Minor's effort major as annual rodeo begins

Led by Gordon, Neb. cowboy Shawn Minor, Western Texas students grabbed an early claim to first place in five events and were sitting in second in five others heading into tonight's 7:30 show.

Minor posted a 71 to lead the early standings in the bareback, then scored a 75 in the saddle bronc to share the top spot in that event with teammate Pete Ellis.

Chasity Rickman and Emily Schaffer clocked a 7.6 and a 7.7 respectively in the goat tying to hold down first and second in that event Thursday. Tona Wright is sitting fifth with a 9.8-second run.

Another WTC cowgirl, Jamie Stewart, maneuvered the barrels in 13.7 seconds to move into second in that event. Wright made the distance in 13.9 to hold down third. Vernon Regional Junior College cowgirl Jody Peterson had Thursday's fastest time — a 13.52.

Calhoun, Ga. freshman Ryan Weaver wore the WTC vest in posting a 4.1-second run in the steer wrestling. Following closely behind were two other WTC students, Brent Harvey with a 4.2 and Chad Pelster with a 4.9 for second and third place.

Leading the way in the breakaway roping was Western Texas' Dayna Doyle. The sophomore from Azle whipped a cat-quick 2.3. Just off the pace was Howard College's Shawn Wise with a 2.4. WTC's Stewart, Schaffer Shacey Hatch and Texas Tech's Shawna Shields were locked in fourth place with identical 2.7s.

Doyle put a short string on her calf but missed out on being named 1996 WTC Rodeo Queen earlier in the evening. That title went to Snyder freshman Vanessa Williams. Hamlin freshman Jessica Jeffrey was also a candidate.

Odessa College students Jim Walz and Coy Irwin lead the team roping with a 5.8-second time and Texas Tech's Cy Griffen is pacing the calf roping with a 9.2 Western Texas' Todd Loesch is tied for second in the calf roping with a 9.6 time.

In the final event of the show, Howard College cowboy Mike White scored an outstanding 81 to lead the bull riding. Jason McClain of Frank Phillips holds down second with a 79.

The long-go continues tonight and Saturday morning. The top 10 cowboys and cowgirls in each event advance to Saturday's short-go, also scheduled for a 7:30 grand entry.

Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for children at the door. All seating is general admission.

Rodeo-related activities include a 1 p.m. team roping Saturday at the WTC Arena and a dance tonight and Saturday at 9 o'clock in the Scurry County Rodeo Association pavilion on Gary Brewer Road.

The annual WTC Alumni Rodeo will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday in the coliseum. Tickets are $4 and $2. Competition is open to all WTC alumni, their spouses and current students.

SHS students set for regional meet

Twenty-two Snyder High School students will compete in the Region I UIL Spring Meet, set for Saturday on the Angelo State University campus in San Angelo.

The SHS students will be competing in 27 individual and four team events. The local group is among some 413 entries in the region, represented by 41 high schools in seven districts. Students who place first through third in an event Saturday will advance to the Class 4A UIL State Meet in Austin.

Among the Snyder High School students competing will be Kathryn Robbins and Cara Byram in computer applications, Molly Wilson and Lacey Parker in editorial writing and Jami Brown, Jason Crow and Kenneth Darlin in accounting.

Others are Brooke Gladson and Stacey Parker in feature writing, Thomas Bishop in headline writing, Matt Hester in informative speaking and Sterling Cave in literary criticism.

Also competing will be Emily Zeck and Heather Ward in prose, Kelley Olsen in news writing, Mat Powell in math and Steven Ashley and Paige Bell in number sense.

SHS students entered in multiple events are LaTrisha Lee in science, math and current issues and events, David Kerr in science and math, Ammie Harrison in persuasive speaking and number sense and Mandy Baker in science and ready writing.

Making the trip as an alternate in headline writing will be Michael May.

Snyder will compete in four team events — accounting, math, number sense and science.

THE SDN COLUMN

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Trouble is one of the few commodities where the supply exceeds the demand."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: Water, or the lack of it, has been on the minds of most West Texans.

The Hamlin Herald reported that Hamlin is hoping to solve its shortage problem with the purchase of water from nearby Anson, whose water source is Hubbard Creek Lake.

Water, however, does not come without it's pricetag. A 14-inch pipeline from Anson to Hamlin would cost some $4 million.

Some have predicted for years that the day would come when water would be more valuable than oil...

After defeat of a $11.7 million bond issue in 1991, the Big Spring ISD again is looking at going to voters. The estimated cost of the school bond proposal in Howard County, according to the Big Spring Herald, is $14.86 million, an increase of more than $3 million.

The Lamesa Press-Reporter noted that the city council approved a $5.6 million budget with two councilmen voting against the adoption.

The opposition of the pair, it seems, had to do with a proposed 10 percent increase in water and sewer rates.

After winning re-election, the sheriff offered the challenger his old job back. He refused, telling the commissioners court that the sheriff's assignment of him was the same as termination. Strange things....sounds like the makings of a lawsuit.

But on a lighter note, O.G. Nieman in the Hereford Brand, told of a pre-school teacher who was reminding her pupils, "Remember that every citizen in this country is free."

Spending bill stalemate may end soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The marathon stalemate between President Clinton and Congress over a massive $160 billion measure financing dozens of federal agencies for 1996 may soon be over, Democrats and Republicans say.

Bargainers from both sides said Thursday that while major disagreements remain, they have been narrowing differences over spending and other issues and could push compromise legislation through Congress next week.

"We're very close," Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., told reporters during a day in which the two sides held repeated closed-door bargaining sessions.

"We're moving significantly closer to agreement," concurred Rep. David Obey of Wisconsin, the ranking Democrat on the appropriations panel.

Juvenile arrested on robbery charge

A simple shoplifting incident at Wal-Mart Thursday evening turned violent as a fight ensued and subsequent robbery charges were filed against a 16-year-old juvenile.

Three other people who police say were involved may face felony charges.

City detective Jerry Cowin said the 16-year-old male attempted to leave the store around 7:20 p.m. without paying for several items, including two cartons of cigarettes, compact discs, cassette tapes and packages of condoms.

A fight broke out when two store employees attempted to apprehend the youth in the parking lot. During the fight, three other people joined in the fracas with some of them allegedly making threats against the employees, including threatening to kill them.

Cowin said because of the fight and threats, shoplifting charges against the 16-year-old were upgraded to robbery.

Last night, the juvenile was taken to a Sweetwater juvenile facility where he remained this morning.

Two others involved in the incident were arrested shortly before 8 p.m. at 26th Street and College Avenue by officer Pablo Coronado for public intoxication and misdemeanor driving while intoxicated.

Taken into custody were an 18-year-old female who was charged with DWI and an 18-year-old male who was charged with public intoxication.

They both remained in jail this morning in lieu of $500 bonds.

Auditions planned for children's play

Auditions for the Ritz Community Theatre children's production of "Charlotte's Web" will be held Monday and Tuesday.

The play, based on E.B. White's classic children's tale, has a flexible cast for four to six girls, six to seven boys, two men and two women.

Boys and girls in the third grade through the eighth will be eligible to audition for animal and insect roles as well as for characters Fern Arable, Avery Arable and Lurvy. High school or above age actors and actresses are needed to play the Zuckermans and the Arables.

Auditions will be held at the Ritz Theatre on the south side of the square. Hours will be from 4 until 6 p.m. Monday and from 7 until 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The cast includes Wilber, an irresistable young pig who desperately wants to avoid the butcher; Fern Arable, the girl who befriends Wilber; Templeton, the gluttonous rat who can occasionally be talked into a good deed; Charlotte, the extraordinary spider who proves to be a true friend; and John and Martha Arable, Fern's parents.

Others are Homer and Edith Zuckerman, owners of "Zuckerman's Famous Pig;" Avery Arable, Fern's typical little brother; Lurvy, the hired hand; Uncle, a conceited fat pig; and a chorus of farm animals.

ATHLETES OF THE YEAR—Edwina Brooks (left) and Wayne Braziel were name the top female and male athletes of the year Thursday at the annual Snyder High School All-Sports banquet. The banquet was hosted by the Snyder All-Sports booster club.

SHS's 'Corn' cast enters play contest

SAN ANGELO — Snyder High School enters the Region I UIL One-Act Play Contest here today with a berth in Austin at stake.

SHS will present "The Corn is Green" on the Angelo State University campus at 5 o'clock, the fourth of six plays in the competition. The top two plays selected will compete in the state contest in May.

The play schedule was to begin at 2 p.m. with Big Spring High School performing "Edith Stine." Following one hour apart were to be El Paso High in "Tortilla's," Pampa High School with "A Game," Snyder High in "The Corn Is Green," Granbury in "Edith Stine" and Red Oak High School in "The Boys Next Door."

Rod Caspers of the University of Texas is the critic judge. Announcement of awards will be at approximately 8:45 p.m.

ASK US

Q—In reference to Thursday's Ask Us about making 37th Street four lane from College Avenue to U.S. 180, how much will it cost and who pays for it?

A—The road improvement is projected at $1.8 million and will be paid for through state funds.

Israel moves troops to border, fear retaliation

QANA, Lebanon (AP) — Lebanese guerrillas fired rockets into northern Israel today to avenge the deaths of 75 Shiite Muslim refugees killed when Israel shelled the U.N. base where they had taken shelter.

Israel retaliated with new air attacks and artillery bombardment of southern Lebanon. Gunboats also shelled the coastal highway linking Beirut with the south, forcing authorities to close it.

There were no new reports of casualties on either side on the ninth day of Israel's military campaign designed to rout Iranian-backed Hezbollah guerrillas.

Prime Minister Rafik Hariri told reporters in the capital, Beirut, that his government was talking to Hezbollah officials in an effort to arrange a cease-fire. He said he expected a truce by the middle of next week.

Hezbollah said it would stop its cross-border rocket attacks if Israel halted its military campaign. Israel has said it will agree to a cease-fire if Hezbollah stop its attacks on northern Israel.

The United States, France and the United Nations increased the diplomatic pressure on the countries involved in the violence to halt the fighting that has killed 134 people and more than 300 since April 11. Lebanese police say almost all of the dead were Lebanese civilians; Israel says about 30 of them were guerrillas.

The attack Thursday on a U.N. base in southern Lebanon was the deadliest since the fighting began. More than 100 people were wounded, including four Fijian peacekeepers.

The death toll was unclear. Many of those killed were blown to pieces. Timor Goksel, the spokesman of the 4,500-member U.N. peacekeeping force in Lebanon, said today that the peacekeepers had counted 75 bodies.

"After that we lost count," he said. "I believe there could be more."

Lebanese news reports said up to 100 people were killed.

Prime Minister Shimon Peres of Israel said the offensive would continue. Israel had "no choice but to defend its citizens," he said Thursday, accusing the guerrillas of hiding behind civilians.

The United Nations said that shortly before the Israeli attack on the U.N. base in Qana, guerrillas had fired two rockets and eight mortar rounds from the area. But Gen. Stanislaw Wozniak, commander of the U.N. force in Lebanon, said that was no excuse for the attack.

"Simply, you don't attack civilians," he said during a visit to the base. "You don't attack U.N. positions."

It was unclear how the shelling would affect Mideast peacemaking. But Israel's most enthusiastic partner in peace, King Hussein of Jordan, condemned the attack bitterly. Echoing other Arab leaders, Hussein called for an immediate halt to Israel's "malicious aggression" and "criminal military operations."

President Clinton called for a cease-fire by both sides and ordered Secretary of State Warren Christopher to the region to mediate a truce, and Foreign Minister Herve de Charette of France continued his shuttle diplomacy in the Middle East.

The U.N. Security Council unanimously approved a resolution late Thursday calling for an immediate halt to the violence. It laid no blame for the fighting, and rejected an Arab League-backed proposal that would have condemned Israel alone.

Israeli troops braced for possible reprisals, moving 30 tanks and 20 armored personnel carriers to the border with Lebanon to reinforce the 1,200 troops the army maintains in a border strip in southern Lebanon.

Hezbollah fired more than 50 Katyusha rockets across the border overnight, U.N. officers said. A Hezbollah official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said rockets struck six Israeli towns this morning in retaliation for Thursday's attacks.

An Israeli military source, speaking on condition of anonymity, said "fewer than 10" hits were reported.

Husband's Best Friend Is Not On Best Behavior Around Wife

DEAR ABBY: If my husband knew I was writing to you, he'd swear I was nuts. But I have a problem I have never seen addressed. I read your column every day, and most of the time I agree with you and respect your opinion.

My husband's best friend, "Earl" (not married), has been cornering me alone and keeps saying he has always loved me! I have tried avoiding him, and he tries to avoid me when he's sober. However, we are social drinkers, and since they are such good friends, there are times we can't avoid each other. I have never encouraged Earl and have let him know that I'm very much in love with my husband — but that doesn't stop him.

Should I tell my husband? I'm afraid if I don't, he'll hear Earl one day and think there's something going on. They have been friends for years, and I'm afraid if I tell, their friendship will be hurt, and I'd never do anything to hurt either one of them.

Your thoughts on this, please.

IN A BIND IN BATON ROUGE

DEAR IN A BIND: You are much too kindhearted. If the shoe were on the other food, and your best friend began hitting on your husband every time she got a snoot full, wouldn't you want to know?

Corner Earl in the cold, sober light of day and tell him that his unwelcome advances have made you uncomfortable for the last time and if it happens again, you will tell your husband. And if you're put on the spot again — do it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A friend of ours has a 7-year-old son who molested our 7-year-old child. We alerted our friend to the situation, and she confronted her son, who admitted the act.

From what our child told us, this was not just "curiosity." Our friend took her son to a child psychiatrist and informed us that they discovered the boy had been molested for over a year by an older boy. Then we were told that he would have to be in therapy anywhere from six months to a year.

After two or three visits to the doctor, the mother stopped taking him because it was too upsetting for the child, and he would cry and get sick before the appointment, so no more therapy.

Do you think this is wise? Since he was molested and has acted out on other children (ours was not the only one — there were several), should he or should he not be in therapy? I believe he should.

CONCERNED FRIEND

DEAR CONCERNED FRIEND: I, too, believe the boy should be in therapy. Is the boy rebelling because he dislikes the therapy — or the therapist? Perhaps another therapist could be a solution.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Bravo to you for your recent response to the letter from the Canadian woman whose husband was in prison.

My father went to prison just before I was born. My mother always told me he was "in the Army," since, like your reader, she didn't think I was old enough to understand. Unfortunately, the neighborhood children didn't take my young age into consideration when they informed me that my father was a "jailbird."

Later, my mother apologized for her mistake in not being the one to tell me the truth, even though it wasn't pretty. She never lied to me again about anything, as she expected me to always be truthful with her.

How much better it will be for your Canadian reader's children to hear the truth from someone who can convey it to them in a loving, sensitive manner. They have the added bonus of their father not being guilty of the crime. Unfortunately, I can't say the same about my father.

EVERGREEN, COLO.

Memories vivid on bombing anniversary

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Diana McDonnell was standing next to a friend's desk in the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building when a bomb ripped through her eighth-floor office one year ago.

That memory is still too fresh for Mrs. McDonnell to return to the site today for ceremonies marking the anniversary of the bombing, which killed 168 people, including 35 of her co-workers in the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

"I was there last year at 9:02, and I don't want to be there this year," Mrs. McDonnell said Thursday. "I'm staying home tomorrow. I could not go to work yesterday. And I could not go today. I've kind of reached the point where I could not go any further."

For Mrs. McDonnell and other survivors of the bombing, the emotions are too strong to allow them to return today to the vacant lot where the building once stood.

"Many are leaving the city. Some are leaving the state," said Troy Grigsby, special assistant to the state coordinator for HUD. "Nobody's been allowed to forget. There have been constant, constant reminders."

Grigsby is one of a few HUD administrators who will answer telephones in the Oklahoma City office while the rest of the staff takes the day off.

"I, like everybody else, have to keep going," Grigsby said. "You have to remember, but you have to keep going."

Fear and anxiety over the bombing's anniversary are a common response among survivors, according to psychologists who met Thursday at a symposium.

"We know the first year is always the most difficult," said Karen A. Sitterle, a Dallas psychologist who worked with families of bombing victims. "For a lot of people, it doesn't feel like it's over. It feels like it's unresolved."

At the bombing sit today mourners will remember the dead by observing 168 seconds of silence and then reading their names in alphabetical order.

Bagpipers will lead a procession of survivors and families about five blocks to the Myriad Convention Center, where another ceremony will be held, including speeches by Mayor Ron Norick, Gov. Frank Keating and Vice President Al Gore as well as a videotaped statement from President Clinton.

Some federal employees may wish to stay away because of fears for their safety, the psychologists say. "They must feel like moving targets," Ms. Sitterle said. "I think this is true with federal employees across the country."

Mrs. McDonnell admitted, "Sirens drive me crazy. The closer they get, the more panicky I get."

Other federal workers said they feel it is important to participate in the anniversary services and remember the co-workers who died.

"I'm excited about being a part of something, to remember the friends that we lost," said Raymond Stroud, vice president and comptroller for the Federal Employees Credit Union, where 18 workers died. "Here at the credit union, just about everybody who could get a ticket is going to the services."

Florence Rogers, the credit union's president, said some employees feel the ceremony will help bring to a close the events of the past year.

"Once we get through April, maybe it'll be a little bit better," she said. "I hope so."

Heightened alert seen for Republic of Texas activity

AUSTIN (AP) — Concern over a political group that wants to make Texas an independent country has put local law officers on heightened alert for suspicious activity near government buildings.

An internal bulletin from the Travis County sheriff's office, obtained by the Austin American-Statesman, says that starting Thursday, the Republic of Texas group plans to come to Austin "to remove the Internal Revenue Service and other federal agencies from the land they now consider Republic territory."

An official of the group, however, says it is peaceful and has no plans to come to Austin this week.

Members who do "will be in violation of our laws and international laws," said Rick McLaren, whose Republic title is chief foreign legal officer. "It sounds like somebody is feeding crap to the CIA."

Travis County Sheriff Terry Keel wouldn't comment on details of the bulletin.

"This is typical of the types of matters we deal with every day in the sheriff's department," he said.

Security has been intensified anyway at federal facilities in Austin and elsewhere in preparation of today's anniversaries of the Oklahoma City bombing and the fire at the Branch Davidian religious compound near Waco.

Republic of Texas members, who have staged several demonstrations in recent months, contend that the federal government illegally annexed Texas and want to secede from the United States.

They have sought to disband state government, telling Gov. George W. Bush that he should vacate his office and move out of the governor's office.

McLaren said he believed the sheriff's bulletin was linked to "judicial proceedings" the Republic initiated in the group's courts against the Internal Revenue Service.

On March 18, "we gave them 30 days to get out or we finish the process," McLaren said. He said the process would be peaceful and in accordance with "international law."

The sheriff's office bulletin says Republic of Texas members left fliers on Texas Department of Public Safety employees' vehicles last week saying group members will be using paper licenses on their vehicles.

Security near Freemen's is increased

JORDAN, Mont. (AP) — Fearful of possible violence on the anniversaries of the Oklahoma City bombing and the fiery end to the siege near Waco authorities locked in a standoff with the Freemen brought in more police.

"It's just a little extra security to make sure nothing happens," Garfield County Sheriff Charles Phipps said Thursday.

The move was prompted by concern that outside supporters of the Freeman would arrive and cause trouble, said Carol Hellyer, a sheriff's dispatcher.

Authorities would not say how many extra officers brought in; Hellyer said they included sheriff's deputies from three other counties.

One year ago today, at 10:02 a.m. EDT, a bomb blast ripped apart the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City, killing 168 people and injuring more than 500 others. On April 19, 1993, 81 members of the Branch Davidian cult died in the fiery ruins of their compound near Waco, Texas, after federal agents moved to end a 51-day siege.

There was little activity inside the Freemen's compound Thursday, a day after five Freemen met for almost two hours with two negotiators. The talks, the first since four Montana legislators met with the anti-government Freemen on April 4 and 5, raised hopes that the standoff might be ending.

Perhaps you think that Geoffrey Chaucer had the right idea about bridge when he wrote, "The lyf so short, the craft so long to lerne." However, it is the variety in bridge that has kept it alive. Today's deal is a good example. How would you plan the play in three no-trump after West has led a heart into your ace-queen?

Even if South were showing only 15-17 points with his opening bid, North was right to jump to game. His good five-card suit and two aces make the hand well worth it.

South won the first trick with the heart queen, cashed the club king and ran the club nine. East happily won with the queen and returned a heart. Now South, with only eight tricks, had to try the diamond finesse, but that lost too and the defenders ran the heart suit to defeat the contract.

"Boy, look at that," grumbled South. "Both finesses wrong and the hearts 5-3. Of course, I could have got the clubs right, but it would have been awkward to play that way."

"All that is true," said North. "Yet you should have made the contract. It is one of those rare deals in which you should attack your shorter suit first. Suppose you start by playing a diamond to dummy's ace and a diamond back."

"Let me think about that. Here, if East goes up with the diamond king, I have nine tricks by way of one spade, two hearts, four diamonds and two clubs. And if he ducks his king, then I can switch to clubs. Yes, of course. But hold on a moment. What if my diamond queen loses to West's king?"

"Then you need diamonds to break 3-3 or to find the club queen. You are still better off."

Dr. Gott

By Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What's your opinion of the psychological effects of having an older child wear a diaper for a bed-wetting problem? My new husband has had his 12-year-old daughter wearing disposable absorbent underpants for the past year. I feel products like this are infantilizing and that the only appropriate response to bed-wetting is to use alarms, drugs and the like in an aggressive attempt to end the problem. My husband feels I'm only putting pressure on her for problems she'll outgrow anyway. Am I wrong in my thinking or should I pursue my beliefs for her sake?

DEAR READER: In my opinion, you are correct that using diapers in a bed-wetting 12-year-old girl is infantilizing. This activity certainly couldn't do much for her self-esteem.

However, I disagree that alarms are the answer either. Drugs? Perhaps. You may be aware of a new prescription nasal spray (DDAVP) that contains a hormone which reduces urination. When given at bedtime, DDAVP significantly reduces bed-wetting. The child's pediatrician may wish to prescribe it.

I am certain that many readers suspect — as I do — that your stepdaughter's problem could have a psychological cause. Here you are in a new marriage, competing with your stepdaughter for her father's attention.

Her regression to more child-like behavior may represent an attempt, on a primitive level, to "get him back." And, from the sound of your question, she is partially succeeding. Boy, is she succeeding. You now have a full-blown game of "Uproar!" in your own house.

She's wetting, he's diapering, you're complaining — the family is frantic. She's getting major attention and, at the same time, undermining your confidence and authority. What father can resist taking his daughter's side against the "wicked stepmother" who is urging aggressive remedies for the problem?

Maybe I'm overplaying this, but it wouldn't hurt for you and your husband to analyze the dynamics in the family. You are the interloper, no doubt. Can you encourage your stepdaughter to acknowledge this competition, to share her anger and frustration, to work through the problem of control and manipulation, to establish a new and healthy balance between the adults and children?

I'm willing to bet that some honest, gut-wrenching dialogue would immeasurably help the situation — if not in the privacy of your home, maybe in the office of a professional counselor.

In any case, your stepdaughter needs to know that she is loved, secure and accepted. She must be allowed to come to grips with the scariness of a new family unit. She has to believe that her father loves her unconditionally — but that he loves you, too, and there's plenty to go around. You all may have a lot of work ahead.

Therefore, alarms and drugs for bed-wetting may not be appropriate in this situation. As you can see from my long-winded answer, the bed-wetting may just be the tip of the iceberg; this inappropriate behavior may really be your stepdaughter's convoluted cry for help. Take her in your arms and begin the healing process.

Tigers-Matadors square off Saturday

After a disappointing loss Tuesday, the Snyder Tigers will be looking to get back on the winning ways Saturday when they go to Lubbock for a 1 p.m. game with Estacado.

After having a 2-0 lead Tuesday, Levelland came back to score seven over the last three innings to take a 7-2 victory.

The loss did not hurt the Tigers in the standings as much as first thought since Estacado lost to Lamesa, 7-5.

The Tigers still hold a one game edge over the Matadors. Snyder is 4-2 in league play while the Mats are 3-3.

Snyder took the first game with Estacado, 3-1, but had to score two in the bottom of the sixth to take the win.

Clay Berryman is scheduled to get the start Saturday. The ace of the Tiger staff has an 11-2 record.

In other district action this weekend, Sweetwater will be looking to score its first run since the Snyder game when they host Lamesa tonight. The Mustangs have gone over 20 innings without a run. Frenship will be playing Levelland Saturday in Lobo Park.

Nebraska's Berringer dies in airplane crash

RAYMOND, Neb. (AP) — A Kansas map with burned, crisp edges was hidden in the dry prairie near the wreckage of the two-seat airplane, Brook Berringer's hometown of Goodland barely visible.

Berringer, the lanky 22-year-old quarterback who helped Nebraska win consecutive national championships, died Thursday as he began to work toward another dream — to pilot a commercial airplane.

Berringer was piloting the 1946 Piper J-3 Cub aircraft when it crashed on takeoff Thursday in a dry alfalfa field 11 miles northwest of Lincoln. Also killed was his girlfriend's 32-year-old brother, Tobey Lake of Aurora, Colo.

Berringer, expected to be selected in the NFL draft this weekend, held a pilot's license and often flew the plane, said Harry Barr, the plane's owner. Berringer flew the plane earlier this week.

At the Devaney Center in Lincoln, players and fans hugged one another late Thursday at a Fellowship of Christian Athletes banquet, at which Berringer had been scheduled to speak.

"Brook would want this event to go on as planned," Nebraska coach Tom Osborne said. "I know he would want it to be done in the spirit with which it was intended to honor God. Brook honored God. Brook enjoyed life to the fullest."

SHS athletes honored during sports banquet

By Brent Taylor
Sports Editor

Edwina Brooks and Wayne Braziel were named the top athletes of the year at the Snyder High School All-Sports banquet held Thursday.

Brooks, a senior, lettered in volleyball and track. Brooks will be running in the regional track meet next weekend as part of the 400-meter relay and in the triple jump. It was also announced that Brooks will attend Vernon Regional Junior College in the fall on a volleyball scholarship.

A three-sport letterman this year, Braziel was a part of the football, basketball and track teams. Braziel advanced to the regional track meet in the 110-high hurdles and 300-meter hurdles.

The Bill J. Hood academic award for the athlete with the highest grade point average went to Sterling Cave. Cave was named first team all-district this year in volleyball.

Football: Matt Parker, Most Valuable Player; David Wagner, Best Hustler; Jeff Hobbs, Head Buster.

Girl's Basketball: Erica Garvin, Most Valuable Player; Melanie Kidd, Defensive Player of the Year; Tami Tucker, Pride Award; Jami Brown, Tiger Sport; Jodi White, Most Improved.

Tennis: Salvador Aguirr and Michelle Spencer, Outstanding Players of the Year; Brett Gibson and Cynthia Fennell, Most Improved.

Girl's Track: Kelly Clay and Alicia Peoples, Tiger Heart; Christy Tankersley and Felsha Biggers, Most Improved; Jamie Burleson, Rookie Field Event of the Year; Melanie Kidd, Rookie Runner of the Year.

Baseball, softball and golf awards were not handed out due to their season still taking place.

Other groups who were recoginized were the cheerleaders, cross country, powerlifting and trainers. Head trainer Steve Krueger presented the male pud award to Marlowe Riggins and the female pud to Connie Payne.

Non-Texans may just be jealous?

By The Associated Press

The editors of SPY magazine must not have heard of that old slogan "Don't mess with Texas."

The magazine has picked the Lone Star State as the most annoying in the nation, and in the republic that boasts of everything being bigger and better, the designation has left some, well, annoyed.

"If you get annoyed by blue skies and friendly people and lots of space and strong women, don't come," suggests former Lady Bird Johnson press secretary and Texas enthusiast Liz Carpenter.

The Most Annoying States roster is included in the June issue of the bimonthly satirical magazine. Titled "God Help America," the article ranks the 50 states in order of annoyance.

"Texas may not be the worst place in the country," write authors Alex Gregory and Peter Hyuck, saying that title belongs to the District of Columbia. "But like the vulgar, free-wheeling yahoos that reside there, the former Lone Star Republic is bigger, louder, and full of more baseless braggadocio than any other state. ... Houston, we have a problem, indeed."

So what, exactly, is so irritating about Texas? The list is broken down into six categories, with dozens of examples. Here are a few:

— Reasons not to live there: The phrases "big ole" and "little bitty." Rodeo is not only a socially acceptable cultural medium, it is also part of the curriculum at many Texas colleges and universities.

— What passes for culture: The National Cowgirl Hall of Fame.

— What passes for entertainment: World Championship Slingshot Matches. Billed as a "shoot-em-out with slingshots."

— Dumbest laws: It is illegal to milk another person's cow. The entire Encyclopedia Britannica is banned in Texas because it contains a formula for making beer at home.

— Dumbest towns: Bigfoot, Hicks and Ding Dong.

— Most embarrassing residents or natives: Meat Loaf, Anna Nicole Smith and George and Babs Bush.

Gov. George W. Bush, the son of the former president, was in California Thursday and unavailable for comment. But his spokesman, Ray Sullivan, urged people to come to Texas and form their own judgment.

"The folks at SPY magazine are obviously a little envious of what Texas has to offer," Sullivan said. "We have wide open spaces, a great quality of life and a growing economy. We would invite people to come down and see for themselves how great Texas really is."

"It's a Texas thing, and if the rest of the world can't understand it, that's fine," he said.

News briefs

80 employees lose jobs

COMFORT (AP) — More than 80 people are without jobs in this small Texas town following the sale of a map-making company by one publishing giant to another.

Employees of H.M. Gousha didn't know about the closing of their company until they showed up for work on Thursday and discovered that the building was closed and that the only people inside were security guards.

The map-making company was the largest private employer in Comfort, a town of about 1,500 people, situated about 50 miles northwest of San Antonio.

Airline takes off in windshear

DALLAS (AP) — An American Airlines jet with 132 passengers aboard was allowed to take off into a dangerous storm last week because of a communication breakdown in the Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport control tower, officials say.

Flight 1352, bound for Pittsburgh, flew into a wall of wind that robbed it of almost 40 mph in airspeed as it left the airport at 6:31 p.m. Friday, The Dallas Morning News reported today.

The pilot was so shaken that he radioed back to controllers that it was "by the grace of God" that his McDonnell Douglas MD-80 did not crash.

He later made an emergency landing at Tulsa, Okla., where maintenance crews reported finding no damage. None of the passengers was injured.

The Federal Aviation Administration said it is investigating why the plane was allowed to take off into dangerous windshear conditions.

Your Birthday

Saturday, April 20, 1996

Impressive gains are possible in the year ahead in conjunction with individuals with whom you share strong emotional ties. Work on projects you can share with family members or loved ones.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your chart indicates that you might become involved in some type of profitable arrangement today. Try not to include unproductive spectators. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You might have a change of heart today in regard to a development in which you initially felt imposed upon. You will learn a valuable lesson.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The influence you exert today will have an uplifting influence on others. If someone you like needs encouragement, a pat on the back from you will mean a lot.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Today, do not deprive yourself of a group activity you find enjoyable just because you happen to dislike one of the participants.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) The people you expect to help you with something you hope to achieve might make themselves unavailable. However, a more competent substitute may fill in.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Today, abrasive tactics will not help you to accomplish your goals, but charm will. The good guys will be lucky today, and the bad guys will finish last.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) There could be some unexpected developments in your household today, but you will not mind them a bit. They will stem from a benign situation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A hastily formed partnership arrangement may not have been constructed fairly. However, this problem can be corrected today if you speak your mind.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) By performing services for others today, you can receive larger-than-usual returns. These benefits may last for only a few days, so get moving.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you gamble on anything today, make sure it's on one of your own ideas. You will have good luck, but others might not be as fortunate.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You can find strength in numbers today. Something substantially beneficial for you and your family can be realized if everyone's intentions are in harmony.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Someone who can help you to satisfy an immediate need can be approached more easily if a friend intervenes. Let your pal try to speed up the process.

Rev. Billy McCauley

Revival set at Trinity

Evangelist Billy McCauley will lead revival services at Trinity United Methodist Church starting Sunday. The Lubbock evangelist will speak at 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday.

Monday and Tuesday services will begin at 7 p.m.

Rev. McCauley is also a musician and songwriter. Presentations blend his messages with song and soprano saxophone.

A graduate of Texas Tech University and Asbury Theological Seminary, Rev. McCauley is an ordained elder in the United Methodist Church. He has served pastorates in the Northwest Texas area. He became a full-time evangelist in 1992 and founded Words & Music Ministries.

Trinity United Methodist is located on the Big Spring highway just north of Cogdell Memorial Hospital. The public is invited.

Special at First Baptist

God With Us, described as "a worship experience for all seasons," will be presented by the Adult Choir and Orchestra of the First Baptist Church at 10:45 a.m. Sunday.

God With Us is a celebration of God's presence among us and reminds us that He wants to be involved in every aspect of human life. Stirring narration, personal testimonies and beautiful praise and worship music promises to make God With Us a meaningful and significant time.

The community is invited to attend.

Methodist church has guest speaker

Dr. Larry Brunner will be guest speaker at the 11 a.m. worship Sunday at the Hermleigh United Methodist Church.

From Abilene, Dr. Brunner is professor and chairman of the English department at Hardin Simmons University.

Brunner, son of a Methodist minister, brings many years of experience teaching and sharing God's Word.

THE SECOND SON!

THE SECOND SON BORN TO JACOB (BY LEAH, GEN. 29:33) WAS SIMEON. WHEN ONE OF JACOB'S SONS WAS NEEDED AS A HOSTAGE TO GUARANTEE THE RETURN OF THE REST OF THE BROTHERS TO EGYPT, JOSEPH CHOSE SIMEON (GEN. 42:24). IN MOSES' TIME, THE TRIBE, WHICH BORE SIMEON'S NAME, HAD SWELLED TO INCLUDE 59,300 FIGHTING MEN AT THE FIRST CENSUS TAKEN IN THE WILDERNESS! NO WOMEN OR CHILDREN WERE INCLUDED IN THIS NUMBERING NOR IN THE SECOND COUNT, YEARS LATER, WHEN THE TOTAL NUMBER OF FIGHTING MEN HAD DROPPED TO 22,200 -- AFTER A PLAGUE HAD THINNED THEIR RANKS! SIMEON, THE MAN, WAS RESPONSIBLE, ALONG WITH HIS BROTHER LEVI, FOR THE MASSACRE OF THE INHABITANTS OF SHECHEM ---

---AS REVENGE FOR THE HARM DONE TO THEIR SISTER DINAH (GEN. 34:24-30) WHICH THEIR FATHER, JACOB, DID NOT CONDONE! PERHAPS THAT IS WHY JACOB'S BLESSING (GEN. 49:5-7) UPON SIMEON WAS SUCH A HARSH ONE!

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

Fight prompts several arrests

Five people were arrested early today, following a fight at Club 250 that was reported at 12:25 a.m.

Taken into custody for public intoxication were a 23-year-old male, two 24-year-old males, a 25-year-old male and a 33-year-old male.

At 2:09 a.m., officers arrested a 26-year-old male in the 4300 block of Avenue V for public intoxication.

At 8:01 a.m. Friday, officers investigated a minor accident on a parking lot at Snyder High School. Involved were a 1979 Plymouth driven by Scott Sanders of 1566 CR 132 and a 1988 Chevrolet pickup driven by Mary Pena of 310 20th St.

Another minor accident was investigated at 8:09 a.m. in the old Kmart building parking lot. Involved were a 1988 Plymouth van driven by Carolyn Gulseth of 2504 30th St. and a 1992 Chevrolet driven by Lisa Johnson.

A small grass fire was reported to the fire department at 2:55 p.m. near U.S. Highway 84 east of town

Snuffy Burditt notified deputies at 10:22 p.m. that four goats were missing from 900 North Avenue N.

Spending bill lock may end soon emerged from an earlier session and said, "This will be wrapped up next week, I think. The whole wonderful '96 experience, over at last."

Stubborn disagreements remain over logging in Alaska's Tongass National Forest, management of parts of California's Mojave Desert, and other issues that both sides are reluctant to stage election-year retreats on. But negotiators said they have solved or narrowed lingering differences over spending for advanced technology, hiring police officers and other programs.

"I'm increasingly optimistic," Senate Minority Leader Tom Daschle, D-S.D. said today, "On funding ... I would say we're probably 95 percent agreed."

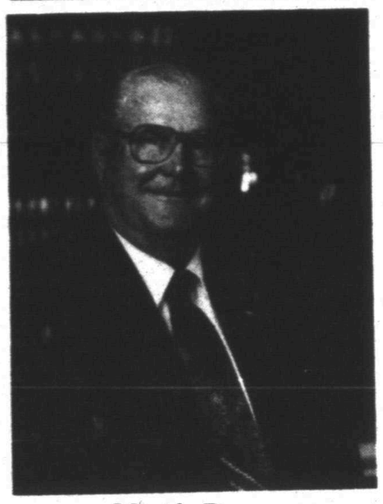

Six-and-one-half months after the start of fiscal 1996, the impasse over the bill has already forced two partial government shutdowns and become an embarrassment to both parties. At this time of year, Congress is usually focusing on spending measures for fiscal 1997, which begins Oct. 1.

For months, the two sides have been stalemated over Republican efforts to curtail spending for a number of education, environment, technology and other programs.

Obituaries

Marvin Dupuy

Marvin Dupuy

1922-1996

Funeral service is set for 11 a.m. Saturday in the North College Ave. Baptist Church for Marvin Paul Dupuy, a retired production foreman for Union Oil of California. Officiating will be the Rev. Cliff Cooper, pastor. Burial will follow at 2:30 p.m. in Trinity Memorial Park in Big Spring.

Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Dupuy, 73, died Thursday, April 18, in Cogdell Memorial Hospital following a brief illness.

Born in Gorman, he married Billie Cate on Dec. 2, 1944 in Gorman. He was a U.S. Navy veteran of World War II.

A resident of Snyder since 1965, Mr. Dupuy was employed as a pumper and production foremen for Union Oil of California for 27 years.

Mr. Dupuy was a member of the North College Avenue Baptist Church, a member of the Scurry County Masonic Lodge and three times served as Past Master of the Order of Eastern Star.

Survivors include his wife, Billie Dupuy of Snyder; two daughters, Sue Burnett of Plainview and Paula Brown of Snyder; two sisters, Ellen Winkles of Abilene and Ernestine Sittern of Oregon; a brother, Herman Henry Dupuy of Washington; five grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

Mr. Dupuy was preceded in death by three infant children, Marvin Dewayne Dupuy, VeLenda Lee Dupuy and Mickey Dupuy.

"Chic" Hale

1922-1996

Thomas Belton "Chic" Hale, a long-time resident of Scurry County, died Wednesday, April 17, in Cogdell Memorial Hospital following a long illness.

Funeral service for Mr. Hale, 86, is set for 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the 37th Street Church of Christ with Howard Jernigan, former minister of the Primitive Baptist Church, officiating. Homer Anderson, minister of the 37th Street Church of Christ, will assist.

Born Feb. 10, 1910 in Lovelady, Tex., he graduated from high school there. He married Bernice Brown who died in 1975.

He married Bernice Reed on May 5, 1979 in Midland. The couple lived at Lake Thomas before moving to Snyder in 1985. He was a retired electrician.

Mr. Hale was a member of the Masonic Order No. 935 of Ira for more than 50 years, where he held all offices. He served as president of the AARP in Snyder, was active in the Permian Basin Rock and Gem Society, and was a member of the Presbyterian church.

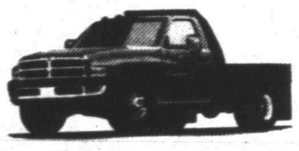

He was also preceded in death by a step grandson, Bryan Barnes; his parents; two brothers; and one sister.

Survivors include his wife, Bernice Hale of Snyder; six step daughters, Doris Turner of Twisp, Wash., Verna Ingle of Sudan, Billie White Everett of Lubbock, Bobbie Combest of Snyder, Clynice Baker of Midland and Linda Hitchcock of Clifton, Va.; 18 step grandchildren; 24 step great-grandchildren; two step great-great-grandchildren; one nephew; and four nieces.

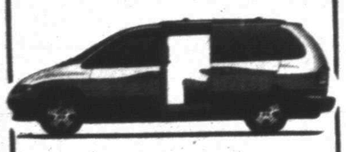

Grandsons will serve as pallbearers. The family suggests memorials to the Snyder EMS, the Primitive Baptist Church or the 37th Street Church of Christ.
