WOODWORK

IT'S TIME TO get busy on all those things you were going to do in 1982. I didn't exactly make a bunch of resolutions last January, but there were several things I intended to do during the year that never did get done.

However, I have until tomorrow night to pave the east side of my driveway to the fence line, build another garage, saw up those fireplace logs that are too big, tell my wife I love her, and shoot that dog that keeps messing in our front yard.

There probably are some other things I was going to do, but I can't remember them. I was also going to put up some Christmas lights on the house this year, but I guess I won't try to do that now.

Also, of course, all of us have only until midnight Friday to do whatever we need to do to qualify for certain tax deductions in 1982. You know, like buy something depreciable, or have a baby.

Most of us don't need tax deductions this year as badly as we need money.

A LOT OF NOISE is being made about unemployment figures these days, and we do feel sympathy for those people out of work who really want to work. We don't sympathize with those drawing unemployment compensation who would rather do this than work.

Paul Harvey had some good comments on the unemployment rates the other night. He said that while jobless figures continue to rise, nobody mentions that there are more people with jobs than ever before. According to him, 99 million Americans are working this month, the same as last month. The reason the jobless rate keeps going up, he says, is because we continually add more people to the work force. And he says thousands of those added each month are illegal aliens who come into the country looking for work, and get counted in the jobless totals when they don't find work.

My wife says she can't understand anything Paul Harvey says, except "Good day" at the end. But that episode, at least, was pretty plain to me.

And maybe part of the "rest of the story," as Harvey would say, might be that many of those out of work are union members who are now jobless because they demanded so much money and benefits that the companies couldn't make a profit anymore.

"I DON'T WANT to scare you," the seven-year old told his teacher solemnly. "But my daddy said if I don't get better grades, somebody's gonna get spanked."

Area Cotton Harvest Expands

Many High Plains cotton growers expect to complete harvesting by Jan. 1, according to Mack Bennett, Area Director for USDA's Marketing Services Office at Lubbock. Northern county gins reported they were 75 to 100 percent through the season at mid-week. Central and southern county gins estimated that they were 50 to 75 percent completed. Classings were two-thirds completed, Bennett said.

Cotton trading slowed when farmers re-entered fields following recent wet weather. Harvest expanded rapidly by mid-week.

Growers sold 1981-crop loan equities at $10 to $25 per bale, mostly $10 to $15. Mixed lots of new-crop brought growers 75 to 250 points over 1982 loan rates for grades 42 and better, staples 30-32, mike 35-49. Gins paid growers $65 to $100 per ton for cottonseed, mostly $75 to $85.

Sample receipts increased sharply at Lubbock's Marketing Services Office during the week ended Dec. 22. About 40,000 samples were classed during the four-day week compared with 39,000 during the previous five-day week. The season's total stood at 470,000 against 1,030,000 classed by the same date last season.

The week's predominant grades were grade 42 at 41 percent, grade 52 amounted to 19 percent, grade 32 was 15 percent and grade 43 accounted for 12 percent. About 21 percent was reduced one grade because of bark and seven for grass.

Predominant staples were staple 31 at 42 percent, staple 30 was 24 percent and staple 32 amounted to 17 percent, for an average of 31.2 thirty-seconds of an inch.

Icy Roads Cause Wrecks In Area

Icy-slick highways were a factor in four wrecks investigated by Department of Public Safety Patrolman Jerry Griffin Sunday in Lynn County, and two other wrecks were reported to DPS before the winter storm arrived.

There were no apparent serious injuries in any of the accidents. Last Wednesday afternoon at S. Ave. B and S. 6th in Tahoka a collision involved a 1978 Buick driven by Wendell McClendon of O'Donnell and a vehicle driven by Marsello Resendez of Tahoka. A passenger in the McClendon car, Leta Pierce, was taken to Lynn County Hospital for observation.

On Thursday night 13.6 miles north of Tahoka on U.S. 87 a 1976 Chevrolet pickup driven by Jose Cardenas of Brownfield struck and killed a Black Angus cow, owner unknown.

There were four accidents on the roads Sunday and one in the city. South of Tahoka 2.4 miles on U.S. 87 a 1981 Chevrolet pickup driven by Rudolph Knoke of Big Spring, towing an El Dorado travel trailer, jackknifed and the trailer came loose and overturned.

A 1979 Volkswagen van driven by Richard Swisher of Colorado Spring, Colo., skidded off the road a mile west of O'Donnell on U.S. 87 and overturned.

About 8.5 miles east of Tahoka on U.S. 380 a collision involved a 1979

Ford van driven west by John Moody of Bedford and a 1976 Chevrolet pickup driven by Bernice Menzel of DeLeon. The partial head-on crash occurred after the pickup skidded into the wrong lane, according to investigating officers. Ms. Menzel was taken to Lynn County Hospital by private vehicle, and was treated for minor cuts and abrasions.

Manuel Gonzalez of Lubbock had parked a 1977 Plymouth on the shoulder of U.S. 87 1.4 miles south of Tahoka and was changing a flat when a 1977 Oldsmobile driven by Julie Sedberry of Midland went out of control on the ice and skidded into the rear of the parked car. When the driver of the Olds realized she could not stop, she sounded her horn and the persons around the Gonzalez vehicle ran out of the way, so there were no injuries.

Tahoka police investigated a two-car accident on Wednesday, Dec. 22 that involved a 1981 GMC pickup driven by Hiram Willis Edwards of Tahoka and a 1981 Buick driven by Cruz Rivas of Tahoka at the intersection of Lockwood and Ave. N. There were no injuries.

On Sunday, a 1981 Pontiac driven by Delia Calvillo Jamie of Tahoka was heading east on Hwy 380 and lost control of her vehicle at the 100 block of Lockwood on the ice. The vehicle rolled over once and damage was estimated at more than $250. She was not injured.

Lynn County deputies last Thursday arrested Robbie Dale Roberson, 22, of Tahoka, on a warrant for parole violation and for aggravated robbery in Lubbock. He was arrested in connection with the robbery of a convenience store in Lubbock the previous night, where a 21-year-old clerk told police she was abducted and sexually abused before being released several hours later.

In jail during the week were one person each for aggravated robbery, driving while intoxicated, public intoxication, and burglary of a motor vehicle.

Office Group Shares Party

Instead of having the usual Christmas party the employees of the Tahoka Department of Human Resources office decided to share Christmas with Della Smith of O'Donnell, a long time Lynn County resident. The 80-year-old Ms. Smith, who has no family, was pleasantly surprised to see a station wagon loaded with visitors and gifts arrive at her home at noon on Tuesday, Dec. 21.

This project was originally initiated by the supervisor and secretaries of Unit 33 as one of their unit projects. The funding was provided by the secretaries selling canisters filled with candy, popcorn and party mix. The other Tahoka Department of Human Resources employees expressed their desire to also participate in this Christmas giving.

Lynn County News Plans England Trip

The Lynn County News is planning another trip to Europe for the pleasure of area residents who like to travel with people they know to places they have never been ... or want to see again.

This time publisher Dalton Wood will lead the group to England, Scotland and Wales, leaving from Lubbock on May 28 and returning June 12.

Cost of Trip
Cost of the 16-day trip will be $1775 per person, double occupancy, and will include breakfast daily (Continental in London, full breakfast elsewhere), nine table d'hote dinners (that means you eat what they bring you, instead of ordering), plus all air, bus and ferry transportation, a guide, transfers from airport and hotel accommodations.

The price includes airfare out of Lubbock to Dallas, where the group will board a British Caledonian airliner for a non-stop flight to London. The return flight also will be non-stop, returning to D-FW for customs clearance before changing planes to return to Lubbock.

Among the places to be visited will be London, Bristol, Stratford, Harrogate, Waterford, Killarney, Dublin, Chester and Edinburgh.

Wood has been tour host for three previous group trips to Europe, the most recent being in 1980.

Brochures on the trip will be available in about three weeks.

Anyone wishing further information may call Wood at 998-4888 days or 998-5369 evenings and weekends, or may write to Box 1170, Tahoka, Tx. 79373 for details or to send deposits of $100 per person to reserve a place on the tour.

SHELLEY AND FRIEND — The snowman population of Lynn County went up considerably Monday and Tuesday after the 7-inch snowfall over the weekend. Here Shelley Martin stands with her creation (wearing a Grassland Co-Op hat) in front of the Martin home at 2500 N. 3rd. The snow put nearly an inch of moisture into the ground, but caused some problems with driving and walking for a few days.

FOR YOUTH

A Balanced Diet Is Important For Proper Training

Youngsters who join the Wonder Training Club for Olympic Sports are learning, just like Olympic hopefuls, that well-balanced meals can be as important as the skill development that can lead to gold medal performance. These nutrition guidelines, personalized training tips, a training wall chart and a membership patch are all included in the training club.

People who are in training, may find their appetites increase. That's the body's way of making sure one receives the proper number of calories to keep going. But one must remember, the average daily caloric intake will increase while training, and as a result the effect of any dietary deficiency or excess will be more marked. That means it is very important to maintain a well balanced diet during training.

Avoid any "fancy" diets that concentrate too much on single foods or that recommend high vitamin and mineral supplements. A balanced diet should provide sufficient amounts of fats, carbohydrates, proteins, vitamins and minerals.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture guidelines for a healthy diet recommend eating foods from each of the four major food groups every day: Fruits and vegetables for vitamins (especially A and C) and minerals like potassium, magnesium and zinc; meats to supply protein, fat, iron and other minerals as well as many vitamins including B₁₂; dairy products for calcium, other minerals and vitamins; enriched and whole grain breads, cereals or other grain products to provide B vitamins, iron and energy.

Drink adequate amounts of water before, during and after training and competition to avoid dehydration.

To receive nutrition details as well as training guidelines from the Wonder Training Club for Olympic Sports, a child should fill out the entry form on the back of a package of Wonder white bread, buns, rolls, muffins, Raisin Rounds, Family Wheat or whole wheat bread. Information requested includes age, height, weight, Olympic sport the child is interested in, and the child's personal goal in that sport over the next six months.

The youngster mails his completed form and a $5 membership fee to Wonder. Wonder will make a cash donation to the U.S. Olympic Committee for every membership. The child then receives a personalized kit that contains:

1. A letter from Bob Mathias, 2 time Olympic gold medalist, member of U.S.O.C. and director of Wonder Training Club, thanking him for joining the club and helping to support the U.S. Olympic Team.

2. A personalized training program developed by leading athletic coaches from around the country in cooperation with Bob Mathias and the U.S. Olympic Committee.

3. A general training program for building strength and expertise in the sport of choice.

4. Nutrition and diet tips.

5. A membership patch. Colorfully embroidered on a sturdy cotton background, it features Wonder Training Club identification and can be sewn onto a jacket or shirt.

6. A training wall chart. A weekly, four month chart in which the young athlete can track his progress as his performance level increases.

7. A 25-cent-off coupon for Wonder bread.

8. A unique opportunity to buy sports equipment at attractive prices.

Comptroller Assistant Here Jan. 5

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has announced that Virgil Rogers from his Lubbock field office will be at the Lynn County Courthouse in the court room on January 5, 1983 from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. A comptroller's representative is available to assist local residents at the courthouse the first Wednesday of each month.

Bullock urges anyone with problems or questions concerning state taxes to contact Rogers at the courthouse in person or call the Lubbock field office at (806) 795-0691. A toll-free number (1-800-252-5555) is also available to Texas taxpayers.

FARMERS MUST PAY ESTIMATED TAX SOON

Individuals who earned at least two-thirds of their 1982 gross income from farming have until Monday, Jan. 17, 1983, to make a 1982 declaration of estimated tax and to pay any taxes due.

However, according to the IRS, farmers who plan to file their 1982 income tax return and to pay the total tax balance by March 1, 1983, are not required to make an estimated tax declaration.

Additional information is available in the free IRS Publication 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," and Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax." These publications can be obtained by calling the IRS number listed in the local telephone directory.

TAX PAYMENT DUE

Taxpayers who did not have enough 1982 federal tax withheld, or whose amended income estimates for 1982 changed substantially during the last quarter, are required to pay the final installment of estimated income tax by Jan. 17, 1983, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Dulin had all their children and grandchildren as visitors for the holidays starting Friday night Dec. 17. On Christmas night the W.B. Tilley's spent the night with Leo and Jimmie. They had spent Christmas Day with Mama Tilley and the other Tilley children.

ACNE MYTHS & FACTS

Hygiene

True or False: Dirt and poor hygiene cause acne.

Blackheads contain bits of dirt which make them dark.

Frequent and vigorous scrubbing will help acne clear up.

If you answered "true" to any of these three statements, you're among the thousands of people who don't know all the facts on acne.

Neither dirt nor poor hygiene causes acne. The disease results from a combination of factors including heredity, hormones and events that take place beneath the skin in hair follicles/oil gland ducts.

of skin pigment. Good general hygiene to remove dirt and excess oil calls for bathing daily and washing your face twice a day.

COOKING CORNER

The number of women in the American work force has increased by some 15 million in the last decade. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, there were 48,621,000 women working outside their homes in July, 1982, and countless others work within the home.

For a majority of those women, providing wholesome, nourishing meals is an added challenge. Here to help with some answers is a new volume from Betty Crocker called the Working Woman's Cookbook. The hardcover, attractively illustrated volume is filled with quick-and-easy and do-ahead recipes for the busy woman and her family.

The book covers everything from meat, poultry and seafood main dishes through salads, sandwiches, appetizers and beverages. Published by Random House, the volume sells for $10.95 and is available at many neighborhood bookstores and department stores.

Here's one typical quick-and-easy recipe:

EASY TACO DINNER

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 large onion, chopped (about 1 cup)
- 1 envelope (about 1 1/4 ounces) taco seasoning mix
- 1 cup water
- 1 package (12 ounces) tortilla chips
- 1/2 head lettuce, shredded
- 2 medium tomatoes, chopped
- 1 can (2 1/4 ounces) sliced ripe olives, drained
- 1 cup shredded Cheddar or Monterey Jack cheese (about 4 ounces)
- 2/3 cup dairy sour cream

Cook and stir ground beef and onion in 10-inch skillet until beef is light brown; drain. Stir in seasoning mix and water. Heat to boiling; reduce heat. Simmer uncovered, stirring occasionally, 10 minutes. Spoon beef mixture onto chips. Top with remaining ingredients. 6 servings.

Dear Sir:

With such a renewed interest in "roots" during recent years and because many citizens now living in the area served by your newspaper had ancestors who lived in Georgia during the past 250 years, we want to call to the attention of your readers the current availability of the landmark and highly-acclaimed 7-volume set of books by Folks Huxford entitled "Pioneers of Wiregrass Georgia". The set contains sketches of some 3,000 Georgia pioneers dating from the founding of Georgia in 1733 up to the turn of the 20th century. Also available is a set of monaural but excellent sound cassette recordings of a series of genealogical "how-to-do-it" workshops presented in 1971 by Judge Huxford, whose lifelong hobby was genealogy and who was the only Fellow of the American Genealogical Society south of the Mason-Dixon Line until his death last year at age 87. For further information, those interested may contact the Huxford Genealogical Society, a non-profit organization; the society's address is Box 595, Homerville, Georgia 31634.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sir:

Our kids surprised us with an early 30th Anniversary Party Christmas night. It was held at Wayne and Adria Ann Croftwell's house. Anyway we would love to express our thanks to each Dear friend and Relative that took the time out of a busy Christmas Day to come and visit with us. It made us feel so very "special". Our "dear friends" in Tahoka will always hold first place in our hearts. Tahoka will always be "home" to us. We would just love to say "Thank you" to everyone and especially "our children". May God Bless you'll always.

By the way our 30th anniversary is January 3rd, 1983. We came to Tahoka the night we were married, and we'll never forget "Tahoka" and our dear friends.

Love Forever,

Dear Mr. Wood:

As a new year begins, resolutions are always first on the agenda. One thing keeps running through my mind as 1983 begins and that is the value of friendships and the importance of expressing appreciation to one's friends. Death has made this realization more vivid because during 1982 a friend was lost. May I attempt to describe this friend and express my appreciation through the Lynn County News?

The first problem I run into though is how does one begin to describe a friend? Does one start with how they met and continue with the memories which were built over the years? Does one describe the many times help was needed and the friend was always there to lend a helping hand? Or does one tell about the countless times someone else was down and that same friend freely reached down and helped him up to begin anew? Or does one tell about the number of people this friend brought together and from that meeting respect and appreciation grew and new friendships were begun? Or does one describe the encouragement and confidence that that friend gave? Just how does one describe a friend who has done all these things and more?

The friend who was lost in 1982 was Bray Chevrolet Company. I was both a customer and a former employee and I believe that that company will be greatly missed in the future. The corner of 1615 Lockwood is now deserted quiet, and lonely as compared to the activity and work which was so characteristic of Bray's. Yes, even companies can die and death has taken its toll. However, I do not believe that any person who ever worked at Bray's could enter that building and not have an untold number of memories come to mind. Nor do I believe one could walk away and not feel the sadness of losing a friend. For that is what friendship is—caring and being a part of something or someone. It is too late to express appreciation to Bray Chevrolet as a company but it is not too late to express that appreciation for Frances Chestnutt. For whoever is at the helm of a business is that business. So to begin 1983, I would like to express appreciation to one who was always there and could be counted on. "Mrs. Chestnutt, I appreciated the service that I always received from Bray's. It was outstanding! Also, I appreciate you as an individual. Thank you for the help, understanding, and patience which you have always given to me. It is priceless!"

Mr. Wood, thank you for allowing me to share this 1983 resolution. There is no price that can be placed on a friend who is willing to stand by you in good times and bad times. If one has been blessed with such a friend as that, he should be told how much he is appreciated. One may not have tomorrow to speak those words that could make someone's day today.

Yours very truly,
Shirley A. Smith

Humor Helps Relieve Stress

LUBBOCK--A chuckle or an out-and-laugh can help defuse fears and relieve stress, says humor researcher Paul McGhee.

"A moderate amount of tension or stress promotes laughter," the Texas Tech University human development professor said. "Laughter can be an effective coping mechanism." McGhee, who has spent 14 years in the study of humor and is author of the book "Humor: Its Origin and Development," said making light of a bad situation is harder for persons who in general lack a sense of humor.

"One of the classic ways of thinking about humor is the ability to laugh at one's own faults or laugh in the midst of hard times," McGhee said. "Some people seem to do this better than others."

McGhee believes the ability to joke in the face of extremely stressful situations--an impending divorce or unemployment--is healthy. Laughter, he said, can free an individual from a carrying negative emotional baggage.

"If there's something you can't joke about, it has got you. If you can joke about it, you've got it. Humor can be a way of controlling your life," McGhee said.

The relationship between stress does not necessarily equate to increased laughter.

"A moderate amount of stress can promote laughter," he noted. "But at some point, as the tension gets higher and higher, it gets more difficult to get in the right frame of mind to laugh. The tension just gets to be too much."

Under some extremely stressful circumstances humor cannot be used effectively. Crying, on the other hand, may help defuse a problem.

"Laughter and crying are certainly considered opposite emotional poles," McGhee said. "But both are adaptive coping mechanisms which relate to whatever pent up problems a person might have. Both are effective ways of dealing with things."

Gas Utility Rule Change Considered

AUSTIN-The Railroad Commission has adopted on an emergency basis three changes to its rules dealing with the quality of service of natural gas utility companies.

The commissioners also voted to publish those changes and two others for public comment.

The rules changes taking immediate effect, approved unanimously on a motion by Commissioner Mack Wallace, require gas utility companies to --provide customers with a statement of their rights in both English and Spanish;

--give customers five working days notice before service is terminated;

--inform customers of their rights, how to resolve billing disputes and how to register complaints.

Oncology/Thanatology Seminars Set in Lubbock

Patient care, personal and professional concerns and management of two complex areas of nursing care will be explored in conferences Jan. 13 and 14 in Lubbock.

"Oncology: New Perspectives in Cancer Management" will help participants understand the ever changing needs of the patient. Current techniques of cancer therapy, including chemotherapy and radiation therapy, will be discussed during the one-day seminar set for Jan. 13 at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center (TTUHSC).

"Thanatology: New Perspectives in Death and Dying" will aid nurses in the counseling of the patient and his family as well as in understanding the legal and ethical issues involved in caring for the patient with a terminal illness.

The course, set for Jan. 14 at TTUHSC, is also designed to help nurses understand the support they, and their peers, need from each other while caring for these patients.

Barbara Petrosino, R.N., Ed.D., will conduct the thanatology seminar. Petrosino is an associate professor of nursing in the University of Texas at El Paso College of Nursing and Allied Health.

The conferences are sponsored by the TTUHSC School of Nursing Continuing Nursing Education Division. Deadline for registration for either or both of the conferences is today, Dec. 30. Participants may register for both conferences at a reduced rate.

For more information contact the Office of Continuing Nursing Education at 806/743-2734.

Summer Sports Increase Water Need

Trained athletes know that water is essential to their well being, particularly in warm weather situations. Newcomers in sports should be especially careful about water consumption.

Joggers — take note: during long periods of exercise, water intake minimizes the dehydrating effects of heavy sweating. In addition, water reduces stress on the circulatory system and helps the blood carry energy providing carbohydrates to your body's cells.

Water loss is greater during hot weather since the body perspires more than usual in its efforts to keep cool. Exercise increases the perspiration rate, making the need for water more important. Maintaining proper water balance helps regulate the body temperature and prevents overheating.

Many athletes are turning to bottled water to replenish their bodies' needs. It's not only convenient but offers delicious refreshment without adding unnecessary sweetening and calories.

For a free booklet about bottled water available, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to the International Bottled Water Association, 1010 Vermont Avenue, N.W., Washington, DC 20005.

KEEP HOME FIRES FROM BURNING

Although about three out of every hundred thousand Americans die by fire every year, there are things you can do to help keep yourself and your family out of such grim statistics.

Most upholstered furniture has been designed to resist ignition by a burning cigarette.

One of the most important things you can do is to install at least one smoke detector in your home. A recent study found smoke detectors to be 85 percent effective in giving the first warning of a home fire.

This early warning can provide valuable time in which a family can execute a pre-arranged escape plan.

Fire officials also encourage families to practice using escape routes at night. Families should meet at a predetermined place where members can assure themselves that everyone is safely out of the house.

You might also like to learn more about recent advances in upholstered furniture construction which can make it more cigarette resistant. Most upholstered furniture in the marketplace now offers a new feature for your consideration. The furniture industry for the past years has invested millions of dollars researching new materials and methods to manufacture furniture that is more resistant to burning cigarettes. This safer furniture is labeled with a special gold hang-tag that says UFAC Important Consumer Information. UFAC stands for Upholstered Furniture Action Council, the industry group that coordinates the program.

Although this UFAC engineered furniture gives people more protection, the industry points out that this does not mean the furniture is fireproof. Consumers should be careful when smoking on upholstered furniture, especially while drowsy or if they have had a drink or taken any drugs, prescription or nonprescription.

Upholstered furniture should be kept away from all heat or flames, not only cigarettes.

That way you can feel more cool and calm about your family's chances of avoiding a dangerous fire.

Texas A&M chancellor chairs employer support committee for National Guard and Reserve

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Texas A&M University System Chancellor Arthur G. Hansen is the new chairman of the Texas Committee for Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve, announced Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger.

Weinberger's announcement of the appointment of Dr. Hansen cited the continuing need for support of Texas employers on behalf of their employees who serve in the National Guard and Reserve Forces.

"The support of employers is critical to the strength and readiness of the Guard and Reserve," Weinberger said. "Guard and Reserve members' decisions to stay in the Reserve forces are influenced by the possible conflicts between civilian career responsibilities and part-time military duties. Statistics show that employment conflict is one of the major reasons why Guard and Reserve members leave the service."

Dr. Hansen, who served in the Marine Corps Reserve on active duty from 1943 to 1946, underscored the need for a strong citizen-soldier force.

"It is extremely important that the Guard and Reserve remain a strong and viable activity within our defense establishment and I am honored to have the opportunity to serve as a part of the effort to support this facet of our military," he said.

Dr. Hansen said one of his primary goals will be to help employers realize the importance of the Guard and Reserve and to urge them to let their employee participants take part in training activities.

"It also will be part of my general plan to meet with groups throughout the state in collaboration with leaders in various fields to discuss the Guard and Reserve generally and build even greater support for them," he added.

Lynn Temple #45 met for a salad supper at 6:30 Tuesday Dec. 21 and regular business was attended to. MEC Emma Halamek presided.

Wilma Sherrod was presented a 25 year service pin.

Dorothy Kidwell read her yearbook covering the first two months. Installation of new officers was tentatively planned for the second meeting in January.

The Sisters enjoyed a Christmas reading and poem by Clifford Tankersley and Dorothy Kidwell's reading of a cowboy's prayer. Gifts were exchanged. Four of the newly merged members from Lamesa were present making 24 ladies in attendance for the meeting.

THE REAL FIRST PLACE — This house on N. 3rd really was judged as the winning entry in the Tahoka Garden Club's Christmas Lighting Contest. This is, we hope, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Young, 1917 N. 3rd. The photo last week identified as the Young home was somebody else's home, but it had some nice lights on it, too.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

J. DAVIS ARMISTEAD, O.D.

SPECTATOR VISION

Only a few can make the big leagues in any sport. But as a spectator you can enjoy the drama and excitement of sports competition if you have good vision. And if you don't, you can get corrective glasses or contact lenses to make sure you're not missing a thing. Give yourself a test to make sure. Can you see the players' faces? Can you see the scoreboard? Do you notice any eye fatigue or eye strain when watching a sporting event — even when you're as close as your television screen can bring you? Do you miss key plays and have to wait for the sports announcer to tell you what you've missed? These are all signs that you need an eye checkup.

Maybe you've never had any difficulty in seeing anything you wanted to see. But our eyes change with time. Sometimes the focusing muscles are not as strong as they used to be. When you're watching something at a distance for a long period of time maybe you notice some eye discomfort. Even a slight degree of distortion can cause problems. An eye examination is the best solution.

CARD OF THANKS

Our hearts have been humbled by your expressions of love and concern during our recent loss. We know that Papa, too, would be touched by the many lovely flowers, memorials, food, visits, cards, kind words, and prayers.

How thankful we are for the life that Willis Pennington lived, and that so many of you knew and loved him.

Although we are saddened, we are reminded of the strength which God gives. We are grateful for the added gift which He gives; friends who care.

Our sincere thanks,
The Willis Pennington Family
