Solon Hurls New Charges At Lilienthal

By JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May. 27—Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) charged today "numerous persons who have strong Communist leanings" are on the Atomic Energy commission payroll.

Hickenlooper submitted a "bill of particulars" listing specific accusations against AEC Chairman Lilienthal and his associates at a special session of the Senate-House atomic "watchdog" committee.

Committee Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) made it clear that the group will go ahead with its investigation of the entire atomic program and Lilienthal's stewardship despite President Truman's spirited defense of the AEC chairman.

"Politics" Charge Denied

The President yesterday expressed "entire confidence" in Lilienthal, and accused his critics on Capitol Hill of making him and the AEC "pre-election" targets for the 1950 political campaigns.

Hickenlooper replied that "there is no politics whatever" in his demand that Lilienthal resign.

The senator, a member of the "watchdog" committee, urged more speed in the inquiry. Lilienthal has asked for a "full, complete and speedy" investigation.

McMahon said he interpreted Hickenlooper's bill of particulars, made behind locked doors, as falling into these categories:

1. "Incredible mismanagement and maladministration."

Fiascoes Charged

2. "Two fiascoes—uranium lost at a Chicago laboratory and the AEC scholarship program."

3. Employment in the atomic program of "numerous persons who have strong Communist leanings."

4. "Equivocation" by the commission.

5. "Misplaced emphasis."

6. Waste of money by the commission.

Hickenlooper refused to amplify his reference to employment of Communist sympathizers.

But he said there is no reason "why these matters can't quickly be canvassed."

Spending Plan Blasted

McMahon said that the "watchdog" committee will meet again next Tuesday to complete plans for a full dress investigation in the general areas of inquiry outlined by Hickenlooper.

Meanwhile the committee attacked the AEC on a new front by approving a subcommittee report blasting the commission's plan to spend $10,000,000 building a 156-

CHILD DIES IN FIRE—Only still smoking ruins and rubble remain of a three-room frame house in which Lynda Richards, two daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Richards, perished Friday afternoon. The body of the child was found on a heat-twisted bedspring, (note arrow), in the rear bedroom and hauled from the still smouldering embers by neighbors. The Richards, who lost all their possessions in the fire, have two other children, Jo Ann, about four, and Connie Marie, about eight months. (Staff Photo.)

Lynda Joyce Richards Victim Of Flames

Child Dies As Fire Levels Farm Home

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

LYNDA Joyce Richards, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Richards of near Lakeview community, was burned to death between 3 and 3:30 p.m. Friday when fire swept her parent's home.

The scene of the tragedy is about 18 miles southwest of Lubbock just within the southwest line of the county.

O. K. (Shorty) Briggs, a worker on the Fred McNabb farm on which the Richards' home was located, was the first to discover the fire, according to reports given Justice of Peace D. W. Robertson, Assistant Dist. Atty. A. W. Salyars, and Deputy Tom Cannon who investigated the accident.

Worker Rushed To Scene

Briggs, the investigating officers were told, was planting cotton in a field only a few hundred yards from the Richards' house when he noticed flames pouring from the windows and smoke billowing from the roof. He left his tractor and rushed to the house, shouting an alarm to residents in another house only a few yards to the south.

Briggs' shouted alarm brought Mrs. Richards to the door of the neighboring home where she was visiting along with her two children, Jo Ann, about four, and Connie Marie, about six months.

Mrs. Richards screamed that her baby was in the house, witnesses said, and Briggs made an effort to enter the house by the front door. The flames forced him out, and another effort to enter the blazing dwelling from the rear also failed.

House Burned Quickly

Neighbors said the house was burned to the ground in less than 10 minutes. The body of Lynda Joyce was discovered laying on the springs of a bed in what had been the back bedroom of the three-room home.

Richards, who was working some distance away on another section of the McNabb farm, was summoned by neighbors. He said that everything the family owned was destroyed, and that the family was left destitute.

Josephine Carroll, negro who lived near the Richards house, said that she had been over to see Mrs. Richards shortly before the tragedy, and that Mrs. Richards had left the house with Joe Ann and Connie Marie when she returned to the Carroll home. She said that the first they knew of the fire was when they heard Briggs' shouted alarm, and that when they rushed outside the house was filled with flames. Edna Mae Mayberry, a negro who was visiting in the Carroll home, confirmed this statement.

Josephine Carroll said that before Mrs. Richards left her home she looked into the rear bedroom

Former Lamb Sheriff Killed

(Special To The Avalanche)

LITTLEFIELD, May 27 — Last rites for Hugh Rice, former Lamb county sheriff who was shot to death in a bedroom of his home here at 7:30 o'clock this morning, will be conducted at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the Littlefield Drive Church of Christ. Burial will be in Littlefield cemetery.

Sheriff Sid Hopping, County Attorney Bob Kirk and Justice of the Peace Sam Farquhar, who were called to the scene of the shooting, said a .38 calibre revolver was found near Rice's body.

A note found on the body after it was taken to Hammons Funeral home was in custody of Sheriff Hopping, who did not reveal the contents. It was indicated, however, that the note referred to "mistakes."

Has Served One Term

Farquhar said late tonight that he would not return a verdict in the shooting until about noon Saturday. He indicated a suicide verdict probably would be returned at that time.

Rice, about 41, served one term as Lamb county sheriff and went out of office Jan. 1 after having been defeated by Hopping last year.

Rice had been named on two counts of liquor law violation Thursday after raids by Hopping and his deputies. Charged with sale of liquor, Rice waived a hearing, pleaded not guilty before County Judge Otha Dent, and posted bond of $500 in each case.

He had spent about three hours in Lamb county jail waiting for arraignment.

Wife Finds Body

His body was discovered by his wife after she had heard a shot. Officers found the body near the opening of a closet door in the back bedroom of the home at 421 West Fourth. His head was near the closet door.

He had been shot at close range, officers indicated, with the bullet entering the head above the right ear.

The body was taken to Hammons Funeral home after Dr. J. R. Coen pronounced him dead.

Rice had lived in Littlefield a number of years. During the war

Eisler Freed In British Hearing

LONDON, May 27 (AP)—Communist Gerhart Eisler was freed by a British court today to resume his interrupted flight from the United States to his native Germany. But the threat of further American action hung over him.

"We shall exert every effort to secure the return of the fugitive," said Attorney General Tom Clark in Washington after the Bow Street magistrate's court set Eisler at liberty.

Magistrate Sir Laurence Dunn said the perjury charge presented by the United States—an extraditable offense under the Anglo-American extradition treaty of 1870—could not be proved.

U.S. Demand Rejected

He rejected the demand that the pudgy, mild-appearing little man whom a congressional committee has called America's No. 1 Communist agent be returned to face again the two prison sentences he jumped $23,000 bail May 6 to escape.

Clark did not say what the next American move might be. He commented however, that the ruling, which involved a passport fraud case of 1945, "appears to be based on the most narrow tech-

17 Colombian Students Burn To Death In Eruption Of Volcano

CALI, Colombia, May 27 (AP)—Colombian army engineers struggled up the smoking side of Purace volcano today and recovered the burned bodies of nine university students. They were killed yesterday when the mountain erupted violently.

Eight other students were buried under a lava slide. Their bodies could not be found.

Only two of a party of 19 escaped. Those two were beneath a protecting rock ledge when the volcano erupted.

The students, from the engineering school of Cauca university at Popyan, had gone to Purace to observe the volcano. It had been in minor activity for several days.

Ripley, Famous Cartoonist, Dies

NEW YORK, May 27 (INS)—Robert L. Ripley, originator of the "Believe It Or Not" cartoon which entertained and informed 70,000,000 persons daily, died suddenly of a heart attack.

The 55-year-old Ripley was fatally stricken in New York's Harkness Pavilion moments after assuring a close friend and colleague, "I feel swell."

International News Service columnist Arthur "Bugs" Baer talked with Ripley by telephone for five minutes. Ripley, Baer said, "promised to come out and visit us tomorrow."

Entered Hospital Thursday

Baer added:

"Ripley's voice was normal and strong."

Ripley, whose daily report on oddities was carried in newspapers printed in 17 languages, entered the hospital in the Columbia-Presbyterian medical center for observation yesterday.

Baer said moments after he talked with Ripley he received a telephone call asking his help in locating Dr. Robert Levy, a cardiac specialist. Dr. Levy was located at the hospital itself and hurried to Ripley's room but found him dead.

A nationwide survey showed that his "Believe It Or Not" cartoon was the greatest reader-in-

Bill Setting Acreage On Cotton Offered

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—A bill to reduce planting limitations under the cotton marketing quota section of the agricultural adjustment act was introduced today by Senator Anderson (D-NM).

He said the measure, drafted in co-operation with major cotton growers' organizations, would eliminate quirks from the present act which have made it impossible to limit cotton acreage to less than 27,500,000 acres.

Anderson's bill would set 22,500,000 acres as the base for national acreage allotments for cotton in 1950 and 1951. With certain exceptions, state allotments would be based on average plantings for the years 1945, 1946, 1947 and 1948.

The national acreage allotment for 1953 and subsequent years would be apportioned to states on the basis of the acreage planted to cotton during the preceding five calendar years.

HONEYMOON PLANS MAPPED

Rita Becomes Princess As Vows Read In Crowded French Town

By ALVIN STINKOPF
Associated Press Staff Writer

CANNES, France, May 27—The girl from Brooklyn and Hollywood, Rita Hayworth, became a princess today by marrying the Aly Khan. The French civil ceremony will be followed soon by religious rites in the Moslem faith of the bridegroom.

Tonight, after a reception run at the rate of 15 bottles of champagne per guest, the couple were mapping a honeymoon that will include a trip to England for the derby.

Rita and Aly said "yes" shortly before noon in the town hall of nearby Vallauris, a two-mile hop from the sunlit Mediterranean.

Mayor Impressed

Paul Derigon, Communist mayor of the village, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Impressed by it all, he referred to the bride as "your highness" and wished the couple happiness.

The actress, radiant in a light blue, silk crepe dress and broad picture hat wound with tulle of the same delicate color, appeared just a little nervous. Her lips trembled at times, and she tugged at her handkerchief. But she

Red Plan To Squeeze Air Corridor Hit

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, May 27. — Tre Russians suggested narrowing of one of the three airlift lanes to Berlin as a safety measure today, saying Soviet military maneuvers will start immediately and they will not be responsible for Allied planes entering the "danger areas."

United States and British authorities replied that their planes will continue to fly the corridors —20-mile wide links between West Berlin and West Germany—without deviation.

The notification was given the Western Allies as total paralysis gripped the railway from Helmstedt in this 11th day of a strike by anti-Communist West Berlin rail workers.

Supply Situation Bad

Berlin's supply situation appeared as critical as it was at the height of the recently lifted Soviet blockade.

The airlift, manned by Americans and Britons, has again become the main source of supply to West Berlin. It is steadily ferrying in about 8,000 tons of food and other things daily. The two allies had planned to use the airlift to stockpile 200,000 tons of supplies as a protection against another blockade.

C. P. Sorchenko, chief Russian air controller at the Berlin air safety center, advised the Allies to shift their airlift route in the Buckeberg corridor from the British zone and detour planes along the northern edge. He said there would be air to ground firing "from May 28 onward" at heights up to 30,000 feet. British and American officials protested. They said this would permit use of only a third of the lane.

New Offer Rejected

Willy Kriekmeyer, president of the Soviet-controlled Reichsbahn (railway system), made a new peace offer to rail strikers—60 percent West mark wages—in a radio Berlin broadcast tonight. Strike leaders immediately called the offer worthless.

West Berlin's lord mayor, Ernst Reuter, demanded that the Reichsbahn capitulate to the 12,000 strikers' demands for:

Full wages in West marks. They have been paid in less valuable East marks and rejected a previous management offer for part payment in each currency. All live in West Berlin, where the West mark is the legal currency.

Recognition of the anti-Communist UGO (independent labor organization) as their legal bargaining agent.

The strikers also have demanded rehiring of rail men they charged were dismissed in the past year

West Plans New German Proposal

PARIS, May 27 (AP)—The four-power foreign ministers' conference came to a dead stall today, but western members planned to steam it up with a new proposal.

The suggestion evidently would call for extension of the new Bonn constitution for western Germany into the Russian zone. The constitution contains guarantees for a democratic government.

Informants said the Russians are sure not to like it. They added that the proposal promises to bring a quick answer to a hot question. Do the Russians intend to come to an agreement at this time, and if so, how far are they likely to go to meet western demands?"

New Ideas Asked

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky himself pleaded for the western powers to come forward with new ideas. He asked them to amend the proposal he had made.

This is the understanding the western powers have of the Soviet plan:

It would provide for a German state control authority to handle questions which the Big Four were willing to pass on to it. This German authority would be subordinate to a four-power commission on which the right of veto would prevail.

How quickly the Western Powers will come forward with their plan is uncertain. Unofficial

Dope Ring Reported Smashed In Pampa

PAMPA, May 27 (AP)—A marihuana ring which had been doing a $20,000 monthly business in the Panhandle has been broken up with the arrest of two Pampa negroes, Sheriff G. H. (Skinner) Kyle said today.

Miles McNeal, jr., a hotel porter, and Lawston (Peg) Samuels, operator of a public place in the negro section here, were arrested on federal charges of possession and sale of marihuana.

The sheriff said the ring is believed to extend into New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana as well as Texas. He said additional arrests are expected.

Kyle said McNeal and Samuels were released today from the Amarillo jail, to which they had been transferred, as federal prisoners, from the Gray county jail here. He said Samuels was released under $750 bond and McNeal under $500 bond.

McNeal was arrested in front of the hotel early Wednesday by Chief Deputy Sheriff Rufe Jordan and Texas Ranger Frank Probst who said they saw him sell $50 worth of marihuana to an unidentified white man.

San Angelo Takes Emergency Measures In Polio Outbreak

Extensive DDT spraying was begun in a four-block radius of every reported polio case here. However, Dr. Elvins said public meeting places have not been closed.

DONNIE MAKES COMEBACK

Vernon Youngster Makes Gallant Fight To Overcome Burn Injury

(By The Associated Press)

VERNON, May 27—A 10-year-old boy, deeply burned May 10 over more than two-thirds of his body, continues to cheat death at a Vernon hospital.

Doctors are amazed at the strength of his heart and the way he has clung to life.

"I know they say I can't live, but, gee, I sure want to live," red-headed Donnie Woodward said.

On May 10, Donnie and an older brother were burning weeds on their farm near Vernon.

The older brother was dumping gasoline on the damp weeds to rush the job when a bucket containing the gasoline caught fire. In his excitement he threw the bucket and gasoline over his shoulder. It landed on Donnie and covered him with flaming gasoline.

He was rushed to a Vernon hospital where attending physicians said he didn't have a chance to live. More than two-thirds of his body was burned . . . third-degree burns. Donnie's hair was gone, his head and face a charred pulp.

Solons Ask Senate Resolution Making Change In Atlantic Pact

By H. K. REYNOLDS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 27—Sixteen bipartisan senators called upon the Senate today to remedy the failure of the North Atlantic pact to make any reference to God.

The senators, under the leadership of Sen. Smith (R-NJ), proposed a declaration in the upper chamber to interpret the treaty as a reaffirmation of America's faith in Divine Providence.

Lack of mention of the diety in the alliance had caused criticism by many religious leaders.

The Senate group decided that it would be impractical to try to amend the text of the pact, which is expected soon to be transmitted to the Senate from the foreign relations committee.

Smith told the Senate that the security sought under the pact is insufficient in itself to assure world peace. Smith declared:

"That is because the big cold war is not a war of armed aggression, but rather a war to capture men's minds.

" . . . The cold war is on, no matter what the outcome of the present Paris talks. And that cold war is presenting a clear-cut is-

Court Fight Is Indicated

TWO men were arrested last night and nearly 5,000 bottles and cans of beer seized in or near the new Veterans of Foreign Wars building in Lubbock in the state liquor board's latest drive against alleged illegal liquor activities in Lubbock and over the South Plains.

A 52-year-old truck driver who gave his address as Westbrook was lodged in county jail pending filing of liquor law violation charges after his arrest by W. G. Poplin, district liquor board supervisor, and C. D. Matthews, liquor board agent.

A Lubbock man was released on $800 bond after his arrest by Poplin. The liquor board official said charges of possession of beer for purposes of sale in a dry area would be filed against the man today.

Beer Found In Truck

Poplin said the truck driver was followed into Lubbock by he and Matthews after they had received information that a truck of beer was coming into Lubbock. The truck, Poplin said, drove into the parking lot of the new Veterans of Foreign Wars building on Thirty-fourth street, and was preparing to back into the building after a large overhead door had been raised.

The officer said the arrest was made after the driver of the truck had stepped from the cab apparently to assure that there was sufficient clearance for the truck to enter the building. Poplin said that 4,320 bottles of beer were found in the truck.

City Officers Take Part

The Lubbock man was arrested, Poplin said, after 26 cases of beer were seized at the Veterans of Foreign War building. He said that he had requested, and had received permission from a VFW official to enter the building without a search warrant to seize the beer. Matthews and City Police Officers W. C. Johnson, James Achison, James Clark, and Cecil Dickey took part in the

Three Injured In Hit-Run Mishap

The Texas Highway patrol, shortly before midnight last night, was searching for the driver of a pickup truck which was involved in a three-way accident on Idalou highway, injuring three persons and badly damaging two of the vehicles.

All of the injured were in a 1941 Pontiac which was coming toward Lubbock. James Floyd Duncan, 17, of Lubbock route 3, suffered a cut on the forehead and an injured left knee. Doris Florene Jackson, 13, of Lubbock route 1 received a bad laceration on the forehead and abrasions of the left arm above the elbow. Jo Ann Trimble, 14, of Post route 2, suffered a cut on the chin and cuts and abrasions of the left wrist. All were treated at West Texas clinic.

Collide Almost Head-On

The mishap occurred shortly before 8:30 p.m. last night on the three-lane highway, close to its intersection with the Acuff road. The Pontiac collided almost head-on with the truck, which was reportedly driving on the left side of the highway and going toward Lorenzo.

The truck glanced off the Pontiac and sideswiped a Chevrolet driven by Ronald Russell Burress, 22, of Lubbock route 1, who was also coming toward Lubbock. Burress was not hurt.

The driver of the pickup walked away from the accident scene while the investigating highway

ECONOMY MOVE ANNOUNCED

GOP, Demos Cheer Proposal To Lump U.S. Budget In Single Bill

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 27 — The Democratic announcement that the government's 40-odd billion dollar budget will be handled in one piece next year was applauded today by leaders of both major parties on Capitol Hill.

Some obstacles were seen in the new plan, but the consensus was that the possible economies in government spending make it a worthy undertaking.

The proposal, announced on the House floor by Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.) is to lump in one bill all the vast appropriations for the federal government for the 1951 fiscal year, which will begin July 1, 1950.

Demos, GOP Back Plan

Cannon, chairman of the House Appropriations committee, said the plan has the full support of Democrats and Republicans on the committee. He explained that this group, which originates all money bills, has power to make one or many packages out of them.

Among those endorsing the one-package idea were Sens. Byrd (D-Va), Bridges (R-NH), ranking minority member of the Senate Appropriations committee, and Taft, (R-Ohio), GOP policy leader.

Long a proponent of the plan, Byrd is sponsoring a resolution to change the 1946 congressional streamlining bill to require that the entire federal budget be handled in one bill. He said:

"This is absolutely essential to bring about a real understanding of what is necessary to arrive at a balanced budget."

Byrd said he would continue to urge action on his resolution. But he said this was not necessary, and that the same results could be achieved under the proposal made by Cannon.

Bridges said he would support the Byrd resolution. But he agreed that the same results could be obtained by the Cannon approach, and added that he would endorse the idea.

DEFENDANT CLAIMS INNOCENCE

Former Government Worker Asks Evidence In Trial Be Dropped

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Judith Coplon asked her spy trial judge today to rule out certain evidence in a request which the government admitted would collapse its case if granted.

The raven-haired 27-year-old defendant, in a 45-page motion, declared her innocence and demanded that the prosecution be prohibited from using as evidence documents taken from her purse when she was arrested with the Russian Valentin Gubitchev.

No Information On Ruling

Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves gave no indication as to when he would rule on the motion, presented by her lawyer, or if he would hear arguments on it.

Judith's motion claimed she was arrested without "probable cause" and that the FBI agents who took her into custody did not have search warrants.

Therefore, she said, the papers taken from her—the government claims they were federal secrets intended for Gubitchev—cannot constitutionally be used against her.

The former Justice department analyst demanded to know "who was the master mind who destroyed me." She said she has been made "a victim of someone's desire to oust me from the position where I worked ceaselessly night and day." She added:

"The only crime I can be said to be guilty of is that I knew a Russian."

Denies Charges

Gubitchev, the Russian, an engineer with the United Nations, has been indicted in New York along with Miss Coplon. She would have to stand trial there even if Reeves upholds her motion.

Judith asserted in her motion that as a result of her arrest "I have been vilified, my name has been spat upon, my father has died because of the shock, my mother is ill and practically all of my friends have deserted." She added:

"I know of no wrong I committed . . . Again I repeat, I am innocent of any wrongdoing of any kind or character. I am innocent of the crimes charged against me in the indictment and I will ever maintain this."

God Speaketh Once, Yea Twice

Just three weeks ago a tornado swept across the edge of a little town to the west of Lubbock and wildly - exaggerated reports of damage began to come in. Then a strange-looking cloud was seen near our city, the lightning flashed, the thunder rolled, and in only a few minutes many persons were wildly excited. A lady rushed to the door of a home where a service was in progress and asked almost hysterically if we knew that a storm was headed our way. Minutes later, a man, whose voice also betrayed his fear, came to take an aged relative from the meeting. Many, who ordinarily show no concern except for earthly things, became frantic in the face of what might happen. It wasn't just because of the number who were killed or injured. Far more are hurt every day in highway accidents. Surely what troubled men was a realization of their helplessness in view to the power of the elements. Behind the elements is GOD!

A serman preached years ago comes to mind. In a little church building in the Bahama Islands a negro preacher gave out his text and began to speak. He was a huge man, tall, rawboned, and clothed, in spite of the tropical heat, in an old-fashioned, heavy frock-tailed coat. Although the coat was large, it seemed small on him, and his bony forearms protruded many inches from the sleeves. The Scripture portion was from one of the more difficult parts of the Revelation and one might have expected that the message, under the circumstances, might have been almots comical. The contrary was the case. His exegesis may have been faulty, but the majesty of his theme had gripped his heart and he towered above his audience like a figure of some Old Testament phophet as he thundered the question, "How are you going to stand in that day of judgment?" It wasn't humorous for either the regular congregation or the visitors. They glimpsed something of the solemnity and the dismay which men will feel when God begins to speak in judgment.

How different it is with those who know Christ as Saviour. Of course, no one enjoys getting wet in a storm, it isn't pleasant to have hail pelting down, and rising water can be a great inconvenience, but, thank God, we know the Hand that upholds the universe and we know that "All things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to His purpose." (Romans 8:28) Let Christians, then, so live for our Lord that others may be won for Him.

Next Lord's Day morning, God willing, the subject will be "When a Preacher Sought the Lord," and at night "Godly Sorrow" will be the topic.

GRACE CHAPEL, 16th at Ave. N. —Adv.

Increase In School Census Reported

An increase of more than 10 per cent since last year in the scholastic population of Lubbock Independent School district was reported Friday by A. C. Jackson, district business manager.

The census taken last April showed a population of 12,398, as compared with 11,237 in 1948, he said. The increase is 1,150 scholastics, or 10.2 per cent.

This year's figures still are subject to minor revisions which are not expected to alter the reported total by more than a few score, he said.

The breakdown of the census lists 11,248 white children and 1,150 negroes. These include 5,666 white boys, 5,582 white girls, 538 negro boys and 612 negro girls.

'Loyal' Democrats Carry Party Fight To State Supreme Court

AUSTIN, May 27. (U.P.)—Loyalist Democrats, fighting a district court order preventing them from ousting precinct chairmen who refused to sign loyalty pledges, took their legal battle today to the Supreme court of Texas.

Counsel for the loyalists filed application for a writ of error.

The appeal attacked jurisdiction of Dist. Judge Walter Morris in the case involving internal affairs of the state Democratic party.

In addition to halting the purge of precinct chairmen, the action of Judge Morris also stopped Jack Carter and Mrs. J. W. Douglas of Fort Worth from serving on the Tarrant County Democratic Executive committee.

Fourteen points of alleged error were listed in the plaintiff's petition.

Houston Lineman Dies As Result Of Fall From Pole

HOUSTON, May 27. (U.P.)—Arthur M. Dalberg, 34, lineman for the Houston Light and Power company died in a hospital today of injuries received Tuesday in a fall from a 25-foot pole.

Residents Of Hobbs Raise Funds To Aid Injured Oil Worker

HOBBS, N. M., May 27. (AP) A new start for Shorty Sullivan.

The crippled former oil field worker and his family have a shiny new four-room home, most of their debts are cancelled. They have a nest egg against another rainy day.

Just a month ago the sheriff received a court order to evict Thomas Sullivan, his wife, son Jimmy, and daughter Selma Lee from the dingy little place they called home.

Sheriff Horace Owens said Shorty had received a broken back in an oil field accident and hadn't enough formal education to understand he'd left a $14 tax bill unpaid.

Payment Offered

The sheriff said he went to attorneys for owners of the tax lien and offered them $200 for clear title to the property. But they wanted $600.

So Owens refused to serve the court order. The Hobbs Daily News-Sun got the story. The residents of this southeastern New Mexico oil town got busy.

The Sullivan fund to give Shorty a new start was organized. Informally.

Over the weekend with materials furnished by business firms, labor by workers and money by individuals, the white, red - trimmed, red-roofed house was put up on a lot that also was donated. The job was done in a single day.

Most of Shorty's creditors cancelled his bills. Cash donations of $1,174.24 weren't all needed. The rest is being kept as a nest egg for the Sullivans.

Group Discusses 1950 Wheat Allotments

Approximately 50 persons, representing 16 counties of district 2 of the Production & Marketing administration, held an all-day meeting at Lubbock hotel Friday to discuss wheat allotments for the 1950 season, John W. Gamble, district field representative of the PMA, announced.

Henry Marshall, administrative officer of the PMA from College Station, directed the meeting.

Although 1950 allotments of wheat are not expected until June 20, Gamble said that farmers in this district have been working for about six weeks on history of their farms, average yearly acreage of wheat, and other pertinent facts to the wheat allotment program.

Friday's meeting was held to discuss wheat farming problems, the allotment program and other matters of interest to all farmers in the district.

Pioneers Bury Hubs

Big Sixth Gives Clovis 6-2 Win

CLOVIS, May 27 (AP) — A big fourth inning productive of six runs was sufficient margin for rookie righthander John Waselchuk to post his third consecutive victory against no losses here tonight as the Clovis Pioneers defeated the Lubbock Hubbers 6-2 in the first of a four game series.

Waselchuk was in rare form, striking out six and never in any serious difficulty. The Hubbers were only able to bunch hits twice—in the fifth and eighth—and both times they scored.

Hubbers Score In Fifth

Al Duarte's single followed by Mike Dooley's double accounted for the first Lubbock run in the fifth, while hits by Joe Wisniewski and Jim Prince brought in the only other marker in the eighth.

Duarte followed Prince with his third hit of the night in the eighth canto, but Waselchuk bore down to retire Dooley and the side on a pop to short.

Wilcy Moore's homer with Ray Bauer and Pat Lorenzo aboard in the bottom of the fourth actually won the game for the Pioneers as events developed. But to ensure victory, the Pioneers continued to tag Bill Grafton for three more hits and two runs before Manager Jackie Sullivan yanked him in favor of Cotton Russell.

Russell Relieves Grafton

Russell was greeted by Bauer's single to right cashing in the sixth Clovis run to wind up the scoring for the home team. Bauer went out moments later on a nice peg Dooley to Sullivan, to end the Clovis rally.

The game was halted twice by rain in the top of the seventh, but play continued after a 20 minute delay.

The two teams clash in a double-header at Bell Park Saturday night with the final series contest billed for Sunday afternoon.

Denver Scores 11-5 Win In Bix Six Tilt

DENVER, May 27 (INS)—Denver university pounded out an 11-5 victory over Brigham Young university today in the first game of a Big Six championship baseball playoff.

The Pioneers took an early lead in the wild-hitting game, played before a sparse crowd in the Denver Bears stadium.

Bob Garland, on the mound for Denver, held the Cougars hitless until the fifth inning, while the Pioneers collected one run in the second frame and four more in the third.

Awkward work in the field aided Denver's fat inning.

In the fourth and fifth innings, the Pioneers increased their lead, BYU scored once in the sixth and twice more in the final inning.

The Western and Eastern division champs meet again tomorrow morning. A win by the Cougars will bring a third and final game tomorrow afternoon.

Loboes Down Borger, 11-8

BORGER, May 27. (AP)—Lamesa handed the Borger Gassers their fourth defeat in a row tonight, when they used three hurlers to set down the Gassers 11 to 8.

Home runs for the night were in the person of Lobo Leftfielder D. C. Miller and Eddie Melillo. Melillo had teammate Miller on board when his circuit blow came in the ninth.

Jim Cain handled the hurling for the Gassers, giving up twelve hits for eleven runs. Cain had four errors committed behind him, one by Catcher Gordon Nell when Clayton Fries made a sensational throw from center field in an attempt to cut off runner Calo.

Leon Hayes was the winning hurler for the Loboes, but required the assistance of Stan Locke to quell the rally in the fifth inning. Eulis Rosson came in during the Gassers' threatened attack in the seventh to finish the game.

Dukes Take 1-0 Win Over Pampa

ALBUQUERQUE, May 27. (AP)—Albuquerque scored its third shutout of the West Texas-New Mexico league season tonight, blanking Pampa 1 to 0.

Merlin Hubbard, Pampa pitcher, and Nino Barnise held a mound duel for the win and loss spot. Albuquerque's score came in the fifth when Barnise scored on Rightfielder Cliff McClain's clean single to right field.

It was tight ball throughout. Barnise yielded six scattered hits—one each in the first five innings and a triple in the third. Pinch hitter Dave Teyema smacked out the three bagger with two out in the ninth, but Ken Peacock popped out to end the game.

Hubbard similarly was effective, but ran into trouble in the fifth. Frankie Okrie's single to start the frame was followed by a double from Barnise. Okrie was caught at home while trying to steal home on a passed ball and Barnise went to third. After Walt Raimondi walked, McClain singled to score Barnise.

McClain got three of the Dukes' six hits.

Hubbard struck out six men and walked five. He loaded the bases in the eighth but was able to retire the side.

County Attorney Claims Horse Doped In Race At Chicago Track

CHICAGO, May 27 (INS)—Cook County State's Attorney John S. Boyle claimed today a favorite which finished seventh in the fifth race at Washington Park Wednesday was doped.

The horse, Main Bet, was the 3-to-2 choice in the field of eight horses. The winner, Balla Flight, paid $62.40. Boyle said tests on Main Bet showed the presence of coedine, a depressant.

Raleigh T. Shepp, trainer of Main Bet, denied knowledge of the alleged incident.

District Methodist Heads Voted $900 Annual Expense Accounts

AMARILLO, May 27. (AP)—Overriding objections, the Northwest Texas Methodist conference today voted $900 annual expense accounts for each of its nine district superintendents.

One delegate to the annual conference—Rev. Berry Baker of Bovina—said he thought if a superintendent could not live on $6,000 he should step down.

The superintendents receive $6,000 salaries.

The $900 annual expense allowance was proposed by Rev. Earl G. Hamletts.

Dr. H. I. Robinson of Lubbock, chairman of the committee submitting the report, said:

"The district superintendent is the very heart of our Methodist system—the key man. He should not be hampered in this work for want of funds."

Sunbeamers, Tinkers Win Softball Tilts

G. W. Warden and Stringbean Pope combined their pitching talent last night to pitch the Sunbeamers to a no-hit, no-run 13-0 victory over Sanders Motors in the City Softball league at Jumbo Webster field.

All the Sunbeamers hit safely at least once as they knocked 12 safe hits off the offerings of C. Bee.

In the other game Thomas Tinkers cut a seventh inning rally short to nose out Barber College 8-4.

Doyle Layne had a homer and single; Bill Kelley had a double and single; and Bobby Williams blasted a long home run to lead the Tinker batters.

Topping Barber college hitting was Doug Galey with two singles. Young was the winning pitcher, and Pinkert was the loser for Barber College.

Fast Knockout Is Scored By Argentine Lightweight

NEW YORK, May 27 (INS)—Alfredo Parda, lightweight champion of Argentina, made his American ring debut a sensational one by knocking out Charley Lewis, Brooklyn Cuban, in 42 seconds of the first round of their scheduled 10-rounder at Queensboro arena tonight.

Prada tore out of his corner, chased Lewis all around the ring and then nailed the Cuban with a left hook. He then dropped Charley for the full count with a tremendous right to the jaw.

Base Hits Spell Victory For Day

WICHITA FALLS, May 27 (Special)— Lubbock's Westerners gained a jump on the Wichita Falls Coyotes in the first of a three-game bi-district playoff series by trimming the pack, 12-6, here this afternoon.

The visitors had to come from behind a 4-2 deficit with two runs in the fifth to tie the score and then rallied for five markers in the sixth to ice the game.

Bennie Day let the Coyotes down with nine hits while his mates were collecting 16 off three Wichita Falls hurlers. Each club made three errors.

Charles Galey wielded the big stick in the Lubbock attack as he garnered three singles and a double to drive in six runs. Turner and White each collected three singles. Bob Brown, shortstop, also doubled. Day collected his first two hits of the season.

Lubbock opened the scoring with two runs in the second stanza. Galey led off with a double. Then, with two out, White walked and stole second. A single by Richards sent both mates home.

The Coyotes went ahead when they tallied four times in the fourth. Benny Leggett was safe on a fielder's choice after Bill Bookout singled. John Henry Clanton walked, but Fred Blassingame skied to right for the second out.

Consecutive singles by Bob Howard, Jimmy Hooten, and Joe Carter, combined with an error accounted for the four runs.

The Westerners tied the score in the fifth on a double by Bob Brown and a single by Turner. Then they added five runs in the sixth for all the margin Day needed for the victory.

White and Day singled and a walk to Brown loaded the bases. Powell Hinson walked to force in White, and Turner singled to plate two more runs. Galey followed with his third hit to send the fourth and fifth tallies home.

The Westerners chalked up three more in the seventh on singles by Day, Hinson, Turner, and Galey to finish the Lubbock scoring.

Wichita Falls tallied twice in the last of the seventh. John Hightower singled to lead off. With two out, Clanton singled and then Fred Blassingame sent both men home with a single when Reeves erred again.

The series switches to Lubbock Saturday for the final game or games, and David Fleming, 15-year-old righthander, will hurl for the Coyotes. Probable starter for Lubbock will be Jimmy Hamilton.

A Blind Bogie tournament, open to all members of the Publinx Golf club, will be played Sunday at Meadowbrook, and nine prizes will be awarded.

Turnesa Wins Close Match

PORTMARNOCK, Eire, May 27 (INS) — Willie Turnesa, the little man of icy calm and barb-wire nerves, fought off the challenge of wind and rain and burly Ernest Millward today to reach the finals of the British Amateur Golf championship.

Defeat came to the 200-pound Briton, Millward, by 1 up on the home green at the climax of a great 18-hole semi-finals, with Turnesa's magic putter the lethal weapon.

But before he succumbed, the implacable Millward made Turnesa know that this was an epic match.

It was Willie's second of a wild and fitful day. For, in the morning, the little New York Italian had to go all the way to the 19th to beat back Mike Power, the Gael from Cork, by 1 up to survive the quarter finals.

But where Willie succeeded, Toledo's Frank Stranahan didn't.

Touted to go through with Turnesa to make an all-American final, the defending champion passed out of his own tournament in another quarter final before Sam McCready, Ulsterman and war-hero, by 4 and 3.

Incidentally, it will be Turnesa versus McCready in tomorrow's 36-hole final for the title.

Wearer of the Distinguished Flying Cross, the quiet North-of-Irelander followed his conquest of Stranahan by knocking off fellow-Briton Ken Thom in a thrilling semi-final.

It went all the way to the 20th where McCready rolled home a 20-foot putt for a 1 up victory to the hoarse acclaim of a sodden and buffeted gallery whose hope of an Irish-shared final was thus achieved—at least nominally.

Cardinals Edge Pirates, 2-1 As Brazle Wins Fourth Victory

Sanity Code To Get Going Over

ATLANTA, May 27 (AP) — The Sanity Code of the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association may be in for a terrific verbal beating Saturday.

Athletic officials of the Southwestern, Southeastern and Southern Conferences are to meet at Georgia Tech and from all indications will give the NCAA's code a thorough going over.

The code, which prohibits financial aid to students solely upon athletic ability, has been the target of deep South coaches and sports writers for some time.

Any official changes in the code must be made at next January's NCAA meeting in New York.

The four suggested rules changes are:

1. To permit free meals for college athletes during practice periods and during the season of the sport in which the student is engaged. (Only one meal daily is now permitted.)

2. To permit free meals for athletes, during the entire school year, at a training table. (This is now prohibited).

3. To change scholarship requirements to allow each school to determine the grade basis on which such awards are given. (The NCAA rules fix limits on scholarship awards to athletes.)

4. To allow scholarships not to exceed all fees, room, board, books and a small amount for laundry.

Cubs Leave Cellar As They Win, 3-1

ST. LOUIS, May 27 (INS) — Southpaw Pitcher Al Brazle and Third Sacker Eddie Kazak combined their talents tonight to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 2 to 1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates before 12,140 Sportsmans Park fans.

It was the Cards' fourth straight win over the Pirates.

Brazle pitched nine hit ball to record his fourth victory and Kazak clouted his fourth home run of the season with one man on in the fourth inning.

The Bucs' only run came in the ninth when Ralph Kiner scored from second on Eddie Bockman's single.

Red Schoendienst, Card second sacker ran his string of consecutive chances fielded flawlessly to 257. He had four putouts and six assists in tonight's game.

Work Begins Today On Baylor Stadium

WACO, May 27 (AP) — Ground will be broken tomorrow for a $1,500,000 Baylor stadium seating 40,000. It is expected to be ready for the 1950 season. Most other Southwest Conference teams already have large plants.

On Sunday, Baylor will graduate 937 seniors. The class is twice as large as any in the previous 104 years of Baylor history. Dr. R. O. Cawker of Shreveport will deliver the baccalaureate sermon.

Degrees will be passed out Sunday evening at the first outdoor commencement since 1920. Dr. Thomas Taylor, president of Howard Payne College, will speak.

President W. R. White of Baylor will turn the first earth for the stadium. Dr. W. R. Melton, Baptist pastor of Waco and chairman of the Baylor trustees; Horace K. Jackson of Gatesville, chairman of the athletic committee of the trustees; and R. B. Dupree, Waco banker and president of the Baylor Stadium corporation, will take part.

White and Dupree will give details of the stadium financing campaign. They will explain details of educational bonds, by which parents can invest in the stadium and later use the securities to help educate their children at the Baptist school.

The sale of seat options on a 20-year basis also will be explained.

Malaria, caused by the bite of a mosquito, causes 3,000,000 deaths annually.

More Qualify For Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27 (INS) —Qualification of six more bullet-nosed race cars today completed the 33-car starting field for the 500-mile Speedway classic at Indianapolis Monday, but the chance remained some faster mounts may come along to "bump" one or more of those of already qualified.

According to Speedway regulations, any cars which pass their ten-mile time tests during tomorrow's final qualification runs at speeds faster than those of the lowest qualifiers will take the latter's places in the starting line-up.

Today's qualifications saw Bill Sheffler of Los Angeles, winner of the sportsmanship award at Indianapolis in 1946, lead the way by posting an average speed of 128.521 MPH in his own Offenhauser special.

Another driver at the wheel of his own car, Charlie Van Acker of South Bend, Ind., was clocked at 126.524 MPH.

"Spider" Webb, Bell, Calif., veteran, qualified his Crancor special at 127.002 MPH shortly after Norman Houser of Indianapolis had driven his Troy Oil co. special over the four-lap test route at 127.746 MPH.

Sam Hanks, driving Milt Marion's Machine Special instead of the scheduled Walt Brown, qualified at 127.809 MPH, while Johnny McDowell of Los Angeles made the grade at 126.139 MPH.

The veteran Mel Hansen of Englewood, Calif., spun twice on the southwest turn in his Bowes Seal fast special No. 44, but emerged unhurt.

Pygmies Have Close Game At Boys Club

One of the top mound performances of the season was turned in at Boys club yesterday as Dickie Burnam struck out 13 batters in pitching his Pygmy league Yankees to a 4-3 victory over the Indians.

The game went the full five innings in the time alloted for the contest—the first of the year to be played the limit. Each team got three hits, and Fred Chauncey of the Yankees got two singles in three trips to the plate. A homer by Johnny Whithorne in two times up paced the Indians.

In the Pee Wee league the game was altogether different as the Indians smothered the Yankees, 15-2. Leading the Indian attack with a triple and a single in two trips was Danny Cates. For the Yankees Mike Wofford wielded the big stick with two singles in two times at bat.

WARDEN, POPE TO PITCH

League-Leading Sunbeamers Tackle Fort Stockton Tonight

A new entry in the Texas Softball league this year, the Fort Stockton club, will furnish the opposition tonight at 8:30 p. m. at Jumbo Webster field when the Bluebonnet - Sunbeamers of Lubbock attempt to anchor their league leadership more securely.

The Sunbeamers currently are in front of the pack in the western division of the loop with seven victories and only one loss. Their lone defeat came at the hands of the strong Crane Oilers at Webster Field just two weeks ago.

Two Games In Lead

Since then the Sunbeamers settled the argument with a conclusive double victory at Crane to go two full games into the lead. With only two weeks in the first half left to play after tonight's twin bill, the Sunbeamers could virtually cement their first half victory with a double win tonight.

In the hands of Warren "String bean" Pope and G. W. Warden will be entrusted the task of winning a pair of games tonight. Pope has lost only one game against three victories, his lone loss coming at the hands of Red Denham, outstanding Crane hurler.

Warden has hung up four victories without defeat, including two over the strong Crane nine. But Pope leads Warden—and the league—in strikeouts with 56.

Only One Victory

The visiting Fort Stockton nine has an unimpressive record of only one victory against seven losses so far this year, but has one of the league's leading hurlers last year in Guy Watts. Watts won 11 and lost 6 in 1948, winning five by shutouts and two by no-hit, no-run games. He also had 182 strikeouts.

Two other hurlers with the visiting team will be Billy Middlebrooks, only a fair chucker last season, and R. T. Stacey, who spent most of his time patrolling centerfield.

Fort Stockton's team this year is a combination of two entries from last season. Both Watts and Middlebrooks toiled for Monahans last year, while Stacey was with Crane. Several of the other players on the Fort Stockton entry were with Crane last year.

Snead, Mangrum Advance In PGA

RICHMOND, Va., May 27 (AP) — Lloyd Mangrum and Sam Snead today killed off two opponents each and got that much closer to the spectators' dream final in the PGA championships.

Neither of the veterans had to play out his rounds. Neither par of 71, the 6,677 yards of narrow fairways, nor their opponents were too bothersome to Mangrum and Snead.

Mangrum opened the day with an easy 6 and 5 victory over twice PGA champion Denny Shute of Akron, Ohio. His second opponent—Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md.—was a lot tougher, but still not enough and the Niles, Ill., professional won, 3 and 2.

Snead had to work from under a one-hole deficit to defeat young Jack Burke, jr., of White Plains, N. Y., 3 and 2. In the afternoon Snead won from Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., 3 and 1.

Jack Harden, El Paso, Tex., came through the first round in fine style, defeating Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N.Y., 1 up. But in the second round, Harden lost by the same margin to Henry Williams of Secane, Pa.

SUSPECT COULD HAVE ESCAPED

Man Caught Near Kress After Wild Chase By Liquor Agents

TULIA, May 27 (Special)—If he had run only 10 seconds longer. . . After one of the most harrowing chases ever reported in this section—an 80-mile run that hit top speeds of 90 to 95 miles an hour and lasted one hour 55 minutes—Woodrow Willie Kincanon, 30, of Amarillo, was caught near Kress by Liquor Control board agents.

Could Have Escaped

He and Roy Daniel Barnes, Amarillo man who was riding with him, looked around after stopping their Chrysler and watched a tire go down on the Plymouth that had overhauled them.

"They could have escaped in low gear," Leon Bowman of Plainview and Bill Money of Amarillo, inspectors of the liquor board, reputedly said later.

The officers confiscated 48 four-fifth quarts of whisky, 288 pints of whisky, 105 four-fifth quarts of wine, and 360 12-ounce bottles of beer that allegedly had been "headed for Littlefield."

County Judge A. J. Wallace fined Kincanon $500 and costs and Barnes $100 and costs for transportation of alcoholic beverages, it was announced.

Bowman informed W. G. Poplin, deputy supervisor of the liquor board, of Lubbock, that the chase commenced at 6:20 p. m. Monday and was concluded at 8:15 p. m. after a wide-open chase over paved and lateral dirt roads of Randal, Armstrong and Swisher counties.

They said the Chrysler's second gear "froze" just before the driver braked it to a stop, not knowing that a tire of the pursuing car was going down and that the officers themselves would have to stop in a few seconds.

Robert Ripley Dies

terest feature in scores of newspapers. And the cartoon itself became a part of the language.

But Ripley himself "made" enough material for a score of "believe it or nots." He used to draw upside down. He never played cards. He was the first artist ever to send a cartoon by radio—London to New York in 1927. He was the first to broadcast to every nation in the world simultaneously—in 1934.

He traveled more than 600,000 miles on visits to 200 countries to amass one of the world's most diversified collections of oddities.

Ripley entertained his public with cartoons of strange and unusual goings-on from Brooklyn to Balik-Papan.

Born On Christmas Day

His mother was Lilly Belle Yucca, born on a prairie schooner in California. His father was Isaac Davis Ripley, an impoverished West Virginia carpenter who died when Ripley was 12.

Ripley was born in Santa Rosa, Calif., on Christmas day, 1893.

Ripley used to say:

"The first work I ever did to help support my mother, younger brother and sister was to polish gravestones after school. Then I tried pitching for a semi-pro baseball team in the summer."

Drew Baseball Posters

He drew the posters advertising the games and one of these came to the attention of the editor of the San Francisco Bulletin. He hired Ripley as a sports cartoonist at $8 a week. Later he boosted him to $10 but a year later when Ripley asked for $2.50 more he was let out.

Still pitching, and still cartooning, Ripley drifted east and got a job on the New York Globe and a tryout with the baseball Giants. But he fractured his arm and had to forget about a baseball career.

In 1918, in a hurry to meet a Globe deadline, the $25-a-week Ripley hurriedly gathered together a few athletic oddities, made them into a cartoon and captioned his work "Believe It Or Not."

Later he branched out into books, films, radio and television.

Child Dies In Fire

and told her that Lynda Joyce was asleep on the floor with a doll in her arms.

Mrs. Briggs, who lived a few doors away from the Richards house, said that she saw smoke a short time earlier from the direction of the house but that her son, Jimmy, said he believed that the Richards were burning trash. Mrs. Briggs said it was only a minute or two later that they saw the entire house blazing.

Mrs. Richards could give no explanation as to possible cause of the fire. She said a fire had been burning earlier in a kerosene cook stove in the kitchen which adjoined the bedroom in which the child was sleeping. She said, however, she was "sure" that she had turned the burners on the stove out before leaving the home.

Appeal Is Made

Robertson said that he would render a verdict of accidental death by fire.

The Richards, neighbors said, had lived on the place only "about three months."

Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home, which has charge of the child's body, said that funeral arrangements were incomplete late last night.

Capt. Thomas Gregory, Salvation Army commander here, said last night that his organization would outfit the Richards family with clothing today to replace garments lost in the fire. He also issued an appeal to Lubbock residents for used furniture that might be given the family to furnish another home.

Capt. Gregory said that persons having old furniture available could call the Salvation Army headquarters, dial 2-1842, and that the organization would pick it up for the Richards.

Rita, Aly Married

went through it like a seasoned trouper.

When the mayor came to the part of the ceremony where he asked if each agreed to all the conditions, both Rita and Aly replied "oui, oui." One "oui" is enough but the double response is a standard reply by enthusiastic Frenchmen.

Then a reception centering about the swimming pool was held at Aly's Chateau de L' Horizon.

Rita was a picture of happiness. Aly bubbled like the champagne his guests were drinking.

Moslem Service Planned

Demurely Rita tried to lose herself in the throng at the reception. But groups formed about her constantly, and over and over she answered the same questions.

Yes, she is very happy.

Yes, there will be a Moslem religious service, probably in a few days in Paris.

Yes, she will return to the United States to make more movies, but probably not before the end of the year.

The honeymoon?

Well, Rita giggled, she and the prince are keeping it a little secret but it will involve some traveling.

According to the official town record of the marriage, Rita is 30 years of age and Aly is 37.

Photographs Taken

It was her third marriage and his second. The Hollywood star previously was married to Edward Judson, a Texas oil man, and Orson Welles, American actor-producer. Aly formerly was married to Joan Yarde-Buller, a British heiress.

Rita has been a Roman Catholic. Her real name is Margarita Carmen Cansino. That was the way it was listed on the marriage record. She is of Spanish-Irish extraction.

Aly derives his title of prince from the fact that he is heir apparent to the leadership of the Ismaeli sect of Moslems. He is of Italian-Persian extraction.

At the Chateau de L'Horizan there was an interlude for photographers—movie and still. The movie cameraman wanted action.

"I know what you want all right—a passionate love scene," said Aly. "But I'm afraid I'm not a competent actor. The acting talent is on the other side of the family."

Other Activities Quiet

Police, in the meanwhile, reported relatively few violations Friday.

Stanley Huckabay, of 2703 Twenty-third, said a .22 caliber pump rifle had been stolen from his residence sometime within the last month. The rifle was described as manufactured in 1903, and was valued at $25.

Two Lubbock men Friday were fined in corporation court after pleading guilty to charges of disturbance by window peeping.

Claude Nelson Gray, 17, of 2506 Third, was being held at shotgun point by William B. Springer, jr., when J. D. Atchinson and G. M. Wilkes, police patrolmen, arrived at the 2402-B Ninth street address where the prowler call originated.

Earlier, Atchison and Wilkes had arrested Kenneth Warren Andrews, 25, of 518 Ave. O near the nurses home in 900-block Ave. O.

Gray was fined $25 and Andrews $15, corporation court records showed.

Graveside Services Set For Herrin Infant In Anton Today

ANTON, May 27. (Special) — Graveside services for Meredith Herrin, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al G. Herrin of Anton, were held at 3 p.m. today in Anton cemetery. Rev. F. N. Allen officiated.

The infant died about 5 a.m. today in Lubbock Memorial hospital and was taken overland to Anton by Rix Funeral home.

Some Firms Plan Earlier Closing Time

A check of downtown department and general merchandise stores made Friday by the Retail Merchants' association revealed that a large majority favored earlier closing hours for the summer months.

Some 85 percent agreed to maintain weekday hours of from 9 to 5 and decided on 9 to 6 for Saturday. These hours will be observed from June 1 through August 31.

The retail group pointed out that there are many types of business houses and neighborhood stores which will have longer hours. Some firms will have to remain open after the new closing hours to effect deliveries.

Several of the merchants suggested some variations and exceptions to the majority decision. A few of these dropped their objections later to conform to the majority. Others said they would continue to keep the same hours they have maintained throughout the winter.

The major department stores such as Sears, Montgomery Ward, Dunlaps, Hemphill-Wells and others are among those voting in favor of the new hours.

Officials of the association believe many other firms will change their hours later in the season.

Increase Reported In U.S. Traffic Deaths

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—Early reports for 1949 show that traffic deaths are increasing again.

Philip B. Fleming, chairman of the President's Highway Safety conference, said today there were 6,610 traffic deaths in the first three months of 1949. This is an average increase of seven percent over the first three months of 1948.

gelo had only .37 inches of rain. A light shower fell at Coleman.

Showers Reported

The official forecast, as it had for days past, called for scattered thundershowers.

Such showers fell during the day at Marfa, San Angelo, Galveston, in the Big Spring section, and southwest of Childress. An afternoon thunderstorm which brought San Angelo light rain moved from that city northward. Lightning flashed in Abilene skies.

Fort Worth, virtually out from under its second Trinity river flood in nine days, came up with some statistics:

Airman Drowned

More rain at Fort Worth since Jan. 1 than in all 1948; a 1949 total today of 25.79 inches, compared with 20.11 for the whole of last year.

Afternoon temperature readings ranged from 72 at San Angelo and Big Spring to 94 degrees at Laredo.

Carswell Air base announced that a 19-year-old airman, Pvt. William R. Coughenour of Armagh, Pa., drowned Thursday night while swimming in the swollen Trinity at Fort Worth. Efforts were still being made at Dallas to recover the body of a woman, drowned in flood waters there. The Trinity was out of its banks between levees at Dallas.

mile pipeline to supply the Oak Ridge atomic plant with gas.

The subcommittee report asserted that reliance on fuel resources outside the plant area "does not appear compatible with the best interests of common defense and security."

The report also suggested legislation requiring congressional approval of such projects, but the committee postponed action on that point.

Hearings Planned Next Week

McMahon said he expects Hickenlooper to present a list of witnesses to be called when public hearing are resumed next week. Hickenlooper told newsmen that he will be prepared to present evidence to back up his charges.

Lilienthal, who has made a preliminary statement to the committee seeking to justify his administration of the nation's atomic program, faces questioning from Hickenlooper and other critics.

Rear Admiral John Gingrich, who quit a month ago as AEC security chief, may also be asked to testify in public. Gingrich has appeared before the committee in executive session.

The committee has not indicated whether it will accede to Lilienthal's request that Gen. Eisenhower and Secretary of State Acheson be called to testify in his behalf.

for "political reasons."

Rail tracks in the Soviet zone were jammed with 34 stalled freight trains which left West Germany with food and 18,000 tons of coal for Berlin.

Not a single train had moved since yesterday into West Berlin yards, where strikers locked switches and refused to handle Allied, Soviet or German traffic.

The airlift moved in 7,830 tons in 869 flights in the 24-hour period ending at noon today. Three Americans were injured slightly when a lift plane belly-landed at Celle, in the British zone. The backlog for West Berlin's 2,000,000 people was the three-week supply maintained by the airlift.

BORGER MAN KILLED

BORGER, May 27 (AP)— Paul McClendon, 52, Borger, died in the North Plains hospital today of injuries suffered when he was struck by a car on main street last night. Survivors include two brothers, O. L. McClendon of O'Donnell and Ira McClendon of Greenville.

sue.

"Shall the individual man, who throughout history has been seeking to find the realty of God, hereafter be ruthlessly denied that quest?"

Resolution Presented

The Senate group asked the chamber to make its declaration by adopting a resolution stating:

"Whereas, the history of these United States clearly records the faith of our defenders in Almighty God from the days of the earliest colonization and during all the crises of their early struggles;

"Whereas, these United States and the other nations parties to the North Atlantic treaty are believers in the guidance of the Creator in the affairs of men;

"Therefore, be it resolved that the Senate of the United States interprets the language of the preamble to the North Atlantic treaty reading as follows:

"'They are determined to safeguard the freedom, common heritage and civilization of their peoples' to include this nation's most precious heritage—our continuing faith in our dependence upon Almighty God and His guidance in the affairs of men and nations."

German Proposal

sources indicated it would be presented tomorrow.

Work On Proposals

The Western Powers, these informants continued, want Russia to mull over the suggestion this weekend.

The plan was not ready for today's session, and for that reason, among others, there was nothing new to talk about.

Outside the conference chamber, officials from the West met in the French foreign ministry to work on the draft of proposals which kept them up until after midnight last night.

Despite five days of not very promising meetings, the impression prevailed among American diplomats that something would be brough out of this conference of the foreign ministers.

The minimum expected is that some sort of accord will be reached to facilitate commercial arrangements between the three western zones of Germany and the eastern zone.

Former Sheriff Shot

Last July 8 Rice filed a slander suit in 64th district court, naming Castro County Sheriff E. D. Wyer and Wyer's former deputy, Woody Sullivan.

The original petition was filed with Herbert Dunn, district clerk for Lamb county at that time.

In the suit, Sheriff Rice alleged that the defendants had untruthfully made statements that the plaintiff was engaged in unlawful trafficking in liquor. The suit was never brought to trial.

Rice is survived by his wife and one son, Larry, about 13.

Detroit Police Check Gun Used In Shooting Of Victor Reuther

DETROIT, May 27 (AP)—Police set out on an exhaustive piece of cross-country detective work today to solve the shooting of Victor Reuther.

The gun with which the brother of Walter Reuther was shot Tuesday night was flown to Chicopee Falls, Mass.

Three detectives were to confer with officials of the Stevens arms company, makers of the gun, in an effort to learn the weapon's history.

They based their hopes on these facts: the type of weapon used in the shooting has been in production only since last February; only about 2,000 have been produced.

Shanghai Returns To Near-Normal Activity

SHANGHAI, May 27 (AP)—Traffic was snarled again on Shanghai streets today. Hawkers crowded the sidewalks. Moneychangers invitingly clinked their silver dollars.

Asia's largest city was thus back to near normality as the fighting phase of the Communist take-over ended.

No planes roared off the International airport, however, and the only ships in the usually busy Whangpoo river were those scuttled by the departing Nationalists.

The police system seemed better already. The arrogant mob of Nationalist soldiers had been replaced by disciplined Red troops.

Some political organizers also arrived, but they politely told all correspondents "we are too busy to talk; come back later."

Banks, business offices and a few stores re-opened. The shutters were taken off windows and barbed wire barricades were being rolled up.

nical grounds."

A State department press officer, Roger Tubby, said he understood from the department's legal experts there is no right of appeal open to the American government.

Eisler Jubilant

A similar opinion came from British home office sources.

The 52-year-old Eisler, jubilant at the verdict, was cautious in talking with reporters of his immediate plans. He said he didn't know where he would sleep tonight and wouldn't tell if he knew, "I don't want to give the Americans a chance for any monkey business," he said.

The U. S. embassy issued a statement saying:

"We will record the decision of the court in the Eisler case and abide by it. We expect a statement from the U. S. State department in a few days. Any further steps will have to come from the attorney general."

Efforts To Continue

The State department in Washington declined comment, except to note that the embassy has been under instructions to explore "all possibilities" for obtaining Eisler's return.

In New York, Eisler's wife abandoned her court fight for release from Ellis island and a deportation hearing was set for Wednesday. Her counsel said Mrs. Eisler desired to leave the country as soon as possible to join her husband, who has been offered a professorship at Leipzig university, in the Soviet zone of Germany.

She was arrested and sent to Ellis island shortly after Eisler stowed away on the Polish liner Batory at New York with a collapsible toothbrush as his baggage and Gdynia, Poland, as his intermediate goal. Eisler was hauled from the ship off Southampton May 14 by four British policemen by American request. He said physical force was used and he was "treated scandalously."

Texas School Children Lose Out In Annual National Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—Several nervous Texas youngsters went out early today in the 22nd annual national spelling bee. It was won by Kim Calvin, 13, of Canton, O.

Calvin spelled "dulcimer" after James Shea, 13, the runner-up from Brooklyn, N. Y., spelled it "dolcimer." Calvin correctly spelled "onerous" to clinch the championship.

In the third round Janelle Carter, 13, from East Chambers school, Winnie, Tex., missed "liaison."

"Trousseau" was too tough for Rebecca Smith, 13, of Memphis, Tex., Estelline school, in the fifth. In the same round Harriet Smith, 12, of Fort Worth's De Zavala school, missed "expatiate," and Lynne Owens, 13, of Jackson Junior High school, Houston, lost out on "barricade."

Rites To Be Held In Austin For Brother Of Lubbock Woman

Funeral services for Raymond L. Nicholson, 44, of Austin, will be held in Austin, Sanders Funeral home reported. Final arrangements are now pending.

Nicholson died Friday morning in Lubbock Memorial hospital.

Survivors include four sisters, Mrs. John Lee of Lubbock, Mrs. Lloyd Sheefer of Jacksonville, Florida, Mrs. Mable Anderson, and Mrs. Max Richter, both of Austin; and three brothers, Charlie Nicholson of Wolfforth, Rex Nicholson of Austin, and Jack Nicholson of Austin.

AIR FORCE MAPS ALASKAN "WASTELANDS"—With mounted aerial cameras shooting every 20 seconds, a B-29 of the Air Force's 72nd Photo Reconnaissance Squadron travels back and forth over typically rugged Alaskan terrain on a photo-run. Liquor Board In New Raid Here second seizure.

Poplin estimated that the beer seized last night was worth at least $700. He said the truck driver's waybill showed $661 value on the 4,320 bottles taken from the truck.

The raid and seizure marked one of the largest, if not the largest, such raids made since a new set of Liquor Board officials took over in the district several weeks ago.

It also marked the first time that a court fight on the issue was indicated on a broad scale. VFW officials said last night they intended to take the case as far as possible in the courts and that numerous members had offered to contribute to a fund for that purpose.

Statement Is Issued

W. E. Creel, VFW post commander, said last night in regard to the beer seizures that the "Veterans of Foreign Wars did not have beer on hand for purposes of sale.

"Each of the 26 casas of beer that was confiscated by the liquor board members was property of 26 members of the post. By law each member is allowed one case of beer and one quart of whisky, but the post does not allow whisky on the premises.

"The 26 owners of the beer are available and will appear, if necessary, to claim and establish ownership of the seized beer."

Creel declared, "We are going to fight this charge to a finish if necessary. We will ask for a jury if the case comes to trial, and will go to the Supreme Court if necessary."

Several members of the VFW, Creel said, had stated their willingness to contribute to a fund to fight the charges. He pointed out that the post now has 1,206 members, and only recently moved into their new quarters in southwest Lubbock.

Creel said that he intends to be present when the case is brought up at 9 a.m. today in county court before County Judge Walter Davies. He also indicated that a large number of post members probably would be on hand when the hearing opens.

Old Settlers To Meet In Floydada Today

FLOYDADA, May 27 (Special) —Old settlers will celebrate Floyd county's 59th anniversary Saturday with a reunion here.

Entertainment will feature a special dinner, at noon, prepared by home demonstration units, a quarter horse show, a parade, a cutting horse contest and a "general get together."

Those who desire may trip the light fantastic at an "Old Settlers" dance on the courthouse lawn Saturday night.

Settlement Is Believed Near In Crippling Ford Dispute

DETROIT, May 27 (INS)—There was every indication that the crippling and costly 23-day-old Ford strike would be settled before this night is out.

Ford and UAW-CIO negotiators still were in session after midnight (EST), with only three minor points separating them from a complete agreement for ending the Rouge and Lincoln-Mercury walkout.

The company and the union earlier tonight agreed to the terms of a "speedup" question to be submitted to an impartial arbiter. They have yet to select the arbitrator and the company has indicated it does not want a man named by President Truman.

Other issues still under discussion involve the 35 workers disciplined by the company and the status of relief men on assembly lines.

BILL IS PASSED

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—A super-secret bill to help America's global spies pry out information needed for this country's defense won unanimous Senate approval today. The "hush-hush" measure, previously passed by the House, broadens the powers of the Central Intelligence Agency, which directs the far-flung operations of United States agents trying to keep tab on what potential enemies, as well as friends, are doing.

SHORTY POPS OFF—A striking western Berlin railway worker loudly jeers a Soviet army officer at Templehof railway station during a demonstration. But the Red officer unconcernedly puts a cigaret in his mouth. Mob violence has flared several times in the strike of 15,000 workers against the Russian-controlled city railway system.

GANGWAY FOR "FLEA-WAY"—Andre Vaucelle, manager of an auto company in Poitiers, France, displays the "Flea-Way" midget car his company is producing. The tiny aluminum car has a one-horsepower engine and a top speed of 45 mph. Cost is $492.

FIRE CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE

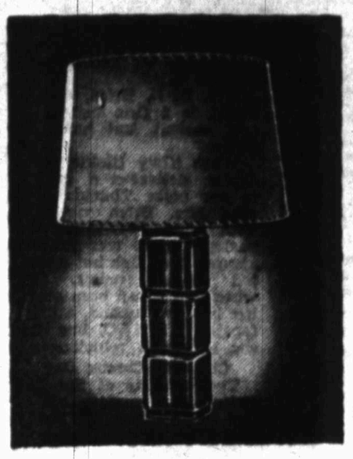

ABILENE, May 27 (AP)—Fire destroyed about a fourth of the $200,000 Patton oil refinery at Rotan before it was put out early today. Six fire departments stopped the blaze with chemical foam at 5 a.m.—ending a 12 hour and 45-minute battle. An oil boiler explosion started the fire at 4:15 p.m. yesterday. One employe, R. M. Pearson, suffered burns.

FORMER LSU HEAD DIES

ANGOLA, La., May 27 (AP)— Dr. James Monroe Smith, 60, former Louisiana State university president whose peculations touched off the Louisiana scandals in 1939, died last night. A heart attack was fatal at his home here at the penitentiary where he served six years for forgery. He was director of vocational rehabilitation at the prison.

LAFB Positions Not Available At Present

Want a job at Lubbock Air Force base?

That's fine, but just wait a while, Air Force officials said in an appeal to the public Friday.

Scores of persons have gone to the base daily seeking work, and as a result preliminary planning for reactivation of the base is being slowed, said Lt. Col. A. R. Brousseau, project officer.

"We have no personnel office at present and are not employing anyone," he said. "Our work at present consists of planning projects preparatory to letting contracts for rehabilitation of the base.

"When a personnel officer comes to the base, full and complete information will be announced."

Those who wish to submit applications now may do so by going to the postoffice, obtaining a form 57, standard application for federal employment, filling it out and mailing it to the civilian personnel officer, Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, La.

Queen Of Boys' Club Rodeo Introduced At ABC Meeting

Miss Shelley Furr was introduced to the American Business club Friday as the Queen of the Rodeo to be held June 8-11 at Jones stadium.

Miss Furr thanked the members for having chosen her and said she would try to deserve the honor. Miss Furr is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Furr, 3120 Twentieth. A student at Texas Tech, Miss Furr was recently nominated one of the campus beauties.

Fred Hinson, chairman of the trade trips, announced that a group of ABC members would leave Lubbock Tuesday morning for Hobbs, N. Mex., to spread the news about the Boys' Club Rodeo. Other trips to be made will include: Wednesday, Midland; Thursday, Spur; and Friday, Clovis. Stops will be made at towns along the way.

While sales of tickets have passed the $4,000 mark, President George Dale said that a greater effort would have to be made to insure a financial success for the rodeo.

The ABC will have Ladies' Day next Friday. Members were asked to bring their wives, daughters or sisters.

Guests today included: Jim Gill, Houston; Bert Nelson and Ted Spaulding.

West Ponders Possible Extent Of Foreign Business In 'Red China'

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

As the Western Powers seek to determine what their attitude should be toward Communist China, one of the big questions is whether foreign business can operate under the new regime, and how.

The answer probably lies in recent statements studied against the Comintern background of the Chinese Communist leadership.

According to Pravda, official party paper in Moscow, a member of the Chinese party's central committee outlined the general policy in April at a meeting of the Democratic Union of Chinese Youth. Here are some of the points made:

Council To Form Government

As soon as Nationalist power is broken a consultative council will be called to form a central government for China.

This will be the first step on the long road of eliminating "imperialism, bureaucratic capital," which can be accomplished "only when China is an advanced industrial country and when it is absolutely independent economically of foreign powers." The need for an arms industry was stressed. Nationalization of industry will come, but "the existence of private undertakings which are of advantage to the national economy must be permitted during the period of rehabilitation and development."

'Usual' System Advocated

The usual Communist collective system for development of agriculture is advocated, with the usual "leadership" of the urban proletariat over the peasants.

The Chinese Communists expect to carry out their program more rapidly than was possible after October 1917 in Russia "since China has a hard-working population of 400 millions and has the guidance of the Chinese Communist party, of Mao-Tse-Tung, the leader, and also the assistance of the Soviet Union."

Taking all these things together with Mao's 1946 statement that there will have to be a period of capitalism before Communism can be established, Communist China would seem likely to be a place in which foreigners can trade, but not one for long-term investment.

Wichita Falls Man Recovering From Surgery After Shooting

DALLAS, May 27. (AP)—E. P. Griffin, Wichita Falls oil operator who underwent brain surgery here Wednesday after being shot through the head, was in improved condition at Baylor hospital today.

Attendants said Griffin has regained consciousness and "spent a good night" last night. Griffin was found wounded on the E. F. Price lease about 11 miles northeast of Ballinger, Tuesday. Authorities did not say how he came to be shot.

Cab Driver Delivers 'Strange' Package To Housewife Here

"Beware of men bearing strange gifts."

Mrs. B. N. Brien, 2524 N. Third, is a firm believer in this ancient, but honorable, advice.

When Kelly Hinkle, a cab driver, delivered a package to her home Thursday evening Mrs. Brien viewed it with some trepidition. The package itself was innocent appearing enough but it emitted strange noises. Even when told it had been sent to her by her husband, a driver for the T.N.M.&O. bus lines, she expressed reluctance.

Curiosity Carries Day

The curiosity of the three Brien boys carried the day and with Hinkle standing guard the box was opened.

Out toddled a surprised, but unafraid, coyote pup all of five weeks of age. Mrs. Brien immediately foresaw the problems she would have with the pup scampering around her neat home. Not so the three boys, Donnie, 2, Norvell, 4, and Charles 12. The coyote became a pet at once.

Brien caught the baby coyote along with three others while fishing on the Brazos south of Olney. Two other Lubbock bus drivers, Russell Austin and Temple Sparks, were with Brien on the outing. As they were getting ready to leave in their car the men spotted the four coyote pups marching Indian file up a draw.

Surprise And A Pet

"The coyotes didn't seem to have any fear of us but let us pick them up and handle them. We didn't see any sign of a den or the mother coyote," Brien said. "I thought it would be quite a surprise for my wife and a good pet, at least for a while, for the boys."

The pup eats readily when given a diet of chopped liver and milk. Civilization holds no terrors for it.

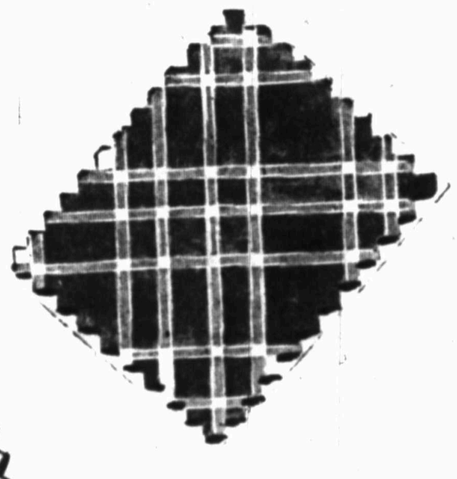

As an afterthought Brien said:

"Oh! Yes. We caught a few fish, too."

China Expected To Vote With Reds In UN

U.S. Efforts In East Discounted

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 27 — An important spokesman in the Soviet bloc predicted privately today that when the UN general assembly convenes in September China will be in the ranks of those voting with Russia.

The usually well-informed source said that the fall of Shanghai must lead within a matter of months to the formation of a Communist-dominated government in China.

He discounted current diplomatic efforts of the United States to form a common front against recognition of Communist China, asserting that the Nationalist regime is on its last legs despite "shots in the arm" from across the Pacific.

Soviets Urge Government

He indicated that Russia is vastly pleased at events in the Far-East and is quietly pressing the Chinese Communist leaders to set up a government soon as the deathblow to the Kuomintang.

Although military action in Red China apparently is regarded as far from complete, the Soviet bloc evidently now takes it for granted that Communist officialdom very soon will be ruling the land from Siberia to Indo-China. The calling of a consultative assembly to frame a constitution and create a central government seems to be anticipated among the Iron Curtain representatives at the UN.

Future In UN Uncertain

The prediction of the Soviet bloc source sharpens the prevalent anxiety at the UN on the fate of China's future UN role.

It is believed at Lake Success that in the near future the Chinese Communist leaders will proclaim their government and denounce the Canton regime as no longer representative of the people. Expectations at the UN are that one of the next steps will be to claim China's seat at the Security council, where the Big Five powers swing the veto.

UN officials admit that if and when the Canton regime is unable to meet charter requirements and the Communist-led regime in China can prove itself the rightful governing factor, they can do nothing to prevent the transformation in Chinese representation.

U.S. delegates at Lake Success are following the policy on China laid down by the State department, which leaves the question of recognition of Red China in abeyance pending developments and after consultation with numerous other countries.

Campaign Against Fly And Mosquito Threat Pushed

Fight On Pests Opened In City

"We're going to whip the mosquito and fly problem in Lubbock," Gerald Jarvis, director of public health ,said Friday by way of answering the hundreds of questions being asked of him.

"We have our 'fogging' machine started last Monday and it has been in steady operation since that time," Jarvis said.

"Actually, we are going to need the aid of every citizen if we get the job done right. We can only do so much with the material and equipment we have. Individuals will have to help a little around their own premises," Jarvis added.

More Flies, Mosquitoes

"Because of the large amount of rainfall this year we can reasonably expect more flies and mosquitoes than in an average year," the health director said. "If we get on them now we should be ablt to get through the summer with little or no trouble."

According to Jarvis the spraying machine has already covered a large part of the outlying areas. Lakes and ponds, the colored section and much of the Mexican section of town have already been sprayed once.

The solution being used this year is somewhat more effective than in the past. It is a seven per cent DDT mixed with two and a half per cent lethane. This latter fortification makes the solution a quick killer while the DDT forms a residue.

"It would be foolish to assume that our fogging machine can get into every nook and corner," Jarvis hastened to point out.

People Urged To Help

"Each home or property owner could invest a few cents in DDT. They could keep trash and garbage cans covered and have all rubbish removed or burned. Places where water can accumulate or stagnate should be filled."

"Another breeding ground for harmful insects is the vacant lot where the weeds are allowed to grow wild," Jarvis said. "Alleys are a menace now being attacked by the Department of Public Works under the direction of Ed Branch. Branch hopes to have the alleys of Lubbock graded and cleaned up in the very near future."

Other practical suggestions which require very little time and practically no cost, are spraying garbage and trash cans, screening the home, spraying those screens and window and door ledges, keeping lawns mowed and clearing unused lots.

"Such a program is cheap insurance. A little effort now may save a lot of cost and sadness later," Jarvis said. "If we save only one life in Lubbock county it will be worth the entire cost."

Jarvis said that it now requires about eight days to cover the city with a spray of DDT. The approximate cost is $70 per day or the smallest fraction of a cent per person. Jarvis hopes his department can add another fogging machine later but in the meantime he says he will employ a man with a pack-spray outfit to hit the "hot spots" in the down town area when it becomes necessary.

Attacking the problem from another angle is Sam McMillin, chief sanitarian. McMillin checks up on the cafes and restaurants and sees that they keep their places properly screened. He calls attention to the laws governing eating places and also points out that glassware and multiple-use utensils must be sterilized.

Another expert on the job is H.

New Scurry Test Makes Oil Show

Pearson-Seibert Oil Company of Texas, No. 1-A Bishop, outpost to the discovery for flowing production from the Canyon lime to open the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field in southwest Scurry county, has shown on preliminary tests that it will be finished as a good producer.

This venture, located 660 feet from north and east lines of section 162, block 97, H & TC survey topped the Canyon reef lime 6,624 feet, on an elevation of 2,309 feet.

It drilled ahead from that point to 6,684 feet. A string of 5½-inch casing was cemented at 6,624 feet. After drilling the plug operator tested the open hole natural on various sized chokes, ranging from 3/16th inche to 11/32nd inch.

No Water Appears

Flows ranging from 25 barrels to 35 barrels per hour, depending on the size of the choke, were developed.

Operator is continuing to test and probably will run potential and complete late in the currenet week.

Fusselman - Silurian prospects have drowned out at Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-E Cowden, outpost to the Dollarhide field of southwest Andrews county.

After squeezing perforations at 8,784-89 feet where water developed, operator perforated higher in the Fusselman at 8,645-80 feet and tested, showing a moderate amount of oil following a 9,000-gallon acid treatment in two stages.

Zone Re-Acidized

The zone then was re-acidized with 12,000 gallons. Swabbing made 20 barrels of fluid per hour which was 100 per cent sulphur water.

Setting retainer at 8,595 feet, perforations were squeezed off. The venture was last reported waiting for cement to cure on the squeeze job.

There is a good possibility that the venture will plug back to test shows developed in the Clear Fork and Wolfcamp sections, of the Permian when drilling through. If either formation flows oil in commercial quantities, dual completion might be attempted with the Devanian. The Devonian in this prospector flowed oil on drillstem tests.

Sinclair Reaches 9,960

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 14, block A-52, psl survey.

Sinclair Prairie Oil Company No. 1 Lindly, south-central Lynn county, wildcat, one mile north of the town of O'Donnell, had reached 9,960 feet, in an unidentified

Weather Forecasting Discussion Set Today

Erle L. Hardy, regional director of the U. S. Weather service, and M. C. Harrison, a staff member, will meet with city and chamber of commerce officials here today on problems connected with weather forecasting.

The meeting will be held at City Hall at 10 o'clock this morning.

Meetings Are Held

Hardy and Harrison held a similar meeting in Amarillo Friday. Their visit to this section follows widespread criticism of inadequate weather reporting in the Panhandle-Plains territory, brought to a head by the inability of Weather Bureaus in Lubbock and Amarillo to correctly forecast damaging storms and tornadoes.

Agitation has started in both Lubbock and Amarillo for the establishment in this section of a first class weather station. Both cities have second class stations at this time, requiring over-all weather forecasting to come from New Orleans.

Both Amarillo and Lubbock are seeking to have a first class bureau placed within their own confines, but groups in both cities agree that even if a first class station went to the rival community, the fact that it was located somewhere on the Panhandle-Plains—instead of New Orleans—would be beneficial.

BILL SENT TO WHITE HOUSE

CUSTOMER BACK IN SPOTLIGHT

Lubbock Resident Offers Few Suggestions On Salesmanship

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

A slight, sixtyish newcomer to Lubbock has made an honest effort to retire, but he now finds himself a man with a mission.

The man is Burritt S. Mills, sales engineer whose duties have taken him to 48 states and 29 foreign countries.

The mission: To tell bewildered businessmen something many may have forgotten—that there really is such a thing as selling.

Demands On Time Grow

From a colorful and distinguished past Mills draws on anecdotes to illustrate what he means when he says the tables are turned and it's no longer a question of taking orders. People in business must sell, and must mend their ways to do so.

He came to Lubbock a few months ago to make his home with his son Ridgely, manager of the Lubbock office of Continental Air Lines.

He accepted a speaking engagement or two. Now he is in wide demand throughout West Texas as a luncheon club speaker. And many businessmen, after hearing him talk, engage him to speak to their employes.

"For seven years," Mills points out in his engaging way, "no one has had to sell anything. If I walk into your store and don't buy anything, what do you care? There are 50 others who will buy. It hasn't been a question of selling—the salesman merely condescends to let you have it.

Indifference Costs Sales

"And here's another point: By far the large majority of sales clerks have never in their experience had to sell merchandise and don't know how to. But that situation is now turned upside down, and a buyer can afford to be very choosy.

"Businessmen are now beginning to wonder why they are losing sales. A survey conducted in the East showed that 68 percent of lost sales were due to in-

ON BACK TAXES:

A Sound Suggestion

A CONSTRUCTIVE suggestion dealing with one serious tax problem in Texas made by Jack Porter, of Houston, Republican candidate for U.S. senator last year, deserves serious study and appropriate corrective action by the Legislature.

Mr. Porter pointed out, as a fact which no one can dispute, that large sums in delinquent taxes are carried on the tax rolls of various political units, such as counties, cities and school districts. His estimate that the amounts thus due the State and the other units totals a good many millions of dollars cannot be disputed either.

As a first step toward correcting these conditions, Mr. Porter has proposed the creation of a small commission to recommend methods by which overdue taxes can be collected and to seal up the loop holes through which some property owners manage to escape their fair share of taxation.

The proposal so obviously is common sense in its approach to correcting conditions which no one can deny it is difficult to see how the Legislature could alibi failure to take some action upon it.

It is a plan which, if carried out, could produce money sorely needed by the State and by most counties, cities and school districts. It is an action demanded as a matter of justice to the property owners who pay their taxes promptly and who are forced to carry the added burden represented by delinquent taxes.

Failure of the Legislature to do something about the condition can be construed only as a failure to serve the interests of Texas.

Britain And Eisler

DECISION of Magistrate Laurence Dunn, of Bow Street court, London, not to return Gerhart Eisler to this country as requested by the American government may not be indicative of majority opinion in Britain.

Very possibly Dunn's decision is as unpopular with Britons as it is with Americans.

But whether is represents British opinion, or whether it doesn't, the Dunn decision is one which demands reprisal. The United States cannot take it "lying down."

Gerhart Eisler is a lousy Communist.

He was in this country as a spy; an arranger of espionage; as an enemy of our form of government and, therefore, as an enemy of our people.

He spit in the eye of the American government when he refused to testify before a Congressional committee—and he has gotten away with all his nefarious work because a British judge of very ordinary stature split legal hairs.

In short, a representative of the British crown saw fit to side with a dirty Red against the people of a nation which has done more for his country in recent years than his own countrymen have been able to do for themselves and for each other.

For this crassness, this hair-splitting, the American government and the people it represents must have from England some compensating action, else we should take whatever economic action against England we think would settle the score.

We suggest that either Magistrate Dunn be removed from his bench by proper authority in England, or that the American government lop off a few billions in aid earmarked for Britain.

England is either for us — or for the Gerhart Eislers of Russia.

Let her make her choice — now.

Mexican producers of tequila and mezcal have persuaded the Government to extend to these liquors the same regulations applied to brandy, whisky, gin and rum, to prevent adulterated local tequila from flooding the market to the detriment of legitimate producers.

As a part of Mexico City's Mother's Day celebration, Mrs. Aleman, wife of the President, announced she would give away 30 new houses in the vicinity of the President's official Los Pinos residence, to poor but outstanding mothers, selected by lot.

France is reported again tinkering with its currency, in order to make its exports cheaper for buyers, and the black market in francs is fast disappearing as the black market rate now is only slightly above the "free" market rate.

Sure, I See The Signs

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Bea Cosgrove is not satisfied that the death of Lilly Warren or Henry Gough Harding's Spoare Island was suicide. So far she has learned little to point out any of the others on the island as a murderer. But Bea herself is not above suspicion and Nona McGuire says as much. Nona knew Lilly before Nona was shipwrecked on the island. Furthermore, Nona has guessed that Bea is not 40, as she says she is, but much nearer 30 years old.)

XX

NEXT morning Bea Cosgrove went back in the main house to get a scarf for her hair before she took the sheep to pasture. She heard voices from the tower room, stopped to listen.

"Time to get up Mollie," Mabel Jones said.

Miss Stark yawned loudly. "Too sleepy," she announced. "You can bring my breakfast in here."

"Maybe I could, but I'm not going to. Come on and get up."

"I won't get up. Too sleepy."

"Stay in bed if you like. You won't eat. You're plenty well enough to be up and around."

"I'll tell! I'll tell him and he'll make you do what I say! You're nasty and mean to me, and he'll le' you know what you have to do for me."

"He doesn't have to tell me what to do now," Mabel said grimly. "Get up."

"Owwww!" Mollie wailed. "You hurt my arm when you pulled."

"Now you're up, put on this black dress again. You'll help in the kitchen."

Mollie stamped her foot. "I won't! I won't! He's boss on this island. He won't let you treat me like this."

There was a splat of a hard hand on soft bare flesh. "Don't be more of a fool than you have to."

Mollie Stark laughed shrilly. "You're funny."

Bea slipped out without the scarf, smiling. "One situation at least seems to be well in hand."

THE sun was warm, relaxing, had burned away the little curtain of clouds which had darkened the morning and the large part of the afternoon.

The sheep raised their heads in unison, returned gradually to their feeding. Bea turned lazily in the direction they had looked and stared directly at Captain Miguel Oak. He stood in a small hollow within 10 feet of her and was returning a heavy automatic to the holster on his belt which held up stained tan pants, his only article of clothing.

He smiled broadly. "Please do not move. From the house you can be seen, while I stay hidden. So. It is you who tend the sheep."

"Good afternoon," Bea said. "I didn't hear you come. You're still barefooted I see."

"Barefooted? You knew I visited the island?"

"The potted plant you tended on the Simpotico," she reminded him, "was placed on the grave of someone named Roble—or Oak."

"My younger brother, who was stupid."

"Maybe it runs in the family," she suggested.

"Perhaps. But why do you say so?"

"Footprints," Bea said. "Very distinctive footprints, if I may say so. On the beach where the water did not reach them until I had seen. They led to a cliff where a rope had been."

"You tell me this and yet you say I am stupid?" Oak held his automatic again, muzzle pointed toward the ground. "There are ways of making people forget."

FOR a moment Miss Cosgrove thought she had gone too far.

She said quickly, "I'd like it better if you'd forget that phony accent of yours."

The man's smile returned.

"Too bad. I thought it looked good on a fisherman. But tell me more of the footprints and the dead Mrs. Warren."

"You'd better tell me," Bea said firmly.

Oak rubbed the beard on his chin with the gun muzzle.

"Why not? I was on the cliff to the south of the cove when I heard a shot. I looked down and saw a figure in one of the cars. I used a rope I have hidden to descend from a point where I cannot be seen from the house. I found Mrs. Warren dead. While I looked, the car started to move. I hurried back, careless of footprints. I reached the cliff and was hidden when you came down."

"You're good at hiding. But then, you'd have to be to stay on the island without anyone seeing you."

Miguel laughed at her effort to get information.

"And you've been busy too, haven't you? Pulling those young people out of the water for one thing."

"They remembered? It seemed easier to help them while they could still walk away, than to wait until they had to be carried."

"Was it you who staked out those fish in the pool?"

"Yes. A fine joke wasn't it? The poor dead fish! Four of them half in and half out of the water. And did you notice what kind of fish they were?"

"I don't know much about fish."

"They were Remora or sharkpilot. Remora Remora to be exact. They fasten themselves to shark with the sucking disc on the top of their heads. Which makes them not only poor fish, but suckers as well. Isn't that funny, Miss Cosgrove?"

She shivered. "What a comedian! I'm afraid it was too subtle for me."

"Harding knows fish, though," Oak said. "And when the water

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IT SEEMS that husbands are husbands no matter to what species of animal life they belong.

BRANDEIS

Early this Spring we observed a bird trying to build a nest under the roof of the breezeway that connects our house with the garage.

After looking it up in our bird book, we found that the little thing which intended to take up tenancy at our home was a Flycatcher, also more euphoniously called a Phoebe.

Apparently birds are not quite acquainted with the newer forms of human ingenuity, so this expectant mother did not realize that an electric light cable, attached by clamps to the wall, was not a good place for a nest.

Every time she brought additional material to her intended maternity ward the stuff would slip through, between the cable and the wall, and she got nowhere.

My wife, being sympathetic with all helpless animals (including me), helped Phoebe along.

She nailed an old strawberry basket to the wall, and lo and behold, our little boarder was delighted with the pre-fabricated home, and the nest furnishing proceeded at a much more rapid and effective pace.

Now she is sitting on her nest—all ready for the blessed event, and, every chance we get, we peep through the glass door in the kitchen and watch her—being, in that respect, not very different from all neighbors.

And that is how I also came to learn something about husbands.

Mr. Phoebe is apparently a good executive.

He tells her all about how to do it. He sings to her. Every now and then he catches a fly for her, but he eats the most succulent ones himself.

But I haven't seen him do a darn bit of work. He sits on the picket fence or on the nearby clothes line and acts like a vice-president.

This morning when a blackbird came at him, he flew to the top of the highest tree in the neighborhood, leaving his wife to her fate, but telling the intruder from a safe distance what he thought of him.

MRS. Phoebe never moves away from her nest But Mr. Phoebe goes gallivanting through the woods most of the day. However, when he is tired at night he comes home and sleeps sitting on the edge of the strawberry basket.

Incidentally and this really does not belong in this story, I never realized how many things a stay-at-home husband can do to make a nuisance of himself.

One of our neighbors, just like my wife, also has the misfortune to have a spouse who does his work at home.

Yesterday the two wives were discussing husbands.

They love us. I take it from what they said, but they love us just like a mother might love a half-witted child that always gets itself into trouble.

I had an awful dream last night. I dreamed I was a rug, and that everybody who walked on me tripped and fell.

Aren't husbands any good for anything?

ON USE OF A-BOMB

HST Decision Fateful

By RAY. TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Truman's order to drop the atom bomb over Hiroshima and Nagasaki required greater courage and decisiveness than we realized then in view of the fact that Admiral William D. Leahy, wartime Chief of Staff to the President, had no faith in its lethal effectiveness.

Admiral Leahy has been seriously ill since quitting his post as top military and naval adviser to the White House. But he has dictated the first draft of his memoirs, which will not be published until next spring, and in them he reveals his cynicism concerning the bomb's value as a weapon.

TUCKER

In fact, while in London several months before it was known that the atomic problem could be solved, he bet the King of England that, if and when the world scientists smashed th eatom, it would be a "dud" by comparison with expectations of its destructiveness in warfare.

HARDIHOOD: Admiral Leahy, obviously, voiced the Navy's attitude toward a weapon which has been hailed as sealing the doom of the fleet. In fact, naval spokesmen still maintain that this cosmic force does not necessitate any radical change in the pattern of sea warfare.

But the military men, who had observed at close range the psychological effect of heavy bombing on ground troops, fortifications, communications, motor vehicles and the civilian population, argued in favor of the bomb.

In view of this deep-seated controversy among experts, making one of the most fateful decisions in the history of civilization testifies to Harry S. Truman's hardihood.

SACRIFICE: President Truman might have obtained confirmation of Mon C. Wallgren as head of the National Security Resources board if he had agreed to a deal with Senate Republicans for decapitating Reclamation Commissioner Michael W. Straus and Richard L. Boke, Reclamation's regional director for California.

Despite his warm friendship for the former Governor of Washington, and his bitterness over the Senate Committee's rejection of the Wallgren nomination, Mr. Truman explained to friends that he preferred to "sacrifice a friend rather than a principle."

There were also political considerations behind the White House decision. To have tossed "Mike" to Republican wolves simply to gratify a friend's ambition would have incensed the so-called "liberals" at a time when they are grousing over the Administration's failure to support the anti-Hague and anti-Tammany purgers in the recent contests in New Jersey and New York.

SWITCH: Although Senator Harry F. Byrd's adverse vote provided a 7 to 6, anti-Wallgren action in committee, President Truman and his Senate aides felt the nomination would have been approved if his name had been placed before the upper chamber. So, they set to work to twist over a committee Republican.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall agreed to change his vote, and that shift would have meant a 7 to 6 report in favor. The Bay Stater made clear that his switch did not commit him to the appointment. The conscientious Yankee simply thought it only fair that a presidential appointee should be passed on by the full body.

Mr. Saltonstall, however, stipulated that the Democrats must win over another Republican so that he would have company in his support of the Administration. The most likely prospect was Senator William F. Knowland of California, and he was subjected to friendly pressure by Majority Leader Lucas and Vice President Barkley.

RETURN: Senator Knowland also agreed to let the Wallgren name go before the Senate for a showdown, but he demanded in return that the White House get rid of Messrs. Straus and Boke.

Both men are in a state of suspended animation because the 1948 and also the current Interior Appropriation Bill provide that no funds shall be used for payment of their salaries. However, Mr. Truman is still fighting for their retention.

G.O.P.-ers and conservative Democrats oppose Mr. Straus for his alleged use of Reclamation funds and projects for partisan purposes. They also charge that he has ordered his field staff to spend money wastefully for fear that savings at the end of a fiscal year may lead Congress to reduce future appropriations.

GRUDGE: Californians have a special grudge against the Reclamation Commissioner—that is, certain Californians do. He has opposed any change in the existing law which provides that certain irrigated benefits shall be limited to farms of 160 acres. Wealthy farmers, as well as absentee, corporation owners, insist that this limitation be lifted or raised.

There have also been charges that Commissioner Straus favors Arizona over California in their rival claims fo additional water from the Colorado river. In any event, they have a special hate against "Mike" and his regional aide, Mr. Boke.

Mr. Truman also spurned the deal because it would have been a surrender to Senator Sheridan Downey, who spearheads the movement to wipe out the 160-acre limitation. Moreover, although a Democrat, Mr. Downey has been violently anti-administration in his behaviour and in his balloting.

Peasants around Mudanya, on the Sea of Mormora in northwestern Turkey recently found 10 acres of land carpeted by frogs which had been gathered up from nearby lakes by a whirlwind.

K. N. Clapp, of Lubbock, acting executive of the South Plains Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, and three local eagle scouts left Monday to attend the Concho Valley Council encampment at San Angelo.

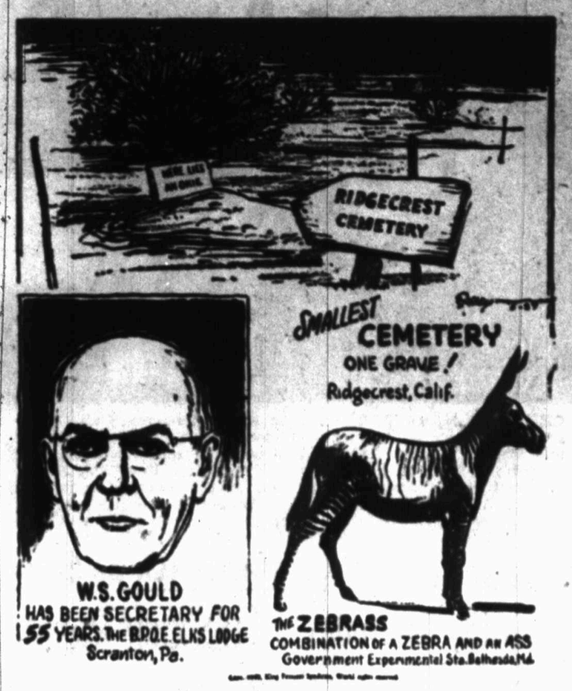

The eagle scouts who accompanied Mr. Clapp are Ordis Forbes, R. C. Douglas, and John Vickers. They will probably spend one week at the encampment, it was announced.

Pledging their efforts and influence in the future toward the building of a greater Texas Technological college, members of the alumni association of Texas Technological college and of the 1929 graduating class gathered around the banquet board at Lubbock hotel last night in the annual banquet-reunion of the association. Approximately 75 were present.

Following a banquet program presided over by E. M. Barnett, president of the association, election of officers for the next 12 months was held, C. W. Ratliff, Lubbock, being selected president. Winfield Nichlaus, Tahoka, was elected vice president; Sylvia Wilson, Lubbock, secretary-treasurer; Mary Dale Buckner, Lubbock, editor of magazine; and Horace B. Carroll, athletic council representative.

UNIONS MAKE GAINS AT POLLS

Labor Plans New Vote Campaigns

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Organized labor has been infused with a new spirit of political militancy by recent victories in local elections here and there, including those over long-entrenched machines in New York and New Jersey.

This is manifest in the tone and emphasis of an illuminating speech on political techinques which Jack Krool, director of CIO's Political Action Committee, delivered to the Michigan Industrial Union council.

He recognized very frankly that labor fell short in last November's election of making enough gains to get what labor wants in Congress, and told the assembled Michigan union leaders as much. But his analysis of local victories since has encouraged him to think that labor may get a friendly Congress next year if it gets out and works and applies in every congressional district the tactics that were successful in these elections.

STOKES

He cited the defeat of Boss Frank Hague in New Jersey, "The man who used to run our CIO organizers out of Jersey City;" the triumph of Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., over Tammany in the special congressional election in a previous Tammany stronghold; the election of a member of the United Steel Workers, Stephen J. Horan, to the city council in Newark, and election of "liberal" city administrations in St. Louis and Peoria.

"Your CIO-PAC was in there pitching — ringing doorbells, getting out the vote, making sure that people understood the issues," he said. "Maritime workers, clothing workers, transport workers, automobile workers applied the lessons of political action and they won.

"I want to tell you that the plain people of the country, if they get out and work, will always win."

The victories, indeed, were impressive, and labor had much to do with them. They should wake up old-line political leaders to this new element of which they obviously have taken too little notice, as also should some election statistics of the size of the vote which were revealed by the PAC director.

In Newark 78 percent of the registered voters went to the polls. Seventy percent of eligible voters were registered there. In New York's 20th congressional district, scene of the Roosevelt victory, 75 percent of the registered voters were accounted for. There 80 percent of eligible voters were registered. These figures are unusually high for such off-year local elections.

Bosses count heavily on a small, controlled vote.

Great stress is laid an registration by PAC. Mr. Krool emphasized the technique which is to make a breakdown on the registration status of every union member, comparing membership lists with poling lists, and then to see that every member is registered and goes to the polls.

Must Keep Busy

"An unregistered member anywhere is a political scab and as much a danger to our organization as a man who crosses a picket line," he said bluntly. "That may make some of you sore. But if it makes you register I'll take the consequences."

The CIO's approach is what might be termed every-year, all-year, and across-the-board. Jack Krool said "for CIO-PAC there is no such thing as 'an off-year'." He emphasized the importance of local elections to labor and called attention to the fact that there are such in 550 cities this year.

Likewise he pointed out constantly to the congressional elections next year, citing recent vote tests in the House to show where and how labor is shy enough strength. He stressed a fact of which labor is getting increasingly conscious which is that "today the government in Washington comes into our daily lives." Washington, as well as state capitals, "are as close as our next door neighbor."

He recognized also the necessity of a common front with farmers, urging that labor get behind legislation for farmers who, he said, "are our customers, just as we are theirs."

Texas Highway Commission Orders Licenses For 1950

AUSTIN, May 27. (U.P.)—The Texas Highway commission made sure today there will be enough license plates to go around in 1950, making an appropriation for 5,400,000 plates.

The appropriation of $231,229 was just $229 over the amount set aside for plates this year. The prison-manufactured plates, the Board of Control figured, will cost about 4 cents each, and just under 10 cents a pair next year.

Pecos Rancher Kills Self With Gun In El Paso Hospital

EL PASO, May 27. (U.P.)—A 71-year-old rancher shot himself to death at the Southwestern General hospital early today. John Lopoo of Pecos died almost instantly from a self-inflicted bullet in his chest.

Police said that Lopoo had been despondent over his health.

"It is a clear case of suicide," Detective Capt. J. E. Stowe said.

The rancher shot himself about 5:40 a.m. with his own revolver which he removed from a suitcase under his bed, according to hospital attendant. Lopoo had insisted that he retain the gun, "because I've had it with me most of my life." He was admitted to the hospital last Sunday.

Wall Street

MARKET AGAIN SLUMPS

NEW YORK, May 27. (AP)—Wall Street started out on an early holiday weekend today as the stock exchange had one of its smallest days of the year.

Only 690,000 shares of stock changed hands in just three other sessions this year has volume been smaller. Turnover Thursday amounted to 760,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 3 of one point to 62.2, a level first touched this week on Tuesday and the lowest since late February.

The market is uncomfortably close to the 1948 low—which is 60.3 according to the AP average.

U. S. Steel led common in early trading established a new 1949 low at 67⅝, a price only ¼ point above the low for 1948.

Chrysler, too, rang up a new low (and the lowest since the stock was split in 1947), and despite several tries at a comeback finished down ½ at 49⅛.

A low for General Motors was wiped out and the shares ended ⅛ ahead at 56⅛.

Trimmed in the curb were American Light, Consolidated Mining (off 3⅛), Motor Mtr., and Humble Oil. Higher were Louisiana Land, Pantepec Oil, American Gas, Fairchild Engine, and Colon Development.

Corporate bonds leaned down with stocks. U. S. governments in over-the-counter dealings were almost motionless.

Sen. Johnson Reported Seeking Federal Judgeship For Allred

HOUSTON, May 27. (AP)—The Houston Chronicle today said U.S. Senator Lyndon Johnson is seeking to have former Governor James V. Allred named federal judge for the Southern district of Texas.

The newspaper also speculated that the U. S. marshalship for the district may go to Otto Reichart, Brownsville.

Allred became federal judge for the district shortly after leaving the governor's office but resigned in 1941 to make an unsuccessful race for the U.S. Senate.

Reichert is a former Houston resident who now is a deputy county clerk at Brownsville.

The Chronicle said Johnson hopes to see Allred named to a new judgeship—the third—for the district. A bill now is pending before Congress to create the new post and the newspaper said Washington sources report the bill will be approved by July 31.

Noted Texas Philanthropist Dies Of Heart Disease In Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Tex., May 27. (AP) Louis Heilbron, 79, pioneer city builder and philanthropist, died yesterday.

He had been ill nearly two years with heart disease. His condition became critical early this week. His funeral was held today.

Heilbron owned the Heilbron Investment company. He was president of the Commonwealth Realty company. He had been in the real estate business here half a century.

He gave generously to many institutions, but his philanthropies were not generally known. The Leon N. Levy Memorial hospital at Hot Springs, Ark., and the Denver Tubercular hospital benefitted from his gifts as did Texarkana civic and social welfare projects.

difference to customers on the part of sales clerks.

"There is a big difference in making a sale and making a customer. I bought a pack of cigarets at a drugstore. The clerk showed supreme indifference to my small purchase. I haven't bought anything else there, and the sad thing is that the owner will never know why."

Public "Kicked Around"

Mills says he has gained 90 percent of his knowledge of sales engineering from talking to people on the street, in buses or wherever he might be. And these talks have convinced him that the public has been "kicked around" for so long that they are unusually sensitive—much more so than under normal conditions.

"Nice treatment impresses us much more these days than it would ordinarily. Also, we are more sensitive to indifferent treatment by salespersons.

"The hardest thing to take is when you walk into a store and nobody says anything. You are humiliated, embarrassed.

He credits himself with an insatiable curiosity, a photographic memory and uncanny powers of observation, which he says are the three attributes a successful industrial and sales engineer needs most.

Has 25 Years Experience

He ought to know. He has followed the profession for 25 years. His work consisted of making commercial surveys toward establishment of businesses, branches or subsidiaries; surveying businesses for corrections of faults, expanding sales outlets, development of new products, training sales forces and personnel.

In recent years he has specialized in international commerce, maintaining offices in Paris, France, Antwerp, Belgium, and Florence, Italy.

Educated in private schools in this country, he attended the University of Paris in France, majoring in international trade, economics and applied psychology.

His business career has been varied. Among posts he has held are the chairmanship of President Hoover's unemployment relief committee for Southern California in 1930-31; member of the American Olympic committee, Tenth Olympiad, president of Long Beach, Calif., Foreign Trade commission; European representative of the Young Men's Business club and Chamber of Commerce of New Orleans; European representative for Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

Served In Two Wars

In World War I he was a captain in the Army Corps of Engineers, serving seven months in the front line and receiving seven decorations, including the Croix de Guerre and Medal Militaire.

He was in Europe at the outbreak of World War II. He studied British methods of air raid protection, assisted the French government in building the "Defense Passive" (air raid protection) for Paris. Later, in this country, he was named a defense consultant for the Eighth Service Command, lecturing and teaching about plant protection, air raid precautions and chemical warfare.

An active Kiwanian, he has visited 150 clubs in 12 states and spoken before 81.

In addition to Kiwanis, he belongs to the American clubs in Paris and Antwerp, the Transportation club in London, the Triton club, Utrecht, Holland, the Paris post of American Legion, the Foreign Trade club at Dallas, L'Association Nationale des Croix de Guerre and the Union Nationale des Combattants (French Legion).

But to get back home, Mr. Mills sees Lubbock as the center of a vast rural trade area.

"If merchants would get the reputation of being helpful and friendly, all the farmers would soon begin to say: 'I like to trade in Lubbock. Those merchants treat me in such a friendly way'."

That businessmen pay heed to his remarks is evidenced by his recent trips to both places. He accepted speaking invitations, and after hearing him various businessmen and groups of businessmen engaged him to return and speak to their employes.

Commerce Secretary Stamps U.S. Business Situation 'Good'

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 27. (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer today stamped "good" on the current business situation.

Sawyer said "by any normal standard of historic comparison our situation is good."

In an address before the 30th convention of the National Restaurant association, Sawyer said:

"Whether we shall maintain our economy at present levels will depend as much upon psychological factors as upon material factors.

"Your opinion of what the future holds, and your personal action along with that of 140,000,000 other Americans, will have much to do with the immediate development of our economic future."

Farm Produce Prices Decline

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—Farm produce prices dropped 1.5 percent between mid-April and mid-May, the Agriculture department reported today.

This decline largely reflected lower prices for most meat animals, dairy products and truck crops.

The level of prices paid by farmers for items used in rural living also declined, the amount being .4 percent.

The general level of prices received by farmers in mid-May was 256 percent of the 1909-14 average. This compared with 260 percent in mid-April, with 289 percent in mid-May last year and with the record of 307 set in mid-January 1948.

Costs Compared

The level of prices paid by farmers for living items and farm production materials in mid-May was 245 percent of the 1909-14 average compared with 246 percent a month earlier, 250 percent a year ago and with the record of 251 set in mid-August, 1948.

Among farm products, the sharpest price drop — $1.78 a bushel—occurred in the case of flax. Of the meat animals only beef cattle were bringing prices above a month ago, and they only slightly.

Veal calves averaged $1.10 per 100 lbs below a month earlier hogs 70 cents, lambs 50 cents, and sheep 20 cents. Wholesale milk prices dropped 14 cents for 100 lbs.

Chicken and turkey prices were down, as were dried peas, hay, and oats.

Averages Given

The average prices received by farmers and the parity prices, respectively, on May 15 included:

Wheat $2 and $2.17 a bushel; rice (rough) $2.29 and $1.99; corn $1.22 and $1.57; oats 66 and 97.8 cents.

Cotton 29.97 and 30.38 cents a pound; cotton seed $50.40 and $55.20 a ton; soy beans $2.18 and $2.35 a bushel; peanuts 10.6 and 11.8 cents a pound; flax seed $3.68 and $4.14 a bushel.

Grapefruit $1.71 and $2.01 a box; oranges $2.76 and $3.69.

Hogs $17.90 and $17.80 for 100 lbs; beef cattle $20.90 and $13.30; veal calves $23.80 and $16.50; lambs $25.30 and $14.40; butter fat 60.6 and 64.4 cents a lb.; milk, wholesale, $3.60 and $3.92 for 100 lbs.; chickens, live, 26.02 and 27.0 cents a lb.; eggs 43.4 and 52.7 cents a dozen; and wool 50.6 and 44.8 cents a lb.

"It didn't seem to amuse him a bit," Bea admitted. "Wait a minute," she said quickly as he started to speak. "There's someone coming this way."

Fight On Pests

G. Gaither, superintendent of typhus and pest control. Gaither points out that the city dump ground east of the Lubbock Packing company is being cleaned up. The rats have all been poisoned off and the place will be sprayed regularly. Garbage is now being buried.

Problem Dying Out

One serious problem that makes insects dangerous is happily dying out. That is the open "outhouse" without sewage connections. There are still a few left within the city limits however and they are a source of real danger, Gaither says. He cities ordinance 454 which states "all such properties within 100 feet of a public sewer line must have inside connection." Flies and mosquitoes from such places can carry some of the most dangerous diseases, Gaither pointed out.

Jarvis said he would be glad if people would advise him of places that present an unusual or serious health menace. "We cannot do custom spraying but we can tackle the major problems. In some cases we can rent out the services of our mowing machine for a very nominal charge to clear vacant lots," he said.

"I repeat we are going to lick the insects but if you want to save yourself a lot of scratching and not become a 'king of swat' you can right at home," Jarvis concluded.

YOUTH KILLED IN CRASH

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 27 (AP)—Midshipman Humphrey Johnson, 20, of Lowell, Mich., died in the U.S. naval hospital here today of head injuries suffered yesterday in a plane crash. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Johnson of Route 1, Lowell, was a student at Cabaniss field Navy auxiliary air station here. His plane crashed south of Falfurrias, Tex., during a training flight.

Remember the men who can't forget

MADE BY DISABLED AND NEEDY VETERANS

MEMORIES! A green hell on a South Pacific island. The brackish odor of coral blasted from a reef. The stench of enemy dead bloating in the tropic sun. A shell-swept hill in North Africa. The staccato rip of a German machine gun sweeping the beach at Anzio. The sudden blast of a hidden mine in Normandy. The biting cold and the panic of Bastogne. The jolting, shin-cracking explosion of a torpedo at sea. A suicide plane crashing through the deck of a carrier. Shells smashing into steel, with flying fragments tearing open the bowels of men and machines. Battle stations in the grim dawn. Stale air in a submarine, deep in the black waters of a strange sea alive with lurking death and destruction. Holding steady to course while dark, deadly flowers bloom in the sky. The horror of watching a wingman explode into atoms of bone and flesh. Blacking out in a dive. The searing, antiseptic cold of 20,000 feet. The flame, fear and thunder of bombardment.

Memories that carve into a man's soul. Memories that wake him out of sound sleep, trembling, and dripping with sweat.

Forget? It's not easy for the man with wounds that refuse to heal. It's not easy for the man with mental pictures or sounds that refuse to disappear. It's not easy for the man with muscles frozen by nervous tension.

The dead are buried. Their pain is ended. Their tired bodies have found peace.

But the disabled, the men who embraced age overnight, the men who can never live as God willed the right, still face the uncertain future.

These are the men the American people are thinking about when they give their bit to "Honor the dead by helping the living."

These are the men who are being helped by patriotic Americans when they accept the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy as an eloquent symbol of their own gratitude.

This year the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the organization that has sponsored the sale of Buddy Poppies ever since 1922, is celebrating its Golden Jubilee Anniversary.

In observing this 50th Anniversary, the V.F.W. is proud to renew its pledge to the American people that the proceeds of this annual sale of Buddy Poppies constitute a sacred fund. As in the past, the contribution you make through the purchase of a Buddy Poppy will be spent strictly for these patriotic purposes:

- For the aid, relief and comfort of disabled and needy veterans, their dependents, or their widows and orphans.
- For maintenance or expansion of the V.F.W. National Home for widows and orphans of veterans at Eaton Rapids, Michigan.
- For hospital or individual assistance and entertainment for needy veterans and service patients, and their dependents.
- For rehabilitation, welfare and service work, including liaison service with the Veterans Administration.
- For necessary expenses for military funerals of deceased veterans.
- For acquisition, improvement and maintenance of burial plots and the decoration of graves of veterans and servicemen.
