New Probe Is Launched In Duggan Death

By JOSEPH HALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 22—New York police today began a "fine-tooth comb" investigation of the 16-story death plunge of Laurence Duggan, one-time State department expert.

It was launched on orders of Mayor William O'Dwyer after former undersecretary of state Sumner Welles had wired the mayor he was confident Duggan had not taken his own life.

However, some time after O'Dwyer's announcement, detective Lt. Walter Henning, in charge of the probe, said "up to this time we have found no evidence to refute our original finding of 'fell or jumped'."

Welles Doubts Suicide Theory

Henning said much work had been done but that all of the ground would be covered again "with a fine-tooth comb."

Welles messaged O'Dwyer that "since I received from (Duggan) only yesterday (Monday) a letter written in the best of spirits, asking me to send him some suggestions in a matter in which he was interested, I find it impossible to believe his death was self-inflicted."

The mayor replied with personal assurance that a "thorough investigation" would be conducted.

Meantime, former assistant secretary of state Francis B. Sayre appeared before the New York grand jury conducting an espionage probe. Later, speaking to newsmen, he disputed a statement of the House Un-American Activities committee that only four persons had access to stolen state department papers.

"Certainly more than four persons had access" to the documents, Sayre said. He said he was "shocked" by the paper pilfering and considered it a "crime of infinite gravity."

Sayre Before Grand Jury

Duggan plunged to death in the snow from his 16th floor office in midtown Manhattan Monday night.

Shortly afterwards, the Un-American Activities committee released testimony revealing he had been mentioned in testimony before it as a former government official who had supplied secret data to Whittaker Chambers, former Communist courier.

The testimony was that of Isaac Don Levine, anti-Communist magazine editor. Yesterday, Chambers denied receiving any papers from Duggan. He also said he did not know Duggan.

Today, however, Chambers told

Hull Praises Fall Victim's Career

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (INS)—Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull publicly praised today the career of Laurence Duggan, ex-State department official whose death plunge in New York has touched off nationwide speculation of Communist intrigue.

Duggan's death, subject of intense police investigation, came a few days after he was questioned by the FBI in connection with the sensational investigation of Communist espionage by the House Un-American Activities committee.

Foul Play Feared

Hull's commendation was made public as Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) joined another member of the House committee in expressing the opinion that Duggan might have been the victim of foul play. Rankin said:

"The Duggan case looks more like a murder than a suicide."

Hul sent a wire to Mrs. Duggan commending his "honesty" and citing that he had rendered "outstanding public service." Hull,

Phone Talks Still Going

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 22—Three federal conciliation commissioners continued their efforts tonight to avert an expected strike in the five-state area served by the Southwestern Bell Telephone company.

The group—A. E. Johnson, Nicholas Fillo and H. A. Griffith—began the latest session at 8 p.m., while company and union representatives remained in separate rooms, awaiting whatever proposal the government group might make.

The company this afternoon turned down a proposal advanced by the conciliators early this morning. The independent Communications Workers of America had accepted the plan.

Strike Date Reported Set

The dispute, originally over a wage incerase for the 50,000 union members in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, has lately been over what form of arbitration might be used to solve the wage problem.

A union official reiterated his statement that a strike will be called before Christmas unless some agreement is reached. He said that a strike date has been set, that it is known only to top union officials, and that it is subject to change.

A. E. Johnson, one of the conciliators, said in mid afternoon:

"We are going to stay here until all efforts have been exhausted. This renewal of talks has been on for weeks."

The compromise for arbitration, briefly, is this:

Proposal Outlined

First, one man from the company and one from the union would be named for the arbitration board. If they could not agree on the third man (chairman) in six days, then the conciliation service would nominate five men. The company would strike off two, the union two, and the one left would be chairman. That group would head both sides for five days. A decision "within a reasonable time" would be final and

Acquittal Demanded For U. S. Woman Accused Of Murder

MARBURG, Dec. 22. (INS)— The defense demanded today that Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo be acquitted for the murder of her soldier husband and the prosecution indicated it would be satisfied with a prison sentence of six months.

The three-judge U. S. military government court in Marburg is expected to give its decision tomorrow in the first ruling ever made on an American woman charged with murder in occupied Germany.

If Mrs. Ybarbo is given a six-months prison sentence she probably will have only three months to serve. She has been held in custody for the three months since her husband, Sgt. John Ybarbo of Goliad, Texas, was slain Sept. 21.

U. S. Aid To Dutch In Indonesia Is Halted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 — The United States cut off Marshall Plan aid to the Netherlands East Indies today in a move which indicated sharp disapproval of the Dutch military drive against the new Indonesian republic.

Officially, the explanation given by the Economic Cooperation administration was this: Pending "clarification" of the situation in Indonesia, it is impossible to determine whether the aid to the Dutch island empire will spur economic recovery.

State Department Approves

But there was little doubt that the action stemmed from disapproval of the Dutch attack on the new Indonesian republic. Officials here feel that the Dutch violated UN restrictions against military action, and fed the flames of Communism in the Far East.

Paul G. Hoffman, ECA chief, said today's action was taken with the full approval of the State department.

An estimated $14,100,000 of the $68,000,000 in ECA funds authorized by Congress for the Dutch Indies is affected by the shutdown.

Just how effective the move would be in bringing the Dutch to see the light as Washington sees it remained undetermined. However, it was regarded as a considerable blow to them.

Unaffected, for the immediate present at least, is Marshall plan aid to the Netherlands proper. The Dutch homeland government has been allotted $298,500,000.

One official said ECA will study the question of whether the "police action" in Indonesia puts such a strain on the Dutch homeland economy as to hamper the European recovery effort. Implicit in this remark is the possibility that all aid to Holland may be suspended.

U. S. DEMANDS DUTCH GIVE UP GAINS IN INDONESIA

PARIS, Dec. 22 (AP)—The United States demanded today that the Dutch give up the gains of their new Indonesian offensive.

U. S. Delegate Philip C. Jessup asked the United Nations Security Council to order a cease-fire and a withdrawal of troops to the lines they held before the attack, which

Safe Driving Urged To Reduce Deaths In Christmas Traffic

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 22.—The big rush of Christmas traffic is now on, so drive carefully, Director George Clarke of the Texas Safety association warned today.

"If you're a good driver, be a better one. Be alert not only for yourself but for the fools you meet on the road," he urged.

The Texas Highway patrol will intensify its efforts tomorrow and Friday to reduce the expected toll of 30 killed and 900 injured in the next two days.

Patrol Chief W. J. Elliott reported, "This will be the biggest effort we have ever made. We have 300 men on the road now, and virtually every car is radio equipped.

Agreement Near On New Alliance

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—The United States and six other nations were reported nearing agreement today on terms of the proposed new North Atlantic defense treaty.

Envoys of five western European countries and Canada went over a draft of the pact at a two-hour conference with acting Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett. Speaking for the group, French Ambassador Henri Bonnet told reporters only that "our lips are sealed."

Diplomatic authorities said, however, that barring an unexpected hitch the conferees should be pretty well agreed by this weekend, even if they have not completed the actual drafting. The treaty would bind the United States and Canada to support western Europe against aggression by Russia or any power.

May Invite Other Nations

When negotiations were resumed early this month predictions were that a final draft probably would not be ready until well after the opening session of the new Congress. The treaty must be submitted to the Senate for ratification.

Other nations, including the Army Remits Sentence Of War Hero Convicted Of Desertion

(By The Associated Press)

CAMP HOOD, Dec. 22.—Millard J. Allison, 35, the Canadian war hero who was convicted of deserting the United States Army, today was restored to full status as a soldier in that Army.

Allison deserted—"to get into the fight"—while the United States was at peace. He joined Canadian forces; emerged a hero from European battlefields.

Maj. Gen. James Christainsen, commanding the Second Armored division here, announced today that he had reviewed Allison's court martial sentence; approved it, but remitted execution of it.

"The anonuncement said "This action will restore Allison to normal duty status as a soldier in the U. S. Army."

When the action was announced Allison was at home at Fort Worth on parole until Jan. 4 from the Camp Hood stockade.

Last week Allison was convicted by a general court martial here of deserting the U. S. Army in August, 1941, and remaining in desertion until apprehended in 1948.

General Christainsen informed U. S. Rep. Wingate Lucas at Fort Worth of his action. Lucas was

The five-place one - engined Stinson, groping through heavy fog, hit a rural electrification line, bowled through a pasture fence and smashed into a grove of mesquite.

The father and his sons were thrown clear. The mother's body was pinned under a wing.

The Millers were en route from their home in Dallas to visit relatives in Benavides, where the Miller family owns a ranch and an oil field.

Winner of two medals in the second world war, expert pilot Miller was definitely out of gas and was trying a desperate emergency landing, the Texas highway patrol reported. The plane did not burn. The accident occurred at 7:30 p. m. (CST).

The scene was the pasture of Joe Schackerl, a farmer, four miles north of Orange Grove, in deep South Texas.

Plane Turned Away

T. G. Hickman at the control tower of the Alice airport, said the control statio nhad not contacted the plane prior to the crash. An earlier report said the plane had been turned away from the airport because of the very low ceiling—300 feet. Hickman said another plane—a Navion—had been turned away from the airport tonight. "But we did not have any communication with the Stinson," he said.

The accident wiped out the whole family.

They died instantly, the highway patrol said.

Lynn Man Found Shot To Death

TAHOKA, Dec. 22 (Special)—D. D Renfroe, a 35-year-old farmer of near New Home, was found shot to death at about 2:30 p.m. today in his car about a mile west and three-fourths of a mile north of New Home, Sam Floyd, Tahoka sheriff, reported.

Investigation of the death is underway, but no official verdict has been given.

The car was found in a field about 50 yards from the road, with a .38 caliber, breakdown type revolver lying on the seat beside the body. Powder burns were discovered on the right side of the head and a window was broken from the car on the left side, Floyd said. The bullet entered Renfroe's head above and slightly in front of the right ear and emerged a little higher on the left side. Glass of the same type as that of the broken window was found on the road at about the same place where the car entered the field.

Father Finds Body

The body was discovered by P. H. Renfroe, the victim's father, at about 2:30, and after an examination, Dr. Emil Phrol, of Tahoka, reported that the farmer could have been dead no longer than four hours.

"If it had moved much closer to shore there probably would have been thousands of dollars worth of damage, and possibly the loss of lives."

The 'spout was visible from Los Angeles airport, four miles from Santa Monica.

LIGHT RAINS FORECAST IN AREA

Hopes For White Christmas On South Plains Are Given Blow

DEAR Santa Claus:

You might just as well leave your sleigh and reindeer at the North Pole and seek more conventional transportation Christmas Eve night so far as the South Plains is concerned.

It isn't that the folks in this area aren't hospitable and wouldn't be glad to welcome you with a deep snow, but it just isn't in the weatherman's cards. That is, of course, if his long-range Christmas forecast is correct.

The best the weather boys here could do is predict light rains today and Christmas Eve with warmer temperatures. Now that "light rain" business may not sound so good to a fellow who has to be out in all kinds of weather, but there is no sweeter word on the Plains than "rain."

The weatherman says the precipitation, if any, will be light both days but the folks around here have reached the point where they will accept any size rain without grumbling, and will cheer for more.

Just in case you might want to change to a lighter costume before making your dedeliveries on the South Plains, the weather station says tem-

CIVIL WAR FIGHTING INTENSIFIED

China's New 'War Cabinet' Faces Growing Red Threat

By PETER LIU
INS Staff Correspondent

NANKING, Dec. 23 (Thursday) China's new "war cabinet" will be inaugurated today under dark clouds of threatened Communist domination of all China.

Premier Sun Fo, son of the revered founder of the Republic, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, and his cabinet take office amid intensified battles in the destructive civil war and the grave threat posed by Communist penetration to within 10 miles of Nanking itself.

Desperate counter-attacks were being launched in the north in an effort to save the prime cities of Peiping and Tientsin.

The new government could be cheered however, by reports Communists have been driven from the north China port of Tengpu and of a localized Communist retreat on the eastern flank above Nanking.

Government sources claimed Communists who moved down the grand canal toward the Yangtze at East Nanking were being driven back by the 52nd army based east of Lake Hungtze.

Communist entry Sunday into Tengpu, 27 miles from Tientsin, deprived the Nationalists of their last north China port.

Not only a military crisis but severe economic difficulties faced the new cabinet. In Shanghai, police with night sticks and fixed bayonets sought unsuccessfully to disperse a crowd that waited to launch a "gold rush" on the city's banks this morning.

Thousands Defy Curfew

Thousands of persons defied the curfew, bitter cold and police to line up for the 10 a.m. opening of the five banks authorized to sell gold bullion and silver dollars. Purchase of gold in the past has been legally restricted to one ounce per person.

The Shanghai action highlighted the almost complete distrust of President Chiang Kai-Shek's paper currency, the gold yuan.

Helicopter Saves Expectant Mother Caught In Blizzard

By DOUGLAS SPARKS
INS Staff Correspondent

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Dec. 22.—Mrs. Frieda Johansen, 23-year-old expectant mother was snatched from the teeth of a 70-mile-an-hour blizzard today in a miraculous rescue by a helicopter pilot after being marooned on a frozen Alaskan lake.

She was landed safely at Elmendorf Field, Anchorage, at 1:30 p.m. (PST). She was in labor and the baby was expected momentarily.

Lt. Charles Wier piloted the helicopter while Capt. Donald Brown, surgeon of the U. S. 10th Rescue squad, attended the mother during the daring flight.

Left behind on the lake were four members of a rescue team with a wrecked C-64 Norseman plane which crashed while making a fifth attempt to take off in the howling blizzard.

Lt. Weir described the flight as extremely hazardous for any type of plane, let alone a helicopter. They battled winds ranging from 50 to 70 miles an hour in their 135-mile flight from the frozen lake.

The blizzard battered them all the way and at times forced them down to dangerously low altitudes.

At one time, Wier said, they flew 10 feet above the water of Kink Arm that circles into Anchorage.

Flying conditions were so bad they were forced to skim over the ice floes at this altitude for 20 miles before they managed to reach Elmendorf field.

Mrs. Johansen, wife of a homesteader on the Kenai

CALL for many helpers Christmas morning in playing Santa Claus to the needy children of Lubbock was issued Wednesday by the Chief Goodfellow.

Many cars and drivers will be needed at 6 a. m. Those who can assist are asked to hold themselves in readiness and to reserve early Saturday morning for that purpose. Detailed instructions as to where the volunteers are to appear will be printed tomorrow.

First preparations for the distribution were announced along with the final report of contributions to the Goodfellow fund. The final total, $4,080.20, is the largest since the Goodfellows were organized in Lubbock 14 years ago.

The final list includes $200 from the concert in Senior High school auditorium last Monday night by the Texas Tech concert band and Men's Glee club under the sponsorship of Kappa Kappa Psi, national band fraternity. The fraternity paid all expenses of the concert. Every cent realized from ticket sales, above federal taxes, went to the Goodfellows.

Ashes To Be 'Scattered'

By JOHN RICH
INS Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Dec. 23 (Thursday)— Former Premier Hideki Tojo and six other top Japanese war criminals muttering Buddhist prayers were hanged in Tokyo today. Ashes of their cremated bodies will be cast to the winds.

The seven tired men who had dreams of a vast Japanese empire climbed the 13 fateful gallows steps—without aid—in Sugamo prison.

Within 34 minutes all had plunged through the trap door—a little more than seven years after the "Pearl Harbor" sneak attack that led to the crushing of Japan.

The men were executed in two groups. Four, including Tojo, were first, and three were in the last group looking dejected in cast-off American Army work uniforms without insignia.

Their bodies were immediately placed in unpainted coffins and sped hurriedly to a secret crematorium outside Yokohama.

An official announcement of the execution from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said:

"The ashes (will be) scattered as is the case with all executed Japanese war criminals.

Put to death with Tojo for high crimes against peace and humanity were Kenji Doihara, Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, Gen. Heitaro Kimura, Gen. Iwane Matsui, Gen. Akiro Muto, and former Premier Koki Hirota. None uttered a last minute statement from the gallows.

Tojo, the "Pearl Harbor" premier ranking next to Adolf Hitler and ahead of Benito Mussolini in the warring axis, was the only one of the doomed men to make a final request on the last day before the walk to the gallows.

Tojo asked for Japanese food and his request was granted.

Newsmen were barred from the executions, but there were official witnesses, including a Russian general and three other members of the Allied Council for Japan.

Inter-American Meeting Urged To Deal With Flurry Of Revolts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (INS) — Acting Secretary of State Lovett declared today the organization of American states must decide if a meeting of inter-American foreign ministers should be called to deal with the epidemic of Latin-American revolutions.

U. S. Seeks Decision

Peru, Venezuela, El Salvador, Paraguay, Panama, Chile and Costa Rica all have been the scenes either of successful revolutions or unsuccessful plots in the last few months.

Lovett told a news conference that the United States, having asked for consultation on means to stop this brushing aside of Democratic and constitutional processes, would abide by any decision the Council of the American Republics might reach.

He pointed out that the council only a few days ago appointed a special commission to inquire into the differences between Costa Rica and Nicaragua. Then the council could do likewise in connection with the overall picture, he suggested, or it could assemble a conference of foreign ministers. In the meanwhile, normal diplomatic channels will be employed in ascertaining the viewpoints of the other governments.

Denies Chilean Rumor

Lovett, in response to questions, said the State department had no information whatever to justify charges that the revolutionary flurries had been centrally controlled or directed.

Also, he said he had not heard any suggestion that economic sanctions might be invoked to prevent future uprisings. Such reports have come from Santiago, Chile.

The acting secretary added, however, that the United States was reassessing its program for rearming Latin America as a contribution to general hemispheric defense.

J. S. Medley, an advertising salesman who resides at 2406 Thirty-second, has just been appointed an honorary colonel on the staff of Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana—although Medley has never set foot on the soil of Louisiana, and has never met Gov. Long.

He explained that his son, John Wayne Medley, has served as Long's personal chauffeur while attending Louisiana State university for the last three years. The governor made the appointment of the elder Medley at the youth's request.

"I've only been through Louisiana on a train, and I've never seen Gov. Long — although I just missed him when he came through Lubbock recently," "Colonel" Medley said.

Prisoner Is Taken From Jail On Way To Federal Reformatory

C. E. Luce, U. S. deputy marshal, Wednesday transported Walter C. Alexander, 36, of Morton to La Tuna federal reformatory from Lubbock county jail, officials said.

He had been held there under federal commitment as a parole violator, it was said.

Officials said they had arrested Ivison Brown, 24, a Lubbock negro, who had not satisfied an old assessment of $67 on a liquor law violation conviction.

Police said bond of $100 was set for each of two negroes who pleaded innocent of vagrancy. They allegedly had been frequenting places of low repute and were not working, officials said.

Venezuela Holds Interest Of HST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (U.P.)—President Truman has shown strong personal interest in the question of whether the United States should recognize the military regime in Venezuela, it was learned today.

Administration sources said Mr. Truman's unusual interest in the problem was prompted by:

1. Congressional complaints that almost automatic recognition of new Latin American governments under a resolution approved last year at Bogota is serving as "a green light for political adventurers." A House foreign affairs subcommittee expressed this opinion last week following a tour of Latin America.

2. The President's high regard for deposed Venezuelan president Romulo Gallegos, who visited the United States in July at Mr. Truman's invitation. The two chiefs of state traveled from Washington to Bolivar, Mo., to dedicate a statue of Simon Bolivar, liberator of northern Latin-America.

The Bogota resolution does not make recognition of revolutionary regimes mandatory. But it states that continuity of diplomatic relations "is desirable" on the understanding that recognition does not imply approval of the domestic policies of American states.

Diplomatic informants said the State department still has the matter of recognition of the new Venezuelan military regime "under consideration." They said this government had asked most of the other Latin American governments for their views on the question.

The problem assumed new importance after the State department in an extraordinary action denounced as "deplorable" the overthrow of popularly-elected governments in the western hemisphere by military force. The statement, released yesterday, applied particularly to the recent successful revolts in Venezuela, Peru, and El Salvador. It was prompted also by spreading disputes affecting Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Panama, and other American states.

Reflecting its growing concern over the military revolts, the State department asked the foreign ministers of 18 republics for their ideas on strengthening the framework of constitutional and democratic governments on this continent.

"If this use of force continues it cannot fail to become a sufficiently serious issue to engage the attention of the American republics as a whole," the State department said.

Funeral Services To Be Held Today For Car Wreck Victim

LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 22. (Special)—Funeral services for J. A. "Red" Cottrell, 23, Littlefield auto salesman who was killed Tuesday night when the automobile in which he and a companion were riding overturned while rounding a curve north of here on the Lamesa-Lubbock highway, are to be conducted at 3 p. m. Thursday in First Methodist church of Littlefield.

Name of officiating pastor was not known. Burial will follow in Littlefield cemetery, with Hammond Funeral home of Littlefield directing.

Davis Crews, who was injured in the accident, was taken to Lamesa General hospital for treatment and was released Wednesday morning. He suffered only cuts and bruises.

Investigating officers said the car, driven by Cottrell, overturned when it went out of control on a curve between Lamesa and O'Donnell. The vehicle was badly damaged.

Survivors of Cottrell include the widow; a month-old son, Doyle Glenn; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cottrell, of Sundown; and four brothers, Harry E. Cottrell of Sundown, Travis Cottrell of Levelland, Dreal Van Cottrell and Bobby Lee Cottrell, both of Sundown; and six sisters, Mrs. C. C. Gregg of Lamesa, Mrs. A. D. Roberts of Levelland, Mrs. C. B. Singleton, Mrs. W. E. Wright, Mrs. W. C. Green, and Miss Archie Pearl Cottrell, all of Sundown.

YOU CAN ENJOY GOOD HEALTH
STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.
Drugless Health!
NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can, now, hope for relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.
DRUGGISTS, Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.
Wonder Minerals
FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.
WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.
IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.
Amazing Results
WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.
MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright spark and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life, seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.
Read What They Say!

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have probably been needing and looking for — we unhesitatingly recommend it."
100% Guaranteed!
WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.
REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

EXPERTS SUFFER EYE TROUBLES

Five Scientists Dared Blindness To Learn More Of Atom Secrets

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 — The U. S. Atomic Energy commission disclosed today that five scientists dared blindness in their zeal to learn atomic secrets by looking directly into the beam of deadly radioactive neutrons.

The neutrons were being blasted out of the atom nuclei by powerful cyclotrons.

Dr. Shields Warren, director of the commission's division of biology and medicine, revealed details of the scientists' experiences, undergone six to 10 years ago, which led to sight-destroying eye cataracts.

Were Not Working For U. S.

Warren told a news conference the five men were not working on government contracts at the time the atomic rays struck them. He added that some of them have engaged in governmental projects since.

The present condition of the men was not discussed, nor were they mentioned by name. Warren pointed out that cataracts can be removed by surgery.

Three of the scientists were connected with the University of Illinois, one with Massachusetts Institute of Technology and one with Carnegie Institute.

The commission expert on the deadly effects of atomic rays said:

"Let's put it this way. These injuries should be written off against scientific enthusiasm and some degree of calculated risk."

Safeguards Were Available

Warren explained that the lethal power of neutrons was discovered only five or six years ago. The neutron, "ignition switch" of the atom bomb, is four to 10 times as dangerous as the X-ray.

The injured workers could have avoided exposure by means of safeguards available at the time, but "they apparently wanted to accelerate their experiments," Warren said.

Out of the cases, he added, may come a new approach for treatment of cataracts, widespread ailment of the aged.

Peeked Into Aperture

The five scientists peeked into an aperture of powerful atom-splitting cyclotrons to see the violet streak of ionized air which appears in the beam of speeding neutrons. Some of them even removed the "target"—object at which the neutrons are shot—and stared directly into the beam.

Even at the time, safe beam observation was possible through use of mirrors and photographic methods.

Modern cyclotrons are surrounded with extensive safeguards, including entrance doors which automatically lock when the machine is switched on.

Dr. Lauriston Taylor, an aide of Warren's, commented, however, that "there's nothing to keep a curious scientist from jamming the (door) lock."

BOY SCOUTS DO GOOD DEED—Members of Boy Scout troop 8, sponsored by the American Legion, are pictured as they decorated a Christmas tree at their last troop meeting. Later the tree was transported, decorations and all, to the home of a needy Lubbock family with seven children, to enjoy it. Also the boys collected baskets of food and took them to the family. Frank A. Runkels, scoutmaster, is shown second from right.

Christmas Party Set For Milam Children

Seventeen children from the Milam home will be honor guests at a Christmas party featuring Santa Claus and a well-laden tree at the Gus Everett residence, 2615 Thirty-first street, from 5 to 7 p. m. today.

The distribution of gifts to the children, ranging from 5 to 12 years of age, will be preceded by a program of Christmas carols and appropriate readings. The carol singers will be Reta McIlroy, Bettye Armstrong, Nancy Herrington and Harriet Henderson. Kara Sam Dunn will play the accompaniment.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett have been residents of this area of the southwest many years, but did not move to Lubbock until last summer. They have followed the practice of sending a check to an orphanage each Christmas in the past. This year they decided to use the money on a party for the Milam children.

They have three daughters, Royce, 24, Norma, 17, and Glenda Kathryn, 8. Everett is drilling superintendent for George Livermore, Lubbock oil operator.

Skunk cabbage grows two feet high in Alaska, and so beautiful that tourists frequently pick it, much to their later sorrow.

Yule Meditation Is Given At Exchange Club Luncheon

Mrs. O. L. Byrd, teacher of the Friendship Sunday school class of the First Methodist church, was guest speaker at the weekly Exchange club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock Wednesday.

Mrs. Byrd, first woman speaker ever to address the club, presented a Christmas meditation, "A Plea for Peace."

Jimmy Kilpatrick, an employe of Robert E. Maxey, spoke briefly of operations by that general contracting firm.

Two guests, Charles Nelson and Alton Barker, were introduced.

Dr. Jim Reynolds, presiding, reminded some 30 members present that there will be no luncheon next Wednesday because of the holiday season.

New Hollywood Sensation Also Is Sought For Role In Stage Performance In London

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 22.—London has an eye on our Hollywood gal, Kay Thompson. Her fame as the newest night club "sensation" has spread to Europe, and now she has been offered the lead in the hit musical comedy, "Look Ma, I'm Dancin'," when it opens in London next spring.

If she accepts, she will, of course, make appearances with the four Williams brothers at the same time at the various London night spots.

May Appear In Movie

Dale Carnegie, whose "How To Win Friends And Influence People" is world-famous, has another best selling non-fiction book in "How To Stop Worrying and Start Living." That's important to know, don't you think?

Well, since more people see movies than read books, the whole world will soon find out, because Martin Gosch is going to produce the "Stop Worrying" epic both for pictures and television.

He is headed for New York to try to persuade Carnegie to play the leading role in the film. Maybe you wonder how it is possible to put Carnegie's philosophy on the screen. Gosch's plant is to dramatize incidents in the book which show people that most of their worries are imaginary.

Gets New Break

Thelma Ritter gets a wonderful new contract at 20th Century-Fox as a result of taking a child to see Santa Claus. But this Christmas story started long before the Christmas season.

Thelma played the mother who brings her child to see Edmund Gwenn in "The Miracle On 34th Street." The studio thought she was pretty good, and her part in "Letter to Three Wives" cinched the new contract as her present.

Speaking of "Miracle," this is the perfect time of the year to see it again. I believe I was the first to suggest that this heart-warming picture be released every year at Christmas time.

Chatter in Hollywood: The way in which Zsa Zsa Hilton and George Sanders mooned and spooned in public at the Mary Anita Loos-Richard Sale party, leaves no room for doubt that George is really serious this time.

I hear from a reliable source that when Zsa Zsa goes east the day after Christmas, George will go along and they will be married in Manhattan on New Year's Day or shortly after.

CHRISTMAS

CHRISTMAS again! You remember the oft quoted comment of Tiny Tim? I guess that is really the whole story of Christmas . . . just "God bless us every one."

Time was when the crinkling noise of tissue and ribbon, the smell of green branches mingling with that of roasting turkey, the coziness of the family and the gaiety of our friends seemed to mean Christmas. Not any more—to the writer, at least.

We could do away with the noises, the scents, the gifts—all of them. Remembering one thing only has become important to us. It is the reaching of hands to all others of the earth—like those ancient wise men, who, with eyes fixed on the star, stretched hands to the mystery of things spiritual in the form of the Christ Child.

That long ago day of birth shed a glow over all mankind. That glow, that radiance of love for all people is still the only cloak we have—that anyone has—against the bitter cold of evil and war.

IN THE MAIL

DEAR Margaret Turner:

For each importnat event in the life of our little girl Elyse, I have written a poem to remember the day. The enclosed poem, "The Dream Must Die," was written on the occasion when we were forced to admit there was no jolly Saint Nick who visits children on Christmas Eve.

Here is the poem:

This is the last time that elfin foot or reindeer paws,
Will leave a cloven hoofmark on the frozen snow,
Or small child stare in wonder
as the fairy creatures go,
Or gaze in rapture at the star bright sky.
And see in vivid dream, a sleigh, and tinkling silver bells go by.
This is the end, her eyes are dry,
But tears are crying in her heart, the dream must die.

GIMMICK GLEE

WHAT do you know? the Gadget club out on the west coast is a strictly gadget-of-the-month club which gives out new and novel inventions.

There is not a woman alive who has not met the onslaught of life's household problems by creating some usable little gadget to solve immediate difficulties.

These might be, for example, such notions as loosing that non-squirtable first blob of catsup, persuading unpourable salt, designing an easily disgorgable purse or grappling with any other of the small dilemma items which the artifice of every woman more or less resolves.

It might be unusual if a club would have an informative fun-day and feature original inventions of every member. Even the time worn, triple-threat hairpin may have developed new and frightening uses.

Miss Caraway, Dr. Trotter Marry In Church Ceremony

In a double ring ceremony solemnized at First Christian church Wednesday at high noon, Miss Louise Caraway became the bride of Dr. Raleigh Furman Trotter. Dr. Roy Kemp of Fort Worth performed the service before a candlelighted altar banked with baskets of poinsettias and gladioli. The bridal aisle was marked with candles, greenery and white satin bows.

Miss Maxine Hyde, pianist, played "Indian Love Call" and accompanied John K. Caraway as he sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer." The bridal chorus from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's wedding march were offered by the pianist.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney James Caraway of 1714 Ave. K, was given in marriage by her father. She wore an original dressmaker suit of beige with a matching blouse with medallion trim and carried a brown orchid surrounded by split white carnations on a white Bible. For something new, she wore a strand of pearls, gift from the bridegroom; for something borrowed, she carried an imported lace handkerchief belonging to the matron of honor, Mrs. Judson I. Clements; for something old, she wore her mother's watch; and for good luck, she placed a penny in her shoe.

Sister Is Attendant

Mrs. Clements, sister of the bride, wore a slate blue gabardine dress with balenciago accessories and carried talisman rosebuds.

Bob Trotter of Denton served as his brother's best man.

For a wedding trip to New Orleans and other points in the South, the bride is wearing brown lizagator shoes and an off-white French beret with bronze bead trim with her wedding suit. After Jan. 3, the couple will be at home at the Midway apartments

Mrs. Trotter is a graduate of Lubbock High school and Texas Technological college and is secretary to Claude B. Hurlbut. Dr. Trotter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Brooks Trotter of Denton, is a graduate of Denton High school, North Texas State Teachers college and Baylor University School of Medicine, and is in private practice with an uncle, Dr. L. B. Woods. He is a member of Phi Chi medical fraternity.

Out-of-town wedding guests included parents of the bridegroom. Others were from Denton, Fort Worth, Amarillo and San Angelo.

Vows Read In Chapel

Miss Tommie Jean French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom French of 2428 Twenty-fifth, and Richard C. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis A. Rogers, sr., of Rt. 4, were married Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at First Baptist church chapel with Dr. J. Ralph Grant reading a double ring ceremony. Pink and white gladioli decorated the altar.

Miss Cynthia Tankersley, pianist, accompanied Miss Mary Helen Bruce as she sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Wonderful One."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white wool crepe dress buttoned to a dropped waistline in front with self covered buttons. A fold of matching material at the waistline extended into a bustle back. Her long sleeved jacket was adorned with a seed pearl design and was fastened with an heirloom pin, a gift from her mother. For something borrowed, the bride carried a handkerchief belonging to the bridegroom's mother, and on her white Bible, she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Wanda Green of Gladewater, maid of honor, wore a pink dress decorated with silver beads, with a silver hat and green accessories. Her bouquet was of cream roses.

Light Candles

Candlelighters were Mrs. George Griffin who wore dusty blue and Mrs. J. B. Curtis of Levelland who wore dusty rose.

Otis A. Rogers, jr., served as his brother's best man and Donald Rea French, brother of the bride, and George Griffin were ushers.

Poinsettias and white gladioli decorated the French home where a reception was held following the ceremony. In the house party were parents of the bride and bridegroom and members of the wedding party.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Howe of Dimmitt; L. Hollinsworth, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Hollinsworth and children of California; Mrs. V. R. Green of Gladewater; and S. T. French of Dawson.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a wine suit with brown shoes and hat, a mink muff, and cream blouse and gloves. Her corsage was of green orchids. After Jan. 1, the couple will be at home at 3719 Twenty-third.

The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High school and a former student of Texas Technological college and the bridegroom is a graduate of Cooper High school and a senior student at Tech.

Today's Town Talk

LUBBOCK women might take a leaf from Mrs. J. C. Rigney's entertainment book and turn their holiday serving over to the masculine element in the crowd—it provides laughs for guests and hosts alike. Besides, the men are surprisingly efficient at tea time chores.

When Mr. and Mrs. Rigney were hosts at a farewell openhouse for Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hughes, who are moving to Dallas, the 80 guests who called Tuesday night were greeted at the door by Mr. Rigney.

Smiling Alex McDonald presided gracefully at the punch service, and assisting in serving were Dr. J. B. McCorkle and Messrs. I. A. Stephens, O. W. McGuire and Lawrence Banks.

At the beginning of the party the trousered "hostesses" a little gruffly asked guests "Have you had enough?" before taking theis plates, but under the direction of their wives the men soon tapered off to a well-bred "Would you care for anything else?"

With a little coaching some of the feminine guests got the idea of going up to Mr. McDonald and offering such party prattle as "You're looking lovely this evening." And with his characteristic sense of humor he replied with an unruffled "Oh this old thing—I just couldn't find a thing to wear!"

Such incidents as Dr. McCorkle stacking handfuls of silver on the serving table and piling the refreshment plate high with little cakes of the same kind made the party hours literally "filled with entertainment." In fact the men had so much fun they want to give a tea sometime and do everything from selecting their own little cakes to decorating the table.

Since modern woman has taken over so many of man's habits, perhaps Lubbock males are going to retaliate by invading the social world.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy, jr., of Houston are arriving today to spend the holiday weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. McLeod.

Mrs. Roy Hobbs and daughter, Susan, of El Paso, are visiting friends and relatives here and in Plainview during the yuletide season. They will be joined here by Mr. Hobbs on Christmas Eve. They are former Lubbock residents, who moved to El Paso early this fall.

Entertaining with a Christmas dance in the party room of the Lubbock Country club Tuesday night were Messrs. and Mesdames D. R. McWilliams, Sam Jondahl, L. R. Gamble and K. L. Riggs.

Over 100 couples attended and music was by Burl Hubbard and his orchestra. Cedar ropes draped from the chandeliers, evergreen wreaths with red satin streamers over the mantels and a giant Christmas tree in one corner of the dance floor added an atmosphere of holiday gaiety.

At intermission refreshments were served in the dining room at a snack bar decorated with red tapers in silver candelabra and other appointments of silver. Dry ice in the punch bowl surrounded it with a fragrant mist.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Frank Junnell, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Ratliff, 2205 Thirtieth, entertained with a dinner party at the Country club Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Other guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Benner Tubbs and Wright Kerr.

Since it was also Mrs. Ratliff's birthday, her husband banked the table with red carnations and holly in honor of her.

The highlight of Tuesday's social calendar for the grade school set was a party at the Country club. Mrs. Alan L. Strout and son Dick gave a puppet show, and Mrs. A. C. Sanders, jr., played while the children sang Christmas carols.

According to Mrs. Kyle B. Ratisseau, "hundreds of children" (at least 200) attended, and several parents were present also. She was assisted in serving by Sue Hufstedler, Ann Pendley, Jay Luther and Wayne Ratisseau.

Gift Party Is Courtesy

Miss Sue Boulter who is being complimented at a series of prebridal entertainments was honored Wednesday afternoon at a kitchen shower given by Mrs. G. G. Porter and Mrs. C. M. Trout, jr., in the Porter home at 2806 Twenty-second.

Green and white, chosen colors of the honoree, were used in decorations.

Guests were Mesdames E. H. Boulter, G. J. McCarty, W. D. McCarty, David Weaver, J. Robert Duncan, John McLarty, Jimmy Williams, C. M. Trout, sr., John T. Shaw, C. E. Davis, John Reeves, W. J. Harris, Marshall Harvey, G. P. Cunningham, Don Furr, and Misses Aline McCarty, Xen Harris, LaVaughn Bearden, Martha Enochs, Martha LaRoe, Lam McKay, Alyce Howell, Betty Jenkins and Joan Prouty.

Miss Boulter and Lynn Boswell McCarty are to be married Tuesday, Dec. 28.

Frying Pan To Fire; Yanks Trapped Again

SHANGHAI, Dec. 22. (U.P.) — Seven Americans stranded in Peiping five days by the Communist siege ring around that city escaped today—to Tientsin, also surrounded by Communists.

The party of military attaches and correspondents took off from a converted polo field in an American C-45 transport plane at 11:30 a. m., bound for Nanking.

A few minutes later they were forced to make an emergency landing on a temporary race course in Tientsin because of engine failure.

Tientsin, like Peiping, is completely cut off by land by the Communists. They are scheduled to be rescued from Tientsin by a Marine plane from Tsingtao.

Trapped By Red Push

The Americans were trapped in Peiping after landing at the city's south airfield last Friday. Communists pressing toward the city's walls brought the airfield under fire and immobilized their plane.

The officers are Military Attache Brig. Gen. Robert H. Soule, Laramie, Wyo.; Naval Attache Capt. Samuel Frankel, Washington, D. C., and Air Attache Lt. Col. A. M. House, Long Beach, Cal.

The correspondents are Gerald Nozick of the United Press; Frederick Gruen of Time and Life magazines, Henry Leiberman of the New York Times and Harold Milks of the Associated Press.

Murray Defies Hearing Order

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray is cold-shouldering a subpoena issued by the House labor committee's one-man subcommittee, Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich).

The lawmaker threatened to turn the matter over to the Justice department for "proper action."

Hoffman had ordered the labor leader to appear at a hearing today on the strike at the Shakespeare fishing tackle plant at Kalamazoo, Mich. Three members of the CIO United Steelworkers were jailed yesterday for refusing to answer Kalamazoo grand jury's questions about a raid on the plant December 1.

Murray refused to attend Hoffman's hearing. Both the subpoena and the subcommittee are "void and illegal," he said.

In a letter he released yesterday, Murray told the Michigan congressman:

"I assume that in claiming to act as chairman of a 'special subcommittee' you are relying on Congressman Hartley's letter, dated December 2, 1948, which purported to appoint you chairman of a special subcommittee of one.

"I am advised by counsel that no authority in law exists for the appointment by committee chairmen of subcommittees of one and that your purported authority under Congressman Hartley's letter is accordingly wholly void."

The army did not reveals his home town, pending notification of kin.

An empty shell was found near the body, but officers have been unable to find the gun. Jones was shot through the heart.

U.S. INTENDS TO STAY IN BERLIN

Clay Declares Soviets Beaten In Political Battle Of Germany

EDITOR'S NOTE: Gen. Lucius D. Clay declares in the following exclusive interview that the United States and its allies have beaten Russia in the political battle for Germany. The American military governor sums up the American "stand firm" policy in Germany in 1948 and declares that he and his troops will not remain passive if the Communists attempt to take over all Berlin.)

By RICHARD S. WEIL
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Dec. 22.—Gen. Lucius D. Clay declared tonight that the West has beaten the Soviets in the political battle for Germany although "no peace treaty is now in sight."

In an exclusive interview with International News Service the U. S. military governor said the United States "never attempted to make a battle and has not attempted to woo the Germans outside the framework of the original occupation policies," and added:

"We never tried to buy German goodwill although our job is easier if we have it."

Would Resist Red Coup

The Georgia general who bears one of the most responsible jobs in history warned that the United States intends to maintain its position in politically-divided Berlin regardless of any Communist efforts to absorb the city.

Clay was asked what would happen if the reportedly forthcoming "east German republic" to be set up by the Russians tried to take over all of Berlin. He said:

"I would like to see it with 4,000 of my troops here.

"Our policy calls for our staying here. We do so irrespective of who lays claim to the city."

To Keep Strict Control

The general said that Soviet establishment of an eastern German government would have no effect on American policy in Germany, adding:

"We simply never intend to recognize it. We will continue as before no matter what new obstructions it seeks to put in our way."

Gen. Clay said he believed the Western German federation will be established by early next summer at the latest, and that the Allies intend to retain strict controls over vital internal and external affairs such as foreign relations, airways, and the military.

"We have no intention," he said, "of turning over any absolute degree of sovereignty."

Clay implied that Soviet declaration of an east German state would present one difficulty — conclusion of a peace treaty.

No Peace Pact In Sight

"According to our original and still existent views," he said, "a treaty must be signed by all the major nations, including the Soviets, if it is to have real validity."

"No peace treaty is now in sight."

Of the Russian proposal for a withdrawal of occupation forces, Clay said "that is a matter for governments to decide."

Western observers have expressed belief that the aim of such a Russian proposal is to pave the way for a German Communist attempt to seize power in all Germany.

Gen. Clay said he did not regard yesterday's establishment of the three-power kommandatura in Berlin as indicative of a complete abandonment of western hopes for a resumption of four-power rule.

"We still desire it," he said, "although we are faced with constantly diminishing signs that the Soviets sincerely want it."

Clay said no increase of German coal and food rations is contemplated presently and that any given next year will depend on the western aerial supply. The airlift now has recovered the losses suffered in bad weather earlier this month.

Clay said the unprecedented western airlift has a good chance of meeting the 30 per cent target increase set for December.

Pecan Fragments Are Removed From Lung Of Post Infant

Removal of a pecan meat and husk from the lung of 19-months-old Dannie Altman, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Altman of Post, was performed successfully at Lubbock Memorial hospital Wednesday.

The infant was playing with an older child on the floor of his parents' home two weeks ago when he got the fragment into his lung.

He was brought to the hospital Monday but the operation was postponed because of his high fever. X-ray photographs showed the location of the nut in his lung.

His condition was reported satisfactory Wednesday night.

Long Hunt Ends As Uvalde Man Kills Big Mountain Lion

UVALDE, Dec. 22. (U.P.)—Sid Heard's 10-months-long private war with a king-size mountain lion was over today and he had him a fine hide for tanning.

The mountain lion, which measured seven feet from toe to tail and weighed 125 pounds, was caught in a trap near the Reagan Wells community where Heard lives. An 80-pound mountain lion is about normal, Heard said.

Was Mean, Cunning

This big boy was about as mean and cunning as they come, Heard said. In a single night, he slaughtered 10 nanny goats and no telling how many deer he had killed. He estimated the animal's age at 10 years.

Heard began hunting for this particular mountain lion last March. He said the animal had been in a trap about four days when he went to check it.

Alive and fighting his dogs like mad, Heard ended the marauder's life with a bullet. The animal was reared on its hind legs fighting the dogs with its front paws and wildly swinging the trap which clamped one of its paws.

It was the fourth mountain lion killed in this area recently.

An animal, which observers say resembles a black panther—in fact, those who have seen it insist it is a black panther——has been at large in the Uvalde area some time. Hunters are setting their traps.

Crash Victims' Bodies Found

SHANGHAI, Dec. 22. (INS)—The Chinese National Aviation corporation reported in Shanghai that the bodies of Quentin Roosevelt and 34 others were dragged today from the wreckage of a C-54 Skymaster which crashed in south China.

The CNAC said it believed the 28 passengers and seven crewmen aboard the four engined airliner which crashed on Basalt Island 40 miles north of Hong Kong died instantaneously.

Roosevelt, 28-year-old grandson of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, boarded the plane at Shanghai's Lunghwa airport yesterday morning for a business flight to Hong Kong. He was a vice president of the CNAC.

The seven crew members of the plane who died included two Chinese girls acting as airline hostesses.

Roosevelt, the son of Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who died during World War II, was believed to be the only foreigner aboard the plane besides its Danish pilot, Charles Sunby.

Roosevelt's widow and three children live in Shanghai.

The bodies of the victims were pulled out of the wreckage by rescue parties this morning. They left Hong Kong last night to reach the island where the ill-fated plane cracked up.

It still was not known what caused the disaster. Several CNAC officials planned to leave Shanghai today for Hong Kong to make a complete investigation of the crash.

Confirmation by the company that all of the Mainliner's crew and passengers had died came early today, dispelling rumors that some survivors had been sighted near the wreckage.

CAA, Makers Of DC-6 Airliners Given Partial Blame For Fires

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (U.P.) — The Civil Aeronautics board today blamed shortcomings of the Civil Aeronautics administration and the makers of the Douglas DC-6 airliner as contributing causes of two fires in flight in 1947.

One DC-6, operated by United Airlines, crashed at Bryce Canyon, Utah, killing 46 passengers and six crew members. Another DC-6, operated by American airlines, caught fire but made successful emergency landing at Gallup, N. M.

The CAB said the CAA, a sister government agency, and the manufacturers, could take part of the blame for the accidents. The Civil Aeronautics board finding was in a supplementary report issued today on the crashes.

The board sets rates and investigates accidents. The Civil Aeronautics administration is responsible for safety work and equipment on the airlines.

The board said that gasoline tank overflow probably caused the two fires. In this connection it said the "failure of the manufacturer and the Civil Aeronautics administration" to test and analyze the DC-6 fuel system adequately and to provide safe gasoline drainage were contributing causes.

Pilferage of coal, and black market sales, are disturbing the Chinese government.

Westerner Five Drops Abilene

Galey Leads In 59 To 39 Victory

By EARL SCUDDAY
Avalanche Sports Writer

Lubbock High's Westerners took full advantage of the sharp-shooting of Charles Galey, Jimmy Sexton and Jim Wilson to chalk up an impressive 59-39 non-conference cage triumph over the tall Abilene Eagles of District 3-AA here Wednesday night at the Senior High gymnasium.

The Westerners, in probably their best offensive performance of the new season, rolled to a 10-2 lead in the first quarter, then moved into a commanding 29-9 edge at halftime. Both coaches used substitutes freely during the second half, with the Hub city schoolboys holding their 20-point margin for the final count of 59-39.

Galey, stocky Westerner veteran, copped high point honors for the tilt with 18 points on seven field goals and four free throws. Sexton, playing at both forward and center, notched 15 points and Wilson, tall Westerner center, hit the loop for 11 points. Jack Stuard sparked the Abilene offense with 15 points on five field goals and five charity throws.

Take Lead Early

Lubbock's cagers jumped into the lead early in the game, when Wilson dropped in a free toss. Big Hub Ingraham connected on a long set shot seconds later, however, to send Abilene into a brief 2-1 lead. But Galey swished the net on a short push shot, Guard Blair Hankins sank a free throw and Sexton hit the loop for two field goals to give the Westerners an 8-2 edge. Wilson boosted the first quarter count to 10-2 with a pivot shot just before the end of the stanza.

Galey and Sexton put the Lubbock quint far out in front in the second period. Sexton connected for three field goals in succession, then Galey dropped in two field goals and one free shot. Hankins chalked up one point on a charity throw, then Sexton and Galey each added another two field goals for a halftime count of 29-9.

Hankins, Wilson and Galey opened up with another Lubbock attack in the third quarter, but they were matched—point for point—by the shots of Abilene's Kenneth Green, Bob Landrum and Stuard. Wilson and Guard Bob Rooker hit field goals just before the end of the period to give the Westerners a 47-27 lead.

Abilene "B" Wins

The final stanza followed the pattern of the third period, with each team connecting for 12 points. Guards Morris Turner and Galey tallied most of the Lubbock points in the final quarter, with Stuard and Ingraham scoring for the Eagles.

In the "B" game preceding the feature setto, the Abilene quint romped to a 50-37 win over the Lubbock five. The visitors went out in front early in the tussle on the shooting of Charles Montgomery and James Dillard, although Richard Allen and Jimmy Hamilton kept the home quint in a contending position with accurate shots.

Landrum topped the Abilene scorers with eight points, but Allen tallied 12 to cop high point honors.

UNUSUAL GIFT

Frank Bowen Powell, who is completing his first year as road secretary of the Philadelphia Phillies, did such a grand job earing for the players' needs and transportation during the season that they got together $700 for a gift. When Powell returned to his Wilmington, Del., home after the Phils' final road trip he was surprised to see in his parlor a combination radio - phonograph - television set. "This is for not having lost a single piece of baggage during the season," said one of the players.

Hammers with plastic striking faces, which can be used without danger of marring surface of aluminum, other soft metals and highly polished wood, have the driving power of standard machinist hammers of equal weight.

SMU's Coach Compares Scores

Bell Says Webfoots Should Be Favorites

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS, Dec. 22. — All he knows is what he sees in the pictures, but Matty Bell, Southern Methodist coach, says on the basis of the Michigan game alone Oregon should be the favorite in the Cotton Bowl.

Michigan was the only team that beat the Webfoots during the season. The score was 14-0.

"But Oregon played a great game, had one touchdown called back and dropped one pass in the end zone," Bell declared. "By rights it should have been a tie at least and you know Michigan is no. 1 in the nation.

"Southern Methodist isn't anywhere near as good as Michigan. We didn't play any team like that. Why, we almost got beat by the weak sisters of the Southwest Conference."

Bell made his observation after viewing pictures of the Oregon-Michigan game. The SMU mentor and Coach Jim Aiken of Oregon have exchanged pictures in view of the fact that Bell was unable to scout the Webfoots. Aiken saw Southern Methodist against Texas Christian.

Says Odds-Makers Crazy

When informed that the odds-markers were favoring Southern Methodist, Bell declared that "I don't set the odds on football games but those guys are crazy. They're really going to take a financial licking if they don't watch out."

"The Cotton Bowl game will be between two versatile teams and there will be lots of action," Bell said. "I wouldn't be surprised if touchdowns were about as numerous as first downs."

He avers that Oregon has a bigger line and a better defensive record than Southern Methodist. Oregon held 10 opponents to 148.6 yards rushing and 82.2 yards passing per game. Southern Methodist gave up 181.8 rushing and 86.9 passing."

Bell said Norm Van Brocklin, Oregon quarterback, was a great passer, although he wouldn't grant that the Webfoots star was better than his own Gil Johnson, and he called Halfback Johnny McKay of Oregan "a slicker"—a great breakaway runner. "And Oregon sure has some swell pass-receivers," he added.

Pro Leagues To Bid For Top Grid Talent

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22. (AP)—Professional football battened down today for its annual battle of the greenbacks.

The choice college gridiron talent was drafted yesterday at meetings of the All-America conference at Cleveland and the National football league at Philadelphia.

But it's a generally accepted axiom that a football player can't play for two different teams at the same time.

Plenty Of Bidding

That means there will be bidding—with cash—for the services of the best football players in the nation.

At least one person who ought to know—NFL Commissioner Bert Bell—is inclined to think the cash bidding won't be particularly spirited.

"After all," Bell said, "there weren't many outstanding name players in the college ranks this year. There wasn't anywhere near as many as there have been during the past several seasons."

He's right on that count. There weren't many names like Charley Trippi, Johnny Lujack, Bobby Layne, Bob Chappuis, Glenn Davis or Doc Blanchard among the players performing on college gridirons this year.

"It stands to reason," Bell went on, "that there won't be any fabulous salary offers for the crop that's available now."

Scale To Come Down

The NFL commissioner predicted that there won't be many fat bonuses for the '48 college crop and that "economic conditions will bring the scale down for the high salaried players in the game today just as they will for bricklayers and carpenters and other tradespeople."

COLTS EMBARRASSED

When the Brooklyn football Dodgers scheduled an exhibition game at Charlotte, N. C., the Baltimore Colts refused to vote in favor of the game. They were afraid the Dodgers might take a beating against Charlotte's clippers and do harm to a future Baltimore attraction. The Dodgers won, 63 to 7. Incidentally, Coach Cecil Isbell of the Colts refuses to permit team or individual pictures before a game due to a pet superstition.

Cotton Center Girls Win Tilt

COTTON CENTER, Dec. 22. (Special)—Cotton Center's smooth-working girls' team overcame an early New Deal lead to roll to an impressive 53-48 non-conference triumph over the visitors here tonight.

The girls from the New Deal school went ahead early in the tussle on the accurate shooting of Marie Wales, but Cotton Center, paced by the point-making of forward Ruth Cannon, tied the count after four minutes of play. Then the Cotton Center cagers surged into the lead and were never behind again.

Cannon took high point honors for the tilt, with a total of 38 points, while Wales tallied 19 for New Deal.

In the boys' game, New Deal chalked up a 32-24 win over Cotton Center. Pounds took high point honors with 16 points for Cotton Center, as Hobgood topped New Deal with 10.

Notre Dame Quintet Sinks Navy, 70-62

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (INS)—A 21-point scoring spree by Guard Kevin O'Shea sparked Notre Dame's basketball team to a 70-62 victory tonight over Navy at the Chicago stadium.

O'Shea's remarkable play kept the Irish in control all the way despite repeated rallies by the Midshipmen for whom Capt. John Barrow scored 19 points. Dave Mumaney and Willis Wilson added 15 apiece.

Notre Dame spurted to a 38 to 29 lead at half-time.

Navy missed 17 free throws in 31 attempts, while the Irish counted 18 charity tosses and missed only five.

Two Navy Planes Land Safely After Fighting Ocean Winds

MOFFIT FIELD, Cal., Dec. 22 (INS) — Two Navy B-17's on a routine weather reconnaissance flight from Honolulu landed safely today at Moffit field after fears that they would have to make a crash landing in mid-Pacific.

The huge four-motored plane encountered unexpectedly strong head winds and as a result they both had barely enough gas left to make the landing at the naval field about 5 miles south of San Francisco.

They were escorted to the field by an Army B-17 rescue plane carrying a motorized life boat under its belly. The lifeboat would have been dropped with three parachutes.

The Navy planes were also escorted by two Coast Guard rescue planes sent after the pilots radioed that they were in trouble. The Navy said one of its earlier reports that one of the pilots had radioed he was about to ditch his plane was "erroneous."

Each of the huge four motored B17's carried five Navy men. They left Honolulu last night enroute to Alameda Naval base on San Francisco bay.

SHORT ON SENIORS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Coach Andy Gustafson has only eight seniors on his University of Miami football squad—and three of them are right halfbacks. However, the trio packs plenty of experience. All three—Bob Bowman, Joe Krull and Al Hudson—were freshman members of Miami's Orange Bowl Championship team which defeated Holy Cross Jan. 1, 1946.

More than 1,000 students will obtain ski instruction at the Syracuse University ski school and lodge this winter.

CINCINNATI IS OFFENSE LEADER

Kentucky Quint Leads Nation's Major Schools In Team Defense

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP) — It may come as a surprise to the court customers but there is such thing as defense in basketball.

As No. 1 example we offer Kentucky's NCAA champion Wildcats. Mighty Kentucky, unbeaten in six games, is the top defensive team among the nation's major college basketball quintets.

According to the official statistics of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau which include games of Dec. 18, Adolph Rupp's Wildcats have allowed only 36.3 points per game to the opposition.

At the same time Kentucky's veteran squad has tallied 67.7 points per game which doesn't even put them in the first ten.

It does show, however, a 31.4 point difference between the points Kentucky makes and what the opposition scores and a perfect record.

Cincy Tops In Offense

The offense leader is Cincinnati with 80 points per game for three contest. The Bearcats won those three games. Cincinnati also has the best free throw average. The Bearcats have converted .764 of their charity tosses.

None of the ten leaders on offense are included in the first ten on defense.

Manhattan College (5-1) is second in scoring with 77.5 with Bradley (5-0) third on 75.4 and CCNY (5-1) fourth with 74.

The leaders, including games of Dec. 18, with team won and lost records in parentheses:

Team offense — 1—Cincinnati (3-0), 80; 2—Manhattan (5-1), 77.5; 3—Bradley (5-0), 75.4; 4—CCNY (5-1), 74; 5—Bowling Green (4-3), 72.9; 6—Mississippi (3-0), 72.3; 7—Colgate (3-1), 72; 8—Georgia Tech (4-0), 70.5; 9—John Carroll (3-1), 70.5; 10—Georgia (7-0), 69.9.

Purdue Team Drops Drake's Bulldogs

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 22 (INS) —Purdue university tonight squeezed out their second victory in two nights over the Drake university Bulldogs at the Drake fieldhouse in Des Moines.

The Boilermakers were paced by Andy Butchko who scored a backbreaking 29 points.

Drake pushed ahead with 10 minutes left in the game by a score of 43 to 42. Butchko's sharpshooting couldn't be stopped however, and the Boilermakers took charge of the floor with four minutes left to play and held the position until the final whistle.

BETTER LATE THAN . . .

NEW YORK. (AP)—During the last World Series, between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Yankees, a statistical study shows that 39 of the 119 safe hits—nearly a third—were recorded after the count had reached two strikes on the batter. And 33 of the 67 runs—almost half—were scored after two men were out.

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP)—Brooklyn Dodger football coach Carl Voyles, in his first year as a professional coach, came to the All-America Conference from Auburn where he coached from 1943. He previously served at William and Mary for four years. In his last year at W & M, his team lost only one game.

Raiders Drop Marshall, 65-54

Don Grove Paces Techsan Attack

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

The Red Raiders turned in one of their best performances of the year in Texas Tech gym last night, turning on the heat to swamp the invading Green Wave of Marshall College 65-54.

Center Don Grove, king pin of the Raider attack, again paced the home club to victory, turning in his most impressive performance of the season. Grove scored 16 points during the tilt, but was even more outstanding on defense. His sparkling play had much to do with the long lead into which the Raiders shot.

Marshall showed the local fans, about 300 of them, one of the finest passing attacks seen in the local gym in a long time. The visitors passed in any direction without looking and had a fast break down court that constantly led to easy layups. It wasn't until late in the game that Tech was able to stop it.

Free Throws Accurate

But the visitors didn't have the eagle eye for the basket that the Techsans had, at least last night, and their inability to hit set shots cost them a long lead.

Meanwhile, the Raiders were hooking shots from all corners and their accuracy from the free throw line also was uncanny. Only two charity tosses were missed all night by the Raiders, who sank 13 of 15 attempts.

Forward Wayne Bowles, who had become a father only Tuesday night, opened the game with a follow shot after a minute of play. He came back at 1:30 to score on a hook shot to hand the Raiders a 4-0 lead. This set the pace for the game and the Raiders never gave up their lead.

Tech and Marshall exchanged flurries of baskets through the first 15 minutes of the first stanza, before the Raiders went on a scoring spree. With the score 24-22 and 16 minutes gone, five quick baskets handed the Raiders a 34-22 advantage at the intermission.

The Green Wave rallied in the second half, outscoring Tech from the field during the first 15 minutes, 13 field goals to nine and pitching in one free throw to two for Tech. This sustained rally lowered the count to 54-49, the closest the visitors had been since early in the game.

Jiggs Jackson Connects

Then the Raiders rallied to open the gap again. Jiggs Jackson, one of Tech's stars last night, connected on a set shot, Whistle Banks dropped in a free throw, Wimpy Hill hooked a follow, Jackson drove in for a layup, Ardis Barton sank two free throws and Banks went in for a layup to end Tech scoring.

Meanwhile, Marshall had been stymied, getting only three free throws and a field goal for the final four minutes of play.

It was Tech's seventh victory in eight games this season and was the final game until the Oklahoma City tournament, Monday through Wednesday. Tech's first opponent will be Oklahoma A. and M.

Cards' Dickson On All-Star Nine

Nationals Release Fielding Averages

By LES CONKLIN
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. — A breakdown of the official National league fielding averages, released today, produces the following All-Star 1948 defensive team:

Catcher—Phil Masi, Braves.

Pitcher—Murry Dickson, Cardinals.

First base—Eddie Stevens, Pirates.

Second base—Jackie Robinson, Dodgers.

Third base — Sid Gordon, Giants.

Shortstop — Marty Marion, Cardinals.

Outfielders—Jeff Heath, Braves; Whitey Lockman, Giants; and Frank Baumholtz, Reds.

Heath, whose leg was broken shortly before the end of the regular season, led the outfielders with a .991 percentage.

Slats Still Tops

Marion may still be called "Mr. Shortstop." This is the third time that Slats has been the best fielder at his position, although he may not be able to go as far afield for hard drves as he was in his prime.

For Masi, it was the second year in a row in which he paced the catchers with a .988 percentage.

At that, Masi would not have won the honor this year but for a technicality. Del Rice, of the Cardinals, really was the leading receiver from a fielding standpoint with a .996 percentage. However, Rice caught in 99 games, as against the required 100.

Rice, Dickson and Marion were three of the reasons why the Cardinals led in club fielding. And Dickson was only one of eight Card hurlers who fielded flawlessly.

Pittsburgh was second in club fielding with a .977 percentage, and Boston third with .976.

Chicago executed the most double plays, 152. Pittsburgh completed two triple plays to tie the season record for a club. Boston left the most runners stranded, 1,255. Philadelphia made the most errors, 210. Pittsburgh equaled a league record with six double plays in a single game, and Brooklyn tied a record by playing an entire game without a chance in the outfield.

Rebels Complete For All-Star Game

MIAMI, Dec. 22 (INS)—Coach Andy Gustafson said today his starting "Rebel" eleven is complete for the North-South All-Star game in the Orange Bowl Christmas day.

The Miami U. coach listed the following for the Southern contingent in the Shrine-sponsored charity game:

Ends: Jim Cain of Alabama and All-American Barney Poole of Mississippi.

Tackles — Ernie Settembre of Miami and Ray Richeson of Alabama.

Guards—Philip Poole of Mississippi and Mario Demarco of Miami.

Center: Gene Kinney of Maryland.

Backs—George Blanda of Kentucky, Lynn Chewning of Hampden-Sydney, Frank Ziegler of Georgia Tech and "Pistol" Pete Williams of Navy.

The Northern squad, coached by Yale's Herman Hickman, was at full strength with the arrival of Notre Dame's Terry Brennan, John Fallon and Bill Walsh.

POLICY PEDDLER

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Little George Guerre, pocket-size Michigan State College halfback, was as successful this summer selling insurance as he is on the gridiron. During one month Guerree ranked second in sale in his company's central division of three states. A senior, Guerre plans to enter the insurance business full-time when he graduates.

Trout And Olsen Battle To Draw

Dick Trout and Milt Olsen, a pair of champions, didn't decide much last night at Sled Allen's wrestling arena, except that they are both good. They battled to a draw.

It was a good match and the crowd appreciated the clean grappling, even though the feature followed a pair of bouts in which no holds were barred.

In the preliminary, Olan Boynton of Amarillo held the always rowdy Pat O'Dowdy of Big Spring to a 20-minute draw, during which time both put on a good show.

Benny Trudell and Monty LaDue, both Canadians, also staged a good match, with LaDue making his debut a good one by taking both flip flops. Lobo Brown, the retired wrestler, called all three bouts.

Couldn't Hold Trout

Trout, the Southwestern Junior Heavyweight champion, had too much weight for Olsen, the Texas Junior Heavyweight champ, or else he might have lost the match. Olsen, in the final fall, after the wrestlers had split the first two, repeatedly had Trout on his on his shoulders, but couldn't hold him there long enough for a three count.

The Southwestern champ wriggled lose from Olsen's shoulder pin by using his weight, with Olsen each time throwing him back up. But Trout refused to remain cornered and the bell finally stopped the match with both men tired.

It was one of the best matches in recent weeks and the large crowd enjoyed it. Neither man resorted to the usual "dirty" tactics so familiar to most local fans, relying solely on knowledge of the ring to survive.

LaDue Wins Match

In the semi-final, LaDue pinned Trudell twice, taking 20 minutes to pin his opponent in the opener with a reverse toehold. Trudell came back to carry the fight, but LaDue slipped out of every effort to pin him and applied a half nelson that stopped Trudell in eight minutes. LaDue lived up to advance billing and proved himself a crowd pleaser.

In the main go, Trout used up 33 minutes before winning on a headlock, that had been applied early in the match. Olsen came back to win the second fall with a shoulder pin in 12 minutes and the two wrestlers fought to a draw in six minutes in the final fall.

A gift collection netted the Salvation Army both clothing and foodstuffs to be used in the Christmas distribution.

From Oct. 24, 1937 until Oct. 8, 1944, the Washington Redskins won 11 straight games from the Philadelphia Eagles.

Reporter Scores Secret Attitude Of Loop Moguls

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The woman sloshed through the slush and puddles and soggy snow. Her arms were filled with bundles. A passing car had sprayed her nylons with dirty water. You could tell her feet hurt.

She turned to her companion and muttered in a tone of disgust and exasperation:

"Thank goodness, only two more slopping days until Christmas."

Which is just a minor sidelight on the passing parade, but it serves to point out that everyone has his gripes, and is entitled to explode once in a while.

We have ours today. It concerns the coy, secretive attitude of professional sports figures toward reporters who are trying to dig up a little news.

Reports Were Barred

The practice again was brought to our attention by an item from Philadelphia to the effect that reporters and photographers not only were barred from the immediate vicinity of the meeting of the All-American Conference and National Football league moguls they weren't even permitted in the building.

Maybe they took care of the press nicely at a hotel across the street. We wouldn't know about that. But the fact is the lads could cool their heels until the moguls were darned well ready to tell them something.

Pro sports figures, with a few notable exceptions, are evasive, cagey in their remarks. They take the attitude that what they do is none of the public's business. Possible franchise changes, player salaries, profits, everything pertaining to the businesses are to-boo topics.

Officials Are Evasive

You ask a magnate what Joe Doaks will get next year, and he's liable to counter: "I don't ask you your salary, do I?

Sure, to a certain extent the magnates are entitled to a little privacy in their business operations. But in likening their businesses to other businesses they forget one thing.

They exist solely through the benevolence of the press.

A department store will take out page after page of ads, and is highly elated if it finds its name in a news story.

Pro sports, notably baseball and football and boxing and hockey, take out infinitismal ads. They rely solely on the columns of free publicity which department stories or automobile agencies or other businesses would gladly pay untold thousands to get.

It's Tough On Reporters

Yet they make it as tough as possible for the men who write such free ads to get the material.

We've got the runaround numberless times. A leak somewhere starts a rumor of some deal, and trying to check on it is like trying to get a first-person story from the horse which won the Kentucky Derby.

A department store has to pay to give the public the information it is selling fur-lined bathtubs at a cut rate. Sports promoters expect their cut prices on tickets to be run as news stories, for free.

So now that we've got our little gripe out of the way, we'll return to our little nest and get ready for a merry Christmas.

Sports Study

By Earl Sandday

We thought we were through with "all-star" grid teams for this season, but the schoolboy selections which appeared in the Dallas News last Sunday have stirred our wrath anew. The News sports department, with an eye on the circulation figures in East, Central and South Texas, announced an "all-state" team that is actually amusing. Only two West Texans, Amarillo's James Garner and Odessa's Don Thompson, made the first team, but Port Arthur alone was given three spots on the first eleven. In fact, 10 of the Port Arthur gridders were named to some position on the all-star squad! If Port Arthur really had 10 "all-staters," we wonder why they were beaten last week?

We admit that there were many good football players in East, South and Central Texas this season, but there were also more than two all-staters in West Texas. Just as an example, how could any qualified person give T. Jones of Childress a mere honorable mention. Jones proved to every person who saw him in action this season that he is the best schoolboy passer in the state. He carried the Bobcats to the runner-up spot in the District 2-AA race on his accurate right arm, and paced the 'Cats to an upset victory over Wichita Falls. But, according to the latest "all-star" selection, he was just worth honorable mention and not a place on one of the first three teams.

Then there's Jimmy Patterson of Odessa. He was "awarded" a place in the third team backfield. And right here and now we will state that, in our opinion, Jimmy is one of the top five backs of the state. The big boy carried the Odessa offense throughout the season, although he received timely aid from Sonny Mobley, and Patterson was the most consistent ground gainer in West Texas. When the Bronchos needed a yard, or two or three, for a first down, they just gave the ball to Jimmy. Against Amarillo in the quarter-finals, Jimmy staged one of the finest one-man efforts ever seen in this end of the state. But he was just a "third-teamer" to Dallas.

On the subject of the Waco-Amarillo game Saturday afternoon at Fort Worth, Lubbock fans can get tickets by mailing their orders to the Central Ticket Agency at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth. Box seats are priced at $3, and reserved seats are $2.50. General admission ducats will be sold only at the stadium on the day of the game.

Lubbock fans who cannot attend the game will have plenty of chances to hear the broadcast of the tussle. More than 30 Texas radio stations will carry the play-by-play account of the game, as given by George Mooney and Joe Wills. Stations at Lubbock and Lamesa will give the South plains plenty of coverage.

David Clark, one of the top Cowhand basketball squadmen, has been out of action for more than a week with a badly sprained ankle. David competed in all of the early season games, but will probably not be able to return to the lineup until after the Christmas holidays as a result of the injury.

Northwestern To Try New Defense

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 22. (INS)—Coach Bob Voigts has worked out one of the slickest defenses of the football season and one which California must solve if the Bears expect to triumph over Northwestern's Wildcats in the Rose Bowl come New Year's Day.

In gate-locked Brookside Park, nestling within sight of the granddaddy of bowl stadiums, Voigts today began to sharpen up the tactics with which he expects his Evanston herd to stop California's Jack Swaner and All-American Jackie Jensen.

In a nutshell, here is Voigts' strategy:

New Defense Setup

On defense, Alex Sarkesian, 220-pound captain and all Big-Ten pivot man, drops back in the quarterback spot to back up the line. Ray Wietecha, 220-pound sophomore, comes in at center to help Sarkesian.

George Sundheim, 205-pounder, enters the game as fullback to become the third line backer, while Art Murakowski, 195-pound All-American fullback, switches over to the right halfback spot where he is reputed to be sudden death on passes.

Little "Peewee" Day, who tips the scales at 185 pounds, scrambles back into the safety spot.

Sounds a bit technical to the layman but California will probably find out what gives. The defense evidently has helped the Wildcats through the season. UCLA, Purdue and Syracuse couldn't score through it while Ohio State, Wisconsin and Illinois could rack up only one touchdown each.

3000 Ducats Sold

The only other news filtering out of Pasadena today was that some 3000 persons who stood in line for as long as 80 hours snapped up the 6000 end-zone ducats put on sale. Each of the 3000 persons paid $11.00 for their pair.

Oh, yes, and three men who allegedly sold their places in the long rain-soaked line were arrested for peddling in a city park without a license.

Fort Worth Fans Buy 4000 Ducats To Waco-Amarillo Tilt

FORT WORTH, Dec. 22. (AP) — Tickets to the state Class AA schoolboy championship football game went on sale here and in Dallas today with a quick response.

Some 4,000 tickets were sold in Fort Worth before noon.

Waco and Amarillo play in the title game here Saturday at Texas Christian university stadium which has a seating capacity of 34,000.

RIZZO IS SUSPENDED

DENVER, Dec. 22. (INS)—Jerry Rizzo, 5 foot, 7 inch forward on the professional Syracuse, N. Y., basketball squad, was suspended from National league play for the balance of the season today by commissioner Doxie Moore. Rizzo drew the stiff penalty for striking a referee twice during a game between Syracuse and the Denver Nuggets in Denver Monday night.

Waco Stresses Defensive Plans For AA Tussle

WACO, Dec. 22. (AP)—The Waco Tigers emphasized defensive plans today as they finished hard work for their state championship schoolboy football battle with Amarillo.

The game—for the state AA crown—will be played at Fort Worth Christmas day.

Coach Carl Price shifted his high spirited youngsters in to all sorts of formations against Amarillo offensive patterns.

He wasn't too satisfied with the results. But he had some polishing up scheduled for tomorrow and Friday when the Tigers taper off.

As a guard against injuries scrimmage has been kept off the program this week.

Back Claud Kincannon's injured shoulder continues to mend. He should be in fine condition for the game. William Garner, a line stalwart, was back in shape after being handicapped last week with a leg bruise.

Price said the next two sessions would be very light. Waco is to move into Fort Worth Saturday morning.

Texas Wesleyan Rolls Over Eastern New Mexico, 81-63

BIRDVILLE, Dec. 22. (AP) — Sophomore Jim Stroud, towering six foot, nine inch center, crammed in 24 points for Texas Wesleyan here tonight as the Rams coasted over Eastern New Mexico college 81-63, for their seventh success of the year.

Stroud, usually a sub for starting Center John Seagrist, got his chance to play almost all the way when the latter left the game early via five personals.

COWBOYS PREP FOR TILT

ABILENE, Dec. 22. (AP) — The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys, who play their final game of the season Dec. 30 in the Camellia Bowl at LaFayette, La., will practice tomorrow then take time off for Christmas. The players will return Monday morning for a work-out and leave Tuesday by plane for LaFayette where they meet Wichita in the Camellia Bowl.

The University of Mississippi first rewarded its athletes with letters in 1904, 11 years after the inaugural football season.

86-Year-Old Mack Still Wants Flag

Connie Mack Will Celebrate Birthday

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22. (AP)—Connie Mack, still trim and erect as the starched high collars he always wears, marks his 86th birthday tomorrow clinging to the same valiant ambition that has been his since 1931.

"Just one more pennant, that's all I want," the spry owner-manager of the Philadelphia Athletics said today. That's the same birthday present he's sought for 17 American league seasons.

But this year something new has been added: a cautious hint from Connie that his dream can come true before anniversary rolls around.

Connie, whose sharp-eyed appraisal of players and teams isn't dimmed a bit by the years, was too cagey to say flatly the A's will win.

But he thumbed through the record books to the page that showed a fourth-place finish last season. And then, as though looking in the back of that same book for the answer, ventured to promise for 1949:

"We should be a little better."

Whether that would be good enough to win the flag he wouldn't say.

Mack values three things on a baseball team: pitching, hitting and speed, about in the order named. For 1949, he said, the A's should have "one of the best rounded pitching staffs in either league."

He admitted he was counting heavily on comebacks by Phil Marchildon and Bill McCahan, who had "a rough year" in 1948.

"I think they'll be a lot better next year," Connie said. With Joe Coleman, Dick Fowler and Lou Brissie also in top form the Macks would have speed, skill and depth, to borrow a football phrase.

Levelland Cagers Take Three Games From Seminole Quintets

LEVELLAND, Dec. 22. (Special)—Levelland cagers swept three games from Seminole quints here tonight, with the "A" five drubbing the visitors, 44-25. Larry Roberts paced Levelland with 13 points, while Ralph Jones and Parks tallied six each for Seminole.

The Levelland "B" trounced Seminole, 57-11, and the Levelland Junior High quint copped a 25-14 decision.

Aggies Defeat Oklahoma Quint

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 22. (AP)—The Texas Aggies turned a slow start into a torrid finish here tonight to outscore the Southwestern Oklahoma Bulldogs, 50-30, in an opener of a two-game basketball series.

After the Sooner quintet had jumped in front, 6-0, Sam Jenkins and John Dewitt combined their goaling efforts to push the Aggies in front, 19-11, as the Bulldogs went six minutes without scoring.

Jimmy Kirkland, top scorer with 17 points, connected on two push shots to give the Aggies a 23-15 halftime margin. Kirkland kept hitting in the early minutes of the second half as the Cadets piled up a 38-18 lead.

Texas High School Coaches Association Meeting Opens

FORT WORTH, Dec. 22. (AP)—A meeting of directors of the Texas High School Coaches association opened here tonight at the Blackstone hotel.

Secretary of the association, L. W. McConahie of El Paso, said newspaper representatives would not be allowed to attend the session. He said the association would announce the site and date of the annual coaching school Friday morning.

PROS DRAFT TEXANS

Jap War Leaders Hanged In Toyko

had been taken in the death cells to insure that the doomed seven would be executed on the gallows.

The condemned last had seen their families Dec. 1. Then they spent their last days writing, reading and playing cards—"chiefly solitaire."

"All the condemned men," said the official report, "spent their final days writing letters, visiting with a Buddhist priest and bidding each other goodbye."

The men ate sparingly Tuesday and went to an improvised Buddhist chapel enroute from the death house to the gallows. Tojo was third in line on his last march after history's most devastating war.

The announcement came with dramatic suddenness that the executions had been carried out three days after the United States Supreme court refused to intervene in the death sentences pronounced by the eleven-nation Allied tribunal.

America's highest court, to which Tojo himself made no appeal but two of his co-defendants did, ruled that exclusive jurisdiction lay with the Allied tribunal which conducted their 2½ year Tokyo trial.

The electrifying announcement of the hangings was made shortly after 1 o'clock Thursday morning in Tokyo (11 a. m. Wednesday CST) by Gen. MacArthur's occupation headquarters.

The official statement, reporting the hangings were carried out without a hitch in 34 minutes, said:

"Between 12:01 and 12:35 a. m. on the 23rd of December, 1948, all seven of the war criminals that were condemned by the International Tribunal of the Far East were hanged."

The bald-pated 64-year-old Tojo and his fellow war lords thus were executed 16 days after the seventh anniversary of that fateful Dec. 7, 1941 when Tojo ordered the Pearl Harbor attack which killed nearly 4,000 American sailors and soldiers.

Russia's representative on the Allied council in Tokyo, Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko, was one of the official witnesses to watch Tojo and the six others mount the thirteen steps of the well-lighted gallows.

Derevyanko and three other Allied council members, including Gen. MacArthur's council deputy William J. Sebald; Sir Patrick Shaw of the United Kingdom, and the representatives of China and India witnessed the executions at the personal request of the Supreme Allied commander.

Shorn of his once-beribboned general's uniform, Tojo went to his death, like the six other doomed criminals, wearing "United States Army salvage work clothing, completely devoid of insignia of any kind."

Doihara, 64, who was the Japanese "Lawrence of Manchuria" and Japan's "master spy" in plotting the 1931 Mukden incident, was first to mount the gallows.

Then in order came Gen. Matsui, who was found guilty of the ghastly 1938 "rape of Nanking" during which 200,000 persons were massacred in six weeks; Tojo and Gen. Muto, 55, chief of staff for Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, the Japanese commander who already has been executed for infamous brutalities in the Phillipines.

When Doihara, Matsui, Tojo and Muto all were on the gallows, to which they walked unassisted, the chief executioner quickly placed the execution ropes around their necks, adjusted the hangman's knots and covered their heads with black hoods.

Then the executioner, whose identity was not disclosed, saluted the commander of the execution detail and reported that the first four of the seven condemned men were ready to be hanged.

The four traps sprung open at 12:01:30 a. m.—just one minute after the war criminals entered the death chamber.

Four doctors stepped forward several minutes later, placing stethoscopes to the chests of the dangling bodies.

Doihara was declared dead in six minutes; Tojo in nine; Muto in 10, and Matsui in 11½ minutes.

Soldiers of the United States Army Graves Registration service recovered the bodies and the second phase of the executions went forward with dispatch. The last trio to go to their death were:

Gen. Itagaki, 62, commander of Japanese troops at Singapore where thousands of Allied prisoners were tortured and murdered; Koki Hirota, 65, Japan's prewar premier who drew up the master blueprint for the invasion of China, and Gen. Kimura, 59, Tojo's vice minister of war in the Japanese "Pearl Harbor cabinet" and later commander of Japanese troops who committed numerous atrocities on Allied prisoners in Burma.

The traps were sprung under Itagaki, Hirota and Kimura shortly before 12:20 a. m. Itagaki was pronounced dead in 12½ minutes, Hirota in 14 and Kimura in 15 minutes.

Scandinavian countries and Italy, may be advised informally of the progress already made and told that the drafting group would be glad to have their representatives sit in for the finishing touches.

Theft Loss Heavy

No. 4 at Texas Tech, reported theft of clothing valued at $150 from his car parked on a lot in 1200 block Ave. M, directly behind Lubbock Memorial hospital.

Thomas E. Bills of Sundown reported that four or five Christmas packages had been taken from his car which was parked on the same lot Wednesday night. The value and contents of the packages were unknown, Bills said.

J. B. Richardson of Sundown said a package containing a large pitcher and six glasses, value $3.50, had been taken from his car parked in 1300 block Broadway Wednesday night.

Car Reported Stolen

A blue, 1940 Oldsmobile business coupe, license Texas EX-4339, owned by O. J. Farris of Dallas, was reported to city police as being taken from 1100 block Ave. L Wednesday night.

Earl Malone, of 502 Ave. T, Wednesday reported theft of a bicycle belonging to him from 1000 block Main street Tuesday night. The bicycle, blue and cream-colored, was valued at $25.

Felipe Solis, of 100 block Ave. M, told police department that two new tires and tubes had been taken from his unlocked car parked at that address Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. The loss was not discovered until Wednesday noon.

Meanwhile, demand for fireworks—despite an official ban on firing any such combustibles inside the city limits—was reflected in two burglaries in which loss approximated an estimated $100, officials reported Wednesday morning.

In addition to those breakins and enterings—both of them on East Broadway outside the city limits—officials were informed of the burglary of a wellhouse of Bill Farris of Shallowater route 1 and theft of property valued at approximately $125, as well as burglary of a store at 2802 East Ave. E.

Sheetiron Torn

W. J. Hodges said the greater amount of the fireworks was taken when someone tore a hole in a sheet iron of a stand he had erected across the highway from his fruit stand in the canyon.

Taken, he said, were $40 worth of roman candles, $10 worth of baby giant crackers, $6 in auto bombs, $6 in torpedoes, $5 in small firecrackers, $4 in repeating bombs, an $8.25 toy pistol, a $4.19 toy pistol and a 98-cent toy pistol.

Stand Is Entered

J. B. Robertson said his paper and pasteboard stand on East Broadway was broken and entered through the roof, and that 10 dozen firecrackers, a quantity of roman candles, eight to 10 buzz bombs, and two quarts of honey were taken.

Farris listed a floor buffer, a shotgun, extension cord and tools stolen from his wellhouse.

Six pounds of coffee, cigarets, perhaps two pounds of lard and a small quantity of candy were taken from the store, police investigators were told. A door hasp had been pried off, they were informed by Ray Enloe at the store.

Police were investigating a report that Christmas lights had been stolen from a residence at 2800-block North Third.

Two Pay Fines

A charge of assault with intent to murder filed Dec. 13 against Preston Hagger, 23, of Borger and Lubbock, was reduced Wednesday afternoon to aggravated assault, and Hagger paid a county court fine of $100 and costs.

Leroy Dover, 29, of Lubbock was fined $1 and court costs on a plea of guilty of check law violation, officials said.

E. G. Wade of Littlefield route 2, Hockley county, reported that a battery had been stolen from his irrigation well house.

Aid To Dutch Halted

has swept the Dutch deeply into Republican areas. He also asked that a United Nations Good Offices committee now in Indonesia fix blame for the fighting.

The committee earlier today levelled six charges against the Dutch in connection with the conflict, and placed no blame on the Indonesians. The committee said the Dutch broke the Renville truce and went so far as to serve what looked to the committee like an "ultimatum."

Grave Threat Seen

Presenting to the council a resolution stating his demands, Jessup declared in a speech prepared under express instructions from Washington:

"My government fails to find any justification for renewal of military operations in Indonesia."

He said the United States holds the "considered view" that the renewed fighting in Indonesia "may prove to be a grave threat to international peace."

Colombia and Syria joined the United States in sponsoring the resolution.

Action Is Defended

Jessup referred to a previous cease fire order, declaring, "the simple mass of fact is that the council's own order of 1 August, 1947, has been contravened."

The plea by the tall, pale international lawyer followed a bitter attack on the Dutch by L. N. Palar, chief Indonesian delegate. He called the Dutch attack a "second Pearl Harbor."

He said the Dutch were "perfectly willing to negotiate—provided the republic binds itself first and absolutely to accept Dutch terms."

Jan Van Royan, Dutch ambassador to Paris, opened the council's proceedings. He contended the council lacked jurisdiction and charged that Communists have risen high in the councils of the Indonesian republic.

New Probe Launched

reporters at the grand jury quarters that:

"Too much emphasis had been placed on my statement that I personally never knew Laurence Duggan and that he never gave me documents.

"Practically overlooked is the fact that I found it necessary to give Duggan's name to Mr. (Adolf) Berle (former assistant secretary of state) in 1939. (Levine's testimony was that Chambers, in a 1939 talk with Adolf Berle, State department official, had named Duggan as one of six State department men who gave Chambers secret information.)

Grand Jury Adjourns

"I resent slaps at Isaac Don Levine. We are both making statements on the basis of information we do not wish to discuss at this time."

In Mexico City, Levine likened the death of Duggan to that of Jan Masaryk. Masaryk, Czechoslovakia's foreign minister, fell to his death from his office window. The Communist government said it was suicide but many of Masaryk's friends said he was thrown out.

Sayre was before the grand jury for 90 minutes. The body then adjourned until Jan. 3.

Asked For Statement

Sayre's comment on the documents came as reporters asked him about a statement of acting chairman Karl Mundt (R-SD) of the House committee that only four persons had ready access to papers which found their way to Chambers.

Mundt named Sayre, Alger Hiss and two women secretaries as the four. Hiss, who worked under Sayre in 1937 and 1938, has been indicted on charges of perjury as a consequence of his denial he furnished documents to Chambers.

Mundt Hints "Foul Play"

Sayre declined to say who was able to lay hands on the papers readily.

A theory of possible "foul play" in Duggan's death plunge was advanced by Mundt but he said he had no evidence.

Members of Duggans family asserted their strong belief he did not take his life but was the victim of a freak accident.

A brother, Stephen Duggan, jr., told a reporter "there was no motive at all for my brother to have taken his life. I believe he fell from the window when he went there for air after suffering an attack of Nausea or something like that.

"He had a weak stomach and had been ordered to drink milk through the day to keep it settled."

The brother said Laurence had returned to his office Monday night after appointments elsewhere to sign his mail before going home.

"In this mail were several letters making appointments for the next few weeks," he said. "He had planned to make a trip to Washington Tuesday with an associate at the institute.

"He had a wonderful family with four kids and he loved his job. This investigation (the espionage probe) didn't bother him. He was a fighter. He laughed at it."

The executive committee of the Institute of International Education, which Laurence Duggan headed for the past two years, lauded him in a statement.

Phone Talks Continue binding.

The conciliators left the door open for changes in that plan, and thus evidently provided a basis for further conversation.

Frank P. Lonergan, vice-president of southwestern division 20, Communications Workers of America, accused the company late today of "deliberately trying to provoke a strike." He said the union was staying on in the conference room "in the public interest."

Company Opposes Plan

A telephone company spokesman said of the conciliator's plan for arbitration: "This proposal introduces into the panel the strong possibility of federal representation. We feel that the proper authority to dispose of this matter is in the hands of the states." He said the suggested composition of the panel "is wrong for a dispute so large and that contains so many issues."

Longergan snapped: "The company will not agree to anything but its own proposal."

A strike would not hit the larger cities nearly so hard as the smaller ones. In the last strike, 18 months ago, dial service was not seriously interrupted, but manual service was. Long distance service was hit hard.

Union Official Alerted

Union officials over the area have been alerted for strike action.

The union is asking for an average raise of 15 cents an hour, amounting to $6 a week. The company's offer ranges from $2 for 28,009 workers to $6 for 1,727 employees—an average of 6.5 cents.

Meanwhile, union telephone company workers in Tulsa and 32 easter Oklahoma towns and cities were placed on a 24-hour strike alert tonight by John A. Peterson, strike director for Communication Workers of America (Ind.) in eastern Oklahoma.

Peterson said the probable hour for a strike, if such action is taken will be at 6 a.m. He mentioned no date.

C. E. Loranger, Tulsa division manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone company, said "should a situation develop, the company will do everything possible to provide the utmost service to the public, although some emergency measures may have to be adopted."

"People are very kind," said one of the 34 new postgirls in Durban, South Africa, "they want us to sit and chat with them—and one woman offered me a daily bath to freshen up."

REUNITED FOR CHRISTMAS—Millard J. Allison, Canadian war hero who has been under sentence at Camp Hood, for deserting the peacetime U. S. Army, is reunited with his wife and two daughters, one-year-old Paula (left) and Austina, 2, around Christmas tree of their trailer-home in Fort Worth, after he was released on seven-day furlough. Another daughter, not shown, is ill with measles. Wednesday he was restored to full military status. (AP photo.)

chief defense attorney for Allison.

Allison, in Fort Worth with his family on emergency leave, is to report back to Camp Hood Jan. 4. One of his three children is ill with measles.

"At that time he can oegin a process to get a dependency discharge," Lucas said. The congressman said he would assist Allison in his bid for discharge.

"He won't get his sergeant's rank back," Lucas explained. "Men tried by general court martial automatically are reduced to grade of recruit."

"But his record is clean."

Lucas said he is "deeply gratified that General Christainsen has chosen to remit execution of this sentence and restore Allison to full military status.

"Wonderful Present"

"It is a happy culmination of a half year's hard work and worry. It will bring a wonderful Christmas not only to Allison and his family but to all of us who have been so interested in this case."

Allison showed little emotion when the news was relayed to him by a Star-Telegram reporter.

"You know how I feel," he said when asked. "It's a wonderful Christmas present."

He said his daughter Sandra, 6, ill with measles, seems to be doing fine.

Praises U. S. Army

"Austina (his two-year-old daughter) looks like she'll be broken out by morning," Allison said.

He said he planned to work on his discharge at once.

"I'll take affidavits back (to Camp Hood) with me if I can get them by then."

Allison and his family live in a trailer here. He has three daughters, Sandra, Austina, and Paula, who is one.

Here yesterday, with his family around him, Allison had said: "Give the Army a break. It's a good Army. I've got no bitterness. I've been treated square."

Allison is credited with killing 50 Germans in one afternoon of combat.

Boy Scouts To Help

On Saturday morning, Lubbock auto owners will be asked to drive to the distributing station. The address of this building will be kept secret until tomorrow. There have been break-ins at such places in the past, which is the reason for present secrecy.

Police Chief Lewis Kittrell is working out details to expedite the movement of the cars. These will be reported Friday.

But cars will be driven past the entrance of the distribution station. Boy Scouts will be on hand to put packages into cars.

Final List Given

The drivers will deliver them to the addresses on the packages. No one will be asked to make more than two or three deliveries. In most cases, the children will be waiting for their only Santa Claus of this Christmas to arrive.

It won't be necessary to call anyone about helping. Just be on hand. It will afford the opportunity for a heart-tugging experience to last a lifetime.

Truman Takes Work Home For Holidays

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Dec. 22. (AP)—President Truman came home today to spend Christmas.

He alighted from the "Independence," his white house plane, at the Fairfax airport, near Kansas City, to be greeted with a kiss from Mrs. Truman. She had preceded him here.

Then, spotting his daughter, Margaret, his face lit up.

"Hi, Baby," he said. He bestowed a kiss on his only child.

The airport was crowded with old friends and neighbors.

His brother, J. Vivian Truman of Grandview, stepped forward to grasp his hand, and they conversed for a few minutes after the handclapping of the crowd subsided. Then, he boarded an automobile with his wife and daughter for the 23-mile drive to the white frame home on Delaware street where he will eat Christmas turkey with the family.

The President left Washington at 9:07 a. m. (CST) with his wisn to reporters and photographers:

"I hope Santa Claus brings you everything you want."

In a merry, holiday mood, he carried gifts for the family and a brief case full of work for himself.

now at Bethesda naval hospital, was reported particularly concerned about attempts to link Duggan with the Communist espionage investigations.

Hull was the head of the State department during Duggan's entire career in the agency.

Committee Scored

The committee, meanwhile, came under attack from "Americans for Democratic Action" for making public Duggan's link with the espionage case after his death, and the committee itself became embroiled in an intra-mural fight over the same matter.

Joseph L. Rauh, jr., chairman of the ADA executive committee, declared in a letter to intoming House speaker Rayburn (D-Tex), that the slander of Duggan was "final tragic proof" that the House unit should be abolished. He urged Rayburn to use his influence to kill the committee.

Rauh wrote Rayburn that the "pious proposals" of Rep. Mundt (R-S.D.) for committee reforms were "utterly meaningless in the light of his inhuman and flippant statement following Mr. Duggan's death." Rauh continued:

"Mundt in an obvious attempt to keep his name in the papers boasted that the identity of other witnesses would be disclosed 'when they jumped out of the window'."

Former Lubbock Police Officer Returns To Visit Relatives

Special Agent Bill Mabray, Mrs. Mabray and their 13-months-old daughter are visiting relatives in Lubbock and Seagraves from Knoxville, Tenn., where Mabray is stationed with the FBI.

His mother is Mrs. Sinda Mabray of 2504 Twenty-eighth. Mrs. Mabray's mother is Mrs. O. H. Hearne of Seagraves. They flew here from Dallas by Braniff airliner, after a flight from Knoxville to Dallas to visit relatives.

A sister of Mrs. Mabray, Miss Marian Hearne, plans to go to Seagraves for a visit with her mother and the Mabrays over the holidays.

Mabray has been stationed at Knoxville two years, He had served with the FBI earlier, four wartime years beginning in 1941 when he was given leave from the police department here for that purpose. He served with the police from 1929 to 1941, and a two-year interim before returning to the FBI. He was assistant chief much of the time.

CONDITION IMPROVED

Don O. Bomar, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Bomar of 3213 Twentieth, Wednesday night was reported to be improving satisfactorily in Lubbock Memorial hospital, where he is receiving treatment for polio. The youth, a Lubbock Senior High school student, was admitted to the hospital Friday.

Conrad Ward Chosen To Head 20-30 Club

Conrad Ward was elected president of the 20-30 club when that organization held its weekly meeting Wednesday night at Hotel Lubbock.

Ward will take office for a six-month period Jan. 1. Other officers elected were not disclosed last night.

Members of the club are to work in the Salvation Army "Kettle House" today, and plans for the fund-raising campaign were made.

Ward reported on the trip taken last week by eight local 20-30 members to Amarillo, where they visited the Amarillo 20-30 club.

New Chinese Cabinet

was approved Wednesday by the Kuomintang (Nationalist party) central political council. President Chiang presided at the session.

Cabinet Enlarged

The Nationalist "inner cabinet" has been enlarged from two to six ministers without portfolio. In addition, 18 cabinet ministries and departments have been maintained in the new cabinet.

Minister of war in the new cabinet is Gen. Hsu Yung-Chang, principal of the national military academy, replacing Gen Ho Ying-Chin who resigned after armies under his direction sustained enormous losses.

Wu Teh-Chen, Kuomintang secretary general, serves as both vice-premier and foreign minister. He had earlier refused to serve in the cabinet but reconsidered at Sun Fo's urging.

Former Premiers Included

Shen Chang-Huan, director of the foreign ministry's protocol department, moved up to head the government information bureau, replacing the resigned Hollington K. Tong.

The finance ministry will be handled by a holdover from the last cabinet, Ksu Kan, while Hung Lan-Yu takes over the staggering job of policing the Nationalist home front as interior minister.

Mei Yi-Chi, president of the Nationalist university of Tsinghua outside Peiping, is the new education minister. His university has felt the fire from Communist assaults.

Members of the inner cabinet as ministers without portfolio are two former premiers, Chang Chun and Won Wen-Hao, as well as Chen Li-Fu, Chang Chih-Chung, Chang Li-seng and Chu Chia-Hua.

Chinese Counter Attack

The bold Communist raid to within 10 miles of the capital was staged by 2,000 Red troops in a raid on Hsiyuchin. The government claimed to have thrown out the Communists from the suburban town after inflicting heavy casualties.

Gen. Fu Tso-Yi's north China defenders which face an estimated 850,000 Red troops, were reportedly counter-attacking in a series of thrusts designed to relieve the siege pressure on Peiping and Tientsin.

Complete routing of a Communist spearhead from the Peiping suburb of Machuachaio was claimed by the government. The Reds were said to have sustained extensive losses in the engagement outside Peiping's walls.

Nanking Situation Grave

Similar counter-pressure was launched by the defenders of isolated Tientsin, 65 miles southwest of the former imperial capital of China.

They sought to lift the siege of the vital industrial center and river port. The government also claimed that large Nationalist reinforcements were reaching the city.

The situation near Nanking remained grave as Communists pressed their onset aimed at crossing the Yangtze to isolate Nanking and threaten Shanghai.

The government's claim of repulsing Communist forces east of Lake Hungtze, if substantiated, would mean the Red pincer drive on central China was being checked at least temporarily on its eastern flank.

Agreed Settlement In Damage Action Is Approved By Court

Agreed settlement in a damages action arising from a June 21 collision of two automobiles near Smyer, in Hockley county, was approved by Judge G. V. Pardue of 99th district court Wednesday afternoon.

Judge Pardue entered judgment of $3,000, which was apportioned, in the case of L. L. Lawson and Mrs. Lawson, individually, and Beverly Jan Lawson and Luther Lawson, minors, acting through C. J. McCarty as next friend, plaintiffs, against James L. Black and Joan Black, defendants.

The plaintiffs, of Lubbock county, were riding in a car owned and operated by W. P. Mann, at the time of the collision. The other car, owned by Black, was driven by his daughter Joan, the court was informed. Both defendants live in Hockley county. The plaintiffs, in a petition drawn by the Lubbock law firm of Anderson and Howard, represented to the court that they were injured in the mishap.

on, and the vehicle was in gear. The victim's father reported a .38 caliber revolver was missing from his residence, the sheriff said.

The dead man had taken a tractor to New Home for repairs this morning and left his car at his father's house. He apparently returned there, left the tractor and drove his car about one-half mile from his father's house, when it left the road. No fences bordered the road the sheriff said and it was impossible to be certain whether the car's leaving the road was accidental, or whether Renfroe deliberately drove off the road.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Renfroe were returning from New Home when Mrs. Renfroe remarked that the car in the field looked like the one driven by their son. The couple went on home and Mr. Renfroe returned to the parked car some time later and discovered the body.

Arrangements Incomplete

The body was taken to the Stanley Funeral home at Tahoka, but funeral arrangements had not been completed. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Irene Renfroe: a son, Delwin: a daughter, Bonnie: the mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Renfroe; three brothers, P. H. Sheriff Floyd said the investigation would be continued today.

peratures here today will range from a 32 minimum to a 60 degree maximum, and he believes that range will hold good for Christmas Eve, and probably Christmas Day, not that you will be around that last day. Partly cloudy to cloudy weather is forecast for the rest of the week.

South Plains residents don't have any grudges against the weatherman's failure to bring large quantities of precipitation, so be good to those fellows. They have been trying hard all year to wring moisture from scattered clouds, but without much luck.

Anyway, Sandy, er Santa, you still might be good to those guys. After all, we've got to depend on them for our forecasts the rest of the year. You might bring them a copper-plated, rust-proof rain gauge that is guaranteed to fill up at least once early in 1949. That will make the weather boys happy. As a matter of fact it would make everyone around here pretty happy Really, Santa, to paraphrase a currently popular song. . .

Mississippi Farmer Hunted After Four Persons Slain

LUCEDALE, Miss., Dec. 22. (AP)—Manhunts for a heavily armed farmer, wanted for questioning in the shotgun slayings of three members of his family and a sheriff, were being pressed in two states tonight.

Officers and bloodhounds scoured a heavily wooded area south of here on the trail of Murdock Hinton, 48. His divorced wife; their 18-year-old daughter, Gloria; Gloria's two-month-old daughter, Judy, and Sheriff J. E. Nelson were shot and killed at the Hinton home last night. The sheriff had gone home with Gloria to check on some "domestic trouble."

A second search was underway in a Mobile, Ala., suburb, 30 miles south of Lucedale. A man of Hinton's description was reported, and 20 police moved in on the suburb.

China Evacuees Arrive In U. S.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 22. (INS)—The biggest ship load of evacuees from the Far East since before the war landed in Seattle today from the Army transport Republic.

Aboard were 627 passengers from Shanghai and Yokohama. Among them were 42 "war brides" and 357 evacuees who fled the Chinese civil war.

The Republic also is the last ship to arrive before next Tuesday's deadline for arrival of war brides and their children outside the quotas for their countries.

Banker Aboard Ship

Among the "war brides" landing today was Christine Konstantinovno Koronina, 29, who will marry Manuel W. Ercolini, of San Francisco.

Another alien fiancee, who gave up her Yugoslav citizenship to come to the United States, is Petite Tamara V. Rogozarsky, 25. She will join her fiance, Ralph Towney, jr., a Marine stationed at Quantico, Va.

Also aboard the transport were Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe Pound and Charles F. Thomas, manager of the National City Bank of Shanghai.

Dr. Pound is a former dean of the Harvard law school. He had been advisor to the Chinese ministry of justice at Nanking since September. He and Mrs. Pound will return to Cambridge, Mass.

Thomas was accompanied by his nurse, Mrs. Ruby Cox. They will go to California and Arizona, where he will seek to recuperate from an illness.

"War Brides" Arrive

Miss Koronina was clad in a Chinese racoon coat and leather boots as she told newsmen how she met Ercolini at a Red Cross dance at Shanghai during the war.

After he left, they carried on a correspondence and became engaged by mail. She has not seen him for three years.

Miss Rogozarsky explained that she was born in Korea of Yugoslav parents. She said:

"To get a Chinese exit visa to come to the United States I had to give up my Yugoslav citizenship."

She arrived on a stateless passport.

Daring Rescue Made

peninsula about 150 miles south of Anchorage, was being flown to a hospital at the city Tuesday when the twin-engine Pacific Northern airlines plane was forced down on its emergency flight.

Pilot Jack Kellogg flashed radio distress signals.

Lt. Wier in the helicopter and Capt. Roy L. Holdiman, pilot of the C-64, were dispatched on the rescue mission. Holdiman was accompanied by co-pilot John J. Schifferer and Sgt. Clarence Rhodes.

Both planes landed safely despite the blizzard. Mrs. Johansen was moved to the Norseman, where she slept last night pending take-off attempts.

Instruments Freeze Up

Capt. Holdiman made four attempts to take off and on the last try got into the air. Then his instruments froze. Fearful of trying to fly blind to Anchorage in the blizzard, Holdiman kept circling in an effort to get back to the lake surface.

He avoided cracking up only because Lt. Wier, who stayed behind with his helicopter, stood out in sub-zero weather on the windswept lake, hold his flashlight skyward.

The plane came down so suddenly that Wier had to throw himself on the ice to escape being cut down by the propellors.

Test Take-off Fails

The marooned rescue crew, with the expectant mother in the early stages of labor, huddled together in the C-64 during the night.

The howling winds had increased to such an extent that they determined to try a test take-off without putting Mrs. Johansen aboard. On this take-off the plane cracked up in the 50-mile gale, washing out the ski-equipped landing gear and propellors on the twin-engined plane.

Wier and Capt. Brown determined to try getting Mrs. Johansen out with the helicopter made a successful take-off between gusts.

Army officials expressed concern over the fate of the four flyers left behind. Weather conditions have worsened. The winds have reached 70 miles an hour and the rescue crew lacks proper supplies and equipment to withstand the ordeal by blizzard.

Mrs. Johansen's husband remained on his homestead, unaware of the dangers his wife encountered.

Lubbock Residents Escape Injuries In Two Accidents

No injuries were reported as a result of two minor automobile collisions in the city Wednesday afternoon and night.

A 1948 sedan driven by Henry A. Ricks, 67, of 3006 Twenty-second and a 1935 coupe driven by Herman R. Laxson, 18, of 1924 Seventh, were in collision about 3:09 p. m. Wednesday at the intersection of College Ave. and Twenty-eighth.

Both vehicles were going south on College. The first was making a left turn off the thoroughfare onto Twenty-eighth. The second vehicle hit the right front fender of the first. No charges were filed, police department records showed.

Automobiles driven by Clarence D. Staggs, 21, of 1716 Ave. J and Dwight Wolfforth, 38, of 1906 Twenty-eighth, were in collision about 6:11 p. m. Wednesday at Sixteenth and Ave. G.

Staggs' vehicle was going north on Ave. G, and Wolfforth's vehicle was going east on Sixteenth. The first car hit the right rear fender of the second, causing some damage.

Staggs was given a ticket for failure to grant right of way, city police department reported.

U. S. Farm Land Values Continue Upward Trend, New Study Shows

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—Farm real estate values still are going up.

The Agriculture Department today reported an increase on a national basis of two percent during the four months ended Nov. 1. This sent the index to a new high of 177 (1912-14 equals 100).

The index on Nov. 1 was eight percent above a year earlier and 113 percent above the 1935-39 average.

Compared with a year ago only two states showed declines: California (5 percent) and Florida (6 percent). This was attributed to lower prices for citrus and truck crops.

Most Over 1920 Peak

Farm values on Nov. 1 exceeded the 1920 peak in all but 12 states.

Current values in North Carolina and Alabama were estimated to be about 50 percent higher than the 1920 peak. Increases of about 40 percent were reported for Rhode Island, New Jersey, Kentucky and California.

South Dakota stood out among the states below the 1920 peak. Current values there were only 54 percent as high. Missouri and Iowa ranked next at 71 and 72 percent, respectively, of the 1920 level. Other states below 1929 are North Dakota, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Nevada, Utah, Georgia and South Carolina.

Increase Areas Scattered

Increases of four percent or more during the July-November period took place in eight widely scattered states. Those showing the biggest increases were Montana (7 percent), Louisiana (6 percent), Oregon, Oklahoma and Georgia (5 percent).

The November level of land values in the corn belt and in most of the southeastern states was only one percent above July. Values in the west south central states, (Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas) were up about 3 percent. Declines shown during the last year for Florida and California were stopped.

Rains Ease Drouth In Some Sections

AUSTIN, Dec. 22 (UP) — Light to moderate rains have relieved drought conditions and improved prospects for small grains, cover crops and pastures over most of the eastern half of Texas, the United States Department of Agriculture reported today.

The Department, in a weekly crop and weather bulletin, said that moisture was sufficient in these areas to germinate small grains that were not yet sprouted. Crops that were up to a stand were reported making some growth.

In the northern three tiers of counties on the high plains, the wheat crop was reported holding out well. However, in the southern high plains and most of the low rolling plains, the crop was suffering as the dry weather continued for the week ending Dec. 20.

The progress of hardy vegetables continued in most areas. However, in the non-irrigated coastal bend country, surface moisture remained inadequate for satisfactory progress of such crops as beets, cabbage, carrots and late planted spinach.

Correspondent Almost Places Blame For Hunting Accident

ORANGE, Dec. 22. (AP)—The Orange Leader's Bridge City correspondent didn't exactly place the blame for the accident but he aparently had his suspects cornered.

The correspondent's mail report today included this item:

"Robert E. Bailey escaped possible injury while hunting recently when he fired both sides of his doublebarreled shotgun in rapid succession. One shell blew the end of the barrel off and the other blasted a hole in the side. Bailey, the father of three small sons, attributed the incident to pecans in the barrels."

Many Officials Are Claimed Not Covered By New Salary Law

AUSTIN, Dec. 22 (AP) — Justices of the peace, county judges, county attorneys and district clerks do not come under provisions of the newly-adopted constitutional amendment requiring salaries rather than fees be paid law-enforcement officers, an attorney general's opinion said today.

These exempted officers, the opinion said, may still be compensated on a fee basis; but if they are, money appropriated by the 50th legislature for apportionment to counties paying salaries may not be used to pay sheriff's salaries in those counties paying other county officers on a fee basis.

The opinion said, however, that the state comptroller is authorized to pay counties from another appropriation those fees earned by a sheriff or constable when other county officers are paid on a fee basis. Such fees would go to county funds.

The legal questions were asked by State Comptroller George H Sheppard.

Another opinion by the attorney general told Swisher county attorney Dennis Zimmerman that the amount of salaries paid to constables under terms of the amendment "is left to the sound discretion of the commissioners courts." Whether $1 a year salaries would constitute an abuse of discretion, the opinion said is "a fact question depending upon the circumstances of each case."

In a third opinion on the amendment to Harrison county attorney Sam B Hall, the attorney general said a constable may be paid a maximum salary of $2,200 in the $50,900-inhabitant county if that county elects the salary plan for all its officers. If it choses the fee plan for some of its officers, the constables' salaries would be at the discretion of the commissioners' court.

Legislative Fight To Boost Old Age Pensions Seen

Welfare Department Sets Stage For Issue; Opposition Talked

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Dec. 22—A new effort to raise the ceiling on old age pension spending in Texas loomed today as a certain issue for the 51st legislature.

Statistical groundwork for such a demand was laid in the annual report of the Department of Public Welfare to Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

It said that individual payments for old age assistance will have to be reduced if the number of pensioners increases and no new money is made available.

The Welfare department made no recommendation. Its report merely said:

"It is evident that increasing assistance rolls without a corresponding increase in appropriations for assistance will mean that the standards of assistance can not be increased, and, in time, that the payment to each individual must be decreased."

The last legislature appropriated all the constitution will allow for public welfare. This constitutional ceiling is 35 million dollars a year. It is matched by federal money.

The fight in the next session may hinge on the question of deliberalizing Texas' pension laws. There will be a faction contending that ceilings should not be raised. It will urge laws tightening up on eligibility to reduce rolls. Texas law now forbids inquiry into the ability of children to support their parents. The value of a homestead can not be considered in determining eligibility to receive a pension, although income from a homestead (such as when its is a farm) may be.

Vote Is Favored

Advocates of higher old age pensions will come before the legislature fighting any effort to increase the restrictions, and urging a constitutional amendment to raise the ceiling on how much the state may contribute.

Gov. Jester has said he would favor submission of the ceiling question to the people. He has not advocated anything but submission of the matter to a vote.

The Welfare department's annual report furnished ammunition for both sides of any legislative dispute over increasing pension payments. Among other things it noted that several states in the past two years have cut their pension rolls by making eligibility more stringent. The report called the Texas law "relatively liberal" so far as qualifications for aid are concerned.

Texas' expenditures for old age assistance have increased from 44.7 million dollars in 1944 to 73.9 million in the fiscal year 1948 (including federal funds). In the fiscal year 1948, payments averaged $30.73 per month to an average of 201,510 recipients.

During the year, 29,621 cases were added to the pension rolls.

Annual Community Christmas Trees Set Here Today

Two annual community Christmas trees are scheduled today, with Santa Claus and his helper passing out candy and balloons to every child who attends.

The City Recreation department will sponsor the trees. One of which will be in Fellowship hall at the First Presbyterian church from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m. and the other at the Community Center, Sixth and Ave. B, from 3 to 5 p. m. Santa Claus will be present at the First Presbyterian church and his helper will be present at the Community Center.

Each event will be "come and go" type, with parents and older children bringing small children any time during the scheduled time of the trees. The children may stay as long as they like and each child will have an opportunity to talk to Santa Claus, it was announced. Santa Claus will have toys for children to play with while visiting him.

"This is not for the underprivileged children. It is for every child living in Lubbock," the City Recreation department announced. Need has nothing to do with whether children go to see Santa Claus at the annual trees.

"Santa extends a special invitation for all the children to be sure and come to his tree as it will be the last opportunity that they will have to visit with him while he is in Lubbock," it was stated.

Andrews Field Given Extension

A mile southeast extension to the Parker field of Central Andrews county was completed by Fred W. Shield, of San Antonio.

The new producer is his No. 1 Armstrong, 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 10, block A-43, psl survey.

Shield ran a 24-hour pumping potential test on this project, producing 130.98 barrels of oil plus three-tenth of one per cent water.

As the gas-oil ratio was insufficient to be of consequence, it was not measured. Gravity of the petroleum was 30 degrees.

The pay section, at 4,605-4,640 feet in the San Andres lower Permian, was acidized with 7,000 gallons before the test.

This well is approximately two miles southwest of the town of Andrews.

To Complete Opener

Lion Oil Company No. 2 E. C. McLaughlin, southwest Scurry county discovery for flowing oil from a lime section in the Pennsylvanian, is preparing to run 7-inch casing and complete as a new field opener.

This exploration, located 10 miles southwest of Snyder, four miles west of the one-well Schattell field, and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 197, block 97, H&TC survey, is bottomed at 6,610 feet in line.

A Schlumberger survey has been run, and operator has ordered casing run.

The project flowed oil at the estimate rate of at least 20 barrels per hour, through a seven-eighth inch choke, on a drillstem test at 6,578.5-6,610 feet. No water was developed.

It was reported, following that test, that the venture would be drilled deeper. That plan was changed and operator decided to complete the wildcat on the current bottom of 6,610 feet.

Discovery Indicated

Placid Oil Company No. 1 Davis, indicated discovery from two lime zones in the Pennsylvanian in North-Central Scurry county, six and one-half miles north and slightly east of Snyder, was drilling ahead below 7,722 feet in Mississippian lime.

The prospector ran a one hour drillstem test at 7,633-76 feet. There was a blow of air for a part of the period. Recovery

CANDY COMPANY PLANS EXPANSION PROGRAM

Lubbock Factory Makes 403,200 Marshmallows Each Day For Distribution In Seven-State Area

BY BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

A marshmallow factory—the only one of its kind between Dallas and the West Coast—is one of Lubbock's newer and most unusual industries, and fluffy marshmallows are now being distributed in seven states, with expansion to four other states slated for shortly after the first of the year.

Frank E. McElroy and J. D. Cates of the Cates-McElroy Candy company began producing sugar-kist marshmallows last June. Now their busy factory turns out 403,200 marshmallows a day. That's 700 cases.

White Christmas Certain

Their product, along with another familiar item, candy orange slices, goes to Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Kansas, Oklahoma and Southern Missouri, not to mention Texas.

After January 1 they plan to expand into Tennessee, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama.

Whether or not West Texas has a white Christmas, the marshmallow factory at 1713 Ave. F is sure to have one. It's full of the snow-white raw materials of which snow-white marshmallows are made.

The process requires a huge amount of complicated machinery. The first step is to mix sugar and glucose, or corn syrup, in a large kettle, where it is stirred and beaten. Then it goes to a beater, where gelatin and flavoring are added.

The mixture weighs 10 pounds to the gallon before it is whipped. After whipping, the fluffy mixture weighs only 3 pounds 8 ounces to the gallon.

The marshmallow molds are set in starch from six to eight hours. Then powdered sugar is sifted over them and they are conveyed to a packaging machine, where they are fed into cellophane packages, 30 to 33 marshmallows to the package.

They are scarcely touched by human hands during the entire manufacturing process.

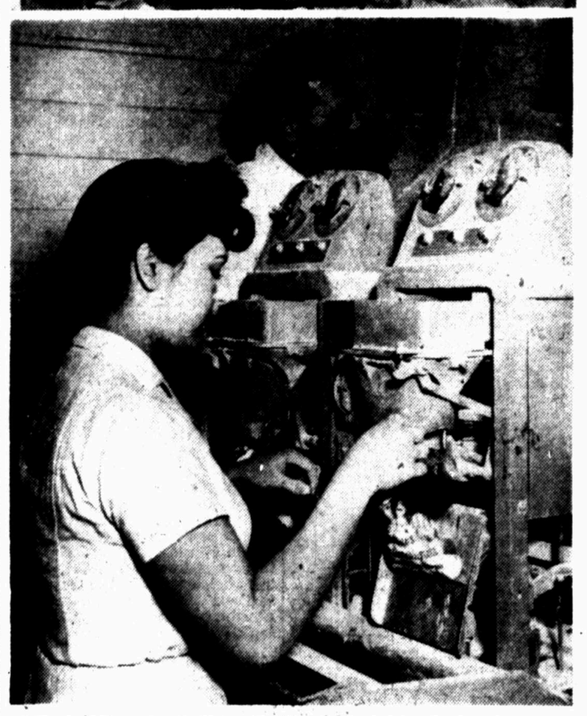

Latest developments in marshmallow manufacture are embodied in the Lubbock plant. One example is a "starch cleaner," which sifts the special starch through nylon screens before it is used. This eliminates dark particles which are occasionally found on some marshmallows.

When Cates and McElroy went into the marshmallow business they obtained the services of John Benny, plant superintendent, who moved here from California after having worked for a large plant there for many years.

The cases of marshmallows are sold through brokers, wholesalers and jobbers.

Cates and McElroy have already made plans to add three new items to their list. They haven't announced what they are, but they will be along the same general line as the orange slices.

Sharp Battles For Important Senate Posts Are Foreseen

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—Both Republicans and Democrats in the new Senate may do some hot scrapping among themselves before they settle down to party line fighting.

In the making are contests for:

1. The post of Senate president pro tempore, mostly an honorary job so long as there is a vice president to preside over the chamber. Friends of Senator Tydings of Maryland are trying to put him in the spot which Senator McKellar of Tennessee held until the Republicans took control of Congress two years ago.

2. The minority (GOP) floor leadership. This is the one that may cause the most fireworks if Senator Wherry of Nebraska decides to fight for the job.

Wherry Keeps Counsel

Wheery is keeping his own counsel, but friends said the Nebraskan is not taking kindly to a campaign to shove him back into his old post as assistant leader.

In the last session, Wherry served as acting leader because Senator White of Maine was ill. White did not seek reelection.

Ever since last month's election upset, self-styled liberals among the Republicans have been more or less openly clamoring for Wherry's scalp. Wherry also is said to have incurred the opposition of Senator Vandenberg of Michigan because of some of his votes against certain foreign policy proposals sponsored by Vandenberg.

On the other hand, Senator Taft of Ohio—who appears likely to be re-elected chairman of the GOP policy committee—has told friends he prefers Wherry.

Own Candidate Talked

The self-dubbed liberal group has been talking of putting up their own candidate against Wherry. Those mentioned in this connection include Senators Baldwin of Connetcicut, Lodge and Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Knowland of California.

On the other hand, some veteran members of the Senate have been talking about a shift which would make Vandenberg — the retiring president pro-tem — chairman of the GOP conference, Senator Millikin of Colorado the floor leader instead of conference chairman and Wherry the assistant leader.

Bayed at from two sides, Wherry apparently is getting ready to fight for a stake he thinks may be a big one for him.

The Nebraskan pitched his successful re-election campaign in part on the promise that his state would have its first full-fledged representation in the Senate's top leadership if he was returned to Washington.

The party members who describe themselves as liberals already are letting Millikin know that they want a bigger voice in shaping GOP policy in the new Congress.

The Colorado senator acknowledged that he has received at least one letter on that matter from a dissatisfied colleague. Millikin would not go into detail, but the letter is said to contain a demand that there be frank and open discussion of the leadership slate before any action on it.

Senator Flanders (R-Vt) said he plans to talk to Millikin along that line. He asserted the election outcome "justifies giving the liberals in the Senate greater representation in the party councils."

Keep Fingers Crossed

A McKellar-Tydings fight, if one developes, also might involve more than two scrapping personalities. Some administration supporters are keeping their fingers crossed lest it open old civil rights wounds.

While both McKellar and Tydings supported President Truman in the campaign, most southerners could be expected to string along with McKellar in a showdown battle with a border state contender.

McKellar, who will be 80 in June, has announced publicly he would be happy to resume the pro-tem office as well as the chairmanship of the appropriations committee.

Tydings, 21 years younger, told a reporter yesterday:

"If the senators desire to elect me to this post, I would accept it as a very great honor."

Oklahoma Gets Lion's Share Of Inaugural Parade Tickets

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (U.P.)—An Oklahoma City oil man has bought the biggest single block of tickets to the Presidential Inaugural parade, the Inaugural committee reported today.

The oil man, H. W. McNeil, sent in checks totalling $2,500, to buy 250 choice seats in the Governors' section. The Oklahomans who will use the tickets will come to Washington by special train.

McNeil is chairman of the Truman-Barkley Clubs of Oklahoma.

Indonesians Claimed To Have Planned Drive Against Dutch

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The plot thickens in Indonesia. Certain facts are coming to light now, and allegations have been made, which, if proved, may put a totally different complexion on the Dutch "police action" than now obtains.

For the first time, so far as I know, public reference was made yesterday to an alleged Indonesian plan for "large scale military operations" against the Dutch, to begin in January. The statement was made by J. H. Van Roven, the young and brilliant Dutch representative to the United Nations.

Documents Produced

Actually, according to diplomatic sources in Washington, the existence of this plan has been known for nearly three months.

A large file of papers, documents, instructions and army orders, purporting to set forth the details of the plan are in the hands of the Dutch. They are written in Malay, and photographed, and their authenticity, therefore, has not yet been proved.

However, they presumably blueprinted a program of sabotage, infiltration of Dutch territory on Java, and assassination of some officials of the other Indonesian governments.

The actual divisions assigned to carry out the program were named, according to this information. It has been stated that 11,000 republican troops had already crossed into Dutch territory before the "police action" started.

A responsible Dutch authority also said that no fewer than 300 Indonesians, serving in the administrations of the other Indonesian states, were assassinated by the republic since last August.

Why has this information, if it is authentic, been brought to light only at this date? No answer on that.

Additional Federal Judge For Southern Texas To Be Asked

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—The judicial conference of the United States will ask the next Congress to authorize an additional federal judge for southern Texas.

The conference will ask for a total of five more judges for U. S. circuit courts and 18 more for district courts. The judicial conference is made up of Chief Justice Vinson and the senior judges of each of the ten federal circuit courts.

These 23 additional judges, the conference says, represent the "absolute minimum increase in judgesships necessary to adequately man the courts and to provide for the continued efficient and orderly processing of the business of the courts."

Judge Says Heart Of Denver No Place For Drilling Oil Wells

DENVER, Dec. 22. (INS)—An oil driller who hopes to have a million dollar strike inside Denver by Christmas, was under court order today to stop drilling operations at once.

Henry Thibault was ordered by District Judge Francis J. Knauss to stop operations in a residence B zone.

The driller, however, declared that his men had found traces of oil at the 1,240-foot level, just 40 minutes before the court order was served by Sam Polk of the city attorney's office this morning.

Denver's Christmas Present

Said Thibault:

"We are not far from a fortune. I would like to give Denver a million dollar Christmas present."

Replied Polk:

"You are not far from a jail cell, if you should be held in contempt of court."

The driller said the city would have to pay him $600 a day, which—according to his estimates—it would cost to shut-down drilling operations. He also argues that the state gave him mineral rights to the land, and this supersedes a city zoning ordinance. But Denver authorities base their arguments on the fact the city is under home rule.

Thibault said he does not intend to seek legal advice.

$500,000 Fire Razes Main Building Of Denver Club

DENVER, Dec. 22. (INS) — Fire today leveled the main clubhouse of Lakewood country club just west of Denver, causing an estimated one-half million dollar loss.

The framework of the structure—a Denver showplace—blazed for nearly two hours while firemen unsuccessfully attempted to check the flames.

Roy Marshall, 59, a locker room attendant, was the only one reported injured. He suffered head lacerations.

Club president George E. Stephens, who estimated the amount of damage, said the building was well-covered with insurance.

The average small motor has more than 150 parts.

Conditional Pardons Granted By Jester

AUSTIN, Dec. 22. (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester today announced the following clemency actions upon recommendation of the board of pardons and paroles:

Conditional pardons granted:

Jose M. Lopez, sentenced to five years in 1947 from Bexar county for murder with malice. To Fort Bend county.

McKinley Harre, sentenced to five years in 1947 from Harris county for burglary and theft. To Mitchell county.

John Mitchell Ross, sentenced to seven years in 1947 from Randall, Castro, Swisher, Lamb, Hardeman and Motley counties for robbery by assault, robbery and burglary. To Swisher county.

Harry Mayo, sentenced to four years in 1930 from Jefferson county for burglary and felony theft. Out-of-state conditional pardon to Pennsylvania; Texas "hold" order cancelled; subject escaped from Harlem state farm in 1931 and is now serving a life sentence in Pennsylvania. Senior parole officer states that subject is now eligible for commutation of sentence in that state.

Conditional pardon revoked:

Cecil Cheatham, sentenced to two years on January 13, 1948, from Harris county for forgery. (Report now on file shows subject is wanted by Houston police department for forgery; that he has not been located by the police; that he is not living at the address given the parole authorities, and that he worked only one day for the employer shown on his last report).

'Ike' Hopes To Be Retired To Cabin In Woods By 1952

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (INS) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, wartime supreme Allied commander in Europe and currently president of Columbia university, expressed tacit approval today of the execution of Tojo and other Japanese war lords.

He said in Chicago:

"They lost no time on that."

Eisenhower passed through Chicago enroute to Denver to spend the Christmas holidays with the relatives of his wife.

Of his political future, the general said:

"By 1952, I hope to be retired in a cabin in the woods."

Barkley Leaves By Plane For Germany

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP) — Vice president elect Alben Barkley left by plane today for Christmas with the troops in Germany.

Air Force Secretary Stuart Symington, Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, screen comedian Bob Hope and his wife, and radio commentator Elmer Davis also made the flight. Hope will entertain the troops.

Barkley said "we are going to Germany to express our appreciation to the men of the airlift and the occupation army for the excellent job they are doing over there."

He also issued an appeal that Americans help feed, clothe and shelter the children of Germany and Austria.

Barkley said the party planned to have Christmas eve dinner in Wiesbaden with Gen. Lucius Clay, U. S. commander in Germany. They propose to be in Berlin Christmas day.

Foreigners Given Legal Equality With Mexicans In Pending Bill

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 22. (AP)—Legal equality with Mexicans is given United States citizens and other foreigners in a pending bill regulating professions.

The much debated bill went to the Senate today after adoption of many amendments by the chamber of deputies.

The bill sets up administrative and examining boards which may accept foreign degrees from doctors, dentists, lawyers, engineers and other technicians.

A similar law was adopted a year ago but never became fully effective. It was designed to eliminate the hundreds of persons practicing medicine without degrees.

Opponents of the old law and the present bill contend both may be used to bar foreign scientific talent, which they say is much needed in Mexico.

Louisiana's 'Million Dollar' Platform Yields Second Well

HOUSTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—Humble Oil and Refining company today announced completion of a second oil producer on its million dollar platform eight miles off Grand Isle, Louisiana.

The well, number 3 State, block 18, flowed at the rate of 625 barrels daily of 35.7 gravity crude on a potential test on 7/32 inch choke.

Drilled to a total depth of 9424 feet, salt was topped at 9374 and completion was made through perforations at 9221-36 feet.

Gas ratio was 609-1, with tubing flowing pressure of 1475 pounds.

On August 15, Humble brought in its first tidelands well on the Grand Isle platform, construction of which cost $1,8000,000.

The initial well flowed at a rate of 806 barrels daily, 30.9 gravity, at 8640-65 feet. Total depth was 8951.

Andrews Field

was 10 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water reported.

This wildcat is to continue until it finds and explores the Ellenburger. That section is expected at any time. If it fails to produce operator will plug back and complete from the pay formations already penetrated which developed some free oil.

Lease Is Reported

An oil and gas lease on approximately 50,000 acres of unleased land in the Edwards T-Bar ranch in West-Central Lynn county, has been taken by James S. Noland of Midland, according to unofficial sources.

This report has not been officially verified. Terms of the lease, and consideration involved have not been learned.

The block sets in a short distance west of the town of Tahoka.

No information is available as to what Noland plans to do with the property.

MAN KILLED AT LAREDO

LAREDO, Dec. 22 (AP) — Jose Angel Martinez, 64, was fatally injured here last night when struck by an automobile. James Haynes, jr., driver of the car and who rendered aid and summoned an ambulance, was released on $1,000 bond on a charge of negligent homicide. The victim had lived here 40 years. He was a native of Saltillo, Mexico.

One-fifth of the food needs of the United States is furnished by dairy products.

Car Industry Expected To Miss Output Record By 72,000 Units

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

DETROIT, Dec. 22.—The car industry loses some production ground this week but it will miss a record this year by only about four days' output.

As closely as can be estimated, the 1948 total will come to 5,282,000 cars and trucks. That would be only about 72,000 vehicles short of the 1929 record mark; the figures are unofficial and will be revised upward or downward later.

Cutting into the volume of the final two weeks of the year is the plan of most companies to operate only four days this week and next. Also curtailing production are the halting of more Chevrolet assembly operations and the closing of Pontiac's home plant for new model work.

Also holding down this week's output is the interruption to Ford and Mercury output due to a fire in one of the company's major assembly units in nearby Dearborn.

The industry hasn't—and probably won't for a long time—come near the passenger car output it achieved in 1929.

In that year the factories, working three shifts and six days a week, built 4,587,000 passenger automobiles in the United States. So far in 1948 the assembly plants have assembled about 3,810,000 cars and 1,345,000 trucks.

But if the factories have missed an output volume record this year they have set a new one in dollar volume. Although unit output this year will be below that of 1929 its dollar value will more than double that of the record year.

Automobile Manufacturers' association figures put the wholesale value of the 5,358,420 vehicles built in 1929 at $3,413,148,206. This year's expected 5,282,000 output will have a value of close to $7,000,000,000.

Amarillo Man Slightly Burned As Fire Damages Dallas Hotel

DALLAS, Dec. 22. (AP) — One man suffered first degree burns about the face and guests on an entire floor of the Southland Hotel were evacuated at 2:30 a. m. today when fire was discovered in an eighth floor room.

Firemen said the evacuation was orderly and that the fire was confined to the one room and a part of the hall. Homer E. Self, Amarillo, a hotel guest, was being treated at Parkland hospital for burns.

The fire was quickly quenched. Damage was set at $2,750. Firemen said the blaze started in the bed in Self's room.

VA To Be Given Navy Hospital At Houston

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP)—The Veterans administration said today it will take over the Navy's 1,000-bed hospital at Houston, Texas.

The agency said it has cancelled plans to build its own 1,000-bed neuropsychiatric hospital in that city.

Benefits Listed

Veterans administrator Carl R. Gray, jr., said transfer of the naval hospital to veterans use will:

1. Save $21,000,000 in construction costs.
2. Avoid operation of two large neuropsychiatric hospitals in the same community.
3. Enable the Veterans administration to meet a critical need for beds for mentally ill veterans of the Houston area two years earlier than would otherwise have been possible.

The Veterans administration has been using facilities of the naval hospital since its completion in 1946, Gray said. Of 530 patients currently under treatment, 330 are veterans.

The hospital has a capacity of 500 beds in permanent-type buildings and 500 beds in buildings of high class, semi-permanent type.

HST And Dewey Switch Roles In Talks At Capital Dinner

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 22—The passing show:

Men who attended the recent brilliant gridiron dinner in Washington are still talking about the historic switch of roles, involving the night's two speakers.

Mr. Dewey, the staunch disciple of unity throughout the campaign, turned in a witty, sardonic yet folksy talk. Mr. Truman, who responded, was dead serious, spoke of unity.

New York Has Enough Snow

The best place to dream of a White Christmas in Manhattan's main shopping district is the pavement in front of Best & Co. The pavement there is nothing more than a large, cement electric blanket. It is kept at a temperature calculated to discourage White Christmases.

The condition of New York streets and gutters after the big fall the other day, the resultant loss to local merchants and the enormous cost of removing the stuff (hundreds of thousands of dollars per inch) have caused many persons to re-examine the lyrics of Irving Berlin's Yuletide masterpiece. Maybe the city will ban the song in '49.

If somebody came along now with a song entitled "I'm Dreaming Of A Dry Christmas," or "I'm Dreaming Of A White Christmas Without Snow," well, sir, it would be right up there, if you can stand a race phrase.

Church Is Built

This is not a charity appeal. There are so many fine organizations and individuals in need of your generosity that it's not fair to single out any one. Nor is it possible to print the whole list.

But a nice lady called up yesterday to ask the proper address of Father Ambrose Hyland, padre of "The Church of the Good Thief." We had a piece about him here just a year ago, and it resulted in a couple thousand dollars worth of small gifts and checks being sent to him for distribution among what he fondly calls "the boys." The nice lady wanted to do something again.

Father Hyland is the man who made a dream come true in granite. As a chaplain of rough and tumble Dannemora (N.Y.) prison, he decided that he could best serve his God and the men entrusted to his care if he built a church and named it after Dismas, the "good thief" who died with Christ on Calvary.

The inmates themselves built the church, and through that act have found a kind of redemption which has received serious study from penal authorities. An old cold-chisel man became a sculptor of sacred statuary; a painter of obscenities learned to paint the saints; a hoodlum made the choir; another removed the ruby-red lens from the stop-light on the warden's car and leaded it into one of the superb stained-glass windows. Everybody wanted to work, and did.

Father Hyland tries to give the guys something every Christmas, to help show them they have another chance. For the benefit of the lady who inquired, his address is Clinton Reformatory, Dannemora, N. Y.

Surprising lot of mail (for me, at least) resulted from a recent piece on television vs. movies.

People who say they are not going to movies as they once did assert it is not because of television. They say (1). The movies aren't good enough, and (2). They cost too much.

Mrs. Alger Hiss's testimony before the grand jury which recently indicted her husband was not made public, of course. But it probably followed her testimony of last summer, when she was questioned by the House Un-American Activities committee.

On that occasion, about all she could remember of Whittaker Chambers was that she didn't like him. She was vague about when she met him, how long he had sub-let the Hiss apartment (if he did), how long he and his wife had visited the Hisses, the year of the visit, and a Washington-to-New York train-ride involving the two families.

But Mrs. Hiss did remember she was "put out," as she said. Rep. Nixon asked her, "about what?"

"Well," she said, "I think the polite word for it is probably I think he was a spon[illegible]

Approvals For Soil Conservation Started

Issuance of approvals of soil practices under the 1949 government program in this county has started at the Agricultural Conservation association (ACA) office here, it was announced yesterday by Walter Y. Wells, county administrator.

Wells said the approvals are effective on work that will not be completed until after first of the year. The program is a part of the government's effort to induce farmers to adopt practices that will conserve soil and build up fertility.

Payments vary, depending on the practices involved, and a large number of practices are permissible, but Wells is particularly interested at present in land chiseling, for which the program pays $1.50 an acre for a minimum chiseling depth of 12 inches.

He cautioned that payment cannot be made for the work unless approval of a practice is secured before the work is started, and said he will be glad to be of assistance in working out practices. The office is located in the Agriculture building at Fourteenth and Ave. Q.

8,000,000 WORDS OF TESTIMONY RECORDED

International Trial Of Japanese Warlords Was Longest In World's History Of Recorded Law

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
INS Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Dec. 23 (Thursday) — The trial that resulted in the hanging today of seven top Japanese war criminals was the longest in the history of recorded law.

More than eight million words of testimony and charges were entered into the record before the 11-nation Far East tribunal.

It all began May 3, 1946, when Tojo and 27 others were arraigned in Tokyo's war ministry building.

World Scene Changed

Of the defendants, two died during the trial, one went insane, seven received the death penalty and were hanged today. 16 were sentenced to life imprisonment, and the remaining two received lesser prison terms.

Changes on the international scene since 1946 played an important part in the case against Tojo and his colleagues.

Hatreds left over from the war subsided somewhat in two years and fear of a new war has grown.

Defense attorneys for the Japanese seized upon the present day tension to argue that Tojo and the others in the dock were forced into the path of violence by the same threat endangering world peace today.

Trial Covered 15-Year Span

Throughout the proceedings neither side bulged an inch from its original stand.

In his opening volley, chief prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan of the United States asked for the maximum penalty and branded the defendants "assassins." In the original indictment, 16 of the defendants were charged specifically with murdering Rear Admiral Isaac Campbell Kidd and nearly 4,000 American sailors and soldiers in the Pearl Harbor onslaught.

The defense hammered at the theme of Japan's old wartime propaganda claiming "self-defense" against encirclement by the ABCD powers—America, Britain, China and the Dutch.

Proceedings covered in detail Japan's 15-year span of history from the conquest of Manchuria in 1931 to the ignominious surrender aboard the USS Missouri in September, 1945.

Strange Assortment

Five days a week, winter and summer, rain or shine, the band of small inconspicious looking Japanese were herded from their cells in Sugamo prison into an American bus for the drive to the courtroom under military police guard.

The defendants were a strange assortment of soldiers, diplomats, bureaucrats and master spies—most of whose names, except Tojo's were unfamiliar to the American public.

They were singled out as major war crimes suspects because prosecutors from the 11 nations felt they typified in aims and actions the brutality and ruthless aggression that was the trade mark of the Rising Sun emblem.

It took the prosecution from May, 1946 until the end of January, 1947 to present its charges of aggression, murder, and "numerous crimes against humanity" on the part of the men who ruled the "most treacherous and perfidious nation of all time."

The prosecution was hampered by the loss of vital documents burned by the Japanese before Allied occupation troops landed and was forced to spread its search for incriminating evidence to the ends of the earth.

Premiers and puppet emperors, newspapermen and diplomats—109 witnesses in all—were called to the bar of international justice by the prosecution.

Eyewitnesses told the story of Japanese aggression in China, of the border clashes with Russia and the climatic Japanese sweep south and westward that set the Pacific ablaze with World War II.

Christmas Program Presented At Rotary Club Luncheon

A Christmas program that included carols by the choir of St. Paul's Episcopal church and a Christmas address by Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of Texas Tech college, was presented at the luncheon of the Rotary club Wednesday at the Hilton hotel.

The choir, under direction of Elton Plowman, with Mrs. Plowman at the piano, sang five numbers, then following Dr. Jones address, closed with "Silent Night" as a benediction.

Speaking on "The Heart of Christmas Is the Heart," Dr. Jones believes that giving is the major source of pleasure at Christmas, and that sincerity in the giving marks the degree of pleasure.

W. W. Rix was program chairman. Visiting Rotarians included Howard F. Parke of Napoleon, Ohio, Mike and Lloyd Wicks of Ralls, M. S. Doss of Seminole, Mancil Hall, Vic Streetman, Bill Chesher and V. Peterson, all of Littlefield; Arthur Kreiss of Floydada, Scudder Hull of Sedalia, Mo., and Dr. Ira Woods of Littlefield, district Rotary governor.

Club President Irving L. Jones was in the chair, with invocation by Dr. H. I. Robinson.

Nubbins Surprises Doctors To Observe 'Normal' Christmas

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 22 —(INS)— A brown-eyed, snub-nosed little boy in Cheyenne will tear the bright wrappings from his Christmas gifts this year without the spectre of "borrowed time" to mar his happiness.

Forrest (Nubbins) Hoffman, 7, for three Christmases past has celebrated the holiday early, because doctors feared that death would take him from his pain-wracked hospital existence before Dec. 25.

This year, thanks to Nubbins' will to live and the skill of modern medicine, Christmas will be a joyous occasion in the Hoffman home.

Nubbins was stricken in 1944 with a rare kidney ailment which usually proves fatal. A nationwide Christmas party was held for him that year.

Small for his age because of his long months of illness, Nubbins surprised medical men by surviving not only the 1944 Christmas, but three major operations and two more Yuletide seasons.

Last year, in an exclusive INS interview with the little boy's mother, Mrs. Marshall Hoffman, a Denver newsman wrote:

"Physicians have repeatedly told the Hoffman's that the plucky boy couldn't possibly survive another operation . . . but the will to live remains in the frail body . . . "

And Nubbins fooled everyone. He is leading an almost-normal life and started to school this year. His progress is attributed to a harmone treatment.

SOMEBODY'S LOSS IS SALVATION ARMY'S GAIN—J. Y. Hammack, right above, found a coin purse containing $5.33 on Ninth street Dec. 7. Advertisement in the lost and found column failed to produce the owner, so Hammack decided to put the money to good use before Christmas. Above, he deposits the money in a Salvation Army pot in 1000-block Broadway while L. V. Boyd of the Salvation Army, left, looks on approvingly. Hammack, an Avalanche-Journal carrier, is a former captain in the Army and is a geology student at Texas Technological college. "The money wasn't mine, and I didn't want to spend it," he said in explanation of his deed. (Staff Photo).

TO ATTEND SESSION

ABILENE, Dec. 22. (Special)—Two McMurry college students, Hoyt Cole and Howard Graham, both of Farwell, will go to the University of Kansas from December 27 to January 1 as the Texas school's representatives at the Ecumenical Student conference sponsored by the United Student Christian Council. More than 2,000 students of 15 national church movements will be represented in the annual meeting.

Houston Police Find No Clues In Murder Of City Bus Driver

HOUSTON, Dec. 22. (AP) — Police today said they have found no witnesses or fingerprints in the early morning slaying of a Houston bus driver.

The body of Leslie D. Gibbins, 28, employe of the Houston Transit company, was found slumped over the steering wheel of his vehicle, a bullet wound in the chest.

He died before an ambulance could reach the bus, which a negro taxi driver found parked on a Houston street.

"It's a tough case," commented homicide Captain George Seber as he explained four negroes had been picked up during the day for questioning.

WE'VE THE ACORN

Let Us Grow An Oak

AN acorn from which a magnificent oak might grow if properly nurtured was the concert presented by the Texas Technological college band and Men's Glee club Monday night, under sponsorship of Kappa Kappa Psi fraternity for the Goodfellows' Christmas fund for needy Lubbock children.

The oak we have in mind is an annual pre-Christmas concert of such outstanding quality that people of the entire South Plains would look forward to it with eagerness and remember it with joy.

All the elements for such an event are available. The Tech band is one of the best anywhere. The Glee club is outstanding. Other superb talent is at hand of quality and in quantity rare in any community.

But a truly noteworthy event—which is the only kind Lubbock should consider—would require a great deal of preparation and much hard work by many people. It would require extensive exploitation. Most important of all, it would require a great outpouring of appreciative listeners, who would be the finest of all inspirations to participating artists and a reflection of the Spirit of Christmas on the South Plains.

While such a concert, if presented, now lies about a year in the future, it properly is a subject for thought at this early date by individuals, groups and organizations which might participate in the sponsorship and support and which must plan their activities far in advance.

This would be the sort of planning which would have as its inspiration an event of such appeal as to overflow the most capacious place available for its presentation.

What's The Answer?

FEW among the masses of Americans will pretend to make sense or see logic in many of the intricacies of international diplomacy. More puzzling than most episodes is the situation suggested by the recently intensified violence of fighting in Dutch Indonesia.

The Dutch are among the larger beneficiaries of Uncle Sam's European recovery program. They already have received many millions of dollars, and are on the list for a great deal more. They have been accorded a preferred position above many other nations by the showing, according to official Washington, that their bare existence needs are desperate.

Yet they are managing in some way to finance a large-scale colonial war which now is raging into its third year. They say they must have help to feed, shelter and clothe their people back home. Yet they can pay for an enormously expensive war. How come?

The diplomats apparently can answer that question to their own satisfaction. If they ever explained it in a manner which convinces John Q. American, the explanation eludes memory.

A survey just completed shows that Great Britain is veering to the right. No doubt an increasing number of Britishers feel that if the Empire doesn't turn conservative, it soon won't have anything left to conserve.

"Wealth is a disease," asserts a Communist. We wish we knew how to go about contracting this delightful ailment.

The secret of nuclear energy is entirely safe from us, as we have never been able to understand how the force of gravity causes a balloon to rise.

A Christmas party for 1928 Bridge club members and their husbands was given, with Mrs. O. A. Terry and Mrs. R. W. Crowder, jr., as hostesses. After games of bridge and refreshments, gifts were distributed from a Christmas tree to Messrs. and Mesdames F. H. Childress, M. N. Hale, J. C. Powell, J. A. Phipps, jr., Leo Edwards, F. L. Lindsey, Mrs. J. B. Edwards, Miss Margaret Edwards, Mrs. Emma Roberts, and Roy Davis.

Music and games were diversions when Miss Lucille McCrummen entertained a few of her friends in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will McCrummen. Each guest received a fun-making gift, and refreshments were served to Josephine Welmaker, Helen Wood, Vera Mae McCoy, Opal McCallom, Glennie Nessmith, Evelyn Beard, Lois Marie Stanton, Evelyn McCrummen, Mondy Gaines, Irvin Scarbrough U. V. Blake, Benton Teal, Sidney Poynter, Harold Gaines, Abner Harper, Allen Welmaker, and Berl Beard.

Strange Craft On Air Lift

Waltz Into Darkness

By WILLIAM IRISH
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Durand and his Bonny go to Mobile, where they live high, wide and handsome. Until — strolling the promenade alone one day while Bonny is having a gown fitted at the modiste's, Durand comes face to face with Downs, the detective he had hired to track Bonny down.)

"DURAND," Downs said with a curious matter-of-factness.

Durand tried to match it: nodded temperately, said, "You, eh?" Try not to show any fear of him, he kept cautioning himself, try not to show any fear. Forget that she is in such terrible proximity at this very moment, or you will betray that to him by the very act of trying not to. Don't look over that way, where the shop is. Above all, move him around, circle him around the other way so that his back is to it. If she should happen suddenly to emerge—

"Are you alone here?" Downs asked. The question was idly turned, but following it, for a long moment, his eyes seemed to bore into Durand's, until the latter could scarcely endure it.

"Certainly," he said somewhat testily.

Downs lazily reared one palm in protest. "No offense," he drawled. "You seem to resent my asking."

"Can you give me any reason why I should take offense at such a question?"

"If you cannot, then I cannot," Downs said.

Durand gave the railing a slick smack of quittance, moved in away from it, drifted in an idle saunter past Downs and to the rear of him, closed up to the railing again, and came to rest against it on a negligent elbow. Downs automatically pivoted to face him where he now was.

"And what brings you here, in turn?" Durand said, when the adjustment had been completed.

Downs smiled with special meaning. Special meaning he, Durand, was intended to share, whether he would or not. "What brings me anywhere?" he countered. "Not a holiday, rest assured. A body drifted ashore out of the eddies at Cape Girardeau on the 10th of this month, Mr. Durand. A body that had been murdered, thrown into the water dead. There was no water in the lungs. I took Bertha Russell down to look at it. And badly decomposed as it was, she identified it. As that of Julia Russell, her sister. Are you interested, Mr. Durand?"

Durand was breathing with difficulty; his chest rose and fell with visible labor at each intake and expulsion.

"Of course I'm interested," he said finally. "Do the official police know about this?"

"Not yet, but they will," Downs assured him deliberately.

IN THE modiste shop entrance, in the middle distance, but still close enough at hand to be only too visible, a lengthwise streamer of color suddenly peered forth, as some woman, about to leave, lingered there half-in half-out in protracted farewell, probably talking to someone behind her. Durand's heart thrust hard against the cavern of his chest for a moment, like a pointed rock. Then the figure came out: tall, in blue; someone else.

His attention swerved back to Downs, to overtake what he had been about to miss. "I had heard reports," the latter was saying, "of a flashy blond who has been creating a stir down here with some man. They even got back to New Orleans. A flashy blond, almost silver in her lightness," Downs elaborated. "Have you happened to note any such pair? You have been down here longer than I, I take it."

Durand looked down at the planks underfoot. "I have been cured of blondes," he murmured grudingly. He took out his watch. "I must go."

"Where are you staying?"

Durand thumbed back across his shoulder, misleadingly. "Down that way."

"I'll walk back with you to your stopping place, wherever it is," Downs offered.

"I'm a little pressed for time," Durand managed to get out.

Downs smiled calmingly. "I never force myself on a man." Then he added pointedly, "That is, in sociability."

"Which way are you going?" Durand asked suddenly, seeing that he was about to turn and go back the other way, toward and past the modiste's. She might emerge just as he neared there—

HE TOOK Downs by the arm all at once, pressing him. As insistent now as he had been reluctant a moment ago. "Come with me, anyway. Can I offer you a schooner of beer?"

Downs glanced overhead. "The sun is warm," he accepted. "Your own face, for instance, is quite moist."

They walked along side by side. At every pace Durand told himself: I've drawn him a step farther away from her.

"Here's a place; let's try this," he said presently.

"I was just going to suggest it myself," Downs observed.

They went in and seated themselves at a small wicker table.

"Two Pilseners," Durand told the mustachioed, striped-shirted waiter. Then before he could withdraw again. "Where is the closet?"

"Straight back."

Durand rose. "Excuse me for a moment." Downs nodded, ironically it seemed to him.

Durand left him seated there, went out through the spring door. He found himself in a passage. Ignoring the intermediate door to the side, he followed it to the rear, let himself out at the back of the place. He began to run like one possessed. He was possessed: possessed with the thought of saving her.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

SPACE being what it is, I could not tell you yesterday all I wanted to about that church supper in Redding.

This being the holiday season when our thoughts often go beyond the giving and receiving of presents and ponder upon the real meaning of Christmas, let me talk just a little more about that "practical religion" I mentioned in yesterday's column.

BRANDEIS

That little church in Redding, Conn. seems to give answer to the often-asked question, "What is the matter with religion?"

There was a whole lot the matter with religion in Redding, Conn. And Redding is a typical American small town.

They had a Federated Church there for a good many years, consisting of the Methodists and the Congregationalists of the community.

But the church and its congregation disintergrated until no more than four or five people attended the Sunday services, and the Sunday School attendance had all but disappeared.

The church basement was a mass of rubble, and the whole thing was somewhat a disgrace.

Finally there was no longer a minister to preach or teach the children, and instead of a living church it had become a weed-covered eye and soul sore.

Then a few of the parishioners got together one day and decided to put an end to all this ineffectiveness and decay.

They wanted religion. They needed religion.

Committees were formed. Money was raised. The basement was cleaned out and painted and refurbished—not by hired carpenters and painters, but by the men and women of the community.

Then a young minister was persuaded to take over the church. He is an enthusiastic chap in his early twenties. He was born in China, the son of a Presbyterian Missionary, and religion to him is life itself.

Now let us skip a year.

Today that Federated Church of Redding has a faithful congregation of almost 100. The Sunday School is regularly attended by forty children.

The basement is being enlarged and finished and will soon be the community center of Redding where citizens of all faiths will come together to be Americans.

A COUPLE of Sundays ago during service, the fire bell rang its terrifying sound. The minister was in the midst of his sermon. But he is also a member of the Redding Volunteer Fire Department and the fire truck is kept in his barn.

He called the men members to come with him and they rushed out to the fire. His young wife kept the remainder of the congregation busy with announcements, reading of the scriptures and singing.

After a while the men came back. The fire was out.

The minister, dirty, disheveled, tired, mounted his pulpit and finished the service.

There were tears in the eyes of many of the women in that church—tears of thanks, I think, that religion can be part of life.

U. S. FOREIGN POLICY

HST Seeks Control

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — President Truman is Christmas-shopping for a Secretary of State of the stature of the late Charles Evans Hughes in an effort to wrest top control and execution of foreign policy from the military men, bankers and industrialists who have messed matters in Germany, Palestine and the Far East.

Secretary Marshall's illness, as well as the prospect that he may not be able to continue long in the Cabinet, offers opportunity for the shift. So does the prospective resignation of Admiral William D. Leahy, White House Chief of Staff, after the January inauguration. Others expected to quit are Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal and Army Under-Secretary William H. Draper.

TUCKER

AGENT: Although General Douglas A. MacArthur may remain on as Supreme Allied Commander in Japan, and Major General Frank R. McCoy as American member of the Far Eastern Commission, they will be brought under stricter and closer White House and State department supervision when Mr. Truman becomes Chief Executive in his own right.

General Lucius D. Clay, our military governor in Germany, will become an agent rather than virtually sole executor of American foreign policies as they affect our relations with the former enemy, Britain, France and other war allies. Like General MacArthur, Washington believes that General Clay has got into an anti-Russian rut and complex instead of devoting his energy to the broad and long-range problem of European recovery.

INHERITED: President Truman does not hold any of these men personally responsible for the mishandling and misdirection of American foreign policy. He inherited his colonial family from the Roosevelt Administration, with the exception of Secretary Marshall, and he did not have sufficient experience in the domestic or foreign field to make any changes.

Secretary Marshall has not held the actual office of Secretary of State, due to his many long absences from Washington, and now to his illness. He has been a diplomatic emissary and spokesman rather than actual director of foreign affairs. Moreover, he was predisposed to favor military men in both Washington and overseas posts because he knew how to deal with them. And until now, the principal problem was the governing and policing of former enemy states.

MODIFICATION: Whatever the reason, Clay, MacArthur and their aides get their orders from and report to Secretary Forrestal rather than to Secretary Marshall. Both in the transmission and execution of State Department directives, there is likely to be a change or a modification of the original orders. Clay and MacArthur frequently explain their failure to allow instructions precisely on the ground that local conditions necessitate an entirely different handling of the problem.

Whatever the reason, there has been almost no liaison or coordination among the White House, the State Department, the War Department and the executives on the spot. The result has been dissatisfaction among the governed, differences with our allies all around the globe and aggravation of our difficulties with Moscow.

FEAR: General Clay, perhaps rightly, has permitted his military fear of Russia to influence his policies. So has MacArthur in the Far East and Forrestal in the Middle East.

General Clay, for instance, stopped the dismantling of German factories because he figured that they would be needed in transforming the Reich into a buffer state against Moscow. For the same reason, he insists on reindustrialization of the Ruhr. He has also deprecated various United Nations efforts to reach a peaceful solution with Russia, particularly the Tryvge Lie-Evatt and Bramuglia moves.

His attitude has awakened fears of a German military revival in France. His anti-dismantling program antagonized Britain. Both actions threw on Secretary Marshall the burden of placating 10 Downing Street and the Qual d'Orsay at a time when unity among the allies was essential.

INTENTIONS: General MacArthur's similar dread of Communist infiltration and flanking—in the Kuriles, Korea and now China—have led him to crack down on labor and liberal groups. Although his policy may have been forced on him by the Russian menace, like Clay's in Germany, it has won us no friends abroad and it holds no promise for democratization of the Japanese.

Secretary Marshall sided with the Arabs in the early struggles of the fighting in Palestine, figuring that the Israeli forces would be hopelessly defeated. It was this erroneous advice, based partly on their friendship for the British Foreign Office, which led Mr. Truman to flounder on this issue so badly before and during the presidential campaign.

In short, the presence and the policies of the military in this field have helped to transform the world into an "armed camp." Although there is no guarantee of success, the White House hopes that a reorganization will convince neutrals of our peaceful intentions, and, perhaps, soften up "Uncle Joe" Stalin.

Believe It Or Not - - By Robert Ripley

PRESIDENT TO WIELD POWER

HST Studies Moves In Congress

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — In these busy days of planning and preparation for his second administration, President Truman is acutely conscious of the obligation imposed upon him and the Congress elected with him to carry through the program that he pledged in the election.

This, he knows full well, is a time for action.

STOKES

He is fully aware that his supporters expect results and will not be willing to take excuses for lack of results two years from now. No longer will it be possible, as it was during the last campaign, to make Congress the scapegoat. That was, after all, a Congress controlled by the Republican party. The new 81st Congress will be controlled by his own party, and he and his party will be held responsible.

Was Under Pressure

This, then makes his relations with Congress the paramount consideration. He is giving that problem serious thought.

The President has a full appreciation of the rights and prerogatives of Congress. He served there ten years himself. But he also has a full appreciation of the rights and prerogatives of the executive and of his responsibility to the people for leadership. Henceforth you may expect more emphasis on the latter. He speaks for the people now in his own right.

When President Truman stepped into the White House on the sudden death of President Roosevelt he instituted a co-operative relationship with Congress. There was a brief "era of good feeling." But, when he espoused the program of his predecessor, big special interests trained their guns on him and they concentrated their influence on Congress to try to checkmate him, at which they were successful. Cleverly and glibly they talked much of "co-operation between the President and Congress," but the President soon discovered that what they meant was co-operation "of" the President "with" Congress. The co-operating, in short, should be on his side. He should do the yielding. He should make the concessions. Co-operation, as they envisaged it, was a one-way street.

Congress, indeed, became again the more powerful branch of government; in fact, more powerful than in many years. When the President spoke feelingly of the 80th Republican Congress as "the worst since Thad Stevens" he had in mind the historical parallel, for that was the Congress of reconstruction days that literally seized the reins of power and eventually tried the supreme test of its power by attempting to impeach President Andrew Johnson.

There will be no "co-operation" on those terms. Nor, on the other hand, will the President start swinging a "big stick" as did Teddy Roosevelt, which would be out of character, nor will he adopt the Franklin Roosevelt technique of striking at Congress by appealing to the people over the heads of Congress.

Has Backing Of People

His dealing with Congress will be based on the premise that the people backed up his program, that Congress and the people know that, and that Congress is expected to follow the will of the people as their representatives. He expects co-operation and will exert his leadership on that basis.

He has confidence in his leaders in Congress and will rely upon them to carry out their appointed tasks in the chain of command from the White House. He will keep them advised on his plans and counsel with them on the best strategy to accomplish his objectives. His liaison with Congress has been noticeably faulty in the past. That will be improved.

The President will lean heavily upon both vice president-elect Alben W. Barkley, who will preside over the Senate and be constantly in touch with every development on that side of the capitol, and Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, who again will become speaker of the House. Both are veterans of long experience.

The president also is giving attention to a matter of congressional mechanics as it relates to bottlenecks inherent in certain procedures and customs, such as the frequently arbitrary use of veto power on legislation by the House Rules committee, the failure to give proper recognition to newer members who represent the latest expression from the voters, and the filibuster in the Senate.

Plans now being considered to ease these bottlenecks will be discussed in a subsequent article.

MARKET SKIDS SLIGHTLY

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (AP)—Small losses were just about a stand-off again today in the stock market.

Most changes today were a point or less, with emphasis on the less.

Turnover remained at an even 1,000,000 shares for the second day in a row, and the same rate at which business has been running recently.

Atlantic Gulf & West Indies put on a show of its own with a 4⅛-point jump to 60, peak price for the year. Control of the company changed hands within the past few weeks.

Texas Gulf Sulphur went down just as sharply, closing 3¾ lower at 58½. Stockholders of Gulf Oil Co. today received a specially earned dividend in the form of Texas Gulf stock and brokers suggested that sales of some of that stock depressed the price.

Nickel Plate preferred jumped 4⅝ to 134¾ and the common added 1⅛ at 74.

Homestake Mining, which came into the market limelight last week when demand for gold stocks suddenly flared, rose a point to 35¾.

Nudged a bit higher were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Packard, International Harvester, Electric Power & Light, American Smelting, Westinghouse Electric, General Electric, American Tobacco, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Atlantic Coast Line, Illinois Central, Standard Oil (NJ) Gulf Oil, United Air Lines, and American Airlines.

Pennsylvania Railroad reached a new low for the year on a trifling loss.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .1 of one point to 64.2. Of the 1,437 issues which changed hands, 376 declined and 356 advanced.

New Attempt To Rescue Airmen Marooned In Greenland Slated

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. (AP) — A new attempt to rescue 11 U. S. fliers marooned in sub-zero weather on a 7,500-foot ice cap in Greenland was reported imminent today.

Air Force headquarters said three more rescue planes—one of them equipped with skiis and rocket motors for takeoff—have arrived at American air bases in Greenland.

But officials said arrangements are going ahead to drop a Christmas dinner to the men, just in case they won't get out before Saturday. An Air Force spokesman said the Yule-from-the-skies package would contain "something good," but he could not say whether it would be turkey with trimmin's.

A radio message from Goose Bay, Labrador, said late today the men are unhurt, living in snow huts and fed by supplies dropped from circling planes which were unable to land.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP) — Cotton futures turned irregular following early steadiness today. Light mill buying advanced prices as much as 40 cents a bale, but part of the gain was lost on hedging and liquidation. Quiet conditions in the cotton textile market and a lull in export buying retarded trading.

Thief Baffles Police; Steals Deer And Runs Like A Deer

UVALDE, Dec. 22. (U.P.)—Police were on the trail of a deer thief today. They almost caught him last night, but with a speed closely resembling that of a deer, he outran the officers.

Police were mystified when a dressed buck deer was stolen from the Central Power & Light Co. storage locker last week. It was mysterious because the lock had not been tampered with, said officers.

Last night, a watchman near the storage plant saw a man methodically taking the bolt pins out of a heavy door. He didn't think much about it at first, since the man was working under bright lights.

"Probably an employe," said the watchman. But remembering about the stolen buck of last week, he called police. They arrived in time to see the man take to the woods.

The storage vault contains about 300 dressed deer, and Bob Fisher, the manager, said he guessed he would have to go hunting to replace the stolen deer. He didn't know yet who owned it because the tag as well as the deer was still missing.

Wheeler Named District Head Of Oil Company In West Texas

MIDLAND, Dec. 22. (Special)—J. D. Wheeler has been named district manager for the Ohio Oil company in West Texas and southeast New Mexico with headquarters in the company's offices in Midland.

Wheeler came to Midland from Grand Rapids, Mich., where he had been manager for the company's Michigan district for over two years. He served as the Ohio Oil company's district engineer in Iraan from 1934 to 1935. From there he was transferred to divisional headquarters at Houston and then to the general offices at Findlay, Ohio, where he was chief engineer for a time before going to the Michigan district.

Under the new arrangement, Wheeler will supervise all activities of the company in the Permian basin. The district office will have more latitude than formerly, but will still be part of the Houston division.

Executives of Ohio's various departments in this area will continue in their positions. They are: Charles A. Hitt, district landman; Coe S. Mills, district geologist; O. E. Sears, district production superintendent; and R. E. McMillen, district engineer.

Convair Employes Get Chance To Name Giant B-36 Bomber

FORT WORTH, Dec. 22. (AP)—Convair announced today a contest among its employes all over the nation for selection of a name for the B-36, largest bomber in the world. Since the B-36 heretofore tagged only with such generic terms as "superbomber" and "battleplane," the company now seeks a popular name for the air goliath similar to the "Liberator" name given the company's B-24 bomber and B-32 "Dominator" during the war.

The contest began officially today and will close Feb. 28, 1949.

Judges will be Maj. Gen. Roger M. Ramey, Eighth Air Force commanding general, whose Seventh Bombardment Wing now has two groups being equipped with B-36s, as the first such units in the world; LaMotte T. Cohu, Convair president and general manager; and Amon Carter, Fort Worth publisher.

A $50 prize and a special certificate will go to the winner. The employes submitting the five best names will be permitted to ride in a B-36.

Gasoline Plant Plans Revealed

MIDLAND, Dec. 22. (Special)—Two gasoline plants will be built in the Benedum oil field of Upton county in 1949 by Plymouth Oil company and Slick-Urschel Oil company, W. M. Griffith, of Sinton, vice president and director of Plymouth, has revealed.

Construction is scheduled to begin in March, 1949 and expected to be completed the following November. One of the plants will be constructed by Hudson Engineering company, of Houston, for Plymouth, and the other by Texas Natural Gasoline corporation, of San Antonio, for Slick-Urschel.

Plants Of Large Capacity

Each plant will have a capacity of between 60,000,000 to 80,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day. Liquid hydrocarbon content of the gas in the Benedum field is approximately two gallons per 1,000 feet of gas.

Costs of the new installations has been estimated at $6,000,000 each.

The Santa Fe railroad will lay six miles of spur track to the Benedum area from its line near Flat Rock, approximately midway between Rankin and Texon.

The new track will be used for moving in materials and shipping out gasoline, propane, butane and motor fuel base secured through the processing of casinghead gas in the plants.

Soldier Pays Six-Year Debt With Check, Christmas Card

HOUSTON, Dec. 22. (AP) — Miss Mary Frances Pounds received a Christmas card from Athens, Greece, today and found a $50 check enclosed.

She says it all started six years ago in Washington, D. C., when she loaned the amount to three soldiers, who wanted to take a "last fling" at New York City before being shipped overseas during the war.

The spokesman for the group, she said, promised "I'll pay you back on pay day."

Attached to the note and card received today was a note saying: "I said I'd send this pay day. I just did not say which one."
