Three Are Charged For Murder Of Vernon Youth Anti-Evolution Measure In Texas Legislature Again

Governor's Civil Service Bill Gets Defeat In House

Discussion Of Resolution Governing Teaching Of Lower Origin Theories Is Featured By Debate

Proponents Lose In Fight For Engronment Of Bill; Crowded Gallery Hears Debate On Issue

AUSTIN, Feb. 15.—After defeating Governor Moody's civil service bill 62 to 46 and consuming more than two hours in discussion of the Harper anti-evolution measure, the house adjourned today until Monday to catch its breath before tackling a mass of important legislation.

The governor's measure, which would have placed most of the state's 1,500 employees under civil service regulations, brought a warm floor fight in which attacks against the bill made two days ago were re-echoed. Purl of Dallas staged a heating fight for adoption of a measure that the state government employ many workers which no other corporation would have and asserting that clerks often contributed to campaign expense accounts of office heads.

Bill Rebs Officials
Hernandez of Harlingen opposed the civil service plan, contending that it robbed officers of the rights to name their own workers and that responsibility could not be fixed under its operation.

Mystery Shrouds Aged Man's Death

G. A. Coulson, Greenville, Is Found Shot In Room of Hotel; Three Suspects Are Held

GREENVILLE, Feb. 15.—Officers today considered calling a special grand jury to investigate the death of Glenn A. Coulson, 60, capitalist and retired jeweler, found in his hotel room shot to death early today.

Authorities worked together to solve the mystery of the aged man's death. Three suspects are held. The condition of the room indicated that robbery might have been the motive.

A small stool hurled through a window of the Coulson apartment, fell in the street near a policeman. When the officer reached the apartment, Coulson was lying on the floor, dead. The room was in confusion as though it might have been the scene of a struggle.

Breckenridge Boy Shoots His Father

BRECKENRIDGE, Feb. 15.—(AP)—G. C. Patterson, 48, was in a hospital here today with eight bullet wounds in his body and his 18-year-old son, Raymond, was charged with assault with intent to kill.

Patterson, a filling station proprietor, was wounded with a .22 calibre rifle. A family disagreement was said to have led to the shooting.

Birds Menace To Wilkins' Flight

TALCAHUANO, Chile, Feb. 15. (AP)—Sir Hubert Wilkins, who reached here today on his return after an Antarctic air exploration from a base at Deception Island, said he had encountered an unexpected menace, aside from the anticipated cold and rough terrain in the lower southern latitudes.

"The plane on numerous occasions," he said, "was hampered by immense flocks of birds which flew into the path of the machine in such numbers that the birds were killed by the propeller. Luckily, however, the plane was not damaged."

Students Of Southwest Texas State Teachers' College File 19 Charges On Dean Of Women; Ask Removal

(By Associated Press)
SAN MARCOS, Feb. 15.—A faculty committee of the Southwest Texas State Teachers' college here tonight believed it could compromise with students, who filed 19 charges against Miss Mary C. Brogden, dean of women, today and demanded her dismissal.

The committee issued a statement saying it believed a "satisfactory solution of this unpleasantness is not far distant."

FORT WORTH, Feb. 15.—A stack of currency a foot high, more than $50,000, the prize for which Travis H. Wilson gambled with the government, and lost, was dumped on a table in Federal court while Wilson was on the stand.

Montana Rocked By Earthquake Shocks

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Slight earth tremors were reported from various parts of Great Falls tonight shortly after 8:30 o'clock. They lasted for about four seconds, rattling dishes and causing light fixtures to vibrate. No damage was reported.

Missouri Tremors Occur Shortly After 8 O'clock Were Felt Here Tonight, But No Damage Was Done

MISSOURI, Mont., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Earth tremors occurring shortly after 8 o'clock were felt here tonight, but no damage was done.

ATTEMPT IS FAILURE

Lieut. Johnson's Try For Altitude Hits Snag

WRIGHT FIELD, O., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Lieut. Harry A. Johnson's second altitude attempt within the week failed today when he was forced by engine trouble to bring his plane to earth after reaching a height of between 30,000 and 35,000 feet.

WELL IS EXTINGUISHED

Nitro Charge Snuffs Out Oil Fire At Pampa

PAMPA, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A charge of nitroglycerin was employed today to extinguish the blazing No. 1 Brown Finley well of the Marland Oil company which ignited yesterday when heavy gas flow blew tools out of the hole. The well is in section 32, block B-2.

"JAKE" CONFISCATED

Approximately Two Cases Taken In Raid Here

Approximately two cases of Jamaica ginger were confiscated here yesterday when city and county officers arrested the owner of a local confectionery store. The man was said to have been peddling "jake" although no formal charges had been filed against him up to a late hour last night.

Moody Determined To Pass Employee Order For State

Governors Declares He Will Be Able To Place Workers Under System Before He Leaves Office

Prison Bill Dated

Frank Norris Is Refused Hearing In Senate In Opposition To Racing Bill; Conflicts With Wacoan

AUSTIN, Feb. 15.—Undismayed by the house's action today in killing his civil service bill, Governor Moody said he had supreme confidence that he will be able to place state employees under the system before he leaves office.

His statement is accepted as meaning he will submit the measure again in the special session to follow the regular session.

Under civil service he would have fewer state employees competing for their employers in state-owned automobiles, and using fewer stamps belonging to the state in soliciting votes for departmental heads," the governor said.

Send Prison Message Monday

He will send his message recommending prison legislation as suggested in the bill of Senator Holbrook to the legislature Monday, he indicated. He said he had decided to withhold it until just before the session as a surprise, as the final vote almost was reversed as recorded on engrossment.

The house slowed up some. It was necessary to put on a call in order to obtain a quorum.

Speaker Barron pleaded with members to stay on the job, pointing out that there were 277 bills on his desk and that if they are to receive proper consideration during the remaining days of the session, earnest work must be resorted to.

Absentees Ordered In

After the burglar placed under call on motion of Representative Kayton of San Antonio, the sergeant-at-arms was instructed to "go through the capitol" and bring absentees in.

(By Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 15.—The leading lady of Oklahoma's political drama was left in a thrilling situation today as Governor Henry S. Johnston's impeachment trial broke off in the middle of the most intriguing story of the day, thus continuing it until next week.

Spectators left the Senate court room wondering what transpired at a conference about two years ago between Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, former confidential secretary to Johnston; George D. Key, democratic state chairman and Dr. Ernest C. Mobley, pastor of an Oklahoma City church. It was testified that the two had been delegated to persuade Mrs. Hammonds to resign her position.

Herman Walden Is Found Dead After Search Of 2 Days

Murder Charges Are Filled Soon After Discovery Of Frozen Body Near Oil-field Town

Chest Is Mangled

Vernon Donahue, Rawls Williams and Osye Jeffrey Are Named In Charges; Two Are Arrested

(By Associated Press)
VERNON, Feb. 15.—Murder charges were filed late today against Vernon Donahue, Rawls Williams and Osye Jeffrey in the death of Herman Walden, 21, whose frozen body was found today near Hilltop, oil field town east of here.

Walden had been missing since Sunday. His body, the chest mangled apparently by a shotgun charge, was found on the edge of a small stream. Snow and sleet and freezing weather had preserved the body.

Donahue and Williams were arrested here soon after the body was found. Jeffrey had not been arrested tonight.

After the body was brought here Justice of the Peace H. C. Justins returned a verdict of death from gunshot wounds. The charges were filed by District Attorney John Myers.

VERNON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The body of Herman Walden, 21, who had been the object of a search since yesterday, was found today in a shallow stream 23 miles southeast of here.

The search for the youth began when his father announced the younger Walden had disappeared and said he feared foul play.

Sunday-School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR FEB. 17, 1929
General Topic: Prayer.
Scripture Lesson, Matt. 6:5-13; Luke 18:9-14.

Lord. One of the greatest privileges of a child of God is the privilege of prayer. The Christian life is a life of prayer. So it is appropriate that we should next have a lesson on prayer.

Faith
Faith is the first condition of all access to God; the key that unlocks the temple door; the wire connecting us with the unseen divine. Over and over again Jesus lays down this condition: and not for great, exceptional petitions only, but for all prayer (cp. e. g., Matt. 21:21, 22). Prayer without faith is empty and meaningless. "Prayers are heard in heaven very much in proportion to our faith; little faith will get very great mercies, but great faith will obtain still greater." (Spurgeon).

It must, however, be faith in a personal God, who has both power to do and love that will do for us. This is why Jesus made prayer a new force, gave it a new meaning, with his revelation of God.

Adoration and Thanksgiving.
The Model Prayer (the Lord's Prayer, Matt. 6:9-13) does not begin with a petition, but with an ascription of praise. Nehemiah acknowledged the fidelity and loving kindness of God in keeping covenant with his people in the past (1:5). All we are told of Daniel's prayer is that "he gave thanks, as he did aforetime" (6:10). It is a matter of common decency that before we go asking of God, we should first thank him for benefits already received. Most men feel this, though some do not. There are, alas, "lips that say, God be merciful, that never say, God be praised."

Unselfish Prayer.
Thought for others predominating. Study Jesus' prayer in John 17. Notice the recurrence there of the pronouns "they" and "them." "I am not for myself, but for those who love me, and who have kept my commandments." "I pray for them, O Father, because of the truth which thou hast spoken of them: that they may be one, as thou and I are one." "I pray for them, O Father, because of the evil which the world hath loved, because it hated thee, thou and I."

Preserving Prayer. Luke 18:1-8. The parable of the widow and the judge, is a picture of Eastern judicial corruption and of Oriental persistence and vehemence, especially shown by the women when they are wronged. The unrighteous judge avenged the woman because of her importunity; but God is a righteous Judge, his loving heart is ever open to our cry, and we may be sure that he will avenge the wrongs of his children when they are laid before him in their earnest petitions. The parable teaches perseverance in prayer.

The Pharisee and the Publican. Luke 18:9-14. Here we have a very instructive parable of Jesus on prayer. He spoke this parable, not only about certain people, but to them. It was addressed to those who trusted in themselves that they were righteous and despised all others. They believed themselves righteous when they were not. Then they trusted in themselves rather than in God. No man can be truly righteous who trusts self rather than God. Besides, they despised all others. A self-righteous man is very apt and since he knows that he has not despised others. He looks to self as the source of his own righteousness, given righteousness to others, he thinks they do not have any.

The Pharisee's Prayer, vs. 10-12.
1. He stood and prayed with himself. Doubtless he stood in a conspicuous place where he would be observed.
2. The substance of his prayer was to thank God how good he was. He was not really praying. He was holding a conversation with himself, possibly so that others could hear. Such men loved to make a show of their praying.

The Publican's Prayer, v. 13.
1. His attitude shows his humility. He came to the temple, the place of prayer, but he stood "afar off," perhaps afraid of getting inside the temple. He did not lift up his eyes. He smote on his breast.
2. He asked for mercy. He took the place of a sinner. He may have heard the Pharisee thanking God that he was not like this publican. And so he says: "Yes, Lord, I will take the sinner's place. I know it is mine, but have mercy on me."
4. Jesus says the publican went down to his house justified rather than the Pharisee.

Constant Prayer, I Thess. 5:17.
"Pray without ceasing." Paul urged the Thessalonian Christians. Of course, we are to do much besides pray, as Christ did, and as Paul did; and yet we are to pray incessantly. "Prayer," says Montgomery, "is the Christian's vital breath." "In God's sight a man's prayers are not the utterance of his lips, but the active endeavors of his will. The requests of his mouth matter little, the bent of his life counts for everything."

Daniel's Prayer Life.
"The secret of Daniel's greatness was just his life of prayer. By keeping his windows open toward Jerusalem, he was enabled to see his life from the divine point of view. When he looked out upon life, his eyes were set in the direction of his God."
"Daniel maintained his right frontage systematically. He went into the quiet of his own room. He opens his window toward the west. He had stated hours for spiritual exercise—he did it three times a day. He did not pray in a hurried, scamping way, his mind distracted by a score of competing interests. He knelt upon his knees, his very posture deepening his sense of the sacredness of what he was doing."
The greatest need of our churches today is men and women of faith and prayer—people of spiritual power. Such a condition comes only by spiritual communion with God.

LUBBOCK WOMAN IS GLAD THAT SHE FOUND IT

Says Her Troubles Disappeared After Taking One Bottle Of Orgatone

"I was in a generally run-down condition and couldn't digest a thing I ate hardly, before I started taking Orgatone, but now I can sit down and eat three square meals a day and enjoy them and am gaining in weight every day I live," is the statement of Mrs. R. Wynn, residing at 2012 Ninth St., Lubbock, Texas, the other day.

"I was all run-down in general and was so nervous that I couldn't get but very little rest at night. I was awfully constipated and everything I took to relieve it just helped me for a little while and I was worse than ever after awhile. I didn't have any appetite at all, and what food I had to cram down me just worried the life out of me, because I didn't digest it properly. A friend of mine recommended Orgatone to me so highly and told me what it had done for them, so I thought it would benefit me and I gave it a trial.

"Well, Sir, I feel a hundred percent better in every way since I finished that first bottle of Orgatone. Why, I can just eat like a farm hand and I have already gained in both weight and strength. I began to pick up my strength and to improve after the first few doses I took and now I can go to the table three times a day and enjoy the biggest meal put before me as well as any woman. When I go to bed at night I can drop off right away and sleep like a healthy baby and when I get up in the morning I feel full of life and energy as I ever did in my life. Orgatone is the only thing that is responsible for the remarkable improvement in me, and I gladly recommend it to anyone suffering from a general run-down condition like I was. I am sure glad that I found it when I did."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowens Drug Store under the personal direction of the special Orgatone representative.

Purity Comes First In Bakery Goods

PURE ingredients in bread make for health and happiness. Children do better school work and are more active and energetic for eating our wonderful bread. Mothers are better able to do the housework without tiring. Father has more reserve energy to think and work more efficiently the whole day through.

See for yourself just how we keep our bakery. You will be surprised at the variety of bakery goodies we make. Just the things for your bridge party, dinner or other engagements.

Immigration Men Visit In Lubbock

Federal Agents On Tour Of Section In Search Of Undesirable Mexicans; To Deport Criminals

Two United States immigration inspectors were in Lubbock yesterday, checking up on the undesirable, criminal type Mexicans, in an effort at learning whether or not many of this nationality enter this country across the Rio Grande illegally, and to get as complete a check as possible on the element that violates the laws of this country.

"We have found that it is the Mexican who has been born in this country that makes the worst criminal," said Inspector N. D. Collier, of El Paso, assistant superintendent of the Twenty-Fifth Immigration district. "This fact makes it difficult for immigration authorities, sometimes, to deal with them."

Inspector C. C. Courtney, of Marfa, declared that only until the past few years has it become necessary for immigration officers to make trips into this section, or very many miles from the Mexican border, to deal with the influx of Mexicans who have increased so rapidly they are spreading northward with great rapidity.

The two inspectors left yesterday for Amarillo and are on a tour of all West Texas, Mexicans whom they find to be in this country illegally, but who have certain criminal records, are deported. While here a number of Mexicans confined to the county jail were examined. Since last July, the inspectors stated, that 8,000 Mexicans have been deported from this country across the Rio Grande.

COMPLETE DETAILS

Lubbock National Becomes County Depository

The Lubbock National bank yesterday pledged securities of $150,000 in $100,000 of Liberty bonds and $50,000 of Joint Land Stock Bank stock, of San Antonio, and completed the necessary details to make it the county depository. The bank was awarded the county depository contract at a meeting of the county commissioners last Monday, being the only bank making a bid for it, offering 2 per cent interest on the average daily deposits of the county.

In case the county should exceed the $150,000 security made by the bank, in its deposits, then the bank will increase its pledge to the amount necessary.

San Angelo Seeks 1930 Cattle Meet

(Special To The Avalanche)

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 15.—Not content with making circular letters addressed to every member of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association seeking support for the "San Angelo in 1930" movement, stockmen of this section have been organized into a committee of "minute men," which will undertake to write personal letters to every acquaintance in the association asking their aid in bringing 1930's session to the Concho country.

Slaton Auction Scheduled Again

(Special To The Avalanche)

SLATON, Feb. 15.—A free farmers' auction sale will be held in Slaton, Monday, February 18, according to Horace Hawkins, president of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, which organization has made the arrangements. All kinds of farm equipment will be sold at auction without charge to any farmer. Mr. Hawkins said, "The first sale of this kind was held January 21, proving very successful and beneficial to the farmers, it was declared."

MAN TO RETURN

Extradition Is Honored On J. A. Hightower

CORSICANA, Feb. 15.—J. H. Hightower, indicted here several weeks ago for bigamy, will be returned to Texas immediately from Oklahoma, it was announced today by Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse. He said he had received a message that acting Governor Holloway of Oklahoma had honored Governor Dan Moody's extradition paper, and the sheriff would leave this afternoon for Wewoka, Okla., to return the prisoner.

He succeeds John H. Markham, jr., Tulsa, president of the Petroleum Securities Corporation, who resigned as director.

THANK YOU, JUDGE

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Far be it from Magistrate John V. Flood of the Essex Market Court to disappoint anyone who wants time in jail. Dan Morgan was charged with intoxication. "You look shaky still," said the judge, "how about five days in the workhouse?" "Make it ten," was Morgan's request. "You see it'll take that long to get this poison out of my system," Higgins agreed.

Requires 5 Years War Vet Completes Chess Table

MILLFORD, Ala., Feb. 15. (AP)

A chess table five years in the making and containing 72 varieties of wood has been completed by George L. Hathaway and is on exhibition here.

Hathaway, a war veteran, who has spent most of the past 10 years in government hospitals, traveled 25,000 miles in collecting material for his work, which he has named "The American Memorial Table."

In addition to the wood, shells from Catalina Islands, New Orleans, Atlantic City and the Great Lakes were used. Stones from Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, are inlaid on each leg.

Phoenix Man Re-Elected As Chairman Of Section

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 15. (AP)—R. Winfred Wylie of Phoenix, was re-elected to the chairmanship of the sectional conference of the American College of Surgeons, meeting here yesterday, at which delegates were present from New Mexico, Texas and Arizona. Dr. John T. Moore of Houston, was named head of the executive committee of this state. Dr. W. Burton Thorning of Houston was elected secretary for Texas.

PIANO ACTS AS ALARM

BROOKLYN, Feb. 15. (AP)—Two boys attempted to rob an automobile piano in the ice cream parlor of Joseph Horne. On breaking open the coin-container the machine started to play. Two policemen, walking outside, thought it strange that jazz music should be coming out of the store at 3 o'clock in the morning. They captured the boys.

GEOLOGY DEPARTMENT MOVES

The Geology and Paleontology department was moved from its old location on the third floor of the old administration building to the third floor of the Chemistry building yesterday afternoon. Several students were employed in making the move. Beginning Monday all classes in this department will be held in the new building. All science departments will be in the Chemistry building soon.

MATH CLUB MEET SUCCESSFUL

A large attendance at the Math club meeting Thursday night displayed the evidence that people are becoming more interested in that part of the sciences than is supposed. Lonnie Langston, one of the young professors of the department, made a talk on "The Maximum (whatever that is—Equation and Its Relation to the Circle." Zelma Zeeman made a talk on "The Maximum and Minimum Problems with Isosceles and Equilateral Triangles." Professor Heineman gave an illustration of the Chinese method of multiplying numbers. A short business session followed the program.

CORRECTS PROOFS OF BOOK

Prof. W. R. Wagborne has recently finished correcting the first set of the proofs of the color work for his new book "The Rhythmic Orchestra," which will make this elemental presentation of music an interesting study instead of tedious necessity.

The Otto Zimerman company of Cincinnati, who are the publishers, have already spent well over $5,000 in developing the text. They have prepared 35 special charts of soft zinc plates for illustrations as well as elaborate charts.

Mr. Wagborne has also received copies of his two recent compositions "The Hymn of the Seraphim," for soprano solo, c.orus, organ and harp, and "Dem Dreieigen." The text of which is written in German.

The Forum is entertaining this afternoon in the Chert Casa parlors with a bridge and forty-two party. Several hundred girls have already signified their intentions of coming to the entertainment. The party is to be given for all of the Tech girls and the secretaries. A Washington's birthday motif will be used in the tallies and score pads.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Havana-bound vacationists are being tempted with offers of three competitive steamship lines. The Ward line offers reduced rates, the Cunard line offers trans-Atlantic service, including a bar. The Spanish Royal Mail line offers free wine, among which are the Jerez Dulce sherry and Spanish champagne. And, they say, the glasses are filled until the consumer says "enough."

Abilene Invites 700 Bankers To District Meeting

(Special To The Avalanche)

ABILENE, Feb. 15.—Invitations have been sent to over 700 bankers in the Seventh District of Texas for the Texas Bankers association, asking them to attend the annual district meeting here February 22.

The "Flying Squadron," a delegation of 76 eastern and large Texas city bankers, traveling on a special train will attend the meeting here, coming from Brownwood, where the Sixth District convention will be held on February 21.

Lee is Feature Speaker
Josh Lee, noted orator of the University of Oklahoma, will be one of the featured speakers of the meeting which will be held in the city hall auditorium, beginning at 10:00 a. m. Registration of the convention visitors will be at the Hilton Hotel in charge of B. L. Ellis.

District 6 extends westward from Fort Worth to the state line and north from the south line of Taylor county to the Oklahoma boundary.

The berries of yew trees are not poisonous, but the seed contains a noxious element which makes the berry unfit to eat.

BEWARE OF DIETS WITHOUT BULK

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Will Protect You

People are more careful than ever before about diet. They diet to clear complexions. They avoid certain foods to stay thin. They eat others to get fat. But many are running a serious danger because they are missing the "roughage" or "bulk" foods that every person must have to keep well.

As a result, constipation gets in its deadly work. Headaches, listlessness, circled eyes are only the first symptoms. In the end, constipation ruins health, wrecks beauty and may cause serious disease.

Don't neglect your daily roughage. That is nature's rule. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will supply it. A healthful cereal to eat each day. To use in cooked dishes or to serve with milk or cream. To mix with other cereals.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation—to prevent it. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. It is 100% bran. Doctors recommend it. Your grocer sells it. Served by hotels, restaurants, dining cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

YOUR
by Olive Roberts Barton
©1928 by NEA Service, Inc.

When a child starts to school his health is a matter of interest to his parents, his teachers, and to the community in general.

His parents want to keep him well so that he won't get behind in his lessons. His teacher wants him to be well for the same reason plus the complication it causes in her work when he stays away.

But how about the pre-school child—the child under six? Is he getting the attention he should have? Without the incentive of school, is the world in general as interested in him as in his older brother — not sentimentally, but economically?

It is the concensus of opinion that it is not.

There are baby-clinics without number. There is scarcely a hospital or settlement-house that does not have a special department for babies. Mothers can go with their infants and have them weighed and examined every so often, and take lessons themselves in feeding and caring for them.

Babies Safe, But—
Thus, the babies, it would appear, are safe also.

But that still excludes the child between two and six.

It is doubly serious, this gap in child welfare, because these four years are what may be called physical formative years; besides they are the harvest time of most of the communicable children's diseases.

As usual prevention is better than cure. Second best is early treatment.

There is a crying need for more clinics for children of pre-school age, where mothers can go for advice and help, and for medical treatment when they cannot afford a doctor.

Dallas Expects Rotary Meeting To Be Big Affair

DALLAS, Feb. 15. (AP)—One of the most representative international gatherings ever held is expected in Dallas on May 27-31, inclusive, the dates for the Rotary International. Circulars urging Rotarians to attend the meetings are being distributed by official delegations of the various nations having Rotary affiliations.

The greatest number of foreign representatives are expected from European countries, where local officials of the organization have been advised "do 'do' Dallas" is the popular slogan being used to encourage members to the Texas city.

Official delegations from Europe are scheduled to leave Southampton on the S. S. Mauretania on May 11. This aggregation will be made up of Rotarians from England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Belgium, Austria, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Hungary, Italy, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain and Sweden.

How to Achieve Beauty

Hundreds and hundreds of years ago beautiful women were caring for their feet in a way which would seem extraordinary to our modern careless young women.

Next rub a little cream on your hands and massage it well into the soles and toes of your feet. Do not neglect the little spaces in between the toes, for many a case of sore feet has had its base in the sensitive tissues between the toes. Next file or cut your toe nails to the required length. Be sure to finish them off smoothly. If you have calluses, rub a little pumice stone over them until they are smoothed down. Be sure to use cream around the base of the nails so that the cuticle doesn't become hard or broken.

BUILD FINE TRACK

Del Rio Kennel Club Is To Open Dog Races Soon

MERCEDES, Feb. 15. (AP)—What is claimed to be one of the finest dog race tracks on the Texas-Mexican border is to be opened soon by the Del Rio Kennel club at Rio Rico, Mexico, six miles south of Mercedes. More than 200 dogs already are at the track.

The race course is raised six feet and grandstand elevated ten feet, making the entire track visible. Betting booths are located under the stand. There will be free bridge toll and free admission to the grand stand.

WALES VISITS FATHER Prince Pays First Visit At Seaside Resort

BOGNOR, Sussex, Eng., Feb. 15. (AP)—The Prince of Wales today paid his royal father his first visit since the latter's removal last week to Craigwell House. He found the King doing well in his new quarters, despite the cold weather handicap. The official report his condition remained satisfactory.

REEDSBURG, Wis., Feb. 15. —

Because she failed to take down the flag in the school yard, Evelyn Jackson, 12, a pupil in Kelly school, was made to wear a sign around her neck which read "I am not a good citizen." Miss Jackson, in bringing suit through her father against her teacher, Kenneth Scon, charged that snow and ice made it difficult to take down the flag and that the flag had been left up on numerous occasions. The suit called for damages of $20,000.

For Aches and Pains That Accompany Colds

When you feel those chilly sensations, aching back and limbs, or neuralgic pains, take a dose of Capidine at once. Being liquid, it acts almost instantly, giving quick and delightful relief from the aches and pains. The prompt use of Capidine often breaks up the cold. If there is fever or pain in the chest, send for your physician.

The thing to fight in bad colds and flu is congestion. You will find Capidine effective for this purpose, and will be delighted with the comfort it affords. Millions have used Capidine with satisfactory results. Sold at drug stores.—30c and 60c sizes. (adv.)

The Woman's Day

By Allene Sumner

Women are more interested in persons, and men are more interested in material things—houses, money in the bank, better and bigger jobs, investments, golf clubs. This, according to Dr. F. A. Moses, professor of psychology at George Washington university, has just completed a series of psychological tests on men and women, aimed to point out various sex differences.

He discovers that women are mentally a bit more developed than men; that women excel in matters of social tact and in accuracy of observation of human behavior.

PEOPLE AND THINGS

Men, on the other hand, have a greater variety of interests, women specializing on the personal men, on the impersonal and material.

He points out that women commit suicide mainly for love, and men over business matters.

No one, whether he knows anything about psychology or not, can argue with these findings, if he has observed men and women at all. This fact of woman's interest in the world of personal human emotions, and man's in the material and impersonal, makes one wonder that there isn't more human misery than is from very sex misunderstanding.

PROOF IN NEWS

In the day's news, for instance, is the tragic story of former District Attorney J. E. Kirkbride of Boulder, Col., who killed his wife and himself "as an act of mercy," as he explained in a farewell note. He had lost his job, he explained, and life was "valueless" to him; it is very probable that if he had set the facts of his business failure before his wife she would have assured him that to her, at least, it didn't matter, her death for lack of material possession was his choice, a male choice, not hers.

FLAT WIENERS

A couple of midwest gentlemen have invented a flat hot dog. They ballyhoo its advantages as non-skidding, lying flat on the bun, easier to dab with mustard and offering more of a hang-hold to the teeth. Now that the flat wiener is an actuality, we wonder why its obvious need wasn't felt long before. We humans go on and on, taking for granted that wieners must be round until one day the genius decides on the flat brand, and the rest of us who see the dollar being minted wonder why we never thought of that ourselves.

Still, will a flat wiener take the place of the round one, at that? Traditional forms are rather hard to part with.

MODERN HOPE

Little Margaret Brown green, of Perry, Kan., was kept alive for 11 days by firemen of Topeka, Kan., welding a resuscitating machine. This is the sort of thing which makes one wonder if "the good old days" were so infinitely superior to those of the present. Even if resuscitating machines had been known a generation ago, one wonders if the attempt to keep life would have gone on for 11 days. Perhaps not because human kindness was any less then, so much as that the possibility of success would have been too remote. Today we believe in the possibility of anything; science has given us that courage.

IT'S PAY DAY

BROOKLYN, Feb. 15.—Two and a half years ago George Sabel was married—also he was penniless and out of a job. Down on his luck he left his wife with a six-months-old baby. Now George is the prosperous proprietor of a women's apparel shop at Jamaica, Queens, and his wife has brought suit for overdue payments to the family budget.

MILBANEY'S CREAMERY BUTTER

Made From The Richest Milk Under The Most Sanitary Conditions

From an economical standpoint you will probably find out, as I have, that to give your toe nails constant care will prevent them from wearing out the toes of your stockings. Long or unkempt toe nails cause more "rums" than anything else I know of.

We have to take the question of comfort into consideration, too. Neatly-clipped nails seem to fit much more comfortably inside modern shoes than those of an awkward and ungainly length. And in growing toe nails are largely a matter of improper foot care. You don't need very special implements for satisfactory pedicure. A nail clipper is a pleasant thing to possess. Short stout pedicure scissors are quite essential. A good, strong file has a distinct place in this equipment, and then for the corrective implements of pedicure, we must not neglect pumice stone, corn plasters, and a softening, lubricating cream.

Upsets Feature Opening Round Of County Cage Finals

Massachusetts Boxing Commission To Name Referee For Miami Beach Fight

The action of the members of the Southwestern Conference in making other dates for their final game of the season than Thanksgiving day in order that the Texas-A. and M. game be given the spotlight, is commendable in many respects. Athletic councils of S. M. U., Rice Institute, T. C. U. and Baylor have arranged their schedules so that the annual battle between these rivals may hold undisputed sway on Turkey day in Texas. Under the plan as given, T. C. U. and Baylor will meet November 23, Rice and S. M. U., November 30, 1920 and this will give these schools an opportunity to book a game with the Arkansas Razorbacks.

Thus the action that was taken several weeks ago at a meeting in Dallas when it was suggested that the other schools in the league arrange their schedules so that the Longhorn-Aggie tilt would be the outstanding attraction of Thanksgiving Day and all interest would be centered around it, has been ratified. Throughout the years, the battle on each Thanksgiving Day between the Aggies and Longhorns has been the classic of the season. Intense rivalry exists between the two schools, and each considers the season successful if this one big game is held. Next season will be pitted two coaches who have met on the Aggie and Longhorn.

Matty Bell goes to A. and M. with a splendid record behind him, is facing an altogether different situation from the one from which he comes. A strictly male student body with an altogether different code of ethics around the campus and athletic field, will put the former champion in a new atmosphere. Contrary to the general opinion, football material at A. and M. is not so plentiful as the average person thinks. The fact that there are more than 2,000 young men in the institution does not mean that there is a wealth of football material there. Southwestern Conference coaches are on the lookout for trained football players, and the one that gets the pick of the high school stars has the inside track. Madison Bell likely left more football material behind him at T. C. U. than he will find at A. and M. But he will find a student body that is one per cent strong for the Aggie football team. That A. and M. spirit cannot be expected in any school in the country. Ofttimes the Farmers are called hard losers, but in most instances, the entire student body is so instilled with the desire to win, that defeat is a bitter dose.

East met West in El Paso last night when the Athens Hornets met the strong El Paso Tigers in the first of a two-game series. After playing a game in Fort Worth Thursday night, the favorites for the state championship, which appeared here recently, journeyed across the state in a special pullman, accompanied by a group of hometown enthusiasts. In 1921, El Paso won the state championship at Austin, with Andy Cohen, present second baseman with the New York Giants, as one of its stars. Cohen is at present in El Paso with his teammate and buddy, Francis Hogan, first string catcher of the New York Nationals. The New York stars recently wound up a vaudeville tour together and have stopped off in Cohen's home town for a visit before joining the McGraw clan in San Antonio where they will rather within training.

Coach Frank Bridges has practically clinched the rag in the Texas Conference basketball chase. The Southwestern Pirates have a mathematical chance to cop the title, but their chance is sliver thin. The Cowboys have only to win one of their two remaining games to win the championship, and they are likely to do this very thing when they meet Southwestern and St. Edwards on Saturday and Monday nights, respectively. The Simmons cagers have urged the stalling game effectively this season, much to the disgust of the basketball fans, but undoubtedly could have won with Bridges was to have appeared here with his Cowhorns February 25, but a conflict with other entertainment at the Tech gymnasium caused the tilt to be called off.

WILDCATS SCORE WIN
Loboes Go Down 33 to 28 In Rain Of Personals

ABILENE, Feb. 15. (AP)—Abilene Christian college scored its first victory in the T. I. A. A. basketball race tonight, defeating the Sul Ross Loboes from Alpine, 33 to 28. Twenty-four personal fouls were assessed the visitors, the Christians realizing 13 points from the resulting free throws.

Lubbock And Monroe, Favorites In Meet, Are Downed By Slaton And Idalou Quintets In Hard Games

Wildcats Nose Out Monroe Five, 23 to 22; Overconfidence Spells Defeat For Westerners

Upsets featured the first round of the county basketball rivals which began Friday afternoon at the Tech gymnasium. Favored to win their opening contests with little trouble, the favorites in the Class A finals, Lubbock and Monroe, were not out by Slaton and Idalou respectively in bitterly fought games. The scores were Monroe 22; Idalou 23; Lubbock 18; Slaton 21. Losing their first start in the tournament, both Lubbock and Monroe are practically eliminated, although they appear in two more games. Both are ceded a mathematical chance to stay in the running, but their possibilities are slim.

Air Tight Defense
Playing brilliant defensive basketball, neither team was able to get their scoring machinery started, the score standing 4-4 at the end of the first quarter. The same nip and tuck battle waged on through the second stanza, with Monroe holding a slight edge in team-play, and at the halfway mark, the score was still knotted 6-6.

The Monroe cagers, realizing that they had a fight on their hands, came back in the second half with a stinger attack, but were met with an equally aggressive Idalou aggregation, which counted 15 points while Monroe scored 14. The Monroe sharpshooters, who have dealt misery with their accurate shooting all season, missed shot after shot under the strain of the championship tilt.

Letsinger of Monroe was high point in this first contest, counting 12, while his nearest rival was Perry of Idalou, who accounted for 8 points. Defensive play of Yarbrough and Weaver of Idalou was outstanding.

Overconfidence Loss
A severe case of overconfidence meant disaster for Lubbock High in the second game of the meet. Favored to win over the Slaton Tigers by a decisive score, the Westerners took the floor cocksure and confident, only to be turned back in the final stages by a wide-awake quintet.

Coach Wright's basketekers must have brought some sort of jinx along when they made the trip to Lubbock for crisp shots and numerous open shots which looked like sure baskets rolled off the hoop when the Lubbock score was concerned. The locals missed enough easy shots in the last frame to have handed the Bengals a sound trouncing.

But not until the final minutes of the game did the Morganmen take things seriously, but then it was too late. With a frenzied high school student body pleading for a rally, the Westerners fought desperately for an opening to score but were repulsed.

Locals Led At Half
Lubbock was leading 10 to 9 at the half and came back with a slightly different lineup that functioned effectively for a spell, but the old scoring eye was blurred. Lubbock, for crisp shots and numerous open shots, scored five of the 8 points counted by the locals in the last half, but his mates were not there.

Free throws proved to be the undoing of the locals.

PORKERS DOWN OWLS
Arkansas Continues March Toward Flag, 51 to 18

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 15. (AP)—Arkansas university continued its triumphant march toward a fourth consecutive southwest conference basketball title by subduing the Rice Institute Owls, 51 to 18, here tonight. The score at the half was 24 to 11.

Texas Leaguers Meet Sunday In Dallas To Decide On Playing Schedule For Coming Season

DALLAS, Feb. 15. (AP)—Texas League club owners are to meet here Sunday to consider playing schedules for the coming season and adopt one if it is satisfactory, it was announced today.

Since President J. Doak Roberts, who usually draws up the schedules, has been ill in bed for seven weeks, the meeting was called for Sunday by Alvin Gardner and Fred Ankenman, presidents, respectively, of the Ankenman and Houston clubs.

Jackrabbits Win Crosby Cage Title

Special To The Avalanche
RALLS, Feb. 15. (AP)—Jackrabbits defeated the Lorenzo Hornets, 38 to 12, in the final game of the Crosby county tournament here tonight to win the championship of the county.

Peyre, substitute forward, led the Rabbits in scoring with 21 points. Coach Lovorn used a number of his second stringers in the game tonight as several members of the regular team had not returned from the Floydada meet.

Gray carried off scoring honors for the losers with 6 points to his credit.

Porkers Complete Football Schedule

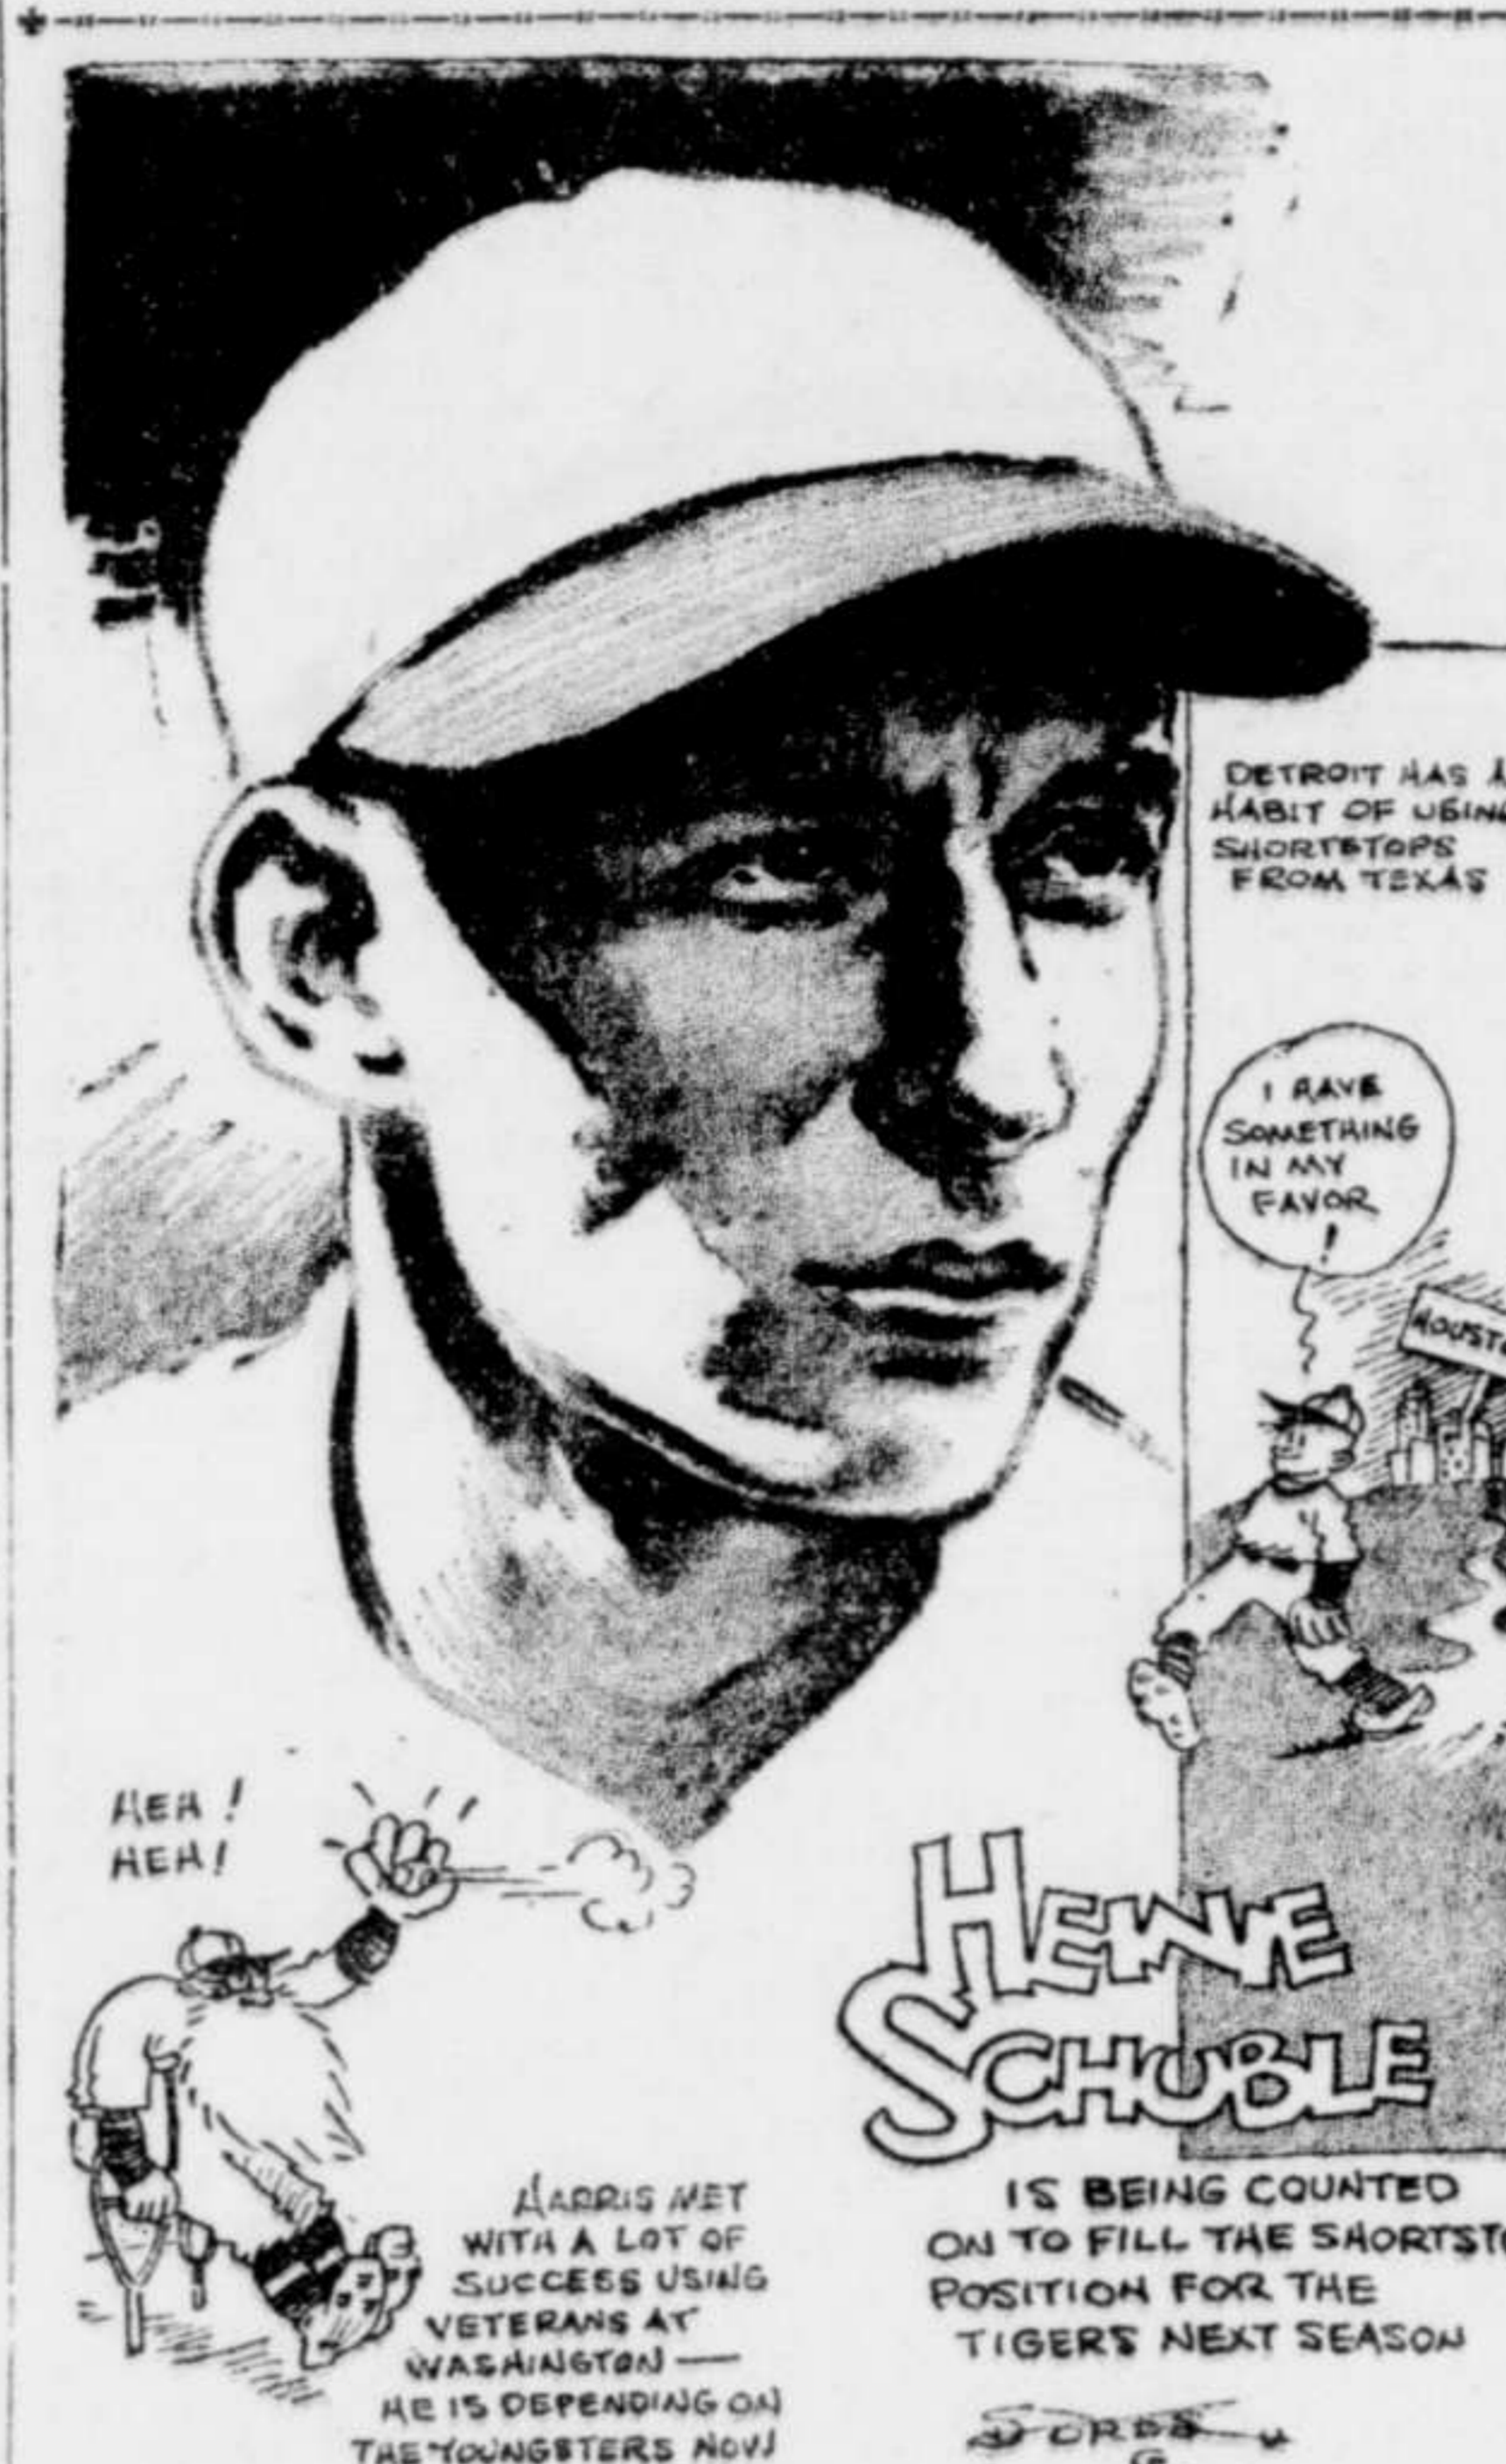

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 15. (AP)—Arkansas university completed its nine-game football schedule for the 1920 season by signing to meet the East Central Teachers College of Ada, Okla., here November 9.

Only three Southwest Conference foes appear on the Razorbacks' schedule, Texas University, Baylor University and Texas A. and M. college. Although they were notified at the last conference meeting they should sign at least four conference games in order to be in the running for the championship.

Penick, chairman of the Southwest conference, said tonight it is his impression Arkansas was instructed to book at least four conference games.

MISS HICKS CAPS TITLE
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 15. (AP)—With an early lead, Miss Helen Hicks, 18, today won a 6 and 5 victory over Mrs. John Arenz, of Chicago, to win the annual Miami women's championship golf tournament.

Levelland Highway Meeting Postponed

Because of the fact that a number of unsolved problems are confronting the people of the Levelland vicinity, it was deemed advisable that the meeting scheduled to be held at that city Thursday night between citizens from Lubbock county and those from Levelland, the meeting was postponed.

Charles F. Neall, chairman of the Lubbock county good roads organization, announced yesterday that a later date would be arranged and that representatives from every community along the route proposed from this city to the New Mexico border, by way of Levelland, would be asked.

Sunshine Greeted New York Giants In First Workout

Scores Of Athletes Appear For First Time As McGraw Clan Starts Training In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 15. (AP)—Sunshine greeted the New York Giants in their initial workout for the spring baseball training season here today when, under the leadership of assistant manager and coach, Ray Schalk and Bert Niehoff, about a score of athletes appeared for the first time this season in the flames.

Among the first of the Giants in action were pitchers Larry Benton, Henry Boney, Joe Genewich, Frank "Dutch" Henry, Carl Hubbell, Floyd Johnson, Harry Kelley, Warren "Curly" Ogden, Fred Fitzsimmons, John Scott, and Herbert Pyle, the latter a Texas boy from Karnes City, whom the Giants purchased from the Chattanooga Southern association club last fall; Catchers Francis Hogan, Jack Cummings and Joe Wirtz, infielders Johnny Kavanaugh, a rookie, Baxter Jordan, and Outfielder Art Veltman.

Miami Tournament Is Started Friday

MIAMI, Texas, Feb. 15. (AP)—Shamrock, Pampa and Miami High schools won their games in the district basketball tournament which opened here today. Shamrock won the most overwhelming victory, defeating White Deer, 40 to 1. Miami eliminated Mobeetie, 29 to 21, and Pampa downed Turkey, 27 to 13.

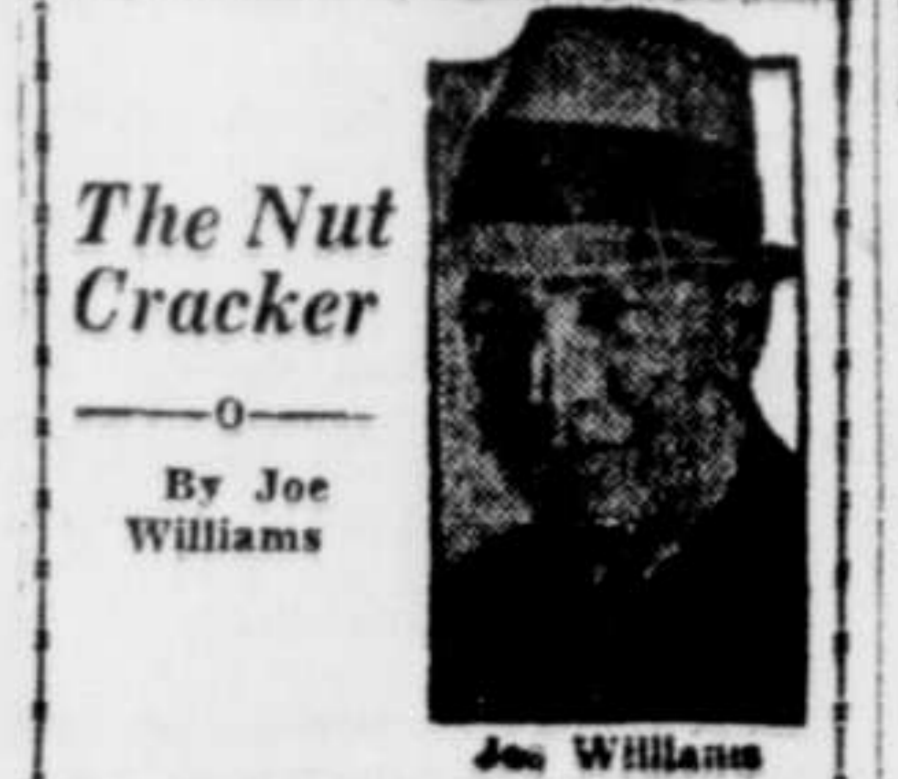

Rabbits Training For District Go

RALLS, Feb. 15. (AP)—Cheered by the winning of a two-game series over the Canyon High Eagles Wednesday and Thursday nights and the victory trophy and gold footballs won at the Floydada tournament last week, Coach Froggie Lovorn's Jackrabbit cagers have settled down to a period of intensive training for the coming district championship game.

Dope has it that the Jackrabbits will meet the Lubbock High Westerners in the district title game. The two teams are evenly matched, having broken even in the two games played. If anything the Jackrabbits edge over Lubbock as the Westerners lost to Monroe and split with Canyon, whereas the Jackrabbits won from both teams.

Maybe Miller wasn't loitering, however. He may have been lost in thought over the Babe's new contract.

Add this to your smiles, "as important as a rumor of internal warfare in the United States Lawn Tennis association."

That reminds us. What is Bill Tilden this week, a professional, an amateur or what? Answer: This week, boys and girls, Mr. Tilden is an amateur. Tra, la, la, la! Tra, la, la la!

WINS WAY TO FINALS

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 15. (AP)—Jack Ryerson, of Cooperstown, N. Olton Wins Lamb County Cage Title

(Special To The Avalanche)
OLTON, Feb. 15.—Olton high school won the basketball championship of Lamb county here yesterday when Coach Tillman Carter's cagers defeated the Littlefield quintet 9 to 8 in the final game of the tournament. Although the locals displayed marked superiority over Littlefield in team-play, individual performance gave them the edge over their rivals.
 Denis and Dickson, Olton forwards, were outstanding for the winners while Captain Fox of Littlefield was the individual star for the losers. Fox is one of the fastest forwards produced here in many years.
 Other teams entered in the meet were: Sudan, Amherst, Spring Lake Class B champions, and Fielder.

PIANO ACTS AS ALARM
BROOKLYN, Feb. 15. (AP)—Two boys attempted to rob an automobile piano—the nickel-in-the-slot kind—in the ice cream parlor of Joseph Horne. On breaking open the coin-container the machine started to play. Two policemen, walking outside, thought it strange that late music should be coming out of the store at 3 o'clock in the morning. They captured the boys.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Havana-bound vacationists are being tempted with offers of three competitive steamship lines. The Ward line offers reduced rates, the Cunard line offers trans-Atlantic service, including a bar. The Spanish Royal Mail line offers free wine, among which are the Jerez, Dulce sherry and Spanish champagne. And, they say, the glasses are filled until the consumer says "enough."

After Ten Years Defense Forces Move To Release I. W. W. Men Imprisoned After Armistice Day Riots

By JOSEPH CORBETT
 Staff Correspondent for Central Press and The Avalanche
SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 15.—Out of prison before Armistice day, 1920! This is the slogan of defense forces that are planning a liberation rally at Tacoma, March 10, in behalf of eight men behind the bars in Walla Walla penitentiary as a result of the Armistice day tragedy at Centralia, Wash., in 1919.
 Four American Legion paraders—Warren O. Grimm, Arthur McElfresh, Dale Hubbard and Ben Casagrande—were shot to death by members of the Industrial Workers of the World.

Attacked Jail
 "They attacked our jail before a shot was fired," declared the lumber workers in extenuation.
 "If you were only defending your hall, why is it that paraders were shot down by sharpshooters concealed on a distant hill? Those are not the actions of honest men defending their property from a supposed attack," say those who take the opposing position.
 Seven Industrial Workers—Britt Smith, Eugene Barnett, Bert Bland, Ray Becker, O. C. Bland, James McInerney and John Lamb were sentenced to prison for 25 to 40 years on conviction for second degree murder. An eighth defendant, Loren Roberts, was adjudged insane and committed to the ward for the criminally insane at Walla Walla.
 Another Industrial Worker Wesley Everest, was lynched by a mob that stormed the Centralia jail on that mad Armistice night in 1919, when heavily armed possemen patrolled the streets and everyone looked askance at his neighbor.
 Everest himself was a war veteran, although a member of the Industrial Workers, it is asserted by those individuals and organizations that are seeking liberty for the imprisoned men.

THANK YOU, JUDGE
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Far be it from Magistrate John V. Flood of the Essex Market Court to disappoint anyone who wants time in jail. Dan Morgan was charged with intoxication. "You look shaky still," said the judge, "how about five days in the workhouse?" "Make it ten," was Morgan's request. "You see it'll take that long to get this poison out of my system," Hizzoner agreed.

Convicts Take Steps
 Central labor councils of Tacoma, Seattle and other cities have taken steps for the release of the prisoners. Although the bulk of the legion officially is on record as opposed to their release until they are eligible for parole, one post at Leavenworth Wash., has taken contrary action of a similar nature to that adopted by the labor bodies.
 Seven of the twelve jurors in the case have signed affidavits asserting that prejudice and other improper factors played a part in their verdict. The presence of armed troops on the courthouse lawn, leading some of their number to believe that the government had seen fit to protect them from further "wobbly" outrages, influenced them in their verdict, say several jurymen.

Smith Leads Work
 Elmer Smith, an attorney, and himself an acquitted defendant in the trial, is one of the leading figures in the campaign for release.
 "Four powerful defense committees are working in close co-operation to bring home to everyone in the state of Washington the truth about the Armistice day tragedy of 1919," Smith told the Central Press correspondent. "We will battle on with all our energy until the truth shall rise triumphant, until fathers, mothers and children are again united after the terrible nightmare of the past nine years."
 Recently a magazine of national circulation published a report that Eugene Barnett had been released. Barnett, it is asserted, was sitting unharmed and peacefully in a hotel lobby at the time of the parade and was dragged into the defense net only because he was a member of the Industrial Workers.

Reports Erroneous
 The magazine report and a report of similar trend as carried by a labor news service, proved erroneous. Barnett is still in prison but quiet intimations have been forthcoming from parole board members to defense workers that Barnett probably will be the first man whose release will be recommended to the governor.
 Representatives from the various groups that have been showing a renewed interest in the Centralia case will gather at the Tacoma sessions. One plan that will be recommended will be the widespread circulation of petitions urging release.
 This course already has been undertaken in Centralia itself, defense groups report, and 2,000 signatures obtained in that little city.
 Until the men are released by parole or serve their minimum time, the campaign for liberation promises to be kept alive.

So maybe, surmises the doctor, Einstein also will clarify himself in due season.

Then perhaps his theory will look as simple as Newton's law does now.

However, we must remember that that law of Newton's isn't really a law, either—only a theory, and under attack, too.

Einstein attacks it, for one—with reams of mysterious mathematics.

"There's likewise a theory," supplemented Dr. Bowie, "that things are not held in place by a pull, but kept in place by a push—that the pressure of a cosmic bombardment prevents my desk, for instance, from flying off into space."

"In the past," reflected the doctor, considering the proposition from another angle, "we have been in the habit of regarding everything about us in accordance with the evidence afforded to us by our five senses."

"I can't say as to a layman," replied Dr. Bowie, "but if I may speak as a scientist (I'm accepted as such by a considerable number of learned societies), my answer is that I haven't been able to get the slightest inkling as to what he's driving at."

Yet in the next breath the doctor related that story about Newton.

It seems that Isaac's mathematical formula was a new one on the wise men of his time, and until he worked the problem out for them in a longer way, but in figures they could understand—"Why!" said Dr. Bowie, "they thought he was crazy."

On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

SCIENTIST BAFFLED BY EINSTEIN THEORY By CHARLES P. STEWART Washington Correspondent for Central Press and The Avalanche

ASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—For quite a while after the apple beamed Isaac Newton's theory of gravitation was considered as nutty an idea as many folks of today consider the Einstein theory of relativity.

I quote Dr. William Bowie, head of the geodesy division of the U. S. coast and geodetic survey: "I had consulted the doctor as the likeliest savant in Washington to explain relativity to me. All I knew was that the theory is infinitely mathematical. Geodesy is superlatively mathematical science, and Dr. Bowie is the world's highest authority on it."

"Doctor," I asked, humbly, "is it possible for an ignorant layman to get any glimmering of a notion of what Professor Einstein is driving at?"

ORCHID

CHAPTER XLVIII Ashtoreth sat on the couch. She was very quiet, and she did not cry. Her heart, she thought, was broken. She even told herself that something within her had died.

After a few minutes, she took Monty's letter from behind Hollis' picture on her dressing table, and read it again, slowly.

It was dated four A. M. and began "Dear Ash—"

"This is to say goodbye. I never felt so sorry for anyone in my life as I did for your husband, after the swell little scene you treated us to. The way he kept saying, 'Orchid'—it would have wrung tears from a stone, or almost anything."

"He calls you that, because it means something sweet to him. The orchid is a beautiful flower. And expensive. Well, maybe there's some resemblance there."

"But, outside of that, do you know what an orchid is? Well, it's a parasite. And, a parasite is a thing that gratifies itself on something that is capable of taking care of it."

"A parasite is a plant of an animal living on some other living organism, at whose expense it gets its food, shelter and the like. It attaches itself firmly, and it won't let go."

"Some parasites such as all the life out of the thing to which they cling, so that eventually they kill it."

"Orchids graft on trees, and stumps, and old roots. They are exquisite things, but they don't care what they live off."

"They are so mean, they won't even give the bees any honey. But they are very beautiful."

"There are girls just like orchids. They think that beauty is excuse enough for being. Maybe it is. But a lot of people despise human parasites, even the beautiful ones."

"Your husband thinks you are like an orchid. Well, you are. But he doesn't know how."

"You turned me down, because you're a sort of a toney little parasite, and you were looking for something better to get attached to. Well, you found it. You got better than you deserve, but you haven't sense enough to know it."

"The letter ended abruptly. 'Your friend, who's been looking for something better to get attached to, to tell you the truth, Monty.' She dried her eyes, and wondered what the end would be."

At midnight Ashtoreth went to bed, having temporarily abandoned her hopes of an immediate reconciliation.

"I'll be very sweet and penitent in the morning," she decided. "And Holly'll feel better, after a good night's sleep. Everything will be all right I know."

She realized that she had hurt her husband's pride cruelly. And that she had also come toppling from the throne he had made for her.

"I've lost my halo," she groaned, "and my 'adorable untouchedness.' And, on top of it all, practically admitted that I never really loved him! Oh dear, Oh dear."

She rang for Mrs. Saunders, and asked for a sleeping potion from the doctor. Then she took a very hot bath, and composed herself for sleep.

If only she could stop thinking of Monty! Did he really despise her as he said?

"There's a lot of truth in what he wrote," she reflected drowsily. "But truth is such a hateful thing!"

She thought if she had told Hollis a small lie, protesting love, every thing would have been much nicer.

She wouldn't for instance, be alone at the moment, with a dreadful pain in her head, and her eyes smarting so fearfully. Hollis wouldn't be roaming the deck all by himself, catching his death of cold. Or drinking himself crazy in the bar.

After all, perhaps she did love him. Not glamorously, like the movies and novels. Probably there wasn't very much of that sort of love in real life anyhow.

She remembered vaguely something she had read—something to the effect that in her first passion a woman loves her lover, but in all others, she loves the love. Well, there wasn't anything wrong about that. . . . Only now, of course she didn't even love love. That she supposed was because of those wretched front teeth, on their silly little swivels. . . . It was absurd of love in real life anyhow.

"Sometimes," she murmured sleepily, "I get the silliest notions."

She pounded her pillow with her fists. If only she could stop thinking! "Oh, God please let me go to sleep. I haven't slept a wink for three nights."

She wished she could dismiss thoughts of Monty. That thing about a woman, in her first passion, loving her lover. . . . Monty had been her first passion. She was only about 18 then. Well, if the poet was right (Byron, or whoever it was who wrote that) then, having exhausted her first passion for anything but love. It wasn't her fault if she didn't love Hollis. . . . Oh, dear, it was all so muddled. . . . And there was poor Holly, chasing himself around the deck, seeking to death in Paris. And here she was, all alone, with an awful headache, and nobody cared. Two large tears squeezed by her closed eyes, and she rolled slowly down her cheeks. . . . Eventually she fell asleep.

She woke at 10, with a splitting headache. She had forgotten to open the port holes, and Mrs. Saunders, obeying orders, had not returned. The cabin was close with the odor of perfumes and powders.

She wondered if Hollis was in his room. She must have slept soundly, for she had not heard his coming or going. There were voices in there now. Several voices, and a woman's among them. High pitched and hysterical.

"She rose and slipped on the green negligee that she had tossed the night before over the foot of her bed, ringing at the same time for Mrs. Saunders. She waited several minutes, and when Saunders did not come, she became alarmed."

"She knocked on Hollis' door, but received no answer. She opened the door, and outside of that, do you know what an orchid is? Well, it's a parasite. And, a parasite is a thing that gratifies itself on something that is capable of taking care of it."

"A parasite is a plant of an animal living on some other living organism, at whose expense it gets its food, shelter and the like. It attaches itself firmly, and it won't let go."

"Some parasites such as all the life out of the thing to which they cling, so that eventually they kill it."

"Orchids graft on trees, and stumps, and old roots. They are exquisite things, but they don't care what they live off."

"They are so mean, they won't even give the bees any honey. But they are very beautiful."

"There are girls just like orchids. They think that beauty is excuse enough for being. Maybe it is. But a lot of people despise human parasites, even the beautiful ones."

"Your husband thinks you are like an orchid. Well, you are. But he doesn't know how."

"You turned me down, because you're a sort of a toney little parasite, and you were looking for something better to get attached to. Well, you found it. You got better than you deserve, but you haven't sense enough to know it."

awoke. Presently Mrs. Saunders came in with several envelopes in her hand. "Cables," she said. "The wireless reports of Mr. Hart's death reached Paris and the States last night." Ashforth took them listlessly. They were from friends of her husband's. And, though the names were entirely unfamiliar, the messages made her cry. "Everybody loved him," she thought miserably, "but me. And I was the only one whose love he wanted."

YOUR FRIEND SADIE.
It happened that Monty's was at the bottom of the pile. "MY HEART GOES OUT TO POOR LITTLE BEAUTIFUL ORCHID. HOLLIS LOVED YOU ENOUGH TO DIE BUT I LOVE YOU ENOUGH TO LIVE FOREVER. I AM COMING TO SAVE YOU MY BEAUTIFUL ORCHID." She read the message several times. And then, dismissing Mrs. Saunders, re-read his letter. "Monty," she told herself, "is the only person on earth who understands me. . . . And then she remembered two others—not on earth. . . . Her father, who had written her a strange letter. And Hollis, who had died with a smile on his lips. She tore Monty's letter into small pieces. And, kissing his wireless, slipped it beneath her pillow. THE END.

Violent Relapse Suffered Friday On Stock Market

Full Money Jumps To Six And One-Half Per Cent; Loan Situation Tightened; New Lows Recorded

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The stock market experienced one of the most violent relapses of the year today, as call money jumped from 6 1/2 to 10 per cent, a rate that has not been surpassed since 1921, save during the recent money panic caused by the January 1 shifting of balances when it touched 10.

The sharp tightening of money resulted from withdrawals totalling $50,000,000 by the banks. Much of this was said to have been withdrawn by interior banks, and it was generally ascribed to the influence of the Reserve Banks. The day saw a general tightening of credit, bankers acceptance rates rising 1-3 of one per cent for the second time this week, and time money moving up 1-4 of one per cent to 7 3/4 per cent for some maturities.

Index Dropped to New Low. The reaction was the most violent since February 7, the Associated Press index of 50 industrials dropped 4.6 points to a new 1929 low, in contrast to a drop of 7 points eight days ago.

The market opened with a burst of strength, which appeared to be largely short covering resulting from the failure of the New York Reserve Bank to raise its rediscount rate last night. The fact that the directors were in session until about 7 o'clock, some three hours longer than usual, however, was interpreted as indicating that strenuous efforts are under way to carry out the Reserve Board's threat to choke off the supply of credit available for speculation.

The Federal Reserve Board's advisory council which consists of one member from each of the 12 reserve districts, meeting in Washington, issued a statement after the close of the market approving the board's action in asking the Reserve banks to prevent diversion of credit into the stock market, and suggesting that each reserve bank directly ask all its member banks to cooperate.

Business and Trade Favorable. The trade and business news continued favorable. Several good earnings reports made their appearance, and Sinclair resumed dividend payments on its common stock. January exports were reported at the highest for that month in eight years. The weekly trade reviews reported satisfactory progress.

American Express dropped 12 points, while Allied Chemical, Byers, Chicago North Western preferred, General Electric, Johns Manville, Otis Elevator, Rossia Insurance, Standard Milling, and Union Carbide were among issues losing from 6 to 10 points.

The commodities markets were featured, in excited buying arising from reports that American Tire manufacturers had bought all the available offerings of actual rubber, in the trade.

In the foreign exchanges, the Canadian dollar dropped to another new 1929 low at 96.62 1/2 cents, making gold shipments to New York highly probable.

Slight Strength Shown On Cotton Market In South

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 15. (AP)—The cotton market showed some strength early today but the improvement met realizing and some selling later on the higher money rates and an easier stock market. May contracts after advancing to 19.49 eased off to 19.35 and closed at 19.38 or unchanged compared with yesterday's close. The general market closed steady net unchanged to 2 points lower.

Liverpool cables were irregular at the start here but first trades showed gains of 2 to 4 points due to some covering by yesterday's sellers and as the generally unfavorable weather over the belt led traders to believe it would further hamper crop preparations, buying continued after the start absorbing realizing on small setbacks. Moderately bullish weekly statistics added to the firmness and March advanced to 19.40, May to 19.49 and July 19.50, or 6 to 13 points above yesterday's close.

At these levels considerable realizing was encountered and the decline in stocks probably encouraged some selling by ring traders as did the advance in call loan rates in New York. At any rate May dropped to 19.35 and July 19.38, or 12 to 14 points under the morning highs. In the final trading there was some covering and the close was 2 to 3 points above the lowest with March at 19.47, July 19.40 and October 19.21, or unchanged to 2 points down compared with the previous close.

REEDSBURG, Wis., Feb. 15.—Because she failed to take down the flag in the school yard, Evelyn Jackson, 12, a pupil in Kelly school, was made to wear a sign around her neck which read "I am not a good citizen." Miss Jackson, in bringing suit through her father against her teacher, Kenneth Scoon, charged that snow and ice made it difficult to take down the flag and that the flag had been left up on numerous occasions. The suit called for damages of $500.

Death Reveals Heroic War Record Of Woman Four Times Wounded; Dies Unknown And Without Money

By DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 15.—Four times wounded in the World War, and six times awarded war medals of the highest honor in recognition of her services, Countess de Merode died here unknown and penniless after being struck by a boy on a bicycle.

Countess de Merode, Marquise of Rumania, a direct descendant of the deposed Queen Sofia and a member of the Belgian royal family by marriage, was known here as Mrs. Charles E. Waterhouse by a recent marriage to a Los Angeles man. Not even her closest friends knew of her real identity and heroic war record.

Entered At Beginning. Both the countess and her young husband, Count de Merode of Belgium, entered the World War at its beginning. Count de Merode was killed the first day he went into action. The young widow put aside her own sorrows and took command of a field hospital near Ypres.

Twice the countess was gassed. She sustained a broken back when her hospital was bombed by the enemy. In another hospital catastrophe one side of her face was blown away. This was later restored by a plastic surgeon so well that few were aware of her injury.

The heroic countess was twice decorated by King Albert of Belgium. Premier Poincare and General Paul of France each awarded her their country's highest medals of honor.

Mrs. Charles E. Waterhouse, formerly the Countess de Merode.

Twice she was rewarded for her valor by King George of England, who also bestowed upon her the title of Lady Meda.

About eight years ago Countess de Merode came to the United States.

Kidnapped Twice. But even in this country the countess was not allowed to live in peace. She was kidnapped twice by Rumanian political conspirators.

Once she was carried to the Canadian border by her captors in their attempt to return her to Rumania in the hope that she would eventually ascend to the throne. She was rescued by American officials at the border. But on the second attempt it was a signal known only to medical officers overseas that enabled her to go free.

After escaping from her kidnapers the second time she met Charles Waterhouse in Los Angeles. A short time afterward the couple were married and came to Phoenix to make their home. Since then she had lived here in obscurity, her past being kept a secret from even her most intimate friends.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 15.—Two and a half years ago George Sabel was married—also he was penniless and out of a job. Down on his luck he left his wife with a six-month-old baby.

Now George is the prosperous proprietor of a woman's apparel shop at Jamaica, Queens, and his wife has brought suit for overdue payments to the family budget.

Fort Worth Gets Seasonable Supply

FORT WORTH, Feb. 15. (AP)—About a seasonable supply of cattle listed for the day's trade here Friday with cattle a little slow in spots but most classes steady. Sheep trade limited to feeder classes and about steady. About half of the hog supply was on direct billing.

About a dozen loads of slaughter steers in for the day and they sold at 9.00 to 11.50. Values about steady on all kinds with bulk of sales in the $10.00 notch.

No bulls of any consequence offered. A few heavy bulls sold around 8.00 common light bulls at 6.25 to 6.75.

Slaughter yearlings and heifers slow but about steady with the week's decline. Eales at 10.25 to 11.30 for the better kind while packages of the common kind sold around 7.50.

The supply of cows very light but butcher and beef cows and canners and cutters sold steady. One load of cows sold at 7.50. Canners and cutters at 5.00 to 6.00.

The supply of calves sold at steady with light receipts. A car lot sold at 11.25 to a packer buyer while the common cull calves sold at 6.50 to 7.00.

Trade in stocker cattle light but values appeared steady.

With nothing but feeder lambs included in the receipts and a light offering of them, they sold at steady values with clipped feeder lambs, at 12.00.

Hogs a little slow in getting started but early sales considered steady. The supply of hogs with the best rail butchers at 10.10 and truck top at 9.65.

Bulk of the 175-250 pound butchers sold at 9.40 to 10.00. Packing sows 8.25 to 8.75; pigs at 6.25 to 6.90.

COTTON STORED HERE. More Than 60,000 Bales In Local Compresses.

With ginnings for Lubbock county reported as something over 35,000 bales of cotton, there are more than 60,000 bales in storage here at the two compresses, it was learned yesterday.

These 60,000 bales represent production of this past season's crop from all over South Plains and is below the number of bales on hand at the same time last year. Before the end of this season it is anticipated that about 10,000 more bales will be stored here.

Cotton Advances And Slumps Upon New York Market

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (AP)—Relatively steady Liverpool cables and bullish week-end statistics were reflected by moderate advances in the cotton market today, but prices eased in late trading under realizing. May contracts, after selling up to 20.10 or 13 points net higher, declined to 19.96 and closed at 19.99 compared with 19.97 at yesterday's close. The general market closed steady at a net decline of 2 points on March. Later deliveries were 1 to 2 points net higher.

After some irregularity, attributed to southern selling and realizing, prices advanced on covering and trade buying. Some commission house demand was reported, also local buying promoted by expectations of bullish week-end figures.

March contracts sold up to 20.03 and the new October contract to 19.48, making net advances of about 9 to 13 points on the more active positions. Demand, at no time active or general, seemed to slacken at these figures. Failure of the weekly statistics to promote additional buying of contracts increased a disposition to take profits on early purchases. The unsettled tone of the stock market probably was a factor, as brokers with Wall Street connections were among the sellers.

Prices broke below yesterday's closing quotations on old crop months in the late trading. March sold off to 19.88 and July to 19.62, making net declines of 1 to 5 points on these positions. New crop months sold within 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations. The close was a shade up from the lowest on most months as a result of covering. The week-end figures showed a decrease of 142,424 bales in the world's visible supply of American cotton compared with a decrease of only 76,376 bales for the same week last year. Spinners' takings for the week were 321,132 bales against 273,707 last year. Private cables reported trade calling and buying of near months by leading spot houses in Liverpool and said there was slight improvement in demand for cotton cloth from India but that cottons were freely offered.

Exports today, 13,421, making 5,994,789 this season. Port receipts, 11,697. U. S. port stocks, 2,103,544.

URGES PRIVACY. Minister Seeks Lover's Lane. LONDON, Feb. 15. (AP)—A lovers' lane in London where young folks may have leisure and privacy for courting is urged by the Reverend J. Shepherd, an Islington clergyman.

"The curse of the crowd is the ruin of romance," he said in pleading the cause of the city's youth.

The London fog, so generally and violently execrated, is the only friend of youthful Londoners in their courting, the minister said.

MID-WESTERN LIVESTOCK. KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Further weakness developed in hog prices around the 11 market circuit. Scattered sales were completed on opening rounds at steady to slightly lower prices, but later trade was very slow with an uneven decline of 10 to 25c.

Day's top of $10.50 was paid in Chicago. Total offerings were around 115,850 an increase of 14,800 over last Friday but 30,000 short of the corresponding day of a year ago.

Comparatively large sheep receipts were absorbed at mostly steady prices, some weakness showing up about a few markets. Choice lambs in Chicago realized $17.15 while at Omaha a top of $16.65 was maintained. The supply approximated 54,800, against 54,278 a week ago, and 56,668 a year ago. The movement of lambs from western feeding areas to February 9, amounted to 1,831 cars, as compared with 2,256 cars for the same date in cattle receipts totalling around 10,300 about the same as a week ago and the corresponding day last year. Chicago reported additional strength on light yearlings but generally values on most killing classes were unchanged. No immediate price recovery on fed steers is expected as demand for dressed beef will have to expand considerably before any material advance could be attained.

A decrease in the movement of warmed-up steers, however, will prove instrumental in obtaining a better outlet for the better grades of steers than has been carried in the feed lot from 4 to 6 months.

SEEK MORE MEMBERS. Texas Service Grocers To Work In Campaign.

DALLAS, Feb. 15. (AP)—A campaign to double the present membership of 1,800 before the annual convention of the Texas Service Grocers association here March 12, to 14 has been started, Earl W. Culum, president of the organization, said.

"We expect more than 3,000 grocers from all parts of Texas," he said. Special rates of fare and one-half will be allowed delegates, the association has been advised by the Southwest Passenger association.

AUSTIN, Feb. 15. (AP)—Hearing on the extradition of J. T. Crane, wanted in Oklahoma as a fugitive from the penitentiary, was postponed today until tomorrow. Crane, who is under arrest in Amarillo, is protesting his return, according to messages to the governor from his attorney.

Higher Penalty In Pro Law Studied

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(P)—Taking up the Jones bill to fix a higher maximum penalty for prohibition violation, the senate today heard varying views as to what might be accomplished by the legislation.

A final vote was assured by an unanimous agreement to limit debate after 3 P. M. tomorrow, Senator Jones expressed opinion that an early decision would be made.

Arguing for a higher maximum, the senator declared his measure was aimed particularly at the "big bootleggers."

The Michigan state law which imposes a life sentence for the fourth conviction was criticized by some senators who contended extreme penalties only made enforcement the more difficult.

LIST IS CAPTURED

Prohibition Officers Have List of Wealthy Patrons

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(P)—Prohibition authorities had in their possession today a list of wealthy persons who they believe were patrons of a raided firm of bootleggers.

Raiding the premises of the Monroe Lamp and Equipment Company in Manhattan and the International Postal Supply Company in Brooklyn, the agents said they not only found the customer list, but $500,000 in high grade liquor and documents indicating the firms supplied the bulk of the liquor for big dinners and social affairs.

in all absentees.

The Rev. J. Frank Norris of Fort Worth came to town today and was the subject of bitter debate on the house floor of the house, as he was charged with "inspiring" a move by Duvall of Fort Worth to get the house to order a public hearing on the so-called horse racing bill, which had been passed out of committee and is on the floor of the house.

The Fort Worth minister sat on the floor of the senate while that body voted down a resolution by Senator Pollard inviting the Rev. Norris to address that body. The senate refused to extend the invitation, 12 to 10.

Wanted to Know Votes

"Just wanted to find out how they voted, so I would know whose districts to campaign in next time," the Rev. Norris commented.

The house defeated Duvall's motion 63 to 38.

Representative Baldwin of Waco, one of the proponents of the bill which its opponents claim will legalize horse racing in Texas, denounced Rev. Norris for his activities against the bill.

Later, in the local papers, the Rev. Norris challenged Baldwin for a public debate Monday night in Waco, but Baldwin refused. "Certainly Mr. Norris would like to debate with me—anything to get publicity," Baldwin replied. "I am not going to do anything to gratify his desire for the spotlight."

MOODY FILES BILL

AUSTIN, Feb. 15.—(P)—Governor Moody today filed without his signature the bill abolishing the office of state fish, game and oyster commissioner and setting up a game commission of six members. It will become effective September 1.

Sharp Blades And Keen Wits Make Big Fortunes From Tough Whiskers; Wealthy Barber Retiring

By NEA Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Because George L. McAlpin's whiskers were the toughest of them, Lewis Morgan has retired with a million dollars, a silver cup and a code of tonorial philosophy which, he believes will make any conscientious clipper-shaver man independent for life. Lewis Morgan has been a barber for well over a quarter of a century. As an apprentice in a little New York shop, he was allowed only those customers whom no one else cared to serve. That was where George L. McAlpin's whiskers came in. Their owner later was to become prominent as a hotel manager, but at that time he was just another "tough customer."

Made Good Impression. So McAlpin and his tough beard were sent to young Morgan, who scraped and stropped and lathered and scraped and maintained the while a philosophic cheerfulness which McAlpin remembered.

Came a day when McAlpin offered Morgan the shiny new shop in the McAlpin hotel, with a year's lease already paid. He trimmed patiently, talked interestingly and the other day finished his sixteenth year as the hotel's master barber. In those years he shaved William Howard Taft, Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt. He had made a fortune and so, with no tougher whiskers to conquer, he retired.

Morgan sold his interests to another millionaire barber, Joseph B. Schusser. The latter's success also had come from a sharp blade and a keen wit. For three years he shaved the formidable beard of William Gibbs McAdoo. When the Hudson Terminal Buildings were opened in New York, Schusser wanted to open his own shop and went to see the president of the corporation. It was Mr. McAdoo. Schusser got the lease; now he owns 67 shops.

States His Rule.

The moral of this story is that even tough whiskers can make millions of dollars for the person who observes certain rules. Lewis Morgan explained these principles on his last day as a master barber.

"Always be honest and don't worry about tips. Let the customer worry about them."

"When you talk, talk about something interesting. Read the editorials in the papers. Keep up on public affairs, business, reparations and the Balkan situation."

"Trim beards into smiles. Humor your man. When he comes in with a grouch, send him out grinning."

Gang Killing

supporting it.

To Clean Up Case

Commissioner of Police Russell said "no matter who did it I am out to get them and clean this case up." However, he characterized Major Siloway's theory as "all red."

Another theory was advanced by John A. Swanson, state's attorney. He believed the idea of having enemies of the Moran gang garbed as policemen invaded their stronghold was obtained by slayers from a fiction story appearing recently in a national weekly, and that Detroit gangsters, members of the "purple mob" had been imported to do the killing.

Theories Differ Widely

Lesser officials had theories which differed widely, both as to the actual killers and the cause of the wholesale slaughter. The second day situation following a gang murder in Chicago was essentially no different tonight than the second day developments of scores of other gang killings, except that there were seven murders to solve instead one or two.

Even the inquest by a jury of business men was not different from previous ones. The jurors view the bodies, some of them punctured as many as thirty times with bullets. They visited the garage where the Moran gang maintained its stronghold and saw policemen enact what the police believed the main points of the crime—the entrance of the killers, guns in hand, the lining up of the victims with faces to a white brick wall, the fatal shots and the escape.

The jury heard relatives of the victims declared they had no knowledge that the victims had been gangsters. At the request of the police, the jury recessed until February 23. Scores of coroners juries investigating Chicago's gang killings have done the same.

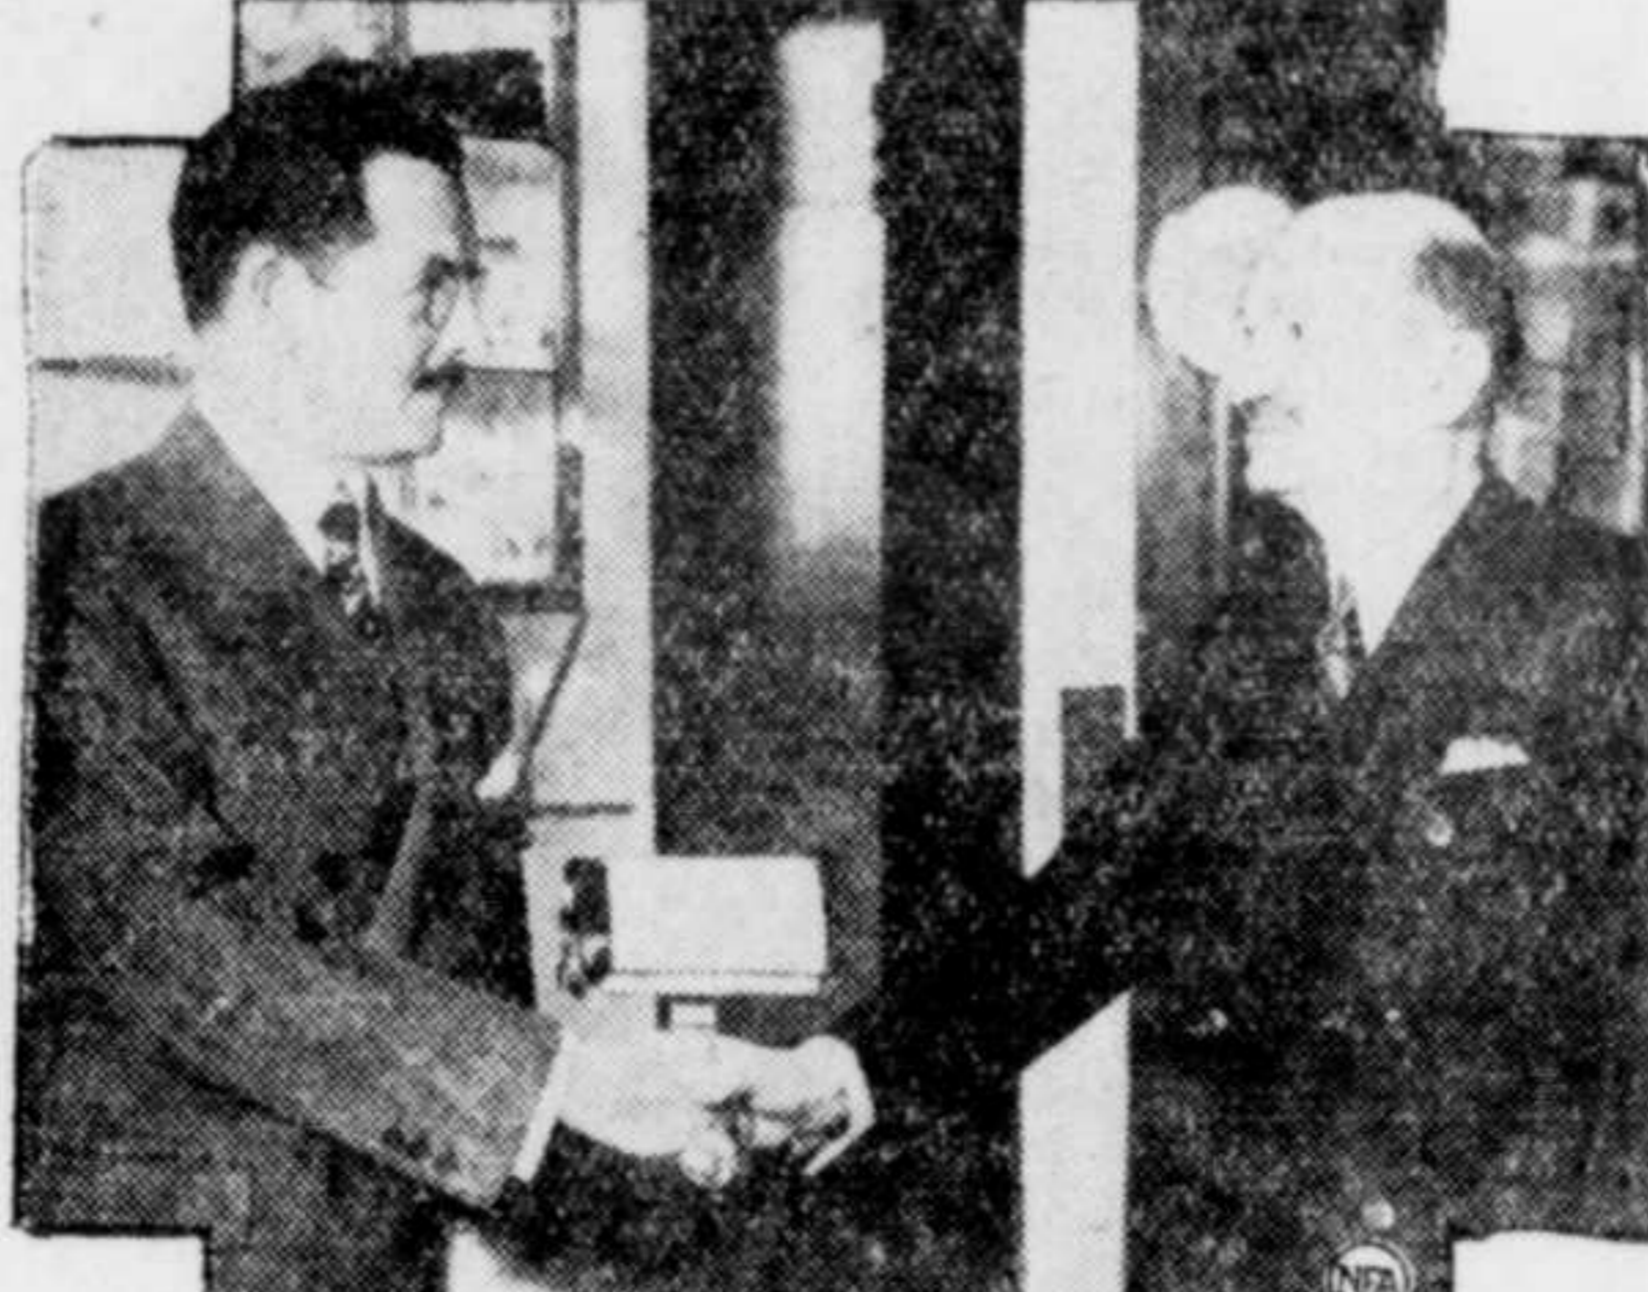

Wants Positive Death

Major Siloway's theory—and he emphasized that it was but a theory—although expressing the hope that he would soon have positive evidence to back it up—was that the massacre had its inception six weeks ago when he said a Moran squad conveying liquor from Detroit to Chicago was hi-jacked in broad daylight on Chicago streets and 500 cases of liquor taken by a rival gang.

Major Siloway said one of his own men had been involved in the hi-jacking episode, he was informed and expressed opinion that the Moran gang believed the hi-jackers had police assistance and therefore cut off any protection money they had been paying the police, threatening to go to the police commissioner with the hi-jacking story if there was complaint. He reasoned that the policemen in retaliation and fearful of exposure, had annihilated the gang, adding that witnesses had said that some of the slayers wore police uniforms, that a car resembling a police car was used in their escape, and that the Moran gang evidently knew the killers and offered no resistance when the uniformed men put in an appearance.

The berries of yew trees are not poisonous, but the seed contains a noxious element which makes the berry unfit to eat.

It requires more than a century for a cedar tree to grow large enough to yield a 30-foot telephone pole.

In Washington Friday

(By Associated Press)

The House considered immigration legislation. The Senate debated the Jones bill to fix higher penalties for prohibition violations.

The federal reserve advisory council approved the reserve board's action to curb speculative loans.

The tariff revision of the Sunday products schedule was studied by the House Ways and Means committee.

The British ambassador announced his country would soon initiate steps toward further naval armament limitation.

The Walsh resolution censuring the interior and justice department for the Sinclair Salt Creek oil contract renewal was discussed by the Senate.

The House judiciary committee named a subcommittee to urge Attorney General Sargent to take direct action in the investigation of charges against Federal Judge Winslow.

The Senate appropriations committee voted to make $700,000 of the $12,370,000 for cruiser construction immediately available; President Coolidge felt his recommendation for the funds use next year was the desire of congressional leaders.

MOTHER TELLS OF ACT

Mrs. Gholston Testifies In Barfield Trial

TEXARKANA, Feb. 16.—(P)—A packed court room at New Boston, Texas, today heard Mrs. Lily Gholston, mother of Ray Palmer, 21, for whose slaying Cato Barfield, 25, is being tried, relate how Barfield forced his way into her apartment and shot her son as he was lying on a couch.

Mrs. Gholston said she and three other women tried to keep Barfield out of the room, but that he fought his way through them and tried to force his way into her apartment, which caused the death of her son 87 days later.

The state, which has demanded the death penalty, rested after the mother's testimony.

Barfield has pleaded self defense.

RECOVER FROM FLU

Persing and Gilbert Said To Be Improving

PARIS, Feb. 15.—(P)—Two prominent Americans were definitely on the road to recovery after influenza attacks today.

General John J. Pershing was able to get around his room in a dressing gown. So far, however, he is receiving no visitors.

S. Parker Gilbert, agent general for reparations, is keeping indoors merely as a precautionary measure and has seen some friends. He plans to leave for Berlin Monday or Tuesday.

"Raised From Dead" Three Times

Reclaimed from death three times, Jack Nunley, five-year-old San Antonio, boy, says that while "dead" he "saw Jesus." Pronounced dead, his heart action was started again by the injection of adrenalin on one occasion and twice by artificial respiration. He is now convalescing rapidly at his home from diphtheria.

TEST MILK BY MAIL

New Plan For Production Records To Be Tried

Testing of milk production by mail, is the aim of agricultural agents of this section, according to Lubbock County Agent D. F. Eaton. The system of testing will probably be put into operation by May 1.

This plan is being worked out with Sterling C. Evans, district agricultural agent, Mr. Eaton and other county agents of the South Plains. A similar plan is in operation in dairying centers of the north middle west and is proving an economical means of dairymen learning individual production records of their cows.

MEN ASPHYXIATED

Officers Attempt To Solve How Wichitans Died

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 15.—(P)—Officers tonight were attempting to reconstruct the manner in which two men apparently were asphyxiated near a still under a barn near Wichita Falls.

The bodies of the two, J. I. Williams, 40, and L. B. Gross, 35, were found in the basement, which housed the still, today. From Gross' neck was a gas mask, indicating, officers said, that he had died when he attempted to aid Williams. The mask did not cover the nose.

PRUETT TRIED MONDAY

Two Additional Charges Returned In Dallas

DALLAS, Feb. 15.—(P)—William (Digger) Pruett, Jr., against whom two additional indictments were returned here today, will go on trial for his life Monday in district court. It was learned today at the district attorneys office.

The state has announced that it will ask the death penalty Monday on the charge of robbery, one of the first of five earlier indictments.

Today's indictments charge Pruett with murdering William Mann and the robbery and assault of Ralph O. Sisson a month ago.

Evolution Bill

which would make it unlawful for any instructor in a state school to teach as a fact that man evolved from a lower order. Mustering 50 votes to 35, proponents attempted to pass the bill to congressment. Their efforts were blocked on a point of order that a quorum was not present.

Speaking in support of the bill, Harper, a missionary minister, blamed the crime situation on the teaching of evolution.

"If you teach boys that they are brutes, they will do brutish acts," he declared.

Modernists Should Be Excluded Harper maintained that ministers had been excluded from expounding their beliefs in the classroom and that "modernists" should be accorded the same treatment.

"The present legislature may not pass the bill, but it is going to be presented until some set of lawmakers does see that evolutionary teaching ceases," he declared.

The east Texas minister found a warm supporter in Sinks who told the house that "no one would object to evolutionists offering their theories to mature men, but they should not be taught children."

When Richardson of Grand Saline asked the veteran soldier to define evolution, Sinks dismissed the request with "define the mischief."

"To a group who rose to their feet to quiz him, Sinks retorted, "and I'm not going to answer all you smart alecks."

Sets Barrier Against Teachers Bradley said an anti-evolution law was setting up an unwarranted barrier against teachers.

Referring to action of Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi in enacting similar laws, Richardson charged the house with following fashion. "We're simply making monkeys out of ourselves. Let's turn our attention to state affairs while we're here," he said.

A crowded gallery which gathered in anticipation of the evolution bill fight laughed when Wigg supported the bill with the statement: "You can believe your great, great, great, grandmother hung by her tail, but I think she was a lady, your male ancestors might have hung, but if mine did, it was by the neck."

Keller continued the debate with the statement that no ministers save those in the house had appeared in behalf of the bill. He said Tennessee had tried the law and it had proved a failure.

Aimed At Devil

Hunger Strike Has Peculiar Goal

LIMA, Ohio, Feb. 15.—(P)—Fred Conrad, 27, today entered the last week of life allotted him if he continues a hunger strike, now in its twenty-third day, aimed at "driving the devil" from his father, George Conrad, who stands at the bedside for hours begging his son to take food in the hope of saving his life.

Conrad's father blamed the Rev. Ray Dodson, revivalist, for his son's fast. He has despaired of inducing his son to eat, and declared he believed the minister the only person capable of obtaining his consent to take food.

Conrad weighs 145 pounds, 55 pounds less than he weighed when he took up the fast. Physicians have given him not more than a week to live if he continues.

a period of three years for such a robbery. Wilson claimed the mail clerk was the leader in both plans and in the robbery. These statements were challenged by attorneys of Pruett.

At least one successful attempt was made and failed because there was too much light on the mail car. Wilson was to board at Weatherford November 1, he testified. Plans for a robbery in January, 1927 were dropped when Wilson was in another section, he added.

Wilson told of going to Aledo, boarding the train, and entering the mail car where Pruett and another clerk, Paul E. Carney were on duty. Carney, not involved in the charges, as a witness told how a mail sack was slipped over his head and tied making him helpless and unable to see what then occurred.

Wilson testified Pruett aided in the search for money which was being sent to the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas, and also told of other batches of mail being cut open to furnish "seamy."

Wilson then tied Pruett but released him so he could take on mail at Benbrook and then tied him again, the witness said.

MISSING PAIR LOCATED

Texas Co-Ed Found By Chain Store Credit Work

AUSTIN, Feb. 15.—(P)—The whereabouts of Miss Fannie Lee Minter, Texas University co-ed who disappeared several weeks ago, and Jack Griffith, charged by the girl's mother with kidnaping, may have been learned through a chain store credit system, it was reported here tonight.

Sheriff White refused to comment on the report. The manager of a local store, a part of the system said to have traced the missing couple, also was reticent.

included two other high Masonic officers, two justices of the state supreme court, a district judge, Gus Wollard, chairman of the state board of affairs, Dr. Mobley, Key and himself, Anderson said.

The Governor's friends told him, Anderson said, that Mrs. Hammond's employment was alienating his friends, and advised him to dismiss her. Johnson declined, Anderson related, asserting it would be "brutal" to discharge her.

At about 3 o'clock in the morning it was declared that nothing had been accomplished and something positive should be done, the lodge officer said.

"The Governor agreed that if Key persuaded her to resign, it would be accepted. The resignation. It was agreed that Key and Dr. Mobley should see Mrs. Hammonds at her home that morning." The senate adjourned. Dr. Mobley will be called to finish the story Monday.
