New Role For Former Chief

By PEGGY WILLIAMS

"I used to put them in jail, now I get them out," said Jesse Browning, former Colorado City Police Chief who now works as a bondsman.

Browning was Police Chief from March 1, 1968 until he retired Sept. 1, 1976.

After spending a few months travelling with his wife, who died last year, Browning returned to Colorado City to "retire". He worked for Kiker-Seale Funeral Home as what he termed "a general flunkie" until he was offered the job of bondsman.

Browning said that he was hired as bondsman for Mercury Bonding Service, Inc., after the business decided to hire an agent in Colorado City. He was recommended for the job and began working last fall.

"I enjoy it because it's closely related to law enforcement, which was my life for so many years," Browning said.

Browning explained that when a person is arrested and bond is set, the individual often will hire a bonding service to post bond.

When the bondsman posts bond, he is guaranteeing that the individual will appear in court at the designated time. If the person does not appear in court, the bondsman must forfeit the bond.

For instance, if a person was being held under $5,000 bond, Browning would post the bond if he was hired by the individual. By signing the bond papers, Browning is assuming the responsibility of that person appearing in court at the designated time. If the person didn't show up, Browning would have to pay $5,000.

But Browning's been lucky—he hasn't had any "forfeitures", as the no-showers are referred to.

From the amount of bond posted, the bonding company's payment is figured. Mercury Bonding Service, Inc., receives 10 per cent for each case.

Browning explained that terms of payment can be established so the individual doesn't have to pay a lump sum.

In his bondsman's career, $7,500 has been the largest amount Browning has posted.

Most bonding services request weekly reports by the individual, Browning noted, but Mercury does not. If a person changes addresses, Browning requires that it be reported. Otherwise, the person simply must be present for the hearing.

Ambulance Service Sets Guidelines

Mitchell County Ambulance Service recently sent letters to all physicians utilizing the ambulance service establishing a set of guidelines.

The letter signed by Police Chief Fred McWhorter, Ambulance Service Director, suggested the doctors could help the service achieve its primary objective of providing emergency service as fast as possible and with skilled emergency care en route by scheduling transfers not classed as emergency at the convenience of the service. The ambulance is to be used for stretcher cases except in unusual circumstances.

"Anytime one ambulance is on a call the standby ambulance will be used for emergency calls only...non-emergency runs to await the return of the other ambulance."

It was further suggested that out of town patients will be requested to use the ambulance service at the location of the patient.

The dispatcher will determine from the caller whether the call is for an emergency or transfer. If the call is for a transfer the caller will be advised only transfer calls are made when requested by the patient's doctor or his designated authority, since only the doctor can know if the patient needs an ambulance or can be transferred in an automobile, according to McWhorter.

These measures have become necessary to the Ambulance service because non-emergency calls have become so numerous that it is reaching a point where it would be impossible for the police department to provide the service, the letter stated.

"To provide fulltime ambulance drivers and patient assistants, 24 hours a day financially impractical," McWhorter stated.

The only solution is to limit the ambulance service to emergency calls and essential non-emergency calls. To do this we are soliciting your assistance."

Condition Of 4-Year Old Is Serious

She was treated at Root Memorial Hospital and then transferred to Parkland.

Town Talk

By MAC McKINNON

Several subscribers Thursday received copies of the Record that for some reason did not have very much printing on several inside pages.

Apparently when the first few or the final few copies of the Record came off the press, there wasn't enough ink, and almost blank pages resulted. There could not have been more than 10 of these.

Our apologies to those who received a paper like this and if you received one like this, we'll be glad to give you a good copy.

Also should this happen in the future, we would appreciate if it you would bring it to our attention. We do not like to put out a product like that and those who do the printing have been informed.

A news release received this week boasted of Congressman Omar Bureleson having co-sponsored legislation known as the Agricultural Trade Act of 1978. From what I know of this legislation, it would appear to be needed.

However, there is one part of the bill that I am in total disagreement with. According to Bureleson's news release, one of the provisions of the act would be to establish a new medium term commercial credit program for financing exports.

I don't understand why that is necessary. We have to pay cash for imports. Our government has received little if any payments for exports to many countries and those countries, including Russia, should be made to pay up NOW and pay in advance.

I simply can't tolerate people or countries who don't pay their bills. If the government is going to give something to a country where people are starving, that's one thing. But there is no reason why this should be made under false pretenses of credit when both countries know the debt will never be paid.

The fact that Russia has never paid a cent for all the grain they bought from the U.S. in 1973 should be proof enough that international credit should be something that is not in the best interest of our country.

You can bet that we're not importing oil on credit and the shape that the economies of our government is in, we can ill afford to give credit.

There was a very interesting item on television the other night. The story was about a coal miner who had been on strike for 59 days. When asked how they were getting by, his wife replied they were getting food stamps.

That is the most ridiculous thing I think I've ever heard. Taxpayers are supporting a man who could be working. If he wants to go on strike, that's his business but I don't think taxpayers should feed him while he's not working. Food stamps shouldn't be given to anybody who can work.

I hope a lot of people watched President Carter's little fireside chat Wednesday night. A number of people have commented that his arguments for signing the treaty with Panama over the Panama Canal won't hold water.

I thought politicians had learned a lesson from the public's response to Ronald Reagan on the Panama Canal question. In case you don't remember, the Canal Treaty was one thing Reagan was against and he received overwhelming support.

"Conversations On Carpeting"

By Fred Butts
THOSE MARVELOUS SYNTHETICS

In the past years we have seen dramatic changes in carpeting. Carpeting is now available in a wide range of lovely styles and colors, and is accepted by everyone as a basic decorating tool. What has brought about these exciting changes in carpeting? The answer lies in the development of the synthetic or man-made fibers.

Especially developed for use in carpet manufacturing, these synthetic fibers have made possible the development of colors and hues never before dreamed of for carpeting. Man-made fibers have also lowered the prices of carpeting to bring it well within the budget range of the average homeowner.

The man-made fibers produce carpeting that is extremely long-wearing & very easy to clean. Carpeting made of these fibers is crush and soil resistant.

People often ask, "Which man-made fiber is best?" Actually, there is no one best fiber. Each fiber has its own unique properties designed to suit a variety of specific needs. When selecting carpeting for your home, you must decide which fiber will be best for you.

For help in selecting carpeting that is especially suited to each room in your home, come in today and talk with one of our trained carpeting experts. I'll be looking forward to seeing you.

THE GLORY OF THE CROSS

Bob Manning
Pastor

First Baptist Church Of Westbrook

The Apostle Paul makes a contrast in Galatians 6:14; "But God forbid that I should glory, except in the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me and I unto the world." The contrast is between the Galatians, who would glory in the flesh, and the humble, committed spirit that forbids that he should glory, save in the Cross of Jesus Christ.

The Cross is a sign, an emblem of the Christian faith. The Cross speaks a universal language. Men can understand it in any country. The Cross speaks to human hearts, in every community under God's heaven. When one would look at the Cross, he does not see a mythical, romantic idea or symbol, but rather a historical and factual event. The Cross is a sign of our atonement, our salvation. It is the symbol of our hope in Christ for all eternity.

The Cross is made up of the following: First, it has an up-raised beam. This part of the Cross points to the sky, toward the heavens, to God. Second, it has a lower beam that sinks into the earth. It reaches down to the depths of the hearts of men. Third, it has cross-arms in opposite directions. It extends to all mankind, it includes all those who will respond to it. The Cross reaches the learned and unlearned, the rich and the poor, the wise and the unwise, the old and the young, the near and the far.

This week remember the Cross, and remember what took place upon that Cross, and let Christ live in your heart. Hear the language of the Cross, the words of love and forgiveness we each need in our life.

Renaissance To Give Concert Performance Here

Renaissance, a group of twelve college-age Christian musicians who combine the familiar with the contemporary, will be appearing at the First Baptist Church, on Monday evening, Feb. 6th at 7:30 p.m.

The members of Renaissance come from all over the nation and travel some 80,000 miles within a given year. They are concerned that as they travel they share their genuine "purpose" in life to all they come in contact with. According to Webster, the word renaissance means "revival" or "rebirth". The purpose of this group is indeed renaissance, not only in music but in spirit.

Renaissance is becoming one of the most popular young ministering groups of its kind in the nation. They have several record albums under the name of Renaissance and are apart of the TEMPO recording label. One of their albums has received a special merit award from Billboard Magazine.

Since its beginning, Renaissance has performed many concerts in the United States, Canada, Europe and the Bahamas. In addition to their evening concerts, these musicians are active in special daytime presentations including school assemblies and service clubs. Some of their concerts have taken place in Disney World, Disneyland, London, on the CBS Network, the Pentagon in Washington, D.C., and many others.

The musical stylings of the Renaissance promise rapport with any audience. Their variable program includes old hymns plus other unique styles with such composers as Otis Skillings, Larry Mayfield, Rick Powell, and many others. Along with their music, Renaissance is one of the few groups to incorporate a puppet ministry into its performances.

The concert sponsored by the First Baptist Church is free, and the public is invited.

Extension Agent Presents Fairview HD Club Program

Mrs. Bonnie Hunter hosted the Thursday meeting of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club in her home, 1471 Watson St. at 2:30 p.m. Jan. 26. Ten members and guests were present.

Mrs. Versie McMillan, president, called the meeting to order with the THDA Prayer led by Mrs. Billie Smith. Mrs. Bonnie Hunter led a recreational quiz which was answered by the name of a fabric.

Mrs. McMillan reported on the Council meeting asking for suggestions regarding the coming Educational Tour. Visiting the Denim Factory in Littlefield was one of the places suggested for the tour.

Mrs. Mary Womack read a letter of appreciation from the State Hospital in response to the Christmas gift check given by the club.

Miss Barbara Williams, county extension agent, presented the ensuing program on "Battle of the Bulge," expressing a two-pronged offensive using nutritious low calorie foods and regular active exercise. Two quizzes were presented, one on Weight Control and the other on Counting Calories.

Among the facts brought to the attention of the club members were: frustrations are relieved by eating; social eating may lead to overweight; and most people are overweight because of food habits acquired from generation to generation.

In the discussion of exercise, various members contributed their suggestions: walk to and from the post office daily; set a goal of two miles a day; join a friend or two in daily exercise sessions; be honest with yourself and write a food-eaten list for every day, then compare with a friend who wishes to lose weight.

One idea presented was to eat fruit raw instead of going to the effort of making a pie; also to use as many vegetables in their raw state as possible.

Refreshments of chicken salad sandwiches, salted nuts, cake squares topped with whipped cream and hot spiced punch were served at the close of the meeting to those attending: Ora Fisher, Versie McMillan, Edna Pace, Clara Shoemaker, Billie Smith, Bertie Strain, Muriel Thurman, Mary Womack and visitors Barbara Williams and Anna Belle Vaught.

The next meeting of the club will be Thursday, Feb. 9 in the home of Mrs. Versie McMillan. The meeting will be an all-day affair with the morning hours to be devoted to cutting out quilt squares for the current club project. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon.

Send A Brownie To Camp-- Buy Girl Scout Cookies

You can help send a Brownie to a special camp by buying a box of cookies from her during this year's annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale, going on now.

During the next few weeks, Brownies will be going door-to-door asking friends, relatives and neighbors to support our local Girl Scout program by buying a box of cookies. A substantial sale of cookies can help these Brownies earn their way to either a Brownie-Dad Special (a camp she can take her father to) or a summer camp at Camp Boothe Oaks for third grade Brownies.

These girls will be learning to accept responsibility today as they experience the thrill of meeting the public on its terms, making change for the $1.25 per box of cookies sale, and telling customers that they have a new cookie this year: the Snowdrop (glazed devils food cake) is being sold in addition to the usual peanut butter patties, sandwich cremes, thin mints, shortbread, and peanut butter sandwich.

Through participation in the 1978 Cookie Sale, local Brownies are living their ethical code, recognizing fairness, honesty, cheerfulness, courtesy, and respect for others and themselves in their salesmanship development in business-like transactions.

actions. They learn to say "Thank You" and smile even when you say, "not this time".

In addition to having her way partially or fully paid to camp (84 boxes for Brownie-Dad Special and 9-22 cases for campership) a Brownie can earn a cookie patch if she sells 48 boxes plus she will help build the troop treasury, provide camperships and awards, help members attend national and international events and training, maintain established camp, promote troop camping, make improvements at Camp Boothe Oaks, and maintain the Council properties.

The Cookie patch to be awarded this year pictures a G.S. Cookie with a big bite out of it. Cookie Coordinator Jayree Shaw of Abilene says that the six kinds of cookies offered are "something you can get you teeth into!"

Cookies freeze well and can be enjoyed all year long.

SCOUTING ANNIVERSARY WEEK, FEB. 5-11

On the Go!

Scouting channels a boy's energies into many constructive and fun directions. Let's show them our support!

Self-Reliant

A Scout learns how to take care of himself . . . out in the wilderness . . . and in the world. He's shown the fun of exploring, the value of questioning and the result of hard work. We can be proud of our Scouts.

Active Fun

Boys have fun as they learn to become physically fit . . . to develop mental alertness and moral strength. Support them!

Brotherhood

Scouting Helps Make Our World A Little Nicer For Everyone!

The folks in this community would like to extend a hearty 'thanks' to all the Scouts and leaders for the fine work they do. Their dedication to life's highest ideals, have helped to make them the exceptional young men that they are!

The Future of Boy Scouting Is OUR Future As Well!

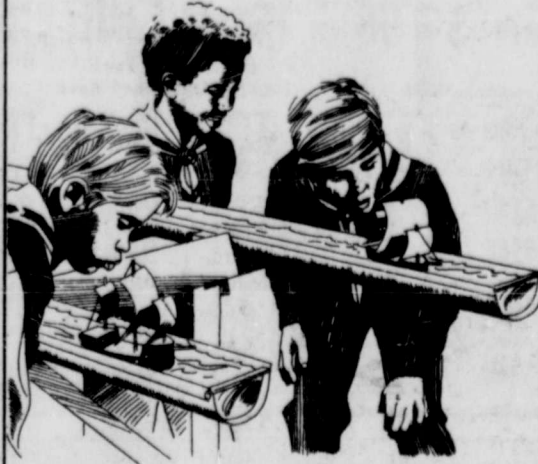

Our boys have a lot of growing to do . . . but as Scouts, we're sure they'll grow in the right direction. Because what a Scout learns today stays with him throughout life. Scouts don't just become better boys . . . they become better men.

Aiming High

A Scout learns to develop his skills, to become aware of his capacities . . . and to try his best at anything he attempts. He's encouraged to be a good winner, and a good loser . . . and most important, to feel good about himself.

Teamwork

Boys of all different backgrounds are brought together through Scouting. It becomes a rich and rewarding experience for them . . . sharing, learning and striving . . . together. Happy Birthday Scouts.

Scouting Is

Pulling Together To Make Good Things Happen

Scouts are taught that working alongside one another, with one common goal can be rewarding. That active participation in projects gets things done . . . and cooperation and team effort can accomplish much more than working alone. We're mighty proud of our Scouts and the work they do!

Touring Local Homes

By DONNA WATSON

When you ask directions to the Bob Bowers home the reply is "Oh, you won't have any trouble finding it; just look for the roping arena out back." And even if you are inept at taking directions sure enough you are able to locate it easily because an arena 50 yards wide and 100 yards long is hard to miss.

The Bowers hold Jack-pot Ropings for the community, during the warmer months in this private rodeo arena. "Because we enjoy people," pert little five foot Kathy Bowers explained.

The Bowers lovely rustic home sets in the middle of five of the fullest acres around. They have, besides the enormous arena, a stable complete with horses, steers and goats; a chicken pen filled with fighting game cocks; a herd of cats and a dog run, which stands north of the house with individual pens and houses accomodating six stray dogs who have found a permanent home with the Bowers.

Guests generally enter the home through sliding glass doors at the back of the sprawling ranch-style house but on more formal occasions the front entry is used.

Entering the front door you are completely enveloped in the sunny warmth of the Bower's picturesque home. Its 2,500 square feet of living area are cooled and heated by a central unit.

Simplicity, sincerity, joy and warmth are the keynotes to its decor.

The spacious entry is done in warm brown inlaid brick with hanging macrame and asparagus ferns, giving a suggestion of the harmonious interior which follows.

Off to the right of the entry stands a dining room which boasts a beautiful bay window affording a splendid view of a grass-covered lawn surrounded by a cedar post rail fence and landscaped with earthy yucca trees and century plants. An overhead chandelier of antique bronze and smoked glass emphasizes the high ceilings and natural cedar used as the theme throughout the house.

Passing under an archway, leading into what is obviously the heart of this lovely home, you find yourself engulfed with cozy sense of yesteryear.

A well defined overhanging ceiling, covered in cedar shingles, houses simple light panels to accent the openness of the room.

The walls are covered in a rust and beige toned print on an off white background washable paper. An expansive bay window framed in unfinished cedar, with a natural river rock sill, gives full play to the panoramic view of the arena and corral where horses prance and frisk enjoying the cold, crisp mornings.

Sunlight floods the room giving bright emphasis to the beautiful burnt orange carpet. Dried floral arrangements and hanging ivy cool the warm hued overall effect.

A salad bar centers the kitchen. It consists of a stainless sink and features a built-in Corningware range top. Appliances are done in harvest gold which coordinate well with the walnut stained cabinets.

The Bower's individuality is well displayed in two important pieces which complete this cozy room.

The yellow breakfast table was built by Bob Bowers, created from an old hay-rake wheel found on the Spade ranch. Its spokes extend to the center axle which acts as a center support for the table. The spokes hold a quarter inch thick, circular glass top with a center hole cut to allow the hub of the wheel to protrude.

The table is finished in a gold dust yellow and is complimented by four high backed wicker seated chairs of matching color.

A Butcher's chopping block in natural wood graces one corner of the room. This piece is an original, retrieved from the back of a dear old friend's grocery-butcher shop in San Angelo.

Accents of green gourds, red peppers and Indian corn add color to the scheme. A large black metal pot holder hanging from the ceiling displays enameled pots and pans. Wicker baskets intermingled in the decor add just the right touch to an already enchanting atmosphere.

A door to the left of the room enters a utility and mud room complete with lavatory, washer and dryer.

A high double door archway reveals still another delightful sight. Fourteen foot cathedral ceilings built of massive raw cedar beams and walls covered in heavy natural cedar, surround a rustic living/den area.

Two eight foot sliding glass doors are topped by six foot triangular windows and fill the room with radiant sunlight.

Matching over-stuffed oak sofas and easy chair of rust printed fabric are placed at right angles in front of a magnificent natural river rock fireplace extending to the 14 foot ceiling.

Beautiful, built-in, rough-hewn cedar gun case/wet bar and a trophy case are added to make this versatile room complete.

Furnishings for the home were all purchased locally from Britton's Furniture, however, a few speciality items such as the Indian shield displaying pheasant feathers and a small skull, the old English hunter's horn and matching olla fashion lamps were brought from Ruidoso, N.M.

The head of a magnificent antelope bagged by Bob Bower's on the Spade ranch is proudly displayed on one wall. A handsome painting by Jess Everett, depicting a rustic western scene adorns the wall behind one couch.

An open loft on the south wall high above the den was designed for use as a study, enabling its occupant to be a part of activities below while attending to business matters.

A massive oak door leads into a hallway filled with photographs of family members, including Champ, a horse belonging to Kathy Bowers for 15 years and on which she has won many barrel racing trophies.

Off this hall is the master bath with shower and double lavatories splendidly done in colors of brown, beige and off white softened by hanging ivy. A beautiful mirror extending to the ceiling runs the length of the vanity.

The master bedroom supports a king size bed with a cover in brown tone printed fabric. Two four foot triangular windows over two eight foot rectangular windows covered with matching rust and brown woven wood shades, give a serene atmosphere to this large room.

On the north wall an elegantly shaped carpeted spiral staircase leads up to the loft and stands next to a large double closet.

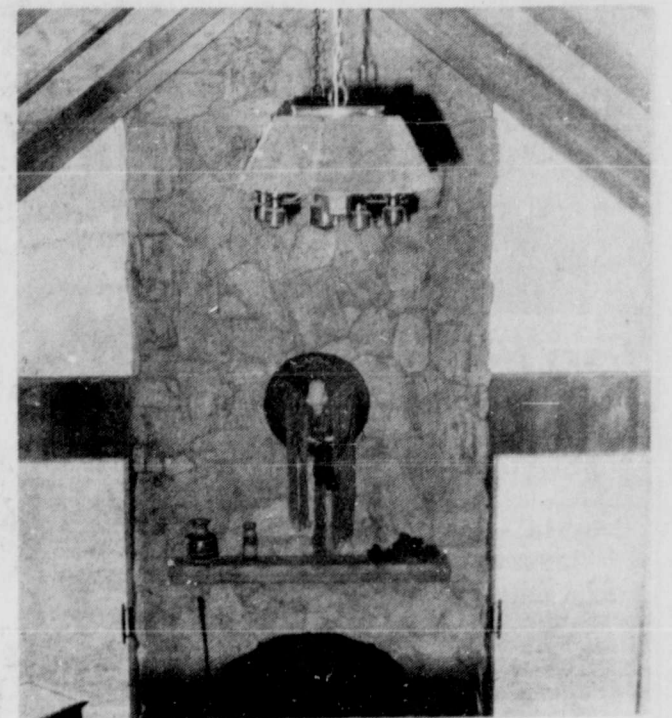

The walls are covered with trowled plaster and the cathedral ceilings sparkle between heavy cedar beams.

Retracing our steps back to the den we make a left hand turn into another hall to find Zane's (the Bowers' seven year old son) bath which features a full size tub and double vanity done in shades of brown and yellow.

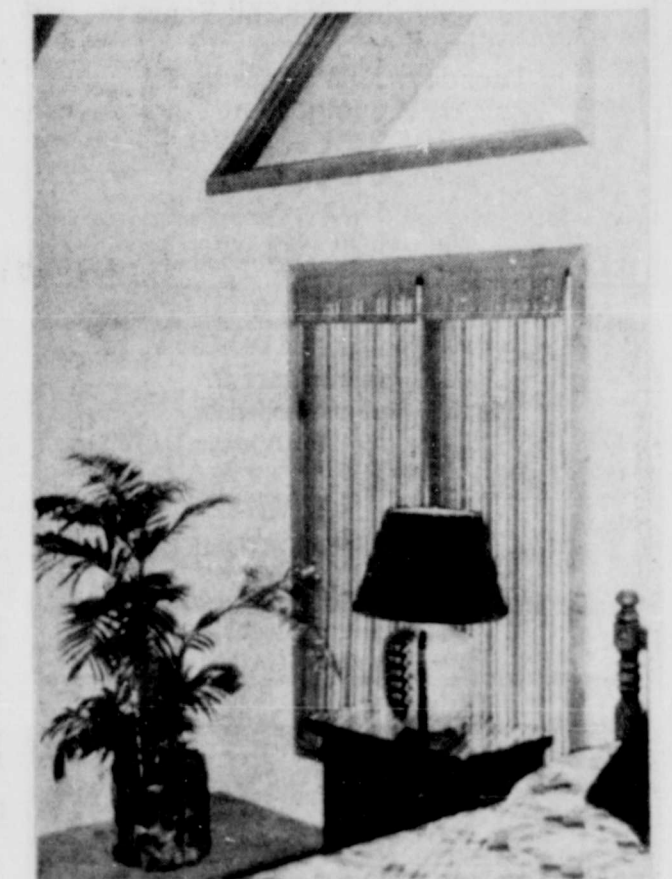

Adjacent to this room is Zane's bedroom. It has a large eight foot rectangular window which looks out over the front lawn and is shaded by a woven-wood done in brown and rust tones.

A cute captain's bed is placed on the south wall with a student desk and chest of drawers strategically placed to allow room for a rust colored hide-away teepee which fills the center of the room.

Kathy Bowers did her own decorating and set the mood for this lovely rustic home, using an over all western scheme.

There is no charge for these services, although the persons are responsible for the delivery costs. Priority for eligibility for this program includes low incomes, Welfare, teenage pregnancy, over 35 years old, more than five pregnancies, previous pregnancy without pre-natal care, and present pregnancy without medical care.

District Open To Contract Bids
Bids will be taken on the mowing of some sections of right-of-way in Mitchell County according to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation officials.
Roger Welsch, District Engineer of the Abilene District, said, "Over the past few years, we have been forced to reduce personnel due to funding problems. Now that we have additional funds in the highway system, we are committed to maintaining our present permanent work force. This results in the need to contract some of the maintenance functions for which we normally would employ additional personnel."
The Abilene District has recently contracted mowing in some of its thirteen counties. The concept is to eliminate the loading of department payrolls with personnel who would be terminated at the end of the mowing season.
The contract for which bids will be taken February 23, involves approximately 32 miles of Interstate Highway 20 in Mitchell County.
Plans, specifications and proposals are available at the office of Paul Logsdon, Mitchell County Maintenance Supervisor, Colorado City, Texas.

Pantomime Artist Scheduled At WHS

A unique program of comedy pantomime will be presented at Westbrook High School Monday, Feb. 6 at 12:45 p.m. featuring Wayne Milnes, star performer.

The public is invited to join WHS students in viewing an entertaining and humorous portrayal of the foibles and amusing characteristics of people we all know. Milnes' sketches will include: the mechanical man; the rooky pitcher; the lazy juggler; the fencer; world's fastest eater; Bo-jangles; the bullfighter; the rock singer; the clown and others.

The star of this one-man show, Wayne Milnes, is featured at Silver Dollar City and stars at the Corn Crib Theatre near Branson, Miss. Using only background music and his superbly disciplined body, Milnes brings to life this most unusual assortment of characters. School evaluations on Wayne Milnes' 1976-77 tour for the International Lectures were over 95% "Excellent" and this promises to be one of his best shows. The program is designed to appeal to both children and adults. There is no charge for the show. Persons of all ages are invited to attend.

port in primaries after the treaty became a big issue. It is this issue that will probably make Reagan our next president. At least I hope Carter isn't re-elected. I only wish his term was up sooner.

Regarding the Panama Canal, the new treaty would turn the canal over to the Panamanian Government in a period of years.

The Canal is much too important to turn over to a government which is not that stable. Of course the treaty has provisions to protect the United States, but treaties, like contracts, are only as good as the parties signing them.

Rebel governments don't consider their obligations to treaties made by past governments. With the political unrest in Latin America, a stable government is something that is unheard of.

Carter keeps harping on how this will improve our relations with Latin America. However, history shows that Latin American countries haven't appreciated what we've done for them in the past, so why should this be any different.

The Canal is just too important to give up for any reason. It is my understanding that Texas Senator Lloyd Bentsen plans to vote for ratification of the treaty.

He should be notified of our feelings, one way or the other.

office in Snyder in the Brownfield Building and Browning will work there, as well as in Colorado City.

Browning said that he hopes to open an office in Lamesa sometime in the future also.

Browning noted that his law enforcement background has been especially useful to him in his new occupation because "I know who I can trust and who I can't trust."

Trust is an important part of Browning's job.

He told of one incident when two out-of-town teenagers were arrested on a marijuana charge and Browning had to decide whether to post bond or not.

Browning said he trusted the boys enough to post the bond. Sure enough, they appeared for the hearing.

In fact, Browning said, they asked him to help them find jobs so they could pay the bond bill.

Browning helped the two find work at a feed lot in Roscoe and they worked until their fees were paid and they had saved enough money to make a new start.

"I like to help people out," Browning smiled.

Born in Scurry County, Browning became interested in police work after he suffered a heart attack and needed a "quiet paced" job because of his health. He started working as a dispatcher for the Scurry County police force.

After the doctor gave him a clean slate of health, Browning decided to continue with his police work. Eventually he was hired as Police Chief of Colorado City.

Browning noted that the juveniles he worked with while a police officer and the ones he works with now as a bondsman have made his job particularly worthwhile.

"Nothing thrills me more than to see a kid who has reformed," said Browning.

A graduate of Snyder High School, Browning attended Texas Tech from 1933-36 where he played football. He has two daughters, Bunny Ponder of Amite, La., and Gayle Browning of Jackson, Miss.

Colorado City varsity basketball squad downed Coahoma 74-54 at Coahoma Friday to set up a showdown Tuesday against Winters in Wolf Gym to determine the second half District 6-AA champion. The Wolves are now 5-0 in the second half of district play while Winters is 4-0 and was idle Friday. Winters must also face Merkel in Winters next Friday after the Wolves have completed regular season play.

Chances for the Wolves to take the second half crown are considered good as they will have the home court advantage and they have not lost a district game at home in more than two years. In the first meeting between Colorado City and Winters, the Blizzards won by 10 points in a game played at Winters.

The game with Coahoma was considered crucial as the Wolves had not defeated the Bulldogs at Coahoma in recent years. A loss would have meant they would be playing Winters for a possible tie for the second half crown. As matters now stand, a win would give the title to the Wolves for the second half outright and then they would face Wylie in a best two out of three playoffs at a neutral court.

Friday night's win over Coahoma was impressive for the Wolves as they totally dominated the game. Cornell Ausbie was leading scorer with 21, Kevin Geiger had 18, Ronald Proctor, 13; Gene Carter, 8; Blake Hammond, 6; Ricky Sanchez, 4; Bill Jordan, 3 and David Rivera, 1.

The boys junior varsity remained undefeated as they edged by Coahoma 57-56 with Rodney Wheeler leading scorer with 16 points.

The girls junior varsity lost 36-17 with Badillo scoring seven and in the girls varsity game, Colorado City lost 61-32 with Karen Thomas top Wolves scorer with 14.

 Loraine was edged out by Ira Thursday night when the boys and girls teams played a close district battle.

In boys action, Loraine was swept up by Ira 60-56. Jeff Oliver led the scoring with 15 points.

Ira girls managed to pull a 70-52 win over the Bulldogs. Gay Jones was top point maker with 35.

In the JV contest, Loraine boys overcame Ira 43-32. For the second half of district play, the varsity boys record stands at 0-4. The girls have a 2-2.

 Hermleigh managed to overtake the Westbrook varsity boys and girls teams Thursday night in Hermleigh Gym in two high scoring games.

Westbrook boys fell to Hermleigh 52-43.

Clark Sweatt led the scoring with 14 points. Terry Webb shot 9, Daryl Rich, 8, and Bobby Moody and Ricky Reyes, each with 6.

The Wildcat season record now stands at 17-11. Tied for the first half of district, the Wildcat's record for the second half of play now stands at 1-2.

Westbrook girls were shot down 77-56, setting their district record at 0-4 for the second half of play.

Alice Lopez led the scoring with 35 points. Rose Lopez sank 18 and Sharla Rollins nabbed 12 points.

Bill May, girls basketball coach, noted that the Wildcats finished the game with just three players—one forward and two guards. Four players battled against Hermleigh for the majority of the final quarter until one forward fouled out.

Westbrook varsity played Hermleigh Thursday night instead of Friday night, as was previously scheduled, because of a livestock show scheduled in Hermleigh Friday. Due to the change in schedule, the Westbrook junior high teams did not play the games set against Sands.
