest of Hitler's rocket plants on the Baltic coast. Peenemuende was once smashed by British bombers but reports circulated recently Russia has rebuilt it with German war prisoners as laborers.

Another pro-Allied German informant said a huge underground munitions factory built by the Nazis at Rechlin, in northeast Germany, also is turning out new and deadlier rockets than those Hitler used to shoot at England.

Reds Fear Attack

He said the Rechlin plant has been cordoned off with a heavy Soviet guard, and that thick minefields have been laid.

A U. S. army source said: "It is perfectly logical that Russia should have a network of launching bases for rockets. We know that Russia sincerely fears an attack from the west, and we know that rockets are a basic defense weapon of modern warfare."

German scientists are believed mainly responsible for the Soviet rockets, improving on the vicious V-2 weapons they first fashioned for Hitler.

Although the V-2 was the last rocket model used extensively on England, rumors were thick at the end of the war that Nazi engineers

Greek War Dispute To Be Aired In UN

Balkan Communists Are Charged With Aiding Guerrillas; Russian Stand Issue

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Balkan troubles centering around the stormy Greek civil war were due for another airing in the United Nations assembly today.

The Yugoslav and Greek foreign ministers were scheduled to open the second week of assembly debate. U. N. leaders looked to their speeches for a clue to future moves in the dispute over charges that communist Balkan countries have aided the Greek guerrillas.

Yugoslav Foreign Minister Edvard Kardelj, whose country apparently stopped aiding the communist-led Greek guerrillas last summer, was to speak before Greek Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris.

Some U. N. leaders have said they believed the Balkans dispute—now centering mainly on Bulgarian and Albanian support for the Greek rebels—could be solved if Russia is willing.

Yugoslavia has broken from the Soviet bloc for the first time in the U. N. and has made it clear she will pursue an independent course in that organization.

The luck of the draw of assembly seats put Kardelj immediately behind his Moscow counter-part, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky. They are not on speaking terms and so far the Yugoslav and Soviet delegations have ignored each other.

Bevin To Speak

Deputy Foreign Minister Ales Bebler, once one of the foremost defenders of Moscow's policies, said in an interview that the Yugoslav delegation would vote on all issues according to its conscience. In previous assemblies

APPROVAL OF BILL FORECAST

Senate To Vote On Military Pay Hike

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Legislation authorizing the first general pay boost for the armed forces in 40 years comes up for a Senate vote today with approval generally regarded as certain.

The Senate arranged to ballot at 5 p. m. EST. Backers of the measure predicted only scattered opposition.

"The bill has merit and I believe it will pass by a good majority," said Senator Gurney (R-SD), a member of the Senate armed services committee which drafted the measure.

House Bill Okayed

The House already has approved a similar bill. That draft and the Senate version both provide for hiking the pay of most ranks from private to major general.

The cost of the Senate bill is estimated at $274,000,000 from Oct. 1, when the pay increase would become effective, through the fiscal year ending next June 30.

During the following fiscal year the cost would go to $348,000,000 and then come down to $304,000,000 annually thereafter.

There was talk by some Senate economy advocates of trying to write into the bill an amendment which would forbid any new appropriations to meet the $274,000,000 cost of the pay hike during the first nine months.

Economy Cut Doubted

Senator Bridges (R-NH) said he and several other senators feel that initial cost should come out of funds already earmarked for military use this fiscal year.

"The armed services," Bridges said, "should be able to economize enough to make any additional appropriation unnecessary."

But another senator said privately he doubts that Congress is in any mood to cut economy cor-

Murray Won't Postpone Steel Walkout Date

Pensions Demanded By Other Workers; Lewis' Miners Idle

(By The United Press)

A crucial week of labor negotiations opened today in the steel and auto industries but John L. Lewis apparently was waiting for a steel settlement before sending his 480,000 miners back into the pits.

CIO President Philip Murray warned that he would not postpone a strike by his steelworkers after the Saturday deadline.

Federal mediators sitting in on the talks with 53 steel firms were hopeful, however, that a compromise agreement could be reached in time to head off the strike.

Chrysler Strike Voted

But Murray insisted that the union would stick by its demand that the companies accept a presidential fact-finding board's recommendation for a pension and insurance program paid for by the industry.

Meanwhile, 83,500 CIO United Auto Workers voted to strike against Chrysler, if necessary, to back demands for a company-financed retirement and health program.

The demands on Chrysler were almost identical with those made against Ford motors by its 115,000 UAW employes.

The Ford workers have authorized a strike for Thursday but union officials have indicated it will not be called unless current negotiations collapse. The Ford-UAW negotiators were reported as almost ready to take up the vital subject of pensions after clearing up non-economic issues.

Coal Talks Delayed

Negotiations to settle the coal strike were at a complete standstill. They were broken off until Thursday and it appeared that Lewis was taking his time in hopes that a steel settlement would be reached quickly so that he could use it as a lever in his own squabble with mine owners.

At Lockport, N. Y., sub-regional UAW Director Edward F. Gray charged that Bell Aircraft Corp. was trying to "totally destroy" striking UAW local 501. He blamed the company for a breakdown in negotiations to settle the violence-ridden strike.

Gray was one of 34 union members who faced trial today for contempt of court on charges that violated an injunction governing pickets at the Bell plant.

Pay Demand Modified

The CIO rubber workers union announced that it would call off its strike against B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co. and withdraw demands for a 25-cent hourly pay hike if

Church Meet Set Tuesday

LAMESA, Sept. 26 (Special)—A district 11 convention of the Christian church Tuesday will attract scores of layand religious leaders from a wide area, it was announced today by Pearce J. Burns, secretary.

A day long program is planned for the convention. Highlight will be an address by William H. McKinney, executive secretary of the Department of Men's Work of the United Christian Missionary society, at Indianapolis, Ind.

Morning Program Given

Rev. L. W. Bridges of Lamesa is host pastor and president of the convention.

Following registration at 9:30 a.m., the program will begin at 10 a.m. with a hymn led by Glen Hutton of Paducah, song leader.

W. M. Spreen of Brownfield will ask invocation, and Mr. Bridges will extend a welcome. Presentation of district activities will be made by Mrs. M. W. Schroeder of Plainview, for children's work; Mrs. O. P. Hankins, Lubbock, for women's work; and H. T. McKissack, Lubbock, laymen's work.

Following church reports, E. A. Powell of Floydada will make a convention offering at a morning worship service. Hollis Turley of Indianapolis, Ind., will deliver a message, "Crusading with Christ." J. F. Matthews of Lubbock will deliver the benediction.

Rev. White To Speak

The afternoon program Tuesday opens with a worship service in charge of Rev. Harry Purviance, pastor of Lubbock View Christian church.

A convention business session opens at 2:30 p.m.

At 3:55 p.m. Homer Haislip of St. Louis, Mo., will discuss "Christian Literature. Rev. Travis White, pastor of First Christian church of Lubbock, will speak on "Look-

Finest Exhibits In History Are Shown Visitors

Lamesa School Is Winner In First Results Revealed

By H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

The finest agricultural exhibits in history slowed the judging this morning in that department as the 32nd annual Panhandle - South Plains fair got under way in a setting of near-perfect weather.

In the only division in which results were announced, the Lamesa High school vocational agriculture classes took the blue ribbon, with Roosevelt High school second and Tahoka High school third.

Inspections Not Complete

The judges had not completed their inspections and tabulations of points in the county and the veterans' vocational agricultural divisions.

It was the concensus of the judges in these divisions that the exhibits have set a new standard of quality for Panhandle-South Plains fairs. They are Dean A. H. Leidigh and T. L. Leach, both of Texas Tech, judges of vocational agricultural and veterans' agriculture, and Knox Parr, of Amarillo, district superintendent of the Texas Extension service, in the county department.

"The competition was so close and the exhibits of such outstanding quality, we found it exceedingly difficult to place the ribbons," Dean Leidigh commented. He has seen most of the Panhandle-South Plains fairs of the past 25 years.

Contrast Illustrated

The Lamesa display illustrates the contrast between over-grazing and proper stocking of fields. It was arranged under the supervision of Earl Sears and Dave Atwood.

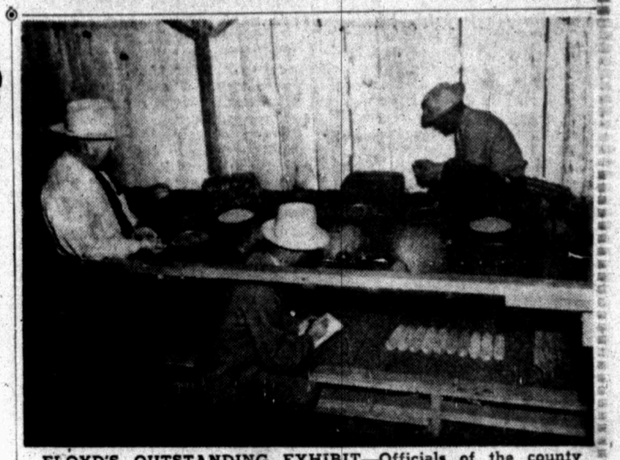

The Roosevelt exhibit, supervised by G. K. Bullock, employed the cotton defoliation theme. Virgil Carter directed the preparation of the Tahoka display, which illustrated the advantages of using barnyard fertilizer.

Other schools entered in the department were Idalou, Lubbock, Hale Center, Anton, Meadow, Lorenzo, Shallowater, Wellman and Brownfield. First, second and third prizes each are $50. Nine others range downward to $32.50.

Shown are George "Scotty" Samson of Post, general agriculture superintendent; Marshall Howard, of Lubbock, crouched in foreground, superintendent of the county division, and Knox Parr of Amarillo, district agent there of the Texas Extension service, judge.

GRASSES AND WEEDS EXHIBIT NEW—Dave Eaton, Lamb county agricultural agent, gives a last-minute examination to an entirely new exhibit of grasses and weeds at the Panhandle-South Plains fair. The exhibit, sponsored by the Texas Extension service, is intended to acquaint farmers with harmful grasses and weeds, and is part of a nationwide program of weed recognition and control. Eaton is superintendent of the grasses and weeds division at the fair.

Fair Weather Is Predicted

Fair weather for the Fair was the weatherman's cheerful forecast this morning as a beaming sun spread its blessings on the South Plains on opening day of the Panhandle-South Plains fair.

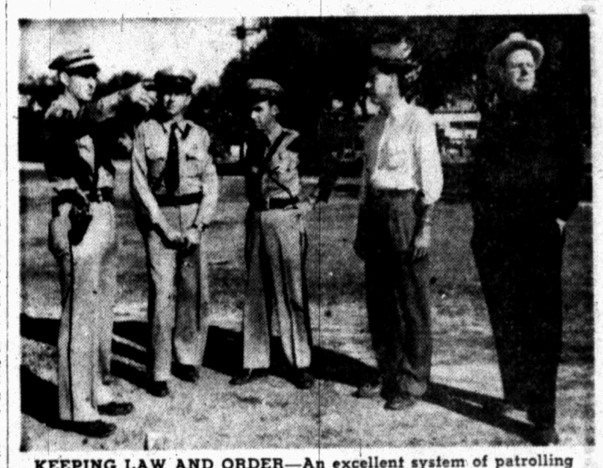

"It will be a little warmer than Sunday," said Victor Halliburton, observer at the Weather bureau station at Municipal airport.

He estimated the maximum this afternoon would be 80 degrees, three degrees warmer than Sunday's maximum of 77 degrees. This morning's minimum of 52 degrees was three degrees warmer than Sunday's early morning minimum of 49 degrees, the coldest so far this fall.

A cold front in north central Colorado may arrive over the South Plains late Tuesday, but it is not expected to bring moisture or a severe change in temperatures.

Southwesterly winds may reach 15 to 20 miles an hour late today and Tuesday.

The likelihood of rain during the rest of the week appeared remote. Halliburton pointed out that the southwesterly winds would dry the area out to such an extent that it would take a severe frontal action to bring precipitation.

KEEPING LAW AND ORDER—An excellent system of patrolling will insure maximum safety for those attending the 32nd annual Panhandle-South Plains fair. Pictured above as the patrol system was being organized this morning are, left to right, Sgt. J. T. Alley, L. P. Miller and Lynn Campbell of the city police department, and A. L. Halford and Elmer Cannon of the fire department who are doing "extra duty" at the fairgrounds this week. (Staff Photos by Bill Clark).

Soldiers Held In Car Case

Three soldiers of Lubbock Air Force base were held by police today for investigation into the late Sunday theft of an automobile.

It was believed likely that charges would be filed against some or all of them although, it was announced this afternoon, it had not been determined whether state or military jurisdictions would be asked to do so.

The three were arrested soon after a car the police had been seeking as stolen stopped in 3000-block Ave. L and three persons were observed to run from it.

Police said the case was started with the report that a car had been stolen in 2500-block Ave. N. H. H. Trammel of 1206 Twenty-third is the owner.

Variance In Stories

Two of the suspects were picked up first. They told a different story from that related by the third man, officials said.

A 45-year-old Plainview man was held for investigation into forgery of several cashier's checks, police said.

He was arrested in 800-block Broadway after A. A. Gilkey had informed them the man had cashed a $20 traveler's check after purchasing from Gilkey a razor and billfold costing a total of $4.10.

After the man had gone, Gilkey said he noticed that the signature the suspect affixed to the traveler's check "did not match one already on it."

John R. McIlhaney, 76, Is Death Victim

John R. McIlhaney, 76, of 2006 Seventeenth, pioneer Lubbock dairyman, died about 5:45 p. m. Sunday in West Texas hospital, where he had been for approximately a week.

He was a former real estate man at Vernon, but had associated himself in the dairy business shortly after coming to Lubbock in 1912. Except for short periods when he visited and lived in El Paso and Albuquerque, N. M., he had lived here until his death.

He had not been actively engaged in business for several years, and had been living with his son Joe McIlhaney at the latter's Lubbock home or on his farm located on Forty-eighth street.

Funeral services are scheduled for 10 a. m. Tuesday in First Baptist church here, Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor, officiating. Burial will follow in Tech memorial park cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Survivors include his wife; six sons, Joe of Lubbock, William V. of Albuquerque, George T. of Albuquerque, and Jack of El Paso; two daughters, Mrs. C. T. Gholson of Albuquerque and Mrs. G. M. Deering of Lubbock; three brothers, Arthur of Temple, Oliver of Vernon, and Frank of Blanket; and one sister, Mrs. Mack Davis, Gatesville.

Pallbearers for the funeral will be J. Holland Cox, Carl Scoggins, O. W. McGuire, John C. Crawford, Warren Henry and Fred C. Litton.

Wreck Victims In Hospitals

Three persons remained in Lubbock hospitals today of injuries suffered in automobile collisions near Lubbock Sunday.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. Pearl Gaines, 80, of 2415 Fifteenth, who suffered a broken right upper arm and broken right leg shortly before 8:45 p. m. Sunday when the late model Plymouth in which she was riding was struck at an intersection on the Idalou highway five miles east of Lubbock by a car driven by a man who failed to stop and render aid.

Taken To Hospital

She was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where attendants today said her condition was 'as good as can be expected."

Her daughter, Velma, 26, was treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital for cuts and bruises.

Two Cars Collide

Two negro children, Benny, 4, and his sister, Gracie Lyles, 7, whose mother is Rose Lyles, were admitted to Lubbock Memorial hospital shortly after 5 p. m. when two cars collided on the East Slaton cutoff a short distance from the Queen City residential district.

They were reported "resting well" today. Six other negroes were injured in the accident but none seriously.

Boaters Recovering From Plunge In Lake

FORT WORTH, Sept. 26. (U.P.)—Two Fort Worth women were recovering today from an icy plunge in Lake Worth when their boat capsized early last night.

The small outboard motorboat of Mrs. A. T. Gibson and Mrs. Bobbie Shiro capsized about a half mile from shore in a tossing wake from a larger craft.

Two unidentified youths in a sailboat rescued the women.

Quarterback Club To Meet Tonight

The local Quarterback club will hold its regular weekly meeting at 8 o'clock tonight, at a new location—the ballroom of the Hilton hotel.

Movies of the Lubbock-Childress and Texas Tech-University of Texas football games, played weekend before last, will be shown at tonight's meeting.

Team coaches of Lubbock High, Tech and Dunbar High also will discuss last week's games, and prospects for this week's tussles.

The public is invited to attend the gathering, for which there is no admission charge.

NEW URANIUM SOURCES REPORTED

U.S.-Russian Atom Race Is Predicted

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 26—Reports of new uranium discoveries on both sides of the iron curtain—in Czechoslovakia and Spain—spurred talk of an atomic energy race now that Russia has atomic weapons.

These were the weekend developments in Europe following President Truman's announcement that the Russians had touched off an atomic explosion recently:

1. Taas, the official Soviet news agency, asserted Russia has had atomic weapons since 1947. It again said the Soviet Union was ready for international control of atomic energy but didn't say what kind of control—a point that has balked American-Soviet agreement because previously Russia has insisted on a veto power over international inspectors.

2. Franco Spain, already possessing known uranium deposits, was reported to have found new veins of the ore from which atom bombs are made. This prompted speculation as to whether Generalissimo Franco would use his uranium store in bargaining for improved relations with the western powers.

3. A new uranium mine was reported opened in Czechoslovakia under the direction of Russian engineers. At least two Czech mines are known to be sending uranium already to Soviet Russia.

4. German scientists and uranium ore from east Germany helped the Russians develop their bomb, informed American and

Pretty Woman Polio Victim Is Married To War Veteran

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—Pretty Inez Basilico, confined to a wheelchair by polio for most of her 27 years, was wheeled down a church aisle yesterday to become a bride.

The dark-haired girl—her sweeping white lace wedding gown all but concealing the wheelchair—was married to a 25-year-old Canadian war veteran, Rene Gautreau.

They met at Bellevue hospital, where both work.

Inez, unable to walk since she was nine years old, regained the use of her arms a few years ago. Unwilling to remain idle, she got a job at the hospital as a medical secretary a year ago.

Rene, an attendant at the hospital, fell in love with the crippled girl and asked her to marry him. She said yes.

Yesterday, her father, Angelo Basilico, proudly pushed the wheelchair down the center aisle of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic church. Well-wishers reached out to pat Inez

SHORTAGE OF IMPORTS CLAIMED

Consumers Protest Price Of Sugar Controlled By '48 Act

By OVID MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Wartime price controls have long been dead, but one major commodity still is under government price regulation. It is sugar.

The government does not have direct authority to set sugar prices, but it can control them indirectly through the sugar act of 1948. This act directs the Agriculture department to set up quotas on marketings and imports. By moving the quotas up and down, the department is in a position to regulate prices.

Producers Versus Consumers

Some segments of the sugar industry have been kicking up quite a fuss over the way the department has been administering the sugar law.

On one side are domestic producers. Quite naturally they want prices as high as possible. It was largely in their behalf that the sugar law was passed. The legislation is designed to stabilize prices and supplies of sugar at levels which will enable them to compete with lower-cost foreign producing areas.

On the other side are sugar consumers. They want low prices. Some industrial users, particularly the soft drink industry, have been complaining that prices are too high. The reason they are too high, say the bottlers, is that Secretary of Agriculture Brannan is not permitting enough sugar to be imported to meet domestic needs. Domestic producers do not grow enough to fill the country's needs.

Shutdown Threatened

Reflecting the same viewpoint, one sugar refinery threatened to close down. It said it could not get enough raw sugar from Cuba to keep going.

These complaints from users and the refinery led Brannan to boost the overall 1949 marketing quota from 7,250,000 to 7,500,000 short tons on Sept. 13.

Whether this increase will satisfy the industry only time will tell. Government figures show that during the first eight months of the year Americans used sugar at a greater annual rate than Brannan's original marketing quota for the year.

The boost in the quota is expected to halt a recent slight upturn in prices.

Price Guide Used

The department is not convinced, however, that sugar prices are too high. In fact, it believes they may be one cent a pound too low in relation to a price guide set up in the sugar law.

The department recently reported that sugar is one of the lowest-priced commodities, if not actually the lowest. From the Civil war period to the present there has been an upward trend in almost all food prices. Sugar is a major exception, the report said.

"In terms of prewar (1935-'39) level of all foods, the price of sugar has declined from a level of around 13 cents a pound (wholesale) for the decade of the 1860s to a low point of 3.65 (cents) in 1948," the department said.

According to the department, sugar prices would be more than double what they are if they had advanced as much since 1935-'39 as have all other foods.

The department believes the fact that consumption has jumped from an annual average of 19 pounds per person during the Civil war to more than 100 pounds proves that sugar is a cheap food.

The Gold Coast is host to 12 British mining students visiting its mines.

Prof's Death Plunge At Football Stadium Is Ruled Accidental

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 26. (AP)—Accidental death is the official verdict in the death of Prof. Frank D. Graham, internationally known economist who fell 70 feet Saturday from the rim of Palmer stadium.

Dr. Carmine Prunetti, assistant Mercer county physician, said the death was accidental. Police said Graham, 59, and an expert on international financial affairs, plunged to his death a minute or so after seeing Princeton university defeat LaFayette college, 26-14.

Mrs. Mary Louis Graham, wife of the Princeton professor, told police she and her husband became separated in the crush of 22,000 persons leaving the big concrete, horseshoe shaped stadium after the game.

Native Of Halifax

Police said that although witnesses told of seeing a man run toward the top of the east side of the stadium, no one reported seeing how Graham reached the top of the five-and-a-half foot wall behind the last row of seats. A three-feet gravel walk separates the wall from the seats.

He was the walker professor of international finance at Princeton.

Before coming here in 1921, Graham, a native of Halifax, Nova Scotia, had taught at Dalhousie university, Halifax, Harvard, Rutgers and Dartmouth. He held degrees from Dalhousie and Harvard.

Father Is Unable To Keep Appointment With Daughter At Church For Wedding

CHICAGO, Sept. 26. (AP)—Antonio Mioso, 62, couldn't keep the date yesterday to meet his daughter at the altar for her wedding.

As Mioso drove up to the church with the bride-to-be, Josephine, 29, her mother, and brother, Steve, he became ill and slumped against the side of the car.

It was almost time for the wedding, so Steve sent his mother and sister on into the church with the promise that he and his father would follow soon. Then he called a rescue squad from the fire department and Mioso was taken to a hospital.

Steve joined the gay wedding party at the reception. There he told a news man that only his three brothers and himself knew that the happy bride's father had died in the car as Josephine walked down the aisle to be married to Sam Tomasello, 39, a contractor.

"I'll tell the others about it tomorrow," he said.

Ability To Walk Is Boy's Birthday Gift

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26—(AP) Eleven-year- old Victor Cattan has a treasured birthday gift today—the ability to walk for the first time in his life.

As the guests looked on, the young lad from Panama discarded his crutches and took his first few faltering steps.

Plagued by a muscular condition that left him crippled since birth, Victor came to the hospital here 20 months ago after being termed a hopeless cripple by several other hospitals.

So far, 10 operations have been performed and doctors here say one or two more may be necessary before Victor has the full use of his legs.

Margaret Truman To Star On Radio Show

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—Margaret Truman has been booked as guest soloist on an American Broadcasting company program, "Carnegie Hall," on Dec. 20—her first New York professional singing appearance.

The announcement of the broadcast, made yesterday, said is will be Miss Truman's only radio appearance in 1949. She is starting on a concert tour of 27 cities next month.

The announcement was made by Charles H. Wagner, president of the American Oil company, sponsor of the program. Financial arrangements were not disclosed.

Ford Pension Plan Offered

DETROIT, Sept. 26 (AP) — A showdown in a contract dispute involving 115,000 Ford Motor Co. workers was little more than 48 hours away today after a second straight weekend of bargaining.

Negotiators recessed their long talks at 1 a. m. to go back into another session in 12 hours.

Yesterday's 12-hour meeting, interrupted only for dinner, led to some speculation of a settlement well ahead of 12:01 a. m. Thursday, when a union notice automatically terminates the contract.

A strike at nearly 48 Ford plants across the nation probably would be called shortly after that unless the dispute is settled by then.

Pension Plan Offered

The only word from either side as the latest session broke up was a union report that complex pension issues were under discussion.

Ford already has offered the union a pension plan in line with recommendations of a presidential fact-finding board for the nation's steel workers.

The board recommended a "package" increase of up to the equivalent of 10 cents an hour in the form of pensions and insurance—nothing in the way for a wage boost.

UAW sources said Ford's pension offer, coupled with an insurance plan already in effect, would add up to that much.

Any settlement reached at Ford might provide the basis for heading off a nationwide steel strike set for early Saturday.

While Ford and UAW bargainers were holding their weekend talks, the union announced that Chrysler Corp. employes had voted 50,101 to 6,512 in favor of a strike to enforce similar contract demands to those being asked at Ford.

However, the Ford company remained the principal union target in the UAW's current wage drive.

BODY IS FOUND

LAREDO, Sept. 26 (AP) — The nude, decomposed body of a Mexican youth about 18 was taken from the Rio Grande 16 miles south of Laredo yesterday. Officers said they thought the boy may have drowned trying to swim the river.

The small amount of steel made in U. S. colonial days was used mainly in bayonets, swords and cuttings tools.

V-P Barkley Present On Widow's Birthday

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Vice President Barkley spent the weekend in St. Louis, helping an attractive friend celebrate her 38th birthday anniversary.

The vice president attended a birthday party for Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley Saturday night. Yesterday they went to church together.

Mrs. Hadley's friends had speculated that the birthday party might be the occasion for announcement of the couple's engagement. But it was not even known whether Barkley had given Mrs. Hadley a present.

He has made several trips to St. Louis recently to see her.

Mrs. Hadley, a widow, was at the airport when the 71-year-old vice president took off for Washington late yesterday. She also met him on his arrival Friday night.

Most European Countries Have Bumper Wheat Crop Prospects

PARIS, Sept. 26 (AP) — Europe looks forward to a bumper 1949 wheat crop, approaching the yield of prewar years.

The Associated Press survey of 14 countries disclosed that experts estimate the current harvest will top even last year's crop, despite long summer droughts.

Only two eastern European countries were included in the survey, because most iron curtain countries have made it a crime to disclose crop estimates.

"Earlier this summer," one American expert here said, "we figured this year's crops probably five per cent below last year's. The figures coming in now make us think that it may be even better than 1948."

Europe's wheat production in 1948 was 36,800,000 tons. This was 86.5 per cent of the 1934-38 average total. Both totals exclude Russia which refuses to furnish figures.

Italy: 6,860,000 tons—a gain of 12 per cent.

Britain: expects about 34 bushels per acre for some 1,900,000 acres—bigger yield per acre but smaller total because of reduced plantings.

DeMolays Initiate Class Of 21 Boys

A class of 21 boys was initiated Sunday afternoon into Lubbock's E. Y. Lee chapter of DeMolay in ceremonies at the Masonic temple.

Both initiatory and DeMolay degrees were conferred by Tommy Cooper, Jimmy Kennedy, orator, and third preceptor of the Texas state chapter, delivered the flower sermon.

New DeMolays are Jerry Rooker, Jackie Don Williamson, Jerry Smith, jr., James Massey, Jim Bob Phillips, Harry Fry, Dee H. Rose, jr., John Garner, Wendell White, Carl Hart, Roy Faubion, Kenneth Jeffreys, Grady Workman, Carl Cook, William Gordon, Don Bomar, Bobby Pope, James Alls, Henry Kirschner, Carl Ince, and Donnie McEntire.

With the exception of the charter class, it was the largest group of DeMolays ever to be initiated in Lubbock. The class was dedicated to Frank S. Land, Kansas City, founder and secretary general of DeMolay. Since its inception by Dad Land 30 years ago, the order has received 1,750,000 boys for membership.

Announcement was made that the E. Y. Lee chapter will observe Constitution day on Thursday with a program that night at the Masonic temple. The chapter has extended a special invitation to Lubbock Master Masons to be present.

Auto Accident Kills Tot's Foster Father

BESSEMER, Ala., Sept. 26. (AP) The foster father of a little girl—whose real daddy was accused of selling her for adoption for $500—was killed yesterday in an automobile accident.

He was William H. Sessions, 40-year-old restaurant operator. His automobile overturned down a 75-foot embankment into a creek.

Sessions and his wife, who were childless, adopted three-year-old Jewel Viree Edwards. County welfare officials began an investigation last July and later charged that Jewel Viree's unemployed father, Leamon Edwards, obtained $500 from the Sessions in the transaction.

All three denied, however, that the money had any connection with the adoption, which has not been dissolved.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulgy person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Barcentrate has been sold in Texas in the past four years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

Meet Louis Karg— Another "Do-it-yourself" American

He's on his way up!

Louis A. Karg of Canton, Ohio, was a screw machine operator with ideas and ambitions, and the initiative to do something about them. He took courses in metallurgy on the side. He used his wits to invent a special gauging device for seamless tubing. Result? He won himself a job as machining service engineer at The Timken Roller Bearing Company. Today at 32, he's sales development engineer, a specialist in his field. He's on his way up...he did it on his own!

☆ It's the American Spirit!

YES, LOUIS KARG opened up a "new frontier" for himself . . . on his own Main Street! Like thousands of others, he has the traditional do-it-yourself spirit that finds opportunities in today's America—and makes the most of them.

In your own home town, you'll find another proof that most folks still believe in taking care of their own—on their own. It lies in the fact that 4 out of 5 American families are voluntary owners of life insurance. And through their life insurance they also help open up opportunities for other Americans. For every year many of their life insurance dollars are invested in industries, homes, farms. This means more jobs and better living for everyone. And more security at lower cost for America's 78 million policyowners.

Because more people look to life insurance service every year, life insurance has grown to meet their needs. Today more than 150,000 trained agents and 584 separate life insurance companies compete aggressively and constantly to help Americans help themselves!

It's a Fact...

It's a fact that the affairs of the life insurance business are an "open book," because:

- Every life insurance company has to file a report every year in every state in which it is licensed to do business.
- These reports to the state supervisory authorities completely cover each company's insurance and financial operations. They are open to the public at any time.
- The state authorities also have the right to inquire into any of the company's affairs at any time. And in most states examinations of the company must be made at regular intervals. These examination reports, too, are open to public inspection.

The insurance commissioner at your state capital will welcome inquiries. Or an inquiry to your company or your agent will be gladly answered. See your life insurance agent. Getting information for you is one of the many ways he helps demonstrate that life insurance is a service!

Mary Haworth's Mail

Girl's Fiance Is Incensed By Her Parents' Refusal To Let Her Attend His College

DEAR Mary Haworth: I am 19 years of age and engaged to Hugh, who is 21. We have gone together for five years, and our present problem is that we want to attend the same college this year but my parents object.

For the past two years Hugh and I have been going to different colleges and my parents refuse to let me change, because they say it would ruin my reputation if I did so. Last fall when Hugh was begging my parents to give their consent to our going to the same college they became angry, and my mother has just barely spoken to him since, although my father has been nice.

All of this hurts Hugh and he has kept me out late on several occasions since that disagreement, and as my parents object to late hours, this adds to their unfriendliness. They have done exceptionally nice things for me and of course I love them and don't want to break their hearts by disobedience, but I also want to make Hugh happy.

BOY'S PARENTS FAVOR HIS IDEA

HUGH'S parents agree with us that going to the same college would be an economy, in that we could be saving money for our future home that we now spend on transportation back and forth to see each other every weekend.

Thus far my parents have paid for my schooling and also have given me a modest allowance, which they are well able to do; but I am willing to work my way through college from this point if necessary, and Hugh has even offered to help. I hope you will advise me very soon, for it is time my plans were made for the coming year.

Signed: C. J.

LAD'S BEHAVIOR ISN'T FIRST-RATE

DEAR C. J.: Taking into account the general outlines of Hugh's behavior that you've given, I agree with your parents that it would seem imprudent for you to become a camp follower of his at this time.

As I get the picture, it is his idea primarily that you ought to attend his college and thus eliminate the expense and inconveniences of cross-country week end court—for I notice you speak of wishing to "please" him, while concurrently worrying about hurting your parents if you side with him in the conflict of opinions.

Hugh's bad behavior, his show-off gesture of throwing his weight around, in deliberately keeping you out late this past year, as a thrust at your mother for offending or snubbing him, is my chief reason for voting against the proposition of changing colleges to tag after him.

A SPOILED CHILD, BOSSY AND JEALOUS

YOU MAY be fairly certain that it isn't devout love, but rather an imperious streak of jealous selfishness, which animates Hugh's aggressively anxious demanding suit since you've entered college. His parents' disposition to humor all his desires, reading "sense" into whatever he wants done, instead of pointing out that others' ideas have validity, too, doubtless affords the clue to his "problem" character, as it now stands revealed in relation to your parents and you.

Very likely Hugh is a spoiled child and, like most spoiled children, a bad loser as well as inordinately bossy and possessive in intimate relationship—thus in this instance strenuously opposed to your having a college life apart from his, lest it dilute your interest in him or possibly divert your attention to "rivals" in his absence.

His offer to help you work your way through school is mere childish sounding-off, in my opinion; yet even if he could help financially, you couldn't leave home to be his shadow, and thereafter draw on his purse as his "sweetie," without cheapening yourself in the public estimate and ruining your rating with him, eventually. So forget the nonsense and heed your parents' devoted counsel.

M. H.

Home Beautiful Tour Grosses Over $1500

Lubbock Women's club grosses $1550 on tickets sold to its Home Beautiful clinic Saturday and Sunday. This was the second such pilgrimage to be sponsored by the organization. Proceeds will go toward the indebtedness on the recently purchased clubhouse at 2020 Broadway.

Mrs. George Berry was general chairman of arrangement for the clinic.

Indication of the hundreds of interested persons who visited the new homes that were open for inspection, a check at the Clarence Young residence Sunday afternoon showed that 650 persons had been shown through.

Coffee Is Scheduled

Soldier Weds German Girl By Telephone

BERLIN, Sept. 26. (U.P.)—An American sergeant and a 26-year-old German girl were married by telephone today in a trans-Atlantic ceremony.

Sgt. Aldon N. Covington, 29, of Bloomington, Ind., said his vows in Fort Worth, Texas. The bride, the former Rita Wehrmann, said hers in a Berlin lawyer's office.

Rita said she hoped to join her husband before Christmas. She said they met in Berlin in July, 1948.

Wedding Is Announced

Mrs. C. S. Rogers, 2015 Sixteenth, is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Nanci, to Dennis L. Dillard, son of D. Dillard of Lubbock, and Mrs. Mary Lee Dillard of Floydada. The vows were read Sept. 17 in the Hillcrest Church of Christ at Chula Vista, Calif. with Harris Goodwin, II, officiating at a double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, former Lubbock residents, were attendants.

The couple will be at home in San Diego, where he is stationed with the U. S. Navy.

Juveniles Flee From Harris County Jail

HOUSTON, Sept. 26 (U.P.) — Officers had found no trace today of two teen-agers who used iron bars to force their way out of the Harris county juvenile detention ward yesterday afternoon.

Chief Probation Officer S. L. Bellamy said the youths, 16 and 13, pried a window frame out of a crumbling plaster wall, fled down two flights of fire escape steps and got away between "rountine checks" by a ward orderly

One of the escapees was to be committed to the Texas training school for boys at Gatesville. He was sentenced Thursday on a hot check charge.

The other boy was awaiting trial in connection with theft of a car, Bellamy said.

Good Deed Costs Man $158 And Billfold

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 26. (AP)—A good deed here today cost Adrian Quegnot $158.

Enroute home at 1 a. m. he noticed a man lying in the middle of the street. Thinking the man was drunk he dragged him to the sidewalk.

He discovered when he reached home his billfold was missing.

FHA Chapters To Be Active This Week At Fair

Future Homemakers chapters of Area 2 are taking part in the Panhandle-South Plains fair for the first time in history. The girls were second to have their booth in the agricultural building ready. It has as a general theme, "To Promote International Good Will."

The booth has been arranged to show the degrees of achievement of FHA and the symbols; colors, flower and various newsletters of the area, state and national organization.

Hostesses from Lubbock County schools will be on duty during the week to explain the organization. The club days are: Monday, Cooper and Slaton, Mrs. E. McWhirter and Mrs. Sam T. Phillips, sponsors: Tuesday, Lubbock Senior and O. L. Slaton; Miss Gertrude Watson, Mrs. Carrie Lee Bishop and Mrs. Richard Pettyjohn sponsors; Wednesday, New Deal, Frenship, Mrs. Jo Bacum and Mrs. Lila Watkins, sponsors; Thursday, Idalou, Miss Ruth Edgerton, sponsor; Friday, Roosevelt, Mrs. G. K. Bullock, jr., sponsor; Saturday, J. T. Hutchinson and Carroll Thompson, Mrs. Bill Henry and Mrs. Riley Carlton, sponsors.

Miss Ehther Sorensen, district supervisor of homemaking education, is Area 2 advisor. There were 688 chapters in Texas in 1948 with a membership of 28,271, representing ten per cent of the number of chapters in the nation.

President Signs Bill Extending Trade Act

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26. (AP)—President Truman today signed legislation extending the reciprocal trade agreements act and giving him a free hand to work out traffic-cutting treaties with other nations.

The bill the President signed will continue the 15-year-old law until June 12, 1951. It is the sixth time Congress has extended the law since it was enacted in 1934 at the urging of Cordell Hull, then secretary of state.

Hull, recognized as the father of the program, was at the White House to watch Mr. Truman sign the extension.

Clues Sought In Burglaries

No arrests had been announced today in connection with a police investigation into burglary early Sunday of three residences fronting on Nineteenth west of College Ave.

Detectives and several other investigators were studying the cases in efforts to upturn clues.

City detectives said intruders had entered houses belonging to Dr. J. T. Krueger at 2703 Nineteenth, Dr. O. W. English at 2809 Nineteenth and Mrs. W. D. Green at 2801 Nineteenth.

A definite estimate of losses involved could not be determined since residents of the homes are temporarily out of the city. It was thought however, that at least two pistols, quantities of clothing and some jewelry had been taken.

Absence of the owners in each instance and marked similarity in the methods of entry and search at each of the houses, coupled with the proximity of the houses definitely links the three burglaries, officials said.

Police Sunday were also informed of a theft which occurred during a dance scheduled by a beauticians' group in the ballroom of a downtown hotel Saturday night. Mrs. Esther Adams, of 2316 Fourteenth, told officers that a black plastic purse containing $20 and some papers had been stolen from her there.

Jury To Get Case Of "Tokyo Rose" Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26 (AP)—After instructions from federal Judge Michael J. Roche, a jury of six men and six women was to receive the treason case of Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino today.

The Los Angeles-born defendant is charged with treasonable broadcasts to American troops in the Pacific over Radio Tokyo during the war. She maintained during her 55-day trial that they were harmless. The prosecution termed her "an arch traitoress" and a "female Benedict Arnold."

Pure Heroin Grabbed By Narcotic Agents

SAN ANTONIO, Sept.26—(U.P.)—Federal and city narcotic agents have confiscated five ounces of pure heroin whose black market value was unofficially placed at $200,000, it was learned today.

It was said to be the largest amount of heroin ever seized in this country.

A suspect was arrested Saturday night. Later he accompanied officers to a south side San Antonio address where he took five packages from a suitcase. Each package contained an ounce of heroin.

Fear Of Bomb Causes Deaths

ARCADIA, Cal., Sept. 26 (U.P.)—The father of a junior college professor believed today his son killed his young roommate and committed suicide because he feared Russia's use of the atomic bomb.

The bodies of Walter H. Griffith, 35, professor at John Muir college, Pasadena, Cal., and his roommate, Donald Otto Magneson, 23, a University of Southern California student, were discovered in the bathroom of their apartment yesterday.

Man Was Depressed

"Walter was extremely depressed and demoralized the night President Truman announced Russia had developed an atomic bomb," Walter H. C. Griffith, the professor's father said. "A brilliant, student, he was also very sensitive."

Griffith said he could think of no other reason for the apparent murder-suicide because "he and Donald were close friends and always seemed to get along well."

Bodies Are Found

The body of Magneson, a GI student, was found nude in a bathtub, his head under water. He had been shot three times. His friend's body was nearby, with a 38-caliber revolver lying where he had dropped it.

Sheriff's Capt. Garner Brown said the shooting took place early Saturday. The men moved to the house a week ago following a summer trip to Mexico.

Court No Place To Give Rubber Check

MACOMB, Ill., Sept. 26 (U.P.)—Bert Wittikiend picked out the wrong man to give a bad check to.

He filled out a chack for $14.40 to pay a fine for intoxication and gave it to Justice of the Peace Floyd Keough.

When the check bounced, County Judge Wallace Walker sentenced Wittikiend to a year at the Vandalia prison farm—on Keough's complaint.

Sheriff Asks Voters To Approve New Jail

ARDMORE, Okla., Sept. 26. (U.P.)—Come to jail before you go to the polls.

With that invitation, Carter County Sheriff Howard Johnson hoped today to win votes for a $270,000 bond issue which county voters will pass upon tomorrow along with the state repeal and building bond issues.

Johnson held open house at the rundown Carter county jailhouse today in an attempt to convince voters they should approve the bonds for building a modern two-story county office and jail building.

"I believe the voters of the county will find this a worthwhile opportunity to see for themselves what we are up against," Johnson said.

County prisoners have been moved to the city jail for the event. Johnson and his deputies acted as guides.

SAVES PUP BY NIGHT IN WOODS—Danny Ryan, 14, of Brooklyn, cuddles his pup, Teddy, in Interstate Park near Alpine, N. J., where police found him camping in woods. Danny ran away from home with the pup to save it from destruction advised by ASPCA when its hind legs were found to be paralyzed. Danny's mother agreed to verdict and Danny decided to run away. Sympathetic police took Teddy to another veterinarian who said the pup could be cured. Danny and Teddy were sent home happy.

Continuance Granted In Trial For Murder

TEXARKANA, Sept. 26. (AP)—District Judge N. L. Dalby granted continuance today until Oct. 24 of the special venire murder trial of Mrs. Veda Green, 47, Texarkana.

Mrs. Green is charged in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Anne McDonald, drugstore cashier, Aug. 14.

Mrs. McDonald allegedly was sitting in a truck in an alley near the Texarkana, Tex., police station with W. O. Green, 47, ex-husband of the defendant.

Green is recovering from a critical hip wound. His wife is scheduled for trial Oct. 3 on a charge of assault with intent to gill her ex-husband.

CORBIN TO SPEAK

BIG SPRING, Sept. 26. (Special)—State Senator Kilmer Corbin will be guest speaker at a joint dinner meeting of the South Plains and Perrin Basin Optometric societies at 7 p. m. Tuesday at the Settles hotel in Big Spring.

India produced 15,500,000 tons of coal in the first half of 1949.

Storm In Gulf Moves Inland

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Hurricane hunting planes reported today a small hurricane, born in the southwest Gulf of Mexico four days ago, died as it moved inland northwest of Vera Cruz, Mexico.

The U. S. Weather bureau here, in its 8 a. m. (CST) advisory, said much of the storm's circulation had been over land for the previous eight to twelve hours, and the intensity decreased rapidly.

Storm Moves Inland

The hurricane moved inland this morning a short distance northwest of Vera Cruz, Mexico, the Weather bureau reported.

In its latest advisory, the Weather bureau said:

"No center of circulation could be located at 8 a. m. (CST) and no strong winds were reported at that time on the coast. Scattered squalls are likely over the extreme southwest gulf for the next twelve hours.

"No further advisories will be issued."

Hill County To Vote On Financing School

HILLSBORO, Sept. 26. (U.P.)—Hill county voters go to the polls tomorrow to ballot on creation and maintenance of a junior college district.

School officials have said that the Hillsboro junior college, in operation for 25 years, cannot continue unless it is tax supported.

Suicide Attempt By German Prince Fails

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—Prince Alexander Hohenlohe, who had been brooding over a separation from his wife, shot himself last night in a suicide attempt, police said.

The member of a once leading German and Austrian noble family was reported in critical condition today at city hospital with a bullet wound in the chest. The shot collapsed one lung.

A police guard was posted at the bedside of the 30-year-old Hohenlohe. He was arrested on a charge of illegal possession of the pistol he used and of another found in his apartment.

Police said Hohenlohe had been depressed since separation last spring from his wife, the former Boyce Thompson Schulze. She is the daughter of a former wife of Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, jr., ex-ambassador to Poland.

The prince's estranged wife and her mother hurried to the hospital when informed of the shooting. They waited in an anteroom while he underwent an operation. Later they were permitted to talk to him.

Prisoner Walks From Jail To Get Shave

CLINTON Okla., Sept. 26—(U.P.) Custer county Undersheriff Ben Moss was pretty embarrassed when he forgot to lock a cell door and a prisoner walked out.

It was all right, though. When officers found the prisoner at home, he explained, "I didn't run away. My beard was beginning to bother me and I came home to shave.

Texas Newsman Dies In Austin Hospital

AUSTIN, Sept. 26. (AP) — C. Badger Reed, Texas newsman, died at Brackenridge hospital today.

He had been ill since Friday.

Reed was publisher of the Texas Spectator, a liberal political weekly that stopped publication a year ago. He had worked on several Texas newspapers.

Reed was a son of the late M. H. Reed, Austin capitalist. He is survived by his widow and a daughter, Zelda.

Noted Throat Specialists report on 30-Day Test of Camel Smokers...
NOT ONE SINGLE CASE OF THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS!

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days.

THOUSANDS MORE AGREE!

"The 30-Day Test opened my eyes! Smoking is really fun when I smoke Camels!" Skater Jinx Clark.

"How long have I smoked Camels? Years! Camels suit me to a 'T'!" Adam Tomey, bridge maintenance.

"Camels passed my smoking test 100%! They agree with my throat and taste so good!" Pilot Mary Morrison.

"My test of Camels has been going on for years! And Camel cheers my taste!" Golfer Gene Sarazen.

"Camels gave me a lesson in smoking pleasure. They taste good and mild!" Telephone operator Rita Edwards.

"Mildest cigarette I ever smoked! A change to Camels was for the better!" Billiard star Willie Mosconi.

"I made my own test. I found Camels the mildest, best-tasting cigarette!" Mary Goodfellow, hat designer.

"I never knew how enjoyable smoking could be until I changed to Camels!" Gladys Swarthout, opera star.

"I changed my ideas about smoking enjoyment when I changed to Camels. They taste so good!" Mrs. Orson Munn, Jr., socialite.

"Personally, I've found the answer to a milder, better-tasting smoke. I'd walk a mile for a Camel!" Aqua-ski star Bill Hatfield.

Start your own 30-Day Camel Mildness Test Today!

You have the word of Camel smokers . . . of noted throat specialists, too . . . but prove it for yourself. Smoke Camels for 30 days. Compare them in your "T-Zone" (T for taste, T for throat). See if you don't agree that Camels are the mildest, best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!

SECRETARY'S BOOK PUBLISHED

FDR Lost $25,000 A Year As President, New Book Shows

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The late Franklin D. Roosevelt lost $25,000 a year while he served as President, according to "F.D.R., My Boss," a book by his secretary, Grace Tully, published today by Charles Scribner's sons.

Miss Tully was private secretary to the late President from before his first campaign for the White House until he died at Warm Springs, Ga., in April, 1945.

During the years she worked for the "boss," she met almost every prominent world figure, and through her shorthand notebook passed some of the most vital secrets of World War II. None of the numerous so-called "Roosevelt books" published since his death tops Miss Tully's for intimate detail.

Miss Tully, whose only qualification as a financial expert was a brief period spent as a restaurant cashier, was selected by F.D.R. to assist with preparation of his income tax return each year.

"F.D.R. frequently dipped into personal income to make the monthly finances come out right," Miss Tully reports. "Between the federal and New York state levies the President used to write off about $45,000 annually out of his $75,000 salary and the tax-free traveling allowance of $25,000 granted him.

"His deficit on the basis of these two incomes alone ran about $25,000 yearly, which had to be met from either his private income or capital."

In her 391-page account of service under the late chief executive, Miss Tully recounts in detail Mr. Roosevelt's dislike for the type of food served by the White House housekeeper, Mrs. Henrietta Nesbitt. Miss Tully says that in 1944, she heard F.D.R. say, "I really want to be elected to a fourth term—so I can fire Mrs. Nesbitt."

Made Own Coffee

Coffee at the White House, according to "F.D.R., My Boss," became so unsavory to the chief executive that he began making his own in a bedroom percolator.

When Mrs. Roosevelt started her daily newspaper column, My Day, italso presented some problems in the White House. Miss Tully relates that F.D.R. was forced on several occasionsto admit publicly that he had talked about state matters with Mrs. Roosevelt without telling her it was off-record.

"After being caught in this predicament occasionally in the early days," Miss Tully says, "he made it increasingly a habit to admonish her (Mrs. Roosevelt): "Darling, you can't use thisin your column; it is relly off the record'."

If Mrs. Roosevelt questioned persistently about something confidential, F.D.R. would tell her, "I'm just not ready to talk about that, darling."

Mistake Is Admitted

In dealing with the more serious side of her relationship with Mr. Roosevelt, Miss Tully is admittedly subjective. Only in a few in stances does she concede he might have done some things differently. One of these was the way he ousted Secretary of Commerce JesseJones from the cabinet tot make way for Henry A. Wallace.

She also thought he had too much to drink before making a 1944 campaign speech in New York City. Mr. Roosevelt had been thoroughly drenched while touring the city in the rain for hours and before speaking that night, he took a "late afternoon bourbon treatment," switching to martinis just before the dinner at which he was to speak.

"And when he finally was seated in the ballroom he was faced with an impressive array of varied wines," she says. "It was the only occasion on which I knew him to have more than a couple of drinks—and the variety probably didn't help much either."

VOLT-AGE VOLTAGE MACHINE—An engineer in Schenectady, N. Y., gets set to try out a new machine called the voltage multiplier. The machine is designed to multiply 1000 volts of a small generator into a total of 100,000 volts. Still in the development stage at General Electric, the machine may later be used in conjunction with X-ray equipment and atom-smashers.

Two Negroes Dead In Sunday Knife Fights

HOUSTON, Sept. 26 (U.P.) — Two negro men died in separate knife fights yesterday, and three persons were charged with murder.

Fred Straughter, 39, was killed instantly at his home. Charges were filed against Ras O. Brown, 40, who has not yet been arrested.

A midnight cafe fight ended in the death of Tommie Pipkins, 28.

Jailed and charged with murder were Alonzo Brown, 20, and Homer Cornish, 25.

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Sept. 26 —So successful has a specialized system proven for treating rheumatism and arthritis that an amazing new book will be sent free to any reader of this paper who will write for it.

The book entitled, "Rheumatism," fully explains why drugs and medicines give only temporary relief and fail to remove the causes of the trouble; explains how you may obtain relief from rheumatism and arthritis.

You incur no obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. For writing promptly, the Clinic will send their newly enlarged book entitled, "Rheumatism." Address your letter to The Ball Clinic, Dept. 2311, Excelsior Springs, Missouri, but be sure to write today. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Mitchell, 2213 Twenty-ninth street, left by airplane Sunday morning for Suffolk, Va., after being notified of the death of Mr. Mitchell's mother. Mitchell's Maternity shop at 1003 Thirteenth street will be closed until their return, probably during the latter part of the week.

Mrs. E. B. Herriage, of 2322 Sixth, suffered a broken left wrist about 3:30 p. m. Sunday when she fell on a concrete terrace at the Lubbock Country club, north of the city. Mrs. Herriage, who was treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital, was walking across the terrace in spiked golf shoes at the time of the accident.

Funeral rites for Bettie Carol Graston, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Graston of Green Forest, Ark., were to be held at 1 p. m. today in the Baptist church of Wolfforth, with Rev. Vic Allen, pastor of the Ropesville Baptist church, to officiate. Burial was to be in Wolfforth cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home. Miss Graston died Wednesday in Berryville, Ark.

Nurses in hospitals at Luton and Hitchin, England, now may smoke in their rooms.

PANELRAY GIVES INFRA-RED HEAT

Revolutionary Heating System Featured By Morrison Supply

Home owners, it's not too early to be thinking about winter and how best to keep your home warm even when temperatures drop lowest.

Whether you're building or remodeling, or just shopping for a new heating system for your home, you're sure to want the kind of heating that gives you most for your money in terms of economy, reliability, and all-around satisfaction.

Morrison Supply Co., 1949 Ave. G, believes that Panelray gas heating is the answer. For Panelray heating is patterned after nature's own heating method.

Here, briefly, is the story of Panelray.

Panelray warms your home just like the sun warms the earth. It radiates infra-red heat rays at the speed of light that actually penetrate into your blood stream before the air is warmed.

This is the most healthful type of heat. The old type of hot air conditioning heats the air first, and you eventually get warm when the room (particularly the "head room") is flooded with hot air. Panelray directs its heat rays at body height throughout the "living zone" of the room, making you feel instantly and delightfully warm.

Panelray is clean and simple to operate, and has no exposed flame or incandescent parts. Designed for installation in walls of standard 2 by 4 construction, it extends only one and one-half inches beyond the wall.

Moderate in purchase price, its great money saving feature is low gas consumption due to its exclusive patented heat trap flue that radiates the infra-red rays directly where they are needed.

Panelray is ideal for use in bathrooms and bedrooms, where its quick, penetrating heat is desired for a short period of heating. It has been used with great success in offices, hotels, auto courts, and stores, in addition to homes.

An especially adaptable Panelray heater is Model "F", which is a floor model that can be used in places where wall installation is impractical or undesirable.

The Panelray heater is on display in the showrooms of the Morrison Supply Co. here in Lubbock, as are models of well-known lines of floor furnaces, including the famous Cozy floor furnaces.

Morrison Supply Co. is a wholesale supply firm which sells its products through master plumbers, appliance dealers, and contractors. The modern showroom at 1949 Ave. G is maintained to exhibit to the public the various lines of products sold by the company.

Also on display in the showroom are Crane and Day and Night water heaters, Gould domestic water systems, Crane plumbing fixtures, and a complete line of plumbing supplies.

Morrison Supply Co. has a wide distribution of its products throughout West Texas and eastern New Mexico. Complete and ample stocks are maintained by the company in its warehouses in Amarillo, Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Sweetwater, Odessa and Fort Worth.

AT MORRISON SUPPLY CO. — An interior view of a portion of the merchandise showroom at Morrison Supply Co., 1949 Ave. G, where the famous Panelray heating systems are featured. A Panelray heating unit is shown in the foreground, and others are displayed in the center and extreme right backgrounds.

PESO ADJUSTMENT SEEN

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 25 (AP)—Unconfirmed rumors in banking and business circles said today the government will adjust the value of the peso this week to compete with world-wide devalued currencies.

EXPERT INSTALLATION FEATURED

Lubbock Floor Covering Co. Has Finest In Carpeting, Linoleum

Sharing the spotlight at Lubbock Floor Covering Co., 2148 Nineteenth, are America's best-known lines of carpets and hard floor coverings.

In the carpet department are such nationally-famous names as Gulistan, Bigelow, Firth, and Artloom. Reliable lines of hard surface floor coverings which are featured include Armstrong, Nairn, Pabco, Congoleum, and Sloan linoleum products.

Little wonder that the firm is known as Lubbock's only complete floor covering company!

Lubbock Floor Covering Co. not only sells these popular brands of domestic and commercial carpeting and linoleum, but also offers complete and expert installation services.

They also feature a carpet cleaning and demothing service, with 20 years experience as evidence in their ability to do a satisfactory job.

The firm, which is owned by O. W. McLeod and Doyle McLeod, was opened on Jan. 1, 1948 in a 15-foot by 40-foot building. In order to take care of expanding trade and give more efficient service to their customers, the company took over an adjacent store building last fall, giving the firm a total sales and service space of 45 feet by 60 feet.

Natural light through the large display windows in the front of the store allows the customer to judge the true shade of the carpeting as it will actually appear when laid in her home, eliminating costly changing of color schemes.

In addition to regular linoleum products for floors, Lubbock Floor Covering Co. also features asphalt tile, rubber tile, sheet rubber, and vinyl products for cabinet tops as well as floors.

Stansell's Famed For Quality Potato Chips, Coffee, Spices

Two of Stansell's "specialties of the house" are their brands of potato chips and restaurant coffee which are processed in the firm's modern plant at 1504 Ave. H.

Other lines featured by Stansell's are household extracts, food condiments and spices.

The company, which is operated on a partnership basis by J. C. Stansell, J. C. Stansell, jr., and Hal Stansell, began business in 1933.

During the firm's 16 years in business here, consumers over a wide area of West Texas and eastern New Mexico have learned that the name Stansell's is synonymous with quality and flavor.

Grid Powers Score Triumphs

Sandies Rated In "Big Four"

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Texas schoolboy football campaign rumbles into October with only 25 unbeaten teams and with pronounced favorites in every district of the City conference and Class AA.

A dozen teams took the count last week-end but none of the heralded powers was included.

Jackets Crush Milby

Port Arthur crushed Milby of Houston 50-6, Amarillo whipped Abilene 21-7, Wichita Falls licked Breckenridge 14-7 and Austin beat Brackenridge (San Antonio) 20-7.

Others undefeated and untied are Sunset (Dallas), Lamar (Houston), San Jacinto (Houston), Pampa, Lamesa, Lubbock, Ysleta, Paris, Grand Prairie, Highland Park (Dallas), Henderson, Marshall, Freeport, Galveston, Baytown, Corsicana, Corpus Christi, Edinburg and Harlingen.

Undefeated but tied are John Reagan of Houston and Sherman.

This week winds two games matching undefeated, untied teams —Port Arthur vs. San Jacinto and Paris vs. Corsicana. Unbeaten, untied Highland Park plays once-tied Sherman.

The list of favorites compares pretty well with the pre-season ratings.

Favorites Are Listed

In the City conference, Sunset, Arlington Heights (Fort Worth), Lamar and Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) look like the best bets for district championships.

In Class AA they appears to be: District 1—Amarillo, District 2—Wichita Falls, District 3—Lubbock, District 4—El Paso, District 5—Abilene, District 6—Breckenridge, District 7—Paris, District 8—Highland Park, District 9—Texarkana, District 10—Lufkin, District 11—Port Arthur, District 12—Baytown, District 13—Waco, District 14—Austin, District 15—Alice, District 16—Harlingen.

There are 54 games on this week's schedule, three of them conference tests.

In the San Antonio district of the City conference, Burbank meets Alamo Heights and San Antonio Tech clashes with Harlandale in conference games.

The first conference tilt in Class AA matches Ennis with Waxahachie in District 13.

Big Spring Winner In League Playoff

(By The Associated Press)

Big Spring is champion of the Class D Longhorn league.

The Broncs last night beat Midland, 9-5, to win the final playoff series in four straight games.

Potato Pascual's grand slam home run in the third inning highlighted a 15-hit attack for the Broncs.

Big Spring will play the winner of the Rio Grande valley league playoff for the Class D baseball championship of Texas. Corpus Christi leads Brownsville, three games to none, in the Rio Grande valley league playoff.

SUGGS IS WINNER

LANDOVER, Md., Sept. 26. (AP) Slender, freckle-faced Louise Suggs from Georgia is the new queen of the women's national golf open. She fired a five-under-par 70 at Prince Georges Country club yesterday to give her a 72-hole total of 291 and a 14-stroke margin over "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias.

TY COBB WEDS

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 26. (AP) Ty Cobb and the new Mrs. Cobb will honeymoon at the World Series. The 62-year-old Georgia Peach of baseball's hall of fame and 39-year-old Mrs. Frances Cass were married Saturday.

MISSOURI BEGINS SCORING DRIVE—Halfback Dick Braznell (43) of Missouri, who carried the brunt of the ball-carrying duty in the first quarter against Ohio State, is shown picking up nine yards on a thrust through the right side of the line. He was stopped by Center Bob McCullough (52) and Tackle Dick O'Hanlon (74) on Missouri's 45-yard line. (AP Wirephoto.)

Don Williams Out For Year

Texas Tech's battered Red Raiders returned yesterday from San Antonio, but one of the players was left behind.

Don Williams, husky guard, was taken to a San Antonio hospital soon after the second half against Texas A. & M. started. He was injured midway through the first quarter and was carried from the field.

Preliminary examination disclosed that he was suffering from ruptured blood vessels, torn ligament and muscles and ruptured cartilages. Following a conference of doctors and coaches, it was decided to operate Sunday morning. It was feared that even if the operation is successful, he will suffer from leg stiffness the remainder of his life.

Out For Year

Williams, one of three football playing brothers from Phillips, had turned in outstanding performances at guard this year. He was being counted on heavily in the Raider forward wall, but the injury definitely concluded his play for this year and probably for life.

No report is available at this time on the outcome of the operation, but it was felt that Williams was in good hands. Coach Dell Morgan remained in San Antonio to be with Williams following the operation, as did the college doctor. Bobby Hawkins of Lamesa, assistant football manager, will remain in San Antonio until Williams is ready to be returned to Lubbock. He is expected back Thursday.

Squad Spirits Low

Loss of the big guard cast more of a pall over the Red Raiders than the loss to the Aggies. He had been a mainstay of the line this year, after playing tackle for two seasons, and was popular with the other players.

The entire Raider team took a severe physical beating in the game and the majority of the squad was limping Sunday. The Aggies, fired up for their first victory in 16 starts, were charging hard, blocking harder. They left their imprint on the Tech squad.

A light workout is expected this afternoon, with Coach Allie White outlining West Texas State college plays. The Raiders will attempt to get back on the win trail here Saturday night against the Buffaloes.

Porkers, Frogs Meet

Berry Leading SWC Gridders

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's one for the money and five for the show this week in Southwest conference football.

Arkansas and Texas Christian play for blue chips, in the conference's first game to count in the title chase.

Texas, Southern Methodist, Rice, Baylor and Texas A. and M. show the circuit's brand of football to five intersectional opponents.

The seven teams racked up an impressive record last week: Six victories, one tie.

Doaker Paces Ponies

The spectacular was commonplace.

All-America Doak Walker brought Southern Methodist from behind with two touchdown passes that beat Wake Forrest, 13-7.

Randall Clay scored three touchdowns and kicked four extra points to lead Texas to a terrific, 54-0, victory over Temple.

Leon Campbell picked up 236 yards and two touchdowns as Arkansas buried North Texas State, 33-19.

Tobin Rote completed ten of 15 passes for 180 yards as Rice rolled over Clemson, 33-7.

Adrian Burk passed for 103 yards with ten completions on 12 tries as Baylor battered South Carolina, 20-6.

Sophomore Bob Smith gained 214 yards and scored three touchdowns as Texas A. and M. won its first game in 16 starts, over Texas Tech, 26-7.

Berry Is Impressive

The greatest individual performance of them all was that of Lindy Berry. He completed 22 of 33 passes for 270 yards, gained 34 on the ground, passed for two touchdowns and scored two himself in giving Texas Christian an even break with Oklahoma A. and M., 33-33.

The bulls' eye passing of Walker, Rote, Burk and Berry gave promise of making at least one pre-season prediction come true —that the 35th Southwest conference season will be the wildest ever.

Texas tackles Idaho Saturday. This one shouldn't be too tough for the big, fast Longhorns.

Baylor meets Mississippi State. This game may show the real strength of the Bears.

Rice plays Louisiana State. The Bengals shouldn't bother this veteran eleven too much.

Missouri is a different story. Southern Methodist will have a trying time to write a happy ending.

A. and M. meets mighty Oklahoma. The Aggies aren't that good.

Texas Christian takes on Arkansas. It could go either way.

Clay grabbed the lead in individual scoring with 25 points. Berry has 24, Smith 18, and six other players from the various schools 12 each.

PENN STATE DISAPPOINTMENT

Coast Teams Test Irish, Wolverines

NEW YORK, Sept. 26. (AP) — Michigan and Notre Dame, college football's fearsome one-two punch, move to the Pacific coast this week to find out if the far westerners really are on the rebound.

The top-ranked Wolverines go against Stanford, one of the coast's surprise "big three" of the young season. The Fighting Irish invade for a tiff with Washington.

The Pacific athletes, who have been easy intersectional pickings since the war, showed a lot of grit Saturday in scoring three important victories.

Stanford rolled over Harvard, no giant but a fearly god eastern eleven, 44-0. Southern California jarred a Navy team of great expectations, 42-20. U. C. L. A. won its second straight game with an intersectional triupmh over Iowa, 41-25.

The Irish, with Emil Sitko furnishing most of the locomotion, swamped Indiana, 49-6. Oklahoma's Sugar Bowl champions sounded a warning that they may be strong contenders for national honors by smothering Boston college, 46-0.

The resourceful Michigan Wolverines, playing before nearly 100,000 in their giant Ann Arbor stadium, barely edged Michigan State, 7-3.

Michigan now has 24 straight victories for the longest skein in major college football.

Texas, Duke, Northwestern, Tulane and California were powers that came through as expected.

The big disappointments were Penn State, one of last year's eastern powers, and Vanderbilt, which had been expected to challenge for Dixie honors.

A light, fast Georgia Tech team socked Vanderbilt, 12-7, while Penn State fell before Villanova, 27-6.

Texas handed Temple the worst defeat in the Philadelphia institutions, history, 54-0. Duke had a picnic with little Richmond, 67-0. Northwestern, the Rose Bowl champions, turned back Purdue, 20-6. Tulane whipped Alabama, 28-14. California won over St. Mary's.

Dyer Says Win Over Cubs Was "Clincher"

Every St. Louis Citizen Is Certain Cards Are Winners

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

EN ROUTE TO PITTSBURGH WITH THE CARDINALS, Sept. 26—Practically everybody in St. Louis, from the big banker to the little hat check girl, thinks the St. Louis Cardinals won the National league pennant yesterday.

That is, everybody but Eddie Dyer, manager of the Redbirds. He thinks the Cards won the flag the night before.

That sound too confusing? Let's try to make it a little clearer.

St. Louisans think that yesterday's results which showed the Cards defeating the Chicago Cubs, 6-1, while the Philadelphia Phils were knocking off Brooklyn's second-place Dodgers, just about clinched matters for Dyer's boys.

Dyer Sees Win

That game and a half lead with only five to go for the Birds simply is too much for the Dodgers to make up, they insist. Even if the Brooks win their remaining games, the Dodgers can't catch them if the Cards win four of their remaining five.

Now we come to Dyer. At exactly 1:30 p. m., CST, an hour before his team was to tangle with the Cubs yesterday, and with St. Louis only a half game ahead of Brooklyn, the affable skipper said:

"I think the Cards will win the pennant. Do you know why? Because last night we won a game that by all laws of baseball we had no right to win. (The Cards beat the Cubs, 3-2).

"The boys gave one of their poorest exhibitions of the year, if not the poorest. We were simply terrible. We did everything wrong. We made errors of commission and omission.

"That first inning when (Stan) Musial doubled and ran on blindly, with his head down, to set up a double play nearly gave me a fit. The Cubs shoved us all over the field, yet we won.

"Remember, too, that the victory came right after the Dodgers had given us that terrible pasting (a 19-6 defeat), and you can understand what a tremendous lift that gave us. That's what led me to believe that the Dodgers couldn't catch us."

Paradoxically, no sooner had the Cards beaten the Cubs again yesterday and taken the commanding game and a half lead, than Dyer returned to his cautious and conservative self.

Interviewed in the clubhouse after the game, Dyer said:

"I've made no prediction all year and I want to remain in character. Pittsburgh has been our toughest club this season and they can give us plenty of trouble."

The Pirates, who meet the Cards tomorrow and Thursday in the final two games of the season between the two clubs, have won half of their 20 games with the Redbirds thus far. They are the only club that the Cards haven't been able to gain an edge on.

To Pitch Munger

Eddie disclosed he intended to open with George (Red) Munger. He had not yet decided whom he would use in the second game, but thought he might pitch either Gerald Staley or Fred Martin. All are righthanders. Rival managers, as a rule, don't like to use southpaws against the Pirates, who have a predominant righthanded lineup.

The Bucs have Lefty Willie Werle and righthander Murry Dickson all primed for the Birds. The latter, a former Redbird, has beaten the Cards four times this season. Werle's record against the Cards is 0-2.

Owner Fred Saigh of the Cardinals, fearing rain might wipe out Thursday's game, has wired both General Manager Fred Haney of Pittsburgh and league President Ford Frick, requesting the game be moved up one day.

The Cards are idle Wednesday and close out the season with the Cubs in Chicago Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Thus, if Thursday's game is rained out, it cannot be made up.

Tulsa Seeks Final Victory Over Cats

(By The Associated Press)

Tulsa and Fort Worth tonight tangle in the sixth game of the Texas league's championship playoff and the advantage is with the Oklahoma nine.

The Oilers last night won their third straight from the Cats, 5-2, to take a three games to two lead in the best four of seven series.

Frank Smith scattered nine hits to Fort Worth and helped his cause by driving in two runs in the eighth inning with a double.

Walker Cress is scheduled to hurl for the Oilers and Billy Loes for the Cats. Loes pitched two innings last night and was charged with the loss.

Between the Lines
by Joe Kelly

SAN ANTONIO — The Gunter Hotel Sunday morning was as quiet and peaceful as a mill pond following a night of fog. For that matter, there was a multitude in the hotel who woke up swearing that they were in a fog. And not all of them were members of the Texas A. & M. cadet corps, who threw a typical victory celebration that lasted far into the night. Followers of Texas Tech, and there were a goodly number of them, were still shaking their heads following the defeat Saturday night by the Aggies, 26-7. It wasn't so much the three touchdown margin as it was the way the Farmers reversed their play of the preceding week.

• • •

There was little question in anyone's mind, after the game was over, that the Aggies had been determined to win this game, or go down with such a fight that no spectator leaving the stadium would ever forget the game. Tech also was determined to win, but there was a difference and it was the big one. Tech went to Santone thinking that they would win and sure they could. But the Aggies went to Santone knowing that they could and positive that they had to win. For most of three quarters, Tech didn't play bad ball. The difference was that the Aggies played real good ball and got the jump on the Raiders, both on defense and on offense. That proved to be the deciding factor.

• • •

Two turning points marked the game and sent it the way of the Aggies. First, Tech couldn't hold the Farmers after the Raiders had scored to cut the margin to 13-7. Tech still was in the game at that point and, if they had held, they might have broken the Aggie spirit. They didn't and the Aggies went on to score the third and decisive touchdown. The second turning point was the ability of the Aggies to gain up the center. Aggie scouts returned from the Tech-Texas game and said that the Raiders would beat the Aggies silly if they tried to run up the middle. And there was grave doubt in the scouts' minds that the Aggies could gain consistently from tackle to tackle. What happened? The Aggies ran Tech's middle crazy, they hit over either guard with equal ease and the tackles were just as soft.

• • •

The amount of yardage lost by the Aggies showed that they were out for blood. Although they lost a tremendous amount of yardage on penalties, primarily for clipping and holding, it merely highlighted the way the Aggies were trying. They were going all out to win and this spirit paid off. Their blocking was sharper than Texas blocking and their tackling was vicious. Their forward wall manhandled Tech's good line with little trouble and therein lay the ball game. In addition, Tech didn't have three backs like Bobby Smith, Bobby Goff, and Glenn Lippman, the three top Aggie ground gainers. Goff and Smith especially ripped the Raider line to shreds, using power to drive over tacklers and speed in the open. If the Aggies continue to play as they did Saturday night, they will prove exceedingly difficult for other Southwest Conference teams. Frankly, they looked good.

• • •

Not all of Tech's loss was in the score. When Don Williams went out with a knee injury, the Raiders lost probably the outstanding man on the forward wall this season. Originally a tackle, he has fitted into the right guard slot as though he owned it all along and he has been a terror backing up the line. The big guard refused to go to the hospital for a long time Saturday night, propping himself up on an elbow to watch the game, even though his knee pained him terribly. G. B. Morris said that when he went to see Don in the hospital after the game, the big guard was crying his heart out. He had just seen the temporary cast they had put on his leg and realized that his football days this year were over. Geeber said that Don's only complaint was that he would not play any more football. He didn't give a thought to the fact that he might be maimed for life.

• • •

Most of the players from Tech were limping Sunday morning. They were given a terrific physical pounding and it may take several day sto get over it. What is the biggest worry to the coaches at the present time is what the mental attitude will be. Two years ago Tech was thumped by Texas and Texas A. & M. on successive week ends. The morale slumped lower than a snake's belly and West Texas' Buffaloes almost stomped the Raiders the following week end. That will be the biggest hurdle facing coaches at Tech this week. If they can get it across to the players that they were beaten by two good teams and that their own playing was good despite the lickings, they may be able to get them rolling against the Buffs Saturday night. They also face the problem of prevening Tech players from regarding the Buffs too lightly.

• • •

Incidentally, the ironical thing about loss of Don Williams is that it was just a year ago at the same stadium against the same opponent that another right guard, Milburn Haydon, also had a knee busted up that kept him out of action most of last year. And it also was last year that the Raiders took a bad physical beating, even though they won.

• • •

Fred Enke, star of the University of Arizona football teams for three years, is doing all right with the Detroit Lions this year. He was one of the top freshman players last year, but his actions in the New York Giants game Sunday last stamp him as earning a permanent berth. The Lions were trailing 6-0 when Enke went into action. First he tossed a 30-yard pass to John Greene for the first touchdown to tie the score. When the Lions got the ball again, he heaved a 21-yard aerial to Greene again for the game-winning score. And just to make it definite, he plunged over for the third touchdown himself. At this time we have no reports on Tech pro players, although we've heard that Joe Smith is doing a fine job with Baltimore, Bill Kelley is doing well for Green Bay and Bernie Winkler is playing good ball for the Los Angeles Dons. Ralph Earhart and Walter Schlinkman, of course, are turning in their usual brilliant games.

THE ROUNDUP: The Tech band stole the show here with a fine halftime performance. Earlier they gained plaudits for their parade downtown . . . J. L. Gulley, Tech end in 1948, met the squad in San Angelo and went on to Santone with them . . . Gov. Allan Shivers made another impression with his talk before the Tech Exes here . . . Alamo Stadium is one of the most beautiful small stadiums in the nation, but the traffic problem is horrendous . . . Our nomination for the loudest (not necessarily best) band is the Aggie aggregation. That's one place Tech outplayed the Aggies Saturday night . . . Dave Cheavens, AP sports writer (for Saturday night) almost was slugged at a scenic location in the city, but escaped a bum's wrath with a quarter. Pretty cheap escape and worth it . . . Tech officials reiterate that if the Tech-A. & M. game deserts Santone, it will be for a home and home arrangement.

Gassers Beat Millers, 10-2

Denver City's Gassers today had backed the Post Millers to the wall in the final playoff series in the Oil Belt baseball league.

The Gassers yesterday captured the opener of the three-game set, 10-2, behind the tight six-hit pitching of Marshall (Hook) Epperson.

A crowd of 450 fans saw the game, played at Flare field in Denver City.

Epperson and Windell Greer of Post hooked up in a close pitching duel which was shattered when the Gassers exploded for four runs in the fifth inning, then added four more in the sixth.

Cyclone Jones led Denver City's hitters with three singles, while Ed Altman had a double and a single and R. D. Thomas had a ninth-inning homer for Post.

The second game—and third, if needed—will be played starting at 2 p. m. Sunday at Postex park in Post.

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Tom Yawkey, millionaire owner of the Boston Red Sox said, "those darn palookas of mine are going to be the American league champs," everyone thought it was a good crack.

Well, those palookas are tied with the New York Yankees for first place in the American league today, a position they expect to better by nightfall.

Lefty Mel Parnell pitched the rampaging Red Sox into a flat-footed tie yesterday as he downed the Yanks, 4-1, with a neat four-hitter before a howling mob of 35,517 fans at Boston.

McDermott To Hurl

The Red Sox take on the Yanks in the stadium today with Lefty Maurice McDermott (5-4) scheduled to go for the palookas against New York's Tommy Byrne (15-7).

A triumph for either party would just about settle the issue. Following today's battle both teams will have five games left to play including two at the New York park next Saturday and Sunday. In between meetings the Red Sox play three games with last place Washington and the Yanks three with the pesky fifth place Philadelphia Athletics.

While the Red Sox stiffened the Yanks yesterday the St. Louis Cardinals zoomed into a commanding one and one-half game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league race. The Cards beat the Chicago Cubs, 6-1, while the Philadelphia Phils slit the Dodgers, 5-3.

Cards Hold Edge

St. Louis and Brooklyn, marking time today, have five and four games left to play, respectively. The Cards have three dates with the last place Cubs and two with sixth place Pittsburgh. The Dodgers have two meetings with the Phils and two with Boston.

Should the Cards win only three of their remaining five games it would assure them of no worse than a tie, providing Brooklyn takes all four of its games. Four Cardinal victories and that old chant of "wait until next year" will be revived in the brough where the famous tree sprouts.

Parnell's triumph was his 25th of the season against seven defeats. It also was Boston's ninth straight and their 21st consecutive at home. Parnell and Kinder, who has won 23 games, have accounted for more than half of Boston's 93 victories.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen tamed the Cubs on six hits and collected four of the Cards' 12 safeties. The crafty lefthander batted in three runs and was only ruffled in the fourth when rookie Bill Serena homered.

In other National league games the New York Giants downed the Boston Braves, 3-2 and 5-2 and the Pittsburgh Pirates clipped the Cincinnati Reds, 7-3, and 5-3.

Bob Lemon turned in his 21st victory for Cleveland as he pitched the Indians to 7-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers. In other American league games the Philadelphia Athletics beat Washington, 8-5, then bowed, 4-0, to Dick Weik of the Senators in the seven inning finale. The Chicago White Sox defeated the St. Louis Browns, 7-5, and then lost, 6-2 to the Browns.

Hal Langford Tops Shooters

Hal Langford cracked 124 targets with 125 shots yesterday at Lubbock Gun club in the regular shoot. He missed one target in his first box of shells and then settled down to go more than 100 shots without a miss in skeet shooting.

Yesterday was a light day for shooters, and next best score was by Hale Eubanks with 48x50.

Several local shooters are planning to attend the trap shoot October 9 in Sweetwater by the Blue Goose Gun club. There will be nine events, with 230 mixed targets. The first six events will be single targets, 25 each event; the seventh and eighth have 25 handicap targets each; and the ninth have 15 pairs of double targets. There will be a $5.50 entrance fee for each event, with special money added. Total entrance fees is $50.

Entrance money includes shell and targets. There will be $3 of entrance money for each participant added to each event. ATA rules will govern where ground rules do not conflict.

Any amateur must enter for money to be eligible to win any added money but if the shooter prefers to shoot for targets only, they may do so.

Promoter of the trap shoot is Mose Newman of Sweetwater, a sportsman and oil man.

Scores of Lubbock Gun club shooters with 12 gauge Sunday included: Tye Williamson, 21x25 and 22; Cubby Key, 23x25; 20x25; and 21x25; R. B. Fairly, 19x25; 18x25; 20x25; 20x25; and 22x25; Henry Wilbourne, 18x25 and 18x25; Hale Eubanks, 24x25 and 24x25; Si Gooden, 20x25 and 22x25; Langford, 24x25; 25x25, 25x25, 25x25 and 25x25; and Joe Kirk Fulton, 21x25, 24x25, and 23x25.

Scores with 20 gauge included Tom Arnn, jr., 25x25 and 20x25; and O. B. Daniels, 21x25 and 21x25. Billy Terry fired 16x25 and 17x25 with a 410.

Texas Conference Has Full Schedule

(By The Associated Press)

Every team in the Texas conference sees action this week, but none in loop play.

The schedule assures Texas A & I the top spot in the conference standings until next week at least.

A & I, the newest member of the conference, opened season and league play last week by knocking off Howard Payne, 14-13.

McMurry swamped West Texas State, 34-7, and Southwestern lost to Sam Houston State, 0-6, in the only other games.

Brad Royland of McMurry moved into a tie with Alton Green of Abilene Christian for the scoring leadership. Each has three touchdowns.

ACC meets rugged Chattanooga Friday night at Chattanooga and the rest of the conference plays Saturday night.

Austin college, beaten in its first start under Coach Ray Morrison, plays tough Hardin college at Childress; Howard Payne meets East Texas State at Brownwood; McMurry invades Corpus Christi for a game with the town's university; Southwestern plays Louisiane Tech at Monroe, La., and A & I tackles Southwest Texas State at San Marcos.

Leading Scorers:

Player	TD	EP	TP
Rowland, McMurry	3	0	18
Green, ACC	3	0	18
McCanless, HP	2	0	12
Bearrow, HP	2	0	12
Sampson, McMurry	2	0	12
Johnson, McMurry	2	0	12

Amarillo's Newby Is Hailed As Grid Star

DALLAS, Sept. 26. (AP)—Four schoolboy stars produced a photo-finish for top laurels on the Dallas Morning News' football honor roll this week.

Backs Frank Eidom of Port Arthur, Wayne Wall of Texarkana, Jack Newby of Amarillo and S. M. Meeks of Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) stepped up to the head of the class with spectacular weekend exploits.

Eidom, 168-pound Port Arthur fullback, scored two touchdowns and passed for another in his team's 50-to-6 victory over Milby of Houston.

Wall averaged 12 yards per try on eleven rushing attempts, scored one touchdown, snagged a pass for an extra point, was instrumental in all of Texarkana's touchdowns and played a masterful defensive game.

Meeks gained 180 yards in 16 rushing attempts, averaging 11.5 yards per try, and contributed touchdowns and played a masterful defensive game.

Meeks gained 185 yards in 16 rushing attempts, averaging 11.5 yards per try, and contributed touchdown runs of 58 and 80 yards.

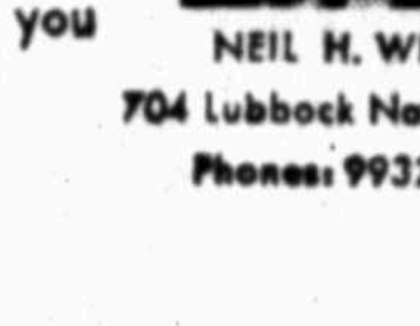

Newby, one of last week's top stars on the honor roll, scored one touchdown and passed for another in Amarillo's 21-to-7 victory over Abilene.

Exporters May Face Fight To Keep Latin American Markets

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—American businessmen may have quite a fight on their hands to hold their rich but already shrinking Latin American markets.

If European competition gets hot enough, Americans might have to slash prices, and some see that leading to pressure for cuts in labor and raw material costs here at home.

Exports Falling

United States exports to Latin America dropped 17 per cent last year from 1947, and have fallen an equal amount so far this year. Exporters feel that the down trend will speed up, since European manufacturers, aided by currency juggling, now can wave slashed price tags under the noses of South American buyers. We exported around $4 billion to Latin America in 1947, only $3 1/3 billion last year, and this year we probably won't reach $3 billion.

At the moment our trade with South America is at a walk. Exporters and importers alike are awaiting currency moves in some Latin American republics. Argentina is believed ready to cut the peso. Peru and Uruguay may devalue, too.

When the world's exchange rates shake down into a fairly stable pattern again—perhaps before the first of the year—the fight for world trade can really get rough.

Then the American businessmen will see by just how much the British, French, Belgians and Dutch can undersell us—and, equally important, just how their products and services compare with ours. Some contend that even currency juggling can't give Europeans an edge over Americans in making, delivering and selling goods.

However, there seems little doubt that European price cutting, through devaluation, was aimed at a fight for world markets as at the more immediate object of easing the dollar shortage by selling more foreign goods in the United States.

Four Bank Employes Charged In Embezzlement Of $20,000

PARIS, Texas, Sept. 26. (AP)—A Paris banker and three bank employes were charged with embezzlement today.

The banker is Morris Fleming, 64, vice president and trust officer of the First National bank of Paris.

The complaint was filed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation with Mrs. Clara Faust, U. S. commissioner here.

Also charged are Alfred Kidd, William H. Snow and Ann Marshall, all employes in the trust department. Snow is a son-in-law of Fleming.

Fleming, prominent in civic and church affairs here for many years, had been head of the trust department since the department was organized about 1930. Since then it had grown into one of the largest trust departments in Texas.

Released On Bond

The four were accused of embezzling $20,000 "on or about Aug. 6, 1949."

They were taken into custody by U. S. Marshal Adolph Fischer and arraigned before the U. S. commissioner. All pleaded innocent and waived examining trial. All four were released on bond—$5,000 each for the three men and $1,000 for Mrs. Marshall.

The bond is returnable at the next term of federal court here—set for Jan. 2, 1950, with Federal Judge Randolph Bryant of Sherman presiding.

England Got Taste

Hitler named his rockets "V" weapons, for "vergeltung," a German word meaning retaliation.

He sprung them on England in late 1944, and blitzed London nightly from launching ramps built along the conquered coast of the English channel.

Allied military spokesmen said Russia did not use long-range rockets during the war, although there was evidence Soviet engineers were working on the project.

One of the favorite Russian artillery weapons was a close-range rocket called the "Katusha," which laid down saturation barrages from multiple firing racks mounted on U. S. lend-lease trucks.

Some 1,500 CIO utility workers postponed their threatened strike against the Ohio Edison company for 24 hours to give the mayors of Arkon, Youngstown, Cuyahoga Falls and Barberton a chance to mediate the issues.

At Vancouver, B. C., 4,400 fishermen were scheduled to strike for a pay increase. About 200 seine boats and 3,000 one-man gill netters would be idled at their docks by the strike.

Balkan Trouble

the Yugoslavs have lined up with the Russians on all issues.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, of Britain, was given the lead-off position this afternoon for his policy statement.

Bevin is expected to touch on the Washington disclosure that there has been an atomic explosion in Soviet Russia and on the Russian announcement that the Soviet Union has an atomic weapon.

The little countries in the U. N. are pushing hard for some kind of atomic agreement at this session, although they are not too hopeful it can be reached.

Assembly President Carlos R. Romulo said last night that control of atomic energy could be solved only through the United Nations.

The big five and Canada, which sponsored the creation of the U. N. Atomic Energy commisison in 1946, are carrying on secret talks to see if there is any basis for agreement between the west and the Soviet Union on atomic control. So far there has been no sign of a break in the three-year stalemate.

New Type Weed Is Reported Growing In Littlefield Area; Crop Threat Is Seen

Remember Xanthium spinosum, that wicked looking weed that popped up in Floyd Pearson's pasture near Lorenzo recently?

It was the first time agriculture experts had noticed the spiny cockleburr-infested plant in the South Plains, and it was observed with much interest as a possible serious threat to agriculture in the area.

Specimen Brought In

Today Vernon Qualls of Fieldton, 14 miles northeast of Littlefield, brought a specimen of the weed into Lubbock and reported that the weed has been common in his pastures and uncultivated areas since he bought his place in 1939.

"On another farm nearby the weed is worse than on mine," he commented. "The only thing to do is keep it under control by cultivation."

Qualls said he had a patch of the weed so thick that he could toss his hat over into it and the weeds would hold it up.

Pearson found the weed growing in his pasture on the Lubbock- Crosby county line only a few weeks ago. The plant had already made a good stand in a small area about the size of an automobile.

Dr. A. W. Young and Dr. W. W. Yocum of the plant industry department at Texas Tech identified the specimen as Xanthium spinosum. Neither they nor anyone else at the college had ever seen the plant before in this area although it is said to be common in some other sections of the United States.

Daily MARKET

Stock Market

STOCKS LOSE GROUND

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP) — Stocks lost ground after an early advance today in a moderately active market.

Trading was at the rate of 1,100,500 shares for the entire day. The total was boosted by opening sales of several large blocks of stock, particularly Commonwealth & Southern.

Early gains were in the range of fractions to around a point with some pushing forward as much as 2 points.

But these were shaved down in later trading, and minus signs were dotted generously throughout the list among the leaders.

Aircrafts stood out on the topside and held a substantial portion of their rise.

Rails turned backward with a few exceptions, and steels, motors, oils, and chemicals all slumped slightly.

Gold shares were in the plus column the better part of the day but slid away into losses.

Selling pressure at no time was heavy, and as prices declined there was a noticeable easing in the pace of trading.

On the higher side were Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, United Aircraft, Santa Fe, Texas Co., General Motors, Admiral Corp., International Nickel, and Hudson Motors.

Lower were U. S. Steel, Studebaker, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Consolidated Edison, American Smelting, Dow Chemical, Eastman Kodak, American Woolen, Standard Oil (NJ), and U. S. Gypsum.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP) — Cotton futures were steady today, with trading dominated by evening-up operations in nearby October prior to first notice on Tuesday. Traders looked for only a few tenders on the spot month, reflecting the aggressive mill demand for spot cotton. Hedging was fairly active in early dealings but later slackened. Mill demand accounted for most of the trade support.

Late afternoon prices were 5 to 35 cents a bale higher than the previous close. Oct. 29.78, Dec. 29.62 and March 29.60.

Rayburn Hints Tax Increases

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Democratic congressional leaders indicated today that they will make a concerted drive next year to get the federal treasury out of the red—even if it takes an increase in taxes.

Speaker Rayburn hinted at this possibility after a White House call. He told reporters the House definitely will act, before adjournment of the present session, on legislation expanding the federal social security program. However, the Senate is not expected to act on this bill until 1950.

Reason Explained

Rayburn said one reason for seeking House action on social security expansion is to clear the track for the House ways and means committee to get down to work early next year on a general revision of tax statutes. The committee handles both social security and tax legislation.

Although he did not directly predict an increase in taxes, Rayburn said the government "cannot continue deficit financing indefinitely."

Court Wants Legal View On Monument

Lubbock county commissioners court this morning voted to appropriate money for construction of a war memorial base, contingent upon assurance by the attorney general's office that it may legally do so.

The base would be built at an estimated expense of $15,000 to $20,000 on the courthouse lawn. Those who fell in both World Wars would be honored by the memorial.

Commissioners earlier had said they were uncertain as to whether, under the law, an appropriation of county funds could be made for that purpose.

Otherwise, the court transacted only routine business, Louie F. Moore, ex-officio clerk of the court, said.

Commissioners are R. O. Short, George G. Green, Ottis Isom, and Pat Corley. County Judge Walter Davies presided.

Pay Hike

ners where the military is concerned in view of President Truman's announcement about an atomic explosion in Russia.

Senator Chapman (D-Ky), floor manager of the bill, told the Senate in opening debate on the measure last Friday that it amounts to part of America's insurance against war. Chapman said he agreed with Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, that the caliber of the nation's armed forces will deteriorate unless the bill is passed.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) told a reporter: "This is no matter of hysteria. We either need the bill or we don't, and I think we do. There ought to be cold-blooded consideration of it on its merits."

In most cases the proposed pay increases are larger for higher ranking officers than for enlisted men. The reason, Congress members have explained, is that there has been no general pay realignment at the top levels for 40 years. Enlisted men have had some increases.

Here are some examples of the increases under the Senate bill.

In the Army, a major general with 27 years' service and basic pay and allowances at present amounting to $895.33 a month would get a 25 per cent increase—to $1,118.33.

A private first class with three years' service would get a nine per cent hike in monthly basic pay—from the present $94.50 to $102.90.

Besides the Army the pay increases would apply in the Navy, Air Force, Marine corps, Coast Guard, Coast and Geodetic survey, Public Health service, the reserves, the National Guard and the Air National Guard.

Big Crowds Expected

As officials had promised, the fair was ready to go when the first crowds arrived after the final rush of preparations Sunday.

While the fair got underway, preparations were being made to entertain one of the biggest crowds of the week Tuesday.

The occasion will be the annual Lubbock day. Public schools are to be recessed at noon and most of the business houses at 1 p. m.

Lubbock day attendance last year was 47,913—the largest on any day since the first fair was held in 1913. The turnout last year, however, was stimulated enormously by the fact that the Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey circus played in the grounds on that day.

Averaged About 20,000

The usual Lubbock day attendance during recent years has averaged around 20,000.

The exhibits put in place Sunday measured fully to the prediction of the fair association that they will be the highest quality ever displayed in this portion of the Southwest.

This particularly is true of the displays in the agricultural department, of which George "Scotty" Samson of Post, is superintendent. They include the exhibits of counties, veterans' vocational agriculture groups, communities and individuals.

Weeds, Grasses Displayed

Samson was particularly pleased Sunday with the display in a new division of the department. It is an exhibit of native grasses and weeds sponsored by the Texas Extension service under the supervision of D. F. Eaton, jr.

Purpose of the display was explained as being to help farmers and ranchers to distinguish between the beneficial and the harmful native vegitation. The Extension service and the U. S. Department of Agriculture are now participating in a campaign to exterminate noxious plants which, they say, are responsible for livestock and soil losses running into many millions of dollars yearly.

One of the most striking exhibits in the cattle barn was arranged by Texas Technological college, including cattle, sheep and swine. A particular attraction for the several thousand visitors who swarmed into the grounds Sunday was a Duroc Jersey sow with her brood of 11 suckling pigs.

Easily the most beautiful displays are in the Women's building, where judging already has started. The eye-appeal of these were enhanced further when entries of cut flowers, potted plants, breads and cakes are received today.

The busiest spot on the fairgrounds was the Forsythe & Dowis carnival midway. Several of the rides, including the ever-popular merry-go-round, were ready for operation by mid - afternoon. Others were under construction. Don Dowis, general manager, said the carnival would be ready to go by tonight.

Work Rushed On Stage

Much work also was in progress in front of the grandstand. The huge stage was completed and members of the cast went through short rehearsal. The performance, featuring a "line" of 16 chorus girls, will last about two hours.

No entertainment is scheduled in front of the grandstand this afternoon. However, the Lucky Lott Hell Drivers are on the scene, awaiting the first of their two performances at 2 p. m. Tuesday. They will make their final appearance Saturday afternoon.

"Hot rod" races will be the afternoon attraction Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoon.

The preparations for the Lott performances and the races have required the construction of a special quarter-mile track—half the length of the track usually used. The oval has been thickly surfaced with tightly compacted caliche.

Dust conditions at the fair this year, will be the best in several years. The abundant moisture during recent months resulted in heavy weed growths which should help to keep the blowing dirt well under control.

Weather prospects for the week are the most favorable in years. Fair weeks have been few in Lubbock, however, which have been entirely free of rain.

The nights also are likely to be chilly so those who attend the musical revue are advised to take light topcoats with them.

Officials re-iterated their reminder that another main entrance to the ground has been opened this year. It is on Avenue A and can be reached from downtown by driving north of Avenue H through the underpass to East Fourth street (the first stop light) turning right and following the markers to the gate.

Telephone System Is Demonstrated At Jaycee Meet

"A Journey With Your Voice," was the topic of George Brown of Dallas, information specialist for the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, at a Jaycee luncheon meeting in the Hilton hotel today.

Demonstrating different types of transmission cables, he took members along with him on an imaginary telephone conversation from Austin to Boston with brief stops at Dallas and New York City.

He was introduced by Cecil Cale, manager of the Lubbock office of the telephone company. Jack Blankenship was program chairman.

Norman Igo, chairman of the membership committee, said a six-week membership drive which ended last week resulted in 115 new members to the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He named Ralph Krebbs as winner of a suit of clothes for bringing 11 new members, more than anyone else.

Bernard C. Vincenti, chairman of the public affairs committee, announced that 54 of the 70 Jaycees who canvassed Lubbock for new Matador club members have reported 314 new members to the club which sponsors the athletic program at Tech. He hoped the number will be higher when the other 16 Jaycees turn in their kits.

R. S. Wilkinson presided.

Southwestern School Head Death Victim

GEORGETOWN, Sept. 26 (AP)—Dr. J. N. R. Score, 53, president of Southwestern university, died at his home in Georgetown shortly before 1 p. m. today, the school announced.

Dr. Score went to the Georgetown university in 1942 from the First Methodist church of Fort Worth.

Friends said he had been ill since May with a heart ailment and recently was confined to his bed.

Dr. Score served as pastor of First Methodist church for eight years before assuming the presidency of Southwestern university. When he assumed the pastorate the church had erected a $1,110,000 building and was struggling with an indebtedness of more than $400,000. At his departure the debt had been reduced to $247,000.

Previously he had served as pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, Houston, and Epworth University church, Berkeley, Calif.

Man Arrested In Indianapolis On Houston Swindling Charge

HOUSTON, Sept. 26. (U.P.)—A 27-year-old man who proposed to one Houston woman, kept company with another, and then jilted them both after swindling $2500 and an automobile, has been arrested in Indianapolis, Houston police said today.

Held was George Samuel Satterfield, ex-paratrooper who promised to marry pretty Grace McShan Heisler, 31-year-old divorcee and mother of two children.

Complaint Is Filed

Mrs. Heisler, an attractive blonde, filed a complaint against Satterfield last July 1, when she discovered he had taken her $2500 and fled instead of moving the family to a ranch near New Braunfels, as he promised.

She sold her small house and furniture when Satterfield told her he needed cash to close the real estate deal. She handed him the money and never saw him again, her complaint stated.

The other Houston woman was interested enough in the Lothario to give him money for a car.

Woman Is Susnicious

When she called Mrs. Heisler's home, Mrs. Heisler became suspicious and in turn called Satterfield's landlady. The landlady said Satterfield, his wife and child had just left.

"I'm glad they got him," said Mrs. Heisler. "Certainly, I'll testify against him if he's brought to trial, and I hope I get some of the money he got from me."

She now works in a laundry, supporting her two small children on a $30 per week salary.

Houston Police Capt. Tom Eubanks has turned the case over to District Attorney A. C. Windborn, with a request that Satterfield be returned to face trial here on the swindling charge.

Capt. Eubanks said no details were available about Satterfield's arrest, but he had indicated he would fight extradition proceedings.

Atomic Race

German sources reported.

Although the Taas announcement did not confirm or deny President Truman's disclosure of a recent atomic explosion in Russia, it matter-of-factly declared that Russia has had atomic weapons since 1947.

Control Chief Interest

Many western European statesmen and diplomats privately took the two-year bomb claim with a grain of salt. But chief interest centered on the news agency's statement that Russia still wants international control of atomic energy. The main question was:

Is Stalin getting ready to make any concessions to the west in favor of honest-to-goodness international supervision?

Taas declared the Soviet Union stands on its former position of favoring absolute prohibition of the use of atomic weapons. It added:

"Concerning control of the atomic weapon, it has to be said that control will be essential in order to check up on fulfillment of a decision on the prohibition of production of atomic weapons."

The provision to "check up" has been the stumbling block to agreement for three years.

The U. S.—and the overwhelming majority of the United Nations—voted in favor of an international commission to control the atomic energy process from mine to finished product. They want no veto on punishment of any nation violating the atomic code, and full powers of inspection to search out any violations.

The Russians have urged an immediate ban on atomic weapons and establishment of an inspection commission responsible to the U. N. security council, where Russia could veto any action she didn't like. The Russians also proposed inspections but didn't give satisfactory answers to the west as to how far they would go in permitting inspectors to roam Soviet territory.

Czechoslovakia's new uranium mine was reported to be 25 miles south of Prague.

The new Spanish deposits were reported to be in te Pyrenees. Spain already is reputed to be the holder of the world's fourth largest uranium deposits although little of the material has been mined.

To See Franco

Diplomatic sources in Madrid said uranium, more than anything else, might persuade the Atlantic pact powers to lift their diplomatic boycott of the Franco regime. Rep. James J. Murphy (D-NY) arrived in Madrid yesterday to discuss the possibility of an American loan to Spain.

Senator Pat McCarran (D-Nev) also was due to see the generalissimo about a loan and possible diplomatic recognition by the U. S., although President Truman said Sept. 15 the senator was not speaking for the U. S. government.

American sources in Germany reported that more than 200 German scientists have gone to Russia—some eagerly, some forcibly recruited—to work on atomic energy.

"Without the help of German scientists," one high U. S. officer said yesterday, "Russia could never have developed an atomic weapon so soon."

In the Soviet zone of Germany tens of thousands of unwilling German workers are reported mining pitchblende, a source of uranium. Every ounce is flown to Russia.

Among German scientists working for the Russians three were reported to be Prof. Gustav Hertz, who built Germany's wartime cyclotron for smashing the atom; Dr. Robert Doepel, a prominent Leipzig physicist; and Dr. Ludwig Belilogua, who worked with other scientists during the war trying to develop an atomic pile for a German A-bomb.

Large Safe Moved By Bold Burglars

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 26 (AP)—A bright red safe containing nearly $1,100 was rolled out the front door of a cafe in one of the city's largest shopping districts early today and loaded on a vehicle by burglars.

In the safe was nearly $1,000 in cash and a check for 94.49. The cafe is located at six points, Corpus Christi's largest neighborhood shopping center.

The same persons were believed to have taken $150 from a safe in the offices of the Houston Natural Gas corp. last night.

Services Tuesday For J. M. Keesee

Services will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Rix Funeral home chapel for J. M. Keesee, 74, of 2432 Twenty-fourth, who died Sunday in a Wichita Falls hospital after a short illness.

Rev. David Zacharias and Rev. Jack Welch will officiate. Burial will take place in Lubbock Memorial cemetary.

Mr. Keesee is survived by his wife; five sons, J. E. and D. H. of Lubbock, J. V. of Whiteface, W. J. of Pecos, and Rev. T. F. Keesee of Cleburne; one daughter, Miss Mary Keesee of Lubbock; a sister, Mrs. A. H. Earle of Little Rock, Ark.; and six grandchildren.

Jury Selected For 99th Court Lawsuit

A jury was selected and pleadings read this morning in the 99th district court action of L. G. Walters against J. B. McPherson and others, for damages and return of an abstract.

Testimony was scheduled to commence at 1:30 p .m.

The jury is composed of E. T. Thacker, J. H. Henderson, E. L. Montgomery, C. M. Magouirk, J. P. Walters, Howard Carlson, J. H. Scott, G. G. Woods, L. C. Childers, C. H. Tubbs, jr., A. D. Pettit, and E. R. Slater.

THREE ARE KILLED

LONDON, Sept. 26—(U.P.)—Three persons were killed today when a four-engined Handley-Page Hastings troop carrier plane crashed in flames on the Salisbury plain. Debris showered over an area half a mile wide.

News Briefs

Paul R. Ward, of 2723 Twenty-ninth, manager of Cochran Insurance agency, left Lubbock by plane Saturday for Fullerton, Calif., to attend funeral services for his father, M. U. Ward, 78. The elder Ward died suddenly Saturday morning.

Services will be conducted at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday at Bethel Tabernacle for Billy Kimberlin, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kimberlin of 506 Ave. K, who died Sunday in West Texas hospital. Rev. Boyd McSpadden will officiate. Burial will take place in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home.

These dispositions were an-nounced this morning in county court: Lonnie Lee Johnson, 27, of Ralls, and Eugenio L. Cantu, 33, each $75 and costs on pleas of guilty of drunk driving. Driver's license of each was revoked for six months, as is mandatory.

STRATEGY OF KEEPING WORLD PEACE DEBATE

Battle Over Foreign Policy Is Developing In GOP-Demo Warmup For 1950 Campaigns

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 — A Republican-Democratic battle over foreign policy seemed to be developing today in preliminary skirmishes of the 1950 congressional campaign.

Politicians said they will be surprised if it warms into the isolationist - internationalist argument of yesteryear. Instead, they look for a quarrel over the methods and strategy of keeping world peace.

Two Republican candidates in next year's Senate races—Senator Taft of Ohio and former Rep. Dirksen of Illinois—already are beating the bushes in criticism of administration foreign policies.

Taft told a reporter some of his critics are accusing him unjustly of being an isolationist because he voted against the North Atlantic security pact and the administration's $1,314,000,000 foreign arms program.

Taft Vote Explained

Taft said he balked at the arms program because he thinks it may provoke Russia to war much sooner than the Soviets otherwise might go.

He said he voted against the pact only because he felt that it involved an arms commitment. As evidence that he doesn't want this country to crawl into a shell, he cited his proposal that the United States extend the Monroe doctrine to Europe and that it promise flatly to fight any time the Russians attack western Europe.

Dirksen, known as an advocate of internatiinal cooperation when he was a member of the House, has teed off on the Marshall plan. He voted for it, when he was in the House.

Now he says that the U. S. deficit is such that to be sending funds abroad for European economic recovery is "like the blind leading the blind."

Demo Opponent Undecided

Democrats haven't settled on Taft's opponent. Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, probably will run again for the job Dirksen wants. Lucas is one of the staunchest Senate supporters of the administration's foreign policies.

Senator Donnell (R-Mo), another Republican critic of the handling of international affairs, expects to start campaigning soon for next year's elections. His record is varied, since he voted against the North Atlantic pact but in favor of the arms program.

There are reports the administration may send W. Stuart Symington, secretary of the Air Force and former St. Louis manufacturer, after Donnell's scalp.

Capehart Mending Fences

Senator Capehart (R-Ind), who once called for an end to the bipartisan foreign policy but later voted for the Atlantic pact, already is mending fences in his home state. Capehart wasn't recorded on the arms bill.

Democrats may get Gov. Henry F. Schricker—who won in Indiana last year while Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was carrying the state in the presidential race—into the contest against Capehart.

In Iowa, Republican Senator Hickenlooper has made the Atomic Energy commission something of a campaign issue with his criticism of its management. On international affairs, he has gone along with the bipartisan foreign policy, as evidenced by his vote for the Atlantic treaty.

Also on this side of the fence, Senator Morse (R-Ore), running for re-election, said he is certain of one thing:

If Senator Cain (R-Wash) decides to run against Senator Magnuson (D-Wash), foreign policy probably will get a play in the campaign. Cain voted for the North Atlantic treaty but against the arms program. Magnuson supported both.

Harlan Peyton, GOP national committeeman from Washington, said Cain would resign a term that has two years to go in order to oppose Magnuson. Cain's aides here said he hadn't decided finally on the move.

Foreign policy hasn't become an issue in the only Senate race that will be settled this year. That involves the effort of Republican Senator Dulles, holding office by appointment, to win a special election battle in New York with former Democratic Gov. Herbert H. Lehman.

Services Set Today For James L. Wright

Funeral services for James L. Wright, 74, who died in West Texas hospital on Saturday, was to be held today at Camp Wood, where the body was taken Sunday by a Sanders Funeral home ambulance.

Wright, who came here about a month ago to live with a daughter, Mrs. Lewis Maynard, 222 Uvalde, had been in ill health for several years.

Nationalization In Australia Loses Out

SYDNEY, Sept. 26 —Australia's Labor government is doing little about nationalization. It hasn't the power. The Australian constitution says: "Trade, commerce and intercourse among the state, whether by means of internal carriage or ocean navigation, shall be absolutely free."

That sentence, in section 92, has been the wrecker of Labor party dreams of nationalization. There have been 40 High Court cases and two Privy council cases in which judges and lords have decided how section 92 applies in certain cases.

Today the general legal view is that section 92 cuts right across plans for nationalization — transport, banks, coal mines, breweries, or almost anything else that has business in more than one state. Latest defeat of a nationalization plan was in the Banking case. The Privy council, in London, ruled the Australian government has NO power to make a law to nationalize private trading banks.

ONE MORNING ON TAYLOR 3991—
A ring-by-ring description of one morning in the busy life of Mrs. R. E. Sivley, 2115 Rutland St., Houston, Texas, (TAylor 3991).

"Thanks so much for the lift"

8:15 Dorothy, my sister-in-law, phoned to offer me a lift to the bridge luncheon today. She'll be by at 11:30. That will be a big help!

This is just one morning's record in the diary Mrs. Sivley kept for five days of all the telephone calls she and her husband made and received. Score for the five days was 25 separate conversations, two of them long distance calls from Austin, the rest local calls. Cost per local call—about two cents.

Like most people, Mrs. Sivley had never realized how much she depended on her telephone to run her household—or how many good times started with a telephone call. When she figured the actual cost, she added a footnote to her diary —"Thanks for a wonderful bargain."

* * *

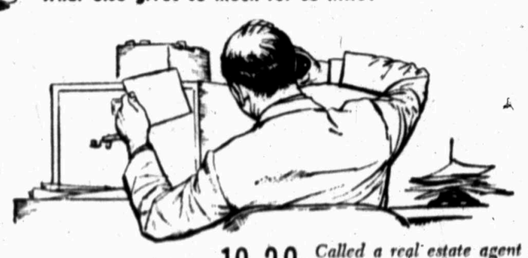

Every year brings further progress in telephone service. New telephones added so you can call more people, more people can call you. Improvements made so you can hear better, get your calls through quicker, enjoy more trouble-free service. The result—a real bargain today that keeps growing in value every year!

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

8:20 Called Mrs. Charlot to see whether she can stay with Beaver (our son, age 3½) while I go to the luncheon. My lucky day! She can.

What else gives so much for so little?

9:45 Mother phoned from Austin, wanted to hear Beaver's voice, said she was lonesome for her grandson. He was cute, carried on quite a conversation.

10:30 Called a real estate agent about a house I saw advertised in the newspaper. Only five rooms and too high priced. So-o we're still looking!

10:45 My good friend, Jen, called to exchange the latest news. We made a date to spend the day together a week from tomorrow.

11:30 Dorothy had to hunt for her car keys, called to tell me she would be a few minutes late. That gives me a few more minutes to get ready.

INFANTRYMEN SUFFER GREATEST CASUALTIES

Infantry Journal Reveals Statistics About Killing Power Of Various Types Of Weapons

By CLARKE BEACH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 — Big guns kill the most soldiers. Yet rifles and machine guns are the most deadly. A hit from a bullet is far more likely to cause death than a hit from a shell fragment.

These are some of the facts brought out in a report on battle casualties made for the Army Ground forces. It was "classified" until recently and so not available for publication. The "Infantry Journal" in its September issue reviews its findings.

Facts about death in action are hard to find. Medical men seldom have time to study battlefield dead. Usually about the only data the army gets is from graves registration personnel, who can make rough guesses.

A few careful studies, however, were made in the last war. The most thorough was done by medical personnel in the Bougainville, New Georgia and Burma campaigns. They found that a soldier had the least chance of surviving if he were hit by a machine gun bullet. Next came the rifle, then artillery, mortar and grenade, in that order. At Bougainville 58 per cent of machine gun casualties died, yet only six per cent of grenade casualties failed to survive.

Rifle and machine gun bullets have high velocity; the shock effect is lethal. One hit often is tnough to finish you.

Rifle Fire Deadly

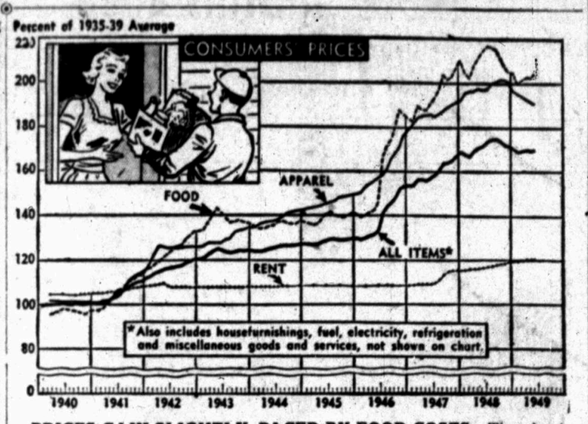

But in large scale engagements, wounds by shell fragmentation don't come one at a time. The Japanese didn't have massed artillery in the Bougainville and other early campaigns. The Germans had it in Europe and Africa, however. There the story was different.

One thorough study of 1,000 battlefield dead was made by medical officers in Italy. They found that 85 per cent of the deaths were caused by fragmentation wounds —artilley, bomb, grenade or mortar. Only 10.7 per cent of the deaths there were caused by gunshot wounds.

The difference was that those who died from fragmentation had an average of seven wounds. Those who died from gunshot had an average of 1.6 bullet hits. The conclusion drawn by the "Infantry Journal" is that "multiple wounds appear to be the rule in battlefield deaths."

To be killed by a shell you usually have to be close to the burst. The fragments lose their lethal velocity at a relatively short distance. On the other hand, if you are close enough to be badly wounded by one fragment, you are likely to be struck by many of them.

In the New Georgia-Burma studies, it was learned that 80 per cent of those killed by mortar and artillery fragments were less than 10 yards from the point of burst. Eighty per cent of those killed by rifle machine gun fire were hit at ranges of less than 100 yards.

PRICES GAIN SLIGHTLY, PACED BY FOOD COSTS—The chart above, based on information from the U. S. Department of Labor, shows the trend of consumers' prices to mid-year, 1949. Declines in apparel and housefurnishings were more than offset by seasonal increases in food prices and by the slow but steady rise of rents. Taking the years 1935-1939 as 100, the price of all items in June, 1949, stood at 169.6, as compared to the record 174.5 in August and September, 1948. Prices are for moderate income families in large cities.

Studies Show Facts

Here are some other facts disclosed by the studies:

1. Very few men die from wounds in the legs or arms. More than three-fourths of the men so wounded recover without leaving the theater in which they are fighting.

2. Men who are wounded in the head, chest or abdomen usually don't survive and return to duty unless the wound is superficial. If it is penetrating, it is fatal more often than not. Helmets prevent deep head wounds by shell fragments. Light chest armor would deflect missiles, save many lives.

3. Infantrymen, representing only 14 per cent of the strength of the army overseas, received 70 per cent of the cumulative battle casualties. Further, the rifle company receives twice as many casualties as any other type of company in an infantry division. And riflemen suffer almost five times as many casualties as any other group of men in the division.

4. "The fact that a large proportion of our casualties are due to our own fire is little known," says the "Journal." "Accurate figures exist only for isolated instances . . . Actually, 66 out of 393 casualties, or one sixth of all the Bougainville casualties, were due to the fire of our own troops . . . All weapons are represented, with rifle and artillery leading in both groups."

"The reasons for these casualties," the "Journal" says, "need no elaboration. Carelessness, poor discipline, lack of leadership and judgment, poor dissemination of information—all contribute."

PORCUPINES INVADE

SPOKANE, Wash. (U.P.)—A very prickly situation is facing police officers. Porcupines have been invading otherwise peaceful neighborhoods, much to the anxiety of residents. Armed with large boxes, the officers stalk their prey and when they get close, slap the boxes down over the "porkies" and lug them off to the humane society for extermination.

HEAVY BALLOTING IS EXPECTED

Oklahoma To Vote On Liquor Tuesday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 26. (AP)—For 40 years Oklahomans have argued over legalized liquor with the drys holding the upper hand by a comfortable margin.

Tuesday, they vote for the sixth time on the issue. A turnout of 400,000-500,000 voters is predicted, unusually heavy for a special election.

The proposition is for outright repeal of the prohibition provision of the constitution. It would bar the open saloon, sale of liquor on Sunday and sale to minors. Control laws would be left to the legislature.

Bond Issue Included

Also on the ballot is a proposed $36,000,000 bond issue for repair and modernization of state institutional buildings. It would be retired from two cents of the present five-cent state cigaret tax.

Gov. Roy J. Turner, advocate of the bond issue, says no new or increased taxes would be necessary. The governor has not committed himself on repeal.

Repeal efforts have been by the Oklahoma Economic institute, organized last winter. The O. E. I. circulated initative repeal petitions gaining 212,000 signatures.

President of the O. E. I. is Albert G. Kulp, Tulsa attorney.

The dry campaign has been conducted by the United Dry association, composed largely of church officials. It's attorney, David C. Shapard, Oklahoma City, has directed the campaign.

Repeal Defeated Previously

Oklahoma's first vote on liquor was in 1907—the year statehood was granted—when drys adopted the provision outlawing hard liquors.

Efforts to repeal that provision were launched in 1908, 1910, 1936 and 1940. All were defeated by margins ranging from 16,000 to 127,000 votes. In 1940 only nine counties were in the wet column.

More than 2,000 federal retail and wholesale liquor stamps were sold to bootleggers last year. With these stamps the illicit liquor handlers escape federal prosecution. Possession and sale of liquor is a misdemeanor under Oklahoma statutes and those arrested get by with small fines.

Both Sides "Confident"

Repeal forces base their optimism on the veterans' vote, which they feel will go predominately wet, and the fact that Kansas ended prohibition last November by some 88,000 votes.

Shapard predicts the drys will win by a margin ranging from 50 to 2,000 votes.

If repeal or the bond issue car-

Social Democrats Of India Are Organized

NEW DELHI, Sept. 26 (AP) — Free India's first parliamentary opposition was formed here recently under the name of the Social Democratic party. It consists of one Socialist leader, three Congressmen who recently resigned from the Party, and five former Muslim leaguers. K. T. Shah, Bombay professor of economics, is leader of the new party.

The party spokesman claimed that it has 20 adherents in a house of about 300. It is scheduled to function when the constituent assembly meets on Nov. 21 to do parliamentary work.

The party's aims are reported to be: Progressive nationalization of all key industries, public utilities and social services; free and universal compulsory basic education up to 14 years of age; free and universal health services; maintenance of all civil liberties; securing decent standard of living and civilized conditions of work and amenities of life to every industrial and agricultural laborer; adult franchise and direct election; decentralization of all power; full support to all efforts for world peace.

New Production In Scurry Area Expected

New Project Drills Ahead

Good possibilities of petroleum production have been indicated for the undeveloped area in Scurry county between the North Snyder and the Kelly fields.

Standard-Fryer Drilling Company No. 1 Wilkinson, about three miles southwest of the southwest side of the North Snyder field, and six miles north of the initial producer in the Kelly field, found the Canyon reef lime, the pay section in both the North Snyder and in the Kelly, at 6,602 feet, on an elevation of 2,375 feet.

According to some geologist the Standard-Fryer wildcat encountered the top of the reef 323 feet above the top of the Canyon water in the Kelly field.

All showings so far developed at this prospector point to it making an oil well.

The project is at the center of the southwest quarter of lot 24, section 17, block 1, J. P. Smith survey, and two miles northwest of the town of Snyder.

Drilling Deeper

Sunray Oil Corporation No. 1 Sentell, North-Central Scurry County wildcat, two miles east of the closest completed oil wells on the south side of the North Snyder field, had progressed below 6,957 feet in shale, and was drilling deeper.

The venture had not found the Canyon lime reef. It is nearing the Canyon water level.

Location is 467 feet from north and west lines of tract 2, Dallas Trust & Saving Bak sub-division of the Grimes ranch in block 1, J. P. Smith survey. It is seven miles northeast of the town of Snyder.

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Pan American Oil Company have completed their No. 5 T. J. Good as a new producer from the Pennsylvanian lime in the Good field of Central-South Borden County.

Flowing natural through a 16/64-th inch tubing choke it completed for a daily production of 444.12 barrels of 44.6-gravity oil, with a gas-oil ratio of 780-1. There was no formation water.

The production was from open hole section between the five and one-half inch oil string cemented at 8,107 feet and the total plug back depth at 8,265 feet.

Locations have been staked and drilling is to start in the near future on two new operations in the Kelly field of Central Scurry county, and one new exploration in the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry county. Two of the ventures will drill to 7,000 feet

LEADERS WILL INSPECT ARMADA

Navy To Show Off Its Fighting Power

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ABOARD AIRCRAFT CARRIER FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, Sept. 26.—A Navy carrier task force sailed from Norfolk today to give Defense Secretary Louis Johnson and other ranking U. S. military officials an onboard look at how modern seapower operates.

Secretary of the Air Force Symington; General Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff; chiefs of staff of the three services; General C. B. Gates, commandant of the Marine corps, and a group of civilians also were to sit in on the one-day naval exercise off the Atlantic coast.

Purpose Coordination

The civilians — about eighty representatives of labor, education, religion, industry and other units of the nation's economy—were finishing a week of talks with policy-making military leaders in Washington and visits to two air Force and Army installations. The purpose of this trip, as was that of previous ones, was to let representatives of the taxpayers see how the military runs, and to learn at first hand its problems.

This was the reason Johnson had invited the civilian group to the fourth "joint orientation conference" trip of the chiefs of staff.

The defense secretary started these trips recently to bring the heads of the three armed services together informally to foster closer coordination in the military department.

But today Johnson was working the "orientation" both ways. He wanted the Air Force and Army high command to see how the Navy would fight another war—something defense department chiefs call "cross-education" among the armed forces.

The "scuttlebutt" gossip aboard this ship when she sailed was that neither Johnson nor General Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, had ever set foot on a Navy flatop at sea.

Johnson arranged to have his flattop foot-setting in a manner usually reserved for old hands in carrier operation.

He was scheduled to fly out

Forces At Work In Mud Being Studied

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 26 (AP) — A team of Cornell scientists is studying mud for the U. S. Army. They have found some hitherto unrecognized forces at work in common dirt. The purpose is to learn to strengthen soil without tons of cement or other mixtures. Ever since men used mud to make dwellings most everyone, including engineers, believed that soils made of particles of the same sizes, acted about the same. But clay soils with particles of exactly the same sizes may behave differently.

In some clays the tiny particles are held in position by forces that act at a distance. These forces presumably are electrical. Recently a similar force acting between living particles has been discovered by biologists.

Differences in mineral composition affect the behavior of clay particles. Many forces originate at the surface between a particle and water around it. Through these forces, fine clays may have a large influence on the solidification of a mixture. Clays also can change their strength, according to what contaminates their surfaces.

Anti-Smothering Device Perfected

ANDERSON, Ind., Sept. 26 (AP)— A divice to safe-guard infants when left alone, the invention of a medical man whose baby almost smothered in his blanket, has been introduced.

The protective measure, called "Safe-Tie," is a diaper-like arrangement easily fastened to the crib, bed, or car, bus or plane seat. While allowing infants a high degree of movement and comfort, it has been designed to protect them against dangers of smothering, falling, or exposure caused by kicking off the covers in cold weather.

It is the invention of Dr. Harry Hagen of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., father of six children.

Youth Held In Dad's Slaying

SCITUATE, Mass., Sept. 26— A mild- mannered 15-year-old boy who police said shot and killed his father in resentment of beatings allegedly suffered by his mother was held today on a charge of murder.

Acting Police Cheif William Kane said Francis Whorf, a high school sophomore, told investigators he shot his father while the man slept Saturday night.

The body of Kenneth Whorf, 49, an employe if the Scituate highway department, was found early Sunday after, Kane said, the boy woke his mother and told her he had done "a terrible thing."

Fired Practice Shot

State police Dectective-Inspector Norman C. Butler said Francis gave this account:

The boy found a .32 calibre revolver in the home of Mrs. Alice Willard where he and his twin sister, Francis, were to spend the night.

He loaded the gun, fired a practice shot in woods and then hid the weapon in a dresser drawer in his home.

He later returned, got the gun, went to his father's bedroom and shot him as he slept.

The boy went back to the Willard home intending to commit suicide but changed his mind. He unloaded the gun, threw away the discharged shell, pocketed the live ones and went to bed.

Jews From Singapore Migrating To Israel

SINGAPORE, Sept. 26 (AP) — Many in Singapore's Jewish community of 1,200 believe the time has come to emigrate to "The Promised Land." Since April about 65 Jewish young men, women and children have left Singapore for Israel.

Singapore Jews have been told that living in Israel for the new immigrant is hard, but that the infant country welcomes young men and women who could face the hardships.

THE QUESTION

(Children answering that question are first grade students at Dupre school.)

THE ANSWERS

JAMES RAYMOND GRIFFITH, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Griffith, 1718 Twenty-eighth: "I would save it, so I'd have money, so when I wanted something I could get it. For instance, if I had a car, I could get gas for it."

AL HARDIN, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hardin, 2417 Twenty-ninth: "I guess I'd buy me a house; something to live in. Then I wouldn't have to sleep with anyone else. I might buy me a car, too. I guess I'd get some food and a refrigerator and a stove, too."

DICK SPIKES, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Spikes, jr., 2222 Eighteenth: "I'd buy me a bicycle, so I could ride it. Then I'd buy my little sister a tricycle with what was left. And if I still had some left, I'd buy her a doll house with some furniture."

CAROLYN HILL, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Hill, 2214 Twenty-first: "I'd buy me a doll house with furniture. And then I'd get all kinds of dolls. I'd get a doll that when you pulled a string she would make all kinds of funny noises. I'd buy me a bicycle, too. Then I'd buy my brother the good bicycle he's been wanting."

PHYLLIS GARRETT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Garrett, 2415 Ellwood: "I'd buy my mother a house in Littlefield, because she's always wanted one. We're going to move there pretty soon. I'd also buy her some furniture. If I had anything left, I guess I'd buy myself something."

JEAN EDWARDS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Edwards, 2012 Ave. R: "I'd help poor people and buy them things. I think that since Jesus helps us, we should help other people. I'd buy them some clothes and food, and then I'd buy them a Bible and teach them to love God."

Ketchup Flows Like Blood In Cafe Riot

NEW YORK, Sept. 26. (AP)—It looked like a bloody brawl. Twenty men and youths were smeared with crimson when police arrived to break up a free-for-all at a Manhattan restaurant last night.

HUNGER DEATHS IN RANGOON

RANGOON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Malnutrition was said officially to be the cause of 30 percent of deaths in Rangoon. Official statistics show that the city's daily average death rate is 40 persons. A newspaper investigation into living conditions showed that many wage-earners have as their daily diet boiled peas and rice. The paper reported that meat, fish, fruit and vegetables were beyond the means of most citizens. The present population of Rangoon is estimated to be 750,000.

New tourist hotels now planned for South Africa will cost $12,000,000.

Senator Taft Urges Spain As Partner In Atlantic Alliance

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) wants Spain as a partner in North Atlantic defenses against a possible attack from Soviet Russia.

The Senate Republican policy committee chief has urged a speedy return to friendly relations with that uranium producing country. He said he thought Spain ought to be invited into the community of nations prepared to fight any advances of communism.

In Key Position

"She is in a key military position so far as Europe is concerned," Taft said before leaving for Ohio to resume political campaigning. "There is no reason why we shouldn't recognize her fully in a diplomatic way and send an ambassador to Madrid."

The Spanish question may get new study when Senator McCarran (D-Nev) returns from a European trip, in the course of which he planned to see Premier Franco.

Diplomatic sources in Madrid said yesterday that uranium—the stuff from which atom bombs are made—might influence the Atlantic powers to change their attitude toward Spain.

This theory followed a report that mining experts have found new sources of uranium in the Pyrenees mountains. Spain already was the holder of the world's fourth largest uranium deposits.

Prior to McCarran's departure for Europe, President Truman said he was acting entirely on his own in discussing diplomatic recognition with Franco.

Secretary of State Acehson made clear some time ago that there are no plans afoot for the United States to take the initiative in resuming full scale diplomatic relations with spain. The state department views Franco's regime as a fascist dictatorship which denies human rights.

PYRAMIDS, OLD AND NEW—Here's the latest "pitch" on touring the Egyptian desert. You pitch your own pyramid—in the form of a pyramidal tent—selecting a spot from the plentiful Sahara real estate. If you're not adept at tent-pitching, your dragonman can arrange it for you at nominal cost. These tourist tents near Giza, Egypt, have as their neighbors the 5000-year-old Great Pyramids, one of the seven wonders of the world. Egypt expects a record number of American visitors this winter, some with tents, some without.

Rescue Plane To Carry Lowell Thomas To New Delhi Hospital

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—(AP)—A rescue plane is expected to fly to the Indian border to pick up Lowell Thomas, injured in Tibet when thrown from a horse, as he arrives in a sedan chair after a 16-day trek.

Lowell Thomas, jr., has cabled from the Tibetan village of Gyantse that his father would be taken by bearers on the long march to the other side of the Himalayan mountains.

The New York office of the author and radio newscaster and commentator said yesterday the U.S. Air Force planned to send a rescue plane as soon as Thomas reaches the Himalayan state of Bhutan at the Tibetan frontier.

Visited Tibet Capital

Thomas, accompanied by his son, was injured while returning from a visit to Lhasa, the Tibetan capital. The accident occured while they were crossing a 17,000-foot-high Himalayan mountain pass last week. Thomas apparently suffered a broken thigh bone.

The Air Force plane is scheduled to fly from the rescue center at Dhurgan, in Saudi Arabia, and take Thomas from Bhutan to New Delhi for hospitalization.

Thomas is reported to be bringing a special message to President Truman from the Dalia Lama, boy ruler of the fabled country.

Twelve Freight Cars Derailed At Midland

MIDLAND, Sept. 26 (AP)—Traffic on the Texas and Pacific railroad's main line was delayed 14 hours yesterday by the derailment of 12 freight cars.

The cars jumped from near the middle of a long diesel-powered train and the engine pulled into Midland without knowing he'd lost part of the cars.

The accident occurred about a quarter mile east of the Midland yards. The tracks were cleared about 2:30 p. m.

Production In Undeveloped Scurry Sections To Be Sought to test the Canyon lime reef and the third will try for that zone at 6,875 feet.

Magnolia Petroleum is to drill two of the explorations.

Magnolia No. 2 P. J. Collins will be 660 feet from north and east lines of tract 16, section 16, block 1, Dallas Trust & Savings Bank Sub-Division, will be in the North Snyder field. Rotary tools will be used.

In the Kelly field Magnolia No. 2 Ray Haney will be a 6,875-foot project and the drillsite will be 660 feet from east and 467 feet from north lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it two miles west of Snyder.

Sherman, Jr., & Stewart Hunt of Dallas No. 1 Union Baptist Church is to be 85 feet from east and south lines of the southeast quarter of section 248, block 97 H&TC survey and four miles west of Snyder.

Using rotary tools it will drill to 7,000 feet.

Application Is Filed

Lion Oil Company has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill its No. 22 McLaughlin in the Diamond M field of Southwest Scurry county.

Contracted depth of the venture is 6,800 feet to explore the Canyon lime with rotary tools.

That makes it ten miles southwest of Snyder. Operations are to start in the near future.

Tide Water Associated Oil Company and others, No. 1 J. P. Nystel, slated 12,000-foot wildcat 14 miles south of Brownfield and four miles east of the Adair field of extreme Central-South Terry county, took a drillstem test in lower Permian lime at 7,144-7,295 feet.

The tool was open 45 minutes. The recovery was 200 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water. The section tested showed slight oil stains in samples but it was hard and tight.

This prospector is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block C-38, psl survey.

To Start Drilling

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has staked location and is to start drilling soon on another project to explore the Devonian at around 12,200 feet in the Landon-Deep field of Central-South Cochran county.

The venture, Stanolind No. 3 Birtie T. Brown will be a stepout from the southwest side of the field, and will be drilled with rotary tools.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company continues its efforts to develop flowing production from the Devonian at its No. 2 Holt, one-quarter of a mile north outpost to the discovery for production in that horizon in the Landon-Deep field of Central-South Cochran county.

Up to now the best yield reported from the development was the recovery of 231 barrels of fluid in 17 hours of swabbing on the section at 11,747,794 feet.

That zone had been treated with 500 gallons of mud acid and 2,000 gallons of regular acid prior to that 17-hour test.

The 231 barrels of fluid was cut with from 12 to 20 per cent drilling mud. The remainder was new oil. There was no formation water.

In a subsequent 11-hour period of swabbing on the same section, the recovery was 14 barrels of oil, with a small cut of drilling mud.

It appears that the pay section is pretty well filled up with drilling mud. That condition likely will cause the well to continue to show mud along with the oil it produces, for a considerable time in the future.

Operator has now re-treated the 11,747-794 foot horizon with 5,000 gallons of acid and is swabbing to clean out acid load, then make a production test.

The project will be completed as some sort of commercial oil well in the near future. However there is a possibility that it will have to be finished as a pumper—an oil well that has to get oil from below 11,700 feet by pumping is rather expensive to operate.

This development is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block L, psl survey. That makes it one-quarter of a mile north of the same company No. 2 Edwards, the initial producer from the Devonian in the Landon-Deep field.

Stanolind No. 1 Grollman, another stepout from the Devonian production in the Landon area, and 660 feet from west and 407 feet from south lines of section 4, block L, psl survey, had penetrated to 11,016 feet and was boring ahead. Up to now it has not found any signs of production in any of the horizons it has penetrated below 5,100 feet.

DEMONSTRATE REVOLUTIONARY NEW 'TYPESETTER'—Dr. Vannevar Bush, seated, and Dr. Samuel Caldwell of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Cambridge, demonstrate the electronic typewriter that "photographs" lines of type on film, which in turn can be used to make a printing plate—all in a matter of five minutes. The system, when developed for commercial use, is expected to make obsolete the present-day metal-typesetting machines which years ago put the laborious hand-type setter "out of business." The machine contains a mechanism with a "memory," which stores up letters until a complete lines is set. Margins are then evened and the line is photographed. The new system is based on inventions by two French scientists, Rene A. Higonnet and Louis Moyroud.

Various Ships Included

Task Force 87, used in today's exercise, is the operating naval force for the western Atlantic area. Assembled for maneuvers were two of the biggest flattops, the Roosevelt and her sister ship Midway, supported by sixteen fighting ships. The force included also the small escort carrier Mindoro; the heavy cruiser Albany; the anti-aircraft cruiser Spokane; the radar picket submarine Spinax and twelve destroyers deployed in the usual four-ship divisions. The submarine was the new Schnorkel "breather" type submersible capable of fairly high speed and prolonged periods of underwater operation.

The planes included the newest in Navy aircraft designs, among them the carrier-borne McDonnell "Banshee" jet fighter which some Navy men declare capable of intercepting the Air Force's high flying B-36 bomber. Also scheduled for demonstration was the P2V "Neptune," Navy's far-flying bomber with a combat range of 4,600 miles. The Navy has been experimenting for sometime in launching this weighty bomber from its bigger carriers but so far there has been no word that such planes have been able to land again on a carrier flight deck.

Slayer Executed For Strangling Of Niece

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Sept. 26 (AP)—George A. Neill, 24, was executed early today for the strangulation slaying of his 11-year-old niece, Isabella Mellon, in Philadelphia a year ago.

Neill, a Marine veteran, was led to the electric chair at Rockview state prison a few hours after Gov. James H. Duff—acting on a federal court order—stayed the execution of James Smith, 24, who was to have died at the same time.

The governor, who refused to halt Neill's execution, said legal questions were involved in the delay granted Smith. The federal court order scheduled a habeas corpus hearing Oct. 4.

HIBE ROBINSON has been a truck driver for 12 years. He has driven somewhere in the neighborhood of 1,000,000 miles, in 42 of our 48 states.

He has driven big trucks and little trucks, Diesels and gasoline motored ones, through deserts, over mountains and in metropolitan traffic jams.

During those 12 years and over all those miles in all sorts of surroundings and under all sorts of weather conditions, Mr. Robinson has never had anything more than a minor mishap.

He has never banged into another car or truck and has never hurt anybody, including himself.

That's quite a record, even though Mr. Robinson says there are many men who have driven more kinds of trucks a lot more miles than he has.

This 32-year old Lubbock citizen—he lives at 1708 Avenue D—happened into the office the other day and we got him into a corner.

We figured he could tell the rest of us a lot of things we should know about the hazards of the road, and how to avoid as many as possible.

Boiled down, Mr. Robinson's advice to the highway driver is just this: "Take it easy. Think about what you're doing, not only about where you're going and how quickly you can get there."

MR. ROBINSON say he agrees with highway patrolmen of Texas and other states that most accidents can be traced to the driver's failure to think about his driving, because he's mainly intent on getting to his destination.

Too many people, he says, dash along the highways forgetting to notice where they're going and what approaching drivers are doing. They feel if they "lose" a minute by being careful, that "lost minute" will keep them from getting where they're going. That, he says, is bad business.

"I know a guy," he said, "who's 48 years old. He's driven every kind of truck and hauled every kind of cargo there is. He's never had a wreck.

"He's the kind of guy who's never in a hurry—but he gets where he's going just about as soon, and a whole lot safer, than most drivers.

"He'll start out from Dallas, say, to El Paso. He'll drive a couple of hundred miles, then get out and check his tires, his brakes and connections. Then he'll drive another couple of hundred miles and stop to check again. He'll eat, service his truck, and go on. When night comes, he sleeps.

"I'll let him start at Dallas with most of the other drivers there are and he'll get to El Paso just about as quick as any of them. And he'll never take a chance."

Mr. Robinson has seen countless wrecks and has driven up on many, many more immediately after their occurrence. Therefore, his opinion about what causes wrecks ought to be pretty sound.

"I believe," he says, "that drinking while driving causes more wrecks than any other one thing."

But in case you are a prohibitionist, don't begin hollering, "I told you so!" Let's get more testimony from Mr. Robinson.

"I am certain," he says, "that there is more drinking while driving in the so-called 'dry' areas than in the 'wet' ones. I see this proven all the time. Saturday nights in so-called 'dry' areas are terrible and I'd rather be beaten over the head than drive between Lubbock and Big Spring on a Saturday night. Anybody who does is pretty likely to get pushed off the road at least once.

"I believe there'd be less accidents on the highway if there were no so-called 'dry' counties. I know there are more accidents on these Plains than there are in legally 'wet' territories."

VERY few truck drivers drink on the job, Mr. Robinson says, and mainly for two reasons. In the first place, they recognize the dangers of the road to a greater extent than the non-professional driver. In the second place, they never know when they will be stopped by a highway patrolman checking on their brakes, lights, load-weights and licenses.

"If a truck driver is caught drinking while driving," Mr. Robinson says, "It's Katy-bar-the-door. And that's the way it should be, too—for truck drivers and everybody else."

Mr. Robinson does not list speed as the cause of as many accidents as some other facters, including drinking, recklessness, carelessness and pure ignorance.

"I learned a long time ago they're dangerous business," he says.

Heading eastward from Los Angeles to Dallas, Mr. Robinson was asked by a checker at the Arizona-California border to "please carry this lady up the road for a piece, where her car is broken down and where a mechanic has gone to fix it."

Mr. Robinson obliged, and a few miles later the "lady" shoved a pistol in his side and told him to stop the truck. He had about $800 in expense money with him.

"I stopped," Mr. Robinson said, "but she made a mistake when she turned her back to me to climb out of the truck. I put my foot in her back, she flew out and to the ground and I grabbed the gun, which she had lost in flight. I made her climb back into the truck and took her on to the next town and turned her over to the cops.

"They'd been looking for her for sometime. She'd hijacked a filling station there. I haven't picked up any hitch-hikers since, except for a few soldiers during the war."

MR. ROBINSON says no matter how long a person has driven he can never be sure of what sort of an emergency may arise.

"I was up near Lamar, Colo. one day a few years ago," he recalls. "The fog was thick, but it was only about five feet deep. Looking down from my high cab I could see ahead all right, but I couldn't see the road because of that layer of fog, like cotton batting.

"I noticed a truck coming toward me a half-mile away—a big truck headed for the valley toward which I was headed from the opposite direction. All of a sudden, I saw the approaching truck start swerving and bouncing back and forth along the highway. I stopped. The other truck finally stopped, too.

"I got out and walked up to see what was the matter. The other driver was as white as a sheet. We, and a third driver who came along got to poking around under that layer of fog and found a dead sheep. Walking back and forth along the highway, we finally found 13 dead sheep under that layer of fog!"

The truck drivers threw the dead sheep off the highway and although they made efforts to discover the owner, they never did.

"That driver who killed those sheep," Mr. Robinson said, "told me he never had such a rough ride. He could not get his foot on either his brake, or his accelerator, as the truck ran over that hidden herd of sheep under the fog laying atop the concrete."

Moral: When you're behind a wheel, remember anything can happen—and probably will. So take it easy!

BY DREW PEARSON: BEN FAIRLESS AND ENDERS VOORHEES NOT ALWAYS IN AGREEMENT

Two Men Dominating Steel Corporation Policies

WASHINGTON—Two men dominate the policies of the giant U. S. Steel corporation, and will also largely decide whether or not the nation is stymied by a steel strike. They are:

PEARSON

Ben Fairless—president of U. S. Steel, son of a Welsh coal miner, taught school, came up the hard way and is generally sympathetic to labor.

Enders Voorhees — chairman of the finance committee of U. S. Steel, son of a bank president, a tightfisted New York Dutchman, and an accountant whose job is to pinch pennies for J. P. Morgan and Co., which largely owns and controls U. S. Steel.

These two men sometimes disagree. And their disagreement represents a seesaw between liberal and conservative policies which have alternated in the management of U. S. Steel and J. P. Morgan.

Originally U. S. Steel was one of the most reactionary firms in America. For years the famed Judge Elbert Gary ruled it with an iron hand. Labor was treated like so many ingots or blast furnaces—except that labor was a lot cheaper.

Then a new day dawned in the oak-paneled offices of J. P. Morgan. Myron Taylor, now ambassador to the Vatican, believed in giving labor a break. Dwight Morrow, who later followed amazingly liberal policies as ambassador to Mexico, also leaned toward labor. And Thomas W. Lamont, guiding genius of the Morgan firm, was far more liberal than the public realized.

So, in 1937, the world was flabbergasted when Myron Taylor negotiated a union contract for U. S. Steel, for the first time in that firm's history.

• • •

J. P. Morgan Goes Conservative

Then Myron Taylor stepped out of U. S. Steel in favor of the Vatican; Tom Lamont died, and J. P. Morgan reverted to the conservatives. Thus began the trend toward conservatism again in the giant steel corporation and the elevation of Enders Voorhees, accountant son of a New York banker, to the position of real influence.

Finally it saw the wane of Ben Fairless, the traditional friend of labor.

It is significant that, during the lengthy sessions of the President's fact - finding board, the only head of a big steel corporation who made no appearance was Ben Fairless. The tightfisted Voorhees appeared for him.

Fairless first got in wrong with his J. P. Morgan masters when he told the White House, shortly after the war, that U. S. Steel would accept the 18½-cents-an-hour wage increase. This brought rising temperatures to some of the gentlemen in J. P. Morgan offices, and since then they have been more careful about letting Ben Fairless loose at a wage conference without a chaperone.

• • •

BEN FAIRLESS was born 58 years ago into a coal miner's family at Pigeon Run, Ohio. His father, too poor to educate his first born, farmed him out to an uncle who ran a store at nearby Justus, Ohio. As a result, Ben took his uncle's name, and always remembered his mother's resolve that, come what may, he should never work in the mines.

Fairless taught a one-room country school in order to save up money for college, was graduated from Ohio Northern university, joined the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad as engineer, then the Central Steel company, then Republic Steel, and finally U. S. Steel.

Just out of college, Fairless married Blanche Truby, also a schoolteacher and a subsequent enthusiast over religious cults. She died in 1942, and Fairless married Hazel Sproul, divorced wife of Jack Sproul, son of the late G.O.P. governor of Pennsylvania.

The new Mrs. Fairless is the daughter of G.O.P. Governor Hatfield of West Virginia, has made Ben cut down his drinking, has pulled in his waistline, and has married her daughter to Ben's shy son by his first wife.

When Ben retires six years hence at the age of 65, he will receive a pension of $50,000 a year paid for by the company, but the same company now balks at paying steelworkers pensions as recommended by the fact-finding board.

Steel's Real Boss

Enders McClumpha Voorhees, the accountant who really dominates U. S. Steel, is the son of an Amsterdam, N. Y., banker whose family settled in New York in 1660. As a boy, his father invested in a knitting business which went into bankruptcy, and young Voorhees, convinced that poor accounting methods were responsible, decided to take up accounting as his profession.

Since then he has led the colorless, rather routine life of a financier, rose to be financial vice-president of Johns-Manville company, came to U. S. Steel in 1937, is author of a new cost-accounting system of which he is proud.

Voorhees has the natural banker's approach to labor problems. Not being a talker, his views are not a matter of detailed record.

Judging from U. S. Steel's recent policies, however, plus reports from his colleagues in banking circles, Voorhees feels it would be better for labor to take a bloody nose before management yields further on either wages or pensions.

Furthermore, any settlement, in the opinion of the Voorhees school of management, must come under the Taft-Hartley act. And so far, any invoking of Taft-Hartley has been deftly avoided both by the White House and by labor.

The Taft-Hartley act, for instance, provides for a cooling-off period of only 80 days. Already the steelworkers union has voluntarily postponed a strike for 76 days as of today, and 80 days as of Oct. 1. The Taft-Hartley act could have done no better.

Furthermore, one of the amendments to Taft-Hartley accepted by the CIO during Senate debates last year was a fact-finding board appointed in the steel dispute and the union is now willing to accept its recommendations in toto.

But the steel industry is not. For, among other things, to accept the fact-finding recommendations would show that labor's method of settling disputes was workable and that the Taft-Hartley act was not so essential after all.

Those are some of the views held by some of the men who will finally decide whether the nation's economy is tied up by a giant steel strike.

A Shot In The Arm, But--

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

A PSYCHOLOGY professor at the University of California at Los Angeles is amazed over the results of a test he gave his students, which brought to light the fact that the students thought of themselves as "average" but rated other students as "maladjusted."

MILLETT

Well, if he tries the same type test on Mr. and Mrs. America he'll probably discover that most of them harbor a whole set of similar convictions.

Mr. and Mrs. America are firmly convinced they spend their income wisely. But just get 'em started on their friends and neighbors. They're always making mistakes, and why they paid so much for such-and-such Mr. and Mrs. America will never be able to understand.

Mr. and Mrs. A. also think they're pretty happy. But they aren't so sure about their friends. They can't figure out why some of them married each other in the first place. And they can't figure out how the others put up with each other. And when they hear that the Joneses are getting a divorce they "aren't a bit surprised."

• • •

WERE BROGHT UP RIGHT

AND take their kids. Mr. and Mrs. A. think they've done a pretty good job of bringing up their own. But they could sure tell the neighbors on both the right and left and across the street a thing or two. When they start a kid needs" you can be sure THAT kid belongs to somebody else.

And so it goes. The college student who thinks he's average but is convinced the other students in the class are maladjusted for one reason or another isn't any funnier than the rest of us.

We're all sure that we're doing the best we can — and always wondering why the other fellow can't see the mistakes he's making.

But at least it gives us something to talk about.

AN INDIAN fire writer was transmitting a message to his tribe in New Mexico when a terrific explosion not only interrupted him, but sent him flying into a ditch twenty yards away.

It was the atomic bomb experiment, and the Indian pulled himself together in time to see a tower of smoke billow out into the sky. He watched in awe-stricken silence for a moment, then clucked his tongue, and murmured "I wish I'd said that!"

MARY MARGARET McBRIDE once lost a devoted radio listener in the person of Scenario Scripter George Oppenheimer's mother. Delayed one noon hour at her modiste's, she missed the introductory patter of Mary Margaret's program, and tuned in just in time to head a dulcet-voiced visitor confide, "The naked one on the bear rug is George Oppenheimer." "Hollywood has been too much for my poor, poor boy," she cried, but in the nick of time discovered that the speaker was Dorothy Stickney, innocently showing Miss McBride her album of baby pictures of intimate friends, a hobby she has pursued for years.

Today's Journal Editorial

OPTIMISTIC VIEW JUSTIFIED

The confidence professed in a conference held in Lubbock a few days ago that apparent obstacles to the approval of the $85,000,000 Canadian river water conservation project can be surmounted without too much difficulty has been given justification by subsequent events.

The chief concern expressed by participants in the gathering here was that New Mexico might block the project. Various officials of that State had declared they would oppose the undertaking until assured the interests of New Mexico in Canadian river waters were protected. They cannot be criticised for that attitude. Texans probably would do the same in their position.

Fortunately, New Mexico can be given the assurances desired. This will involve details which will require some "ironing out."

But it is a safe bet that, given reasonable assurances in the matter, our New Mexico neighbors will be doing all they can to help in obtaining approval and construction of a project of such vital concern to the Texas South Plains and Panhandle.

Leprosy Victim's Return To Her Home Is Major Triumph

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—The people of the United States have observed recently, the workings of a modern miracle—a miracle transcending about 5000 years of superstition and fear. That would be the graduation of Mrs. Hans Hornbostel from the national leprosarium at Carville, La.—still a leper, technically, but free to live among non-lepros people, and proud to publicize the fact that she is at large, including the listing of her address in Long Island.

RUARK

Mrs. Hornbostel, a pleasant but quick-tempered lady, is an old acquaintance of mine. I visited her some 18 months ago at the hospital in Carville, where she had been sent with an active case of Hansen's disease. The disease had broken out while she was an inmate of the Japanese prison camp in the Philippines—Santo Tomas, as I remember.

She did not catch it there, since it has been pretty well proven that adults do not contract leprosy. Mrs. Hornbostel collected her baccilli when she was a child in the Marianas—either Guam or Saipan. They lay dormant for 30 years, only when her health broke under the stringencies of living in a Jap internment camp did the disease become active.

• • •

Treated As "Criminal"

When Mrs. Hornbostel was repatriated, her leprosy was detected, and she was treated nearly as a criminal in San Francisco until such time as she consented to commit herself as an inmate—nasty word—at Carville. She was guilty of no crime. She merely possessed a sickness which is practically incommunicable to any but children in certain endemic areas, and then through such lengthy and intimate contact that the chances are a million to one against acquiring it.

Her husband, Maj. Hans Hornbostel, refused to desert his wife. Their case became a cause celebre. The major said that if she went to the leprosarium, he went, too, because after 30 years or so of matrimony, he didn't figure to catch anything he hadn't already caught.

There was a houserule against their living together, however. Even in the enlightened present, lepers are still legally treated more as criminals than as patients. Hornbostel wasn't allowed to live with his wife at Carville, but took a little house outside the barbed wire fence. He was permitted to visit her all day, until 11 p. m.

• • •

THERE IS no recorded instance of any adult ever acquiring leprosy, unless his adolescence was spent in an endemic area. Last time I checked, 145 willing guinea pigs had deliberately attempted to infect themselves, through all known methods, with no success. Even the sainted Father Damien, who died a leper on Molokai, came from a sector of France which was noted for its heavy leprosy quotient. It is a fairly even gamble that Father Damien bore the seeds of the disease in his system when he went to Hawaii.

Leprosy has been falsely presented since pre-Christian days, when the cry of "unclean, unclean," rang in the streets, and the sick beggars shook their rattles to warn passers-by from their path. The Biblical "lepers" suffered from many skin distresses, ailments easily observed in the Middle East today, but most of them weren't leprosy.

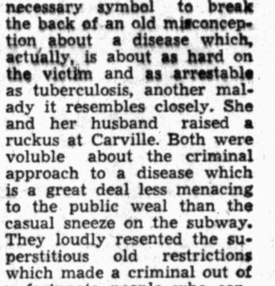

• • •

Mrs. Hornbostel was the necessary symbol to break the back of an old misconception about a disease which, actually, is about as hard on the victim and as arrestable as tuberculosis, another malady it resembles closely. She and her husband raised a ruckus at Carville. Both were voluble about the criminal approach to a disease which is a great deal less menacing to the public weal than the casual sneeze on the subway. They loudly resented the superstitious old restrictions which made a criminal out of unfortunate people who constituted negligible threat to the health of people around them. Together with a youngster named Nick, and the blind editor, Stanley Stein, Mrs. H. and her spouse shed an entirely fresh light on leprosy.

Some reasonably new drugs, — promine, diasone, promizole—have now made it possible to halt the disease and render it non-catchable, even in the areas where it flourishes. Mrs. Hornsbostel returns to civilian life this week, not cured, but arrested in her ailment and as safe as church to be near.

I mention a miracle. It was the fact that she heralded her return with an announcement in all the press. Previously, lepers have slunk back to life, and hid in dark corners, as befitted people with shame to hide.

Four Held In Dual Slaying

NEWPORT, TENN., Sept. 26—(AP)—Three men and a woman have been arrested in connection with the torture slaying of a wealthy tourist court operator and his house keeper. The men have been charged with murder.

Sheriff Charles Fisher of Cocke county said he is holding Claude Robertson, 40, Hermie Lee Jones, 26, and Basil Jones, 20, in the county jail for "safekeeping."

Sheriff Roy Whalen of nearby Sevier county said an unidentified woman was being held at Johnson City. She will be brought here today, he said. The specific charge against the woman was not revealed.

Charles Perry, 70, and his housekeeper, Miss Josie Law, were found stabbed to death Tuesday in Perry's home in Gatlinburg.

Perry's throat had been cut, his body slashed 13 times and his wrists were raw from rope burns. Whaley said he believed Perry had been tortured in an attempt to make him reveal the hiding place of his money.

Sheriff Fisher said officers found money which had apparently been stolen from Perry hidden in a cache in Cocke county. "We're not quite clear yet on details leading up to the crime," he said, but added that the money which was found "establishes our belief in their guilt.

Champion Squatter Gets New Start In Life

Flagpole Sitting Profitable For Cleveland Indians' Fan

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26—(AP)—Wobbly legged Charley Lupica swore off flagpole sitting today and luxuriated in an honest-to-goodness bed.

What's more, after his world champion squat of 117 days, two hours and 25 minutes, Lupica sighed:

"Now I'm going to rest for two weeks before going back to work. This is not the end of things for me. It's the beginning. It gives me a new start in life."

The 37-year-old Lupica made his historic descent yesterday before 33,977 fans at Cleveland stadium. His ankles were sore. He was tired. But his eyes were moist as he teetered toward his wife, Augustine, and their four children at home plate.

Pole Sitting Profitable

Charley found out that flag pole sitting can be profitable, even when you lose. He had vowed to stay aloft on his perch over his delicatessen until the Indians reached first place.

He guessed wrong but managed to shatter the old pole sitting mark of 72 days. The Tribe gave him these presents, anyway, at the ceremony:

Anew Pontiac sedan; bicycles for daughters Margaret, 6 and Nicolette,10; a tricycle for son Carl, 8; a stroller for Charley, jr., one month.

To all this, Mrs. Lupica could only say:

"Oh, my goodness. This sure is something. I'm glad it's all over for Charley. Aren't you, Charley?"

BOSTON (U.P.)—The oldest photograph in Boston is a 109-year-old daguerreotype of King's Chapel Burying Ground. It was taken by Dr. Samuel A. Bemis, a Boston dentist, in April 1840. He bought the first Daguerre camera purchased in America, paying $51 for it.

Burial Of Six War Victims Set Today

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 26. (AP)—A Texan and five other airmen killed on a wartime mission in Romania will be buried together today.

Sgt. Hardin J. Sparks, Emory, Texas, and the other men were killed April 15, 1944. They were members of the 762nd bomb squadron of the Air Forces 460th bombing group.

Burial will be in Camp Butler national cemetery east of here.

CLAIMED BY DEATH

Party Facing Crucial Vote

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Britain's Socialist government tomorrow faces a crucial test of whether it has lost ground with its big majority of followers in the House of Commons as the result of the devaluation of the pound sterling.

Prime Minister Attlee and his cabinet will stand or fall on a vote of confidence on this issue.

Parliament has been called into special three-day session for a full dress debate in which the government will undertake to justify its action.

British Are Shocked

The devaluation of the pound was wholly unexpected by Parliament and the general public. As a consequence the slash in the value of John Bull's money came as a shock to a nation which had regarded the pound pridefully as the emblem of stability.

Naturally the Conservatives, under leadership of former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, have seized upon this situation to make an attack on the Socialist government.

Attlee Takes Lead

Clearly Attlee feels very sure of the result, as well he may unless heavy defection should unexpectedly develop among his followers. The Laborites (Socialists) hold 393 of the 640 seats in Commons, whereas the Conservatives have 189. Thus Attlee has good reason to believe he won't be defeated. If he were he would have to resign and a new general election would be called.

What will be demonstrated, however, is whether the Socialist members in Commons still stands soldily behind him. In order to make sure that all Socialists are in their seats tomorrow, the government is sending out what they call a "three line whip"—an imperative summons. A member can be expelled from the party for ignoring such an order.

The Wrens—age limits 18 to 28, open to married women if they will serve abroad—now are a permanent part of the British Navy, with their own disciplinary code.

First Helicopter Appears In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo, Sept. 26 (AP)—The first helicopter to appear in Central Africa has arrived at Leopoldville. It will be used by four Americans to photograph wild life in the Belgian Congo. Roy M. Butcher of San Jose, Calif., and M. W. Carter of Los Gatos are heading the experiment. They are assisted by Jack Greenbalgh, a Hollywood cameraman, and Berkley Vineyard.

The direction of Congo national parks has forbidden the Americans to fly over national parks. It feared that the hovering plane might scare game and that young animals would be separated from their mothers to die of hunger or be preyed on by other animals. Ordinary planes have swept low over the game but the authorities claim they leave quickly and do not hover in the way the helicopter does. The fast moving planes do not have time to really separate the animals. After touring extensively through the Congo the photographers will leave for Kenya by air.

English Cinema Star Preparing For Roles In American Movies

BY BOB THOMAS
AP Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 26—(AP) Chalk up another invasion of Hollywood by an English film star. He's Stewart Granger, who might be called the Errol Flynn of England.

Granger is the handsome actor whose bare-chested roles have made him a favorite with English audiences. But not, he claims, with Americans. And thereon depends whether or not he becomes a permanent member of the bulging British colony here.

"American audiences scarcely know me," he remarked, perhaps being more modest than accurate. "I'm practically unknown to them. It depends on how they accept me in American films whether I'll stay here or not."

Granger is set for two American-made films. The first is "King Solomon's Mines," which will be filmed in Africa. He flew here from England for a couple of weeks of being shot with a still camera and a hypodermic needle.

He'll return here for another film and perhaps more—if money matters can be ironed out. Right now the actor is wondering whether or not he is bankrupt because of the pound devaluation.

"England is not a happy place right now," he continued. "It is resentful of its current condition and resentful of having to depend on American charity to survive. There is little for an Englishman to be proud of at the moment, and an Englishman without pride is a sorry thing indeed."

Asked about his alleged romance with Jean Simmons, the brilliant Ophelia of Olivier's "Hamlet," Granger said it had been exaggerated by transatlantic gossips.

"We are the greatest of friends," he commented, "but she has never wanted to marry me, nor have I wanted to marry her..

"I shall, however, take the greatest interest in the man she marries; because if he isn't good to her, I shall kick his bottom for him."
