TAHOKA BULLDOGS UPSET BY CRANE GOLDEN CRANES

By Darryl Stotts
Tahoka was upset Friday by Crane 7-6. A 46 yard fourth quarter Crane pass put them ahead by a 14-7 lead. There were eleven turnovers in the ballgame. Crane took the opening kickoff and managed two touchdowns before fumbling the football. Clifford Oages recovered it. After Crane penalties the Bulldogs fumbled the ball on the first offensive play. Crane gave the ball back to Tahoka when Cal Hufaker the ballcarrier causing a fumble and Clifford recovered it. About four plays later Brown found Oages in the end zone and threw him the ball for a nineteen yard touchdown. A penalty set the Bulldogs back and they were forced to give up the ball. Crane had the same problem and had to punt. Tahoka lost the ball on the first play but Jerry Hatchett intercepted a Crane pass two plays later. Tahoka was then set back 20 yards on two penalties. A Bulldog pass covering 17 yards from Brown to Hatchett was a little short. Roddy Brooks then let go of a 51 yard punt. The game then turned into a defensive and punting duel. On third down Crane punted and caught Tahoka by surprise. The punt traveled 61 yards. Penalties again plagued the Bulldogs and Brooks again punted. The Cranes started moving the ball. They managed a first down when Tahoka was called for pass interference. Crane moved the ball to the thirty yard line before attempting an unsuccessful field goal try. Tahoka drove the ball downfield 47 yards. Bailey carried the ball to the 20 before he was hit hard and fumbled. The half ended a play later with the score tied at 0. The Bulldogs received the second half kickoff and Jerry Hatchett returned it 24 yards to the 34. Bailey then carried around end for 14 yards. Tahoka moved the ball to the 27 yard line before a 15 yard penalty set them back to the 42. Tahoka punted but Crane returned the favor four plays later. Brown carried for 14 yards. Bailey and Hatchett moved it downfield another 12 yards before Tahoka fumbled on the eight yard line. Rayford Harris met the Crane running back at the line of scrimmage and caused him to fumble. Bailey recovered the ball. Clifford also scored on a 3 yard run on the next play. The point after was not good and Tahoka led 6-0 with 5:25 remaining in the third quarter. The two teams punted the ball back and forth until the middle of the fourth quarter. Faced with fourth down and eight yards Crane came up with an eleven yard pass and a first down. They lost a yard the next play and then was penalized 15 yards. The Cranes connected on a 46 yard TD pass to tie the score. The PAT was good and Crane led 7-6 with 9:03 left in the game. Oages gained six yards on the next play. Bailey was forced out of bounds after gaining 7 on the next play. The ball again slipped out of the Bulldog's hands. Crane again gambled on fourth down but Carlton Ash threw them back for a five yard loss. Tahoka then threatened as they ground out 46 yards before fumbling. During that drive Tahoka faked a punt on 4th and 5. Ricky Chapa scampered eight yards for a Bulldog first down. The Bulldog defense forced

Crane to punt. Jerry Hatchett caught the ball on the 17 yard line and broke to the sideline and returned it 83 yards for what looked like a Bulldog TD. A clipping penalty brought the ball back downfield. Crane intercepted a Bulldog pass and the game ended Crane 7-Tahoka 6. The loss gave Tahoka a 2-1 record. Friday the Bulldogs meet Cooper in Tahoka's Homecoming battle. The game begins at 7:30 p.m. Bailey again led the offensive statistics with 160 yards. He now has a three game total of 554 yards. Hatchett was next with 75 yards. He has 261 yards in three games. Brooks had a total of 21 tackles in the contest. Harris had 17 and caused a Crane fumble that turned into a Bulldog TD. The News 75th Year

Tooley and associates sold The News to Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Valentine on July 1, 1969, and they have been the publishers since that date. Incidentally, both are South Plains natives, and Johnny is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Timmons of the Lakeview community.

By Carolyn Klaus

The original press and other equipment are gone but the machinery that remains in the back room of The News office collecting dust whispers of by-gone days.

Out of the need of speed and expense the actual printing of the paper was moved to Lamesa but some of the stories remain floating around the abandoned room.

The labor was physically hard when the hand printing press was used. Betty Jolly, who worked at the paper during those days said, "If you got your rhythm down you could get up a pretty good speed but if you ever broke the rhythm you'd have to start all over."

The machinery is so big and awesome that it dwarfs nearly anyone. There is a story of one employee of the paper that was a very small lady and it would not be unusual to see the tiny woman, spattered with black ink and hammer in hand, trying to repair a contrary and monstrous machine that loomed above her.

Every issue had its own problems but one particular Christmas issue, the biggest edition for The News, had some really big obstacles to cross before being printed. The crew was working furiously, each person doing his assigned job with true concentration, and as always the tension of meeting a deadline was present when suddenly the press stopped. Hearts sank and breaths were held until one person came from under the press with the verdict. His face was glum when he announced, "A gear is broken."

The whole staff set in motion to remove the broken part and send it on its way to Slaton to hopefully be repaired or replaced. Luck was not on their side, the shop in Slaton was unable to do either of the things but suggested that the Santa Fe Railroad shop might could build another one for The News.

Just as things go today they could not make the part without permission from someone higher up. So, at midnight S. A. Peavy called the Head man of the Railroad, living in Chicago, to get the necessary permission. It was granted and by daylight the Santa Fe shop in Slaton was busy making a new part.

Some of the staff went without sleep that night but the paper was printed anyway, even though it was a day late.

Another of the stories floating around the room is memories of the good old sand storms of West Texas. Whenever one of those glorious brown days was seen in the distance on printing day The News staff gritted their teeth not so much against the sand as against the problems it would cause for printing the paper.

The speed of the press was decreased to a snail's pace while the operator fumbled frantically to separate the sheets of newsprint that stuck together because of the static electricity. Once he did manage that feat then he was forced to struggle even more to peel the sheet off the press because the static electricity caused it to stick to the press as well.

Several years later when the old equipment was changed for hot ink printing there are visions of people working the machinery in old, nearly ragged clothes. The reason was because the ink would invariably jump onto any and all clothing.

of the answers the school is initiating in an effort to prevent injury or death of some student.

High school principal Jim Marcus then outlined more fully the proposed safety program, and asked the cooperation of the entire citizenship.

Marcus says school kids are interested and impressed with the proposed program. Faculty members, FFA and FHA are joining in with the safety drive. Cross-walks are being painted everyone asked to drive with care at a maximum of 15 miles per hour adjacent to the schools, and a visitors' parking area has been established north of high school and adjacent to the gymnasium, and visitors' parking signs installed. Texas Department of Public Safety is initiating a 4-hour defensive driving course for students, teachers, and other citizens who wish to attend, he said.

"Basically, our students are good kids," Marcus declared. "Discipline has been cut 75 percent, and vandalism is non-existent in our school this year."

Jim Chambers was in charge of the program for the Rotary Club.

Clint Walker Marks 30 Years As Tahoka Football Announcer

CLINT WALKER

By De Ann Johnston

Do you feel you are a loyal Bulldog football fan? One man in Tahoka feels that he is, Clint Walker, a local insurance and real estate salesman, has been announcing at the THS football games for 30 years.

Mr. Walker is a 1933 graduate of THS. Since his high school days he feels that football has changed. He thinks that better nutrition has made the players bigger and faster. Also, he feels that more and more people are following the games closer. In his opinion the rules are much stricter and the game is officiated closer.

When asked about the Spirit around THS he replied, "It's the best ever". He attributes this to the winning and the activities at school, spirit chains and contests. He also feels the band has improved tremendously.

Some of the memorable moments in Walker's career were Bit-district playoffs, Littlefield when G. Smith was the QB, Slaton-Tahoka game and one certain cheerleader, Andra Sue (Carroll) mon, who, instead of running on the field, jumped fences to get to the game.

In his 30 years outstanding announcing Clint Walker has missed 2 games and has been called down once. It seems the coach of opposing team felt Walker was giving the away over the loud speaker.

4-H Foundation Youth Program

The 4-H Club program in Lynn County has grown from an organization of farm boys to one that has grown to include girls between the ages of 9 and 19. Much of the change in the program has been due to the support from the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation.

Through the Foundation, the non-profit organization, have been provided to expand the 4-H program and to provide for special activities and achievement awards.

Because of its continuous support, the Foundation gives special recognition during National 4-H Week, October 1-7.

The Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation is now in the process of garnering private support and interest in 4-H on a statewide basis. The organization is administered by a board of trustees that represent a broad cross-section of leadership in Texas business, industry and agriculture.

Among the activities to which the Foundation has long-term support are the State 4-H Roundup.

International 4-H Youth Exchange Program, adult leadership development training, junior leadership laboratories, scholarships, Texas 4-H Council, Texas 4-H Congress, Texas 4-H Center and various awards programs.

In our rapidly changing economy and society, 4-H is broadening its programs to meet the needs of the youth it serves. Programs now include leadership and citizenship training, and such skill-oriented projects as automotive care and safety, electricity, horses, photography, dog care and training, horticulture and clothing.

4-H must continue to change if it is to remain a viable youth program. Such changes will come with the continued support of the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation.

All Extension programs are open to anyone regardless of race, color, creed, sex, age, religion, or national origin.

National Cotton Council Fights New OSHA Dust Standards

National Cotton Council leaders this week asked a Senate subcommittee's aid in staying enforcement of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration's (OSHA) sweeping new cotton dust standards pending a full assessment of their cost implications and impact on the cotton industry.

The request came during oversight hearings on OSHA being conducted by the Human Resources Labor Subcommittee.

Council President Lon Mann, Marianna, Arkansas, cotton producer, said OSHA had "grossly understated" the standards' costs in seeking to win White House approval for issuing the new rules.

While OSHA estimated compliance with the new standards would cost the industry $625 million in capital investments, Mann said the standards' real capital cost is $1.8 billion to $2.6 billion--three to four times greater.

"We are confident that these understated cost estimates were a major factor in White House approval for issuance of the standards," he said.

Mann said the annualized costs of compliance would run from $550-800 million and add 17-24 cents a pound to the cost of producing cotton.

"Even then, all work areas would not be in compliance because compliance technology for some work areas does not exist," he added.

"The American cotton industry is paying the price for OSHA's reckless, irresponsible handling of the record which was compiled during the lengthy hearings on the standards," he said. "The textile industry is already making decisions that will result in irreparable harm for the American cotton industry."

The Council president warned that the "inevitable result" of the standards will be a reduction in the cotton industry's output, a significant increase in imports of cotton products, and a serious loss of U.S. jobs.

George H. Dunklin, Pine Bluff, Arkansas, pointed out the OSHA included cottonseed oil mills and other non-textile processing sectors in the standards despite a lack of evidence that employees in these areas have any greater pulmonary problems than the general population.

He noted that the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health-OSHA's sister agency--now is conducting research to find if a cotton dust problem exists in these sectors.

Zig Ziglar's Sales Seminar

Zig Ziglar will be returning to Lubbock to conduct an all day Sales Seminar on Wednesday, November 1 at the Winchester Theater. Ziglar was in Lubbock on February 28 to conduct a Personal Growth and Motivation Seminar to a near crowd of 3,000 people. Several Tahoka residents attended.

His new book "Confessions of a Happy Christian" was released in May. His first book "See You At The Top" with over 250,000 in print was one of the 10 best-selling religious books in 1977.

Mr. Ziglar spoke at the recent Texas School Board Convention and is rated the nation's number one motivator. He has been recognized three times in the Congressional Record of the United States for his work with youth in the drug war and for his activities in selling America and the free enterprise system.

Zig is rated by his peer group, as well as audiences as one of the best and most versatile speakers in America. He has appeared on the same platform with such outstanding Americans as Ronald Reagan, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, Paul Harvey, Art Linkletter, General "Chappie" James, as well as several United States Senators, congressmen and governors.

Mr. Ziglar's topic areas of his Sales Seminar will include "The H-E-A-R-T of Your Sales Career", "You Don't Have To Be A Born Salesman", "Imagination in Selling" and "Emotional Logic in Selling".

For further information, please contact Juanell Teague, Teague Trampoline, Inc., 797-8295.

Zig has created a course in personal growth for youth entitled "I Can". This program, being offered in schools helps students develop a right mental attitude, build a healthy self-image and learn how to set and achieve realistic goals. This program has already been introduced in several area towns.

CAROLYN'S CLATTER

by Carolyn Klaus

America's professional criminal has more advantages than the ordinary citizen. By professional I mean a person who makes a life's work out of breaking laws.

Even though in Houston, one of the largest cities in the nation, the number of trials ending with death sentences has reported a marked increase there are still many instances when the decisions seem to be off-center.

One such instance comes to mind of a recent case in a nearby city. The man being tried had been a model citizen all his life but had been pushed and shoved by his employer, a large nationwide company, until he rebelled. His method of retaliation was to embezzle a large sum of money from the company.

He devised his scheme, put it into action and literally cheated the company out of the money because of his frustration at not being treated fairly.

When he simmered down a bit he realized his error but it was too late--he had already committed a crime. He paid back the money and pleaded for the mercy of the court.

The judge was sympathetic to his case but sentenced him to two years in prison in spite of what he felt for the man.

I agree the man had done wrong but I also take into consideration that this was only one crime in a lifetime for this man.

Then on the other side of the coin is a man that has been caught and convicted numerous times of a long list of crimes. Finally he murders someone and the professional criminal gets two years in prison and five years probation.

Now, it seems to me, the punishment should be in keeping with the seriousness of the crime. Crime has run rampant in our nation because we have not found an effective means to deal with the situation.

An editorial in another paper may have an idea. We have tried to rehabilitate criminals and to be lenient with them but with crime rising at an alarming rate in our nation it is plain to see that method has failed. We must either revert back to harsher punishment or find a completely new field.

The only way this can be accomplished is by speaking to people in authoritative roles where the action is decided.

Prevent motion sickness before it begins. It's far easier than controlling the unpleasant symptoms, once they've begun. Caused by a disturbance of the body's balancing mechanism (contained in the middle ear,) motion sickness can be averted by several ploys. Try to ride in the front seat of a car, midship in a boat, and over the wing in an airplane. During trips, take small amounts of simple foods and liquids. Keep your head steady, against a pillow or solid object, and tilt your head back, keeping the line of sight at about a 45% angle. Sit still. Do not read. Focus on a stable, distant object. If necessary, take a motion sickness preparation before travel, but do not operate a vehicle if you use them as some may cause drowsiness. Ask your pharmacist which of the motion sickness remedies will best suit your needs.

for example: 2X1 cotton is 66 2/3 % cotton; 2X2 cotton is measured as 50% cotton. I asked why would 1X1 cotton not be measured as 50% cotton. I was referred to Mr. Lester Byrd of the State U.S.D.A. Office; he could not explain why it was measured as 79% cotton. He in turn referred me to Mr. Sam Brown, Rules and Regulations Department U.S.D.A. Washington, D.C. Mr. Brown listened to my problem and said that I could not get the rule changed until congress acts on the farm program in 1980. I asked why a rule was in the farm program that was unfair to 1 single skip row pattern. He replied that that rule was placed in the book in the 1950's; that it was a time proven rule. I asked who had ever challenged the rule, and he replied that no one had ever used the pattern nor challenged it. It is a rule that was placed in the book and has never been used. I was told that the reason for the rule was that the pattern 1X1 produces more yield per acre. If this rule is left as is, then the rule for 2X1 irrigated cotton being measured the same as dry land 2X1 is unfair; the rules 2X2 dry land measured 50 % and 2X1 dry land 66 2/3 % are unfair. The 2X2 pattern produces more. I was told to get my neighbors to plant this pattern and get enough support behind me and he would try to change the rule.

I live in Lynn County which is a Dry Land Area. I would like to use this pattern on my farms. I have approximately 150 acres planted in this pattern now and plan to increase the acreage to this pattern next year. I farm 3,500 acres of cotton, both irrigated and dry. I feel with the price squeeze that we have I need to find every advantage that is possible to increase production. Rules like this bind me and make my job as a farmer more difficult. I would appreciate any help that you can give in any way.

Sincerely,
Charles A. Smith

Madam:-

There are some things I would like to know about John Hill. Just how much influence will the A. F. L.-C. I. O. expect in return for their having endorsed him for the office of Governor of Texas? How much money are they spending on his campaign?

Also I would like to know how much influence Senator Edward Kennedy will have on him as Governor of Texas? Will he have as much on him as governor as he did as attorney General? I am reasonably sure that in the case of one criminal the Senator must have been quite influential. I think the facts will substantiate this. This criminal was a very close friend of the Kennedy brothers.

Finally is the Senator contributing to Mr. Hill's campaign expenses? Also how much if any?

Texas can ill afford to let the too liberal politicians along the eastern seaboard get control of our state.

You may print this if you wish.

Yours truly
L. D. McKee

Members of Lynn County Pioneer Club and O'Donnell Senior Citizens Club used both the Club Bus and Lynn County Community Action Bus to take the trip to the Fair on Thursday. 26 persons rode the buses and enjoyed the day. Arriving there about the time the fair gates opened, needless to say most of them were ready to start home by 2 p.m. but all agreed it was an enjoyable day.

R CHICKEN POX IS USUALLY A MILD DISEASE

Probably caused by a virus, it generally attacks children between two and six years old. After exposure its incubation period averages 16 days during which time a slight fever, headache or backache may occur. Then comes a series of rashes. It is important to call a physician. For scratching can cause an erysipelas infection or an abscess. Mouth lesions may affect the larynx. An adult attack can be more serious, so grown-ups should avoid exposure.

Local 4-H'er Plan Special Activities

The 483 4-H members of Lynn County will be celebrating the 4-H Week October 1-7.

A number of special activities are planned in relation to this national observance, which has the 1978 theme, "4-H-Freedom to Be."

This year's National 4-H Week is designed to recognize the fact that 4-H youth of all backgrounds have an opportunity for personal growth and development, and, at the same time, broaden their interests and concerns for others.

In Texas, the 4-H program is conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, a part of the Texas A. & M. University System.

4-H continues to be a highly flexible program that continues to expand and adapt to the changing needs and interests of young people. Project areas include: youth with many "learn-by-doing" experiences will help them grow into productive, contributing members of society, helps youth learn skills to cope with real-life situations today as well as to prepare for the years ahead.

"Hats off!" to all members, their parents, volunteer leaders and neighbors for making the program what it is today, a dynamic, action-oriented program for action-oriented youth.

Local Lady Heads March For St. Jude Children's Hospital

Betsy Adams has been named to head the 1978 door-to-door march for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Tahoka. The drive is planned for the weeks of October 15-28.

William J. Kirwen, St. Jude's Development Director, made the announcement and said other key positions for the march will soon be filled.

"We are proud to find such a dedicated person for this important task," Kirwen said. "St. Jude Children's Research Hospital offers hope to stricken children everywhere that would not be possible without such volunteers."

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the only research center dedicated exclusively to the study and conquest of catastrophic diseases of children. Its work, particularly in leukemia and other childhood cancers, has been internationally acclaimed and cited as a leading example for basic and clinical research.

"No one has ever been charged for the benefits provided by St. Jude Hospital," Kirwen said. "And that includes the extremely expensive total medical care provided to children enrolled in its research studies."

"Over two-thirds of this year's 19 million dollar operating budget came from public support. Each year we rely on events like this to pay for the following year's costs."
