FOUR RESIDENTS INVOLVED

Auto Crashes Injure Two; Damage Placed at $625

Two early evening auto crashes this week involving four Colorado City residents caused an estimated $625 damage and sent two elderly women to Root Memorial Hospital with minor injuries.

Suffering superficial bruises and lacerations in a Sunday night smashup on U. S. Highway 580 at the western edge of Colorado City was Mrs. Mary Davis of 924 E. 1st St. here.

Mrs. Davis, 72, was the driver of a 1950 Chevrolet sedan which was involved in a collision with a 1956 Ford driven by Jack L. Tollett, 23, of Jal. N. M.

Mrs. O. O. Shurtlett, 93 E. 13th St., a passenger in the Davis automobile, narrowly escaped serious injury when she was thrown from the car by the impact of the collision.

The elderly woman said she awoke later in a roadside ditch, surprised to find herself still alive. She suffered severe abrasions and bruises.

Both Mrs. Shurtlett and Mrs. Davis were taken to Root Hospital by Kiker and Son ambulance.

BUICK, PONTIAC

Automobile Agencies Consolidate Monday

Dealerships for Pontiac and Buick were combined into one automobile agency here this week.

Owner of the new twin dealership is Hunter-Merket Motors, formerly Hunter-Merket Pontiac. Consolidation of the Pontiac and Buick agencies was perfected here Monday with Hunter-Merket's purchase of Webb Buick Company, owned and operated by Hollis Webb.

Hunter-Merket is owned by Paul Hunter, F. W. (Lindy) Merket and E. A. (Bo) Merket. Operation of the firm will continue under the direction of Hunter and Lindy Merket, who headed the Pontiac agency.

Webb, who has been Buick dealer here since March 1952, said he will return to Big Spring, where he will be associated with McEwen Motor Company, a Buick and Cadillac agency.

"Combining" of the Pontiac Buick sales and service was immediate at 901 E. Second, formerly the home of Webb Buick. Building at 366 E. Second, formerly occupied by Hunter-Merket Pontiac, was vacated.

Staffs of the two agencies have been combined into one with both Pontiac and Buick trained personnel retained. They include Stanley Hamner, experienced Pontiac mechanic; Mac McGinnis, experienced Buick mechanic; Jake Garrett, bookkeeper; William Lindsey Jr. and Ford Lindsey, service department.

"We believe the expansion of Hunter-Merket into a combined Pontiac-Buick sales and service will offer even finer service and economy to Colorado City and this area of West Texas," said Hunter.

Paving Deserves Everyone's Attention

Municipal officials are seeking to complete a street improvement program with a paving project for unpaved areas within the city.

Right now, four blocks of new street paving are definite for the residential area, according to City Hall. That means property owners along those four blocks have signalled their approval for the paving and okayed a $2.75 front foot assessment for their cost portion of curb, gutter and paving adjacent to their property.

It's a fine project for the city, this new paving. It is low cost for property owners, too. And it is almost puzzling why more property owners in unpaved areas are not seeking payment.

Initial cost of street paving is provided on assessment basis with adjacent property owners reaching into their pocket books for a sizeable portion of the money. Maintenance and upkeep of the streets through the years is paid out of city budget funds without additional individual assessments.

The $2.75 per foot assessment for new paving within the city is something of a bargain. Here in Colorado City, the home of asphalt, paving cost for the individual property owner always has been relatively low, compared with assessments in other Texas cities. And this current assessment is no exception.

But even without the bargain price, street paving should be a constant civic objective. And it should be an objective until every block of street within the city is paved.

Just like any other improvement, street paving should be a concern for civic pride, civic advancement and civic good. Not only does it improve the appearance of a city, it also improves sanitary conditions and increases property values.

Property owner should encourage property owner to secure paving. And civic groups should encourage individuals.

Chamber of Commerce committees in the past have given fine assistance for paving projects within the city. And there is no reason why the same organization can not do the same now and in the next year.

If they do, a little time and thought might be given also to encourage the paving of downtown alleys, pretty big eyesores for any community.

Talks For Farmers

Farmers may someday tell when their crops need irrigating by using a simple electrical device tested recently by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It measures stress—an indicator of a plant's moisture needs.

For a rapid reading of a plant's water requirements, two small prongs of the device are stuck into the stem of the plant. The prongs are two stainless steel electrodes connected to an ohmmeter which measures the electrical resistance in the plant. The ohmmeter uses a similar instrument to measure moisture in wood.

In experiments with cotton plants, the researchers found that electrical resistance went down as moisture amounts went up. Within four hours after irrigation, a sharp drop in resistance was observed on the ohmmeter.

The experimenters believe that the increase in electrical resistance with increasing moisture stress is the result of the drying out of the solid framework, or cell walls, of the plant. This creates in the woody tissues of the plant either longer conducting paths between electrodes, or increases gaps in conducting paths—readily indicated by the ohmmeter.

Yeah...But What Are the Side Effects?

Behind Front Page

By Bill Sloan

ACTION TAKEN BY THE park board at a special meeting last week indicates that every effort will be made to continue the city recreation program at full strength.

The search is on by the city for another park director to meet with and coordinate the city's parks and recreation program. Temporary workers will be sought to fill the gap left by the resignation of Recreation Director Bill Brown.

For the city to be running as well as it is, as though the recreation program will continue, pretty much according to schedule.

Among subjects discussed at last week's park board meeting, outside of obtaining a new director, were various ideas on expanding the city program to include features for adults.

There was also talk about more changes at the Shell Center.

EVERYTHING CONSIDERED, however, the rodeo was a success and the Jaycees are again to be congratulated.

Since members of the civic organization took it upon themselves to grab the drooping reins of the rodeo this year, it will probably be left up to them to run any future shows we might have.

Nobody else seems interested in the project.

20 Years Ago...

(From the files of the Colorado City Record of Sept. 3, 1959)

Mitchell County, one of the 100 counties in Texas, was established in 1856. It was named in honor of John Mitchell, a pioneer settler.

The F. M. Burns Building at the corner of East Second and Elm Streets was purchased by Max Burns, owner of Burns Department Store.

The building, a two-story brick, was erected in 1884.

BIBLE COMMENT

Sing God's Praises For World's Peace

Singing is the essence of praise. And where praise is real it is always bursting forth into new songs. Although the old and beautiful songs are never discarded, but grow richer as time goes by.

In the 96th Psalm, the composer asks his listeners to compose a new song to Jehovah. His song in which he wishes us to accompany him—is an old one, but ever new. It is a song with a world-wide note. Its emphasis is salvation which comes from the Lord. Its atmosphere is not the narrow one of a single soul or tribe or people, not even of a chosen race.

"Declare His glory among the nations," says the psalmist.

"His marvelous works among the peoples." "Would God that we could do that today. Would that we could declare the glory of God among nations organized for violence and hatred. The psalmist says that God reigns, and that He will judge the peoples with equity.

By a study of history, we cannot doubt the truth of that. Judgment that is the thing we should be emphasizing today. It is judgment that has brought war upon our world. When men are greedy and selfish and violent and when these are allowed by peaceful men to dominate things, how in a world of law can there be anything but strife and trouble?

If there were no consequences of evil, we might indeed doubt the reality of righteousness and the persistency and sureness of God's judgments. So let us take confidence, even in dark days like these, in the assurance of the psalmist that the Lord "will judge the world with righteousness, and the people with His truth."

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

Demos Eye Johnson As Nominee in '60

By CLINTON DAVIDSON Democratic leaders, casting about for a Presidential candidate in 1960 have put Texas rancher Lyndon Baines Johnson near the top of their "shopping list." He is available.

Better known as Senator Johnson, the Majority Leader in the Senate, he, sometimes is called "Mr. Congress." His leadership in Congress has stamped him as potential Presidential contender.

During the first session of the 85th Congress Sen. Johnson increased his political stature in keeping with his broad shoulders. 6 ft. 3 1/2 in. frame, to establish his place as the No. 2 man in Washington, not ranked only by President Eisenhower.

Most of the time he worked to carry out legislative programs advanced by President Eisenhower, but he did not hesitate to oppose the President on issues where there was a difference of opinion, as in the civil rights battle.

Johnson's ranking as the second most powerful man in government stems from his own abilities, plus his position as Majority Leader, and chairman of the important Democratic Policy and Democratic Steering Committees.

EDUCATIONAL COSTS ON RISE

Biggest Texas School Problems Are Found Outside Classrooms

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association. Students are trooping back to school for another year of reading, writing and arithmetic.

But the knottiest school problems are not in the math books.

For parents the problem is the high cost of practically everything. Tuition at state colleges has doubled in the past few years. Even the parents of first-graders are wind-up toys. Cost of books, plus crayons plus lunch money, takes an ever growing bite out of most family budgets. Many mothers will go back to work this fall to help balance the income-outgo equation.

On a bigger scale Texas school agencies and administrators have the problem of the "old woman who lived in the shoe." They have so many children they don't know what to do. Their problem of trying to balance school facilities against school needs is complicated by the fact that one side of the equation—needs—keeps on growing.

Some 1,853,440 children are expected to enroll this month. That is 70,000 more than last fall. To keep the education mills grinding, Texans will spend an estimated $226,000,000 this year. It's twice as much as was spent eight years ago. Local districts are pouring some $40,000,000 into new buildings this year.

Showdown on Water. It's now or never for Texans to solve their water problems in an orderly manner.

This, in effect, is the attitude of Gov. Price Daniel as he sets the wheels in motion for a "big push" this fall.

The attack will be by a 100-man statewide water planning committee appointed by the governor. It is to meet in Austin beginning Sept. 9 to develop a master plan for water conservation and flood control over the state. Committee members include civic leaders and persons interested in and acquainted with water problems.

SENATE REPORT

Promises Fulfilled In Senate Session

By LYNDON JOHNSON

This is the last of the news letters for this year. They will be resumed with the next session of Congress in January.

Meanwhile, I am returning to Texas for rest and relaxation and some visits with old friends.

But since this is the last of my newsletters for the time being, I think it is time to take a look at the first session. It did not accomplish everything. No session can do that. But it delivered what was promised.

ECONOMY? The people called for economy and they got exactly that. The budget was cut by $5,500,000,000. 87 per cent. A Democratic Congress saved that much money out of the proposals of a Republican President.

CONSERVATION? Important water projects were advanced. New ones were launched. Surveys were started on the Texas rivers. Most important of all, the Bureau of Reclamation and the Army Engineers agreed to work together and produce an overall water plan for Texas.

MILITARY? Military reconstruction is important to Texas. Our State is a key part of the defense system. Congress appropriated $2,375,000 for further construction and expansion of facilities in Texas.

MUTUAL SECURITY? The Congress shifted from the "give-away" concept of Foreign Aid to a sound respectable program of loans. It has been our experience that gifts create ill will and bad feeling. But nations to whom we have lent money have a good record for repayment.

State Capitol NEWS

from all parts of the state.

They'll also be asked to help plan future water legislation and develop support for the proposed constitutional amendment that would provide a $100,000,000 bond issue for water projects.

Second phase of the governor's plan is the special legislative session to pass needed additional laws. Target date for the session still is October, the governor has indicated.

Two pieces of water legislation are proposed by Governor Daniel: (1) Creation of a state water planning division to draw up a master plan and (2) a law enabling the state to purchase water storage space in federal reservoirs (a measure which failed last session).

Planning division probably would cost from $500,000 to $700,000, says Daniel. This can be obtained, he says, from special funds appropriated but not used for other purposes.

If Texas doesn't face the responsibility for its water planning itself, declared the governor, the federal government will take over with a "take it or leave it" plan.

Greenhill, Appointed. Joe R. Greenhill, of Austin, will become an associate justice of the State Supreme Court on Sept. 30.

Greenhill was appointed by the governor to replace Judge Few Brewster who is resigning because of ill health.

He is a former assistant attorney general to Daniel and was the governor's campaign manager in '56. Daniel termed him "one of Texas' ablest lawyers."

Cotton Crop Slow. Ginning of Texas' cotton crop is lagging behind 1956, but a larger yield than last year is still expected.

By mid-August only 20,500 bales had been ginned, reports the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Last year at this time almost twice as much had been ginned.

But crops in many areas are late due to untimely rains. USDA still predicts the '57 crop in Texas will be 3,775,000 bales compared to 3,615,000 last year.

More Errors Found. All the excitement over moving the State Insurance Department out of the International Life Insurance Co. building in Austin was for naught.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has ruled invalid that part of the reorganization bill which ordered a new building.

Wilson says the bill was improperly drawn.

Most Are Sound. Most Texas insurance companies are strong. So said Judge Penn Jackson in his first public speech since becoming chairman of the Board of Insurance Commissioners.

But, he added, a smaller number are losing ground and may or may not be able to survive.

New Courts. A new 11th circuit court in Austin and only 32 Dallas ones are open for business.

Judge Major B. Thurnham, formerly of Travis County, County Court at Law, was named to the new bench in Austin.

Judge Wade Williams, Dallas attorney, was appointed to the new court there.

Short Shorts. Texas ranked seventh in the nation last year in per capita income, reports the Bureau of the Census. Texas per capita income, $1,885. National average, $1,940.

Dr. N. Jay Rogers of Beaumont and Dr. Ira E. Woods of Grapevine have been reappointed by the Governor for six-year terms on the State Board of Optometry.

Another motor vehicle inspection period has arrived. You have until next April 15 to get your new stickers, however. But early inspections are urged by the Department of Public Safety.

Texas draft calls continue to shrink. October draft is 338. It compares with 387 for September and 447 for August. Draft fees will be taken from $20 and over, except for volunteers.

Texas has 7 nursing schools. They passed the recent state-wide examination for vocational nurses licenses. Two schools have been newly accredited to teach vocational nurses: Mary Ann Hospital at Lubbock and Fort Worth General Hospital School of Vocational Nursing at Ft. Worth.

Jobs as examiners with the State Board of Insurance now are open. They are positions created by the last legislature. Requirements include a college degree with both courses and experience in insurance accounting.

AT-SAN ANTONIO MEET

Local Co-op Backs Foreign Oil Curbs

Officials of the Lone Wolf Electric Co-operative here were in San Antonio last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for the annual membership meeting of Texas Electric Co-operatives.

The meeting, largely concerned with promoting legislation at the state level favorable to co-operatives, also saw action taken supporting U. S. curbs on foreign oil imports.

In a resolution passed at the convention and strongly supported by the local delegation, co-operative members voted to back government restrictions on outside petroleum imported into this country in order to protect Texas independent oil firms.

The Lone Wolf Co-operative provides power for a number of independent operators in Mitchell County.

The meeting featured talks by a number of state senators and legislators.

A speech by Texas Senator Lyndon Johnson was scheduled to highlight the San Antonio meeting, but Johnson was unable to be present because of the civil rights filibuster which was at that time raging on the floor of the senate.

In lighter business conducted at the meeting, delegates saw a contest to choose "Miss Rural Electrification of Texas."

Professional judges chose the winners.

Miss Virginia Templeton of Lone Wolf was entered in the contest as "Miss Lone Wolf Electric."

She was presented a clock radio as a consolation prize in the contest. Girls from Ochiltree and Wood Counties won first and second places respectively.

Miss Templeton had previously been awarded an entire wardrobe and an expense-paid trip for her and her mother to the San Antonio contest as local contest winner.

Attending the state meeting from Mitchell County were Mr. and Mrs. Herb Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hrbacek, James Hull, Raymond Perdue, A. K. McCarley Jr., Lon Straub, Mrs. J. M. Templeton and Miss Templeton.

McCarley and Hrbacek are newly elected directors of the Lone Wolf Co-operative, and Cooper is the new vice-president.

The three were elected at the annual members meeting last month.

People who can easily pay any price say:

"Pay more...what for? Ford's the buy!"

Why? Because this 1957 Ford gives you the advanced features, the solid ride, the effortless handling that you once expected to find only in expensive cars. And when it comes to looks, where can you find fresher styling than in the sculptured-in-steel lines of this new Ford?

Ford's superiority is evident in many places. In the vital rear axle, the pinion gear that turns the rear wheels is straddle-mounted... supported between two anti-friction bearings instead of being "overshung" from a single bearing. This makes operation quieter, smoother and longer lasting. It's a feature that Ford shares with only one other car maker in the world—Rolls Royce.

Or consider Ford's famous V-8 engine. No other manufacturer in the industry today electronically balances every V-8 engine, while operating under its own power, the way that Ford does. This means you get a smoother-running engine—the finest V-8 in Ford's 25 years of V-8 leadership.

These are only a few of the important hidden values that are yours in Ford. But they indicate why so many people who can pay almost any price for a car—people who have driven expensive cars for years—are buying Ford today. Action Test this great performing car at your Ford Dealer's just price and you, too, will ask, "Pay more... what for?"

YOU CAN SPEND HUNDREDS MORE... BUT YOU CAN'T BUY BETTER THAN THE NEW KIND OF FORD

Make seeing and studying easier!

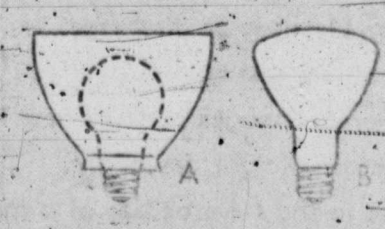

with proper light at the study table

School age youngsters need plenty of good light to prevent eye fatigue and to aid concentration. You'll be giving your children real help with their homework when you make sure they have good study lighting.

In most instances, a good table lamp with a 150-watt bulb will provide ample light. The lamp should be properly shaded to conceal the light source from the eyes and should be tall enough to spread light evenly over the work area.

Check home study lighting now. Be sure your youngsters have plenty of good light to make seeing and studying easier.

LOOK UNDER THE SHADE! To soften the light and prevent glare, a study lamp should be equipped with a diffusing bowl (A) or a 150 watt white indirect bulb (B). Which has its own built-in diffuser. For three-way lamps, use a 50-100-150 watt or 50-200-250 watt three-way bulb.
