Americans Leave Capital But More Than 100 Remain In Homes; Violence Said To Be Growing In Force

(By The Associated Press)

MADRID, July 31.—Troops of the rebellion announced tonight they were marching against Madrid and it appeared the crucial battle in the two-weeks old revolt was near.

Broadcasts from Fascist stations said four columns of rebel forces were converging on the city. One was within artillery range, 15 miles, ready to hurl destructive shell-fire against loyalists defenders.

TO REMAIN NEUTRAL

PARIS, July 31. (AP)—The French government tonight declared its determination to remain neutral in the Spanish civil war.

Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos said "France declared she will not mix in the politics of other countries."

The appearance of Italian planes in Morocco, reported enroute with arms for Spanish rebels, touched off debate.

There was fear, an authoritative source said, that the incident could lead to war between "Fascist and anti-Fascist blocs" of European nations.

Americans Leave, Stay

Americans desiring to leave, 93 in all, had fled earlier to safety in Valencia. But 70, mostly Filipinos, remained at the American embassy. About 100 other United States citizens still lived in their residences here.

Miners bolstered loyalist troops for a new siege of the northern city of Oviedo, but delayed attack to spare the city further damage.

"Many Casualties" Reported

Catalan troops thrust at Zaragosa, important northern city held by rebels, in a series of fierce encounters. "Many casualties," were reported.

Gen. Emilio Mola, northern rebel chief, was reported to have left his siege in the Guaddaramas to aid the Zaragosa defenders and march on San Sebastian.

Loyalists were reported converging on Cordoba and Granada, southern cities.

Convicted "Fingerman" In Abduction Of William Hamm, Jr., Suicides Friday; Second Man To Take Own Life

(By The Associated Press)

ST. PAUL, July 31.—A convicted kidnap plotter climaxed the sensational William Hamm, jr., kidnaping case today with self-inflicted death in a jail cell two hours after he had been sentenced to serve 30 years in prison.

John P. Pfifer, former St. Paul night club operator charged as "fingerman" in the $100,000 abduction, thus became the second suicide growing out of the three-year-old kidnaping case.

The first, described by the jailers as "stir crazy," was Willie Sharkey. With fellow members of the erstwhile Touhy gang of Chicago he had been acquitted of kidnap charges and was awaiting removal to Chicago on other charges when he hanged himself in his cell with his necktie.

Dr. W. D. Kelly, physician for the federal government, expressed the belief poison mixed with gum found in Pfifer's mouth caused death.

Tree Belt May Be Continued

Administration Is Considering Reviving Shelterbelt Plan As Part Of Its Long-Range Drouth Prevention Program

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Morris Cooke, chairman of President Roosevelt's Great Plains drouth committee, said today the administration was considering reviving the abandoned "shelterbelt" of trees as part of its long-range drouth prevention program.

Disclosing the committee had discussed the project at its meeting earlier today, Cooke said it was "not dead but very active."

Money Still Available

Questioned as to the failure of congress to provide money for continuing the tree planting venture, Cooke said some money still was available out of previous allocations.

Planting of belts of trees running from north to south across the Middlewest was undertaken by the administration previously with the expressed hope of holding the soil and changing climatic conditions.

Survived Severe Drouth

Earle H. Clapp, active chief of the forest service, and A. A. Simpson, associate director of the shelterbelt, were quoted as telling the committee today that 81.2 per cent of 24,000,000 trees planted had survived up to July 1 "despite severe drouth."

Cooke announced the committee, on an inspection tour, would spend all day August 14 at Amar-

Anti-New Dealers To Gather Today

DALLAS, July 31. (AP) — W. P. Hamblen, Houston attorney, announced here today that a state meeting of anti-New Deal Democrats whose purpose is to defeat President Roosevelt for re-election would be held here tomorrow morning.

Hamblen said from 50 to 75 Democrats from various parts of the state had accepted invitations to attend.

Hamblen said he saw "nothing for a real Democrat to do except support Landon."

Steel Organizer Asks Kansan To Investigate Tactics In Corporation; Farley Gives Up Postmaster Generalship

BY EDWARD J. DUFFY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Three moves from within organized labor on behalf of the New Deal coincided today with James A. Farley's leave-taking from the cabinet to confine himself to the Roosevelt campaign.

George L. Berry, as president of "Labor's Non-Partisan League," contended the labor section of Governor Alf M. Landon's acceptance speech "meant there must be an absolutely clear road for formation of company unions, which are owned, financed and controlled by the employers." His statement, called forth by the amplification of the Republican presidential nominee's views yesterday, said "Candidate Landon finds it necessary to discover new reasons for the deficiencies and mistakes of his record."

Investigation Asked

Philip Murray, heading a committee attempting to unionize steel workers, asked the Kansas executive by telegram from Pittsburgh to investigate what he called "coercive tactics" against union organizers by the Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation. He suggested that Landon's uncle, William T. Mossman, public relations counsel for the steel company, be asked several questions, among them "why 14 men were recently fired by that corporation for union activities."

The United Mine Workers Journal, in an issue which it said went to 361,787 people, asserted the Roosevelt opposition "is based upon hate, actual, black, bitter hate on the part of what is commonly called the upper classes of society."

County Demos Gather Today

County Convention Is To Be Held At Courthouse; Votes Of First Primary To Be Canvassed By Committee

Delegates to a state Democratic convention will be named at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when Lubbock county members of that party meet in convention in the court house, said L. C. Ellis, county chairman.

Canvassing of results of last Saturday's Democratic primary will be done by a committee which will meet an hour earlier. The committee, which will recess for the convention, will resume its work afterward and expects to complete its duties about 9 o'clock that night. Final tabulation of votes cast in the election will have been completed when the committee adjourns. A total of more than 8,600 votes was cast.

Interest In 3 Races

Interest centralizes in results of three races. Lubbock friends of Burton S. Burks and George Berry will watch tabulations from three outside counties, Crosby, Hockley and Cochran, of the 72nd judicial district. They seek the post of district attorney.

The only no-runoff county race which likely could be affected by a canvass of results is that of county attorney. Robert Allen polled a margin of 255 ballots over Jess O. Levens, incumbent.

In precinct 3, T. L. Holt led Edgar E. Gray for commissioner by the slim margin of 10 votes. There is to be a runoff, however.

OFFICER IS KILLED

HOUSTON, July 31. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff O. H. Heyne, 67, of Wharton was killed and Sheriff E. J. Koehl, also of Wharton, was injured this afternoon in an automobile accident near Arcola.

Farm Prices Go Higher; Cotton Is Due For Big Year

Big Things Are Seen For King Cotton In Coming Season

BY FRED WILLIAMS
Associated Press Cotton Reporter

NEW ORLEANS, July 31. — King Cotton gazed benignly on his 2,000,000 subjects today and listened carefully while spokesmen predicted big things for the coming season.

Threatened with oblivion less than a year ago, the perennial monarch prepared to usher in a new year tomorrow.

Offering a sharp contrast to the pessimistic predictions of a year ago, cotton leaders see a big season ahead.

SHORTAGE OF PICKERS

EDINBURG, July 31. (AP)—An acute shortage of cotton pickers alarmed Hidalgo county growers today, and pay for picking the staple jumped to 75 cents a hundred.

The 1936 bumper crop of cotton—approximately 90,000 bales in this area—now stands in the fields ready for harvest and there is danger that the lint may be blown from the stalks and destroyed. Prospects were that still more attractive pay will be offered pickers.

There has been a growing shortage of field labor due to emigration to the Robstown-Corpus Christi cotton belt. County Agent R. G. Burwell announced that he is making every effort to bring in enough labor to begin cleaning the fields Monday.

Unusually hot weather hastened the crop, farmers said.

Fenner Expresses Views

Said Charles E. Fenner, president of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange:

"The cotton trade is facing the forthcoming season with the prospect that the world's spinners will absorb every bale produced by the south this year at very satisfactory prices."

From E. F. Creekmore, general manager of the American Cotton Cooperative association, came another optimistic opinion.

Fear Dissipated

"The fear of governmental operations in cotton which has had a somewhat depressing effect on world markets has to a large extent been dissipated.

"The AAA producers pool has been completely liquidated.

"World surplus of American cotton as of July 31st will amount to approximately 7,100,000 bales as compared with approximately 9,000,000 bales at the end of the previous year. World consumption of American cotton for this season will amount to approximately 12,600,000 bales, compared with 11,200,000 bales for the previous year."

The withdrawal of the government from the cotton business was hailed by Ben J. Williams, cotton

World-Wide Wave Of Buying Hits Grain Marts

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 31.—North America's drouth and Europe's rains spurred a world-wide wave of buying today which hoisted major farm commodities to a six-year general peak.

Fear that a wheat crisis was approaching galvanized traders in all the principal marts.

Liverpool quotations soared five cents, Buenos Aires' three cents and on the Chicago board of trade the December delivery touched $1.14 a bushel, the highest figure in three years, before heavy profit taking cut down the advance. The world price for wheat everywhere was above the dollar mark.

Realization Growing

Growing realization of the magnitude of damage from the prolonged drouth in the farm belt contributed to send corn above that price line also, for the first time since 1930. It closed here 1 1-2 to 3 5-8 cents up, September delivery $1.01 3-8 to 5-8.

Rye, oats, barley attained new 1936 tops along with the other major grains.

Other table necessities—eggs, butter, potatoes, cheese—and lard and soybeans also hit new highs for the year.

Rains Hamper Harvest

While cables told of heavy rains hampering European harvests, forecast for the sun-seared north central states indicated continued fair weather with rising temperatures and no showers of helpful quantity.

Grain men here compared the situation to that which prevailed in world war days. Not since then, they said, had some of the commodities experienced so sustained an advance.

Youthful Bandit Robs Wells Bank

LUFKIN, July 31. (AP)—A young bandit in shirt sleeves held up the First State bank at Wells, near here, just before closing time today and escaped with $3,500.

G. B. Bailey, cashier, Miss Leon Childers, assistant cashier, and T. B. Warner, a customer, were marched at gunpoint into the vault and forced to sit upon the floor. They were locked in for 15 minutes when their plight was discovered by Warner's daughter, Norman, who released them.

The bandit stuffed the money in a briefcase and fled in a light coupe. He had approached Bailey, spoken to him, then produced a pistol with the announcement:

"This is a hold-up."

Officers in nearby counties have been called upon to assist in the search for the robber.

Road Projects Bids Tabulated

Work In Bailey, Lamb, Terry, Hockley And Lubbock Areas Is Included In Bids Taken At Austin Friday

South Plains projects were included when the Texas Highway commission Friday ascertained low bidders on jobs in 27 counties which will cost $958,750. The projects included 181 miles of light surfacing and four grade separations.

South Plains projects were:

Bailey and Lamb, 12 miles asphalt seal coat on highway 7 from Muleshoe to 3.1 miles northwest of Sudan, to Brown and Root, Inc., contractors, Austin, $12,617.

Hockley, Lubbock and Terry counties, 36.5 miles asphalt seal coat base preservatives and sealed single asphalt surface on highways 21, 137, and 51 from Levelland loop to a point east of Levelland; from Terry county line to Lubbock county line; from Lubbock to Hockley county line; from Brownfield 10.7 miles south, Cooke and Braden, Amarillo contractors, $50,998.

Negro Attacker In Ballinger Sought

(By The Associated Press)

BALLINGER, July 31. — Angry bands of armed citizens joined officers tonight in a search for a negro who earlier had attacked and beaten a prominent middle aged widow in her home here.

Officers were notified of the attack about 9 o'clock when the woman fought off her assailant long enough to make her way to the telephone, take down the receiver and scream. The negro leaped out of a living room window before Chief of Police Lee Moreland and Deputy Sheriff Gerald Black arrived.

The identity of the negro was believed known according to officers.

The victim, badly scratched and bruised, her clothing torn and suffering from nervous shock, was under the care of a physician. It was not determined whether she had been criminally assaulted. Her condition was described as critical.

She was unable to describe the attack and could not given a coherent description of the negro.

Increased Appropriations Are Sought By Both Schools But A. & M. Seeks Greatest; Tech Wants Buildings

Would Raise Pay

Total Of $516,570 In Salaries Compared To $289,000 Asked Each Year; Library, Agriculture, H. E. Units Sought

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 31.—Increased appropriations for the next biennium were requested by the Agricultural & Mechanical college and Texas Technological college in budgets filed today with the board of control.

The main A. & M. college presented a budget of $914,785, annually compared with appropriations of $611,480 and $599,500 for the current two years. A total of $699,785 was asked for salaries against $484,805 appropriated currently.

Seeks 3 New Buildings

Texas Technological college sought $1,469,616 the first year and $719,616 the second, including $750,000 for buildings. A total of $516,570 was requested for salaries each year compared with $289,690 currently appropriated.

The construction program would include $300,000 for a library, $250,000 for an agricultural building and $200,000 for a home economics building.

Asks $25,000 For Summer

Tech asked $25,000 for summer sessions, which compared with $20,685 now provided. Other schools also asked larger appropriations for summer sessions.

Requests of A. & M. branches were as follows:

North Texas Agricultural college $263,110 and $426,230, including $200,000 for a class room and laboratory building the second year.

Tarleton Asks New Building

John Tarleton Agricultural college, $520,940 and $431,940, including $150,000 for a science building the first year.

Prarie View State Normal and Industrial college (colored), $379,520 and $229,520.

Forest service, $138,200 each year of the biennium.

Experiment stations, $474,951 and $463,201.

Extension service, $293,495 each year.

Rodent control service, $31,900 each year.

Three Ships Are Unaccounted For

PENSACOLA, FLA., July 31. (AP)—A midsummer hurricane whirled out of the Gulf of Mexico across a sparsely settled area 40 miles east of here today, inflicting heavy damage on some coastal property and leaving three vessels unaccounted for.

Forewarned, residents and vacationists moved to safety from exposed resort centers and no loss of life was reported immediately from the winds which reached as high as 100 miles an hour. Pensacola escaped damage.

Ships unreported were the two-masted fishing smack Bob, carrying a crew of six; the steamer Tarpon with a crew of 15 bound from Apalachicola to Panama City; and the 38-foot auxiliary schooner Ketchum of St. Petersburg.

The blow, striking first about dawn, was the second appearance of a tropical hurricane which started in the Caribbean, swept across the southern tip of the state Tuesday night, and recurved with increasing intensity in the Gulf.

Treasured Possessions Of The Tabors Sold In Denver Auction

DENVER, July 31. (AP)—All that remained of the one-time fabulous H. A. W. Tabor estate today was the memory of one of Colorado's most famous frontier families.

Jewelry, clothing and other treasured possessions of the Tabors—the finest that money could buy when Tabor and his beautiful wife "Baby Doe" were the state's silver king and queen—were sold at public auction to the highest bidders.

The sale, which lasted for several hours, disposed of the last of the estate which Mrs. Tabor had stored away in trunks, hopeful that some day the famed Matchless mine at Leadville, Colo., would produce again the wealth her husband made from it.

She died in poverty in a shack near the mine in March, 1935.

Chief Executive Calls For "Frank Dealings" And A "Spirit Of Give And Take" In Settling World Problems

(By The Associated Press)

QUEBEC, July 31. — President Roosevelt in a speech here today called for "frank dealings" and a "spirit of give and take" in settling all problems facing the world.

Standing on a platform covered with American and British flags at the foot of the monument to Wolfe and Montcalm, the American chief executive, speaking in English and French, responded to a big ovation and official greetings by holding up dispute-free Canadian-American relations as a fine example for other nations to follow.

Thousands Hear Him

Threat Not Discovered Until Three Days After Deadline To Pay Money; G-Men Find Writer Through Search

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—A department of justice agent announced here today the arrest in Grant, Neb., of Sterling Walrod Powell, 16-year-old farm boy, on a charge of attempting to extort $25,000 from the father of Shirley Temple, child film actress. Powell sent a letter threatening Shirley's life agents said.

Federal officials said that the letter which the youth admitted writing, read:

"Unless $25,000 is dropped from an airplane near Grant, Neb., on May 15, the life of Shirley Temple will be endangered."

Agents quoted George Temple, the little actress' father, as saying the letter apparently was lost in her fan mail and was not opened until May 18, three days after the deadline set in the letter.

Are On Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Temple and their famous daughter are now touring the northwest.

With the Temples is their chauffeur, who also acts as a bodyguard, and a studio publicity man.

The seven-year-old star has been elaborately guarded against possible kidnaping attempts. Just recently, on July 17, her father unwittingly tripped a master switch that makes the Temple domicile "kidnap-proof," and bells clanged, lights blazed and a siren screeched.

The little actress earnings are estimated at about $500,000 a year. Her father is manager of a branch bank.

Youth Admits Writing Letter To Star's Father

OMAHA, Neb., July 31. (AP)—R. A. Alt, chief of the federal bureau of investigation here, said Sterling Walrod Powell, 16-year-old farm boy arrested at his home one mile south of Grant, Neb., late today, had confessed to writing an extortion letter asking $25,000 of George F. Temple, father of Shirley Temple, juvenile screen actress.

Powell was being taken tonight by agents of the Omaha bureau to North Platte, Neb., where Alt said he will be arraigned before United States Commissioner A. F. Streitz.

Never Went To Spot

Alt asserted that when confronted with the letter, Powell admitted writing it but denied he ever went to the spot he had named to look for the money.

He and his agents, Alt said, were unable to establish a motive for the youth's action. They described him as small for his age, and said his parents, who have lived on a farm near Grant for the last four years,

Rains Fall Friday Over South Plains

Rain clouds that broiled over the South Plains late Friday afternoon deposited needed moisture in several places and reduced temperature.

Plainview received an inch fall, Shallowater and Roundup a half inch, Abernathy a sprinkle, said a Panhandle & Santa Fe dispatcher.

Fort Worth and Denver City line reported no fall along its division except at Lubbock, where a heavy shower fell after 5 o'clock.

At the experiment sub-station only a lightshower fell, said Don L. Jones, superintendent.

The heaviest fall in Lubbock apparently was in the western section, where water stood in street depressions and where lawns and gardens were benefitted. Good showers were reported from Post to Snyder, and Sweetwater had a sharp downpour.

High temperature reading at Lubbock was 95 degrees, low 69.

BY MARGARET TURNER
Woman's Editor

NEW YORK, July 28 (via airmail) This has been a day of surprises and entertainment for every one in the group. The morning was occupied in a yacht trip around Manhattan with places of interest wittingly pointed out to us by an old fellow who has probably been doing that for 40 years. In the afternoon, those interested in dramatics visited the costume houses, others went to the Metropolitan Art Museum and other places.

Tonight we saw the musical show, "On Your Toes," a satire on the ballerinas.

* * *

WE MEET PERSONAGES

HAVING the afternoon to ourselves we left the group and joined the John McInerneys (she is the former Miss Hortense Ragland who visited in Lubbock this spring, you remember) for a tour of places where interesting people were gathered.

* * *

We went to the reception room of Radio City Music Hall corporation to meet G. S. Eyssel, secretary of that corporation. A party was in progress honoring British exhibitors. They came over on the Queen Mary and most of them are staying at the Wellington. There the writer met Richard Watts, jr., dramatic critic of the Herald-Tribune; Howard Barnes, movie critic, who succeeded Mr. Watts, when the latter was named to the place filled by the late Percy Hammond, Martin Quigley of the motion picture magazines and Barney Balaban, newly elected president of Paramount Picture corporation, who were included in a large party.

MR. BOB CROSBY

MR. WATTS had been to the Dallas and Fort Worth centennial celebrations and took time out to describe some of the highlights. At dinner we accompanied the McInerneys to the Lexington hotel, where young Bob Crosby and his band are playing. Bob sat at our table between numbers. He is the most natural person imaginable; much like his brother Bing sounds over the radio. We told him that his records are popular over KFYO and he seemed pleased and said he always thought his records were lousy. He hasn't gone high brow at all; in fact we were under the impression that he is serious about wanting to make a name for himself without falling back on the inimitable Bing. By the way, his voice sounded much like his older brother's.

* * *

Bob recalled the time he was with Anson Weeks' orchestra that the Avalanche-Journal publications brought to Lubbock. At Happy they were arrested because an officer found Frankie Supulio with a quart of whiskey. He is not a naturalized citizen yet and his fellow orchestra members had him believing that he would be deported, and set up their instruments in the road near the jail to play "The Prisoner's Song." He had to pay a thirty dollar fine, Crosby said.

* * *

THEY ARE ODD

THE longer we are here the more we see that New Yorkers do not worry much over matters. This afternoon Mr. McInerney, a native of this city, met several friends he had not seen for at least a year, although they office near him. No one notices any one else and what a queer array of olk go half-running down the sidewalks.

* * *

We asked Mr. Watts where Stanley Walker is and he said, "I've lost trace of him since he quit cutting out paper dollars for William Randolph Hearst." Many of the columnists and critics are out of the city on vacation. Winchell is in Hollywood; McIntyre is never available for public scrutiny if he knows it and thus it goes.

LAW BID SUBMITTED

Visitors Week Is Fourth One

Annual Celebration To Begin With Introduction Party In R. C. Harvey Home; Two Events To Follow

A seven-day Marathon of social events will be opened this afternoon when members and alumnae of the Sub-Deb club and 11 out-of-town guests meet at 4 o'clock in the home of a sponsor, Mrs. R. C. Harvey, 2602 Twenty-second street, for an introduction party. The occasion and three or four parties a day next week will comprise a fourth annual visitors' week celebration.

Miss Arnette Halsey will be hostess at 9:30 o'clock tonight with a backyard steak fry at her home, 2206 Seventeenth street. Today's activities will be climaxed with a midnight theater party.

Several honor guests arrived here Friday and others will arrive this morning.

The parties will be ended next Saturday night with a dinner in the home of Miss Ernesteen Lockhart, 1611 Broadway, on which occasion seven members who were graduated from Lubbock High school last spring will become alumnae members.

Lee To Maintain Hands-Off Policy

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 31. (AP)—Rep. Josh Lee, Democratic senatorial nominee, has announced a hands-off policy on state prohibition repeal.

After reports that Gov. E. W. Marland, Lee's run-off primary opponent, might call a special election to avoid placing the controversial question before the people at the general election, administration leaders advised Lee the nominee's wishes would be respected.

"I don't have the authority to make that decision," said Lee. "That's up to the governor. I'm not much of a fellow to presume, and I'm not going to meddle in this case."

"Hitch-Hiking" Old Man's Game Too

"Hitch-hiking" will take an 84-year-old man as far as it will a college boy, C. Baxter proves.

With an old-age pension check in his pocket, Baxter stopped in Lubbock Friday while en route from Crawford county, Ark., to Clovis, N. M.

He displayed the check for $1.33 at Salvation Army headquarters here and said he was saving it until he became hungry and couldn't find the Salvation Army.

The man plans to visit in Clovis with a friend with whom he once prospected in the Rocky mountains.

GETS QUEER LOOT

SAN ANTONIO, July 31. (AP) — Walter Parry would like to know what use a burglar would have for a second-hand marriage license. That was the only loot taken by a prowler who entered Parry's residence, he told police. The license was his own.

Wilson Plays Amherst Again Today; Tip-Top Vs. Anton

Hectic Pitchers' Battle Is Draw When Rain Washes Out Amherst Lead In 6th Frame

Same Teams Return Today At 2 O'Clock To Play Off Tie In Battle For Blood; Hambright And Pair Pitch Hitless Ball For 5 Innings; Unbeaten Clubs In Nightcap

It's news when a baseball game is "called on account of rain and wet grounds" in this neck of the woods.

It's bound to be news, because such an occurrence causes ball players and managers and hot-headed fans to go into high dudgeons, and brings on arguments that even the rule book can't satisfy.

But the rule book goes, and Amherst and Wilson played a regulation tie game at the Lubbock park in a very important, very hot tournament contest, and they return this afternoon at 2 o'clock to play off the tie.

And in the second game of today's double bill, the spirited, hustling Tip-Top team clashes with Fred Rich's Anton team. Neither has been defeated so far, and they're both "in the money."

It was a tough break for both sides, especially for Chesty Gout Hambright and his Amherst supporters, when the rain fell.

Lefty, starting for the first time in the tournament, handcuffed the Wilson pitchers for five innings, and this means that he really handcuffed them.

Retires 'Em In Order

Nobody got out of the batter's box for the Wilson side while the ace Amherst chunker was toiling. He retired every man in order of their appearance, struck out the first three men to face him, fanned two more in the third, two in the fourth and two in the fifth. The others who faced him never got but one ball out of the infield, but it was a can of corn for George Harmon in left field. In the five innings before it rained, Hambright pitched to exactly 15 men.

Lefty Beans Pair for Wilson did almost as well. Amherst didn't get a loud foul off him for the first five innings. Every man up was retired except two who drew walks, and nobody reached third base. George Harmon, drawing a walk in the second inning after five men had been retired in order, advanced to second on a wild pitch, but the next man up was out on a lazy grounder.

Graham Gets Hot

"Daddy" Gee, fiery second baseman, drew a pass to start the fourth, but was nipped in a double play, Pincher to Graham, as Dixon struck out. The next man grounded to second, and at second base was where Blue Graham was playing. The blue-eyed boy who has worn the spangles of nearly every club on the Plains, is surely doing some fine infielding for Wilson, catching line drives, knocking down grounders and getting 'em to first like a professional. He ran nearly to the right field wall once to shage a high foul.

As the sixth got under way, Thirdbaseman Weaver for Amherst lashed a single through short. It went between Leroy Crews' legs in center, and rolled to the boards, Weaver scoring easily. It was first blood, and Wilson's courage was shaken. Lefty Hambright came up next, batted one to Alvin Crews at third, but Lefty Barrett at first let it get away from him, and Lefty was safe, at second. Walker grounded out to Graham, and Gee slashed a sizzling single through second, scoring Hambright. Dixon flied to right and Bennett, Hambright's battery mate and possibly the outstanding catcher of the tournament field, grounded out to Graham, who made a running snare and throw.

But Dell Runs The Game

Rain had threatened in the fifth, and as Wilson came up for its half of the sixth, the floods came. The crowd scattered, a few hundred of the faithful staying under the grandstand roof, but the damage had been done. The infield was a slippery place, the mound and batters' box too damaged for further play.

Amherst followers and players were demanding the game go on, while Wilson, naturally, demanded that it be called. Umpire Dell Morgan heeded no demands whatever, waited for more than the required time, then declared the game a legal draw, his ruling corresponding in every detail with the official rules.

It was a bitter pill for Amherst, who got behind the eight-ball at the outset by losing to Lubbock, and who has been trying to figure out ways and means ever since. Claiming they were "cheated and rooked," the players finally stalked off, and it wasn't until the rule book was brought into use that the situation was straightened. Even then there were injured feelings, which it is hoped will be smoothed out before the clubs clash today. Hambright, for himself, cooled off last night.

Here's The Rule

For the benefit of players and fans to whom a rained out game is something new, sections of the rule (Rule 23 of Official Baseball Rules) are herewith quoted:

"Sec. 3—It is a regulation game if it be called by the umpire on account of darkness, rain, fire, panic, or for other cause which puts patrons or players in peril, provided five or more equal innings have been played; or if the team second at bat shall have made more runs at the end of its fourth inning, or before the completion of its fifth inning, than the team first at bat has made in five completed innings.

"Sec. 5—A regulation drawn game shall be declared by the umpire if the score is equal on the last even inning played, when he terminates play in accordance with Section 3 of this rule after each team has played five (5) or more equal innings."

And a "drawn" game is just another expression for a tie game, and tie games are decided by playoffs, so Amherst and Wilson, with plenty of blood in their eyes and fire in their hearts, will be back out there this afternoon. And it bodes ill for each other.

Big Crowd Present

The crowd was there yesterday, many from Wilson, more from Amherst, and several from Lubbock. And they saw a couple of left handed pitchers chunk more than half a game of real baseball, and they saw each pitcher supported by perfect fielding for those five frames.

Yesterday's tie game, necessitating a play-off, naturally runs the tournament a day longer. Finals are now scheduled for Monday afternoon, rather than for Sunday.

The winning team in the Wilson-Amherst feud will battle the Lubbock Hubbers in Sunday's first game, the winner of that to meet the losers of the Anton-Tip Top game in the second game Sunday. Winner of the Anton-Tip Top game marches into Monday's final, awaiting the outcome of the Wilson-Amherst-Lubbock battles.

Junior College Grid Stars To Face New Rules

FORT WORTH, July 31. (AP) — After the 1937 athletic season, transfer students from the junior colleges will be allowed to play only two years of Southwest conference competition, it was announced tonight by E. W. McDiarmid, president of the Southwest Athletic conference, after a mail vote among members.

It will hold true both as to junior college graduates and non-graduates, he said.

"Allowing junior college boys to play three years was not a good rule," McDiarmid said. "It gave them an edge of one year over lads who entered college direct from high school. In other words a boy could play four years at high school, two years at junior college, then three years at one of our schools".

Junior college graduates entering a Southwest conference institution in the fall of 1937 will come under the new rule. They will be eligible at once for two-years' competition. Non-graduates must remain out one year then will be permitted to play two seasons.

Under the old rule junior college graduates could play the year of entrance, but only for two seasons. If he elected to remain idle the first year he would be eligible for three years. Non-grads were not eligible the first year but were for the three following years.

Umpire Morgan Lends Class To Local Tourney

Who's the umps?

Just John O'Dell (Delicate Dell) Morgan, that's who.

And what an umps!

Nobody questioned his decisions, not seriously at any rate. Nobody threatened him, not even the worried Amherst fans, when he calmly pronounced "game called, account o' rain and wet grounds," although the announcement didn't sit so well.

Yep, it was Big Dell, visiting here briefly before attending the coaching school at Fort Worth next week. He turned up yesterday morning, and was immediately drafted as guest umpire at the invitation tournament. The former Lubbock High and Texas Tech coach, now varsity line coach and baseball mentor at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala., donned the blue cap, breast protector and mask, and called a couple of fine games. There were no arguments about his ball and strike calling, and he ruled with an iron hand.

It's possible he'll be out there again today, and maybe Sunday.

Shields, Bench Warmer In Movies, Gets Feature Role

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 31. (AP) Francis X. Shields, ex-Davis cup tennis star, who figuratively has warmed the bench during most of his screen career, today made the team of featured players in a new picture.

With Edward Arnold and Frances Farmer, he started work in the screen adaptation of Edna Ferber's "Come and Get It."

It was only six months ago that Shields announced he was ready to leave Hollywood and get into another line of work. Producer Samuel Goldwyn persuaded him to stay on.

Tokyo Makes Offer Of $485,000 To Aid Traveling

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

BERLIN, July 31. — Tokyo's victory over Helsingfors in an exciting contest for the award of the 1940 Olympics today climaxed events prefacing the spectacularly-planned program opening the games of the 11th Olympiad at the reichsportsfield tomorrow.

While dress rehearsals paved the way for the sports show, the frock-coated diplomats of the International Olympic committee voted 36 to 27 in Japan's favor on a secret ballot.

Americans For Japan

The United States delegates William May Garland of Los Angeles and Avery Brundage of Chicago, together with a virtually solid block of North and South American countries plus British empire support helped clinch the decision.

Expressed fears of many athletic chieftains that the games were getting "out of hand" and top-heavy, divided nationalities into two distinct camps.

Thus Finland acquired support not only from sources disturbed by such ceremonial pomp as the Berlin games but also from Europeans motivated by political or economic reasons.

Jap Offer Generous

The glamor and the practical terms of Japan's offer, however, outweighed other considerations.

One of the decisive factors was an offer of a transportation subsidy of a million and a half yen about $485,000 to offset traveling costs.

Award of the winter games was deferred because of a dispute between the International Olympic committee and the International Skiing federation over questions of amateurism. The federation had voted to permit paid trainers or coaches to enter Olympic competition as amateurs but the I.O.C. rejected this proposal on the grounds that it would violate Olympic rules.

Million To See Contests

Meanwhile Nazi Germany's Olympic machinery moved toward the opening ceremonies tomorrow.

The latest arrivals brought the total athletic army to 4,844 men and women representing 53 nations.

Fully a million spectators will witness at least a part of tomorrow's 12-hour program.

From all except the women's section of the American camp came encouraging word that the athletes had rallied from the combined effects of their boatride and bad weather since their arrival.

Berger Homers Twice But Pirates Blast Out Win

BOSTON, July 31. (AP) — Wally Berger's two home runs today did little to aid the cause of the Boston Bees as the hard-clouting Pittsburgh Pirates blasted two Boston pitchers for 14 hits to win, 10 to 5.

Sled Allen's Hub Team Still In Tournament; Sends Enochs Away In Nifty 2 To 1 Battle

Rosenthubbers Crash Through For Exciting Victory Over Tough Enochs Team; To Play Sunday

They're still hanging tough in there, the championship defending Lubbock Hub ball players, and giving the fans a show. They pulled one yesterday that went for the closest contest of the current tournament, defeating the baffling and powerful Enochs club, 2 to 1, in a real thriller.

It's Sled Allen's team, and he's playing his cards close to his chest, as usual. For a change, the Hub club is playing smart baseball, because that's what it took, smart work at bat and afield, to eliminate Durwood Howell's fast moving, potent hitting outfit from Bailey county.

They've been trying hard to get "Old Sled" out of there, and Anton had pretty fair luck he other day. But Sled, who piloted his team to victory over the favored Amherst club in the opening tournament game, got back in the win column and into the semi-finals yesterday in fine style.

Two Hits, Two Runs

It was typical Allen baseball, the Hubbers scoring their two runs on just two hits. Sled being the kind of a skipper who believes in making hits count for something more than batting averages.

Lefty Jerry Blanchard, big young chuker imported from Estelline of the Red River Valley league, chalked up his second victory yesterday, nailing the boards up around Antons batters and fogging fast balls, curves and his change of pace at them until it hurt. He allowed three hits in beating Amherst last Sunday. He was nicked for half a dozen yesterday, but kept three of them scattered over eight innings. The other three came in the eighth when he let down a bit, and that was when Enochs scored its run.

By winning, the Rosenthal-Allen team earned the right to play the winner of the Wilson-Amherst squabble for a place "in the money" with the Lubbock Tip-Toppers and Anton.

Tip-Top and Anton play today, and the winner coasts to the championship round, sure of first or second money.

Blanchard whipped his southpaw slants across the platter to strike out four of the first six batters to face him. Enochs was retired in order in the first, McCormack flying to Chapin in right, Aduddell whiffing and Durwood Howell grounding out.

Lubbock was likewise retired in order, Breedlove, R. D. Prather and Jack Thompson going out on throws to first as Red Berry, pitching to Carlos Berry for Enochs, had his guard up.

Blanchard struck out the first three men to face him in the second, but one of his heaves got away from Catcher Scott Prather and Carlos Berry was safe at first. Prather, suffering from a very sore hand, let another get by, and Berry scooted to second, but thats as far as any Enochs runner got until the seventh. Vaughn whiffed, and Walker drew a pass. Doug Howell grounded out, Blanchard to Bettes, to retire the side.

Lubbock did its damage in the second. Bill Holloways number was up with Red Berry, so he struck out, but Charley Presley came up and blasted a booming double to center. Chape Chapin, playing right field, took a mighty swing, and the ball went to the boards down the right field line for three bases, Presley scoring.

Then Allen ordered the squeeze, and Lefty Bettes did a perfect job of it. Chapin started with the pitch and was across the platter before the pitcher could get to the slow-moving ball in front of him. He threw to first, but Coffman missed it, and Bettes went to third. Blanchard drew a walk, after Scott Prather had grounded to short, and Breedlove hoisted a high one to Dur Dowell in left.

Red Berry pitched one, two, three ball from then to the sixth, returing Lubbock in order each time. Jack Thompson was safe on an error after Prather had soared out to short, but Jack was forced at second. Holloway was safe on the play, and Presley took a hard one in the small of his back. But Chapin looked over two balls and a strike, swung at a high one and soldiered out.

Enochs went hitless until the fourth when C. Berry dumped one in front of Chapin, and the Lubbock rightfielder let it get by for two bases. But no more damage was done.

In the eighth, Red Berry and McCormack hoisted to second and right respectively, and Blanchard let up a little. Almost too much, because Aduddell lashed a single, and Dur Howell followed with a double to right, scoring Aduddell. Coffman followed with another single to right, and then came one of the prettiest outfield throws of the tournament. Chapin ran for the ball, threw it long and hard and straight to Scott Prather, who tagge dthe onrushing Howell two feet from the platter.

A double play ended this nifty game. C. Berry singled to start the ninth, but was tagged out going to second on Vaughns grounder. Walker grounded to Breedlove, who tossed to R. D. Prather to force Vaughn, and Prather rifled it to Bettes to catch Walker.

McDiarmid's Net Win Is Notable

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 31. (AP)—Scholarly John McDiarmid of Fort Worth, Texas, trounced 17-year-old Joe Hunt of Los Angeles, 9-7, 6-2, 6-2, today to become the first unseeded player ever to win the historic Seabright invitation tennis tournament.

Ranking 18th nationally, McDiarmid had eliminated the two top-seeded stars—Sidney Wood of New York and Robert Riggs of Los Angeles. His triumph today put him on a list of winners which included such famous stars as William T. Tilden 2nd, William M. Johnson, Vincent Richards, Wood, and Frank Shields.

Hunt, who yesterday downed defending champion Gregory S. Mangin, never had a chance to get started against the crafty McDiarmid and threatened only in the first set, when he pulled up from 2-5 and 0-30 to deuce the set.

McDiarmid continued to pepper the youngster's forehand and backhand court with deep slices and drives in seeking an opening to end the rally at the net.

Anent: James E. Ferguson

JAMES E. FERGUSON, at the present time more "washed up" than he has ever been in 20 years of Texas politics, is still cagey and he is still looking into the future.

Nursing the wounds of his worst defeat since his impeachment, "Farmer Jim" has announced discontinuation of publication of his political house organ, the Ferguson Forum, but he doesn't promise to keep it "quits." In his announcement he says:

"It may be that at some future time I will feel that the Forum is needed in the discussion of public questions and if such a condition arises, the people can be depended upon to ask that I resume publication of the Forum."

That sounds pretty good.

In fact, Jim has always been adept at making his statements sound good.

But here's what he should have said, because this is what he really means:

"The terrible shellacking my candidate, Senator Roy Sanderford, got in the recent Democratic gubernatorial primary has, for the present at least, counted me out as an important factor in Texas politics. My famous 'vest pocket vote' has shrunk to nothing.

"No longer can my political prestige wangle political and other forms of advertising in the Ferguson Forum from those who feel that they must go to any lengths to keep 'in good' with me. Without that advertising the Forum cannot go on. Therefore, not caring to pour money down a rathole, I am quitting the Forum for the present—and maybe for good. But I reserve the right to start it up again if and when the winds of political fortune again blow my way and I can clean up some easy money by frightening some Texas politicians and business men into buying space in the publication."

We don't blame Jim for laying the Forum on the shelf—nor do we blame him for leaving the way open for future republication. The Forum has been a good racket for Jim and if he ever again reaches the position where he can scare or fool people into buying his political support via advertising in the Forum, that's the fault of those who are scared or fooled and not the fault of James E. Ferguson. The only thing we blame Jim for is trying to fool all of the people in his statement on why the Forum is shutting up shop. He ought to—and doubtless does—know better!

WHILE The Morning Avalanche has consistently opposed the political plans, efforts and ambitions of Jim Ferguson, his retirement from the field of Texas politics leaves us with a note of sadness. Whatever the old boy's faults were and are, he gave us a good show and his opponents a run for their money—sometimes, even too good a run for their money!

Politically, we have never had any use for or confidence in Jim Ferguson; personally we have liked him, enjoyed him and seen in him many admirable qualities and characteristics.

Texas politics won't be the same without Jim Ferguson—which, perhaps, is a good thing for Texas politics.

But Jim Ferguson, whatever else he was, was for a score of years the smartest, wisest, most resourceful politician in Texas and, for that matter, probably in the nation, too!

WITH OUR CONTEMPORARIES

"Our opinion is," opines W. D. Starcher in the Dickens County Times "that specialization should be followed only after a good field of general knowledge is acquired."

• • •

"We cannot tax ourselves rich nor spend ourselves rich," E. I. Hill notes in the Lynn County News. "Prosperity is usually brought about by thrifty industry and good judgment."

• • •

"Cheer up Charlie," says H. G. Richards in the Anton News advising the editor of the Avalanche. "Don't worry over Amon Carter becoming 'easternized'. We little fellows have ceased to look upon Fort Worth as a West Texas city or Amon Carter as our champion. With us, Lubbock is the capitol of West Texas and Chas. A. Guy is the champion of West Texas." (Thanks, H. G. Andy Jack, please note. Now will you behave?)

"Well, the Boss, Jack Hurst, and Old Archibald did not get to water Rosie, the elephant at the big Fort Worth Frontier centennial show," Vic Lamb admits in the Hale Center American.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

THE SCRAP OF PAPER

It was a highly dramatic moment when Sir Edward Goschen, British Ambassador in Berlin, faced the German Chancellor von Bethman Hollweg on the evening of August 4, 1914, with the British ultimatum based on Germany's invasion of Belgium in violation of the Treaty of London of April 19, 1839. The excited German chancellor referred to this solemn treaty as "a scrap of paper" during that interview. A few hours later, Germany and Great Britain were in a state of war, which the violated "scrap of paper" made inevitable.

MURDER TONIGHT

BY LAURENCE W. MEYNELL

Chapter 35

ADVICE TO DALE

Hylton nodded and rose to his feet.

"Don't forget you're still under suspicion; if your story doesn't check up you're in for trouble. Oh and by the way," he turned at the door to add his last words, "I suppose it has never entered your head to let a decent girl get hold of you and try to make something worth while out of you, has it?"

"What d'you mean?" asked Dale.

"If any girl had done for me what Miss Featherstone did for you today, Shipley, I'd go down on my knees to thank her, but you're so damned egotistical you're blind." Hylton slammed the door behind him and left a surprised and crestfallen young man in the drawing room.

Nancy was waiting in the hall.

"Mr. Hylton," she said quickly, as he came towards her, "I want to apologize for what I did. Please don't think I'm running away from it, I'm only speaking personally now."

"Miss Featherstone," he said gently, "I've been cursed with a most curious memory. Do you know, I am beginning to think that I can forget all about what happened today—on one condition."

"On one condition?"

"Yes. That you go, now, into that room, and tell Dale Shipley what you did and why you did it."

Nancy Featherstone stared at him; then she turned from white to brick red. At length she managed to blurt out:

"I—I think you are a frightfully good sort."

"Good evening, Inspector."

Even in his own mentally agitated state, it was on the tip of Hylton's tongue to cry out "Good Lord, what's the matter with your wife?" Alice White was standing in a corner of the room, poker-straight against the wall and looking as white as death.

"I went to the Hoops as you told me," Sergeant White said.

"Yes—I say, I'm sorry I wasn't there, as a matter of fact I've had rather an extraordinary day."

"Yes?"

The man's voice was so entirely wooden and uninterested that Hylton glanced up sharply.

"I say," he laughed, "I'm afraid I have interrupted tea. I'm sorry."

"That's all right, sir."

A long thin knife on the table caught Hylton's attention. He picked it up and said, "That's a useful looking sort of knife, Sergeant."

"Perhaps we better go into the office," White suggested.

"Right-o, let's. There are half a dozen things I want to talk about—if Mrs. White will excuse us." He looked up with one of his quick smiles at the woman who had not yet said a word; she nodded, and when the two men moved across the rooms she followed them.

White led the way, and the Inspector was half through the doorway following him when something plucked at his arm.

He turned to find Alice White standing there. She said nothing, but there was a look about her, something wild and frightened and yet horribly triumphant in her eyes. He was just about to ask the woman what she wanted when she shook her head. She said nothing, but simply moved her eyes in the direction of the man who had just left the room, and back again to the Inspector nodding twice quickly; then she dropped her detaining fingers from his arm and noiselessly moved into the centre of the kitchen.

Hylton hesitated for a moment and then followed the Sergeant.

"I suppose you hung round the Hoops most of the day," he said after he had lit a cigar and made himself comfortable.

"A good part of it. I naturally didn't want to miss you."

"My fault entirely—as a matter of fact I had quite a peculiar day. I was up at Fielden cottage early this morning and the first things I discovered there was that young Shipley had done a bolt."

James White seemed interested for the first time that evening. "Mr. Shipley bolted?" he asked. "Whatever for?"

"Curiously enough, Sergeant, that's the very question I asked myself. Do you know anything of Miss Frances Lawson?"

"The Lodge-keeper's daughter? From what I can hear of her she's like the rest of women, take up with any man she can get hold of."

Hylton gave a full account of Dale Shipley's story, to which White paid so little attention that the Inspector was moved to break off and enquire rather sharply, "You listening, Sergeant?"

"Yes, I'm listening."

"And you think it likely or not?"

"Very likely I should think. Besides if Shipley cut and run because of this murder business he would hardly stroll back a day later, would he?"

Hylton was forced to admit the force of this. "Not unless he's very deep," he said. "I went straight to the Lodge and was lucky enough to catch Miss Frances alone. She came clean,' and I must say her yarn fitted in in every detail with young Shipley's."

"Then it looks all right."

"It looks all right, certainly; but if Dale Shipley didn't do it—"

"I don't think Dale Shipley did the murder, Inspector."

"You've said that before, White. But if Shipley didn't do it, who the devil did?"

Any answer was forestalled by the shrill insistence of the telephone bell.

"The super at Morechester wants a word with you, sir," White said, handing the instrument over.

"Damn," Hylton said fervently, replacing the instrument after a moment. "They want me to go over to Morechester — started some harebrained theory, I suppose, but I shall have to go; they're sending a car to the Hoops."

Sergeant White shut the door after the departing Hylton and went slowly into the kitchen.

He found it as he expected to find it—empty.

Hylton walks in the dark, tomorrow—and finds a man hanging.

New Rector Of St. Paul's Is To Arrive In Lubbock Today

Rev. Joseph Hodge Alves, jr., will arrive this morning to become rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church here. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Alves.

The young minister formally will be placed in charge of the Lubbock congregation of Episcopalians and of the Episcopal student program at Texas Technological college at a special service at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Bishop E. Cecil Seaman of Amarillo will conduct the service.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Alves will reside at the Hilton hotel pending completion of repairs to the church's rectory.

Hearing Scheduled In Chicago In October On Oil Agreement

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—The Federal Trade commission announced today it would conduct a hearing in Chicago probably in October on proposals from the oil industry for a fair practices agreement fashioned after the invalidated oil code.

When the oil code was invalidated by the Supreme court, the oil industry continued in principle many of its major features at the suggestion of its own leaders and Secretary Ickes, oil administrator.

No free seed has been distributed for more than 11 years by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON

By Ray Tucker

CORDELL Hull's stubborn streak of caution irritates two fellow Cabinet members — Admiral Standley, acting Secretary of the Navy, and Secretary Roper. He cracks a sharp whip over their pet naval and commercial policies.

Mr. Hull hesitated at the outset of the Spanish rebellion to dispatch ships to evacuate American citizens from beleaguered ports. He hung back because he didn't want to rush ships across the Atlantic in a last-minute dash, thereby affronting rival factions by showing undue alarm. He failed to consult Standley until the last minute. Then he discovered that several warships were lolling in European waters and could be ordered to the scene without dabbling in melodrama.

The Secretary of State has also looked the other way when the navy intimated that he lodge a protest with Tokio over Japanese espionage in the United States. He holds that an exhibition of excessive emotion over one conviction and one arrest would disturb more important international relationships.

STOPPED: Mr. Hull also refuses to get excited over the affront which exhibition of a current motion picture may give to officials of San Domingo and other South American republics. It depicts President Emilio Trujillo of San Domingo as a "Tyrant," and it is now proposed to show the film in Europe and South America.

The Secretary of State refused to act on the original protest, citing this country's traditional freedom of the press as justification. Now the San Dominicans are indignant for fear the movie will damage their government abroad. Instead of making another representation to Mr. Hull, they are planning to penalize American firms doing business on their island. They intend to blacklist them by economic reprisals which will shut off all commerce.

This move, which may extend to sympathetic republics to the South, hits at Mr. Roper's intensive campaign to sell more goods in South America. It plays into the hands of British, German and Japanese competitors. It is probable the difficulty could be solved by quiet negotiation, but Mr. Roper doesn't dare to act without Mr. Hull's sanction. So far it hasn't been given.

• • •

PROGRAM: G.O.P. higher-ups at Washington seriously question the wisdom of Alf Landon's strategy as revealed in conferences at Topeka since he delivered his acceptance speech. Unless he changes his tune and tieups, they predict that he will not attract "border-line voters" in sufficient numbers to win.

Their theory is that Mr Landon starts with the 15,000,000 dyed-in-the-wool conservatives who voted for Herbert Hoover. To defeat President Roosevelt, he needs to corral 3,000,000-plus from the ranks of moderates and liberals alienated by New Deal excesses rather than its general philosophy. So far there is no indication that this floating vote will warm to the Kansas governor on the basis of what he has said or done since his nomination.

For the present these voters seem to be withholding judgment on the Republican nominee. They realize that he could not detail his program in a single speech. But unless he rings the bell in their hearts with his next few speeches, they may conclude that FDR—with all his faults—is the better bet. Like a sprinter, Mr. Landon has got to make a fast start.

• • •

MOOD: Economic experts detect a factor in the current upward movement which has been absent from other advances since 1929. It's important because it has always heralded the final climb out of a depression.

It's largely psychological. It represents the popular conviction that after almost seven years natural forces are putting the country back on its feet. People are snapping up luxuries as never before, feeling more sure of steady jobs and income. They are spending their money for travel, amusements, personal services, household furnishings, domestic comfort. Sales in these fields have reached new highs. These are the lines in which buyers first economize and first expand in bad and good times.

It may be months—best estimate is a year—before this bubbling spirit makes itself felt in construction, railroads, heavy industries. Until then unemployment will continue at only slightly lower levels. The political campaign will also retard capitalization of this optimistic mood. But the best informed prophets—and this time they seem to mean it—say that "it's just around the corner."

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

FATHER COUGHLIN'S charge that Governor Lehman was guilty of bigotry when he vetoed the bill which would have provided bus transportation for pupils in parochial and other private schools on the same basis as for pupils in public schools has stirred up a hornet's nest in New York.

The allegation spotlights the dreaded religious and racial issue in a manner which leaders of both major parties deplore. It was plainly intended to rally Catholic opposition to Lehman—but it has boomerang possibilities.

Republicans particularly are perturbed. Coughlin is more obviously their ally in New York state than he is nationally, and G.O.P. chiefs are privately fearful that the public may hold them responsible for his rash remarks.

• • •

GUARD: Sponsors of the newly organized Labor party in New York—outgrowth of Labor's Non-Partisan League for Roosevelt which will support the President and Governor Lehman—are having trouble behind the scenes with their communist friends.

The Reds are pursuing their familiar tactics of infiltration. They are strong for the Labor party because they figure they can capture command of it whenever they feel it is worthwhile to do so. Their leaders privately regard the Labor party as the best possible channel through which to extend their political influence. They are realistic enough to recognize that they can't make much headway under their own label, and the next best thing is to appropriate somebody else's political machinery for their own purposes.

John Lewis, George Berry and other labor leaders associated with the Labor party movement are onto the Reds' little game and have no intention of allowing them to get away with it. But it isn't so easy to organize an effective defense against boring from within.

• • •

SENSITIVE: New York sharps like Sumner Welles' chances of nosing out Norman Davis and William Bullitt for the prized post of Under Secretary of State. Word is that he has strong backing from influential elements inside the administration.

But well posted observers fear that his appointment might blight the faith of Latin American nations in hie sincerity of our "good neighbor" policy. Whether justified or not, they are known to nurse suspicions that Mr. Welles was by no means a disinterested neutral when President Machado of Cuba was deposed.

Being extremely sensitive on the subject of "Yankee meddling," they might interpret his promotion as foreshadowing a return to the hated days when we were continually horning in on the domestic affairs of our smaller neighbors.

Plot To Infect Milk, Cheese With Typhoid Germs Planned But Not Used, Man Declares

DETROIT, July 31. (AP)—Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea announced today that a Black Legion defendant claims the terrorist society once plotted to infect a large number of Detroit Jews with typhoid fever by putting germs in milk and cottage cheese delivered to them.

Th plot over was carried out.

McCrea, who made no comment on the report, said his investigators obtained the statement from William Guthrie, a Black Legion printer who is held on a charge of conspiracy to riot by burning a communist camp and breaking up a political meeting.

SUIT IS FILED

MADISON, Wis., July 31. (AP)—The Cities Service Oil company and the Shell Petroleum corporation filed suit in circuit court today to test the legality of the state chain store license law to determine its applicability to gasoline filling stations and bulk storage plants. A hearing was set for Aug. 24.

TARZAN AND THE LEOPARD MEN, No. 6

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

When Gowando's village offered no hope of solving the mystery of the Taloned Death, Tarzan decided to venture to some distant place where he was not known, there to continue his baffling investigations, for now the Killer-Thing was striking swiftly in many places.

As Tarzan traveled through the gloomy jungle, he was overtaken by a storm of extraordinary violence. Lightning flashed, thunder crashed, and the mighty forest bent beneath terrific gusts of wind. The ape-man, in no haste, sought welcome shelter beneath a tree.

There, to his surprise, he found his friend Nkima, the monkey, cowering from the storm. With a wild shriek of joy Nkima leaped into Tarzan's arms, for the ape-man gave to Nkima the only sense of security the little creature knew amid the perils of the jungle.

But suddenly there came a sound of ripping wood, and the giant tree crashed earthward. Tarzan tossed Nkima to safety. Then he leaped; but he was too late! A great branch struck him and pinned him tightly to the ground, where he lay now helpless and hopeless!

Rate Cuts Are Being Sought

American Telephone And Telegraph Company Files Long Distance Rate Reductions To Save $6,000,000

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 31.—The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. today announced it had filed long distance rate reductions with the Federal Communications commission which would bring users an annual saving estimated at about $6,000,000.

The rate cut, which affects interstate long distance calls, is effective Sept. 1, and is the seventh reduction in ten years.

The new rates cut the cost of long distance calls for distances of more than 240 miles.

These reductions affect the day, night (7 p. m. to 4:30 a. m.), and all Sunday rates for both station-to-station and person-to-person calls.

Yankee Crew Is Held In Reserve

GRUNAU, Germany, July 31. (AP) Donald Bruce Hume stroked after a two-day layoff due to a chest cold as the University of Washington eight-oared crew rowed its first time trial over the 2,000 meters Olympic course today.

Due to the Olympia, Wash., sweep-swineger's still wobbly condition, Coach Al Ulbrickson held the Pacific coast Huskies to not more than 28 strokes a minute. They were clocked in six minutes 43 seconds—slow time compared with the course record of 6:09.2 set by Hungary.

Ulbrickson estimated that a beat of at least 36 strokes a minute will be necessary to retain the Olympic crown.

The Australians already are approaching that figure in their trials. The French, Austrian and Czechoslovakian crews arrived today. Great Britain's oarsmen are due tomorrow.

Since their first look at the Italians, however, the Huskies have just about decided that there is where their opposition lies.

Ten Records Are Okayed By IAAF

BERLIN, July 31. (AP)—Ten world record-making, including Jesse Owens' 26 feet 8 1-4 inches broad jump, and five record-equalling track and field performances were approved today by the International Amateur Athletic federation record committee of which Avery Brundage of Chicago is chairman.

Owens' leap was the only new American mark approved although Ralph Metcalfe and Eulace Peacock's 10.3 for 100 meters and Al Moreau's 14.2 for 110-meters hurdles were endorsed as record-equalling performances.

Owens' 20.3 seconds for 220 yards and 200 meter sprints were not acted upon. They are slated for consideration and probable approval at the next committee meeting, Aug. 5.

The celebrated Ohio state negro star's other record performances, included 22.6 for 220-yard low hurdles, 9.4 for 100 yards made on the same day he set the broad-jumping and furlong marks, were not placed before the session.

LEGAL NOTICE

39—Legal Notice

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS, WACO DIVISION

M. Hubbert vs. Temple Trust Company, No. 236 in Equity.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has filed his application with the Clerk of the United States District Court in and for the Western District of Texas, Waco Division, for an order authorising him to sell and convey to S. R. Houston and Patiene Houston, his wife, all of Lot Twenty-two (22) Block Sixty-seven (67) of Highland Heights, an addition to the city of Lubbock, Lubbock county, Texas, together with all improvements thereon situated, and for a total consideration of $1,750.00, and of which amount $250.00 will be paid in cash, and the balance, $1,500.00, to be evidenced by one note in said sum, to be executed by said purchasers, payable to the order of the undersigned at his office in the city of Temple, Bell county, Texas, and to become due and payable in one hundred and twenty (120) monthly installments of $17.42 each, the first installment to become due and payable on or before August 1, 1936, and one each on or before the first day of each succeeding one hundred and nineteen (119) months thereafter, to bear interest from July 1, 1936 at the rate of seven per cent per annum, the interest to become due and payable monthly, and each payment when made to be applied first to the accrued interest, and the balance to the principal, and to further provide that failure to pay any monthly installment of principal and interest thereon when due shall at the option of the holder mature said note; to stipulate for ten per cent additional as attorney's fees, and said note to be secured by a vendor's lien and deed of trust lien on the property and premises above described.

Said application will be heard by the Honorable Charles A. Boynton, Judge of said court, after this notice shall have been published for a period of ten days, and any person interested in said Receivership Estate may contest this application.

Witness my hand at Temple, Texas, this the 13th day of July, A. D., 1936.

H. C. GLENN,
As Receiver for Temple Trust Company,
Temple, Texas.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, July 31. (AP)—Stocks bucked the profit taking line with little success today. Many leaders were thrown for losses of fractions to 4 or more points.

Industrial news generally was still to the liking of recovery proponents, but the selling urge developed early following a tumble in farm implement and can company issues.

The latter were unloaded as drouth damage estimates continued to grow.

Earnings and favorable dividends drew buying attention to assorted specialties, including rubbers and sugars. But most of these finished under their best levels of the day. A few of the alcohols came to life in the last few minutes of trading for gains up to a point or more.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks yielded .5 of a point at 67.7. Transfers totaled 1,660,770 shares compared with 1,515,930 yesterday.

Although the market passed out of July with a rather sour farewell, the month was one of the best of the year for stocks as a whole. The Associated Press average registered a net gain of 3.8 points and the turnover was approximately 13,000,000 shares ahead of June.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 31. (AP) — Cotton was a dull affair today with final prices ruling from net unchanged to one point higher.

For a time it appeared that the market was in for a substantial rally as prices advanced around 50 cents a bale during the morning.

But week-end liquidation and scattered hedge selling appeared and prices sold off again. October closed at 13.04 and Dec., Jan., March and May ended at 12.93. Spots lost 2 points at New Orleans. The average for ten southern spot markets was unchanged with middling 13.66.

Price trends were based almost entirely on weather developments. The early upturn was attributed to no rains in Oklahoma and reports that excessive rains in the central eastern region were bad for the growing cotton.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 31. (AP)—Early advances in cotton were followed by reactions today under light offerings.

December after selling up to 13.20, declined to 13.06 and closed at 13.07 with the general market barely steady, net unchanged to 1 point higher.

The opening was 3 to 8 points higher in response to steady Liverpool cables and reports of continued dry weather over the greater part of Oklahoma.

Offerings were light and active months sold 13 to 15 points net higher during the morning on covering with a little trade buying.

Buyers were not aggressive, however, and the advance brought out more liquidation. Closing quotations were within a point or two of the lowest for the day.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, July 31. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 13.66.

Irene Bewley Is Presented In Tech Artists Course Program

An audience listened with evident appreciation Friday night at Senior High school to character portrayals of Miss Irene Bewley, who appeared in the closing engagement of a five-state tour.

Types were interpreted in sketches that reflected life and habits of mountaineers of Tennessee and other persons. The entertainer impressed with her versatility.

She appeared under auspices of Texas Technological college artist course.

An annual output of 1,500,000 bicycles is credited to British cycle manufacturers.

General Herrera, was said to have occupied El Pardo, 15 miles from the caiptal. Another, under Lieut. Col. Garcia, was at El Moia, 25 miles away.

The third, under Col. Sanador, captured Navasenada, 20 miles distant, the radio reports said. Gen. Ponte led the fourth, moving from Leon through the mountains, on Pueblo and Guadarrama.

A fifth detachment, from Zaragoza, arrived at Medino Elici, 80 miles from the capital, and was moving rapidly to join the others.

Little Resistance Reported

There was little resistance, the radio dispatches said.

Violence was growing in force.

(A Lisbon, Portugal, correspondent reported communists had gouged out the eyes of an aged priest at Avilia, dragged him through the streets and burned him to death with gasoline.

(The Spanish charge d'affaires and first secretary of the Lisbon embassy resigned and the embassy was closed.)

Leftist bands roved the streets of Gijon and "cruel reprisals" against Fascist rebels were reported. Government forces controlled the city, but the population was cut off from food and supplies.

Leftists took over the city government of Barcelona.

(In French Morocco, 11 Italian aviators who made forced landings were arested on suspicion they were carrying arms to Spanish rebels.

said an attempt would be made to keep expenses within $2,000,000. Every county will be touched in "the most active speaking campaign the party has ever had," he said.

A hint of attempts to align farm organization support with the labor league came from Berry in press conference.

He estimated 3,500,000 votes would go to Roosevelt by reason of the league's efforts.

While Farley and Berry spoke, the Republican national committee offices here circulated a booklet entitled "Promise and Performance" in which assertions by the president and the 1932 Democratic platform were paralleled by what was termed "authoritative statistics and facts." Reemployment, relief and political activities were among the topics.

CAPITALIST DIES

AIX-LES-BAINS, France, July 31. (AP)—Leopold Frederick, 80, New York capitalist and a director in numerous American corporations, died here today.

Grains

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 31. (AP) — Spectacular price advances followed by a sweeping late reaction made grain markets a pandemonium today.

The outstanding new development was more than 5 cents a bushel fresh skyrocketing of wheat quotations at Liverpool, notwithstanding it was the fifth successive day of record-breaking upturns there. Simultaneously, startling cables were at hand saying that because of a wet harvest Europe's wheat crop this season is expected to be the scantiest in years.

Buying stampedes that ensued whirled all grains and provisions in Chicago to above peaks unreached before in some cases since 1929, wheat and corn each up virtually 4 cents a bushel overnight.

Wheat closed flurried, ¼ to ¾ of a cent above yesterday's finish, Sept. 1.10⅜@1.10⅝, Dec. 1.11¼@1.11½, May 1.12½@1.12⅝, corn 1½ to 3⅜ advanced, Sept. 1.01⅝@1.01¾, Dec. 93¼@93⅜, May 93@93⅛, oats ⅜ to 1⅛ up, Sept. 40¾@40⅞, and rye at ⅛ to ½ gain. The provisions outcome was unchanged to a bulge of 15 cents.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, July 31. (AP)—Demand for wheat was slow today but was keen for all other grains.

Wheat No. 1 soft red winter 1.29¾@1.30¾; No. 1 hard 1.34¾@1.35¾.

Barley No. 2 nom. 76@78; No. 3 nom. 75@77.

To Discuss Projects

Mr. Roosevelt had told newspapermen previously he would take up the possibility of mutual development of hydro-electric power in Passamaquoddy bay and on the St. Lawrence.

"In the solution of grave problems that face the world today," the president said in his address, "frank dealing, cooperation and a spirit of give and take between nations is more important than ever before."

Cites Trade Agreement

The president, amid applause, referred to the Canadian-American reciprocal trade agreement signed last autumn as "tangible evidence of the desire of the people of both countries to practice what they preach when they speak of the good neighbor."

Lord Tweedmuir expressed the hope Canadian-American goodwill and friendship would "grow into a still closer understanding and become that strongest of human creations."

were in comfortable financial circumstances. Powell was a sophomore last year in the Grant High school. Alt said the youth told him he was not an ardent movie fan.

Hoover Announces Solution Of Plot By His Agents

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, announced tonight that Sterling Waldron Powell, 16-year-old Nebraska farm boy, had confessed he had written an extortion letter demanding $25,000 from the father of Shirley Temple, child movie star.

Hoover's announcement said:

"On May 18, 1936, Mr. George Temple, the father of Shirley Temple, the well known juvenile cinema star, received an extortion letter demanding that $25,000 be dropped from an airplane at a described spot near Grant, Nebraska, at 4:30 p. m., Friday, May 15, 1936.

Said Life In Danger

"The letter received by Mr. Temple stated that the life of his daughter, Shirley Temple, would be in danger if the money were not paid, and that her life would be in danger if the authorities were told about the letter.

"Due to the manner of handling 'fan mail,' addressed to Shirley Temple, the original envelope in which this communication was received was lost or destroyed prior to the time that the contents of the letter were noted.

Violated Federal Statute

"Since the transmission of this letter through the United States mails was in violation of a federal statute assigned to the federal bureau of investigation for investigative purposes, immediate investigation was undertaken in this case.

"The facilities of the technical laboratory were utilized in determining the identity of the writer of the extortion letter and the paper used in the letter was traced through the manufacturer thereof to various stores in Grant, Nebraska, and Madrid, Nebraska.

Admitted Extortion Plot

"Investigation predicated upon information thus developed was continued, and on July 31, 1936, at a point near Grant, Nebraska, Sterling Powell, age 16 years, was taken into custody by a special agent of the federal bureau of investigation and admitted in a signed statement the writing of this extortion letter.

"A complaint charging violation of the extortion statute has been authorized by the United States attorney at Omaha, Nebraska, and the complaint will be filed before the United States Commissioner at North Platte, Nebraska. The money demanded was not paid by Mr. Temple."

DALLAS, July 31. (AP)—A complete unofficial count of votes in the seventh Texas congressional district today indicates that Nat Patton, incumbent, must go into a run-off with Emerson Stone of Jacksonville, the Texas Election Bureau announced.

Patton, whose home is at Crockett, lacks 16 votes of having a majority, the election bureau's figures revealed. Complete returns from the vote in the primary in Cherokee county changed the status of the race.

Fireworks Promised In Mary Astor's Trial Next Week

LOS ANGELES, July 31. (AP)—Counsel promised today new fireworks next week in trial of Mary Astor's suit for sole custody of her four-year-old daughter.

Joseph Anderson, attorney for the film actress' ex-husband, Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, said "We expect to go very, very thoroughly into the unfitness of Miss Astor to have the child's custody." Several witnesses will be called in that connection, Anderson said.

Major Gilks Is Appointed As Central Texas Parole Agent

DALLAS, July 31. (AP)—Maj. William George Gilks, state commander of the salvation army, announced today he had received notification of his appointment by Gov. Allred as the central agent through whom paroled convicts from the Texas prison may be located in other states.

Under the new plan, Maj. Gilks said, convicts would be enabled to carry out the terms of their paroles while working in states other than Texas. Before now, he said, paroled convicts were ordered to remain in Texas, although positions in other states might be offered.

BODY IS FOUND

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 31. (AP)—A five-day hunt through dense wooded sections of Wisconsin ended today with the finding of the body of Robert Bernstein, 24, of Janesville, Wis., whom Laverne Marks, 19, a boyhood companion, said he killed without "any premeditation or motive."

It is said that hair will stretch one-fourth of its own length.

Young Girl Reporter Is Disappointed At Having Failed To 'Cover' Execution

(By The Associated Press)

LUFKIN, July 31.—A young girl reporter who masqueraded in men's clothing so she might write an execution "without being sensational about it like men reporters," was disappointed today that an alert warden had ordered her from the state prison's death chamber last midnight.

Spotted by Warden W. W. Waid a moment before Glenn Warren entered the death room, Elizabeth Hurley, 23-year-old Lufkin Daily News reporter, was ordered outside.

Stood In Rear

Miss Hurley, accompanied by Alfred Weeks, also a Lufkin reporter, had successfully run a gauntlet of guards and prison officials to reach the death chamber. She stood in the rear of the room, a hat pulled low over face.

"Isn't that a woman back there?" suddenly asked Warden Waid.

Weeks admitted the "man" was a girl.

A guard ushered her outside with the remark:

"You didn't want to see it anyhow, did you?"

Gives Her Reason

Miss Hurley insisted she did want to be the first woman to witness an execution in Texas and gave as her reason:

"It seems to me there is a certain sacredness about death, even execution in the electric chair, that men reporters ignore while they try to be sensational in writing about it. I meant no disrespect to Warden Waid's rules—he was very nice about it—but I merely wanted to tell the story of death as a woman sees it. I'm certain if I had not been detected Warden Waid, nor no one else, would have been offended by the story I would have written."

Her masquerade was so good the warden's secretary escorted her to the death chamber without detecting her identity.

NEWS BRIEFS

A 31-year-old negro woman, Beatrice Mills, late Friday was in custody of police in lieu of a $15 fine assessed on a vagrancy count. A quantity of bed clothing was found in her possession. Sam Thompson, 41-year-old Fort Worth laborer, was in jail after failing to satisfy fine of $100 assessed by C. E. Luce, City recorder, on a charge of habitual drunkenness. Luce said the man had been convicted of drunkenness in corporation court several times since March 30. He was transferred to county officials, who declined to draw a complaint against him, said police. Officers Honey and Davidson made the arrest early Thursday night.

Postponed picnic of the Van Zandt county ex-residents living on the plains, is scheduled for Sunday at City park, H. M. McEachern, president, said yesterday. It had been planned to have the meeting in the community house at Shallowater, but a district singing convention there Sunday changed plans.

Former Runnels county residents living in this section will meet at City Park Sunday for an all-day picnic and reunion starting about 9:30 o'clock O. L. Parrish, Ballinger, will speak.

Fred Snyder, Lubbock cattle feeder, has purchased 1,500 yearlings in Wyoming to be fed out in this section.

J. R. Newman of Economy mills his returned from a trip to the International Baby Chick association convention in Kansas City. He reported improved prospects in the hatchery industry for the next season.

Funeral of T. M. Rogers, 51, who died Thursday at his home at 2212 Ninth street, were conducted at the First Methodist Episcopal church at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon by Rev. Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor. Sanders Funeral home directed burial in Memorial Park cemetery.

The Salvation Army will present a regular program Saturday night, said Captain John G. Churchill. Mrs. Annie Gaddy will direct the program.

Charged with speeding in a truck, Fred Gentry will appear before J. T. Trigg, justice of the peace, Aug. 6 to enter plea. Two complaints alleging swindling by worthless check were filed in that court against another man, who had not appeared to answer.

A bill fold containing $11 in currency, a pilot's license and a driver's certificate was reported lost by Mont L. Jennings, said police.

Charged with theft, Lewis Jackson, a negro, late Friday was being held by police. Elzita Curry charged Jackson with taking a pistol belonging to Curry.

By truck and train, approximately 175 national guardsmen left Lubbock Friday for an annual encampment at Camp Hulen, Palacios. A battery of the 131st field artillery joined the group here, coming from Plainview. Guardsmen were from Amarillo, Plainview, Canyon, and Lubbock. Capt. John L. Walton was in command. An advance detail in charge of Capt. Ben Condray left by train Wednesday. The return will be Aug. 18.

L. O. Bolding, 47, of 1519 Fourteenth street, did more than fall in the bathtub—he was impaled on a porcelain faucet control. At Lubbock sanitarium, where he was treated and released, it was found that a piece of porcelain was in his back, above the right kidney.

American Business Club Has Chicken Barbecue Last Night

Approximately 60 members of the ABC club and their guests attended a ladies night chicken barbecue Friday night in the warehouse of Lubbock Grain and Feed company, Fourth street and Avenue Q.

Original arrangements had been to conduct the affair in Twenty-seventh street park, but rain drove the assemblage indoors.

L. Earl Hunt, club president, directed the program. On the service committee were M. T. Hill, J. Ray Dickey, Sam Richardson, Clarence Wiginton, William Collins, and W. O. Daniels.

Slaton Harmony Boys played for the program and for a dance that followed. The group was composed of George W. Watson, director, Henry Hall, Allen Cash, W. T. Ward, and James Shaw. Music suitable for both square and more modern dances was played. A quartet, Robert Maxey, Dickey, Rex Blackburn, and Harold Scott, sang. Games were played under direction of Richardson.

Bonus Figures Total Shown

U. S. War Veterans Get Total Of $1,923,000,000 In Either Bonds Or Cash, Report Shows After Payments Made

By RICHARD L. TURNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Treasury officials estimated today that final figures would show a total of $1,923,000,000 going to the veterans in either bonus bonds or cash.

Of that amount all but $119,000,000 has gone out, officials reported, adding that of 3,518,191 veterans originally eligible for the bonus, only 216,301 remained to be paid. All in all, it was stated, $1,726,432,950 has been issued to the former soldiers, supplemented by about $78,000,000 in checks for odd amounts. The figures were as of July 25.

Heavy Lag Reported

A heavy lag was reported, however, between the receipt of the bonds and their conversion into cash by the veterans. Bonds to a total of $1,018,000,000 had been redeemed, leaving the veterans still holding approximately $700,000,000 worth.

While redemptions continued at a slow day-to-day rate, some officials interpreted this lag as meaning that many veterans intended to hold on to their bonds and receive the 3 per cent interest paid by the government. The bonds mature in 1945.

Other Items Added

In arriving at the total cost to the government of paying the bonus, officials added other items to the amount paid the veterans, bringing that total to $2,491,000,000.

This included $507,000,000 to be paid to the government life insurance fund under the bonus, and $60,000,000 to be paid to banks which had made loans to veterans on their bonus certificates.

Under the procedure followed the bonds are added to the public debts as they are issued to the veterans. When they are redeemed for cash they are subtracted from the debt total. The permanent reflection of the bonus on the national debt will come from money borrowed to be used in cashing the bonds.

Floods Do Heavy Damage In Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, July 31. (AP) Utah emerged tonight from what officials said was its wettest July in a decade.

The state counted loss of life and heavy property damage in floods which, recurring during the month with increasing fury, culminated in the last two days in the drowning of two women in southern Utah, the virtual wrecking of a canyon village 40 miles north of here, and the washing-out of highways, canals, bridges, railroad beds and ditches.

Residents of the steep-walled town of Willard, remembering a disastrous flood of 1923, posted a night watch and, at the first sign of danger early today fled in automobiles. A sudden flood bank swept barns and sheds away, buried heavier buildings under debris, drowned cattle, sheep and horses, but claimed no human life.

Record Price Offered For Film Rights To Big Fight

NEW YORK, July 31. (AP)—Madison Square garden today announced it had been offered $60,000 for the moving picture rights of the James J. Braddock-Max Schmeling heavyweight championship fight in September.

The offer marks an all-time high for fight pictures, the previous high having been $50,000 paid for pictures of the Gene Tunney-Tom Heeney fight in 1928.

Rains County Youth's Death Mysterious; Officers Probe

GREENVILLE, July 31. (AP)—Officers branded as mysterious the death of Finis Perryman, 17, of Rains county, found today unconscious by the roadside near Point. The youth died here of a fractured skull.

Charley Lennemon of Rains county told Sheriff Gus Osborne and District Attorney Henry Pharr he saw the boy's horse grazing nearby.

Investigators said lack of bruises on Perryman's body or head indicated he was not thrown.

They said he left Point last night to visit a girl.

Raging Forest Fire Isolates Three Villages In Montana

HARVE, Mont., July 31. (AP)—A raging fire that ate a path four miles wide through the Lewis and Clark National forest tonight isolated three Montana villages.

Roaring flames which have turned more than 30,000 acres of once green forest into charred and smoldering snags converged on the evacuated mining towns of Landusky and Zortman, and on Hays, tiny community on the Fort Belknap Indian reservation. It was feared all buildings, including homes of the miners and Indian agency employes would be destroyed unless the wind shifted.

Ickes Says He Is To Reply To Landon Acceptance Monday

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today he would reply in a radio address Monday night to Governor Alf M. Landon's speech accepting the Republican presidential nomination.

He told his press conference:

"I was very much interested in Governor Landon's characterization of himself as a practical progressive and I am going to philosophize about the practical part — I know what progressive means."

Better Cotton Business Seen

Cotton Receipts And Exports At Galveston Far Ahead Of Last Year And Prospects Are Looming Even Brighter

(By The Associated Press)

GALVESTON, July 31.—Galveston cotton men reported today the 1935-36 season ended with cotton receipts and exports far ahead of last season and even better business in prospect for the coming year.

They based their optimistic forecast on recent contracts by which American cotton cooperatives and the Gosho company, a Japanese concern, will ship through Galveston.

Receipts for the season ending today were 1,629,172 bales, an increase of 674,339 bales over the 954,833 received in the previous season. Exports were 1,491,610 bales, an increase of 249,957 bales over the 1934-35 season.

OFFICERS SENTENCED

TOKYO, July 31. (AP)—Six army officers were sentenced today to imprisonment of from four years to life for complicity in the military rebellion of February 26, the war office announced.

Captain Itaro Yamaguchi was sent to prison for life for aiding the bloody uprising which cost the lives of three elder statesmen.

Garner Taking Things Easy

Vice President Is Spending His Vacation In Carefree Leisure Of A Country Gentleman At His Home

(By The Associated Press)

UVALDE, July 31.—Snowy-haired John Garner, far removed from the affairs of nation, spent his vacation today with all the carefree leisure of a country gentleman.

Outside of one of his pet squirrels biting him on the finger, the vice president's weeks of recreation at his Uvalde home have been singularly uneventful. Garner has about a dozen squirrels and spends quite a bit of time each day feeding them in his pecan grove.

He was nipped while feeding one from his hand.

Has Been Lounging

The weather has been too hot to do much fishing, so Garner has been taking it easy, lounging in a shady hammock swung under the trees.

He has until Aug. 4 to catch up on his rest. On that date he and Mrs. Garner plan to leave for Dallas to attend ceremonies in their honor at the Texas Centennial exposition. July 5 has been designated Garner day and he will be given a luncheon and a banquet. Another luncheon has been arranged for Mrs. Garner.

They will spend the night of Aug. 4 in Austin as guests of Gov. and Mrs. James V. Allred and motor into Dallas the next morning accompanied by Centennial commissioners.

Rep. Sam Rayburn visited him yesterday but neither would talk about it.

School Men Hold Session

Get-To-Gether Is Held Friday By Six Rural High School Superintendents; Problems Are Discussed

First get-together of the six rural high school superintendents of Lubbock county was held yesterday afternoon in the office of County Superintendent Joseph R. Griggs. All six were present.

Only two of the men, A. L. Faubion of New Deal No. 2 and E. R. Haskins of Frenship, were in the county last year.

Transfers of pupils into or out of districts, were discussed as well as school budgets, vocational training and other matters.

To Decide On Football

Football schedules came up and it was agreed that a further meeting would be held on this subject. Whether all six schools will have football work was not decided.

E. J. Lowery, Idalou, superintendent of the newest rural ditsrict, No. 6, said his board had not decided on date of opening, but it was possible August 31 would be the date.

E. L. Farr of Shallowater said September 7 was decided on by his board for the opening, and E. R. Haskins reported the same date for Frenship district.

Roosevelt district may open August 31, M. L. Kelly said. The board there has its new building on hand and is rushing work to get the equipment installed and everything ready by opening date. A former date for an open house is planned.

Production Of Beef During July Is Largest On Record

CHICAGO, July 31. (AP)—Production of beef in July was probably the largest on record for any July since 1926, the Institute of American Meat Packers estimated today.

Wholesale prices of beef declined toward the close of July and prices of most grades ranged from 3 to 21 per cent lower than a year ago.

France contains 20,320,000 females and 18,444,000 males.

Bits Of News Gathered On Oil Development In Area

DRILL STEM TEST MADE

Humble Oil and Refining No. 1 C. H. Eubanks, Gaines county, was coring ahead below 4,786 feet, in lime, after a drill stem test from 4,620-4,718 feet showed only 60 feet of drilling water in a 28-minute test. In a previous test 40-feet of drilling fluid was shown in 30 minutes from 4,568 to 4,742. Location is in section 6, block A-X.

DRILLING AT 5,180 FEET

Baham, Rhodes and Fitzpatrick No. 1 Alice Henard, section 367 block D, Gibson survey, Yoakum county, was drilling at 5,189 feet. A previous report had given 5,185 feet, it was said. Breaking of a box on the stem caused a delay. The bit was in lime.

DOWN 4,050 FEET

Stogner-Roosevelt No. 1 Googin, section 215, Yoakum county, was drilling at 4,050 feet at last report. It was in anhydrite.

FISHING FOR BAILER

Landreth Production Corp. No. 1 W. H. Kirk, Gaines county producer, was fishing for a bailer lost while testing for a water shutoff by plugging back from 4,870 to 4,855 feet. It is in section 22, block A-21.

DRILLING AT 3,702

Humble No. 9 J. S. Means was drilling at 3,702 feet in section 22, block A-35, Andrews county.

Man Is Arrested For Using Mails To Defraud In Scheme

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—Aides to the district attorney have disclosed the arrest in Atlantic City, N. J., of Max Segal, who as "Alfred M. Layton," they said, was charged in an indictment here with using the mails to defraud.

The indictment was returned after prosecutors presented to the grand jury testimony that Layton was director of the so-called "General John J. Pershing Portrait-Bust Committee."

Many prominent persons were invited to serve on the committee, which was represented as intending to purchase a splendid marble bust of the commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary forces. Contributions were required for such membership.

Philadelphia Inquirer And Its Properties Sold To New Yorker

NEW YORK, July 31. (AP)—M. L. Annenberg, publisher, announced today he has purchased the Philadelphia Inquirer for an amount "in the neighborhood of $15,000,000."

This price, he said, included real estate.

Annenberg said he made the purchase through the Cecelia company, which operates his publishing interests, including the Morning Telegraps, New York; the Miami, Fla., Tribune, radio and screen guides, and other publications.

He will take control immediately, he said, and stressed that the editorial policy of the Inquirer "positively" would remain unchanged.

Frenship Chapter Plans To Stage Hog Show Prior To Fair

Frenship chapter, F. F. A. in a session Thursday night at Wolfforth, voted to have a hog show the week preceding the South Plains fair at Lubbock. Date of the fair is the last week in September.

The chapter has not decided on a trip to the Texas Central centennial at Dallas, the subject not being closed at the meeting.

During the summer the chapter has been meeting twice a month. They have held a party in the Frenship high school building and one night camped out at Buffalo springs.
