Area Rains Ease Off; Much Of Southwest Still Flooded

Autumn rains apparently had moved out of West Texas today, following a five-day wet period which left farmland soggy and delayed the cotton harvest.

Snyder had a total of 2.84 inches during the five-day period begining last Wednesday and ending Sunday.

All of Scurry County was included in the rain belt, with some areas receiving heavier amounts in a series of thunderstorms and showers.

During the period, Lake J. B. Thomas caught its first substantial amount of runoff in several weeks. The Colorado River Municipal Water District reservoir's level was boosted by 19 inches. This morning, the lake's level stood at 2,253.25, and the runoff had tapered off.

The Weather Bureau forecast partly cloudy skies and warmer temperatures for all of West Texas today, tonight and Tuesday.

Heavy rain spread across the central section of the country today and fell again in flood areas of the Southwest.

It was the sixth consecutive day of rain in sodden Oklahoma. Parts of Texas also were inundated. The swollen Arkansas River spilled over several thousand acres of farm land in Arkansas and Oklahoma. Several families left the threatened town of Moffett, Okla.

Ten deaths were attributed to the weather last weekend. Five were caused by accidents during the rough weather in Oklahoma. Five members of a family were killed in Lapeer, Mich., Sunday when their car collided with a train in rain and mist.

Hard rain beat down on Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin. The fall, in a 24-hour period, measured around 1½ inches at West Plains, Mo., Brownsville, Tex., Milwaukee, Dubuque, Iowa, and at the Glenview Naval Air Station near Chicago.

San Antonio, Tex., was deluged by 3.66 inches of rain.

Property losses in Oklahoma ran into the millions. Hardest hit are Guthrie, Oklahoma City and smaller communities in the eastern and central sections of the state.

Almost 7,000 persons have been evacuated because of the rising Arkansas River and Cottonwood Creek.

A string of tornadoes rammed north central Texas Sunday, damaging scores of homes and farm property. Five persons were injured.

Yuba, Okla., and Paris, Mo., also were struck by tornadoes. One woman was injured in Oklahoma. Property was damaged in both states.

A cloudburst Sunday struck the ranch country in central Texas. Eighteen inches of water were reported. Thousands of head of cattle drowned; damage to farm property was heavy. Two persons were missing.

In parts of Colorado, where snowfalls last week end piled up drifts of 7 and 8 feet, Army vehicles were used to bring hay to cattle marooned in mountain pastures. Much livestock died in drifts, unable to forage for feed.

FLIGHT FROM FLOOD—This was a common sight at Tulsa and other portions of Oklahoma as numerous flash floods from rain-fed creeks forced families out of their homes. Here dwellers of a trailer court flee the rising waters. The man in the background ran a "ferry boat service," hauling occupants and their belongings to higher ground. (AP Wirephoto).

Floods Close Many Roads Over State

AUSTIN (AP) — The Highway Department said these roads were closed by high water today (by districts):

San Antonio: Farm 39, Kerr County to Guadalupe River; Farm 474, Kendall County at Guadalupe river; Farm 311 and 306, Comal County at Guadalupe River; Farm 537 and 541, Wilson County at Cibalo Creek.

Fort Worth: State 193, Gordon to U.S. 80 in Palo Pinto County; Farm 4, Palo Pinto County from Santo to U.S. 180; Farm 730, Wise County north of Boyd.

Brownwood: State 36, Gustine to Hamilton; Farm 591, Gustine to Proctor.

Dallas: State 34 east of Italy at Chambers Creek; Farm 875, Ellis County at Waxahachie Creek.

San Angelo: Farm 1692 at the Concho River; Farm 381 north of Farm 380; Ranch 2134 at Colorado River.

Waco: Bell County, Farm 436, 1123-1670; Bosque County, State 22 from Meridian to Cranfills Gap; Coryell County, Farm 182-1829 and State 236 at the Leon River; McLennan County, Farm 1637 at Bosque River.

Tyler: Farm 17 at Lake Fork Creek between Alba and Yantis; Farm 47 north of Wills Point at Sabine River will probably close late today.

Austin: Farm 1322 and 86, Caldwell County; and Farm 965 and 1323, Gillespie County. All may open Tuesday.

Del Rio: State 163 twenty miles north of Comstock at Devils River; State 76 at Nueces River; Ranch 334 at West Nueces River; Farm 1433 at Nueces River; Ranch 1051 at Dry Frio River; Ranch 187 at Sabinal River, 11 miles south of Sabinal.

Grand Jury Goes Into Session Here

The Scurry County grand jury was empaneled this morning for the October session.

Men on the jury are Harold Brown, Elmo Crowder, G. E. Chorn Glenn Tate, Leland Herod, John Mark McLaughlin, E. H. Williamson Ed Owens, V. T. Tracy, W. G. Herring, Joe Cargile and Edwin Parks.

Sheriff Earl Abercrombie said that no report from the jury is anticipated before sometime tomorrow.

Longshoremen Set To Hold The Line

NEW YORK (AP) — Top union leaders from ports along the East and Gulf Coast voted unanimously today to "hold the line" in their five-day strike against shipping interests.

The Executive Board of the International Longshoremen's Assn., including vice presidents from various areas from Canada to Brownsville, Tex., took the action at a two-hour meeting.

Representatives of both sides in the strike were expected to meet separately later today with federal mediators.

But there was practically no hope that they would confer with each other. A mediator doubted there would be joint negotiations before next month.

The prospect of no progress heightened the possibility that the government would move to end by court order the strike that has paralyzed ports from Maine to Texas.

The economic impact of the walkout by 85,000 dock workers — catching the nation in the throes of the most severe steel strike in its history — has set off a flood of complaints to Washington.

If the efforts of federal mediator Robert H. Moore fail to crack the negotiation deadlock, President Eisenhower could invoke the Taft-Hartley law for an 80-day return to work period.

Moore was not optimistic. He was scheduled to meet with officials of the International Longshoremen's Assn. today, then confer with representatives of the New York Shipper's Assn.

Lawyers at the National Labor Relations Board in Washington worked on plans to go to court for an injunction — even in advance of any use of the Taft-Hartley emergency provisions.

Shippers in New Orleans, where the first mass walkout began Oct. 1, want the NLRB to seek an injunction stopping the strike on grounds the ILA failed to file a required 30-day advance strike notice.

The strike caught shippers and many unions chiefs by surprise. Locals representing Atlantic Coast dockers had agreed to a 15-day contract extension and locals along the Gulf Coast were expected to follow suit.

But the key to the agreement was a proviso that any new contract benefits be retroactive. When Southern dockers failed to get the same agreement from their employers they struck. The rest of the longshoremen followed.

Morphis Rites In Oklahoma

Funeral services for Audell Morphis, 53-year-old Scurry County resident, have been scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at Holdenville, Okla.

Morphis was fatally injured Saturday afternoon 16.2 miles west of Snyder on the Lamesa road when he was thrown from a car driven by Benjamin Howard Moorefield. The Moorefield car reportedly skidded on wet pavement and was in collision with a car driven by Mrs. Elree McMillan Baremore of Kermit.

Of the four persons injured, only Horace Ledonis Loper, also a passenger in the Moorefield car, was still confined Monday at Cogdell hospital here for treatment of injuries.

Morphis' body was taken to the Oklahoma town Sunday afternoon in a Bolger Funeral Home Coach.

Proposal By Steel Industry Rejected

By JOHN MOODY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The United Steelworkers' decision-making Wage Policy Committee today rejected as "completely unsatisfactory" a management proposal for ending the 83-day-old nationwide steel strike.

USW President David J. McDonald said an immediate effort would be made to resume negotiations with the steel industry. He said he was hopeful a session could be arranged yet today.

The 170-member Wage Policy Committee, which must act on all contract proposals, was told to stand-by for a possible second session later this afternoon.

The meeting — closed to newsmen — followed by one day a session of the union's 33-member Executive Board at which a new industry contract proposal, including a money package, reportedly was found unsatisfactory.

A recommendation of the Executive Board was handed to the Wage Policy Committee shortly after today's session had started. Several members who had attended the Executive Board meeting said the industry offer was rejected unanimously.

The pessimistic reports raised speculation President Eisenhower will invoke the Taft-Hartley law this week and send the half million strikers back to the mills at least for an 80-day cooling-off period.

President David J. McDonald of the Steelworkers would not say if the executive board recommended rejection. But he did say he has the solid support of the striking members.

After the board meeting, McDonald said: "Reports from the directors who have been close to the men back home during this time indicate a remarkable degree of high morale, unity and determination among our people."

Even before the board meeting ended, there were reports from Washington that government attorneys were working on plans for quick Taft-Hartley action to stop the costly strike.

The first step would be for the President to declare an emergency and appoint a fact-finding committee. Then, if the committee reports an emergency, a federal court injunction would be sought.

Industry sources earlier reported the management offer would increase labor costs about 16 cents an hour during the life of a two-year contract. But union sources said added labor costs would come closer to 10 cents an hour during a two-year period.

The union and management seldom agree on the costs of labor improvements unless it is a flat wage increase.

In its newest proposal, management offered to apply an estimated eight cents an hour to welfare and pension benefits during the first year and increase wages a similar amount in the second year.

Workers and management contribute equally to the welfare fund. Any increased contributions by the company would also mean more deductions from the workers' take home pay.

The offer was contingent on union agreement to change contract language so management would have more control over work done in the mills. The union flatly rejected this proposal long ago.

The union has been demanding a 15-cent hourly package increase during each year of any new agreement. The government reports workers earned an average of $3.11 in June.

However, steelworkers are grouped into 31 classifications. Only a small number would be classified in groups that receive anywhere near the government-estimated average.

County Moves To Buy Land For New Road

A right-of-way acquisition officer was employed today by the Scurry County commissioners court to acquire right of way for widening of U. S. Highway 84 to four lanes from the Mitchell County line to Hermleigh.

He is M. L. Andress.

Andress will receive $15 per day and pay his expenses during the right-of-way acquisition job.

In other action, the commissioners court voted unanimously to sell a plot of county owned land at Hermleigh to the state highway department for right-of-way for the widening project.

Homer Ray, resident engineer of the State Highway Department here, said that the state has approved plans for the four-lane widening job, and that money has been appropriated to cover cost of the project.

He said that the portions of the highway in Mitchell and Nolan Counties would be handled as separate projects.

Andress is to begin immediately on right-of-way acquisition.

He is authorized only to agree to payment of the appraised price for any land.

The court also voted unanimously to award contract for construction of a new county road barn in Precinct 2, to J. L. Wadleigh.

Annexation Hearing Scheduled Tonight

The public hearing on nine proposed annexations by the city council will begin about 8:15 o'clock tonight.

The council meeting begins at 7:30 o'clock, but bids on several items are to be opened at the advertised time of 7:30.

The annexation proposals have been recommended by the city planning and zoning commission.

Final estimates on the new city hall will also be considered by the council tonight, and the council will be asked to consider a resolution drawn up by the Scurry County Airport Board for restriction of obstructions in the airport area.

New Floods Raging In SW Texas

By The Associated Press

New flooding arose Monday in Texas in the wake of flash floods and tornadoes Sunday.

About 40 families fled their homes in the west section of Crystal City Monday when Turkey Creek rose to 17.5 feet, highest ever recorded for the normally tame stream.

The sharp rise came after 6.5 inches of rain fell in the area Saturday night.

Many homes had three to four feet of water in them in the Southwest Texas town about 75 miles southwest of San Antonio.

The Corpus Christi Weather Bureau said farmers and ranchers on the Nueces river, into which Turkey Creek pours, should protect property and livestock.

Army helicopters rescued five oil field workers south of Crystal City. They had been stranded at an oil rig since yesterday by Turkey Creek's high water. The stream was two miles wide near the rig. The men work for Pronto Drilling Co. of San Antonio.

Weekend floods and tornadoes left destruction and suffering from Southwest Texas into north central Texas around Dallas.

Concert Assn. Tickets Out

Scurry Concert Assn. season tickets were going in the mail today, and members may expect to receive them tomorrow.

The tickets may be used for the first time tomorrow night, although it will be several weeks before a program is held here. The first in this year's series in Big Spring will be held tomorrow night, and the Big Spring Assn. and Scurry Assn. have a reciprocal agreement for honoring membership cards.

The Men of Lugano, a string ensemble from Switzerland, will be presented in Big Spring's city auditorium tomorrow night.

At present, the Scurry Association's first program will be Dec. 10 when "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs" will be presented. However, an earlier program may be booked here. The Scurry Assn. had originally booked the Red Camp Jazz Trio for Oct. 26, but Camp canceled the booking. A suitable replacement will be sought.

Macmillan, Labor Hopeful Clash On Class Distinction

By TOM OCHILTREE

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell clashed today on the issue of class distinction as candidates began final campaigning for Thursday's election of a new House of Commons.

This mention of class was temperature-rising stuff. It's the oldest issue in British politics, one with great emotional impact on the nation's 35,400,000 eligible voters.

Gaitskell claimed Britain still is snobridden.

Macmillan deplored this suggestion.

The Prime Minister spoke in King's Lynn in the heart of a rich agricultural area of eastern England.

"Mr. Gaitskell is becoming quite desperate," he said. "Last night he said the whole of the Conservative party and their supporters were servile and stuffed shirts and all the rest of it.

"Whatever happens in this election, about half the people will vote one way and half the other. I do not think it is much good one half saying that the others are crooks and rascals. We are all Englishmen, and we have got to live together. In the past some have died together.

"It is just bunk to get up and talk that kind of stuff in the second half of the 20th century. It might have been all right 100 years ago, but it is just not true today. We know that this old class war stuff is dead, and people are getting bored with it."

Gaitskell said in an article in the pro-Labor Daily Herald that "the class barriers have crumbled but not disappeared."

"There are still indefensible inequalities of wealth in our society," he added. "One in 100 owns as much as the other 99 between them. The false values of snobbery still distort the personal relationships with each other which we should enjoy."

On the basis of public opinion polls, usually accurate in Britain, Gaitskell's Laborites and Macmillan's Conservatives appear to be neck-and-neck.

But with only three days to go, a massive and decisive block of voters appeared still undecided.

The Liberal News Chronicle's latest poll indicated the two major parties were each backed by 37½ per cent of the nation's 35,400,000 voters.

With the Liberal party supported by only 4 per cent, the poll showed a huge 20½ per cent had not made up their minds. But when these "don't knows" were asked which party they were more inclined to support, they put Labor ahead 42½ per cent to 41.

When the campaign opened just over two weeks ago, the national opinion polls gave Labor little chance. The Conservatives' popularity then appeared sufficient to send them back with as big or bigger majority than the 52-seat margin they won in 1955. There are 630 seats in the House.

But Labor's vigorous grass roots campaign, their glittering promises of tax cuts and increased old-age pensions and some super-slick television electioneering combined to hack away at the Tory lead.

One newspaper survey didn't agree. The right-wing Sunday Dispatch surveyed 208 doubtful districts and concluded the Conservatives would get back with a 51-seat majority.

Gaitskell Sunday night wound up a 2,000-mile tour through the heart of industrial Britain with an explosive speech that lambasted the Conservatives with some of the campaign's strongest phrases.

He called his opponents the "party of the past, the party of jingoism and international anarchy, the party of out-of-date colonialism, the party of Cyprus and Suez, the party of privilege, the party of snobs and the serville and the stuffed shirt." He said it was the "party that must go — for the good of Britain and the welfare of the world."

Expert Says U. S. Lagging

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department's chief scientist said today the United States is obviously behind the Soviet Union in space-research rockets, "but our position in the life-and-death matter of intercontinental missiles is just not near as bad."

[illegible], director of research and engineering for the department, said the United States does not yet have rockets powerful enough to match the Russians in terms of weight of payload to be delivered to the vicinity of the moon.

"But, on the other hand," he told a reporter, "it's wrong to confuse this with our capabilities as regards intercontinental missiles."

He said the only edge the Soviet Union holds in developing ICBMs is that theirs is now somewhat more reliable at present.

U. N. To Hear UAR Defense Of Ship Ban

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. General Assembly today hears the United Arab Republic's defense of its ban on Israeli ships and cargoes from the Suez Canal.

U.A.R. Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi was expected to discuss the canal, Israel, Palestine Arab refugees, Algeria and other subjects in a 40-minute speech in the Assembly's general debate.

The speech gave the U.A.R. its first occasion for a full, public explanation at the U.N. of its new policy of seizing cargoes from Israel bound through the waterway to foreign ports aboard non-Israeli vessels.

Mrs. Golda Meir, Israel's foreign minister, told the 82-nation Assembly Sept. 24 that ever since the 1948 Arab-Israeli war, Egypt—later the U.A.R.—had barred all Israeli vessels and some cargoes going to Israel on non-Israeli vessels.

Early this year the U.A.R. extended the embargo to cargoes from Israel in a new policy which was "obviously aimed," Mrs. Meir said, "at inflaming a long-standing issue and creating fresh tensions."

Launching Pad Is Out For 5 Months

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The launching pad destroyed 11 days ago by the explosion of an Atlas-Able moon rocket will be out of commission about five months, the Air Force Missile Test Center announced today.

The Atlas-Able, designed to hurl a 375-pound satellite around the moon early this month, blew up during a test of its engines, causing heavy damage to the pad.

Soviet Space Laboratory To Travel Near Moon Tomorrow

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — The flying Soviet space laboratory will reach its closest distance to the moon Tuesday and make mankind's first photographs of its hidden face, Tass said today.

Slowed by the relentless gravitational tug of the earth, the flying laboratory should come within 4,350 miles of the moon at 5 p.m. —9 a.m. EST—Tuesday, the official news agency said.

As it approached the moon, the interplanetary station—that's what the Russians call it—has separated from the last stage of the cosmic rocket that launched it Sunday, Tass added.

The agency said that at noon Moscow time — 4 a.m. EST—the station was 248,000 kilometers or 154,000 miles from the earth and over the eastern part of the Indian Ocean. This was well over the halfway mark.

Tass said the apparatus is moving toward the moon more slowly than the first and second Luniks. This is to enable it to pass round the moon and be pulled back to earth instead of flying off into space as did the first moon shot last January.

Much conflicting data is being given out on what the satellite is doing or is likely to do.

Tass put the flying laboratory about 20,000 miles farther from the earth at noon than did the Moscow Planetarium. The planetarium put the moon distance at 215,000 kilometers—133,515 miles.

Tass' announcement today that the satellite would pass within 4,350 miles of the moon differed from the original Soviet announcement, which placed the distance at about 6,210 miles.

An unnamed astronomer declared triumphantly over Moscow radio: "It is now a new moon and that means that the other side of the moon is brightly lighted by the rays of the sun. What lies there? Soviet scientists will have the reply to this question before long."

Scientists kept track of the space vehicle by its radio signals, which sounded like notes from a violin.

The launching Sunday on the second anniversary of the birth of the Sputnik I, was heralded on both sides of the Iron Curtain as another giant step in man's adventure into space.

"This means we have already entered the period of planned conquest of cosmic space and realization of a flight to the moon and the nearest planet," said astronomer Nikolai Barbashev, chairman of the Soviet Academy of Sciences Planetary Committee.

Alexandre Anaoff, a leading French Astranautics expert, said, "The Soviet rocket proves they can fire a moon rocket with good chances of success any time they want."

The Soviets indicated some control of the new space station could be exercised from stations on earth. They announced that the "apparatus carried by the third Soviet space rocket" would be switched on for two hours today.

They predicted that the station — the third Soviet cosmic rocket shot aimed at the moon — would stay aloft for a long time because it will approach no closer than 2,000 kilometers — 1,240 miles — to the earth.

The flying station was reported loaded with scientific equipment, but the official announcements gave no details on it.

'Pilot' Civil Rights Appeals On Supreme Court's Docket

By PAUL M. YOST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court reassembles today for a new term that is certain to produce important decisions in the civil rights field.

Two pilot appeals directly affecting enforcement of the 1957 Civil Rights Act are among the more than 1,000 cases already entered on the court's crowded heavy docket.

Heading the civil rights cases is a Justice Department appeal from a decision by a federal judge in Georgia that a section of the 1957 act is unconstitutional. He said it is invalid because it gave the attorney general authority to seek injunctions not only against state officials but against private citizens as well.

The Supreme Court will hear arguments on this appeal later in the fall. It is expected to announce soon whether it will hear arguments on another Justice Department appeal, this one from a decision by a federal judge in Alabama that the act did not empower the attorney general to sue a state.

The decisions dismissed the first two cases filed by the Justice Department under the act in efforts to enforce voting rights of Negroes. Department counsel said the cases must be settled finally by the Supreme Court before the act is truly workable.

New appeals involving other racial issues ask review of lower court decisions that (1) resulted in closing Prince Edward County, Va., public schools; (2) barred the Norfolk, Va., City Council from shutting off funds for secondary schools; (3) required Negroes seeking to enter North Carolina white schools to use all state procedures before complaining to federal courts; (4) held there was no discrimination involved in the dropping of Negro teachers when Moberly, Mo., put into effect a school integration plan; (5) ruled a Negro on an interstate bus trip could be fined $10 for refusing to leave a restaurant for whites in a Richmond interstate bus terminal.

The Supreme Court already has granted a hearing on an appeal of trespassing on a course in Greensboro, N.C.

It also will hear an appeal by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in a case from Little Rock, Ark. The NAACP challenged validity of an ordinance requiring it to give the city lists of members and contributors.

Re-arguments will be heard in two major cases involving communism. In one appeal, Junius Irving Scales, former Communist party official in the Carolinas, questions validity of the membership clause of the Smith Act. The other appeal is by Soviet Col. Rudolf I. Abel, highest ranking Soviet spy ever caught in the United States. He has challenged the validity of his arrest in New York, contending that federal agents seized evidence against him without search warrants.

First arguments on these appeals were heard last term, but the nine justices were not able to reach a decision and had to call for re-arguments.

An appeal by 15 labor organizations from a decision by the Georgia Supreme Court is of major interest to unions throughout the country.

The decision was that compulsory union membership, where dues are used for political purposes without consent of members, is a violation of the U.S. Constitution.

The court will make known later whether it will review this decision. Another appeal in the same status was filed during the summer by James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union. This appeal questions constitutionality of powers given a board of monitors to do a house-cleaning job on the Teamsters.

Under an old custom, the high court devotes its first meeting of the new fall term to brief opening formalities. For the rest of this week the justices will meet in closed conferences to discuss pending appeals. Next Monday the court will announce what action will be taken on many of the appeals, and public argument sessions will begin for the nine-month term.

Platform Drafters Get Much Advice

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Architects of the 1960 GOP platform are going to get thousands of words alerting Republicans to changing times—and the unchanging goal of budget-balancing.

The Republican Committee on Program and Progress, headed by Charles H. Percy of Chicago, seems likely to wind up in a series of five reports by advising the party to be flexible but to stand firmly against paternalistic government and deficit spending.

In two reports released during the weekend, the 40-member group called on Republicans to be "flexible and imaginative in welcoming change" but to continue to resist "vast new spending programs directed from Washington."

Upcoming are three more reports on "National Security and Peace," "Human Rights and Needs" and "Economic Opportunity and Progress."

All of these peer ahead to 1976, the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, in an effort to prepare the GOP for things to come. They will go to the 1960 convention platform committee for its consideration.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, in a statement praising the report, said it "presents the Republican party as a party of dynamic progress."

"This report brings home the fact that we are conservative because we want progress. We oppose programs which place what we believe to be too much emphasis on federal government action — not because they promise too much but because they would produce too little."

A task force headed by Charles E. Ducommun, California metals firm executive, forecast a 60-million increase in population and revolutionary developments in almost every field in the next 17 years.

To keep abreast of a space-probing world, the task force said that by 1976 the United States ought to be spending 36 billion dollars a year — more than three times the present outlay—on scientific research. But it insisted that government must not supersede private enterprise in this field.

'Little Joe' A Success

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Little Joe booster rocket has turned in a big performance for space scientists.

The rocket Sunday hoisted a dummy space capsule with an ert escape rocket system to an altitude of 40 miles above the Atlantic Ocean. They were intentionally destroyed according to plan about 2½ minutes after launching.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration stamped the test successful.

The launching from the Wallop's Island, Va., research station was the first in a series for the Little Joes. The dummy space capsule was only a boiler plate mock-up of the type that will carry man into space.

Neither the capsule nor the escape system was instrumented for the test of the rocket's booster, launching and destruct systems.

The Little Joe is a 24-foot, 20,000-pound rocket. The 10-foot capsule it carries weighs one ton and is surmounted by a 16-foot escape rocket. The escape rocket is designed to pull the capsule several thousand feet above the main rocket if something goes wrong during a launching. It then is supposed to open parachutes and safely lower the capsule to earth.

'BEATNIK QUEEN' FREED — Green-eyed Sherry Riley, 19, termed "Queen of the Dallas Beatniks" is shown while awaiting hearing in Dallas municipal on charges of disturbing the peace by staging an early morning party at her apartment for a group of beatniks. She was acquitted. The poetry - quoting blonde came to court dressed for the occasion — a tight fitting black jersey dress over her 39-23-36 form, purple high heeled shoes, black net stockings and heavy facial makeup. Crip Tucker Faces Liquor Count Here

Luther (Crip) Tucker, Snyder Negro who has been previously convicted of liquor law violations, was arrested by city police early Sunday morning and charged with transportation of liquor in a dry area.

T. L. Steele, police chief, said Tucker was arrested about 2:58 o'clock Sunday morning. Whiskey, gin and vodka were taken from Tucker's car by city police.

His bond was set in county court at $1,000.

Fine Is Levied In County Court Here

Gene Shy was fined $50 and assessed $23.50 court costs in county court on a charge of assault on his wife, T. L. Steele, police chief, said.

Shy's wife signed the complaint against her husband following an affray at the couple's house. Police said she was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Firing Stirs Criticism

HOUSTON (AP)—The firing of a police officer on charges including the unauthorized release of a story to a newspaper has drawn criticism from Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Officials in suburban Deer Park fired officer Ken McDaniel after a story appeared in the Houston Post telling how he subdued a big toad with a pistol.

"If McDaniel's release of a story to a Houston newspaper was responsible for his dismissal from the Deer Park police force, the action on the part of his superiors is certainly deplored by the chapter," said a statement released by Farris Block, president of the Texas Gulf Coast chapter.

Mayor Jimmy Wright said the toad story "triggered" the dismissal but McDaniel would have been discharged anyway. He said the officer had broken other regulations.

McDaniel admitted he once put

Lubbock Automobile Is Recovered Here

A 1959 Ford car which had been stolen in Lubbock was recovered here yesterday.

Officials of Wilson Motors, 1401 Avenue Q, reported finding the car on their lot, and police discovered it had been stolen in Lubbock the day before. Lubbock police officers came here and claimed the car yesterday.

T. L. Steele, police chief, said apparently the person who stole the car abandoned it on Wilson's lot during Saturday night.

Midland Fire Costly

MIDLAND (AP) — Fire which razed three stores in a shopping center here Sunday did an estimated $175,000 damage.

Aluminum came into ornamental use at the court of Napoleon III.

Voters Turn Down Integration Plan

GOLIAD (AP) — Goliad voters turned down 338 to 173 Saturday a proposal to authorize integration of the public schools.

The election was held as provided by a state law which cuts off funds for school districts which integrate without voter approval.

The Goliad election was the second school integration election held in this area. Bloomington voted overwhelmingly for integration which was accomplished this fall.

Cardenas Speech Lauds Communists

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Gen. Lazaro Cardenas, former Mexican president and Stalin Peace Prize winner, gave Communists and other leftists a field day Sunday.

He was the main speaker at a meeting called to commemorate the anniversary of the Communist regime in China.

Cardenas spoke of the "spectacular progress" in China and of the country's reforms in agriculture and property ownership.

GOOD LIVING . . . YOUR TELEPHONE BY YOUR SIDE

Smartest way to a woman's heart... an extension phone

No wonder this teenager is thrilled. Thanks to Dad, she has her own extension phone. It helps her share homework problems, do errands. And when she just wants to prop up in bed and talk, she can do so without bothering anyone in the house. It's natural for teenagers to have their own phone... because all around them they see how useful it is to grownups, how it adds to the fun and convenience of good living. And an extension is easy to pay for out of earnings or allowance. Order yours from the telephone business office or ask any telephone serviceman.

Extensions cost only 90¢ a month plus installation.

SPICED HERRING

INGREDIENTS: 1 jar (7½ ounces) herring fillets in spiced vinegar and wine, 1 bunch radishes, 1 large cucumber, 1 container (8 ounces) small-curd cottage cheese, 1-3 cup buttermilk, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, salt, pepper, romaine, paprika.

METHOD Drain herring thoroughly. Cut top leaf and root ends from radishes; clean and slice thin. Wash and pare cucumber leaving enough skin on to give striped effect; slice thin. Turn cottage cheese, buttermilk and lemon juice into an electric blender; blend until smooth, stirring down once or twice. Refrigerate drained herring radishes, cucumbers and cottage cheese mixture until serving time; then fold together, adding salt and pepper to taste. Line serving plate with romaine; add herring mixture; dust with paprika.

NOTE: 1 cup sour cream may be substituted for the cottage cheese mixture.

Rittenberry Marriage Announced

Miss Joan Elaine Lisenbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Lisenbee, of 109 East Monroe, Levelland, became the bride of Billy Roy Rittenberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rittenberry of Snyder in a double ring ceremony Sunday September 27.

The bride was attired in a Lucene blue sheath dress with collar and sleeves piped in matching blue satin, with satin covered buttons down the front of the bodice. Her jewelry was fashioned of blue irridescent stones and her accessories were of black lizard.

The brides' only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Monterey Valentine of Snyder. She wore a beige wool jersey dress with brown lizard accessories.

The bride attended school in Cisco and Levelland and will graduate with the class in the spring of 1960. She was a drum major for two years in the Cisco Lobo Junior High School band and was majoriette for the Lobo Band. After moving to Levelland she was a majoriette for two years.

She is a member of the First Baptist Church and the Order of the Rainbow for Girls in Cisco.

Rittenberry attended school in Big Spring and Levelland.

Following a wedding trip to points in Old Mexico the couple will be at home at 3781 Highland Drive, Snyder.

ASPARAGUS CUTS

INGREDIENTS: 1 bunch (2 pounds) asparagus, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup boiling water, ½ teaspoon salt.

METHOD: With a swivel-blade vegetable peeler, pare scales and outer covering from asparagus up to buds. Wash in hot, then rinse in cold water. Slice into 2-inch diagonal lengths, about ¼ inch thick; slice through buds this same way. Over low heat melt 2 tablespoons of the butter in a deep 10-inch skillet with a dome cover; add asparagus; stir to coat with butter. Add boiling water and salt. Cover and boil fairly rapidly just until tender—about 5 minutes; lift cover several times, mix and watch like a hawk. Uncover; if there is more than a few tablespoons of liquid in skillet, remove excess. Stir in remaining tablespoon butter. Makes 6 servings.

NOTE: The asparagus used in testing this recipe were on the thick side—21 stalks in a 2-pound bunch.

Her Promise Kept Twice, Wife Now Asks For Breather

ATLANTA (AP) — In 1948 Laura Peters, now Mrs. Donald Pierce, promised to see her fiance through college. She did — twice.

Then, after two college degrees, four children and many miles of travel, she asked for a breather.

Pierce, an army captain, took a 1959 law degree from Emory University while with the Third Army at Ft. McPherson, Atlanta. In 1950 he graduated in journalism from the University of Maryland where as a sophomore he met his wife, from Port Matilda, Md.

Soon after his law degree, the 6-foot-4 captain, a native of Laurel, Md., obtained a transfer from the infantry to the judge advocate's corps, the legal branch of the service. He was all set for another degree, under Army sponsorship, but after a brief rest.

"I want a breather," pleaded Mrs. Pierce. Her husband gave in to the extent of getting his study for a master's degree in law at the University of Virginia put off until November.

Pierce did his advanced study in spare time from Army service at many places. The birthplaces of his and Mrs. Pierce's four children are a good index of their far-flung travels.

Donna, 9, was born in Maryland; Leslie, 8, at Ft. Knox, Ky.; Stephen, 5, in Tokyo; and Elizabeth, 3, in Atlanta.

Pierce prefaced his law degree work with a correspondence course from the University of Wisconsin while he was in Japan.

RHUBARB PUDDING

INGREDIENTS: 1 pound rhubarb, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1½ cups sugar, ½ cup ready-to-eat bran, ¾ cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup milk, 3½ teaspoons cornstarch, ½ cup boiling water.

METHOD: Wash rhubarb in cold water; cut off leaf and root ends; slice into 1-inch lengths. Turn into an 8 by 8 by 2 inch baking dish. Cream butter and ¾ cup of the sugar; stir in bran. Sift together the flour, baking powder and ½ teaspoon of the salt; stir into creamed mixture in several additions, alternately with the milk, mixing well. Spread or pour batter evenly over rhubarb. Mix remaining ¾ cup sugar and ½ teaspoon salt together thoroughly; sprinkle over batter. Pour boiling water over; bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 1 hour. Serve warm.

POTATO SPINACH

INGREDIENTS: 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed frozen cream of potato soup, 1 can (12½ ounces) clear chicken broth, ½ cup milk, 1 cup cleaned spinach leaves (tightly packed down for measuring and then knife shredded).

METHOD: Into a medium-sized saucepan turn the potato soup and chicken broth (just as they come from their cans); milk and spinach. Slowly bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Makes 4 servings.

T-H Law Is No Panacea

CORPUS CHRISTI CALLER

President Eisenhower cannot wait much longer to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act in an effort to reach a settlement of the steel strike. The unhappy prospect is that all efforts to reach an agreement between labor and management will be halted during the 80-day "cool-off" period described by one Taft-Hartley provision.

Both organized labor and industry seem to have reached the point of no return in their negotiations. Labor demands higher wages and some fringe concessions. Management will agree to a wage increase only if it is given a freer rein in the assignment of workers in day-to-day jobs.

More than 500,000 are out—500,000 of them steel workers—have been idled by the strike. Further unemployment will pyramid early this month as the full impact of steel shortages hits the automobile and other large industrial users.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell recently told the AFL-CIO Convention that in his opinion President Eisenhower would have "no alternative" to invoking the Taft-Hartley Act. Even more ominous, however, was his prediction that negotiations would break down during the 80-day lull, and that the strike would be resumed thereafter. Going farther, Mitchell said that the use of Taft-Hartley would result in lasting resentment among workers and invite legislation "inimical" to the companies during the next session of Congress.

Every major union has come to the defense of the steel workers, promising them that they would not be "starved" into a strike settlement. A multi-million-dollar war chest (begun with a loan of $60,000,000 from the United Automobile Workers) has been established. No one can foresee the effects of what has become the most serious labor-management dispute in more than 20 years.

If Mitchell's forecast proves accurate, only Congress will be able to settle the strike. For after that the Taft-Hartley injunction period of 80 days is over, there is no further legal remedy to require strikers to return to work. The President may, and probably will, make recommendations to Congress. A fierce legislative battle might then ensue.

Up to a certain point the people are helpless bystanders viewing a struggle that intimately affects their daily life. But in the end Congress would have to act to safeguard the public interest. As Mitchell observed, Congress may well pass strong legislation to curb management. It is even possible that ceilings on steel prices and on wages may be imposed.

It is possible that the scars of this conflict will remain for many years.

Tough Days Ahead If You Need Cash

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — When the U.S. Treasury has to pay 5 per cent to borrow relatively short term money the little businessman and the ordinary individual know that tough days are in store for those who don't have cash.

Stock traders become nervous over what this might do to the business recovery and the expected rise.

The Treasury next week will offer two billion dollars of four-year 10-month notes with a 5-per cent interest rate in Wall Street the scuttlebutt is that the offering seems sure to be oversubscribed. U.S. Treasury notes are the best of risks in this unpredictable world. And a 5-per cent return on money lent for less than five years is handsome.

The Treasury is in this fix for several reasons.

1. The government has been spending more money than it is currently taking in. The Treasury has to borrow cash to pay the bills until tax collections pick up early next year. Also some old securities are coming due and the money must be found to retire or refund them.

2. Demand for credit is greater than the supply of lendable funds. The demand comes from businessmen either to finance their operations or to expand them. And it comes from individuals wanting to buy cars and appliances on time or to get a mortgage for a new home. The result is that interest rates have been rising for a year or more.

3. The Federal Reserve System holds that if it made money easier so that people could borrow more and with less pain, it would just be feeding a speculative boom which it fears will get along when industry starts celebrating the end of the steel strike.

So the Fed is keeping credit what it considers reasonably tight. Interest rates edge higher. The Treasury has to pay the highest rates since 1921. And the total annual interest bill on the federal debt has climbed well over nine billion dollars.

4. The Treasury is prohibited by law from paying more than 4¼ per cent on any bond of more than five years or longer maturity. This it says, keeps it out of the long term market because it can't find lenders at that rate. So it has to do all its borrowing in the short term market, already congested with business and individual borrowers.

Thus the Treasury becomes a competitor of the businessman wanting a short term loan or the individual wanting an installment loan.

It also becomes a competitor of common stocks. It's hard to find a stock that yields 5 per cent a year, and certainly none has the credit of the entire United States behind it.

Herter Remains Almost Anonymous

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in years this country has a secretary of state who is so self-effacing he is almost anonymous. He works hard but stays in the background.

This retiring quality in Secretary Christian A. Herter may have been an indirect but major factor in what seems to be a change in American foreign policy as seen in the new effort to get along with the Soviets.

Herter, a mild and proper Bostonian, talks when he has to, as he did last spring and summer at Geneva in dealing with the Soviets on Berlin. Otherwise, he has little to say. This is a switch in more ways than one.

Dean Acheson, secretary under President Truman, was a self-assured, imaginative and aggressive man who sometimes even gave the impression of arrogance.

He made a lot of speeches, was continually in hot water with Congress, took a lot of abuse—particularly from Sen. Joseph McCarthy—fought back and yet so managed it that Truman appeared the undoubted boss of foreign policy.

Not so with Herter's immediate predecessor, Secretary John Foster Dulles, who was an aggressive man, too, and stubborn. Dulles seemed less imaginative than Acheson, but was continually in hot water with congressional Democrats.

He made a lot of speeches, too. But he so dominated his job that President Eisenhower looked like a secondary figure in foreign affairs, leaving it up to Dulles to carry the load.

Herter stays so much out of sight that Eisenhower completely dominates in foreign relations.

Acheson and Dulles, besides their public speeches, held news conferences regularly. Herter has had only one in Washington since taking office last April 22.

True, he has been out of the country a lot—at Geneva and then in Latin America for formal conferences—but even when he could naturally be hogging the camera, or staying within close range, he didn't.

Try to remember seeing him at all when he was in Europe with Eisenhower a few weeks ago. Were you conscious of him in any pt the pictures of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev taken with American officials?

It is questionable Khrushchev ever would have been invited here if Dulles had been alive. His whole policy was a rigid, unbending, stiff-arm. This does not mean to imply Herter is any softer. But he may be more flexible.

The difference between Herter and Dulles is bound to affect Eisenhower. Even when Eisenhower and Dulles appeared together on TV it was Dulles who did most of the talking.

The President seemed to defer to his judgment. Perhaps Eisenhower was always more willing to try new tactics than Dulles but yielded to the older man's more frozen views.

It is easy to understand how Eisenhower, when the dominant Dulles was no longer around to lean on or defer to, had to rely more on himself and assert himself more.

Tokyo has 11 major museums and art galleries—one museum devoted entirely to the development of transportation in Japan since 1872.

Oil Lamps Still Sell In America

NEW YORK (AP)—Those who put a light in the window for the one away do not always depend on Thomas Alva Edison.

Last year some $1,196,000 worth of old-fashioned oil lamps lighted American homes. When I write this I think of an endless landscape in South Dakota with a distant twinkle in the dark.

How often did bandits interrupt the 1,966-mile delivery of U.S. mail from St. Joseph, Mo., to San Francisco during the 18-month life of the Pony Express? Only once was mail lost.

This marvelous record of American communications had a wry result — the completion of a coast-to-coast telegraph system made the pony run unnecessary and pauperized the genius that sponsored it.

Between You And Me

By JERRY JACKSON

The Tigers' loss to Permian Friday night was an extremely bitter pill for the local team to swallow. For they out-rushed, out-passed, and out-punted the Panthers, rolling up almost twice as many first downs in the process, but at game's end were left holding a goose-egg, whereas the Odessans were six all-important points to the good.

Being played under the conditions under which it had to be played, the contest was definitely not representative of either team's abilities. To fully appreciate the miserable shape the playing field was in following the flash flood of an hour or two before, one would have had to been there and seen for himself.

Anyone For Skin-Diving?

THERE WAS WATER, water everywhere. The track oval resembled a huge moat, while the field itself was a swampy quagmire fit for none but the webfooted. Two or three plays was all it took to make a player practically unrecognizable, what with all the sticky terra firma clinging to his person. Substitutes into the game for the first time stood out like silver dollars the first down or two before being initiated into this muddy fraternity.

Had the playing area been dry the outcome might or might not have been the same, but there is little doubt but that there would have been a heap more point production on the part of both teams. Nipped in the bud was Snyder's explosive-type running game, while on the other side of the fence Permian's offensive backbone, its powerful passing attack, was non-existent. This is borne out by the fact that the Tigers rolled up only 176 yards rushing, and that the Odessans attempted only four tosses, failing to connect on any of them.

Aggressive Action In Evidence

THE GAME WAS a rough-and-tumble sort of affair which saw several over-zealous players eased out of the contest due to certain prohibited extra-curricular activities. One such instance which went unpunished occurred on a play deep in Tiger territory when Permian was knocking on the scoring door. On this play a quick movement in the Odessa line compelled Snyder's Mike Moffett to come bolting across scrimmage and plow into the Panther left end, who indignantly looped a roundhouse haymaker in Mike's direction which luckily was no more than a swing and a miss for strike one.

Evidently, the officials (1) were looking the other way when it happened, or (2) figured the offender was doing Mike a favor by swatting at a fly on his helmet, for the resulting penalty was for offsides on Odessa's part, rather than for unsportsmanlike conduct. However, the ruling of offside against Permian justified Moffett's leap, proving that the initial movement had been on the part of Odessa, which is taboo.

It is said that from all bad must come some good, the bad in this case being the alarming scarcity of Tiger running backs due to the injury bugaboo. To add to the woe of halfbacks John Weaver, Spencer Dyer, and Perry Culwell being previously sidelined, injuries were sustained in this game by two additional halfbacks, Jim Fitzgerald and Jesse Crawford.

However, the "good" coming out of the game was the fine showing displayed by Alex Cross while running from the fullback slot. Though normally a quarterback by trade, he performed fullbacking chores just as though he owned the position, picking up 24 yards in the process on eight carries. It is conceivable that both he and regular starting fullback Eddie Watson might be utilized in the offensive backfield as a stopgap to the unavoidably leaky holes which have been created at halfback.

NAVY GAINS—Navy halfback Joseph Bellino, 27, picks up 6 yards around right end in the second quarter of game with Southern Methodist University in Dallas. SMU's halfback Glynn Gregory, 21, comes in to make the tackle.

Texas, SMU Games Tops In Southwest

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

College football's double-header—two games in the same stadium in less than 24 hours features the Southwest Conference football campaign this week.

In 1950 this twin bill drew 150,000 fans. It won't equal that this time but the schedule is mighty attractive—Southern Methodist vs. Missouri Friday night; Texas vs. Oklahoma Saturday.

The Texas-Oklahoma game, a deep-dyed intersectional rivalry that's been going on for 60 years, will pack the Cotton Bowl with 75,000. The SMU-Missouri game is expected to attract about 40,000.

Texas will be finding out if it can claim the distinction of being the best team in the conference. It is generally agreed that Oklahoma is the greatest test for the undefeated, untied, unscored-on Longhorns.

SMU, which won its first game last week when it whipped Navy 20-7, expects trouble from Missouri, which has beaten Michigan and Iowa State while losing to Penn State.

The league, which won four out of six intersectional games last week, will have only three this time. Rice clashes with undefeated Florida at Houston Saturday night.

Texas Tech, a member not competing for the championship, risks its undefeated record against Texas Christian at Lubbock while Texas S&M hosts Houston of the Missouri Valley Conference at College Station. Arkansas and Baylor meet at Waco in a conference game.

Three undefeated, untied teams remain as the conference rounds out its first month. They are Texas, Texas Tech and Arkansas. The latter grew in stature last week when it tumbled defending conference champion TCU 3-0. Arkansas has the longest winning streak of them all seven games. The Razorbacks won their last four in 1958. They have taken three this season.

In padding its intersectional record last week, the conference saw Texas lash California 33-0, Tech nose Tulsa 8-7, A&M edge Mississippi Southern 7-3 and SMU trample Navy.

Rice and Baylor dropped tests against the outsiders. Rice remained winless by tumbling before Duke 24-7. Baylor took its first loss, 22-0, from Louisiana State, the national champion.

Eagles Boomed For Top Schoolboy Spot

By The Associated Press

Is Abilene back as kingpin of Texas schoolboy football?

The Eagles would seem to be in that position since they beat the team that was claiming it—Breckenridge.

However, last year Abilene whipped Breckenridge—the only loss the Class AAA state champions suffered—but went down before Wichita Falls in the AAAA playoffs. Breckenridge was the only team to beat Wichita Falls.

This year there doesn't seem to be much difference between the three. Breckenridge and Wichita Falls played a 14-14 tie; Abilene beat Breckenridge 14-13.

Abilene tests its new-found muscles against San Antonio Alamo Heights Friday night at Abilene. It will be the second southern power to try to scalp the Eagles. Thomas Jefferson tried it and was nosed out.

Jefferson faded into obscurity last week when it lost to San Angelo 21-6.

The battle of Abilene and Alamo Heights will be the clash of two of the 17 undefeated, untied teams left in AAAA. Arlington and Fort Worth Carter-Riverside play in similar features.

Amarillo Tascosa takes on Borger, an unbeaten but once-tied team, in a District 3 conference game.

Ten undefeated, untied teams remain in AAA but none of them is engaged in a game of note this week except San Marcos, which steps down to battle Gonzales, an unbeaten, untied AA outfit.

Class AA has 28 teams with perfect records and two of them meet—Olney and Decatur in a district 9 conference game.

Class A shows 21 unbeaten, untied teams with one game matching two of them. It's the clash of Farwell and Plains.

Defending Class A state champion White Deer starts the conference campaign, meeting Lefors.

Jarrin' Jack Leads SWC Ball Carriers

By The Associated Press

Texas Christian's Jack Spikes and Southern Methodist's Don Meredith continue to lead the major statistical classes of Southwest Conference football but Jack Collins, talented Texas sophomore, boasts the outstanding records.

Spikes leads the ball-carriers with 202 yards in 33 runs and Meredith tops the passers with 20 completions in 34 attempts for 275 yards.

But consider Collins:

1. He is second in ball-carrying with 196 yards on 17 runs for the best average in the league—11.5 yards per carry.

2. He leads the punters with a sensational average of 54.6 on five boots.

3. He has a perfect passing record—completing three for 1.000 per cent.

4. He's the leading scorer with 18 points.

Spikes retained his lead in ball-carrying although held to 34 yards by Arkansas. Collins gained 73 against California to move from fourth to second, six yards back of the TCU star.

Ronnie Stanley of Baylor rates second in passing with 20 connections on 34 throws for 131 yards.

Charley Milstead of Texas A&M took over the total offense lead from Meredith. He has 282 yards on 63 plays compared to 275 on 52 for Meredith.

Lance Alworth of Arkansas leads the punt returners with three for an average of 14.7 yards.

Ronnie Bull and Gerald Moore of Baylor are tied for the lead in pass-receiving. Each has five catches, Bull for 40 yards, Moore for 39.

TCU lost its lead in team total offense when its average per game was cut to 259.7. Texas took over with 335.3. In defense, TCU still tops. The Frogs have given up 159.7 yards per game.

Manager Is Being Sought By Braves

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves are seeking a name manager to succeed Fred Haney who resigned Sunday night after leading the club to two pennants and two second-place finishes in four years.

Lou Perini, who disclosed that Haney, 61, had been offered a one-year contract but had turned it down, said he had no idea who will handle the club in 1960.

He added, however, that the new manager will be a man with experience, reputation and a known ability to handle men.

This was interpreted in some quarters that Perini felt his club needed a leader with strong will and an iron hand.

"We will start from the top and work our way down," he said. "But we won't go down too far."

Perini left open the possibility that the job may go to Birdie Tebbetts, the club's executive vice president, if the Braves couldn't find their man.

Tebbetts, who managed the Cincinnati Reds before turning to the executive end of the game, said however, he was not a candidate for the job.

The list of candidates was headed, of course, by Leo Durocher, who managed both the Dodgers and Giants to National League pennants, and Red Schoendienst, veteran Braves second baseman who was sidelined most of the year because of tuberculosis.

Others high on the list include Freddie Hutchinson, manager of the Reds; Eddie Stankey, now in an official capacity with the St. Louis Cardinals; Bobby Bragan, manager of the Spokane club, and former big league manager Lou Boudreau, now in the radio field, and Bob Scheffing, recently ousted as Chicago Cubs manager.

Ben Geraghty, for years a successful minor league manager in the Braves farm system who led the Louisville club to an American Assn. pennant last season, was ruled out because he is no name manager and lacks big league managerial experience.

"I would think that Durocher would possibly fit the description of the type of manager we will be looking for," a Milwaukee official said. "But right now we have no one in mind. We only know that he must be a highly capable, experienced and strong type of manager. It is no secret that our club is not the easiest to handle."

Morris Wins Texas PGA

By B. F. KELLUM

MCALLEN (AP)—Smiling Bobby Morris—new champion of the Texas Professional Golf Assn.—headed home to Dallas today with $1,000, the prize for winning the $5,000 tournament in the rain here Sunday.

The new champion who is also Texas PGA president wound up with a 72-hole total of 278, eight under par, but he had to fight off a determined bid by Earl Stewart Jr., also of Dallas, who was trying to win it for the third straight time.

Morris managed a one-over-par 72 on the final round while Stewart beat par by a stroke with a 70.

Stewart, playing steady golf every day of the tournament, had to settle for a 279 total when he missed a 35-foot put by inches which would have thrown the two into a tie on the final hole.

Morris fired a 6-under-par 66 the first day and a 3-under-par 68 the second day for a 36-hole total of 134. Stewart had a 69 and a 70 for a 139 and was five strokes away from Morris beginning the third round.

But Stewart continued his steady shooting with another 70 the third round as Morris managed a 72 which let Stewart gain two. The final round got under way with Morris owning a 206-209 lead.

Then the nip and tuck battle began. Stewart took little time in catching up, pulling even with Morris on the 4th hole. He lost a stroke on the fifth, gained it back on the seventh and lost it again on the ninth.

Both players had to battle heavy rains, in contrast to the good golf weather of the first three days.

Stewart had putter troubles on the first holes of the back nine and Morris upped his lead to four strokes through the 12th. Then Morris' putting went sour and Stewart cut the lead to one stroke through 17 and set the stage for the climax on the par 4 final hole.

Morris' second shot went over the green and he appeared headed for a cinch bogey. Stewart got about 35 feet from the hole with his second shot. But Morris chipped it within two feet of the cup. Stewart tried to sink the 35-footer and it missed by inches. Morris dropped it in for the championship.

Stewart received $600. Jackson Bradley of Houston was next with 280 and received $500. Iverson Martin of El Paso and Elroy Marti of Houston each won $350 for their 281s.

Nellie Dubs Coliseum As Being Two-Toned

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Little Nellie Fox called it a "two-tone" field, but maybe still a third tone — spectator background — has made the vast Coliseum a World Series trap for the White Sox.

The play that could have turned the tide against the White Sox was Dodger pinch-hitter Carl Furillo's two-run single Sunday, a bounder just out of reach of Chicago's ace shortstop Luis Aparicio.

Bad hop single, everybody said, including Aparicio, one of the fastest men in the big leagues.

But to some in the press box, the ball appeared to be a tough, but not impossible chance for Aparicio. It seemed he started a split second slow to his left for the Furillo smash.

"You can't see the ball come off the bat," Aparicio conceded, even though he said "If the ball says down, I've got a chance to get it. It took a little bad hop over my glove."

If Aparicio had fielded the ball, he had only to make a short flip for an inning-ending force play at second since the bases were loaded.

High-Flying Eagles To Test Cincinnati

By The Associated Press

One of the nation's top offensive teams and a rugged defensive club meet in the Missouri Valley Conference football feature in Cincinnati Saturday night.

The principals will be the defending champion North Texas State Eagles, who have a rushing average of 272 yards for their first three victories, and the Cincinnati Bearcats, who have limited three foes to an average of 94.7 yards rushing and only 173.7 yards total offense.

North Texas State defeated West Texas State 28-6 last Saturday, making their scoring average 35 points per game.

Cincinnati was dropped from the undefeated ranks 13-12 by Houston as the Cougars scored all their points in the second half.

In other games Saturday Houston hopes to even its record at 2-2 at the expense of Texas A&M in College Station.

LA, Go-Go Sox In Fourth Game Today

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Chicago's go-go White Sox, still running, but running second, turned back to old guy Early Wynn for today's fourth World Series game against the Los Angeles Dodgers, who have a 2-1 edge.

The Dodgers, now 5-4 favorites to win the world championship before a series record crowd of 92,294, are favored at 6-5 for the fourth game behind Roger Craig, the right-hander Wynn beat 11-0 in the opener at Chicago.

Wynn, who had to leave in the eighth inning of that game when his elbow stiffened, is one of the toughest clutch pitchers in the business. He's the right-hander even New York Yankee manager Casey Stengel "would have to pitch if I wanted to win one game."

And that's what the Sox need after blowing chances in every inning Sunday against winner Don Drysdale and reliever Larry Sherry, who put away his second straight series save.

Only two clubs — the 1925 Pittsburghs against Washington, and last year's Yankees against Milwaukee — ever have become world champions after losing three of the first four in a seven-game series. That's the task the Sox would face with another loss today.

"I still think we gotta helluva chance," said manager Al Lopez. "We've been doing things the hard way all year on this club, and we might as well end it that way."

Lopez shrugged when asked whether he still intends to try going in this park. Balls hit off the nearby left field screen plunge frighteningly fast into the fielder's glove. The White Sox, warned before the game that they should not try for doubles on shots to the screen, followed instructions to the letter, with few runners at second here, didn't try for doubles on shots to the screen.

"We didn't run any different yesterday than we always do," said Lopez, whose Sox have stolen just one base in four tries against Dodger catcher John Roseboro. That lone steal came in Sunday's first inning. Jim Landis slid into second without drawing a throw from Roseboro, who was watching Nellie Fox, the runner at third.

The Dodgers are 3-3 in steal attempts against Chicago catcher Sherm Lollar, but didn't try any Sunday.

"That Roseboro's okay," said Lopez, "but we got some catchers who can throw in our league, too."

Dodger manager Walt Alston, who before the series compared Roseboro potentially with ex-great Roy Campanella, said "We never had worries about his arm. It was his work as a catcher and hitter that worried us when he had to step in for Campy."

There was no base-running gimmick involved in Sunday's decisive seventh inning. Blanked on one hit for six, the Dodgers got rid of loser Dick Donovan on Charlie Neal's single and a pair of two-out walks that loaded the bases. Then they broke the shutout on Carl Furillo's pinch-hit off reliever Gerry Staley, that bounded over shortstop Luis Aparicio.

The Sox, who waited 40 years to get into a World Series, had a dozen hits — all singles, at least one in every inning — and left 11 men on base. Los Angeles had only five hits, putting only one off the screen while the Sox plunked five into it.

The first series game ever played on the West Coast rang up a record $549,071 in receipts at the Coliseum.

The old one-game attendance record was 86,288, at Cleveland in the Indians' 1948 series against Boston's Braves. The single-game receipts record was $480,085.64 when the New York Giants, who swept the series, were at Cleveland in 1954.

Third game totals upped the money in the players' pool to $611,096.86. While the players knocked the Coliseum as a ballpark, it takes no rap as a concrete cash box.

By matching today's take, $280,026.67, this will be the jolliest player pool and the richest series from any angle. The pool now shimmers at $611,096.86. The record, set in 1954's four-game series, is $681,763.72.

Upsets Marking NFL Football Wars

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Using the mercurial Tommy McDonald as his chief executioner, Ol' Man Upset has completely scrambled the form sheet in the National Football League's two-week-old campaign.

The fleet-footed McDonald scored four times Sunday to lead Philadelphia's downtrodden Eagles to a methodical 49-21 demolishing of the Eastern Division champion New York Giants in a weekend crammed with upsets.

The 5-foot-10, 180-pound Oklahoma All-America caught passes of 55, 33 and 19 yards for touchdowns and sped 81 yards with a punt return for another TD in his most productive day of a three-year career.

Jimmy Brown got the job done for Cleveland, carrying a near-record 37 times, gaining 147 yards and scoring twice as the Browns whacked the Chicago Cardinals 34-7. The Cards were last-minute picks as favorites.

Things were no different in the West, where Chicago's Bears bounced back from an opening game upset to upend NFL champion Baltimore 26-21 despite three TD passes by Colt quarterback Johnny Unitas.

Green Bay and San Francisco, generally figured to battle for last place in the West wound up as Packers whipped Detroit 28-10 and the 49ers thumped highly rated Los Angeles 34-0.

Washington responded to a tongue-lashing from Coach Mike Nixon for a 23-17 triumph over Pittsburgh.

McDonald, who caught six passes in all for 133 yards, began the Eagle romp by taking the first of two touchdown passes from Norm Van Brocklin. Outgained over-all 333 to 299 by the Giants, Philadelphia broke it open with three third-period scores to hand New York its worst defeat since 1953.

Playing in a steady rain, Cleveland emphasized ball control, using Brown effectively while curtailing its passing game. Milt Plum managed to throw TD strikes of 36 yards to Bill Howton and 5 to Ray Renfro. The Cards scored in the third period on a King Hill one-yard sneak.

Unitas, connecting for a touchdown in his 27th straight game, had three passes intercepted and they put the Bears in front to stay. Richie Petitbon lugged the first 33 yards for a score and the second by Erich Barnes set up a John Aveni field goal for a 9-0 lead. Unitas was unable to click until the fourth quarter when the Bears led 26-0.

Lamar McHan, picked up from the Cards on a trial basis, heaved four TD aerials—two to Max McGee for 41 and 36 yards—as the rejuvenated Packers doubled their entire 1958 victory output. Nick Pietrosante scored the first touchdown against Green Bay in two games on a plunge in the second period.

The 49ers showed a surprisingly strong running attack in handling the Rams—who never got beyond the San Francisco 29—their first shutout since 1949. J. D. Smith scored twice on a 20-yard gallop and a one-yard dive. Joe Perry raced 32 yards for a 49er touchdown before Y. A. Tittle closed it out with a 13-yard pitch to Billy Wilson.

The entire Redskin team was fired up by Nixon, who warned 19 players before the Steeler game they would be finished with the Washington club unless they played "for their lives." Substitute quarterback Ralph Guglielmi threw touchdown strikes of 70 and 46 yards to Bill Anderson and Bill Walton, respectively, to turn the tide.

No Substitute For Natural Gas Seen

By CHARLES C. HASLET

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's gas consumers must look to gas produced from wells in the United States for much of their supply.

This is the belief of attorneys for the Phillips Petroleum Co., of Bartlesville, Okla., expressed late last week before the Federal Power Commission in a gas rate case argument.

If there were a cheap substitute for natural gas available, the statement said, "obviously we would not have to worry about a future supply of gas."

But, it said, there is no such substitute.

"Our evidence was unchallenged that, although the vast supplies of oil shale, tar sands and foreign oil are available for future use of the motorists and other users of oil products, they offer no supply for the gas consumer in competition with pipelines," the statement said.

Recently, it said, there has been "a flurry" about transporting liquified gas to markets by tanker.

"Two executives of the Constock Company, the pioneer in that work, have stated that liquified gas cannot in the foreseeable future be a substitute for pipeline gas in this country," the statement continued.

"Phillips has a large supply of gas in Venezuela and is interested in a market for that gas. Our calculations confirm the Constock statement. Liquefaction of methane may have a future for storage for peaking purposes, but it will be storage of pipeline gas produced from wells in this country."

Canada's potential big gas reserves are in an area comparable to the U.S. Rocky Mountain region, the commission was told. It's proved reserves, Phillips counsel said, are about 10 per cent of those of the U.S. The population also is about 10 per cent and its industry is growing rapidly.

"We will get some gas from Canada as well as Mexico but it will be insignificant as compared to our tremendous demand, the commission was told.

"So, it is clear that the gas consumers of the United States must look to gas produced from wells in the United States."

Panel Rapped By Talmadge

DALLAS (AP) — Sen. Herman Talmadge (D-Ga) said today the federal Civil Rights Commission report to Congress is part of an attempt to establish "complete federal control over elections and education."

Talmadge spoke to the Public Affairs Luncheon Club.

Talmadge said he welcomed the chance to discuss "the alarming pattern which characterizes the efforts of those who continually are endeavoring in one way or another to change our form of government from one in which ultimate power rests with the states and the individual citizens to one in which absolute power is vested in a central government."

"That pattern," Talmadge said, "is one of attempting to circumscribe or nullify the provisions of the Constitution of the United States which clearly delineate between the responsibilities of the federal and state governments."

Pub Honors Top Patron

RIPLEY, England (AP) — The Three Horse Shoes, Ripley's most popular pub, honored old Jock Bowden this weekend for nearly 20 years of faithful beer drinking on his feet.

Jock, 77, is the most regular of regulars at the Shoes. He comes in twice a day, seven days a week, always takes the same spot at the bar and always stands.

A metal plaque was set into the bar Sunday to tell the story for posterity. It read:

"Upon this spot old Jock has stood
"For nearly 20 years.
"To sup his beer as well he could
"But to sit down he never would.
"So, hence, dear stranger, don't you think
"To keep this spot for Jock we should?"

U. S. Scientists To 'Wait And See'

WASHINGTON (AP) — American scientists have tipped their hats to the Soviets who launched a new space vehicle Sunday.

But they withheld any big slaps on the back until they see how the space traveler performs.

There was no attempt to discredit the Soviet launching itself only a wait and see attitude on its performance. The U.S. space officials did not know for sure just what kind of a vehicle had been launched, where it was to go and what it was to do. Their information was limited almost entirely to that given out by the Soviets and that was vague.

T. Keith Glennan, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said he had received word of the launching with considerable interest.

"We recognize the significance of this effort to send a probe around the moon and extend our congratulations," he said. "With the rest of the world scientific community we shall await the data from this new probe in its journey between the earth and the moon."

There was a question as to whether the vehicle was meant to make one or more circles around the moon, or merely include it in a big orbit around the earth.

First Soviet reports described the vehicle as an "interplanetary station" that would whirl around the moon and then go into a cigar-shaped orbit around the earth.

Moscow Planetarium experts said the vehicle was in fact only another earth satellite that for one circuit would include the moon within its flight.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., also questioned use of the term "interplanetary station."

"I suspect they are using a fancy term to give people the impression they have something they do not," Whipple said.

Whipple said it was his impression the Soviets put into orbit not a space station but a rocket around the moon.

NASA scientists hope to make contact with the vehicle today through the Goldstone tracking station in the Southern California desert.

NASA's minitrack radio tracking stations in various parts of the world were alerted to be on the watch.

President Eisenhower, vacationing in California, was being kept informed on the new Soviet future.

If a U.S. moon vehicle had not exploded 10 days ago on its launching pad, U.S. and Soviet moon-bound rockets might have been cutting through space in a fantastic lunar race.

The American vehicle, scheduled for launching Saturday morning, 10 days ago at Cape Canaveral, Fla. The Atlas-Able was designed to ram a 375-pound satellite above the moon.

Small Child Wanders Off

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Richard Bell is keeping a vigil—waiting and praying that her daughter, Susan, 2½, will be found unharmed.

State police, firemen, bloodhounds and some 200 volunteers continue their around-the-clock search for Susan, who wandered away from her parents shortly after noon Sunday.

The Bells live in Delaware, Warren County, N. J., which is just across the Delaware River from this Pennsylvania community.

Bell had come to an auto junkyard for some parts. He brought his wife, Susan, and another daughter along for a ride.

The junkyard, in nearby Martins Creek, is surrounded by a wooded area. The closest body of water, the Delaware River, is about four miles away.

Washington Policemen Are Versatile

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I sure shook those tourists up this morning," said the handsome young policeman across the street from the White House.

Washington police treat tourists fine, so explanations were in order.

These tourists, it seems, were Japanese.

"They were really interested and asked a long question, but their accent was so heavy I only got the general meaning," the policeman went on.

Well, how did he shake them up?

"I answered in Japanese."

A Japanese-speaking policeman in Washington — this one learned the language in the Army — isn't really much more of a curiosity than, say, a baby-delivering policeman elsewhere. After all, the Washington downtown scene normally includes strollers clad in kimonos, saris, turbans or a variety of resplendent uniforms.

A French visitor who wanted to see an exhibit in one of the government buildings was stopped by the Negro guard, who explained the department was closed on Saturday afternoons. The visitor in his own language that something was lacking in American hospitality.

But he turned quickly when he heard, in flawless Parisian French "Perhaps, monsieur, an exception could be made."

It was the guard. He made the exception with a flourish and a conducted tour in French.

Washington's various police and guard forces — Metropolitan, Capitol, White House, Park and others — are federal agencies which recruit from all parts of the country. The system brings in not only an occasional linguist, but all the regional accents and, besides, a real friendliness toward people from the hinterlands.

Johnson Says His Faith Is Renewed

DALLAS (AP) — Two weeks of traveling through Texas has renewed the faith of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson in the permanence and strength of the American people, he said Sunday.

"Telephone calls are handy, letters are good, but nothing quite equals sitting down with a man and just talking," Johnson said on his weekly broadcast for Texas radio stations.

"For two weeks, that's what I've been doing," Johnson said.

"From all these meetings and from hundreds of Texans, I've gained renewed faith that no super salesman of any foreign 'ism,' no Khrushchev or anyone else, will ever successfully peddle his wares in America," the Senator added.

The Senate Majority Leader devoted much of the broadcast to a resume of recent trips through the state.

"Before I left Washington," he said, "I said my first job when I returned home would be to get around the state — to see as many of you as I could — and last week I went from Galveston to Amarillo and I stopped all along the way."

Johnson said "The work in Washington is vital, it's important and I enjoy it, but there are a lot of things I miss. I miss the food—a good bowl of Texas chili; the scenery — the scrub cedars of my Hill Country."

"And most of all," Johnson said, "I miss my genuine friends—the people that I've come to know and love all over the state of Texas, and of whom I'm so very, very proud."

Soviet Use Of Term Is Questioned Here

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory questions the Soviets' use of the term "interplanetary station" to describe their latest space vehicle.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple said Sunday night: "I suspect they are using a fancy term to give people the impression they have something they do not."

He said it is his impression the Soviets put into orbit a rocket around the moon, not a space station.

Western scientists, Whipple added, use the term "interplanetary station" to describe a big satellite which can be used to land on, live on and launch other rockets.

Plane Is Delayed By Bomb Scare

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—An anonymous telephone warning that a bomb had been placed aboard a plane carrying a Negro integration leader forced the craft down here Sunday for a search.

No bomb was found. FBI agents and police combed the Braniff Airways plane and passengers' luggage.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People—and a central figure in the Little Rock school integration controversy — was aboard. After 30 minutes delay the plane continued on to Tulsa, Okla.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS OF SCURRY COUNTY'S INTENTION TO RECEIVE BID PROPOSALS FOR IT TO PURCHASE INTEREST IN LAND AND SUITABLE BUILDINGS AND EQUIPMENT TO BE USED FOR A MAINTENANCE YARD IN PRECINCT NO. 4

Notice is hereby given that the Commissioners Court of Scurry County, Texas, will convene at 10:00 A. M. on Monday, October 19, 1959, in the Commissioners Court Room in the Courthouse in the City of Snyder then and there publicly to open and consider all sealed bid proposals marked on the outside "Precinct 4 Maintenance Yard" theretofore received by the undersigned County Judge in his office in the said Courthouse for Scurry County to purchase for cash a lease-hold or fee interest in a tract of land of not less than five (5) acres situated in Precinct No. upon a paved State or County road, said land to be fenced with heavy net wire and to have upon it equipment and improvements complying substantially with the following specifications, viz:

(a) ONE (1) 40-ft. x 80-ft. x 14-ft. steel Butler building with concrete floors, large overhead doors, and monorail beam and trolley.

(b) ONE (1) 32-ft. x 86-ft. frame building with not less than ten (10) rooms suitable for office space and two (2) bathrooms.

(c) ONE (1) four-room 28-ft. x 42-ft. parkersburg steel warehouse (or equivalent) with concrete floor and dock 4 feet from ground level.

(d) ONE (1) steel frame loading dock with wooden floor, and

(e) ONE (1) 8-in. well equipped with a 21 stage 2-in. turbine pump with 5 h.p. mbtor capable of delivering not less than 30 gallons of water per minute; a 1,000-gallon underground pressure tank, and a 1500 barrel storage tank.

If the interest acquired by the County is lease-hold, the rental therefor shall not exceed $250.00 per year.

All buildings are to be either new or in a good state of repair and are to be wired underground for electricity and piped for gas and water.

Possession shall be delivered to Scurry County within sixty (60) days from October 19th, 1959.

All bid proposals submitted shall become and remain the property of, and shall continue to be subject to a acceptance by the County until one shall have been accepted by it and the County shall have acquired a precinct yard for the functions and operations of Precinct 4. Prospective bidders may secure additional information and more detailed plans and specifications by contacting the undersigned County Judge and-or by contacting J. C. Massingill, Commissioner for Precinct 4, Scurry County, Texas, in the Commissioners Court Room in said Courthouse in Snyder.

Under Section 2 of Article 2368a of Vernon's Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas of 1925, as amended, the right and privilege is reserved by Scurry County, acting by and through its Commissioners Court, to reject any or all of the bid proposals tendered and to waive any or all technicalities, including the right and privilege (but not any duty) to receive and accept any timely bid upon any precinct yard notwithstanding noncompliance in detail with the above and foregoing specifications.

Enrollment Up At ACC

ABILENE — For the eighth straight year enrollment at Abilene Christian College has broken all previous records.

As of Saturday, Sept. 26, the new ACC record stood at 2459, and was expected to climb at least a dozen higher with late registrations.

Last year's previous all - time record was 2456.

The breakdown on the enrollment figures includes the largest freshman class to ever attend the college on the Hill — 927. Other class enrollments: Sophomore 526, juniors 434, seniors 413, graduate students 137, post - graduates 16, and special students 6.

These students represent 44 states, the District of Columbia and at least a dozen foreign countries.

Members of the Church of Christ make up 94.4 per cent of this year's student body.

Weekend Violence Claims 18 Lives

By The Associated Press

Weekend violence took at least 18 lives in Texas. Two others were feared dead in the flash floods.

Mrs. W. R. Cooke of Leander and Mrs. Bertha Gouger of Ingram were believed drowned when their autos were swept from roads by high water.

The fatalities included:

Melvin Daniels, 21, died when a car went out of control on a rain-slick Dallas street. Three persons were injured.

Airman Jimmy Coley, 19, of Kelly Air Force Base, died Saturday when his car struck a road embankment near Del Rio and overturned.

Billy Stephens, 17, of Dallas died and two others were seriously injured when their car overturned Sunday on a rain-slick highway near Ennis.

A two-car collision on a rain-slick highway bridge near Snyder killed Audell Morphis, 35, of Snyder, and injured five other persons Saturday. Morphis was in a car driven by J. Moorfield of Snyder.

An argument between two carloads of youths ended in a shooting in which Jerry Lytton, 19, of Pampa, was killed early Sunday. Police arrested a suspect in Mobeetie, Tex.

A San Antonio airman, Sgt. Harold Plylar, 37, was found hanging from a belt in the city jail Saturday night.

Don Patrick, 42, of Kilgore drowned Sunday when he stepped into 20-foot deep water while helping to load a boat at Caddo Lake near Marshall.

Alphonse Bernard Grimm Jr., 50, was shot to death at his Houston home Sunday. Police said his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Moore Grimm, 45, admitted the shooting.

Jim Tyson, 21, of Iraan was killed when an oil truck and a car collided on a rain-slick highway near Crane Sunday night.

William Thomas, 12, was found hanged Sunday in the backyard of the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thomas, at Wichita Falls. Justice of Peace Ralph Davis ruled the death an accident.

Harriman Tired Of Word 'Capitalism'

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, millionaire former governor of New York, says the word capitalism should be abolished.

He told a Ford Hall Forum Sunday night: "Capitalism in the minds of the people of Asia is almost synonymous with colonialism. It seems to me that we should not permit Mr. (Nikita) Khrushchev or any other Communist to write us down as the standard-bearer of capitalism.

"Our economic system has little resemblance to the century-old Marxist concept of capitalism, and we should abolish the word."

North Texas Oil Deal Revealed

HOUSTON (AP) — The sale by Waterford Oil Co. of interests in oil and gas properties in Wise, Jack, Parker and Palo Pinto counties in North Texas was revealed Sunday.

Christie, Mitchell and Mitchell of Houston bought the interests for five million dollars. They include 35 oil and gas wells and 250,000 acres of land, in addition to Waterford's interest in the CM&M Gas Products plant at Bridgeport, Tex.

The Wise County Field, which extends into three adjacent counties, was discovered in 1953. Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America buys gas there and ships it to the Chicago area.

Among its many other tasks, helicopters deliver payrolls to river barges which are on the move up and down stream.

H-SU Set To Construct New Chapel

ABILENE — Hardin-Simmons University will break ground today for a new $630,000 chapel-auditorium.

Speaker for the exercises, which will be combined with the university's first fall convocation, will be Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock, a 1924 graduate of H-SU and member of Congress for 25 years.

Students and former classmates of Mahon, are expected to gather on the campus for the ceremonies. Invitations also have gone to Texas Baptist leaders and other friends of the university.

The new building will include a main chapel with seating for about 2,000 persons; a small auditorium which will accomodate about 200 in swivel-type chairs; nine classrooms, five offices, scenery shops, make-up room and dressing rooms. The chapel and small auditorium will be served by a common stage located near the center of the building. The auditorium also will be flanked by two small stages.

Presiding at the groundbreaking ceremonies will be Dr. Evan Allard Reiff, H-SU president; W. P. Wright, chairman of the board of trustees; and J. C. Hunter, Jr., chairman of the building committee. Music will be provided by the Cowboy Band. Dr. Lee Rempfhill, vice president for development, will lead the invocation and Wayne Evans, chairman of the university enlargement campaign, will deliver the dedicatory prayer. Evans is from Fort Worth, the other from Abilene.

Rep. Mahon is the No. 2 Democrat on the powerful 50-member Appropriations Committee of the House of Representative. He is chairman of the panel's subcommittee on military appropriations which this year authored a defense bill of $40 billions.

Storm Lashes Port In Western Mexico

MAZATLAN, Mex. (AP) — The tail of a tropical storm lashed this Pacific port over the weekend and floods have halted rail and highway service leading to Nogales on the Arizona border.

Winds dashed two shrimp boats against the breakwater and destroyed them. The 14 crewmen got out safely. Signs and a few trees were blown down, but most damage was from flooding.

Occupants of 75 homes in the two poor sections took refuge in a school and theater on high ground.

SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS

WINTER JUST AHEAD—Frank D. Stephenson, the radiator man, is shown above repairing a car radiator that is being readied by a smart motorist for satisfactory winter driving. "Now is the time to have the car's cooling system checked, and anti-freeze put in for the winter—before the rush comes when the first cold spell hits," he said. (Lee Watson photograph).

Car Radiators Need Winter Check, Stephenson Reminds

Has the cool air in the mornings lately reminded you that winter is just ahead?

If it has, you probably have said to yourself, "It's time to do something about that old anti-freeze in my car radiator."

"But that's not enough," a radiator expert, Frank D. Stephenson, owner of Snyder Radiator Service, 1105 Avenue T, said.

"If you have left last winter's anti-freeze in your car's cooling system all summer, the system is probably in need of a complete check before new anti-freeze is put in," he said.

Stephenson said that the anti-freeze itself might still be good if no water has been added to weaken it during the hot summer months, but that rust inhibitors in the anti-freeze have decomposed by now.

"All good anti-freezes have these rust inhibitors, and the life of the inhibitors is only about one year—then they let the system start deteriorating.

"If they are left in the system too long after losing their strength, the system will become clogged, and any anti-freeze and water in the system will then be lost.

"Each radiator should be drained and have all the old fluids—and clog—flushed out before new anti-freeze is added."

"During this process the system should be checked thoroughly for leaks, and all hose and fan belts should be inspected to see that they are not potential trouble makers.

"If a summer thermostat was put in to permit cooler operation during the summer, it probably will not give good performance from the car's heater this winter, and the winter thermostat should be put back in or a new one installed.

"All of these details can be taken care of in just a few minutes—and while you still have pleasant weather in which to do it," Stephenson said.

"If you do have these things done, most all manufacturers of anti-freeze will guarantee the anti-freeze in your car for the entire winter and replace it if lost, or keeep it up to the proper level if some escapes—and you will have assurance of good performance from your car's cooling system this winter," he said.

Stephenson warns, however, that these things should be done before the really cold weather arrives, because there will be such a rush then that many motorists will have to spend several hours getting the job done.

Oklahomans Are Ready For Sunshine

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Weather weary Oklahomans, flooded and evacuated, waited for relief today from six days of disastrous rains.

The first break in the rains may come tonight. The Weather Bureau forecast light rain for the hard hit eastern and central sections today, but clearing skies tonight.

Oklahoma Civil Defense Director Tom Brett estimates flood waters from the autumn rains caused millions of dollars in property damage.

He said Sunday he would recommend to Gov. J. Howard Edmondson that he declare a major state disaster from the floods.

Red Cross headquarters in Oklahoma City estimated 6,000 persons were forced to leave their homes because of high water and that 729 homes and buildings have been damaged.

Water was highest today here and at Guthrie in north central Oklahoma. Hundreds of families were homeless in both cities.

Volunteers erected sandbag levees here to stem the overflow from the surging Arkansas River which crested late Sunday night almost three feet above flood stage.

The river forecast center warned fresh rains could send the Arkansas even higher.

At Guthrie more than 250 families remained homeless as waters from Cottonwood Creek continued to rise. National Guard troops were on duty.

Thus far, five lives have been lost in the bad weather. Four victims died in auto crashes attributed to the rain, a fifth victim died in a light plane crash.

Evacuations have been without panic. The heaviest toll from the floods may be human misery.

Judge Pulls Props From Two Heroes

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A judge pulled the props Sunday from under two policemen who were heroes for a day.

Newspapers reported last week the policemen refused to take a bribe not to arrest a man for carrying a pistol.

Judge Eulalio Aguirre Barcena freed the suspect on the pistol charge. He was a restaurant cashier with a right to carry one.

The judge said his investigation showed the policemen did not refuse a bribe but demanded one and failed to get it.

Salesman Is Happy After Trio Nabbed

DETROIT (AP)—Jewelry salesman Frank V. Gentile, 32, of Cleveland, Ohio, breathed easier after FBI agents and police nabbed three men who had been trailing him and his $50,000 worth of jewels or four days.

Held for investigation in the alleged theft are John Mazzeo, 42, of Detroit, and William Berkowitz, 45, and Abraham Katz, 49, both of Miami, Fla.

Detective Inspector William H. Ford said they are "known as jewel thieves across the country."

Gentile had told the FBI Tuesday he thought he was being followed. He was instructed to keep visiting customers as usual.

And so he did—tagged by three strangers in a car who were in turn trailed by police and FBI men.

"It was quite a procession around town," Ford said.

Gentile placed his sample case of diamonds and other jewelry in the trunk of his car while he had lunch in a restaurant.

Ford said Berkowitz got out of a car nearby, walked to Gentile's, opened it with a key and drove away. Mazzeo and Katz, Ford said, followed in the car from which Berkowitz had alighted.

Three blocks away, police halted Mazzeo and Katz.

Berkowitz, who Ford said apparently was observing through a rear view mirror, stopped Gentile's car about 200 feet ahead, threw away a key and took off on foot.

Detective James Bannon covered Berkowitz, who ignored one warning to stop but halted when Bannon threatened to shoot.

Hay Is Delivered To Starving Cattle

WESTCLIFFE, Colo. (AP) — Army vehicles churned through heavy snowdrifts today delivering hay to an estimated 6,000 starving cattle, marooned in mountain pastures.

More than 4,000 of the stranded cattle were reached Sunday by Army vehicles loaded with hay.

Dozens of cattle have died as the result of a vicious snowstorm that dumped more than three feet of snow in a three-day span ended last Saturday.

Krush Heads For Home Talking Peace

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev headed for home today after once more voicing Soviet Communism's determination to end the cold war. But there was no indication his Chinese Communist hosts were climbing on his peace wagon.

Khrushchev flew from Peiping to Vladivostok, capital of the Soviet Far East. During his five-day visit to the capital of Red China, he told Chinese Chairman Mao Tze-tung about his talks with President Eisenhower and attended the celebration of the 10th anniversary of the Communist capture of the Chinese mainland.

In his third speech in Peiping calling for an end to the cold war, Khrushchev said at the airport that the "forces of peace are stronger than ever" and "there is full actual possibility to bar the road to war."

"The common people of the entire world are becoming ever more confident that with the growth of the might of the world Socialist system," he continued, "it will be possible forever to eliminate war as a means of solving international disputes.

"This is why the Communists of the Soviet Union consider it is as our sacred duty, our primary task, to utilize these favorable conditions, to utilize all possibilities in order to liquidate the cold war and guarantee the triumph of peace on earth."

Khrushchev did not say, however, that his Chinese hosts were joining in his peace campaign. No joint communique summing up the visit was issued.

Huge Development Is Studied In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — A group of investors is reported studying a multi-million dollar downtown business community which would be Houston's answer to New York's Rockefeller Center.

The Houston Chronicle said the group is led by Corbin Robertson, Douglas Marshall and Isaac Arnold, sons-in-law of the late oilman Hugh Roy Cullen.

The Chronicle said they have purchased most of six blocks of land south of the Houston Civic Center.

Walter Becket, Los Angeles architectural engineering firm, is conducting a feasibility survey of such a project, the newspaper said.

Rain Mars Opening Of Prison Rodeo

HOUSTON (AP) — Rain marred the annual Texas Prison Rodeo for the first time in its 28-year history Sunday but some 7,000 fans braved the elements to see inmate rodeo riders in action.

The performance was the first of four scheduled each Sunday through October.

Officials said rain and mud forced delay of the announcement of results.

EASY WAY TO KILL ROACHES AND ANTS
Scientists recommend that you control roaches and ants the modern way—with Johnston's No-Roach. Brushed just where you want it, the colorless coating kills these pests. It's effective for months, sanitary, and easy to use. Get No-Roach at D&H, Furr's, Piggly Wiggly, Safeway, Sunbeam, B&B Parkway, Rainbow's, & your local food or drug store.
