New Polling Site Named For Navigation District Elections

By Pat Blair

The polling site for Pct. 1 in the August 8 Aransas County Navigation District elections will be the Gospel Lighthouse on Highway 35 South.

A decision to move the polling station to another site was made during an emergency session of the Navigation District commissioners at 11 a.m.

Thursday, June 18.

The District originally voted, in the meeting, to hold the election for Pct. 1 in Live Oak Elementary School.

However, after the meeting it was learned that Live Oak Elementary is in Pct. 2 and could not be used. Navigation commissioners then made the decision to hold the election in the Gospel Lighthouse.

The customary polling site in Pct. 1 is the VFW Hall in Rockport, but commissioners were told Thursday the VFW Hall has been rented on August 8 for a wedding reception.

Filing for the Navigation District began June 10 and will continue until noon, July 7. Filing is at the Navigation Building on Rockport Beach during office hours, 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Three persons have filed as candidates in the August 8 election for Aransas County Navigation District commissioners, including two incumbents seeking re-election.

Hillis Dominguez has filed for re-election to Pct. 2 and R.W. (Bobby) Landrum to Pct. 3. The third candidate is Gail Driver who is seeking election to Pct. 1.

Jimmy Anders, incumbent commissioner in Pct. 1, earlier announced he did not plan to seek re-election.

All five Navigation District commissioners' positions are up for election. Under the provisions of the state law establishing the Navigation Districts, all commissioners in the district are elected in alternate, odd-numbered years.

Also on the present board are David Maguglin, chairman, and Ken Faulkner. Neither man had filed for re-election as of the Pilot's press time.

Absentee balloting for the election will begin July 20 and continue through August 4 in the County Clerk's office, Aransas County Courthouse.

Voters will elect one Navigation District commissioner from each county precinct and one on an at-large basis.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. on the August 8 election day and remain open until 7 p.m.

In other action during Thursday's meeting, Navigation District commissioners heard from representatives of Berwick Bay Oil Company in Cove Harbor who were asking for information on proposed improvements to their property.

Commissioners asked that Berwick Bay begin paying a one cent per gallon maintenance fee retroactive to March 1 but appeared to concur with a Berwick Bay proposal that the oil company bulkhead only some 250 feet of the lease initially, rather than the entire 412 feet.

Tug Damaged By Fire

By Ted Norman

Fire, the dreaded fear of all sailors, became a reality for the five-man crew of the Rockport-based pushboat Charles E. Ankele Sunday morning, June 14.

According to Jimmie Ankele, owner of Ankele Towing and Transportation Company of Rockport, the 72-foot Charles E. Ankele received between $200,000 and $300,000 in damage from the early morning fire.

Frank Cody, the on watch pilot of the vessel said that about 5:30 a.m. he smelled something burning but only thought the crewman who had gone to the galley had burned his breakfast. Moments later Cody was driven from the wheelhouse of the pushboat by a raging fire that was sweeping throughout the boat.

The fire apparently broke out in the starboard crew's quarters on the second deck around 5:30 a.m. Sunday morning and began to spread rapidly through the six-year-old vessel as some crewmen were just waking to relieve the watch.

About the time Cody smelled something burning, relief pilot Ronnie Gaines was beginning to wake up to go on the bridge to relieve Cody. Gaines said he smelled smoke, looked at the closed door to his cabin and saw a glow. Gaines said he ran from the room into the passageway and burst through a door to the relative safety of the exterior deck of the tug.

Gaines received burns to his arms, back and neck but this didn't stop him from rushing to the door of his fellow crewmen and waking them so they would not be trapped.

As the pushboat, loaded with 12,000 to 14,000 gallons of fuel, drifted with her barges loaded with sand and gravel the crew began battling the fire.

Crew members first tried to use small wall-mounted fire extinguishers, but in a matter of minutes got the on board fire pump going and began fighting the raging fire with high pressure water hoses.

Exploding glass from the wheelhouse kept the crew and their fire hoses on the lower deck for a while, but after all the glass had exploded they were able to move closer and bring the fire under control.

Cody said they had left the Victoria Barge Canal earlier with a load of sand and gravel headed for Houston. Now the fire-ravaged boat, drifted helplessly in the Intracoastal Canal about eight miles south of Port O'Connor with no power and no radio and an injured crewman on board.

The fellow crewmen kept Gaines in the shade and tried to comfort him while seeking help.

The fire had completely destroyed the bridge and all the electronic equipment including all the communications gear aboard and pilot Cody said. "All we had were some small walkie-talkies that we normally use to communicate from the tug to the barge, and they were useless."

After an hour or so with no help in sight, Cody said he thought about launching the small skiff on the stern of the tug and sending a man for help, but changed his mind after deciding it would be too dangerous.

The tugboats Allen B and Ray Elizabeth Kelso came by and helped maneuver the drifting barge to the side of the waterway, but were

Fishermen Fry To Fight Bill

Trying to raise money to fight Texas' recently adopted redfish bill, commercial fishermen are holding a fish fry at the boat ramp in Rockport's Turning Basin Saturday, June 20.

Some "25 or so" commercial fishermen in the Rockport-Fulton area are participating in the fish fry from noon until 6 p.m.

Fishermen from other areas along the coast are also expected to be in Rockport for the event.

Jack Suttles, one of the local fishermen behind the event, said the group is trying to raise "somewhere between $15,000 and $20,000" in an effort to get the redfish bill into appellate court.

Commercial fishermen are fighting a bill signed into law last month that prohibits commercial fishing of redfish and speckled sea trout in Texas waters.

Grantham Trial Reset For July 24

CORPUS CHRISTI — Trial of Dallas Alton Grantham, 53, of Fulton, arrested March 15 in a Seadrift drug raid, has been rescheduled for 9 a.m. July 24 in a federal court in Corpus Christi.

Grantham was one of 14 men named in a federal indictment returned after law enforcement officials — including members of the Aransas County Sheriff's Department — conducted a pre-dawn raid in Seadrift March 15 that resulted in seizure of 27,830 pounds of marijuana.

The raid has been called the largest drug seizure in the history of the Coastal Bend.

Three Rockport men, Talton Lee James, 40, David A. Pfeiffer Jr., 24, and Thomas Joseph Burke, 22, pleaded guilty to lesser charges of conspiring to import less than 1000 pounds of marijuana.

The three entered their pleas in federal court in May. Pfeiffer was sentenced Wednesday, June 17, but information could not be obtained as of press time Thursday, June 18, on what that sentence was.

James and Burke are scheduled for sentencing later this month.

Pre-Trial Hearings Set In Oil Theft Case

LONGVIEW — Two Aransas Pass men and a former Rockport man will go before District Court in Longview next month in pre-trial hearings on charges of involvement in an East Texas oil theft conspiracy.

Residents Can Get Answers To Social Security

Rockport-Fulton residents who have questions or need help with Social Security problems can get local assistance on alternate Wednesdays this summer starting July 8.

Beginning on that date, a representative from the Social Security Administration will be at the Aransas County Courthouse from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. every other Wednesday through September 28.

In Aransas Pass, sessions will be from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. on alternate Wednesdays starting July 15 through September 23. The representative will be at the Department of Human Resources, 111 West Wilson.

uled to appear in District Court July 31. It is expected that a trial date will be set at that time.

Also scheduled for a pre-trial hearing next month is Bob Young, formerly of Rockport, who was arrested in Oklahoma after being named in one of two sealed indictments returned by a Gregg County grand jury earlier this year.

Young waived extradition from Oklahoma earlier and was arraigned in the 188th District Court of Judge Marcus Vascocu.

The three men are among 16 named in the two indictments returned by a Gregg County grand jury in March, charging the 16 defendants with "a conspiracy to form a combine for profit, to commit the offense of theft over $10,000."

The defendants are alleged to have stolen an unknown amount of crude oil from the East Texas Oil Field in Gregg County, either from a well or oil storage tank, and delivered it by truck to refineries where the oil was sold.

Values of up to $1 million have been estimated for the oil stolen.

Notable Notes

Church School

The First United Methodist Church will have its vacation church school, with the theme "We Hear God's Word", from July 6 through July 10 from 8:45 until 11 a.m. The school is for children ages three through sixth grade. For more information you may call the church office at 729-1659.

Church Barbecue

The Sacred Heart Catholic Church is sponsoring a barbecue Sunday, June 28, to begin at 11 a.m. on the Church parish grounds. In addition to the barbecue beef plates ($3.50 donation) there will be an old-fashioned auction, a country store and a drawing. Grand prize for the drawing will be a 19-inch color television. Donations of $1 for one drawing ticket or $5 for six tickets will be asked.

Baptist Barbecue

The Greater First Baptist Church, 213 Gagon, will have a barbecue with all the trimmings Saturday, June 27. Serving will begin at 11 a.m.

Council Meets

Rockport's City Council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, June 22, at City Hall.

Ducks Unlimited Meet

Ducks Unlimited will hold their meeting on Tuesday, June 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the First National Bank Town Meeting Hall.

New Chamber Hours

The Rockport Chamber of Commerce has announced new hours for the summer. Effective immediately the Chamber office will be open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. on Saturdays.

Rotary Endorses Choir Trip

Members of Rockport Rotary Club have enthusiastically endorsed the plan to send the Rockport-Fulton High School choir to participate in the Eleventh International Youth and Music Festival in Vienna, Austria, in July, 1982.

The endorsement came at a luncheon meeting of the local civic club at the Sandollar Restaurant, Wednesday, June 10.

The endorsement followed a presentation of the project by Martha Luigi, director of the choir, who related some of the recent accomplishments of the group and characterized the invitation to take part in the festival as an "outstanding recognition of the group's ability."

Following Mrs. Luigi's talk, a number of Rotarians urged that the planned trip be made a civic project which local organizations and individuals should support financially.

It was pointed out that selection of the Rockport-Fulton choir to take part in the festival should be a matter of great pride to the community. Mrs. Luigi added that the numerous side trips planned and public appearances in European cities in addition to Vienna would make the experience "invaluable" to the students.

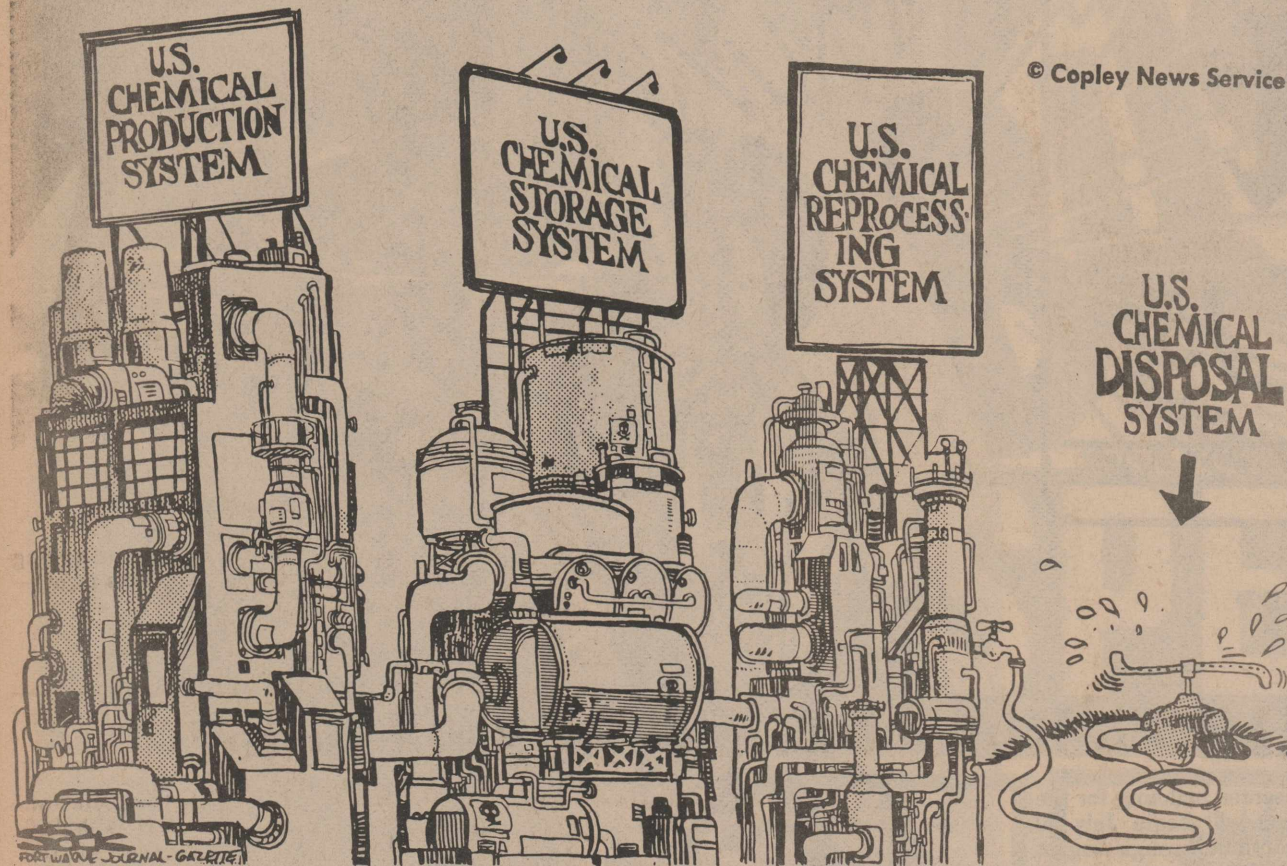

POSSIBLE SOURCE

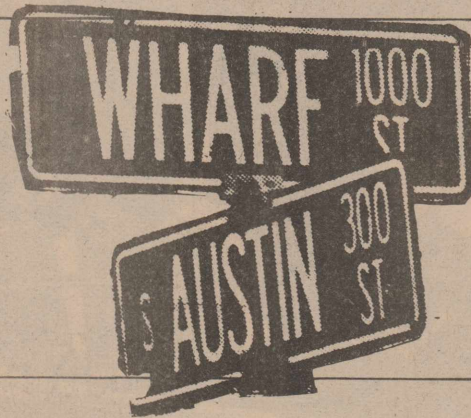

Marine insurance investigators aboard the Charles E. Ankele tugboat check an air conditioning unit in the starboard crew's quarters after the tug caught fire early Sunday, June 14, near Port O'Connor. One person was injured in the blaze that swept the vessel. The source of the blaze was suspected to be an air conditioner and the unit was subsequently removed and taken on deck for additional study.

Austin at Wharf

HERE I GO AGAIN, just askin' for trouble. I rolled up behind the lady in her big new shiny car. I could only see the back of her nicely coiffed gray hair.

The stop light took a long time to change and the bumper sticker on her car attracted my attention. "I'm an Aggie's Mom".

Yes, I write this as I read it. I'm a long-time admirer of Texas A&M, one of our state's leading educational institutions. Call me a chauvinist if you will, but I've always had a fancy for the corps and rued with it the day the institution became coeducational — but no more.

There are no moms of an age to be moms of the days before, and so I must regard it as a pity that the only institution of higher learning (to my knowledge) that has a Mothers' Club never had a chance to matriculate distaffs in its English department. Ah, that sweet little forgotten apostrophe.

I AM PRIDEFULLY A country boy, but I've lived in my time in such great cities as New York and Baltimore. Time was when they frightened me to death; then I learned to love them, in an odd sort of way. Yet not enough not to yearn then for the country I've come back to.

Corpus Christi is, for example, one of the most delightful cities in the land. The really big-town type will snort, "small town!"

Well and good, it is increasingly too big for me.

It has been a couple of years since I was last in Houston. It frightened me then and a recent report tells me that each week more than 1,600 cars are added to its freeway traffic. I break into a cold sweat at the thought.

A recent addition of USN&WR advises that within 20 years the population of Texas will double, that it will take 170,000 more jobs to stave off unemployment. Small wonder the article is titled "Worries on the rise in the Sun Belt."

Trouble is that with the exception of a few people, everyone in Texas delights in the growth, invites it. Austin is an exception. Big, bouncy Houston and Dallas cry for more. So, too, little Corpus Christi.

I know very little about Dallas, regard it as do so many others as Yankeeland in the South. Neither disparagement nor praise are intended.

Houston, I know, just grows and grows like Topsy. No one cares how or where.

In Corpus Christi there's a bit of caring but down at the starting line all hands will take anything, even when it means more tall smoke stacks because they mean more jobs. Little or no thought is given to the circumstance that more jobs will not succor the hard-core unemployed, only that it means more newcomers.

And then to the satellite towns. I'll mention three, all alike and yet very unlike. Refugio, halfway between booming Corpus Christi and Victoria, doesn't boom and it doesn't decline in population.

It is a lovely place — old, quaint and perhaps a bit self-satisfied. Yet the time is near — if not at hand — when the tentacles of the big cities will reach out and first affect, then absorb it. Does anyone plan for, anticipate the circumstance? Lackadaisically if at all — or do I misjudge the foresight of an unusual and outstanding mayor?

Then to Rockport. Booming almost like Houston, and headed for trouble. Only a few days ago large groups of citizens turned down a proposal for a county-wide sewage system.

I'm not familiar with the details, but allow five years and the present growth and the county will be floating in muck. Frightened city and county officials, bent on holding their jobs, succumb to people who dream of the "old, sleepy fishing village", an ideal place for retirement.

Trouble is that every new arrival has the same dream.

Then Port Aransas, flamboyant, colorful, unique. A few years ago it boasted a rip-roaring summer population. Came winter and it became a quiet little town, populated by "almost natives". Contentedly they whiled away the gray months and welcomed the spiciness of the sunny day's visitors.

No more. Port Aransas is acquiring a growing around-the-year citizenry. Happily there is a consciousness of growth, but what of the planning? It is all so new that the answer remains to be seen.

Meanwhile, (and who will deny this?), we live in the most exciting part of continental USA, and the best of it! Those who dream of maintaining the status quo — and they are many — are little short of being madcaps.

Whatever gods there be have given us our sunshine and it is doubtful that that can ever be taken away — yet who knows in this ever-changing world where the impossible happens every day?

But we can protect our clean air, husband the wealth of our bays and the waters offshore. None of which means to deprive anyone of a lawful living.

HA, LAWFUL LIVING. I am sympathetic to honest fishermen who succor their families from what they take from the sea.

At the same time I think their animosity should be toward the illegal netters instead of the sports fishermen, a group gone overboard with protective ideas. —ahah

Live Oak Peninsula Philosopher

Editor's note: The Live Oak Peninsula Philosopher on his grassy ranch discusses freedom of the press this week, sort of.

Dear Editor: Everybody claims they believe in freedom of the press and are opposed to censorship but there are some things I'm not sure should be printed.

For instance, I guess everybody agrees that the Federal government is spending far more than it takes in and the budget should be cut before bankruptcy sets in.

The battle cry has been "Washington is going to wreck the nation if it doesn't stop spending so much!" President Reagan got elected on that notion.

Now here comes a news item, printed in newspapers for everybody to see, reporting that over half the cities in the country are spending more than they take in. Not just big cities, but cities of 10,000 population up, although the bigger the city the further it's going into debt.

That's the kind of news that shouldn't be spread around. It takes all the fun out of blaming Washington for the shape we're in. A man can get a crick in his neck pointing one hand at Washington and the other at the city he's living in.

When a person finds he's spending more than he's making, generally the only answer at the moment is to change the subject.

So, according to another article I read, the Supreme Court has agreed to decide whether kids under 18 have a Constitutional right to play pinball.

Some town passed a law prohibiting kids from playing such machines, claiming they were spending their school lunch money on the things, and — for all I know — playing the machines after school when they ought to be at home watching television.

Since it never occurred to anybody to suggest that if the kids spent their lunch money foolishly the answer is to let them go hungry, naturally the only answer is to take it to the Supreme Court.

If you think being a Supreme Court judge is a soft job, try to imagine those nine old men huddled around a table using magnifying glasses trying to find something in the Constitution that covers kids playing pinball machines.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

State Of The Region

By Juliet K. Wenger
Coastal Bend Council of Governments

The increasing involvement of women in money management was discussed in a seminar for the professional woman held in the Coastal Bend by a San Antonio woman stockbroker, Dr. Jerry Kleffner.

Dr. Kleffner has a background both in business and in early childhood development. She has been a consultant and counselor in widely diverse fields.

She finds more and more women seeking financial consultants and overcoming the belief that they are not able to handle money.

Her experience has been that both men and women most frequently allow their personal and financial lives to meander. They make decisions through default by not making decisions, putting it off, letting what will happen.

She finds men to be much more risk oriented and women more conservative in investments. She advises to avoid either extreme, adding that in today's economy, the conservative approach loses money.

Another difference she finds is that men — who have learned to compete as teams — help and encourage one another. Women, taught to compete as individuals with other women, are just beginning to realize the advantages of looking out for one another.

One of the first things she advises men and women is to track cash flow, determine where your money is going to determine whether it is going where you want it to.

Then, she says, make out a realistic budget which you can keep. She compares a budget to a diet, saying that if you expect too much of yourself you'll be cheating in no time.

Dr. Kleffner believes financial planning should begin early in life with clearly defined goals and objectives. Unless you know where you are going, you can't get there. And again, be realistic.

She finds it hard for young people to think ahead into a future which seems so far away. By the time retirement is close, it is too late.

There is a new dynamics of money that Dr. Kleffner describes as a part of money management in a time of inflation.

There is a new attitude which women are learning. At one time, they expected to be taken care of.

Often women approach a new role as money managers with hesitancy. Small successes lead to more confidence.

Women who once felt guilty out of the home making money unless they had to are now making their own decisions and feeling comfortable with them.

"Low Down"

FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

Senator O.G. Hatch (Utah) "...I am today introducing the Merchant Seaman Health Services Repeal Act (S.1287).

"The purpose of providing free medical care for merchant seamen in the late 1700's was to protect the new Nation from communicable diseases.

"This free care has continued ever since and is now provided through a system of eight Public Health hospitals and 27 clinics, and the list of occupations which receive this special treatment at taxpayer's expense has grown to include fishermen, off-shore drilling crewmen and others.

"Recognizing that it would be inequitable and no longer appropriate to continue this free Government health delivery system for selected classes of occupations, the administration proposes to eliminate this entitlement and to close the hospitals and clinics which provide the service.

"The hospitals are under-utilized when compared to occupancy rates for other facilities and many are located in areas where there are excess hospital beds...

"This draft legislation was submitted by the Department of Health and Human Services, and I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill and accompanying executive communication from Secretary Schweiker...be printed in the Record..." (Excerpts from the letter follow):

The Secretary of Health and Human Services, Washington D.C., April 2, 1981.

Hon. Thomas P. O'Neill, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. Dear Mr. Speaker:

Enclosed for consideration by the Congress is a draft bill "To eliminate free medical care for merchant seamen, to permit closure of Public Health Service hospitals, and for other purposes..."

We are advised by the Office of Management and Budget that the enactment of this draft bill would be in accord with the program of the President.

Sincerely,
Richard S. Schweiker,
Secretary.

CRUMP'S GRASS
ROOTS COMMENT

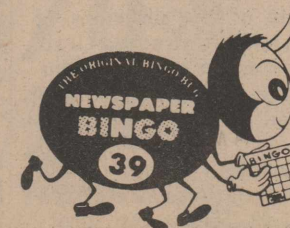

The Federal government is "hip-deep" in programs that no longer serve the purpose for which they were intended. The Office of Management and Budget have no doubt just started to flush out some of the "business-as-usual" programs.

Maritime Unions, undoubtedly, have insurance plans to protect their members.

How do you feel about Southwestern Bell's proposed rate increase?

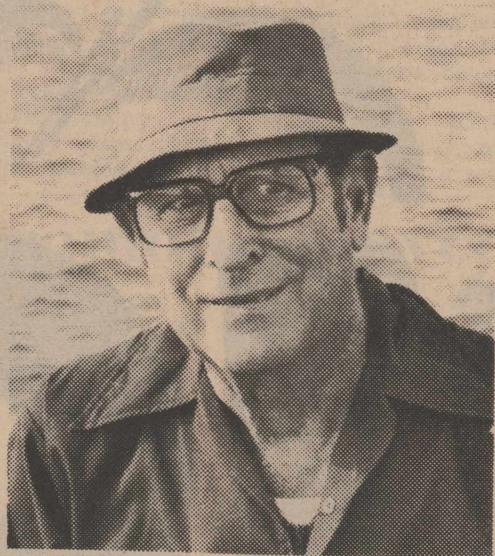

Joel McGregor

I'm from Marlin. It's going up 80 percent there — that's what they tell us. For people on a fixed income — that's too much and they're a monopoly. They're going to make a profit regardless.

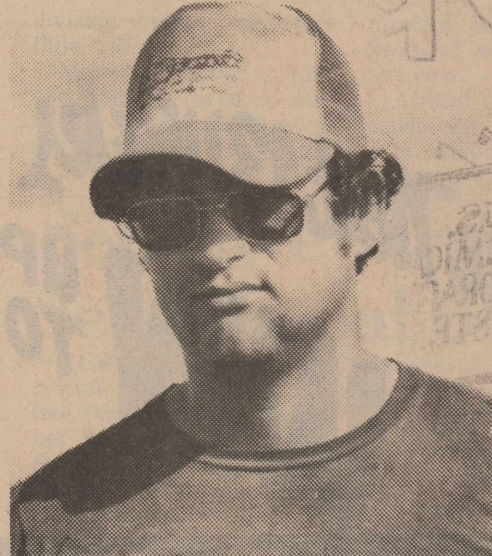

Bob Durbin
New Braunfels

I think it's ridiculous. To jump it that much — that's a 30 percent increase. It's nice to pick up the phone and call somebody, but at that price it's ridiculous. If I asked for as much of a raise as that, I'd get fired.

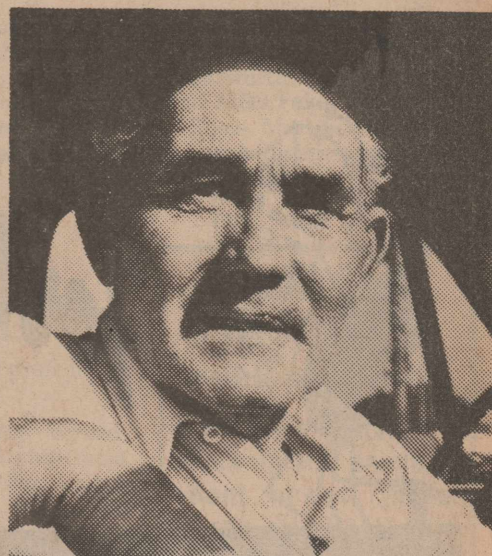

Lloyd Chapman

I think it's outrageous. No one deserves an 80 percent raise!

Grady McNutt

That's dumb. It's high enough as it is. Well, it's just about right, but that's outrageous now.

Kenneth Stallard

I don't want any part of it. They're adding $5 to a flat rate — I don't think it's right — that's too much.

Rockport Radio Group Participates In Field Day

On the weekend of June 27-28, members of the Rockport Amateur Radio Group will participate in the Forty-fifth Annual American Radio Relay League Field Day emergency preparedness test.

On this weekend, from 2 p.m. Saturday to 2 p.m. Sunday, thousands of amateur radio operators (hams) in the United States and Canada will set up their stations in the open.

Only emergency power and portable antennas will be used by the operators.

These field day tests allow hams to refine operating skills necessary during disasters and times of emergency when normal channels of communications are disrupted or unavailable.

Field Day operation on the Texas coast has a special meeting every year because of the extensive involvement by amateur radio operators in the Hurricane Net. Many hams are active in the Gulf area during the Hurricane season, reporting the movement of the storms, aiding in the aftermath of these destructive storms, furnishing communications, etc.

Some 15 to 20 members of the Rockport Radio Group will be eligible to participate in the field day exercises. The operations site for the Rockport group this year will be at the corner of Bay and Main in Lamar.

The group will set up a tent with three stations operating. One of the sets will be for novice use only. The novice designation is the lowest amateur level. Novices are allowed to transmit only in code, as are technicians, the next capability level.

Operators classed in the next three levels — general, advanced and extra — are able to transmit in voice or code. The other two stations set up will be for these classes of operators.

The stations will be manned for the entire 24 hours and those operators arriving during the night will be given the chance to use the stations.

Rockport Radio Group members who may participate in the Field Day weekend are Glenn Shaw (extra), Gilly D. Edens (extra), Charles Gillingham, Jack B. Evans, Bob and Delores Roberts, Kathie Sue Akon, Mack Reeves, Wilson L. Newman, Alvin E. Conrad, David K. Tiner, Frank L. Connally, Jim Trank, Park Gerdine, Ed Thomas, Jim Thomas, George H. Smith, Richard F. Harrington, Cecil and Judy Phelps, Tom Duncan, Thomas P. Ireland, William Walston and Les Newhouse.

Members of the group will be on hand at the site to answer questions about equipment, procedure and the public service role that ham operators play in the community.

The operating site may be reached by turning off Highway 35 North onto County Road 13 and going straight down to Bay Street.

Boat Donated To Raise Funds For Art Center

Norman Scott at the Little Bay Club has donated a 36-foot offshore fishing boat to help raise money for the Rockport Art Center Building Fund.

The boat will be given away in a drawing on August 31, according to Cam Leonard, president of the Rockport Art Association which is raising money for the Art Center.

A limited edition of 1,000 tickets for the drawing are being printed and will go for donations of $100 per ticket, Leonard said.

He said anyone interested in purchasing a ticket or tickets can contact him at Live Oak State Bank or call Estelle Stair's Art Gallery.

He added that tickets will be available at the Art Association's July 4-5 Art Festival. The boat will be on display during the Festival.

The boat, named the "Volksboot", is a custom-built vessel built in New Hampshire. The vessel has twin 3208 Caterpillar diesel engines and is designed for offshore fishing.

Leonard added the craft is documented, and Tommy Smith will clean and repaint the bottom of the boat prior to the drawing date.

Leonard added the cleaning and repainting is being donated as is the cost of printing the tickets.

The Art Association hopes to raise $100,000 through giveaway of the boat.

Leonard added the Association presently has $138,000 in its building fund and is hopeful that the donations for the boat, together with proceeds raised in the upcoming Art Festival will bring that total to $250,000.

Leonard said the Art Association will then seek a matching fund grant from a private foundation to secure the $500,000 it is estimated construction will cost.

TURNING OVER THE PAPERS

Norman Scott, left, of Little Bay Club, gives Rockport Art Association President Cam Leonard the documentation papers to the 36-foot boat, "Volksboot," after Scott gave the boat to the Art Association for its building fund effort. Leonard said 1000 tickets will be made available at a cost of $100 each to raise money for the Art Center. The boat will be given away in a drawing August 31.

COAL and NUCLEAR will help keep electricity costs down

Nothing will ever return South Texas—or the rest of the nation—to the good old days of cheap energy. But use of coal and nuclear fuel to generate electricity will enable CPL to keep costs lower than they would be if we relied totally on natural gas.

Coletto Creek Power Station, CPL's first coal-fired plant.

The facts are that natural gas costs have risen dramatically—and will continue to do so. And as gas becomes more and more expensive, the wisdom of switching to these alternate fuels will become even more apparent.

Why coal and nuclear? Both are available now, and neither of them awaits the development of any new technology. Both will be in good supply in the future; and both will be less expensive in the future than natural gas.

Do we plan to abandon the millions of dollars of investment in our existing natural gas fueled plants? No, as a matter of fact, gas will continue to be our major fuel for some time to come. But over the next couple of decades, we will be making a gradual shift from natural gas to coal and nuclear.

South Texas Nuclear Project

In short, we plan to hold down the rising cost of electricity as much as we can. CPL intends to keep electricity a reliable energy source for the future—at the lowest possible cost.

“BLACK OUT” BINGO

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week [adults only, please] pick up your FREE Bingo cards from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY — THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: Check the ads in each week's issue of the Weekender and the Midweek edition of The Pilot. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more “Newspaper Bingo” numbers in the “Bingo Bug” symbol [shown above]. Occasionally numbers in the “Bingo Bugs” may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. Be sure to check the Classified Ad section for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH [JUST CIRCLE OR “X”] THE MATCHING NUMBERS] ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS WITH THE NUMBERS PUBLISHED IN THE WEEKLY ISSUE OF THE PILOT — YOU HAVE A “BINGO”! — AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!!

AT LEAST $100 WEEKLY!!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $100 [in “Bingo Bucks” — they spend the same as cash with any of the sponsoring merchants listed below]. If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $100. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $100 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $100 weekly prize will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE PAPER: Each game is complete in each week's issue of The Rockport Pilot. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads — and possibly elsewhere in the paper. A new color of Bingo cards for each week's game will be available at the sponsoring merchants' stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

Valley Forge

Forever inscribed on the tablets of our history is a winter almost two centuries ago. Turned back by the British at Germantown, General Washington camped his ragged army among the rolling hills and woods northwest of Philadelphia. The place was called Valley Forge.

Today it is a rhapsody of green oaks and chestnuts almost dominating the historic shrine. The forts and redoubts of old are mounds and ridges blanketed with lush grass as they defend forest-crowned hills.

Rightly, there's a statue of "the Father of his Country" at Valley Forge. And, rightly, he's praying!

Was it war that won our freedom? Wasn't it really faith? Because so many of us believe that, we say in our Pledge of Allegiance... "one nation UNDER GOD."

The Shepherd's Staff

Rev. Barrett Renfro
First United Methodist Church
"Our Father" means Father of all people everywhere, concerned with all people everywhere, grieving over the injustices suffered by any person, anywhere.

Hallowed be your name — help us to worship you and not ourselves.

Thy Kingdom come — we pray for the completion of God's Kingdom of good will and love for people everywhere.

Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven — help us to serve thee and not just ourselves.

Give us this day our daily bread — not just bread for me and mine, but our daily bread, not just bread, but food, vitamins and fresh air and homes. All those things to keep bodies strong and well for all your children everywhere. You are the giver of our daily bread, we do not earn it.

And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us — sins of hatred and greed, of wanting the best for ourselves, for resentment harbored in our hearts like poison that slowly destroys the vine.

And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil — temptation to take advantage of any of your children, of hurting any of your children because they are weak and we are strong.

For thine is the Kingdom — and in all time to come, and the power to continue creating our great universe, and the glory which is seen in each of your children, and in the vastness of the universe. Amen.

I Must Go Shopping!

One of these days I must go shopping! I am completely out of self-respect — I want to exchange self-righteousness I picked up the other day for some humility which they say is less expensive and wears better. I want to look at some tolerance which is being used for wraps this season. Someone showed me some pretty samples of peace — we are a little low on that — and one can never have too much of it.

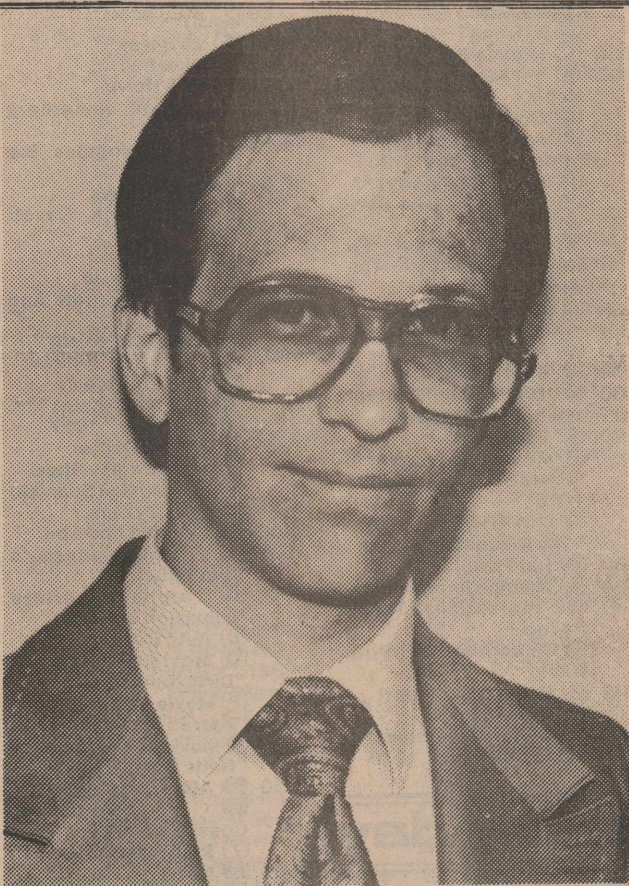

And by the way, I must try to match some patience that my neighbor wears. It is very becoming on her and I think it might look well on me.

I might try on that little garment of long-suffering they are displaying. I never thought I wanted it, but I feel myself coming to it.

Also, I must not forget to have my sense of humor mended and look around for some inexpensive, everyday goodness. It is surprising how quickly one's stock of goodness is depleted.

Yes, I must go shopping soon.

(Browning United Methodist Church, San Antonio)

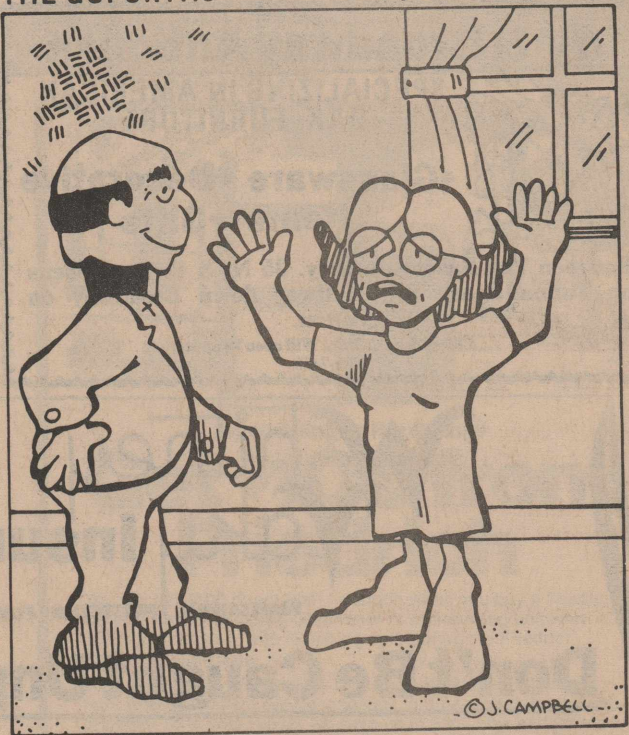

NEW PASTOR

Reverend John Norvell is the new pastor at Gospel Lighthouse, located on Highway 35 South. Reverend Norvell, of Wichita, Kansas, was elected May 24 and assumed pastoral duties on June 10. He was an associate pastor of Gospel Lighthouse in Wichita and was Kansas State youth director for the Pentecostal Young People's Association prior to assuming his pastoral duties here. Born and raised in Aransas Pass, Reverend Norvell attended college in Houston. He and his wife Marilyn have two sons, Jason and Justin. [Pilot Photo by Becky Werhan]

Molly Jackson Weds John Owen

Molly Owen

Miss Molly Ulrich Jackson and Mr. John Brooks Owen were united in marriage on Saturday, June 6, at 3 p.m. at the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd in Tomball. The Reverend Melvin K. Gray, assisted by Reverend Roger Duck, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Jackson and the late Mr. James Barton Jackson of Rockport. She is a graduate of Corpus Christi State University with a degree in Music Education and is presently a choral director in the Klein Independent School District at Spring.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Virginia Owen and the late Dr. Frank Brooks Owen of Abilene. He graduated with a degree in Music Education from West Texas State University and holds a position as band director in the Klein Independent School District.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Frederick Barton Jackson of Humble. She wore an ivory gown of French organza and Alencon lace. The sculptured bodice, molded with lace and sprinkled with bridal pearls, featured a sheer yoke of English net, wedding band neckline, and lace-trimmed Bishop sleeves which fell to ruffled cuffs.

The slipper length A-line skirt extended from a fitted waistline and swept into a chapel train edged with a wide band of Shiffler lace and scalloped Alencon. Her veil of ivory illusion and Alencon appliques fell to a waltz length from a matching lace-covered Juliet cap. She carried a hand bouquet of butterfly orchids, Sonja roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy.

Honor attendant was Miss Elaine Buegeler of Alice. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Frederick B. Jackson of Humble, Miss Cheryl Vermillion of Friendswood and Mrs. Terry Blackburn of Houston. They wore slipper length gowns of floral peach featuring blouson bodices, flutter sleeves and circular skirts with hemline ruffles.

Junior bridesmaid was Miss Katherine Jackson of Del Rio. She wore a gown of peach organza designed with Bertha collar, fitted bodice and a full skirt marked at the hemline with a deep ruffle. The attendants carried peach silk roses tied with ivory streamers and wore matching flowers in their hair.

Best man was Mr. Steve Baker of Taylorsville, Kentucky. Groomsmen were Mr. Gordon Owen and Mr. Mark Owen of Abilene and Mr. Buckley Lightfoot of Odessa.

Junior groomsmen was Mr. James Gregg Jackson of Del Rio. Mr. John Capshaw Jr. of Houston was acolyte.

Mrs. Virginia Lootens of Spring was organist. Vocalists were Mr. Robert Milton Jackson of Rockport who sang "A Simple Song" from Bernstein's "Mass", and the honor attendant, Miss Buegeler, who sang Schubert's "Ave Maria".

A reception following the ceremony was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Chandler Capshaw in Bammel Forest, Houston. The country style home was decorated with hanging baskets of fern, potted calladiums and peach floral arrangements and featured a cream-filled Genoese tiered wedding cake. Members of the houseparty were Miss Sarah Owen of Ft. Worth, Miss Nan Jackson of Victoria, Mrs. James Gilbert Jackson of Del Rio and Miss Barbara Owen of Abilene.

Attending the wedding from Rockport were Mr. and Mrs. Norvell F. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Jackson and baby daughter Sarah Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vermillion, Mrs. Tommy Moon, Miss Michelle Moon and Miss Kay Barnebey.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Abrahams of Taft; Mrs. Wayne Ahr and Miss Mandy Ahr of College Station; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Paul McLendon and son, Bruce, of Sharpstown; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker of Dallas; Miss Margaret Owen of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Owen of Katy; Mrs. G.H. Wagner and Miss Martha Wagner of Huntsville.

After a short wedding trip through the hill country, Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks Owen are residing in Spring.

Nursing Home News

By Maxine Mayer
The Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center had a good week of activities, visitors, volunteers and some very nice gifts given to our residents.

Three ladies from the T.E.L. Sunday School Class of United Methodist Church of Rockport, came over Tuesday and brought cans of cookies to nine of their members and friends.

Monday morning, a lady from First Baptist Church of Rockport brought big baskets of flowers to Sallie Townsend and Guy Barber and also flowers to put on the station for all to enjoy.

Thursday afternoon, our residents were entertained with bingo by the Aransas Pass Chapter 307 of Rebekahs.

Also, Mr. Guy Barber was brought a delicious cake from a lady from that same church. The cake was shared with family and friends.

Another very faithful volunteer, Sadie Flirt, was out to visit and help our residents play bingo.

Friday morning, Frankie Edwards, Lea and our two pretty girls were out to lead our residents in their paint class.

Saturday morning, Father James Hamilton was out to give Holy Communion to our Catholic people.

Saturday during the lunch hour, Winnie Small was honored on her birthday, with her daughter serving cake to all of the residents on south side, where Winnie lives.

Sunday morning worship services were led by Reverend Al Bankert and Sunday afternoon, members of the Ingleside Church of Christ were over to have their monthly "Group Singing" program.

Each morning we had our reality orientation and exercise classes as well as having our residents' council meetings.

Each morning and afternoon, we served coffee to all who cared to come down to the dining room at three o'clock.

All in all, we wish to thank each of you who participated in making our week a nice one.

Until next week, folks, stay happy and healthy! It's a beautiful world! Please send questions to: Jean Glowka, Rt. 1, Box 437, Rockport, Texas 78382.

Q. I am an epileptic. I'm under a doctor's care, but I want to know if there are any particular vitamins that would be helpful to me also.

A. Epileptics apparently benefit greatly from the addition of magnesium (500 to 800 mg. daily) and vitamin B-6 (100 to 300 mg. daily) to an otherwise adequate diet and supplement program.

Himalayans Are The Nicest People....

By Becky Werhan

To say that Marilyn Burkhardt breeds and raises Himalayan cats is an understatement. The "himmies" are Marilyn's friends and companions. "They're not animals," says Marilyn. "I think of them as people who have fur."

Marilyn and her husband Larry at present share their home with eight cats and six kittens. The Burkhardts moved to Rockport in 1976 and Marilyn has been breeding the cats since then.

"I didn't intend to start; I just fell into it," she says. She purchased a Himalayan kitten and "one thing led to another...I kind of evolved into a breeder," says Marilyn. "I was so fortunate to get into it."

The Himalayan is a

"manufactured" breed, developed in the United States by a Mrs. Goforth, who in the early fifties, began experimentation, breeding Persian and Siamese cats. In 1952, a cat was produced that "bred true" — a Himalayan that bred back to a Himalayan.

In 1957, the American Cat Fancier's Association recognized the Himalayan as a new breed and in 1958, the Cat Fanciers Association followed suit.

A sweet sound. You find it so easy to talk to them. They have such sweet eyes — they'll tell you what they want."

Obviously, Marilyn cares for more than just a perfect-looking cat. "I breed for temperament," she says. "People get lost on the look of the cat and forget the temperament. I breed for agreeable, loving companions; they're comforting and conversational, in a quiet way."

Tending the cats is a full time job. Besides keeping everything in the house spotless and disinfected, Marilyn devotes a great deal of time to grooming and cleaning each animal. The cats are bathed occasionally and dipped in order to keep off fleas.

Marilyn keeps kittens until they are eight and a half weeks old and if, by that time, they are not sold, she places them with pet shops for sale. "The people at the shop know that my cats are good quality — healthy and well fed."

The name "Himalayan" is derived from the fact that the cats have the same genetic color factors as the Himalayan rabbit. Almost everywhere else in the world, Marilyn says, the cats are called "Colour Points".

In order to be registered, the Himalayan must have a round head, short nose, small and wide-set ears, large round blue eyes, heavy-boned, short legs, a short tail and a long, soft, thick coat. The color of the body is light with point color on the ears, mask, tail and feet.

Marilyn explains, "The Himalayan gives the person the best possible quality of the two breeds it was derived from. They have the intelligence and alertness of the Siamese without the noise and acrobatics. Also they have the passivity and beauty of the Persian without the dullness."

Marilyn and Larry have three different varieties of Himalayans — Blue Points, which have white bodies with gray points; Seal Points, which have a cream body with seal-colored points; and Tortie Points — cats with three large spots of dark color on their backs.

"Not only are they beautiful," Marilyn exclaims, "they're intelligent and very affectionate. They have a sweet personality. They have a soft, trilling voice — they chortle — it's

"Having the cats has taught me a lot about people," says Marilyn. "I've learned a lot about myself too. The way I respond and react to the demands the cats have — I have degrees of patience I never knew of. I'm certainly more patient with them than I am with myself," she admits.

"It's definitely a learning experience."

Marilyn Burkhardt And Friends

Marilyn Burkhardt with one of her families of Himalayans. The kittens, approximately eight and a half weeks old, were picked up by buyers the afternoon this photo was taken. Marilyn claims that even though she is a professional breeder, it's hard to let them go.

Q. I'm just learning to use whole wheat flour instead of white flour. Can you substitute whole wheat flour in recipes calling for white? In the same amounts or do you change it?

What is the difference between whole wheat and whole wheat pastry flour, and are they interchangeable? Can they be used together? Can whole wheat and unbleached flour be used together?

A. Good for you! Yes, you can substitute whole wheat flour in any recipe calling for white flour and in the same amounts.

Regular whole wheat flour is made from hard, red, winter wheat and is used for baking bread, rolls or anything else that is baked with yeast and needs to rise. It has more gluten than whole wheat pastry flour, which means that it will rise more readily.

Whole wheat pastry flour is made from soft, spring wheat. It is a lighter, more finely ground flour and is used for such things as cakes and pie crusts. These two types of flour can be

Library Notes

Some 126 youngsters have registered for the Summer '81 Reading Program at Aransas County Public Library.

Eunice Hamon who heads the library said the youngsters meet from 9:30 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. The reading program began June 9 and will continue through August 7.

Theme of this year's program is "Monster Madness," with participants helping to "build a monster."

Mrs. Hamon explained that, as each youngster completes a book, he or she will get to put a piece of fur on the "space monster." She added the monster-building will begin this coming Tuesday.

Youngsters participating in the program are challenged to read 10 books by August 7. Those who do so will receive a certificate at the end of the reading program.

A Tribute to Dad

We know all about you. We know how hard it was for you to get up this morning because last night you tried to fix the dishwasher and it took seven hours. Or because you didn't try to fix it and couldn't sleep thinking about how much you wish you could fix things.

We know you never really wanted a kitten when we gave you one as an anniversary present, but we also knew you would let us keep it -- outside. And sometimes, when you think we're not looking, she purrs in your lap.

We remember the time you wanted to take us on a family vacation to Williamsburg, but we wanted to go to Marineland, and how nervous you were when the porpoise leaped up to grab the fish out of your hand while we took pictures.

We heard you get up in the middle of the night to rock the baby and give her a bottle, and then get up three hours later and do it again.

We know that you love to sleep late on Saturday, but on Saturday you get up early and fix pancakes while we all sleep late. Or that you like to get up early on the weekends to have some peaceful time to yourself, but you're usually too tired.

We were with you the night the smoke alarm sounded because the battery was low, but you didn't know that and neither did we, and we were all afraid until you looked the whole house over then stood on a chair for fifteen minutes trying to turn the buzzer off.

We know how you worry about us when we drive the car too fast. How angry you would be if we got a traffic ticket through carelessness, and that you would help us in the end no matter how angry you were.

We know you. We are your family and we love you. You know it too.

PUBLIC NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE Notice is hereby given by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department that a public hearing will be held at 7:00 P.M. on July 7, 1981, at the VFW Hall in Rockport, Texas for the purpose of gathering information concerning proposed fishing regulations for Aransas County. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission proposes to reduce daily bag and possession limits on red drum and spotted seatrout, increase the minimum size limit on red drum and decrease the maximum size limit on red drum.

As a result of action by the Texas Legislature, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission is responsible for the setting of seasons, bag limits and means and methods of taking certain wildlife resources in Aransas County.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend the hearing and express their views and provide information applicable to the proposals. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission may adjust the proposed limits upward or downward depending upon the comments received.

Police Report

Youth Arrested For Indecent Exposure

Ernie Lara, 18, of 209 North Live Oak pleaded guilty to a charge of indecent exposure and was fined $203.50 after his arrest early Tuesday, June 16.

Lara was arrested about 1:50 a.m. by Police Officer Joaquin Martinez after Martinez received a call from the sheriff's dispatcher that a "naked male" had entered the sheriff's office about 1:45 a.m.

Martinez, who was on Live Oak Street about a block from the sheriff's office, saw the youth "running toward Live Oak" and reported the youth ran behind a house which later proved to be Lara's residence.

Lara told police he and a friend had been eating mushrooms and police said mushrooms were growing in the back yard of the residence.

Chief Paramedic Bill Aston was called to check the youth.

Sheriff's Report

Cash Stolen, Fixture Damaged In Burglary

An estimated $100 in cash was taken and a $150 light fixture damaged when the residence of Mike McDonnell, 102 Ivy Lane in Peninsula Oaks was burglarized.

The burglary occurred sometime between June 6 and Wednesday, June 17, at 9 a.m. Sheriff's deputies reported there were no signs of forced entry and the residence "appeared to be lived in for some time."

Time of theft is unknown.

TV, Radio Taken

A television set valued at $95.48 and radio valued at $51.88 were reported stolen from Winford M. Jonas about May 27.

The theft was reported June 4. Jonas told sheriff's deputies the items, purchased the day of the theft, were in a car belonging to another man who allegedly drove off with them.

Theft Reported

A boat trailer, winch stand and sailboat hull were taken from the residence of David E. Sheffield at 203 Timberlane, Fulton.

Criminal Mischief

Grace Stanick at Palm Harbor Real Estate reported someone cut the electric line leading to the sign in front of her office sometime June 3 or 4.

Auditorium Approved For Port A Marine Lab

PORT ARANSAS — Construction of a multipurpose auditorium building has been approved for the University of Texas Marine Science Institute Marine Laboratory here.

Construction of the facility, which carries an estimated total project cost of $1,550,000, was authorized recently by the UT System board of regents.

The board also approved final plans for a dockside utility building at MSI's Galveston Geophysical Laboratory.

The auditorium building at Port Aransas will provide flexible seminar-auditorium space for technical conferences. The lobby will be devoted to displays of Institute projects and other marine-related subjects.

Rapp Fash Sundin Inc. of Houston and Galveston is architect for the project which will include 14,000 gross square feet of floor space protected by built-in hurricane resistant materials.

Aransas Vets Receive $1 Million In 1980-81

Funds to veterans and their beneficiaries in Aransas County amounted to $1,066,019 for fiscal year 1980-81, according to James W. Hunt, Aransas county Service Officer for the Texas Veterans Affairs Commission.

Hunt added that most of the money must stay in the county.

According to the recent report from the Veterans Affairs Commission, money is sent to Aransas County veterans in three categories: $810,801 in compensation and pensions; $187,961 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation; and $67,257 in insurance and indemnities.

According to the Veterans Affairs Commission, most of these funds are placed in immediate circulation.

Dr. Lutz is a graduate of Baltimore City College and Texas A&M University. He specializes in small and exotic animal practice. He was an instructor of small animal diseases and surgery in the Veterinary School at Texas A&M and was in private practice in Waco for 25 years.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Dear Dr. Lutz,

I have a two-year-old cocker spaniel and a three-year-old multi-colored cat. They are both indoor-outdoor animals. Our dog gets to smelling very doggie at times. I have not noticed any odor on our cat. How often should I bathe them?

Margaret

Dear Margaret,

Both dogs and cats should be combed and brushed daily. This eliminates loose hair and gently massages the skin as well. It also assists in producing sebum which is important for a healthy skin.

I advise bathing a dog once a week, unless there is a pathological skin condition present. In many dermatosis cases, bathing every three days with a special dermatologic shampoo is recommended.

Cats, because of their natural instinct of licking and grooming themselves continuously, usually don't need shampooing. However, I do strongly recommend daily combing and brushing.

Highrollers Beat The Demons In Midweek Double Header

The Highrollers and Demons met Wednesday evening in a double header makeup session that saw the Highrollers dump the Demons 19-7 in the first game then come back and walk over the Demons again in the second game 26-1.

In the first game the Highrollers took a five run lead over the Demons in the first inning then allowed the visiting Demons only one run in the top of the second. The Highrollers came back in the bottom of the second with three more runs to make it an 8-1 game in favor of the Highrollers.

The Demons managed to sneak in two more runs in the top of the third but in the bottom of the inning the Highrollers kept the bats cracking and posted four more runs and the Highrollers were leading the 12-3 game.

The Demons kept trying to catch the home team and put two more runs on the board in the top of the fourth and made a stand against the Highrollers. In the bottom of the inning and held them to one run in the top of the fifth. The another four to take the game to 17-6 in the bottom of the fifth.

In their last at-bat in the top of the sixth the Demons could only scratch out one run, but they managed to hold the Highrollers to two runs in the bottom of the sixth and the Highrollers won the first game of the double header 19-7.

Things didn't go any better for the Demons in the Wednesday evening meet as they watched the Highrollers score in every inning to win 26-1 to sweep the series.

After a tied game at 1-1 in the first inning, the Highrollers exploded for 10 runs in the top of the second to take the game to 11-1 over the Demons.

The Demons went scoreless for the rest of the game as the Highrollers posted one run in the third, six runs in the fourth and eight in the fifth to win the game 26-1 and make a clean sweep over the Demons.

George Miller Wins 10-9 Over Jackson Seafood

By Ted Norman

With the game being able to go either way for four innings and tied in the top of the sixth inning, the time rule stopped it in the bottom of the sixth inning with George Miller beating Jackson Seafood 10-9.

Jackson Seafood posted three runs in the top of the first inning, but George Miller came back in the bottom of the fourth with four to take a one-run lead.

Jackson Seafood was held scoreless in the top of the second inning and George Miller came back in the bottom of the inning to extend their lead by two runs in the 5-3 game.

In the top of the third, Jackson Seafood was forced to post another zero on the board and George Miller duplicated the previous inning with a solo run to take the game.

Jackson Seafood closed the gap in the top of the fourth with two runs to make it a 6-5 game but George Miller added another two runs in the bottom of the inning to extend their lead once again in the 8-5 game.

In the top of the fifth Jackson Seafood managed to score two more runs and tied the game at 9-9.

In the bottom of the sixth George Miller loaded the bases with a batter being hit by a pitched ball, and two walks. Then George Miller got the winning run across when a third batter watched four pitches cross the plate for a free trip to first and George Miller won the game 10-9.

Dickerson Pitches No-hitter Against Dolphins

By Ted Norman

Jeffery Dickerson pitched a no-hitter against the Dolphins Wednesday night as Dairy Queen destroyed the Dolphins 14-2 in a sixth inning rally that saw the D.Q. boys post 11 runs in the bottom of the sixth inning.

The Dolphins were held hitless and scoreless for the first four innings and managed to score two runs in the top of the fifth when Eddie Medina drew a walk then scored from third on an error by Dairy Queen shortstop Chuck Ponton. Ronnie Wagoner got to first on a walk. Tim Chavez drew a walk and Billietter got to base on a walk and the Dolphins had two runs.

Dairy Queen got their first score in the bottom of the first inning, were held scoreless in the bottom of the second and scored two more in the third on superb pitching by Eddie Medina.

With the Dolphins unable to get a runner around the bases in the top of the sixth Dairy Queen held a one-run lead in the 3-2 game when the Dairy Queen boys began to hold batting practice on the obviously fatigued Medina who had only recently suffered from a hospital visit with asthma.

Dickerson led off the melee with a free trip to first on balls followed by Bobby Dingenary, who slammed a home run over the left center fences to bring in Dickerson. Scott Russ drew a base on balls and Adam Pina hit a line drive to center for a single.

Ross Huff drew a walk followed by Ponton who broke the string by hitting to the shortstop and being tagged out at first.

David White drew a walk, Mark Dennis got to keep the merry-go-round spinning with a walk and Jack Hargrove walked.

Dickerson started the batting order again with a single followed by Dingenary with a single from a line drive into right field. Russ drew a base on balls. The Dairy Queen sluggers were finally retired when Huff struck out, but D.Q. had destroyed the Dolphins with 11 runs in the bottom of the sixth and they posted a 14-2 win.

The options for orphaned wild animals are, at best, few. Wild young of all species are completely dependent upon the mother for varying lengths of time and they simply cannot make it without her. If that parent is missing the young, too, go.

While zoos and preserves may be able to care for some additional youngsters in a few isolated cases and be willing to do so, it is far better to have a successful natural adoption policy.

While there are herd animals that as a natural thing tend to "pool" the care of young, it is particularly interesting (at least to me) that the black bear, traditionally a "loner" animal, apparently is completely willing to take on the addition of another cub in her small familial group.

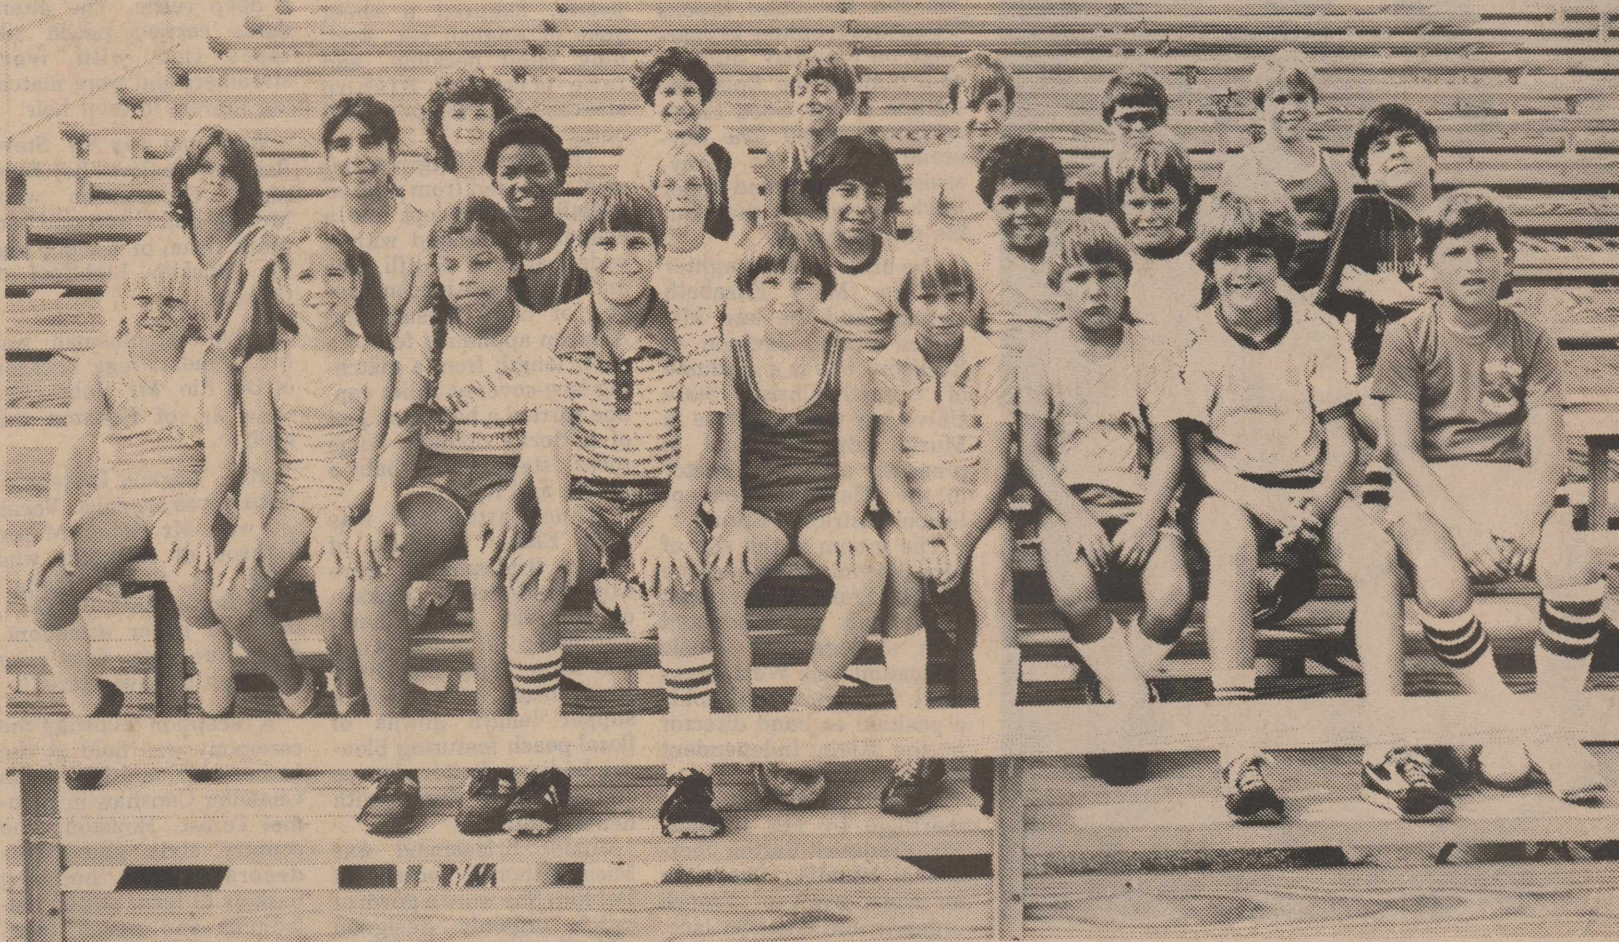

The Pennsylvania program was shown in a segment of a local television program (and I wondered where all those people in the background came from when Alt introduced a cub into a den!) and got lots of good local comment in this county which is a major bear population area of the state.

I am sure that the work in New York State is being equally well accepted, particularly since they seem to be introducing the cubs in the Catskills, where the population seems to be declining.

Tracking Collars Effective According To Pennsylvania Game Commission

Two states that I know of, Pennsylvania and New York, are making additional use of tracking collars on their black bear populations in a most effective way.

While the collars are a basic tool in increasing knowledge of an animal's natural territorial range, the devices also allow for the placement of orphans in foster homes.

Both states this past spring successfully introduced black bear cubs into dens known to be occupied by sows with cubs of their own. Observation has shown that the youngsters are readily accepted and become full members of the family unit.

bears, did note, however, that the adoption process must be handled as quickly as possible. When the cubs are exposed for too long a time to human contact they are not as readily accepted by the sow.

Quite probably, this is a result of an accumulation of human scent on the cub making it unacceptable to the adult bear.

Area Fishing Report

Speckled trout should be in abundance during the remainder of June and July with redfish becoming harder to land the rest of the summer. Flounder are moving into the area in larger numbers, but the black drum are leaving and won't be back until fall.

Croaker are running strong, pompano and sheepshead should begin to get scarce as well as Spanish mackerel.

Sailfish and tarpon fishing is picking up as the waters warm up.

The past week has brought a lot of wind and put a lot of fresh water in the bays, but good weather has returned to the area and the fishing should improve considerably.

Key Allegro — A few speckled trout are being caught in Aransas Bay along the reefs and other protected waters. A few trout are being taken in the canals at night under the lights, but action offshore has not been good. Frozen bait is available.

Kleines — Fishing has been pretty good during the week with lots of school trout being landed. Lots of fishermen out Thursday but no report on results. Plenty of dead bait.

Copano Causeway — Fishing is real good with lots of trout and a few reds being caught. Fishing is good all night long under the lights with most action being on shrimp and worm fuzzers. The water is clear, the wind is down and the weather is perfect.

St. Charles Bay — Things have been so slow at St. Charles that the place doesn't even smell like a fishhouse. But the tides are down, the waters are clearing and things look good for the weekend. A few sheepshead were landed, but other than that it's just a place to relax. Dead bait is plentiful for what is hoped to be a good weekend.

Palm Harbor — Fishing is good. Fishing guide Howard Brown took James and Margaret Brown fishing and they brought back 20 red, 11 trout and one sheepshead. Airboat operators are reporting the sighting of large trout in shallow waters. Plenty of bait for the weekend.

Sea Gun — Catching plenty of fish off the causeway bridge, charter boats did real good the last few days, lots of trout and reds being landed. Live bait is plentiful for the weekend.

Fulton Beach Marina — Fishing has been very good. Charter boat captain Allan DuBose took two anglers out and they brought back 150 trout. Live bait is plentiful.

Fulton Harbor Bait — Fishing is excellent. Lots of trout and a few reds being caught. The tides are down, the wind is calm and everything looks just right for the weekend. Plenty of live bait.

Beach Road Bait House — Caught lots of trout Wednesday night, some large sheepshead and some reds. Things look very good for the weekend and plenty of live bait is available.

Sandollar — Anglers are catching lots of fish, a few really good-sized ones. Thursday morning three reds weighing nine, 11 and 12 pounds were landed.

Fishermen are catching lots of speckled trout. Plenty of live bait of all kinds available for the weekend.

By Ted Norman

To some it is almost a terminal illness, to others it is very serious and to some it is a pleasant relief.

The "it" is the baseball strike that is keeping the ballparks empty, the television sportscasters hustling and the print sports people searching for something else to write about.

Wives love it, fellow workers of sports fans think it's just great and bosses hope it lasts forever.

The television and newspaper people are having a hard time filling their allotted times and space. Television is covering more soccer in one telecast than they have since soccer came to this country.

The newspapers are covering automobile racing like the sport was just discovered yesterday. The LeMans race was covered from the starting flag to the checkered flag by TV. And the print media gave more coverage to racing than any time in the past.

Things are so bad that the Houston Post is running rehash stories of games that were played six and seven years ago. The television guys are playing up soccer like it is Abner Doubday's newest invention. Two weeks ago they wouldn't touch a soccer game.

Everyone is scrambling to put something together for the reader and the viewer. If the strike lasts long enough there is a chance that the sports writers and broadcasters may discover that other sports exist besides baseball, football and basketball.

Most of the sportscasters and writers won't touch other sports such as golf, tennis, automobile racing and sailing because they don't know enough about the sports, so they have to stick to the traditional three.

And because of this most everyone in the sports reporting business is having a very difficult time filling the sports pages and the air time with something for the reader and the viewer.

Most sports editors can be seen standing in front of the wire ticker with expressions of withdrawal on their faces. The wire machine stands quiet and the clock ticks closer to deadline and nothing comes across the wire to feed to the reader of the viewer.

But in Rockport the strike is like something happening on another planet or in another universe. We still have more baseball in town than you could want to see or we could cover. The boys and girls at Memorial Park are playing their hearts out and they aren't about to go on strike.

So if you're staring at a blank TV screen or ripping through the paper in search of something about baseball and you feel like you have a monkey on your back, get out to Memorial Park and see a ball game.

In an interview with some players who didn't want to be identified we asked if there was any chance that the Little League players would consider going on strike.

"No, not as long as our drinks are paid for after each game," replied one anonymous youth. "The fans are great, we love 'em and we'll continue to play ball as long as they want to come see us," replied another. A third youngster replied, "Certainly not. How else can I get out of doing chores and homework?"

So while the big league players have deserted the fans, the boys and girls at Memorial Park say they will finish out the season without a strike and are prepared to give the fans all the baseball they could possibly want to see.

There is plenty of baseball and softball every night this week for those who don't want to stay home and stare at a blank screen. Wednesday, June 17, Jackson Seafood meets George Miller, followed by the Dolphins against Dairy Queen under the lights.

In Little League play, June 15 through 27 will be used for make-up games and championship games.

Thursday the Bumble Bees will meet the Blue Dolphins. Friday, Dairy Queen and Jackson Seafood meet, followed by George Miller and the Dolphins.

So while the big leaguers hash out their problems about money, go see the boys and girls at Memorial Park play. And remember — if their drinks are paid for after the game, no strike.

You'll love the good deals on wheels...
