Abra FM Road In Highway Program

CHILDRESS--Farm to Market Road improvements in Collingsworth County are included in the 1976 Texas Farm to Market Road Program approved recently by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

District Engineer Lewis H. White of Childress said work in this area includes F.M. 3143 from the Donley County line South and East 6.1 miles.

Paving of this section of road will complete the Farm to Market Road link between U.S. Highway 83, thru Samnorwood and Dozier, to McLean.

"The project will be let when funds become available," said White.

Statewide, the $20.8 million program provides for improvements on 283.7 miles of Farm and Ranch to Market Roads.

The program includes new construction on 168.8 miles, provides additional financing for 86.8 miles authorized in previous programs and also provides financing for 28.1 miles of projects which have been authorized but not previously funded.

A total of 151.2 miles are new designations of which 87.6 miles are now on rural mail routes and 86.8 miles are

CONSERVATION AWARD RECIPIENT

Henard Receives State Soil Conservation Award

John R. Henard, Jr., life-long resident of the county and a soil conservation leader for more than two decades, was selected to receive the State Resident Conservation Farmer/Rancher award, in the soil and water conservation program sponsored by the Fort Worth Area Chamber of Commerce.

He received his award at the State Champions Awards Banquet held in Fort Worth. Mrs. Henard and other members of their family attended.

Mr. Henard was nominated for the honor by Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation District No. 133.

His selection on the state level was based, not only on his outstanding conservation program, but on the leadership he has provided the conservation movement in Salt Fork SCD.

This awards program is the successor to the Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards Program, in which Mr. Henard worked over a long period of time.

A native of Collingsworth County, he began farming on land rented from his father while in high school in 1932.

After college studies and service in the Army Air Corp

MEMORIAL DAY

This is one of many bouquets of flowers in Wellington cemeteries, as families paid tribute on Memorial Day. This was at Fairview Cemetery.

Bicentennial Celebration to Be Held at County Fair Sept. 12

Collingsworth County's bicentennial celebration will be a festive, fun-filled event held on the second day of the 1976 Fair, Saturday, September 12.

It will close with a fireworks spectacular, probably the biggest Wellington has ever staged. This will be at Marian Airpark and the softball field Saturday night. It will close with the lowering of the flag and the sounding of taps.

Announcement of the initial plans was made by Henry Sullivan, chairman of the Collingsworth County Bicentennial Committee, after a series of planning meetings by that body.

The celebration schedule is left flexible to include many groups in the day-long event.

"We hope different organizations will do things during the day. This will enhance the Fair and we hope to make it bigger and better," said Mr. Sullivan.

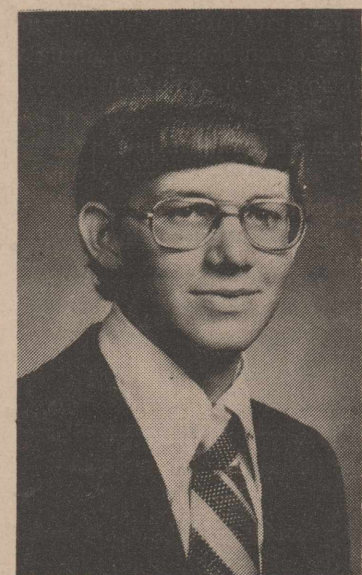

These events are under the direction of the festivities committee of the Bicentennial committee, Larry Henard is chairman and members are Kirby Campbell, Mrs. Wayne Cudd, Mrs. Richard Nall and Mrs. Edd Henard.

A campaign is being started to raise money for the fireworks display, Mr. Sullivan said. The goal is $2,500.

"We ask everybody—grown-ups, kids, and organizations—to give what they can. In this way, more and more people can have a part in making our bicentennial celebration a big, happy, fun-filled event. The more donations we get, the bigger the fireworks display will be," he continued.

Mrs. Cora Fisher Dies Sunday at Age Ninety-Four

Mrs. Cora Belle Fisher, an employee of Wellington dry goods stores over a long period, and a leader in the community's church life for an even longer time, died in Thomas Nursing Center at 6:10 a.m. Saturday, May 29, at the age of 94.

She had been in good health and lived alone, caring for her home, until she suffered a broken hip in a fall earlier this year.

Mrs. Fisher had lived in Collingsworth County since 1908, coming with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Z.H. Daffron, who settled in the Nicholson community and were prominent in the development of that area in the north part of the county.

Born November 17, 1882, at Ragland, Alabama, she lived at Kingston, Oklahoma, before coming here.

She was first married to Elmer Jones, who died in 1925. She then married Rolly Fisher in 1928, and he

Two Quails Win All-State Berths

Two Quail Quails have received state honors.

Gary Wischkaemper, a 6-2 senior forward, has been named to the 1976 Class B All-State Basketball team selected by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

Tommy Caldwell, 6-1 senior, won a place on the third team.

Wischkaemper averaged 22 points while leading Quail to a 31-4 season. He was the only Class B player named to the 1976 Globe-News Panhandle Plains Super Basketball team.

Both Quail players are students as well as athletes. Wischkaemper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wischkaemper, was valedictorian of the graduating class two weeks ago. Caldwell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Caldwell, was salutatorian.

Also named to the third team was Paul Jacobson, 6-4 Adrian senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jacobson. He is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. David Baumgardner, and has been a frequent Wellington visitor all of his life.

Both will attend Clarendon College next year.

Other area players named to the team include Allison's

Grayson to the second team at guard, and Adrian's Dennis Brown to the third team.

Brown, a 6-3 senior, and Jacobson, a 6-4 senior, sparked Adrian to the regional tournament where the Matadors lost, 31-30, to Greenwood in the semifinal round.

Motley County's Joe Campbell also was named to the third unit.

Andy Cardona, a 5-10 senior guard from Austwell-Tivoli, was the only repeater on the all-state team. He averaged 25.3 points during a 22-6 season that netted the District 60-B championship.

Clifford Crowell of state champion Richards is the

Men's Group Holds Anniversary Dinner

The Men's Progressive Organization will hold a dinner Friday, June 4, to celebrate the group's one year of operation. It will begin at 8:00 p.m. in Bura Handley Community Center.

Jimmy Barber, vice-president, said special guests will include wives of the members, Mayor Bill Hatch and City Manager Glenn Taylor.

"We want to recognize the mayor and city manager because they had so much to do with getting the northeast part of Wellington cleaned up," Mr. Barber said.

Lynn Wolf, minister of the Ft. Worth Street church of Christ, will be the speaker.

During the program, an award honoring the memory of the late Joe Powell will be presented to his family. He was one of those who organized the Men's Progressive Organization.

New officers will be introduced, and these include James Thomas, president; Mr. Barber, vice-president; Robert Powell, secretary; Horace Powell, treasurer; and Willie McKinnon, sergeant at arms.

Members also will be introduced.

The organization devotes its efforts to civic improvement projects. Plans for the future include further clean-up work, efforts to secure more stop signs and street markers and additional street lights for the area. A summer recreational project for the children is also in the planning stage.

They will close at the regular hour, 7:00 p.m.

Mrs. Coleman also reminded there will be only two voting boxes. Everyone living south of Salt fork River will vote at Bura Handley Community Center, and those north of Salt Fork will vote at Samnorwood gymnasium.

A light vote is expected, as there are only two races, both on the state level.

In the first, Jon Newton is opposing Jerry Sadler for Railroad Commissioner, and in the other, W.R. Phillips and Carl Dally are opponents in the race for Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals to fill an unexpired term.

Singers Needed For July Fourth Bicentennial

Members of the Ministerial Alliance have begun plans on the big bicentennial program to be held in Wellington Sunday evening, July 4. There will be further announcements as plans advance.

In the meantime, members are needed for the community choir, and anyone interested in singing should meet with Benny Kilgo at First Baptist Church each Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.

There will be music, both vocal and instrumental, with some of the numbers coming from "I Love America." Other new numbers will be included. The Rev. Charles Finley, pastor of First Christian Church, will be the speaker.

Community Achievement Award To Be Given at Convention

Mrs. Barney Glenn will represent the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce at the 9th annual Beautify Texas Council state convention, when Wellington is cited as second place winner in its category in the state-wide Governor's Community Achievement Awards Program for 1975.

The meeting will be Thursday and Friday, June 10 and 11, in San Antonio. Mr. Glenn will accompany his wife.

Governor and Mrs. Dolph Briscoe will highlight the meeting on June 11, where they will announce and personally present awards to the top cities and organizations in Texas which have conducted in the past year the best job toward cleanup and beautification.

The Governor announces each year at the BTC convention the six winning cities of the "Governor's Community Achievement Awards", a community-improvements program sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Regional Chambers of Commerce and the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

In addition, this year Mrs. Briscoe will recognize the seven winners of the 1976 "Janey Briscoe Bicentennial Awards", sponsored by the Texas Department of Community Affairs in cooperation with the Beautify Texas Council.

A host of state and nationally-prominent speakers and experts are slated for the two-day program.

Roger Powers, of New York, president of Keep America Beautiful, Inc., will tell how several U.S. cities are successfully implementing that organization's proven system for eliminating the ever-present litter problem.

The KAB president will also present to the Beautify Texas Council an engraved silver Revere bowl, in recognition of Texas placing "top state in the nation" in the national Keep America Beautiful awards competition.

A session on junkyard screening will be held on Thursday afternoon, June 10, following a "Beautiful Ideas Fair," at which meeting-goers will have an opportunity to visit with experts on a wide variety of subjects, including wild flower propagation, tree planting, vest pocket parks, recycling, vacant lot gardening, hike'n bike trails, historic restoration, and rural garbage disposal.

The Friday morning session will be filled with ideas from community leaders on organizing community improvement and beautification projects, including presentations from representatives of six towns and cities that won 1976 Governor's Community Achievement Awards in their population categories. There will be ideas for those from towns with less than 1,000 population to those with more than a million.

Final session of the annual meeting will be the annual Governor's Community Achievement Awards Luncheon, at which Governor and Mrs. Dolph Briscoe will Troop 232 Will Hold Court of Honor Fri.

Troop 232 will hold a Scout "Court of Honor" Friday, June 4, at 7:45 p.m. at the First Christian Church.

Scouts will receive Tenderfoot, Second Class, First Class, Star, and Life Scout Awards. Merit Badges earned this spring will also be awarded at this Court. The highlight of the evening will be the Eagle Award to Jimmy Morgan and Chuck Darter, Glenn McLain, scoutmaster, announced.

"The Troop would like to extend an invitation to everyone to attend this Court of Honor Friday evening," he said.

Christian Youth Camp Opens at Pan-Fork Mon.

The second annual Christian Youth Camp, serving churches within a 100 mile radius of Wellington, will be held during two weeks of June at the Panfork Encampment. The camp for senior high school students will open Monday, June 6 and continue through Saturday, June 12. The Junior High Camp will then open Monday, June 13 and close Saturday, June 19. The Rev. Charles Finley, pastor of First Christian Church, and director of the junior high camp, has outlined plans.

The Rev. Chet Veazey, pastor of First Christian Church at Erick, Oklahoma, is director of the senior camp. Approximately 50 boys and girls and 20 adult leaders and instructors will be at the camp each week.

Activities will include recreation, nature trails, Bible study relevant to daily living, and music, with evening activities and prayer time. The full recreational facilities at Panfork will be utilized, including swimming, volleyball, softball, and fishing.

During the second week, the junior high camp, a group from Dallas Christian College will be at the camp for their own training as well as for the benefit of the youngsters.

A number from First Christian Church in Wellington will help with the activities.

Young people and workers are expected from Clarendon, Memphis, Wellington, Shamrock, Mangum, Erick, Canadian, Clinton, Okla., and other near-by towns.

Everyone making a donation will be recognized through The Wellington Leader.

"We want this fireworks display to be something the young kids can remember a long, long time, and something that will call up good memories for the 'old kids!'"

Arrangements are being made with Burnett Fireworks Company, Inc., of Enid, Okla., one of the major fireworks companies of the country, to produce the show September 12.

It will be a brilliant affair. As it is now planned, there will be bicentennial ground displays, patriotic displays, historical displays, and giant scenic panoramas. These scenes cover a wide area, and completely emblazon it with color.

Because of the magnitude of this fireworks display, the bicentennial committee believes it will draw a huge crowd, not only from the county, but from a number of near-by towns.

#2—continued from page 1 in World War II, Henard bought 670 acres in 1946. Today, his ranch has expanded to 7,064 acres. He owns 3,224 acres and the remaining 3,840 acres he has leased for over 20 years.

He became a cooperater in 1951, and immediately was elected to the Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation District board. He served 18 years, and for most of these, he was chairman.

His conservation program is multi-faceted, as is needed on the land he operates, but primarily it relates to the conservation and building up of his fine range land.

"He has controlled brush on nearly all of his rangeland over a period of many years," said Tommy Powell, district conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service.

He has terraced all cropland where terraces were needed to control erosion.

John R. Henard, Jr., was one of the first local ranchers to practice a scheduled range deferment program.

"John knows native grasses and how they react to different types of grazing as well as any rancher I have ever known," Mr. Powell declared.

An avid sportsman himself, he has long practiced excellent wildlife habitat management.

"He has built many ponds on his lands to hold the water where it falls and to improve livestock grazing distribution," Mr. Powell continued.

Mr. Henard is aware that not all Collingsworth County land should be cropped. With this in mind, he has seeded several old fields back to grass that were unsuited to cultivation because of erosion problems.

John R. Henard, Jr., belongs to pioneer families—two of those who not only operated their land holdings successfully, but who were leaders in every part of the county's life.

He is their worthy succe-

Church Begins Ping Pong as Youth Activity

The fellowship hall of First Christian Church has installed two ping-pong tables, with playing equipment, and these are open to the community each day.

The Rev. Charles Finley said the doors are open from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. and it is being used much of the time.

While it is primarily for young people of the community, anyone who is interested in playing ping-pong is invited to come, Rev. Finley said.

He, too, was a pioneer in many conservation practices in the Panhandle, even devising his own brand of deferred grazing.

In 1973, in recognition of this, the Society for Range

Management presented him the Excellence in Grazing Management Award.

Just as his father was an outstanding farmer-stockman, John Henard, Jr.'s son, John R. Henard III has chosen farming and livestock raising as his way of life—the third generation of this family.

Beyond this, Henard's two brothers have been successful as farmers and livestock men, the late Dan Henard and Edd Henard.

Besides his son, John Henard, Jr. has six nephews, all of them with farming and livestock interests, and most of them living on their land.

CANINE DISTEMPER

Distemper in dogs is a highly contagious viral disease which can affect any age group but is more prevalent in young dogs and puppies. This disease is spread through contact with contaminated objects or other infected dogs as well as being carried through the air.

The signs of the disease begin with a watery nasal discharge, a high temperature and a depression of the dog and its activity. As the distemper progresses the eyelids become reddened, the eyes squint and a yellow pus-like discharge appears from the eyes and nose. Often a secondary diarrhea or pneumonia accompanies the disease. A dog can recover from the above signs and later show nervous conditions such as jerking movements of the head and jaws, convulsions, or even a mental problem where the dog wanders aimlessly. In many cases a localized twitching of leg or facial muscles is the only apparent sign after the disease. The infectious course of the disease can run from 10 days to 1 month.

Effective treatment varies with the time it is started after infection; the sooner the better.

Prevention is basically through vaccination as pups. Initial vaccination should be started at 8 weeks of age and be repeated at 12 weeks and again at 16 weeks old. The dog should then be given a single booster at 1-1½ years old. Older dogs which have been vaccinated will have a permanent immunity. Puppies get an immunity from the dam while nursing but are highly susceptible after weaning.

The largest seed in the world is called the Coco de Mer and weighs up to 40 pounds.

B&PW Installs Officers for 1976-77 Year on Tuesday

The Wellington Business and Professional Womens' Club met Tuesday evening, May 25, for installation of the new officers who will take charge on July 1 for the 1976-77 club year.

Mrs. Beatrice McKinney was chairman with Mrs. Lottie Handley, Co-Chairman, and Mrs. Don Hartman, member of the committee on "Perspective on Unity" - Installation of Officers. The collect was given by Myra Hays. Mrs. Ernest Harwell installed the officers with a Wagons Ho! installation. She compared the wagon trains with the offices of the clubs. Mrs. Lynn Wright as incoming president was the wagon master for the train and the symbol of her office was a western hat. She signed a contract in witness of accepting the responsibilities as wagon master of the Wellington BPW Club. Mrs. Billy Williams as First Vice President was the Lead Driver in the wagon train and presented a boot since she might have to step into the president's shoes at any time. Mrs. Don Hartman (Peggy Holland stood in for her) was installed as Second Vice President and the Second Drive in the Wagon Train. She also might be called on to step into the president's shoes so she was presented a boot as her symbol of office. Mrs. Melvin Cardwell as Recording Secretary was the Indian Fighter who protects the wagon train and for this the symbol of office was an Indian head dress. Mrs. Jimmy Kelso as Treasurer would serve as Paymaster of the Wagon Train and she received a money pouch. Each of these officers signed the wagon train contract as accepting the responsibility of their office, then the club members as families on the wagon train also signed.

Mrs. Dudley Phipps presided at the business session. Delegates to the State Convention were elected and these are: Mrs. Phipps, Mrs. Zook Thomas and Mrs. Ernest Harwell. Miss Myra Hays, District 10 Bicentennial Chairman, also plans to attend. The next meeting of the club will be June 8 and the last meeting of the year was changed to June 29, at which time the state convention reports will be given by those attending.

There were two guests present, who have been members of the club, Mrs. Lorraine Parker and Mrs. Lorene Jenkins. Macrame knotting is so popular but the long strands of thread keep knotting as one works. To avoid this measure off the required length, start about 12 inches from the working end. Wind thread around three fingers until you get to the end. Make two or three turns with a twist tie around this small skein. The thread will pull out easily from the center.

Living Middle Age Can Be Comfortable or Dismal

People at middle age may feel like the "caught generation"—caught between job and family, between spouse and demanding children, between family and older parents, or between business and volunteer services, Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist, says.

"Caught between any social forces makes it hard to see a way out. So the middle-aged person may find it difficult to gain satisfaction by reflecting on his youthful accomplishments—and dread planning for success or retirement."

"The cliché 'at twenty, one can save the world; at fifty he hopes to save a little salary' has more truth than we like to admit," the specialist added.

She is with the Texas

Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Besides reevaluating their career, middle-aged people often reconsider their marriage at this time."

"Some couples realize their marriage will never become what they had assumed it would be. Then they face other decisions—should one settle for second best and stay together or should a couple face divorce and a new start."

"But some couples find marriage a bulwark during middle age. The comfort of making decisions together rather than alone, the companionship or a loved one, rather than searching and struggling for new love relationships, the prestige of being married and not single, and living more comfortable with more money (usually) and 'things' than ever before are reasons many couples give for enjoying their spouse in the 'empty nest' years," she said.

Some mature adults may find themselves being threatened by younger people in jobs, as lovers or in status positions. This creates stress—which can be handled by thinking of former successes and positive experiences, making current competition an "okay" situation, she explained.

"Feeling secure in the answers found to life problems keeps the middle-aged person continually searching for new answers and experiences. Unlike the young, mature adults have wisdom about living. But also unlike the young, they must remind themselves to keep on learning," she said.

"Achieving a balance between their inner resources and other people's demands keeps the middle-aged person alive, productive and contributing in marriage, career and community," she noted.

Rev. Dolloff on Staff of Church At Big Spring

The Rev. Steve Dolloff has resigned as pastor of Fundamental Baptist Church to become associate pastor of Trinity Baptist Church in Big Spring.

He will preach his final sermon for the congregation on Sunday, June 6.

Rev. Dolloff will be the youth director and have charge of the bus ministry and visitation.

He came to Fundamental Baptist Church three years ago from Amarillo, where he was associate pastor of Central Baptist Church. He has been in the ministry three and one-half years.

horses about 8:00 p.m.

Assisting Mr. Reeves in working with the boys and girls will be Mrs. Mike Williams and Mrs. Gary Brewer, both former members of the 4-H Horse Club.

"The 4-H Horse Club is for boys and girls 9 through 18 years, but if there are younger kids, and they can get along with a horse, they can sure be there," said Mr. Reeves.

There will be instruction in basic horsemanship, showing horses at halter, western pleasure riding and reigning. New to the Collingsworth County Club will be western horsemanship, which was begun only last year. In this, the judge draws a pattern, shorter than for reigning, which the horse can run in 30 seconds or less. There are several variations on this.

"We invite any kids interested in the horse program," the extension agent urged. Each member must have a horse or have one available to ride.

Riders from the Collingsworth Club will participate in the District 4-H Horse Show to be held in Amarillo at the end of this month.

Dodson Pioneer, Ernest Holleman, Dies on May 24

One of the last remaining pioneers whose family home-stayed in what was to become the Hollis, Oklahoma area, Ernest Holleman, died Monday, May 24, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Archie Ketchersid, in Hollis. He was 89 years of age.

From 1912 until he retired from farming in 1964, Mr. Holleman lived on the same farm two miles east of Dodson. Since then, he made his home in Hollis.

Mr. Holleman was born in Tupelo, Miss., January 22, 1887. When he was four years old, his parents, George and Mariam Holleman home-stayed in old Greer County Texas. Later on, the town of Hollis would be established several miles away.

On those occasions when he talked of his growing-up years, he told of stories of a pioneer childhood that only a few were privileged to experience. He remembered gathering bones that lay on the unplowed prairie—buffalo bones and cattle bones—and stacking them high in wagons with sideboards. These were hauled on a two-day round trip to Quanah, where they sold for four or five dollars. "That bought lots of groceries," he would comment. Cotton was also hauled to Quanah and supplies were bought there.

Dodson was a young town when he moved to his farm. He could recall when, as a prosperous trading center, it had a newspaper, two banks and two hotels, a doctor and other businesses.

Mr. Holleman was married February 19, 1908, to Miss Josie O'Brien, whose family lived between Wellington and Dodson.

A long-time member of the church of Christ, he was an elder in Westview No. 2 church of Christ.

His wife preceded him in death January 11, 1952.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday, May 25, at 10:00 a.m. at Coley Memorial Chapel with Minister Paul Evans officiating.

Pall bearers were Newell McDaniel, Virgin Sommers, Martin Bullington, Lloyd Curry, Clyde Whitman and John Kizer.

Survivors are his daughter and son-in-law, Ethel and Archie Ketchersid, and a brother, C.M. Holleman, all of Hollis.

Baumgardner, Cruz to Attend American Legion Boys State

Two Collingsworth youths have been selected by Frank King Post of the American Legion to attend the 36th American Legion Boys State, which begins Wednesday, June 9, in Austin.

They are Joe Baumgardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Baumgardner, of Wellington, and Robert Cruz, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Abelino Del Bosque of Samnorwood. Both have completed their junior year in high school.

Boys State will be held on the Campus of The University of Texas in Austin, Larry Lahaie, Department Commander, has announced.

Delegates will converge on Austin and commence registration at 2 p.m., Wednesday, June 9, at Jester Center.

Following an evening meal the new citizens of Boys State will assemble for orientation in their respective Boys State cities.

Highlight of this year's program will be the Boys State "Flag Day" parade up Congress Avenue to the Capitol and evening of June 14. The parade will be the official kick-off of the Legion's "21-Day Flag Salute to the Nation" from June 14 through July 4. All citizens, businesses, churches, schools, etc. are urged to fly their flag daily during this period.

The program sponsored by The American Legion, Department of Texas, is an annual event in which the organization teaches boys the responsibilities of citizenship in actual "do it yourself" type program from which comes its motto, "Learn by Doing."

The approximate 900 boys will be housed in 20 Boys State Cities with each city further divided into two precincts, one for the Federalist and one for the Nationalist political party. Each Boys State City is named in honor of a Past Department Commander of the Legion who is now deceased.

F.C. McConnell of Austin Post No. 76 is Chairman of this year's program and Dr. Firman Haynie, also of Austin, is Director.

"Have a Sense of Purpose," Sen. Sherman Tells Seniors

"One of the effects of Liberty to an individual is that he may do as he pleases. Let me suggest that we ought to see what it will please a person to do before we risk congratulations," State Senator Max Sherman told the bicentennial graduating class of Wellington High School Friday evening, May 28, as more than 40 young men and women received diplomas.

Other highlights of this combined baccalaureate-commencement was the presentation of awards for outstanding achievement, as well as the valedictory and salutatory addresses, and song by the senior girls ensemble.

Senator Sherman called on the boys and girls to have a sense of history, especially in this bicentennial year.

"If we are conscious of our personal and our national history, then we have better perspective to make judgments.

"Another valuable perspective is to have a sense of purpose," he continued. "It has been said that we in the United States are a sovereign people, having the power to make hope come closer. This is a spiritual goal that has given purpose to all forms of government and many of our charitable and religious institutions—the desire to make hope come closer," continued the speaker.

Later in his talk, Senator Sherman said:

"The third ingredient I believe essential is a sense of accomplishment. Accomplishment comes from putting yourself into a task. Another word for it is a willingness to work. One cannot write the English language or speak it effectively until he has spent some time learning grammar, how to spell and how to put together sentences and paragraphs to form ideas.

"One cannot become a good mechanic until he has spent some time getting acquainted with engines and tools and finding out what makes them tick. To become a scientist, a doctor, a dentist, a great deal of time must be spent learning the basic sciences. A teacher has to spend a great deal of time learning what it is that he or she will teach," continued Senator Sherman, then quoted the champion athlete Bill Bradley: "It takes a lot of long, slow, lonely work."

In welcoming the audience, Richard Sims, salutatorian, reminded that when this class was in the first year of their lives, America launched its first space craft. He then compared their school years as a series of adventures, and closed by calling this the Year of the Skyrocket; the Centennial of the County; and the Bicentennial of the United States."

His twin brother, Randall Sims, in the valedictory address called freedom an on-going project to each generation as they become young adults.

He reminded that those who find their place in small towns, as well as those in other places, will achieve through patience and hard work.

"Let us receive what 200 years has achieved and pass it on with our contribution," he urged.

Girls of the class sang "Pass It On," and "May the Road Rise Up to Meet You," with Pam Vines as accompanist.

Later Karen Jeffrey and Kim Goforth led the seniors in singing the school song.

Diplomas were presented by Supt. E.W. Clement, and two board members, William O'Rear and Billy Mac Sims, both of whom had sons graduating.

The invocation was by Tom Anderson and Benediction by the Rev. Roy Collins, now of Dalhart. Debbie Stallings played the processional and Penny Morgan the recession-al.

Mrs. Gary Brewer, a class sponsor presented awards:

Randall Sims, valedictorian, received a tuition-free scholarship to any state supported college or university in Texas.

Richard Sims was recognized as salutatorian of the class.

Scholarships were awarded to:

--Kim Goforth, from Texas Women's University, valued at $250.

--Freddie Chambers, a music scholarship from West Texas State University, valued at $50 to $75 per semester.

--Bruce Blanton, who came to Wellington High School earlier this year from Zuni, N.M., was the Outstanding Future Farmer of America in New Mexico and will be awarded a $500 scholarship from the Santa Fe Railway at the New Mexico State FFA Convention.

--Vickie Reynolds and Maurine Wilfong, Sayre Junior College, tuition scholarships valued at $150 each.

--Karen Jeffrey, the Wellington Young Homemakers Scholarship valued at $500, for qualifications that included personal character, scholastic ability, and desire to go to college.

--Linda Coffee, the Gregg Shorthand award.

--Randall Sims was the recipient of the Aerion Award to a senior band student.

--Freddie Chambers was chosen Outstanding Bandsman.

--"I Dare You" awards from the American Youth Foundation went to Karen Jeffrey and David Null in recognition of high character and leadership qualities in youth.

--The Speech II class chose as best actress Rosie Garcia and Freddie Chambers the best actor.

--Marianne Morgan was awarded the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow charm.

--David Null was recipient of La Paisana Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Awards.

--Frank King Post No. 249, American Legion, recognized George Brewer with a certificate for qualities of courage, honor, leadership, patriotism, scholarship and service.

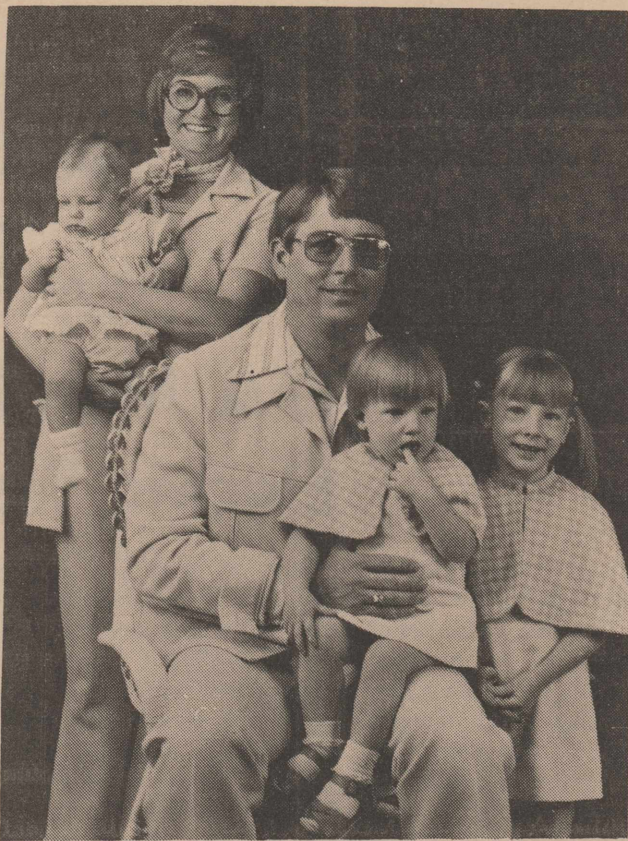

Diplomas were awarded by Supt. E.W. Clement, and school board members B.M. Sims and William O'Rear to Denise Archer, Jackie Black, Bruce Blanton, George Brewer, Freddie Chambers, Linda Coffee, Kenneth Fowler, Rosie Garcia, Kim Goforth, Sammy Gonzales, Evelyn Gragson, Jeff Hanna, Paul Hanna, Bill Havens, David Inghram, Ron Ingram, Karen Jeffrey, Carol Jones, LaDonna Jones, Lana Lacy, Janet Lair, Randall Maxwell, Marianne Morgan, Stacey Neeley, David Null, Don O'Rear, Eddie Outley, Bart Patterson, Sherri Peeks, Vickie Reynolds, Raymon Romo, Jimmie Saied, Randall Sims, Richard Sims, Alicia Terry, Doris Thomas, Edward Thomas, Pat Thomas, Mickey Vassey, Gracie Villarreal, Pam Vines and Maurine Wilfong.

Platform guests were Mr. Anderson, Rev. Collins, Lynn Wolf, Jimmy Barber, the Rev. Charles Finley and the Rev. J.L. Harrison.

Mrs. Bill Adams and Kip of Albuquerque, New Mexico were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Null and David, over Memorial weekend. They attended David's graduation Friday night.

Interested In Saving Money --- INSULATE !

The energy you're supposed to be saving in heating and cooling your house is going through your walls in the form of dollars out of your pocket if your home isn't insulated or properly insulated.

If you own an older home, chances are unless you've insulated it yourself, it isn't insulated at all.

Everybody knows by now, thanks to the energy crisis and President Ford's program to combat inflation, that insulation can indeed save you money. 60% of your heat loss goes out your ceiling, 14% through your walls, and 26% through your windows and doors, if your home isn't insulated.

SOLAR-THERM insulation is a wood fiber insulation that will not pack, settle, rot, mildew, attract insects, vermin, rodents or deteriorate, and will not burn.

One of the recommendations in a two-year study released by the Ford Foundation Energy Policy Project urges that federal loans be made available to the home owners and small businessmen for insulation and other fuel-saving improvements.

Insulation has become a necessity in our energy crisis nation. It is something that pays for itself in fuel savings, and then continues to save you money year after year.

Inflation is driving up the price of fuel making insulated homes highly desirable. This causes the worth of the well insulated home to rapidly increase, in addition to the increased value of his home, the owner is able to cut his heating and cooling bills tremendously, to say nothing of the added comfort.

At such a time as this, when every effort should be made to conserve our nation's fuel, the investment in insulation is doubly important.

Remember the name in insulation is SOLAR-THERM wood fiber insulation. Now is the time to insulate.

CARL DALLY

Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals

"Carl Dally has been a commissioner-in-aid to the court of criminal appeals for half a decade. He has argued before the U.S. Supreme Court and has had extensive experience in both the criminal and civil branches of the law. His opponent is a man with no judicial or appellate experience in criminal cases. We urge Texas Democrats eligible to vote in the June 5 runoffs to inform themselves of the qualifications of the candidates in this and all races. We urge them not to vote for a vaguely familiar name, but to vote for the best man. In the case of the runoff for the criminal appeals court, the best candidate is clearly Carl Dally."

AUSTIN AMERICAN-STATESMAN

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram calls Carl Dally "eminently qualified" and the Houston Chronicle says he is "uniquely suited" to serve on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. Dally is also endorsed by newspapers in Dallas, Lubbock, Corpus Christi, San Angelo, Tyler, Bryan, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Victoria and Wichita Falls.

The Railroad Commission is one of the most powerful regulatory and conservation agencies in America. Two candidates are in the June 5th Democratic runoff election:

JON NEWTON, 34, three-term House member with solid record of public service . . . authored the law regulating strip mining . . . fought for a Public Utility Commission . . . serves on Interstate Oil Compact Commission, Mining Council of Texas, Governor's Energy Advisory Council, House Energy Resources Committee (vice chairman) . . . endorsed by major newspapers throughout Texas . . . described by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal as "the resident expert on energy matters in the State Legislature" . . . in the first Democratic primary his Bee County neighbors gave him an 85% majority over his seven opponents.

Texas' energy and utility rate problems can be solved only by vigorous, responsible leadership and fresh approaches.

JON NEWTON

Texas Railroad Commission

Faced with a list of eight candidates for the Texas Railroad Commission in the first primary election, Democratic voters might have gotten confused. Perhaps they hadn't paid as close attention to the race as political observers believed they would. Perhaps none of the energetic and able young candidates managed to get their message across.

For whatever reason, the voters resurrected a discredited name from Texas' political past - Jerry Sadler - and gave him enough votes to lead the ticket. This despite the fact Sadler's career in Texas government has been one of the state's most undistinguished - he was reprimanded by the Texas House in 1969 while Land Commissioner.

But fortunately, the voters gave Jon Newton of Beeville more than enough attention to put him in a runoff with Sadler. And by giving Newton solid support in the June 5 runoff, they can go a long way toward making the Railroad Commission the public-serving, powerful body it should be.

We strongly recommend Jon Newton to the voters in the runoff election June 5. The fact that his opponent, Sadler, is a man who has earned not the trust but the approbation of Texans makes Newton's victory even more imperative.

CITY STATE BANK

The family farm could become a vanished specie if revisions in federal and state estate tax laws aren't made soon.

Outdated estate tax exemptions and an Internal Revenue Service provision which forces settlement of estate taxes within nine months after death are forcing hundreds of family farms out of existence.

Estate tax reform has become a prime issue on Capitol Hill, and a bill before Congress would raise the personal exemption to levels more realistic for today's farm valuations.

There are two basic courses a farm family can take: 1) form a corporation and distribute shares to the children ahead of time; 2) form a legal partnership which will guarantee that half of the farm belongs to the wife.

One thing a farm wife can do to help overcome estate tax problems is to document her contributions to capitalization of the farm so that she has proof that she helped operate and finance the business and was a true business partner.

Why lose what you have worked so hard to accumulate, when a little time and effort toward estate planning will save much of your investment.

"The more you know about our business, the more we can help you!"

Jon Newton Best Qualified For Railroad Commission

In this week's issue we offer the following editorial comments from newspapers around the state regarding the Railroad Commission runoff race on June 5. The Railroad Commission is an important and powerful regulatory agency that the voters of Texas cannot afford to turn over to a man of Jerry Sadler's reputation. We recommend Jon Newton.

DALLAS TIMES HERALD: "Mr. Newton has served three terms in the Texas House where he has become an acknowledged expert on energy matters. With his wide background and knowledge in the energy field, we feel certain that Mr. Newton would protect consumers' interest while at the same time being fair to the industries he would regulate."

HOUSTON CHRONICLE: "Jon Newton is armed with the knowledge necessary to fight the energy battle that is vital to our state's future. Newton's candidacy is drawing widespread support in the state because he is not tied to any segment and is pledged to represent the broad public interest."

DALLAS MORNING NEWS: "Of all the candidates in this important race, we believe Jon Newton is best qualified to meet the needs of this new day for the commission."

KILGORE NEWS HERALD: "Jon Newton is an unusually well-qualified candidate for this office which today is of tremendous and growing importance to our state and nation."

SAN ANGELO STANDARD: "An overview of Newton's philosophies, plans and ethics leads us to believe he is the best candidate."

Other Editors Say . . .

Food Stamp Reform?

Some welcome reform of the food stamp program is scheduled to take effect Tuesday. You may have noticed, however, that the welfare lobby is seeking to get a restraining order against the new regulations.

Whether the new rules will straighten out the program, reduce the costly wastes and still meet the original goal remains to be seen. It is refreshing to see President Ford and the administration support the tougher eligibility rules, and during an election year, too.

The program has mushroomed into a monster in a few short years. When it started in 1964, the program helped feed 442,000 people at a cost of $36 million. About 18.8 million persons now get food stamps at a cost of $5.7 billion. Complaints were widespread over the inefficiency and fraud in the program. The new rules are supposed to eliminate about 5 million people and cut $1.2 billion from the program.

There was an attempt to seek out fraudulent cases in Deaf Smith County, only after County Commissioner Bruce Coleman insisted. Two women appeared at a commissioner's meeting, complaining that many local families were mad because people living alongside them were able to work but not hitting a lick and getting all sorts of welfare benefits.

Even as tougher eligibility rules are announced, The Brand carried an article last week announcing that more help is being offered persons to procure food stamps. An additional state worker was assigned to the local Community Action office to seek out people qualified for stamps in Deaf Smith, Oldham and Castro counties. The funding was for 12 part-time food stamp outreach workers in 26 counties of the Panhandle.

We're all for QUALIFIED people getting food stamps, but bureaucratic bungling has made a shambles of the eligibility rules under the present program. We hope the new rules help get the food stamps to the right people and eliminate the undeserving.

—The Hereford Brand

AUSTIN—Gov. Dolph Briscoe has directed drafting of a $525 million cost-of-living pay raise proposal which treats school teachers and other state employees alike and calls for no local school contributions.

It would provide a 6.8 per cent a year salary boost—far short of the big jump to the "national average" teachers had been recommending.

Texas State Teachers Association spokesmen called the governor's plan "disappointing." Federation of Teachers representatives used stronger criticism: "ludicrous and insignificant." (Starting teachers would get a $544 a year raise).

Texas Public Employees Association, whose goals are in line with those outlined by Briscoe, were delighted.

"It's a realistic plan that meets the cost of living increase," said a TPEA representative.

"It does not do much to help the teacher salary situation compounded over the years. Texas teachers are 24th in the nation in pay," said TSTA Executive Secretary Calliew W. Smith.

Briscoe ordered that the state provide all funds for both the state employees and teachers, relieving local school districts of any further tax burden for salaries.

Road Program Approved

Texas Highway and Public Transportation Commission has approved a $20.8 million program for improving 283.7 miles of Farm and Ranch to Market roads in Texas.

The 1976 program includes new construction of 168.8 miles, provides additional financing for 86.8 miles previously authorized and finances 28.1 miles of projects previously authorized but not funded.

A total of 152.2 miles are new designations of which 87.6 miles are now on rural mail routes and 86.8 miles are included in school bus routes.

Projects and priorities were determined after consultation by TDHPT and county commissioners courts.

Candidates To Visit

Top Democratic presidential candidates will be in Texas June 17 for a fund-raising event on eve of the state party's convention.

Active candidates Jimmy Carter, Morris Udall, Frank Church and Jerry Brown and non-candidate Hubert Humphrey have accepted invitations to the "Salute to Bob Strauss" event honoring the Democratic National Committee chairman in Houston.

Democrats, convening June 18-19, will name 32 more delegates to the Democratic National Convention, 70 alternate delegates and seven members of the Democratic National Committee.

Courts Speak

Corpus Christi House candidate Abel Chapa was turned down by the State Supreme Court in an effort to substitute his name for that of Dr. Arnold Gonzalez on the June 5 Democratic runoff ballot.

The high court directed another trial in the case of a Dallas man claiming the wrong diagnosis by a physician resulted in his losing $40,000 in insurance for an injury to his back.

A young Houston mother who says she signed documents relinquishing her parental rights to see her baby without understanding what she was doing won a hearing before the Supreme Court.

Third Court of Civil Appeals ordered trial of a former paper company employee's suit for $76,000 on allegations that caustic products he was required to spray on paper caused skin damage.

Court of Criminal Appeals directed a reduction in bail for a dental lab student in a Waco burglary case.

AG Opinions

Cameron County can fix reasonable tolls and fees for use of its international bridge, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

—A constable or sheriff may require indemnity bond from the demanding officer before levying on personal property to satisfy tax judgment.

—Records maintained by a district clerk pertaining to a suit seeking termination of a parent-child relationship are not confidential unless the court orders the case file sealed. A court has discretion to control public access to records when justice requires.

Appointments

Gov. Dolph Briscoe named Dr. John Gray, Lamar University president, Beaumont, as Texas representative on the Board of Control for Southern Regional Education.

Charles Robert Richardson is new president of Sul Ross State University.

Briscoe appointed Dr. Bill L. Halbert of Teague to the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners, succeeding Dr. Robert W. Shirey of Hillsboro.

Briscoe designated Pearce Johnson of Austin a voting member of the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council. Briscoe also recommended John Green of Beaumont, Pat

Removal of Old Gin Plant Now Near Completion

Removal of the old Farmers Co-op Gin from its 50-year-old location at the corner of 8th Street and Highway 83 is almost completed. Only a little machinery and the bur box remain, according to J.M. Glasgow of the gin staff.

The Farmers Co-op is now accepting sealed bids on the 12 fifty-foot lots (one block) on which the old gin sat. Two wooden office buildings and a platform motor truck scale will go with the lots, Mr. Glasgow said.

The bids will be opened at the regular meeting of the board of directors Thursday night, June 10.

At the new gin site, foundation work is underway for rebuilding the old plant, and work is also being done to repair some of the machinery that was moved. This plant will go up immediately south of the new gin operation, with both using the same bur pile.

Youth Burned In Incinerator

Jerry Dan Davis, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Davis, was severely burned on the feet and lower legs Sunday evening, May 30, when he fell into an incinerator which contained smoldering coals.

He received emergency treatment at Collingsworth General Hospital and was transferred to High Plains Hospital Amarillo by Volunteer Ambulance Service Sunday night.

The boy's uncle, Chief Deputy Sheriff Richard Keller, said the accident occurred when he was down looking into the incinerator behind Junior High School. He started to turn around and fell into it, as there was no cover, Mr. Keller said.

He added that the boy has third degree burns on both feet and to three inches above his ankles. The family has been told by attending physicians in Amarillo that it will be about two weeks before it can be determined how badly burned he is.

Jerry Dan was playing with his brother and a cousin when the accident occurred between 7:00 and 7:30 p.m., Deputy Keller said.

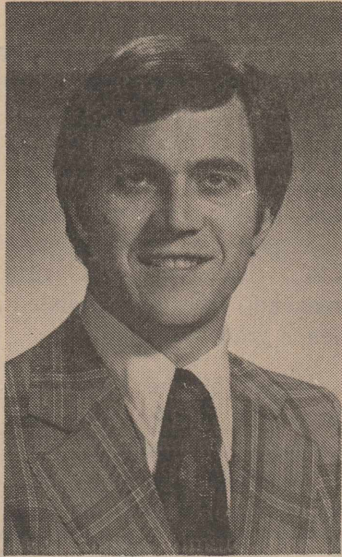

The boy's parents and grandfather, L.A. Davis, are with him in Amarillo.

Mike Hill Seeking State Farmer Degree

Mike Hill, Samnorwood Future Farmer, who is seeking his State Farmer Degree, had his application passed on the area level at a meeting held recently in Lubbock. He is a junior in Samnorwood High School.

He is one of only three per cent of the FFA members in Texas eligible for the honor.

Hill, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hill, has carried on swine projects through his high school years. Besides those he has in his FFA projects, he helps his father in care for a number of head.

With his older brother, Harold Hill, Jr., Mike has exhibited hogs at the Collingsworth County Fair.

Jimmy Brown, vocational agriculture advisor at Samnorwood, said that Hill previously was named District Star Chapter Farmer, as well as Chapter Farmer. He has been in Future Farmer work three years.

He has earned and productively invested more than the required $500 by his own efforts from his supervised farming and other agricultural work, outside of class time.

Mike was judged on leadership ability, demonstrated by performing ten parliamentary procedure activities; giving a five-minute

Beginning, Final Dates To Plant Crops Listed

There will be beginning and final dates for planting crops this year under the ASCS program this year, Bob Weatherly, county executive director, has announced.

Last year there was a final planting date only, June 10.

Under the 1976 regulations, "if at any time from May 10 to June 10, the conditions are so that you could plant cotton, then you will not be eligible for prevented planting credit, even though you normally do not plant until June 1."

Mr. Weatherly explained: "This means if a disaster (let's say rain on the first of June) came along and you usually planted starting on June 1st, and the rain prevented you from planting up to the 10th of June, then you were eligible for prevented planting.

Not so this year. If at anytime from May 10 to June 10 this year, the conditions are so that you could plant cotton, you will not be eligible for prevented planting credit, even though you normally do not plant until June 1."

The beginning and final planting dates are:

Cotton: May 10 to June 10. Grain sorghum: May 5 to July 1.

Corn: April 1 to May 31. Peanuts: May 15 to June 10. Soybeans: April 20 to July 1.

Any other crops planted, such as haygrazer, during this period will count against the acres a farmer could ask for prevented planting credit on.

"It will be next to impossible to get prevented planting credit this year," said Mr. Weatherly.

Visitors in the Les White home during the Memorial holidays were their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Tribble, Carol, Tommy and Shawn of Albuquerque, New Mexico. Guests of the grandchildren were Gary Wells of Ft. Worth, Sandy Goss of Albuquerque and Larry Davis of Abilene.
