First National Bank Authorizes Stock Split

A two-for-one stock split and a stock dividend were authorized at a special meeting of First National Bank of Rockport's shareholders Tuesday.

Subject to approval of the Comptroller of the Currency, shareholders voted to increase the bank's capital from $300,000 to $500,000. This was accomplished by reducing the par value from $10 to $5 per share, thereby increasing the number of shares outstanding from 30,000 to 60,000, and declaring a stock dividend representing two-thirds of a share for each $5 par stock owned. After the stock split and the stock dividend, common shares of the bank will total 100,000.

Also approved at the meeting was an increase in First National's Surplus account from $350,000 to $500,000 by transfer of funds from the undivided profits account.

James H. Sorenson, Jr., president, said these increases in capital, brought about by retained earnings, reflect continued solid growth of First National.

Action taken by stockholders at the special meeting had been approved previously by the bank's board of directors. Shareholders of record on June 30, 1971 will share in the stock dividend in proportion to their holdings of the bank's common stock to that date. No fractional shares will be issued, it was announced.

The owner of three of the $10 par value shares will receive three additional shares in the split plus four shares as a dividend, resulting in a total of ten $5 par value shares, Sorenson explained.

A total of 28,758 shares were represented in person or by proxy at the meeting. All were voted in favor of the capital changes.

Boundary Debate Ended this Week

The century-old boundary dispute between Aransas and Nueces Counties came to an end this week.

On Monday, Aransas County Judge John D. Wendell and Aransas County Commissioners W. B. Allen, Mrs. Wanda Sparks, Raymond Owens and Charlie Hale signed the judgment and maps of the adjusted boundary line which were presented by Attorney Hobart Huson of Refugio, who served as attorney for the county during the many years of the dispute and the final settlement.

On Tuesday, Nueces County Commissioners signed the documents. The final scheduled step was filing in 135th District Court in Refugio in order that Judge Frank H. Crain of Victoria can enter final judgment in the 13-year-old law suit.

In presenting the documents to Aransas County Commissioners Court, Huson termed the settlement "definitely advantageous to Aransas County."

Nueces County Auditor Calvin Ramfield said cost of the litigation to Nueces County through Dec. 31, 1970, was $111,544.03. The commissioners court Monday approved an additional surveying expense of $2,764.64 on an invoice submitted by County Surveyor W. W. Green.

Robert D. Mosier, Aransas County Auditor, said the cost to his county through May 3 was $34,679.33. He estimated final cost will be approximately $40,000.

Commissioners courts of the two counties agreed on the adjustment of the boundary and authorized the boundary survey in March, 1967.

Aransas County filed the suit in 135th District Court at Refugio Oct. 26, 1967, laying claim to Port Aransas, most of Harbor Island and the bay area and islands north of the Aransas Pass - Port Aransas causeway.

Approximately 30 square miles of territory was involved in Aransas County's original claim, producing tax revenues of $100,000 annually to Nueces County.

The agreed settlement gives Aransas County a portion of Harbor Island, bay area and a string of small islands formerly within the boundaries of Nueces County. Annual tax revenues from this area are little more than $100.

The boundary line has been in dispute since the creation of Aransas County back in 1871. In 1880, the two counties hired special surveyors to lay out the boundary and settle the matter for once and always.

The two surveyors, J. A. Porter for Nueces and Col. G. W. Fulton for Aransas got together on St. Joseph Island to get the project under way and immediately disagreed on the correct starting point.

Fulton told Porter he was submitting the dispute to the General Land Office for an opinion. Porter, however, had hired out to survey the boundary, got on with the business Urge Merger of City Police and Sheriff's Dept.

An internationally recognized police expert recommended this week that for greater efficiency "a single agency be established to provide law enforcement for the entire area of Aransas County."

The recommendation was made by David A. Varrelman, police management consultant of the field operations division, International Association of Chiefs of Police, Washington, D.C.

He made the recommendation at a special meeting of the City Council while presenting a report on a study he made of the Rockport City Police Department, its personnel, operations and equipment in January 1970.

Mayor Delmar R. Hiller said that the Grand Jury, which met here last week had advised him to urge the City Council to give "maximum consideration" to the possibility of combining the City Police Department and the Sheriff's Department operations into a single unit.

Hiller added that the possibility already is being explored and that he had contacted the Coastal Bend Regional Planning Commission for advice and assistance regarding initial steps to be taken.

In suggesting the one-unit law enforcement operation, Varrelman said, "In terms of efficiency, one unit can regulate the policies and procedures of law enforcement within an area much more effectively than can multiple units working toward the same goal with varying degrees of efficiency and success."

Recognizing that "such a change will be resisted by less progressive individuals and groups, who for some reason are willing to sacrifice efficiency, economy and professional law enforcement," Varrelman said he also realized that the doctrine of home rule is intrinsic to the American way of government. "We feel, however, that through proper administration, and utilization of modern methods, home rule will not be lost," he added.

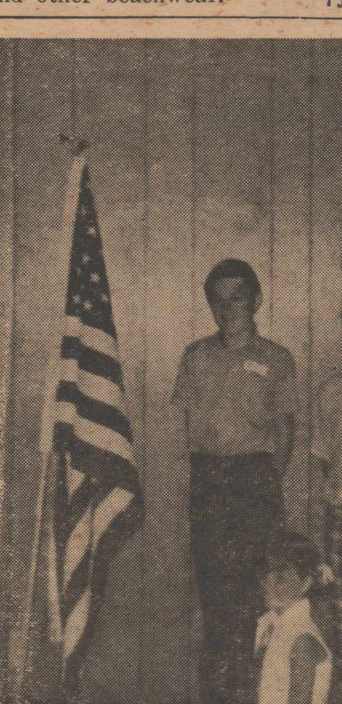

Varrelman said that "since the sheriff is a constitutional officer, a merger with the county office is the most feasible. If this is the case, the city should budget for its share of the law enforcement activity."

"If, on the other hand, the citizens choose to continue the operation of a separate police department, they should

Game Management Officers Are Busy

Game management officers of the Parks and Wildlife Department never know what job they will be asked to do next. Everyone knows that they enforce all the game and fish laws as well as all water safety laws of the state but no one knows what else they will be asked to do.

They teach classes of Boy and Girl Scouts and other youth groups, lecture to adult groups on just about any subject concerning the outdoors and work with civil defense officials in periods of emergency such as fire, hurricane, tornado, or flood. They also work with city and county officials any time they are called on.

A good example of this was when G.M.O.s Jack Maddux and James Jennings were on routine water safety patrol in the Ski Basin at Rockport on June 5. They received a radio request that they go to Cedar Bayou to investigate and assist in a possible drowning there.

The call originated in the county sheriff's office to Law Enforcement Supervisor M. B. Mullinax who contacted the G.M.O.s by radio. When they arrived at Cedar Bayou they found that the drowned man had been found and removed from the water by his fishing partner. They loaded up the body in their boat and returned through very rough waters to the Sea Gun Marina. There county officials waited to take over.

The next day, June 6, G.M.O. (Continued on Page 8)

Final preparations for the Navy Relief Festival at the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, are presently underway. The Festival, now in its 20th year, is scheduled to take place June 18, 19 and 20. This year, as in the past, the festival will be highlighted by the airshow featuring the Army's champion parachute team, "The Golden Knights". Several other aerial demonstrations and a high static display of many of the Navy's operational aircraft are scheduled.

Live entertainment will be slated every morning of the festival on stage. Included in the show will be Euell Price and the famous Navy Steel Band of San Juan.

The air station will be open to the public. One hangar will house a giant trade show including exhibits from local and national firms. NASA will have a special display of a half scale model of the Apollo moon-land vehicle.

A huge carnival and a hanger full of games and concessions will provide fun for visitors of all ages. Friday and Saturday nights will be topped off by a brilliant display of fireworks.

Climaxing the Sunday evening program will be the selection of Miss Navy Relief and Miss Navy Corpus Christi at the annual beauty contest.

The gates will open at noon Friday, and admittance is free. The Navy Relief Festival is designed to promote community relations between the citizens of Corpus Christi and the surrounding areas and also to raise funds for the Navy Relief Society, the Navy's own charity for helping the Navy and Marine Corps personnel and their dependents in times of need.

C of C Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fuller of San Antonio, who have a week-end home in Rockport, looking forward to retirement here, are great boosters of this area and proud of any recognition. Last Monday Mrs. Fuller was so pleased to hear a San Antonio radio announcer bragging on the "little coast town of Rockport" for flying flags on Flag Day that she placed a long distance call to Juanita Wagley to let the Chamber of Commerce know of this good publicity. Thanks, Annabel, for sharing this good word and for being such a fine supporter of the C. of C.

Mrs. Loyce Landrum, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, attended the 65th annual conference of Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers in Brownsville June 13-15. She heard good ideas on how to increase C of C membership, and interesting discussion on the Chamber's role in economic development of its community; also, recommendations for working closely with the local governmental bodies. Mrs. Landrum and her daughter, Melinee, made the trip with Mrs. Wanda Bakin, secretary-manager of the Sinton Chamber of Commerce.

John Kinsey, public relations manager of the Chamber of Commerce, reports there has been some excellent publicity in the Houston Chronicle and the San Antonio Express about the June 27 Rockport-to-Houston ski race. Our C of C is one of the sponsors.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roloff, owners of Holiday Lodge, provided the refreshments for the hospitality program at the C of C Building this week.

CONGRATULATIONS

The number of bars on the insignia pin worn by members of the D.A.R. represents the number of ancestors who rendered patriotic service to the country during the Revolutionary War.

Seating Arrangement

In the U.S. House of Representatives, Democrats occupy the east side of the chamber, on the speaker's right; Republicans sit across the main aisle on the speaker's left.

Misnamed Months

The last four months are misnamed. September, October, November and December, meaning 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th, got those names because the old Roman year started March 1, and the months were named after the Latin numerals.

be prepared to support an expanded department in terms of manpower and equipment."

Varrelman said Rockport "is lucky to be getting the good police service it is now receiving, considering the small size of the Police Department and the modest salaries paid."

Under "general observations" about the City Police Department, he listed the following:

Relationship With Other Agencies: Excellent cooperation exists between the Aransas County Sheriff's Department and the Rockport Police Department.

Organization: The present organization does not allow the chief administrator to supervise, or direct the activities of his department. The position of night watchman is more a private enterprise function than a Police Department function.

Manpower Allocation: The department is undermanned and thus cannot perform at minimum acceptable levels. At times, the night watchman is relied upon to function as a police officer.

Management: The department does not utilize an adequate system of written directives. The function of control is neglected because the chief must spend all his time performing routine patrol or routine records tasks. The chief's role in the budgeting process needs to be expanded. No formal planning activities are performed. Vehicles need to be replaced more frequently. Minimum equipment standards are not met, and the city has not met basic equipment needs.

Preston Smith Friday. The amount is $23,100.

The 21 awards, totaling more than $545,000, were approved on recommendation of the Texas Criminal Justice Council, which oversees state law enforcement planning and administers funds from the U.S. Department of Justice under the Omnibus Crime Control Act.

The Coastal Bend grant will be used in implementing action projects outlined in previous plans and in updating the comprehensive five-year criminal justice plan for the 12 counties in the area served by the planning commission.

Areas of special emphasis will include continued support of police training, coordination of the Coastal Bend Law Enforcement Teletype Net, development of a regional law enforcement radio communications network and a regional law enforcement information system.

Professional criminal justice planning services will be furnished to each unit of local government in the 12 counties, with the commission serving as a regional clearing house.

These counties are Aransas, Bee, Brooks, Duval, Jim Wells, Karnes, Kleberg, Live Oak, McMullen, Nueces, Refugio and San Patricio.

To supplement the $23,100 grant, the commission will contribute $2,567 to the criminal planning budget.

Treason is the only crime defined in the Constitution of the United States.

Game Management—

Jack Maddux was awakened at midnight by a telephone call from the sheriff's office that a boat was stranded in Copano Bay and help was needed. Maddux picked up G.M.O. Jennings and they launched their boat.

A couple who had walked for seven hours from the boat around Copano Bay had reported the incident. The man offered to go in the boat with the G.M.O.s to direct them to the beached boat and the man who stayed with it.

They located the boat and towed it in and took their boat out of the water at 5 a.m. They were tired, sleepy and hungry but, of course, they were not expected to report to their office until 8 a.m.

A county radio mounted in the G.M.O. patrol boats, giving the sheriff direct contact with the G.M.O.s, would make their work more efficient, but funds for such an installation have not been made available, according to the Parks and Wildlife Department.

currently on display in Houston at the Margaret Nobler Art Gallery, in Westbury Square; in Austin at the Country Store; in San Antonio at the Broken Spur Gallery; in LaPorte at the Crow's Nest Art Gallery and in New Mexico at the Old Taos Jail Art Gallery.

Another wildlife enthusiast and nationally known artist who will be showing is Raul Gutierrez, the famous water colorist from San Antonio, who paints pastoral and natural scenes in sepia tone, reminding one of the famous artist, Andrew Wyeth. Gutierrez is also very well known for his pen and ink drawings.

J. Howard Rabbay, the 23 year old palette knife oilist from Houston and the Westheimer Gallery, is an entrant. He was paralyzed from the neck down by polio in 1948, before the Salk vaccine and has had to have eight operations to help correct the effects of the disease. He still has a bad right leg that "slows him up a bit" he says but he paints with excitement and impatience. He has a lavish use of the palette knife to give a strong impasto effect and frequently relies on the color, yellow, his favorite.

All the exhibition booths will be located on Lakeview Drive and Cape Ann with the west backs to Balboa Channel and Ball Channel.

There will be a concession tent directly across the street from the Festival on Lakeview Drive and there will be food and drink on sale for artists and viewers.

The hours of exhibition will be from 11 a.m. until 9 p.m. July 3, and 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. July 4.

Boundary—

at hand and collected his fee.

His report and a copy of the map he prepared were entered in the minutes of the Nueces County Commissioners Court and also were filed in the General Land Office. This is the line that has been generally accepted as a boundary between the counties.

Basis of the Aransas County lawsuit is a harmless-looking bill dropped into the legislative hopper at Austin on Feb. 3, 1858, and entitled: "An act to define jurisdiction over certain tidewaters and islands named herein."

This is the little jewel that stripped San Patricio County of all its water and island holdings.

Back in the days of the Republic, San Patricio County's boundaries included the beaches from Corpus Christi Bay to the Rio Grande, all of Padre Island and the tidelands of the Gulf, Laguna Madre and the intervening bays.

All these went to Nueces County when it was organized in 1946.

In boundary shifts with Refugio County, San Patricio had gained Red Fish and Aransas Bays prior to the 1858 legislative act.

An act passed by the Legislature Dec. 8, 1857 gave Nueces County all the bays and beaches then within San Patricio's boundary. This act was restored to its original location.

The State Constitution then in effect required the titles of all bills to describe their contents. Certainly the title of the Feb. 3, 1858, bill "defining jurisdiction could cause no harm. But, what the Legislature actually adopted reads:

"Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas that the following limits shall be comprised within the County of Nueces, to wit: All of Corpus Christi and Aransas Bays lying south and west of a line drawn down the middle of the channel on the outer bar of Aransas Pass and along the middle of said channel to a point opposite the landing at the point of St. Joseph Island; thence in a direct line to the southeast corner of Samuel Highland's survey of the mainland, including within said limits Mustang and the various islands in said water south and west of said line; and that this act shall take effect from its passage."

Mapmakers apparently overlooked the provisions of this act, for the line between Refugio County (from which Aransas County was created) and San Patricio continued to be drawn across Aransas Bay and Mustang Island for years after the act was adopted.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. DeForest, of the Island of Bahrain in the Persian Gulf, are visiting with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeForest.

HORTON DESCRIBES AUSTRALIAN TRIP

Jack Horton described his recent six weeks boat trip to Rotary International convention in Sydney, Australia, at a luncheon meeting of the Rockport Rotary Club Wednesday at Corky's Restaurant.

He reported that Australia and New Zealand are enjoying tremendous growth, pointing out that new buildings are going up everywhere in Sydney, yet there remains a pressing shortage of office, factory and residential space. Agriculture also is booming, he said, with special emphasis on beef cattle and dairy products. Only the wool industry is declining due to growing use of synthetic fabrics throughout the world.

Australia is anxious to attract new residents, especially those with special skills, and thousands are moving to that country from all parts of the world, Horton said.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton used their cruise ship as their hotel during the Rotary convention, thus avoiding the acute housing shortage. During the cruise, which stopped at a number of South Sea Islands, weekly Rotary club meetings were held with some 90 Rotarians attending.

SHELLEY ROATEN

By definition, a capsule is a gelatin covering of two parts joined together after they have been filled with powdered drug or crystals.

"The battle would be half won if early detection and treatment became universal," says a WHO health official about cancer.

Good advice: be sure the purpose and dosage of a medicine are clearly stated on the label and that you understand them before you take any.

It is estimated that there are nearly 500,000 practicing physicians in the Western world.

Among the many major drug discoveries of this century, certainly one of the most important was the discovery of insulin in the 1920's, which almost overnight brought the life expectancy of diabetics to nearly normal.

THE FACE IS FAMILIAR, as well it should be, but the medium is unusual in this work of art. Portrait of the late French President De Gaulle, by artist Pierre Bettencourt, is composed of egg shells with pine cones for eyebrows. Exhibited in Paris, the "painting" is 3½ feet high and 2½ feet wide.

Airman Windstrup, a weapons mechanic, is assigned to a unit of the Pacific Air Forces, headquarters for air operations in Southeast Asia, the Far East and the Pacific area. He served at Seymour Johnson AFB, N.C., before his arrival in Thailand.

The Kinsey Report

Dr. A. Ray Stephens, who is doing a history on Aransas County from 1871 to 1971, continues to run across fascinating material of the bygone years.

An example is the following "most interesting railroad proposition in the South," prepared by the Board of Trade in 1908 and extolling the advantages of Rockport.

Rockport has more to offer a Railroad than any other point in the South. We mean just what we say. Test us with the all-powerful, never-failing acid of analysis and we will show you. We know our ground, and know our proposition will stand the most critical investigation.

What the country most needs is quick and cheap transportation of state and interstate commerce to the sea-board.

J. J. Hill, the great Railroad magnate, is credited with saying:

"The country needs at least $5,000,000,000 invested in additional Railroad improvement."

In stone's throw of Rockport lies the greatest, safest and most easily accessible deep harbor on our Southern coast. This assertion is incontrovertible.

Cut our Texas Coast line in two, this, the nearest harbor to Mexico, Central and South America and the Panama Canal will be found near the half-way point on this coastline. Draw a line north from this harbor and it will touch Victoria, leave Waco a few miles to the west, cut midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, leaving the greater portion of the State of Texas with its incalculable commerce, all of New Mexico and Colorado, most of Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas west of this line. Every foot of this vast empire is interested in, and contributory to this port.

Besides its commanding importance as relates to our Mexican, Central and South American trade and its relation to the Panama Canal, this is the most interesting point on the great Intercoastal Canal, now in process of construction by the Government.

No sane mind can doubt that the present available appropriation by the U. S. Government will remove the sand bar at the entrance of our harbor and admit vessels drawing thirty-five feet of water to this port. The War and Engineering Departments of the Government concur in recommending the most liberal appropriation for further deepening, extending and improving this harbor. Besides, great fortifications are to be constructed here by the Government for the harbor protection, title to ample ground on both sides of the harbor having already been

We offer incomparably the best and most desirable terminal facilities to be found on the Texas Coast. The fact is indisputable.

Last and least we offer $30,000 in cash and right-of-way through our country and depot grounds in the City of Rockport to the first acceptable Railroad now operating 200 miles of road in Texas, which builds in here from the north. The road accepting our offer must construct a modern passenger depot in the City of Rockport at a place, and cost to be agreed upon.

The time is ripe for action and the road accepting this offer will reap advantages superior to any and all roads coming after it. We are ready to show you, to talk business, and do business with you.

S. Lightburne, Pres. Rockport Board of Trade.
W. H. Baldwin, F. Stevens, J. W. Stevens, Committee.

and terminal facilities immediately adjacent thereto can be had for ten times the cost of such improvement here.

There is nothing to compare with us on the continent. The work of removing the sand bar at the mouth of the harbor is nearly finished. What we need now is Railroads. Nature and Uncle Sam will do the rest. See us. Go over the ground. Observation, comparison and reason will convince you of the truth of what we say. We know we are right and that the facts as they exist justify our claims. We will convince any intelligent man of affairs who will come and reason with us that we have the best and most attractive proposition ever offered to brains and capital.

Lightburne, and His Committee.
