PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—The hijacked Venezuelan freighter Arango spent the night lying near Maracaibo island off the Brazilian coast as the Brazilians and why it stopped there remained a mystery. Two small boats visited the fugitive ship Sunday night but there has been no sign of movement since, the Navy said.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said what the Communists' captors of the vessel were doing off the Brazilian island or why it stopped there remained a mystery. Two small boats visited the fugitive ship Sunday night but there has been no sign of movement since, the Navy said.

The U.S. Defense Department said a tracking American plane saw the 3,127-ton fugitive ship stop dead in the water suddenly off the Brazilian coast about 7 p.m.

The island lies about 300 miles northwest of the Brazilian port of Maracaibo. The hijackers indicated they might seek refuge in other developments.

The report from the tracking plane gave no hint of the identity of the vessel or the boats which appeared alongside the freighter. Communist gunmen stowed away on the Arango early last week and with the help of one or more members of the crew took over the ship Wednesday after it sailed from Venezuela for New Orleans, La., and Houston, Tex.

The hijackers reportedly made the captain and most of his 33-man crew captive. President Kennedy's anti-Communist government branded the hijackers miscreants and appealed to friendly nations with forces in the Caribbean to seize the freighter.

Sen. Dan Rostenkowski, U.S. House, said the vessel appeared to be part of a Communist attempt to force Betancourt to cancel a visit with President Kennedy in Washington this week. Betancourt went ahead with plans to leave for Puerto Rico today and to fly on to Washington Tuesday.

Although Fidel Castro's regime offered the hijacker's asylum in Cuba, the ship was located Saturday off the northeast coast of South America. It appeared to be heading for Brazil, where Portuguese rebels who seized the liner Santa Maria in 1961 found asylum. Venezuelan destroyers sped along the South American coast, trying to intercept the hijacker.

The U.S. destroyers Wood and Leary sped out of Trinidad to join in the pursuit but Capt. John H. Dinners, commander of the U.S. naval station at nearby Chaguaramas, said no orders had been received to stop and board the freighter.

Also missing in was the USS Gibbs, a military sea transport under charter for a scientific survey.

The Brazilian navy stood by to seize the ship if it crossed the three-mile limit but the Brazilian government has indicated it would grant the hijackers asylum.

A U.S. plane fired smoke rockets across the ship's bow Saturday in an effort to turn it toward Puerto Rico. The ship kept heading south.

A U.S. Navy plane kept the freighter under constant surveillance.

Lt. Walter Bridgeman of Chicago, pilot of the F-4U plane which spotted the freighter Saturday said the search center at San Juan told him Adm. Robert Dennison, Atlantic Fleet commander, had ordered one F-4U to be fired to see if the ship would turn.

When it refused, Bridgeman said he got orders to fire. In all, 12 rockets were fired across the ship's bow.

The ship's radio then began sending out signals being intercepted by North American aircraft.

The hijackers denounced the firing as a violation of international law and an abuse of the national sovereignty of Venezuela.

U.S. planes broadcast Navy requests for the freighter to turn back to Puerto Rico, but the hijackers ignored them.

Says Soviet Proposal Is Ultimatum

GENEVA (AP)—The chief American disarmament negotiator said today Soviet Premier Khrushchev's nuclear test ban inspection proposal has taken on the form of an ultimatum and is unacceptable to the United States.

William C. Foster, said the United States "evaluated Khrushchev's offer to allow two or three on-site inspections per year as showing a genuine desire to move toward a test ban agreement."

"We did not assume the number mentioned by Chairman Khrushchev to be an ultimatum which the United States had no choice but to accept," Foster told the 17-nation disarmament conference.

The United States and Britain demand eight to ten inspections per year as a minimum for an adequately safeguarded treaty.

Foster said the United States "evaluated the Soviet offer of two or three on-site inspections as evidence of a real willingness to open negotiations designed to reach an effective test ban agreement."

"It was, therefore, a very real surprise when we were told literally that the Soviet Union would not negotiate on the question of numbers above two or three."

The frozen Soviet position "has shaken our belief that the Soviet Union really desires agreement."

Foster told Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov that on-site inspections would not interfere with normal activities in the inspected country and would include complete safeguards against espionage.

He called on Kuznetsov again to discuss details of the inspection procedure. Kuznetsov has refused to negotiate on these details unless the Western powers first accept the two or three inspection quota.

By a Russian newspaper, "that shaken our belief that the Soviet Union really desires agreement."

Solon Says Blockade May Be Needed Again

By LARRY OSUS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Stennis D-Miss., says any blockade of Cuba may be necessary if Soviet troops on the Caribbean island cannot be forced out by economic pressure or other means.

Republican National Chairman William Miller says the Kennedy administration should consider re-imposing the racial quarantine that led to removal of Soviet bombers and missiles from Cuba last year.

"These views and a welter of other congressional opinion about Cuba came in a series of statements and television interviews over the weekend. The consensus from members of both parties was that Communist subversion in Latin America is a bigger problem than the Soviet troops in Cuba."

Stennis said in a television interview that steps to combat the Soviet position in Cuba should include "first, economic pressure, and getting the Organization of American States to cooperate on that as far as they will. And I think unless we get results otherwise we will be driven to a blockade and one step will have to follow another unless results are obtained."

"I don't put any timetable on that."

Miller, a House member from New York, said in another television interview that in addition to considering reimposition of the racial quarantine the government should work with the OAS to place economic sanctions against Cuba.

In other developments:

The House subcommittee on Inter-American Affairs begins hearings today on Communist subversion in Latin America. Assistant Secretary of State Edward M. Martin was scheduled as the first witness.

The Senate International Affairs subcommittee hears today from Paul G. Hoffman about a U.N. special fund grant of 1.5 million in agricultural assistance for Cuba. Hoffman is American manager of the U.N. fund.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said in a statement that "the battle is on" for control of Venezuela and that President Romulo Betancourt should be assured that the United States will not tolerate any attack on his country.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in a television interview said Cuba is "extremely important" politically, but he does not regard Cuba, as such, as a threat to the physical security of this country or any other country in the hemisphere.

In a television interview prepared for New York stations, Keating said "these activities can kill the already faltering Alliance for Progress program, dry up private investment in Latin America, topple governments, and doom plans for long-term economic development and stability."

"We cannot meet this danger by firing missiles or invading Cuba. But if we do not meet it in other ways... we shall see one country after another fall victim to communism."

Parliament Is Dissolved In Italy

ROME (AP)—President Antonio Segni dissolved Parliament today and Italy headed for a national election in which the Polaris missile will be a campaign battle cry.

Premier Amintore Fanfani's Cabinet scheduled the election April 28-29 with the new Parliament to meet May 16.

The Parliament lived its full life of almost five years despite repeated government crises. It was dissolved as cracks appeared in Fanfani's coalition of Christian Democrats, Democratic Socialists and Republicans, which had a majority in Parliament only because of the support of Pietro Nenni's left-leaning Socialists.

The more than 30 million voters must decide whether to continue Fanfani's left-leaning government. On their decision will depend Italy's role in the new nuclear strategy substitution in Poland.

U.S. officials reportedly have indicated a desire to provide an Italian base for the three Polaris submarines that will start patrolling the Mediterranean April 7. Washington is said to have put off the matter until after the elections.

Rains Dampen South Texas

By The Associated Press

Drenching rains came Monday on farms and ranches over a wide area of South Central Texas where moisture was badly needed.

Rainfall up to 3 inches was gauged. It was general from Austin southward to the Texas border. Indications were other dry areas also would get moisture as rain clouds moved northward.

Campbell one word, south of San Antonio in Alameda County and George West measured 3 inches. Other rainfall included: Boerne 1.18 inches; Kingsbury 2.04; San Antonio 2.50; Flatonia 1.65; Beaumont 1.84; Belton 1.45; Luling 2.04; Yorktown 1.0; Dixon 2.38; Blanco 1.26; Columbus 2.10; Elgin 1.35; Taylor 1.37; New Braunfels 1.53; San Antonio 1.43; Hutto 2.00; McCombs 1.20; Imogene 2.50; Refugio 1.25; Dilley 1.04; Sahnol 1.22; Warren 1.90; Lometa 1.05; Crystal City 1.84; Pleasanton 2.73; and Hondo 1.37.

Ranchers in the Brownwood area were jubilant over an early steady rain that set in Sunday night and continued through Monday morning.

There was an unconfirmed report of a twister being sighted early Monday in the Fairbank area north of Houston, but there were no reports of damage.

Heavy rain fell during the morning in the Beaumont area of the upper Texas coast. Good rains also fell at Galveston, Houston and College Station.

Several families left their homes along a section of Alamo Creek in San Antonio Monday as the heaviest rain in many months drenched Bexar County. The water rose slowly.

By 8 a.m. the Weather Bureau had recorded 2 1/2 inches of rain for San Antonio in 24 hours. Two wooden bridges across Alamo Creek were washed out by the rushing water.

By early this morning 35 barricades were up at San Antonio high water locations—most of them on the West Side.

There was fog before daylight at Brownsville, Childress and Wichita Falls.

Five-day forecasts issued Monday called for light rain much of this week in North Central and Northeast Texas, and for somewhat less frequent showers in most other sections. Temperatures were expected to run near normal to a few degrees below.

Top marks: Sunday afternoon ranged from 74 degrees at Brownsville down to 35 at Wichita Falls.

Readings early Monday varied from 22 at Dalhart to 62 at Brownsville and McAllen.

Polaris A3 Is Destroyed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Polaris missile veered off course during second-stage flight today and was destroyed by the range safety officer.

The missile departed off a land launching pad and performed normally through first-stage flight. But shortly after the second stage separated and ignited it began to curvise out of control and the safety officer sent a radio signal to detonate explosive charges in the vehicle.

Pieces of the rocket fell into the Atlantic several miles offshore.

The A3, which eventually will have a reach of 2,875 miles, is scheduled to be ready for operational deployment about nuclear submarines in about 18 months.

Survey Sought On CD Center Here

George Patterson, city manager and director of civil defense for Seury County, met with the city commissioners' committee this morning.

Patterson placed before the commissioners a 24-point program which the civil defense unit is undertaking for the year. Civil defense in Seury County is a joint operation of the city and county.

One of the items on the list of proposed civil defense activities is the providing of an emergency operating center from which all civil defense activities would be conducted under emergency conditions. At the last city council meeting a proposal was discussed whereby such an operating center would be incorporated into a new building for the police and fire departments if such a building could be built.

Patterson's purpose in meeting was to present this tentative plan to the council, and to get their comments. He noted that since city defense was a joint function, it would take their concurrence. However, he said that if the council did not choose to participate, the city would probably go ahead with a feasibility survey on their own.

The council however, expressed interest in the proposal and pinned down Patterson in asking for a survey. If such a building is built, Patterson said, federal funds would match local funds only for that portion of the building which would be designated as the emergency operating center. Tentative plans call for a basement of about 2,500 square feet to be designated as the center. Estimated cost of the center is about $40,000. The survey would cost two per cent of the building cost, or about $800, of which the county would pay one-fourth, the city one-fourth, and the federal government one-half.

Also in the survey would be a plan to relocate a small county office building located on the city property on Twenty-seventh Street. The office is occupied by the home demonstration agent and the county agricultural agent.

Gov. Connally Has Surgery

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. John Connally underwent 40 minutes of surgery for hernia today and expected to be in good post-operative condition.

Connally entered St. David's hospital Sunday night.

Dr. W. B. Swift, who performed the operation, said:

"The governor is in good post-operative condition. The surgery was uneventful. We feel the exterior will do real time."

Connally entered the operating room shortly after 8 a.m.

The hernia developed during the last part of the general election campaign. Doctors said it is not an emergency condition but could be worsened if the operation was delayed.

Connally said Friday that he expects to be "back in touch by phone on Wednesday." He said he probably will spend four or five days at the hospital and about the same time confined in the home.

He said a number of engagements in March and April also will be postponed because it will be some time before he will be doing much traveling.

Brandt Gets Huge Confidence Vote

BERLIN (AP)—West Berliners gave their Socialist mayor, Willy Brandt, a smashing vote of confidence Sunday in their first municipal election since the Communist-led Berlin wall.

Brandt's anti-Communist Socialists won 89 of the 140 seats in the city's new Parliament. They had 77 deputies in the 1958 local election four years ago.

West Berlin's small Communist party, never represented in Parliament, lost a third of its popular vote. This was blamed largely on the Communist vote decline from 31,570 in 1959 to 20,887 ballots in percentage of the total votes, they decreased from 13 to 13 per cent.

The Christian Democrats, led by Franz Arnaut, deputy mayor in Brandt's coalition government of Socialists and Christian Democrats, won 41 seats, a drop of 14.

Arnaut threatened to break up the coalition if Brandt met Khrushchev during the Soviet leader's visit to East Berlin last January.

Arnaut threatened to break up the coalition if Brandt met Khrushchev during the Soviet leader's visit to East Berlin last January.

Brandt should have gone ahead with the meeting, and the Christian Democrats' attitude was widely believed to have worked against them at the polls.

Brandt said the Socialist landslide was due largely to lawlessness and the face of the Communist vote. His campaign promise was to protect the city with the help of the three Western occupation powers, the United States, Britain and France.

Now About That Spelling Contest

AUSTIN (AP)—The Intercollegiate League made a red-faced correction today in previous announcements about the spelling contest at the state meet May 24.

"Denominational" and "solemnity" were incorrectly spelled in the list of words to be used for the contest, the league's newspaper said in a correction.

Plush Quarters For Solons

EDITOR'S NOTE—About $100 million is being spent to provide more office space for members of the House of Representatives. Why so much to provide an extra room for each of 435 members? John Becker takes a close look at the project.

By JOHN BECKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The vast shadow of a new House office building lies across Capitol Hill these days, and across the desks of members busy-seeking ways to whittle President Kennedy's budget.

Those who pause in their pursuit of economy to look at the massive marble structure, still uncompleted, may find themselves hurried by the words of the late Rep. Russell Mack, R-Wash.

"How can any member of the House, legislator, criticize the sending of us ourselves to approval of this grandiose project? Mack asked.

How grandiose is the project turning out to be?

When ready for use in about 18 months, the new building with its two-room offices to three rooms members will have cost $83 million. The members who move into it will be getting their quarters, along with added facilities of the building, at a cost of $483,000 each.

Renovation of the present House office buildings to enlarge their two-room offices to three rooms will bring the total cost of the project to about $100 million. Since the original aim was to provide an extra room for each of the 435 members, the taxpayers rooms, a cafeteria and three private dining rooms. There will be parking space for 1,600 cars.

Each suite really has a court, room for a receptionist, and also includes two bathrooms and a built-in refrigerator. The committee rooms will rival movie palaces in elegance and space.

Once the new building is occupied the two existing office buildings will get a top-to-bottom renovation at an estimated cost of $16.5 million. Each member in these will be provided with a three-room suite.

The expansion of the House into three office buildings while its membership has remained the same—435—when only one building was needed, reflects the increased work congressmen have taken on.

Says Energy Of Children Is Blunted

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Millions of American children are growing up in frustration, their energies blunted by a society which has nothing for them to do, an educator warned today.

Prof. Willard E. Goslin of Nashville—George Peabody College said: "We are possibly the first people in history with little or no economic use for our children, unless one considers their extensive exploitation in advertising."

Goslin told the American Association of School Administrators: "Our technological advances have rendered their (children) unneeded, if not useless. We have made matters worse by moving to town—nearly 90 per cent of us—where we have automated our kitchens and heating systems and put motors on our lawnmowers."

In his prepared speech, Goslin noted that for 300 years an American youth carried in the woods at age 8, learned to plow at 12, and became a full-fledged farm hand at 16.

"Now, about the only thing we have for him to do is to go to school a few hours a day for about half the days of the year, with time off for football and teachers' meetings," he said.

Goslin called for a nationwide attack on the problem. He suggested that Deacons' Hospital, where he had been under treatment after suffering a coronary attack.

Escapee Is Recaptured

SHERMAN (AP)—Troy Teague, who escaped the Grayson County jail in a sheriff's squad car, was recaptured Sunday in Terrell, Texas.

Teague, a Fort Worth man, being held on a forgery charge, slipped out of the jail here early Friday and drove away in a car which contained a 45 caliber pistol and a submachine gun.

Indiana officers informed Sheriff Woody Blanton that Teague had been taken with the sheriff's car in running order and the gun intact. They captured him at a roadblock established after he was spotted driving through Terrell, Texas.

Teague was wearing an officer's uniform taken as he left the jail here. At the roadblock he first tried to back out of the trap but then stopped and surrendered without resistance.

His captors took him as they headed for the Texas to Chicago and to St. Louis before heading through Indiana.

Court Rules Out Citizenship Loss

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutionally by a 5-4 vote today two acts of Congress which strip citizenship from persons who stay abroad in wartime to avoid military service.

The court majority said the two acts failed to provide procedural safeguards which the Constitution demands and therefore they could not stand.

Justice Goldberg delivered the majority opinion. Justice Harlan dissented in an opinion in which Justice Clark joined. Justice Stewart also had a dissenting opinion in which Justice White joined.

The high court majority reasoned that the two acts amounted to "punishment" by withdrawal of citizenship. They declared that punishment can never be constitutionally imposed except after a criminal trial and conviction.

Justice Goldberg's opinion explained that draft evasion, particularly in time of war, is a heinous offense and should and can be properly punished.

Dating back to Magna Carta, however, he added, "it has been an abiding principle governing the lives of civilized men that no freeman shall be taken or imprisoned or disseised or outlawed or exiled or put to death without the judgment of his peers or by the law of the land."

One of the statutes involved is a section of the 1940 Nationality Act calling for loss of nationality by draft evaders who leave the country. The other is a section of the 1952 McCarran Immigration Act which says a native loses his citizenship by remaining outside the United States to evade military service during wartime.

The court ruled on two appeals by the Justice Department from decisions by lower tribunals that Congress lacked authority to deprive Americans of citizenship in two cases.

Dist. Judge W. E. Ward said in denying the injunction, that the case was complicated and that legal precedents in Texas were limited and subject to conflicting interpretation.

The principal issue revolved around the definition of powers the Texas Legislature granted to county hospital boards.

Counsel for the Pecos hospital argued last weekend that the board held broad powers and its decision was not subject to judicial review. They also contended that instead of seeking relief in the courts, Dunn should apply to the legislature for a change in the statutes which created the hospital boards.

Dunn's lawyers who claimed the physician did not receive a fair and impartial hearing from the board, contended the legislature did not empower hospital boards to bypass due process of law in determining and administering the standards of physicians who practice in a publicly owned hospital.

Dunn, a member of the hospital's medical staff for eight years, was notified by letter Jan. 15 that he was being removed from the staff after a series of legal moves the board held a hearing of his case and announced it was sticking to its decision. The request for a temporary injunction followed.

More than two days of testimony reflected a bitter fight between Dunn and the board which has split many residents of the West Texas city of 15,000 into opposing camps.

During the legal fight, Dunn was allowed to continue treating patients in the hospital. After Saturday's ruling, hospital authorities said he would be denied the use of his facilities when his present patients are dismissed.

Communists Lose Battle In Africa

VIENNA (AP)—Communism has lost a battle in Africa, the defeat well could influence the future course of young nations on the Dark Continent.

The battle was last week's defeat of African students who went behind the Iron Curtain and found Communist talk about the equality of man only a lure.

They are coming back with the same accusation of racial discrimination they once hurled at the white colonial masters.

Ghanaians and Ethiopians left Communist Bulgaria last week. They led what may be an estimated 350-500 African students after a series of incidents which exploded into a violent protest demonstration in Sofia.

The Africans, most of them in their 20s, told of racial abuses, forced political indoctrination, police brutality, arrests and fear of deportation.

Bulgarian authorities hurriedly assured African and Western diplomats that the incidents were nothing serious.

But the young Africans, some of whom one day may guide the destinies of their nations, said some in Vienna that they had learned a lesson.

Communists Lose Battle In Africa

VIENNA (AP)—Communism has lost a battle in Africa, the defeat well could influence the future course of young nations on the Dark Continent.

The battle was last week's defeat of African students who went behind the Iron Curtain and found Communist talk about the equality of man only a lure.

They are coming back with the same accusation of racial discrimination they once hurled at the white colonial masters.

Ghanaians and Ethiopians left Communist Bulgaria last week. They led what may be an estimated 350-500 African students after a series of incidents which exploded into a violent protest demonstration in Sofia.

The Africans, most of them in their 20s, told of racial abuses, forced political indoctrination, police brutality, arrests and fear of deportation.

Bulgarian authorities hurriedly assured African and Western diplomats that the incidents were nothing serious.

But the young Africans, some of whom one day may guide the destinies of their nations, said some in Vienna that they had learned a lesson.

Some had accepted scholarships to study in the Soviet Union, but they all seemed to have been hit where it hurt most—their dignity as colored people.

"We categorically declare that there is more racial discrimination against Negroes under Communism than there could be in a capitalist country," they said.

"We have been treated in every possible way—we were called black monkeys and jungle people and the people spat out before us."

Political indoctrination to spread communism in Africa through Africa was a major part of their course of study, the students said. Lectures on Marxism-Leninism and Soviet and Bulgarian party history were compulsory.

African student organizations were banned while other national groups were allowed to organize. Africans in the Soviet Union have voiced similar grievances.

On the conditions in Hungary and Poland are reported better. No reliable information is available from Czechoslovakia, where large numbers of colored students are living.

Two southern Indiana counties, Clark and Floyd, reported up to 10 per cent absenteeism because of flu and the Clark County health officer described the outbreak as the worst in 30 years. It was not believed to be the Asian type. One flu death was reported in Ripley County where school absenteeism ranged up to 25 per cent.

Flu-type diseases were abating somewhat in parts of Virginia and Kentucky. One Louisville hospital reported a sharp drop in the number of cases and several schools expected to reopen, but four northern Kentucky hospitals asked visitors be curtailed. The Elks Home for the Aged at Bedford, Va., had six 14th death from flu-type disease in two weeks.

The North Carolina Health Department reported 65,994 cases of flu in the state last Friday. The Arizona Health Department said it knew of only one case of Asian flu in the last month. Outbreaks of flu-like cases appeared to be decreasing in Connecticut.

Authority of Board May Be Defined

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK
PECOS (AP)—A legal fight that started as a local squabble between Dr. John Paul Dunn and the Pecos County Hospital board could become a precedent setting case defining the powers of county hospital boards throughout Texas.

Dunn was denied a temporary injunction Saturday. It would have forced his reinstatement to the only hospital in the county. His lawyers gave notice of appeal to the state's 8th District of Civil Appeals in El Paso.

Dist. Judge W. E. Ward said in denying the injunction, that the case was complicated and that legal precedents in Texas were limited and subject to conflicting interpretation.

The principal issue revolved around the definition of powers the Texas Legislature granted to county hospital boards.

Counsel for the Pecos hospital argued last weekend that the board held broad powers and its decision was not subject to judicial review. They also contended that instead of seeking relief in the courts, Dunn should apply to the legislature for a change in the statutes which created the hospital boards.

Dunn's lawyers who claimed the physician did not receive a fair and impartial hearing from the board, contended the legislature did not empower hospital boards to bypass due process of law in determining and administering the standards of physicians who practice in a publicly owned hospital.

Dunn, a member of the hospital's medical staff for eight years, was notified by letter Jan. 15 that he was being removed from the staff after a series of legal moves the board held a hearing of his case and announced it was sticking to its decision. The request for a temporary injunction followed.

More than two days of testimony reflected a bitter fight between Dunn and the board which has split many residents of the West Texas city of 15,000 into opposing camps.

During the legal fight, Dunn was allowed to continue treating patients in the hospital. After Saturday's ruling, hospital authorities said he would be denied the use of his facilities when his present patients are dismissed.

SHIRLEY ANN BOYD

Miss Boyd Named Queen At Midland

Miss Shirley Ann Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Boyd of Midland, was crowned Rebele Queen for 1962-63 by her chosen King, Bill Chadders, recently in a memorable event at Robert E. Lee High School auditorium.

Miss Boyd chose colors of white and gold which were carried out in the setting of a beautiful southern ballroom. The Queen was entertained for an hour with a combination of Porgy and Bess and Show Boat. Shirley represented the splendor of southern loveliness which made the court setting complete.

The members of the Queen's court consisted of five duchesses, a princess, and their escorts. Two train bearers and two crown bearers. The duchesses were Davian Monroe escorted by Jeff Smith, Carol Wooley escorted by Geoffrey Earol, Sandra Griffith escorted by Barney Smith, Judy Boler escorted by Freddy Caudle, Carol Scribner escorted by Steve Lendemann, and Princess Shirley Dorfi escorted by Terry Dixelley. The train bearers were Cheryl Peeler, and Karen Goodrich. Crown bearers, aged 4 and 8, were Brent Huckabay and Celeste Phillips.

Miss Boyd's dress was a Clifton White original of Dallas. The dress was made of silk slipper satin, adorned with white roses and beaded leaves. Her 15 foot train was in white and gold.

A ball followed the coronation in the Midland Youth Center. It was decorated in white and gold also. The king made a presentation of yellow roses to the Queen.

The honored couple regieed over the ball and were seated in chairs to fit the scene on a platform to the height of the dancers.

The queen and duchess were hostesses to a breakfast following the ball.

Special guests at the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Boyd of Snyder, grandparents of the queen, and her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Don Boyd and on of McLean.

Dunn O.E.S. Has Dinner For Masons

CHINA GROVE (Spl.) — The Dunn Chapter No. 338, Order of the Eastern Stars honored the Masons Thursday night with a dinner in the reception room.

The serving table was covered with white net over white, with red hearts and the centerpiece was a basket of flower stems, with each stem covered with a red heart. Red candy baskets with red heart shaped candy was displayed at either end of the table.

As each Mason entered the reception room a red carnation was pinned on his lapel. Rev. Roy Havena gave the devotional.

Guests were from Snyder, Hermleigh and Colorado City, and the entire group sang happy birthday to Martin Murphy.

At the close of the dinner, the group marched to the lodge hall for a regular O. E. S. meeting. Frances Billingsley, Worthy Master, and L. A. Scott, Worthy Patron, presided.

Following the regular meeting a program was given in honor of the Masonic Brothers. Mary Lou Crawford accompanied by Vernie Lester on the piano sang, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart", and "Just A Closer Walk With Thee". Mr. Scott gave an interesting talk on Rob Morris and Free Masonry in the Holy Land.

Cake and coffee was served at the close of the evening's activities.

Ice Cubes Are Always Big Problem

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals is the problem of ice cubes.

Looking back across my cross-gained past, it is no trouble at all for me to see why I changed from an eager, hopeful youth into a sour and cynical curmudgeon, aged before his prime.

It was ice cubes that did it. It seems to me that I have spent the best years of my life dealing with ice cubes.

It didn't seem to be much of a task to my father. When he wanted a remonade, he chipped his requirements from a large chunk of ice in the ice box. Or he could cool his drink with the water tray collectible in the pan underneath the ice box.

Then along came civilization—and with it the refrigerator. It is perhaps unwise to claim that our family had the original American refrigerator. But it is certainly true that we got the world's latest one — and the world's noisier.

Crank, clank, clank! There never was a secret drinker in our home. The neighbors had no need for a hearing aid.

First a man would develop a thirst. Then he would adjust the gears of the refrigerator. Three days later the ice was ready.

Naturally, by then the ice tray was stuck to the bottom of the freezing area.

But that wasn't really too much of a worry. You could either try to pull out the ice tray by main force, or to wedge the tray out with a table knife. At least you had a choice.

Once you removed the ice tray from the refrigerator, the task became much simpler. All you had to do then was to get the ice cubes from the ice tray.

We employed one of two simple techniques. We could bang the ice tray against the sink, or hold the tray under the hot water faucet. Then a couple of fragments of tired ice would tumble out. We would put this small crystal wedge into the guest's glass. After a preliminary sip, he would sigh and say, "My, that tastes good. But could I have a mite more ice?"

These were in the old days. Since then, of course, we have bought a new automated refrigerator.

There is no trouble at all in removing the ice tray. And the ice cubes are separated only by a plastic material. All we have to do is bend the plastic, and out pop the cubes.

The trouble here is that you can't tell where the ice cubes will squirt. Since we got our new refrigerator, our plastic ice shooter has struck down with flying colors one fine old lady and two innocent children in the building across and we have asked for a change of venue.

The best solution we have found for the ice cube problem is to join a club which once a year has cut-rate round trips to England to fly with our guests to jolly old London, and take them into the nearest pub.

"Americans, I presume," says the host.

"Yes, Americans," we assure him.

"Now you wouldn't be expecting ice in your drinks now, would you?" he inquires despondently.

"Yes, indeed," we tell him firmly.

Well, since the English never threw anything away, he searches around in his cupboard-of-before until he finds a few ice fragments left over from the Elizabethan era and pops them into the glasses.

The result: a perfect drink.

Since we lent the problem to the British, we have had no more problems with ice cubes.

THE MIRACLE ELIXIR

Nation Could Use Highly Trained Diplomatic Corps

BY INEZ ROBB

The President of the United States has asked congress to establish a National Academy of Foreign Affairs to train American diplomats.

Just as diplomacy by insult appears to have reached its finest flower both here and abroad.

Plain speech — or the knuckle-duster approach in foreign relations — has in recent weeks raised the hackles on nations that were at least on the surface kins-cousins in the world arena.

Our Secretary of State, thanks to a few blunt words, has so infuriated Great Britain, France, the United States, the United Nations, Israel, Portugal and South Africa, to name a few.

In suggesting a National Academy of Foreign Affairs, it is difficult to know whether the President is contemplating the perfection of the new insult technique or a return to old-fashioned diplomacy, once described as the ability "to do and say the nastiest things in the nicest way."

That ability — "to do and say the nastiest things in the nicest way" — kept the world wagging along on an uneven keel for centuries during which diplomacy was conducted behind closed doors. It was the canter vs. the bludgeon approach that has come to characterize "open diplomacy openly arrived at."

The demand for "open diplomacy openly arrived at" developed out of World War I, in a misguided belief that this was the only way to conduct foreign affairs in a democratic manner. In recent years there has been a growing belief that perhaps a few closed doors in the conduct of foreign affairs is not a bad idea and that maybe — for once — Grandpa knew best.

No one can honestly claim that open diplomacy openly arrived at has solved the world's need, prevented wars or endeared nations to one another in any noticeable degree. Probably its most notable contribution to the conduct of world affairs has been the introduction of the shoe as a diplomatic weapon or equivoque.

Surely this nation has also reached a maturity that demands that the two major political parties stop regarding the big and important foreign news as political plums. For 100 years diplomatic appointments to such foreign posts as London, Paris, Rome, Madrid and even Berlin, in the old days, have been handed out by Republicans and Democrats alike as rewards to the rich party faithfuls who contribute handsomely to the party war chest.

The going price of London and Paris was pegged at a contribution of $50,000 some 30 years ago. How inflation has affected the asking price, deponent knoweth not. But that is surely a preposterous way to run a railroad of a diplomatic service.

We live in a world in which diplomacy can no longer be entrusted to amateurs, no matter how rich or how successful in the business world. This nation needs a highly trained diplomatic corps, assigned on merit and adequately supported financially. It will be useless to train gifted men and women if the nation refuses to maintain them as tradition demands in such expensive posts as London and Rome.

If Congress acts on the Presidential suggestion and establishes a National Academy of Foreign Affairs, it has a corollary obligation to ante-up-the-moose-to support its graduates in the manner expected of diplomats of the world's richest country.

Should Congress decide to strike, the diplomatic line was never hotter. (Copyright, 1963, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Junior Editors Quiz on FOLKLORE

QUESTION: Could you tell us about leprechauns?

ANSWER: A leprechaun is a kind of fairy. Fairies are imaginary beings looking like humans but endowed with magical powers. Many races of people have written and sung songs about them, such as the English with their "pixies" and "brownies" and the Arabs with their "genii." Irish fairies, however, are the most amusing and imaginative of all. The ancient saga of Fergus Mac Leis reseritten in the 14th century, tells about a tiny fairy people called leprechauns. As our artist suggests, these little folks made shoes for the other fairies, were notoriously short-tempered and lived by themselves in lonely places. Being very thrifty, each leprechaun had acquired a pot of gold, which he kept well hidden. People were always trying to catch them, because it was believed that a leprechaun would tell you where his pot of gold was hidden if you would agree to release him. But it was also said you couldn't believe anything a leprechaun told you. The leprechaun in our picture is looking suspiciously at the fairy because he's afraid she might reach out for him.

FOR YOU TO DO: This picture is just waiting to be colored, because you can use deep greens and browns over the leprechaun and everything in his little hideaway workshop. In bright contrast, put only light pinks and blues on the fairy.

Tigers Try For Third Place Finish Tuesday

Third place in the final District AAAA standings will be up for grabs in Super Gym Tuesday night when the Snyder Tigers and Brownfield Cubs take the floor in an 8 p.m. season ender.

Coach Ned Underwood of Snyder has indicated that there will be one variance from his recent starting lineup against the Cubs, with senior Carl Bailey slated to be inserted in the place of Leslie Brown at one of the guard slots. Drew Bullard will hold down the other guard position, William Robinson the post, and Stuart Long and Jimmy Wilson the forward bastions.

B-AAA Standings
TEAM	Record	Pts
Lamesa (9-0)	563	333
Lake View (7-3)	505	444
Brownfield (4-8)	487	445
Sweetwater (3-6)	504	500
Colorado City (0-8)	313	528

Tuesday's schedule: Brownfield at Snyder, Lake View at Lamesa, Sweetwater at Colorado City.

Friday's results: Sweetwater 78, Snyder 74; Lamesa 66, Colorado City 19; Lake View 77, Brownfield 62.

Drew Bullard, Snyder	77
Joe Hartman, Lake View	77
Benny Pace, S'water	69
Pat Stewart, Lake View	69
Perry Brasler, Lake View	68

Both teams own identical 4-5 marks for the campaign. The winner, in addition to snaring the third-place finish, will also keep itself from dropping into a probable tie for fourth. This situation has been brought on by fast-closing Sweetwater (3-6), which has won by two-point margins over Lake View and Snyder, and will be heavily favored to knock off the oft-beaten Colorado City Wolves in other action of Tuesday.

The other class of the evening matches champion Lamesa and Lake View. The Tornados can cap off their campaign in an undisturbed manner by downing Lake View, which is not expected to be too big a chore for the front runners.

Lamesa's Wallace Franklin continues to hold a wide margin in the individual scoring race. His 204 points are good for a 22.7 average per outing. Running second to him is Sweetwater's Darrell Turnbow with 157.

A capsule glance at the race on the eve of conclusion of regular play, along with a list of the scoring leaders, takes the following look.

Horns In Position To Sack Up Title

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Unbeaten Texas could wrap up the Southwest Conference basketball championship this week and if it does it will be the earliest for the title to be determined in seven years.

Texas is to beat Texas A&M at Austin Tuesday night then whip Southern Methodist at Dallas Saturday night while Rice and Texas A&M are each splitting their two games.

In that event Texas would have an 11-0 record with three games to play while Rice and Texas A&M would be 7-4.

Texas A&M is expected to split but Rice might not since the Owls play Baylor at Houston Tuesday and Texas Tech Lubbock Saturday and both of those teams are a little low on the totem pole. Texas Tech at home, however, can be formidable even in a losing season.

The Aggies play lowly Texas Christian at College Station Saturday.

Texas, which has a 13-man squad and 14 of them have been breaking into the scoring—more than any other team in the league—whammed Southern Methodist 78-70 and Texas Christian 78-58 last week.

Rice, however, was handed an 89-79 tumble by Southern Methodist at Dallas and that furnished Texas with a three-game lead. The Owls and Aggies are tied for second.

Texas A&M, beating Southern Methodist 76-70 and Arkansas 80-76, was the only team other than Texas to win all its games during the week.

Texas Christian finally won one. The Horned Frogs edged Baylor 66-64.

Arkansas and Texas Tech clash at Fayetteville and Southern Methodist meets Texas Christian at Fort Worth Tuesday. Arkansas and Baylor tangle at Waco Saturday night.

Texas' toughest game could be the Southern Methodist engagement at Dallas Saturday although SMU is well down in the standings. Beating the Methodists at their home court has become a major project as Rice will attest. Kendall Rhine of Rice continues as the leading scorer average-wise. He has 14 points fewer than Bennie Lenox of Texas A&M in season scoring but his average is one-half point higher because of fewer games. Lenox has 417 points, Rhine 403.

The Rice star leads in conference scoring with 218 points—an average of 23.4. No one else is averaging 23.

Three of the five defending state champions already have cleared the district hurdle in Texas schoolboy basketball and another is expected to make it this week.

The fifth, Huntington of Class B, has been eliminated. It was playing in Class A this season.

Leading the way into the state playoffs is Thomas Jefferson of Dallas, which won the Class AAAA championship last year. Jefferson was acclaimed as the finest team ever to play in the state tournament and is back with most of those players.

Top-Ranked Quints Both Taste Defeat

In one of the biggest upsets in college basketball history, the name of Dave Stallworth will be written in the biggest letters.

Stallworth fired Wichita to the surprise of surprises Saturday night—a 64-60 conquest of nationally top-ranked Cincinnati. The 6-foot-7 junior poured in an amazing 46 points, including the last minute of the game at Wichita as the Wheatshockers ended the two-time national champions' victory string at 37.

Wichita's triumph was tops in a list of upsets. Second-ranked Loyola of Chicago got knocked off at Bowling Green, 92-76, fourth-ranked Illinois was outscored at Indiana 108-107, and ranked Mississippi State was up-ended at Florida 73-52, seventh-ranked Colorado lost at Iowa State 79-60 and 10th-ranked Georgia Tech was ambushed at home by Louisville 78-70.

Eighth-ranked Stanford won at California 68-58 but jumped the gun on the upset spree by being tipped by the Bears on its own floor Friday night 61-60.

That left only three members of the nation's top ten who got through the harrowing weekend unscathed, third-ranked Duke, fifth-ranked Arizona State and ninth-ranked Ohio State.

Duke clinched first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference's regular season race with a 73-60 victory at home over Wake Forest. The Blue Devils will be back in the ACC tournament which determines the conference's champion and its representative to the NCAA tournament.

Arizona State broke its tie with Brigham Young for the Western Athletic Conference lead, romping at BYU Saturday night 104-67. Joe Caldwell scored 33 points and Art Becker added 27.

Ohio State, gunning for its fourth straight Big Ten title, led Illinois for first by posting a 75-68 decision at Michigan. Gary Braddis paced the Buckeyes with 34 points.

Despite the loss to Wichita, Cincinnati nailed down at least a tie for the Missouri Valley title as St. Louis fell at Tulsa, 66-65.

Bowling Green had Loyola all the way in dealing the Ramblers their first setback in 22 starts this season. With both Cincinnati and Loyola tripped, there are no major unbeaten left.

Auburn romped at home against Louisiana State 83-57 and joined Mississippi State at the top of the Southeastern Conference standings.

Iowa State ran off from Colorado in the last 64 minutes, cashing in on free throws as the Buffaloes hit a cold streak. Oklahoma State beat Nebraska 51-41, tying Colorado for first in the Big Eight, while Iowa State and Kansas State kept in contention.

Other action in brief: West Virginia won the regular season Southern Conference championship, as usual, with a 69-72 victory over Richmond. Penn and Princeton forged into an Ivy League lead tie, the Quakers beating Harvard 78-53 and the Tigers walloping Dartmouth 85-62. San Francisco stayed undefeated in the West Coast Athletic Conference, rapping St. Mary's 78-70.

Fluvanna, Hobbs Tourney Champs

FLUVANNA — Host Fluvanna lowered the boom on Ira, 39-13, in the finals of the District 92-B Junior High Basketball Tournament of Saturday night to walk off with championship laurels in the three-day tourney.

Billy Noel and Bobby Hall nabbed scoring honors for the winners with 15 and 14, respectively. Fluvanna had advanced to the finals with a 64-15 victory over Hobbs in play of Friday.

The Hobbs girls topped Ira 27-9 for the girls' title after making it into the finals with a 37-17 triumph over Fluvanna.

Lorraine capped the boys' consolation crown by smashing Westbrook 41-14, while the girls' consolation championship was nailed down by Westbrook, a 19-17 overtime victory over Lorraine.

Don January Easy Victor At Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Don January was so far out in front in the District 92-B title race by dropping Hermleigh 39-29, behind the 23-point scoring effort of Oralia Yngvason.

Janet Martin added 11 in support of the winning cause, and Jolene Robertson was tops for the losers with 12.

Hermleigh played the game without the services of one of its starting guards, Wanda Hudgins.

Neither of the competing teams were in contention for the district title. Westbrook and Ira, both sporting 9-1 records in loop play, meet in Westbrook Tuesday at 7:30 in the first of a best of three game series to determine the 92-B champion. The second clash of the series is set for 7:30 Friday in Ira, and if a third game is needed it will be staged on a neutral court.

Fluvanna — Martin 50-11; Trammie 11-13; Sever 9-10; Tinsley 13-20; Brown 10-12; Adams 3-24; Hanson 1-6-2; Franz 11-20.

CHAMPIONS—This group of Fluvanna cagers — Johnny Dunnam, Victor Contreras, Bobby Hall, Billy Noel, Henry Contreras, Joe Belev and Johnny Stansell — emerged as District 92-B Junior High Tournament champions Saturday night by powdering Ira, 39-13. The win gave the team coached by Mackie Greene, a season record of 13-3, with their only losses having been at the hands of Lamar 8th of Snyder twice and Ira in their season opener. They compiled a total of 478 points, of which 189 were scored by Noel.

Champs Look Good Again

The fifth, Huntington of Class B, has been eliminated. It was playing in Class A this season.

Leading the way into the state playoffs is Thomas Jefferson of Dallas, which won the Class AAAA championship last year. Jefferson was acclaimed as the finest team ever to play in the state tournament and is back with most of those players.

Dumas, the Class AAA champion, has yet to win the district title but is expected to do so Tuesday night when it meets Herford at Canyon.

Bung, the winningest school in basketball history, again is district champion and will be favored to sack up its seventh title in eight years. Bung started winning in Class B but for the past six years has been in Class AA.

Huntington was eliminated in Class A's Dist. 21 race, where Hudson of Lufkin and Elkhart had met for the title as zone champions.

White Deer, 1963 Class A champion, has moved up to Class AA this year. It is a district champion with a 22-6 record.

Class AAAA has some familiar names among its early district champions. One is Pampa, which won the state title four times, the last time in 1959. Pampa has a 29-1 record this season.

All district champions must be determined this week. Then come regional playoffs which qualify teams for the state tournament March 7-9.

This year there has been a change in the state tournament setup. Class B will have only six teams instead of eight. The other classes have four each.

San Angelo, Denton, Texarkana, Spring Branch, Pasadena and Burbank of San Antonio are among district champions named in Class AAAA. None of these made the state tournament last year.

Seminole, Lamesa, Graham, Bridge City, Austin Johnston, San Marcos and South San Antonio are among Class AAA district kings. Graham boasts a fine 25-1 record. South San Antonio was in the state tournament last year.

Gloves Finals Slated Tonight In Fort Worth

By MIKE COCHRAN
FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas crowns its eight amateur boxing champions tonight as the State Golden Gloves Tournament moves to a close in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

The triumphant eight will carry the state banner to Chicago later this month for the Tournament of Champions.

Only one previous state champion entered the 27th meet. He's Clad Devonport, popular Dallas heavyweight who won in 1961 and now, after removing Texas' Lynn Furr to tuck away another title.

Three teams are still in the running for the team title. They are Dallas and Fort Worth, each with 12 victories and four fighters remaining, and Houston, with five contenders still on hand and 10 points.

Defending team champion Amarillo, an early favorite, encountered more opposition than expected and dropped out of contention with six points.

The windup will be preceded tonight by six semifinal matches in the three lesser divisions—fly, bantam and feather weights.

The winners then will return after the heavyweights have settled their differences and fight again for the championships.

Bobby Ragland of Dallas and Charles Cordova of Houston target for the welterweight crown in one of the feature matches.

Wayne Morris of Fort Worth and Romie Williams of Brownwood meet in the light-heavy finals, David Harman of Waco and Gary Barcroft of Fort Worth circle the middleweight crown and Odessa's Zeke Sanchez and Houston's Jesse Valdez determine the lightweight winner.

Indoor Track Season Ends

DALLAS (AP)—Texas' indoor track season came to a close last week, producing a flock of state records that indicate there'll be an outstanding outdoor campaign.

Only two weeks away is the Southwestern Recreation Meet at Fort Worth March 1-2. Then come the Border Olympics at Laredo, West Texas Relays at Odessa, San Angelo Relays at San Angelo and Texas Relays at Austin, 9-11.

The indoor meets showed Abilene Christian is coming up with another strong team. Texas A&M and the University of Houston will be powerful in the relay meets.

Abilene Christian; Dennis Richardson was supreme among the dashmen in the indoor carnivals, doing 60 yards in 8.2 and 300 yards in 22.3. The latter is the fastest for the 300 yards in two years of indoor running in Texas. ACC also has other top operators and boasts strength in the relays.

Ted Nelson, Texas Aggie sprinter, was sensational in the 500-yard with times of 59.0 and 59.0. He will also be an important man in an Aggie mile relay team that looks very good.

Danny Roberts of Texas A&M is over 57 feet in the shot put and Jackie Upton of Texas Christian has reached 6 feet 8 inches in the high jump.

There are a flock of pole vaulters doing 60 yards in 8.2 and 300 yards in 22.3. The latter is the fastest for the 300 yards in two years of indoor running in Texas. ACC also has other top operators and boasts strength in the relays.

Phase Two Launched By Houston's Colts

APACHE JUNCTION, Ariz. (AP)—The Houston Colts start the second phase of spring training today when 33 pitchers and seven catchers report to Manager Harry Craft.

Since Thursday, a handpicked group of young pitchers has been working out, their ranks reinforced daily by early arrivals.

Pitcher Jim Golden came in ahead of schedule late Saturday night and took part in Sunday's 24-hour drill. There were 15 pitchers on the field and they spent the final 45 minutes in a loosely played intrasquad game.

The rest of the Colts are due in camp Feb. 28.

New Record Claimed In 50-Mile Run

HOUSTON (AP) — A slender, former University of Houston distance runner has hoisted the 50 miles from Galveston to Houston in a time that would have made Teddy Roosevelt proud.

John Macy ran the distance in 5 hours and 29 minutes Sunday and National Track and Field Federation officials immediately claimed a world record. There is no listed world record for the distance but in 1883 P. Golden of New York was timed at 7:28:47.

Alan Irwin and Laurie Elliott, a pair of Australians who are Houston distance men, paced the 32-year-old Macy along the way. Irwin ran the first 20 miles and Elliott the final 30.

A Polish refugee, Macy actually uses his freedom to his ability to run great distances.

As a lieutenant in the Polish Army, he earned a place on a national track team. While competing in a meet in Bern, Switzerland, in 1954, Macy ran 100 miles. The United States consulate and asked for asylum.

So far as preparations for the run were concerned, Macy is in training for the marathon. In the 1961 Olympics in Tokyo,

The team leader was Holiday Center of Sweetwater with 2,615. Donald Hall of Sweetwater topped in all-events with 1,628.

Hearn Snares Golfing Title

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Former Giant pitcher Jim Hearn coasted to his second championship in the Baseball Player's Golf Tournament with a 72-hole total of 301, 21 strokes over par.

Playing the final two rounds on a soggy course in a steady drizzle, the 6-foot-3, 220-pound Hearn built up a four-stroke lead and managed to protect it, despite a final round of 80.

"I came here believing I could win," said Hearn, now a salesman who lives in Wyckoff, N.J. "That's the same score I had in 1960 when I beat Alvin Darr. I was hoping to finish under 300, but I played too cautiously."

Despite beegons on the final three holes, Hearn nosed out Billy Herman, Boston Red Sox coach who carded a 75 for a 302 total. Dark, manager of the San Francisco Giants who has won the tournament four times, fired a 76 for 303 and third place.
