Good Afternoon

The Soviet government deprived a town's law officials of their governing power, and no one knew the difference. We'd know the difference in many of our cities.

Wiley Post 'Dives' Into the Stratosphere

Like a diver preparing to descend into sea depths, looked Wiley Post, eminent 'round-the-world flyer, as he prepared a "dive" upward into the stratosphere at Barlesville, Okla. Post was confident on descending that he had broken the world record of 47,352 feet, held by the Italian Lieut. Renato Donati. Tests of his sealed barograph will tell later.

CATTLE RAISERS MUST SIGN VOUCHERS

Before Final Purchases in County Are Started

Stock raisers who have sold cows to the government on the AAA drought relief program, but who wish to sell more of their herds, are being notified this week by County Agent James A. Jackson that additional papers and vouchers must be signed.

When a new appropriation of 225,000 head of cattle to be bought in 127 counties was announced yesterday, plans were made by the local office to buy from 1,000 to 3,000 head of stock in this county. The exact number of cows that may be bought in this county was still unknown this morning, although county quotas were set in a meeting of cattlemen in Amarillo yesterday.

"We hope that our allotment will be between 2,000 and 3,000 head, and if this is the case we will be able to almost completely clean-up the distressed stock in this county," Mr. Jackson said.

"Those who have cattle that they would like to sell to the government and those who have already sold, but have more to sell are asked to come into the office and have all papers signed and everything in readiness for purchasing to begin when our allotment is received," he said.

RICE GETS $200,000

HOUSTON, Dec. 7.—A bequest of $200,000 to Rice institute here was included in the will of Eugene L. Bender, retired Houston capitalist and lumberman, who died Saturday. Application for probate of the will was filed yesterday.

Henry Read Paid R. S. Greene for First Suit

"Rufus S. Greene and I have probably done business with each other longer than any other two business men in Memphis," J. Henry Read told a Democrat reporter recently. "I paid Rufus for the first suit of clothes I ever bought in my life," Mr. Read said. "That was just a boy. Rufus was cash-ier for the Red Store at Decatur at the time, and I bought the suit and paid for it with my own money. The Red Store at that Kennon Hillyer will guide the destinies of the Memphis Junior Chamber of Commerce during 1935. Mr. Hillyer was elected to the office of president at a Junior Chamber directors' meeting held yesterday afternoon. He succeeds Dr. L. M. Hicks, who has headed the organization in its initial year of activity.

Horace Tarver was re-elected vice-president of the Junior Chamber; Wendell Harrison was re-elected treasurer and William Russell Clark was re-elected secretary.

The meeting yesterday afternoon was the first session participated in by the new board of directors which was elected recently by a vote of the membership. There are six directors on the board who are new, and the others are holdovers, having been re-elected to a second term.

The directorate of the Junior Chamber for 1935 includes the following: Dr. L. M. Hicks, Jess Rosenwasser, Leonard Doss, Lyman E. Robbins, Carl Periman, Roy Guthrie, Carl Harrison and Harry Delaney.

The retiring directors are Zeb A. Moore, J. R. Jones, Ed Foxhall, H. J. Gore, Hall Goodnight and R. A. Cole.

WTCC Assistant Manager Resigns

FORT WORTH, Dec. 7.—Maurry Hopkins has resigned as assistant general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, it was learned here yesterday.

Hopkins' resignation is effective December 15. He has accepted a position with the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce, where his title probably will be that of assistant manager.

It was understood that no successor will be named for the vacancy occasioned by Hopkins' resignation from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

CUT RATES ON CANNING OF MEATS

Commission Reduced At Local Relief Canning Plant

A reduction in commission charges for the canning of meats was announced yesterday by Mrs. Charlie Williams, supervisor of the government canning kitchen in Memphis. Under the new arrangements, the customer will receive 60 percent of the meats canned and the plant will receive 40 percent. The former commission charge was 50 percent.

The reduction in commission charges was in keeping with the reduction in relief labor wages announced last week by the County Relief Commission, Mrs. Williams said. The steady increasing price of meats was also attributed as a contribution cause for the reduction.

Other canning charges will remain at the same commission rates as have been charged in the past, she said. The reduction in meat canning charges was put into effect today with the beginning of the new relief labor week.

From 10 to 12 people are employed daily in the canning kitchen, and others could be added if (Continued on page 5)

Benefit Matinee At Ritz—Price One Cent and Up

The lowest admission charge ever made for any first class entertainment ever given in Memphis—that is to be the case of a special benefit program to be given at the Ritz theatre tomorrow morning. Admission prices have been set at one cent or much more as you can and will give.

The picture program is to be given from 9:30 until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, with every penny of the door receipts going to the Parent-Teacher associations to be applied on the proposed school cafeteria, to be erected here. A first class picture program, with two comedies and two cartoons is to be given, with every penny taken in at the door turned over to the Parent Teacher association, according to Lee Bell, manager of the Ritz.

BLACK AND GOLD BAND TO PLAY FOR LEGION

Offers Entertainment At District Meet At Clarendon

The Memphis Black and Gold Band, under the direction of Glen A. Truax, will be the featured musical entertainers at Clarendon Sunday during the closing day of the annual convention of the American Legion of the 18th district of Texas.

The band will first entertain at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning in the Clarendon college auditorium preceding a joint session of the legion and auxiliary. Other

WHITTINGTON PRESENTS NEW BONUS PLAN

A new plan for the payment of the soldiers' bonus was presented by E. H. Whittington to the Charles R. Simmons Post of the American Legion in regular session last night.

Mr. Whittington's plan received the whole-hearted approval of the local post and will be presented to legionnaires who attended the district convention in Clarendon Sunday.

concerts and entertainments have been scheduled for the band throughout the day, according to the program announced this week.

Mr. Truax and his two brothers, of Ochiltree county, are also scheduled to give vocal and musical numbers throughout the day. The Truax brothers are expected to create considerable interest throughout the convention. They practically "stole the show" at the state convention at Mineral Wells recently, and are expected to prove popular again at the Clarendon convention.

Leonard Doss, commander of the Memphis post of American legion is urging one hundred percent attendance by members of the local post. "The program of the Clarendon convention is going to be chock full of interesting and beneficial work, in addition to two days of some really big times," Commander Doss said yesterday. The convention will open at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning with registration at the Antro Hotel, convention headquarters, and will close Sunday afternoon with a business session in the college auditorium.

Rev. J. J. Kelham of Dallas To Speak at Baptist Church Here

Rev. J. J. Kelham, representing Buckner Orphans' home at Dallas, will be here in the interest of the home and will speak during the Sunday morning service at the First Baptist church.

Rev. Kelham is one of several representatives travelling in the interest of the home and speaking at local churches throughout the territory.

Cecil Methvin Taken On Car Theft Charge

SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 7.—Cecil Methvin, 20-year-old "kid brother" of Henry Methvin, is in Caddo parish jail.

Only three weeks out of an Oklahoma jail, where he was held 30 days for allegedly attempting to slip a pistol into the Oklahoma penitentiary where the former Barrow lieutenant is held on kidnaping and murder charges, Cecil is charged with stealing a car yesterday at Castor, La., his home.

Amarillo Cops Kill 'Blackie' Thompson

'Amateur Killer' And His Victim

AMARILLO, Dec. 7.—Irvin (Blackie) Thompson, notorious bank robber and killer and escapee from the death house in the Texas penitentiary, was shot to death in a gun fight with Amarillo officers about 12 miles east of Amarillo last night.

Three carloads of officers engaged Thompson in a fight after having chased him out of the city and punctured a tire on his car with a chance shot, forcing him to stop.

Thompson's body was riddled with machine gun, rifle and pistol slugs. His right leg was broken and his left arm was nearly shot off at the wrist. One bullet entered his forehead just over the left eye.

Officers in the fight were Sheriff Bill Adams and Deputies Roy Brewer and Ivy Wilkerson; Chief of Police W. R. McDowell, Chief of Detectives Clark Cain and Police Officers Buster McGough, Sid Harper, Bandy Lee, and Marshall Turner.

Thompson, alone in a Ford V-8 two-door sedan, bearing Oklahoma license No. 359A-698, was jumped by police scouts in the eastern edge of the city and pursued several miles east on U. S. highway 66.

Deputy Sheriff Brewer punctured the right rear tire on Thompson's car with a chance shot at 300 yards, forcing Thompson to a stop.

As the officers' car approached, Thompson opened fire with a shotgun and the officers returned the fire from three angles.

The officers' cars were struck by bullets.

Uncalled for Certificates To Be Returned to Washington After Dec. 22

All Bankhead tax exemption certificates issued in this county must be called for not later than December 22, or they will be returned to the Washington offices, it was announced this morning by County Agent James A. Jackson.

More than 100 producers have failed to call for their exemption certificates, and orders have been received by the local office to return all uncalled-for certificates on December 22, Mr. Jackson said.

Most of the uncalled-for certificates include those received on the last shipment of the 10 percent reserve allotment, but also includes a few of the original 90 percent allotment, he said.

FORMER GRID STAR HEADS WACO POLICE DEPARTMENT

WACO, Dec. 7.—Woody Zachry, 27, all-state guard on the Temple High school team and later a Baylor university griddler, was named as Waco's police chief last night by the city commissioner's court. He succeeds Fred Cooley, who resigned.

Lovable

BEGIN HERE TODAY ANN HOLLISTER, pretty and 26, sells the family antiques to pay debts of her father, now dead. On the day of the sale a young man, stopped by motor trouble, comes to her home to telephone. After he leaves Ann finds a blue vase missing and in its place a note signed "P. K." and $50. Ann gets work as a librarian and becomes friendly with SARAH KENT, also employed at the library. She meets TONY MICKLE, commercial artist, and is attracted by him, though Sarah warns her that Tony is fickle and irresponsible.

The chief librarian sends Ann to see rich old PETER KENBALL, factory owner, to obtain permission to open a branch of the library in Kendallwood, factory community. Ann is unsuccessful. Returning, her car almost collides with a roadster driven by young man. He is the same young man who stopped at Ann's house in Georgia. They talk and Ann discloses her failure to interview the factory owner.

Later word comes that Peter Kendall has agreed to the opening of the library.

Ann realizes she is falling in love with Tony. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VI Tony and Ann became engaged the following Saturday. Lying in the sand, his blue eyes warmly approved Ann's firmly molded, healthfully tanned young body. Tony said, "It looks as though that contract is a cinch. And a very practically. "As soon as I can put aside enough for the down payment on a ring. It won't be a headlight, Ann. Just a little glimmer." They were walking toward the bathhouses now. Ann gave her arm a squeeze. It was so perfectly darling of him, thinking of the ring.

Later, eating dinner in the pavillion, the first little rift in her happiness came. Ann became conscious of the girl seated at a table near by. For some reason, she disliked the slim girl with the dark eyes. There was no reason for this except that her stare was so bold, so direct, and at times a half-mocking smile about her lips.

When the girl and her escort arose to leave the girl stopped behind Tony, placing a hand on his shoulder. "Surprised?" she drawled. "Hello," said Tony. He introduced Ann to the girl—Eileen Wallace—and her escort.

The name meant nothing to Ann. But she was amazed to feel a little surge of anger when Tony reached up to take the girl's hand and continued to hold it. While Ann was talking to the girl's escort, she heard Eileen Wallace say in a low voice, "You promised to call. You didn't."

"Busy as the devil—all day," Tony answered. "Yes, I know."

When they were gone, Ann asked, "Who is she, Tony?" He lit a cigaret before replying. There was a touch of irritation in his voice. "I thought I introduced you. Eileen Wallace."

Ann, nettled, said, "So you did. But an introduction doesn't make sense. How could the down payment ever be managed when Tony was so extravagant about flowers, dinners, and dancing?

Tonight, for instance, they were planning to dance at the Blue Jug. Hebie Wilson's orchestra was playing there and not matter how extravagant, Tony wouldn't miss his favorite.

"Lo," Sarah said, coming in and tossing her hat aside. "Well, wasn't this a day? I don't know then — 'girl-about-town' nicely sums it up. Look here, Ann, you're not going jealous on me, are you? How I hate a jealous woman."

"No," said Ann. "I promise I won't. That is, I won't show it. It's showing it that is so horrid. I'd never be a shew." She laughed a little uncertainly. "Our house was between two families who made a lot of noise. On one side, kids whooping and yelling. Dad and I didn't mind that. But on the other side a man and his wife were always rowing. It was awful. Dad said it was a good lesson for me, that I could learn to discriminate about noise."

Tony said, "You're a little philosopher, Ann." He reached over and caught her hand, gripping it hard. "We may row like the devil, but I'll always love you."

"No," said Ann. "Rows are out." They finished the celebration by dancing. What matter if they were part of a motley crowd? They were alone, Tony and Ann, clinging closely to each other, moving rhythmically, easily on the crowded floor.

Loving each other so, they couldn't ever really row. Ann told herself. Times people, couldn't matter — people like Eileen with her predatory eyes.

At 12 o'clock Ann kicked off her pumps and slipped into her sheath-like gown. "How you can keep up this pace," Sarah grumbled sleepily, as Ann crawled into bed, "I don't see."

"I won't much longer," Ann launched her bombshell. "I'm getting married."

"Ann, you're not!" Sarah was wide awake now. She reached for the bed lamp and flooded the room with a soft light. Ann's luminous eyes met hers.

"No need to ask who the lucky devil is. Are you sure? Tony's an awful risk."

"He's going to settle down. Wait and see."

"Oh yeah! Well, when do I kiss the bridegroom?"

"Soon," Ann said vaguely, remembering Tony had said, "Soon."

Sarah, not too optimistically, waited for signs of Tony's "settling down." They were not forthcoming Tony went blithely and gaily on his way.

Ann explained loyally that Tony had to have recreation. He was working himself to death over his new contract, trying hard to get ahead.

But Ann was troubled. There were shadows under her eyes. She and Sarah almost came to an open quarrel one night when Tony, assisted by an obliging taxi driver, arrived at the apartment. "I won't have drinks—no matter who they are—cluttering up my living room," Sarah declared.

She had been none too sympathetic when Ann made black coffee for Tony, drove him home and then came back to cry herself to sleep.

Tony had been so repentant afterward that even Sarah had felt faintly hopeful.

But September passed, October waned, November came and went and it was December. Still Ann wore no ring.

She told herself she must be sensible. How could the down payment ever be managed when Tony was so extravagant about flowers, dinners, and dancing?

Tonight, for instance, they were planning to dance at the Blue Jug. Hebie Wilson's orchestra was playing there and not matter how extravagant, Tony wouldn't miss his favorite.

SEEK MONEY TO MARK HISTORIC TEXAS SPOTS

Appropriation To Be Requested of 44th Legislature

AUSTIN, Dec. 5.—An appropriation to locate and mark historic spots of interest in Texas will be sought at the regular session of the forty-fourth legislature.

While the Forty-third legislature, at its fourth special session, authorized such location and marking, it made no appropriation for the work.

In the past 11 years, 72 park sites, embracing 258,405 acres, have been donated to the State without cost to the taxpayers, says Fred M. Herndon of San Antonio, secretary of the Texas State Parks Association.

The Federal government is spending approximately $6,000,000 to improve the parks through the medium of the Citizens Civilian Corps, according to Herndon, and plans to continue the program.

"As the Centennial year draws nearer Texans are taking a greater interest in their own state, its history and background, and the efforts being made by the State Parks Board the Parks Association, in locating and marking the spots of historic interest and building parks around these patriotic monuments," Herndon says.

"This is very gratifying to those who have given freely of their time and efforts and personal funds for their own expenses in visiting and accepting these park sites for the people of Texas and for the comfort and enjoyment of visitors."

Texas system of state parks has been made a work project of history classes in many schools of the state.

CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Dr. John Angus MacMillan, Minister. "The Strolling Saint," will be the topic of the 11 o'clock sermon—a sermon that ought to appeal to the heart and the imagination of those who worship with us. The special music will be worshipful and inspirational. Our first vesper service will be held Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock—ending before 6 p. m. Sunday afternoon Dr. MacMillan will speak on the subject, "The Battle Against God." This address will deal with the attempts now being made by individuals and governments to outlaw the church and destroy religion. This will not be a violent harangue. It will be a clear statement of facts—and an analysis of their implications. Students of the times should find it interesting. Our music is always good. Yes, we'll have Sunday school at the usual time—9:45 a. m. The Junior church meets at 11 a. m. How about bringing your "Junior" to this service? "Church Nite"—Wednesday evening, at 7 o'clock. Old Timers Now Argue Severity of Drouths of 1874, 1886 and 1934—But Learn They Mellow With Age

By Associated Press. AMARILLO, Dec. 5. — The problem of deciding whether the drought of '86 was worse has turned into one of much discussion. For instance, a strong supporter of the '34 dry spell declares that '86 the people did not have to go to the state and federal capitals and threaten hunger strikes in order to get relief. Here are main arguments for the drought of '86: "Please send me a dozen Winchester rifles."—Notation found in XIT Ranch records. "250 miles to nearest postoffice, 100 miles to wood, 20 miles to water—God bless our home. Gone to live with wife's folks."—chalked sign found on a vacant house in West Texas in '86. "Kansas City is working up a subscription fund for relief of West Texas sufferers of the drought."—Tascosa Pioneer in '86. While the debate remains unsettled "Uncle Dick" Russell of Canadian, former Indian fighter and buffalo hunter goes back 12 years on the '86 advocates and contends that '74 was drier than '34. "The drought in '74 did not last so long as this one," said the pioneer who celebrated his eighty-second birthday Nov. 18. "It started raining Sept. 4 and must have rained a foot before it quit. "But it was drier than than it has been this year. It was so dry that year that cotton planted along the Brazos river dried up and blew away." Droughts may be like classic literature—not fully appreciated until mellowed with age.

REVIEWS OF CURRENT MOTION PICTURES

PALACE

After the football game today, if you would like to round out a full day of "he-man" sports, see "The Personality Kid," showing for the last times at the Palace.

The prize ring, represented at its best and worst, forms the setting for the story, but a real sports fan doesn't have to watch the so-called "fights" too closely to see that as far as the film is concerned the prize ring is shown at its worst. Pat O'Brien plays the leading role and makes a good job of it, any amateur can tell that he is no prize fighter. The director evidently realized this and covered up the fights admirably, but not sufficiently.

Glenda Farrell has a clever role as the wife of O'Brien, a swell-head fighter who thinks he has everything he needs when he has footwork and a so-called personality. O'Brien falls for flattery and women and requires every kind of a knock-out in the ring and in life to make him understand that the one person who really loved him was the wife he deserted.

"Mushy" Callahan and Marvin Schecher are seen in the ring with O'Brien, with Jim Jeffries and a score of other ring celebrities are seen as extras. Claire Dodd, the beautiful screen favorite, plays a weak part but plays it well.

It's a good picture and should be seen—but not by children.

GROCERY ANAGRAMS Amusing-And-Profitable! 10 Big Free Prizes

The Memphis Democrat Will Award

FREE! Basket Grocer

And 10 tickets to the Ritz Theatre to see Wm. Power Myrna Loy in "EVELYN PRENTICE" Sunday and day.

IT'S EASY!! SIMPLY 'UNSCRAMBLE' THE ACCOMPANYING WELL KNOWN GROCERY ITEMS

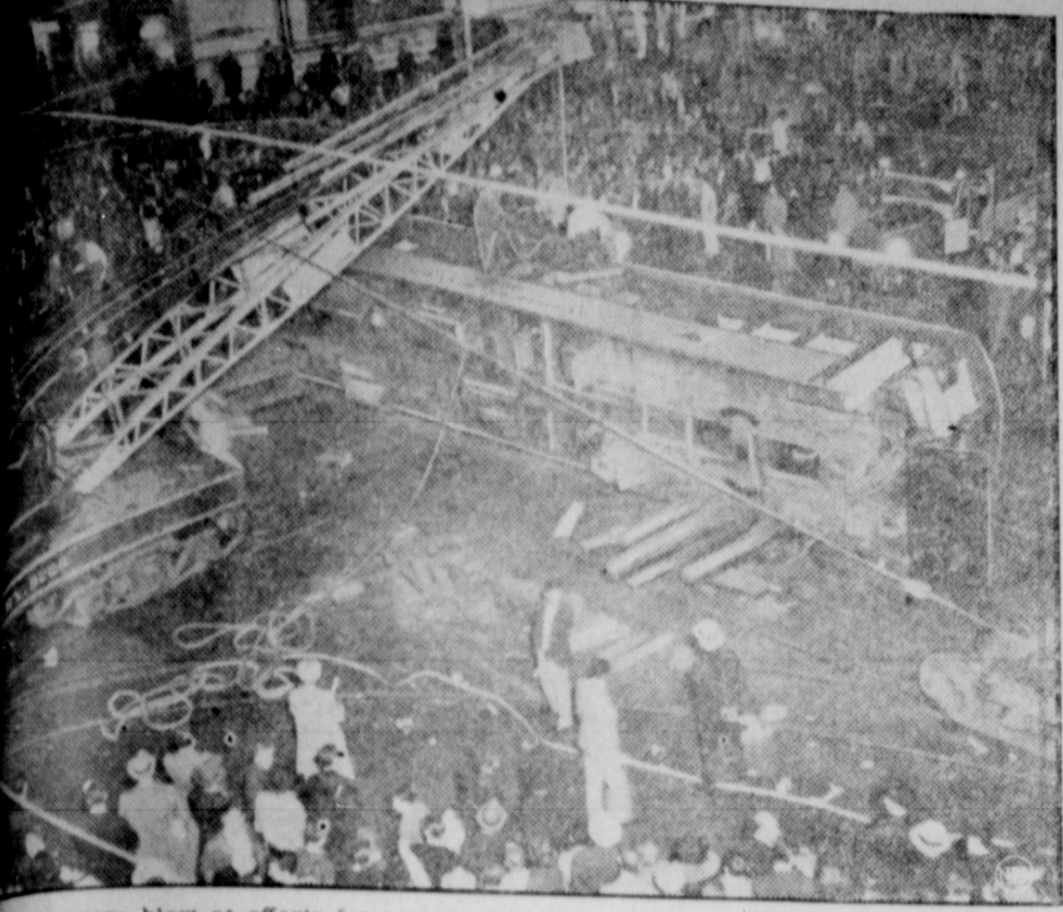

Then Make A Sentence of Not More Than 30 Words Containing All of the Items In Today's List of Anagrams!

IT'S NOT HARD!—JUST TRY

RULES:

- 1. The letters in each of the accompanying ten anagrams when arranged properly will spell the names of ten well-known food and grocery items. You are invited to solve the anagrams, then arrange them in a sentence of not more than 30 words (you may use less if you wish), and try for one of the ten prizes. 2. To the persons who send in the best entries in accordance with these rules, The Democrat will give a free basket of groceries and ten tickets to the Ritz Theatre. The basket of groceries will be offered as first prize, two tickets to the Ritz as second prize, and one ticket each to the next eight contestants. 3. This offer is open to all except employees of The Democrat and their families. You pay nothing. 4. Awards will be made on the basis of the most nearly correct list of anagrams and the cleverest sentence. Simply rearrange the letters in each anagram to spell the name of a food or grocery item. Then check the food and grocery ads in today's Democrat and place a cross mark in the square if you find the item advertised item is NOT advertised mark. Then arrange the ten grocery found in the anagrams into a sentence of not more than thirty (30) words. You may use less if you wish. 5. All entries will be considered by the committee appointed by the Democrat. Contestants agree to accept the decision of the committee as final. Final consideration will be given to neatness and accuracy in arrangement of the words inserted, accuracy in sentence submitted and neatness of entries. In case of ties, prizes will be awarded to contestants. 6. All entries must be received at the Democrat office by four o'clock day afternoon. 7. You need not purchase the Democrat to compete. You may submit your entry on a sheet of paper. Winners will be announced in today's Democrat.

Wrecked in Los Angeles' Savage Trolley War

It dealt a severe blow to efforts for peace in the Los Angeles trolley strike when 50 strike men halted a street car at a busy intersection, ordered crew and passengers out, and then they heave hurled the car over on its side. The wrecking crew, as shown here, worked for several hours clearing the crossing, as thousands stood by. In numerous clashes, many were arrested, more than a score injured, and one car bombed.

New Woman Is Seriously Ill Here

Dr. Orcutt, 65, of Lakeview, has been in the Odom hospital in this city since Saturday morning reported this morning. Attending physician reports that she is not expected to survive.

Actresses Face Perjury Charge

Vilma Aknay, top, and Sari Fedak, below, Hungarian actresses, are sought by Los Angeles authorities, who charge them with perjury. Miss Aknay sued Ernst Vajda, Hollywood scenarist, for breach of promise, supported by testimony by Miss Fedak. The suit was dropped. Vajda alleged their depositions were false. Miss Fedak is the former wife of Ferenc Molnar, famed dramatist.

Amarillo Cops—

In Thompson's possession were a sawed-off shotgun, a long-barrel shotgun, a .45 caliber automatic pistol and a 30-30 caliber rifle.

Robbery Rumored
The relentless hunt for Thompson was opened Wednesday morning when officers got rumors of a purported plot to rob the bank. Thompson was one of three prisoners who escaped from the death house in the Texas penitentiary at Huntsville on last July 22. Ray Hamilton, notorious bandit and killer, and Joe Palmer were the other two escapees.

In the break for freedom, the only successful escape ever made from the Texas death house, Whitey Walker was killed by prison guards and Charlie Frazier and Roy Johnson were wounded. Joe Palmer has since been recaptured. Ray Hamilton is still at large.

BODY OF YOUTH FOUND NEAR CANYON

Believed Buried for Several Months; Found by Boys

By Associated Press
CANYON, Dec. 7.—Two youngsters, playing along the Santa Fe right-of-way late yesterday afternoon, discovered the body of a young man, partially buried.

The body was beyond recognition, and was thought by authorities to have been there for several months. It was apparently covered by washed dirt.

A paper bearing the name of "J. L. Borden" was found on the man. Others were indecipherable. He was dressed in common, but good clothes, and wore a pair of new work shoes.

Sheriff Bob Barnett, City Marshal Frank Hicks and County Judge S. B. Orton went immediately to the scene of the discovery, some three miles north of Canyon.

They set the boy's age at approximately 18 years, judging him to be young because there were no wisdom teeth. It was impossible to tell the color of the hair or any identifying skeletal marks.

WHY WASTE LIVES ON 'PROGRESS'?

ONE of the queerest twists in this so-called age of progress of ours is the apparent belief that progress is more important than human lives.

Charles T. P. Ulm, one of the world's leading aviators, and two companions probably will never be heard of again, after they raised their airplane from the Oakland airport and nosed it out across the Pacific with the Hawaiian islands as their destination.

Their flight did nothing for the advancement of flying across oceans—for "progress". If anything, they injured aviation immeasurably by being lost from its ranks.

After all, life is just about the most important thing we have. We are not progressing very far until we learn that "progress" is that which extends and enlightens life, not that which demands human sacrifices.

Ulm and Littlejohn and Skilling probably will receive notice in aviation's hall of fame because they "bravely" (we say foolishly) gave their lives to the advancement of flying—but that won't do them much good now.

There is never an advance forward that does not cost the lives of countless individuals, either because the step is taken before the machine is perfected or we move so rapidly that we do not have time to train ourselves to make the advancement serve a worthy end, and blunder terribly.

LONG GIVES OBJECT LESSON IN FREEDOM

HUEY LONG seems to have gone the students of Louisiana State University a double-barreled favor—quite unintentionally.

The unrest which seized the student body, or a part of it, when the student newspaper was gagged may not last very long.

They will not need to be told, any more, that a people is not free if its newspapers are gagged. They have learned that much by sad experience and the lesson will stick.

So much for the first object lesson. The second one runs parallel; it is a succinct and memorable demonstration of the nature and value of academic freedom.

Without it, a university ceases to be a place where minds are broadened and culture is developed, and becomes—a country club, a political organization, an athletic association, or what you wish; anything at all but a university.

And when that transformation takes place, the institution is no longer worth what it costs.

Senator Long, amazing as it may seem, has actually broadened the education of the youngsters at Louisiana State.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER Democrat Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Explosions in NRA suddenly have begun to make the Ickes-Moffett dispute and other recent clashes in administration ranks look like so many Sunday school picnics.

A majority of the National Industrial Recovery Board is in revolt against Clay Williams, the chairman. And it's a fair bet that the dove of peace, which flew out of the board room window like the well-known "bat out of hell," won't come back within cooling distance of the Blue Eagle until Mr. Williams has returned to the tobacco business.

Meanwhile, the poor bird moans the loss of its tail feathers and whispers the first inside story of events leading up to the calamity.

It reveals, for instance, the rather startling fact that Chairman Williams no longer presides over meetings of the board. An NIRA majority decided it could work better if Secretary Leon Marshall were given that duty.

Williams on Spot Charges that he has misrepresented positions taken by the board in his visits to those high places figure importantly in the present state of affairs, which seems to find Mr. Williams on the spot.

The battle is important because it revolves on such vital issues as promulgation of NRA's first imposed code. NRA has never imposed a code on an industry which wouldn't present a satisfactory code of its own.

A majority of the board now favors such action. Mr. Williams does not. Roosevelt will decide. The telegraph, telephone or tobacco industry probably will be chosen—if any.

Members W. A. L. Hamilton, Blackwell Smith and Leon Henderson have declared themselves primarily for the public interest and Sidney Hillman, representing labor, has usually worked closely with Hamilton.

dozen food faddists who insist that it is not well to mix proteins and carbohydrates and that such mixtures are responsible for a large amount of illness.

The stomach, even in persons with fairly serious illnesses, proceeds quite promptly to break up meat fibers when they reach it.

In 50 persons who suffered from various chronic diseases, one-fourth of a pound of hamburger steak and one-half of a pound of mashed potatoes was digested in 3 hours and 54 minutes.

As a result of all these investigations, it was found that there was no evidence at all to indicate that proteins and carbohydrates are incompatible in the stomach.

It is quite likely that many people do better with a lessened amount of carbohydrates. However, control of the diet is a serious matter.

Four Clubs Battle To Reach Final of Regional Race

GO INTO FINAL BATTLE NEXT WEEK-END

Memphis Meeting Lamesa; Shamrock vs. Hereford Today

When most of the sports fans in the Memphis Area see this, two teams will have been selected to battle for the regional crown next week-end. But at the time this went to press, four clubs remained in the fight for bi-district honors—the semi-final round of the regional race.

Memphis, Lamesa, Hereford and Shamrock, the four clubs that ruled their divisions, which cover the entire Panhandle, remained in the race. Lamesa was favored to take a decision over the Cyclone, although it was conceded to be one of the toughest battles in Class B football, and Shamrock's Irishmen was the general choice over Hereford.

Expected To Name Winner

The game here attracted greater pre-battle recognition, for out of it was expected to come the regional champion—and that, of course, was expected to be Lamesa. However, even if the Tornado should completely swamp the Cyclone, it still could not count the Irishmen out.

Should Memphis upset the dopsters' predictions and blast the Tornado into submission, the race will still be wide open for another week. The Cyclone would, in case Shamrock also is victorious, be forced to play for the regional crown in the Irish city, if that team chose to hold the Cyclone to the Interscholastic League rule that all games, whether they be conference or practice, must alter locations.

Although there is no record on hand to substantiate the statement, unless the writer's memory is playing a trick, Memphis would be playing for its first regional crown. The regional title has been existing for only a matter of about half a dozen years. For the past three years, Memphis did not get out of the district.

Last Inter-Class Game

Because the writer was not following the club closely at that time, he is not certain just how far it got during the years 1929 and 1930, but at that time Olney was the supreme ruler of Class B football in the Panhandle. Nor are the years 1927 and 1928 clear.

In 1926, the last season of the "wonder team" that for three seasons lost only one class B game, the Cyclone was ruled ineligible. The year before that, the district Class B champion tangled with the Class A winner to determine which went on into the bi-district competition—it was the last year of that inter-play of classes, and not until the next year was the Class B region formed. That year, Memphis defeated Miami for the district crown and then lost to Amarillo in the inter-class play-off.

Returns to Headlines

Although the Cyclone has never reached the top, it has gone beyond the district since the region was formed.

This year, the Cyclone returns to the headlines—simultaneous with the creation of a new set of regions, which has discarded Olney and the clubs in that region. When the fan reads this, he will know if the Cyclone has entered the final loop of the race, but right now, it is still awaiting the opening whistle of the game that is to determine if they are to go a step higher.

But whatever the outcome of today's tilt, the Cyclone definitely is back in the swing of championship football, and no one can deny that their season has been one of the most successful since that "wonder team" went out.

Hockey Finds Talent By Scouting System Similar to Baseball

By LESTER PATRICK (Manager and Coach, New York Rangers)

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Hockey has a highly efficient scouting system, designed somewhat along the lines of major league baseball, which is very effective in ferreting out potential stars in amateur circles and sending them up to professional ranks.

Improvement Job Is Started Today On Parnell School

Eleven workmen this morning began the job of remodeling and improving the Parnell school building under a plan approved this week by government relief officials. The entire exterior of the main building is to be stuccoed, a coal house built, and sanitary toilets built to state specifications. The grounds and walks of the building are also to be improved during the 30 day work period.

The work is being done by relief laborers, according to Judge A. C. Hoffman, county relief administrator.

HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Anybody can be a hockey goal-tender, A net-minder is fortunate to be allowed to play at all.

The Goal-Tenders' Union can do as they please about it, but that's Lester Patrick's story, and he'd better stick to it.

A bunch of the boys were discussing the game of some years ago in which the director of the New York Rangers saved the Stanley Cup for his Blueshirts by his pinch-hitting between the pipes. The history of the glistening game reveals no situation more dramatic than that in which the 45-year-old manager replaced the injured Loren Chabot and held the Montreal Maroons to a single goal.

"Why, anybody can play goal," quoth Patrick, the hero who refused to hear. "Do you know how we picked our goal-tenders when I was a boy in Montreal?"

Apparently nobody had the foggiest sort of an idea.

How Great Goalies Started

"Well, hockey was a seven-man game in those days, and use of the rink for practice cost a dollar. So we picked on the nearest skater in the bunch and told him that he had to play goal. When, in recognition of the humiliation, we made up for it by a financial concession. While six of us paid 15 cents each the unlucky youngster in the nets was allowed to stop the puck for a dime."

Plenty of outstanding goalies, Patrick insists, will admit that that's how they obtained their starts. Few ever did play, or could play, any other position.

Until further notice, however, handy Andy Aitkenhead will continue to guard the cage for the Rangers.

La Babe Turns to Golf

Mildred Didrikson has turned to golf in a serious way, and reports are that Virginia Van Wie, Dorothy Traung, Charlotte Glutting, Maureen Orcutt, Mrs. Opal S. Hill, and other fair stars of the fairways must be prepared to meet a worthy contemporary.

Indeed, Pon Boone, sports editor of the Fort Worth Press, opines that if La Babe progresses in the next 18 months as she has what it takes. It is to the advantage of neither club nor player if an athlete signs a pro contract before this is known.

Unless there is a great dearth of material, managers will not rush amateurs into making the jump without being very sure of their ground. It is not in the best interests of hockey to have disillusioned misfits everywhere—good amateurs who failed as pros forever are barred from the simon-pure sport.

IT'S AN HONEST CUSTOM

Why does the jockey on the winning horse always throw his riding crop to the steward in the judges' stand before he dismounts? If you've wondered why this is done—as the jock in the above picture is doing—here's the answer: In the old days, unscrupulous horsemen fixed small tacks, and even tiny electric batteries, to the ends of crops. On striking a horse, the tack or battery would give the animal a shock, often enough to bring it across the wire first. Now all crops are examined before results are declared official.

Irish March on Troy

A rheumatic team of Irish from Notre Dame will meet a spavined horse of Troy, when Elmer Layden's team mixes with Southern California in the two schools' traditional game at Los Angeles, Dec. 8. Above at left is Cotton Warburton, who is the only outstanding star of this year's weak Trojan array. Right is Dan Hanley, Irish back, who, with Rocco Schiralli, guard, below, was responsible for that recent victory over Army.

in the last two the Olympic track and field star will win the national women's championship in 1936 so easily that they'll rule her out, as did the Amateur Athletic Union, because she's too good.

Miss Didrikson was eliminated when her putting touch deserted her in the semi-final round of the Fort Worth Women's Golf Association's invitation tournament, which marked the start of her campaign in the royal and ancient game.

Old Game Needs New Blood

Miss Didrikson was the medalist with a phenomenal 77, and, in a driving contest, smacked one ball for 278 yards and another for 286, practically all carry—tremendous tee shots for any long-hitting man pro.

All this after a half dozen lessons.

Miss Didrikson intends to enter all the women's tournaments in Florida this winter, while taking lessons from Tommy Armour.

She says she has a ruling from the United States Golf Association to the effect that so long as she does not commercialize the sport in any way, she will be recognized as an amateur eligible to participate in any event.

La Babe is a welcome, popular, and colorful addition to the ranks of women golfers, which need a Didrikson as badly as the men's division requires a new Jones or Hagan.
