Liberals Bolt In Three City Conventions

(By The Associated Press)

Old fights among conservative and liberal wings of the Texas Democratic Party flared anew at county conventions Saturday.

In Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth, each faction selected delegates to the state convention to be held at Mineral Wells Sept. 12.

The liberals walked out of the Houston City Auditorium and held a rump meeting of their own after the conservatives took charge of the county convention. About 400 liberals met on the lawn of the county criminal courts buildings five blocks from the auditorium.

HOLD RUMP SESSIONS

In Fort Worth the liberal-loyalist Trumanites bolted and held a rump session. Jack Carter, Tarrant County state Democratic executive committeeman by order of a Texas Supreme Court session, led the bolting delegates as he did in the 1948 county convention.

Anti-Truman Democrats who won the balance of power in precinct conventions at Fort Worth a week ago adopted strongly-worded resolutions attacking the domestic policies of President Truman.

Dallas had a rump convention, too. The conservative Democrats dominated the Dallas convention by a 358-vote margin and crippled liberal resistance with an all-out plea for party harmony.

But a majority of the liberals stomped out and held thier own convention.

TAKE LOYALTY PLEDGE

Only two dissenting voices were raised at Corsicana as Navarro County Democrats voted condemnation for J. E. McDonald, agriculture commissioner under attack on grounds of party disloyalty. The Navarro County Democrats took the much-disputed loyalty pledge affirming they will support party nominees at the polls.

At Fort Worth, the conservatives took firm control at the morning county executive committee meeting and planned to keep it during the afternoon convetion sessions.

In Longview Gregg County Democrats took a loyalty pledge. The original pledge read: "I am a Democrat and I pledge myself to support the nominees of the Democratic party for local, state and national office in 1950 and thereafter as long as I hold my present position."

In dictating it to the secretary, Merritt Gibson left out the phrase "and thereafter."

Two years ago the Gregg County delegation walked out of the state conversation in protest of treatment given to the Harris County delegation, which wsa refused a seat on grounds its members had not taken the loyalty pledge.

HOUSTON HITS ACHESON

Walk-out of the liberals at Houston came after Ralph Lee, former mayor of West University Place and a leader of the conservative faction, was elected temporary convention chairman. County Chairman Bob Tucker, defeated by Lee for the chairmanship, and left the city auditorium, saying "I am no longer needed here." But later he informed convention secretary, James Yancy, Jr., he intended to certify to the state executive committee "whatever this convention decides."

In his acceptance speech, Lee said "the country can have no confidence in its government as long as Dean Acheson is secretary of state."

Milner, Jr.—a dixiecrat leader two years ago—won control of the county executive committee meeting. Milner was in charge of the conservative Harris County delegation that was unseated at the state convention by Truman-Democrats.

The resolution adopted at Corsicana said county delegates there "condemn the conduct of J. E. McDonald as a Democrat and as candidate of this party."

SUPPORT FOR WHITE

It was expected party members would seize the occasion to marshal party support for McDonald's opponent in the Aug. 26 second primary. McDonald's opponent for state agriculture commissioner is John White of Wichita Falls.

The Howard County convention at Big Spring urged the defeat of McDonald on grounds of party disloyalty. Other resolutions praised Gov. Allan Shivers' administration and supported continuation of the tidelands fight.

Other county convention actions included:

Wichita County (Wichita Falls)—Passed the hat to help John C. White of Wichta Falls in his run-off campaign for commissioner of agriculture. Donations totalled $181.42. Reolutions endorsed White's candidacy, the fight against Communism and the state's fight in the tidelands dispute.

ECTOR FOR WHITE

Cooke County (Gainesville)—Resolutions condemned federal ownership of the tidelands, the FEPC and alleged leniency of the federal government toward Communists. Delegates to the state convention were uninstructed but bound to the unit voting rule.

Ector County (Odessa)—Endorsed White condemned McDonald.

Harrison County (Marshall)—Endorsed White, opposed adoption of the FEPC, including abolition of racial segregaton; endorsed Shivers and develop seizure of Texas tidelands. It voted "ardent support to the present Democratic administration and its efforts to repeal the Taft-Hatley act."

Cass County (Hughes Springs)—Commended Truman for his action in Korea, condemned socialized medicine, the tidelands seizure and the continued spread of Communism within the United States.

Outpost North Of Salt Creek Production Set

General Crude Oil Co. has staked its No. 193-I D. R. Coleman as a north outpost to the Salt Creek pool in Northwest-Central Kent County.

It will be located about three-fourths of a mile north of production in the Salt Creek field, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 193, block G, W&NW survey.

That makes the drillsite eight miles northwest of the city of Clairemont.

Rotary operations to 6,600 foot depth will commence immediately.

TO PLUG BACK

Goldston Oil Co. No. 1 Akin Simpson, east offset to a recently completed one and one-half mile south extension in Central-North Howard County has recovered salt water on a drillstem test of the Canyon.

On the test taken at 8,065-8,808 feet gas surfaced in eight minutes. The tool was closed after 40 minutes. Recovery was 60 feet of mud, 180 feet of oil, and 120 feet of salt water. Operator is now running an electric survey, and likely will plug back to the Spraberry section of the Permian in attempt to make producer from that zone.

The Goldston project is an east offset to Seaboard Co. and other No. 1 Akin Simpson, recently completed south extension to the Vealmoor Canyon field.

Goldston No. 1 Simpson is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 46, block 32, 2-T-N, T&P survey and 17 miles north of Big Spring.

AHEAD IN BORDEN

Castleman and O'Neill of Midland No. 1 L. D. Rogers, wildcat in Central-South Borden County, was last reported drilling below 7,885 feet in shale and sand.

A line stringer thought at first to be the reef was topped at 7,682 feet on a minus datum of 5,208 feet and was only approximately 25 feet thick, except that it drilled no show.

The No. 1 Rogers is 660 feet from northwest and 560 feet from southwest lines of section 29, block 31, T-3-N, T&P survey, and seven and one-half miles east of the town of Vealmoor.

STONEWALL VENTURE

An Ellenburger wildcat has been staked in Central-North Stonewall County, eight miles north of the town of Swenson.

The proposed venture is Rowan and Holt of San Antonio No. 1 Catherine Berry and others, located 467 feet from south and east

Democrats Pick Delegates To State Meeting

Delegates and alternates to the state Democratic convention, set for Sept. 12, at Mineral Wells, were named at the Scurry County Democratic Convention, held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the district courtroom, with Haskell O. Beard presiding.

Chairman Beard named a nominating committee composed of Joe Strayhorn, M. W. Clark and Bob Davie. This committee selected Beard, Davie, Edgar Taylor, M. W. Bavousett, C. F. Sentell and C. T. McLaughlin as delegates.

Alternates chosen included H. J. Brice, Joe M. Glass, Frank A. Wilson, Mrs. Georgia Martin, John Sentell and Clark.

The resolution committee, also named by Beard, included Charles Bley, Bavousett and Taylor. Only one resolution was recommended, which called for the delegates to the state meeting to vote the unit rule, which was adopted unanimously.

Mrs. Martin acted as temporary secretary of the convention.

SAYS HE'LL PRESIDE OVER UN COUNCIL — Jakob A. Malik, above, chief Russian delegate to the United Nations Security Council, said he would take over the Council presidency on schedule Aug. 1 as Russia announced the end of her boycott of the UN group. (AP Wirephoto).

UN Prepared For Possible Malik Tactics

LAKE SUCCESS, July 29. (AP) — Russia kept the United Nations guessing tonight what she will do when Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik takes over the Security Council presidency for August next Tuesday.

Malik hasn't informed UN officials yet, as he promised he would, what the day's order of business will be. It was presumed he was conferring with his aides and getting new instructions from Moscow.

TASS HITS SESSIONS

A big three group, meantime, met with Norway's Arne Sunde, council president for July, on a broad program to insure that the Security Council won't be powerless next month if Malik tries obstructionist tactics on the Korean conflict or any other question.

Soviet News Agency Tass charged in Moscow today that council meetings are being held by the "Anglo-American bloc, hurriedly and illegally," before Malik can return as chairman.

A fair assumption is that Malik's opening tactics will be to declare that meetings which Russia boycotted since last January were illegal. If that comes to a ballot, he will be voted down.

If he proposes a peace offensive with an offer for mediation in Korea, he won't get very far.

38TH, NO RED CHINA

If he suggests it on the present battle lines, he will be reminded the Council has demanded that the North Koreans roll back to the 38th parallel, where they started the invasion of South Korea.

Only 18 Per Cent of Defense Billions Spent for Weapons

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP)—Of some $48 billions spent by the Armed Forces in the last four years, only $9 billions—18 per cent—has gone into new planes, tanks, ships and guns.

These figures were disclosed today in a letter from Secretary of Defense Johnson which was made public by chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services committee.

TERMINAL LEAVE COST

In contrast, Johnson said, 60 per cent of the $10,500,000,000 President Truman recently requested for Armed Forces spending is earmarked for weapons.

Johnson said the total spending for the period from July 1, 1945 to June 30, 1950—the fiscal years 1946-1950—amounted to $90,000,000,000. Of this, he said, 45 per cent, or $42,000,000,000 was used to pay off World War II expenses such as terminal leave for separated military personnel.

The defense official submitted the figures in response to a request by the House committee for information on how military appropriations have been used.

SPENDING SURVEY

The committee has been conducting a secret inquiry on the state of preparedness of the military forces and on how they have spent the money appropriated by Congress since the end of the last war.

Johnson's letter included a breakdown on how the Armed Forces spent the $11,200,000,000 average appropriation they received from peacetime years.

The largest single item—$5,000,000,000 a year, or 41 per cent of the annual average—went for pay, clothing and food.

Allies Lose Ground Before Renewed Communist Drive

Youth Center Sponsors Hope To Start Building August 14

Adult sponsors of the Youth Center here have set their sights on Aug. 14 as the day when construction will begin on the new building in Memorial Park, according to Mrs. J. B. Nowlin, one of the principal sponsors.

A parade has been planned for Saturday, Aug. 12, Mrs. Nowlin stated, in which all the young people of Snyder will be asked to march. Following the parade around the courthouse, the marchers will disperse through all the city, collecting donations to the center.

HAVE GIFTS READY

"Businessmen are asked to have their gifts ready after the parade," Mrs. Nowlin said.

About $5,000 is needed to complete the funds necessary for the building, some $2,000 in money, pledges, and materials already having been promised.

Not all the materials will be given, and the $5,000 is needed to buy building supplies and to pay for the labor involved in constructing the center.

Saturday night, Aug. 12, following the parade and the solicitation, Mrs. Nowlin plans to have a party for Youth Center workers at her home on the rodeo grounds.

A business meeting has been called for 6:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the First Christian Church. Definite plans will then be made for the parade and for the beginning of the building.

Another matter which will be discussed will be the feasibility of staging a home-talent show here to benefit the Youth Center.

SERVING NOW

Meanwhile, as plans for the center go forward, some of the functions of a youth center already have been undertaken by the sponsors.

One of these is square dancing classes, to begin soon under the direction of Carl Herod, Mrs. Nowlin said.

Herod has agreed to teach square dancing to all young persons interested in learaing. There will be two sessions each month, at the dancing platform at the rodeo grounds.

"There is a popular misconception about the Youth Center, which is that it is a church or school organization," Mrs. Nowlin stated. "This is erroneous. The Youth Center will be for all the town's youth, and will not be affiliated with any specific church group nor restricted to any specific class in school, such as juniors or seniors in high school."

Huge Order for Planes From The Air Force

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP)—The air force flashed 200 manufacturers a signal today to go ahead with the production of approximately $4 billion worth of airplanes and parts.

The industry was directed to get busy with the job and negotiate contracts later.

SET EMPLOYEE NEEDS

Letters of intent, authorizing the companies to proceed while Congress is completing action on appropriations and contracts are being worked out, were sent to the manufacturers.

An Air Force spokesman said the orders cover the entire Air Force procurement program for the fiscal year that began July 1.

This includes orders contemplated in the regular defense appropriation for the current fiscal year, and additional billions that will be provided under the additional $10,000,000,000 defense appropriation asked recently by President Truman.

The companies were asked to advise the Air Force how many additional employees will be needed.

Asked what the purpose of this step is, an Air Force spokesman said it is to give the factories "something they can start getting employees with."

TOWARD 69 GROUPS

He said no details as to the names of the companies receiving the letters of intent and the types and numbers of planes to be produced will be made public.

Actually, this spokesman added, the number of planes each company will produce is not fxied in the letters of intent.

"We gave them a rough idea," he told reporters. "That's subject to further negotiations."

New York Republican Calls for Stand-By Powers for President

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP)—Republican Senator Ives (NY), declaring the world situation is grave, said tonight President Truman should have at least stand-by power to impose wage, price and perhaps rationing controls.

Calling on Congress to grant such authority, Ives said:

'Unhappily, there seems to be evidence that the Korean crisis may be an initial step in an overall Russian program for world conquest by force, rather than an isolated and unrelated tragedy which just happened to occur."

Ives, accused the Truman administration of not being frank enough with the American people, and of having a tendency "to soft-pedal the gravity of the present crisis."

Snyder Man Loses Arm In Highway Accident

Frank Weast, of Snyder, lost his left arm late yesterday in an automobile-truck collision about half way between here and Big Spring on the new Snyder-Big Spring highway.

Details of the accident were not available, but physicians in Big Spring said Weast's arm was severed about four inches below the shoulder.

Weast was reported in "good general condition" at the Malone & Hogan Hospital in Big Spring last night. The accident occurred about 7 o'clock. No other injuries were reported.

New Elementary School Nears Completion North Of Snyder

Work is being rushed for completion by mid-September on the new elementary school building northwest of town and an addition to the old high school building.

The new school building is situated on a 15-acre tract of land west of the Post highway about six blocks out from the Y.

THREE WINGS

The plan of the school actually is that of three buildings, connected by a long corridor. One wing will house primary classrooms and administrative offices, another will be for the elementary classes and the third for cafeteria, kitchen and utility rooms. Plumbing, heating and electrical works are designed for the construction of a future auditorium.

Built of light, tan brick, the one-story edifice already appears nearly completed from the outside. Its location is in the center of a wide uncluttered area between the extreme outskirts of town and Deep Creek, in close view of several oil rigs.

The south wing is nearly completed except for inside work. The lower part of the corridor walls is constructed for structural glazed tile and other interior walls will be plastered. Floors throughout the building will be of asphalt tiles, except in the corridors, which will be floored with terrazo.

The 18 classrooms are built alike, with six low windows along one side for ventilation and above them a strip of glass blocks letting in light. Classrooms are designed with acoustical ceilings and built-in lockers. Only drinking fountains and a trophy case will be placed in the corridors.

A separate building to be used as a well house for the school's independent water supply has also been completed.

MOTOR COURT

A paved bus loading driveway and a parking area will be provided for all-weather convenience.

The project was slowed considerably by the unusual number of rains during the past month, but with 80 men on the job now, it is expected to have the building ready for occupancy by Sept. 15.

Floors and walls for the new addition to the high school building have been built.

The new area, to house home economics and science laboratories, is being constructed above the old laboratories, which have occupied the one-story space between the original high school building and the new wing, containing auditorium and classrooms, built after the old building burned in 1938.

The space formerly used for laboratories will be remodeled as a cafeteria for high school students.

Von Frellick Construction Co. of San Angelo has the contract for the combined projects, at a total cost of $376,000.

Equipment of Snyder Guard Unit Displayed In Recruiting Move

Snyder's National Guard unit — Company D, 112th Mechanized Cavalry, displayed some of its equipment on the square yesterday afternoon in an effort to promote enlistment in the National Guard.

Several men indicated that they would join, according to Lt. Weldon Kincaid, commanding officer although they will not officially enlist before tomorrow.

Equipment on display included an M-24 tank, half track, radio equipped jeeps, 81 mm. mortar and Browning automatic rifle.

Guardsmen Acalee Kincaid, Orla D. Fuller, Richard G. Hardin, Clyde D. Black and Lee B. McCravey served as recruiters.

Fight to Death Order Given By General

North Koreans Reported To Have Sustained Heavy Casualties

TOKYO, Sunday, July 30. (AP—North Korean Troops today were reported only 10 miles from the communications center of Kumchon in a surprise drive which threatened to envelop the center of the U. S. position in South Korea.

The Communist North Korean Army had beaten repeatedly against the U. S. First Cavalry and 25th Divisions defense lines, since dawn Friday, but "have been thrown back," headquarters said.

SOUTHERNERS GAIN

The South Korean Army beat off heavy attacks along the eastern part of the front northeast of the American sector.

The southerners still were attacking on the East Coast toward the city of Yongdok, eighth Army headquarters said. Some gains were reported.

The Reds were building up strength on the south front between the coast and Kochang, 36 miles south of the main battle front around Hwanggan, key communications point U. S. troops abandoned yesterday.

The Eighth Army said there were indications two enemy divisions were concentrated on this part of the front. Only one, the Fourth, had been reported in action there.

Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, told Maj. Gen. Hobart R. Gay of the First Cavalry and Maj. Gen. William B. Kean of the 25th "everyone must fight to the death without any thought of withdrawal. Everyone in this Army knows we must hold along lines we now have."

WAIT MARINES AND 2ND

The orders were passed on to the fighting fronts by-couriers.

(The First Marine Division and the Second U. S. Army Division are enroute to Korea.)

Walker emphasized that "there's no thought in the mind of anybody —even though we might be so disposed — that there possibly can be a Dunkerque. It would be impossible to get out.

"All realize that to be a prisoner of these people would be a fate worse than death."

ENEMY LOSSES HIGH

North Koreans, sounding battle cries as they charged, were taking heavy casualties.

Headquarters estimated Communist losses at 31,000 killed and wounded in the five weeks invasion.

(Total American casualties reported to Washington, including dead, wounded and missing, were 1,086).

The Reds have lost 170 tanks and had another 100 damaged.

One officer said more than 2,500 Red Koreans had been counted dead on the front of the First Cavalry Division alone. Eight hundred enemy dead were counted on another regimental front.

The Reds maintained their attacks unabated along the whole 200-mile curving front without regard for losses.

General MacArthur's war summary said the Reds were placing new pressure and made "slight gains" south-ward in two drives about fifty miles inland from the east coast.

WARSHIPS MOVE IN

On the east coast, American and South Korean troops moved ahead for a slight gain, but the Korean Communists clung to Yongdok, 80 miles north of Pusan.

Warships pounded the Yongdok area with five and eight inch gunfire.

To the south — North Koreans made a little progress eastward toward Pusan. MacArthur's war summary said Red columns had advanced ten miles east of Hadong to a point some 65 miles west of Pusan.

The North Koreans also moved into Kochang on the southwest front, 75 miles northwest of Pusan.

Two More Charged With Helping Atom Spy Gold

NEW YORK, July 29. (AP)—A manufacturer and a woman ex-government employee were arrested today on charges of conspiring with Harry Gold, confessed atom spy, to give false testimony to a federal grand jury investigating subversive activities.

The Justice Department identified them as Abraham Brothman, 36, head of the Ulster Chemical Company in Clifford, N. J., and Miriam Moskowitz, 34, principal stockholder and an official of the firm.

FALSE TESTIMONY

U. S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol said they arranged with Gold to give "false, fictitious and manufactured information" to the federal grand jury in 1947.

In Washington, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Gold and Brothman agreed to tell the grand jury falsely that they had been brought together by the late Jacob Golos, a New York importer previously identified as a Soviet spy.

(Elizabeth Bentley, self-described ex-courier for a Soviet spy ring, has said Golos recruited her as a Soviet agent).

Actually, Hoover said, Gold and Brothman were brought together by Semen H. Semenov an official of Amtorg, the Soviet trading organization.

GOLD TESTIFIES

Brothman and Miss Moskowitz were arrested by FBI agents at the New Jersey plant after a hastily-summoned federal grand jury indicted them in New York.

Gold was brought here from Philadelphia, where he was a stationary engineer hired by the firm, denied that either Brothman or Miss Moskowitz were officers of the firm. However, Mack declined to name the officers.

If convicted, each faces a maximum penalty of two years in prison and $10,000 fine.

DEFEND SOVIETS

Brothman alone was indicted on a separate charge of attempting to obstruct justice. The maximum penalty is $1,000 and one year.

Saypol said the government learned within the past two weeks that Miss Moskowitz took part in the alleged 1947 talks between Gold and Brothman and that she gave "advice and counsel."

Brothman told Gold, the FBI head said, that the Soviet Union was the only country conducting a real fight against fascism.

"According to Gold," Hoover said, "A Russian official in commending Brothman told him that his work for the Soviet Union was equal to the efforts of one or two brigades of men."

Preparedness for War Becomes Job of the Petroleum Industry

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, July 29. (AP) — Oilmen are perfecting plans for possible industry mobilization for war.

The National Petroleum Council this week revived four industry-wide committees for study of war-time requirements.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America sent to President Truman its estimate of the oil industry's minimum steel requirements for maintaining current operations.

SURVEY BY COMPACT

Next week the Interstate Oil Compact Commission is to make a survey of the nation's daily oil reserve producing ability above production.

Chairman Walter S. Hallanan told the Petroleum Council's Washington meeting "preparedness" is the industry's current job.

The council immediately ordered return of committees for study of war-time petroleum, steel, transportation and storage needs. Hallanan emphasized the seriousness of the situation by arranging to recall the council into session on short notice if necessary.

Russell Brown I.P.A.A. general counsel, advised the president the industry needs a minimum of 2,842,000 tons of steel each year to maintain the current rate of operations. This includes exploration, development and production.

MUST KEEP DRILLING

Brown said the present exploration and development rates must be continued in event of a full-scale war. Without replacements for abandoned wells, he said, the nation's producing capacity would drop.

The Oil Compact Commission opens its summer meeting Thursday at French Lick, Ind.

Gov. Roy Turner of Oklahoma, the chairman, has asked governors of each member state to bring or send to French Lick an estimate of his state's reserve producing ability. The survey's findings are to be passed on to Washington officials.

A complete reserve capacity survey on the 24 oil producing states should indicate United States wells are capable of producing close to 7 million barrels of oil daily without waste or damage to the wells.

RESERVES ADEQUATE

This would be about 1 1-2 million barrels daily above current production, which last week averaged 5,536,500 barrels daily.

Recent comments from industry spokesmen have indicated a reserve capacity estimate of 1 million barrels daily would be conservative.

Another boost in domestic crude oil output can be expected next week. A 107,000 barrel daily increase in the Texas allowable becomes effective Tuesday. Last week Texas had a daily output of 2,368,000 barrels.

Domestic gasoline demand continued to soar as industry leaders were speeding up their war mobilization plans.

RECORD 'GAS' DEMAND

Consumers wiped out last week's gasoline production of 19,754,000 barrels and drained an additional 2,814,000 from storage tanks. This was a record demand averaging 3,224,000 barrels daily.

Gasoline storage dropped to 109,915,000 barrels, compared to a record 135,586,000 last April and 110,569,000 in July last year.

The American Petroleum Institute this week estimated May gasoline demand in 27-states was 11.1 per cent above May, 1949.

The Bureau of Mines placed May demand for crude oil and petroleum products at 6,382,000 barrels daily, 13.7 per cent above the same month last year.

Anti-Leopold Sentiment Breaks Out in Bloody Brussels Riot

By ALFRED CHEVAL

BRUSSELS, Belgium, July 29. (AP) — Mounted gendarmes tonight charged rioters at full gallop, with drawn sabers, in the bloodiest clash in Brussels since King Leopold III returned from exile a week ago.

Taking drastic new measures to deal with the anti-Leopoldist riots, the government ordered troops to occupy power stations, telephone exchanges and other places.

Two battalions also were reported to have been recalled from occupation duties in Germany. The pro-Leopold cabinet declared a state of emergency in Leige and banned all public meetings there and in the Brussels and Verviers areas.

COBBLESTONES HURLED

During tonight's clash, cobblestones were torn from the side streets and rained down on foot gendarmes just before the mounted police arrived, apparently in response to a single rifle shot.

A crowd numbering several thousand was marching along the Boulevard Anspach in the center of the city when it encountered lines of gendarmes near the Bourse (stock exchange).

The gendarmes made the first attack, charging the rioters repeatedly with their clubs. The crowd replied with bottles and cobblestones. Then the mounted police were called.

The demonstrators sang French revolutionary songs and howled for Leopold's abdication.

FACE, LEG TORN

Ambulances carried off the injured rioters and at least one of the gendarmes. There was no immediate estimate of the casualties. Women were among the injured. The face of one woman was streaming with blood, and one of her legs was torn open from knee to ankle.

Four anti-riot noise bombs were exploded by the gendarmes before the crowd began to disperse. The bombs are light explosives intended to frighten but not to injure. By 9 p.m. (2 p.m. CST) Brussels was still in a stage of siege. Tonight's crowd was far larger than the morning gathering had been and seemed in an angrier mood.

Violence was reported at several other places in the country. At Lessines a stationmaster reported a saboteur had been killed while trying to plant a bomb. Demonstrators smashed store windows and marched with an effigy of the king at Gent. They threw themselves across railroad tracks at Mons in an attempt to halt trains.

He died at his home following a short illness.

Uniform Descends From Skies Empty

TOLEDO, O., July 29. (AP) — East Toledo residents who might find a crumpled Air Force uniform one of these days needn't start looking for a body—it fell from the skies empty.

G. A. Beichenbach, a Pennsylvania Air National Guard pilot, said a hatch on a B-26 bomber he was piloting near Toledo blew open and the slipstream sucked an extra uniform into the "wild blue yonder."

The plane was on the return trip of a training flight from Philadelphia International Airport to Toledo Municipal Airport.

Stand-By Power Over Economy Suggested by Senator Lucas

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lucas suggested today that giving President Truman stand-by power to invoke wage-price and rationing controls might add up to a workable compromise in the hot dispute over home front mobilization.

The Illinois senator talked to reporters as pressure appeared to be mounting for far broader and more stringent curbs on the economy than Mr. Truman asked.

NO NEED FOR CONTROLS

At the White House, Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said he had no idea whether Mr. Truman would go for the authority which would let him impose wage-price-rationing controls at his discretion.

The President said at a news conference Thursday that there is no need for such controls at this time. He added that if a need develops, the controls would be invoked all at the same time as part of all-out mobilization.

DEMAND FOR CURBS

Ross said today that the President is aware of the growing demand in Congress for broader curbs than he has recommended. Ross added that the situation undoubtedly will be discussed in that light when congressional leaders confer with Mr. Truman Monday morning.

While the trend in Congress seemed to be toward more drastic controls, a group of Republican lawmakers headed by Senator Taft of Ohio held to the contention that even the limited controls the President is seeking are too sweeping.

Taft plans to go before a closed meeting of the Senate Banking Committee Monday to urge that the administratin bill be narrowed.

AUTHORIZATION TOLD

That bill would authorize credit controls, allocation and priorities on scarce industrial materials, seizure of plants and facilities needed in the defense effort, and government loans to spur production.

The measure has no provision for consumer rationing or for wage and price controls.

The demand for all-out economic mobilization got a big push last week when Elder Statesman Bernard M. Baruch urged Congress to go all the way immediately. Later he wrote Senator Maybank (D-SC) chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, saying the timing on putting wage-price-rationing controls into effect should be left to the discretion of Mr. Truman.

New Patrol Car For Sheriff's Department

The sheriff's department yesterday received delivery of a new patrol car, a 1950 Pontiac sedan, which the county purchased from Stimson Motor Co. after agreement to purchase an additional car for the department was made two weeks ago by the commissioners court.

This is the fourth car now owned by the county for the sheriff's department. It will be used by Lloyd H. Merritt, sheriff, and the car formerly used by Merritt, a 1948 Chrysler, will be used by Homer Whisnand, deputy.

The new car will be equipped with a two-way radio as soon as installation can be made, Merritt said. The car has an 8-cylinder engine and an automatic transmission.

Bevin Scolded For Not Using Hospitals Under Socialized Medic System

LONDON, July 29. (AP)—Britain's Socialist doctors scolded Foreign Secretary Bevin today for not having his operations under the socialized medicine scheme.

"He is not the only person prominent in the Labor movement who has gone outside the national health service," the Socialist Medical Association's Journal, "Medicine Today and Tomorrow," complained in an editorial.

Bevin was operated on for hemorrhoids in mid-April in the Manon House hospital. He had a second, similar operation early in June in the London clinic. Neither is a health service hospital.

This meant that he paid directly for his hospital rooms and all other medical costs. Anyone in Britain may have an operation, free medical attention and free hospital service under the labor government's health scheme.

The Journal said "there can be neither reason nor excuse" for Bevin's choice of the London clinic, although it noted that "for the Manon House hospital there may be some justification since his union (Transport and General Workers Union of which he was secretary) has always supported that institution."

Commodity Price Index Highest Since 1948

NEW YORK, July 29. (AP)—The Associated Press wholesale commodity price index this week climbed to the highest level since the end of September, 1948.

And every commodity group rpresented was at a new week-end high for the year.

At 183.09, the index compared with 180.36 a week ago and 153.19 a year ago.

The base year of this index of 35 important wholesale commodity prices is 1926, which equals 100.

Korea Is Tougher Than Guadalcanal, Veteran Of World War II Says

FAIRFIELD, Calif., July 29. (AP)—A Guadalcanal veteran, wounded in the Korean War, says "Guadalcanal was nothing in comparison" to Korea.

"This one is really tough," declared Pfc. George J. Stakes, 47, of Chicago. He was one of 18 wounded veterans of the 24th Infantry division who reached here Friday in the third plane bearing wounded from Korea. Stakes has spent 17 years in the service.

"Those young boys are really doing fine," Stakes said. "They do need better morale and better equipment."

His comment on the need for machines, rather than men, pretty well summed up the feeling of all the wounded.

New Car Orders Exceed Supply; Some Dealers Demand Trade-In

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT, July 29. (AP) — Selling your old car and buying a new one long has been a simple matter, but it's becoming increasingly difficult.

Especially difficult is getting the new one.

Because they have more orders than cars, many dealers aren't very eager to book new orders right now. Much of the present upsurge in demand grows out of the fear that war may halt all car production. However, demand has been piling up for many months, despite the delivery of more than 3 million new passenger cars from Jan. 1 through July.

550,000 IN JUNE

Most recent tabulations by R. L. Polk & Co., auto industry statisticians, put June new car registrations at about 550,000. This brings the total for six months to better than two and one-half million. Nobody doubts that July sales will top those of June.

As discouraging to the new car buyer as the job of persuading a dealer to accept his order is the demand by some retailers that a trade-in must be made with every new car purchase.

More than a few new car seekers have been told in the salesrooms recently, "We have a rule that a used car must be turned in on every new car sold."

Not all dealers are doing this, but as far as it goes the practice limits the amount of cash the car owner may realize on his used vehicle. To some extent this was done in the early postwar days, but there was a lot of buying and selling by individuals at that time.

CHIEF COMPLAINT

Chief complaint of new car buyers three or four years ago was that they were compelled to accept numerous extras like fog and back-up lights, seat covers and other equipment they hadn't ordered. Cars aren't actually as scarce now as they were at that time, but the demand rapidly is approaching the same proportions.

Remote as the possibility, it is interesting to speculate on what would happen to the auto market if, suddenly, it became certain there would be no production cutback. The surest thing is that there would be thousands of order cancellations.

So far the Korean War hasn't had much effect on the auto industry's thinking or planning. Many among the top executives still believe they will be able to maintain high level production through the remainder of the year.

Truman Asks Increase In Stockpiles, Output Of Synthetic Rubber

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP)—President Truman called yesterday for a quick build-up of synthetic rubber output and strategic stockpiles.

He also asked $18 million to expand the work to recondition merchant ships in the national defense reserve fleet.

Mr. Truman directed that the government output of synthetic rubber hit an annual rate of 675,000 tons by January 1. The present rate is 408,000 tons.

To step up the stockpiling program, the President asked Congress for $600 million in addition to the $500 million he had requested earlier for the fiscal year which began this month. That would make a total of $2.6 billion set aside for the purchase of critical materials since World War II.

The new authority would include $6 million to re-open aluminum facilities.

Boy Suffering Leukemia Goes Back to Home

DALLAS, July 29. (AP)—Charles E. (Eddie) Snow left a hospital today —looking like anything but a little boy incurably ill.

"Even a doctor would have trouble telling he has leukemia," said the physician who has spent weeks working on the 3-year-old Abilene lad.

"He's fat and healthy looking. Really works up a smile when we ask if he wants to play outside. He could run better if he hadn't gained so much weight. He was thin when he came in."

The physician, a specialist in leukemia, has been treating Eddie with acth. But he says there is nothing "rare" or "new" any more about the wonder drug because it is now available in every recognized hospital.

The doctor said the Abilene boy's improved condition is only temporary, that leukemia still is incurable, and fatal.

London Rioters Hurl Bricks at Russians

LONDON, July 29. (AP) — Bricks were hurled through windows of the Soviet embassy tonight by a chanting mob of demonstrators, apparently members of Sir Oswald Mosley's Fascist-style "union movement."

Witnesses said the demonstrators dropped leaflets mentioning Mosley and stating the "union movement" is the only effective defense against Russian communism. The leaflets were headed "Russia threatens war."

Ramsey Turns To West In His Campaign

AUSTIN, July 29. (AP)—Ben Ramsey points his drive for lieutenant governor next week to West and South Texas.

Ramsey returned to Austin Saturday after setting up new headquarters offices in Fort Worth and Dallas.

The San Augustine candidate heads for Lubbock and other West Texas cities Monday, and will be in that region through Tuesday working on organization plans. He will be in San Antonio Wednesday, then Corpus Christi and other South Texas cities the latter part of the week.

In a statement issued here Saturday Ramsey expressed gratification "at the amount of mail received from voters who supported other candidates in the first primary and who said they would vote Ramsey in the Aug. 26 primary."

Connally Given V.F.W. Medal For Citizenship

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP)—A Texas Veterans of Foreign Wars Distinguished Citizenship Medal was presented to Senator Connally (D-Tex) today.

The accompanying citation said the award was "in sincere appreciation of a brilliant record as a statesman and for conspicuous service to your state and country."

Omar B. Ketchum, director of the V.F.W. National Legislative Service, made the presentation for the Texas Department of the veterans organization.

Ketchum said the silver medal is "not given lightly. It is very rarely awarded."

The 72-year-old Senator replied that "I recognize it as exceptional and I certainly am very grateful."

Leading Phils Topple Before Pirates, 7-4

PHILADELPHIA, July 29. (AP)—Shortstop Dan O'Connell's homer with two on sparked a four run fifth inning today to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 7 to 4 victory over league leading Philadelphia.

Bill Werle scattered ten hits to win his sixth victory.

The Phils tallied first on a single by Richie Ashburn and Del Ennis' 20th home run in the third inning.

Wally Westlake's single, O'Connel's double, Danny Murtaugh's infield hit enabled the Pirates to tie up the game in the fourth.

Emory "Bubba" Church suffered his first defeat after four straight triumphs.

The defeat broke a five-game winning streak of the Phils.

MEXICO CITY, July 29. (AP)—Australia's Jack Bromwich and Frank Sedgman swept the North American Zone Davis Cup eliminations today and appeared the combination to meet the defending United States championship team in the challenge round at Forest Hills.

Before that they have a little business to take care of in the form of Lennart Bergelin and Sven Davidsson of Sweden, who beat Denmark at Buastad, Sweden, today for the European zone championship. But Australia will be a prohibitive favorite to take care of the Swedes.

Tigers To Begin Season Sept. 8 With Game In New Stadium

The new Snyder High School football stadium is expected to be ready for the first game Sept. 8 with the Winters Blizzards.

The nearly completed field is located on property purchased for the proposed new high school building just west of the Highland Park addition.

Work on the stadium is under contract to be completed by Sept. 1. Grandstands will extend to the 10-yard lines on each side of the playing field. Old stands from the stadium three blocks south of the high school have been moved to the new site and additional bleachers will be added before the first game.

Seating capacity will be 4,000 at first, but plans call for the stadium to seat 10,000 when it is complete.

For the past four weeks the coaches have been watering the field 24 hours a day, getting the turf in shape for the football season.

A fence will be constructed around the stadium and another will be put up to separate the stands and field.

Parking space will be available close to the field.

The electric company is preparing to move the lights from the old stadium, which will be converted into practice grounds for the football team.

Besides a football field, the new site will include a 440-yard cinder track with a 220-yard straightaway. Other track activities provided for will be broad jump, pole vault and high jump.

Police Report Recovery Of 19 Stolen Cars In Last 3 Months

In the last three and one-half months, a total of 24 automobiles have been stolen, but 19 of them have been recovered, records of the police department revealed yesterday.

Much credit for the quick recovery of stolen cars is given to the new police radio system, because only a matter of minutes elapses from the time the stolen car is reported until data concerning the vehicle is broadcast to the police radio-equipped cars in Snyder, and the relay station at Austin for a statewide pickup, Chester Barrington, chief of police, pointed out.

POLICE NETWORK

"Thousands of law enforcement officers over the state co-operate with each other through shortwave radio, getting a full description of a stolen car quickly in most instances," Barrington said.

When a car is stolen in this city, the Snyder police radio station calls Abilene, which is the relay point to the State Highway Police at Camp Mabry, near Austin.

Also direct contact from Snyder with police departments at Lamesa, Sweetwater, Midland and Odessa is made. Snyder will soon also have contact with Colorado City and Big Spring, which will make a circle around the city with a radius of about 100 miles, the chief said.

The procedure for the quick transmission of information on a wanted automobile is by calling "10-67" on the Snyder police radio, which means, "all stations and all units that can hear the message, copy the following information." This information generally ranges from hit-and-run, driving while intoxicated, to stolen cars or owners' identity wanted.

Just as soon as a car is stolen here, all police cars are alerted, and roadblocks are set up if the vehicle is seen heading out of the city.

One of the big headaches caused the police by the motoring public, is the thoughtless driver, who leaves the keys in the car, which is an invitation to car thieves, both amateurs and professionals. Of course, the latter can start a car without a key by manipulation of the ignition wires, Barrington said.

SHOULD TAKE KEYS

"Lock your car and take the keys with you, if you don't want it stolen," warned the chief.

The value of the police radio was clearly demonstrated here recently, when police, on night patrol, spotted a car parked in the wrong direction on one of the less frequented roads. The officers called the station and asked for information on the car. Within 20 minutes Austin called back with data that the car had been stolen in Brownwood. The next day, the sheriff of Brownwood came here, and returned the vehicle to its owner.

Keen observation and a good memory by one policeman here served in one instance of recovering a stolen car. According to Barrington, the station received a report during a heavy rainstorm, that the owner had run into a mudhole and had to abandon his car until he could have it towed in. The owner on returning to the scene of his stalled car, found it gone. Someone had managed to get the car started and drove it off. The keys were in the car.

Two days later a Snyder policeman spotted the stolen car parked on a public driveways.

Ellender Seen As Agriculture Panel Leader

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP)—Senator Allen J. Ellender (D-La) now is in position to step into chairmanship of the powerful Senate Agriculture Committee.

Ellender will be in line for the chairmanship next year—assuming that Democrats retain control of the Senate.

He moves up because Senator Thomas (D-Okla), present chairman, was defeated for renomination in this week's Oklahoma primary.

Ellender favors price supports and marketing quotas for farm products. Generally he is against the administration's Brannan Plan.

On the Brannan Plan, however, he says:

"The Brannan Plan has an approach which, if we are to support all non-basic crops, must be looked into. Congress must devise some method to dispose of these surpluses. The Brannan Plan provides this, but I do not like its methods."

The Brannan Plan, so-called because it is sponsored by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, would permit prices to find their natural level. If they fall too low, the government would pay the farmer a subsidy to make up their difference.

House:

No roll calls.

Army Group Studies Possibility of Ribbon For Korean Campaign

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP)—The Army probably will issue a Korean-campaign ribbon.

The proposal for such recognition of soldiers who are fighting the United States' latest war is under study by the personnel branch of the Army, a spokesman said today.

It would be the 19th service medal or ribbon issued since a ribbon of two bands of blue and gray was issued to the federal troops who fought in the civil war. Four such decorations—the American Defense Service Medal, the American Theatre Ribbon, the European-African-Middle East Ribbon and the Asiatic-Pacific Ribbon—were issued just before and during World War II.

Appeals Court Rules Against Steel Company

PHILADELPHIA, July 29. (AP) — The Weirton Steel Co., one of the top independent steel companies of the country, has been adjudged guilty of contempt of court for failure to dissolve an independent, company sponsored union.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, handing down the decision Friday, also named Weirton's parent, National Steel Corp., seven of their top officials and five officers of an independent labor union.

The court held the two corporations and 12 individuals had violated a circuit court decree of May 18, 1943, which ordered them to dissolve the independent union and "keep their hands off" the rights of the workers to join any union of their choice.

The order also instructed the companies to reinstate 18 employees who were dismissed or laid off because of participation in the 1944 strike at the two plants.

Under the court order the men will receive any pay loss they may have sustained in the difference between the wages they received in others jobs and what they would have been paid in their old jobs with Weirton.

While not imposing any punitive penalties, the court assessed $89,459.85 as expenses incurred in the court case. The three judges—B. Maris, Herbert F. Goodrich and Gerald McLaughlin—did not specify how the money was to be apportioned among the 14 defendents.

Common Stock of Rail Road Will Be Wiped Out by Reorganization

ST. LOUIS, July 29. (AP) — U. S. District Judge George H. Moore approved without change today a reorganization plan for the Missouri Pacific Railroad which would wipe out common stock holdings.

The plan, previously approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, was the third to come before the courts in the road's 17 years of bankruptcy.

Grocery Heads Report Panic Buying Subsiding

NEW YORK, July 29. (AP)—Paul S. Willis, president of Grocery Manufacturers of America, said today "it is very gratifying to report that the scare buying of some food and grocery products which as prevalent during recent weeks has almost completely subsided" in most areas.

The GMA says it represents more than 300 leading food and grocery manufacturers, with annual sales in the neighborhood of $15 billion.

Some consumers still seem concerned about sugar, Willis added in a statement, probably because some grocery stores are temporarily out of stock because of heavy buying.

He noted that the government this week acquired Cuba's entire reserve stock of raw sugar.

"This, added to existing supplies and the new crop of beet sugar which will begin coming to market next week, indicates a plentiful supply for everyone," he said.

Battle Field Reproducedfor Army Trainees

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP) — To toughen its soldiers for battlefield conditions, the Army said today it has intensified its training with realistic combat exercises—including use of live ammunition in machine guns.

In such training courses, used in World War II but banned since, troops crawl under barbed wire while machine gun fire streaks low over them.

The Army's announcement said its experience showed accidents were "not excessive" in such training during the last war. It added that the number of lives saved as a result of realistic training far outweighed the hazards.

Commenting on the announcement, Gen. Mark W. Clark, chief of Army field forces and a veteran of World War II battles, said it is imperative to prepare American soldiers psychologically to meet battlefield conditions.

"These battle courses have been reinstituted," he said, "because experience has shown that this type of training increases the ability of non-battle-tested troops to adapt themselves readily to actual battlefield conditions."

The Army said this training experience accustoms troops to the sound of artillery firing overhead and in close support of their action. The training also includes:

A city and village fighting course where troops learn the techniques of street fighting;

A close combat course where they are taught how to use their weapons, such as bayonets, effectively at close quarters; and

Preparation to meet guerrilla and infiltration tactics which the North Korean Communists have used with great effectiveness.

Labor's Reaction Is Question Mark In Mobilization Plans

BY DORIS FLEESON

NEW YORK, July 29. — Like the Korean front, the mobilization situation is fluid. But where the American armies unfortunately are in retreat, to a beachhead, the influences in favor of total mobilization are expanding faster and further than the White House anticipated.

B. M. Baruch made converts right (Senators John W. Bricker and Homer E. Capehart) and left (Senators John J. Sparkman and Hubert Humphrey.) A Republican, Representative John C. Kunkel, offered the Baruch Bill to the House Banking and Currency Committee and it failed of approval by only one vote. Other Republicans are saying that their best strategy is is to give the President total powers so he'll have total responsibility.

CONGRESS BALKS

So long as a question remains about the attitude of the American people Congress will probably behave normally and give the President no more, a little less maybe, than he asks. Capehart defined their attitude in a realistic question to Baruch: "Why should we give the President more than he asks when he has all the facts and we don't?" Woodrow Wilson's Dr. Facts answered that it was a good question.

The most sensitive area for the President with respect to mobilization is labor. The unions have vast economic power. They are his political allies and there is an election this fall.

In his economic message justifying limited controls, the President asked unions to forego "inflationary" wage increases. Within 24 hours, C.I.O. secretary James Carey's International Union of Electrical Workers was replying in effect, "Who, me?"

Carey's union is in a wage fight with General Electric. In a new attack on G.E.'s position, he pointed to last year's profits which were 12 per cent higher than their wartime peak and triple the prewar level. Industry can and must divvy up in such a situation, he insisted.

Supporting Carey, other labor leaders point to continuing price rises and the administration's new tax bill, which will cut take-home pay at both ends. They are not willing, they say, to pay for the war twice. They insist also that price rises prior to the Korean war had been such as to justify wage increases.

SYMINGTON EFFORT

Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, is trying to help out in this situation by establishing close and confidential relations with labor. He has named two labor aides and has promised to put others on the various NSRB boards.

But conferences and consultations do little to relieve the hard pressures of high prices and high taxes. And the union that risks public displeasure to fight for its people usually proves to be the bellwether.

All this makes the labor leader trade a highly competitive one. One experienced labor spokesman was recalling that the late A. F. Whitney, boss of the trainmen, used to say to his staff: "Do you like it around here? Well, better get busy and do something for the men. If you don't somebody else will."

Labor opposed wage-freezing the last time and got badly scalded, along with everybody else. Opinions differ on how it would react this time to a drastic mobilization. Many insist that, if the freeze is genuine and complete, labor will go along. Others prefer to avoid the freeze and let unions take their chances with some kind of government wage board.

Captain Robert J. Mills, whose wife and 4-year-old son, Robert J. Mills, Jr., are living in Snyder, recently arrived in Japan for duty with the U. S. Air Force. Texas Draft Quota Is More Than Doubled

AUSTIN, July 29. (AP)—Some 6,030 more Texans will be sent up for draft examinations in August.

The increased number is two and one half times the original call and results from the state's enlarged quota of 2,513 men for September.

A total of 10,050 will go to Army examining stations next month, Brig. Gen. Paul Wakefield, state director of Selective Service, told Texas' 137 local boards today.

The original 4,020 men called will be examined Aug. 7-11. The others will go to examining stations at Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, El Paso, Amarillo or Shreveport Aug. 14-18.

"Our call for induction in September is for two and one-half times the original amount. Therefore, call for physical examination in August was increased in the same proportion," Wakefield said.

"If a local board already has call for 10 for physical examination, that local board is being called on to furnish 15 more."

He praised local boards and Fourth Army headquarters at Fort Sam Houston for helping fill Texas' call in September.

"Once is enough."

Californians Quit Area Where 11 Quakes Felts In Three Days

CALIPATRIA, Calif., July 29. (AP)—Many residents moved out of this earthquake-damaged town today fearful that new tremors may be worse than the 11 severe ones of the last three days.

A chain of earth shocks has rolled over the floor of vast Imperial Valley since Thursday. Between the sharp jolts there have been dozens of slighter rumblings.

Chief of Police Bob Merrill reported no panic among residents but commented that many husbands are moving wives and children to homes of relatives or friends elsewhere in the state.

FELT IN SAN DIEGO

The quakes were felt sharply more than 100 miles to the south and west in San Diego. The tenth came at 8:38 o'clock Saturday morning. Calipatria, 34 miles north of the Mexican border, apparently was on or near the center.

Much of the business district of this town of 2,000 was damaged in the sharpest jolt. It cracked all of the 15 business buildings on the main street but there were no injuries.

Plate glass fronts of store buildings were smashed. Bottled goods on drug store and grocery store shelves smashed onto concrete floors. Plaster fell from ceilings. The Hotel Bel Del Lingo evacuated all of its guests — many in nightclothes — after a 25-foot long crack appeared in the lobby.

IN DESERT LAND

In this desert land of 115 degree temperatures, many of the store buildings have stucco canopies over the sidewalks. The jolts toppled several of these onto the street.

Merrill roped off the business district. Only the service stations and one tavern were allowed open.

The residential area was not as hard hit. Broken windows and plenty of broken chinaware seemed to be the only damage.

The jolts caused mudpots and steam geysers to spurt out of the ground in a number of farm pastures. Irrigation men believe this was caused by the earth cracks tapping irrigation water under pressure.

The area has experienced its share of light earth tremors in the past but Merrill said "nothing like this before." The valley — irrigated into one of the nation's greatest agriculture regions — is located on several known fractures in the earth's crust. Tremors result when the fractures move.

El Centro and Brawley, largest cities in the area, also were jolted by the shocks but damage was slight compared with Calipatria. The shocks were felt as far to the east as Yuma on the Arizona border.

Mexicali, Mexico, also was jolted.

New Policy On Terraces For Conservation

The terrace line layout policy of the Soil Conservation District has been changed.

Regulations now require that adequate outlet channels where needed be provided and established to vegetative cover before lines for terraces will be run.

Nolan von Roeder, secretary of the board of supervisors of the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District, explains that a field with a terrace system in need of a channel is a greater hinderance to soil and water conservation than the same field would be without a terrace system. He points out that the cost of constructing a channel is small when compared with the expense suffered through the loss of soil, water, and time derived from the failure and repair of a terrace system.

Von Roeder reminds co-operators with the district that the size and shape of a channel are important and suggests that they obtain the services of the technicians of the Soil Conservation Service before beginning construction of their channel.

The job is only half finished when the channel is constructed. The last half of the job is establishing the channel to some permanent grass or grass mixture. This can best be accomplished by first drilling sorghum or sudan in the channel immediately after construction.

The roots of these crops will loosen the soil and enable it to store and absorb more rainfall; and he stalks, when left standing, will furnish protection to grass seedlings against wind and water erosion. These grasses should be sowed in the fall or spring after a good growth of sorghum or sudan has been obtained.

A variety of grasses are adapted to this area and will serve as excellent channel protection. Among these are buffalo, sideoats grama, blue grama, King Ranch bluestem, western wheat, crested wheat, and Canada wild rye. The last three of these may be seeded this fall.

Von Roeder urges co-operators to begin constructing and drilling channels now in order to avoid delay in advancing their individual conservation program this fall.

Few Things Matter For Aged Man, Convicted

CLEARWATER, Fla., July 29. (AP)—A rocking chair and a newspaper on a shady porch.

That's all an old man has to look forward to, says Charlie Gifford, and even those simple things don't matter anymore.

He heard Circuit Judge John U. Bird pronounce the sentence, then said in a soft, tired voice, "That's all right with me."

Gifford's age has been given from 69 to 72. He was convicted last week for slaying State Rep. Charles J. Schuh, Jr.

The state contended Gifford shot Schuh became of a long resentment that Schuh had represented Mrs. Gifford in an attempt to have her declared legally insane in 1947. At his murder trial, Gifford pleaded insanity.

Now, for the tired little old man, few things matter and nothing matters very much.

Jerry The First, 1950 winner, is the only repeat victor in the history of the $50,000 Golden West Pace, held annually at Santa Anita.

Connecticut Democrats Name Bowles

HARTFORD, Conn., July 29. (AP)—Governor Chester Bowles, federal OPA chief during World War II, was renominated by acclamation today by the Democratic state convention.

Delegates, shouting and cheering, named him to head the party's ticket for the November elections after adopting a platform to combat inflation and hoarding.

The platform also pledged the full resources of this industrial state to the Korean war effort.

Bowles, now completing his first term, will have as his Republican opponent Rep. John Lodge.

After nominating Bowles, the convention proceeded to select his running mates. U. S. Senator Brien McMahon, chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, was unopposed for renomination, but Senator William Benton had a battle on his hands for his place on the ticket.

When you have information, other than rumors, you can call them to the nearest FBI office, in Lubbock, or if there is no answer there, to the Dallas office, Riverside 6101.

A. and B. B. A. degrees. He started with the company as an accountant in the comptroller's department, Houston, in 1922.

He and Mrs. Templeton, who live in Houston, have two children, James Templeton and Betty Templeton, both students in Lamar High School.

New Drilling In Kelley-Snyder

Six new projects have been scheduled for the Kelley-Snyder and one venture has been slated for the Diamond M-Canyon fields of Scurry County.

Magnolia Petroleum Co. has spotted three of the locations in Kelley-Snyder and Standard Oil Co. of two, while Sunray Oil Corp. has spotted one. Stroube Oil Co. will drill the Diamond M-Canyon venture.

Magnolia's projects are the No. 5 R. A. Smith, 2-D McDonnell estate and 11 A. J. Logan.

The No. 2D McDonnell estate will be 660 feet from south and 467 feet from east lines of section 336, block 97, H&TC survey, at the southwest edge of the field, six and one-half miles northwest of Snyder.

Magnolia's No. 11 A. J. Logan will be 660 feet from south and east lines of section 296, block 97, H&TC survey, at the central-west edge of the field, three miles northwest of Snyder.

Charges Filed Against Six Striking Texaco Workers in Wyoming

CASPER, Wyo., July 29 (AP)—Six striking Texas company oil workers were charged today with assault and battery after allegedly beating two refinery employees and a cafe operator near the struck plant.

Deputy County Attorney Allen Stewart filed the charges against J. F. Perkins, J. P. Hancock, William Hancock, Herbert L. Eades, W. K. Montgomery and Paul V. Olbert.

The complaints were signed by James Brown and Bert J. Kennedy, who said they were beaten at a cafe near the plant yesterday. Frank A. Burgess, cafe operator, said he also was beaten when he went to the aid of Brown and Kennedy.

B. J. Rickey, district director for the International Oil Workers (C.I.O.) said the strikers were "taunted" by the Texaco workers and turned on them only after one of the men "pulled a gun". He accused the company of "importing thugs from Oklahoma" as strikebreakers.

Negotiations in the four-months-old strike were resumed yesterday, but no progress was reported.

TO ELLENBURGER

Empire Drilling Co. has staked a 6,500-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Central North Fisher County, two miles from Rotan. Empire No. 1 Maggie Bacot and others is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 190, block 2, H&TC survey.

The project will be two miles northwest of the Rotan pool which produces from approximately 3,500 feet.

RECOVERY FROM 7,117

A prospective Ellenburger discovery in Central-South Nolan County has recovered more clean oil on a drillstem test.

Sun Oil Co. No. 1 Maddox tested the sand section which previously had yielded oil. The section was at 7,117-22 feet. Recovery was 900 feet of clean 46.6 gravity oil and 240 feet of oil and gas-cut mud, which was 25 per cent oil. No water was developed on the test.

Flowing bottom hole pressure on a three-hour test was between 200 and 500 pounds. Gas surfaced for 21 minutes after the tool was opened.

The project is now shut down for repairs.

This prospective discovery picked a tentative top of Ellenburger at 7,114 feet on an elevation of 2,522 feet.

It is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 43, block 1-A, H&TC survey and 21 miles southeast of Roscoe.

Vice-Consul Is Killed By Tibetan Guard

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—An American vice-consul seeking to escape Communist-held northwest China by a dangerous trek through the lofty Himalayas has been shot to death by Tibetan border guards, the State Department revealed today.

The department termed the killing of Vice-Consul Douglas S. MacKiernan a mistake, saying the Tibetans mistook his party for bandits or Communist raiders. Tibet has apologized.

The incident occurred April 13 but was reported only today by the State Department. First news came from a native runner who took 27 days to reach Lhasa, capital of Tibet.

MacKiernan and an American student had been en route by camel caravan from isolated Sinkiang Province in northwest China since the Communists took over the area last September. They had gone 1,200 miles when the border shooting occurred.

Two natives, presumably Chinese, also were killed and a third escaped injury and is now en route to Lhasa.

While on his way, MacKiernan was charged repeatedly in Communist propaganda with organizing Chinese bandits in northwest China into anti-Communist bands. Officials said the charge was repeated only ten days ago by the Moscow radio.

MacKiernan had the duty of closing the United States consulate at Tihwa, Sinkiang, following the departure of Consul J. Hall Paxton, and two other Americans as Communist forces neared the city.

Sun Oil Schedules Wildcat Six Miles Southwest of Snyder

A wildcat exploration has been staked six miles southwest of Snyder in Southwest-Central Scurry County, to be drilled at once.

It is to be Sun Oil Co.'s No. 1-A G. H. Arledge, an 8,100-foot venture to explore the Ellenburger. It is one-half mile west and three-quarters of a mile south of production in the Kelley-Snyder field.

Exact location of the wildcat will be 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 193, block 97, H&TC survey. It is to be drilled with rotary equipment.

Three more prospects have been spotted in Scurry County, all in the Cogdell field.

They are the Texas Co.'s No. 68 and 69 P. L. Fuller, and D. D. Feldman No. 10 P. L. Fulled.

No. 68 will be 2,000 feet from west and 1,987 feet from east lines of section 652, block 97, H&TC survey, projected to 7,000 feet with rotary equipment. It is 15 miles northeast of Snyder.

No. 69 Fuller will be 3,334 feet from west and 1,989 feet from north lines of section 614, same block and survey. Drillsite will be 15 miles northeast of Snyder. This venture is to be drilled to an estimated depth of 7,500 feet.

D. D. Feldman No. 10 Fuller will be 2,170 feet from west and 2,170 feet from north lines of section 703, block 97, H&TC survey. Operators will use rotary equipment to drill to an estimated 7,500 foot depth, immediately. Drillsite will be 16 miles north of Snyder.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. I—No. 69 SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JULY 30, 1950 SECTION TWO

Mrs. H. B. Allen enjoys homemaking and raises flowers successfully. The mother of four children, she has lived in Snyder 23 years. Her main interests are cooking, sewing and working with home projects. (Joe Dave Scott Photographs).

First Ladies of Snyder --- Wives of the City Council

"Behind every successful man is a woman". Shown here are some of the wives of the city councilmen.

These women's duties are manifold. They rearrange mealtimes around city council meeting hours. They find duties or jobs to keep them occupied during long evenings when the councilmen sit in session. They keep informed on civic issues, so that they can listen intelligently to their husbands trying to thrash out some problems.

And they are well versed in the entertaining line, ready to meet graciously any social occasion which arises. They may be called upon to pour at teas, preside at women's clubs, or talk to Sunday School classes. They have a full and demanding role as helpmeets of the city councilmen.

Mrs. Forest Sears, the mayor's wife, has lived in Snyder for 25 years, and is a definite part of its social and civic life. She taught the third and fourth grades in the Snyder Schools. She has reared an only daughter, Carolyn, who is now 14. Mrs. Sears names sewing as a pleasurable hobby. Currently, she is absorbed in decorating and furnishing her new home.

Mrs. Ernest Taylor manages a trim-looking white house, edged in black, with a sweep of fresh, glistening lawn. Her penchant is handiwork, and her dining room chairs are done in her exquisite needlepoint, completed when son, Ernest Taylor, Jr., was on active duty in World War II. It relieved many anxious hours." I also love my flowers and any kind of yard work".

Mrs. Ernest Taylor, 2701 Avenue V, is an immaculate housekeeper, a master at needlepoint, and derives great pleasure from the flowers and well-kept lawn which surrounds her black-trimmed house in the southwestern residential section of the city.

Mrs. Ivan Gatlin, 710 Twenty-fifth Street, is shown glancing up from her perusal of Texas Parade magazine. The current issue carries pictures of Snyder school children which are of particular interest to Mrs. Gatlin, who has been a teacher in the school system here nine years. Mrs. Gatlin is of pioneer stock, her mother having arrived here in a covered wagon.

Mrs. C. L. Williamson poses for a portrait with her 8-month-old baby daughter, Judy Ellen Williamson. For years Mrs. Williamson worked with her councilman husband in his produce business, but now with three children, she says she now is "a full-fledged housewife." And she adds emphatically, "I love it."

Mrs. Forest Sears, wife of the city's mayor, sews expertly and fills her time with club and civic work. She is shown above reading a home-decorating magazine, the articles in which have a special impact upon her at this time, as Mr. and Mrs. Sears are building a new house. It will be just east of their present home, which is at 2403 Thirty-first Street.

Rodeo Sponsors At Country Club Fete

Sponsors at the Scurry County rodeo were h onored at a brunch given by Mrs. Edith McKanna at the Country Club for the girls and t heir escorts. Pictured here are some of the guests. From left to right, they are Brud Boren, sponsor' coach, Mrs. Don Cox, Mrs. Vernon Miller, Miss Darline Taylor, Miss Sadie Smith, Miss Jonnie Delle Brock, Bob Enfield and Mrs. Jimmie Radals.

TALK OF THE TOWN

BY FRANCES BIOW

MRS. V. W. JOHNSON introduces something new into the realm of occupations for women. She is flagman for her husband's house moving company. The Johnsons for two years have flourished on Avenue Q with a business much in demand in these mobile parts where seven room homes are daily trussed up and transported 70 miles away. Mrs. Johnson recalled her biggest moment in housemoving came when they called in all their heaviest tackles and cranes for the moving of a regal, 60-year-old home on the East Highway.

Owned by JOHN KELLER, the home had been built in Snyder's early days by a banker, is credited to be the first Snyder house to get modern plumbing. The story goes, relates Mrs. Johnson, that the house was quite a showplace in its day. Wagons passing through, loaded with cotton for the gin, always pulled off the road so the occupants could get a good look. "We moved it without a worry," she said, "and have gone on to many difficult jobs since. I drive along ahead of the house, we're moving to warn cars approaching over a hill or curve."

PLAY ON NAMES: MRS. J. D. DILLARD, who is the Nazarene pastor's wife, chuckled as she informed me the phone connection isn't bad. Yes, her name before she married the Rev. Dillard was Miss Lillard. . . the Lillards from Gainsville. . . Mrs. EDWARD BOLGER tells of her twin sister, to visit here this week end. Mrs. Bolger's mother named her "Ian," which is Gaelic for "John," and named her twin "Ivan," Russian for "John."

The JACK HARLESS's sat spellbound last week listening half the nights to tales of their friends Capt. and Mrs. James Weisinger, who visited from Fairbanks, Alaska, after a two-year tour of duty there. . . Seems the Weisingers claimed that Alaska tempetature reached 58 degrees below zero more often than not. When a mere 20 degrees below the natives ran about in short sleeves. Reason: There is absolutely no wind in Alaska, so the cold is felt appretiably less than say in West Texas.

A new saga to heave over the literary horizon one day may be MRS. H. P. REDWINE's personal story, "Memoirs From Many Years As A Doctor's Wife". . . Just returned from a rare pleasure trip to cool Colorado, Mrs. Redwine can laugh when she chats about the busy, harried life of a doctor, but there is an undertone of well-earned experience, and that idea about a book might materialize after all.

"Stars and Stripes," the service magazine put out in peace and war to record honors, jokes, tnd travails of the working soldier, received the following stimulating communication from our own Snyder. Capt R. J. Mills, writing his wife Dorothy from Korea, enclosed the letter that set the boys on the beachhead to counting the liquidatable assets. It follows:

"Dear Sir:

Please publish this in your magazine. YOUNG WIDOW FOR SALE. PRICE $10,000. I want a good husband, one who likes to fish and hunt. Must be a lover of horses, dogs, etc. and also like to travel. I am lonesome and tired of being poor and living in old dumps. I want a home and someone to love me.

Must be willing and able to make a cash settlement of $10,000. I want to be a July bride.

Thanks,
Lillian Johnson
Snyder, Texas"

Now, our only question is: "Is Lillian Johnson still in Snyder?"

In fact, the morning mail was just packed with punch. This jewel passed from hand to hand on the staff, each cynic more dubious of its authenticity. If it is truly authentic, we laud its earnestness plus timeliness. If, as we feel, it's somebody's whim, we thank them for such elevating filler:

MRS. J. P. MORGAN took time to write me from Mineola, Tex., where she and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. France Will Increase Air Force, Hints At Calling Up Reserves

PARIS, July 29. (AP) — The National Assembly has okayed plans to step France's air force up to 2,500 war planes and 1,500 for general service.

The plan, scheduled to take five years, is expected to cost $710 million.

Defense Minister Jules Moch said France is not calling up any reserves now, but hinted it might do so later.

Tries Peach Marlow Recipe

If the peaches aren't quite right, this housewife has easy access to the producer to register her complaints. She is Mrs. Nolan von Roeder, whose husband has 100 acres of producing orchards southwest of Snyder. Mrs. Von Roeder is shown above preparing to try a brand new peach recipe just sent to the local County Home Demonstration offices by Texas A. and M. College. Here is the recipe.

PEACH MARLOW: Blend together two tablespoons milk with 32 marshmallows in sauce pan over low flame stirring until marshmallows are melted. Remove from flame and stir until cool. Fold in three cups of fresh diced peaches, one-quarter teaspoon flavoring (almond suggested), one-half pint of whipped cream. Pour into a dessert tray and freeze firm. Serves 10. Industry Quick To Adjust To New Demands

AP Staff

NEW YORK, July 28. — The twin uncertainties of taxes and controls dampen business planning today. But already industry is taking the first steps toward adjusting to its new role—increased production for war use — while still meeting civilian needs. It has been a busy, busy week.

Thousands of workers around the country are putting the fishing rod back in the closet. Vacations are being cancelled in many plants.

Shipbuilders are getting orders to shake the moth balls out of the vessels built in the last war which have been put away for an emergency.

WRAPPINGS OFF

The plastic wrappings are being stripped from B-29s and the big bombers are being made air-worthy again.

Commercial airlines have given up part of their fleets for the Pacific airlift.

The United States has chartered all available tramp cargo surface ships. And the shipping industry moves toward full speed again.

A boom in rail freight car building is taking shape. Rail chiefs are meeting today in Chicago to plan it. Perhaps 300,000 more cars in the next three years will be built. There are 1.7 million of them now.

The oil industry has worked out a plan to build up production of aviation gasoline without cutting the quantity or quality of gas available for the family car. Special aviation-type gasoline which has been going into auto premium gasoline will now flow entirely to the military.

SHARE REST

But oil refiners will share their other high grade gasoline stocks for blending, so that the makers of the special alkylate the big planes need will not be put at a competitive disadvantage in the auto gasoline market. That is an example of "voluntary industrial allocation."

Steel leaders this week have been assuring the public that military orders—when received—can be met without too much diversion from civilian channels.

Miss Connie McMullan presided at the register, which rested on a nest of gladioli. The bride's tea table was laid with lace, with large white satin bows gathered on the sides. A gladioli centerpiece formed a fan. Refreshments were bon bons, assorted nuts, cookies and sherbet punch.

Miss Mary Lou Devenport and Miss Mary Belle Weathersbee sang "Moonlight and Roses" and "Always," accompanied by Harold Lewis at the organ.

About fifty guests passed through the receiving line.

Tomorrow's Program At Junior Chamber Meeting Is Outlined

Plans for an intensive membership drive, and discussion of the proposed Legion-Veterans of Foreign Wars swimming pool and park beautification will highlight the meeting of the Snyder Junior Chamber of Commerce, set for 8 o'clock tomorrow night at the Country Club, according to Lindy Clark, president.

"Personally I am 100 per cent for the veterans' project, because Snyder and this community needs such a park and pool," said Clark.

"I am sure that the Junior Chamber will do their part in putting across the Legion-V.F.W. recreation program," he added.

Renal B. Rosson, vice-president of the Junior Chamber, will head the organization's membership campaign, with two teams yet to be named.

The present membership is 45.

Wives of City Councilmen

Mrs. R. L. Terry's family were ranchers from near Abilene and she spent her girlhood in Snyder, graduating from Snyder High School. She has four children, Mrs. R. J. Mills, living here with her, Jack Terry, in business here, Billy Bob Terry, still at home, and Mrs. Wilma Stone, who teaches here. Mrs. Terry describes a varigated life here as partner with her husband in business ventures. She has, consecutively, worked in the produce business, the cotton yard, the locker plant, the jeep business, and has now taken out a Texas bus driver's license in case of emergency at the Big Spring Coaches Co., which her husband now owns.

Mrs. Ivan Gatlin is the daughter of Texas pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mason, who arrived in Snyder in a covered wagon when they were very young. Mrs. Gatlin's mother, Bettie Patterson, was a charter member of the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Gatlin, who teaches the second grade, has been in the school system nine years, meanwhile doing her own housekeeping and assisting her husband in his grocery and trailer business. The Gatlin's have one daughter, Miss Betty Lynn Gatlin, in McMurry College.

Mrs. C. L. Williamson, mother of three children, one of whom is still an infant, loves her home work and never pines for the days when she worked with her husband in the store. Mrs. Williamson enjoys sewing, and at the moment is planning for a new home which the Williamsons will build according to their tastes.

Mrs. H. B. Allen, a Snyder resident for 23 years, came here from Anderson County, where her parents were farmers. Mrs. Allen is a careful housekeeper and enjoys raising flowers. Her four children are: Mrs. Elwanda Kopp, Raton, N. M.; Mrs. Wilda McCowan, Snyder, and the two younger children at home, Keith Allen and Miss Nelda Allen.

Mrs. Albert Martin is an expert at all the homemaking arts, according to her friends. She gardens with energy, cans food in quantity, keeps the new brick home on Avenue E in apple pie order and is an inveterate worker. Mrs. Martin has one son, Billy Don Martin at home, another son, Albert Ray Martin in business here, and a daughter, Mrs. E. Davis, Post.

Military Patients Evacuated by Air

HONOLULU, July 29, (AP) — Sixty-three military patients arrived here last night in a C-97 Stratofreighter en route to the Mainland.

The flight set a record for air evacuation of patients from the Orient. With the big Stratofreighters on the Tokyo to Honolulu run now, more patients can be handled faster.

Maj. Donald Ferguson, Military Air Transport Service squadron commander, said the C-97s were added to the run because of the increased need.

Ferguson, of Detroit, said the C-97 can carry 70 patients from Japan to the West Coast in three days. The Douglas Skymaster C-54 normally carries 28 patients and requires five days.

In the C-97 group, 42 were litter cases and 37 were combat wounded. Most of the wounds were from shrapnel or small arms fire.

The patients will remain briefly at Tripler General Hospital here for rest.

Gallup Poll

Many More Favor Propaganda Broadcasts Since Korea Crisis

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opniion

PRINCETON, N. J., July 29 — The move in Congress for a greatly expanded program to tell America's story abroad is getting increased support from the public.

Before the Korean war began, the vote in favor of the Benton proposal to step up our information program abroad stood at 5-to-4 in a survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion. Today it is 7-ot-4 in favor. And among those persons who already know something about the present activities of the Voice of America, the vote for a greatly enlarged effort is substantial—nearly 3-to-1.

The Senate resolution sponsored by Sen. William Benton, of Connecticut, includes a proposal for a network of long wave, medium wave and short wave radio stations capable of reaching every receiver in the world, as part of a vast increase in an American "propaganda of truth."

The resolution has been supported by many leaders including Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. President Truman has said that "unless we get the real story across to people in other countries, we will lose the battle for men's minds by default."

The reaction of the general public to an expanded information program was tested in a survey in April and again last week. Here is the trend:

"Some people believe the United States should spend a great deal more money than we are now spending to offset Russian propaganda (information) and to tell our side of the story to Europe and the world. Do you agree or disagree?"

April, Today's Survey

In favor of more expenditure—47 percent, 52 per cent.

Against— 38 per cent, 29 per cent.

No opinion— 15 per cent, 19 per cent.

Total— 100 per cent.

In order to record the views of the better informed voters—those who are aware that the State Department has been operating the "Voice of America" broadcasts to foreign lands — the survey asked each person, "Have you ever read or been told anything about the 'Voice of America' broadcasts?"

Those who have heard about it vote as follows today as compared to April on enlarging the program:

VOTE OF PERSONS AWARE OF VOA BROADCASTS
April, Today's Survey

In favor of more expenditure—58 per cent, 64 per cent.

Against—35 per cent, 24 per cent.

No opinion— 7 per cent, 12 per cent.

Total—100 per cent.

By contrast, here is the vote of those who were not aware of the existence of the "Voice" broadcast. It shows how much more favorable the informed opinion is than the uniformed—thus demonstrating the value, from the State Department point of view at least, of publicizing throughout the United States the work which the "Voice" is doing.

VOTE OF PERSONS NOT AWARE OF VOA BROADCASTS
April, Today's Survey

In favor of more expenditure—35 percent, 39 per cent.

Against— 41 per cent, 34 per cent.

No opinion— 24 per cent, 27 per cent.

Total— 100 per cent.

Oysters Multiply Like Mad— But Not Many Reach Maturity

AUSTIN, Tex., July 29. (AP)—Oysters could put a rabbit's sex life to shame. Instead, they are putting Texas to shame.

The state Game, Fish and Oyster Commission vouches for it.

One female oyster, the Commission says in a special bulletin just issued, emits as many as 100 million eggs in each spawning. If all lived and grew through five generations, they would make a pile of oysters eight times as large as the entire earth.

And that's providing each female spawned only once in her lifetime.

But what is actually happening is enough to discourage any mama oyster.

In 1904, the bulletin cites, Texas produced 200,000 barrels of oysters. That would mean a $2,000,000 business for Texas today. But production has dropped steadily. Last year coastal waters yielded barely 7,000 barrels.

Why?

Natural hazards and perils alone are terrific.

Water temperature and salinity first must be just right. Then oyster eggs must be fertilized entirely by chance after they are emitted. More often than not, that chance is too great.

A fertilized egg that grows into a tiny larva must find a clean surface on which to attach itself to begin building its permanent shell home. No clean surface, no oyster.

Even after shells are built, there still are enemies, Conchs, boring clams and boring sponges often drill right into the shell to destroy the oyster or leave it vulnerable to other sea enemies. Muscles can starve oyster by latching onto their shells and funnelling all the food out of the water right in front of the oyster's "mouth."

If any oyster overcomes all those perils and a lot of others for two years, it's then a full-grown oyster ready for a cocktail.

That's when one of the worst enemies shows up—the fisherman with time and thought only for today's catch and no regard for where his next oyster will come from. Oysters are frequently hauled out with shell returned to the water to provide the clean surfaces necessary for the little larvae. Private restocking of waters is rare.

With the oyster so badly in need of a friend, the Commission has come to its aid.

Planned oyster farming was found probably the best solution. Therein, the Commission believes, is a lucrative venture for private enterprise. The field—introduced in China 2,000 years ago—is wide open in Texas today.

The bottom of any bay in the state may be privately leased for such farming providing it isn't a natural reef, won't hinder navigation or isn't already leased.

The bulletin offers instructions in accepted methods of oyster planting and cultivation for anyone interested in turning depleted reefs into paying oyster farms. Research is underway at experimental plots in and near Aransas Pass to secure additional helpful data on all phases of oyster life and cultivation.

Revised laws are also recommended to help both the oyster and the industry.

The commission hopes it will all add up to 200,000 barrels of oysters again some year.

Five Bridges Approved

CORSICANA, July 29. (AP) — The State Highway Commission has approved construction of five bridges east of Dawson, on the old Dawson-Corsicana highway, now known as farm-to-market Road 709. Construction cost is estimated at $156,000.

Unlawful Possession Of Liquor and Driving Cases in County Court

Bonds were set in county court late Friday for five persons to be tried by jury Tuesday, three of whom pleaded not guilty to charges of unlawful possession of liquor, two pleading not guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated.

A plea of guilty was entered by James Tucker, 23-year-old Snyder Negro, who paid a fine of $173.50, including court cost, on a charge of possessing 96 cans of beer for purpose of sale in a dry area.

Bonds of $750 each were set for Will Clay, about 50, Anderson Davis, Sr., 48, and his son, Anderson Davis, Jr., 26, all Snyder Negroes charged with unlawful liquor possession.

Darwin Donald Long, 24, of Crescent Courts, and John Dressler, 47, of Snyder, pleaded not guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated, their bonds being set at $300 each.

Long was involved in a head-on collision about 10 miles southwest of town Thursday night which injured four persons, none seriously.

Lloyd H. Merritt, sheriff, reported confiscating 12 four-fifths quarts of wine, six pints of whisky, eight and one-half pints of gin, and 96 cans of beer from young Davis, 120 cans of beer and eight four-fifths quarts of wine from the older Davis, and 74 cans of beer from Clay.

The older Davis, shortly before his hearing Friday afternoon, paid an old fine of $523.50 on a similar charge.

Veterans Beautify Memorial Park, Plan A Swimming Pool

In three years, the combined efforts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion have turned a once-barren and useless 30 acres into Snyder's only public park of any importance. And plans are rapidly taking shape which will make of the Memorial Park a real civic center.

The Scurry County Memorial park, originally belonging to the Wolf estate, was purchased by the Scurry County Memorial V.F.W. Post 8231 for $10,500 and later the Kite-Layne American Legion Post 181 bought half interest.

Some of the improvements wrought on the area are: softball field, water wells and pumps, 200 new trees, fencing for the ball park, a recreation park, a club house, and roads leading through the grounds. Six thousand dollars was spent in remodeling the club house; $2,000 in building and maintaining the roads.

SOURCE OF INCOME

Income has originated from several sources. Oil leases, dues, ball games, the selling of houses on the land, the sale of lots, and donations provide the bulk of the money used to pay off the land and equipment.

At present, interest centers around a brand new project for the betterment of the town and park—a swimming pool. The cost is estimated at $60,000 by J. C. Williamson, ex-member of the Board of Directors for the V.F.W. Early this summer an attempt was made to build a pool in the park limits, but the deal fell through.

Williamson, an ardent worker who has spent much time and effort in making the park what it is now, states that the people and civic groups of Snyder are going to have to back this swimming pool venture to the hilt if it is to succeed. Nothing definite has yet been decided on the possibility of getting a pool. Everything hinges on the verdicts handed down by the groups who have been asked to support this worthy cause.

PLANT TREES

Recently about 200 trees have been put out in the park area, of which $50 worth were a gift of Bell's Flower Shop. The trees included about 100 Lombardy poplars and 50 elms, and miscellaneous trees and shrubs.

In addition, Bermuda grass has been planted in the picnic area, and barbecue pits have been built. The picnic area is open to the public at all times.

All business transactions concerning the park must pass through the joint Legion-V.F.W. board of directors, which includes Commander Hilton Lambert, George Killam, and Marvin Hanback from the Legion, and Commander Kenneth Pitner, Don Adams, and Bushy Hedges from the V.F.W.

Committee in charge of the recently completed picnic grounds was headed by Williamson and included Chet Horsely, Shelton Holmes, and Jesse King.

During the dark period when it looked as if payments for the park wouldn't be met, the members and townspeople would just put their noses to the grindstone and make a few sacrifices to keep them ahead.

Public subscription to build the softball field was introduced, but it all has been paid off now.

Definitely the Scurry County Memorial Park has been an important civic improvement. As one veteran of foreign wars put it, "It has taken a heck of a lot of time money, and effort, but it has paid off in huge dividends by making our home town a better place to reside and a better place for our children to grow up."

Branch of Restaurant Association Has Not Been Formed Here Yet

No progress has been made recently with plans to organize a voluntary restaurant association here, L. T. Barnard, sanitarian in the city-county health department, said yesterday.

A group of eating and drinking establishment operators met with officers of the state health department to discuss the organization of such an association here.

A possible restaurant ordinance, city garbage disposal and sponsorship of a food handlers' school were also discussed at the time.

Teen-Age Newcomers Taken Into Whirl In Short Order

By JOE DAVE SCOTT

The teen-age set in Snyder is busy with its summer jobs and parties. With the influx of newcomers to Snyder, a large number of new young people have been taken into the daily happenings of Snyder.

One of these new persons to Snyder is Miss Pat Knight from Louisiana. Pat, who attended Texas Tech last fall as a freshman, has lived in Kansas and Louisiana and states that the people in the western part of Texas are much more friendly and accept new people much more quickly than the people where she has previously lived. Pat said that she was here only a short while when she walked down the streets of Snyder and found that she had moved into a town of cordial people who wanted to be friends with everyone.

The boys who have lived in Snyder most of their years are not exactly slow when it comes to getting acquainted with the new girls.

For instance, Marvin Sentell, while attending Tech, found Pat Knight and soon they were quite good friends. Jay Fish, high school senior, made himself known to Miss Ann Bucy this past fall and kept the road worn smooth to the modern Lion Oil Camp near the Diamond M Ranch west of town.

Miss Joan Gee had been in Snyder hardly one year when she was chosen sweetheart of the band and editor of next years annual. Both of these positions are an honor in the Snyder High School.

Shirley Teague and sister Nancy moved here with their family from Slaton where Shirley was a twiler in the band. She was nominated for one of the twirlers for next years band. Nancy is attending Baylor University and there became good friends with a prominent Snyder girl, Frances Leath.

The Snyder Country Club will be the scene of a wiener roast and swim party Tuesday night for the teen-age members of the club and their guests. The party will be one of the club's regularly scheduled events for the young people.

Actress Injured In Fall From Bridge

HYANNIS, Mass., July 29. (AP) —X-rays disclosed that Actress Gertrude Lawrence suffered a minor spine fracture in a three-foot fall from a bridge into shallow water last Wednesday.

The X-rays were taken yesterday at Cape Cod Hospital. Her husband, Producer Richard Aldrich, said his wife's back was strapped by a physician and she is able to continue summer theatre performances.

Miss Lawrence tumbled into the water when a bridge rail broke. Her back struck a rock.

Soldier's Status Is Not Clear; May Be A Louey

WITH U. S. FORCES IN KOREA, July 29. (AP) — George Adrian of the First Cavalry Division hopes the Army will straighten out his status soon.

Adrian, of Mt. Vernon, is a lieutenant, a sergeant or a corporal—he doesn't know which.

A mortar platoon commander in the Pacific in World War II, Adrian was discharged as a lieutenant. He quit the University of South Carolina to re-enlist—as a sergeant.

But he lost his papers. The Army's adjutant general ordered him reduced one rank until the papers were found.

That brought Adrian up to the Korean War—and Korea. He's with a heavy mortar outfit—as a corporal.

Now Adrian hears from home that he may become an officer again—just as soon as he is recalled to active service.

Increase Is Authorized For West German Police

BONN, Germany, July 29. (AP)—The allied high commission was reported today to have authorized the West German government to increase its state police force by about 10,000 men.

Wetback Labor Called Menace To Standards

DALLAS, July 29. (AP) — A labor union official says that "wetback" farm labor sets up unfair competition for American workers.

"You can't create purchasing power in this country by bringing in wetbacks, paying them wages and then letting them take those wages back to Mexico," J. L. Rhodes, southern director of the American Federation of Labor organization told the closing session of the 11th annual Cotton Research Congress last night.

"Not only do we lose the purchasing power of those wages, but also we displace American workers and turn them into the ranks of the unemployed," the A.F.L. official said.

Rhodes said that in the last few years "great hordes" of wetbacks crossed the Rio Grande and went deep into the South to harvest crops and pick cotton. This, he said, is one of the problems the cotton industry must solve.

"King Cotton must eliminate that problem so it may play ball with American institutions and American labor and the people to whom the cotton industry expects to sell its products.

"King Cotton must employ labor at a saving wage and a cultural wage," he continued. "It must pay a wage that will let the worker lay up something for a rainy day. And you can't do it with cheap coolie labor."

National Guard's 72nd Convention Cancelled

HOUSTON, July 29. (AP) — The National Association has cancelled its 72nd annual convention.

Maj. Gen. H. Miller Ainsworth, Luling, announced the cancellation Friday after conferring with Maj. Gen. E. A. Walsh, St. Paul, Minn., national president.

Ainsworth, commander of the Texas guard's 36th Division, said the world situation, "specifically the developments in Korea," brought about the cancellation.

Guardsmen from over the nation were to have opened the convention here Sept. 27.
