(By The Associated Press)

LA GRANGE, April 20. —Confession that she shot Henry Stoever and then burned his oiled body in a pit was made by Mrs. Anton Dach, 36, farm woman, according to Sheriff Will Loessin.

Stoever's body, burned almost beyond recognition, was unearthed Tuesday at the Dach farm by Sheriff Loessin, who had become suspicious over his disappearance.

MEERS TRADED FOR MEXICAN

AMERICAN YOUTH WHO ONCE FACED DEATH GAINS FREEDOM

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, April 20.—Climaxing one of the strangest murder cases in Mexican border history, William Jefferson Meers, American youth once sentenced to death for shooting a Juarez waiter, was exchanged at the international bridge here today for a Mexican serving a life sentence in Texas for another killing.

Pardoned by the governor of Chihuahua in accordance with the exchange agreement, Meers was brought here by automobile from Chihuahua City. Mexican officials took him to the middle of the bridge at 3:20 a. m. (M. S. T.), where the party was met by Sheriff Chris P. Fox of El Paso county, the Mexican prisoner, Jose Carrasco, and Meers' wife and mother.

Prisoners Exchanged

Meers and Carrasco shook hands and then returned to the countries from which they had been absent for years. Carrasco had been in the El Paso county jail since last July. He was brought here by two Texas rangers and his pardon was signed by Ross S. Sterling, former governor of Texas.

A tragic mistake growing out of his desire to avenge the murder of his father led Meers to shoot an innocent waiter, Antonio Visconte, in a Juarez saloon, June 18, 1930.

Mortgage Bill Adopted By Texas Senate

STOCKS, COTTON AND GRAIN ADVANCE

HEAVY BUYING POURS INTO MARKETS

PRICES SOAR ON TALK OF INFLATION; PART OF GAIN IS LOST

(By The Associated Press)

A fresh frenzy of buying added billions to quoted values of stocks and commodities in today's markets. The dollar again dropped precipitantly in relation to other currencies, in response to the official announcement that it was cut free from gold.

As this in theory reduced its purchasing power, prices in the New York stock exchange, the Chicago board of trade and other principal markets, were swept upward.

Mart Facilities Taxed

Stocks advanced from $1 to $9 a share in one of the most hectic sessions of the New York exchange. Trading facilities were overwhelmed, and the ticker fell half an hour in arrears.

Highest grade bonds, including U. S. Government issues, again weakened, as investors sought to convert their funds into speculative vehicles such as stocks and commodities.

Metal prices soared. Copper was quoted at 6 cents a pound, up 5-8 of a cent from yesterday. Silver futures jumped about 2 to 3 cents, on top of yesterday's gains of around 3. Steel scrap, prices advanced $1.50 a ton at Chicago.

Wheat Price Jumps

Wheat jumped about 3 cents a bushel, and cotton about $2.50 a bale. Wool top futures at New York shot up 10 cents a pound, the extreme advance permitted for one day by trading rules.

Crude rubber, raw hides, silk, coffee, cocoa, oats, corn, barley, lard, and many other staples pushed ahead in the movement which retraced a minor fraction of the losses of the past three years.

Profit-taking appeared in the markets from time to time, tending to reduce the advances, but setbacks generally attracted fresh buying.

PALESTINE, April 20. (AP)—While heavily-armed posses with bloodhounds combed the wooded section north of Palestine today in search of three fugitives from the Anderson county jail, County Attorney Tom Pickett was preparing charges against a woman suspected of aiding them to break jail.

The fugitives were Roland Haley, wanted for bank robbery at Springfield, Mo., Jack Smith, ex-convict held for alleged automobile theft; and Leroy Hughes, youth indicted last week for burglary. The woman suspected of aiding in the getaway was a wife of one of them.

PROTECTION IS GIVEN UNDER PROPOSAL

VOTE SUFFICIENT TO PUT MEASURE INTO IMMEDIATE EFFECT

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 20.—The Texas senate today adopted a free conference committee bill to protect owners of mortgaged property against deficiency judgments. The vote was 21 to 4, sufficient to put the act into immediate effect if two thirds of the the house membership approves it and the governor signs it.

The free conference committee accepted the senate bill, except that it struck out the provision denying the benefits of the act to persons whose taxes were delinquent.

Jury Would Decide

Under the bill, defendants in deficiency judgment suits might plead that the property on which the foreclosure was taken was sold for less than its true value. A jury would determine the real value, and the defendant would not be liable for the difference between the sales price and the value.

Senator Walter Woodul of Houston introduced a bill to repeal the penal statute against beer advertising in event beer is legalized.

Final legislative action on the second of the four major appropriation bills, that for the support of the eleemosynary institutions during the next biennium, was in prospect today.

The house yesterday approved a compromise eleemosynary bill drafted by a free conference committee. The senate postponed action until today so that the bill might be printed and members might have an opportunity to study it.

Appropriations Slashed

The proposal would appropriate $8,005,864. This was a reduction of 25.7 per cent from the appropriations of two years ago.

The house was at work on educational appropriations bill, and the departmental proposal was in free conference. Each carried substantial reductions from the allotments for the current biennic.

The house appropriations committee had recommended that salaries of college faculty members be slashed an average of 26 per cent. The

STOCKS SURGE UPWARD AS NATION QUITS GOLD STANDARD FRANKLY; LAUNCHING OF PROGRAM IS UNPRECEDENTED FOR MAJOR COUNTRY

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—Uncle Sam has launched upon a bold program today to replenish his pocketbook with managed dollars, temporarily cut loose from gold. The fateful step of "going off the gold standard" was frankly taken.

Before this announcement was made by Treasury Secretary Woodin, dollars had declined in anticipation yesterday some 10 per cent in terms of principal European gold currencies, and prices of stocks and speculative commodities had surged upward.

First Since 1879

Not since redemption of paper currency in gold had been resumed in 1879 had the United States officially announced itself off the gold standard, although an embargo on gold exports had been in effect for a time during the World war.

While much confusion developed in high financial quarters as to the import of this momentous step, J. P. Morgan in one of his infrequent public statements, indorsed the new imposition of a definite embargo on gold exports, saying: "It seems to me clear that the way out of the depression is to combat and overcome the deflationary forces."

The embarking upon a managed currency program by the United States was an unprecedented step for a major country. Others, notably Great Britain, have abandoned the gold standard under pressure of heavy foreign withdrawals. But the United States, with its huge supply of gold now under government control, and its favorable balance of trade, was in a position, according to financial authorities to keep its currency close to its gold parity had it desired.

The suspension of the gold stand-

The locomotive struck an oil truck, near Moark, Mo., at 7 a. m., killing the driver and throwing gasoline over the speeding locomotive. Fireman E. E. Hurt, of Little Rock, was killed when he leaped from the flame-filled cab. The engineer brought the train to a stop about three-quarters of a mile from the scene of the crash and then lost consciousness.

Traveling Swiftly

The "Texan" was traveling swiftly in an endeavor to make up lost time when it struck the truck driven by Kip Nelson, Corning, Ark., at a grade crossing.

The gasoline was thrown over the hot locomotive which rushed on down the track, a blazing mass.

A relief train was sent to Moark to bring in Leadbetter, the dead and the stalled train.

The "Texan" was bound for St. Louis and was due here at 7 a. m. it was late however and was speeding over a long level stretch of track when it struck the truck.

ROOSEVELT MOVES FOR SPEEDY LEGISLATION DESIGNED TO CREATE HIGHER PRICES

ADVOCATES OF CONTROLLED INFLATION SEEK TO WORK OUT SOLUTION AFTER UNITED STATES ABANDONS GOLD STANDARD; STOCKS RISE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—President Roosevelt and congressional advocates of "controlled inflation" concentrated today on speedy drafting of legislation aimed to inject new life and higher prices into American business.

While the president worked with his advisers at the White House to smooth out constitutional difficulties, Senator Thomas (D. Okla.) at the capitol revealed his view that the impending proposal would "solve every problem so far as the money question is concerned"; and be of tremendous benefit to bargain with foreign powers for uniform money systems.

Careful note was being taken of the rising markets, and without apparent regard to what was happening to the dollar in letting it seek its own level on foreign exchanges.

At the treasury, meanwhile, intensive study of how 4,000 closed banks of the nation can be aided in reopening was carried on by Secretary Woodin and governors of the 12 Federal Reserve banks.

Improvement Reported

Called to Washington to go over the financial and economic situation of the nation, the governors had reported on pending conditions of business throughout the country improved in nearly all lines recently. They also discussed the government's gold embargo and it's effect upon business.

In an interview, Senator Thomas —who agreed upon the plan to give the president broad discretionary power to deal with the money question at a conference last night with Senators Pittman (D-Nev); Byrnes (D-SC), and Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state—said it probably would be determined definitely today whether to offer it as an amendment to the farm bill.

"We won't have to operate the farm bill with this provision attached," Thomas told newspapermen, "because it will raise commodity prices itself more than the farm bill."

With congress apparently in a willing mood to extend broad authority to the president to carry on his program for controlled inflation, every effort was exerted to speed the all-powerful legislation for him.

Message Expected

Representative Byrns, the Democratic leader, told newsmen at the capitol that he expected a message from the president today or tomorrow.

"And the temper of the house is such that I think it will stand behind him and give him whatever he wants," Byrns said.

"We expect him to want some means of bringing about a limited and controlled expansion, which in no event will affect us as it did Germany."

The measure under consideration in part would authorize Mr. Roosevelt to issue currency and reduce the gold content of the dollar. Doubt has arisen, however, on whether there is power in congress

ATTENTION ON CONFERENCE

WORLD PARLEY GAINS IMPORTANCE AFTER AMERICAN ACTION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—World attention centered more than ever on Washington today as two of the old world's foremost statesmen approached America's shores for history-making talks with President Roosevelt who only yesterday changed the whole economic picture by withdrawing support of the dollar on foreign exchanges.

New significance was attached to the coming of Prime Minister Ramsey MacDonald of Great Britain and Former Premier Edouard Herriot of France as a result of the American action which Secretary Woodin of the treasury described as taking the United States off the gold standard.

Outcome Is Awaited

The answer to the question of how soon and on what terms this country might again adhere to a revised international gold standard was believed by many officials to be bound up in the outcome of the quiet talks to be held between the president and his distinguished visitors in the next few days. MacDonald arrives tomorrow.

Few here professed to see all the aspects and possible results of President Roosevelt's sudden move, but among the effects was listed a definite step toward the reestablishment of a gold standard to which national currencies could be attached at new parities based on present conditions and values.

From the White House came the

BOY WHO STOOD ON THE BURNING DECK IS CLASSED AS MORON BY PROFESSOR

(By The Associated Press)

BALTIMORE, April 20—The boy who stood on the burning deck is classed as moron by Prof. Harry Allen Overstreet, head of the department of philosophy of the College of the City of New York.

The thirteen-year-old Casabianca, hero of Felicia Hemans' poem, a generation ago was held up as a shining example of filial obedience. Most any schoolboy of that day could recite:

The boy stood on the burning deck
Whence all but he had fled;
The flames what lit the battle's wreck
Shone round him o'er the dead.
Yet beautiful and bright he stood,
As born to rule the storm;
A creature of heroic blood,
A proud, though childlike form.

But Professor Overstreet told the members of the Maryland division, Child Study Association of America, the youth did not have the intelligence to adapt himself to a changing situation.

Instead Casabianca stood on the burning deck just because his father had told him to stay there.

Dresses may be of any type, the only requirement being that they be of cotton fabric.

Mr. Heard announced committees for the carnival would be named this week and preparations for the event started at once. Plans are being considered for the operation of the college textile plant during the carnival so that people may see how cloth is made.

Entry blanks for the style show contest may be secured from Mr. Heard or members of the entry committee to be announced later. A large number of organizations are planning to enter girls in the contest.

The carnival is to be an annual affair, Mr. Heard said.

SLATON NEGRO CONVICTED

HARMON IS GIVEN 45 YEARS ON ASSAULT CHARGES HERE

A sentence of 45 years in the state penitentiary was imposed upon Herbert Harmon, about 28, a Slaton negro, by Judge Clark M. Mullican in 99th district court Wednesday afternoon, immediately after a jury had found the negro guilty of assault with intent to rape and had fixed his punishment. The jury deliberated 45 minutes. When the negro asked credit for about a month served in Lubbock county jail, the judge told him, "A month won't help you in 45 years."

Woman Tells Story

Mrs. Travis Selman, 26, of Slaton, testified the negro entered her bedroom the night of March 4, drew a razor, and threatened her life. She said she screamed, ran past the negro, and he fled upon hearing the voice of Ira McCarver, who with his wife, were staying in the Selman home while Selman painted the McCarver residence. Mrs. Selman said her two young children were in the room with her, a three-year-old being in a separate bed, and an infant beside her.

McCarver and his wife corroborated Mrs. Selman's testimony. Dave Hoffman, Slaton peace officer who arrested Harmon, also testified. An excerpt from a statement signed by Harmon was used.

Defendant Identified

Mrs. Selman identified Harmon, and also identified a razor which was found when the suspect was arrested March 5 near Slaton.

Harmon, who pleaded not guilty, did not take the stand, and no defense evidence was given.

District Attorney Daniel A. Blair and Burton S. Burks, his assistant, prosecuted the case. A. W. May was jury foreman. The case was transferred from 72nd district court, in which the indictment was returned.

No "White Collar" Hours For President Roosevelt; He Works All Day And Half The Night; Lunch Is Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Round the clock with the President these days leaves a very simple division of time. Three-quarters of the circle—work. One-quarter—sleep.

He rises at 7:30 a. m., and even while his breakfast is served in his upstairs study he is already going through mail and dictating to secretaries. That continues until about 10 a. m., when he goes to the executive offices in the west wing of the White House.

Works Past Midnight

There Mr. Roosevelt stays until 7:30 p. m., gathering facts from aids, ironing out plans, issuing orders. He returns to the White House for eight o'clock dinner, but ascends shortly after to his study for more conferences, which last until midnight and past.

Just to sit in his outer offices these days is exciting. History-makers rush in, many of them summoned on the spur of the moment as the President seeks new angles to some question he is thrashing out at high speed.

Secretary of the Treasury Woodin comes in with his quiet smile. Then there is serious Secretary of State Hull. Another five minutes may bring young Assistant Secretary of State Moley arm-in-arm with gray-haired Senator Glass of Virginia. These conversations in the President's office are terse ones, cut to the bone of immediate necessity.

No Pause For Lunch

Lunch hour arrives. Workers throughout the nation generally let up a little, but not so in the White House offices. Whoever happens to be with the President may share the lunch brought in on trays.

Breakfast, lunch and dinner are "he-man" affairs for him, substantial meals to help him bear the brunt of the emergency—and if the tray holds scrambled eggs his bright smile flashes up at the servant. That's his favorite dish.

The week's program includes four set conferences. The cabinet meets Tuesday and Friday at 2 p. m. In other regimes those meetings have been in the morning. But President Roosevelt feels that he can talk best with his immediate executive family after he is well "in" the day.

Then there are the two press conferences—Wednesday at 10 a. m. and Friday at 4 p. m.

Little Relaxation

During his first 10 days in office the President permitted himself only two interludes of relaxation. He spent half an hour with Oliver Wendell Holmes, former justice of the supreme court, on the latter's birthday.

He attended the White House correspondents' dinner in his honor, enjoying himself so much that he sang the songs and laughed heartily at the sallies of the group. The only other time he left the White House was for church.

But even Sunday means work. The second Sunday in the White House, while checking governmental machinery, he found that the house needed a new "assignment" for Monday.

He phoned for party leaders and shortly the house had his terse message asking for the beer bill—and work for Monday.

Hundreds of letters arrive every day from organizations asking for messages from the President for a club anniversary, a tree planting, a state convention. Obviously acceding to these requests is impossible.

Times have done away with such activities in the White House. They have brought hours that might make a shop foreman grumble.

For Franklin D. Roosevelt the hours are a rush of activity, full of impromptu conferences, as he seeks to iron out the affairs of the nation. Sleep is short, relaxation almost non-existent. Above is a general idea of how he spends his time during these early, history-making days of his presidency.

FRIENDS NOW

PRAGUE—The erection of a joint war memorial to those Czechs and Germans who fell during the world war has done more to renew the friendship of those two nationalities in the town of Libechov, in Bohemia, than all the diplomatic maneuvers of the past 12 years. Both nationalities fought against each other during the war, but the erection of the monument has at last brought about a renewal of pre-war friendship.

Usurious Interest Is Alleged By Suit

A suit was filed against Southern States Mortgage company of Amarillo and Pan-American Life Insurance company of New Orleans in 99th district court Wednesday by O. Lykes, who alleged usurious interest had been charged him.

Lykes asked cancellation of all interest notes and coupons in two deeds of trust securing a $5,500 loan made in February, 1930, and for a judgment of twice the amount, $550.25, of allegedly usurious interest collected by the defendants.

WELFARE WORKER TELLS OF AIDING TEXAS CONVICTS

Rev. E. W. Wells, field secretary of the Texas Society for the Friendless, of Dallas, Wednesday said about 75 per cent of the men and boys whom it assists upon their honorable discharge from state penal institutions "make good." Of those not helped, a much greater percentage returns to criminal ways, he added.

The Texas society is a unit of a national organization, which assists in rehabilitation of men and boys who, upon being released from prison or reformatory, are recommended by prison authorities as worthy of help. The society also helps to provide for members of families unable to care for themselves as a result of a bread-earner being imprisoned.

System Much Better

Rev. Mr. Wells, here in the interests of the society, said Texas prisons are cleaner, prisoners are treated better, and have more educational and recreational facilities than before reorganization of the system.

Eighty-five per cent of the prisoners in the Texas system are serving sentences for first offenses, Rev. Mr. Wells quoted Lee Simmons, state prison system head, as saying.

"Everybody wobbles some time in life," Rev. Mr. Wells said, in suggesting society should give former convicts an opportunity to be useful citizens.

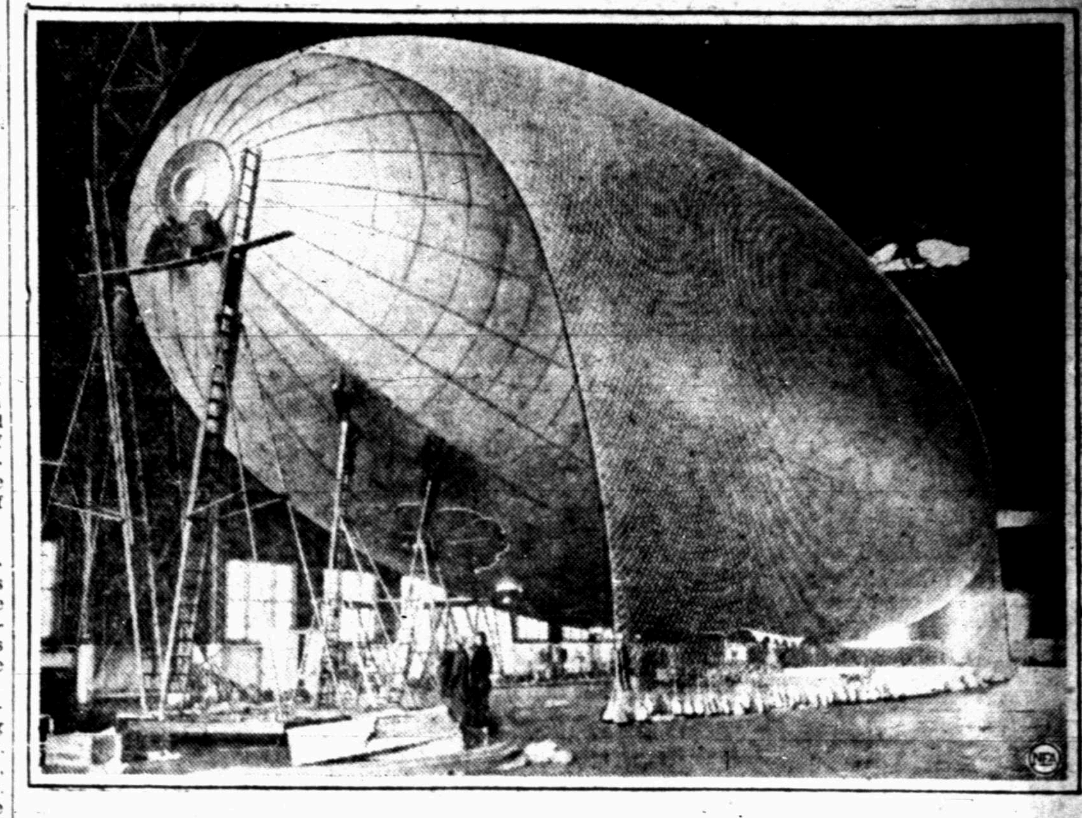

New Environment

"We advise persons who have been released from penal institutions not to return to the city where they were sentenced, because they usually find that their friends have lost confidence in them. A new environment is essential."

Eighty to 95 per cent of Texas prisoners are less than 25 years old, he said.

Matadors Meet Buffs In Free Track Meet Friday Night

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

The generosity of some folks' children!

After going to a lot of expense—considerably more than the eye can readily detect—to stage a training and practice season, purchase uniforms, shoes, improve the grounds; after setting up the lighting equipment, and after offering the visitors a sizeable guarantee ... Texas Tech will throw open the gates to the athletic grounds tomorrow night and charge not one cent for the privilege of seeing a collegiate track and field meet.

Generous—maybe to a fault—is Professor Pete Cawthon, who dictates to Tech's athletic department. Against considerable opposition by friends and counsellors, Coach Pete said: "No, We'll let 'em in free. We won't charge a dime."

So you can see a couple of good track and field teams tangle up tomorrow night in the first college meet held here in three years. And its the first night meet ever! Not many of us—including the writer—have seen a night track meet. It starts at 7:45 o'clock tonight.

Coach Pinkey Lowrey is touting up the 880-yard run as one of the outstanding features of the meet. Colvin of West Texas Teachers is a good half miler indeed if the reports coming from Canyon are to be believed. Authentic statistics show that Mr. Colvin is pretty much of a half miler. Pinkey says he has one or two lads out there who can give Mr. Colvin pretty much of a race. It oughtta be good.

The added "exter special" event, a mile relay race between Lubbock and Plainview high schools will prove interesting, especially if you've kept up with the teams this season. Plainview has concentrated on its relay team, will send it to Austin with the hopes of winning a state championship.

We get quite a wallop from reading the newspapers about former Lubbock and West Texas lads who are hitting the baseball for a class team. They're saying a lot about Sam West these days, especially after his six-hit barrage last week. Yesterday we quoted a St. Louis scribe who dwelt at length on West's feat. Today we quote another St. Louis writer, an old timer, L. C. Davis. Mr. Davis puts parts of his stuff in poetry, which is the only thing we have against him. Here's his latest outburst:

SAMMY THE SOCKER

Young Sammy West has come into the west;
Like young Lochinvar he's as good as the best.
He thought for the Browns he'd get in a few licks
So walloped the pellet for six out of six.

(Second Verse)

For young Sammy West the Browns traded a Goose.
And so he proceeded at once to cut loose;
But in spite of Sam's vicious and timely assault,
The Browns lost the game—but it wasn't Sam's fault.

Mr. Davis goes on to remark (in prose this time) that "there probably are as many ball players who have made 'six out of six' as there are golfers who have made a hole-in-one. Nevertheless it is no mean performance in either case.

For the information of "the gang", provided this paper reaches the jailhouse, we had a letter from Sam yesterday, requesting, among other things, that his best regards be passed along to you. One of his other requests was to keep his name out of the papers until he had really done something. Okay, Sammy.

This fellow Davis, referred to above, is quite a cut-up. He received this letter recently:

"Dear Sir: Now that we have beer, was just wondering if the old slogan of yesteryear would still hold good:

"'St. Louis—First in shoes
First in booze
And last in the American League.'"

SWIMMING MARKS ARE THREATENED

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 20 (AP)—Efforts to displace a reigning champion and to lower another world record will mark the second session tonight of the women's national senior A.A.U. swimming championships.

Miss Dorothy Poynton of Los Angeles, will defend her low board diving title against some of the leading divers of the country while five girls will strive for the 100-yard breast stroke title in two championship events.

One new world's record already has been made and one new champion crowned as a result of the first competition of the four day meet. Miss Katherine Rawls, sensational 15-year-old from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., clipped nearly two seconds from the individual 300-yard medley record of 4:16 set by Eleanor Holm in 1930, while Lenore Kight, of Homestead, Pa., defeated a fast field to take the 100-yard free style title.

BIG CROWD IS SOUGHT FOR CONTEST

FLOODLIGHTS ARE TO BE TURNED ON FOR DUAL MEET HERE

Fans will not be asked to pay admission charges to the Texas Tech-West Texas Teachers college track and field meet tomorrow night, Director of Athletic Pete Cawthon announced last night. The meet will be free to the public.

Originally scheduled for tonight, the meet has been postponed one day in order to permit a large body of former Texas A. & M. college students to attend. It will start at 7:45 o'clock at the Texas Tech field tomorrow evening.

It's All Free

The announcement that the dual meet would be free to the public was a surprise move yesterday, Cawthon stating that "We want a full grandstand when we present the first track and field meet in which Tech has participated since 1929."

Because it is free, a large crowd is expected to be on hand. The football floodlights will provide ample illumination for the track and field events. The meet, officials said, "will start promptly at 7:45" with the pole vault and weight events starting at that time.

The 440-yard dash, one of the most popular of track events, is slated to start at 7:55 o'clock.

Coach Selects Starters

Coach E. J. (Pinkey) Lowrey has been working his large squad double time this week in an effort to "seed" the performers for Friday night's meet.

As an added attraction tomorrow night, the crack relay teams of Lubbock and Plainview high schools will exchange batons in what promises to be one of the features of the meet. Twice before the teams have met, and Plainview, whose relay team outdistanced the field to win the Distance 2 championship here last Saturday, has emerged winner both times. The special event will be sandwiched in between regular events of the college program.

880 A Feature

One of the feature races of the evening is expected in the 880-yard run, with Colvin of the Buffs a slight favorite to win. Colvin is reported to be one of the fastest half-milers this section of the country has seen in several seasons. Claude Brown, one of Tech's best 880 men, probably will not be able to participate in the event because of a pulled muscle, but in the Austin brothers, Fleming and James, registered from Chicago, Basil Hill of Lamesa, and J. T. Epperson of Cleburne, Colvin will have competition that promises an interesting race.

Carl McAdams, Marion Harris and L. J. Brown, from Gordonville, Sallison, Okla., and St. Jo respectively, will compete for Tech in the 440-yard dash, the opening track event.

Yancy Price, Lubbock; D. M. McElroy, Dallas, and Adrian Clark, Denison, are Coach Lowrey's favorites in the 100-yard dash.

For the field events, Lowrey has named as the most promising athletes Willet Kuhn of Weatherford and H. J. Cowan, pole vault; "Mule" Dowell of Royce City, Truett Owen of Sherman, Ted Wilson of Tulsa and Pete Smith for the shot and discus.

NET STARS FIGHT TO MEET LEADERS

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., April 20 (AP)—Two of the nation's "first ten" tennis stars rested in the semi-finals of the Mason and Dixon tennis tournament today while four other high ranking players battled for the right to meet them.

Frank X. Shields, tall New Yorker who was ranked fifth for 1932, and Gregory S. Mangin of Newark, N. J., the national indoor title holder, won their semi-final brackets in easy style yesterday. Shields overwhelmed Marcel Rainville of Montreal, Canadian Davis cup star, 6-1, 6-4, while Mangin turned back Lester Stoefen of Los Angeles, 6-2, 7-5.

Today's remaining quarter-final matches bring together Clifford Sutter of New Orleans and Berkeley Bell of New York; and Sidney B. Wood, jr., of New York, former Wimbledon champion, and J. Gilbert Hall of Orange, N. J.

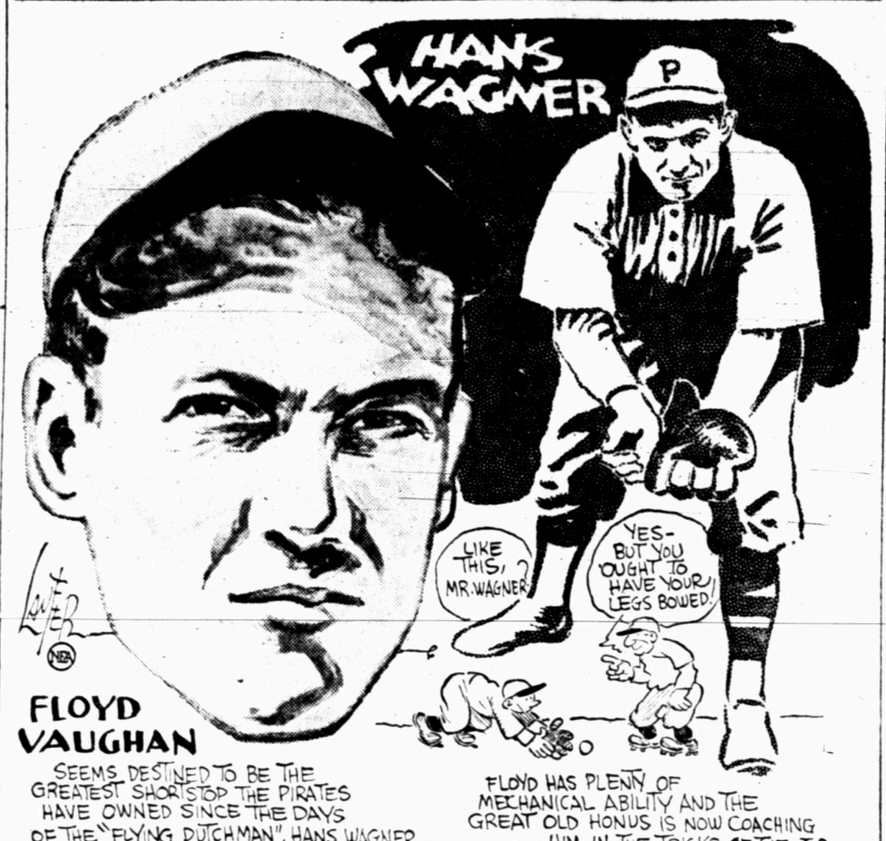

Sutter was the only one of this quartet to play yesterday, defeating Dr. Philip B. Hawk of New York, 6-2, 6-0.

CHARLIE FISCHER WINS

KANSAS CITY, April 20. —(AP)—Charlie Fischer, 170 pounds, of Butternut, Wis., claimant of the world's professional middle and light heavyweight titles, threw Earl Lacy, 170, Ness City, Kas., with a pile driver hold in 25 minutes and 20 seconds here last night.

Fred Peterson, 215, Holt, Mo., won over Dutch Hefner, 235, Sherman, Tex., who was injured and unable to continue.

Chicago White Sox Show Surprising Power In Race

CLUB OUTHITS EVERY OTHER MAJOR TEAM BY WIDE MARGIN

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox, a club which did not "figure" to go anywhere at all in the American league this year, has responded to Owner Lou Comiskey's lavish outlay of cash for new playing talent by assuming a distinctly threatening attitude toward the leaders.

It still is too early to say how far the ox will go, but the fact remains that so far they have outhit every other major league club by a wide margin and have climbed to the dizzy heights of second place.

Hurlers Look Good

In six games, the Pale Hose have confounded the critics who held that attitude not only by pounding out 63 hits for 35 runs but by producing several hurlers who could hold their own and win games, even when the opposition wasn't overpowered. In the opener, Eddie Durham and Joe Heving collaborated in a four-hit game; a couple of days later Pa Gregory and Vic Frasier allowed Detroit only six hits but lost the game; Tuesday Sad Samuel Jones granted seven blows and scattered them well enough to produce a shutout and yesterday another veteran, Ted Lyons, turned in a three-hit masterpiece.

Lyons, making his second start in a comeback campaign after two bad seasons, pitched almost perfect ball, and while the Sox could get only seven safeties off Dick Coffman and Sam Gray they turned back the St. Louis Browns 3 to 0. Only six Brownies reached first, two on walks and one on an error, and none passed second.

In the only other game played yesterday, the Brooklyn Dodgers displayed some more of the smart baseball with which they have been amazing the National league to take a ten inning decision from the Boston Braves, 2 to 1. The winning run came in on a squeeze play when Al Lopez laid down a neat bunt and brought Tony Cuccinello in from third.

Keeper of the Key

Receiving the key of a city is an honor under any circumstances, but taking it from the hand of beautiful Miss Ethel Hook makes the ceremony a two-fold honor. She is the guardian of the golden key of Long Beach, Calif., and it is her official duty to present the key to each of the 32 major conventions scheduled to be held in the California city during the coming season.

BOXING TO BE TAUGHT HERE

NEW DEPARTMENT FOR COACHING SCHOOL ADDED BY TECH

A new department has been added to the Texas Tech coaching school and as a result, boxing and wrestling in schools looked over by students at the school here this summer probably will pick up.

Manager Pete Cawthon announced the signing of Captain C. M. Woodbury, coach of boxing at New Mexico Military institute, as lecturer and demonstrator of his calling at the third annual Tech Coaching school.

Boxing Popular

This new phase of coaching school, seldom offered at any school, is added because of the increasing popularity of boxing in high schools and colleges and the demand for good boxing instructors.

Woodbury is recognized as one of the outstanding coaches of college boxing in the southwest. He has trained and turned out fine teams at N. M. M. I. for several years. One of his leading ring performers is the "Wop" Chairamonte who has twice won decisions over Tech's boxers this season. He is credited with 165 clean knockouts.

Boxing and wrestling both will be taught at the Tech school. Ed Gallagher, physical education instructor and wrestling coach at Oklahoma A. & M. college, has been signed to put on a course in college wrestling at the school this summer.

Other courses offered at Tech's school, which drew more than 400 coaches from 32 states last year, are football, basketball, track, treatment and care of injured athletes and organization and administration of college athletics. The school opens July 31 and continues through August 13.

SUNSHINE WANTED FOR DERBY TRACK

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 20 (AP)—Sunshine, and a lot of it, is the principal hope of trainers conditioning nominees for the $50,000 added Kentucky Derby to be raced at Churchill Downs May 6. Muddy tracks have been the rule at both Louisville and Lexington for more than a week.

Col. E. R. Bradley, whose entry of Boilermaker and Broker's Tip may produce another surprise victory for the three-time Derby winner, will not start in the prospect purse at Lexington Saturday unless the track is good. Bradley's hopes, as yet unraced this spring, are working out at his Idle Hour farm near Lexington.

C. C. Van Meter says he has about decided to drop the Derby from the state engagements of his Red Whisk. This nominee has shown a dislike for mud and the continued bad track at Lexington has prevented his conditioning for the mile and a quarter journey.

Leading western eligibles in training at Churchill Downs have been turning in excellent workouts over the heavy going, but a fast track and resultant opportunities for them to show what they can really do would be highly appreciated by their handlers.

A BIG HAUL

DETROIT—Hijacking is no longer confined to liquor. Two armed men jumped on the running board of a truck and trailer which carried 48,000 pounds of sugar. They forced Ernest Gibbs and William Brozek to stop the truck and get out. Two more men came up and they loaded Gibbs and Brozek into a car and took them to a garage in the rear of a vacant house. The two men were held under guard for five hours. When they were finally released no trace of the load of sugar remained.

TEXAS LEAGUE SEES BETTER PITCHING

HITTERS HAVE TO BAT AGAINST BEST MOUND OFFERINGS IN YEARS

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas league's hitters are having to bat against some of the finest pitching in several years. Although the flag chase is only nine days old, brilliant achievements on the mound have shadowed the swatting phase of the game.

Mike Cvengros, Houston southpaw, has hurled two shutouts.

Sal Gliatto, diminutive Dallas right-hander, was allowed only five hits in two games.

Ralph Erickson, Dallas portsider, pitched a one-hit game.

Ed Greer, Houston's new mound find, has won two games.

Add Judge Schulz

And to the list of pitching greats so far this season one just now add the name of Judge Dick Schulz of the Beaumont Exporters. The Judge was in excellent form Wednesday when he limited the Houston Buffaloes to four hits and clicked with his second shutout this season, a 3 to 0 victory.

The Judge received flawless support. Splendid catches by Paul Easterling in the outfield and fast fielding by Hal Patchett and "Flea" Clifton on the infield aided Schuz in trimming the Buffaloes. The win left Beaumont in a tie with Galveston for third place.

Hitters Have Day

But even with all this "subpar pitching" the hitters must have their afternoons and the Galveston Buccaneers had theirs when they clouted five home runs to smother San Antonio, 14 to 6. Galveston collected a total of 19 hits.

The Oklahoma City Indians opened the door to their park and found Pitcher Wolff waiting for them. Wolff strolled right in and gobbled up the Indians, 4 to 3. He limited them to six hits but had to go ten innings before getting his decision. It was a sparkling pitchers' battle between Wolff and Kennedy. Fort Worth got eight hits.

The league leading Dallas Steers were scheduled to entertain the Tulsa Oilers, but rain prevented the contest.

MEET WON BY LEVELLAND

METHODIST DISTRICT CONFERENCE CLOSES HERE WEDNESDAY

An annual conference of the Lubbock district of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in 1934 will be conducted in Levelland, the invitation of the church there having been accepted unanimously by a conference in session at Asbury Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday.

It was the only invitation extended. Rev. J. B. Reynolds, Levelland pastor, said at least one new unit of a church building there would be completed in time for the next conference.

Six young men were named by the conference to be presented to the annual Northwest Texas Conference at Clarendon in November as candidates for membership in the conference. Considerable debate was had over recommendation of the entire list, as it was announced there probably would be only one vacancy in the conference.

Delegates Are Chosen

Delegates to the annual conference chosen were: O. H. Cline, Asbury; Mrs. C. A. Bickley, First M. E. Lubbock; A. N. Gamble, First, Lubbock; B. M. Haymes, O'Donnell; J. N. Mabe, Levelland; Mrs. Ed Tharp, Brownfield; J. N. Thomas, Tahoka; Mrs. C. E. Fike, Slaton; Mrs. H. C. Pearson, Lorenzo; Mrs. George C. Wolffarth, Lubbock First; L. Forrest, Lamesa; Mrs. J. B. Thompson, Lorenzo and Mrs. J. O. Haymes, Lubbock. Alternates named were: Percy B. Ralls, Ralls; W. C. Huffaker, Wilson; Mrs. J. Berry Baker, Lamesa circuit and Rufus Bourborough, Lubbock.

Committee reports and passing on the qualifications of local elders formed a part of the afternoon session. Four ballots were necessary to select the delegates to the annual conference.

Candidates And Votes

Candidates for recommendations to the annual Northwest conference and the votes approving their candidacies, were: Claude Lemond, Ralls, 66 to 1; William E. Peterson, now a student in McMurry college, 65 to 2; Dennis Lee Lawton, 60 to 9; Milton E. Lynn, Asbury, student in Tech, 65 to 10; W. L. Porterfield, supply pastor at Plains, 61 to 10; Marion H. Brooks, Asbury, student in Tech, 64 to 12.

Local elders whose characters were passed and licenses approved, were: J. G. Walker, Ralls; George Smallwood, Lubbock; G. R. Fort, Lubbock; W. D. Wheeler, Becton; C. M. Curry, M. G. Dobbs, M. D. Hart and H. K. Monroe. The application of J. W. Cole, formerly at Levelland and now at Abilene, after considerable discussion, was laid on the table.

Gain Is Shown

The report submitted by Rev. J. Berry Baker of the committee on spiritual state of the church, showed a membership gain of 528 since the opening conference year. Of this number, 178 were by profession of faith and 350 by certificate.

Rev. J. B. Reynolds, pastor of the next host church, explained the financial plan of "selling bricks" by which he hopes to raise $2,000 or more for his building. Each member took "100 bricks" and were to sell them for five cents each.

The committee on missions made its report through Rev. Uel D. Crosby, with a supplementary report by Mrs. George C. Wolffarth, head of the women's missionary work.

Rev. Ira C. Hart, former pastor at Shallowater and now pastor at Hart, in the Plainview district, spoke briefly.

V. O. Jennings, Asbury, was named a district trustee. Dr. Roy Loveless, Slaton, was named to succeed the late Dr. S. H. Adams of that city.

The district rally of the young people will be at Slaton April 29 and 30 and the adult assembly at Ceta Canyon, June 10-12.

How Reforestation Army Is Being Prepared For It's Work

APPOINTMENT OF COMMERCE EXPERT TO PARLEY REVEALS ITALY'S IDEAS

(This is the fifth of a series on the hopes and expectations of the nations invited to participate in President Roosevelt's conferences in Washington on world problems).

BY ANDRE BERDING

(Copyright, 1933, by The Associated Press)

ROME, April 20 (AP)—The appointment of Finance Minister Guido Jung to represent Italy in the preliminary world economic conference in Washington is regarded in business circles as an indicator foreshadowing Italy's ideas at the conference.

Signor Jung is not only a banker of international experience but an international commerce expert. He headed the national export institute from 1927 until last year.

Can Discuss Trade

Business men say this means he not only will be in a position to discuss debts but also international trade agreements, tariffs and monetary accords.

Signor Jung will be called upon to interpret the new Italian attitude that the most favored nation treaties must be replaced by individual negotiations among nations.

Alberto Asquini, under secretary of corporations, recently stated in the senate: "The most favored nation understandings must be revised to divide benefits more justly." He said there was too much one-sided profiting from the agreements and argued that the nation could not sell without also buying.

Bargaining Powers Seen

That Signor Jung will go to Washington with full bargaining powers is seen in this similar statement by Minister of Agriculture Baron Acerbo to the senate: "The present situation was adroitly foreseen by the Fascist government when it stipulated that the new conventions of last year permit us before summer to denounce existing treaties so we are free for tariff negotiations before the end of the year."

Italy has a large surplus of olive oil, artificial silk, tomato and straw products and wine which she would like to see the United States take off her hands in compensation for a reduction in the Italian debt owed the United States, now slightly more than $2,000,000,000.

Some of the favorites offered were "Blue Danube," "The Rosary," "Smilin' Through," and "Glow Worm."

OPTOMETRISTS TO HOLD CONVENTION

BROWNWOOD, April 20 (AP)—The program has been completed for the 33rd annual convention of the Texas Optometric association here April 23, 24 and 25. Dr. Mollie W. Armstrong of this city, member of the state executive committee, is chairman.

Increased attendance at the convention is anticipated this year as all optometrists of Texas, regardless of affiliation with the state organization, have been invited. The executive committee recently decided to include non-members because many common problems of the profession will be discussed.

Dr. Thomas McBurnie of Brooklyn, N. Y., president of the American Optometric association, will be a guest of the convention, and will speak. Dr. William B. Needles, president of the Northern Illinois College of Optometry, of Chicago, will be another outstanding speaker. Dr Charles Sheard, of the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., is expected, and a dinner in his honor is planned for Monday evening, April 24.

Dr. Nelson Greeman of San Antonio, president of the Texas association, will preside at the 1933 convention.

Thought For Today

The Lord is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that trust in him.—Nahum 1:7.

* * *

Trouble and perplexity drive us to prayer, and prayer driveth away trouble and perplexity.—Melanchthon.

Mythology

The savage tribes in some of the northernmost jungles of South America worship the image of a white man in a silk hat and frock coat.

For a good many years explorers have been collecting carved wooden staffs bearing this odd image; a white man in old-fashioned dress, often carved with genuine skill, with minor details of costume faithfully rendered. Medicine men used such staffs extensively, believing that all manner of diseases could be cured with them.

Naturally, somebody got curious about it all, and a long investigation has finally dug up the explanation.

More than 200 years ago a Scotch colony was settled on the coast of the Gulf of San Blas. A doctor, William Patterson, was the leading spirit in the venture. He was evidently a skilled and conscientious physician, and he worked many cures among his barbaric native neighbors.

As a result, the simple savages canonized him when he died—or, rather, they raised him to a position of godhood. Members of his own race long since forgot all about him, but he remains today a potent legend in the distant jungles. His likeness goes through the forests in the hands of painted priests; he has a secure place in a remote wilderness pantheon.

Here, surely, is about as unusual a kind of fame as any white man ever attained; and it leads one into fruitless but interesting speculation about the originals of other, more widely-known gods of the old days, because it sheds such a revealing light on the way in which primitive people form their myths.

When we first get acquainted with primitive myths, most of us wonder how people could be so inventive; and the answer, apparently, is that they aren't. Myths aren't invented; they are built up unconsciously about frameworks of fact. Odin, Hercules, Quetzalcoatl—back of all of these shadowy figures, you may be sure, move the ghosts of very real men who by their wisdom or strength or luck once made profound impressions on the minds of their fellows.

WELL the United States is off the gold standard, if that means anything to you. As far as The Plainsman is concerned, it's been off the gold standard a long time, for aside from a $2.50 goldpiece one of the kids got for Christmas and a couple of jawtooth fillings we haven't had anything around our house resembling gold.

If it will help the march back to normalcy, let's go on the tin standard, the lead standard or any old standard.

Gold is precious only because men have always said it was.

The lady of the house had decided that she was behind in her shopping.

"Couldn't you let me have some money, dear?" she asked her husband. "There are a few things I have to buy."

"Sure", said her husband. "Would you like to have an old five dollar bill or a new one?"

"A new one", the wife returned.

"All right", said the old meanie, slipping her a buck, "here's a nice new one and I'm four dollars to the good."

HAVE you noticed how cotton has been gaining in the past few weeks? Also wheat but we're more interested in cotton around here. Last Sunday morning an Associated Press survey showed cotton had jumped up $3 a bale within the last three weeks and yesterday, when U. S. went off the gold standard, it was hiked another $2.

Maybe the boys who held their cotton are going to cash in on their decision.

West Texas farmers meeting at Plainview yesterday endorsed the Farm Holiday plan recently hit upon by Iowa farmers.

The idea, if it were possible to carry it out on a national scale, likely would result in better prices for commodities.

But unless it is on a national scale, it can't be expected to work.

The farmers are absolutely right in their contention that farm products are not bringing enough money to the producer.

But hiking the prices through artificial means is pretty hard to do.

It might work for a day or two but can't work always.

A particular guest stopped at the little hotel and was shown to his room. After a brief inspection, he told the bell boy to send the manager up.

When that worthy arrived, the guest began to howl.

"Why man", he explained, his finger pointing, "the walls of this room are so thin you can almost see through them!"

"That ain't the wall you're pointing at," the manager replied, "that's the window!"

THOUGHTS AT RANDOM: Peggy Joyce must be a lot sweller than her pictures, else how could she have gotten such a play from the play boys? . . . Ruth Judd missed her calling. She's a great actress and probably never will go to the gallows, despite the fact that her girl friends are as dead as a pickled herring. . . There are very, very few desirable houses for rent in Lubbock. . . Add similes, as worried as a Tech professor reading about appropriations cuts. . . You can't make the down-staters believe there are more stoogents in the collitch here than there are at the Aggie skule.

It's strawberry shortcake season. . . Oh boy, oh boy, oh boy! . . . And the new spring friers will be out before long. . . You'd be surprised how much interest there has been here in the trial of the Englishmen charged with sabotage in Russia. . . . The New York lawyer, hired by Communists to defend negroes charged with raping a white woman in Alabama, doesn't like Alabama justice. . . Well, Alabama didn't ask him to practice law down there. . . The negroes may be innocent of the charges and if they are, should be freed. . . But The Plainsman can imagine the feelings of this community if lawyers hired by New York Reds came down to tell Lubbock how to conduct its courts. . . Boy, howdy!

Edd McLaughlin, of Ralls, ought to be Rotary governor of this district if club service counts anything . . . Speaking of the depression, couldn't you kick yourself for every time you've paid 15 cents for a shoe shine and put a dime tip on top of that? . . . The best way to become successful, if you believe the ads, is to be sure you're not handicapped by B. O. . . Twenty-eight people were after the postmastership at Littlefield, secured by Jimmie Springer. . . Although he voted against him in 1928, The Plainsman has since become convinced that Alfred E. Smith is one of the foremost Americans of our age. . . And his worst fault has been that of Bryan's: thinking ahead of the times.

Rarity of Impeachment Trials For Federal Jurists In America Is Matched Only By Their Solemnity And Pomp

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Seldom does a federal judge achieve the distinction of being impeached by the House of Representatives and convicted by the United States Senate. The rarity of impeachment trials is matched only by their solemnity and pomp.

Dutcher

The last federal impeachment was 20 years ago. Judge Robert W. Archbold of the commerce court, which then had jurisdiction over railroads, was charged with making offers to railroads to buy their culm piles through his partners. He was impeached and removed.

The latest candidate for removal is Judge Harold Louderback of northern California. His trial in the Senate is set for May 15. Judge Louderback is alleged to have forced his friends as receivers on concerns which didn't want them and to have allowed the receivers unjustifiably lavish fees.

The scene of an impeachment is so unusual and so different from the ordinarily sloppy aspect of the Houses of Congress that Judge Louderback is assured of a large throng of spectators.

Senate Sits as Court

Everything is in open session. On the next to the last day of the last session of the last Congress, six picked members of the House—acting as the prosecutors and known as the House managers—were formally announced to the Senate and paraded in with their articles of impeachment.

"Hear ye! Hear ye! Hear ye!" yelled the sergeant-at-arms, "All persons are commanded to keep silence, on pain of imprisonment, while the House of Representatives . . ." etc. And the articles were read. After further formalities the Senate stopped sitting as a court of impeachment until a later date.

Garner Will Be Judge

Each senator must be especially sworn when the Senate sits as a court of impeachment, so senators who were not on hand when the Senate became such a court March 4 were sworn the other day when Louderback and his lawyer appeared before the bar of the Senate opposite the House managers.

At the trial the Senate will be empowered to summon and compel the testimony of any witnesses it likes. Vice President Garner, as if a judge, may rule on questions of evidence but must put any such ruling to a vote if it is challenged.

Two-thirds of the Senate must decide against Louderback if there is to be a conviction. The yeas and nays will be taken on each of the five articles of impeachment.

Louderback is alleged once to have appointed a receiver and had counsel named for a company when it wasn't bankrupt. He is charged with sitting in a bankruptcy case in a court to which he was not assigned and to have made conditions as to receiver and counsel fees before he would surrender company assets.

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

READER ANSWERS LETTER FROM PEACE-LOVER

Dear Plainsman; I just noticed the article in your Monday's issue from a peace-loving citizen, yeah boy! I surely hate to know of anybody losing their sweet disposition in crying times as we are going through with. I notice he is a man that loves quiet and peace. Well, it is but a short distance to the outer edge of the city where all is quiet and peacable. No chickens, no cows, and flies generally gather where there is something to attract their attention. So if I could not stand the little noise of a neighbor or the kackle of a hen, I would move out. And as to the health, there have been cows, chickens and flies ever since the year one and there never has been a law passed to stop such from being. And to stay out of the hospitals, keep yourself broke or pretty near broke and they won't solicit your business.

I understand there are some drugless practioners that claim to quiet the nerves and to keep a big percent out of the hospitals and save operations. Why not look around and let the cow and hen have a rest, and keep your temper because nobody else wants it.

If you are looking for the city to help you you had just as well move on the other side of the street for they are wanting the same thing.

Yours for better times,
A Live and Let Live Citizen.

"The trouble," he said, "in this world is that the old fellows try to force their ideas on the young.

"It can't be done."

In Ohio he was hit by a train, was badly hurt, but recovered. A man who picked him up was killed later in almost the same spot. In his home town his horses ran away once and an automobile trailer hit him on another occasion, but he escaped fatal injuries each time.

Embarrassing

MAPLE PLAIN, Minn.—Those beer licenses must be signed but a fire department meeting saved the Rev. Norman Batdors, village clerk, embarrassment.

Under the law the village clerk must sign all beer licenses. Mr. Batdors said he would prefer resigning rather than sign such things.

It looked like a stalemate.

But a village firemen's meeting called for his attendance at the same time the village council met.

Levi Carlson—who had no objections to signing beer licenses—was selected clerk pro tem.

he gold standard, as commonly ned, provides a measure of value terms of gold, through redemp- n of currency in fixed amounts gold upon demand, in the case our currency, in 23.22 grains of gold to the dollar.

Situation Clarified

hus, the gold standard in this ntry had not been in full opera- since the banking holiday in rch, when redemption of paper ney was halted, but the treas- had licensed a few gold exports foreign exchange transactions, ling to support the dollar close to parity. The definite embargo placed on exports clarifies the aton.

old's chief importance in the fi- cial world has been in settling rnational balances, for it is the international measure of value. h gold exports checked, the dol- must find its own level in rela- to other currencies, on a de- nd and supply basis, subject to the trol of dealings by the New York eral Reserve bank which has n in effect since the banking day.

ith the United States a creditor on, and enjoying a favorable bal- e of trade, foreign exchange ex- ts explain that under normal ditions, the dollar left to find own level on a demand and ply basis would naturally be ex- ted to advance rather than to line. The favorable balance of ments to this country have re- ed in a huge increase in its store gold in the past decade.

Other Currencies Bought

ut the belief that the United es might seek to extricate itself n its economic morass through ucing the purchasing power of dollar has been sufficient to mpt selling of dollars by foreign- with balances in New York, and purchase of other currencies, as as selling of dollars by foreign hange speculators.

nflation has become such a con- ious word that a number of fi- cial authorities have sought to stitute other words for it, such "anti-deflation." Inflation is monly defined as an increase in circulating medium, meaning er currency or bank credit in form of checks, or both, with nsequent rise in prices.

Two Methods Used

nflation may be accomplished ough either credit or currency ansion. It may be accomplished ough heavy expansion of bank it, as in the recent boom years, hrough depreciation of the cur- y, through deliberate reduction he gold content, an increase in volume of currency with con- ent reduction of gold reserves, eliberate issue of fiat money. he chief difficulty experienced a managed currency, cut loose h gold, has been in keeping it in able relationship to other world encies. anking authorities here are in- ed to the belief that the gold dard will be widely restored, on ore workable basis. This might it is explained, on the basis of t devaluation of sterling, francs dollars in terms of gold, in the e ratio. This would free a large unt of monetary metal. DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 20 (AP)—Cotton had a buoyantly active opening today. Liverpool came in about as due with sterling materially higher. First trades here showed gains of 38 to 44 points and the market continued to advance after the start in active general buying both from the trade and speculative sources based on the inflation idea. May traded up to 7.56, July to 7.73, and October to 7.95, or 45 to 47 points above yesterday's close.

This sharp initial advance attracted profit-taking and also some selling by ring traders and prices reacted 7 to 12 points from the top but soon started to recover again, regaining two to six points of the reaction. Trading near the end of the first hour continued very active.

The market continued feverishly active all morning. Following the first hour advance prices reacted with other markets and on extensive cashing in of profits. Before the offerings were absorbed, July dropped to 7.44, and October to 7.67, down 29 points from the early highs. Towards noon, the market rallied again on firmness of wheat, July advancing to 7.58, and October to 7.81, up 14 points from the lows and 32 points above yesterday's close.

Trading was more general and less professional than has been the case in many months.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—Cotton opened strong, 41 to 54 points higher on active general buying, higher sterling exchange and relatively higher Liverpool cables. May 7.50; July 7.70; Oct. 7.90; Dec. 8.10; Jan. 8.24; March 8.35.

Overnight advices from Washington and the early action of sterling strengthened inflationary ideas with reference to commodity values. This lead to a broad demand through wire and commission houses. The advance to 7.60 for May and 8.00 for October carried the market to slightly more than a cent a pound above the low levels of Monday, which was sufficient to attract a considerable realizing and southern selling.

The more urgent demand was supplied by the offerings from these sources, and at the end of the first half hour prices showed reactions of 11 to 17 points from the best, although the buying continued active enough to give the market a firm undertone.

Trading continued active later in the morning but prices sagged under heavy realizing and southern selling. By midday May had worked down to 7.40 and October to 7.77, or about 20 to 28 points from the high prices of the morning with the market showing net advances of about 20 to 28 points on the active positions.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—The overnight announcement that the United States had cut loose from the gold standard produced an explosion of buying in speculative markets today.

Stocks surged up 1 to more than 9 points in the most active trading in nearly three years, while sensitive commodities generally surged up anew, and the dollar again dropped in foreign exchange trading. Markets cooled off somewhat after midday, however, and nearly half the advance in shares was lost in profit-taking.

Stocks calculated to benefit by enhancement of inventories were particularly strong. Corn Products jumped more than 9 points, then slid back 4. International Nickel jumped 3 5-8 with a transfer of 40,000 shares, then slid back 2. A 6-point jump in National Steel was more than half lost. Cerro De Pasco copper jumped 5, then reacted 4. Gains of around 4 points in such issues as American Telephone, International Telephone, Allied Chemical, Kroger, and International Silver were roughly cut in half. Procter and Gamble jumped nearly 8, then lost about half. U. S. Steel common rose more than 6, and held all but a couple of points of its extreme gain.

PASTOR IS HEARD ON SAN JACINTO

Marking the club's observance of San Jacinto day, Rev. Boyd Milburn, pastor of the West End Baptist church, gave a brief talk on the Battle of San Jacinto and early incidents in Texas history. E. L. Klett was program chairman.

M. E. Heard announced the Tech cotton carnival in May and urged the club to enter a girl in the style show contest.

"The Battle of San Jacinto is the most important part of our history," Rev. Milburn declared. "There, Sam Houston with 783 men overwhelmed Santa Anna and his 1,500 Mexicans and made Texas a free and independent country." He recited other events in Texas history including the fall of the Alamo and the massacre at Goliad.

INSURANCE HEAD AVERS BUSINESS HOLDING ITS OWN

Volume of business being written in 1933 is about the same as in 1932. A. R. Wilson, Waco, president of the Amicable Life Insurance company, said here today. Mr. Wilson came here to attend a district meeting of his organization called by Charles Whitacre, local supervisor.

"People are taking more protection today than they did," said Mr. Wilson. "They are not buying as much life insurance as an investment as a year or two ago, but they are buying protection.

Business Holds Own

"Our business is holding its own, as far as writing of policies is concerned. The premiums are not as large as they were because of the change in the type of insurance being purchased."

Mr. Wilson said that under an act of the Texas legislature no cash loans on policies are being paid and none can be paid until after December 31, this year. The act under which this action was made possible, was a copy of the one adopted by the New York State assembly. "It was copied word for word, dotting the same 'i's' and crossing the same 't's' and the only changes were substituting the words, 'Legislature of Texas' for "Assembly of New York'," he explained.

A provision makes possible a cash loan of $100 for emergencies. "To the insurance company is left the decision on what constitutes an emergency," Mr. Wilson added.

With Mr. Wilson were: Holt Massey, secretary; Carl L. Lovelace, medical director, and E. E. Roberts and Bill Edmonds, supervisors.

Sessions were held in the Hilton hotel starting at 11 o'clock. Luncheon was served at noon in the dining room. An attendance of about 40 to 45 men was expected.

Boys' Week Planned—A boys' week committee met last night in the Hilton hotel and outlined a tentative program for Lubbock observance of National Boys' week, April 29 through May 6. H. C. ROOSEVELT SEEKS TO INJECT HIGHER PRICES AND NEW LIFE INTO BUSINESS to extend this right to the president to modify the gold ratio.

Confer With President

Secretary Woodin and Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, met with the president and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the party leader, at the White House.

Although the proposal would empower presidential issuance of new currency, it was reemphasized in administration circles today that there is no intention of "turning on the printing presses."

It also was stated that while America is off the gold standard in international trade as a result of Roosevelt's withdrawal of gold support of the dollar in foreign exchanges, the United States is technically on the gold standard domestically.

In seeking the authority proposed by congress, it is the idea of Mr. Roosevelt to keep a firm control over the inflationary process. He wants a new price level and a greater exchange of money but he wants to be able to stop the inflation within bounds.

While a tentative draft of the bill of Senator Thomas used as the basis for administration legislation for allowing issuance of paper currency or "greenbacks"—there was said to be no intention by the president to put out an issue of unsecured paper currency.

Pledge Recalled

His determination in this respect has been asserted repeatedly; reminders being passed around by the administration as to the Democratic platform pledge of "an adequate but sound" currency.

Enthusing over the bill in the drafting of which he has had such a part, Senator Thomas told reporters:

"It will put value back into commodities and real estate and there will be no necessity to refinance farm mortgages.

"It is also a bank relief bill, as it will put value back into the collateral as basis for approximately $40,000,000,000 of frozen deposits.

"It will put value into every security in the banks and be the salvation of every bank in America."

Would Issue Notes

Thomas said the four-fold program would give the president authority to issue treasury notes under the old greenback law of 1862 but in greater amounts and to make them legal tender for both public and private debts.

It also would authorize the president, in his discretion, to reduce the gold content of the dollar, either independently or under an international agreement returning foreign nations to the gold standard and with a domestic content in harmony with other currencies.

Further provisions would permit the acceptance of silver in part payments of war debts and authorize the secretary of the treasury to prepare rules and regulations with approval of the president for administration of the law.

Would Be No Limit

There would be no limit on the amount of treasury notes the government could issue, Thomas said. One feature would be a redemption found to retire the notes which would work this way.

The government would use the notes to buy up outstanding government bonds and then destroy the bonds. Then from time to time congress would be asked to appropriate money to pa ythe interest on the bonds, but as the bonds would have been destroyed the money would be put in a fund to retire the notes paid out for the bonds.

There appeared to be in the Roosevelt program a definite idea for some form of bi-metallism. It was made emphatic that whatever new paper is issued will be backed up by precious metals. It was assumed this would mean both gold and silver.

BRITISH PUZZLED BY GOLD EMBARGO

LONDON, April 20 (AP)—Puzzlement, coupled with extreme anxiety, was the British reaction today to the American imposition of the gold embargo and the statements from Washington that the United States was off the gold standard.

The immediate concrete result was a heavy fall in the value of the dollar as compared with the pound, coupled with violent fluctuations which within the first hour of trading on the exchange took the dollar down to where it was at one time $3.90 to the pound.

Economists Bewildered

Government quarters were beset with uncertainty as to just what President Roosevelt's move meant and economists were equally bewildered.

Two things did emerge clearly from Downing street: The present official position is that Mr. Roosevelt's action was not, as some suggest, for the purpose of bludgeoning Prime Minister MacDonald on the eve of the White House conversations, and secondly, there is no disposition on the part of England to try to debase the value of the pound in order to maintain the recent ratio in value of the two currencies.

British officialdom has taken a page from Mr. Roosevelt's book and at this juncture proposes "to let the pound take care of itself."

Trade Threatened

England's main concern is that trade advantages which she enjoyed because of her debased currency after her departure from the gold standard might no longer exist.

A considerable section of the press immediately concluded Mr. Roosevelt's move was made for the purpose of forcing Mr. MacDonald's hand in the coming conversations and compelling Great Britain to return to the gold standard.

FRANCE MAY FOLLOW AMERICAN ACTION

PARIS, April 20 (AP)—French financiers feared today that France eventually will be obliged to follow the United States off the gold standard.

She already is on a gold bullion basis, releasing only bars.

Bankers say that further restrictions are likely because Great Britain is draining French gold. The Bank of England got most of the $117,000,000 in gold France lost in the past four months.

The Bank of France is extremely cautious. Bankers said contrary to custom, it issued no advice in the present situation but adopted a "wait and see" policy.

One leading banking expert said: "This is the most far-reaching financial event of the past century, far greater than England's desertion of gold. For the first time in history a country has deliberately devaluated money in order to boost prices and the consequences to the world will be of such proportions that none can foresee their extent."

Government officials and banking experts agree with press comment that the great dollar-pound battle has been launched.

Some believe England will reduce further the value of the pound in order to meet American competition, thereby increasing danger for the franc.

GERMANS CRITICIZE AMERICAN ACTION

BERLIN, April 20 (AP)—German reaction to the abandonment of the gold standard by the United States today ranged from mild regret to frank disapproval and sharp criticism.

Having gone through an inflation which wiped out their possessions, Germans are worried by the possibility of any world movement of that nature, regardless of its qualifications.

suffering of shock. Shelton has two brothers, Austin and George Shelton, and a sister, Miss Cordelia Shelton, of the same address.

Others Survive Victim

In his immediate family, besides the widow, three children, Callie Faye, Ralph, and Wilmer, survive. Other survivors are a brother, Henry Shelton of Wichita, Kansas, and three sisters, Mrs. W. J. Collins and Miss Carrie Shelton of Wichita and Mrs. Elmer Gray of Olton. Mrs. Collins was in Lubbock last night.

The accident occurred at 5:30 o'clock, Ferguson, according to Mr. McKinney, said that Shelton was driver of the truck, which he owned. The accident scene is about 12 miles southwest of Quitaque and about nine miles south of Silverton.

Car Goes In Ditch

Shelton, Ferguson, and Barnett were returing from Estelline, where they had been engaged in highway construction work. They were driving south, and their truck went into the left borrow pit when the driver did not see a sharp turn to the right. The ditch was between 8 and ten feet deep, Mr. Hobson estimated. It was Barnett's arm they saw. Shelton probably was killed instantly.

Ferguson, in the cab, was breathing with great difficulty, being pinned across the stomach. Shelton and Barnett, clear of the cab, were held by a portion of the truck frame. The machine had not turned completely over, having been stopped by the embankment.

With McKinney and Hobson were B. F. Hamersley of Amarillo and W. R. King of Big Spring. All are Montgomery Ward & Co. employes, McKinney being district manager and Hobson manager of the Lubbock store.

Shelton's body was taken to the Lindsey funeral home here.

house yesterday voted for deeper cuts in many instances as it reduced the proposed budget for A. and M. college.

Bell's Pay Is Cut

The house struck from the bill an item to pay Matty Bell, head football coach at A. and M., $2,700 annually from state funds. The item was eliminated, 58 to 55, after considerable debate. Unless the free conference committee restores the salary, all of Bell's pay must come from local funds of the college.

The last of the sales tax bills was given an unfavorable report by the house committee on revenue and taxation. The vote was 9 to 8. It was considered likely that an effort would be made to keep the bill alive by having it printed on a minority report.

WORLD PARLEY

word that the dollar would be allowed to find its own level internationally since this was seen in some quarters as a necessary preliminary to establishment of the dollar at a new parity eventually.

To Obtain Views

With the attitude of the British and French towards the new move not yet clearly indicated, the president was in a position to obtain their views and perhaps their cooperation through the direct conversations soon to begin.

Currency stabilization held a prime position among the matters to be discussed with MacDonald, Herriot and the representatives of nine other nations who will follow in rapid order, but all aspects of the world's economic plight were scheduled for consideration.

In some quarters it was pointed out that depreciation of the dollar in terms of foreign exchanges apparently would serve to reduce the war debt payment due June 15, a point which the president would be able to make if his British or French guests do the expected and bring up the controversial matter of revision of these obligations.

Herriott arrives Sunday and Prime Minister Richard B. Bennett of Canada, on Monday. Behind them are lined up leading figures in statecraft or finance of Italy, Germany, Japan, China, Mexico, Argentina, Brazil and Chile.

For the first time in history four members of a legislative committee in Arkansas used an airplane to make an inspection trip.

FARMERS AND TOWNSPEOPLE BAG 753 RABBITS IN CROSBY COUNTY DRIVE

BARNUM SPRINGS, Crosby County, April 20. (Special)—Seven hundred fifty-three rabbits were bagged by farmers and townspeople, firing 52 shotguns, in a drive against the pests in this vicinity Wednesday.

Big Picnic Spread

The prevalence of sand in the atmosphere didn't interfere with the consuming of a bountiful picnic spread, however, provided by wives of the farmer hosts. Three wagonloads of food, flavored with the flying dust, served to increase the desire for rabbit blood, and the afternoon drives tripled in number of dead rabbits the morning expeditions.

Two groups of 25 men—one headed by J. L. Wheeler of Post and the other by Lewis West of Post— alternated with "drives" and "stands," and there was shooting for all.

Unfavorable weather held down the number of expected hunters.

Cover Large Area

The otherwise peaceful surroundings reverberated to the booming of guns from 9 o'clock in the morning until sunset. Approximately four square miles of pasture and feed land were covered. And at the end of the day the stalkers were unanimous in their belief that every long-eared and cotton-tail rabbit, hitherto unperturbed by "gang" force, in that area had been sighted or shot.

In addition to about thirty residents of the canyon country, there were present four gunners from Lubbock, half a dozen from Slaton and several from Southland and Post.

DALHART BOY IS ACCOMPLISHED IN MANY TONGUES

DALHART, April 20. (AP)—Bobby Ryan, 9-year-old son of Pat Ryan of Dalhart, is a prodigy or something like that. In addition to his native tongue, the boy is accomplished in the use of French, Spanish, Japanese, Chinese and two or three of the Filipino dialects.

His father disclaims that Bobby's linguistic repertoire is extraordinary. He said any child of ordinary intelligence would know as much under the circumstances. Bobby was born in Manila, Philippine islands, and had a Chinese nurse. Later in Tokyo and Yokohama his nurse was Japanese. He picked up Spanish, Pat believes, because it is spoken largely in the Philippines. He learned French in some parts of the Orient where it is widely used.

Since leaving the Orient in 1931 young Ryan has continued his interest in languages and their study. He has read Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables," and Jules Verne's "A Trip to the Moon," and "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," in French, as well as books in Spanish.

HANGAR NEARLY READY

SUNNYVALE, Calif.—Seven miles of welded seams will have been erected when the construction of the new hangar for housing of the naval airship Macon is finished here. Shaped like an elongated archway, the new hangar will have nearly 300,000 square feet of unobstructed floor area. The floor plate welds will be continuous.

CONVERTIBLE PLANE

ROME—The Italian Air Ministry has taken delivery of the first of an order of two-seater convertible training planes. The plane can be transformed from a two-seater biplane to a combat monoplane at will. A 200 horsepower engine powers the craft.

FRENCH PRIEST CONTRACTS LEPROSY WHILE MINISTERING TO THE STRICKEN

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—On Molokai, refuge of lepers of the Hawaiian islands, a French priest is building himself a little house apart from the mission buildings that have been his residence during the past eight years.

Like the famed Father Damien, he will make the island his permanent home—fighting the leprosy that has seized him and carrying on his work of ministering to the stricken.

He is Father Peter D'Orgeval, noted war chaplain, Parisian preacher and fourth successor to Father Damien as chaplain to the lepers.

The Maryknoll fathers announced today receipt of word that he has contracted the disease from those he left his home to help.

Besides Father Damien, Father D'Orgeval is the only chaplain to Molokai, who has fallen prey to it.

A popular preacher, he became a chaplain in the French army during the World war and was decorated six times.

When peace came, he returned to his preaching, but a throat ailment, caused by a gas attack, impaired his speaking ability. Then he volunteered to go to the leper colony.

"I SUFFERED 10 YEARS WITH ITCHING ECZEMA"

". . . and after spending hundreds of dollars to clear it up, I tried Zemo and got relief," writes G. G. of Texas. Soothing and cooling Zemo relieves itching in five minutes because of its rare ingredients not used in other remedies. Also wonderful for clearing Rash, Pimples, Ringworm and other irritations. Zemo is worth the price because you get relief. All druggists', 35c, 60c, $1. (Adv).
