BUSINESS TRANSACTED IN COMMISSIONERS' COURT

The Commissioners' Court of Kimble County met in regular session Monday of this week. The right-of-way on Highway No. 27 west to the town of Roosevelt was secured from the land owners. For some time this road has been under consideration, and the new width obtained will be of material help to the establishment of a permanent road bed. It is maintained by the Highway Commission.

It was decided by the commissioners' court to advertise for bids on the Noxville road bonds early in November, and in the event a good price can then be obtained the bonds will be sold and a road will be constructed from Noxville to a point near Segovia.

It is contemplated that the Highway Commission before that time will decide to help the community build this road, but in the event they fail to do so it is the present intention of the court and a major portion of the tax payers to proceed in the construction of a road without the assistance of the State Highway Commission. Much time and effort has been expended in an endeavor to convince the engineers directing the survey for this road that the road desired is the one via Noxville to Segovia, and we feel that the commission will eventually accede to the desires of the people.

TRIAL OF HOMER FLEMING

Trial of the State of Texas vs. Homer Fleming, charged with the unlawful killing of O. L. Freeman, in Kimble County, on the 6th of July, 1922, began in the District Court of Kendall County, at Boerne, before District Judge L. J. Brucks, on Monday morning, September 3, 1928. The trial continued thruout the week, with night sessions of the court, and ended about 4 p. m., Saturday, the 8th.

About 150 witnesses were in attendance, mostly from Kimble County.

The first two days of court was consumed in obtaining a jury; the special venire being exhausted by disqualification and by peremptory challenges of both sides; when the judge ordered sixteen talesmen summoned by the sheriff; these being exhausted, the sheriff was ordered to summon eight more talesmen, from which the jury was completed.

The State was represented by K. K. Woodley, the District Attorney; Mr. Lehman, the County Attorney; Robert I. Wilson, the County Attorney of Kerr County; and Judge W. C. Baker, of Kerrville, a private prosecutor, who conducted the prosecution for the State. The defense was represented by W. C. Linden, of San Antonio, Dayton Moses of Fort Worth, and M. E. Blackburn of Junction. The argument was opened for the State by K. K. Woodley, the District Attorney, and for the defense by Dayton Moses. This was followed by Mr. Lehman, the County Attorney, for the State; W. C. Linden for the defense; Robert Wilson, for the State; M. E. Blackburn closing for the defense, and Judge W. C. Baker closing for the State.

It was a strenuous week for all engaged, but order and good humor prevailed througout the entire trial. The jury, after about two hours deliberation returned into court a verdict of "Not Guilty."

The case of the State vs. Troy Fleming, charged with the same offense, was continued by agreement until the next term of the District Court, at Boerne. It was the expression of many of the citizens at Boerne, that this was probably the hardest fought legal battle and one of the most important cases ever tried in the courts of that county.

The Fidelis Class of the Baptist Church will have a business meeting at the parsonage Thursday night. All members are urged to be present.

CITY LETS CONTRACT FOR WATER WORKS MATERIAL

On September 4th, 1928, the City of Junction, by its council let contracts aggregating approximately Twenty Three Thousand Dollars to various supply houses for equipment to be used in the construction of the new water system. R. K. Wood and Company of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, was awarded the bid for fire hydrants, valves and valve boxes, J. S. Schofield's Sons Company of Macon, Georgia, the steel tank, and the McWane Cast Iron and Pipe Company of Dallas, Texas, the contract for water pipe.

There was good interest evidenced at the letting and the competition was keen in bidding, and we feel that the city obtained good prices in this material.. The steel tank is to be delivered and installed at a point near Round Mountain for the sum of $2738.00, which is an exceptionally good price for this work.

There will be more than nine hundred thousand pounds of freight to be hauled from the railroad station at Menard, Texas, to this place in connection with these contracts. The City, through its engineer, Mr. O'Neil will begin the construction of the new water system just as soon as the bond market opens up again, and the City Water Bonds can be disposed of. There was only one bid for the bonds at this meeting, and it was rejected by the council for the reason that they believed a better price could be obtained at a later date.

The City gave careful consideration to all the bids made, and were fortunate in securing the large number of bidders that were present for the occasion.

ATTENTION, ALL YE SPORTS

The Junction Golf Course will be opened to the public on Saturday, September the 15th, and all those interested in the ancient game of golf will be gladly welcomed to this course.

The formal opening will not take place until probably ten days in the future.

Those wanting to play golf now will please turn in at the gate, and start at the beginning of the course and play the round. Mr. O'Bryan, the manager, has been very courteous in allowing us to practice free of charge on the green to the east of Cedar Creek, but he now requests that players start at the beginning of the course, so that everything may be in regular order.

This is going to be one of the nicest little golf courses in this part of the country, and we should support it with all of our energy.

Come and bring your green fee book with you.

STREET PAVING WORK BEGAN LAST MONDAY

The Kelly Construction Company began work Monday morning preparatory to paving the main street. Mr. W. A. Kelly, president of this company stated that he had located a gravel pit near the city, and just as soon as the City's engineer, Mr. George, arrived in town he would begin the distribution of gravel for the sub-grade.

The streets will be covered with a double sealed coat of Bituminous Road Surfacing, and will greatly improve the appearance of the town as well as eliminate the dust and uneven surfaces on our streets. Other paving contracts are being contemplated in the near future.

Vic Urban and Arthur Dunbar left Sunday for Brownwood, where Vic will again enter Howard Payne. Arthur will return to Junction.

Bill Wright has had as his guest the past week, Pat Cagel of Birmingham, Alabama. They both left Sunday for Brownwood where they will re-enter Howard Payne College.

Keep On Keepin' On

If the day looks kinder gloomy
And your chances kinder slim,
If the situation's puzzlin'
And the prospect's awful grim,
If perplexities keep pressin'
Till hope is nearly gone,
Just bristle up and grit your teeth
And keep on keepin' on.

Frettin' never wins a fight
And fumin' never pays;
There ain't no use in broodin'
In these pessimistic ways;
Smile just kinder cheerfully
Though hope is nearly gone,
And bristle up and grit your teeth
And keep on keepin' on.

There ain't no use in growlin'
And grumblin' all the time,
When music's ringin' everywhere
And everything's a rhyme.
Just keep on smilin' cheerfully
If hope is nearly gone,
Just bristle up and grit your teeth
And keep on keepin' on.

EARL HILL LOSES FINGER IN ACCIDENT

Mr. Earl Hill of the Watson Divide was brought to Junction Sunday for medical attention, after having sustained severe injuries to his right hand in roping a horse. It is reported that a half-hitch caught on Mr. Hill's finger and hand after he had lassoed a horse and jerked his little finger almost completely off.

Due to the fact that Dr. Standifer was out of the hospital, he was taken to Kerrville by Mrs. Terry Cowsert, superintendent of the Standifer Hospital, where his little finger was removed. He returned late Sunday afternoon in company with Mr. Felix Watson, and seemed in fine spirits. He went back to his ranch home the same night and is reported to be doing nicely.

STATE EXPERIMENTS IN NEW ROAD MARKER

A system of transferring highway marker signs from paper to posts, bridges and other available places along roads probably will be adopted by the Highway Department if experiments with the process now being conducted are successful, it was said at the maintenance department Saturday.

The process, similar to that used by large oil companies in placing their trade-marks on gasoline pumpe, etc., requires only about two minutes and transfers an oil paint design to the desired marker that is much superior to regular stenciled designs. If adopted, a large saving of time will be effected.

ALTON MASON INJURED BY GOLFER

Mr. Alton Mason of the Wahl Bros. & Schraub Hardeware Store, received a painful injury, just below his left cheek bone, late Sunday afternoon, while playing golf on the local course. Mr. Raymond Sun, manager of the Cocoa Cola Bottling Works, was on the fairway with Mr. Mason, and endeavored to make connection with a golf ball with the use of a mid iron. He completely missed the ball and swung into Alton who was standing near. The gash appeared to be about 2½ inches in length, and cut to the bone. Mr. Mason was doing nicely Monday morning, although he did not go back on the job.

ROAD BOARD HAS CREDIT OF UNSPENT $177,000

An unexpended legislative appropriation of $177,000 remained to the credit of the Highway Department at the close of the fiscal year after all office expenses and general maintenance had been met, State Highway Engineer Gibb Gilchrist said Saturday on receipt of the auditor's report.

During the last fiscal year, an appropriation of $778,340 was allowed the department and only $660,590 was spent, the report shows. The biggest saving was in the registration division, where an unexpended balance of $70,388 was shown.

Expenditures for the last year in the various divisions were: Administration, $84,621; accounting, $41,329; registration, $214,661; headlight, $5,475; engineering, $85,059; maintenance, $130,591, and general division expenditure, $98,851.

KIMBLE COUNTY ANGORAS PRIZE WINNERS

At the Fair recently held in Gillespie County, the Angora Goats of Mr. William Fairchilds took three first prizes and a second prize on flock exhibition. His yearling billy, yearling nannie and billy kid were first. We are glad to know that Kimble County products were honored in this manner, and since the livestock exhibits at this fair are reported to be among the best ever shown in West Texas, these prizes are indicative of the class of Angora Goats that are being raised in Kimble County.

Mr. Fairchilds has for many years been gradually improving his herd of fine goats, and the award of these prizes is an evidence of the success he is having in the Angora Goat business.

It is too bad that a Kimble County ranchman must take his goats to a fair out of the county in order to have them recognized, and emphasizes the fact that we are in dire need of a County Fair. There are more men in Kimble County that are growing fine bred livestock than ever before, and they have no opportunity in their own county to exhibit to those who stand in need of their product. We will suggest that the ranchmen who are interested request the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce to help them put over a fair organization.

It will be recalled that when this was attempted last year, the business men of Junction gave to the issue two-thirds majority and a surplus of ninety-nine votes in an effort to accomplish for them the thing we feel they need most—namely, A COUNTY FAIR. It is our opinion that had the stockmen and farmers of Kimble County really understood the issue they would have heartily endorsed it. If the ranchmen and farmers of Kimble County believe that a county fair would enable them to better display and sell their high-bred livestock, and to disclose the real value of agricultural lands by displaying their farm products, they will find the business interests of the city of Junction ready and willing to assist them in putting this measure over. Our suggestion is that the ranchmen and farmer who believe this movement would be an advantage to the livestock and agricultural interest of Kimble County, see, or write, to the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce, who will be glad to assist them in the establishment of a permanent fair association for Kimble County, through a medium of a Five Cent Fair Tax.

KIMBLE COUNTY FRUITS

The Eagle has chronicled the facts relative to fruit growing in Kimble County in a number of previous issues, and given evidence of the ability of some of our citizens to produce apples and other fruit, when given proper attention. It now remains for us to state that as fine peaches as can be grown anywhere were brought to maturity on a small tree grown in front of the Hodges Hotel.

Some five or six years ago Mrs. T. M. Hodges planted a peach seed at the front door of the hotel while she was conducting that hostelry, and was ridiculed for the trouble of so doing.

Mrs. R. J. Motley, who is now owner of this hotel, sent to the Eagle office Tuesday two of as fine flavored peaches as can be grown in California, East Texas, Arkansas or anywhere else. The size is far above the average seen on the market, measuring 9½ and 10 inches, respectively, in circumference.

It only requires a small amount of time and attention to produce fruits of any kind in Kimble County.

Coke R. Stevenson is attending court in Mason this week.

NOTES OF VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE CLASS

Our Vocational Agriculture class for this year is composed of 20 boys from the eighth and ninth grades. Five of these boys have had one year of agriculture and the others are taking it for their first time. All of these boys are chuck full of pep and energy and if it is directed in the right way they are sure to make wonderful progress this year. We went out to Mr. Jack Hubbell's place last Friday afternoon and judged a class of four billy goats. Some of the boys who had taken agriculture last year did remarkably well in placing the class and in estimating the number of pounds that each goat will shear. Leonard Dunbar made the best record of any boy in the class and we congratulate him. Other boys showed that they had never given a thought to the number of pounds of mohair that a good goat would shear, and yet they are 14, 15 and 16 year old boys, living in a community where goat raising is the major enterprise, and in a state that produces 84% of all the mohair that is produced in the United States. The best goat in the class judged will shear about 13 pounds at the present time and several of the boys guessed that he would shear 2¼ or 2½ pounds. The average weight of fleece for all the goats in Texas is 4½ pounds per year.

Mr. Hubbell will shear the goats that we judged in a few days, and has kindly consented to weigh each fleece separately and send us the weights. We appreciate his kindness very much.

KIDDIE REVUE AT TEXAN

Junction is to have a Kiddie Revue, such as was held at the Majestic in San Antonio last winter.

The Junction revue will be staged every month at the Texan Theatre, augmenting the regular bill there, and will be put on by the Junior members of Mrs. Conde Hardeman's class in expression.

Short dramatic numbers, dances and spectacular features will be used to present the little folks.

This entertaining feature should be given the wholehearted support of the public generally, as few people realize the importance of the work Mrs. Hardeman is doing. It teaches the pupil grace, poise and confidence when coming before the public, and these are of great importance to men and women in meeting the business world of today.

BOY IS INJURED BY TEST SCALES

Sunday seemed to be a day of accidents for Junction. A young boy, apparently about five years of age was pulling some test scales near the Hankins Drug Store, and in some manner pulled the scales over on top of his foot. It is reported that several bones in his foot were broken. He was taken to the hospital in Kerrville for attention.

Miss Stella Owsley of Denton, Texas, is registered at the Fritz Hotel this week. Miss Owsley has been connected with the music department of the College of Industrial Arts at Denton for about nine years, during which time she has appeared in concert throughout the State many times. Miss Owsley will give her first concert of the season in Fort Worth on September 26 as soloist for the Fort Worth Harmony Club. Incidentally Miss Owsley is a sister of Col. Alvin Owsley. Miss Owsley is delighted with the scenery and the climate here and she plans to return here next year with a number of the college girls for a happy vacation.

NEPHEW ACCUSES HOMER FLEMING

Boerne, Texas, Sept. 5.—Homer Fleming hid in the brush 100 yards from the store and postoffice of O. L. Freeman and shot Freeman with a rifle, July 6, 1922, is was declared here Wednesday by Troy Fleming, nephew of the defendant. Only one shot was fired, which struck Freeman in the neck, instantly killing him, it had been testified by other witnesses preceding Fleming.

Troy Fleming is also under indictment on the charge of murder of Freeman, and was the main witness to testify for the State in the trial of his uncle before Judge L. J. Brucks of 36th district court. While he was testifying, his uncle, the defendant, leaned his arms on the attorney's table and watched him closely through large eyeglasses, but the witness seemed to be unconscious of the presence of his relative.

The killing of Freeman followed that of Ed Fleming, father of the witness, one month, Troy Fleming said, and the witness detailed several conversations he declared he had with the defendant in which Homer Fleming was declared to have insisted that "something ought to be done about Freeman."

Freeman was under bond on the charge of murder of Ed Fleming, it was brought out on cross-examination. The first conversation with his uncle occurred about two weeks after the death of Ed Fleming, it was declared, and at the time Homer Fleming is said to have declared "something ought to be done about that man Freeman. He killed your father and I believe he will either get out of it or get off with a life sentence. You are the one to do it."

"I told him I would not do it," the witness declared, "that I was going to let the law take its course."

Homer Fleming is said to have ridden to the residence of the witness the day of the killing and repeated his remark that something ought to be done about Freeman, and Troy said he again replied that he would not do it.

"I will do it if you will go with me," Homer Fleming is declared to have remarked. Troy said he went into the house and obtained a 30-30 rifle and the two went to the lot, where they wrapped their feet in sacks to prevent forming tracks. They then crossed the hills toward the Freeman store, he said. The way was very rough and stony and the distance was about two miles, it was declared. Upon arriving upon the top of the hill, the uncle and nephew paused and looked down at the Freeman store, according to t testimony. The door was open, but no one was about. Troy said he remained on the top of the hill and Homer went further down the slope toward the Freeman house. He could barely see his uncle through the brush, the witness said, and did not see him raise his rifle and fire, he said. After the shot, Homer was said to have walked back up the hill and joined his nephew.

"I do not know whether I got him or not, but I think I did," the witness said his uncle remarked. The two men then went home the same way they came, crossing the hills in their sack-wrapped feet. Within a quarter of a mile of home they stopped in the brush, removed the sacks from their feet and burned them, he said.

"I thought someone would be up that way looking around," the witness explained on cross-examination. Homer Fleming mounted his horse and rode away when they arrived home, the witness said, and he went into the house, put up the rifle and ate dinner. The witness was taken through a severe cross-examination by Dayton Moses, attorney for the defense, but the material part of his testimony was not changed; several new details were added to his story, however. Under the questioning of Moses the witness said his three brothers, Lacey, Ira and Lem, were hoeing corn in the front of the house when their Uncle Homer rode up. Homer tied his horse to a live oak tree in front of the house and it could have been easily seen by the three brothers when they arrived at the ends of the corn rows near the house, it was pointed out. It was also brought out that the mother and a sister of witness were in the house, but he declared that when he went into the house to get the gun he did not see either of them. Asked from where he obtained the rifle, the witness replied,

"I do not remembers; it was usually left around behind doors." His Uncle Homer had a rifle on his saddle when he came to the house, the witness said, but it was Homer's custom to carry a rifle and had been for several years. Both the rifles were 30-30 caliber, he said. There was also a 25-35 caliber rifle and a shotgun in the house, he said. He did not remember whether there was a new 30-30 there and said the one he carried was about four or five years old.

Troy Fleming admitted on cross-examination by Moses that he was promised immunity if he would take the stand and tell who killed Freeman. The defense introduced three written promises of immunity in their testimony. One was made before the grand jury, one before the district attorney and sheriff of Kimble County and one before Judge L. J. Brucks of the 36th District Court.

Moses asked Troy Fleming if he, Fleming, did not tie tow sacks around his feet and make two trips to the store in an effort to kill Freeman, before he got the chance. This question was the cause of a legal wrangle which held up progress for several minutes. Troy finally answered that he did not. Moses, at another time, asked the co-defendant if he had not gone to the Freeman store in disguise and laid for Freeman. He answered that he did not.

Troy Fleming was on the stand all during the afternoon until court adjourned at 6 o'clock. A night session was held to hear other testimony.

W. E. Nance told of the shooting and his testimony outlined the theory of the State that Freeman was shot as he stood in front of his store by some person who was concealed in a cedar brake just across the road. The fatal shot was fired from a rifle and the bullet struck Freeman on the left of the neck, breaking the spinal cord and killing him almost instantly, according to witnesses. Nance said he and his wife had stopped in front of the combined store and postoffice of Freeman to telegraph and obtain his mail. Freeman was standing on the front porch conversing as Nance was preparing to crank his automobile, when a shot was heard, it was declared. The witness said he thought a tire had blown out, but he heard his wife and Mrs. Freeman scream and, turning around, saw Freeman slumping to the floor. The wounded man dropped to the ground and fell back with his head against the porch, the witness said. He went to his assistance and found that Freeman had been shot in the neck and was dead. He laid the body upon the ground and telephoned the sheriff and James Freeman, brother of the dead man. He said the cedar brake from which the shot is alleged to have been fired, was described as a hillside thickly grown over with brush just across the road in front of the store.

Dr. John W. McMahan, who now resides in San Antonio, said he was at that time a resident of Junction and was called to examine the body and found a wound in the neck which had caused death. He found the bullet about a foot lower in the neck, he said, ranging downward from point of entry. The bullet was described as either a 25-35 or 30-30 rifle missile and

Oratory

The National Oratorical Contests bring the winners of the contests in the States to Washington each year, and these winners in turn secure a tour of Europe. Several million American boys and girls will write essays on the Constitution and the American Government in the next few months and they will participate in the great events at home which may lead them on to fame.

Mr. Randolph Leigh of Washington, is the organizer and director of these wonderful contests. In answering the question "What is Oratory?" he says: Oratory is not merely literature. It is not a matter of moving the arms or the lips or the eyes or even the eye brows—but of moving the audience." He described it as "the most difficult of arts." He furnishes very interesting information concerning the subject, and in his book entitled "Oratory" he says:

"Oratory presents the difficult problem of utilizing under a rigorous time-limit, four variable and dissimilar elements in such a way as to effect conduct. These four elements are: (1) The orator's literary equipment (complete mastery of words suitable to his task); (2) his physical equipment (voice, bodily symmetry, etc.); (3) his psychic equipment (those deep-buried flames within the soul without which all else is as nothing); and (4) the receptive equipment of his hearers. As prosaic a thing as a head cold may destroy the effect of what would have been an excellent speech. A faulty instinct for words suitable to a particular occasion may foil the most persuasive voice and the most attractive personality. The inspiration of a speaker, which may have tremendous at a given time on Monday, may at the same hour on Tuesday be at the ebb. In even the most ardent individuals the fires within the heart flare up and fall back with baffling irregularity."

In continuing his observations, he says:

"Oratory is the art of bringing ideas to white heat and then letting them loose among men through the immediate agency of the most powerful stimulus known to man—personality. Launched thus, ideas through centuries, have swept into and speeded up the currents of life. Untagged, unprinted, often unperceived, they throb on and on, as do ether waves—not to be ignored merely because not fully understood.

"Truly an exacting art, this oratory, with its baffling ramifications and its immemorial vibor. But, what vast returns it offers—returns in influence, in power and, above all, in giving to the prisoned, inward self sweep and fire and wings."

The above are valuable points in connection with a great educational movement which calls for brain work and oratory from the youth of America.

MECHANIZING FOOD

Alarming news comes from chemists meeting in Chicago. They predict the eventual wiping out of agriculture. They say thirty men working in a factory the size of a city block can produce in the form of yeast as much food as 10,000 men tilling 57,000 acres. The time may come, it was said at this meeting, when the pressure of population will create a situation where chemists will convert sunlight and gases of the air into food that will sustain the human body. Such a situation may arise only many, many years from now, the scientists agreed. We are glad.

Picture an existence where eating would be mechanical. Think of having a tablet of concentrated food or a cake of yeast for each meal. Then think of the turkey and fixings, the cranberry sauce, and all the other delicious things we have on our tables on Thanksgiving Day. Or, for that matter, think of an ordinary square meal. Which would you rather have—the tablet or the meal?

What a sorry thing life will be in that far distant time predicted by the scientists!

It reminds us of a story that Steven Leacock, Canadian humorist, once wrote, in which he visualized adistant era when all food would be concentrated in tablets. The big family in this story sat about a table, in the center of which was their Thanksgiving Dinner in the form of a tiny pill. Before the father had the chance to divide the pill into tiny pieces for the individual members of the family group, Baby grabbed it and swallowed it. It was a dreadful calamity. Of course Baby died.

But, says Leacock, he had the happy smile on his face of a little boy who had eaten all of a family Thanksgiving Dinner!

AMERICAN SHEEPMEN HAVE MUCH TO LEARN

In spite of having to sell sheep products in unprotected world markets and of facing greater and more numerous problems than do American sheepmen, the wool producers of New Zealand, Australia, and South Africa are receiving higher prices for their products and making more money than their American competitors, is the conclusion drawn by J. F. Walker of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The main reasons attributed by Mr. Walker for the greater success of these foreign competitors is that they have learned to breed a lighter shrinkage wool of uniform quality, to class their wools so that the buyer secures only one type in buying a lot, and because they have learned how to co-operate in marchandising their products. "They were amazed," the speaker said, "to learn that sheepmen in America with much more favorable opportunities, such as nearness to market and a heavy tariff had done so little toward the concentration, grading and joint selling of wool."

ICE, in a good ice box, pays for itself many times over in the saving of food, with its precious flavors intact. Ice keeps food in prime condition.

Not only is ice the cheapest refrigerant known, but it is the only refrigerant that constantly and automatically eliminates food odors and impurities. These are carried to and deposited on the ice cake, then out they go, through the outlet! The value of ice in safeguarding health is too great to be expressed in terms of dollars and cents.

Use ice freely—it pays big returns on a very small investment.

When the first Chrysler, the original "70" was announced over four years ago, it created a furor, and was regarded at that time as the greatest advancement in engineering and design to be produced.

The reception of the original "70" sinks into insignificance compared with the way the new models are taking the country by storm.

When The Snow and Ice Comes

Then, and not until then, will we be able to get sufficient Chryslers to stock again, as we like to do, and offer our customers a selection from our Sales Floor.

DON'T BE DISAPPOINTED

We are delivering in strict regard to orders on hand. We have lost many sales the past few months because our friends have come in wanting to buy—and found us with no Chryslers in stock. If you will need your new car soon, place your order today—and keep both you and ourselves from being disappointed.

IF YOU ARE NOT ALREADY A SINCERE BELIEVER IN CHRYSLER AUTOMOBILES—then all that we ask you to do is to "SHOP BEFORE YOU BUY"

Let no influence persuade you to buy ANY automobile until you have first seen the new Chryslers and learned the new low prices. The more you "Shop before you buy," the better pleased we are when you buy your Chrysler from us. Only by "shopping" will you get a true comparison of value, and appreciate more than ever the greater value in a Chrysler.

Mr. C. W. Arnot is our Sales Representative in Junction and vicinity. We will appreciate all courtesies extended to Mr. Arnot—and he will be glad to give you all possible information on Chrysler Automobiles.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

Do You Know About Trapshooting?

Trapshooting is perhaps the most unique of sports and, all things considered, the most characteristically American of them all. One of the most striking features of clay target shooting is that the number of participants is usually greater than the number spectators, a fact which distinguishes the trap game from other sports where the "gallery" is made up of hundreds and even thousands of people watching individual players or teams in action. On the other hand, a trapshooting meet, with several hundred shooters toeing the mark, may draw a gallery of less than one quarter the number of shooters. Another thing about trapshooting is that more take part in sectional tournaments than participance in a meet of any other sport of the entire list. Besides, clay target shooting is essentially an amateur sport and not a single one of the sanctioned tournaments is for professionals.

The classic event in trapdom is the Grand American Championship and Handicap Tournament, an annual affair which has been staged for twenty-eight years. This year the August events are scheduled to occur at Vandalia, Ohio, near Dayton. The site is the permanent home grounds of The Amateur Trapshooting Association of America. Daily programs of shooting events occur for a whole week. Last year's record of 873 entrants will be exceeded.

Rewards for skill in "bustin' 'em" with a scattergun includes the following: Preliminary events, $8,950 in cash and trophies; $10,525 guaranteed purse in the Grand American Handicap; $3,940 guaranteed purse in the Preliminary Handicap, and $500 guaranteed purse in the Consolation Handicap.

Besides the Grand American Handicap and major sectional handicaps, more than one thousand "registered" shoots have been arranged for the present year.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

(by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.)

"Nerves"

A lady sixty years old—she admitted it—was in my office this morning; I have been seeing her every few days, for about six weeks. In all this time, I have not been able to discover a single evidence of organic disease. All her organs seem to be in perfect working order. Yet, she is incapacitated sufficiently to send her to a health resort, and to prevent her from attending to her (very light) home duties! What, then, is the matter, and how may we correct the condition?

There are thousands of American women in the same state of body and mind today. Let's see: For years they have been busy, pouring out nervous energy, and putting in next to nothing. Rest for the super-strained nervous system has never been thought of. This woman has not missed a bargain sale in the city for years. She has kept up with everything that made demands of her; society, lodges, church duties, dinner to raise money for the heathen, sick kinfolks, funerals of neighbors and friends, clubs, where the one that made the most noise was the most popular! And, a thousand other activities in wholly unnecessary endeavor, besides her preparing three daily meals—going to bed last, and getting up first—and making the neighborhood's troubles her very own. This patient hasn't been sick an hour in twenty-five years.

What humanity needs is a monkey-wrench, with which to be fastened down to commonsense. Even an asbestos nervous system housed in galvanized iron, would break to pieces under the fearful mental gymnastics of today. There is no sort of machine but will wear out under pressure—the human mechanism is no exception. Medicine will never take the place of rest. Stimulants have never cured a tired man or woman. Hypnotics never have produced a single moment of healthy sleep.

HIGH LINE EXTENDS IN THE YATES POOL

To serve the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company for drilling and pumping 125 locations in Pecos County, the West Texas Utilities Company has approved a work order for the erection of 8,500 feet of 12,000-volt highline extension in the Yates Pool.

The extension will be of No. 4 stranded copper wire hung on 30 foot poles. The 125 locations are to be brought in as proration aggreements of the oil companies permit, it was announced.

was badly crushed. He could not say whether it was a full metal-jacketed or soft-nose bullet.

Capt. W. W. Taylor, former Ranger captain and now chief deputy sheriff of Tom Green County, told of investigating the scene of the shooting and said he found a cedar tree which had been bent downward about 100 yards from the porch of the store, where Freeman was standing when he was shot. There were no foot marks or other signs about the tree, he said, but the ground was very hard and stony. Taylor was sheriff of Kimble County at that time.

Lacy Fleming, brother of Troy, testified that he saw his uncle, Homer Fleming, at his mother's house on the day that Freeman was killed. He said that he heard Homer ask Troy Fleming, "are you going to kill Freeman?" He said that he answered, "I will not."

Following this conversation, he said, he saw Troy and Homer go toward the barn carrying rifles. This was about 11 o'clock in the morning, and that he did not see them again until about 2 o'clock in the afternoon in front of his mother's house.

On cross-examination, he testified that his father, Ed. Fleming, was killed by Freeman, and that he and his brother, Ira, were present when the shooting occurred. He said his father was shot five times. The shooting occurred on Friday, and his father died on the Sunday following.—San Antonio Express.

AMERICAN WAGES HIGHEST

A comparison of wages earned by workers in the United States and in several foreign countries shows that Americans earn much higher wages than abroad and that wages in this country have increased more rapidly since 1913 than cost of living, according to Statistics Bureau of the Department of Labor.

Wages are as follows:

Brick layers—Austria, $1.39; Belgium, $1.32; France, $1.57; Germany, $1.84; United States, $12.56.

Carpenters — Belgium, $1.36; Czechoslovakia, $1.12; England, $2.96; Germany, $1.86; Italy, $1.82; United States, $10.16.

Laborers in building trades—Austria, $1.12; Belgium, $0.91; Germany, $1.47; Italy, $0.80; Norway, $1.88; Sweden, $3.09; United States, $4.00.

Coal miners—Great Britain, $2.02 to $2.65; United States, $6.26 to $9.65.

Farm hands—France, $1.05; Germany, $0.56; Great Britain, $1.37; Norway, $1.28; United States, $2.36.

Rolling mill heaters—Germany, $1.31 to $4.57; Great Britain, $4.36; United States, $7.60.

Rolling mill, common laborers —Germany, $1.40 to $2.07; Great Britain, $1.61 to $1.64; United States, $5.28.

Monthly wages of able seamen—France, $17; Germany, $22; Great Britain, $44; Italy, $20; United States private vessels, $60; United States Shipping Board vessels, $62.

Wages in the United States reached their peak in 1920, but were still more than twice as high in 1922, as they were in 1913.

Cost of living also was highest in 1920, but hourly wages bought 12.2% more of necessities of life than in 1913.

In 1926, with wages per hour 126% higher than in 1913, cost of living was only 75% higher. Thus in 1926, for his hour of labor the worker could buy 30.7% more than he could in 1913.

CANDIDATE FILES LIST OF ELECTION "COSTS"

New Lexington, Ohio. — The law requires candidates for office to file a report of all expenditures. A widely known candidate for sheriff in Perry county has his all ready to file and has the matter truthfully compiled, showing just what it cost him "to be elected."

"Lost 1,349 hours of sleep thinking about the election. Lost two front teeth and alot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent. Donated one beef, four shoats and five sheep to county barbecues. Gave away two pairs of suspenders, four calico dresses, $5 in cash and 15 baby rattles.

Kissed 120 babies. Put up four stoves. Kindled 14 fires. Walked 4,076 miles. Shook hands with 9,508 people. Told 10,101 lies and talked enough to make in print 1,000 volumes.

"Attended 16 revivals and was baptized four times by immersion and twice by other ways. Contributed $50 to foreign missions and made love to nine widows—five grass and four sod.

"Hugged 40 old maids. Got dog-bit 39 times and was elected by 353 majority."—Publishers Auxiliary.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

(by Nancy Hart)

Cleanliness within the refrigerator is most important—especially if baby foods are stored therein. The old-fashioned ice box should be scalded out periodically to keep it sweet and clean. In the best automatic refrigerators, however, the use of scalding water and soap is not necessary. Simply wiping the box out quickly with a cloth wet in a cold sciution of baking soda and then wiping dry is sufficient.

In the automatic type, defrosting the chilling unit is necessary about twice a month in order to maintain proper radiation of cold from the unit. It can be done over night. Before retiring, turn off the current—or gas, if you have one of the new noiseless refrigerators which operates by gas. By morning the refrigerator is again ready to function and the drip pan can be emptied and fresh water put in the ice-tube trays.

Cream together a cup sugar (beet or cane) and tablespoon butter and beat one egg into it. Then add alternately a cup milk and two cups flour sifted with three teaspoons baking powder and a fourth teaspoon salt. Half fill buttered molds with batter, cover with any sweetened fresh fruit. Fill balance of mold with batter, cover and steam.

A Tart Mint Jelly for Meats

Mix a cup vinegar with a cup and a half water, add green vegetable coloring and stir until dissolved. Add 6½ level cups sugar and bring to a boil. At once add a bottle of liquid pectin and bring again to full rolling boil and boil for a half minute. Remove, add teaspoon spearmint extract. Let stand one minute, skim, pour and seal.

An Apple Sauce Children Like

Cook six tart apples until tender in pint of boiling water. Add a half cup sugar and while still boiling, stir in package of fruit-flavored gelatin. Beat thoroughly and strain. Set in molds to harden and serve with sweetened cream.

A Hint for the Man of the House

Except for sports wear the rumpled soft collar is yielding to the new type of light pliant white collar which, although starched to contribute neatness of neck and ties, sacrifices nothing in comfort.

Construction forces are already at work at McCamey, Texas, moving toward the Kimble County line, and it is estimated that they will have the line completely laid by January 1, 1929.

This pipe line extends to the Yates and Winkler fields.

W. T. U. EXECUTIVE OFFICE APPROVES EXTENSIONS

Erection of 1.9 miles of 13,000-volt highline to serve all of the potential oil field business in the Cook field, near Albany, not now being served, was authorized in a work order approved by the executive offices of the West Texas Utilities Comany at Abilene.

The line will be built primarily to serve two central powers and lease houses in the Cook field.

Orders also were approved for the construction of a 2,300-volt single phase line in the city limits of Rising Star. It will extend along the state highway to the northern boundary of the city limits. This line is to increase the power load and to provide for additional customers.

A SUCCESSFUL SIX NOW WINNING EVEN GREATER SUCCESS

SPECTACULAR SUCCESS
is proving it "Chief of the Sixes"

In the tremendous success which Pontiac Six is enjoying is ample reason for designating this great General Motors car "Chief of the Sixes." Never has any new car risen so rapidly in the estimation of motor car buyers for during the first six months of 1928, over 136,000 Pontiacs were sold—the largest volume ever achieved by any car during the first half of its third year in production! This great public acceptance tells more of what Pontiac offers at $745 than even the most complete listing of such features as Fisher bodies, 186 cu. in. engine, the G-M-R cylinder head, cross-flow radiator, foot-controlled headlights, coincidental lock, etc., etc.! Come in for a ride today and learn why its sales sweep ever upward.

2-Door Sedan, $745; Coupe, $745; Sport Roadster, $745; Phaeton, $775; Cabriolet, $795; 4 Door Sedan, $825; Sport Landau Sedan, $875. Oakland All-American Six, $1045 to $1265. All prices at factory. Check Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices—they include lowest handling charges. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

LONDON LOCALS

Again we are made to feel so sad. On Saturday, the 8th, the young life of Weymond Williamson was crushed out by the hand of death. On the night the Carol Brown barn burned young Williamson put forth heroic efforts to help a neighbor in time of need and in doing so sustained a wounded leg. This wound healed, but it seems it became infected, insomuch that the infection spread through his entire system, resulting in his death. Weymond was a bright young man of about 17 summers. It seems so sad for such a young life to be snuffed out.

Among others who attended court at Boerne were E. H. Kothmann, E. I. Cummins, C. E. Weaver and R. B. Furr.

John P. Jones and daughter, Miss Virginia, spent a few days at Burnet last week. They report a real nice time.

Miss Dulcie Ellis, Miss Gladys Winn and Bro. Dick Winn returned from several days' visit to Rocksprings. These young people say that Rocksprings is a real town and they had a real time while there.

Mr. Russell Lavelle, one of London High School graduates, entered the Schreiner High at Junction. Russell is a bright young man and his class mates will find him true blue in all respects.

Mrs. Ralph Smith, who underwent an operation recently at the Brady sanitarium, is reported going well.

Miss Loree Kothmann and her younger brother and sister, Woodrow and Ruth, also Miss Jessie Hunter and four other former pupils of London school, Miss Loree and Miss Jessie graduates have entered the Schreiner High for this term of school. These are excellent students and we regret to lose them.

Mr. Frank Price, a graduate of London school entered the Mason High for this term. Frank is a bright boy and manly in all his ways. His teacher and class mates will find him to be a congenial chum.

The Lion's Club of Menard paid London a call on the 7th. They came about 100 strong—men, women and children. They were welcomed by all. Mr. Edgar Furr extended the formal welcome in a few well chosen sentences, which was responded to by the Reverend Coker, a Presbyterian preacher, who said many good things and some funny ones. He was followed by John Clark on behalf of the Lions, the Chamber of Commerce and the business men of Menard. We were glad to have these good people visit us and hope they will come again. Their band rendered some excellent music.

Bill Cummins left the 9th to re-enter the San Marcos State school. Bill is ambitious and you will hear from him later. His chosen profession is an honorable one and he is ambitious to become highly proficient in that profession. This is why we think you will hear and know more of Bill later.

The rains have retarded cotton picking.

Our gin had turned out 276 bales to Saturday night.

S. H. McCaleb has made some worth while livestock sales lately. He is in the market for lambs. Sam is using good headwork in selling grown up stock and buying young stuff. If the market should decline his young stuff will grow him out.

The Baptists held services Sunday and Sunday night, the first since the revival in July. Bro. Ivans will meet his regular appointments from now on.

The uncomplimentary remark recently published in the Harper Herald about the popping of home brew bottles and the gathering of millions of flies, that gave the editor so much annoyance while visiting this place recently was taken by our people as no offense at all, because we all realize it was only a dream of the poor editor, caused by an over-loaded stomach, and that he was only dreaming of "Home, Sweet Home," because no such condition exists or ever has existed in this little town. We all thank Mr. Hunter for the nice things he said about London, which materially outweighs his bad dream.

Speaking of dreams, Arthur Brisbane says, no man can prove he isn't dreaming as he talks to you,, and many a man dreaming has been certain he was awake.

LARGER BODIES ANNOUNCED FOR VICTORY 6 LINE

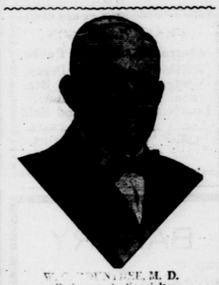

Long and roomier bodies affording greater vision in all closed models of the Victory Six line have been announced by Dodge Brothers. The new type bodies now in the hands of all dealers are available in the sedan, sport sedan, coupe and coupe-brougham. In designing the changes, engineers have retained the Victory Six roadability featuring its low center of gravity and sweeping, graceful appearance.

Mechanical changes of the improved Victory Six models include an engine temperature indicator on the dash board, grouped under the glass panel with gas gauge, oil pressure indicator, speedometer and ammeter, and the location of the starting button on the dash board within easy reach of the driver.

Maximum vision for the driver and occupants of the front seat has been effected by an increase of 76 square inches in the area of the windshield. The height and length of the sedan models and coupe-brougham have been increased to the greatest head and leg room for all passengers.

Doors of the sedans have been widened approximately three inches, and are built higher. Glass area of each front window has been increased by 80 square inches. In each rear door window, the glass area has been increased 52 square inches.

Improved interior appointments of all bodies have been matched with additional attractive color combinations and trimmings. No change in prices will be made.
