JAPAN APPROVES DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE SENATE VOTES TO CUT TUITION CHARGE IN STATE SCHOOLS

WOULD REDUCE STUDENT FEE TO 30 MAXIMUM

ARE STUDENTS REVENUE-PRODUCING ANIMALS? IS QUERY

REDUCE OTHER FEES

WOULD AFFECT TEXAS UNIVERSITY, A. & M. AND C. I. A.

(By the Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Feb. 19.—Proposals of low tuition fees in state institutions of higher learning succeeded today in passing a measure through the senate that would limit the annual tuition of each student to $30.

The bill passed after a heated debate in which Senator Polhard declared that he wanted the senate to decide whether a student is a revenue-producing animal and Senator Pollock advocated shortening the curriculum of the medical school to three years.

Fights Provision

Senator Holbrook of Galveston led the fight on the bill on the grounds that it did not provide sufficient money to pay the expenses of students in the medical branch of the university.

Senator Fairchild said that it was his purpose to keep medical students in the state from five to seven years and that the curriculum should be reduced to three years.

Three Schools Affected

The bill, as passed, not only sets $30 as the maximum tuition fee, but sets a maximum of about $40 a year on laboratory fees, and other fees of that nature, according to its author it will reduce the fees in only three instances, University of Texas, Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college and College of Industrial Arts, since the other two institutions which charge fees, the present average at the University of Texas, Senator said, is $55.

DRILLING RESUMED ON BOLES RANCH

TEMPORARY SHUT DOWN OF OIL WELL IN LUBBOCK COUNTY IS ENDED

After being shut down for several weeks, awaiting the arrival of casing here, drilling operations were resumed Friday on the Talbot-Kilgore number 1 test on the Boles ranch, 2 1/2 miles southeast of Lubbock. Drilling is to be resumed, work being done both day and night, as long as a favorable pay formation is shown. The promoters, R. W. Talbot, of Tulsa and E. P. Kilgore, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, are in Lubbock and have ordered Mike Sharper driller to rush the drilling.

Down 200 Feet

A depth of more than 200 feet has been reached, the water sand being hit at about 120 to 150 feet. Twenty inch casing will be placed to this depth, the men said yesterday. Contract for completion of the well calls for 3500 feet or deeper, so long as the formation is favorable to the promoters. A standard rig is being used. A light plant has already been installed at the rig and the workmen are here ready to begin the day and night work.

Oilmen, both of whom have tests in Oklahoma, two of which are below 500 feet, selected Lubbock as their only location in the state. They contemplate other tests, however, the men said yesterday. Both stated that they believed the Boles location to be the best on the South Plains, because of the structural conditions on the formation, if being located on a natural fault line. Surveys of the U. S. department of geology and various geologists are favorable for this section, the men say.

Coast Guard Ship Disabled in Storm

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Feb. 19 (AP)—Engines and wireless disabled, and listing a fifty mile gale, the coast guard picket boat 235 was being slowly driven toward shore tonight despite two anchors overboard three miles northeast of Highland light on the tip of Cape Cod here.

The 238, carrying crew of eight men including her commander, Boatswain J. K. Rivenback, made known her plight son after dusk by blinker signals to the Highland coast guard station. The shore crew was powerless, however, to do more than notify base five at Boston.

HERE NEXT WEEK

HAS HAD DIFFICULTY GETTING PIPE FOR CARRYING FUEL

Following action taken by the directors of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce the first of last week, that organization has been investigating the status of the gas proposition which has been before Lubbock for the last three or four months. A. J. McMahan, head of the Texas Gas company was reached yesterday in Chicago, it having been impossible to reach him sooner because of being on the constant-go for the past several days.

Answers Wire

However, in answer to a telegram from the chamber of commerce yesterday, McMahan advised that the necessary financing had been arranged for and that the past week had been spent in an effort to get early delivery of pipe from the manufacturers. He states that all arrangements are now virtually complete and that he plans to be in Lubbock next week with attorneys, representatives of the bankers and of the pipe people.

Will Get Confirmations

He also called attention to the delay of the oil companies are having in getting pipe for their construction work in the Amarillo field, and assured the local organization that in the immediate future Lubbock would get action as heretofore promised.

HIGHWAY CONTRACT GOES TO HUDMAN

SECOND LOW BIDDER GETS THE GRADE WORK FOR $23,992.44

W. F. Hudman, highway contractor, who is well known in highway construction circles in Texas was awarded the grade and drainage construction contract on the west end of state highway No. 33 in Lubbock county, by the commissioners court of this county Sunday afternoon. It had some $2,924,444, the second lowest offered by bid-competitors on the project.

Recommended By Field

The contract was awarded to Mr. Hudman on recommendation of Geo. A. Field, division engineer of the state highway department, and J. W. Viger, county resident engineer. The line of completion as specified in the bid is 150 days, 30 days less than the time set by Griffin, Dobbins and Welch, low bidder, who were only about $175 under Mr. Hudman. Due to the small difference in the two low bids, amount of the experience of the contractor, available equipment, and speed of time of completion, ruled in the award.

14.5 Mile Project

The project is 14.5 miles in length, extending from the city limits of Lubbock to the county line toward Brownfield, the work to be of the same nature as that just finished on the Sligo road. Mr. Hudman owns ten 140-gal. tanks and has an agreement for five other similar tanks, making a total of 60 horses with equipment in production that will be placed on the project. Work will start in two or three weeks, Mr. Hudman said before he left here. He is now finishing up a contract in Ward county, and will move his equipment here immediately.

JAPS WANT NAVY LIMITS SET WITH EYE TO SECURITY

SUGGEST 'OPEN MIND'

JUNE 1 ADVANCED AS DATE FOR CONFERENCE OF POWERS

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Japan's acceptance of the American proposal for a five-power supplemental naval conference at Geneva was made public early today by the state department. Making only by the state department outside the language of the American memorandum, it asked that the opening of the conference be set not earlier than June 1 so that a delegation from Tokyo with adequate instructions can reach Geneva to participate.

No Rigid Proposals

As said, the Japanese government hoped that the American suggestion did not "put forward rigid proposals as regards ratios of naval strength" to be maintained by each power in classes of war vessels not covered by the Washington treaty. To insure success of the negotiations, the Japanese note said, it was important that all parties to the negotiations, "should approach the subject with an open mind," being always guided by the defensive requirements of each nation. The confident hope was expressed that a "fair and satisfactory" agreement could be reached "conducive to the general peace and security of the world."

The U. S. Memos

The American memorandum, after expressing hesitation "at this time to put forward rigid proposals" to the ratios, added:

"The American government for its part, is disposed to accept, in regard to those classes of vessels not covered by the Washington treaty, an extension of the 5-5-2 ratio as regards the United States, Great Britain and Japan and to leave to discussion at Geneva the ratios of France and Italy, taking into full account their special conditions and requirements in regard to the types of vessels in question."

Against 5-5-3

That Japan would not be willing to accept the 5-5-3 ratio—extension to other types of war vessels than battleships and aircraft carriers has been forecast in Tokyo dispatches, although nothing has been said as to what changes in ratio she would seek at Geneva.

NEW TRIALS FOR TWO ARE GRANTED

W. A. DUKE AND LEE BROWN ARE GRANTED PETITIONS BY MULLICAN

The granting of new trials for W. A. Duke and Lee Brown, the latter a negro, was included in the last official acts of District Judge Clark M. Mulliken before the regular January term of district court ended here Saturday. The two petitions, granted on technical points of law bring the total number of new hearings granted by Judge Mulliken during his entire time as district judge to three, one having been granted in the Josie Amos case last fall.

Witnesses Absent The trial court refused to grant the Duke case "because evidence showed that the defendant was forced to trial with one or two material witnesses unable to be present." Duke was found guilty and his punishment set at one year in the penitentiary on a pro law charge.

Suspended Sentence The negro's case, which charged burglary, was finished on a plea of guilty, and in the petition for rehearing, it was charged that the black was not given an opportunity to enter an application for a suspended sentence.

Monday morning, the court will open a four weeks special term for trial of civil cases, of which there are many on the docket. Sessions on the docket will be held Monday morning.

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 19.—Possibility of a student judging team from the A. and M. college of Texas for the international crops contest to be held in connection with the national hay and grain show at Chicago next fall looms as the result of the interest stimulated by the freshman crops contest held here recently by the agronomy department of the college. Discussion of sending such a team to Chicago was led by Ralph T. Stewart, associate professor of agronomy department, at the meeting for the awarding of medals to the winners in the recent contest. The question of a students crops contest at the college shortly after next Christmas was also discussed.

Alpine Wins Cager Title for Its District

ALPINE, Feb. 19.—In the district cage meet just concluded in Alpine, which the basketball champions of 13 West Texas counties participated, Alpine high school won the loving cup and carried off the district championship. Following is the score for the two days Friday: El Paso 37, Peacock 13, Ysleta 21, Marfa 14, Fort Davis 27, Fort Stockton 16, Alpine 24, Sanderson 15, Saturday semi-finals: Fort Davis 18, Ysleta 16, Alpine 20, El Paso 18. Finals Alpine 26, Fort Davis 15. Good sportsmanship was characteristic of the players during the entire two days meet but Ft. Davis was outstanding in sportsmanship as during the last semi-finals they were cheering for their only runner to the district championship, Alpine. The cup was formally presented to the Alpine players this afternoon at Sul Ross State Teachers college.

LOOKS LIKE ANOTHER WELL IN CIMMARON COUNTY

AMARILLO, Feb. 19 (AP)—The No. 1 Man's Land well at the Ramsey brothers, 12 miles north of Boise City in Cimmaron county, of the Oklahoma Panhandle, which is late in January electrified the oil world by getting a 50 barrel show at 4,695 feet, is again showing for a well.

When the casinghead was removed from the top of the casing in the Ramsey's number one state, into the northwest of the northwest of 27-5-5 following the building and equipping of a new derrick to replace the one burned down February 5, the oil that filled the hole began to slop over. Reports from Boise City say that the drillers were experiencing difficulty in replacing the cap.

CROOKED TEETH CAUSE ILL HEALTH

Why let your child grow up with teeth that are crooked? Some years ago it was necessary for people living in the vicinity of Lubbock to send their children's teeth to grow crooked or go to some distant city for the correcting necessary. Dr. Ferguson wishes to announce that all cases of this nature or disorders of what ever nature, can at this time be cared for successfully in his office. No trouble to answer questions and a pleasure to discuss your dental troubles with you.

W. Cross; Howell for Magill; Williams for Smiley; Pearce for R. Cross; and Sone for Carter. Timeouts—Plainview 1. Referee—Beakley (Texas Tech). Timer—Noles (Simmons).

Wellman Swamps Buffs

Wellman again carried away a victory and entered into the semi-finals by taking an easy game with the Buffs of Stanton with a final score of 32 to 8. Taking the game over the Stanton quint forced the Wellman crew to do battle with the Plainview Bulldogs in the semi-finals. In the same easy and smooth passing game that defeated the Lubbock high school Westerners in the first rounds was the way the Terry county representatives found their way to victory.

T. Ragdale, scoring cog of the Wellman offense machine, looped enough sinkers to count a victory over the Stanton luffs himself by flipping the basket with six field sinkers for a total of 22 points. A most peculiar and very interesting feature of the Wellman organization is the fact there are no outstanding players on the team but all rank alike. If one should attempt to select a member of the Terry county champions as the most outstanding man of the team it would be a very difficult problem.

Ralls-Littlefield

The lads of the "Procy" Lovvorn crew went into battle with a grim determination to plunge further into the meet of the South Plains high school basket ball team and fough their way to the semi-finals by defeating the Littlefield Wildcats with a score of 22 to 18 yesterday afternoon at the Texas Tech assembly hall floor. With a dazzling passing formation, and with distant sinkers the Ralls lads forged into a comfortable lead over the Wildcats and retained it throughout the last period when the "Dad" Noles fired the shot for victory for the Crosby county entry.

Smith, captain and pivot man of the Jackrabbits, demonstrated rare action in handling the basket ball. He sunk four field goals and two free tosses to top the field in scoring laurels of the game with a total registration of ten points. King, forward for the Rabbits, found the basket for counters and assisted in piling up a lead over the Littlefield crew.

Powell Stars

Powell, rinky built guard of the Ralls club, was the big factor of the Lovvorn defense. Frequently the sorrel top guard smeared the offensive drives of the Littlefield team and turned the course of the ball back to his team. Miller, Wildcat guard, exhibited one of the most spectacular defense demonstrations shown during the annual basket ball gathering. In a most clean and quick manner, Miller would stubbornly break into the Rabbit offense attempts.

Baze, leader of the "LFD" outfit, found his rabbit foot was gone, and that since he was battling against the Ralls Jackrabbits, his little hopes were in store for his team and by far backed the punch and fight shown by him during the game of the first round when he led his Cats to a spury victory over the Lamesa Torvades.

Southland-Floydada

Staging a rally in the last minute of play the Southland cagers fought frantically to victory over the husky Whitebird aggregation and overcame a lead with enough sinkers to win the battle from the wearers of the Green and White. The final score was 29 to 26. With less than a minute to play, and the game tied, the little Southerners clung the sphere through the iron ring for three additional points to enter the semi-finals against the Ralls Jackrabbits.

Hard, fleet forward for the Southland quintet, was plenty warm against the Whitebirds and drew down scoring honors for the afternoon with four goals and as many free chances. The height and high passing of the Whitebirds baffled the Southland crew throughout three quarters of the game. It was not until the latter part of the last session that the Garza county representatives were able to work the ball to their goal, but suddenly

DAILY MARKET

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Trading in the cotton market today appeared to be almost entirely restricted to the liquidation of the March contracts and evening up of small commitments in later deliveries. Small orders were evenly divided and fluctuations were correspondingly narrow, the price of May deliveries ranging from 14.00 to 14.85 and closing at 14.01. The general market closed steady, at net declines of 5 to 11 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 4 to 8 points under selling which seemed to come partly from the south and from local sources. The decline was the effect of the March notices expected next week, together with that of the President's action on the farm relief bill, seemed to restrict fresh business and the market was quiet enough to suggest that speculative accounts had been fairly well evened up earlier in the week.

March liquidation was again readily absorbed by purchases of later months without much change in the discount as compared with other oil crop deliveries. There was also some price fixing in March, local brokers bid, and a little trade buying in later deliveries, which, with covering, was sufficient to absorb week end liquidation. March sold off from 13.55 to 13.77 and October from 14.50 to 14.42. The close was within a point or two of the lowest.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 19 (AP)—Cotton prices were fairly active in Saturday's short session and at the close showed losses of 10 to 12 points for the day. Less favorable Liverpool cables, liquidation in advance of the first notice day in March and fears that President Coolidge will veto the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill recently passed by congress kept prices on the decline. At the high March (Simmons).

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 19 (AP)—Wheat closed down today at the last after showing unusual steadiness. Snow at numerous points in Kansas including some in the western section were bearish factors near the close. Final quotations on wheat were unsettled at the same as yesterday in S. S. can basis, with corn unchanged at 12 1/2 to 1 1/2 cent higher, oats at a shade to 1-3 1/2 cent advance, and provisions varying from a shade decline to a rise of 15 cents.

COTTON GOODS

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Cotton goods markets were firm today. Printing wash goods and regular patterns were in active demand. Larger business was reported on tissues and ginghams. Raw silk was higher and now 20 cents a pound up from the low point of the year. Silk goods were in better demand this week. Burlap markets were steady. Linens were firmer in primary market.

Wool

BOSTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Wool sales are rather slow and spotty. Business continues to be distributed to some extent over all grades of domestic wool, but trading is more settled on fine and half blood grades. The finer grades of territory, Ohio, Michigan and Missouri wools, have sales of moderate to small quantities. Prices steady and firm on all standard descriptions of domestic lines.

OIL

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—The statement of Houston Oil company of Texas and the Houston Pipeline company for 1926 shows net profit of $2,276,891 against $1,350,326 the year before. This was equal after preferred dividends to $6.77 a share on the common, in contrast to $2.25 a share in 1925.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Cottonseed oil was active today, but some were reactionary under realizing and hedge selling, with closing prices unchanged to 7 points lower. Sales 16,300 barrels. Prime crude 3.50; prime summer yellow spot 3.30; March closed 3.25; May 3.05; July 2.84; September 2.65.

COFFEE

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Coffee futures were quiet, but steadier today, prices advancing on reports of a firmer tone in Rio and covering by recent sellers. May sold up from 12.90 to 12.95 and after opening unchanged to 19 points higher. The market closed 11.25, January 11.30, at net advance of 10 to 20 points. Estimated sales 26,000 bags. Closing quotations: March 13.75, May 13.65, July 12.50; September 11.75; December 11.25.

NEW REFINING INVENTION, NOW USED NEAR LITTLEFIELD, MAY CHANGE THE ENTIRE GINNING PLAN FOR COTTON

Small piece of assembled machine, which, installed ready for action, weighs only about 2,000 pounds, is destined to almost completely revolutionize the cotton industry, not only of this state but the entire South. If it proves out under tests which now being publicly conducted for the first time, will mean not only a saving to the farmer, but more economical production of cotton.

The machine is known as the Williams Independent Durr Extractor, which according to its name, is attached to gin machinery separate and apart from the stands. It is now on public test at the Taylor Gin company, which is located adjacent to the highway about eight miles this side of Littlefield. It was erected at the gin about a week ago, and not only has served to speed up the gin, but is giving a much better turnout and better grade of staple than before it was installed.

Handles Rough Cotton
It is designed especially to handle burred and studded cotton, removing foreign matter, including dirt and burrs and stalks, from the cotton before it reaches the gin stands. A machine has been the dream of ginners over the South for many years, especially has such been wanted in the Plains the past year when ginners gathered the cotton almost entirely with sleds.

Designers and manufacturers of this new piece of equipment are now working only on a smaller piece of equipment that is similar in many ways to that which can be attached to a gin in the field, to be used in extracting the foreign matter from the cotton as it goes onto the sled, by the weight of haul to the gin and the galls and burrs left on the field for fertilization. However, has not by any manner perfected.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the Texas Technological College, delivered to the teachers of the Lubbock City schools at their regular meeting yesterday, one of the most interesting and inspirational addresses of the year on "Teaching How To Think."

Works Like Gin Stand
The machine is similar in every way to the regular gin stand. It has a conveyor so arranged that it is fed constantly into the saws and are so arranged that the whole is taken through. Instead of heavy rib and brush as found on regular gin saws, the machine is equipped with a revolving rib and which throws the stalks, burrs, and such as the cotton takes the saws, which is a saw brush that removes the whole staple and seal into conveyor to the gin stands.

Grade is Improved
In addition to this, the removal of burr from the foreign matter from the cotton before it reaches the stands, gives a much better turnout and a higher grade of staple. The staple is proved from one to two grades, depending on whether or not the staple is cleaned before it is ginned. A high grade staple of cotton run through a cleaner in the burl is enhanced in value at least two grades, it was said.

Apparently the sledging method of ginning has come to be a permanent feature on the Plains farms, and with the machine measuring up to claims made for it, there is no reason why sledging method should not result in a method which is much more economical than either picking or ginning.

Plans are already under way to be manufacturing of the new extractor the Williams Machine and Supply company, of Lubbock, Texas, where the machine cleaner is now being manufactured. Designs for first turnout of plant are now being drawn, and distribution offices for the machine-Plains will be maintained in Lubbock, Mr. Williams said.

Exes Will Banquet March 2
The annual banquet of the ex-students association of the Texas University will be held at the cafeteria on Tech college campus here the night of March 2. It was announced Saturday by E. L. Klett, president of the association. All ex-students of the university who have moved to this territory recently and have not aligned themselves with the association are invited to communicate with Mr. Klett, especially if they intend to attend the banquet. He said he must know not later than next Saturday how many will be in attendance.

Old record book just discovered in Pine Bluff, Ark., shows the first rthouse there cost $1,900 in 1839.

Lubbock-London Phone Service Opens Monday

Beginning at 7:30 a. m. Monday, February 21, trans-oceanic telephone service connecting Texas points with the British Isles will be inaugurated, it was announced by T. A. White, local manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company Saturday following receipt of a telegram from the division commercial superintendent.

Ex-Governor Will Banquet March 2

The annual banquet of the ex-students association of the Texas University will be held at the cafeteria on Tech college campus here the night of March 2. It was announced Saturday by E. L. Klett, president of the association. All ex-students of the university who have moved to this territory recently and have not aligned themselves with the association are invited to communicate with Mr. Klett, especially if they intend to attend the banquet. He said he must know not later than next Saturday how many will be in attendance.

Lost

This is Billy Gaffney, 4-year-old Brooklyn child, who is lost and for whom all of New York is searching. When he disappeared February 12 he wore a gray blouse, brown knickers, black shoes and stockings and no hat or coat. He has blue eyes, light complexion, dark reddish-brown hair and weighed forty pounds.

More homes are broken up when the husband takes his bride to the home of his people than when they go to live with his wife's parents, Judge H. W. McLaughlin observes after 21 years in Tennessee courts.

PHONE BUILDING OPENING TUESDAY

SOUTHWESTERN BELL INVITES ALL CITIZENS TO VIEW ITS NEW AND MODERN PLANT

The Southwestern Bell Telephone company will formally open its new home here to the public next Tuesday, February 22, T. A. White, local manager, announced Saturday. Doors will be open between 3:30 and 9:30 p. m., refreshments will be served and music will be included in the entertainment program, it was said.

The building has been occupied by the company here for the past several months, but never has been formally opened, and next Tuesday the public will be escorted through all departments, and shown the inside workings of a feature of the commercial world of which very little is known by the average man or woman.

Modern Building
The new home is located in Broadway just across the street from the First Methodist church, and is one of the most commodious office buildings of its class in this part of the state. It was erected especially for the purpose.

Equipment is all of the latest type, new throughout, and includes various automatic devices that make for a much improved service. Connections affecting about 2,500 individual telephones in the city, were cut over last fall from the old equipment to the new building, and so accurately had plans been made, and the minutest details attended to in connection with the cutover, that very few people in the city were aware of the change except through newspapers.

The formal opening has been delayed in an effort of the company to have every minor detail in first class condition, and the general public has been invited to inspect the plant at some time during the opening on Tuesday.

MOVES HIS OFFICES

Dr. Lester P. Smith, of the Lubbock sanitarium staff, has moved his offices from the Bush building to the First National bank building, he said yesterday. Dr. Smith, son of Ben F. Smith, of Blanton, former West Texas Newspaperman, has been in Lubbock about a year.

The Woman's Day By Allene Summer

It's very bad business from a beautiful movie star's viewpoint to have her public told that her beauty is manufactured and that she was not born that way.

THOSE CHAPLIN BABIES! The idea of such an insult! Sending her $100 a week for the support of two babies? This is the disgusting way of life Gray Chaplin, whose attorneys announce that the $100 checks sent by papa Charlie will not be cashed and cashed so including they are merely scraps of paper those $100-a-week checks!

TWIN INSURANCE If you are a progressive-minded as you should be, you will take out twin and triple insurance. It's being offered. Cute little policies are written at a very reasonable premium to offset the calamity of a double or triple dose of offspring.

honoring Miss Ella Norine O'Neill, Who Is Leaving This Week to Continue Studies in North, Bridge Party Given etting her sister, Miss Ella Norine O'Neill, who is leaving this week to continue studies in dramatic art and related subjects, Miss Nancy O'Neill entertained with a delightful bridge party Friday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Neill. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. R. D. Benson.

Tables were arranged in the sun porch and living room of the home. The patriotic theme of the occasion was reflected in the decorations and in the refreshments. The salad pink and blue were the predominant colors in the favors.

Miss Ella Norine O'Neill, winner of top honors in the dramatic department of the Grand Rapids, Mich., contest, will visit friends before enrolling in the Bonstelle school of dramatic art in Detroit. She expects to continue her work for a degree there before returning to her home.

Guests were Mesdames B. C. Kimson, O. L. Slaton, F. R. Crandall, Robert Maxwell, Rankin Dow, M. L. Keene, Kenneth I. Kimbro, R. S. Vandall, James Goodman, Harold Griffith, Miss Ella Norine O'Neill, Blanche Conroy, Ruth Slaton, Virginia Conroy, Jennie Jennings, Lula Elkins, Blanche R. TRIBUTE TO A FRIEND

MRS. ELLEN PERKINS It is a very sad moment to speak of the death of one that is so young, yet it is a gracious privilege to write about such a life as hers. She was only 35 years of age when she died, but she had lived a life of true character and high ideals. Her death is a great loss to her family and to the community. Her memory will be long and fondly remembered.

Those Hips

A Knee-Lifter For Flesh That Won't Come Off

"Others Lord, yet others, Let this my motto be— Help me to live for OTHERS. That I may live like Thee."

I do not think that she had an enemy in this wide world, and if she did, she loved them for the flaming fire of a wonderful love ever burning on the altar of her heart. Her friends are limited only by her acquaintance, for to know her, was to admire and love her. Her splendid devotion to her church, her pastor and her Sunday school class, was almost without a parallel. The interest in and love for her relatives, was beautiful and sublime.

With sad hearts within, and tender loving hands without, we laid her body to rest in the City of Silence, and now we pray that God's sweet flowers will ever bloom near her shrine, and that His winds will blow softly and gently over the garden mound where she so sweetly sleeps. Farewell for only a season, my friend, Oh, thou gentle, loving, conquering Heroine of God—farewell.

Gently the morning sunlight Touched the horizon's bar, Reaching the sea eternal, Lighting the land afar. And down the gold-beams slanting Like a pathway to the sky, On a vista of head— Through the gateway bright, SHE passed to the radiant on high.

W. C. RYLANDER, Lubbock, Texas.

Birthday Party Given At C. H. Smith Home Yesterday

With games and contests and the excitement of cutting the birthday cake, a group of children attended a birthday party given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. C. H. Smith and R. S. Williams at the home of the former, 2205 10th Street. Honorees were Eloise Smith, 11 years of age, and Edward Williams, 9.

Pink and white were colors used in decorations and found again in the refreshments of birthday cake and gelatine. Mrs. Gus Matthews assisted in directing the games. Guests were Eloise Smith, Edward Williams, Ole Robinson, Mildred Cook, Grace Palmer, Yvonne and Tom Pridoux, Frances Dawson, Ruth and Helen Wagner, Helen Neal, Ardelle, Monroe and Ladine Barland, Sarah Sue Stewart, Maxine Burrus, Mary Fern Paddy, Frances Campbell, Keo Will Palmer, Mike and R. J. Murray, Jr., Freddie Maddox, Irene and Kathleen James, Mary Wilson, Jack Moxley, Edward Leddigh and Wallace Hawkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barely are expecting as their guests today, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. McMillan, of Plainview.

Recd for NEA Service by Carol Crouse

BY NINON For NEA Service

The question put to me most frequently by beauty seekers is this: "How can I part, amply or otherwise, with my hips?" And my answer is that the initiative will have to be exercised by you, and you will get rid of them without considerable effort. There is nothing a hip hates more than hard work, and if you make it work, it will naturally leave. Here is an exercise that I recommend for getting rid of flesh below the waist. Raise your right knee until it touches your chest, or comes as close to touching as it will. Then walk across the room, doing this exercise as you go, and keep it up until you are tired. This pulls and exercises those lazy muscles that have very little to do and consequently invite the flesh to settle down and multiply. When you are tired of this particular position, lie flat on the floor, then raise the knees to the chest, then kick upward and let the legs stretch down flat to the floor, under control. Besides attacking fat cells, this exercise is an excellent one for the spine and for the symmetrical development of the legs.

CHURCHES

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Corner 14th Street and Avenue N
Rev. Jack M. Lewis, Pastor
You wouldn't like to spend all your life on a merry-go-round—because it does not get you anywhere. But a road always takes you somewhere. The road of Christian service leads to life eternal. It is open to all. Why not come with others who are trying—though none is perfect—to follow Christ in that road? If you have no other church home we invite you to be our guest today.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Corner Ave. O and 10th St.
Rev. K. I. Ingram, Pastor
Sunday school at 9:45 a. m., Homer E. Bonds, superintendent.
Fellowship at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. Members of the church are expected to be in their place.
Visitors welcome.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
16th St. and Ave. J
Man is by nature a religious being. He has always been possessed with the conviction of a God above him, a soul within him and an eternity before him. This yearning after God is the deepest element in his nature. And thus being endowed with this natural longing for the friendship of the Divine Being, man through the centuries has sought ways and means of meeting his Lord; for a living soul must needs have its trusting hours with God.

So now you have an engagement today at your church, and a glorious opportunity to meet your Lord in worship and prayer. The door of every church in our city will swing open to welcome you, enter the one of your choice and worship the Lord with your fellows in the beauty of holiness.
Our Bible school meets at 9:45 a. m., with Harold H. Griffith as superintendent. Our school is growing. If you are not already in some Sunday school, we shall be glad to have you visit ours, and if you like become a regular attendant.

The pastor will have for his sermon theme at 11:00 a. m., "The Master of Humanity."
The Junior and Intermediate Endeavor societies meet at 6:00 p. m.
The Senior Endeavors meet at 6:30 p. m.
At 7:30 p. m. the pastor will speak to the theme: "The Supreme Position."
The orchestra and the choir will furnish special music at each service.
We extend to you a personal invitation to all our services—if you are a stranger in the city you have a very special invitation. "I was glad when they said unto me let us go into the House of the Lord."
Rev. W. P. Jennings, Pastor.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Ave. M and Broadway
Rev. E. E. White, Pastor
"How to Spend Your Money" will be the subject of the second of the series of three "Practical Sermons for Practical People" at the evening hour at First Methodist church.
At the morning service, the pastor will use as his subject, "The Unchanging Plan of God." Let us make this a day of worship.

Sunday school opens its program at 9:30. Visitors in the city and your friends should be invited to accompany you to these services.

FIRST CHRISTIAN C. E. PROGRAM
Russell Brown will lead the meeting, "Our Duty As Christian Citizens." (Isa. 62:6-12)

Out-of-town people admitted to local banquets yesterday for treatment included: A. R. Clark, of MORGENTHAU, New Mexico; Thomas Madden, of Slaton and Mrs. Etta Goin, of Crosbyton.

Concert Given Friday Evening by Music Club Success

The public program given Friday evening by members of the Lubbock Music club at the First Methodist church was a success according to the few hundred music-lovers who gathered for the evening and members of the club, who yesterday expressed satisfaction with the reception given them. This was one of a series of public programs to be given by these musicians during this year, others to follow at intervals.

A chorus, "Mothers of the World," with individuals singing arduous songs of various countries, wearing representative costumes, was one of the most popular numbers, and the negro song, "Little Pickaninny Kid" (Gulon) sung by Mrs. Frank Barclay with little Lorena Ely Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Alexander, representing the child, proved the best liked in this series.

Mrs. Jed A. Rix accompanied all numbers given by the chorus, an organization within the club, with Mrs. Cal Scoggin as director.

The program opened with "The Snow" (Eggar), by the chorus with violin obligato by Misses Annie Owens and Ruth Dunn, and the next number was a two-piano selection played by Misses Daisy Baskin and Margaret Huff. It was "Andante" by Schumann. Mrs. Mamie I. Neal and Miss Mary Dunn played an organ and piano duet, "Pastorale" by Gounod, and other songs were sung by the chorus. Another two-piano piece was played by Mesdames A. W. McKee and R. D. Moxley.

Those singing the cradle songs were Miss Graham representing the Scotch; Mrs. G. N. Atkinson, representing the Chilean; Mrs. I. F. Holland, Japanese; Mrs. Elmer Stotts, American and Mrs. Barclay, negro. Sixteen women composed the chorus as follows: Mesdames Atkinson, Harry E. Blocker, R. F. Cook, L. R. Gamble, Raymond George, I. F. Holland, Jack M. Lewis, A. W. McKee, Ed O'Sullivan, Elmer Stotts and Misses Daisy Baskin, Fern High, Eula McCorkle, Louise Ocker, Mary Louise Graham and Sarah Williams.

Mesdames T. E. Butler and Nell Bone, of Fort Worth, and Mrs. J. H. Gambrell, of Dallas, have returned to their homes after being called here by the death of Mrs. Ellen E. Perkins. Mrs. W. R. Spencer, with whom they have spent the week, is leaving this week for Brownwood, Fort Worth and other points for a visit.

Society Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Dockray are spending the week-end in Amarillo.

Senior B. Y. P. U. organizations of the First Baptist church will be in charge of the service, there this evening.

Mrs. Fred Cockrell, of Atlanta, Ga., is expected to arrive today for a visit with her mother, Mrs. E. M. Jones.

Mrs. Richard L. Douglas has had her father, C. C. Hoffmann, of Slaton, as a guest for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Porter have returned from near Brownwood where they were called last Monday by the death of her mother. They live at 2204 10th street.

Ralph Bedford has been ill with the flu for about 10 days.

Mrs. J. P. Wiles, of Olton, was in Lubbock yesterday, visiting her two daughters, Misses Thelma and Juanita Wiles, Tech students.

The Weekly Book Review

Wedlock, by Jacob Wasserman, Boni and Liveright, publishers. $2.50. The title of this book, although exactly fitting, leads the reader to classify it erroneously as another of those widely heralded "piles of cross-sections of modern life" of which so many are now published.

"Wedlock" should not be classified. It does what these other books probably attempt to do; it throws a strong and what seems to be an authentic light on a room which is dark and cluttered with ancient things; things over which society stumbles in a darkness it is afraid to dispense.

Jacob Wasserman is an Austrian, and this is spoken of at the fifth of his books, and as "the sensation of Europe." It will probably not be a sensation in America; for, wise as it is, rich in human understanding and sympathy and in accurate observation as it is, and although its truth is presented through arresting characters in a dramatic plot; it has not the speciousness nor the salaciousness which frequently sets the American people to eagerly discussing "radical" books.

Mrs. E. E. Brown, of Floydada, was a shopper in Lubbock yesterday.

Mesdames Hailey and W. E. Stimson Are Hostesses

Mrs. E. E. Hailey and Mrs. W. E. Stimson were hostesses Thursday evening at Mrs. Hailey's home, 1619 Main Street, complimenting Mrs. Steve Edsall, with a shower. Fruit salad, lady fingers and tea were served to Mesdames A. W. Evans, William Dingus, W. T. Raybon, C. E. Moreman, H. W. Broughton, O. A. Terry, Fred H. Childress, C. A. Gammill, L. R. Gamble, Nolan Whitlow, H. D. Stanley, Paul Hardwick, J. A. Philippa, Jr., Raymond George, J. B. Galland and Misses Alma Grainger, Velma White, Frances Wilson and Tyler Lee Knight.

Club Meets With Mr. and Mrs. Fred Childress

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Childress entertained the Merry Twenty-Four club Friday evening at their new home, 2216 15th street with four tables of bridge. Fruit salad, angel food cake and spiced tea were served at the close of a pleasant evening and small batches were favors. E. E. Hailey and Mrs. Clayton Gammill made top scores.

Guests were Mesdames O. A. Terry, E. E. Swindell, W. T. Raybon, Clayton Gammill, F. E. Hall, H. W. Broughton, T. H. Carter and Earl Moore.

Mrs. John Conner and daughters, Misses Margaret and Elizabeth Conner, visited in Lorenzo yesterday.

Marble Time Calls to Lubbock Youth

In the Spring a young man's fancy turns to marble. What was it that the poet said a young man's fancy turned to in the Spring? Well, anyway, in Lubbock, it's marbles for the young, young men. Every vacant lot, back alley and front yard is being utilized by the youngsters for participation in the favorite outdoor Spring game—marbles. Lubbock's boys are playing marbles. Their every minute is being devoted to the game, either in thought or participation. And Lubbock mothers are preparing for the campaign and double patches are being applied to trousers. Even dad is asked for small change so that the youngster may buy marbles. Marbles of all sizes, colors and denominations are appearing in the scores. Marbles are taking Lubbock. But what's more, they'll find some trouble worn out trousers and probably bankrupt conditions among the youngsters and other forms of amusement will be pursued. But right now the fancy of the young fellow is turned to marbles.

MILITIA BATTERY LEASES ARMORY

LOCAL UNIT OF NATIONAL GUARD TO OFFICE IN JACKSON BUILDING, AVE. G

Announcement was made yesterday by Lt. H. Hadgriffith, commander of the Battery C, of the 121st Field Artillery, of the leasing of the A. W. Jackson building on Avenue G, as the armory for local unit during the next three years. Contract was closed for the lease last week by Capt. Lynn Boyd, of Austin, who spent several days here looking over various propositions.

To Be Complete
The building is at present occupied by the Wills-Knight people, but they are to move to a new location on Avenue G. The new armory will be one of the most complete in the state. Lieutenant Hadgriffith said yesterday, having rooms on every phase of the work except an swimming pool and a few minor units. The front of the building is to be remodeled and store rooms, office rooms and a club room maintained there. The rear of the building will be built so as to accommodate a basketball court, small gym equipment lockers and showers and an indoor pistol range. The stables for the horses will remain in their old place at the fair grounds.

Near Future
The change is to be made in the near future, Griffith said. The present armory is located on Avenue J. Griffith said that an extensive campaign was being planned for the unit in which strenuous work will be done by the boys. More than seventy men comprise the company now, one drill being made each week. The unit will leave here sometime in July for a camp in south Texas where two weeks will be spent in regular army work.

Local Firm to Open Office in Abilene

Carl Scoggin, of the firm of Ferguson and Scoggin, 213 Leader building, left yesterday for Abilene where another office of the firm will be opened. Mr. Scoggin will have charge of the office and Ferguson will remain as manager here. The company deals in loans, having built up a good business in this territory. Lubbock will be considered as the main office.

Legion Men Go to Sweetwater Today

With the district convention of the American Legion for 1928 in view for Lubbock, eight members of the local post will leave for Sweetwater, this morning at five o'clock where they will attend a district convention. E. D. Rame, commander of the post here, said last night that the man planned to bring the meet here for 1928 and would make a strong bid for the place. The Lubbock men composing the party are: A. C. Jackson, F. D. Rupe, post commander, C. L. (Al) Lincoln, H. D. Woods, Amos Howard, Homer Pharr, J. A. Raley and W. C. Caudel.

Clara Bow Swings Mean Jaw Wallop

Clara Bow's ability with her fists almost ended disastrously when a well-planted upper-cut on Jacqueline Gadsden's jaw rendered the latter hors d'combat during the filming of a scene for Miss Bow's first Paramount starring vehicle, "It," which comes to the Palace Theatre Wednesday. In the photograph, written by Elinor Glyn, Miss Bow is required to save Jacqueline from drowning by knocking her unconscious and then dragging her ashore. Miscellaneous her ability, she gave Miss Gadsden a hard punch. The latter uttered a gasping "Oh!" and went limp. A rowboat standing by for emergencies was quickly put into service and the two pulled aboard. Clarence Badger directed "It." Antonio Moreno is featured.

Kaffir To Cover West Texas Area

STAMFORD, Feb. 19.—Numerous fields of West Texas farmers will be dotted with green of Black Hill Kaffir this year, according to indications at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce office here. Recently the regional organization announced that it would distribute free of charge except for cost of mailing, 125 sacks of pure bred Black Kaffir raised at the Lubbock Experiment Station to interested farmers in its territory.

CLUB WORK SHOWS GAIN IN COUNTY

FULL TIME OF AGENT OCCUPIED BY 27 CLUBS IN COUNTY UNDER ORGANIZATION

Organized club activity under Miss Hazel Hammer, Lubbock county home demonstration agent, has reached the point that almost the entire time of the agent now is occupied by organized activity. 27 clubs are active in the county, and Miss Hammer is called upon to attend from one to three and four meetings each day of the week. Some of the clubs have reached the stage, however, that they are able to go on with the outlined work in the absence of Miss Hammer, but there are other places in the county at which clubs are yet not organized. Some of these points are now seeking to organize.

Miss Hammer spent last Thursday at Estacado, at present unorganized, where women leaders in the community were given a demonstration in canning beef. About ten adults were present. Friday was spent with girls and women at New Hope and Posey, where clubs are organized and very active. Girls' clubs at both places were given a lesson in the required sewing course—cutting. The women's club at Posey met in the home of Mrs. J. N. Sisk, with seven present. The lesson was on kitchen improvement. Miss Hammer displayed a can of home made varnish, and demonstrated its usefulness by applying it to a small stick of wood. Ladies of the club also have organized a benefit association, whereby they exchange various kinds of plants and cuttings, and vegetable and flower seed.

Real Estate Board Discusses Paving

The Lubbock real estate board, meeting at 7:45 o'clock Friday night at the chamber of commerce offices, heard as the principal item on the program a talk by James H. Goodman, an affiliated member, in which Judge Goodman mentioned the importance of having owners of two lots on streets to be paved sign a mechanical lien on each lot. There was general discussion of paving problems and Ben and Klett, counsel for the board, ruled on several legal questions in that respect. Fifteen local business men were visitors. Several new members were accepted.

A SURE DWELLING PLACE:—Trust in the Lord and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed. Psalm 37:3.

PRAYER:—O, we give thanks unto the Lord; for He is good; for His mercy endureth forever.

POSSIBLY WE UNCONSCIOUSLY BECOME CLANNISH

As we move along down the highway of time, there are many things that we observe, some attract attention, others go by unnoticed; and some we merely observe, and give little heed to. In noticing the building of towns, we see the difference in people, and we have concluded too that there is just as much difference in towns as there are in people.

members of our churches. They take an active part in our civic affairs. They are good citizens. But, according to the new philosophy that is being preached these people were not really entitled to these positions because they were not "Home Men and Women."

We do not think it best to set down any iron-clad rules either way. If there are home men who can fill the places of engineers, of city managers, of paving contractors of public officials, bank presidents, cashiers, teachers, etc., they should have the consideration of those who have the power to employ, but on the other hand if these qualifications cannot be found within our population, then we say bring someone else here and fill the place.

AUTOMOBILE FIGURES

Statistics are generally rather dry reading, but occasionally we run across some figures which are really interesting. Such are contained in a recent statement of a national automobile organization. At least they were interesting to us, and we feel that they will also be interesting to our readers.

It is reported that a new Juarez has been opened in Lubbock. It is on the corner of 13th and Ave. I. Marble is the principal game. It is reported that automobile smash-ups are on the increase.

ARE YOU GOING TO LET THE "BIG GUNS" GET THIS?

One thing the little investor or speculator should keep in mind about the Yellowhouse No. 1 oil test near PEP and that is: if it was ABSOLUTELY a cinch that oil would be struck in paying quantities—the little man wouldn't have a CHANCE IN THE WORLD to buy leases near it! The ONLY reason YOU can buy leases now at a very reasonable figure is because of the element of chance involved. Mr. Little Man, read that over!

Why are the "Big Guns" Turning their Attention to this Test?

Isn't it logical to believe the more interest shown by the MOST successful oil operators in a well is indicative of the lessening of that element of chance? Doesn't it indicate their belief in the well's success?

Making Known the Mysteries!

Drilling now at a depth of over 3,600 feet in hard lime, the bit biting farther down—down into the mysterious unknown bowels of the earth—doubt will soon be removed by this pioneer South Plains' test—the Yellowhouse No. 1, near PEP.

No one can tell for sure—for no one has ever done so—just what minute the drill bit of this test will strike liquid gold. No one can tell if EVER this shall be done. For one thing sure, though, the man who gave orders for the drilling to continue knows the opportunity is great in this test—for he is one of the most successful deep well operators in the Southwest! Mention his name among the "Big Guns" of the oil fraternity and you get their attention. He's spending his money on this test—money that he has made by other like tests. The mysteries of the South Plains' geology are fast becoming known and this test will remove the element of chance to an extent that if the well is a producer the little man is out—gone for! Too late, will be his wail!

LEASE OPPORTUNITIES

We sincerely believe that the average man of this section can well afford to buy leases near this Yellowhouse test. Around the thriving, growing community of PEP—just four miles from the test—we have lease opportunities to offer that we believe are unusual. The prices are so reasonable—the conditions under which they may be bought so attractive, that we feel you are certainly losing out if you don't at least come in and talk with us about them. Won't you do that? Tomorrow—next day or soon? You'll never get rich holding your own.

Shattered Hopes

In every section of the great southwest you see living evidence of people who were afraid to take a chance. One of the most pitiful sights on earth are those people living in sections where oil has been found, who by their fear, failed to enjoy the bounteous rewards of these finds—and let the big oil companies grow richer right at their doors, under their "nose". Will this be another such spectacle—?

The minute the drill bit strikes paying oil in the Yellowhouse test—just that minute will be another story of shattered hopes—of opportunities lost! "'Tis better to have tried and failed than to never have tried"—a saying as true today as ever.

HOLDING YOUR OWN

There's little consolation for the ambitious man with a few hundred dollars in "holding his own." Lots of people, by not taking chances, seem to hold their own and remain in poverty throughout a life-time. The man who accumulates great wealth takes chances! You can ask your banker or any other successful student of acquiring great wealth and they will tell you this is so.

Why not give this most important South Plains' oil test a genuine investigation? Why not invest a small amount in the opportunity that it presents?

REMEMBER HENSHAW! HE TOOK A CHANCE—AND THE TEXAS COMPANY PAID HIM TWO MILLION DOLLARS FOR IT.

FLOYD COUNTY CLAIMS CHAMPIONSHIP CANNER OF UNITED STATES IN MRS. G. C. COLLINS OF SANDHILL

FLOYD COUNTY, Feb. 19.—Canning 3,755 containers or 2,820 quarts of vegetables, fruits and meats is the record made by Mrs. G. C. Collins of the Sandhill community, seven miles west of Florida, in this record Mrs. Collins canned fifty-one different varieties of foodstuffs. She is the champion canner of Floyd county and that county believes that she is the United States champion.

Visitors from all parts of the South Plains have exclaimed in wonder when viewing Mrs. Collins' cellar, where she has all her products. This cellar is only nine by sixteen feet but is lined on each side with shelves of canned products. The cellar resembles a well kept grocery store. In the center is a four-shelf cabinet which contains all glass containers. The name of each product is listed just below each shelf and all that is necessary to select a dinner fit for any occasion is just about ten minutes time. All foods are cooled ready to serve. Mrs. Collins built the shelves herself and did all the canning with a steam pressure cooker and canner. The only help she had was a negro woman who did the washing and ironing. All the vegetables were raised from a fourth-acre garden plot measured off to meet the requirements of the contest sponsored by the home demonstration clubs of which Mrs. Collins is a member.

What She Canned

Included in her list of canning Mrs. Collins has the following number of containers each: 450 tomatoes, 200 wheat, 233 corn, 225 of sweet potatoes, 325 of hominy, 110 black eyed peas, 120 carrots, 110 of turnip greens, 128 wax beans, 22 pork roast, 23 soup stock, 42 beet pickles, 25 grape juice, 56 soup mixtures, 31 beef roast and numerous other good edibles.

In addition to her unexpected canning record, Mrs. Collins found time to raise 40 young chickens, worked her flower garden, cooked for hired hands and raised canary birds. Though the last named was done for pleasure and she realized a profit from the sale of the birds of $25.

Though Mr. and Mrs. Collins have never been farmers of diversification they have always practiced it and as a result have one of the best farm homes in Floyd county. While Mrs. Collins has always had an enviable record for her club work, Mr. Collins has found time to raise a few hogs.

Tom's Choice

Evans Woolen

Prohibition shouldn't be made an issue in the next presidential race and Evans Woolen of Indianapolis should be Democracy's 1928 standard-bearer, says Tom Taggart, Democratic chairman. Woolen is a Yale graduate and a banker. He ran for the Senate last year and lost.

Keep a few dairy cows, plant a little cotton, feed and wheat. They always find time to help in the building of their community which is recognized as the liveliest community of any county in West Texas.

Mill work in Bradford, England, have been losing so much time doing the Charleston that their employers are trying to devise some way of making the looms less musical.

Washington — The Deliverer

When America proclaimed its independence it became free in name only.

Bound by the steel bayonets of Cornwallis, hedged in by the Old Royalist sympathies—it remained for a Great Man to undertake the task of actually releasing the infant Nation from the physical and mental bonds that held it in the grip of the Mother Country.

The man arose! He accomplished his mission! He made America actually free! It is to the memory of this great deliverer—Washington—that we dedicate Tuesday, February 22, 1927.

Let us in turn try to follow his examples of courage and unselfishness—for America's sake!

AMERICA SPENT EIGHTEEN BILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN 1926 FOR MOTORING AND THAT BARS COMMERCIAL AUTOS!

BY ISRAEL KLEIN
Science Editor, NEA Service
 American motorists are participating in one of the greatest financial enterprises the world ever has experienced. Figured conservatively, on the basis of exact reports and authoritative estimates, the people of the United States spent at least $18,000,000,000 last year for automobiles and for the privilege of driving them.

What the actual value of this great industry may be, on the strength of this expenditure, would bring the figures so high that they would sound fantastic. The total would include amount of capital invested in automobile, parts, tires and related industries, capital put into garages, dealers' and distributors' businesses, money already spent for highways and for the machinery used in building more highways, and it would cover a rapidly increasing investment in the business motor bus transportation.

For one year's expenditure alone the total is dizzy enough. Here are the 1926 estimates:

Auto Output	$ 3,054,350,000
Tire output	870,000,000
Parts Output	653,000,000
Service	910,000,000
Busses	500,000,000
Freight	150,000,000
Taxes for the year	735,000,000
Maintenance	10,000,000,000
Highways	1,000,000,000

Very Conservative
 This makes a total of $17,976,950,000, which is the amount spent during 1926 in this country alone.

But some of the figures given are wholesale values. These include the auto output, the tire, parts and busses, and if these are considered on the basis of values to the driver, the total would run far above the $18,000,000,000 mark.

Total	10.27

This is for the composite car, the average of all the cars considered.

The largest figure shown, that of maintenance, is based on authoritative research and conclusions brought out recently at the Iowa State College, and on the statement of Henry F. Trumbower, economist of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

"An estimate of about $10,000,000,000 a year," says Trumbower, "covers the operating costs of the country's 20,000,000 motor vehicles. This is based on the average figures of 10 cents per mile and 5000 miles per year.

Billion for Highways
 The country's annual highway expenditures amount to about a billion dollars a year. Motor vehicle transportation involves an annual cost of about $11,000,000,000."

The figure given for maintenance in the former list of values includes, in part, some of the other items—such as tires and service. But only a minor part of each item can be included in this, because maintenance doesn't include tires and service for new cars, while the figures given are wholesale and almost balance the discrepancy.

The freight item covers cost of shipping cars and parts to and from factories and is based on a figure of more than $73,000,000 for freight charges of the General Motors Corporation alone. Plugging Ford and the other companies into the item, it easily mounts to the $100,000,000 estimate.

HUPP COMPANY IS GOING TOP SPEED

EVERY DEPARTMENT IS BEING CARRIED ON AT MAXIMUM CAPACITY, IS REPORT

DETROIT, Feb. 19.—Operations at the highest rate ever attained are now being carried out in every department of this company," says Duane Young, president of the Hupp Motor Corporation, in an interview just before he left for the Pacific coast.

"The wide acceptance by the public of the new Hupmobile eight and six cylinder models announced at recent automobile shows, together with the enthusiasm of our dealer organization, furnishes conclusive evidence that we still enjoy appreciable gains in both our six and eight cylinder divisions."

Mr. Young repeats that orders on and of February 1 amount to $14,000,000 an increase of more than 35 per cent for the same date last year. Shipments for January were 10 per cent larger than December. Any orders for the custom body cars recently added to the eight cylinder line are included in the February schedule. First starter sales are expected to exceed the largest quarter in the company's history, he said.

Order Break Records
 Several of our distributors in cities where the new Hupmobile models have been exhibited at the automobile shows report record breaking numbers of actual orders as a result of the show.

The Van Alstyne Motor Corporation, New York wired as follows:

"Results tabulated on New York and Brooklyn shows reveal at least a 50 per cent increase in sales and greater interest than ever before shown in Hupmobile exhibit. Dealers report from three to four times the number of persons coming to show rooms to see the new models and customers have already taken delivery of new cars. Look for the biggest year we have ever had. Despite 33 per cent increase in 1926 look for another 50 per cent increase this year."

That the same condition prevails in Brooklyn is evidenced from their wire. Annual Hupmobile retail sales during Brooklyn automobile show broke all previous records. Individual salesmen happy and pepped up over present and future outlook. Keep production at top speed or demand will far surpass supply.

"Buffalo also reports fine results from show."

Public interest in Hupmobile models since introduction of new six and eight models, sturdy and refinement of cars caused much favorable comment.

One Firm Now Worrying
 The Puller Automobile company of Cincinnati and Columbus do not seem to be worrying about the saturation limit. They telegraphed:

"Public interest in Hupmobile at the Cincinnati and Columbus automobile shows far beyond our most optimistic expectations. Retail sales are showing greatest in our history. Dealer in our territory enthusiastic as never before. All anticipate record year in Hupmobile."

Warrenton wires to release all February orders, giving complete confidence that they will exceed their increased quota for 1927. Cleveland, Chicago and Montreal had record number of actual sales at their automobile shows and expect to break all previous records. At the Chicago dealer meeting orders in excess of $3,278,000 were placed by dealers for delivery within 90 days.

"Reports such as these make it evident that our optimism is well founded and that the spirit of the factory extends throughout our field sales organization," continues Mr. Young.

"We have recently completed a re-organization and expansion of our manufacturing facilities resulting in an increase of output 50 per cent over the 1926 rate, and we are already proceeding at this larger rate."

GENERAL MOTORS VOTES DIVIDEND

EDGAR T. STRONG ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT OF BIG AUTO MANUFACTURING FIRM

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Directors of General Motors at their meeting recently declared on the common stock a quarterly dividend of $2 a share, placing the stock on an $8 basis, compared with $1.75 a share quarterly dividend of $2 a share, placing the stock on an $8 basis, compared with $1.75 a share quarterly of $7 a year during 1926. The dividend is payable March 12 to holders of record February 19. In addition the regular quarterly dividends were declared on the senior securities, payable May 2, stock of record April 9.

Edward T. Strong, general manager of the Buick division, was elected a vice president of the corporation. Walter S. Carpenter, Jr., vice president in charge of finance of E. I. duPont de Nemours & company was elected a director and member of the finance committee, membership in which was increased from 12 to 13 members. William A. Fisher, president of Fisher Body, was elected a vice president and director of General Motors.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president, announces that preliminary figures indicate that dealers' sales to ultimate consumers in the month of January were 80,000 cars and trucks against 73,000 cars and trucks in January last year, and that the corporation's sales to dealers were upward of Chevrolet and Pontiac cars account almost wholly for this large increase. Export sales in January were more than double those of a year ago.

'Home Beautiful' Plans Under Way

LOCKNEY, Feb. 19.—Lockney's "Home Beautiful" campaign, fostered by the chamber of commerce, is now well under way, and at this time it appears that more than 100 homes will be entered in the contest.

Women of this city are determined to beautify the city, and those who fall to enter the contest will be asked by the city council to clean and repair their premises.

Headlights At Top

Inventor Says Present System On Autos Is Continuation of Old Buggy Days

By NEA Service
CLEVELAND, Feb. 19.—Present methods of automobile headlighting is all wrong, and as long as we contemplate improving these lights in their present position, the system will remain all wrong.

With this conviction, Arthur B. Nock of this city has decided to tackle the problem in a revolutionary manner. He has stripped the car of its headlights at the front, and devised a double-light to be placed directly above the windshield.

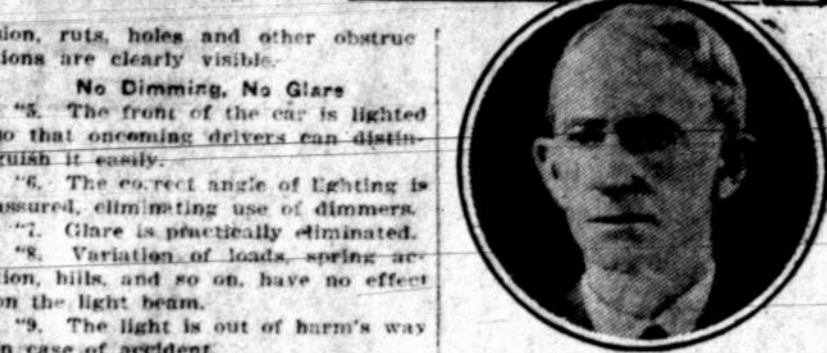

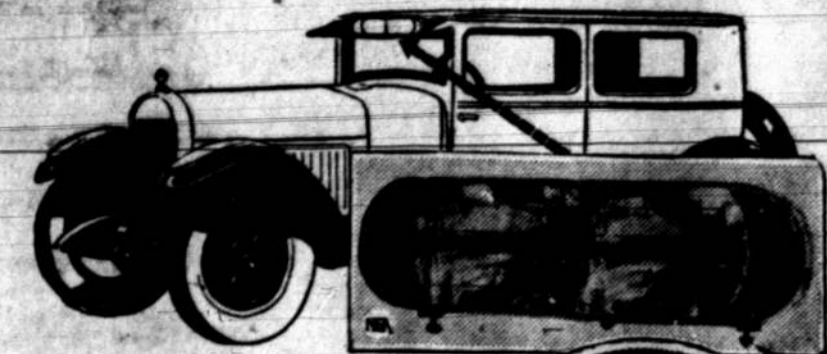

Nock has tried out this light in all sorts of ways, and has decided it's the perfect form—giving good illumination to the driver and helping, rather than hindering, the approaching motorist.

"Automobile lighting," says Nock, "has developed from the point of bare lantern beneath the family pig."

Lists Ten Advantages
 The advantages of his new form of light, Nock lists as follows:

1. It gives a soft diffused strong light, showing roadway and curb for a distance of 200 feet.
2. It does not have the usual effect of eye strain on the driver.
3. The power of this light to penetrate rain, smoke or fog is greater than any yet known for automobile lighting.
4. Due to its elevation and diffusion, ruts, holes and other obstructions are clearly visible.
5. No dimming, no glare.
6. The front of the car is lighted so that oncoming drivers can distinguish it easily.
7. The correct angle of lighting is assured, eliminating use of dimmers.
8. Glare is practically eliminated.
9. Variation of loads, spring action, hills, and so on, have no effect on the light beam.
10. The light is out of harm's way in case of accident.
11. Elimination of front headlights reveals the full sweep of body lines.

Fire departments in the principal cities and towns in Chile are largely voluntary.

UNIQUE CONTEST, BASED ON MILEAGE FROM GASOLINE, WILL BE SPONSORED BY FORD MOTOR DEALERS IN LUBBOCK

A very unique contest, by which the gasoline mileage of various models of Ford cars will be obtained will be conducted by the Lubbock Auto company, local authorized dealer in Ford products and, by seven other dealers in this part of the state, next Wednesday morning. It was announced here Saturday. Every standard equipped Ford car, open or closed model, is eligible to enter the contest.

The contest will serve a double purpose, first, to accurately determine the gasoline mileage of the open and closed models, and to introduce a piece of new carburetion equipment recently made standard on all Ford cars. The new carburetor, known as the Ford Hot Plate Vaporizer, has been known as the Holley Vaporizer, by which it is claimed that mileage and power is almost doubled, a smoother running motor is obtained, and the life of the motor increased.

Is Standard Equipment
 This equipment is now standard on all Ford cars, and cars which enter the contest here Wednesday must be equipped not only with these, but must also be equipped with balloon tires and starter, all of which are now standard on Fords.

The vaporizer is claimed to be a very simple and fool proof device that uses every particle of gasoline which goes into a fine spray, a part of which does not explode, but merely burns and forms carbon or trickles into the crankcase, diluting the oil there.

The new plate vaporizer, it is claimed, heats to a temperature of 400 degrees in a very few minutes, and it is maintained that when gasoline strikes this hot plate it is completely transformed into dry gas which explodes without condensing. No gasoline is wasted and none escapes to dilute oil, it is said.

Must Register Cars
 All cars which enter the contest Wednesday must be registered before 9:30 Wednesday morning, and must be standard equipped. The new vaporizer equipment may be attached to old cars for entry, it was said, if otherwise standard equipped machines. One gallon of gasoline will be placed in a drained tank, the tank sealed, and all cars will follow a designated route. Each car must not be moved from the point where it stopped when gasoline gave out, rules provide. Judges have been selected and must measure distance of each car.

A prize of $12.50 for each open and closed model has been offered in the elimination contest Wednesday, this to be merchandise or repair work. Two

HUPMOBILE EIGHT

Measure All Eight Values By This Splendid Straight-Eight

By setting about, two years ago, to bring to pass the vogue of the straight-eight, Hupmobile has won the rich reward of the largest production and sale of straight-eights in the world.

The first Hupmobile Eight achieved the qualities which many thought impossible of embodiment in an eight, and which are beyond the limitations of even the higher-priced sixes.

Through sane and simple engineering, it gave new and remarkably increased gasoline mileage—while offering, in perfected form, the liquid power-flow of eight cylinders in line.

For the first time, it provided in an eight the same security from expensive repairs and adjustments, which tens of thousands of owners had formerly experienced with the Hupmobile Four.

After two years, Hupmobile Eight remains the newest experience, the greatest value, in fine motor car performance.

Little wonder, then, that this magnificent creation has started a literal landslide to its own super-excellence.

WHAT WAS DONE BEFORE
Bessie, wearing GARRETT FOLSON while swimming with a party of friends at Ocean Town, N. J. At the HOTEL MARUSACA, where they all had been guests, an inquiry is being made by a doctor, par- ticularly concerning him, on the beach, announcing his death.

Folson's companions had been ROGER NEVILLE, MRS. HELENA BARNABY and CARMELITA VALDON. It is established that Folson, just before his death, had been standing next to NED BAR- RON, who was one of a party in- cluding his wife, MADELINE, AN- GELIA and her father, ROBIN SEARS, and his father, CROVDON SEARS.

It is decided to telegraph Fol- son's sister, ANASTASIA, in New York.

Meanwhile, Carmelita Valdon gets the key to Folson's room from Neville, explaining there was something there of hers. While in the room she hears a sound and notices a woman's foot protruding from under the bed.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CARMELITA grasped the foot and pulled vigorously, and a muffled voice said:

"Oh, don't do that! I'll come out!"

And out from beneath the bed came a flushed, headless girl in the uniform of the hotel chambermaids.

"What in the world are you doing here?" Carmelita cried, amazed at the sight.

"What are you?" said the girl, sau- cily.

"Don't be impertinent," Carmelita said, with a stern frown. "Suppose I report you to the housekeeper."

"Don't do that, lady," the girl be- gan, earnestly. "I didn't mean to harm. I was just looking about and heard you come in."

"That would do you—what's your name?"

"Myrtle, ma'am."

"Well, Myrtle, you were up to some mischief. You never were quiet, or you would have kept right on when anyone came in."

"Well, ma'am, and Myrtle tingered her apron. 'It's make a trade. You don't tell I was in here, and I won't tell you was here.'"

Carmelita stood appalled. It was dis- tressing, indeed, to think of this girl telling she was in there. But was it not worse to make a complaint of some- thing with her?

Steps in the hall outside decided her.

"All right, Myrtle," she said. "That's agreed. Now get out of here."

It was late afternoon now, and the girl led her to a room in the bedroom that communicated with an adjoining room, and which her master had easily unlocked. They slipped through just as Ross unlocked the door and entered the sitting room.

With no word further to the girl, Carmelita entered a descending eleva- tor and went downstairs.

Neville met her, and a look of relief came to his face as he saw her.

"You haven't been in his rooms, have you?" he whispered eagerly.

"No," said Carmelita, coming from his excited speech that something had happened. Could Miss Folson have arrived?

"Good! Don't go in for 'Heaven's sake! Give me the key, quickly.'"

She slipped the key to him unawares, and said:

"What is it? Why are you so upset?"

"The doctor—she—come," he said. "He has made an examination, and he says Folson died of a stroke of anything like that. He—he was mur- dered."

"Murdered? Killed in the water? Im- possible!"

"Yes, he was. Come, sit down here, and I will tell you all I know about it."

With a sad white face Carmelita sank down on a divan in the lobby beside Neville, who began to talk to her in low tones.

It was late afternoon now, and the guests of the hotel were coming in from golf or from dancing on the pier, or riding in the wheeled chairs.

Groups of gay, and laughing people stood about, straining for low music could be heard as the orchestra in the palm room pursued its program, and the pleasant scent from the potting plants gave charm to the atmosphere.

Few knew or cared about the tragedy that had taken place that morn- ing, that even now was developing a dark and sinister side.

The management strove to keep the matter secret, and all things to be avoided in a summer hotel, any hint of grossness or crime. Death had had enough and must be hidden as carefully as possible for the sake of the mere hint of violent death would send many of the best patrons scurrying from the place, and would cast a gloom over the house that would ruin its prospects for the whole season.

And already the watchful Folson could note signs of curiosity and ap- prehension on the faces of some of the onlookers. Though most of the groups in the lobby appeared as care- free and light-hearted as usual, yet other faces showed a restlessness and an effect of suspicion that all was not well.

Somewhat a breath of mystery had made itself felt; somehow, a hint of tragedy was in the air, and the guests were sensitive to fleeting impressions which themselves to vague doubts and fears.

And then, before Neville had scarce- ly begun to tell Carmelita Valdon the story he had promised, Tubby came to them and delivered a message from Mr. Folson asking for their presence in Room 3.

This particular fellow was a favor- ite with the management, because of his ready and willing service as well as his native wit and understand- ing. Already the manager was planning to train the little chap up in the way he should go, to become later a val- uable clerk in the hotel.

The only objection that could be raised against the boy was his over- weight. This his superiors endeavored to reduce by advising the little guy to stand against overeating and under- exercising. So far they had not effect- ed much improvement, but they per- sisted hopefully, and meantime they called on Tubby, whose census name was Thomas Jordan, for any errand that required a dash of brains.

A little unwillingly, Neville rose to obey the summons, and they followed the boy to the room designated.

"We're sorry to seem persistent in our appeals to you, Mr. Neville," Fol- son said apologetically, "but there is no one in the hotel who knew Mr. Folson so well as you seem to. Where- fore, I see no other way but to ask your advice or rather, your approval of my procedure. After all it is merely a matter of form for there is no choice possible on my part. Doctor Manning here, informs me that Mr. Folson was killed while in the ocean. Therefore I am bound to report the matter to the authorities as soon as I can. I intended to tell you of this, for until Mr. Folson's sister was not here, I know of no one who was more concerned in his interests."

"You did just—what?" Mr. Neville said, looking at the doctor.

"Neville returned, not waiting for Folson to speak. 'Mr. Neville is the only friend of Mr. Folson's here that I know of. And surely, if anyone else knew him, he would come forward and say so. At any rate, Mr. Neville will take charge in any way he can until Miss Folson comes. Will you tell me how Mr. Folson was killed?'"

But Folson had many matters on his mind. Chief among them was to get out and mingle with the guests of his hotel in a hope that he could get at rest the something interest that was already making itself felt.

"Doctor Manning will tell you all," he said rather nervously. "And Mr.

Dixon, here, will do whatever is nec- essary."

He slipped through the door, and Dixon immediately assumed leader- ship.

Doctor Manning saw Mr. Folson this morning as he was carried from the ocean and laid in the beach. As nothing was asked of Doctor Manning except whether or not Mr. Folson was dead at the time, he pronounced the verdict, and then left the matter on- ly in charge of the beach author- ities. The body was brought here at once, and as Doctor Manning had a luncheon engagement elsewhere, it is only just now that he has returned and responded to our call for a death certificate. But here and now, having made a further examination of Mr. Folson's body, Doctor Manning tells us that death was not due to natural causes. Perhaps, Doctor, you will tell Mr. Neville the facts of the matter."

Manning was of some stature, and possessed of the greatest dignity and sense of personal importance that small men sometimes exhibit.

He cleared his throat and, raising his hand, shook an impressive fore- finger as he said:

"Did you, I was just called this morn- ing by my official or even oppo- sitional capacity. I was merely asked as to the nearest medical man, as to whether the man carried in from the sea was dead or alive. This question I answered at once as all life was gone. Then, no further responsibility devolv- ing on me, I went the way, not aware of any other reason for the man's death than some natural cause. But as I had not been asked to determine this cause, I saw no reason for ob- taining my further services, and I went about my business, as usual."

I great away from the hotel for lunch- ing, and I have only just returned. My management had not called in any other doctor, as there was no thought of foul play and so they merely waited for my return to ask for a certificate of natural death. But when I examined the body, I found at once that the man had been done to death."

"Though neither of the above I in- tended to say, I was just asked by the unnumbered question, and the doctor would say."

"It is not only a mysterious case, but a most unusual, probably unique one."

S. W. Burden Dies at Wellington Home

WELLINGTON, Tex., Feb. 19.—S. W. Burden, 62, died at his home in Wellington, Texas, Tuesday, Feb. 15. He was born in Mississippi June 21, 1864, later moving to Oklahoma, then to Wellington and Collinsworth county, settling in what is known as the Bean community. He was a member of the Baptist church having been converted at the age of 22. He was married January 14, 1892 and was one of Wellington and Collinsworth county's most respected citizens, having been interested and taking an active part in all interests of his com- munity.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Burden, and seven children. The children are: W. H. Burden of Paris, Texas; Holman Burden of Wellin- gton and H. L. Burden of Lockney, Texas; Mrs. George Jones, Wellington; Mrs. J. H. Fisher, Odell, Texas; Mrs. Claude Carson, Wellington; and Miss Alma Burden who was living with her parents here, also four brothers and two sisters.

30,000 CAR GAIN OVER JANUARY OF LAST YEAR SHOWN BY BIG ORGANIZATION

Responding to a winter demand for cars unprecedented in the history of the company, the Chevrolet Motor company in January again shattered all production records for that month by building 13,676 units, almost 20,000 cars more than were made in January of 1926.

The January, 1926, production in its turn almost tripled the production of January, 1925.

Under the tentative production schedule for February the company will be prepared to make a total of 14,000 units, which would establish a new monthly production record in the history of the company, exceeding even the record monthly output in September, 1924, of 13,123 cars.

The heavy winter production is the result of demand for "the most beau- tiful car in Chevrolet history" which Chevrolet buyers have made upon the company's dealers and the announce- ment of lower prices and numerous improvements in the entire Chevrolet line.

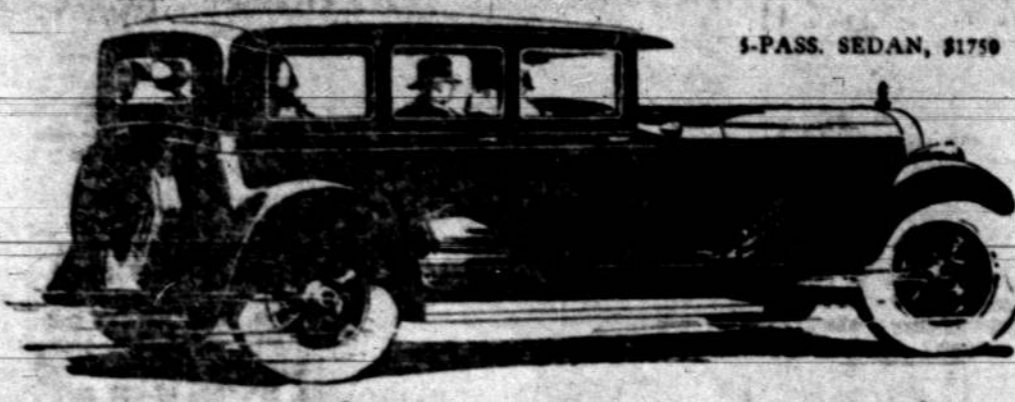

In 1926 the Chevrolet Motor com- pany led all manufacturers of gear shift cars by building 722,145 cars, an in- crease of more than 46 per cent over the previous record year. Under a $10,000,000 expansion program initi- ated in 1926 the Chevrolet Motor com- pany is equipped for even greater pro- duction during 1927.

The new machinery making this en- larged production possible is complete- ly installed in the various plants of the company throughout the country and all necessary changes of dies and tools have been made to insure unin- terrupted manufacturing schedules during this year.

ENGLAND'S TRUCK LAW

Modern heavy-truck laws are said to date back to the year 1922 when King James of England ruled that only vehicles of not more than two wheels driven by not more than five horses were to be allowed on certain roads in England and all loads were not to exceed 2000 pounds.

The Super-Six Principle freed to the Limit

and Beauty to Match Its Matchless Performance

The seven body styles created for the new Hudson Super-Six have shared equally with its brilliant new performance in its enormously successful reception everywhere shown. At the New York Show and all subsequent Automobile Shows the Hudson-Essex exhibit has outdrawn any other by two and three to one. It is the high point of the year in interest, discussion and sales activity.

Advance Spring Showing WEEK OF FEBRUARY 21-26

Come in and see what ENGINEERING LEADERSHIP Means to You

THIS week we are holding a special Advance Spring Showing of the new Willys-Overland line. Every automobile owner—every prospective owner—cannot afford to miss this great display. It will reveal to you new stand- ards of motor car beauty, luxury, econ- omy and value. And a demonstration of any car in the line will reveal new stand- ards of performance and efficiency.

See these four great new cars. They embody the highest achievements of Engineering Leadership in every price class.

The Whippet—now $625 to $755. Famous for its "30 miles on a gallon", 4-wheel brakes and low gravity center. Smart, powerful, roomy. At new reduced prices, now more than ever the leader in light car values!

The Whippet Six—$765 to $925. Com- bining all the engineering advances of the Whippet with greater length, greater power, greater speed, greater liveliness.

The "70" Willys-Knight Six—$1295 to $1495. New refinements of coachwork, new beauty of interior detail, smoother operation, more power and speed.

The Willys-Knight Great Six—$1850 to $2295. Now even more beautiful—more powerful—more luxurious. An engine that grows smoother, quieter, more efficient with every mile of service.

Prices f. o. b. factory and specifications subject to change without notice. Willys-Overland, Inc., Toledo, Ohio. Willys-Overland Sales Co., Ltd., Toronto, Canada.

A Finer DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

New in Beauty, Comfort and Performance — Still more Dependable

Now ready for your inspection and personal test—a finer Dodge Brothers Motor Car than ever before, due to many new and vitally important improvements. So important, in fact, that only a personal inspection will give you an adequate idea of what further engineering advances and greater production have accomplished in extra values. Read this partial list of the latest improvements and then investigate:

- A New Clutch—Simple, Prompt, Sure and Silent.
- Softer Pedal Action
- Easier Gear Shifting
- New Body Lines—as smart and graceful as any on the boulevards
- New Color Combinations of Striking Beauty
- Still Sturdier Bodies
- Seats Re-designed for greater comfort
- New Silent-Type Muffler
- Improved Universal Joint, Propeller Shaft, Differential and Axle Shaft—creating greater sturdiness and resistance to wear
- And Many Other Smart New Refinements of Detail.

Remember, too, that all these are in addition to many impor- tant improvements recently announced, including the five-bearing crank shaft and the two-unit starting, lighting and ignition system that inspired owners to new expres- sions of enthusiasm and satisfaction.

Look at these big roomy cars and you will realize that it is not possible to invest more wisely in dependable transportation.

SWEETWATER FIRM GETS R. R. CONTRACT

FURNISH ROCK TO BALLAST ORIENT TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY MILES

(By Associated Press)
 ANGELO, Tex., Feb. 19.—The water rock and gravel company by Bontke Bros. and A. D. of Abilene, has been awarded a contract to furnish rock with to ballast the Kansas City and Orient railroad from Abilene to San Angelo, a distance of 250 miles. The work will be done in three weeks and will be completed in four years. The contract for between 400,000 and 500,000 of rock to be furnished to the railroad for a sum in excess of $300,000. The rock will be laid down at a rate to be erected twelve miles south of Sweetwater on the Bob Trammel track. The railway company will do all the hauling work with its own crew. The San Angelo-Sweetwater division will be the first ballasted. Steady increase in the Orient's business, due largely to oil, necessitates proving the road bed. The Orient is handling 150 cars of oil daily. In McCamey and new production in the and Pecos counties is expected to increase shipments greatly. The Orient has secured three locomotives in the Missouri Pacific at Wichita, Kas., and probably will have to others before May 1, when delivery of ten oil burning engines by Baldwin Locomotive works is scheduled.

The progress which has been made in the organization has been making production plans at the factory in Elyria, Ohio, and it is now possible to ship the cars in the middle of March. The plans are to show the Falcon-Knight simultaneously in all parts of the country with the formal opening of the dealer organizations to be in the latter part of March or as the cars can reach the dealer after they have been shipped in the factory. Commenting on the rapidly with which the dealer organization has been built up, Mr. Nichols says, "Our point of interest to the motor dealer is the Knight sleeve valve plant in which we have incorporated the most recent developments in American and European de-

HALE COUNTY FARM AGENT RESIGNS TO WORK FOR THE "PROGRESSIVE FARMER"
 PLAINVIEW, Feb. 19.—Paul Huey, for the past year and a half, county agent of Hale county, tendered his resignation to the commissioners court of the county Monday morning and will accept the position of field editor of the "Progressive Farmer" at Dallas just as soon as his successor at Plainview has been named by the extension department of A. and M. college. Huey has gained wide prominence during his present incumbency because of the dairy development program that he has fostered in Hale county as county agent. Through his efforts fifty-five pure bred Jersey cows have been imported into Hale county and twenty-two pure bred Jersey bulls. He has organized several bull circles and inaugurated the cow testing association plans on Hale county farms. His efforts have been instrumental in the importation of many more cattle for dairy purposes, but the number named above were actually brought in by him and placed on Hale county farms to form the nucleus for better breed Jersey stock in the county. Huey will take to the staff of the

Secret Service's George Walsh Theme

George Walsh, famous for his exploits of strength and dare devilry in the movies, will be seen here beginning Monday at the Lyric theater in his latest picture, "A Man of Quality." Interesting reports have been coming ahead of the picture. It is said to be surgically thrilling, the perfect sort of thing that Walsh does best. Hair-raising, breathless moments, grueling hand-to-hand encounters and palpating love scenes; the advance reports have all of these in "A Man of Quality."

CARS ON U. S. FARMS

An estimate based on registration figures shows that there are about 4,820,000 automobiles on the farms of this country. This is exclusive of trucks and tractors which number about 1,000,000. A parrot, frightened by flames in clothes placed in front of an open fire to dry, screamed so loudly and persistently that passers-by saved a Newton Abbott, England, house from destruction.

SAINT AND SINNER

By ANNE AUGSTIN COPYRIGHT 1926 NEA

"Cherry's Trouseau saves starving kin" declared the seven-column streamer head in the paper which shook in Faith's trembling hands. A two-column "cut" in the center of the page depicted Miss Peggy Brainerd, Chicago's musical comedy favorite, posing in Cherry's gorgeous mink coat Faith had sold to Frankel that afternoon. "Not superstitious!" declared a line of capitals below the picture. "Lovely Peggy Brainerd purchases mink coat given to Cherry Lane Wiley, described as the most beautiful girl ever indicted for murder in the United States, by her aged fiancé, Ralph Chumy, for whose death Cherry will stand trial in January. Miss Brainerd flashed her famous 'million dollar smile' when a reporter for The Express asked her if she had any qualms about wearing a coat which had once graced the beauty of an accused murderer. 'That makes the coat priceless. I am happy to own it,' she retorted. 'I don't think I want to read it.'" Faith shuddered, dropping the paper to the floor and turning back blindly to the desk. "Please give me my key." "But Miss Lane," Evans protested in a cordial and sympathetic voice. "It is our desire to help you sell the rest of Cherry's—your sister's—things to the best advantage. I've got a swell scheme." "That's what Frankel said—he had a swell scheme," Faith answered him with bitter weariness. She turned away from the desk with her key in hand. "And this is the result. I am betrayed into the hands of the press again. Oh, don't you see what it's done to me? I came here to raise money—and we're not starving kin," she interrupted herself passionately. She began to walk toward the elevator, her head averted from the reporter who was following her. There was the report of a flashlight. "Oh, why can't you leave me alone!" she begged piteously. "Surely we have trouble enough without—" "Listen, Miss Lane," Evans begged, real contrition in his voice. "You can't escape publicity to save your life. And you admit that the family needs money. Now I've got a proposition to make to you. If you'll let me photograph the wedding dress and the other clothes you brought here to sell, I'll guarantee to create such an interest in the things in the minds of the public that they'll bring enormous prices. You can't afford to miss a chance like this. Be reasonable!" "I can't argue with you. You wouldn't understand." Faith passed a hand across her tear-filled eyes. "But I can't do it. If we were actually starving, we'd rather starve than capitalize Cherry's troubles. She is innocent, and I shall never forgive myself for having added to her humiliation. I know you meant well, but—oh, please let me go." The second reporter who had been lounging in the smoking room hurried forward as the elevator answered Faith's summons. So piteous with appeal was her face that the colored elevator operator voluntarily pushed aside the two reporters when they tried to enter the car. "Thank you!" Faith sobbed as the car shot upward. "This is for you." And she fumbled in her purse for a dollar bill. "Keep your money, lady," the colored boy grinned sympathetically. "Ah, was in trouble myself once." TOMORROW: Faith quits Chicago. YOU can go over the $1000 field with a fine-toothed comb—and you cannot find a car which even approaches the Greater Oakland Six in precision construction and rigidly controlled quality!

The strict truth is that Oakland manufacture includes practices unknown in the building of any other car of Oakland's price class. Diamond boring piston pin bushings to one ten-thousandth of an inch; matching all connecting rods for center of gravity and weight; balancing all rotating parts from transmission to rear axle—these are practices which typify the most modern principles of scientific manufacturing practices which constitute the very fundamentals of longlife and flawless operation and Oakland uses them all!

Oakland's super-precise workmanship, rigid inspection and iron-handed control of quality is now common knowledge throughout the length and breadth of the land. It is revealing itself in the splendid performance of thousands of Greater Oakland Sixes, in the phenomenally small maintenance costs being enjoyed by thousands of Oakland owners and—what is most significant—in the ever growing satisfaction of Oakland owners everywhere.

TWO NEW DEVELOPMENTS ADD TO OIL FIELD INTEREST IN FIELDS NORTH OF ABILENE, NOODLE CREEK AND JONES

ABILENE, Feb. 19.—The Abilene area continues to furnish new and important developments in the oil industry. Two developments during the past week in the territory north of this city have been of exceptional interest.

The first was the discovery of a new producing sand in the Noodle Creek field and the other was the finding of an excellent showing of oil in southwestern Jones county, 25 miles east of Noodle Creek.

Nine Wells Drilled
There has been nine wells drilled to the 2,500-foot level in the Noodle Creek field. That is the depth at which production was found in the discovery well of this pool. Each of the wells have gotten production at that depth. The ninth failed to hit the sand and was carried on down in a search for something new. That has been found and is a new producing sand at a depth of 2,035 feet. A line has been penetrated at that depth in the Marland Oil Company's No. 3 on the J. C. Mason lease. One hundred thirty barrels of 23 gravity oil was switched from the well during the first eight hours. The bit entered the line on Sunday. About thirty barrels of water was mixed with the oil. Opinions differ as to whether this water is coming from the bottom of the hole or from one of the water strata higher up.

The oil coming from the other eight wells in this pool at the 2,529-foot level tests 40 gravity. Gas pressure in the new sand is small, being reported about the same as in the other wells.

This discovery assures that more interest will be given the Noodle Creek area and it is highly probable that all tests in that section which miss pay at the 2,529-foot level will be drilled to the deeper pay.

Value Problem
It will be several days before the full value of the new producing strata found by the Marland No. 3 Mason can be ascertained, as it will be necessary to determine the origin of the water now being mixed with the oil in the well and it is probable that the bit will be sent deeper in the line. This well is holding the center of interest of all operators interested in this territory.

Twenty-five miles east of Noodle Creek and 12 miles north of Abilene an excellent showing of oil has been encountered in the Marland Oil Company's No. 1 S. R. Cox Section 72, Block 14, T. & P. Survey, at a depth of 3,670 feet. This showing was found Monday. Drilling was ordered stopped when the showing was first found. The drillers are now proceeding to reduce the hole and will then drill into the oil formation. Four to six barrels of oil and water have been taken from the well each six hours this week.

Deepest Test
This well is the deepest test in the entire section. It was spudded in July of 1926 and has several showings of oil and gas. The Marland Company owns 4,000 acres in the vicinity of this well. Phillips Petroleum Company and the Midwest Exploration Company each have 80 acres close by.

These tracts were acquired had spring in a three-cornered trade in which Marland obtained its Mason lease from the Phillips company in the Noodle Creek field and Midwest traded Garza county leases for their Thornton lease at Noodle.

The Gillette and Hickory and others' No. 1 King on the Marland

Ruano survey, which is standing in oil at 2,040 feet, and in which a fishing job is on, is nine miles west of the Marland No. 1 Cox.

The production of the eight completed wells at Noodle Creek is aggregating over 3,500 barrels of oil per day. The Midwest Exploration Company's No. 2 Thornton, the latest well to be put on the completed list made 275 barrels of oil in 16 hours on Saturday of last week.

Midwest No. 4 Thornton, two locations west of the same company's No. 1 has spudded. Midwest's No. 2 Thornton, south of No. 1 Thornton is rigged up.

Phillips Petroleum company's No. 2 Mason, west of Thornton at Marland No. 3 Mason is drilling at 1,000 feet. No. 2 Tessie, North of Atlantic's No. 1 E. Howell is drilling past 1,825 feet. No. 3 Tessie, south of No. 1 Tessie, is 380 feet deep. Thornton No. 1 northwest of the Howell well is 2,000 feet. Beasley No. 1, west of the Howell well, 1,500 feet deep. Joe Winter No. 3, east of the Joe Winter No. 1, is rigged up.

World Oil Company's No. 1 A. W. Clark, southwest corner section 35, block 18, T. & P. survey, southwest Jones county, located 1 1/4 miles northeast of the Noodle Creek discovery well is approaching the 2,500-foot depth and will possibly be drilled into the lime this week.

This well has been considered one of the most important tests in this entire section. The successful completion of this well would bring a valuable expansion of the pool and in a direction in which the large part of the wildcatting is being done at the present. Officials of the company owning the well have been in Abilene for several days watching the developments.

McLester Oil Company's No. 1 Myatt, one and one-half miles north-county is reported to be making good progress and is now down past 1,050 feet.

Shealin Oil Company's No. 1 Higgin, W. T. Scott survey, two and one-half miles northwest of Noodle Creek and ten miles east of Anson is down 970 feet, according to the last reports.

Midwest Exploration company's No. 1 Smith, three miles northwest of Tye in North Taylor county is drilling around 700 feet.

Midwest and others' No. 1 H. H. Toombs, three miles east of Abilene is drilling past 1,200 feet this week. The down, or so wildcats in Taylor county are soon to be increased by Jameson & Flynn of Tulsa, who have announced that they will spud in a well on the P. H. Kilpatrick land, ten miles south of Abilene in a short time.

This test will be east of the Sanger Oil and Refining Company's No. 1 I. C. Cox on the Johnny Walker survey, in which several showings of oil have been found.

WORK BEGINS ON ROPESVILLE SCHOOL

EXCAVATION STARTED MONDAY FOR FOUNDATION OF BUILDING

ROPESVILLE, Feb. 19.—Excavation was begun here Monday morning for the foundation and basement of the new Ropesville high school. The work is being overseen by L. J. Shell of Lubbock, son of the contractor.

The material for the construction of the building is being assembled rapidly. A large quantity of brick, cement tile and other material are already on hand. Gordon Morgan was awarded the hauling contract by Mr. Shell. A number of local men have been employed and more will be used as soon as needed. Mr. Shell agreed when signing the contract to employ local people whenever possible.

The building is located on the northwest corner of the school property and faces west. Ropesville has a large number of students who have college ambitions. The community and town are interested in their welfare to the extent that they have made it possible for them to enjoy when completed, a modern high school and all that signifies.

Vaporizer Is New Benefit For Cars

The Ford Hot Plate Vaporizer (now standard on all Ford cars) is a simple, foolproof device by which every particle of gasoline is utilized to create more power.

In the ordinary carburetor, the gasoline is converted into a fine spray, part of which does not explode but merely burns—forming a carbon—or condensate—tricking into the crankcase to dilute the oil.

The Ford Hot Plate Vaporizer consists of a steel plate so thin that it heats up to 600 degrees within a very few minutes after the motor starts. The gasoline strikes this hot plate and is completely transformed into a dry gas with the result that it will explode without burning or condensing. No gasoline is wasted—none escapes to dilute the oil or form carbon.

- Benefits Are Listed
1. Every thermal unit utilized—high test performance with low test gas—increased and positive acceleration and power.
  2. Crankcase dilution practically eliminated—better lubrication—less hand trouble.
  3. Relieves carbon troubles—less valve regrounding.
  4. Easier starting—less use of choke—warms up faster in cold weather.
  5. More flexibility in traffic—motor will throttle down slower.
  6. Under average conditions, over 26 miles per gallon of gasoline. Official tests have shown 37.4 miles per gallon.

NOW MOTORISTS DON'T STOP
By NEA Service.
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19.—Several communities in Southern California that have passed laws requiring all motorists to come to a full stop before crossing any railroad track at grade will not put these laws into effect, according to information received from the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The reasons given for the change of attitude regarding the stop laws are that these laws would practically relieve the railroad companies from all liability in case of collision between trains and motor vehicles and would cause an unwarranted impediment upon motor vehicle traffic.

Howard Farmers Ask for More Dairy Cows

BIG SPRING, Feb. 18.—So well pleased were the farmers of Howard county with the car of dairy cattle purchased by the chamber of commerce that orders for a second car are being taken. The cows that were shipped in were all jerseys of high quality. Each cow was tagged with individual price and they were taken by lots; the more becoming the cow, the higher the price. Entire satisfaction seems to have been given by this plan.

PULL OUT the KNOCKS

YOU—like thousands of other motorists—have been enjoying the extra miles which are crowded into Conoco Gasoline. You've found that under normal motoring conditions Conoco is the one gasoline that is always dependable.

But perhaps your motor has abnormal fuel requirements. Maybe the cylinders are lined with carbon and you get a knock when going up a slight grade, or perhaps you can't develop full power because of long continued use of your car.

But don't let that worry you. Modern science has come to your rescue! It has made Conoco's extra miles absolutely knockless under practically all operating conditions.

This new, knockless, extra-mileage fuel is called Conoco Ethyl Gasoline and is now available at all of the up-to-date Conoco Service Stations. It costs 3c more per gallon than regular Conoco, but if you really want an ultra-smooth, sweet-running motor, you'll say it's worth it.

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline is a combination of Conoco, the extra-miles motor fuel, and Ethyl Brand of Anti-knock Compound—the result of constant research centering in the great research laboratories of the General Motors Corporation.

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline absolutely knocks out that "knock" and turns carbon into power. In fact, the more carbon you have the better Conoco Ethyl Gasoline performs!

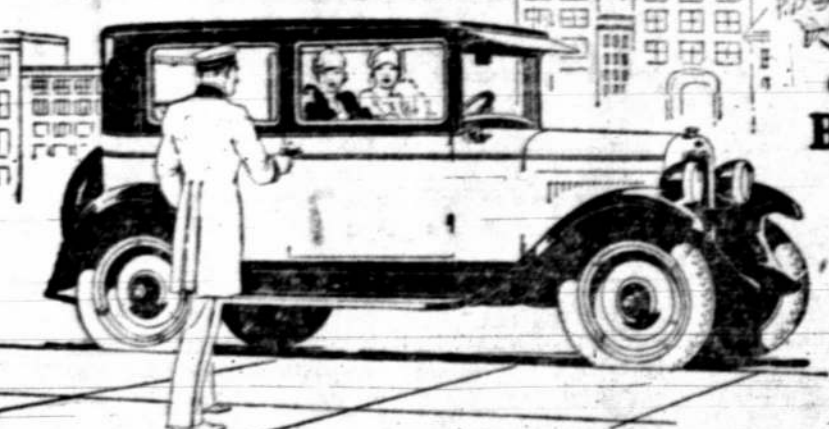

But, remember this—there is no substitute for Conoco Ethyl Gasoline. This old established company leads its name to nothing but products of proven worth! Nothing is comparable to Conoco Ethyl Gasoline. A tankful will convince you of that.

Youth Essential to Art? Pooh!

AFTER YOU'VE LIVED AWHILE THERE'S MORE TO IMPART — AND THE 30'S AND 40'S WON'T BE SO FORBIDDING

By MORTENSE SAUNDERS
 NEA Service Writer
 NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The thirties and forties would not be considered such dangerous ages for women if they would just find new careers for themselves instead of wondering if their looks and charm were vanishing," according to Tennessee Mitchell Anderson.

This enterprising woman embarked on an entirely new career at the age of 30, what she calls middle age, and is so enthusiastic about her second choice in art that she is gradually giving up the one for which she was educated and trained.

How She Started

Mrs. Anderson was a successful music teacher in Chicago for years. "Then I took a trip to Alabama," she explains, "and for the first time I saw that yellowish, copper-colored clay that is a part of the colorful landscape there.

"One day I was rolling a piece of this clay about in my fingers and I found myself modeling a figure. With that most feminine of weapons, a hair-clip, I traced some of the finer lines. When I finished, I had quite an unmistakable likeness of Jacques Coeur, the French producer, whom I had entertained in my home sometime before. I wasn't thinking of him at all—but he just came out of the clay in my fingers."

First Exhibition

After that, she was seldom to be found without her clay, and before she returned to Chicago she had modeled several figures and articles were wondering where she could possibly have learned her technique. After five years, she has brought her first exhibition of sculpture to New York for public exhibition.

"In that time, I've been working pretty steadily at modeling, largely because it amuses me," she went on. "Beginning at 20, as I did, I knew I didn't have time to acquire an academic education in art before I started, because I would never have time to get away from it. So I've just tried to say what I want to say in my own way, expressing my own feelings, and if it happens to be good and please others, fine. But if it doesn't, I will go on with it just the same because I find it so entertaining to myself."

Mrs. Anderson's first recognition came when she did the figures illustrating Sherwood Anderson's book, "The Triumph of the Egg," incidentally at that time she was Mrs. Sherwood Anderson herself. Since then she has received a number of commissions, and done considerably more ambitious work.

Satirical Touch

Though some of her sculpture is mere likeness, there are pieces in which she detects a satirical touch. "Club President," "At the Opera," "In a Street Car" and "Two Lives" all offer a commentary as well as a figure.

"Although I have had no instruction in art, I feel I have been getting my impressions very minutely all my life," she said. "The early admonition I remember as most repeated was, 'Tennessee, stop staring. You mustn't embarrass people that way. You're positively rude.' While I was staring, I believe I must have been observing, for types come to me with photographic clearness, and I never use a model."

One advantage of a late career, she believes, is that though you bring to it greater experience, you expect less acclaim.

Don't Fear Art

"I am not holding myself as an example," she added, "that's really the very last thing she would do. But I would like to encourage women not to be afraid of the arts. The artistic impulse is merely having something to say, and using some medium like brush, pencil, chisel or typewriter to get your message in from for others. And certainly a woman who has lived her first 20 years wisely or interestingly or just honestly, should have more to say than one who is just learning life as well as her art. And age loses its terror when you become so interested in something, also that you forget about birthdays."

HUDSON-ESSEX IS BUSY AT FACTORY

5,000 MEN ARE ADDED TO BIG PLANT TO KEEP WORK AT TOP SPEED

With both Hudson and Essex cars enjoying an unprecedented public demand, the company already is operating at a pace usually reached only in the winter months. More than 5,000 men have been added in the past two weeks, and the capacity of the plant is being gradually stepped up with many departments now on a two or three shift a day basis, a company official declares.

Meantime, it is added, the cars have been purchased so actively both locally and all over the world that even with the enlarged manufacturing schedule it has proved impossible to keep up with demands. The company declares, however, that every step will be taken to insure prompt delivery to all purchasers.

"Like every other distributor and dealer," said Hub Jones, Hudson-Essex distributor here, "we have urgently requested additional cars to meet our immediate needs. With us it is almost a matter of regret when we cannot immediately deliver to any buyer the type of car he wishes."

"In the introduction of the new Hudson Super-Six and the Essex Super-Six, the Hudson manufacturing organization achieved an accomplishment which I believe is unique in automobile history."

AUTOS MAY KILL 25,000

If the automobile toll this year continues to rise at the same rate that it increased during 1926, it is possible that 25,000 men, women and children will be killed by motor vehicles in 1927, according to an estimate of the National Safety Council.

SENATORS LIKE OLD BEAN SOUP

America's Solons Differ On Menus But Most Of Them Relish Bean Soup

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Senators have as many, if not more, differences in their Capitol restaurant as they do in committee or in debate on the floor of their chamber. Home influences appear to follow them wherever they go. New Englander, Westerner, Southerner, each spurs the dishes most cherished by the others. The job of striking a balance among these conflicting appetites falls to the lot of Joseph I. Langner, manager of the six Senate restaurants, who finds it harder to meet the requirements of the 96 members than to cater to the multitudes of visitors that pass through the restaurants daily.

Those multitudes are a widely fluctuating quantity. One day he is called on to serve only a few hundred patrons, while the next day he may have to feed two or three thousand. He solves the problem thus presented by closely studying the news of the Senate's proceedings. If a popular subject is up for discussion, he knows that a large crowd will visit the galleries and will require his ministrations.

It's possible for him to take reasonable chances in trying to satisfy the public patrons, but that is not the case with the Senators. They are, so to speak, "the boss," and during his years of experience, he has made it his business to know their preferences.

One thing he has learned is to keep on tap a bountiful supply of old-fashioned bean soup. That dish appears to be non-partisan, having the support of Senators from all sections. One way, some years ago, he removed it from the menu. The Senate of the United States immediately took informal but vigorous action, and bean soup was restored to the menu, permanently. At present, 20 gallons are made—and consumed—every day.

Lubbock Youth Wins Typewriting Medal

DENTON, Feb. 19.—Curtis Langford, student at the North Texas State Teachers college, Denton, recently qualified for the bronze medal awarded by the Underwood Typewriting company by writing from 40 to 50 words a minute for a period of 15 minutes with less than 10 errors. The test was given by the commerce department of the Teachers college, and Langford and Miss Kitty Teasley of Denton won awards.

Langford comes from Lubbock, where he lives at 1914 Ave. M. Titles and deeds must be written in longhand in France under the old laws adopted before there were typewriters.

LOCKNEY GIVES PROMISE OF BIGGEST BUILDING BOOM KNOWN THERE FOR LAST FIVE YEARS, AS DENVER ARRIVES

By RAY S. McCORKLE - Special Correspondent

LOCKNEY, Feb. 19.—Never in the history of this city have general conditions been more favorable than at this time, and the 1927 building program gives promise, at this time, of being greater in dollars and cents than for any other five years. The coming of the Denver line into this section is largely responsible for the change, for in the past a large portion of the South Plains has been isolated, so far as rail facilities are concerned.

Lockney is the gateway to the Plains—the first city of importance the new line will touch after coming over the cap rock. Lockney Junction, the intersection of the two Denver South Plains lines, is only a few miles out from this city and the Denver Santa Fe junction is within the city limits. This guarantees adequate rail facilities, reduced freight rates and a desirable location for wholesalers and other distributors, and a number of Texas' largest wholesale dealers are interested in Lockney and are at this time arranging to open houses here. Among these are the James McCord company of Fort Worth and the Anderson-Clayton company of Houston.

Rich Farm Country
East from this city it is now almost 100 miles to a railroad, while some of the richest farming land in Texas will be found in this area. Heretofore, because of hindrances in transportation, farmers have not looked upon the region with very much favor. They realized that they could grow the crops, but were not sure that they could get them to market. The new railroad will remove this barrier, and farmers by the hundreds are expected to flock to the East Plains and to points just below the cap. Hundreds of thousands of acres of virgin soil will be turned within next three years. Land prices are very reasonable and opportunities are as many as will be found anywhere in America.

New Trading Point
But as the country grows—as the large ranches are cut up into small farms and the population increases, it is necessary that these people be given a convenient trading point—a place where they may buy their supplies and at the same time find a market for their products. Lockney, because of her central location, claims to be that point. Rail lines will run out of this city in six directions.

People from all sections of America who have visited here say that there are more natural resources and fewer hindrances here than will be found in any other part of the country, but because of isolation the country has never been developed.

All the South Plains area is not in the shallow water belt, though Lockney and Lockney community are. Irrigation is possible for all who care to avail themselves of the unlimited supply of shallow water, but in the past very little irrigation work has been done. Possibly because the rainfall is adequate for the average crop, this is true, but as the country is developed and as farms grow smaller and smaller intensified farming and irrigation will be necessary.

Great Production
At this time Floyd county produces more than any other South Plains county, and the Lockney section is

WICHITA FALLS ASKS CITIES TO REPRESENT VARIOUS NATIONS

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 19.—Plans have been practically completed for representatives of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce to visit cities of the West Texas chamber of commerce May 16 and 17. These representatives will visit all the leading cities of the western part of the state to present the idea of a congress of nations, which has been planned as one of the big entertainment features for this year's meeting.

Many Flags
It is hoped to have as many cities as possible come to represent some foreign nation, to carry the flag of that nation, and to display the colors of same in a way that the parade may be made as colorful and spectacular as possible. In this way each city of West Texas will have a definite idea towards which to work and a definite plan to follow in making ready for the occasion.

To Decorate Booths
The booths of the various cities will be decorated in the colors emblematic of the nation which that city represents. These booths or headquarters are to be erected in the center of one city's widest streets and this, it is hoped, will avoid the color of the decorations in the colors emblematic of the nation which that city represents. These booths or headquarters are to be erected in the center of one city's widest streets and this, it is hoped, will avoid the color of the decorations in the colors emblematic of the nation which that city represents.

Street Carnival
Many interesting features of the old European street carnival will be carried out and much street dancing including dances in the native costumes will take place.

Already many cities of West Texas have interested themselves in this congress of nations and have pledged their assistance to make it one of the greatest events of the kind ever staged in America.

Committees were appointed to work the different streets of the town in order to determine the number of trees and roses that would be needed by each residence.

Attractive prices have been secured through the chamber of commerce from nurserymen. Several hundred trees and roses will be ordered and delivery will be rushed in order to save time on planting due to the lateness of the season. After the tree and rose planting campaign has been completed a paint-up, clean-up campaign will be outlined and efforts will be made to beautify the houses, where painting is needed. This is a plan of A. G. Hall, chairman of the chamber of commerce civic committee.

Let Us Sell You The Good Will Idea!

IT is said that good will is more valuable to a merchant than his store itself—or money in the bank.

In other words, if some catastrophe should destroy your store, established through quality merchandise, moderate prices—and good will, that store could resume business the next day. But if the good name of that store were erased that business would be gone.

And therein lies the great security of many an institution. Good will is beyond the reach of fire, flood, tornado or earthquake. Only through slow process of neglect may it be lost.

Let us show you through our advertising department how an institution will endure—just as long as good will is a part of advertising.
