Three Problems Face Roosevelt

RELIEF, BUDGET AND DEBTS COME BEFORE NEW PRESIDENT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—Brilliant bunting snapping in a March wind, scurrying crowds from the corners of the land, signalled today the imminence of the big event of three days hence, but underneath this bustling exterior the men chosen by Franklin D. Roosevelt dug soberly into tough problems demanding urgent solution.

The major part of the new cabinet either was in Washington, en route, or expected tomorrow. Those here were working fully as hard as though already in harness.

Three Problems Faced

As they grasped their tasks, three objectives stood out as the most urgent: obtaining an international economic adjustment, principally on war debts, tariff and other trade barriers; striking a balance in the federal expenditures which for months and years now have run away beyond income; and, active steps to quiet domestic financial difficulties such as bank troubles.

There are midsummer deadlines for action on the first two, but an enormous amount of preparatory work has been done on both.

The president-to-be and his secretary of state, Cordell Hull, have conferred with the diplomats of Great Britain and France, a groundwork is laid for early negotiations with the British. Action is needed before the June 15 due date for next payments. The world economic conference with which the problem is much involved, is in the offing.

Douglas At Work

On the equally urgent treasury balancing, the new budget director Lewis W. Douglas has been hard at work with expert assistance, aiming at speedy and real reduction of expenditures. A report soon after inauguration has been indicated and, if congress now passes the economy act with its provision for departmental reorganization, the new president is expected by many to make an immediate start.

Marlene Better Keep Distance

MINNEAPOLIS, March 1 (AP)—Wearing trousers — if you are a woman — is as bad — according to law here — as wearing nothing at all. A 56-year-old ordinance says:

The maximum penalty is $100 fine or 90 days.

Chief of Police William J. Meghan says he will enforce it.

ROOSEVELT FINISHES OFFICIAL FAMILY; FRIENDS NAMED

(By The Associated Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., March 1.—President-elect Roosevelt completed the selection of his official family today and with a serious mind and light heart turned toward the White House.

He picked "Louis, Mac and Steve" for his secretariat—Louis M. Howe, senior secretary, and Marvin H. McIntyre, of Kentucky, and Stephen T. Early, of Virginia, as his other chief aides in the White House.

Cabinet Completed

The cabinet was completed officially last night with the announcements of Miss Frances Perkins, New York state commissioner of labor, as the secretary of labor, and Daniel C. Roper, of South Carolina, as secretary of commerce.

So far as immediate appointments are concerned, Mr. Roosevelt has finished his task and has surrounded himself with trusted friends.

He will carry on the present White House staff that has continued through past Democratic and Republican administrations—Rudolph Forster as executive clerk; Pat McKenna, as executive office doorkeeper; and Erwin H. Hoover, as head usher. These are men who know American officialdom and how to keep the wheels spinning smoothly at the White House.

SLASH IN EXPENDITURES ELIMINATED

AGREEMENT IS REACHED BY CONFEREES

AMENDMENT APPROVED GIVING PRESIDENT BROAD POWERS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 1. — Congressional conferees on the $940,000,000 treasury postoffice appropriation bill reached a complete agreement today eliminating the senate provision for a blanket five per cent slash in expenditures but accepting the amendment giving the incoming president broad powers to reorganize government departments.

The senate and house conference committee compromised on the air mail fund, fixing it at $15,000,000 instead of $19,000,000 as proposed by the house. The senate had eliminated this appropriation.

Adoption Predicted

Senator Bingham (R., Conn.), said the agreement would be taken up in the senate later today and predicted its adoption. The house would have to act then before it goes to the White House.

In refusing to accept the Bratton amendment directing all department heads to spend five per cent under their appropriations for next fiscal year, the house managers acted in accordance with instructions from the whole house, thus discarding a big part of the Democratic economy program for this session.

It had been estimated this amendment would have saved about $140,000,000 or more.

Amendment Eliminated

Under the agreement, the McKellar amendment authorizing the board of tax appeals to pass on tax refunds over $20,000 was eliminated.

The house group accepted the senate amendment abolishing the federal bureau of efficiency.

The senate group receded and let stay in the bill the house provision prohibiting automatic promotions in the army, navy and postal services another year.

A pay cut of 8 1-3 per cent for enlisted men was retained, the house receding from its opposition.

FLAYS CHOICE OF LABOR SECRETARY

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said in a statement today the officers and members of the federation were "keenly disappointed over President-elect Roosevelt's selection of a secretary of labor."

The statement by Green came after officials of the National League of Women Voters, the Woman's party and other prominent women had joined in praising the selection of Miss Frances Perkins for the labor post.

POST'S NINTH ANNUAL OLD SETTLERS PARTY REPLETE WITH FUN AND STORY; PIONEERS FROM 10 COUNTIES ATTEND

(By Staff Correspondent)

POST, March 1 — Looking backward over the brief span of years which have raised West Texas from an open country, populated largely by buffalo hunters, to its present economic importance, pioneers from ten counties last night observed the Post Rotary club's Ninth Annual Old Settlers reunion.

Graying and bandy-legged veterans of the trail and the saddle—some of them still clinging to the sharp-toed, high-heeled boots and the ten gallon Stetsons of a former day—recalled their experiences, swapped tales, jigged and square danced in ecstacy during the three hour session. The party, as is the custom, was staged in the spacious banquet hall of the Double-U ranch headquarters here with the ladies of the Presbyterian church serving "turkey and all the trimmin's."

Witt Presides

Ira R. Witt, Rotary president and superintendent of schools, who was prepared for his work in Texas Tech—a school made possible by the pioneers—presided over the meeting. The program was broadcast over Radio Station WCD, owned by Joe Combs and the Church of Christ. Mr. Combs, assisted by Rev. Guy N. Woods, local Church of Christ pastor, presided over the microphone.

After an invocation offered by Rev. M. C. Bishop, pastor of First Baptist church, and a harmonica solo by Garry White, of Post, Mr. Witt briefly outlined the purpose of the meeting, paying particular tribute to the pioneers still living and to those who have passed away

GERMANS FACE PENALTIES

IRON RULE TIGHTENS; WILD RUMORS OF A MASSACRE HEARD

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Mar. 1.—President Von Hindenburg issued a decree today "against treason to the German people and highly treasonable machinations," sharply increasing penalties for espionage, treason and subversive acts.

The death penalty was provided for attempting to secure or disclosing important military secrets.

Ten years imprisonment was specified for transmitting to foreign governments objects or news, even if false, which should be kept secret in the interest of the reich.

Rumors Are Heard

There were no signs today to give credence to wild rumors that the week-end would bring a terrible fate to the foes of Chancellor Hitler. These rumors, circulating in European capitals, appeared based on the recent orders issued by Minister William Goering to Prussian police to protect nationalistic groups such as the Nazi storm troops and steel helmet war veterans and to ruthlessly suppress others.

(The London Herald reported what it called a plot of Hitlerites in Germany to "carry out during the coming week-end the most staggering massacre the world has known." It said "all progressive leaders and Jews" in large Prussian towns were already listed as intended victims.

LONG IS SUED FOR SLANDER

LOUISIANA SOLON IS SUED FOR $500,000 BY S. T. ANSELL

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 1. — Samuel T. Ansell, recently counsel for the senate committee inquiry into the election of Senator John H. Overton of Louisiana, today sued Senator Huey Long for $500,000 damages on slander charges.

In the District of Columbia supreme court, the former judge advocate general of the army contended he has been actually damaged to the extent of $250,000 by the speech made by Long in the senate February 21, which brought him, Ansell said, into "public slander, infamy and disgrace." He asked an additional $250,000 as punitive damages.

Called A Thief

Senator Long is said to have stated that Ansell was the "gentleman who practically forged his appointment as judge advocate general" and referred to him as a "thief, scoundrel and crook." He is also alleged to have said that Ansell had been "run out of the army for fraud."

Long is also said to have invited Ansell to bring the suit for slander against him, saying "let him sue me," go down there and bring suit."

Attorneys Burr Tracy Ansell, son of the general, and George Wilmeth filed the suit.

Woman Arrested On Robbery Charges

HOUSTON, March 1 (AP)—Vivian Davis, 25, sought by Harris county officers since February 15, when she was named with her sister, Dorothy Davis, 23, in an indictment for robbery in connection with the $7,409 holdup May 24 of the Spring State bank at Spring, was a prisoner today.

She was arrested when she visited her sister in jail.

RATHER THAN ACCEPT 35-YEAR TERM, ROBBER TAKES CHANCE BEFORE JURY

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, March 1. — Rather than face a 35-year term in the penitentiary Odell Chambless, 21 confessed robber of the Grapevine home bank, decided to take his chances before a jury here today.

Chambless and Les Stewart, 20, were called for trial and agreed to plead guilty.

Assistant District Attorney Wade and McGregor said a 50-year term would be the least they could offer, but C. C. Peters, jr., appointed to represent Chambless, objected.

The prosecutors agreed to lower the sentence to 35 years but, after a conference with the defendant, Peters asked for a jury trial. He said Chambless would plead guilty.

"What do you think you should get?" Hosey asked. Chambless replied: "I don't know judge." "I know I've done wrong. I'll leave it up to you."

Stewart and his attorney, Levy Pressley, apparently decided to await the outcome of the Chambless case before deciding whether to ask for a jury.

In the court room with Chambless were his faher, Joe Chambless of Pampa, and his sister, Mrs. Jean O'Dair of Wichita Falls.

Chambless is charged with the Grapevine robbery and with the theft of an automobile from Walter Hamilton of this city. The automobile was stolen on the morning of December 30, an hour or so before the bank holdup.

JEHOL CITY IS OBJECTIVE IN OFFENSIVE

THREE CHINESE TOWNS ARE CAPTURED BY INVADING ARMIES

(By The Associated Press)

CHINCHOW, Manchuria, March 1. — The Japanese military command announced its army of the north entered Chihfeng, commercial and transportation center of Jehol province, at 4 p. m. today. No Chinese resistance was offered, it said.

Two other towns on China's inner defense line were reported captured earlier today.

Capital Is Goal

The victories were reported for the three main Japanese offensives swinging on widening arcs over the province with the capital, Jehol City (Chengtefu), as their common objective.

The army of the north reached Chihfeng, 92 miles north of Jehol City, and reported the Chinese General Shih Wen-Hua, commander of the Jehol cavalry force under Governor Tang Lu-Yin, submitted to the Japanese-sponsored government of Manchukuo.

The towns of Chienping and Peichangyintze were reported captured by the Japanese central and southern offensives.

The northern Japanese force, with the veteran fourth cavalry brigade under Maj. Gen. Kennosuke Mogi leading the way for the sixth division, expected its hardest battle at Chihfeng. Once beyond the walls of that city, dominating a mountain pass, it was expected to move rapidly upon the capital.

The army of the south was apparently meeting the stiffest opposition, being opposed by Chinese regulars sent north by Marshal Chang Hsiao-Liang, North China military ruler.

FIVE CHILDREN AND MOTHER ARE DEAD

WOMAN LOSES LIFE IN VAIN ATTEMPT TO RESCUE OTHERS

(By The Associated Press)

TULSA, Okla., Mar. 1.—In a vain attempt at rescue, a mother was burned to death with five of her nine children in their little home at Sand Springs, a suburb, this morning.

The dead:

Mrs. Ernest C. Kepner, 34, wife of a cotton mill worker.

Robert and Charlotte, her 13-year-old twins.

Jewell, 11, a daughter.

Wayne 10, and Frank, 7, sons.

Three Others Escape

Three other children escaped the burning house or were rescued, while Kepner and a 17-year-old son, Earl, were at work in the cotton mill.

A wood stove, left burning in the bedroom in which all the children were sleeping, was blamed for the fire by Fire Chief J. A. Taylor of Sand Springs.

When firemen reached the four-room house before dawn, the roof had caved in and adjoining houses were blazing. But it was daylight before the bodies were found, that of Mrs. Kepner near the door, trapped apparently as she attempted to reach the bedroom, and those of the five children in the ruins of their beds.

Crash Is Heard

Mrs. Agnes Wagoner, a neighbor, told investigators she was awakened by the crash of breaking glass as Magale, 18, oldest daughter of the Kepners, fought her way through a window, screaming:

"The children are burning up!"

With the help of neighbors, Mrs. Kepner and Magale rescued Pauline, 5, and Esther, 2 1-2 years old. Then, before she could be restrained, the mother slipped back into the house to get the other children and died there.

REPEAL OF STATE DRY LAW FAVORED

AUSTIN, March 1 (AP)—A resolution proposing modification of the prohibition amendment to the state constitution today had passed its first test. The house committee on constitutional amendments voted yesterday, 11 to 3, to give it a favorable report.

Representative P. L. Anderson of San Antonio, one of the authors of the proposed amendment, said he hoped to obtain action on the house floor by the end of the week. Two-thirds of the membership of each house must approve the resolution before it can be submitted to the electorate. Considerable doubt has been expressed that proponents of prohibition modification could muster that majority.

The proposed amendment would provide for return of the local option method of handling the liquor question. Return of saloons would be prohibited.

THEY TRIMMED IT

FORT WORTH — Window trimming may be an art, but two thieves did a good job of "trimming" a downtown shoe store of a $200 display. They entered the window by prying open the door to the window and, working under floodlights in full view of passers-by, they moved the goods to their car waiting at the curb. They even went so far as to wave a greeting to a man who was washing windows across the street. The man thought they were real window trimmers.

Co-Eds Wear 'Em

MARVEL MIDDLETON

The bogeyman of the gay nineties, when women donned bloomers and divided shirts to ride their "bikes" has again raised its head and threatens to haunt men indefinitely with visions of the females of the species wearing the pants. He's bigger and better able to scare folks now. For the gals are going in not only for pajamas, but "slacks", wide trousers, are being worn on the campus, and even on the streets.

Pictured is Miss Marvel Middleton, of Ogden, Utah, co-ed of the University of Utah, at Salt Lake City, a leader in the on-with-the-trouser movement.

These trousers come with belt attached and button down the side, with sweaters to match the stripes on the trousers.

Next thing the gals will be appearing at formal college dances in tuxedos, which are being worn by some movie picture stars.

JAP INVASION

gade, under Maj. Gen. Heijiro Hattori, was reported to have defeated the Chinese regulars again at Peichangyingtze, 15 miles beyond Shamoashan, the mountain pass town captured yesterday. These Japanese were headed for Lingyuan.

Peichangyingtze was reported to have fallen at 9 o'clock this morning after a battle which began at dawn. It is about 85 miles from Jehol City.

CHINESE REPORT JAPS TURNED BACK

PEIPING, March 1 (AP)—A dramatic Sino-Japanese clash in a snow-driven pass in central Jehol was described in Chinese official dispatches today from the battle area.

Failing to force their way through strongly held Chinese positions at Paishihtsuimen, near Lingyuan, 1,000 Japanese were reported to have made a sudden sortie through a small ravine.

Chinese Spotted

After toiling half-way up the rocky slopes, the invaders were said to have spotted, through falling snow, the figures of a detachment of Chinese silhouetted along the ridge.

Mistaking these for isolated bands of guerillas, the Japanese pushed up toward the head of the ravine, it was said, when the defenders suddenly opened fire. The Japanese found themselves at grips with a force of 2,000 Chinese regulars.

After a fierce engagement, the Japanese were obliged to retreat the reports said.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Mar. 1 (AP)—Cotton opened steady, 4-11 higher on the passage of the Smith bill by the house. The trade and commission houses were buyers. Mch 5.92; May 6.02; Jly 6.17; Oct 6.37; Dec. 6.50; Jan. 6.58.

The initial advance which carried March up to 5.97 and July up to 6.20, or 9 to 12 points net higher, met some realizing and a little southern selling. Offerings were absorbed on setbacks of 4 or 5 points by continued covering and further trade and commission house buying. Houses with Liverpool connections were credited with selling a little cotton here at the start, but there was some buying through brokers who sometimes act for the cooperative interests and the market was steady at the end of the first half hour.

After the early demand had been supplied, trading tapered with the market evidently inclined to await further developments regarding the cotton relief bill.

Prices gradually sagged off with May selling back to 6.00 and October to 6.28 or about 6 to 10 points from the high levels of the morning. At midday the market was quiet with active months about net unchanged to 3 points higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 1 (AP)—Cotton had a firmer opening today. First trades here were 4 to 7 points up and the market continued to improve on a bullish view of house passage of the Smith senate bill for curtailment of the 1933 cotton crop. May advanced to 6.04, July to 6.17 and October to 6.36, or 9 to 11 points above the previous close.

Prices eased slightly on lack of sustained support, May dropping to 5.99, July to 6.12 and October to 6.30, or 5 to 6 points down from the highs. Near the end of the first hour however, steadier stocks caused a rally of one to two points from the lows.

The market ruled rather quiet after the first hour and prices gradually eased off, mainly owing to lack of support and all the early advance and a little more was lost. May dropped to 5.92, July to 6.04 and October to 6.24, or 12 to 13 points down from the early highs and one to three points under the previous close.

An advance in call money in New York to two per cent was a probable influence on the decline.

At noon the market was quiet and steady, at the lows.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 1 (AP)—Grains showed a downward price trend early today. Action of the Liverpool wheat market was disappointing to bulls. Cables said there was pressure on offerings of inferior quality of Argentine wheat abroad.

Opening at a shade to 3-8 lower, Chicago wheat futures continued to sag. Corn started unchanged to 1-4 off, and subsequently receded all around.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—The stock market drifted a little lower in an extremely quiet session today, after showing traces of firmness in early dealings.

The dollar again acted well in the foreign exchange markets, advancing a little against some of the European gold currencies, and bonds held up fairly well.

Among shares losing major fractions to more than a point were American Can, American Telephone Consolidated Gas, Public Service of N. J., Corn Products, Westinghouse, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, and Southern Pacific. General Electric sagged 1-2 point, as did Standard Oil of New Jersey. Some strocks maintained fractional gains, notably General Motors, International Harvester, General Foods, and National Biscuit. On the whole, rails were well supported. Gold mining stocks were bid up moderately, McIntyre gaining a point.

Machines for setting type by photographic process have been announced by European and American inventors.

"I'm a conservative driver—but I want an oil that can hit 100!"

CONSERVATIVE speeds may suit you to a T. You may never want to drive faster than 40-miles-an-hour...

But whether you speed or not, the oil you use should be the 100-mile-an-hour oil—GULF SUPREME! And here's why...

The oil that can win out under the terrific punishment of 100-miles-an-hour is a better, safer oil! It's good at high speeds—and doubly good at lesser speeds!

It gives you more protection against wear. It gives you extra richness. Extra stamina. Extra lubrication!

And here's proof that Gulf Supreme can take super-punishment... It successfully lubricated a motor running at almost twice the heat of a speeding engine... for 14 solid hours!

And it amazed race-drivers at the Indianapolis Speedway by out-performing special "racing oils"! It lubricated a thundering Duesenberg racer—under Official AAA supervision—at speeds almost as high as two miles a minute. An average speed for the one-hour, non-stop run of better than 100-miles-an-hour!

WARNING!

... OIL that isn't good at high speeds, isn't good enough at ANY speed!

Drive into any Gulf station now. Drain worn oil. Refill with Gulf Supreme. There's a grade for every climate. Its ability to take punishment means money in your pocket—and longer life for your motor!

Thought For Today

But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth and cry mightily unto God; yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands.—Jonah 3:8.

* * *

Who makes the fairest show means most deceit.—Shakespeare.

Happiness?

You aren't necessarily wishing a man happiness when you wish him a long life, these days.

According to Dr. Francis M. Pottenger of Monrovia, Calif., who retired not long ago as president of the American College of Physicians, long life is actually proving a curse instead of a blessing, in many cases.

Medical science, he pointed out, prolongs a man's life—and then the man discovers that he can no longer get a job, because of his age. He has an extra allotment of time and nothing to do with it. Even in times of prosperity, the tendency is more and more to dispense with the aging worker. The old man, all too often, must find someone to support him, or starve.

Here we have another of those developments which show the disastrous way in which our society has used the advantages which science has given it.

Science has shown us how to produce enough of everything for everybody, and the chief result seems to be that 12,000,000 men are living on charity. It has enabled us to live longer lives, and the aged are unable to support themselves. It has given us the automobile, and we use it to kill 30,000 people a year and to drive our railroads to the verge of bankruptcy. It has given us the airplane, and we use it to bring the horrors of war into every man's front yard.

Before we get straightened out again on the long road to a better civilization, we shall have to find some way of using these boons as they ought to be used—of using them, in short, to make human life happier and richer and fuller. As things are now we seem to be using them backward.

Perplexing as the tangle is, however, there is no need for us to be discouraged. For even if we haven't learned how to use these advantages properly we at least have them on hand. We can abolish poverty, make old age serene and contented and make our accelerated system of communications pay us the right kind of dividends, if we once learn how to make use of the existing opportunities. The job isn't nearly as hard as it might be.

If opportunity did knock at some doors it wouldn't do any good. The inhabitants couldn't hear it for their own howling.

* * *

GENERALLY speaking, The Plainsman is very proud of the classified advertising department, not only because it is manned by intelligent, courteous and responsible young men, and not only because it brings results to advertisers, but also because it helps, in these perilous times, to keep the front door open and the sheriff at least a jump and a half behind.

But your humble servant was never so sick of anything in his life as he was of the classified department on last Sunday afternoon and night. To get rest around our shanty was a physical impossibility and it was all the classified department's fault.

* * *

The Plainsman is used to being called occasionally at 2 a. m. to settle such arguments as whether Jack Dempsey or John L. Sullivan has the best record, or how many electoral votes Texas has, or what has to be done now to bring beer back.

But he isn't used to being called every five or ten minutes on the alleged Day of Rest—and far into the night, to boot—to answer questions about jig-saw puzzles.

* * *

IT MAY sound like baloney, but it's a fact that hundreds of people are working the snip-snap puzzles which, of late, have been gracing the classified page.

And it is also a fact that numerous workers of these puzzles are curious about them—so curious, in fact, that they can ask all kinds of questions that nobody can answer.

The Plainsman took most of the calls and the questions more or less good-naturedly until 1.17 a. m. Monday when some interested and well meaning customer called to find out how many pieces there were supposed to be in the Sunday puzzle and if it constituted a picture of Amelia Earheart or Greta Garbo.

That was the final blow!

* * *

This column wants to make it clear that The Plainsman doesn't know anything at all about those snip-snap puzzles and the more night phone calls he gets the less he wants to know about 'em.

You folks who just have to know the bloody details of the puzzles—here's a tip for you:

Instead of calling a poor, old man who has to get 10 hours sleep every night in order to keep going in the day time, call one of those young bucks in the classified department; they'll probably be up anyway.

They can tell you all you need to know about snip-snap puzzles and can be reached as follows: Allan Moses, Phone 409; Howard Hunt, Phone 1977, Leland Mast, Phone 2118-J.

And they'll be DEE-lighted to hold happy conversations between the hours of 1 and 7 a. m.

* * *

BUT don't let all this deter you from working the puzzles and mebbe winning a prize such as our energetic Mr. Moses offers.

He is just tickled pink at the way the folks are working the puzzles and shooting them in to him by the scores.

While he hasn't said as much he has intimated that he'll be willing to stay up almost any night to help his customers.

Anyway, you might try him out on it!

A Lubbock father was panning his jellybean son about these modern petting parties.

"Why", the old duffer said, "I never kissed a girl in my life until I was married to your mother. Will you be able to say that when you're my age?"

"Yeah", returned the kid, "I'll be able to say it, all right, but I doubt if I'll be able to keep as straight a face!"

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says it doesn't pay to get mixed up in other people's troubles unless you are a lawyer.

* * *

WHILE the waves of suggested economies continue to beat against the walls and buttresses of the state capitol and the taxpayers groan under their burdens, we learn that a constitutional amendment has been introduced for increases in the salaries paid to a few state officials.

The governor's pay would be increased from $4,000 per year to $12,000; that of the attorney-general from $4,000 to $10,000 and for the treasurer and land commissioner a boost from $2,500 to $6,000.

* * *

The Plainsman, personally, favors state salaries commensurate with service rendered and favors making them large enough to attract high type and successful citizens who otherwise could not make the sacrifice of serving in public office.

But he can't see the percentage in raising any salaries now, with the state confronted with the need to cut expenses rather than add to them.

* * *

THE officials holding those offices knew when they ran for them last summer what the jobs would pay. They wanted the jobs at those salaries. And they got what they wanted.

No business, no industry, no profession this column knows anything about is raising salaries now, simply because the extra money isn't there to do it with.

And the extra money isn't in the state's sock, either.

* * *

Let's raise the state salaries where necessary as soon as we can.

That's all right.

But to talk of doing it now is impractical.

Lame Ducks' Flop May Benefit Next Congress, Dutcher Says; Session Will Show How "Things Get Gummed Up"

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, March 1 — A rather prodigious effort, possible only to one grimly bent on spreading sweetness and light, is necessary in order to evoke a pleasant thought concerning the work of Congress in the present session.

Dutcher

But if you regard the session as a rehearsal it is possible to perceive some good in it. Congress has done a splendid job of demonstrating to Mr. Roosevelt and the next Congress how easy it is to get all gummed up while trying to produce legislation adequate for current complicated and vital problems. Starving persons and farmers about to be evicted probably won't appreciate this, but the trials and errors of the short session seem to assure quicker and more intelligent action by the special session.

Congress has been hearing from the country as it never did before and some important legislation has failed in this session simply because features of it came to seem unwise, unworkable or unpopular.

In many cases Congress and other people only began to find out what legislation was all about after one branch or the other—usually the House—had passed it.

• • •

Both the beer bill and the repeal resolution are examples. It seems likely that they will now be made bomb-proof by comparison with the original House bills.

There's no sense passing a beer bill if the supreme court is going to declare it unconstitutional and when one was passed as a tax measure plenty of doubt was left as to its constitutionality. The senators mangled the beer proposal otherwise, but they figured out how to avoid supreme court reversal by fixing up the Volstead Act so it wouldn't apply to beer of less than a given alcoholic content. The chances are that this important change will be preserved and that before long we'll be having beer instead of only a court decision.

It wasn't until after the House had voted on repeal that adequate consideration was given to the question of ratification by state conventions—a method to which both major parties are pledged. The drys have been boasting that they could tie up the conventions by court action indefinitely and recent application of some of the best legal minds to the question of congressional power in arranging for such conventions certainly hasn't been wasted.

• • •

The more the country looked at the domestic allotment farm relief bill the more skeptical or scared a lot of people became. This measure undoubtedly will be enacted in some form, but not as it passed the House—with peanuts and rice covered by the plan and one or two new wrinkles in the administration provisions which many students felt would rob the scheme of its chances of success.

When the bill does go through, the crops affected will be restricted to wheat and cotton and provisions for supervision will be simplified as much as possible. The leaders will be all set to see to that.

Bankruptcy legislation may pass in the present session, but only after measures passed by the House have been scrutinized carefully by the Senate following loudly voiced fears as to its constitutionality and technical feasibility. If it doesn't pass, Mr. Roosevelt's new Congress will at least have a good background of study and consideration from which to proceed.

And of course Congress has finally and conclusively demonstrated that there isn't much hope of achieving an effective economy-reorganization program until the president is given more power than he now has.

Sad as the spectacle of this last lame duck session seems, the facts cited may strengthen the general hope for a beneficial special session.

THE CAPITOL WHIRLIGIG

INTERESTING NEWS, COMMENT FROM AUSTIN

AUSTIN, March 1 (AP)—While the legislature may pass a congressional redistricting bill before the end of this session, chances for legislative redistricting in accordance with the 1930 census appear remote.

The constitution provides that Texas shall be redivided into state senatorial and representative districts after each census. The 42nd legislature failed to assume the responsibility of redistricting. Present indications are that the 43rd legislature will do likewise.

Parr Plan Downed

Sen. Archie Parr of Benavides introduced a bill to provide for senatorial redistricting. The committee on senatorial districts voted against the proposal, 6 to . That was th e only senatorial redistricting bill which had been offered in the senate.

Many members of the house were opposed to redistricting of the representatives until a constitutional limit is placed on the number from the large cities. Rep. George Moffett of Chillicothe was seeking submission of a constitutional amendment to limit the number of representatives from any county to six. If the state were redistricted on the basis of the last census, Harris, Dallas and Bexar counties each would be entitled to more than six representatives.

Inequalities Exist

Many population inequalities exist among the various representative and senatorial districts. For example the 119th representative district, comprising Gaines, Dawson, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock and Crosby counties, contains 100,279 people. The average for each district is only 38,831. Ellis county, with a population of 53,936, has two representatives.

Senator Parr has approximately 360,000 people in his district along the Mexican border. The average population for each senatorial district is approximately 188,000. Several districts in East Texas have a smaller population than that.

Woman Is Fatally Burned On Tuesday

ROCKDALE, March 1 (AP)—Mrs. E. T. Roberts, 52, was burned to death Tuesday when fire destroyed her home five miles south of Rockdale.

Her husband had just gone to a nearby building to work when he heard the crackling of flames. He turned to see the whole house on fire and it was destroyed before he could enter it to rescue either his wife or any of their belongings. A five-gallon can which contained coal oil was found nearby.

Roberts was a prominent farmer in this vicinity.

Apportionment To Be Given Schools

AUSTIN, Mar. 1. (AP)—L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, has announced an apportionment of $2 per capita soon would be remitted to the public free schools from the state available school fund.

Woods said the county common schools would be the first to receive the money and that they would get their checks the latter part of this week.

Six per cent of the world's population is thought to live in the United States.

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

Something New

ROME—Filippo Tomaso Marinetti, author famed as the father of futurism, has tried something new—a book printed on tin.

It is entitled "Words on the Liberty of Futurism as Regards Touch, Heat and Smell," "Liberty," says the author, "is too sacred a word to be printed on paper. It demands a metallic elasticity."

The pages are of very light, bendable white tin. The printing is in black. Illustrations are in brilliant tricolor.

The Nerve Of Him!

CHICAGO — Miss Pauline Stahl, cafe employe, has so much nerve a holdup man took out time to compliment her.

"Lie on the floor," he commanded.

"What, and spoil by nice clean dress," she replied. "I should say not."

"You've got a lot of nerve sister," the robber declared, admiringly.

He took $15.

Exit The Duel

BUDAPEST—Duelling, dear to the honor of upper class Hungarians, is at last being wiped out—by the economic recession. It costs too much. Fencing lessons, doctor's expenses and the entertainment of expenses all mount up to a bill too heavy for most pocketbooks.

Woe For Co-Eds

MADISON, Wis. — Pity the poor University of Wisconsin co-ed if a bill introduced in the legislature becomes a law. It would be illegal for any person not a member of a fraternity to wear it's insignia. It's a campus tradition for a co-ed to wear her fiance's fraternity pin.

Took CARDUI for Pains, Cramping

"I have taken Cardui for irregular trouble, also for pains and cramping, and it helps me," writes Mrs. Maxie Crummey, of Texarkana, Texas. "I gave Cardui to my daughters and it helped them very much. They had pains and cramps, and it did them good."

Cardui is given the credit for relieving so many cases of womanly suffering that it is widely and favorably known. Druggists, everywhere, sell it.

If you are weak, run-down, suffering monthly, take Cardui. Take it for a reasonable length of time and try it thoroughly. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of women who have written to say: "Cardui helped me."

FIELD PROGRESSES

DALLAS, Tex.—Love Field, which has been greatly improved in the past year, has a new federal rating of merit. The local airport, in a recent report, shows that more than a million persons visited the field during the fiscal year which ended September 30. Approximately 102,495 passengers moved in and out of the field in 30,650 planes. Both ground and air traffic was handled without accident.

It's always a pleasure to get letters, either critical or laudatory, from either of the readers. We were doubly blessed yesterday by the arrival of letters from both of them. It's about the forthcoming "box fight" between this department, or his representative, and Gus Axcelwush, or his representative. Just what grievance Gus nourishes against the "noospepper" fraternity has not been definitely agreed upon, but he has tossed his glove in the ring, made his challenge and we have accepted. There was one provision to our acceptance: that we be allowed to have Secret Operative X45833R do our fighting. Our man has announced his willingness to compete. But in Gus' last letter, printed below, he leaves the impression that he's about to back out. He's calling for reinforcements, help, aid and succor. Here's Gus' letter:

* * *

Mr. Collar Perish,
Sportz editors.
Dear Mr. Perish:

I always know that noospepper fallows bane not tough enough for box-fight anybody. But I never thing they will get guy with name like telephone number to do dirty work.

Myself, former champeens, will meet no operators. I only ask you for fight because it bane would give swell chence to bust bugle of nother noospepper fallow.

I have uncle, Yvensen Bjornsterne Axcelwush, jr. (goot old Uncle Yvensen Bjornsterne Axcelwush, jr., he never tells a smutty yoke) who dun't care with which he box-fights no matter what it is call. He will yolly well box-fight das secret-guy.

Respectfully yes,
Gus Axcelwush.

P. S. Uncle Yvensen Bjornsterne Axcelwush, jr., bane a wilter-weight.
Very true,
G. A.

* * *

And here's the letter from Secret Operative X45833R:

* * *

Mr. Collier Parris,

Your humble servant is not and has never been an exponent of the manly art of self defense. He does not know what the inside of a squared circle looks like, and don't know a left hook from a rabbit punch, but to uphold and protect the honor of the newspaper fraternity, I will formally accept the challenge of this Axle Grease person, and appoint you as my manager and second.

When you come to terms with Gus' representative, all I require is that he make my weight (180 pounds) and give me four weeks to train in.

The bout, of course, is to be staged in a regulation sized ring.

Now Collier, I don't mind in the least to do your scrapping, but this Charley Guy fellow, is he honest and honorable? If you will recommend him as being O. K. why I don't mind working with or for him, be it on the inside of a squared circle or elsewhere. You see, we don't want a crook or professional promoter mixed up in this. This affair is on the up and up, and when I step into the ring as the opponent of the mighty Axle Grease, why I am going after him for all I am worth, and all of Charley Guy's millions can't buy me off.

Just what is Senor Guy's official capacity? Is he some kind of a glorified janitor? Seems as though I read somewhere about him getting a job as janitor in Amarillo. Give me the dope on him and find out the physical proportions of this would be "bo-fighter," Gus Axle Grease.

Respectfully,
Secret Operative X45833R

* * *

So what!

It begins to look like the anxious public won't get to see either of the original principals tangle in a match of fisticuffs. We have accepted the offer of X45833R to do our fighting and Gus is passing the buck to an uncle, apparently fresh from Ireland.

* * *

Personal to X45833R: How the heck did the boss get mixed up in this? Answering your questions about Charley Guy, they are as follows. Lean over closer: (Buzz, chatter, whisper, whisper, buzz sh. . . . sh. . . buzz, whisper, this 'n' that, whisper). Now, do you catch on? Outside of that, he's a pretty decent fellow.

* * *

Unless there is further notice to the contrary, principals of the scheduled fight will send their representatives to a meeting which will be held at midnight, Feb. 30, by the old hollow stump on the road to Mandalay.

MEETING WILL BE HELD AT AMARILLO

POSTING OF FORFEIT BONDS SLATED TO BE ARRANGED SUNDAY

AMARILLO, March 1 (AP)—Final plans for the season and the posting of forfeit bonds of $500 will be arranged at the meeting of club presidents in the newly organized West Texas-New Mexico baseball league, called by Wilbur C. Hawk, president, for next Sunday.

Amarillo, Albuquerque, N. M., El Paso and Lubbock already have signified willingness to start the league off in class D baseball.

Others Considered

Pampa, Roswell, N. M. and San Angelo baseball interests were reported considering membership.

Pincher Withers and Joe Pate both of Fort Worth, have acquired conditional franchise rights in Pampa and Roswell.

The setup in the league to date is that Amarillo will be a farm for the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast league with Mickey Shader as manager; Lubbock is likely to go on its own hook with Del Pratt, former Texas league manager, already signed to boss the team; El Paso has announced a farm connection with Los Angeles of the Coast league with Roy Johnson as manager, and Albuquerque is contemplating independent ball with "Mule" Washburn as manager.

CLUB PRACTICALLY SURE

Although there remains considerable ground to be covered by the finance committee, officials of the Lubbock Baseball club contend that it is practically certain Lubbock will have a team in the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league race this season.

Several local fans and club officials plan to attend the league meeting in Amarillo Sunday and carry the word that Lubbock is ready to go. President John Dalrymple and two or three of his official associates probably will attend the Amarillo meeting.

Efforts to sell shares of stock in the Lubbock Baseball association will be continued this week. Approximately half of the desired amount has been distributed.

Claude E. Rielly Claimed By Death

HOUSTON, March 1 (AP)—Claude E. Rielly, who owned the Houston baseball club from 1903 to 1908, died in a hospital here last night. In 1909, he sold his interest in the club to Otto Sens and the late J. Doak Roberts. Under Rielly's ownership the club won pennants in the South Texas league in 1905 and 1906 and in 1904 lost in a play-off series with Galveston, after winning the first half of the pennant.

RESERVATIONS FOR BANQUET WANTED

A request for reservations to the annual Texas Exes banquet at Hotel Lubbock Thursday night, March 2 was sent out today by the invitations committee after there had been little response to a previous request. There are approximately 200 former students of the college living in Lubbock.

Reservations to the banquet may be made by calling Mrs. J. M. Marshall at 1107W, Jack Randal at 253, C. W. Ratliff at 13 or C. A. Sheffield at 1332. Plates are fifty cents each.

The banquet is scheduled to begin at 7:15. Every Texas ex attending is being requested to bring a copy of "The Cactus" along and read something humorous on some other person at the banquet as a feature of the informal program.

Incantation is the employment of song for magical purposes.

Training Camps Begin Activity

'Babe' Didrikson?

Setting a world record of nine feet one-quarter inch, in the broad jump event of a Roxbury, Mass., indoor track and field meet for girls, Dorothy Lyford, 15, of Spencer, Mass., is now hailed as a possible second "Babe" Didrikson.

PRACTICE STARTS IN WIDELY SEPARATED SECTIONS TODAY

MIAMI, Fla., March 1 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers have barely had time to loosen up their muscles in spring training camp but already two rookies have caught Manager Max Carey's eagle eye.

They are Chick Outen, catcher who was with Jersey City last year, and Charley Sheerin, outfielder who was out of the game with a broken leg in 1932. Outen's hitting has been impressive in the few workouts the Dodgers have held so far while Sherin has attracted attention through his fielding prowess.

ONLY ONE OVERWEIGHT

LOS ANGELES, March 1 (AP) — There's only one man now in the New York Giant's training camp who is overweight, in the opinion of Bill Terry.

"I've never seen a better conditioned set of men for this time in the season," Memphis Bill said. "There's only one man now that I would call overweight."

"Who's that?"

"Well," Terry replied, "I'll make no effort to hide his name. It's Bill Terry but I'll tend to his case in a very short time."

ONLY TWO UNSIGNED

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 1 (AP)—Only two batterymen, Charley Ruffing and Bill Dickey, were unsigned as the New York Yankees prepared to open spring training activities today.

Of the 17 pitchers and catchers ordered to report today, 12 already were on the ground and two others, Vernon Gomez and Joe Glenn were reported en route. Herb Pennock was given permission to remain away for another week.

Ruffing and Dickey, two important cogs in the machine, are engaged in a "hold-out" campaign.

SET SNAPPY PACE

BILOXI, Miss., March 1 (AP)—A hard working battery quartet is setting a snappy pace at the Washington Senators' training camp. It is composed of Luke Sewell, catcher, and Earl Whitehill, Walter Stewart and Jack Russell, newly acquired hurlers with something of a reputation already behind them for their pitching against Washington, New York and Philadelphia.

Whitehill and Stewart, both left handed, are looked to for effective work against the Yankees' five left handed regulars. Russell probably will be a "spot" pitcher, Manager Joe Cronin said.

MUSEUM TO BE OPENED SOON

BUILDING AT CANYON TO BE ACCEPTED BY STATE, SOCIETY

CANYON, March 1, (AP)—The museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society will be completed and accepted by the state and the society early in March.

Judge Henry Paulus, Yoakum, J. E. Hill, Amarillo and Jack Josey, Houston, all members of the state board of teachers college regents, will represent the state in inspecting and accepting the building, and a committee not yet named will represent the historical society.

Although the museum is rapidly nearing completion, it will not be open to the public until after April 14, the date set for its dedication and the annual meeting of the historical society, according to Professor L. F. Sheffy who is in charge of it.

When workmen leave the building all the time up to the dedication will be needed to move the exhibits and get them arranged in the new quarters.

AVIATORS GET MEDALS

MEXICO CITY,—The "Aguila Azteca" medal, a decoration for foreigners who distinguish themselves in Mexico, was recently conferred on Col Josquin Lizano of the Costa Rican military air service, Capt. Mario Torres Manier and Lieuts. Pablo Alonso and Rodolfo Herrara, the Cuban army flyers, all of whom made goodwill flights to Mexico from their respective countries. The medal was created by President Gen. Abelardo L. Rodriquez after he took office, and these were the first awards made.

Experiments with rats at the University of Chicago indicate that they can digest a ball bearing.

TECH TEAM IS DEFEATED BY BUFFALOES

TALL TEACHERS FROM CANYON TAKE TWO GAMES IN ROW

After carrying the fight to the Buffaloes for three quarters of the game and gaining a two-point lead when there remained 10 minutes to play, the Texas Tech Matadors lost the services of three stars and dropped the final game to West Texas Teachers, 37 to 25, here last night.

It was the closing game of the season for Tech. The Buffs leave this week for Kansas City to compete in the National A. A. U. tournament.

Big Joe Fortenberry was held to two field goals by Polk Robison and Wilson Gilmore, who swarmed over him like bees, in the first 30 minutes of play, but once the Tech stars were out, the 6-foot, 7-inch giant looped five buckets in rapid succession to take scoring honors.

Crews And Burk Off

Burk of West Texas and Crews of Tech were disqualified for scuffling late in the first half. Crews was doing good work up to that time.

Only one of Tech's starting five was in the game when it ended. He was Captain Harvey Dunn, who finished his collegiate basketball career by playing one of his best games this season. He was all over the court, guarding closely and effectively, and never was called on a foul. Wilson Gilmore and Polk Robison went out of the game on personal fouls and J. C. Thomas was withdrawn late in the contest after playing a sound game.

Fourteen Victories

Tech closed its basketball season with fourteen victories and seven defeats, four of the latter being suffered at the hands of Coach Burton's Buffaloes. Included in the string of victories were those which gave Tech its first Border conference championship.

It was the consensus of opinion along the front line last night that Tech would have won the ball game, breaking a three-year jinx, if the Matador regulars had been permitted to finish the fracas. So well did they have Giant Joe Fortenberry covered that his white and maroon uniform was nearly always blotted out by the scarlet of Texas Tech. Big Comer also was prevented from doing his usual scoring stuff.

MILLER RETAINS CROWN IN FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, March 1 (AP)—National Boxing association featherweight crown rested securely on the head of Freddie Miller today after he easily repulsed Alberto "Baby" Arizmendi, outstanding challenger from Mexico city, in 10 rounds.

Miller's defense of his recently acquired title was climaxed with a gallery shower of bottles, fruits, peanuts and programs. This barrage from Mexican partisans was delivered with somewhat more effectiveness than the sensational rushes of Arizmendi, which seldom disturbed the cool headed southpaw.

The champion weighed 125 pounds and Arizmendi 125 1-2.

PRINCETON SPORTS SYSTEM REVISED UNDER "FRITZ" CRISLER, WHO USES PSYCHOLOGY ON TEAM DURING SUMMER

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

PRINCETON, N. J., March 1 (AP)—Suppose you're a big, husky fellow, a football player at Princeton, a hero in your home town, and the grind of the college year has ended.

Ahead lies a happy, carefree summer, perhaps a little work. The hard bruising days when condition becomes paramount again lie off in the distance somewhere.

System Rejuvenated

It used to be like that for men of Princeton, but those days have forever departed under the new regime of Herbert Orrin "Fritz" Crisler. This tall, dark man from Minnesota, in one short year as athletic director and head football coach at Nassau, has rejuvenated the Tiger sports system.

It doesn't take long to discover that behind this is the personal power and magnetism of one man, "Fritz" Crisler, a simple system of training and teaching, and a psychological understanding of college boys that keeps them grinding for him, thinking, practicing, living football.

Each Sent Letter

For example, last July each football candidate got a letter from Crisler, explaining how difficult was the task ahead, pointing out the reasons why they had failed; suggesting each practice specialties such as kicking, passing, catching, dodging.

A month later he checked all around on the conditioning work that had been outlined. The tone of his second letter was stiffer.

The men he wanted must be loyal fighters with a "superabundance of courage, determination, perseverance; conscientious, serious minded, hard working men; men with team enthusiasm, ready to study and work to develop every feature of their positions and the technique of play; unselfish, companionable, with plenty of enthusiasm and will to win."

Then a few weeks later he told them what types he could not use at all.

"In order that there be no misunderstanding," he boldly listed the undesirables who should stay far, far away from him as follows:

"Complainers, knockers, whiners, quitters; men who think they're not getting a square deal; men who get moody, discouraged and thereby hurt morale; those with an exaggerated opinion of themselves; selfish men; men who consider themselves hospital patients at every little bump they get; men who think they need a personal valet; those who leap to the easy assignments, slide over the hard ones; lazy, indifferent fellows who can't stand the gaff; shadow players who don't mix in the rough stuff; alibiers, social heroes; those satisfied just to be members of the squad."

To a man his squad snapped back from a busy summer mentally stimulated, in fine condition. They tied Cornell, Navy and Yale and almost overthrew Michigan.

DEAN LEIDIGH MAKES TALK

TECH'S AGRICULTURE WORK COMPARED IN LUNCHEON TALK

Dean A. H. Leidigh of the Texas Technological college school of agriculture reviewed the school's history and compared its growth with that of similar institutions before the Lions club in the Hilton hotel Tuesday.

Dean Leidigh recalled that before Tech was established students from this area attended Texas A. and M., where, because of the distance from the South Plains, the type of instruction referred to soils and conditions not had here.

Offered Two Years

"In 1925 the Texas Technological college in its first year offered two years of work in agriculture," Dean Leidigh said. "Since then it has offered four years of work and has granted bachelor of science degrees to 93 separate individuals, the first graduate being in the class of 1928."

Since 1862, land grant colleges, or schools receiving federal funds, have made reports of their work. There are 69 of these and they enroll one out of every six college students. There are 52 exclusively for white students and in 1929-30, 12,722 or 8.5 per cent of the total, were agricultural students. At Tech the same year there were 205 enrolled, compared to an average of 223 students.

Degrees Are Given

"The entire 52 institutions granted 1938 degrees in that year," Dean Leidigh said, referring to the 1929-30 report, "or in other words, 15 per cent of the students received degrees. Last year Tech, with 223 students enrolled, granted 29 degrees in agriculture, or 13 per cent of the total received degrees."

The dean pointed out that last year, including the summer session, 315 agricultural students were enrolled in Tech.

"The story of the boy from the Texas Panhandle who studied agriculture in the University of Missouri, as his home was 200 miles closer to the University of Missouri than to Texas A. and M. college, is quite well known," Dean Leidigh said. "This question of distance which affects Texas has led Oklahoma likewise to offer four year agricultural instruction at Goodwell, which in an airline is about the same distance from Lubbock as Wichita Falls or Brownwood."

Schools Are Compared

Enrollment at Panhandle A. & M. college at Goodwell is "a great many less" than in Tech's agriculture school, he said. Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y., also was compared. "It, like the Goodwell school and Tech, is a non-land grant school. Agriculture at Syracuse is 12 years older than Tech, yet they had but 88 students in 1929-30, compared to 205 here.

"It is a fact that the enrollment in Texas Tech this past year exceeds that of the agricultural colleges of North or South Dakota, the University of Wyoming, University of Virginia, Agricultural college of North Carolina, Colorado Agricultural college, Arkansas university and many of the older and well-founded institutions liberally supported by state and national funds," the dean added.

"In this time of unemployment it is interesting to note that our graduates are making good," he went on. "Fifty-eight are in their own employ on farms or else working professionally in agriculture. Fifteen are teaching school; fourteen are in business; three are pursuing further study and three are unemployed, or at any rate their exact status is unknown to me at present."

TO LIMIT WITHDRAWALS

TEXARKANA, Ark., March 1 (AP)—The Texarkana Clearing House association voted last night to limit withdrawals of all classes of deposits in the three Texarkana banks to five per cent of amounts on deposit. Banks affected are the State National, Texarkana National and the Miller County (Arkansas) Bank and Trust company. Officials of the three institutions attended the meeting and decided on the action.

D. 1933, the same being the 3rd day of April A. D. 1933, then and there to answer a First Amended Original petition filed in said Court on the 27th day of February A. D. 1933, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 4947, wherein Higginbotham-Bartlett Company, a corporation, is Plaintiff, and J. G. Biffle, the Goodland Consolidated School District No. 7 and Aetna Casualty and Surety Company, a corporation, are Defendants, and said petition alleging* that about December 27, 1930, defendants, J. G. Biffle and Goodland Consolidated School District No. 7, made and entered into a contract in writing, whereby J. G. Biffle agreed, for a consideration, to build and construct a one story, four room, brick and tile school building in the town of Goodland, Texas, at the same time, J. G. Biffle also executed and delivered to the School board of said School District his bond for the faithful performance of his contract, executed by defendant, Aetna Casualty and Surety Company.

That during the construction of said building, plaintiff sold and delivered to defendant, Biffle, goods, wares and merchandise and materials which were used by defendant, Biffle, in the construction of said building. And that there is a balance due on said account in the sum of $6663.21 with interest thereon from completion of said building to this date at 6 percent per annum, which defendant, J. G. Biffle, though often requested, has failed and refused to pay to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $7000.00.

That this plaintiff duly filed itemized and verified accounts within the time required by law and sworn to as required by statutes as to mechanic's lien claims and filed the same with the County Clerk of Bailey County, Texas, and that by reason of the execution of said contract and bond and the filing of said liens, defendants, J. G. Biffle, Goodland Consolidated School District No. 7, and the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company, became liable and bound to pay to plaintiff said sum of $6663.21, together with interest due thereon.

Plaintiff further alleges that said School District contains in its hands the sum of $6414.62 out of the contract price due to said Biffle. That it has a valid and subsisting first lien on said funds by reason of having given notice as required by law.

In the alternative, that if the said Biffle and said Surety Company have withdrawn said funds and have given a bond therefore, that it is entitled to recover against all the defendants, jointly and severally, the amount due it, including its reasonable attorney's fee, which it alleges to be the sum of $1000.00, to be taxed as costs.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays for judgment against the defendants for its debt, interest, costs of suit, foreclosure of lien, etc.

Herein Fail Not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

GIVEN under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 27th day of February A. D. 1933.

DAMAGE LOOMS ON HIGHWAYS

CALICHE BASE ROADS THREATENED UNLESS TOPPING FINISHED

AMARILLO, March 1 (AP)—More than 175 miles of untopped caliche base highway construction in the Panhandle is threatened with serious and immediate damage unless the highway department makes provision for topping work to be done soon.

W. J. Van London, division construction engineer in charge of the Panhandle district, warned good roads enthusiasts at a meeting here that the topping should begin by March 15, and that every day the work is delayed after that date will add to the cost of putting the caliche base in shape to receive the topping.

Almost $1,000,000 has been spent in laying the caliche base for these highways, and the investment is threatened unless the highways are completed, Van London said, after being called into the meeting for advice on what action should be taken. Deterioration, caused by high winds and heavy traffic, already is showing up in places, he said.

Tri-weekly service has been opened between El Paso and Mexico City on a second route. The third route consists of two round trips daily between La Paz, Lower California, and Mazatlan in Sinaloa State.

A. A. Lund, general manager of Armour & Company's plant at Fort Worth, anticipates continued development of cattle feeding on the South Plains, he said Tuesday night. He had been in Plainview, Sudan, and Levelland, "looking over the cattle industry in this section."

Reluctant to predict the future of the cattle and packing businesses, he urged cattlemen to adjust themselves to present day conditions, and commented he was "agreeably surprised at the great number of good quality cattle on feed in this part of the country."

The packing industry, he said, has adjusted itself to the present day condition.

"The packer wants to pay all that he can for livestock," Mr. Lund said. "This seems unusual, but unlike the automobile and other industries the selling price of packing house products is not cost of material, plus labor, and merchandising costs. The packer arrives at what the consuming public will pay and deducts the costs of processing and selling to arrive at the price to the producer."

Mrs. Lund is here. Mr. and Mrs. Lund planned to go to Clovis, N. M., today.

NEW PLANES TO MOSCOW

MOSCOW—Two new planes have been added to the joint German-Russian airline operating between Berlin and Moscow. Each plane carries 10 passengers and a crew of two. The interior of the new planes closely approximates American transports. Wicker chairs, curtains for windows, and a leather pocket containing magazines and other reading matter attached to each seat, are among the features for the comfort of the passenger. The new planes have a range of about 600 miles.
