Another Convention—
40 Years Ago—
Uncle Henry Remembers—
Buy Your C-C Badge—

ANOTHER convention for Wichita Falls, secured Wednesday by the Wichita Falls Lions club at McAllen, is another opportunity for this city to make known its advantages to other sections of the state. No other city has combinations of healthful climate, industrial prosperity and agricultural background to such a lavish extent as Wichita Falls. No other city has received as little attention in proportion to its advantages as Wichita Falls.

THE average Texan, visiting Wichita Falls for the first time, receives a distinct shock. More than likely he expected a town still greasy with an oil boom. He wasn't prepared for a city of more than 60,000 persons, beautiful streets, lawns and homes, a wonderful irrigation system, industries of many kinds, and oil. Conventions, properly handled will bring thousands of stranger-Texans here, to become inoculated with the spirit of West Texas and Wichita Falls.

"UNCLE HENRY" MILLER of Weatherford was in Wichita Falls 40 years ago. He is grand keeper of records and seals of the Knights of Pythias. "I am astounded at the growth of Wichita Falls," Uncle Henry confided. "Why when I was here 40 years ago, the chief point of interest was a telegraph hole to which a bank robber had been hanged. But I am told that the pole has been removed long ago for a more modern system." The gallows-telegraph pole is just one of the relics of the past that Wichita Falls has discarded in the last 40 years. It must be a real thrill to return to Wichita Falls after 40 years, even for a man who has seen as much of life as "Uncle Henry" Miller, for 38 years keeper of the records and seals of his lodge.

W. B. HAMILTON talks straight from the shoulder to Wichita Falls in his appeal to citizens to purchase the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention tags at $2.50 each. Mr. Hamilton in a statement says:

"Aside from the call to about 100 business men of Wichita Falls to do committee duty, the chamber of commerce has asked for nothing thus far in the plans for the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention. We have made no special assessment for the fund to defray the expenses of the convention and all we are asking now is that every man, woman and child who is possibly able to do so to purchase a West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention badge. The price for this badge is $2.50. We are asking the visitors to our convention to purchase and wear these badges, because they are badges of distinction. It is a duty of our own people to purchase these badges, not for the courtesies they carry with them, but as a matter of loyalty not only to Wichita Falls but to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"IF at least 1500 of Wichita Falls citizens will purchase a badge, the committee believes the convention will be financed, without any deficit whatever. As is well known, the chamber of commerce has gone to much expense in the plans for the convention. It has been our ambition to give the people of West Texas the greatest convention in the history of the organization we are entertaining. The eyes of all West Texas are turned to Wichita Falls because the people everywhere have heard of these plans and the result is, five days before the opening of the meetings, indications point to the largest attended convention the southwest has ever known."

A COMPARATIVELY few persons are needed on the various committees, or in the arrangements for entertaining the thousands of visitors. Here is opportunity for every Wichita Falls resident to do his or her "bit" to make the convention a success. If you have $2.50 and turn down such an appeal, your conscience is going to make it hard for you to abide in the "city that faith built."

Austin was unanimously chosen as a meeting place for the 1928 state convention of the Knights of Pythias grand lodge at a business meeting Wednesday afternoon. Dallas, the only other outstanding contender, was nominated by Fred E. Forrest, after letters of invitation from Mayor R. E. Burt and E. R. Brown, secretary of the chamber of commerce had been read. Dallas withdrew when sentiment was found to be strongly in favor of Austin, in order that the selection might be unanimous. Austin was nominated by G. N. Holton, P. L. Downs of Temple and C. H. Hurley of Austin, lead the campaign which resulted in its being selected.

Where Sliding Sand Snuffed Out Two Lives

State Convention Voted To West Texas

By Special Correspondent.

McALLEN, Texas, May 11.—Wichita Falls won the 1928 convention of Texas Lions by acclamation before the voting had proceeded two minutes this morning in a contest with Laredo. The election was gracefully conceded by Laredo leaders when it was apparent that Wichita Falls would win overwhelmingly. The campaign conducted by Wichita Falls delegates the male quartet and 60-piece boys band was colorful.

W. M. Rosenquest of Eastland was elected district governor of Texas Lionism the first ballot. His opponents were retiring district Governor Newman of Greenville and a last minute "dark horse" candidate, Sam M. Braswell of Clarendon, entered in the race over his protest by the Austin Lions club. Braswell was a supporter of Rosenquest, the winner. The special train bearing the Wichita Falls delegation and other Panhandle delegations left McAllen at 9 o'clock tonight. Stops will be made at San Antonio and Austin, at the latter point a parade will be made to the capitol for a short visit with Governor Dan Moody. The victorious delegation will arrive in Wichita Falls at an early hour Friday.

LIONS' BOYS BAND HELPS WIN MEET.

Efforts expended by the Lions club boys' band at McAllen to a great extent assisted the members of the club in obtaining the 1928 state convention of Lions clubs, according to advices received Wednesday night by The Record-News from Paul Seeds, director of the band.

The band marched Wednesday into the convention hall playing while the vote for the 1928 convention was being taken, according to Mr. Seeds. This demonstration gained many votes for Wichita Falls.

Under the direction of Mr. Seeds the band presented a concert Wednesday before embarking at 9 p. m. in McAllen for San Antonio.

The members of the band gained many friends in the South Texas City, according to Mr. Seeds.

Japan Serves Drastic Notice Upon Chinese

LONDON, May 11. (AP) — Japan has peremptorily demanded that the Chinese authorities at Nanking give orders immediately for the withdrawals of soldiers who occupied the Japanese consulate at Nanking after the outrages of March 24, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Tokyo. The demand, the dispatch states, was sent in the form of an ultimatum, but it is expected in Tokyo that the Chinese will comply without hesitation.

Court Orders Cut In Borger Suspects' Bail

AUSTIN, May 11.(AP)—Hugh and Whitey Walker under indictment in Hutchinson county charging them with the slaying of Officer Coke Buchanan of Borger about March 18, today won reduction of bail in criminal appeals court.

The court upheld the two men's contention that $35,000 bail district court set for Whitey Walker and $15,000 bond set for Hugh Walker were excessive and allowed reduction of the first to $7500 and the latter to $1500.

Tiny Crack In Sand Wall, Ignored By Workers, Only Warning of Peril Prior to Cave-In Which Kills Two

Two men with shattered nerves, bruised bodies, and wildly restless eyes and hands rested side by side in a ward at the Wichita General hospital Wednesday, telling each other again and again tragic details of the accident which took the life of two of their fellow workmen. The men, A. M. Stinson, 32, and E. D. Crow, 48, with Mike Lopez, Mexican, survived the crushing impact of tons of sand in the cave-in on Second and Ohio streets early Wednesday.

"You don't know—you can't know how it felt to look up and see all that dirt coming down on you, with no place to jump—no way to get loose from it," Stinson told the Record News reporter soon after the accident. "I thought the world was coming to an end—and it did for 'Frankie and Leo.'"

"Frankie and Leo" Felipe Gonzales and Lidrado Zota, were the two Mexicans who were completely submerged under the avalanche, and who died of suffocation before rescuers could dig through the eight feet of treacherous, slipping sand.

Stinson and Crow both told of seeing them go down under the terrific onrush—told of seeing their futile attempts to run, of the last glimpse of their heads as the writhing layers of red dirt stifled even a cry for help. "It was all done so quick we couldn't do anything," Crow said, helplessly. "Just as I saw Frankie and Leo throw up their hands, it was on all of us, and there we lay, knowing they were dying, and not able to even lift one handful off of them!"

Excavation for Sewer

The cave-in occurred in an excavation being made by the Janes Contracting company for the placing of an 18-inch sewer between Ohio avenue and the Fort Worth and Denver tracks at the end of Second street, at 8:45 o'clock Wednesday morning. Five men were in the ditch, which measured a little over 15 feet deep, at the time of the slide. The two who

A suggestion that Captains Nungesser and Coli may have made a forced landing in the wide forests of Newfoundland has revived to a degree waning hope for the French flyers, missing more than three days.

A resident at Riverhead, Harbor Grace, N. F., yesterday reported hearing an unidentified airplane passing overhead between 9 and 10 o'clock Monday morning. The reporting point is directly on the route followed and it was about that time that St. Pierre, Miquelon, made a similar report, which was the basis of belief for several hours that the trans-Atlantic jump had been completed.

Meanwhile, however, naval and

BONDS DEATH FEUD'S CLIMAX

Son Of Man Slain By Bonds Is Held

BELTON, May 11. (AP)—Johnny Fisher, 19, was charged tonight with the murder of former Sheriff Albert Bonds, slain on the street here at noon today, shortly after his elder brother, Monroe, had been charged with the same slaying. Johnny Fisher was said by friends here to be in Temple. The complaint was based on a sworn statement at a court of inquiry here late today to the effect that Johnny Fisher was recognized as the man who fired the fatal shots.

BELTON, May 11. (AP)—Monroe Fisher, 30, of Temple, was charged Wednesday night with the murder of Albert Bond, former sheriff of Bell county, on the street here about noon.

Bonds was under indictment for the slaying of Wylie Fisher, father of Monroe Fisher, here some months ago and had surrendered some time later to state rangers, who returned him here on the advice of Bonds' friends. Monroe Fisher was under a charge of assault to murder in connection with the wounding of Bonds since the latter's return, but had not been indicted.

Bonds' funeral is to be held at the First Methodist church at 4 p. m. Thursday.

He mentioned peaches, pecans, tomatoes and several others.

Gasoline Tank Explosion Wrecks Building Wednesday

LODGE IS IN SESSION

Second Story Occupied By Odd Fellows Lodge

DALLAS, May 11. (AP)—Eight were known to be dead, 29 were known to be injured and a large force of firemen, policemen, and volunteers were working late tonight to clear away debris in a gas explosion which wrecked two buildings, one a two-story brick and the other a one-story frame, on the Southeast side here. From 30 to 35 men were in the Metropolis lodge of the I. O. O. F. on the second floor and a dozen or 15 persons were in the drug store of O. D. Allen, downstairs.

Included among the men in the building were a company of firemen from Fair Park station who had answered an alarm of fire in the building a few minutes previously. A few persons, including one unidentified girl, were injured while standing outside of the building by being struck by flying fragments. Windows in buildings in adjoining blocks were shattered and the streets were blocked with debris.

Small Trash Fire.

The firemen found only a small trash fire in the rear of the drug store but a few moments after their arrival the explosion, which firemen said from its character must have been caused by the ignition of an accumulation of gas, took place. The building collapsed immediately; the walls fell outward and the second floor and roof dropped on those inside. The grocery store and the barber shop, the latter occupying the frame building, were closed at the time.

The gas is said to have escaped from a leaking meter.

Digs Out of Debris.

Claud Struve, soda fountain clerk, escaped almost uninjured after being blown through an opening and buried under timbers, bricks and plaster. He never lost consciousness, he said, and managed to dig himself out. O. D. Allen, the proprietor, about 34, and Claud Allen, 26, were in the drug store alone with about a dozen patrons when the blast came without warning, Struve said.

About twenty victims, some dead and some injured, were rushed immediately to the city emergency hospital and from there were distributed to other hospitals and sanitariums.

The corner, a neighborhood center, was thronged with the curious until midnight, while a large force of men worked under the glare of floodlights in search of the victims. Remains of a small fire smouldered in one corner and throbbing hose was held ready for the outbreak of a blaze.

Street Parade Today At 4 o'Clock

Between 60 and 70 candidates for the Shrine will participate in the spring ceremonial of Maskat Temple at the Palace theater here Thursday, with approximately 2000 visiting nobles in attendance, Albert Ellis, recorder, announced Wednesday night. Several eminent nobles have arrived in the city to assist with the ceremonial which will be the largest and most artistically staged ever presented here, it was said.

Orders were conferred on four additional candidates at a meeting of the Wichita Falls Commandery No. 9, held at the temple at Tenth and Scott streets from 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon until 11 at night. Over 150 visitors were present for the ceremony from the Bowie, Jacksboro, Stamford, Haskell, Vernon, Spur, Seymour and Childress commanderies, and several out of town officers aided in the work. A recess was held at 6 o'clock for an informal dinner at the temple.

The parade, that part of the day's program of particular interest to the general public is to form promptly at 4 o'clock and will proceed from the temple at Scott and Tenth along Scott to Seventh, down Seventh to Indiana, and along Indiana to the Palace theater, where the first and third sections of the ceremonial will start at 5 o'clock. Dirigible Will Hunt Aviators merchant marine fleets intensified their search from both sides of the ocean, and the air patrol will be augmented today by the United States dirigible Los Angeles.

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—America's giant dirigible, the Los Angeles, will join the hunt for the missing French aviators' Nungesser and Coli, tomorrow morning, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur announced this afternoon. The Los Angeles will cruise over a tract of ocean to the southward of Long Island, unfrequented by steamships, Wilbur stated.

Secretary Wilbur today received a chart of the route Captain Nungesser planned to take in crossing the Atlantic from Capt. R. C. White, naval attache of the American embassy at Paris.

The chart showed that the French plane was to travel a course approximately 500 miles to the northward of the trans-Atlantic steamer lanes.

Many Craft Hunt Fliers

Meanwhile, over forty craft, including destroyers, airplanes, coast guard cutters and rum chasers were cruising over the waters of the Altantic from Cape Cod to the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, searching for the ill-fated plane which disappeared into the mists after starting the Paris-New York non-stop flight.

Texas and Pacific Rail Income Shows Increase

NEW YORK, May 11.(AP)—The increase in Texas and Pacific earnings at present is almost entirely from oil operations; Chairman William H. Williams stated at the annual meeting. The outlook for the rest of the year, he said, depended largely on how the road would fare from the flood, the crest of which has not yet reached the Texas-Pacific line. Should the levee at Big Bend give way, he thought it probably would destroy the larger portion of the Louisiana sugar crop. No decision had yet been reached about dividends.

PLOT TO BOMB PRISON FAILED

Joliet Authorities Arrest Would-Be Dynamiter

JOLIET, Ill., May 11.(AP)—A plot to free several hundred inmates of the old state prison here was frustrated today with the arrest of a man garbed as a priest who applied for entrance to the grounds.

The man drove to the prison entrance in an automobile which was followed by a second car containing several men. J. A. Francis, assistant warden, said prison officials had received information of the plot to dynamite the prison. Guards arrested the man garbed as a priest. The men in the second car fled.

Two Killed As Sand Wall Slips

were killed were occupied in inserting the 18-inch line over a 16-inch pipe in the hole, and, bending over, and not aware of the impending doom, were unable to escape.

Mr. Stinson, 806 Fifth street, is yet suffering severely from the mental and physical shock of the sudden catastrophe, and is unable to lie quietly in his hospital bed. Over and over he throws up his hands to his eyes as if to ward off the sight of the deadly torrent rushing upon him, while his friend, Mr. Crow, lies listlessly on his injured back as both talk of "how it happened."

One Tiny Warning

According to Stinsons' story, there was only one warning to the tragedy—and that was a little winding crack in the side of the ditch, "no bigger than a toothpick," which all of them had ignored.

"I watched that crack all day yesterday," he said," but it didn't get bigger, so I thought we were safe."

Both men spoke with wan smiles of being glad to "hear the sound of a pick," and Mr. Crow declared that he "didn't even mind when the point of it dug into his leg once." Crow was buried in the sand for over an hour, and rescuers were unable to lift Mr. Stinson out for another 45 minutes. His leg was severely bruised from being wedged in the wooden braces.

Funeral arrangements for the two Mexicans are pending notice from relatives. Lopez, the third survivor, is resting easily, and only suffers from bruises.

T. R. Lester, foreman on the job, J. L. Marshall, city inspector, and W. L. Walker, laborer, were all on the bank of the pit when it caved in. All had been in the danger zone no less than 10 minutes before the sand avalanched, and narrowly escaped the disastrous fate of the five trapped men.

Three ambulances were kept at the entrance to the cave-in while hundreds of onlookers gathered and rescue workers frantically plied their shovels. Mayor R. E. Sheppard took charge of keeping the crowd within safe distance, with the assistance of police officers, while Ralph Janes of the contracting company directed the rescue workers.

Attempts of several local physicians to revive the two Mexicans failed, and they were taken to the Merkle and Hines undertaking parlors in the ambulance. Hundreds of persons visited the scene of the tragedy during the day.

The Los Angeles, on its ocean cruise, was instructed to keep a "sharp lookout" for the missing plane. It will fly at mile a minute speed and will chek off a huge area of ocean territory in the attempt to spot the missing birdmen. With favorable weather, the flight will start at dawn and continue until after dark.

Lieut Com. Charles E Rosendahl, commander of the dirigible, will have entire freedom to direct the course of the airship, it was stated.

The airship will cruise south of the ship lanes, on the chance that Nungesser and his navigator came down in the fog in that area.

With the exception of two seagoing tugs of the navy, which put out from Boston, the ships now engaged in the service are of the coast guard.

Iceberg Patrol Busy

Two cutters on the iceberg patrol occupy the outpost of the American lookout. They were already in the area 1200 miles at sea and in a position to make a search there before other ships could reach the spot. One of the cutters is cruising up and down the vast area in which icebergs form a constant menace to trans-Atlantic lines, while the other is ranging far to the southward.

Eight destroyers and two cruising cutters are searching the area inside that ranged by the two cutters on iceberg patrol. In the area within 200 miles of the New England coast, 25 sea-going rum patrol ships are making as thorough a search as possible. Further inshore, the various life saving stations have their small ships at sea. Three coast guard seaplanes are also searching the inshore area. There is the possibility of the flyers having landed on some deserted coast in the north, or having been picked up by some small ship without radio.

Government Silent

The government maintained a discreet silence on the attitude of the French in blaming the United States, in a measure, for the mishap. Officials point out in the first place that neither the French government nor the flyers notified the United States of the proposed flight nor asked any information or assistance. It was emphasized that Nungesser neither asked for nor received any information as to weather conditions in the North Atlantic. On the contrary the regular routine forecast of the weather bureau, which was published in the Paris papers for the guidance of merchant vessels, on the day before Nungesser sailed, warned against storms.

It was also emphasized that neither Nungesser nor the French government gave this government any information of the proposed route to enable the United States to caution its ships at sea to keep a lookout for the plane.

Flight To Be Made

The state department made it plain that no effort would be made to interfere with the proposed trans-Atlantic flight of the Bellanca plane of Chamberlin and Bertaud, from New York scheduled for Saturday. The suggestion of American Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, cabled from France, that the flight be postponed, was published as information and no effort will be made to restrain the flyers, it was stated.

On the contrary orders have already been issued to American ships at sea in quest of the French flyers to keep in radio communication with the Bellanca plane in case it hops off Saturday.

Gon Zota, brother of Librado Zota, arrived in Wichita Falls Wednesday night and announced that the body of his brother would be shipped to Fort Worth for burial.

A lung motor supplied by the Merkle Undertaking company, in addition to adrenalin administered by Dr. J. A. Little and Dr. J. H. Fillmore, city physician, who had responded to calls to the cave-in, were unavailing in an effort to resuscitate Zota and Gonzalez, who were removed from the hole after being covered with dirt for one hour and twenty minutes and one hour and forty minutes respectively.

Nine men were employed on the job, which was a part of the sewer line being laid from the city to the new disposal plant east of the city. T. R. Lester, foreman over the men, stated that the braces had been placed around the walls of the hole as it went deeper, and additional reinforcements were being built when the cave-in occurred. Work of tunneling the line under the thirty-foot embankment had just been completed.

Librado Zota has a sister living in Wichita Falls and a brother at Fort Worth. Maraciano Lopez' parents live in Old Mexico. Both of the workmen who were killed are well and favorably known here, according to Jimmy Gonzalez, city policeman, who is not related to either of them. Neither is married.

Man Who's Rounder Before Marriage Not Changed by Wedding Ceremony

Advice to a Business Girl Whose Romance by an Unworthy Fiance—Novel Method of Making a Hit With a Nice Girl of Today—Poor Wife Who Married Family Goat.

Dear Miss Dix—For Three years I have been engaged to a young man who I believed loved me very much. I have worked and all my money has been laid aside to help furnish our home. All my dreams have been of the time when we would have our own little home. Then, like a nightmare, came a dreadful revelation. I have found out that he has been drinking heavily and spending much of his time with a disreputable woman. If we hadn't been engaged so long and if I were a little younger I could stand it, but I am 25 and have given the five best years of my life to him, turning down all other dates so as to be true to him. I have seen so many married men that are untrue to their wives that I am becoming cynical toward every man, but I love housework and want a home of my own. Should I make the best of the situation, or break the engagement and run the risk of being an old maid? MARY.

Answer:

If the young man is leading a dissolute life before marriage, what right have you to suppose that he will change and lead an upright life after marrying? There is no magic in the marriage ceremony that alters a man's tastes, or his principles, or that quenches his thirst for drink or that changes a rounder into a sober, domestic husband.

And no woman should know this so well as the business woman who knows how many of the men she works with spend the money that is needed at home on bootleggers, and who hears them so often telephoning to their wives that they are meeting a man from Oshkosh on business and won't be home to dinner, when she knows that they will be chasing around with some little flapper.

And knowing this, why do you even consider marrying a man who has betrayed your trust in him and who has shown that he has a partiality for loose women and drink? You cannot deceive yourself into thinking that you can ever trust him, or that there is any peace or happiness in store for you if you marry him.

If you will use any common sense at all, you must perceive that your lot as a competent, well-paid business woman is a thousandfold better than it would be as a drunkard's wife, or a deserted wife whose husband was off chasing other women. You could not depend upon such a man even to support you, and the chances are that after you married him you would have a worthless, drunken husband to take care of.

Now at least you have your own money for your own use. You may be lonely now, but you do not spend anguished nights with your heart torn by every demon of jealousy, knowing that your husband is with another woman.

Naturally you are hurt and disappointed and disillusioned, but you should thank God that you found out about the weaknesses of the man you are about to marry on the safe side of the altar, and in time to save yourself. Better a broken engagement than a broken marriage.

At 25 you are still young enough to forget and build your life anew. You have really only come to the time of life when you are capable of a big love. You will forget this man and laugh at your early infatuation for him, and find some one who is more worthy of you.

And, believe me, there is nothing to be appalled at in the thought of being an old maid. It is a million times better to have no husband at all than not to have a good one. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—The boy with whom I chum has a pretty sister I adore. The other day when I went to his home tried to kiss her and she said to me: "Don't be foolish. I won't stand for that." She is a different knid of a girl from the other girls I know. What would you suggest for me to do to win her? COLLEGIATE.

Suppose you try acting like a gentleman treating her with respect. That should make a hit her because of its novelty. Most of the boys are so "fresh" nowadays that they make a nice girl very, very tired. Any youth who didn't expect to be paid for every courtesy he showed her by being permitted to kiss her and paw her over, would be regarded as nothing less than a Sir Galahad. So I strongly urge that line upon you.

The greatest flattery that has ever been able to offer a woman is reverence. It is man's chivalry that has appealed more than any other quality to women. In all the great romances and the impassioned love poems the hero has always been depicted as worshipping at his lady's feet, as cherishing the smallest sign of her condescension, as receiving her kiss as something almost sacramental. Surely your readings in college have taugh you all this, and it should teach you that the same method of wooing still works.

For the hearts of women do not change, and while there are a lot of girls so anxious for the attentions of boys that they will buy them at any price, and submit to kissing and necking and petting, there is not one of them who in her secret soul would not prefer a boy to treat her with respect, and who would not thrill to know that he has set her upon a pedestal and loked up to her, instead of looking down upon her as a cheap little plaything.

And as for a dainty and refined girl, one who means to keep herself unsullied, you can't think how disgusted she is with a youth who tries to take liberties with her, or what a poor, cheap sport she regards the one who expects her to pay for his condescending notice by letting him slobber over her.

So try treating a nice girl with reverence and watch her fall for it. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—My husband and I have been married for five years. Before we were married he supported his family. Now they they still look to him to do it, although he has three single brothers an ablebodied father a married sister, a young sister a college and his mother. This makes such a drain on his salary that we have nothing. All winter my baby had to get along with only two changes of underwear and I went so shabby that I was ashamed to be seen on the street. I am a hard-working, saving woman, anxious to get along, but we can make no headway because my husband gives every penny to his family. Wouldn't I be justified in seeking a divorce from such a man? A WIFE.

Answer:

Your husband isn't a man. He is nothing but the family goat, and I honestly can't see why you are called upon to be sacrificed along with your child to his people.

Certainly, it is a cruel and an unjust thing for a man to prefer his family to his wife and children and to rob them of the necessities of life to indulge his parasite brothers and sisters in luxuries.

But many men do that Whether it is family pride or because they lack the courage to refuse to be held up any longer, I don't know. But I do know women who are victims of this peculiar injustice on their husband's part. And I think that any woman is foolish to stand for it. DOROTHY DIX.

MODISH MITZI — — — — It's a Little Hard On the Goofer — — — — By JAY V. JAY

The Goofer is looking far into the dim distance, but he can't see Mitzi. It does seem as though Mitzi should be present at her farewell party and Polly, even though she is looking charming in a dancing frock of silk net trimmed with silk net flowers, won't do as a substitute at all.

Plainly the Goofer's attention is due Adelaide and it should be a pleasure as well. It isn't everybody who can look as attractive as Adelaide does in this frock of black silk net trimmed with black chantilly lace. The Goofer, however, is still looking vainly for Mitzi.

He's almost given up hope. At that he isn't exactly enthusiastic about Elednor's conversation, or even about her looks, though she does wear a frock of ecru lace made in narrow tiers from top to bottom. Eleanor is beginning to think she'll have to talk about Mitzi to make him happy.

"I haven't seen you all evening." Mitzi is saying reproachfully. It's too much for the Goofer. If he started to tell her that it was all her own fault, she would probably weep—and a tear drop is no ornament to a dress of blue silk net with a fichu. He may have been lost, but he's found now.

HER DAY of WORK and PLAY

by AMY ABBOTT ©EFS

There are but few fields of service that bar women, nowdays. The bar is not one of these.

In the west end of London there is a small oyster bar (and a oyster bar in London, sells more than merely oysters) ruled over with iron discipline by two sisters, the Misses Cheeseman.

Miss Cheeseman, the elder, allows no smoking on the ground that tobacco smoke spoils the flavor of the bivalves for others. Her sister, who dispenses the beer, stout, and the "arf and arf" strictly limits the quantity of each customer to one pint.

Newcomers, unaware of the rule, ask for a "dozen oysters" only to be met with a tart—"You will only have half a dozen, and that's all anybody can have today."

Tones of a Stradivarius.

There's music in the air! Spring with it's flood of bird songs, and children shouting at play, and the rhythmical tinkle of the scissor grinder . . . this is the season of song!

And there can be no more perfect music than the plaintive, soaring tones of a violin. Slim little Frances Berkova, who promises at 19, to become one of America's best contributions to the genius of the violin, is sailing for her second tour of Europe. There she hopes to confirm the statement made by critics upon the occasion of her American debut; they said "This small slight girl has the full tones of a man!"

Miss Berkova, whose musical education under Leopold Auer was arranged when she was eight, by Efrem Zimbalist, after that virtuoso heard her play, made her initial public appearance in Berlin three years ago.

Music Degree.

Here is the proof that we need song, and are anxious to reward those who bring it to us.

The noted contralto, Madame Ernestine Schumann Heink, received an impressive tribute when she was awarded the honorary degree of doctor of music by Lawrence college conservatory of music.

"It is not your talent which we would recognize, but the industry, the sincerity, and the singleness of purpose which have marked your life," the president of the college said, conferring the degree upon the singer.

Canadian Singer.

Miss Juliette Gaultier, a singer who was trained for opera but whose interest was diverted to the folk songs of her French-Canadian ancestors, is giving a series of recitals of French-Canadian, Indian and Eskimo songs in their original language. She appears in costume with special science background. Hers will be the first public recital of Eskimo songs in New York, and with her Vilhjalmur Stefanson, the explorer, will discuss aboriginal music. While Miss Gaultier is changing her costumes, motion pictures pertinent to the music will be shown.

Historian.

History in the making! Days of travel, adventure, war and romance—this is the dish of a historian.

Honore Willsie Morrow, a woman writer of history, has just published an exceptionally fascinating, altogether human and accurate life of Abraham Lincoln. She took seven years to write "Forever Free" and most of the time was spent in reading everything that was ever written about Lincoln and the history of his times. Out of this has come the first story of the martyred president that reads like a novel and makes one see him as a man functioning among other human beings rather than as a historical character.

Mrs. Morrow, whose husband, William Morrow, is a publisher, has two children—Richard, 14 years old and Felicia, 11. She says it took months of patient work to train her children to give her the morning hours for her writing, but it is now a firmly established rule.

Crockett School Pupils Give Carnival and Program On Lawn

As a closing event of the school year, members of the Crockett P.-T. A. sponsored a carnival on the N. B. Chenault lawn in Indian Heights Wednesday evening with the pupils of the school furnishing the program and in charge of the booths.

The lawn was brilliantly illuminated for the occasion with Japanese lanterns and various colored electric lights. On one side a throne was arranged, where the queen was crowned and the program held. On the other side, homemade candy, eskimo pies, balloons and other articles were sold. An interesting feature of the affair was the menagerie tent, in which various kinds of animals, including the "tiniest" pony in the world were on display.

On a throne banked with roses and other spring flowers, Jean Hunter, who made the highest average in the Crockett school graduating class, was crowned Queen of May by the knight, Nathan Chenault, the boy making the higest average. Her two maids were Berniece Davenport and Virginia Stearman, the girls making second highest grades. Little Miss Charlese Vaughn and Patty Jean McDaniel were the flower girls, and scattered rose petals in the path of the queen, while Ollie White was crown bearer. Dehlia Keller and Joy Johnson were the train bearers.

The queen's court was entertained with numbers played by the Zundelowitz orchestra; songs sung by the colored Harmony quartet; a rose pageant; numbers by the third grade orchestra, directed by Miss Ewing; a spring dance by Lucile Hodge; a Mother Goose pageant, directed by Misses Parker and Ewing, teachers in the school, and a Spanish dance by Charlott Maer, accompanied by the third grade orchestra.

Spring Graduates Given Pretty Shower

The house was decorated for the occasion in ferns and cut flowers, and the class colors of red and black. Games and contests furnished the diversion and readings were given by little Misses Lola Bell Roy and Mary Frances Hall.

Following the program, Jean Huggins dressed in the class colors, entered with two large baskets filled with dainty and useful gifts for the honorees.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames A. Ryberg, Paul C. Trumpe, Mary Reynolds, R. D. Anderson, J. W. Thomas Jr., G. T. McSpadden, N. E. Anderson, L. Steelman, D. B. Parker, M. V. Horton, H. L. FASHIONS IN FOOD

Fashions in dress may come and go
And costumes be changing all the while—
But as long as men are men, I know
Roast beef and Yorkshire will be in style!

Houses may change with the decades' stride,
Become passe as the years go by—
But cooks to the end will base their pride
On what they can do with a lemon pie!

Period furniture, silver, glass,
Fall in line with social code;
But while they come and reign and pass,
Apple dumplings are still the mode!

Dishes long tried are still the best;
Grandmother's recipes hold their own.
Serve the most Epicurean guest—
Old-fashioned appetite's on the throne!

MAKING MODERN MENUS

Mrs. Brown—"You know, Mrs. Jones, I think it would be a smart idea for us to edit a cook-book. It seems quite the vogue. I just read that Mrs. Coolidge has submitted some favorite recipes."

Mrs. Jones—"Why not? I was just going to make a salmon mousse. I'd put my recipe for that against even the First Lady's."

Salmon Mousse

One can salmon, one and a half tablespoons sugar, half tablespoon flour, half tablespoon flour, half teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons cold water, few grains cayenne, yolks of two eggs, three-fourths cup milk, one and a half tablespoons melted butter, one-fourth cup vinegar, three-fourths tablespoons granulated gelatin, one teaspoon mustard.

Remove salmon from can and separate in flakes. Mix dry ingredients, add egg yolks, butter, milk and vinegar. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Add gelatin soaked in cold water. Strain and add to salmon. Fill individual molds and serve.

It is great to have a clear skin

A clear skin means everything to the popularity of men and women. You cannot get it with external applications. If you are unfortunate enough to have pimples or skin blemishes, in justice to your friends and yourself, you should treat the source of the trouble. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired.

Thousands have been enabled to free themselves of unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S. S. S.

You owe it to yourself to try S. S. S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the process by which the blood is nourished.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried differeent kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised to to take S. S. S. which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S. S. S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S. S. S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

RICH OKLAHOMA INDIAN "LOST"

Girl, 23, Weds Aged Man Who Disappears

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., May 10. (AP)—Officers were searching here today for Daniel Joshua, wealthy 70-year-old Seminole Indian, reported to have been spirited away from his home at Wewoka, Okla., two weeks ago by two women.

Joshua, a full blood, speaking only the Seminole tongue, was seen in an automobile with his captors coming this way a short time after his disappearance, but no further trace of him has been found. The two women, an Indian and a white woman, were seen in Coffeyville Monday night.

Joshua was kidnaped a few hours after he received about $2000 from the government, and had most of the money in his possession. Relatives and officers fear he has either been killed or is being held for ransom, although no demands have been received from his abductors.

Investigators believe the white woman is a Kansas City character about 29 years old, who escaped recently from a Missouri institution. She was in Coffeyville, under an assumed name, with a man three weeks ago. They told officers when questioned here that they were going to Wewoka. The identity of the Indian girl, said to be several years younger than the white women, is a mistery.

It was to Coffeyville that Anna Laura Lowe, Oklahoma white woman, brought Jackson Barnett, world's richest Indian, and married him while officers were searching frantically for the two.

INDIAN TAKES YOUNG GIRL AS HIS BRIDE

OKMULGEE, Okla., May 11. (AP)—Daniel Joshua, 70, wealthy Seminole Indian, for whom wide search has been instituted, was married late Friday, April 22, at Morris, Okla., by the Rev. T. M. Moore, pastor of the First Methodist church there.

The bride and another woman applied here for the marriage license earlier that day. The applicant gave her name as Miss Florence Deroule, her age at 23, and her residence at Henryetta, Okla.

Joshua was not with them when the license was issued.

The wife of the pastor said the couple was married at the roadside in front of the minister's home, and the Indian appeared to be "tickled to death."

HUNT FOR INDIAN A DENIED BY OFFICIAL

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., May 11. (AP)—Daniel Joshua, aged Seminole Indian, has been missing from his home in Wewoka for about three weeks, but no one is making any attempt to learn his whereabouts, W. S. Hiskey, field clerk of the Indian agency, said here today when told of reports that he had been kidnaped:

"He is of age and I guess he had a right to do as he pleases," Hiskey said. "We are not especially looking for him.

"About three weeks ago a girl came to Wewoka and took him to some place around Okmulgee, where they were married. I don't know where they went from there."

Hiskey described the indian as about 70 years old and fairly wealthy, "if they haven't already got his land away from him."

Two Burne dto Death In Engine Station Fire

SAN ANGELO, May 10. (AP)—Trapped by fire of unknown origin in an oil engine station near the center of the Big Lake Oil company's lease in Reagan county, Thomas Z. Hubbard, 40, and Lawrence Evans, 26, his assistant, were burned to death shortly before 5 o'clock this afternoon. Both were employes of the Big Lake Oil company. The men were alone at the station when the flames burst forth and the company's fire department battled for 30 minutes before their bodies could be reached. Each is survived by a widow and two children. Hubbard has been in the Big Lake Oil company's employ since September, 1924. Evans went to Texon from Fulbright in February.

The bodies, badly charred, were being brought to San Angelo tonight. The property damage in the fire was small.

MAY CONTEST PAYMENT

By Universal Service.

SAN ANTONIO, May 11. (AP)—$97,000 on the life of Albert Snyder, for whose murder Ruth Brown Snyder and Henry Judd Gray stand convicted, may never be paid.

The Prudential Life Insurance company, which holds three policies will in all probability thresh the matter out in the courts, it was indicated today. The condemned Mrs. Snyder is beneficiary named in the policies.

"We have not officially been notified of Albert Snyder's death by any beneficiary of the estate, and we will make no statement until Mrs. Snyder's appeal from the death sentence is decided upon," said an official of the company.

If it can be proved that Mrs. Snyder, as charged in the murder trial, obtained her husband's signature to a blank policy and then had the policy made out for a large amount unknown to her husband, the policy may be declared void by a court, according to one authority.

There were three policies, one for $45,000 with a double indemnity in case of "accidental death," another for $5000, and a third for $2000.

Beneficiaries of Gray who is insured for $30,000, will have no trouble collecting, in case of his legal death, it is said.

Speaking of Creameries

STATE Tax Commissioner Ferdinand C. Weinert is a rugged old man ever in harness, who has been a successful farmer, a successful financier, a successful manufacturer, a successful lawmaker and who insists that an agriculturist should live at home. He was invited to Lockhart to address the people of that place and he stressed the great importance of dairy industry to Texas. His subject was, "The Cow and Its Products." This an excerpt:

"When we consider that diary agriculture last year represented a value of $2,500,000,000, that the consumption of milk in the United States is 60 gallons per capita or approximately 7,000,000,000 gallons per annum, butter 2,000,000,000 pounds, cheese 300,000,000 pounds, condensed milk 1,500,000,000 pounds, ice cream 2,000,000,000 and constantly increasing, dairying should be regarded as our most stable and permanent industry. It is our great natural industry, yet, we in Texas import rather than export all these products in large quantities and rely solely on the production of cotton, thus by over-production materially decreasing its market value and placing us on the verge of financial ruin. Wherever one crop is practiced all industries are stagnated."

This former senator is a resident of Guadalupe county. Seguin is his home. He is familiar with creameries and their value to a community. This is what he said to the business men of Lockhart:

"We began with a capital stock of $24,000, but recently had to increase this to $75,000. We are just now furnishing our new additions which will enable us at least partially to handle the materially and constantly increasing supply of milk and butter fat. Our purchase of butter fat in the next 12 months will, we estimate, reach an amount of approximately $200,000. Five hundred local farmers supply our demand. We exported the first car of butter to the north and we supply the Pullman sleeping cars and the Interstate eating houses with our home products. Our slogan has been and is now, 'Quality and not Quantity; Live and Let Live.' We have a local ice factory of 25 tons capacity and a creamery as stated. They are operated under two separate charters. There should be but one. Our business people had no faith in a creamery, and it devolved on Beno du Menil and myself to convince the skeptical and doubting. We cannot fail. Our section's welfare depends largely on a creamery. It is so vital to the farmer. It is likewise vital to the business interests. True cooperation is our slogan. It is not an easy task and rarely ever appreciated, and if it were not for our able and manager Beno du Menil and the moral and unselfish support of a few friends, we, like so many local concerns could not report the success as we do. Economical and wise management is essential or no success is possible."

Senator Weinert reminded the business men of Lockhart that it is not alone what a farmer produces but the price he receives for his product which guarantees success or make failure inevitable. For this very reason he declared business men must aid in securing the best price for dairy products. This he said they only can do by aiding in the building of a local creamery and his experience has taught him a local creamery, if properly operated, will insure a better price for butter fat to the farmer and greater prosperity to the community. His tribute to the cow is worthy of a place in literature. Read it:

"We should eat at home and sleep where we eat. We should not only preach this sound doctrine but practice it. We should not import eggs and vegetable oils from the Orient nor beef from South America. We should give our farmers the same consideration we give to other industries, if not more. Transportation can cease and we may go back to transportation by water and primitive methods and exist, but without agriculture we must all perish. The cow is the foster mother of mankind. She and her sons have built empires. She has created a market for cotton seed meal and other by-products, formerly considered worthless, and restored the health and strength of millions and made mothers and babies happy. Regardless of conditions, hot or cold, she is busily engaged manufacturing for mankind the most wholesome food—milk—in the world."

Lawmakers are Grinding

LAWMAKERS are grinding. This is the first special session of the 40th legislature. It is fair to say that a vast deal of constructive work was accomplished during the regular session. Now the appropriation bills are uppermost. Now the special subjects submitted by the governor will be uppermost.

Texas is a fast growing state. It has a population that is nearing the 6,000,000 mark. It is not the Texas of yesteryear. It is a gigantic commonwealth that bids fair to become one of the most populous and wealthiest states of the American union. All the lawmakers should be interested in the future of Texas as well as the present. They have their duties to perform; they have their responsibilities to shoulder.

There should be court reform as outlined by the governor. There should be prison system reform. Legislation is necessary to give the state a model system and as nearly as possible a self-supporting system. It is a weighty problem. There will be convicts while the state endures for the reason that there will be criminals or men who are guilty of criminal offenses while civilization endures.

There should be a classified civil service law. There is no reason why the spoil system should be continued in Texas. There is a small army of employes. It is only fair that the major appointments or heads of departments should be made by the governor. On the retirement of the governor from office they should go out with the governor, but why should clerks and stenographers, why should the minor employes of the state go out with every administration.

This does not stand for efficiency. Well trained servants of the people are necessary in these minor places. They should not be dismissed by politicians who have friends to place on the payroll. They should pass the test required by civil service requirements and no favoritism should be shown. Efficiency for the place should be the main requirement and a record for industry and personal integrity should receive meritorious recognition.

This newspaper is for Texas first, for constructive legislation, for taxation equal and uniform, for economy in the expenditure of the money of the people but not for niggardliness or parsimonious practices in handling the departments of state or its institutions.

NEW YORK, (EFS.)—Those who doubt the softening influence of modern civilization have but to step over to the old marketing district on Third avenue and interview Otto Schmidt who, as the dramatic editor of a sidewalk horse-radish stand, has devoted 25 years of his life to the outdoor retailing of this pungent and racy root.

Full of the misery of memory, Otto sighs for the good old days when strong men of the metropolis could take a teaspoonful of the emphatic condiment without shedding a single tear. a dose of that sort today, he tells you, would drive the average man into hysterics.

"As you see," says Otto, "I sell my horseradish in bottles. I have to do the grating myself because the modern housewife objects to the labor. It was my wife who gave me the idea. She used to grate her own horseradish. One day she told me that unless I brought it to her grated I'd have to worry along with catsup. I figured that if my own wife felt that way about it, a lot of other women certain must share her idea. Business has tripled since I switched to the bottle trade; but I belong back in the days of ungrated roots, and I'll never get used to the soft, bottled horseradish ideas of this generation.

Having tried every other innovation in bizarre female attire, one of New York's famous leading Boob Bazaars announces the "latest" in sweaters—bearing "nut" silhouettes by John Held, Jr.

One of those sportive affairs in your repertoire," says the advertisement, is enough to animate your entire spring and summer."

Barnum was right, but a trifle conservative.

In the old days when a woman had half a dozen gowns she referred to the mas her "wardrobe." Now she calls it her "repertoire," which is a safe term, because it doesn't mean anything and can be used to designate a collection of clothes that includes nothing more than a bungalow apron, a street dress and a suit of pajamas.

With most of the city's buildings equipped with revolving doors, something will have to be done to curb the exhuberance of the young man with the taffy-colored hair and the limp cigarette who steps into the compartment ahead of you and proceeds to squander the last ounce of his vibrant and youthful strength in spanning the door with such velocity that you are forced to make seevral round trips before you can emerge with the least degree of safety.

MY SON'S SWEETHEARTS— By IDA McGLONE GIBSON

WHAT HAS HAPPENED:

Seventeen years before this story opens, Phillip Wynne Tracy IV. was born to Anne Huntington Tracy who, before he came, had rebelled against having a child because it would keep her from having a good time and would spoil her figure.

Phillip Wynne Tracy, husband of Anne, had neglected his wife shamefully during their child's prenatal period and the night her baby was born he had gone with a gay young married woman to a notorious roadhouse.

Returning in a terrific storm both he and the woman were killed and Anne was apprised of the accident by a morning paper.

Twenty-four hours afterward Mrs. Tracy, feeling the tiny mouth of her son tugging at her breast, realizes that every woman loves and wants her child the moment she feels it in her arms, whatever she might have thought about it before.

She vows, in expiation of her treason to motherhood, to devote her life to her boy.

Here the story further unfolds—

"Come Off!. Don't Lie Any More'n You Have to."

CHAPTER I.

THE BLUE ROADSTER.

Anne Hunington Tracy threw up the window quickly and leaned out to look down the street up which in all the glory of open cut-out and the noise of honking siren came a brilliant blue roadster at breakneck speed.

She caught her breath, however, for only a little way behind it a motorcycle was seen.

"Phil is going to get arrested the very first time he drives his car," Mrs. Tracy said to herself and then her attention was brought back to the boy at the wheel.

"Oh, Mum—Mum—I've got it—I've got it—isn't it a beauty?"

With almost as much enthusiasm as was the boy's Mrs. Tracy leaned further out of the window and waved her hand gayly at her son, Phillip Wynne Tracy IV.

It seemed to her that the greatest happening since her boy was born here in the old Tracy house at Flushing over seventeen years ago had come to pass. Her eyes were full of love and pride as she surveyed her son in all the glory of the blue roadster and its accompanying college-cut raccoon coat.

In the warmth of Phil's expansive smile—that smile which he had not yet learned was usually to bring him everything he wanted from men as well as women—she forgot the Law which was rapidly gaining on the roadster as it slowed down with a jerk and screech of brakes at the gate before the house.

The boy stood in the car and looked up at his mother in triumph. "At last I've got it," he shouted. "The guy who sold it to me said I was not to run it over twenty-five miles an hour until I had gone 500, but we fooled him. We came fro mthe salesroom at a sixty-mile clip."

"We." The word seemed fairly to pop out at the woman in the window. She noticed now what had escaped her before. Peeping around the great raccoon coat from which her son's bare, sleek, brown head emerged was another head, also bare, its straight hair like corn silk put up in cap fashion and bound with a scarlet band.

At this moment the motorcycle policeman had dismounted at the blue roadster.

"Say, young fellow, who do you think you are, anyway—the driver of an ambulance or the chief of the fire department?"

The boy turned a laughing face toward him.

"Hardly, officer. I couldn't have been going very fast. Don't you see this is a brand new car and no one is supposed to run a new car over twenty-five miles an hour?"

"Come off—come off—don't lie any more'n you have to. I just heard you call up to your mother that you'd been going sixty."

The boy hung his head.

It was then the girl on the seat beside him took a hand. Her straight, scarlet mouth smiled trustfully and her lapis lazuli blue eyes looked almost black as she raised them to the man's face. "Have you got a car, Mr. Officer?" she asked.

He looked at her in surprise and answered gruffly: "Yes, I've got a flivver, but what's that got to do with it, young woman?"

"Nothing, only—only you see it's Wynne's first car and my first ride in it—you would not spoil all that for us, Mr. Officer, now would you?"

The man looked down into the two young faces so confidently raised to his and smiled reluctantly.

"Oh, go on with yer blarney, Miss. For you I'll let him off this time, but if I catch him at it again I'll run him in."

"Thank you, Mr. Officer—have a smoke?" Phil's hand was thrust in his great coat and came out with an ornate gold case which he held open to the policeman.

"No, thank you, my lad. I don't smoke cigarettes and you should not either," the officer said gruffly as he stepped from the roadster's running board, mounted his motorcycle and rode off down the street.

Mrs. Tracy stepped back from the window. She wondered if Phil was going to bring Natlee Jones up. She wondered if he had forgotten that she had told him that today, when he would get his long delayed roadster, she had arranged to go with him to Arrowhead for dinner. She wondered when Phil had taken up Natlee again.

Ever since her son Phil was nine years old and Natlee Jones was eight they had had periods when they were inseparable and periods when they had apparently forgotten each other's existence.

From time to time Phil's attention would wander and during this last year of high school when he had been trying to do two years in one, his entire attention had been taken up with athletics and his sudies.

She had noticed this with great pleasure and had told herself that next year when he would be in college he would probably completely break off any silly intimacy that he had with his childhood playmate.

Natlee Jones! whose father kept a dairy. Why Phil had first seen her when she was sitting on the front seat of a milk wagon driven by her father, who sometimes even now, although he had grown rich, delivered milk himself!

Surely this girl was not the sort that Phillip Wynne Tracy IV should be driving about with in his new roadster which had been ordered for him just before Christmas with the proviso that he was to make up one condition in time to enter the spring term at college.

Her thoughts were interrupted by the noisy entrance of her son.

"Here's Nat, Num," he announced as if the fact did not need an explanation. A quick glance from the girl, however, seemed to say that spring term --v:t -D'-.grdlu that she knew better.

"I did not want to come, Mrs. Tracy——"

"Oh, shut up, Nat, you don't have to be polite. Mother, what's got into you? Whenever you come near Natlee lately you make her feel like a punctured balloon."

"Phillip!" "Wynne!"—his mother and Natlee both used the name by which they called him in unison.

"Well, Nat," said the boy in grieved tones, "you know you told me she did."

"I am sorry if I make Miss Natlee uncomfortable," said Mrs. Tracy in her most formal manner. "I am sure I do not mean to do so."

"There you go, Mum—that's just what I am trying to tell you. You never high-hatted Nat before and that's what makes her feel it now."

"I am sure, Phil, I had no intention 'high-hatting' (as you call it) Miss Natlee, but you must remember that you two are growing up and it is time that your childish familiarity should be put upon a more conventional basis."

The moment after Anne Tracy had said this she was sorry, for glancing at the clever little face before her, with its pointed, aggressive chin and curiosity-laden eyes, she knew that by calling attention to the thing she would have avoided she put into the quick brain of Natlee Jones something that had not been there before. She had in one moment erased from the girl's mind all the childish innocence, which up until now had characterized her youthful friendship with Phillip, and had placed in her mind self-consciousness.

Phillip, slower and more obtuse, evidently did not realize this, for he remonstrated vehemently when his mother said: "Well, take off your coats, children. I'll order dinner on the table shortly."

"Oh, Mum, this is a great day for me with my roadster and everything—I don't want to stay at home and just have eats, but I am broke and I thought I'd ask you for $10 so that I could take Nat out to Arrowhead."

With a clutching at her heart Anne Tracy thought, how like his father Phil is growing. He has forgotten all about his suggestion that when he got his car and the racoon overcoat he so much wanted they should finish up his holiday together with a dinner at Arrowhead. Only the name of the restaurant stuck in his memory and made him think it might be a good place to take Natlee.

The girl sensed something wrong from Mrs. Tracy's face and she spoke up quickly: "I am sure Mrs. Tracy, that I don't want to go with Wynne if you don't want me to do so. I had made half a date with Rodney Maxwell for tonight, anyway."

"Oh, come off, Nat, you know you don't like that codfish. You know you told me when I stopped for you that you had never been to Arrowhead and we both decided that we had to begin to do things now that we're more grownup.

"Now, Mum, you see, you've already been thinking the same thing. You just told us so. Let me have the ten bucks, Mumsy," he coaxed.

Without a word Anne Tracy got from her pocketbook a $10 bill and placed it in her son's outstretched hand.

With a whoop of delight Phil clutched Natlee's hand and dragged her along while he shouted: "Come on, Nat, now we'll have a regular party."

"Don't stay out late," his mother called after him.

"We won't," Phil answered blithely—a moment later with a roar of open cut-out Phil and the blue roadster went tearing down the street on their way to a "regular party."

With a sigh Mrs. Tracy watched the car out of sight. Somehow the avid, curiosity-filled eyes and the aggressive little pointed chin of Natlee Jones haunted her.

As Anne Huntington Tracy sat down on the familiar couch chair she found herself wondering more than ever before what the year would bring forth.

What was to be the destiny of her son?

QUESTION: Naomi C. writes: "What would you advise me to do for severe headaches during the menstrual period?"

ANSWER: You must discover what is causing the congestion responsible for your headaches. You will doubtless find, if you have a diagnosis, that your abdominal organs are prolapsed and are pressing one upon another. The proper manipulative treatment will break down any adhesions existing. You can then, by exercising, bring the organs into normal position. First find the cause of your trouble through a correct diagnosis. The cure is then naturally suggested.

QUESTION: Mrs. Mary C. writes: "I am very much interested in your health advice. Will you kindly tell me what causes bile to come into the mouth after eating? My brother took your fast cure for asthma and is apparently cured. He had suffered with it for twenty years."

ANSWER: If you are really tasting bile in your mouth shortly after eating, you must be in a very bilious condition, and you certainly require a careful dietary regime to overcome the cause of your trouble. Try the fast and diet which I gave your brother for the cure of asthma and which brought about such satisfactory results. His diet would no doubt be ideally suited to your case.

QUESTION: Mrs. L. S. H. writes: "Please tell me what you consider the best treatment for gallstones with chronic inflammation of the gall bladder. Do you think pumping the gall-bladder or rather drawing it will eliminate the trouble?"

ANSWER: Many cases of gall stones have been cured by the fasting and diet treatment. It is also a good thing to have deep abdominal massage given by someone who understands how to empty the gall bladder by a squeezing treatment. A physician who understands this manipulative treatment can show you how to help yourself by pumping and squeezing the gall bladder several times daily.

The ONE-MINUTE PULPIT

Wherefore I paised the dead which hath not yet been, who bath the living which are yet alive.

Yea, better is he than both they, which hat not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work which is done under the sun:

Again I considered all travail, and every right work, that for this a man is envied of his neighbors. This is also vanity and vexation of spirit.

The fool foldeth his hands together and eateth his own flesh.—Ecclesiastes 4:2-6.

A ONE-ARMED PRIZE FIGHTER

Wouldn't stand much chance of winning against a fighter who used both hands to good advantage.

We've never seen a one-armed prize fighter—but we have seen many men and women who handicap themselves about as much by defective vision.

It is a handicap that no person should tolerate. For properly fitted glasses will enable them to compete with all equally.

An eye examination takes but a few minutes. Have one today.

Chancellor Here

A feature of the afternoon business session, and a feature of the entire convention, was an address delivered by R. H. Witte of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, supreme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, who arrived in Wichita Falls with his wife early Wednesday morning from Altus, Okla., where he attended the Oklahoma state convention of the grand lodge. Chancellor Witte speaking to the combined members of the grand lodge and the grand temple, opened his address with a tribute to Texas, which he described as "the state of opportunity."

"I am visiting the greatest state in the union," he said, "and I shall always look upon Texas as the choice place of the south."

He then launched into a discussion of Pythianism and its work and service. He especially discussed the various Pythian homes for children and old people which are being constructed throughout the nation. He urged Pythians to begin fraternalism in the home.

"In home fraternalism, the father is the grand chancellor, the mother is the vice grand chancellor and the children are the members," he said. He also discussed the work of Pythianism in the flood areas of the Mississippi, and conditions existing there. Mr. and Mrs. Witte will leave for the flood districts following the close of the convention Thursday.

Gift to Home

Mrs. Anna Briggs of Dallas, supreme chief of the Pythian Sisters, was another speaker on the program, and also presented Grand Chancellor Freeman with a check for $1000 as the sisters' donation to the Pythian home at Weatherford.

Various reports and resolutions and other routine work was submitted at the morning business session in the grand temple, which began at 9 o'clock, and will be passed and rejected at the final session Thursday morning. A number of amendments to the grand lodge constitution were passed to confirm to the standards of the supreme constitution.

The business session was followed by a joint memorial service of the grand lodge and the grand temple, at which time resolutions of sorrow and respect were passed in honor of Pythians who have died during the past year.

Dokeys Parade

D. O. K. K. ceremonial events began at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with a parade, which began at the labor temple, marched through the business section of town, and disbanded at convention headquarters. The parade was composed of Dokeys from the various lodges of the state, grand lodge members and their families and friends, fraternal musical organizations, three city fire trucks, Pythian degree teams, and advertising floats and automobiles, and was more than two blocks in length.

The D. O. K. K. banquet was held in the dining room of the Kemp at 6:30 p. m. and immediately following, 75 tyros, or candidates for membership, were initiated into the order. The second day of the convention closed with a dance, which began at 10 o'clock in the labor temple.

Close Today

The convention will close Thursday morning with a joint business session of the grand lodge and the grand temple. Resolutions, amendments, reports and rules will be passed upon or rejected, and all official business of the lodge will be closed at this meeting. E. A. Gentry, chairman of the transportation committee, announced Wednesday afternoon that he had chartered a special train on the Fort Worth and Denver line to Fort Worth and Dallas for the purpose of conveying the delegates to their homes. The train will make all connections with lines between Wichita Falls at Dallas, and will arrive in Fort Worth at 7 o'clock Thursday night.

GIANTS SLOUGH CARD PITCHERS

McGraw Clan Grabs Opener By 10-1 Count

NEW YORK, May 11. (AP)—Three St. Louis hurlers were unable to stop the Giants today and the New Yorkers triumphed by 10 to 1 which enabled them to supplant the world champions as leaders in the National League. It was the first appearance of the Cardinals at the Polo Grounds this year and about 16,000 fans attended.

Jesse Haines who had won five straight games, was knocked out of the box in three innings. The Giants scored four runs in the first inning on two passes, doubles by Lindstrom and Hornsby and Harper's triple. Later in the game, Farrell and Hornsby each hit home runs with two men on base. It was Hornsby's sixth.

McQuillan pitched a strong game for New York yielding but six hits and the only tally by the visitors came in the ninth. Frank Frisch, playing his first game in New York as a Cardinal, failed to make a hit, flying out three times to Roush. The score:

ROBINS 7, REDS 5.

BROOKLYN, May 11. (AP)—Brooklyn pushed Cincinnati deeper into the cellar hole by annexing the opener of a series here today, 7 to 5. The pitching of Rube Ehrhardt, who replaced Jess Petty, after the Reds had sent the latter to the showers and tied the score, featured the game. Brooklyn broke the five to five deadlock in the seventh when Partridge doubled and came home with what proved to be the deciding run on a single by Carey. The score:

BRAVES-PIRATES TIE.

BOSTON, May 11. (AP)—The Boston Braves and the Pittsburgh Pirates were clinched in a 4 to 4 tie today when a downpour of rain halted the battle. Two of Pittsburgh's runs, which gave them a lead, came in the fifth inning on an error by Moore. Boston tied the score in the eighth by scoring two runs on singles by pinch-hitter Fournier, Richbourg and Jack Smith. There was one out when the rain halted the game. Half an hour later, when the skies had cleared, the field was too soaked to continue. The score:

Fussell Turns Back Buffs Brigade With Four Hits

Wichita Falls Clusters Clouts On Carleton and Boyd, Capturing Series Decider From Houston, 9 To 2

Nobody else would quell that Bison menace, so Mr. Williams' Spudders did!

From the opening gong, Houston has threatened the Texas league supremacy held by Wichita Falls, but Wednesday afternoon at "The Home of the Spudders" our nine teamed with Freddy Fussell, that eminent southpaw, for the second straight victory over Houston. The score was 9 to 2. The win awarded Wichita Falls top honors of the "crucial" series and a five-game lead on her nearest pursuers, Houston and San Antonio, deadlocked on the second rung.

Who was the hero of this money melee? None other than that peerless portsider, Mr. L. Fred Fussell himself. These Bustin' Buffs were not so boisterous Wednesday afternoon, in fact, not at all. For the great lefthander held down the erstwhile riotous bludgeons of the South Texans to a quartet of one-basers, two of which came in the ninth and one of which was an infield scratch Hack Miller caught on the end of his bat and outfooted. Mr. Mathes, the Houston mentor, used four pinch hitters in effort to salvage something from the wreckage. Mr. Fussell broke just about even on these boys, striking out two of them, one of them twice, and giving up base bingles to the other two.

The Williams whammers clustered on Carleton and Boyd, making three hits go for three in the third, one hit for one in the seventh and five for five in the eighth. In other words, only one blow of the ten garnered by our nine was wasted, a single by Benton in the sixth.

There was no individual batting flurries. Our nine just worked together and bunched 'em.

Mr. Fussell's Right Again.

That game Mr. Fussell threw will go down in the league annals as another one of these heavily advertised but seldom witnessed masterpieces. For again that lefthander was imminently right. Only once did Mr. Fussell realize any inconvenience on his own. That occurred in the fourth when he issued a pass to Martin, the first man up. And then after striking out Orsatti, walked Taylor and uncorked a jungle heave, advancing the runners. A sacrificial hoist to center by H. Miller sent a runner over. An error in the ninth tagged up with Hack's dinky hit, a fizzler that reversed between the box and third long enough for the thickbodied one to grab a life at first, and a hit by Mr. Mathes himself who punched one in a pich, scored that other Houston run. Mr. Fussell was not bothered at any other period. He whiffed nine.

Our nine developed a two-base mania, so to speak, in the third Fitzgerald, Lamb and Lapan combining doubles against the outer parapets wit han error and pilfered cushion by Swenson for three runs. These safeties and ensuing three tallies were combed from the delivery of Carleton who started wild but heaved a nobby seven innings, going out in the eighth for a pinch clouter who really clouted. That was Warwick, the catcher. He singled a beaut down the third sack line.

An error at short put Jenkins on in the seventh. A single by Swenson and Lapan's hit-and-run infield out scored Thomas, making it four for our side.

Cinched in Eighth.

Boyd opened the eighth on the knob for the enemy. He probably wishes he hadn't, because we got to musing over how many times an adversary has climbed up and cuffed us in the ninth, thereby forcing us to go an extra half inning out of self defense, so we took no risks of being overtaken. They couldn't overtake Fred, anyhow, but just to be safe, we flailed five runs across. Everybody got a poke at Boyd and LaFayette greeted Gudat, or something or other, the relief thrower, with a single, batting twice in the one chukker. My error, we didn't all hit. Benton, Lamb and Fussell walked and Lapan struck out. But Fitzgerald, Jenkins, Turgeon and Swenson socked 'em to virgin territory along with LaFayette. Jenkins' slam was one of the heaviest yet, a two-base liner over the mid-fielder's head. It it had had any elevation it still would be traveling.

That about closes it out. Was the first game in many no double plays weren't knocked off by somebody.

San Antonio blows in this afternoon for a two-day assault. Mr. Williams is ready.

Yankees Topple Browns By 4 To 2 Score

ST. LOUIS, May 11. (AP)—Babe Ruth's eighth home run of the season off Ernie Nevers' delivery and with Koenig on base enabled the New York Yankees to take today's game from the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 2. Shocker yielded only eight hits and Nevers seven on the cold misty day. Scoring four runs in the first three innings, the Yanks held the Browns to two in the second. Both pitchers worked the full game, marred by only one error. The score:

ATHLETICS 3, TIGERS 1.

DETROIT, May 11. (AP)—Jack Quinn outpitched Kenneth Holloway today and the Athletics won their second straight victory over the Tigers. The score was 3 to 1. Ty Cobb single-handed scored one run against his former teammates. In the first inning, with two out, Cobb doubled to the centerfield fence. He stole third and came home when McManus' throw to catch him at third was over Warner's head. Cobb also doubled in the fifth but this two-bagger did not figure in the scoring. After batting in the eighth and sending Heilmann to the right field bleachers for his fly, Cobb retired from the game and French finished in right field.

SANTONE FARMS MOOS

SAN ANTONIO, May 11. (AP)—Albert (Big) Moos, young outfielder, was released today by the San Antonio club of the Texas league to Corsicana of the Lone Star league. Moos' brilliant hitting in the spring training period won him a place on the roster despite the fact that the club was well supplied with outfielders. Recently however, he was charged with a costly error and his hitting has fallen off a bit. Moos goes to Corsicana under option.

What Do You Know About That?

CHICAGO, May 11. (AP)—Joie Ray, the Chicago track star, whose records crumbled one by one under the fleet feet of the famed Paavo Nurmi, never earned more than $33 a week in his life, Mrs. Myrtle Ray, his wife of eleven years, has charged in her suit for separate maintenance.

While Joie, as a member of the Illinois Athletic club track team, has lived at the best hotels, his wife, according to her bill filed yesterday, was compelled to support herself and their two children "by such dignified and delightful occupations as taking in washing, making lamp shades, clerking and selling cosmetics from door to door."

When there was no food in the house, the bill continued, her husband permitted her "to feast her eyes upon his medals," which she appraised at $7000.

Ray for nearly a decade was regarded as America's greatest miler. He has run the mile under 4:20 no fewer than thirty times.

The Rays were married in Kankakee, Ill., in 1916 and separated in 1925. Ray at present is employed at Gary, Ind.

DALLAS, May 11. (AP)—Beaumont won the series with Dallas by taking Wednesday's clash, 5 to 1. Except in the fifth and seventh, Sam Ross held the Steers hitless. Manager Snipe Conley sent in sixteen men in an effort to find some-one who could hit, finally going in himself in the eighth, but the best he could do was a long fly to center.

SANGER SUES FOR DAMAGES

$3,000,000 Loss In Stock Sale Claimed

WACO, May 11. (AP) — Suit for $3,000,000 damages for alleged breach of contract, with attorneys' fees of $20,000, has been filed in the nineteenth district court here by Alex Sanger et al. vs. Sanger Brothers, Inc., of which Chester L. Jones, Dallas, is president, Striefel Nicholaus & Co., St. Louis, investment bankers, and the Sanger Investment company. The litigation follows the sale of the assets of Sanger Brothers in Dallas, Waco and Fort Worth for $8,850,000. Plaintiffs contend that part of the consideration was the receipts of 77,600 shares of second preferred stock in the Sanger investment company, which succeeded Sanger Brothers; that $2,000,000 of the assets were sold at greatly reduced prices to make up the balance due Sanger Brothers, and that the defendants appropriated to themselves the sum of $350,000 profit as a result. It is contended that the additional monies should have been secured from the sale of common stock and profit, if any, from this source. Failure to finance the project by capital financing, as agreed upon, has impaired the plaintiffs contend, the value of the 77,600 shares of stock to the extent of $3,000,000.

We mingle with San Antonio's burly Bruins in the first of a pair, starting at the usual period, 4 bells.

Mitze's merry macemen are rocking along in second place just like the departing Buffs, making some kind of gestures at our lofty perch.

The first engagement looks like a cut and dried affair unless Mr. Williams is fooling with us. He has named G. Payne as the probable pitching pick with the old man himself in reserve.

Some day, Mr. Williams really is going to get in there and pitch. Probably not this afternoon. The Old Trojan has threatened ever since opening day in Shreveport to throw a few.

Johnny Mann, who looms as the class of Texas league shortstopping gentry, may climb back into the lineup ere the Bears move on. Mann limbered yesterday. Ankle appears about ready to go again.

There were a number of interesting incidents connected with that wrangle of Wednesday. For instance, that larruping LaFayette recessed in his two-base bombardment. Came up with only one blow, a single. He's been hitting like a million.

GOOD GUESS.

About the second time Orsatti, the Buff first sacker stepped to bat, sharp-eyed fan remarked, "For some reaso that fellow reminds me of Buster Keaton," cracking the nail on the head if the story we've been told is true. They say Orsatti has done quite a bit of doubling for the film comedian during the w'nter months when it was too cold to play baseball.

It appeared P. Turgeon was going hitless yesterday, at last, but he came up with a sing'e his final turn at the platter, making it 21 consecutive bas' h't games.

THE CROOK.

Swenson got on first four times. The sonuvagun copped a sneak and absconded with second thrice. He was long gone to pilfer the cushion the other time, but Lapan robbed him by smacking one just as he was preparing to hit the dirt.

This goes under the believe-it-or-not classification: That lurid liner swatted for two bases by T. Jenkins in the eighth printed in reverse.Doak Roberts' signature on the mighty man's bludgeon. No hokum, Doak's monicker is stamped on all Texas league balls at the factory. Jenkins in reality knocked the spots off the sphere.

Turgeon muffed one the other day and then came back in the ninth to win the game with a boisterous bump against the left field fence, whereupon one wall-eyed fan waxed poetic or something. The following was turned in by ardent bug who pleaded with tears in his orbs that it be published:

Oh that wild and wicked error,
That you made an inning before,
When you left a Houston Buffer,
Come home with the leading score,
Will we ever forget it, Petie,
Well, we may, but this we know,
We ain't a going to forget in a hurry
That terrific three-base blow

Continental Slips Up On Texas Electrics For Win

Oilers Sneak Over With 9-7 Victory

Andy Taylor's Conocos upset the dope bucket Wednesday afternoon at Katy park when they walked over the fast-stepping Texas Electric companny nine, 9 to 7. Two big innings in the first of the game paved the way to victory.

Everette Blue, hard-hitting left fielder of the Electric company team, lined out four base hits for a perfect day at the bat. His first drive going for two bases. All four of his wallops were straight over the second bag and on into center field. Blue, also, had a very busy day in the outfield.

Fred Housman was next in line with the Electrics with two hits to his credit. Boone and Hull slapped out two each with the winners.

Boone Flashes

Gerald Boone was the fielding star of the game with several nice catches to his credit. Boone roamed the outfield well and captured five flies, several of which were trapped after hard runs.

Dick Gordon's coach in the sixth off, Prince robbed the latter of a base hit. Gordon took the ball on a dead run into left center. Maurice Cox made several great catches on first base to save his mates from errors. Cox has played a great brand of ball on first this year in all three of the Electrics games.

The Conocos jumped on Bill Houseman in the first canto with a will and chased over four markers. Carrington walked and was sacrificed to second by Boone. Hull walked. Whatley singled through short scoring Carrington, sending Hull to third and taking second himself on the thrown in. Prince singled past first, scoring Hull and Whatley. Taylor, filed to Blue. Ramsey's drive to left took a bad hop past Blue for two bases and Prince scored. Blue took Winniger's long fly for the last out.

The Conocos chased across four more in the second. Denny hit to Francis who let the ball get through him. Carrington walked. Boone struck out and Denny was off for third on the third strike. Houseman heaved high over the bag and Denny scored, Carrington went to second. Francis failed to make a shoe string catch of Hull's low drive to second and it fell for a base hit, Carrington went to third. Whatley hit to Allen, who juggled the ball, Carrington scored and Hull went to third. Prince hit to short and again he juggled the ball, Hull and Whatley scored. Taylor hit to Miller and was tossed out at first, Cox making a great catch over his head. Ramsey popped to Miller.

Electrics Four, Also

Blue's double, singles by F. Houseman and Miller spiced in with a walk and an error gave the electrics four runs in the second inning.

A walk to Allen, a single by Blue and a sacrifice fly gave them another in the third inning.

In the fifth inning the Electrics came back for another when Allen opened the frame with a smashing triple to center. Blue at once drove another single over second, scoring Allen.

A double by Francis and another of Blue's singles gave the Electrics another in the sixth inning.

A triple by Boone and a single by Hull accounted for the last run for the Conocos in the seventh.

NO UPSETS IN WOMEN'S STATE GOLF TOURNAMENT.

FORT WORTH, May 11. (AP)—Upsets were missing Wednesday as the first rounds were played in eight flights of the women's Texas Golf association at Glen Garden Country club and as there are few outstanding favorites in scheduled matches the surprise element is likely to be missing again Thursday. The nearest to a shock would be produced if Mrs. S. G. Hopkins of Texarkana were to defeat Mrs. Rufus Scott of Paris, who put the 1926 champion out Tuesday. But even that would not be startling since Mrs. Hopkins twice won the Arkansas championship and rates a first class golfer.

BEAUTY REVUE AWARDS GIVEN

Miss Edna Smith Chosen For First Prize

First place in the bathing beauty revue, held Wednesday night at Lake Wichita under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's club, in connection with the spring festival, was won by Miss Edna Smith, representing the Bailey-Moline Hardware company. The festival was attended by 2000 persons.

The entry of the Optimist club in the boat regatta garnered the first prize in that event. The Camp Fire Girls' boat won second prize, and the Y. W. C. A. craft, third.

Miss Hattie Osborn, representing Penny's Department store, won second prize in the revue, and Miss Ruth Young, bearing the colors of the McClurkan Department store, was given the third award.

Decorated motor boats formed the regatta in the style of a Venetian gondola parade, with brilliant lights and music adding to the beauty of the spectacle at 8:30 o'clock. The prizes in the bathing revue and in the regatta were donated by local merchants.

Dancing on two floors of the pavilion started at 9:30, with two orchestras furnishing the music for hundreds of couples. Many guests took a swim in the lake earlier in the evening.

The festival was preluded Wednesday afternoon with the entry of fifteen cars carrying members of the Business and Professional Women's club in the Knights of Pythias parade. With blue and white paper caps on their heads and "Spring Festival" streamers on the cars in which they rode, members of the club called to the crowds to attend the celebrations in the evening.

One of the orchestras to furnish the dance music headed the parade in an open bus, and the Lake Wichita calliope followed the last car in the line.

Estimates on profits from the festival had not been made at a late hour Wednesday night.

Phillips Starts Work On Natural Gas Plant

The case was given to the jury for consideration early Wednesday morning and the verdict was returned shortly before noon.

Forum Given Right to Place Four Concessions In Convention Tent

The right to place four concessions inside the big convention tent at Scott and Tenth streets in which the sessions of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention will be held, was granted to the Womans Forum here Wednesday. This is the first time such concessions have been placed in a convention hall proper, and permission was granted that proceeds might be placed on the new Forum club building fund, it was said.

Will A. Gray, chairman of the concessions committee, assented to the locating of the stands at any place in the outer aisle of the convention tent, and the visitor may purchase brick ice cream, cigars, cigarettes, cold soda water, and cold buttermilk at any of the four booths. The Chapman Dairy has donated all the buttermilk, the Forum committees can sell, and other Wichita merchants are giving reduced prices on the supplies.

Mrs. J. D. Bright is chairman of the concessions committee from the Forum, and with a corps of assistants hopes to clear an appreciable sum to place on the new building, it was said.

Tom Connally Chief Speaker At Joint Optimist-Lions Luncheon

"The problems of the present are becoming more pressing than those of the past, and the same fundamental principles that governed the primeval age must govern us," Tom Connally, United States Congressman told members of the Lions and Optimist clubs in a joint session Wednesday at a local hotel.

"We have more problems before us now, and any club that takes an interest in its city, business, financial, or otherwise, is contributing to the solution of this problem.

"The great world war grew out of an incident almost trivial, and soon we had bursting upon us that terrible chapter of blood, lost lives and disaster. Now, we have the Chinese situation confronting us. What is this Chinese war? Nationalism has had a tremendous growth all over the world, and there is a feeling of nationalism in China. It is a question of rival Chinese factions, and the motive that now exists is to conquer China and demand China for the Chinese.

"Still another question is that certain foreign nations enjoy territorial concessions in China, and the great city of Shanghai, 'The Paris of the Orient,' is governed by international commission, not by the Chinese. So most of the problems are, after all, proper recognition of rights of our fellowmen and every nation must recognize the spirit of co-operation in other nations," Mr. Connally concluded.

J. L. Jackson Jr., chairman of the registration committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, announced that badges were now on sale and asked the service clubs to purchase badges at once.

Members of the girl's mandolin orchestra and the boy's harmonica club of Weatherford furnished the music for the occasion, and the Rev. Leslie Miller announced the Floyd Ard concert May 19 at the Junior College.

Appeals are mandatory for both.

OIL LEADERS APPEAL TO FEDERAL GOVERNMENT FOR HELP

'BUY' CONTROL IS SUGGESTED

Executives In New York For Parley

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—Some of the leading oil producers have appealed to the federal government for help in restricting oil production and the federal oil board has replied that the government is ready to assist in any proper manner.

The appeal which embodied a restriction plan to guard against overproduction addressed to Secretary Work, chairman of the oil board, and was signed by Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, and W. S. Farish, former president of the American Petroleum Institute.

Without Precedent.

It declared that overproduction had "recurred this year in a form so malignant as to seem without precedent." A co-operative method of control worked out through joint purchase of certain producing lands was proposed as a solution. Yesterday Mr. Teagle discussed this plan with Secretary Work, who told him to further consider it in conference with other oil men and then again consult with the board. A meeting of oil producers is meeting in New York today with that purpose in view.

"The present plight of the industry is recognized fully by this board," said Secretary Work today, "and I feel that the leaders of the oil world realize that the government is ready and willing to assist in every way proper to meet the crisis. There are certain federal statutes which, of course govern as well as the police laws of the several states and other local acts and regulations which can not with impunity be brushed aside."

OKLAHOMA PRODUCERS WANT STATE ACTION.

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 11. (AP) Efforts to curtail production in the Seminole oil field of Oklahoma—perhaps the largest single contributing factor to the national depression in the oil market—have been in progress ever since the field began its prodigal yield.

The state corporation commission now has under advisement the request of oil producers of the Seminole area to intervene and bring about an equitable regulation of output, if possible.

Intermittent attempts have been made to limit production through prorating the output of the various wells and an umpire, Ray Collins, has been employed on several occasions with full power to enforce the agreement.

No Restrictions Now.

No restrictions are in effect at present, however, and a mad race on the part of competing producers to get the oil out of the ground as soon as possible is in progress. Air pressure is being applied on many wells to increase their output and drilling continues undiminished.

Some indication that the problem might automatically be solved by gradual depletion of the field was seen yesterday when a decline of 7480 barrels from the production of the preceding 24 hours was registered.

OIL MEN MEET IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, May 11. (AP)—Executives of more than a dozen oil corporations met here today to consider the problem of overproduction, particularly in the Seminole field of Oklahoma. The meeting which was called by Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, followed a conference yesterday in Washington with Secretary of the Interior Work, chairman of the federal oil conservation board.

Reports have been current in oil circles that negotiations for a voluntary restriction of crude production are underway with a view to stabilizing the market.

SAXOPHONE RESPECTACLE

LONDON. — The influence of American jazz has triumphed even over British prejudices. For years London has frowned on the saxophone and similar jazz instruments, which, although popular among the hoi polloi of the public dance halls were not admitted to really select society. Now things are different. Influenced by the fondness for jazz music displayed by the Prince of Wales. American orchestras have been accepted at the most exalted functions of the 1927 season, and there have even been jazz bands to play dance music for affairs attended by other members of the royal family.

DOG-GOAT TEAM TRIMS COPS

NEW YORK. — Patrolman Joseph Ryan, the Beau Brummel of the Sheepshead Bay Police station, tottered into his precinct house the other evening, mud-spattered, hatless, his uniform coat torn, and with the rear mid-section of his uniform trousers completely absent from its moorings. Behind him he dragged, attached by lengths of rope, one black collie dog and one nanny goat, both in very bad tempers. He had, Patrolman Ryan explained, been on duty as usual, when his attention had been directed to a suspicious barn, which he investigated. In the barn he found two large capacity copper stills also the goat and the collie. When he attempted to seize the stills, the goat and the dog made objections, charged him, rolled him in the mud, tore his uniform and generally assaulted him with violence. Hardly had Patrolman Ryan told his story when the goat and the dog again went into action. Cops scattered in every direction, and it took six of them half an hour to get the pugnacious animals safely behind locked doors.

EMPIRE PLANS SEGREGATION

Refunding Operation To Be Made By Doherty

One of the largest refunding operations since late in 1926 has just been announced by Henry L. Doherty and company, through which all of the now outstanding bonds of the Empire Gas and Fuel company are to be refunded.

Segregation of the oil and gas properties of the Empire Gas and Fuel company, chief subsidiary of the Cities Service company, will also be undertaken under the operation.

"The plan now being adopted is one which has been in contemplation for over 10 years," Henry L. Doherty and company said in its statement. "It has been felt that very definite advantages from the standpoint of organization, operation and financial structure would be obtained if the oil properties and the gas properties were segregated, because of the essential differences in the two industries. As the organization is now constituted, Empire Gas and Fuel company will be a holding company with three subsidiaries, Empire Oil and Refining company, Cities Service Gas company and the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company.

"Empire Oil and Refining company has been formed to acquire substantially all of the oil properties formerly held by Empire Gas and Fuel company and its subsidiaries, except Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company. The properties being acquired comprise a complete unit in the oil industry, including the four essentials—production, transportation, refining and marketing. The properties include over 3200 oil wells which produced a daily average of 30,000 barrels of crude oil during the first quarter of 1927 located principally in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, including holdings in most of the important districts in the mid-continent field. Four refineries, with a daily capacity of approximately 20,000 barrels of crude oil, are located at Ponca City, Okmulgee and Cushing, Oklahoma and Gainesville, Texas. Fifteen absorption and compression gasoline plants are operated, the daily production of which was approximately 70,000 gallons of high grade gasoline during the first quarter of 1927. Transportation is provided through a subsidiary owning over 850 miles of pipe line and approximately 2300 tank cars, operated under lease from affiliated companies. Over 500 tank and gasoline service stations, located in 12 states, are owned and distribute petroleum products.

"Cities Service Gas company will acquire the entire gas pipe line system and substantially all the other gas properti formerly owned by Empire Gas and Fuel company and subsidiaries, except Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company. In addition, the company is acquiring the properties of the Kansas-Oklahoma Gas company. These combined properties constitute one of the largest pipe line systems in the United States.

"Empire Gas and Fuel company in addition to owning the above subsidiaries also will own 68 per cent of the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company, which is one of the large oil producing companies in the Seminole field of Oklahoma.

"Through control of extensive oil and gas leases, many of which are in definite proven districts. The company is well fortified as to future production.

Under the plan practically $60,000,000 of bonds of Empire Gas and Fuel company and subsidiaries will be called for payment, several mium. However, in view of more mium. However, in vied of more economical interest rates proposed on the new bonds, total interest requirements will be reduced to $3,925,000 as against about $5,240,000 required on the present outstanding bonds.

The new bonds, which are to be sold shortly by a banking group headed by Halsey, Stuart and company and Hallgarten and company include $30,000,000 of Empire Oil and Refining company first mortgage and collateral trust 5 1-2s, due in 1942; $25,000,000 of Cities Service Gas company first mortgage pipe line 5 1-2s, due May 1, serial notes maturing from 1928 to 1942; and $18,000,000 of Empire Gas and Fuel company 5 per cent 1930, inclusive.

4th Producer In Winkler County

Special to The Record News.

SAN ANGELO, May 11.—The fourth producer in Winkler county was in the making Wednesday in Independent's No. 1 Hendricks, which last night topped the pay lime at 3,049 feet, drilled in one foot and stood two thousand feet in oil with the hole still filling.

The well is in section 42, block B-5 public school land, and a western offset to Southern Crude's No. 1 Hendricks' discovery producer, which is making around 350 barrels daily.

Flowing 320 barrels of oil the first twenty-two hours from 1667 feet, two feet in the pay, Pure's No. 2 G. O. Chalk in southeastern Howard county initially became the best well in that field.

TEXAS VEGETABLES.

SAN ANTONIO, May 11. (AP)—Onion shipments from Texas continue to decrease as the deal draws to a close, the potato movement is rather light with lower valley acreages virtually through and other shipping sections not overly active as yet. There was a brisk rolling of cucumbers from the Corpus Christi-Sinton section however, and an increased movement of tomatoes from the lower Rio Grande valley. The Texas loadings of Tuesday follow: potatoes 24 cars; string beans one, mixed vegetables 20, onions 23, cucumbers 23, tomatoes 17.

Tomatoes at lower valley points yesterday were steady at $1.75@1.90 per lug of wrapped greens on a usual terms bass. Potatoes at San Benito were rather weak at $2.75@3.00 usual terms with $2.50@2.75 cash track while onions at Laredo were steady at $2.00@2.15 for yellows and $2.30@2.40 for whites on a usual terms basis.

The elder Dossi explained that his son had taken up the study of pugilism in a serious way, and was at present training that he might get $50,000 a night at Madison Square garden. Said Magistrate Tolleris, "A little education never hurts any world champion," and fined Dossi $3.

Oil in Jack County Well Is 43 Gravity; Preparing to Complete

JACKSBORO, May 11.—The well of Watchorn Oil and Gas company on the Williams Bros. ranch, ten miles southwest of Jacksboro reached the sand at 4467 feet yesterday. Seven hundred feet of oil at 43 gravity has risen in the hole accompanied by strong gas pressure.

The boiler is being moved back and storage tanks erected and connected.

Survey has been made for the Prairie main line in the field and preparations made to complete the well in the next few days. This well is 1245 feet northeast of the Roxana's Williams No. 1 which has been flowing for five years past.

Oil Pool Near Iowa Park Has 10 Separate Sands Producing Oil

The multiplicity of oil sands in the producing area known as the "John and Jeff" pool, southwest of Iowa Park in Wichita county, marks that little district as one of the most remarkable in Texas.

Oil is produced from no less than 10 horizons there and the eleventh sand has been encountered in a well which failed to pay off, although indicating that this level will be found productive somewhere in the vicinity.

The sands range in depth from 180 feet to 1900 feet and are found at the 350, 450, 560, 800, 1100, 1500, 1600 and 1900 foot levels. Among the first production brought in there was the shallow wells on the Mitchell land and east of the Waggoner area.

Production is found in the John and Jeff pool proper from each of the other formations and Simms Oil company several weeks ago tested out a showing at 2170 feet which showed oil but was abandoned owing to salt water intrusion.

Wells brought in from these sands have made initial yields of 10 to 250 barrels, the 1100 foot and deeper sands being probably the most prolific. Companies who have recently completed wells in the pool include Simms Oil company, Continental, Texas, Bridwell and Mayfield, Golding and Cochran and individuals interested in wells with the above concerns.

Several tests are drilling in that territory at present and oil men keep informed on their progress to learn what the newest pay depth is

Cotton--Stocks--Latest Market Quotations--Grain--Cattle

Cotton

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, May 11. (AP)—The cotton market was lower today under selling apparently influenced by more favorable weather reports and rather a favorable interpretation of the weekly review of the weather bureau. July sold off to 15.50 and closed at that figure, the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 17 to 20 points.

The opening was easy at a decline of 6 to 9 points and the market soon showed net losses of 14 to 18 points under liquidation which appeared to be combined with southern and local selling. The latter was promoted by the more favorable showing of the weather map, and while the summary of the weekly weather reports was commented upon as a stand off, the details seemed to be rather better than some recent buyers had expected. At any rate its publication was followed by increased offerings from one source or another, active months selling about 18 to 19 points net lower. Offerings tapered off at these figures while some trade buying was reported on scale down orders, as well as covering and there were rallies of 8 or 10 points from the lowest in the early afternoon.

Rumors of showers or rains in West Texas were accompanied by a renewal of selling later, however, and the new crop months reached the lowest levels of the day in late trading. May sold off to 15.28 and December to 15.95. The close was within one or two points of the lowest.

There was good demand for October as it approached the 15.34 cent level, but buyers showed little inclination to follow up the advances. Trade buying orders were said to be in the market for execution on a scale down from that figure.

Reports that the Mississippi river was rising at St. Louis and that the Arkansas river had also been rising at Fort Smith, came in for some bullish comment, but on the whole flood news seemed to be less in evidence, traders paying a little more attention to conditions elsewhere in the belt.

Private cables said London and Manchester selling in Liverpool had offset continental buying, but the improvement in inquiry for cotton cloth had been maintained with India a freer buyer.

Exports today 30,731, making 9,972,872 so far this season. Port receipts 12,368; U. S. port stocks 1,856,721.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, May 11. (AP)—Cotton was somewhat quiet today and prices tended downward during most of the session although at times there were fair reactions. July opened at 15.60, traded down to 15.47 and closed one point above that figure. The general market closed steady at a net decline of 14 to 21 points.

Cables came in lower than due and the opening here showed losses of 7 to 10 points. After a slight rally, prospects for fair weather in the belt and a bearish weekly weather and crop report turned the market downward again, July trading off to 15.47, October 15.70, and December 15.85, 20 to 22 points below yesterday's close.

After mid-session the market improved on trade buying and covering due to the improved technical position and reports that western rivers were again rising to flood stage as a result of heavy rains. On this rally, July traded up to 15.58 and October 15.83, 10 to 13 points up from the lows.

In the late trading on reports of rain in western Texas where it is badly needed, prices lost all of the gain and closed steady near the lows. Exports totaled 20,731 bales.

Bullish Operations Help Price of Specialty Stocks On New York Exchange Market

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, May 11.—Selling developed throughout the list in the late trading today. Bullish operations went on in several reactions of the list, however, with a good demand prevailing for some of the rails and specialties. Money renewed at 4 1-4 per cent compared with 4 per cent last week. The increase in brokers' loans was a surprise to Wall Street as a much smaller increase was expected. Nearly all of the foreign exchanges were higher. Commodities were steady. Investment buying was again in evidence. Steady transfer of the merger rails from weak to strong hands is now in process.

Montana Power crossed par to a new high for the move and is now selling near the high of the year. Activity in Montana Power is in anticipation of an increase in the dividend from $5 to $6 a share annually when directors meet next month. It is understood that there is under discussion also, a plan for retiring the $9,784,000 of seven per cent cumulative preferred outstanding through the issuance of a debenture issue carrying a lower rate of interest. As earnings are showing a progressive increase, with the reduction of interest charges under the proposed plan, additional sums would be available for common dividends. Interests identified with the company believe that the stock should sell on a 5 1-2 per cent to a 6 per cent basis, which would mean a price higher than the current market rate.

Eastman Kodak was quiet. The company has under way a big deal to amalgamate all of its foreign companies into one corporation. Eastman now controls the photographic business of Europe, having factories and laboratories representing $100,000,000 of capital. Eastman is said to have perfected a process for the making of a non-inflammable film which will be a big help to the movie picture industry, and also has a colored film that can be operated in any laboratory without the purchase of new equipment.

Hudson & Manhattan held firm. The deal forecast here is coming to a head. It regards the Baltimore & Ohio. Hudson Tubes insiders are planning big development scheme to extend the tubes both to the Baltimore & Ohio and the West Shore and Ontario & Western. This would mean an addition of 1 1-2 miles of tube into the West Shore and Ontario & Western terminal at Weehawken.

Union Bag & Paper closed 6 dollars higher. The stock has been persistently bought the past week. Certain-Teed continued active. The company is expected to earn $10 a share this year. Buying is also based on the belief that a big demand for the company's products should develop because of the Mississippi flood.

Oils were neglected although the street heard of a conference going on among the principal producers in the Seminole field with a view to regulating the enormous production from that territory. Any agreement reached would have to be approved by the authorities of Oklahoma, and also by the government. Buying of Hocking Valley recently has been based on rumors that the Chesapeake & Ohio will give 1 1-2 shares of its own stock for one of Hocking Valley. H. V. is expected to earn in the neighborhood of $50 a share this year. Manhattan modified was higher on small transactions and buying of this stock has been going on for the past fortnight.

Motor stocks, with the exception of General Motors went down, although directors are expected to pay a $2 extra dividend. Hudson Motors was a strong feature and a good demand prevailed for Chrysler. Steels were quiet. Operations in the Pittsburgh district are 75 per cent, compared with 80 per cent two weeks ago. Production of steel ingots in the first quarter, however, has equalled that of the corresponding period a year ago. Big operators are inclined to be a bit bearish on the steel stocks. Buying was noticeable, however, in Replogle Steel, on merger reports.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, May 11. (AP)—Corn suddenly advanced today to the highest levels in many weeks, and brought about a late rally for other gran. The corn bulge was accompanied by general purchasing on the part of commission houses and by reports that legislative measures to put the Chicago board of trade under control of Illinois state officials appeared likely to fail.

Corn finished strong, 1⅜ to 2⅝c net higher, wheat unchanged to ⅜c lower, oats ⅝ to ½@⅝c up, and provisions unchanged to 10c down.

Better weather for spring wheat seeding dominated the wheat market most of the day, but in the late dealings the strength of corn helped wheat to overcome the bulk of losses which had previously taken place.

Oats derived strength from corn and also from reports of delayed seeding.

Provisions were governed by a decline in hog values.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, May 11. (AP)—While a number of constructive developments served to encourage operators for the rise in the stock market today, increasing resistance was put forth by bear traders, who pressed some stocks for sale vigorously. The volume of offerings increased decidedly in the closing transactions. General Motors and other such leaders were substantially depressed. U. S. Steel, which earlier in the day had sold up to 171⅝, closde the day with a fractional loss.

A steadier tone developed in the oil group with the meeting here today of 15 prominent petroleum executives to discuss steps t ob etaken to relieve the industry of the drag caused by flood production.

Numerous irregularities reflected divergent views as to prospective trend of prices. General Motors dropped sharply after an early advance based upon expectation of important dividend action tomorrow. Hudson Motors, however, forged ahead to a new high of 88⅝ and closed with a net gain of over 2 points.

Although call money held firm at the renewal rate of 4½ per cent the sales of the $60,000,000 city bond issue on a 3.936 per cent basis, the lowest rate in 18 years, suggested a protracted period of continued easy money. Time loans held steady at 4¼ to 4⅜, and prime commercial paper was unchanged.

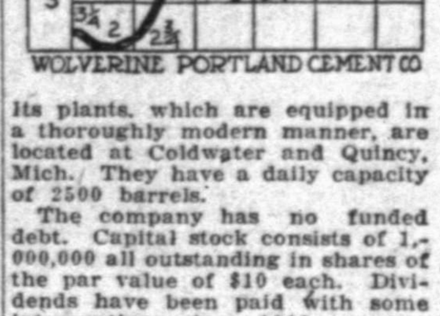

Foreign exchanges were firm, with Japanese yen advancing 20 points to 47.80 and Italian lire rising 6 points to 5.43½. Demand sterling ruled around $4.85 9-16 and French francs below 3.92 cents.

WOLVERINE PORTLAND CEMENT COMPANY
5-Year Record

The Wolverine Portland Co. dates from Feb. 24, 1902, when it was incorporated under the laws of Michigan. The manufacture and sale of Portland cement comprise the activities of the concern.

Its plants, which are equipped in a thoroughly modern manner, are located at Coldwater and Quincy, Mich. They have a daily capacity of 2500 barrels.

The company has no funded debt. Capital stock consists of 1,000,000 all outstanding in shares of the par value of $10 each. Dividends have been paid with some interruptions since 1902 at rates ranging as high as 26 per cent, the latter rate being disbursed in 1907. After a lapse from 1918 to 1922, three per cent was paid in 1923; 16 per cent in 1924, 60 cents in 1925; and 30 cents in 1926. Feb. 15, 1927, a distribution of 15 cents a share was made.

For the year ended Dec. 31, 1926, net sales totaled $7,706,791 and net income was $12038, leaving a deficit after dividends of $17,962. This with other minor items reduced profit and loss surplus from $210,519, Dec. 31, 1925, to $192,557 a year later. As of Jan. 1, 1927, net current assets totaled $582,890 and current liabilities $20,586 leaving a net working capital of $562,304. As of Dec. 31, 1926 balance sheet, the indicated book value including $37,668 fire insurance reserve, applicable to the 100,000 shares of capital stock amounted to $1,230,013 or $12.30 per share.

Four New Wells Are Completed In Seminole

TULSA, Okla., May 11.—Four new wells were reported in the Seminole field yesterday, three of the gusher type.

Atlantic Oil Producing company's No. 1 Taylor in 10-8-6, drilled sand from 3993 to 4000 feet and the well made one flow yesterday.

Pure Oil company's No. 7 Reed, in 14-8-6 has been completed for a 6165 barrel well in the Wilcox sand.

The same company's No. 6 Reed in 14-8-6 is making 365 barrels of oil from Wilcox sand drilled from 3115 to 4318 feet. The water has exhausted.

Production in the Greater Seminole field for the 24 hours totaled 346,597 barrels from 410 wells, a decline of 7483 barrels from the previous day.

Gasoline Prices Cut In Middle West Area

TULSA, May 11.—Standard Oil company of Indiana yesterday reduced the tank wagon price of gasoline two cents a gallon, and kerosene one cent a gallon effective at once. The new tank wagon price in Chicago is 14 cents, and service station price is 16. The new kerosene price is 12 cents. This applies in the Standard Oil company's territory.

The Standard Oil company in Kansas City territory made a cut of 1.1 cent a gallon on gasoline. This was for the purpose of placing the Kansas City tank wagon price on a level with prices in other parts of the territory. Kansas City price was .9 cent under the regular level.

The Texas company met the Standard's price in this territory.

The price adjustments have had not effect on the price in Tulsa and in Tulsa territory.

Reiter-Foster Drills Deepest Rotary Test

The deepest rotary test to be drilled in the Woodson field of South Throckmorton county is soon to be spudded in by Reiter-Foster Oil company of Wichita Falls. The well is Reiter-Foster's No. 4 Parrott and offsets the Red Bank Oil company's No. 4 Parrott recently completed and now flowing 850 barrels.

A 124-foot derrick has been erected on the location which is 466 feet from the north and east lines of section 971, T. E. & L. survey. A twin engine, three boilers and six and five-inch drill stems are part of the equipment of this test which will go to the 4200 foot horizon.

Western Counties Get Continued Lease Play

Leasing is still being done in the wildcat territory west of Wichita Falls, according to field men who have traversed that area recently. Hardeman county, especially is the scene of much buying by company lease men and two drilling blocks have practically been formed. Torsion balances are being used by some of the larger companies and purchases of leases usually follow this method of geologizing. Knox, Foard, Cottle and Childress counties are also receiving a comparatively active play.

WEST PAMPA

Empire Gas and Fuel company's No. 1 Archer, in section 174, block 3, of I. & G. N. survey, and to the west of the Pampa field, in Gray county, made 290 barrels in 15 hours and 440 barrels the full 24 hours from a sandy lime from 3268 feet. The elevation there is 3287 feet.

EAST TE AS SLUMPS

East Central Texas production showed a decrease of 80 barrels in the past week. The total production from the six pools was 28,355 barrels, divided as follows: Mexia 11,100, Richland 1000, Currie 680, Powell 17,725; Wortham 3600 and Nigger Creek 3250.

COUNCIL CLOSES DOWN TOWN STREETS FOR C-C CONVENTION

PARKING RULES ALSO ADOPTED

City Pays For Policemen During Meet

Closing of Scott street, from Seventh to 14th and Eighth from Ohio to the alley in the rear of the Hamilton building, during Monday and Tuesday of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention was ordered Wednesday at a special session of the city council.

The council also issued an order that no parking during the two days will be allowed on the following streets:

Ohio, between Seventh and 11th, Indiana, Seventh to 13th; Lamar, Seventh to 14th; Eighth, Ninth, 10th and 11th between Travis and Ohio; 11th, 12th and 13th, between Travis and Ohio.

Lively Session.

Traffic on Scott street, between 10th and 14th, will be allowed until noon of each day, the council ordered.

Heated arguments between representatives of the chamber of commerce, which presented the request for the closing of the streets to the council, and Mayor Shepherd resulted during the hearing, which also included the subject of employing extra policemen during the convention.

After a long discussion, Mayor Shepherd, who maintained that the chamber of commerce should pay the policeman, announced that if the chamber of commerce would not pay the extra police bill "that it was up to the city."

Mayor Shepherd then called a meeting of the council for Thursday morning to devise ways and means of obtaining funds for the employment of the policemen.

W. B. Hamilton who was the spokesman for the chamber of commerce representatives, asserted that it would be a detriment to Wichita Falls if the city was not properly policed.

Citizens Must Pay.

Mayor Shepherd agreed but said "as this is a chamber of commerce 'party' and as the city does not have the funds to pay the extra men I believe it is up to the chamber of commerce."

Mr. Hamilton pointed out that after the convention was over the citizens of the city would have to "dig down in their pockets" to pay the bill.

The discussion relative to the closing of the streets, which was ordered by the council, was brief. Mr. Hamilton said the streets ought to be closed as the convention was not proposed for the purpose of selling merchandise but for entertaining the citizens of West Texas.

Streets Closed.

Mayor Shepherd said that a number of merchants located on the streets affected had complained to him relative to the closing and stated that they believed the streets should remain open.

However, on motion of A. W. King, sanitary and park commissioner, which was seconded by Oral Jones, finance commissioner, the council voted unanimously to close the streets.

Mr. Hamilton asserted to the council that if the chamber of commerce had enough money on hand after the convention bills were paid that the funds would be given to the city to defray the cost of the extra police. However, Mr. Hamilton held out no hope to the council that there would be any money left.

Representatives of the chamber of commerce at the meeting were: Mr. Hamilton, Homer D. Wade, N. M. Clifford, Horace Robbins, H. J. Adair, A. L. Huey and P. A. Rogers.

After the discussion was completed Mr. Rogers offered the services of the traffic committee of the safety council as an aid to the city in the policing situation.

Senator Borah Proposed As Democratic Candidate

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 11. (AP)—Senator Borah of Idaho has been advanced as a logical choice for the Democratic presidential nomination by Senator Cole L. Blease, junior Democratic senator from South Carolina.

Mr. Blease said here last night that although the fact that Mr. Borah sat in the councils of the Republican party might prevent his nomination, the Idaho senator in reality was an independent and would "outrun" any man the Democrats could pick.

Crisis Develops Before Mexico Subdues Yaquis

NOGALES, Ariz., May 11. (AP)—A crisis in the rebellious movement of Yaqui Indians against the Mexican government appeared near today as federal troops rushed preparations to meet a band of redmen, avowed followers of Adolfo de la Huerta, former privisional president, reported marching northward toward Nogales, Sonora, just across the border from here.

MEXICO CLAIMS YAQUI REBELLION SUBDUED

MEXICO CITY, May 11. (AP)—The Yaqui rebellion in the state of Sonora has been virtually suppressed, Major Cesar Rangel, chief of the federal forces in that state, told El Universal Grafico on his arrival in Mexico City last night to make a report to the war department. He said the Yaquis were flocking into the federal posts to surrender.

Radio Pictures Start of Nungesser's Paris-New York Flight

The wonders of modern science and invention are strikingly demonstrated in this picture, which is an authentic snapshot of the airplane White Bird, in which Captain Charles Nungesser and Captain Francois Coli hopped off from Paris in the start of their unsuccessful non-stop flight to New York, taken after they had started their perilous journey.

Picture was made from an airplane accompanying the White Bird at start. The photographer's plane then flew direct to London. Negative was developed en route. From London the negative was transmitted to New York by radio, and from New York wired by the telephoto process for the Wichita Falls Record News.

Today { At the Theaters

By Ruth Morrison

Majestic: "The Yankee Clipper," with William Boyd, also Topics of the Day, Fables and Pathe News.
Olympic: "Cabaret," with Gilda Gray, also comedy and Fox News.
Strand: "One Increasing Purpose," with all-star cast, also comedy.
Mission: "Wolves of the Desert," starring Ben Wilson, also comedy.
Garden: "Three Bad Men," with all-star cast and comedy.
Gem: Dorothy Gish in "Clothes Make the Pirate," and western picture.

Gilda Gray surprised a great many persons when "Aloma of the South Seas" was unanimously called the best first picture a screen novice had ever made. Now comes her second, "Cabaret," and the former idol of the music halls again proves that she knows as much about films as she does dancing—and believe you me—that's plenty! Gilda isn't the first terpsichorean exponent to attempt adventuring in cinemaland but she does stand alone in having made a running start and followed it up with another wow!

As in "Aloma," Miss Gray is again surrounded by a better than average cast. Tom Moore and Chester Conklin are featured and with two such "troupers" as these the star found herself receiving excellent support. Mona Palma, one of the Paramount junior stars, Jack Egan, William Harrigan and Charles Byer all contribute fine performances.

As for the story, a thrilling affair if ever there was one, it has to do with Gloria Trask, a dancer in a Broadway cabaret, who becomes involved in a web of affairs which lead to a murder and surprising denouement. The settings and atmosphere are uniformly good and Director Robert Vignola contributes many fine touches which add much to the general makeup of the picture.

Did someone ask, "Does Gilda dance?" Yes sir, and it isn't a shimmy, hula or Black Bottom. It's something entirely new, called "The Cabaraba" and—worth the price of admission without anything else! The picture is at the Olympic Theater.

With Ben Wilson directing and playing the leading role the Rayart production, "Wolves of the Desert," comes to the Mission Theater today. "Fangs," the remarkable police dog, has a prominent role.

Opposite Wilson, Neva Gerber appears as a girl of Arizona. Others in the cast are Ruth Royce, Ashton Dearholt and Al Ferguson.

The story tells of an eastern criminologist who is called to Arizona to run down the men who are gradually wrecking a prosperous gold mine. Convinced that he is leaving love back in the east, the investigator goes into the desert. There he finds not only the real romance, but action, mystery and finally, the crooks themselves.

Gilda Gray in "Cabaret," the attraction at the Olympic Theater today, Friday and Saturday.

Brother of Slain Man Testifies Here in Trial of J. E. Edgar

Presentation of evidence in the case of J. E. Edgar charged with slaying W. M. Culver Dec. 11, 1926, which went to trial Wednesday morning in the 89th district court was started Wednesday afternoon following the selection of a jury.

Jurors in the case are: J. E. Stroud, J. F. Osborn, Grady Marchman, F. W. Krottinger, C. E. Jones, L. R. Staton, O. D. Taylor, O. M. Dorsey, J. A. Cromeans, E. R. Bobo and L. J. Gamer.

Edgar is accused of shooting Culver during an argument, which occurred near Kemp City, relative to the ownership of a cow.

After presenting one witness the state, represented by Ben Alfred, district attorney and E. P. Freuchte, assistant district attorney, closed its case and announced that additional witnesses would be presented on rebuttal.

John Culver, brother of the slain man, the witness presented by the state, testified that he went with his brother to a farm occupied by Edgar to obtain the cow, which Culver claimed belonged to him.

The witness testified that neither he nor his brother was armed. During the argument with Edgar, the witness testified, the accused man shot W. M. Culver in the head, killing him instantly, and wounded the witness, after firing three shots at him while he was fleeing.

The defense introduced two character witnesses before court adjourned until Thursday morning.

COUNCIL VOTES 1927 BUDGET

Ordinance Appropriating Funds Passed

An ordinance appropriating funds for the maintenance of the city government for the ensuing year was adopted Wednesday by the city council in special session.

It was the third vote on the ordinance and the only dissenting vote against its adoption was cast by Roy Carter, police and fire commissioner.

Before the vote was taken Mr. Carter asserted that he did not believe that the police department would receive enough money under the terms of the ordinance to operate for the coming year.

Some discussion relative to the legality of voting on the ordinance at a special meeting was raised, however W. E. McBroom, city clerk, advised the councilmen that according to the city charter the ordinance could be legally voted upon at a special meeting.

Before adjourning the councilmen agreed not to hold the regular meeting Monday night due to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention.

Small Piece of Tape Leads to Pen Term of 12 Years For Wichita Man

Because it was alleged in an indictment that Marion Fetters had previously served a term in an Oklahoma penitentiary for burglary, a jury in the 89th district court was compelled Wednesday to assess a maximum penalty of 12 years in the penitentiary, against him in a case in which he was charged with robbing a Wichita Falls grocery store.

The indictment is thought to be the first one returned in Wichita Falls in which the extreme penalty was requested for the accused on account of a previous conviction.

Judge P. A. Martin, who presided at the trial, charged the jury that according to the state law, if the defendant was declared guilty that it would be necessary for the jury to assess the extreme penalty due to the previous conviction.

The state, represented by Ben Allred, district attorney and E. P. Fruechte, assistant district attorney, depended on circumstantial evidence to convict Fetters.

A short piece of tape was found by officers wrapped around the knob of a safe in the grocery store. Another piece of tape of similar character was found in Fetters' home.

Charles Wolcinski, who was jointly charged with Fetters in the commission of the alleged robbery, was acquitted by a jury Monday in the 89th district court.

Fetters' trial started Tuesday morning and was given to the jury for consideration Tuesday afternoon. The verdict was not returned until Wednesday morning.
