'Gag Rule' Charged In Farm Bill Move

Labor's Breach Widens As AFOL Ousts Three CIO Unions

More Warfare Is Presaged By Action Monday

United Mine Workers Thrown Out But Lewis Declares 'Action Unimportant'

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 7—The American Federation of Labor announced today complete ouster of three big unions affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization, presaging intensified warfare between the two rival labor organizations.

The AFL charters of the United Mine Workers, the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and the Flat Glass Workers were revoked, opening those fields for AFL affiliates. The charters of these and other CIO unions had been suspended by the AFL a year and a half ago but the latest action severed their last ties.

"Action Unimportant"

John L. Lewis, head of the mine union and of the CIO, issued a statement at Washington saying the action is unimportant and without significance" and said he would have no further comment.

The AFL executive council exercised the power given it at the Denver convention last October and voted to recall the charters last Friday, but the move was not announced until today pending receipt of a certified copy of the proceedings at the miners convention in Washington last week.

Constitution Amended

The mine union amended its constitution to give allegiance to the CIO instead of the AFL and the federation's executives construed this as "severing all affiliations and relationships with the AFL and in fact declaring the AFL

ITU BEGINS VOTE

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 7. (AP) — The International Typographical Union began a vote this week that may indicate whether the union, one of America's oldest, will remain in the fold of the American Federation of Labor or swing over to John L. Lewis' rival Committee for Industrial Organization.

Local units are choosing between their incumbent president Charles P. Howard, who is secretary of the Lewis organization, and C. M. Baker, San Francisco, A. F. of L. partisan, who seeks to succeed Howard. The election will not be held until May 25, but local unions must indicate their preference in advance because endorsement by 50 locals is necessary to get a candidate's name on the ballot.

Chinese Making Desperate Stand

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 8 (Tuesday) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was reported today to have taken direct command of Chinese forces making a desperate stand in north central Chipa to prevent the Japanese from taking the important Lunghai railway.

Chinese advices said Chiang had arrived in the Tientsin-Pukow railway zone, northwest of Nanking, and taken over the leadership of the two Chinese armies, one holding back the Japanese north of Suchow and the other blocking the invaders to the south.

Heavy Fighting Reported.

Heavy fighting was reported going on along the Hwai river, 90 miles south of Suchow, where the Japanese made important gains last week.

Attacks of Chinese guerrilla forces, swift and fierce, not only are amphasizing difficulty of the task Japan has to control the conquered areas but are holding up the Japanese offensive against the Lunghai railroad corridor some 350 miles to the north.

Admit Widespread Operations

Japanese military authorities admit widespread operations against "Remnants" of Chinese forces in the central area. But Chinese and foreign reports disclose the increasing seriousness of the situation, even in the outskirts of Nanking, Soochow and Hangchow, all captured weeks ago.

Foreigners from Nanking report four truckloads of Japanese were ambushed and wiped out on the road to Chinkiang, 60 miles east of Nan-

Suit To Cancel Nueces Lease Is To Be Filed

Action To Be Taken On Request Of Gov. Allred; Inadequate Consideration Is Claimed

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 7.—Acting on request of Governor James V. Allred, the attorney general's department announced today it would bring suit to cancel a lease of public land in Nueces county mentioned repeatedly in the investigation of Land Commissioner W. H. McDonald.

First Assistant Attorney General Scott Gaines, in the absence of Attorney General William McCraw, informed the governor a petition seeking to forfeit the 62-acre tract, No. 14 of the Laguna Madre survey, leased in January, 1937, to Herbert Mallinson of Dallas, was being prepared.

To Investigate Others

Gaines said investigation also would be made to determine whether three other tracts, which the governor said he believed ought to be forfeited, should be cancelled by suit.

These were the latest developments in the controversy over McDonald's policies, which already has resulted in an investigation by a committee of the state senate which recessed temporarily last week.

Inadequate Consideration

The governor advised the attorney general the lease to Mallinson should be cancelled because of what he termed an inadequate consideration, no requirement for developing the tract and failure to comply with the law requiring drilling of offset wells when production was had within 1,000 feet of state land.

He sharply criticized leasing the tract for terms which he described as follows: $310 cash and three-sixteenths royalty if oil should be produced, with an additional three-sixteenths royalty when each well had paid the lessee $55,000 cash, except if artifical means should have to be used to lift the oil, the royalty would drop back to five-sixteenths.

He said the land commissioner rejected several bids with much higher cash but lower royalty offers, including one which agreed to begin drilling a well within 60 days.

House Liberals Call On FDR With Legislative Program

MAURY MAVERICK

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—More than thirty house liberals jointly urged upon President Roosevelt today a legislative program calling for a wage-hour bill, retention of the much-criticized undivided profits tax and a stronger capital gains tax.

Led to the White House by Rep. Maverick (D-Tex), they asked, in addition, a "simple direct farm bill" assuring farm prices equalling the cost of production at least, and a permanent public works program capable of absorbing all the able-bodied unemployed.

"The president listened attentively," Maverick said, "and then made a general comment."

"Was it sympathetic?" a reporter asked.

"He's always sympathetic to me," the heavy-voiced Texan replied.

While strongly urging the retention of the undistributed profits tax, the group suggested two changes:

An amendment to permit small corporations to "accumulate minimum reserves out of earnings free of tax."

Would Permit Deduction

An amendment to give stock dividends the status of distributed profits, and permit their deduction in computing the tax to be paid.

Otherwise, Maverick and his colleagues were for the tax as a means of preventing "the evasion of the individual income tax by the wealthy" and of giving "to all investors, small as well as large, the right to determine for themselves how they shall use or re-invest their share of the profits of corporate enterprise."

(The tax is designed to induce concerns to distribute profits in the form of dividends rather than hold the money in the company treasuries.)

Sales Tax Opposed

As a fundamental principle, the Maverick group urged that the tax bill now in formulation be based on "ability to pay." It opposed a sales tax.

Other proposals included: increased estate and gift taxes, removal of tax exemption privileges, a national land use program to include a nation-wide soil conservation program, rapid expansion of the social security program to include all population groups now covered, a system of secured loans for low-cost housing, small business, home owners and agriculture, regularization of industrial employment and immediate provision of work for the unemployed on the government works program.

Maverick announced these principles had received the support of a number of legislators including Representative McFarlane (D-Tex) and Thomas (R-Tex).

Wailing Shades Of Slaves To Be First Ghosts Banished By Man's De-Haunting System

BENTON, Ill., Feb. 7. (AP)—Ghost Chaser Hickman Whittington chose the wailing shades of negro slaves today as the first to be banished by his self-advertised de-haunting system.

Whittington said moans had been reported around an old "whipping post" at the rear of a 104-year-old "slave house" not far away in Gallatin county, and announced he would test his secret Biblical formula on the moanes "whenever the weather permits."

The 68-year-old banashee baiter's claims have brought him offers of "jobs" from a score of ghost-troubled citizens.

House Leaders Plan For Quick Action On Bill

Rules Committee Votes To Ask House To Limit Debate On Measure; Move Opposed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. — Amid cries of "gag rule," house leaders decided today to try to pass the administration's revised crop control bill in five hours tomorrow.

The rules committee voted to ask the house to limit consideration of the draft prepared by a joint senate-house committee.

"Afraid To Let People Know"

Representative Martin (R-Mass), assistant minority leader, charged the administration was "afraid to let the people know what's in that bill."

"It's a gag rule," he said. "They are trying to shut off debate in one day on a bill we don't know much about yet."

On the other side of the capitol, Senator Frazier (R-ND.), who served on the senate-house committee, predicted trouble in the house if the leadership tried to pass the measure quickly.

"It's impossible to understand the bill in one day," Frazier said.

Rayburn Predicts Passage

Majority Leader Rayburn (D-Tex) predicted, however, the bill would be passed "by a good majority." Without it, he said, "the country would be in chaos" because farmers would not know how to proceed with their spring planting.

Controls over production of major crops are provided. They would be carried out through a system of benefit payments and loans on stored crops. When supplies reached abnormally high levels, the marketing of crops would be controlled, if two-thirds of the farmers voting in referenda approved.

Senate Proposals Retained

The senate-house conferees retained senate proposals for a two-cent additional payment to cotton growers who borrowed nine cents a pound from the Commodity Credit corporation and for a moderate start on crop insurance. They also modified the McNary-Bolleau amendment intended to prevent land withdrawn from soil depleting crops from being used for production of dairy herds or dairy products.

It was on this last point that most of the controversy in the house centered.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the house agriculture committee said the new bill was intended primarily to stabilize prices. Obviously, he added, "some farm prices are too low."

Jones said the bill should be adopted quickly because the planting season in parts of the deep South will start soon.

Harvey S. Firestone, Farm Boy Who Became Leader In Rubber Industry, Is Dead

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 7 — Harvey S. Firestone, a farm boy who built one of the largest rubber businesses in the world, died of a blood clot near his heart as he slept early today.

Firestone

The 69-year-old industrialist met a peaceful end in the great mansion of Harbel Villa, an ocean front estate he acquired in 1924.

Of his large family, only a son, Russell A. Firestone, was reported to have been on hand at the time. Mrs. Firestone and their four other sons were believed to be in the North and a daughter, Elizabeth, at Smith college, where she is a senior.

The funeral will be held in Akron Friday.

Firestone's death was unexpected. He attended services at the Miami Beach community (Congregational) church Sunday, as was his custom, and went for an automobile ride in the afternoon with a niece, Mrs. M. E. Ake.

Complained Of Indigestion

After dinner he complained of indigestion. A local physician was called, but the complaint apparently was not considered serious.

The cause of death was coronary artery thrombosis, the coronary artery being one of two main vessels leading from the heart.

Born on a farm near Columbiana, Ohio, in 1868, Firestone as a boy

Mystery Clears On O'Donnell Money Theft

Mystery which has clouded the disappearance early in November of mail pouch containing approximately $29,000 in currency and coin consigned by the Federal Reserve bank at Dallas to the first National Bank at O'Donnell has been cleared partially, however, a disquieting factor has risen to balk temporarily efforts of federal agents and others to recover part of the loot.

Dallas city detectives and postal authorities, following disclosures of Sidney Miller, Spur man held for complicity in theft of the money from a mail car near Tahoka, went to a little frequented spot in Dallas county only to find that someone had beat them to the place where Miller said he had buried an unknown amount of money stuffed into a half-gallon fruit jar.

Miller showed detectives the spot, but signs of digging were evidenced.

It was indicated however, attempts to put the money into circulation would be met with arrests and prosecution, since serial numbers of the currency are known.

Authorities have received approximately $9,000 and they said they believed $3,000 more had been stolen from one of the men who originally took it from the mail car.

Miller's wife, who had been held under $7,000 bond, was released.

The story Miller told read like a western thriller, and cleared the case.

The currency, part of a bank shipment, was in denominations of $5, $10, $20, and $50, except for $6,000 in $1 notes. The shipment, resting on a siding in a combination baggage and express car of a mixed train, was left unattended when other cars were being switched at Tahoka.

A man walked by and, seeing none

Waters Recede After Damage

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Feb. 7 — Floods that caused heavy damage in north central states over the week-end receded today, although ice-gorged rivers still menaced some communities, principally in Michigan.

In Illinois and Wisconsin, as well as Michigan, flood waters receded as rains ceased and dynamite blasts dislodged ice dams that sent scores of rivers and streams out of their banks.

Village Is Inundated

Water 30 inches deep still inundated much of Frankemuth, Mich., a village of 1,000 population in Saginaw county.

Half of the village of Vassar, in Tuscola county, was left without gas or telephone service when the Cass river washed away a temporary bridge which also carried wires and gas mains.

Except for the stubborn Cass river, the dozen or more rivers that had overflowed their banks in Michigan were receding. Huge ice cakes left by the flood waters of the Sebewaing river were strewn over much of the village of Sebewaing, in Huron county, where flood damage in excess of $100,000 was reported.

State To Begin Collecting Tax

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 7.—Termination of litigation which failed to invalidate the Texas chain store tax today launched the comptroller on a campaign to collect a tax from every store in Texas with few exceptions.

Comptroller George Sheppard said amounts now due the state—collection was enjoined two days before effective date of the law in January, 1936—ranged from $4.50 for a single store to $41,572 for a chain with 51 stores.

The supreme court last fall validated the statute and judgment has just been entered in a Dallas district court where litigation began. The civil appeals court in Dallas recently overruled a motion of chain store attorneys to remand to the lower court construction of a minor phase of the law.

The levy excludes relatively few stores.

"Regardless of whether these merchandising units are members of a chain, they must pay the filing fee of 50 cents a year for three years and the minimum tax on one unit, $1 per year per store," Sheppard said.

"Hence every store in Texas, excepting those specifically exempt, now owes the state a minimum of $4.50 and $1.50 each year hereafter."

He said application forms had

Youth Movements In U. S. Lauded By FDR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP) — President Roosevelt said tonight that by means of youth movements American democracy would be safeguarded.

Congratulating the Boy Scouts of America on their 28th birthday, the chief executive said in a radio talk:

"It is my conviction that, through work with our youth, we shall secure the greatest assurance of maintaining our democracy in the face of those forces which advocate forms of government not consistent with our cherished American traditions.

"And the strength of this youth movement will develop in exact proportion to the support accorded it by communities which are interested in preserving our democracy."

The president said "we should be especially thankful for a youth movement which seeks to preserve such simple fundamentals as physical strength, mental alertness and moral straightness—a movement to support the ideals of peace."

Burglar Killed In Shreveport Identified As Texas Fugitive

DALLAS, Feb. 7. (AP) — Police Lieutenant Harry Riddell today identified a burglar who was shot and killed by a store proprietor at Shreveport yesterday as J. T. Coleman, 22, a fugitive from the Texas penitentiary.

Coleman was convicted of burglary and sentenced to two years in prison by Judge Grover Adams here July 28, 1936. The case was unique in Dallas county law history on fingerprints only.

Coleman's fingerprints were found on a broken window of a drugstore burglarized March 20, 1936. The Dallas police identification bureau checked fingerprint files and identified the burglar.

Aged Man Was Murdered, Says Nolan Coroner

Justice of the Peace B. H. Shook at Sweetwater Monday returned a verdict of murder at the hands of an unknown person or persons in the death of J. H. Pendergrass, 68, whose body was found in a ravine near there Sunday, according to an Associated Press report Monday night.

Pendergrass had been sought since his disappearance Nov. 17 when he left Cookeville, Tenn., for Lubbock to visit a brother at Meadow.

Shook said his findings would be reviewed by a Nolan county grand jury which convenes today. He said seven persons now held in jail would be questioned by investigators.

C. C. McCarty of Ada, Okla., special investigator hired by relatives of Pendergrass, said the body showed evidence that the throat had been cut and a bullet wound had been found. Sweetwater police are also being assisted by a Federal Bureau of Investigation officer and Texas Rangers.

Relatives of Pendergrass said at Cookeville, Tenn., that he left there in November to visit two brothers in Texas. His destination was Meadow, Terry county.

They said he had apparently been dead about two weeks.

A posse that had been organized Saturday after three boys had upturned the first clue in the man's disappearance—a handbag and personal effects—discovered the body southwest of Sweetwater in a pasture, on the side of a hill.

Townsend To Make Case To High Court

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—Dr. F. E. Townsend, the old age pension advocate, will appeal to the Supreme court against a 30-day jail sentence for contempt of the house of representatives, Attorney Elisha Hanson said today.

Hanson, counsel for the elderly California physician, said he would ask the high tribunal to review a decision by the District of Columbia court of appeals today, affirming Dr. Townsend's conviction.

The doctor was indicted for contempt after he walked out, in 1936, on a house committee investigating his movement to have the federal government pay $200 a month to the aged.

Three mmbers of the district court of appeals upheld his conviction, under which the federal district court had sentenced him to serve 30 days in jail and pay a $100 fine.

Scholarship Fund Of $5,000 Is Left College By Club Woman

AUSTIN, Feb. 7. (AP)—The will of Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, internationally known woman leader who died here last week, was filed in probate court here today and authorized $5,000 for establishment of a scholarship at Sam Houston State Teachers college at Huntsville.

Value of the estate was estimated at $100,000, the home property being bequeathed to Miss Ruth Pennybacker, a daughter.

Other public bequests included $500 to St. David's Episcopal church of Austin and $500 to the Austin Woman's club.

Ex-Convict Is Shot; Another Being Held

ABILENE, Feb. 7. (AP) — E. E. Tucker, 35, Texas ex-convict, died here this evening of gunshot wounds, and Roy L. Montgomery, 41, also an ex-convict, was held in Taylor county jail. County Attorney Esco Walter said that a charge of murder will be filed against Montgomery.

With three bullet wounds in his body, Tucker staggered to his automobile and drove three miles from south Abilene to a hospital. The shooting occurred at 3:45 a. m. He died at 6:35 after undergoing an operation.

Montgomery went directly from the scene of the fatal shooting to Sheriff Sid McAdams' office, and said: "Sheriff, I just shot a man. Lock me up."

Tucker had been out of the Texas penitentiary since December, 1936, Montgomery since September 5, 1937. They had served short terms upon conviction of burglary, theft of cattle and theft of hogs in Callahan and Taylor counties. Tucker had been convicted also of assault to murder in December, 1935.

Tucker was married and had four children, ranging in age from 7 to 14.

Gin At Opdyke In Hockley Is Destroyed By Fire Monday

(Special To The Avalanche)

LEVELLAND, Feb. 7.—The W. A. Dykes gin at Opdyke, six miles east of Levelland, burned to the ground here this afternoon, and attaches of the gin estimated the loss at between $40,000 and $45,000.

Only the offices were saved. The fire, of unknown origin, started in the cotton house, said Manager O. C. Walker, shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon.

No cotton was lost, Walker said. Owner of the gin, W. A. Dykes of Lubbock, was not contacted tonight.

The loss was covered, at least partially, by insurance, Walker indicated.

Cruelty Charged In Child's Case

(By The Associated Press)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 7.—While a curious crowd watched, the mother and grandfather of little Alice Harris heard a justice of the peace hold them for court today on new charges of cruelty to the five-year-old red-haired youngster who cannot walk or talk.

Martha Harris, 27, the mother, dabbed her eyes with a handkerchief, and David Harris, 69-year-old farmer, listened intently but both remained silent, and the only word came later from their attorney:

"We'll try this case in court."

New Charge More Serious

Originally, the two had been charged with neglecting a minor child. The new charge—"cruelty to an infant"—is more serious; punishable by two years in jail and $500 fine. Miss Harris and her father returned to their farm home near here, freed on $1,000 bail each.

While the brief proceeding went on, Alice—called "Brick" by friendly nurses at the Fayette county home where she is being treated—fondled rag dolls and ABC blocks, but they meant scarcely nothing to her.

Body Is Emaciated

Her body is emaciated, humane agents charge, from lying in an old rocking chair which cradled her from birth, and from going without proper food or care.

E. M. Smith of the Western Pennsylvania Humane society quoted Harris as saying:

"She (Martha) had one child. When she brought this other one home I had to do something to make her realize this thing couldn't go on. I could forgive the first sin, but not the second."

SO SHE'S BOY CRAZY

OLIVE BARTON has written several articles lately on "Raising a Family." We selected this one because we know from association with mothers of teen-age girls it is a vital problem in many homes. Here's Mrs. Barton:

"I DON'T know what to do about my fourteen-year-old daughter," mother after mother writes. Sometimes the daughter who has her parents worried and puzzled is younger than fourteen—sometimes a little older.

But no matter what the adolescent age, or where the letter comes from, the mother is faced by very much the same problem as the one I am repeating for you here.

"My fourteen-year-old daughter is boy crazy. So much so that she and her friends never talk about anything else. Their conversation is made up of 'He said this' and 'He said that.'

"She never comes directly home from school. Either she spends an hour or two, or even more, at a neighborhood drugstore or else she is riding around in an older student's car with a crowd of boys and girls.

"She isn't even content to stay home after dinner in the evening—but insists on going out, always on one pretext or another, but always, of course, to be with boys.

FIRMNESS NEEDED

"AFTER all, she is still only a child. But I am afraid to be too strict with her for fear I will make her more boy crazy than ever. What can her father and I do?"

Well, first, this mother and father and all the others in the country faced by the same problem can stop worrying about what might happen if they put their foot down once in a while.

I'm getting fed up with this business of youngsters feeling they own the earth. And with all the lopsided propaganda about not letting your children get away from you by being nice and sweet and spineless and letting them do just as they please. Honest relations of the right sort should be established between parents and children when the children are small.

In any well-balanced household there is a nice mixture of love, trust and respect for authority. This is as it should be. And the authority shouldn't be put aside just because a child is past childhood.

SOCIAL SUPERVISION

THERE is no harm at all in a girl being interested in boys. And she is only going through a stage when she fills her conversation with "He said" and "He did." Mothers and fathers shouldn't object to that.

In fact, there is a lot of good in young people's being together in crowds. But their activities should be in one or another of their homes, where an older person can take the responsibility. They shouldn't be allowed to run around without any supervision.

Parents who bemoan the fact that they haven't any control over a young daughter shouldn't put any faith in nagging or preaching. The only way to keep children from entering an adult world too soon is for parents to have some backbone. Enough to keep their authority—and likewise the respect of their children."

Reunion Of Pioneers Is Held In Old Mahoney Ranch Home

A reunion of surviving members of a pioneer group which came to the county 38 years ago was held at the old Mahoney ranch house about 15 miles northwest of Lubbock.

Lumber to build the large ranch house was hauled from Amarillo.

The Mahoney family was reunited for the first time in many years. Mrs. Agnes Galbraith of Los Angeles and Mrs. Annie Lupton of San Diego, Calif., have been visiting with their sisters and brother for the last two weeks. Mrs. W. H. Heinen of Littlefield and Mrs. W. P. Lupton and Henry Mahoney of Shallowater are the other members of the family.

Members of another pioneer family were guests. They were W. D. Crump, Miss Mamie Crump, John Crump, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Crump and family. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Owen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lynch and daughter, Richard Lupton, Walter Lupton, W. P. Lupton, Will Heinen, Mrs. Henry Mahoney, Grace Lee Mahoney, and Edward Lynch.

Mrs. E. F. Huntsucker of Goldsmith has returned home after visiting several days in the home of Mrs. Maude Bradley of 1810 Avenue W.

Raw Throat?
Here's Quick Action!

Kill the cold germs that attack your throat and cause miserable colds. At the first sign of "raw" throat, gargle with Zonite.

Zonite is 9.3 times more active, by standard laboratory tests, than any other popular non-poisonous antiseptic. Kills all kinds of cold germs at contact! And Zonite soothes your throat.

Get Zonite at once. Gargle immediately—1 teaspoon Zonite to half glass water. Kill cold germs before they spread UP into sinuses or DOWN into bronchial tubes. You'll feel relief after the first gargle with Zonite.

Common Sense About Constipation

If you knew that your constipation was caused by something left out of your food, wouldn't it be just common sense to put that something back?

Your trouble may be caused by nothing more than this. For the most common kind of constipation is due to lack of "bulk" in the bowels—you need some food that passes on through the stomach without being digested. Kellogg's All-Bran supplies this. It gives the bowels the bulky mass they need to work properly. And All-Bran also gives them the intestinal-tonic, vitamin B_1, which helps restore their tone.

Eat All-Bran as a cereal or baked in muffins. But however you eat it, be sure you get some every day. And drink plenty of water. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Hitler's Dictatorship Gambled In Army's Purge; May Change German History

Uneasiness Over Move General

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. — Enough has emerged from Hitler's army purge, and the concentration of all military and political power in his own hands, to make it clear that he has daringly gambled his dictatorship in an effort to achieve absolute supremacy which, if maintained, likely will change the course of German history.

Europe, including Germany herself, is divided in opinion as to just what the upheaval means and where it may lead. There is, however, unanimity in one respect—uneasiness. Observers in Russia, France, England and other countries fear it may presage a less conservative rule and hostilities in some direction.

Two Major Operations

Der Fuehrer's coup was calculated to perform two major operations at once:—(1) secure absolute army-control which he never has had and without which he could not have a free hand in carrying out his policies, and (2) coordinate the military, political and economic fields to enable fulfillment of his program for German independence of the outside world for essential supplies.

The vital issue was control of the army, most powerful land force in the world, barring the Russian and French. The reichswehr, with its conservative commanding officers, many of whom have eschewed Nazi principles as a whole, has acted as a brake on the more extreme proposals of the radicals in the Nazi party.

Army Had Declined

The army has declined to be led into adventures, unless success was assured. When Hitler for example, wanted to send troops into Spain to assist the revolutionists, his high command quietly but effectively blocked the scheme.

What Hitler has done now is to clean out the more conservative high officers, replace them with men who although also conservative presumably will be somewhat more sympathetic to Nazi policies, and assume control himself.

Has "Direct Command"

Having done this with lightning rapidity, as is his customary way of operating, The Nazi chieftain assumed the rank of chief of the national defense and announced that he would exercise "direct command" over the whole armed establishment.

The important question of the moment is whether Hitler can make it stick. Will the conservative and proud aristocracy, which officers the reichswehr mow its neck to the ex-corporal; the future of Germany and probably of eastern Europe hangs on that.

May Be His Finish

Hitler is undertaking to ride an untamed horse. He is in the saddle now and apparently not having to "pull leather." If he gets thrown, it likely will mean his finish; if he sticks (and no one has predicted otherwise) he won't be able to dig up a title which will fit his greatness and power.

Europe's worry revolves about Hitler's foreign policy. If the army falls wholeheartedly in line, and the brake on Hitler is thus removed, there is no telling what may happen. The Russian press looks for war, and newspapers in many other countries are thinking along lines of more aggressive action if not of actual use of arms.

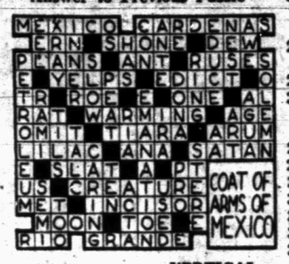

There is a widespread belief that Hitler may move soon to carry out projects which are matters of common talk in Europe—the securing of control of Austria, Czechoslovakia, and the free city of Danzig, and ultimate conquest of the Russian Ukraine.

February Term Of 72nd Court Is On

Judge Daniel A. Blair of 72nd district court convened the February term with calling of his civil docket at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

The appearance docket will be called at 10 o'clock this morning, according to attaches of the office. A jury to hear civil actions will report at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Criminal week will begin Feb. 21, when three forgery and passing, two drunk driving, two swindling over $50, one forgery by alteration, and one murder charge will be called for setting.

There was no grand jury summoned by Judge Blair, said the district attorney's office.

Lubbock County Bar association met after court dockets were set. A committee composed of both district judges, Blair and E. L. Pitts, L. A. Howard, F. D. Brown, and Jack Randal was named by A. V. Weaver, jr., president, to make recommendations at a later date to the organization, in an attempt to devise an actionable plan regarding securing litigation disposal with more dispatch and convenience.

Clean Sweep Of Posts Rumored

By LOUNS P. LECHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Feb. 7. — Chancellor Adolf Hitler and his newly-elevated foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, are believed to be considering a clean sweep of the German diplomatic service to put Nazis of unquestioned loyalty at all pivotal posts.

This impression was gained from reliable foreign office circles as von Ribbentrop was closeted today with Der Fuehrer at his mountain home in Bavaria.

Von Hassell "Too Reactionary"

Even Ulrich von Hassell, recalled ambassador to Rome, is regarded as "to reactionary," these sources said, and consequently would not be sent to London as von Ribbentrop's successor. It had been assumed universally he would get that post.

According to the best information available a further purge of the army as well as a diplomatic cleanup will take place. The army changes will not take the form of arrests but discharges like those of the 13 generals who were dismissed in Hitler's startling assumption of direct control Friday of the armed forces and the foreign office.

Arrests Are Denied

Rumors continue to circulate about the arrest of some high officers during last week's cabinet crisis although they are met with categorical official denials.

It seems certain, nevertheless, that for a brief period von Fritsch, leader in the army demand for a showdown on party control of the army, was ordered not to leave his house. Since then he has been seen cleaning up his desk at the war ministry where his post was taken over by Gen. Walter von Brauchitsch.

Hitler's reorganization of the government left the Rome, London, Tokyo, and Vienna embassies vacant while the ambassador to Russia has not been at his post for some time.

Eberhard von Stohrer, now ambassador to the Spanish insurgent regime, will go to London according to the present plans. Count Freiderich Werner von Der Schulenberg, amoassador to Moscow, is to be moved to Japan which is linked to Germany with an anti-communism pact. Significantly enough, the Moscow post is to be left vacant.

Hans Frank, minister without portfolio and head of the academy for German law, is to go to Italy, the third partner in the anti-communism front. He is a close friend of Italian Premier Mussolini and as an original Hitler man may be trusted to knit Italy and Germany even more closely.

Another devoted Nazi is slated for the difficult Vienna post. He is Lieut. Col. Hermann Kriebel, until recently consul general at Shanghai.

1,000 Tobacco Farmers Bank on His Judgment

IN THE warehouses Mr. Pinnix has managed in Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, 46,000,000 pounds of tobacco have been sold. Farmers travel many miles to bring their crops to Mr. Pinnix's warehouse for sale. Reason is that they respect his tobacco experience and business integrity. So surely Mr. Pinnix's views are worth your respect, too.

"At every market I've ever attended," says Mr. Pinnix, "Lucky Strike has bought the ripest, mellowest tobacco offered. That's why I've smoked Luckies ever since I first became a warehouseman 20 years ago."

Mr. Pinnix's statement is borne out by sworn records which show that, among independent tobacco experts—auctioneers, buyers, and warehousemen—Luckies have over twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

Twelve Kayoes In Row Feature Golden Gloves Joust; Finals Slated Tonight

Winners Battle Each Other In Show Tonight

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

Until somebody comes along with a better story, this one will serve to satiate the aches of a statistician.

At the moment, pressed for time as we are, research activity is out of the question, but if any reader of sports can recall an amateur boxing program in which the first twelve bouts resulted in knockouts, the reporter will be glad to go with him in a check of the records.

The first twelve bouts on the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Amateur Athletic Club's annual District Golden Gloves tournament ended in knockouts last night at Sled Allen's Auditorium.

It may or may not be a record—but it was "sumpin'."

A lot of folks jammed ringside and general admission seats at the Auditorium last night, and at one time or another practically every one of them cheered to the fisticuffing of young athletes from various points of the South Plains.

Titles At Stake Tonight

When the final gong sounded, there remained a quantity of boxers who will match wits and ability tonight in the Golden Gloves finals of this district. Championships in each of the eight standard weight divisions will be determined, and there will be enough exhibition bouts between strong-bodied athletes to round out a program that should be well worth the price of admission.

Getting into the heart of things, there were two earth-quaking upsets last night, in addition to the twelve straight kayoes, to make the first night of the District Golden Gloves tournament an artistic success.

In the first place, because he was first on the program, the publicized Kenneth Jones of Big Spring and Hutchinson, Kansas, proved the tournament's biggest disappointment. The battle-scarred veteran of many an amateur fight was forced to give up to a 16-year-old slugger from Lockney, "Fats" Mitchell, after two rounds of their scheduled three-round-bout.

Heavyweights Are Through

Mitchell, entering the tournament with the understanding he would not be compelled to fight Babe Ritchie, the defending District and State Golden Gloves champion and winner of the recent City tournament, gave a very good account of himself in his two rounds with Jones, and, as far as those two rounds were concerned, would have won the decision anyway.

Jones, who had been heralded as the opponent of Babe Ritchie in the District finals, failed to stand the gaff of a preliminary bout, and was forwtwith dropped from future Golden Gloves consideration in these parts.

Ritchie, however, may have opposition tonight. Bob Bryant, Olton heavyweight who lost to Ritchie in the finals of the recent City tournament, failed to show up last night, but is given until tonight to report.

A heavyweight fight tonight, however, would be certified as an exhibition only, since no opponent showed up to fight Ritchie last night.

Ritchie, who won the District and State title last year, is THE district Golden Gloves champion from this section this season, regardless of whom he fights tonight or who wins. This is because Mitchell, the Lockney heavyweight youngster who put Jones away last night, does not choose to fight Ritchie in the finals. It is a matter of family admiration, rather than fear, which causes the Mitchell decision. Mitchell automatically forfeits the district championship to Ritchie.

Buck Is Debated

But the biggest thing of last night's show was the showing of another Ritchie boy, Bob, older but lighter brother of Babe, who won his preliminary go from the light-heavyweight favorite, John Buck of Crosbyton.

The Bob Ritchie-John Buck fight, scheduled at the request of Ritchie, was one of the two bouts last night that went to the judges' decision. Ritchie crowded Buck, the 1937 state AAU champion, all around the ring. Buck never laid an aggressive hand on the Lubbock boy, and the decision of the judges, in favor of Ritchie, met with five cheers to one boo.

Thus two of the Ritchie boys entered the finals of the District joust, one with a state championship trail ahead of him, the other with another fight to do tonight before he becomes eligible.

Babe Ritchie didn't fight last night, because Bob Bryant, his scheduled opponent, failed to show up.

Amateurs, unlike professionals, are not bound by contracts and can not be forced to fight. Their word of honor is the only assurance they will be there. Bryant gave his word of honor he would be there. He was not there.

Matador Boys Absent

But Bryant wasn't the only one who "went back on his word." For instance, five boys from Matador, who had registered, apparently in good faith, failed to show up. Laverne Guthrie, defending district champion, was on hand but unwilling to enter the ring. Other boys, from various parts of the South Plains—Bennie Moore of Brownfield, Mike Hunt of Silverton, "Cranberry" Allred of Silerton, Jack Weathers of Tanoka Clifford Daniels of Lockney, Marvin Hill of Ralls, and others who had registered, failed to show up.

But let us get back to last night's fights, and tonight possibilities.

Considering tonight's possibilities first.

Heavyweight division: Boxing Director Milton Coffey has promised to provide an apponent for Babe Ritchie in the final event of tonight's program, which, in all probability, will be limited to less than 20 bouts. At least four exhibition bouts, including the heavyweight division, are scheduled for tonight, Ritchie, it will be understood, already is district champion, and will represent this district in the state tournament at Fort Worth later this month.

Morrison In Hurry

In the light heavyweight division, Bob Ritchie is the outstanding challenger to the title vacated by Dixie White, Texas Tech footballer. As a result of his upset victory over John Buck of Crosbyton last night, Bob Ritchie is to meet either Marvin Hill or B. F. Tunnell in an exhibition bout tonight. Already, Bob Ritchie is acclaimed district champion.

Ed Morrision, Texas Tech scholar from Colorado, jumped into the Golden Gloves limelight last night with the quickest knockout of the evening. He did it over Hamilton Powell of the Lubbock CCC, within 30 seconds of the first round.

Early knockouts, the first twelve bouts resulting in victories in the first and second rounds, abbreviated last night's scheduled show of 50 rounds or more.

Remaining in the middleweight division, are along with City Champion Morrison, are Slim Thetford and Tom Copeland of Texas Tech, Buster Allard of Lockney and O. D. Conner of Ralls.

Gregory Continues

Buck Gregory, City welterweight champion, stayed in the race with a technical knockout victory over J. D. McGavock of Lockney. Gregory, because of his aggressiveness, was awarded the victory after the first round.

Odell Justice of Lubbock and Louis Hollingsworth of Floydada remained in the welterweight division, Justice with a knockout over Dean Stapleton of Amherst and Hollingsworth with a knockout over Perry Oliver of Lubbock.

Harry Hennington, defending district champion, drew a bye in the welterweight division.

Roy Nieman, Wilson welter, won by technical knockout over Clifford Vestal.

Other winners of last night's bouts, by knockouts and decisions, and outstanding boxers who were decisioned last night, are expected to return tonight for the District Golden Gloves finals.

Winners of the District tournament, in each weight division, will be transported to Fort Worth, and lodged there, free of charge, for the State Golden Gloves tournament later this month.

Among the favorites last night were James Stotts, Slaton boy, who knocked out Jim Doyle of Lamesa in the first round of their lightweight match. Stotts was stopped in the city tournament by Jack Lovin, who since has qualified for the featherweight position.

Lovin last night went his way in merry style, knocking out his first round opponents to win the semi-final rights in the district lightweight division.

Martin Wins Hot Bout

In the lightweight division, also, went L. D. Martin, of Silverton, who won from Troy Marzela of Lamesa CCC, by a decision, in perhaps the most applauded bout of the evening.

Tickets for tonight's final Golden Gloves district show are avalable at Sam Rosenthal's Hub Clothiers, the Hotel Lubbock drug store, or the Hilton Hotel desk, until 6 o'clock this afternoon. They may be reserved by calling Mr. and Mrs. Sled Allen at the Auditorium any time this afternoon.

Quickest Kayo

THIS IS ED MORRISON, from Colorado City and Texas Tech, the City Golden Gloves middleweight champion, who is well on his way to a district title. One of a dozen knocker-outers last night in the District championship preliminaries, Morrison was quickest to score his kayo, belting Hamilton Powell of the Lubbock CCC, in 30 seconds of the first round. Morrison is to return to the Auditorium ring tonight, along with the other winners of last night's Golden Gloves fights, to battle for the district championship and the right to represent this section in the State tournament at Fort Worth next week.

Littlefield Fans To Attempt To Assure Pro Baseball

(Special To The Avalanche)

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 7.—With the 1938 baseball season coming into the turn, diamond fans here are getting red hot over prospects of a professional team for the town, and Tuesday night will hold a meeting destined to sound out chances of drawing a franchise in the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Puss Ballard, veteran infielder, is ramrodding a move to place a team on the field for pro ball in Littlefield. Observers believe that the move will be successful.

It has been pointed out that the town is larger than many Class D baseball centers and that the high pitch that has accompanied the game here for the past few years would assure financial success.

A move will be made to sell 150 season tickets at $20 each, and peddle as many as a thousand ducats for the opening day game, enthusiasts said. The park here has a capacity big enough to handle crowds that large and with a small addition could match those of other towns in the loop.

Semi-pro ball has been a big drawing card here for a number of years, and fandom is ready to support a professional team, it is believed.

Charlie Bryan, manager of the Big Spring team, entering the league this year on a franchise obtained from Monahans, will attend the meeting here Tuesday night.

Cowhand Lou Gehrig, Col. Ruppert Talk Salary Today

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. — That old cow hand, Lou Gehrig, is due to hitch his cayuse in front of Colonel Jake Ruppert's brewery at 10:30 in the morning and talk contract.

Browned by a western sun and still squinting from gun smoke, Lou got back today by stage coach from Hollywood, where he just completed his first horse opera. He called Ruppert and told him his trigger finger was itching to get hold of a fountain pen, so the Colonel invited him to call around.

Expected To Raise Ante

Lou, who was the highest paid player in baseball last year at $36,000, is expected to say how about $40,000 for the coming season. Ruppert has offered Lou the same wages as last year, but the expectation was he would go a little higher to, say, $37,500, and that they would come out of the brewery office smiling.

Gehrig never has given the Yankees much trouble. The only thing that might make Lou a trifle stubborn this time is the situation surrounding his young teammate, Joe DiMaggio, who asked for a $40,000 contract when he visited the brewery some weeks ago.

It's a moral certainty he won't like the idea of Joe, only a third-termer, getting as much money as he (Gehrig) does. Lou has been a ranking star for a decade.

Nearly All Signed

The Yankees on the other hand, are anxious to get Lou signed up. They are about to get all their "hold-outs" in the fold, it was learned. There's scarcely anything between them and Lefty Gomez, Bill Dickey and Red Ruffing. They want to sign their veteran stars as quickly as possible and leave young Mr. DiMaggio out on a limb by himself.

If the DiMaggio matter is brought up at tomorrow's meeting, as it doubtless will be, the chances are that Col. Ruppert will assure Lou he has made his last offer to the San Francisco slugger—$25,000—and that DiMaggio will sign for that sum or else. It comes straight from headquarters that Ruppert has his mind made up.

Australia Track Team Holds Lead

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 7. (AP)—Aided by two of the six record-smashing performances, Australia's track and field team held to its lead in the British Empire games today although Canada cut into the margin built up by the Aussies on the opening day, Saturday.

With Decima Norman, winner of the 100-yard dash in record-breaking time Saturday, establishing a new empire mark in the women's broad jump and the women's 440-yard relay team hanging up a new standard, the Australians boosted their total to 98 points.

Breaks Broad Jump Mark

Canada, whose athletes accounted for one of the five finals today, retained second place with 62. South Africa held third with 54, England fourth with 33 and New Zealand fifth with 32.

Miss Norman leaped 19 ft. 1-4 inch to better the old mark of 17 ft. 11 1-4 inches set by Phyllis Bartholomew of England in 1924. The relay team clicked off the distance in 49.1 seconds, three-tenths of a second better than the mark set by England in 1934.

Canada's triumph came when Eric Coy of Winnipeg lifted the empire discus mark to 146 ft. 10 1-8 inches. The old mark of 235 ft. 11 inches was set by Harry Hart of South Africa.

Betters 8-Year Record

V. P. Root of New Zealand and England's Cyril Holmes joined the record breaking with new marks in the 880-yard run and the 220-yard dash. Root won the finals of the half mile in 1:51.4 to eclipse Tom Hampson's eight-year-old mark. Holmes, winner of the 100-yard dash Saturday, qualified for the finals of the sprint with a 21.3 performance.

Johannes Coleman of South Africa beat a fine field to win the marathon in the record time of 2:30.49.8.

Dates Are Set For Cage Tournaments

At a meeting Monday of junior coaches of Lubbock county's rural high schools, dates for the junior boys' and girls' basketball tournament were set for Feb. 18 and 19, according to B. M. Keese, of Frenship Rural High school. The meeting was at the office of Joseph R. Griggs, county superintendent of schools.

Keese, principal of Frenship school, was appointed sponsor of the tourney.

Places were drawn. In the boys' division, Slaton will play Idalou, Cooper will play Shallowater, New Deal will play Roosevelt, and Frenship drew a bye. In the girls' play: Roosevelt against Idalou, Frenship against Cooper, Shallowater against New Deal, and Slaton had no entry.

Play will start on the night of Feb. 18 and will continue on the afternoon and night of the next day.

Miss Hemphill Bests Par In Florida Tilts

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 7. (AP)—Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., bested women's par by two strokes today to become medalist in the women's Palm Beach tournament with a 36-37—73 card.

Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., was a stroke behind the South Carolinian.

Diana Fishwick, former British and French champion who arrived Saturday, was off her game and failed to qualify for the championship round. Her 85 put her in the second flight.

Patty Berg Won't Play

Another international player, Mrs. Philip Hill of London, showed a better brand of golf and broke into the championship division with her 82.

Patty Berg, winner of three winter tournaments, will not play in this tournament.

Behind Miss Bauer and a stroke over par was Marion Miley of Fort Pierce, who carded 76. Jane Cothran Jameson, defeated in the Miami Biltmore finals by Patty Berg last week, scored 77. Tied with Mrs. Jameson was Sally Guth of Webster Grove, Mo.

Encounters Trouble

Marion McDougall, Portland, Ore., had trouble on the short second and returned a qualifying card of 78. Helen Hockenjos, Lake Hopatcong, N. J., also scored 78. A stroke higher was Mrs. H. D. Sterrett, of Hutchinson, Kan., while tied at 80 were Laddie Orwin, Montclair, N. J., junior New Jersey champion, and Mrs. Charles Harbaugh of Cleveland.

Still in the championship flight were Mrs. Joseph Lawler, New Rochelle, N. Y., and Audrey Phipps, Westbury, L. I., with 81's; Mrs. E. F. Cary, Minneapolis, 82; Dorothy Traung, San Francisco, 83; and Lillian Zech, Chicago, 83.

Denton Twins Will Split For Races

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. (AP)—Two sets of foot-racing twins from North Texas State Teachers college will split up to compete in four races in the seventh regiment indoor track meet next Friday.

It was announced today that Blaine Rideout will face Glenn Cunningham in the special invitation mile; his twin brother, Wayne, will start in the 1,000 yard handicap; Delmer Brown, who won the Princeton 440 last spring, will be a featured starter in the 600 yard special against such stars as Jimmy Herbert of New York university, and Howie Dorck, of Manhattan, and his Twin, Elmer, will run in the 300-yard handicap.

In addition the two Browns and Wayne Rideout are slated to run on the North Texas mile relay team with Alvin Chrisman as the fourth member. Chrisman also is a twin but his brother, Alton, isn't a runner.

Ponies Name Charlie Sprague To Pilot 1938 Grid Team

DALLAS, Feb. 7. (AP)—Southern Methodist university gridders today elected tackle Charlie Sprague to captain them through their ten-game schedule this year.

Sprague, youngest of four football playing sons of the mayor of Dallas, will be the third to lead Southern Methodist. He will be a senior.

Billy Dewell, end, and Johnny Sludger, a halfback, were elected sub-captains. They will also be seniors.

Southern Methodist this year will play all six Southwest conference opponents. North Texas State, Arizona, Marquette, and Pittsburgh.

Sport Notables Have Worries Of Their Own

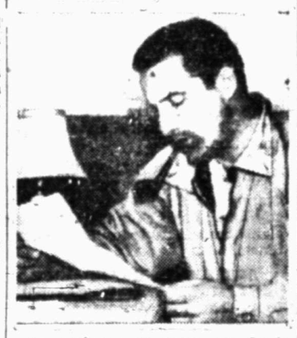

Joe Louis worries because Braddock says: "The title is a burden . . ."

Earl Averill, Cleveland, worries over the flowers in a Snohomish, Wash., greenhouse . . .

Tom Henrich, New York, worries because he can't go ice-skating—with an injured knee . . .

Flagstaff Cagers Trounce Tech Red Raiders, 37-22

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Feb. 7. (AP)—Arizona State Teachers college Lumberjacks bottled up Butch Sachse, Texas Tech's scoring star, to take a 37-22 victory tonight and sweep a two-game Border conference series.

Sachse, whose sharpshooting has ruined the basketball hopes of most Red Raider foes this season, was guarded so closely he was unable to score a point during the first half, while the Lumberjacks ran up a 21-8 lead.

He broke loose in the latter stages of the game, however, for three field goals and two free throws to take individual scoring honors for the losers. Farney scored 11 points for Flagstaff.

Three sophomores were in Flagstaff's starting lineup.

Coach Aaron McCreary used 14 players in repulsing the Raiders for the second time. Flagstaff won, 43 to 37, Saturday night.

Denton Lad Tackles Bey On Wednesday Night Mat Card

Dandy Dick Sampson of Denton, who gained quite a following in his debut in the local ring last week, returns Wednesday night to engage Bairam Bey, the Turkish flash, in a semi-final match at the Auditorium.

The Denton lad showed fans Wednesday night in the stalemate with Sailor Moran that he could take what the bad boys of the ring have to offer. Personally he prefers to take things the easy way, but is able to fight any way the adversary desires.

Moran's widely heralded heart punches made little impression on Sampson, and rassle fans are prone to believe he is the real article.

Bey is likely to be a worthy opponent of the Texan. He also impressed favorably in recent matches.

Moran tackles Bill Venable in the main event. The Alabaman has posted some good performances here, and, of course, the ex-tar will be at his old tricks. Until the last two weeks he was the cock of the walk in local mat competition, but has given ground considerably in his last two bouts.

Otto Ludwig, the lusty Teuton, meets Art Belcher of Amarillo in the curtain raiser.

Horned Frogs Meet Mustangs Tonight

DALLAS, Feb. 7. (AP)—Coach Whitey Baccus of Southern Methodist university said tonight he wouldn't be surprised if the Texas Christian cagers gave his Mustangs a lot of trouble in a conference game here tomorrow night.

"Yes, we're still in the pennant race," he said, "and the Frogs are completely out of it. But T.C.U. has played three games since we've been in action. For two weeks, our boys have devoted practically all their time to studying and taking examinations, and a two-week lay-off isn't calculated to help anybody's ball club."

Baccus thinks the team his Mustangs must head now to cop the bunting they won last year is "that Baylor gang."

"Baylor looked mighty good the other night against Texas," he said. "And they get to play Arkansas at home. Their only hard road game now is the one here with us."

OILERS SIGN PILOT

HENDERSON, Feb. 7. (AP)—Ermal (Ed) Hall, veteran Western league outfielder, has been signed to manage the Henderson Oilers of the East Texas league, President W. E. Orr announced today. Hall replaces Guy Curtwright, who retires in favor of a coaching job at the Henderson High school.

Lubbock To Encounter Bulldogs In Big Five Contest Tonight

Coach "Goober" Keyes takes his Westerners to Plainview tonight to engage the Bulldogs in a Big Five contest.

Lubbock dropped two games to Coach Mickey Pool aggregation last month, but topped the Bull-Dogs here, 25 to 16, Monday night. Plainview is considered the class of Class A basketball in this section. The team is one of the favorites for the district title.

The Westerners defeated Borger in a pair of games last week.

PALESTINE STAYS IN

PALESTINE, Feb. 7. (AP)—Palestine baseball fans decided to go ahead with plans to remain in the East Texas league and elected new club officers and directors at a meeting tonight.

Don Craft was elected president, C. D. Dashiell secretary-treasurer and business manager and Clyde Miller and J. O. Landon vice-presidents.

Sixteen others were named directors.

Maverick Charges TVA Power Sold To 'Most Notorious Industrial Monopolies'

Texan Declares Act Violated

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. — Representative Maverick (D-Tex) said today the Tennessee Valley authority had contracted to sell more than 82 per cent of its power to some of the "most notorious industrial monopolies" at less than half the cost to small municipalities and cooperatives.

In a statement prepared for the Congressional record, Maverick said he was "astonished" to find the TVA had negotiated contracts, running from 10 to 20 years, for 287,350 kilowatts of power to industrial consumers. Its installed generating capacity is about 350,000 kilowatts, he said.

He said such contracts constituted direct violation of the requirement that TVA give preference to domestic consumers.

"One of the most astonishing things to me about these contracts is that the TVA has contracted away to the Aluminum Co. of America alone 112,000 kilowatts of electric energy which is more than the entire installed or future generating capacity of Norris dam." Maverick said. "This is the same Mellon aluminum trust that the department of justice is now proceeding against for violation of the anti-trust laws."

Funeral Services For Pioneer Of Garza Are Held In Spur

SPUR, Feb. 7. (Special)—Funeral services for J. B. Brown, 48, pioneer resident of Garza county, were conducted at the First Baptist church here this afternoon. Brown died in Anton Sunday of a heart attack.

Burial will be in Spur cemetery by Rix Funeral home. Classes will be dismissed at Calgary school in order that students may attend. Brown lived 22 miles south of Crosbyton and 25 miles west of Spur.

He is survived by his wife, and daughters, Mrs. Buddy Myers of Calgary, and Mrs. Jimmie Childs of Los Angeles.

Santa Fe Railroad Is Sued For $17,100 By Resident Of Slaton

Panhandle Santa Fe railroad was made defendant in a damage suit asking $17,100 filed in the 99th district court of Judge E. L. Pitts by Dale Calvert, 27, former Slaton Motor company employe.

Calvert alleged in his petition that while unloading motor cars for the Slaton Motor Co., in October, 1935, a car fell on him, injuring him. A defective platform was blamed as the reason for the accident. A Santa Fe physician treated him, but the man claims he was more seriously injured than he had been told and that his earning capacity as a mechanic was reduced because of the accident.

Damages amounting to $15,000 for loss of earning capacity, $100 for money spent for medical attention and $2,000 for damages due to his injuries is asked in the petition.

One Day To Be Dedicated To Cowboys At Ft. Worth Show

FORT WORTH, Feb. 7. (AP)—One day, March 15, will be dedicated to the cowboy, active or retired, at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show, which opens March 11. The chief entertainment will be a square dance contest.

A blanket invitation to cowboys and former cowboys living in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico to attend the event was issued today by John B. Davis, exposition manager.

Visit To Animal Hospital Reveals 'Dawgs' More Than 'Just Dawgs' To Lot Of People

By TOM MILLER
Avalanche Staff Writer

The late Ellis Parker Butler said, "Pigs is pigs," and to some people "dawgs is just dawgs."

But tearing a leaf from the journal of Dr. N. A. Cox at the Animal hospital, 1007 Avenue Q, it is readily seen that others have more than a passing fancy for dogs. The hospital is equipped much the same as a human hospital, with its examination room, operating room, surgical instruments, drugs, the smell of medicine, and "wards," which to the dog are kennels.

Even Dr. Cox, with his professional duty to fulfill, admits that he often becomes "attached" to certain of his "clientele."

The Look In Their Eyes

"It's the look in their eyes that gets me," he said.

Temperamental?—certainly the dogs are temperamental. Often one refuses to eat for several days any food given it by hospital attendants, but let its owner bring anything. Then it eats like a thresher hand.

Cats are worse One cat refused to take food for two weeks, Dr. Cox said. It was kept alive by injection of food into the blood stream.

Owners often help with surgical procedure. Some cry, others watch dry-eyed, and both types often are overcome during the operation. The doctor attributes that, however, to the annoying smell of medicine to which the layman is not accustomed.

Wife Helped Operation

One man recently beat a path from his automobile to the rear of the hospital. His wife helped with the operation.

Most dogs become friendly toward attendants after a few days of treatment. Spitz and Chows are "one-man" dogs and seldom acquiesce to the kindest of treatment, the doctor explained.

Local anesthetics are used in majority of surgical cases. Sleep for more serious operations is induced by injection, rather than application to the respiratory openings.

Care Must Be Taken

Care must be taken to assure strength of the dog's heart. Young ones are not likely to be susceptible to heart ailments, but older ones are kept under close observation for any weakness. One dog remained asleep more than 24 hours.

"Fortunately, I lost little sleep over that case, but the owner did," Dr. Cox said. She had taken the dog home."

To assure a dog the correct amount of vitamins, Dr. Cox offers the following diet:

"One-half raw lean beef, one-fourth leafy vegetables, and one-fourth uncooked cereals. Give it plenty of milk to six months of age, then taper off, and delete milk from the rations at one year. Cod liver oil should be given daily."

Applications For Performance Claims Are Considered Here

Members of the county agricultural association board met yesterday in the office of County Agent C. C. Jobson to consider applications for payment of 1937 conservation performance claims under schedules other than those provided by law, C. E. Lilley, Slaton, chairman, presided.

About 25 such claims were to be considered and the board heard all but three. Under the AAA regulations adjustments have to be made on all farm contracts for renters except those paid under the one-half, one-third or one-fourth clauses. State laws govern rental payments for above ratios, it was explained.

The board spent considerable time signing application of payment forms, known as form SR-9. R. W. Powell, Becton and Grover C. Gillett were the other members here. They will return Wednesday.

Dividend Is Declared By General Motors

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. (AP)—Directors of General Motors Corp., today declared a dividend of 25 cents a share on the common stock payable March 12 to holders of record February 17.

Directors also declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 a share on the $5 preferred stock, payable May 2 to holders of record April 4.

General Motors in 1937 paid a total of $3.75 on the common stock, the last payment being $1.50 on December 13.

Criminal Cases Heard In 99th

Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court opened a week of criminal hearings with the calling of his criminal docket at 10 o'clock Monday morning, according to attaches of the court.

A 30-year-old man charged by indictment with driving when intoxicated and who is a former farmer of Lynn county, was adjudged insane by a district court jury, said Burton S. Burks, district attorney. His case had been called for Monday.

Sentenced To Two Years

Ivory Coby, 22-year-old Kansas City negro, entered a plea of guilty of theft of a car from T. G. Wallis early in January and was sentenced by a jury to two years in the state penitentiary. The automobile was recovered in Abilene the day after it was stolen.

Roy Rasberry entered a plea of guilty of passage of a forged instrument in connection with the forgery and passing of drafts on Thomas gin at Grassland and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. The plea was entered before the court, the defendant having waived a jury.

Scheduled for today is the case against W. E. (Bill) Earnest, former law enforcement officer here, charged by indictment with murder and driving when intoxicated, and failing to stop and render aid. L. G. Matthews of Floydada, special prosecutor, will assist Burks and Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney, in the case against Earnest. An indictment of forgery against Tom Lewis also is scheduled for trial today.

A murder charge against L. C. Walker, negro, is scheduled for Thursday. Walker is charged in connection with the shooting of a negro woman at Slaton and wounding of another negro man.

Release Of American Ship Expected Soon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—State department officials said today release of the American oil tanker Nantucket Chief, seized January 17 by Spanish insurgent naval forces, was expected in a few days.

The ship was reported at the insurgent port at Malaga, where it was taken February 3 to discharge its cargo.

General Francisco Franco, insurgent chieftain, after informal representations by Ambassador Claude G. Bowers, agreed to free the vessel. Captain J. Lewis and the crew, but confiscated the cargo of petroleum. This was being taken from the Russia-Black seaport of Tuapse to Barcelona, under charter to the Spanish loyalist petroleum monopoly.

Captain Lewis, who was imprisoned January 26 at Palma, presumably still was in jail, although the state department was informed he also would be freed.

A MORAL OBLIGATION

Millions of people undergo eye examinations every year; probably the great majority needing only correction in refraction. But among those millions are many whose eyes would reveal, under an ophthalmologists (oculists) examination, incipient pathological conditions which medical attention would check or cure.

It is safe to assume that the great majority of these do not suspect the existence of physical ailment and would not normally have an examination for symptoms of ill health. So the eye physician is in a peculiar position to contribute to safeguarding public health by a thorough eye examination.

Our Debt To Harvey Firestone

DEATH of Harvey S. Firestone, rubber manufacturer, removes one of the giants of industry to whom can be given credit, in as great degree as almost any other man, for making the automobile predominant as a mode of transportation.

While not actually engaged in the manufacture of automobiles, he, as much as any other one man, provided the modern tire which has been so essential to the advancement of the motor vehicle industry. In that connection, perhaps the greatest one service he rendered to the industry and to the individual motorist was the smashing several years ago of the British rubber monopoly.

At that time, Britain's possessions were the largest producers of raw rubber. The United States, of course, was by far the largest user. The British government, to keep the price of the product at a high level, regulated exports with the announced objective of maintaining quotations at a minimum of $1 per pound. The natural result was sky-rocketing prices of automobile tubes and casings. They ascended to such figures that the sales of motor vehicles fell off to alarming degree.

Firestone was the first of the manufacturers to do something about the condition. He established immense plantations in Africa, South America and elsewhere. He was responsible for searches undertaken by Thomas A. Edison and others for rubber substitutes. Largely because of his activities the British monopoly exploded, and prices once more descended within reach of the average motorist.

America still is dependent largely upon British and Dutch plantations for a large portion of its rubber supply, but Firestone is largely due the credit for whatever independence we possess in that respect.

A Way To Stop The Arms Race

JAPAN'S prospective refusal to accede to demands by the United States, Great Britain and France for a statement as to the extent of naval building inevitably means that the world armament race is nothing to compare with what we are about to see.

Apparently, naval authorities are positive as to the correctness of rumors than the island empire is building warships exceeding the 35,000-ton limit set by the London treaty of 1936, and armed with guns larger than the 16-inch minimum set at that time. The three powers, however, have given Japan opportunity to say definitely whether the reports are correct.

If Japan fails or refuses to reply to the note, the United States and Britain will have no choice except to build, on a scale to match anything Japan may put on the sea. That, of course, will be expensive, but it is a safety insurance we must have so long as there are aggressor nations such as Japan operating on the theory that might makes right.

As a matter of fact, some of the best minds of our nation have suggested from the beginning of the present armament race that the United States holds within its power the ability to force a world curb on naval building. That could be done, they argue, not by notes appealing to the peaceful and humanitarian instincts of other powers. Rather, it would be accomplished by letting the world know that we prefer to avoid armaments competition, but if it is forced upon us, then all restrictions are off and that we will set a building pace no other power in the world can match.

Inasmuch as we have the men, money and materials with which to do just that, it might cause some heavy thinking in the capitals of the world. It might be the means of restoring the world to sanity before the fantastic race leads either to bankruptcy or to war.

With Our Contemporaries

"Now that Senator Glass of Virginia is after the 'holding companies' we just wonder if he is going to make up with the President," W. J. Hale observes in the Yoakum County Review.

Empire For A Lady

By Alan LeMay
C. By The Associated Press

SYNOPSIS: A boil-up of savage Dyak tribes makes the tropical waters of Balingong bay an unhealthy spot. Our trading vessel, the Linkang, is strongly fortified, but the Forresters' Avon is defenseless. It is a strange place to find an English girl of 20, and my uncle, James Clyde, is trying to persuade Christine, and her brother Robert, to leave. But they insist on remaining to "trade for pearls."

Chapter Two

'We Know What We're Doing'

Robert Forrester stirred restlessly. "I assure you we quite know what we are doing," he said. "I point out to you that my father undoubtedly knew more about the native peoples of these islands than anyone else who has recently lived. If you will be generous, Captain Clyde, I believe you will admit that we have reason to know something about what we are doing."

"I knew your father," said Clyde shortly.

This was true, but it was unfortunate that his tone indicated clearly that he had not thought much of the man. Anthony Forrester, late owner of the Avon, had been a retired civil officer of the British East India Company. Upon his retirement he proved to have a sufficient fortune to devote himself exclusively to what must have been a completely insatiable curiosity. His passion was the Malay archipelago. The last years of his life, three-quarters crocked by fever and jaundice, had apparently been spent in frantically charting bits of unknown waters, drawing little pictures of fishes, and tabulating fragments of 20 island languages. Clyde considered him a putterer, and hence inexcusable. Even Forrester's little vessel, the yawl-rigged Avon, Clyde held in contempt, because she wasn't big enough to carry any real cargo.

Anthony Forrester had died at the end of the last rainy season, no more than two months before. A couple of his older offspring were somewhere in England; but these two, Christine and Robert, had presently cleared the Avon from Singapore, expressedly for Bristol. This much we knew as everyone in Asiatic waters always knew uncomfortably much about every one else.

By this time the Avon should have been beating about somewhere off the Cape of Good Hope. She had no business here in the bay of Balingong, raising pure hell with James Clyde's very commercial plans.

"It seems to me," Clyde said now, "that you should have learned from your father a little something about what can happen in a place like this. Can't you hear those gongs and drums? Don't you know the war beat when you hear it?"

"Of course," Robert Forrester said, his tone reasonable. "I've known about these things all my life. It's a good many years since they were able to keep me awake."

Without Sanction

"And so," he said at last, "you mean just to sit here, until you're caught."

"Granted that the Rajah Mantusen seems to be in difficulties with the Dyak tribes," Robert Forrester said exasperatingly. "I submit that people who go in for island trading must accept certain risks; especially in the lower archipelago. We're here on perfectly legitimate business, you know, and I see no reason—"

"I know nothing of the sort," Clyde said, his temper getting away from him. "I happen to know more about you than you think. In the first place you cleared Singapore for Bristol, and the fact that you're down here where you don't belong has no sanction whatever from your government, nor from the Dutch either. In the second place, you know and I know that there's only one form of goods you could trade with Mantusen. You're thumbing your nose at whatver law there is in these waters, and you know it!"

Forrester flushed a little and there was a very uncomfortable pause. "Captain Clyde," he said, "I am certain that I must misunderstand your meaning."

"I am certain that you do not, I mean that you're running guns to the natives. You're an amateur, and don't know your business, nor the first thing about it; but that's what you're doing. If one of your own British war vessels would find you here, you'd be in the soup!"

Young Forrester's face was suddenly mottled with pale spots under the tan. It isn't good for a man's system to let his anger freeze that way, in the tropics.

"Captain Clyde," he inquired stiffly, "do I understand that you take me for a scoundrel?"

It sounded so silly that Clyde softened. "I'm onil trying to tell you that you are in danger."

"I certainly cannot imagine my father giving weight to a consideration such as that."

"And I can't recall that your father ever brought your sister to a place like this," Clyde said. "Except for her I wouln't bother to argue with you. There will always be people who can't see their own danger, and some of them will always be able to get hold of boats. But when you tow your sister into this, you—"

Cool And Serene

"Captain Clyde," Christine Forrester said, "I can't be—'towed.' I came because I wanted to come."

My uncle checked. For a moment he met the straight eyes of the girl. His gaze seemed to fumble. He glanced again at Robert Forrester, and at the sailing master, Marvin Stocked. Then he swung about directly to face the girl. Perhaps he would have got farther, I thought, if he had done that in the first place.

"Look, Miss Forrester. Can't you see the position that I'm in? I can neither leave nor stay."

She said, "Why not? It isn't of the slightest importance to us what you do."

She looked cool and serene. Her delicately incised features were very young. And no one could have been more completely feminine. She was wearing white Indo-Chinese silk, loose and airy, cut low off both shoulders, and her skin was the color of cream. This in itself made her a marvel to men who had seen nothing but the bronze-fleshed island women for so long. I would not have supposed that I could have forgotten what women were like in my own port of the world, until I found myself staring at Christine Forrester. Then, more than ever, the shaded afterdeck of the Avon seemed a chip off another planet.

Yet there was something else about that girl which I had sensed from the first but had not been able to place. I placed it now. Cool and serene though she might be, Christine Forrester was sailing a charted course. As yet I didn't have the faintest idea what this course was; but I was beginning to see that she knew it, and knew it well. You can sense that sort of thing in the swing of a ship's wheel—or in a woman's eye.

Will Christine understand the risk she is running, tomorrow?

Spotty, a pet canary owned by T. H. Durboraw, Chicago piano teacher, can sing "Casey Jones" from beginning to end.

Deadline For Charter Roll Set This Week

Deadline for forming the membership roll of Lubbock squadron of Sons of the American Legion will be Thursday, so it may be referred to Daniel J. Doherty, national commander of the Legion, when he comes to Lubbock for an address, said Kelley Nail, squadron organizer.

The squadron, he reported, now has 123 members, of whom 110 have supplied all needed information concerning themselves and have paid dues. Information is incomplete concerning the remaining 13 boys and must be supplied before Thursday if they are to become charter members. Wednesday also will be the last opportunity for those not members who wish to enroll, Nail added.

To Be Second Largest

Regardless whether the 13 boys not yet fully qualified become members, Nail was informed, the squadron here will be chartered with the second largest charter membership since the sons' movement was founded. A squadron in Seattle, Wash., is the only one with an initial membership exceeding that of Lubbock.

Preparations continued for the luncheon at which National Commander Doherty, State Commander W. J. Danforth and other national and departmental officers of the Legion will be guests. Officials of Allen Bros. post reported that several posts in the area already have advised they will be represented here on that occasion.

Post Commander A. C. Jackson has asked post adjutants to advise him as soon as possible as to the probable size of their delegations so that adequate luncheon preparations can be made.

More Than 50 Boys Are Taking First Aid And Safety Courses

First aid and safety courses have attracted more than 50 Boy Scouts, with prospects for a larger enrollment before training is completed, Earl M. McClure, executive, said Monday.

Osco N. Cole and Scott Hollingsworth are instructors in the first aid course, instructions in which are given in the basement of the First Methodist church from 2 to 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. General first aid methods are taught with particular stress on artificial respiration in anticipation of swimming accidents.

Erton Tate is instructor of the safety course, sessions of which are held in the First Baptist church basement from 9 to 11 a. m. on Saturdays. The class, however, will not meet next Saturday.

Boys wishing to enroll in the courses, McClure said, may do so even if they were not present for the opening sessions.

Last Rites For Samuel Price Carr Conducted Here Monday

Last rites for Samuel Price Carr, 53, of Pampa were read by Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor of Central Baptist church, Monday afternoon at Lubbock cemetery. Carr died Saturday after a brief illness.

Survivors are his widow, the former Miss Nellie Guilliams in 1912; three sons, Les, James and Gene; his mother, Mrs. A. H. Carr of Lubbock; a sister, Mrs. Jeff D. Roberts of Lubbock; and two brothers, W. H. and Monroe Carr of Skellytown.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE latest version of the Ickes-West fracas puts the President in a hole, personally and politically, from which he may find it hard to extricate himself. It is that Mr. Ickes stripped West's office of everything except a rug and receptionist with advance info that Mr. Roosevelt would not resent this affront to his confidential emissary.

The cabinet member voiced several serious indictments against the under-secretary from Ohio. The first was that the latter had supplied Senate sleuths with ammunition against Elbert K. Burlew, Ickes' choice for a vacant assistant-secretaryship. Only recently Mr. West publicized his suspicions that his phone had been tapped. Lastly, Mr. West flatly refused to lobby for Burlew's confirmation, although Congressional liaison is supposed to be his only assignment. He never does any work for the Department of Interior.

In a showdown at the White House these charges would presumably force the President to back up his cabinet-member. Otherwise, there might be an embarrassing resignation in the offing. Probable solution is the shift of the Under Secretary to the Maritime, Interstate Commerce or Coal commissions.

PABULUM: Politicos on Capitol Hill are scouting this family feud with extraordinary concern for the light it throws on the President's loyalty to his aides. He faces the dilemma of upholding both Ickes and West when it's obvious that both can't be right.

Mr. Roosevelt's behaviour in several similar situations has precipitated mutterings that he accepts favors but doesn't return them. More bluntly put, the politicians charge him with ingratitude—a cardinal violation of their code. They recall his treatment of National Chairman Farley in the New York mayorality campaign, where he permitted "Jim" to back Mahoney while he sent Ickes to plead La-Guardia's cause. They also note that he apparently tossed the faithful Dieterich of Illinois to his enemies for fear of offending local bosses.

To blame F. D. R. for these peccadillos is human, but slightly unfair. A chief executive must always be permitted wide latitude in his desertions and repudiations of policies and personalities; he must back and fill—and shift. But such philosophic pabulum furnishes no consolation to the lads who seek his support in tough reelection contests.

DATED: Behind the Jackson-Richberg controversy over the government's attitude toward business lies a personal feud between rival factions of Roosevelt's brain trusters. Their jousting threatens to accentuate the recession.

The Cohen-Corcoran group are the ones who have egged on Mr. Jackson in his series of attacks on monopolies; they have even written his speeches. On the other side stands the Berle-Tugwell crowd, who were instrumental in arranging the Roosevelt-Lamont-Young-Lewis conference at the White House. They subscribe to the Richberg theory for establishment of a "fair deal" (not a New Deal) tribunal to solve industry's problems. The ups and downs of these two schools in obtaining the Rooseveltian ear account for his apparently contradictory and inconsistent pronouncements.

Now another clique threatens to burst into the arena—a small group of Wilsonians who helped to write the Clayton act and administer it as members of the Federal Trade commission. They contend that both Jackson and Richberg are talking through their hats—that there are sufficient laws to prosecute evil trusts (the Jacksonian idea), and enough machinery to set up the Richberg cooperative system. They have already dated up the President for submission of their cure-alls.

INHERITOR: It will strike the White House like a thunderclap when the news circulates that Robert L. Doughton may not seek reelection at the end of his present term. The departure of the Ways and Means chairman will remove a faithful administration wheelhorse for the two critical years of F. D. R.'s second term.

The 28-year-veteran, who has piloted Roosevelt-Morgenthau measures through the lower chamber, privately informs friends that he's sick of public life. He yearns to return to his North Carolina hills to raise cattle, smoke and dream. There is also a slight suspicion that the bulky, hard-headed "Bob" doesn't sympathize too strongly with certain Oliphantian tax theories.

Conservatives in the House and back home are urging him to hang on. For his quitting would almost wreck this tremendously important committee, in view of the appointment of its other tax expert—Fred Vinson of Kentucky—to the federal bench. The chairmanship will fall to Tammayite Tom Cullen, erstwhile bartender, if Mr. D. takes a stroll into the mountains of Caroline.

UNSANITARY: Vice President Garner showers bipartisan hostility on his Senate associates, but there are certain limitations for Republicans.

During night sessions in the anti-lynching filibuster he offered his cozy office as a rendezvous for members. One night, when the gavel didn't fall till early in the morning, they smoked it up in a big way. The air was fairly stale when "Jack" showed up at his usual hour. He sniffed and remarked:

"Must have been a lot of those Republicans in here last night. I'll have to have the place renovated."

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

WE recently reported that Wall Street is currently inundated by a tidal wave of rumors about impending monetary inflation. These reports are being assiduously and skilfully spread with a wealth of circumstantial detail that makes them sound convincing to the average trader.

The latest story, which comes—significantly—from Canadian sources, has it that Joe Kennedy's first job in London will be to work out a cooperative arrangement with the British government to lift the gold price to $41 an ounce. Mr. Roosevelt is supposed to use the profit from the ensuing write-up of Treasury gold as a base for the issuance of new currency with which to pay for additional government spending to combat the recession.

It's a plausible yarn and is widely believed. The only trouble is that the best-informed New Yorkers can find no real evidence to support it. The set-up is strikingly reminiscent of last year's rumor—emanating from London—to the contrary effect that the gold price was about to be reduced. That also gained wide credence in Wall Street—but it never came true. It's a pretty safe bet that this one is equally unfounded.

BAG: The whole thing looks to financial insiders like an expert job of "psychological manipulation" to boost the stocks of gold mining companies. It's an old army game with shrewd professionals to talk down stocks you want to buy and whoop up those you want to sell.

Stimulation of the reports from London and Canada respectively give a clue. One of the boldest and most adept operators in Wall Street history was in London last year when the rumors started about lowering the gold price. This man's roots are in Canada, and he has important Canadian interests and contacts. Right now he is in New York fairly glowing with bullish enthusiasm. Maybe it's all coincidence, but astute New Yorkers don't believe it for one moment.

Last year gold stocks declined under the influence of the bearish reports. Currently they are much stronger than the rest of the market — especially those of Canadian corporations. People buying these stocks as a hedge against rumors of imminent inflation may suddenly find themselves holding the bag—as usual.

One of the foreign performing girls who sailed after the folding up of a large New York night club, deplored the lack of metropolitan appreciation of nudes. Visitors from the hinterlands, however, are rarely disappointed with New York's thighline.

Flapper Fanny---By Sylvia

"Will you folks glance at the baby once in a while?"

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says in this country, correct attire for the street is anything that won't make people wonder what you're advertising.

* * *

PARAPHRASING a famous bit of philosophy, "there's so much trouble to the right of us, and so much trouble to the left of us, that it certainly behooves all of us to look for something pleasant somewhere near us," the following occurs to The Plainsman as a refuge from pain:

TO DOCTOR CROSBY

The nation's state
Is not as great
As we would like, by jing!
But here's a silver lining:
By Gosh, can't Crosby sing!

Those bombing planes
Bring death and pains
In Spain o'er which they zoom.
Let's think of something better—
Doggone, that Bing can croon!

Some folks, by gum,
Seem sad and glum;
Their faces dour and mobile.
Yet most of them break into smiles
When they hear Crosby yodel!

So don't forget
Whene'er you fret
That life is grim and chilling.
Most woes fly out the window
When you hear Bing Crosby's trilling!

Home at its worst: The family being dutifully sweet to a petted pest who needs, instead, a wholesome bawling out!

AN Avalanche-Journal reporter who recently submitted to an operation and as a result spent nearly two weeks in a local hospital, remarked the other day that "it's good for a person to occasionally go to a hospital. There he sees and hears things that make him realize that he is not immune from any and all sorts of ailments and accidents."

The reporter was eminently correct in the opinion that most of us fail to realize that life's trials and tribulations are our own, as well as belonging to others. As we paddle along, day after day, we read of illness, accidents and even death without stopping to consider that such things are in store for us, too. And the only reason some of us have escaped them is because your numbers haven't come up yet."

Figures may lie and liars may figure, but competently computed statistics pretty much apply to us all.

The moral to all this is, of course, that as members of society we are likely to have anything and everything happen to us at any time.

And the only thing we can do about it is be prepared for any emergency upon all occasions.

NOTE TO POULTRY FANCIERS: The U. S. Department of Agriculture experimental farm at Beltsville, Md., near Washington, is the scene of an interesting experiment with certain hens. Experts do all kinds of things to raise the eyebrows at Beltsville, but the present experiment is more unusual than most.

Somebody thought it would be a good idea to breed Rhode Island Reds with White Leghorns, the idea being to raise speckled or striped chickens. But after the two species had been crossed back and forth a few times and the chromosomes thoroughly mixed, it turned out that all the roosters hatched from the resultant eggs were red and all the pullets were white.

Incidentally, the Beltsville farm is not — as rumored — trying to astonish the world by producing a cross between a chicken and a turkey. This experiment already has been attempted with great success — except that the chicks have always died!

That Man on Avenue Q, eyeing the calendar, says it may be the "income" tax to some people, but it's a plain "outgo" tax to him.

O. B. Conley, the hardworking chairman of the Lubbock Safety committee, brought this in:

When I'm driving on a street,
Where little folks I'm apt to meet
Who dash across the street in play
I hope I'll drive just the way
I would drive if mine were there
Upon that crowded thoroughfare.

* * *

AND Mark Allen, the well known squire of West 4th street, came in with this contribution which sort like The Plainsman, may have seen before but which is still mighty good:

DEFINITION OF COTTON

Cotton is the overcoat of a seed that is planted and grown in the Southern states, including Oklahoma, to keep the producer broke and the buyer crazy.

The fiber varies in color and weight and the man who can guess the nearest length is called a cotton man by the public, a swindler by the farmers and a poor business man by his creditors.

The price of cotton is determined in New York and goes up when you have sold and down when you have bought.

A buyer for a group of mills was sent to New York to watch the cotton market and report his findings. After a few days observation, he wired his firm:

"Some think it will go up and some think it will go down. I do, too. Whatever you do will be wrong. Act at once!"

Cotton is planted in the spring, mortgaged in the summer and left in the field in the winter. You can raise it, and you can't. You will and you won't. You go broke if you do and broke if you don't!

Opal McMahon is telling this story around:

A young man came up to a group of co-eds out on the Tech campus.

"Girls," he said, "I have a friend I want you to meet."

Said the Athletic Girl: "What can he do?"

Said the Gold Digger: "How much is he got?"

Said the Literary Girl: "What does he read?"

Society Girl: "Who are his family?"

Religious Girl: "What church does he belong to?"

Member of Las Vivarachas: "WHERE IS HE?"

INTERESTING to Lubbock and South Plains people who support various and sundry cultural entertainments will be news that Margaret Matzenauer, former star of the Metropolitan Opera company, is starting out in concert work again at the age of 57.

Thrice married and divorced, and a grandmother, Matzenauer, who has been heard twice in Lubbock, will soon be heard again in New York, Cleveland, Detroit and some Canadian cities. Tired of loafing after a seven-year stay in California she is reported still to be in good voice.

The Plainsman heard Matzenauer both times she appeared in Lubbock, remembers how she captivated her audiences and how graciously generous she was about encores. On time she sang more encores in the face of enthusiastic applause than she did set numbers.

We thought this news might cause the Tech Artist course bosses, or the heads of the Civic Music association, to look into the possibilities of bringing Matzenauer back to Lubbock.

While she might not pull as many people as Ringling Brothers & Barnum and Bailey, we believe she'd draw a bigger gate than any other artist who might be available here. She's big league!

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT No. 20 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As Queen Gonfala turned to summon the guard to take him to his execution, Stanley Wood declared: "You may have me killed, but I shall love you until the last breath leaves my body. I can no more help loving you than—than you can help loving me!"

Gonfala gave a little gasp of astonishment. Wood had voiced a suspicion that had long been in his mind. For days he had noted her gentler mood toward him. Sometimes he had seen her struggling to conquer the cruelty that somehow seemed a part of her.

True, Gonfala was in love with him. She hadn't realized it until now, for always she had been taught that she was a goddess as well as a Queen—that she was the personification of the pure, bright light of the great diamond Gonfala—that love was not for her.

Now a new expression came into her eyes; not anger, but fear. "Mafka must not know," she whispered through trembling lips; "yet I'm afraid he will know. Through his magic powers he seems to know everything. He will kill us both—kill us horribly!"

SLUGGISH SESSION MONDAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. (AP)—Feeble rallies failed to hold in today's stock market and leaders finished a sluggish session with losses of fractions to around 2 points.

The proceedings were the slowest for a 5-hour stretch for any day since Friday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues yielded .6 of a point at 42.4.

Steels dropped throughout ignoring the American Iron and Steel institute's estimate of an increase of .2 of a point in this week's mill operating week.

Motors were also rather sickly from the start, notwithstanding predictions of a moderate gain in output this week and an improved situation in the used car market. After the close General Motors directors confirmed previous forecasts by declaring a 25-cent dividend on the common, the same amount disbursed in the first quarter last year.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 7. (AP)—Cotton slipped off a few points here today under scattered local and foreign selling. The close was steady at net declines 2 to 4 points.

There was little incentive to buy and operators for the most part, assumed a waiting attitude pending final passage of the farm bill which was expected later in the week.

Prices fluctuated within an extremely narrow range and trading was at a slow pace throughout the session. Brokers with foreign connections were the principal sellers although some offerings came from commission houses and recent buyers.

Mch. closed at 8.64, May at 8.73, July at 8.79, Oct. at 8.90, Dec. at 8.95 and Jan. at 8.97.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 7. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton at 10 southern spot markets today was 8.63 cents a pound for the past 30 market days 8.55 cents a pound.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. (AP)—Cotton was easier today in sympathy with the action of foreign markets and under hedge selling. May sold off from 8.63 to 8.58 and closed at 8.61, with final prices 2 to 7 points net lower.

The market opened lower under a little foreign selling but the undertone was steady on trade and scattered buying. Prices worked back to, or within a few points of, the previous close by late in the morning but hedging through spot houses increased and quotations reacted to net losses of 5 to 9 points. Slight partial recoveries toward the close reflected renewed price fixing.

an organization dual to the CIO."

The ouster resolution also charged AFL efforts "to effect unity and peace in the ranks of organized labor have been frustrated by the arbitrary and dictatorial action of the officers of the UMW who, by reason of the financial support given to the CIO, have had from the very beginning the complete veto power over all its policies and decisions and have been in actual and absolute control of its leadership."

Contend $2,000,000 Spent

On the basis of a UMW auditor's report, AFL officials contend the miners contributed $2,000,000 to the CIO in the last two years. The mine union claims 600,000 members but AFL leaders say the auditors' report showed only 423,000 paying dues.

The Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers claim about 40,000 members and the Flat Glass Workers 22,000.

William Green, president of the AFL, said he would drop the membership in the Miners' union he has held since it was chartered 48 years ago.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 7. (AP)—Persistent talk that European importers must sooner or later become active buyers from this country had a steady effect on Chicago wheat prices today.

One reason traders gave was an accelerated decrease of the United States wheat visible supply total today to almost 62,000,000 bushels under the season's peak. Unabated dust storms and dry weather in domestic winter wheat territory southwest were also given attention.

An opposite factor, however, was that new export business in North American wheat lacked volume. Considerable enlargement of stocks of wheat on ocean passage to Europe served, too, as a drag on values.

Under such circumstances, Chicago wheat fluctuations today kept within unusual, narrow limits of but ¾ of a cent a bushel, and closed virtually unchanged, ¼ cent off to ¼ cent up compared to Saturday's finish, May 94Z@94⅝, July 90½, corn ¼@⅝ down, May 58⅝@⅝, July 59⅞@59¾, oats unchanged to ¼ advance, rye unchanged to ⅝ bulge, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents dearer.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 7. (AP)—Demand for wheat was slightly improved here Monday but was only moderate for other grains. Estimated receipts for the two days were: wheat 44 cars, corn 8, sorghums 6 and cane seed.

Freight paid to Texas Gulf ports, domestic rate, or Texas common points:

Wheat No. 1 soft red winter 1.12¾@1.13¾; No. 1 hard 1.14¾@1.16¾.

Pendergrass Case

It was clad in overalls, and there were no shoes.

In the pockets of the overalls, which were said by C. E. Pendergrass of 503 Avenue S, Lubbock, a nephew, not to belong to the dead man was $195.85.

Pendergrass left his Putnam county, Tenn., home with from $2,500 to $4,000, authorities had been informed.

Adding to the mystery was discovery of a bullet wound in one leg. The man's throat had been cut with a knife or with the fangs of coyotes, posse members theorized.

C. T. Pendergrass of Meadow, the brother whom the missing man had set out to visit, identified the personal effects as belonging to the Tennessee man.

The Tennessee man bought a railroad ticket at Nashville Nov. 17 for Lubbock. C. C. McCarty of Ada, Okla., special officer engaged to search for the missing man, traced the itinerary through the ticket and found the ticket was used to Memphis, then from Texarkana to Sweetwater. McCarty arrived in Sweetwater last week to continue his search.

Was Seen On Ranch

On Nov. 20, members of the U. S. geological survey crew saw Pendergrass on the N. N. Dulaney ranch north of Sweetwater, they recalled when news of the disappearance broke. They had taken him to Sweetwater, and one member said he saw Pendergrass walking south toward Blackwell next morning.

John Pace reported he saw a man answering the description of Pendergrass near the Sweetwater East First street underpass Nov. 20.

Those were the last reports on the man.

king. Of 200 Japanese sent to attack a band of Chinese guerrillas, only 15 returned. The Japanese then sent out a punitive expedition of 500 to annihilate the band. Of the 500, only 135 returned.

At Hangchow, 125 miles southwest of Shanghai, guerrilla bands were reported by foreign sources to be operating just outside the city.

Germany has the highest percentage of all-steel railway coaches of any nation in the world.

Scouts Hear President's Talk Last Night; Program Tonight

Troop and cub packs of 27 towns gathered Monday night to hear a national hookup of addresses by President Franklin D. Roosevelt; W. W. Head, national scout president, and Dr. James E. West, chief scout executives. Recordings of the program were made and will rerun at the "mobilization" meeting tonight.

Marion Sanford will be in charge of tonight's program. A signal will be given over radio station KFYO and scoutmasters throughout the council immediately will send word to scouts of their troops to assemble at a designated place. Prizes will be awarded to the troop assembled most speedily.

K. N. Clapp, council commissioner, Dr. F. B. Malone, council president, and Judge E. L. Pitts will speak on a program from Junior High school tonight to be broadcast through station KFYO.

Harvey S. Firestone

expressed a desire for a commercial career. After graduating from high school and business college he obtained his first position as bookkeeper for John W. Taft in a Columbus coal firm.

Interested In Rubber Tires

After serving the company as salesman and sales manager, he interested himself in rubber tires by the rapidly-growing automobile industry, he went into business for himself in Chicago with an initial investment of less than $15,000. He sold out a few years later for $1,254,000.

Moving to Akron, Firestone bought a renovated machine shop and launched the company he developed into one of the country's largest industrial concerns.

Retired In 1932

He retired as president of the Firestone company in 1932 and was succeeded by John W. Thomas, the firm's first chemist. Firestone became chairman of the board.

A controlling majority of the stock in the tire company and some subsidiaries was retained by the Firestone family, but in recent years Firestone transferred a large portion to his sons.

Ford Only Surviver

The death of Firestone left Henry Ford as the only surviving member of a famous quartet of nature lovers who took their vacations together for years. The others were John Burroughs, the naturalist, who died in 1921, and Thomas A. Edison, who died ten years later.

He and Mrs. Firestone, the former Idabella Smith of Jackson, Mich., were married in 1895. The sons in addition to Russell are Harvey, jr., Raymond, Roger and Leonard.

His body will be taken to Akron Thursday morning. It will lie in state at the Firestone home, Harbel Manor, until funeral services Friday at 10 a. m.

Burial will be in the village cemetery at Columbiana, Ohio.

Money Theft Case

in the car, made off with one of the mail bags. His "blind pick" netted the money transfer.

Followed hammering of questions by postal authorities in direction of railway and postal employes who had handled the money. Hour after hour, this went on.

The case seemed hopeless. Washington put pressure on the inspectors.

Then the first clue.

A 44-year-old man who had taken the sack happened to notice he had $30,000. Realizing it to be part of a bank shipment, he was afraid to negotiate any of the notes. He offered to sell the lot at 50 cents on the dollar.

Grilling Brings Story

Authorities began noticing the man had more money than he needed and put two and two together. Postal inspectors were called.

Grilling drew out the story, and charges followed.

He said about $3,000 of the loot had been stolen from him and that the remainder had been sold to two men, who had been charged. He said he met the two through a third man under charge at San Antonio.

Then Miller was sought. His Dallas home revealed no loot when searched.

Then 300 of the $1 notes showed up in Wichita Falls banks, and bankers identified pictures of Miller as the man who had traded them for $100 notes.

Miller was located in Atlanta, Ga., and he had $4,300 in currency. Saturday he began "spilling" the story.

But efforts to find the "buried treasure" appear stymied.

been mailed all stores of record and others were being mailed as quickly as applications are filed or agents can secure names. Violation of a requirement for displaying licenses is a misdemeanor, the comptroller explained, and carries a fine of from $25 to $500, each day constituting a separate offense.

Rulings from the attorney general have cleared up these points, he added:

A filling station that sells accessories is subject to the tax. Those selling only petroleum products and servicing automobiles are exempt.

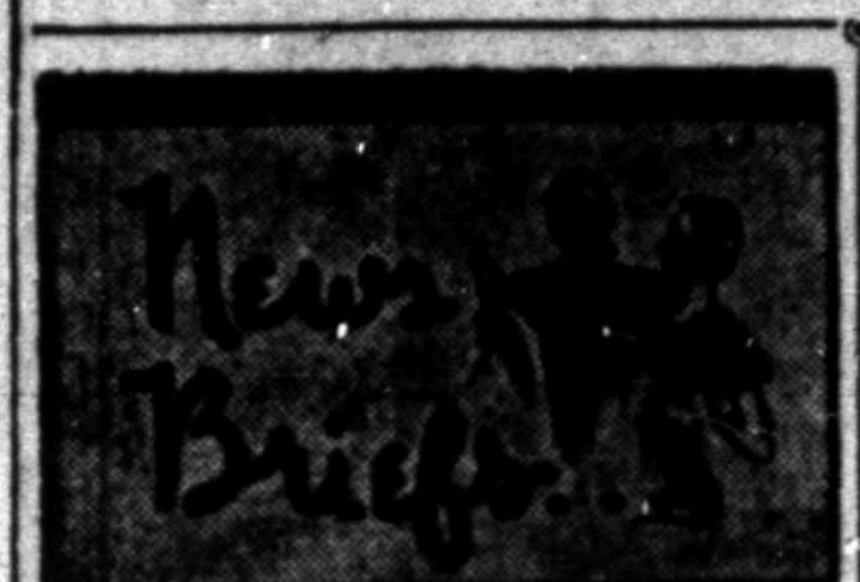

One Business Exempt

Wholesale and retail lumber and building material business selling other than actual lumber and building materials must pay.

He said only one business—selling textbook—was exempt under a provision excepting concerns "now paying an occupation tax measured by gross receipts.

He explained the supreme court construction of an exemption for places of business used as bona fide wholesale or retail distributing points by manufacturers only was applicable "only for firms which maintain distributing points and not where sales are made at those points."

It's The Little Noises In Life That Drive Us Distracted, Reporter Finds; Fire Truck Less Offensive Than Oral Gum Chewing

Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney, received word Monday that an aunt, Mrs. J. D. Lindsey of Walters, Okla., had died.

Firemen made two runs early Monday afternoon, but flames at both places did little damage. They were called at 2:05 o'clock to 802 Avenue H where a tank wagon caught on fire. Flames originated from a leak in a gas connection near a stove. A grass fire in the 2900-block Nineteenth street was extinguished soon after the alarm was sounded at 2:15 o'clock.

As the result of a liquor raid in the 1000 block Avenue H Monday afternoon, Oran Ashcraft, about 30, was charged in county court with violation of state liquor laws. He later was released from the county jail on bond of $250. On the raid were Mack Wilson of the Texas Liquor Control board and Tom Cannon and Aubrey Fawver of the police department. The complaint, sworn to by Wilson, was prepared by Hugh Anderson, county attorney.

Possibly slight improvement had been shown Monday night in the condition of K. B. Haralson of Morton who is a patient at Plains hospital. Attaches said he was resting.

As the result of an accident in the 1100-block Main street at 6:45 o'clock Monday night, a 30-year-old Lubbock woman was arrested by police and held for investigation of driving when intoxicated. The machine driven by the woman, a light sedan, was in collision with another sedan driven by B. J. Deaver of Slaton. He was going west on Main street and the woman was going east. The two cars met after the woman turned onto Main street from Avenue L. Melvin Alvey of the police department investigated. None was injured.

Maxwell D. Nuttall, senior mechanical engineering student of Texas Technological college will present a paper on the carbon black industry at 7 o'clock tonight in room 109 engineering building to members of the Tech branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, said Martin True, president. Nuttall will pass out photographs and carbon samples obtained at Borger, where he has worked several years.

First rehearsal for the annual Easter presentation of "Seven Last Words of Christ," cantata by Dubois, was held by the Texas Technological college chorus in the College Avenue Baptist church, Monday night, said Julien Paul Blitz, head professor of music. One hundred eighty-four persons were present, Blitz indicated. He emphasized the fact that more tenors and basses can be advantageously used during rehearsals and the program, April 12.

Southwestern AAU Dates Are Changed

DALLAS, Feb. 7. (AP)—George Schepps, director of the Southwestern A. A. U. basketball tournament, said today that dates for the event, originally set here February 28 through March 4, had been changed to March 7 through 11.

Schepps said the change was necessary in order not to conflict with other tournaments.

The West Texas A. A. U. tournament at El Paso; Southern A. A. U. event at New Orleans; Southern conference tournament at Bowling Green, Ky.; a tournament at Little Rock, Ark., and a junior college tournament at San Antonio, will all be held on dates originally set here, Schepps said.

The change will bring entries from teams unable to compete under the original schedule because of previous acceptance of bids to other events, Schepps said.

Another Dempsey Hits The Heavyweight Boxing Trail

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 7. (AP)—Another Dempsey—as husky as his famed cousin Jack—is ready to start out after heavyweight honors.

He is 21-year-old Clyde Harold Dempsey from Logan county, the home of the Dempseys.

Clyde might still be in behind a grocery counter but the store burned and he came to Charleston looking for a job. Since then, he was worked out daily in the police gymnasium.

"I've wanted to fight ever since that day in 1933 when I met Jack in Huntington (W. Va.) while he was on an exhibition," he recalled.

Clyde is six feet four inches tall, weighs 208 pounds and likes to fight.

CLERKS ATTEND MEETING

SLATON, Feb. 7. (Special)—Twenty-eight members of Santa Fe clerks of the Slaton division attended a meeting here tonight at which J. S. McDonald president, presided. Members from Slaton, Lubbock, Littlefield, Levelland, Lamesa and Plainview attended.

W. R. Clark of Santa Anna, of the Southern division, spoke.

Sam Gray Signs To Manage Henderson Baseball Team

TEXARKANA, Feb. 7. (AP)—Sam Gray, former pitcher with the Philadelphia Athletics and later with the St. Louis Browns, today signed a contract to manage the Texarkana Liners of the East Texas league, R. W. Burnett, club owner, announced.

By SYLVIA SMITH

The poet has said "It's the little things in life that make it worth while."

Conversely, most everyone will agree "It's the little noises in life that drive us to distraction."

Look for a moment at a "poll."

A fire truck is large compared with a wad of chewing gum—less offensive to many people than oral gum chewers.

"Hammers In My Head"

Lubbock playboy No. 1 says the noise that bothers him most is the one created by the "three little guys with hammers in my head."

A waitress dislikes the noise of customers drowning in their soup of coffee and smacking over other foods.

The conservative gentleman is annoyed by "women's loud clothes!"

Little girls making big noises are worse, according to John College, than larger girls making greater noises.

A Western Union boy, more proverbially curious than woman, finds whispering most distracting.

And Giggling Girls

Nearly every normal American is bothered by crying babies, loud radios, barking dogs, pop-corn eaters at public entertainments, explanations to children of the plot action at the theater, and giggling girls.

Continuous, hacking coughs indicative to tubercular origin are unpleasant and downright irritating to many.

The sound of the telephone ringing in the wee small hours is vexatious to anyone short of the patience of Job.

Vibrations caused by crunching ice vexes a soda-skeet to the extent that he is tempted to serve hot or lukewarm iced drink orders.

Harrassed By Sound of Boots

Standers-by on the street are harassed by noise from cowboy boots.

Apartment dwellers are provoked when the child (who has no sense of rhythm) in the other side of the duplex tap-dances off the rug.

A mother thinks the noise of her daughters playing jacks in the middle of the floor more provoking than the scratching hinge on the swinging door.

Squeaking shoes usually attract more attention than skates on the sidewalk.

Filing Of Nails Too

The girl-with-a-roommate becomes angry when she hears the sound of nails being filed when she is trying to sleep.

Hammering in the next room and noisy stairs are obnoxious sounds at any time of the day for some noise-conscious persons.

The man on Avenue Z says the grating sound of his neighmor scraping a hoe on the sidewalk will send him to Terrell. Going there would "be a relief."

Most would-be-whistlers could be less offensive of they would "go somewhere and develop amnesia."

Strangely enough, the "noise" of the lack of noise often keeps awake the man accustomed to certain sounds.

Suit To Be Filed

great value of this lease I remind you of the fact this tract is offset on the west by actual production from a number of wells in the Flour Bluff oil field," Governor Allred wrote.

"The land commissioner sold the offsetting lease to the south on tract 15 for $103,100 cash and $51,000 in oil; the offsetting tract on the southeast for $80,000 cash and $320,000 in oil; the offsetting tract on the northeast for $133,000 cash; the offsetting tract on the north for $142,000 cash.

Offsets Brought $829,000

"In other words, the commissioner sold the offsetting acreage surrounding this lease on every side excepting the west, which was part of the Flour Bluff oil field, for a total of over $458,000 in cash and $371,000 in oil."

The governor asserted practical oil men had told him the only justification for turning down high cash bids in favor of overriding royalty was, first, the certainty oil was under the land, and, second, a requirement for immediate development.

No Well Started

With reference to the offset requirement, the governor said the Humble Oil and Refining company brought in a well in the Flour Bluff field 990 feet from the state's land Dec. 3, 1937, yet no well had been started on the tract by Mallinson or those who hold title under him.

So far as the record showed, the governor added, the lease was owned by the Bayou River Oil company of Dallas, of which he said, Mallinson was an officer and stockholder.

Others Should Be Cancelled

Three other tracts he said he thought should be cancelled were 16, 18 and 32, left respectively according to his letter, to the Plains Petroleum company for $465, L. F. Brothers for $280, and Maury Hughes for $320, the last with a 60-day drilling obligation.

These leases, he asserted, were let "for a nominal consideration and high royalties" and were "surrounded by lands which the commissioner leased for hundreds of thousands of dollars in cash."

McDonald said he had no comment at this time.

Frank Kovacs Defaults To Detroiter In Net Tourney

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 7. (AP)—Frank Kovacs, ranked second nationally in the junior singles and seeded second in the second annual Palm Beach invitational tennis tournament that started today, was forced to default to William Moritz, of Detroit.

The brilliant Oakland, Calif., star blistered his playing hand during the Miami Beach Surf club tournament last week and was forced to withdraw from matches here.

Other favorites moved in to the second round.

Bonds Posted By Wichita Dealers

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 7.—The state liquor board said today rather than risk "sit-downs" by inspectors, three Wichita Falls dealers had posted $1,000 cash bonds and accepted injunctions as guarantees against law violations.

Chief Supervisor C. A. Paxton said the instance indicated an "apprehension" with which dealers regarded the "continuous inspection" tactics which met with success in Fort Worth and Dallas.

Eager For Injunctions

"Some of them now seem eager to go under injunctions," Paxton said, "and post bonds which they know will be forfeited if the law is violated."

The supervisor said enforcement was improving and cited 234 convictions and $23,378 in fines last month as compared to 110 convictions and $10,245 in fines during January, 1937.

He said inspectors assisted federal agents in 87 cases last month to 55 a year ago and seized 67 stills to 19 the same period of 1937.

Used As Last Resort

Paxton asserted the "sit-down method" was used only as a means of last resort in the northern Texas cities. He added the practice had the approval of the courts.

Three factors were cited by the supervisor as tending to slow down action against habitual violators: (1) congestion of criminal dockets in large urban areas; (2) many processes of civil suits subject to continuance under usual conditions; (3) possibility judgment of lower courts would be superseded by appeal.

"Thus it can be seen," Paxton said, "immediate results are not easily obtainable in dealing with operators committed to violations."

The supervisor said while the board had no desire to employ the "sit-down" method, it would do so when violators had developed a record justifying close supervision

Lubbock Baptist Pastors Are On Plainview Session Program

Several Lubbock Baptist pastors are on the program of the annual Panhandle-Plains Baptist pastors and laymen's conference this week at Wayland college, Plainview.

On Monday's program Rev. C. J. McCarty, Calvary Baptist church, spoke on "The First New Testament Church—its Institution, Policy and Growth." It was the keynote address. Dr. F. B. Malone, a layman, was to speak on "The Function of Deacons in the Church," in the afternoon.

Rev. C. E. Hereford of the First church is to speak this morning on "The Church as the Bride of Christ." Leo Waite, educational director, is to speak on "Training the Church in Praising God."

Several hundred ministers and laymen are expected to attend.

GIVEN FIFTY YEARS

DALLAS, Feb. 7. (AP)—Jimmy Mullen, 52, pleaded guilty today as the "nitroglycerin bandit" who staged two downtown robberies here, and was sentenced to fifty years in the penitentiary.

Lubbock's Law Enforcement Officers Weep As Tear Gas Equipment Is Demonstrated

It would have been a sight for all who ever inhabited the booby hatch to have been out near the caliche pit Sunday—to have seen Lubbock's strapping coppers, intersprinkled with a city commissioner, highway patrolmen and a misty-eyed fringe of hangers-on crying and wiping their coursing tears.

Bill Mabray, police identifications officer, wept with such abandon he had to lean against the rugged shoulders of a cliff—and when he tried to walk he shambled against boulders too big to negotiate.

Cameras' Eyes Effected

As one of the group laughingly watching the proceedings said, "Even the eyes of the cameras of W. G. McMillan, police commissioner, and Morris Levine, won't look the same after this."

E. B. Averill, demonstrating tear gas equipment, made believers right and left, in front and behind, when he picked up an apparently inocuous night stick and let loose a spray of crying gas. Officers scattered to the compass points and cried in the intermediate distances.

Other Demonstrations Given

The demonstration settled down to firing of .45 tracers and "regulars" from the Tommie gun, "barricade" tear gas shells that carry 500 yards, and other projectiles designed to discourage resistance of criminals.

One gas shell, for instance, is guaranteed to produce a momentary state of nausea that precludes any will to fight back.

In connection with the demonstration was one not billed. The police department, ranging from the chief, Don Reeder, to the "baby" of the department, Lewis Kittrell, sergeant of the traffic detail, exhibited marksmanship with automatics and revolvers.

The demonstration was conducted so that enforcement authorities might see the newest types of equipment used in handling crime agents.

Others who attended were Burton S. Burks, district attorney; Robert J. Allen, county attorney and Bill Alder and J. H. Jackson, Texas highway patrolmen.

Work Is To Begin Wednesday On Highway Work In Scurry

SNYDER, Feb. 7. (Special)—Work will be begun Wednesday on a grading and drainage project sponsored by the state highway department on highway 101, district Works Progress administration officials in Lubbock said Monday.

A seven-mile strip from the junction with highway 7 to one mile south of Snyder will be given a caliche base, graded, and fitted with drainage structures. Work will require 100 men for four months.

Rep. West Answers Challenge And Delivers Pink Grapefruit From Texas In Washington

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (AP)—Answering a challenge, Representative West (D-Tex) today deluged the capitol with Texas pink grapefruit.

Representative Hendricks (D-Fla) recently distributed several crates of grapefruit from his district in the house. Another member asked West why congress couldn't be permitted to sample some of the Rio Grande citrus fruit.

West's reply was delivery at the Capitol today of 42 half-boxes and 88 whole boxes of the Texas fruit. He passed them out among congressmen, reporters, elevator boys, capitol police, clerks and secretaries.

Thompson Says Cut Must Be Ordered

MIDLAND, Feb. 7. (AP)—A reduction in oil production equal to 14 per cent below the United States bureau of mines estimate of the market demand for January, 1938, was advocated today by Col. E. O. Thompson, chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact commission.

Thompson, here for a Railroad commission hearing, issued the following statement:

"Statistics of today on the oil and gasoline storage situation—that is, oil above ground, on hand and unsold—show it is going to be necessary, in order to balance supply with demand—or, stated another way—in order to prevent production of oil in excess of market demand—there must be actually achieved a cut in production equalling 14 per cent below the bureau of mines estimate of market demand for January, 1938.

"Consumption has simply not used the gasoline and oil on hand. It is foolish and wasteful to produce unheeded and unsalable crude. I believe every thinking operator understands this situation."

Florida education officials are binding textbooks with a vermin-proof fabric to prevent damage by roaches and silverfish moths.

Week's Building Gets Good Start

City Building Inspector Jim Reid started off his week's business Monday with 10 permits authorizing expenditures amounting to $15,475.

Monday's rushing business boosted February's aggregate to $41,095 and the year's to $158,886.

Included among the permits were four for new residences, three garage apartments, and addition to a residence and an addition to a garage apartment.

Permits were to: W. C. Matheny, one-story frame residence at 507 Avenue D, $600; Grady Harrist, owner, and M. G. Dysart, contractor, one-story residence and garage at 1907 Twenty-second street, $2,600; B. Sherrod, addition to garage and build apartment above at 2105 Sixteenth street, $900; Mark Halsey, owner, and J. E. Ligon, contractor, two-story tile and frame garage at 2308 Seventeenth street, $1,800; Durwood Bradley, owner, and J. E. Ligon, contractor, one-story frame residence and garage at 2608 Twenty-fourth Street, $3,350; W. C. Crossnoe, two-story garage apartment at 1513 Twenty-fourth street, $1,000; Crossnoe, one-story frame residence at 1513 Twenty-fourth street, $3,000; Haskell Ford, one-story frame addition to residence, $200; F. A. Zachary, owner, and J. E. Walker, contractor, two-story frame garage and apartment above at 2119 Avenue M, $1,500; and W. D. Green, owner, and Lydick Roofing company, contractor, business building at 1217-19 Texas avenue, $525.

Interest In Community House Here Is To Be Promoted By Leaders Of Lubbock Churches

Lubbock churches will sponsor an intensive visiting program Wednesday afternoon in interest of the Community house plan.

Those interested in the project will meet at the First Methodist church at Broadway and Avenue M, where cars from various churches will provide transportation to homes in the northwest and southeast parts of town. Every home in that locality will be visited in an effort to encourage attendance of the Sunday afternoon church services offered by the confederated missionary society of Lubbock in the Higginbotham-Bartlett display house just inside the Broadway entrance of the fair grounds.

Socials To Be Held

Next week the Community house committee will begin weekly fun-nigh socials for young people, in addition to the regular 45 minute sing-songs which precede the Sunday afternoon services. The City Bus line is offering free transportation to those who attend.

Services are conducted by pastors of various churches. Next Sunday, Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church, is to have charge of the program. In an effort to encourage talent, young people also will have parts on the programs.

Mrs. W. H. Johnston of 1617 Sixteenth street, is general chairman of the Community house program.

HOME IS ROBBED

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Feb. 7. (AP)—While Alice Faye and her husband, Tony Martin, were weekending on the desert, their home was robbed of valuables worth $6,000, they reported to police today.

REG CARRINGTON ASKS COMMANDER ELLSBERG:
"Can you tell a Real Difference between Camels and other cigarettes?"

Copyright, 1938, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina

"Yes—absolutely!" says Commander Edward Ellsberg. And millions of other steady smokers agree that there is a distinct difference in Camels. That's why Camels are the largest-selling cigarette in the world.

A MAN OF ACTION! (right) Commander Ellsberg shares under-sea danger with his men. He says: "The last thing a diver does before going down — and the first thing he does after coming up — is to smoke a Camel."

THE TORCH (left) invented by Ellsberg. Imagine the long, tiring hours of research he put in on this successful invention! He says: "When I feel tired—a Camel gives me a quick 'lift.'"

OF COURSE an Annapolis man likes to sail! (right) "Camels fit in with my leisure hours, too," Ellsberg says. "In all my years of smoking Camels, I've never known them to jangle my nerves. That means a lot—because I smoke a lot!"

CLUB-ROOM CONVERSATION (above) so often swings around to cigarettes. Commander Ellsberg says: "That famous saying, 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!' expresses how enthusiastic I am about Camels myself."
