DALLAS GIRL IS COMPLAINANT

MISS LUCILE SINGLETON SAYS
SHE WAS ATTACKED BY NEW YORK MILLIONAIRE.

HERMAN OELRICHS HELD

Multi-Millionaire Mother of Student
Gives Bond to Keep Son Out of Jail.

Special to the Times.
New York, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Herman Oelrichs, widow of the late Herman Oelrichs, who amassed a fortune of many millions from steamship lines, early today hived her son, Herman, from spending the entire night in a police station, by signing his bond for $5,000, and giving security her $100,000 residence.

Young Oelrichs, who is a student of the Columbia law school, was arrested on a charge of felonious assault after Lucile Singleton, the 19-year-old daughter of William Singleton, a mine owner of Dallas, Texas, had told her story of a mysterious auto assault.

The girl alleged that Oelrichs, who was then known to her as "Billy Cleighton," had stabbed her while she was riding in the young man's car. Miss Singleton said she was attacked by the man because she admitted that she had an engagement with another man, whereupon "Cleighton" let go the steering wheel and stabbed her several times with a sharp instrument, which might have been a tool belonging to the automobile.

Oelrichs, when arraigned in police court today, was held under $10,000 bond until next Tuesday. The case was postponed because the complainant was still confined to her room from her wounds. Miss Singleton formerly was a pupil at the Darlington Seminary at Westchester, Pa.

A youth wearing glasses and saying he was a detective called on Miss Singleton and advised her to "settle" the case for money, detectives told Dougherty, and after a conversation in which the sum of $5,000 was mentioned, an understanding was reached that "Cleighton" was to give her $400.

Commissioner Dougherty last night arranged for Miss Singleton to telephone the home of "Cleighton" and ask him to come to her home, which she did. Detectives concealed themselves there and Oelrichs and a companion, they say, walked in, and Oelrichs was arrested as a result of a conversation between the two and Miss Singleton. The other man was not made a prisoner, but the girl's condition, it was said, is not serious.

Oelrichs was locked up in a police station cell last night to await arraignment tomorrow. He is 22 years old and a first-year student in the law school.

MISS SINGLETON'S FATHER DENIES SHE WAS STABBED.

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, Oct. 2.—Edmund Singleton, father of Lucile Singleton, who is alleged to have been stabbed by Herman Oelrichs in New York Tuesday night, last afternoon denied that his daughter had been stabbed as reported, declaring that he had a telegram from her assuring him that her injuries had been received when the automobile was wrecked in a collision.

Miss Singleton will leave for New York early tomorrow. He is a mine owner in the Texas district of Mexico and he returned from that place last night.

SENATORIAL RACE IN CALIFORNIA

Triangular Contest in Golden State
Promises Warmest Political Fight in Years.

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—With Francis J. Heney already the avowed candidate for the Progressive nomination to succeed Senator George C. Perkins of California next year, former Mayor James D. Phelan practically certain of the Democratic nomination, and John L. McNab, former United States district attorney, asked to stand for the Republican nomination, California today is facing one of the biggest political fights in its history. The candidacy of Heney is accepted by all to mean that Governor Hiram Johnson will not be a candidate for the senate, but will try for re-election. Heney and Johnson, two of the state's leading Progressives, are close friends and it practically certain that Heney's candidacy has Johnson's stamp of approval. As the situation now lines up next year's race for the senatorial with the people for the first time making the final choice, the race to succeed Senator Perkins promised to be the most interesting fight in real interest and excitement. There will be no contest for the governorship if Johnson runs again, but the senatorial fight is certain to be a hummer.

GERMAN MURDERER'S TRIAL AVENGED

A. Wagner, Charged With Sixteen
Murders, Will Be Tried In Vaihingen Court.

Berlin, Oct. 2.—Preparations were completed today for the trial of A. Wagner, the wholesale murderer of Muhlhausen and Degerloch.

Wagner is charged with sixteen murders, including those of his wife and four children, nine attempted murders and seven cases of arson.

Wagner is a murder fiend almost without parallel in the annals of crime. On the night of Sept. 5, he cut the throats of his wife and four children while sleeping, locked up the house, left a note on the door that the family had gone away, went to the village of Muhlhausen, set fire to several houses and with two automatic revolvers shot and killed ten and wounded nearly a score of persons as the villagers rushed out of their houses.

Wagner is a school teacher. He is a public to physicians and psychologists alike. Medical authorities declare that he is sane, and he himself denies vehemently that he was unbalanced when he committed the murders, on the contrary he declared that he had planned and contemplated them for months.

Wagner, while school teacher in Muhlhausen, betrayed a young girl, and was compelled to marry her. Revenge for the "gossip about him" in connection with this affair, is one of the reasons given by him for trying to "clean out the village." He shows no symptom of regret. When his hand, which was partly severed by an axe blow from an infuriated villager, was being taken off, he shouted "That is worse than murder. I did not hurt the people I killed but as badly."

The cattlemen are permitted to hold the cattle in bond for six months.

FINAL PLANS FOR SULZERS DEFENSE

BELIEVED FIRST STEP WILL BE TO ASK FOR RULING ON TWO QUESTIONS.

RULING MAY END CASE

Conceded That Decision Favorable to Governor Would Practically Knock Out Prosecution.

TRIAL ADJOURNED UNTIL MONDAY P. M.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Adjournment until Monday afternoon was taken in the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer this afternoon after a few motions made by counsel for the defense had been disposed of.

By Associated Press.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Final plans of the Sulzer attorneys in the governor's impeachment trial were drawn in a long conference with Sulzer today. Although they made no statement, it was believed their first step would be to ask for a ruling on two questions:

The constitutionality of Articles I, II and III of the articles of impeachment trial were drawn in a long conference with Sulzer today. Although they made no statement, it was believed their first step would be to ask for a ruling on two questions:

If the court rules favorably to Sulzer on the first it was generally conceded the case would be practically at an end.

Doubt was expressed today whether the governor's side of the case could get under way before next week. At all events, it was announced that the defense would ask until Monday to complete the preparation of its side of the case.

By Associated Press.
Washington, Oct. 2.—Democratic support for the conference report on the tariff bill appeared to be united today when the senate began its final consideration of the bill. The all-day session of yesterday, which had brought out unanimous support, led Chairman Simmons of the finance committee to hope there would be little delay in securing its passage. Senator Simmons announced as soon as the report was taken up he hoped a final vote could be reached today and requested an agreement for a vote at 6 p. m., but objection caused the vote to go over.

Until the latter part of the month which today's report covered, Texas and Southern Missouri but this was broken very generally during the third week of the period, the heavy rains at points in those States as well as in portions of Arkansas were thought to have caused some damage to the open cotton. During the second week of the period high winds and heavy rains were thought to have caused some damage in eastern North Carolina. In that week the drought was reported as severe over much of Tennessee and portions of South Carolina while the drought in Arkansas was considerably relieved.

"PLEASE DO NOT KISS ME"—TAG ON CHILD.

New York, Oct. 2.—Stitched to the skirt of a 4 year old child who reached here unattended on the liner Kron Princessina Cecile, which reached here late yesterday, was a placard on which was written in several different languages:

"Please take care of me. I am going to my mamma. Please do not kiss me."

The little girl, Margaret Haritch, came from a town near Vienna, where her mother had left her in a second time and emigrating with her new husband to Kenwood, Sonoma county, California. Recently the mother sent for her daughter, who on reaching her destination will have traveled about 7,000 miles. A family about to leave Ellis Island for California is expected to be entrusted with the care of the girl on the overland journey.

The doctor who wrote the card was thoughtful to protect the child from germs which might be communicated through kisses.

DOWIE'S SUCCESSOR

PLANS WORLD TOUR

Voliva and Ten Workers Will Start Series of Propagandizing Campaigns Early in October.

Zion City, Ill., Oct. 2.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, successor to the late John Alexander Dowie as head of Zion City, styled by his followers "the center of the world," today completed his plans for a series of "world-conquering tours," designed to convert all the people of the earth to the Zionist cause.

Accompanied by a brass band and a double quartet from the famous white robed choir, and armed with a box of photographic reproductions of John Alexander Dowie's voice, Voliva and ten specially ordained workers will set out early in October on a trip through Illinois. Having toured this state, they will repeat the performance until every state in the Middle West has been covered. "Ultimately," Voliva said today, he expects to carry the gospel of Zion into every corner of the globe.

Voliva's recent victories over the pork-eating, tobacco smoking "heathens" of Zion City have left him free to concentrate his efforts on the conversion of the world. The Dowieites are now in absolute control of the city council, having removed the last two "heathen" councilmen three weeks ago, and all city ordinances, including that one forbidding anyone to smoke on the streets of Zion City are being vigorously enforced.

The present crusade, Dowie's successor announced today, will consume about two months. During that time every county in the state of Illinois will be visited by the Zion crusaders, who will travel by automobile. Meetings will be held in every city of 3,000 or more inhabitants. Voliva intends to talk personally to the crowds at these meetings, while his ten workers are canvassing the rural sections. Moving pictures of scenes in Zion City will be exhibited and the photograph will be called upon to repeat the exhortations of the late John Alexander Dowie, "prophet," whose prescientia have been religiously preserved.

Overseas Voliva is not ready to announce whether it is his intention to found any more Zionist communities, preferring to await results of his tour of conversion. His theory, however, is that Zion City must forever remain the "center of the universe" and that all the world's activities must radiate from it.

TANGO BLAMED FOR TRAGEDY

All of Principles of the Rethroat Murder Case Felt Under Spell of Argentine Gigs.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—The snaky, sinuous, sensual Argentine tango dance of the lawless Spanish-American underworld of Buenos Aires, trailed into the United States by way of Paris, has become in Chicago a veritable dance of death in its relation to the tragic murder of Mrs. Mildred Allison-Rekroat.

Through the story of the woman's complex life in the last year, the music of the tango runs like the motif of an opera. First, then, in a situation, then rising to overwhelming passion, and finally crashing into tragedy.

Tango Drew Principals Together.

It was the tango that brought together the principal actors in the tragedy. Mrs. Mildred Allison, dissatisfied with her home because of the lure of the taver life of tango dancing, left her husband and three children, supporting herself by teaching the dances she found so alluring. Everett Rekroat, coming from his father's farm to the livelier ways of the city, went wild over the tango.

"Mr. Spencer," the stranger on whose discovery depends the solution of the mystery of Mrs. Rekroat's murder, met the woman in the dancing academy, where he came with the assertion that he "had to learn the tango."

The married life of the Allison was just at the breaking point when Everett Rekroat met Mrs. Allison. Rekroat, the son of a farmer near Macomb, Ill., had come to Chicago with a determination to learn the tango.

Wooded and Won in Dances.

To the country youth the tango came to represent the gayety, the brightness, the social pleasures of the big city. Even before he met Mrs. Allison at "Sara's Social," Rekroat had sought training in the tango, studying under a clear conductor in the Powers building here.

His obsession for dancing the tango was the bond between Rekroat and Mrs. Allison. Their courtship was in the dancing academies. And their association was the reason for Mrs. Allison's final quarrel with her husband and their subsequent divorce.

After her marriage to Rekroat Mrs. Allison-Rekroat told her former husband that she didn't love the country youth, but simply was danced into marrying him.

Talked Tango To the Last.

While Rekroat stayed at his father's farm his wife remained in Chicago teaching the tango at an academy. To the academy came Spencer, the man accused of having murdered the woman. Spencer wanted to learn the tango. He became Mrs. Rekroat's shadow. It was through her interest in tango teaching that Spencer was able to lure her out to the lonely road at Wayne. He had promised to form a class in tango at that place.

The last conversation she had with her husband Spencer heard was of the tango. Mrs. Rekroat is dead. Her three boys are motherless. Allison, her first husband, grieves for her. So does Rekroat.

Spencer, accused of the murder, is a fugitive. He is found there will be an apoplexy.

But the curtain has gone down on the last act of the tragedy of the tango.

TEXAS YELLOW LEGS FOR CALIFORNIANS

Car of Poultry Now Being Loaded Here for Shipment to Pacific Coast Points.

The Californian may have his full share of home grown oranges, climate prunes and other things, but when the Methodist minister is coming to dinner and chicken is on the bill of fare, it is the Texas chicken that is apt to be served for the Californian's delectation. Poultry from Texas is now being shipped to California and a poultry car in which it will be transported is now in the local freight yards to take in local consignments. Quite a large amount of poultry has been brought here at good prices. It seems that California chickens are tough and stringy on account of poultry raisers being unable to feed them corn. California raised no corn to speak of and it is too expensive to import it. Consequently, Texas chickens find much favor on California tables.

The car now in this city will hold about five thousand live fowls. It costs several dollars a day to feed them, according to the man in charge.

A TEXAS WONDER.

The Texas Wonder cures kidney and bladder troubles, dissolves gravel, cures diabetes, weak and lame backs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women. Regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist, will be sent by mail on receipt of $1.00. One small bottle is two months' treatment and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Send for Texas Testimonials. Dr. R. W. Hall, 2525 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo. Sold by all druggists. (Adv.)

HOBART (OKLA.) MAN TRIED TO STEAL OWN WIFE.

Hobart, Okla., Oct. 2.—Will Hines, under bond of $3,000 to appear before the district court for shooting twice at his wife, made an unsuccessful attempt to kidnap his own wife from the residence of L. M. Keys, where Mrs. Hines was staying. It is claimed that he went to the room occupied by his wife and compelled her to get up and dress. They were leaving the house, but when passing the room occupied by Judge Keys and wife Mrs. Hines broke away and screamed. Hines became frightened and ran, with Judge Keys in pursuit. Hines got away, although officers took the chase.

Alabama Minstrels Here Soon.
The Alabama Minstrels play here in their big tent theatre Monday, October 6th. The Greenville Herald had the following to say regarding them:

"Those who failed to see the Alabama Minstrels last night missed a very rare treat in the minstrel line and one that will not be forgotten by those who were so fortunate as to witness the performance. Manager Erickson is giving the people a show that is not only amusing, but was thoroughly clean in every respect. In fact, there was not one present who could find anything that would offend the most fastidious tastes of the city. "The show is full of fun, good jokes and late songs, all well gotten up and well rendered. The fire eating act is exceptionally good. The company, consisting of forty people, travel in their own private cars. Should Mr. Erickson ever return to our city he is assured a full house as he has made many friends for his show by honest dealing and giving the people their money's worth in first class entertainment."

"A Texas Rose."
I plucked a rose one summer day,
A thing so sweet, so fair, I was afraid,
I tried my best to cast away
The perfume power my soul obeyed.

'Twas just a little flower—so sweet,
So frail, 'twould quite a play be,
Its charming guilelessness to greet,
As the some heart might come to me.

I held it close and dreamed my dream
And worshipped it by day, by night;
I never thought how you, my dear,
When it had vanished from my sight.

I sit alone, and dreamed again,
And dream of days that come no more
The flower has vanished from my ken
And left a heartache, sad and sore.

Sweet flower that bloomed I thought
For me,
I hold thy memory's sweetness dear;
Thy fleeting image could not be Expected long to linger near.

—Frederic J. Stauter.

FIRST ELKS' DANCE OF SEASON THURSDAY NIGHT

The first Elks' dance of the season was held Wednesday night at the Elks club rooms. It was an affair much enjoyed by the dancing set and was honoring the departure of one of their number, Miss Icie White. Quite a number of couples enjoyed this event and are rejoicing in the prospect of more later. Those in attendance were the Misses Icie White, Mabelle Clifton, Mathis, Ona Bell, Kell, Reid, Bess Kell, Carver, Gertrude Orth, Mabel Simpson, Lillian Denny, Lillian McGregor, Lillian Vin, Eddie Carver, Helen Johnston and Grace Nolan. Messrs. Berry, Holmstrom, Martin, Brown, Grayson, McManis, Clifton, Benton, Bonner, Boyd, Hickman, Thomas, Cassel, E. Fain, McGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Grayson, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. White and Mr. and Mrs. Patterson.

SURPRISE LINEN SHOWER FOR BRIDE-ELECT.

One of the prettiest affairs of this season was a linen shower tendered Miss Aileen Waggoner, one of the October bride-elects, by Mrs. Orl Jones and Miss Lena Gardner at Mrs. Jones' home on Tenth street. The shower was in the nature of a surprise, the honoree having expected to attend a club meeting. When Mrs. Jones invited her in the guests came from all directions and literally "showered" the girl on her. After the bride-to-be had admired the many pretty things, a contest was held "A Floral Love Story." Miss Gertrude Orth was the successful contestant, receiving a handsome picture in a silver frame which she presented to the honoree. The house was beautifully decorated in hearts and flowers. Mrs. Jack Shelton presided at the punch bowl which was embowered in hearts and flowers. The hostesses served a luncheon consisting of salad, sandwiches and olives to the guests. Misses Bon Hardy, Kathleen Coffield, Grace Nolan, Gertrude Orth, Cora Lee Waggoner, Marion Crabtree, Laura Hartsock, Jackson, Benson, Madames Martin, Kathleen, James and Shelton, and the honoree, Miss Aileen Waggoner.

OPENING MEETING OF THE NEW CENTURY CLUB.

The New Century Club held its opening meeting with Mrs. S. D. Lynch Wednesday afternoon. Each member responded to roll call and with an auspicious and delightful music was furnished by Mrs. Walker. The new president, Mrs. C. B. Montgomery was absent on account of illness and Mrs. McGregor made a speech greeting the new president, which in Mrs. Montgomery's absence was responded to by Mrs. Whitney, as vice president. Mrs. Whitney also read a very clever club prophecy and a chorus by the club concluded the program. The hostess served a delicious course to the club members. The following is a list of the officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Montgomery; vice president, Mrs. Whitney; secretary, Mrs. Slik; treasurer, Mrs. Adams; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Carpenter; parliamentary, Mrs. Burnside.

TO TEACH PATRIOTIC OBSERVANCES IN SCHOOLS.

A committee comprised of Mrs. Christensen, Mrs. Coe and Mrs. Shaw from the New Era Club called on Superintendent H. G. Carpenter of the city schools Friday morning to request him to take steps for teaching of patriotic observances in the schools, including the memorizing of the words of the National airs by the pupils, teaching the pupils to rise when these airs are sung, and to train the boys to take off their hats and salute the flag when it passed them. Mr. Carpenter cheerfully granted the request of the ladies, and announced that he would lay the matter before each teacher and would announce that the pupils who could repeat the words of the National airs from memory at the close of the schools term would receive honorable mention and that their names would be given to papers for publication. The committee was sent from the New Era Club following a suggestion made in a recent letter from Mrs. Hertzberg, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Miss Marie Shelton left Wednesday at noon for Calvert, Texas.

The Unity Club holds its first meeting of the season Friday with Mrs. Maer.

The local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will meet Saturday, October 4 with Mrs. C. W. Deavers.

The Art Literature Club will hold its first meeting of the season Tuesday, October 7 with Mrs. O. W. Bean.

A POULTRY DISPLAY FEATURE OF EXHIBIT

Farm Products Coming in for Exhibition Here Saturday—Boys and Girls Coming.

More exhibits are coming in for the display of farm products which will be held Saturday at the city hall and by the time the array is complete it is expected that a splendid assortment of this county's products will have been collected. The products brought in up to this time are of decidedly good quality and indicate that Wichita county farmers weathered the drought better than many expected.

A feature of the exhibit will be the poultry display and many chicken fanciers in this city and vicinity will send their fowls down. If the chickens are sent to the Dallas Fair, however, they will go as separate exhibits.

Among Saturday's events will be the assembling of the cotton, corn, and other boys and girls farming clubs and a large number of the young people have notified District Agent Campbell that they will be on hand. They will be served with free dinner at the expense of the Chamber of Commerce.

All products for the exhibit are expected to be in not later than ten o'clock Saturday morning and the awards will be announced as soon as the judges can make their decisions.

SOME OF JOHN WESLEY'S RULES FOR HIS PREACHERS.

(From London Chronicle)

John Wesley had many rules to make the sermons of his preachers popular. "I know," he said, "that were I to preach one whole year in one place I should preach both myself and congregation to sleep. Hence this week's fitting of the ministers. He believed, also, that it was the short sermon that got the word home. He ordered his helpers to 'begin and end always precisely at the time appointed, and always to conclude the service in about an hour, to suit their subject to their audience; to choose the plainest text, and keep close to the text, not allegorizing or spiritualizing too much.' And more: they were not to shout 'Scream no more,' he wrote to one of his preachers, 'God now warns you by me, whom he has set over you; speak with all your heart, but with moderate voice.'

It was the sermon, however, and not its preacher that he sought to make popular. He gave practical hints on how to evade personal popularity. Here they are: 'Earnestly pray for a piercing sense of the dunghill and stinkiness of it,' and 'Warn the people among whom you are most of esteeming or loving you too much. Converse sparingly with those who are particularly fond of you.' This, too, may have had something to do with the fact that you limit of preaching to one congregation.

The Voice of the Quail.
Did you ever listen to a Bob White call his mate? Have you listened to her soft, sweet answer? When you wandered through the high grass and came near a dove's nest have you seen the mother dove flutter away in a seemingly crippled state as if one wing were broken, and when she had lured you far enough away from her nest, fly gracefully out of sight? Have you caught the jay bird's pose on a twig of a high elm tree and that rest, less warbler dressed in his coat of red with a jet-black spot now and then for trimming in his coat, and then all the other birds mingling their notes of joy? Have you ever sat by a rippling, pebbly stream out in the quiet woods, when high up in a swinging limb a slim, graceful little bird perched as though seeking you for an audience? They call him the mocking bird! How poorly named!

Why, he is the composer of the symphonies and harmonies of the woods. All the other birds are his grand concert support. He is the leading singer of the woods, God's choir and is celebrated in song and story in all the great, wide world. You say you have? Well, then you have written a great chapter in your book of life. If you have never had another joy in all the years this was pay enough. If you have not, before

There is a cotton mill running in Bonham that the press dispatches tell us has not lost a day in three years, and from that one must conclude naturally that those who have invested in the enterprise $300,000 are satisfied. Now, if Bonham can operate a cotton mill at a profit to the owners, why can't Wichita Falls do the same thing? Here we have advantages not enjoyed by Bonham—that of cheap fuel.

Following close upon the action taken by Wichita Falls, Minneapolis has rejected commission government, and did it nicely—by a vote of more than two to one.

Was Wichita Falls the leader in a popular reaction against the commission form of government? This question arises when we read the news that on Tuesday Minneapolis rejected a commission charter by a vote of more than two to one, and that several days ago Corsicana voted to surrender her special charter. These items following the news that petitions are on file at Tulsa and Oklahoma City for election to a commission form of government indicate that from now on the people will move slowly in changing the form of municipal government.

Dr. Cline, the new weather bureau observer at Dallas, gives it as his expert opinion that "Texas, having completed a seven-year 'dry' cycle, is now entering on a wet cycle of from seven to ten years. The dry cycle has been getting drier and the wet cycle will get wetter. The diminution during the dry years was about four inches a year, each year being appreciably dryer. The acceleration, if thus the term will serve, will be about the same—about four inches more of 'wetness' with each succeeding year. All of us have complained somewhat about the dry years. But it was as nothing to the wall that went up during the wettest of the wet years, which culminated and ceased with the flood of May, 1908. Each year, in recounting our conditions, all of us have been gratified at the prosperity shown, and while we might like a 'little more' rain, North Texas prospers most in those years which the rainfall, properly distributed, is below rather than above the average."—Denton Record and Chronicle.

MAYOR GRANT MAKES HONORABLE APOLOGY.
Oklahoma City, Sept. 30, 1913.
Editor Wichita Daily Times, Wichita Falls, Texas:
Dear Sir—In your paper of the 26th inst., you criticized the language used by me in my speech on the night of the 25th, and in regard thereto I wish to say that I went to your city to explain the workings of the commission government in our city.

Another was to reply to the strictures of Ruth, but he missed the train and did not get there.
Until I arrived that afternoon I did not know what Ruth had said, and was so thoroughly indignant that I used language that was rough and improper, but even then would not have used had I known there were ladies in the audience.

It is not my custom to make speeches that cannot be heard by anyone, or appear in print, and I wish to apologize now for the use of language in that speech which was in any sense indecorous or improper. I own property in your county, and am often in your city, and I want to be thought of and spoken of as a gentleman always.
Yours truly,
WHIT GRANT.

Editor's Note—Perhaps The Times was too severe in its criticism. But it criticized him, believing he knew ladies had been invited to the meeting and some had responded to the invitation. Now that he did not know of this, The Times is willing to accept his gentlemanly and dignified apology, and is sure that by making it he has raised himself in the estimation of all who were present.

The city tax rate for Dallas at the present time is $1.92 on the $100 valuation. There is no independent school district tax in Dallas. The $1.92 covers everything, and Dallas is a city of 100,000 population. That is not so bad for Dallas. Wichita Falls' present tax rate is 86 cents on the $100 valuation. Add to this the 50 cents independent school district tax and we have a total city tax of $1.36 on the $100 valuation. It has been demonstrated that the city tax rate here is too low, but in order to raise it, it is necessary to secure a new charter. This new charter places the city tax rate at $1.25 on the $100 valuation. That is the limit that can be levied. Add to this the independent school district tax of 50 cents on the $100 valuation and we have a total city tax of $1.75. However, it is not likely that the city tax will be raised to the limit. In the opinion of most of our leading citizens, it will not be necessary to raise the city tax rate to more than 90 cents on the $100 valuation, and not more than $1 at the outside. That will be ample for all purposes, even for a growing city like that of Wichita Falls. All property in the city is supposed to be assessed at about 65 cents on the dollar of its real value, and there is no necessity to depart from this way of assessing taxes under the new proposed charter, which The Times hopes to see adopted. The Times feels sure that if men are elected to office who are in sympathy with the great majority of the people, there need be no fears that they will go to the extreme limit in the matter of assessing taxes.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF TELEPHONE RUMORED
New York, Oct. 2.—A Washington special to the Times says: In spite of efforts made to preserve absolute secrecy, it has become known here that the Wilson administration is engaged in preparations expected to furnish the groundwork for a contemplated policy of a radical and far-reaching character. Starting with the suggestion of government ownership of telegraphs, the trend of the proposal now in course of incubation is understood to be toward the advocacy of legislation for the acquisition and operating by the Federal government of all long distance interstate telephone property.

The tremendous expense involved in the purchase of privately owned telegraph lines would be staggering, but a means out of the monetary embarrassment seems to have been suggested by the idea that the government, through the extension of the parcel post system, may acquire the express business of the country, through furnishing competition which the private companies would not be able to meet.

If the government is able to get all the express business of the country through taking off the weight limit of the parcel post and fixing rates which the express companies cannot compete with, why should not the government get control of wire communications by acquiring and utilizing long distance telephone lines to compete with the telegraph companies?

That question puts in a nutshell the problem that is now being considered in its preparatory stages with a view to determining the character and scope of contemplated legislation for government acquisition and operation of electric wire communications.

To what extent the administration's inclination toward a policy of government ownership of wire communications has developed has not been definitely ascertained, but it is known that the trend of opinion among those immediately concerned in the formation of the program is toward the purchase of telephone lines with the intention of so developing them as to make them formidable competitors of the telegraph companies.

HEADLIGHT SEEMED NEAR BUT THERE WAS PLENTY OF TIME

E. H. Moeller, who recently returned from Kansas, where he has been traveling and making the Panhandle of Texas, received the following letter from a friend of his who made his first trip through the Panhandle: "I have been on the road for a Kansas City house now for six years, traveling Kansas and Missouri, but the house has now added the Panhandle of Texas to my territory and I have just finished my first trip. The first town out of Kansas across the strip was Hays, Okla. I had spent the afternoon there and intended to take a night train back to Liberal. A bunch of us were sitting on the front porch of the Commercial hotel when I saw a headlight looming up down the track. I made a rush for my grips and yelled at the boy to get his car and take 'em over to the depot quick. I didn't wait for his answer, but ran over to the depot and rushed up to the window and demanded a ticket to Liberal.

"How's this?" I said to the agent. "I thought this train wasn't due for an hour, and here she is not a mile away."

"Mister," he replied, "you better go back to the hotel and buy cigars for that bunch. This is your first trip down here, ain't it? Well, I thought so. That headlight is just forty-nine miles away; you've got pretty nearly an hour to finish that game of rummy. This is the longest stretch of straight track in the country, seventy-six miles, clear across the Panhandle without a curve. You see that house over there? That's where I live. I don't have to light a lamp until after 9 o'clock winter nights. About sundown the Golden State Limited looms down about Texhoma and she shines right into my kitchen window for an hour, finally getting so bright that my wife has to pull the curtain, and ten minutes behind her comes No. 34, and it takes it seventy minutes to get by with its light. It's a great saving for me and my wife has gotten so she won't wash dishes by anything but electric light. I never have to call the dispatcher to get a line on the trains, I climb to the roof of a station, get a line on the headlight and mark up my board accordingly. Have you any baggage to check?

STANLEY ORATOR NOW OF HOUSE

SUCCEEDS TO PLACE WHERE SHEPPARD WAS UNDISPUTED CHAMPION FOR SO LONG.

SAMPLE OF ELOQUENCE

Like Olden Knight Kentucky Drew Flaming Sword of Eloquence and Spoke Republicans.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—For pure lyric beauty, for sonorous sublimity of sound and for multitudinous melody of language, you have got to hand it to Augustus Owsley Stanley, representative in Congress from Kentucky.

Representative Sheppard of Texas used to be the real singer of the House; used to have the most gorgeous metaphors and the most astonishing similes. When he smote the lyric and whanged off toward empyrean heights, a la Pegasus, believe us, it was some speech. Then Sheppard went and got himself elected to the Senate, where the speech is mostly soporific and saporous and nobody ever thinks of tumbling around in oratorical acrobatics because of the absurdity of dignity that envelops the sacred Senatorial atmosphere. When Sheppard used to put on the tremulous staccato and the staccato tremulous in the House and the laughter and tears swept the audience and the galleries.

It was a sad occasion when Sheppard departed for the somber dignity of the Senate. He had a monopoly of the language stuff in the House. Nobody dared to dispute his sovereignty. He was there. Representative John Wesley Gaines, who retired to dear old Tennessee in 1909, tried it for a while, but failed lamentably, making an attempt to have his voice heard in the House. He was a failure. After John Wesley fell down, nobody had the heart to oppose Sheppard. And when he left, the House found itself without any champion word picture artist—or at least it thought that "wasp" no rich animal.

That was before Augustus Owsley Stanley got busy there the other day debating currency. Stanley wears the crown of the late departed Sheppard now. He'll probably continue to tilt it over his ears for some time. He came down, near beating Sheppard's best little fragments.

He started out to tell the republicans what he thought of Representative Mondell, a republican, for having the nerve to criticize the democratic secret caucus methods. Then he pulled out that wavy voiced stuff and proceeded to sing.

"It would be better to have some crimson courtesan lead modest maidens in paths of purity; better some escaped convict pose as the arbiter and censor for honest men—than to resort to freedom for the most abject apostle and most subversive slave Uncle Joe Cannon ever had."

Mondell sat kinda hunched up in his chair and feeling not so darn comfortable as Stanley went on, soaring away.

"By his prompt obedience to my command, by his silence under the lash, by his quick defense of any kind of gag, the gentleman has attained an enviable eminence—and here, with the marks of his servitude upon him before the hair has grown enough to cover the marks of the collar upon his neck, before the imprint of the shackle is effaced from his wrists and his ankles and before the echoes of his voice have died in this hall, where but lately he defended every republican outrage, he arises here to lecture democrats, forsooth, about independence. The Democrats in this program answered to a call; you obeyed the good driven into your quivering flesh."

There was a whole lot more of it—but the sample suffices. Stanley gets the palm.

A Correction.

In Tuesday's issue of The Times giving an account of a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce it was stated that manufacturing enterprise in the city had closed down because the owner or owners were unable to operate it longer. It seems The Times was in error. The reason the enterprise closed down was because the principal owner and manager had to give his time and attention to his other interests, and it was not a matter of finances at all.

THE SIMPSON DRUG STORE CHANGES HANDS

A deal was consummated yesterday by which E. B. Stonecipher became the owner of the R. F. Simpson drug store at 720 Ohio avenue.

The Simpson drug store is probably the oldest establishment of that nature in the city and The Times is not quite sure but that it is not the oldest established business concern that has remained under one management and ownership in the city.

In retiring from the Simpson business, Mr. Stonecipher desires to remind all his friends that he deeply appreciates their friendship as well as their patronage, more especially those who have dealt with him exclusively for the past twenty-odd years. He will continue to make his home in Wichita Falls and will put another story on his building on Ohio avenue in which the drug store is located.

In selling to Mr. Stonecipher his business, Mr. Simpson has no hesitancy in recommending him to his friends and former patrons and trusts they will continue in the future as in the past to give that store their trade.

For the next two months those who have business with Mr. Simpson will find him at the drug store.

INFORMATION ABOUT NEW INCOME TAX

Treasury Department Preparing to Distribute Blanks Upon Which to Make Returns.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The Treasury Department is preparing for a flood of questions concerning the new income tax, realizing that this feature of the tariff bill about to become a law strikes more intimately at the taxpayer citizen than do the indirect taxes collected through customs duties.

One of the first steps taken to get general information before the public will be to distribute income tax blanks through postoffices, internal revenue offices and other Federal agencies. However, the fact that he does not receive the blank or request to pay the tax will not exempt a taxable person from the penalties of the law.

Representative Cordell Hull of Tennessee who drew the income tax provision of the tariff bill, today made public a detailed explanation of the plan as it will touch the individual citizen.

Details of Tax System.

"The Treasury regulations soon to be prepared will make clear to every taxpayer the requirements of the law and its application in individual cases," said Mr. Hull. "Any person who keeps familiar with his business affairs during the year, should have no difficulty in executing his tax returns."

"The income tax is divided into two phases, the normal tax of 1 per cent on the whole income above $3,000, and the additional tax that begins with an extra 1 per cent above $20,000, and is graduated to 6 per cent above $500,000. Wherever the income tax is paid at the source by a corporation for its employees or normal cases only 1 per cent normal is so paid. The individual has to pay any additional tax himself. The provision of the law requiring the tax to be withheld at the source does not take effect until Nov. 1, 1913.

Tax Must Be Paid By June 30.

"For the first year the citizen will make return to the local internal revenue collector before March 1, 1914 as to his earnings from March 1, 1913 to the end of this year. The collector will notify him June 1 how much he owes and the tax must be paid by June 30. After next year the tax will apply on the full calendar year.

"If the income of a person is under $3,000 or if the tax on same is withheld for payment at the source, or if the same is to be paid elsewhere in the United States, affidavit may be made to such fact and thereupon no return will be required.

"The tax covers all incomes of citizens of the United States whether living here or abroad; those of foreigners living in the United States and the net incomes from property owned by business carried on in the United States by persons living abroad.

Incomes Include Salaries.

"The 'net income' includes all income from salaries or any compensation for personal services; income from trades, professions, business or commerce; from sales or dealings in personal properties or real estate; from interest, rent, dividends and securities from all lawful business carried on for gain.

"Gifts or bequests will not be considered income; nor will life insurance paid to a beneficiary or returned to the insured person as a 'paid up' or 'surrendered policy' be taxable. Interest on such property will be included as income, however.

"The amount that may be deducted from a total income includes the cost of carrying on business, actual losses, depreciation allowances and tax exempt or tax paid money. Living expenses cannot be deducted, nor can money spent for permanent improvement to property.

Must Specify Gross Revenue.

"The form that is to be filled out by the taxpayers will be drawn up by the commissioner of internal revenue. The taxpayer will have to give his gross revenue and then specify and claim the deductions to which he feels entitled. Unless a man's income tax is 'paid at the source,' he must hunt up a tax blank, fill it out and see that it finds its way to the proper official in his district before March 1, 1914.

"Firms, corporations and the like, having the handling of interests, rents, salaries or other portions of the income of any citizen are compelled to deduct the tax for the individual and pay it to the government.

"The individual will then get a receipt showing he has paid his tax."

EXHIBIT OF WORK OF MISS JUNE ERNST

An exhibit of the work of Miss June Ernst, formerly a teacher in the Art Institute of Chicago and now a member of the faculty of the Wichita Falls College of Music and Art, is being shown in the windows of the North Texas Furniture Company and has been the object of much admiration. It includes hand painted china, with the new enamel china, two black and white interior studies, a portrait and some original bungalow designs. In addition to a variety of other work exemplifying the course taught at the college. The black and white studies are considered worthy of special mention and the bungalow designing has also proved of much interest to Wichitans who have viewed Miss Ernst's work.

GREATER INTEREST IN REVIVAL MEETING.

Last night's meeting proved one of the most interesting of the series in the meetings in progress at the First M. E. Church, South, and it was evident that a heart searching was being made by many of those attending. The people seem to be paying the way for a genuine revival.

Rev. Onderdonk delivered the first of the series of his lectures on Mexico and the Mexicans Wednesday afternoon and will deliver other lectures of the series each afternoon at four o'clock.

Modern Methods Are Best

Mammy now uses Calumet Baking Powder instead of sour milk and soda, or the cheap and big-can kind, because it is more convenient—because she knows from experience that the baking will be lighter, daintier and more uniformly raised—that it will keep fresh longer.

Calumet is certain of good results—it is purer and more wholesome than the cheap big-can kind, and more economical in the end.

Give Calumet one trial. If it fails to give you absolute satisfaction return it and get your money back. If you don't get Calumet you don't get the best.

GLASS WORKERS' WAGE SCALE UNDETERMINED

Upon Negotiations Opened in Pittsburgh Today May Depend Reopening of Local Factories.

Upon the outcome of negotiations in Pittsburgh today depends the reopening of the window glass factory. Representatives of the workmen and the manufacturers are in session there and news of the result is expected to reach here some time today. There is considerable local interest and the blowers in this city are anxiously awaiting news.

The manufacturers are a twenty percent advance. The manufacturers say they are unable to grant any increase on account of the tariff, which is expected to cut prices considerably.

COUNCIL MEETING WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

Expected That Election for Submission of Proposed New Charter Will Be Ordered.

The city council tonight will take action upon the report of the charter committee, which, acting upon the instructions received in last Saturday's election, will ask the submission of the aldermanic form to the people.

Whether there will be any effort for delay is not known at present. Such an effort was made in the committee, but failed. Under the "home rule" law the election date must be fixed for some time in November, being not less than thirty nor more than forty-five days, from the date of ordering the election.

FANDOM READY TO PIN MEDALS

WHO WILL BE THE HEROES OF
THE COMING WORLD'S CHAM-PIONSHIP SERIES.

SOME POSSIBILITY HEROES

Al Demaree and Shawkey May Suddenly Jump Into Lineup in the Coming Series.

New York, Oct. 2.—If you have any hero medals to pin, prepare to pin them now, in a short few days there will be candidates for the hero prizes, bobbing up at the Polo Grounds. New York and at Shibe Park, Philadelphia, during the lightning to strike and tag them the hero of the 1913 world's series. A series of battles for the world's championship honors in baseball without a hero would be like a melo drama without a villain. Everybody demands one, so let 'em have what they want. Everybody probably remembers how Christy Mathewson was the "hero in defeat" of last year's battles between the Giants and the Boston Red Sox. This year New York's fandom looks to Matty to be just as much of a hero, although they demand "what d's mean in defeat?" Frank Baker has a record that keeps him hanging around right on the edge of the likely hero circle for the Athletics. One slip on the part of a Giant pitcher at any time, and crash will come Baker's bat off the ball and a collection may have to be made in Philadelphia to erect a monument where the ball lands.

Two Youngsters Bob Up.

As the season is slowly wobbling out of existence so far as the regular league races are concerned, it now appears that two youngsters who have never before appeared in the grand finale winding up baseball for the season, may jump suddenly into the lime light and grab off some of the glory the old heads have been pulling down. The reference is to Al Demaree of the Giants and Shawkey of the Athletics.

When the final averages are footed up Demaree will probably find himself leading the National League pitchers and this is his first year with the Giants. Shawkey was picked out of the International League by Connie Mack alone in August and has been as reliable as the next one on the Athletic pitching staff. Mack won't have his famous pitching combination of Bender, Plank and Coombs this year. Coombs is out as both were somewhat wobbly at times during August and September, it may be young Shawkey who will appear as the Giant Killer.

Demaree is more of a seasoned pitcher than Shawkey, despite the fact that this is his first year with the Giants. He is older, has had the benefit of a full season with McGraw and the Giant followers believe he is more of a finished product.

Unless someone pulls a Frank Baker and peels the hide off the ball while the pitcher is figuring whether he will hand up a fast inside or a slow one outside, the work of the man on the mound draws the aim from most of the eyes following the game.

A Glance in Retrospect.
Looking back a bit it may be remembered that Marquard and Bedient were the only pitchers who came through the series last year without a defeat. Marquard won two games and Bedient was on the winning end of one. Joe Wood stood the Giants off long enough to win twice, but lost another. Mathewson failed to win a game, although he pitched some of the best ball of his career. It was while Matty was in the box that his team-mates got most of their joy in booting the ball around the lot.

Mathewson still holds the record, for the greatest performance during any world's series. In 1905 Matty worked against the Athletics three times. He shut them out every game. He appeared against Eddie Plank in the first game of the series and the Giants won 3 to 0. In the third game Andy Coakley was sent against Mathewson, but Big Six came through with a 9 to 0 victory. In the fifth and deciding game Mathewson beat Chief Bender 2 to 0.

"Babe" Adams of the Pittsburgh Pirates, became famous in 1909 when he won all of the three games he pitched against Detroit. Adams games were not shut outs, but he jumped into fame with a whoop as he was practically unknown.

Ground Knowledge Favors Athletics.

Leaving out the question of the actual playing ability of the two teams the Athletics will enter the world's series with a slight edge of advantage on the Giant insofar as the playing fields are concerned. The Giants haven't seen Shibe Park since they hooked up in the "derby" of 1911. The Athletics however, have cavorted about the Polo Grounds during this season just as often as the American League schedule would permit. The Yankees have had their afternoons at home at the Brush Stadium throughout the season and the Athletics haven't wasted their time in getting acquainted with the field. Among the things that are worth knowing are the whims of the concrete wall in front of the right field stands. Murray of the Giants, has this wall down to a fine point. When a hit goes smashing up against it he can judge where the rebound is going to carry the ball from where it hits. And he is there to nail it when the ball comes back. Murphy has also had the advantage of flitting with this wall and has figured this rebound proposition almost as well as Murray.

FLOUR MILL TO SUBSTITUTE ELECTRICITY FOR STEAM.

Port Worth, Texas, Oct. 2.—The new electric motor in Texas has just been installed in the Bowley flour mill of this city and it is contemplated to substitute electric for steam power throughout the entire plant. Flour milling is one of the principal industries of the State and employs about 2,000 persons. The Texas mills produce about 1,000,000 barrels annually and all 4,000,000 to other states and countries, while foreign millers market a million barrels annually in Texas. The Fort Worth mill is one of the best equipped in the State and has an enormous local, as well as out of state business.

Arrangements For World's Championship Series

By Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 2.—Every one of the multitude of details of the campaign of 1913 between the New York Nationals and the Philadelphia Americans for world's baseball championship has been prearranged. Here are the chief plans.

Times—Oct. 7 and daily thereafter, except Sunday, until one club shall have won four games.
Place—Polo Grounds, New York; Shibe Park, Philadelphia.

First game, to be played in New York, the games thereafter to alternate between Philadelphia and New York.

The games, to be played off the next day in the other city from that in which the tie occurred. Thus, if the first game in New York were to result in a tie, the game would be played off in Philadelphia the next day, Oct. 8.

Sale of tickets to be conducted under the auspices of the two clubs concerned. Unreserved seats will be sold at the Polo Grounds and Shibe Park on the day of the game, reserved seats must be purchased for three games, whether bought in New York or Philadelphia, and if three games are not played, the proportionate amount of the purchase price will be refunded. No mail orders will be accepted for reserved seats.

Price of tickets, in New York: Boxes, seating four, $25; upper grandstand, $3; lower grandstand, $2; bleachers, $1. In Philadelphia: Box seats, $5; main grandstand, $3; right and left field pavilions, $2; bleachers, $1.

Seating arrangements: Polo Grounds 23,000 reserved seats, 15,000 in bleachers; Shibe Park, grandstand and bleachers 21,000, standing room for about 3,000 more. Neither club will be permitted to erect extra stands on the field. No spectators will be allowed to overflow on the field and ground rules will be made.

Time of games, 2 o'clock.

Umpires for the series: William Klem and Charles Rigler of the National League; Thomas H. Connolly and John J. Egan of the American League.

Number of players eligible, five on each team.

Name of eligible players: New York—Barnes, Cooper, Grandall, Doyle, Demaree, Fletcher, Fromme, Grant, Herzog, Hartley, Marquard, Wilton, Mathewson, Murray, Meyers, McLean, Merkle, Robinson, McCormick, Shafer, Snodgrass, Thorpe, Tesreau, Wilson Schupp.

Philadelphia—Schang, Lapp, Thomas, Bender, Plank, Coombs, Houck, Brown, Shawkey, Penneck, Bush, Wycokoff, McInnis, Collins, Barry, Baker.

Orr, Davis, Lavan, Oldring, Strunk, E. Murphy, D. Murphy, Walsh, Daley.

In the event of a seventh game being necessary, the city for holding it will be determined by the toss of a coin. In case a game is postponed on account of rain, or if for some other cause a legal game is not played, the teams will remain in the city where the postponement occurred until a legal game is played. This does not, of course, apply to tie games.

According to the rules governing the world's series, the national commission will receive 10 per cent of the gate receipts of each and every game. The players of the two competing clubs will take 60 per cent of the remaining 90 per cent of the first four games, the amount to be divided on a basis of 60 per cent to the winners and 40 per cent to the losers. The remaining 40 per cent of the 90 per cent goes to the club owners. Ninety per cent of the gate receipts of each and every game after the first four becomes the property of the stockholders of the two contesting clubs.

"Bought and Paid For."

Next Wednesday night at the Wichita Theater, William A. Brady's splendid production of the Broadway play, "Bought and Paid For," will fill an engagement here. It is especially attractive to women.

Virginia has been surfeited with luxury; her every wish has been gratified. Stafford has kept his word; she has grown to love him profoundly—but, despite the fact that he is equally attached to her, she is not happy.

There are men who can drink a glass of wine without apparent evil results, but Stafford is not one of them. Wine is the key that lets loose the beast inside his brain, that transforms him from a courtly, dignified gentleman into a licentious libertine—a man to be afraid of, a creature to flee from.

There have been numerous lapses on Stafford's part and they are growing in frequency and violence. In act two we are admitted to one of these scenes. It leaves nothing to the imagination; it is a chapter from the book of life, naked and unashamed. It is a tremendous scene, in which you watch the growing madness of the man and feel the mounting terror of the woman.

It is a wonderful scene, wonderfully played, but as unpleasant as a peep into a padded cell—in fact, it is a madman who breaks down the door of his wife's room and disappears into it, leaving you astounded with horror.

The right to do as he will with his wife—that is the entire argument. "I bought and paid for you," he says, "and I'll do with my own as I please."

The moment a man begins to talk about his legal rights to his wife he loses his moral rights, and the moral right is the only thing that makes for real matrimony.

Nothing so frank, so realistic, has ever been seen here; likewise, nothing so artistic and perfect in the way of performance. The humor of the play—and there is a plenty and of a high order—is supplied by James Gilley and his wife, Fanny. Both are great character parts and finely played. It is staged and presented in a most perfect manner and is of itself the most interesting play that will be seen here this season.

YOU women who know the difference between the genuine in quality and the imitation are the ones who should come here for shoes.

The only things to consider in buying shoes at this store are correct style; looks. Everything else you can take for granted—quality of leather, workmanship, service, comfort—the name "Selz" guarantees it all.

We show some unusually smart models for women in this season's latest styles; shoe ideas not to be found anywhere else, because they are exclusive Selz designs, $3.00 to $5.00.

You'll get a good deal of pleasure in looking them over; the pleasure will last as long as you wear the shoes.

Among men, the best dressers are finding Selz shoes distinctive in every way. $3.50 to $5.00.

Eye troubles are caused largely on account of the improper FORM of the eyeball. The shape of the eyeball is inherited as are other physical features, as the nose and mouth. If you have eye troubles, your children are more than likely to be affected similarly.

Dr. J. W. DuVal

Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat

How a Beetle Makes Love.

(From Family Doctor)

The death watch, is always destructive; in its earlier stages of life it eats up books and furniture and when it reaches maturity the damage it does is greater still, though not so costly. In length about a quarter of an inch, and of a gray color, it does not seem to be a very terrifying creature; but it has a fascinating little habit of butting its armor plated head against anything hard it may meet with, such as wood or plaster, thus giving rise to a tickling sound which might, by a good stretch of the imagination, be thought to sound like the ticking of a watch. The poor little beetle, when he causes the tickling, is only serenading his sweetheart. He can play no musical instrument to please her, and so, to prove his devotion, he butts his head against the wall.
