LARGE CROWD--Approximately 3,500 people attended the 44th annual Lyntegar supper which was held in Tahoka Tuesday night, Aug. 10.

Large Crowd At Lyntegar Meet

Lyntegar Electric Cooperative's 44th annual meeting here Tuesday night in Tahoka football stadium, as usual, was declared a big success.

A total of 3,517 people from over the Lyntegar service area attended, enjoyed a barbecue meal, visiting informally with old friends, heard various reports on the Co-op's operation, elected two directors, and about fifty of them were lucky enough to win door prizes.

Board Chairman G.Q. Hensley of Draw, a 39-year member; and Earl Brown Jr. of Brownfield, a nine-year member, were re-elected to the board.

Following the meal, with Attorney Gerald Huffaker acting as master of ceremonies, G.Q. Hensley, Lyntegar board president, called the meeting to order. Invocation was given by Rev. E.R. Holder, pastor of Key, Dawson County, Baptist Church. A welcome to Tahoka was given by Judge Melvin Burks, Tahoka Chamber of Commerce President, and visitors were recognized.

Attorney Harold Green read minutes of last year's meeting, results of the board member election was announced, and reports made by Hensley, Secretary N.W. Weeks, Attorney Green, and auditor, A.B. Segars.

Winding up the session was the presentation of 50 door prizes valued at about $1,000.

From 1939, first year of operation, until the present time, Lyntegar serves all or parts of ten counties, with about 5,000 customers on nearly 17,000 meters, and has assets totaling $26 million.

Each year since 1966, capital credits (revenues in excess of operating expenses), totaling $6,342,096.75 have been returned to Lyntegar members.This figure which includes $477,721.00, the margin for 1965 or 30.69 percent of that year's total operating capital, will be returned after this meeting.

Mr. Hensley says the oil field load continues to increase and the cotton gin load has been above normal, but the irrigation load is much below normal.

He points out that Lyntegar has adequate loan financing the next two years by reason of a $3.5 million REA loan at five percent interest, plus a $1.6 Cooperative Finance Corp. loan at 14 percent.

Manager Wilton Payne says line repairs have been made necessary by the June storms. He says the 10-year contract with Southwestern Public Service for "juice" runs out this year, and a raise of about 11.5 percent overall increase in cost of electricity is expected. Some power is received, also, from Texas Electric Service Co., but any increase there has not been determined.

Lyntegar is an important factor in Tahoka's economy as well as to farmers' interests. The cooperative employs about 100 to 105 people, including 10 each at the Lamesa and Sundown branches.

WOODWORK
by DALTON

ONCE UPON A TIME I could add, subtract, multiply and divide fairly well. But in the last few years, I have gone over to that wonderful world of electronic calculators and maybe one of these days on into computers, because they are fascinating. And those great machines do all mathematics for me.

Consequently, I no longer am comfortable adding or doing anything else with numbers that have more than one digit if I have to do it by myself. Somebody comes into the store and picks up 45 cents worth of paper clips and a 20-cent newspaper and asks me what they owe, and I have to run back to my desk to put it into the calculator.

I wonder how Noah remembered all those cubits and things when he was building the Ark, without a calculator to help him along.

On my desk I have a calculator larger and with more functions than the regular printing calculators we sell. The reason is that someone bought a new smaller one and traded this big thing in, with the comment that "it really has more things on it than I need."

It really has more things than I need, too, but I use it rather than one of the new ones because nobody wants to buy it. And nobody wants to buy it because nobody knows how to use it, including me.

It's a Victor 1900, and I don't have a book on it, and even if I did, I have a suspicion I wouldn't know how to use most of the functions on it. It does multiply, add, divide and subtract quite well, and I can use those things, and that's about all. It has eight buttons that are useless so far as I am concerned. I've punched them a time or two to see what happens.

Among the ones I don't understand are: one which says "set" (I don't ever try it standing up anyway); one with a picture of an upside-down smiley, one which says "EX" (for divorcees?), one with the letter N, one which says "MR", which may mean only males can operate these things, and others which say things like MRC, M-, M+, M1 (any old infantryman knows what an M1 is, so I was afraid to punch that one for fear it might blast me out of the chair) and a little light that says "OV"

I never have figured out how to get that little light on, either. I had a vague notion I could make it ovulate and produce little hand-held calculators.

Anyway, machines are great. I wish I knew how to operate this one.

Court Approves Funds For Roads

Several important issues were approved by Lynn County Commissioners Court at its Monday session, according to Judge Melvin Burks.

Four decisions involve needed county road improvements in the four precincts. The court voted to transfer $40,000, with $10,000 to each precinct, from the unbudgeted General Fund. Also, transfer of $255.33 from the Road and Bridge Fund was amended to make available to each precinct $5,000, a total of $20,000, subject to meeting auditor's requirements. This fund previously was budgeted for county building improvements.

Also, the Court voted to borrow $22,000 for Precinct 3 to pay off that precinct's $20,000 note and $2,000 in interest, at no cost to Lynn County, such note to be signed by Commissioner Bart Anderson and Judge Melvin Burks.

On request of Lynn County Hospital board of directors, the county will seek bids on a new ambulance, with or without a trade-in of the old ambulance.

On request of District Clerk Joy Laws, $100 was appropriated toward expenses for the 36-county meeting of the District and County Clerks Assn. meeting in Tahoka on Oct. 14.

The Court accepted the low bid from McCord Motor Co. of $1,869.45 for a new motor and rebuilt transmission for a 1977 Chevrolet pickup.

Also, approval was given the Sheriff's Dept. for purchase or lease of a washer and dryer for the jail.

Approved was an agreement with Dawson County for Juvenile Probation Officer Nancy Stockstill to serve Lynn County part time, about four days per month, from Sept. 1, 1982 to Aug. 31, 1983, at no cost to Lynn County.

The County is obligated to pay $100 per month for maintenance of a ward of the county, plus $50 per month for clothing, school supplies and medicine.

Last but not least, the Court approved creation of South Plains Housing Corporation, its articles of incorporation, appointing the initial board of directors, and other provisions of the resolution.

GOOD DEED--Mrs. Marjorie Yellverton, right, presents the deed to 27 lots of land in Tahoka to chairman of the Museum Assn. Dr. K.R. Durham.

Lubbock Lady Donates Tahoka Lots To Museum

A Lubbock lady, Mrs. Marjorie Yellverton, on Tuesday noon, presented the deed to 27 Tahoka lots as a gift to Tahoka Pioneer Museum. Accepting the gift on behalf of the museum board of directors was Dr. K.R. Durham, chairman of the Museum Association.

The lots are in Blocks 1, 2 and 3, along North 9th Street in the Lockwood Addition, an undeveloped streed adjoining the Mrs. Madeline Hegi land. One lot had been sold out of the original 28 for $1,200.

Land for the Lockwood Addition had been bought by City of Tahoka in about 1960, then sold to the late H.C. Yellverton. Mr. Yellverton died in 1972 after having developed the North Eighth Street housing project, and his wife, who now lives at 3210 65th Street in Lubbock, became independent executrix of the estate.

She had asked a neighbor and friend, J.B. Hoskins of Dunlap Stores if he knew of some non-profit organization in Tahoka that could benefit from receiving the lots. J.B., in turn, consulted his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hoskins of Tahoka, and Mrs. Hoskins suggested the museum. Parents of J.B. and Jack settled in eastern Lynn County in 1916.

The museum board held a dinner meeting Tuesday noon, at which Mrs. Yellverton, her daughter, Mrs. Carolyn Berry, and a granddaughter, Miss Kelly Whitney, were honored. J.B. Hoskins, Jack and Billie Hoskins also were present.

President Durham, Mayor Meldon Leslie, and Secretary Mrs. Kenneth Turner, each paid special tribute and thanks to the donor.

No decision has been made by the museum board on disposal of the lots, but they may be offered to the public for new residences. Mrs. Melba Clem has the lots, totaling about 4.5 acres, rented, which her brother, D.R. Adamson, farms.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

USING ANOTHER'S GLASSES

People who use glasses for reading can borrow someone else's reading glasses with no harmful effects to the eyes. But the "borrowed" glasses will not work as well. And if they're worn for a long period of time they might cause headaches.

Everyone's vision problems are different. Your degree of nearsightedness or farsightedness or other vision problem will never be exactly the same as someone else's. That's why glasses have to be prescribed for your eyes to give them the exact correction needed.

When you have an eye examination, the doctor gives you a prescription for glasses. That prescription represents an exact measurement of your vision problems. The lenses will be ground in a specific way, according to the needs of your eyes. And that means both eyes, because no two eyes are exactly the same either.

In a pinch, a pair of borrowed glasses may help, but not for long. Only glasses prescribed for YOUR needs will give you the comfort and correct vision you need to see well.

A Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

Many times the health and vigor of shade trees declines in mid-summer, the cause being below the ground in some form of root stress.

Often this hidden stress exists for years and isn't noticed until above ground symptoms become obvious.

Various conditions exist that cause root stress, and soil compaction is probably the number one cause.

Oxygen must enter soil for the roots to use, and carbon dioxide, when given off, must be able to move up from the root zone.

Where soil compaction exists, this process cannot occur and roots die.

Construction damage also kills trees, occurring as "bulldozer blight" from heavy equipment, misuse of fill dirt or scraping away soil.

Pruning helps when trees are weakened by construction damage. Removing as much as one-third of the canopy takes some of the load off the root system so the tree can recover enough to support remaining limbs and foliage.

When problems arise because of fill dirt, Young advises getting air into the soil by drilling holes around the drip line and lining these with PVC pipe filled with gravel.

Trenching for service lines damages feeder roots because most roots are in the upper 18 inches of soil.

Girdling roots can kill shade trees by growing around the base and strangling the tree. If girdling roots are suspected, Young advises digging two to four inches below the surface and cutting roots with a sharp chisel.

Weed-and-feed fertilizers, when not used properly or applied too near the root system, can damage the system and kill the tree. The bad thing about this type of damage is that no antidote exists and the chemical's effect may last for as long as a year.

Weakened trees are extremely susceptible to pests, especially boring insects. Young suggests spraying the trunk and larger limbs with lindane to protect against borers.

Are you a whole-grain lover or do you prefer enriched bread, flour or cereal?

You might want to consider which is the best source of nutrients, especially trace minerals, and which supplies maximum roughage.

Whole grain products, or those made by grinding the entire kernel of wheat including the sprout or germ, white inner endosperm and brown outer layer or bran, are probably more nutritious than enriched ones.

Minerals and vitamins are in higher amounts in germ and bran than in the endosperm of whole grain foods.

However, the high content of bran and phytate in whole-grain products may interfere with some absorption of minerals.

The high oil content in the germ could also become rancid and attract insects if stored incorrectly.

White enriched bread, flour or cereal have had fiber content and the outer layers of bran and germ removed in the milling process.

However, enriched flour, such as all-purpose, has been enriched with iron and B vitamins (thiamin, riboflavin and niacin) within federal-standard limits.

White enriched bread may also contain less of the trace minerals, such as magnesium, chromium, zinc, copper and nickel, than does the whole-grain bread.

The choice simply depends on personal preference since both enriched and whole-grain products supply your body with carbohydrates, protein, B vitamins and iron.

Whichever of the two you choose, remember to eat four or more servings daily from this necessary food group.

To store breads or cereals, place them in a cool, dry area. And if air is warm and humid, keep bread in its original wrapper in the refrigerator to prevent mold.

Seal bread tightly in light and moisture-proof paper and freeze at 0 degrees F for a week to kill any possible insect infestation.

Baked breads and rolls can be stored for about six months in the freezer at 0 degrees F.

COTTON TODAY

PRODUCERS TO MEET: National Cotton Council's Producer Steering Committee will hear discussions on farm legislation at its fall meeting slated for Aug. 12 in Phoenix. The session will begin at 9 a.m. in the Ramada Inn East, with Chairman John S. Barr III, Oak Ridge, La., grower, presiding.

Guest speakers will be Harold Breimyer, Extension economist and professor of agricultural economics at the University of Missouri; Joe Moss, the Council's former Washington attorney who is now retired; and Ross C. Korves, research economist for the American Farm Bureau Federation, Park Ridge, Ill.

EXPORTS IMPROVE: Exports of 92,200 running bales during the week ended July 29 brought the season's total shipments to 6,222,40. Net new sales increased 3,400 bales.

Meanwhile, total commitments for 1982-83 delivery rose to 1,337,600 bales with net new sales of 49,600. Japan was the largest buyer with purchases of 29,600.

COUNCIL BOARD TO CONVENE: The fall board meeting of the National Cotton Council has been scheduled Sept. 9-10 in Memphis. Chairman Frank M. Mitchener Jr., Sumner, Miss., producer, will preside.

A business session open to the public is slated for the first afternoon.

Some Due Utility Bill Help

Some low-income Texans may be eligible for help with their summer cooling bills, if they haven't already received a Home Energy Assistance payment, a state official said.

"We need to hear from those low-income households which haven't filled out the Home Energy Assistance program questionnaire we mailed to them," said commissioner Marlin W. Johnston of the Texas Department of Human Resources.

Those eligible for the cooling payments include households which received June benefits for Aid to Families with Dependent Children, food stamps, or Supplemental Security Income.

Certain Veterans Administration beneficiaries also may be eligible if they are "needs tested" and if their gross incomes don't exceed 75 percent of the poverty level as defined by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Potentially eligible veterans are those who receive VA payments under 415, 521, 541, or 542 of Title 38 of the U.S. Code or under Section 306 of the Veterans and Survivors Pension Improvement Act of 1978.

Most of these persons are widows and children of veterans who died from military service-related causes.

Some surviving veterans also receive benefits under these veterans programs.

To qualify for energy assistance a household's gross income limit cannot exceed $305.49 per month for one person; $499.49 a month for two persons; $684.49 monthly for a three-member household; $845.49 for a four-member household; $998.49 for five people, and $1,166.49 for six people.

Eligible households must be subject to home energy cost increases--because of higher bills or rent due to rising utility costs. Households are eligible if they live in privately owned or rented housing even if the cost of utilities is included in the rent payment, or if the household pays only a portion of its home energy costs.

DHR already is processing cooling bill payments that average $39 each for 266,000 households under the $12 million program to relieve the impact of summer cooling bills on needy Texans.

Bulldogs Start Two-A-Day Workouts This Week

Tahoka Bulldog candidates for the 1982 football team began two-a-day workouts Monday with high hopes of repeating as district champions in the re-aligned District 4-AAA.

Coach A.D. Shaver and staff are conducting workouts this week from 9 a.m to noon and 6 to 8 p.m.

Fifteen seniors have been lost to the team by graduation, but Shaver has six experienced starters on offense returning and six on defense, as well as a dozen other promising candidates.

Returning players include Tony Garcia, who quarterbacked the last five games last season and backs, Steve Pierce, Eric Knight, and Curtis Ferguson. In the offensive line are returners Leonard Flores, Gilbert Gonzales, and Jimmy Wilson. Shaver expects the defense to be as tough or better than last year including John Curry, Mike Rivas and some of the above.

Only varsity boys are working out this week. Boys below the freshman level will not start workouts until school opens.

Old rivals, Slaton and Post have been transferred to District 3-AAA for this year, but tough Seminole has been added.

So-called experts are picking Seminole and Frenship to lead the district race, followed by Tahoka, Denver City, Roosevelt and Cooper. But, fans will remember that Shaver's teams develop a bit slowly and the 1982 Bulldogs should not be counted out too soon.

First home game is Sept. 17.

The President who served the shortest time in office was W.H. Harrison, who only served one month, in 1841.

The awards, made possible through a bequest from John L. and Vergie Belle Smallwood, are presented annually to reward students who have demonstrated outstanding academic and leadership qualities.

Lynn County Students Awarded Scholarships

Three graduates of Lynn County schools have been awarded $200 Don and Sybil Harrington scholarships to attend West Texas State University.

Honor scholars from O'Donnell High School are Regina Barnes, daughter of Boyd and Fern Barnes of Rt. 5, Tahoka, and Cliff Lawson, son of Herbert and Rene Lawson of O'Donnell.

Also receiving the scholarship is Angela Paul, a graduate of New Home High School and the daughter of Emerson and Marsha Paul of New Home.

According to Figgie International's Rawlings Golf, a player can use up to 14 clubs, usually four woods, nine irons and a putter.

Quick Meal Program At Rotary Club

Mrs. Julia Gill and Mrs. Shelia Fillingim gave the program at Rotary last Thursday, a demonstration of "bachelor cooking" of a quick meal of Mexican cheese pockets, sugar and spice doughnuts, and orange juice drink.

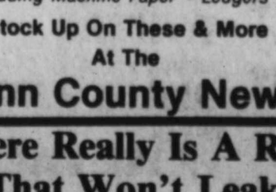

In fact, they directed the meal preparation while five Rotarians, picked at random, did the work. The Rotarian cooks were Kent Elliott, Binie White, Melvin Burks, Gerald Huffaker, and Carl Reynolds.

The program generated a lot of laughter and entertainment as well as information, and the club members declared the sample served each person was delicious.

Julia's husband, Stan Gill, arranged the program.

President Joe Hays introduced a new club member, Fred Curran, reared at Wichita Falls, who came here recently from Dallas to join the accounting firm of Thomas, Love, Hays and Shaffner.

The club voted to operate a booth at the Sept. 25 Harvest Festival here featuring sale of German sausages, profit from which will go to finance community and county projects.

The only President to be elected unanimously by the Electoral College was George Washington, in 1789 and 1792.
