Students were to register this afternoon, and the first day of school is Monday.

Dallas Lads Take Loot, Head South

DALLAS (AP)— Two 14-year-old safecrackers, released in the custody of their parents, were believed en route to some point in South America today.

The two youngsters vanished from their homes Monday with four suitcases containing, police said, $1,000 in cash and 100 watches. Police said the watches were burglary loot.

Authorities here, believing the boys were en route to South America via Mexico, placed the Mexican border from Texas to California on alert.

Officers surprised the boys Sunday busily attempting to crack a plumbing firm's safe. A loaded revolver, which police traced to another burglary, lay on the safe within easy reach.

In five hours of questioning, police said they cleared up four more burglaries. The parents agreed to return the boys for more questioning Monday morning.

"Then, they were gone," a detective said. Burglary division officers learned they bought tickets for El Paso and left Dallas a 1 a.m. Sunday.

Detectives said the boys had concealed the $1,000 and watches they carried with them by cutting out compartments in 10 thick encyclopedias. The loot-filled books then were placed in suitcases.

New Bloodshed Marks Deepening Viet Crisis

SOUTH VIET NAM PRESIDENT STEPS DOWN—Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, left, resigned as president of South Viet Nam and Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, right, will probably be brought back as caretaker chief of state. Khanh resigned after angry demonstrations by students and Buddhists for an end to dictatorial rule, but he still commands the army and remains head of the government. Minh led the overthrow of the Diem regime last November. (AP Wirephoto)

Military Council Won't Quit Post

By ROY ESSOYAN

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh failed today to convince fellow members of the ruling revolutionary military council that they should quit politics to prevent new riots.

"We are not even close to a decision," said Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khiem, one of the most powerful officers on the 60-man junta.

Fresh bloodshed in the north attended deepening of the political crisis that led Khanh to resign Tuesday as president, junk a controversial constitution and pledge a new deal for this Communist-menaced republic.

A source close to the junta said the question of electing a new national leader — part of an arrangement with the leaders of student and Buddhist demonstrators — was not even discussed.

Before the five-hour meeting broke up, student leaders threatened new mass demonstrations unless the military men returned to fighting the war, opening the government to civilians.

Khanh called the situation serious.

Buddhist rioters thronged in and around Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, for the third straight day and South Vietnamese troops intervened for the first time to check their antigovernment, anti-Catholic and anti-American demonstrations.

The troops fired over the heads of the crowds. The toll of the riots rose to 11 dead and 61 wounded. Two of the dead were Vietnamese soldiers. Da Nang police arrested 40 of the rioters for looting. Catholic-owned shops were sacked and burned.

Demonstrations also flared again in Hue, 50 miles north of Da Nang and 40 miles south of Communist North Viet Nam's frontier. Students commandeered the Hue radio station. Police and local officials joined 5,000 demonstrators in a street parade.

As the junta haggled, fears rose that the Communist Viet Cong may take advantage of the crisis by attacking the capital itself. Intelligence reports indicate that the Communists may have more than 20,000 troops around Saigon.

Diplomats described 37-year-old Khanh as confident he could weather the storm.

The 60 generals and colonels of South Viet Nam's U.S.-backed armed forces met under heavy guard at general staff headquarters near Saigon Airport.

Among them was Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, the popular Buddhist who directed the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem last November. Minh was ousted as figurehead chief of state in Khanh's Aug. 16 shake-up, which precipitated the current crisis.

Minh did not attend the junta session 10 days ago when Khanh moved up from premier to president and received dictatorial powers under the new constitution.

Also present today were four generals — including three suspected of favoring neutralization of South Viet Nam — who were placed under house arrest after Khanh seized power last Jan. 30.

All Dallas Alerted For Two Youths

DALLAS (AP)—All-out search was under way today for two boys whose station wagon, while racing over a hilly alley, smashed into two small girls on bicycles Monday.

Police turned out all available traffic plain clothesmen to criss-cross the Kimball High School area where the incident occurred.

In a number of cases, civilians were conducting their own search.

Witnesses saw the boys stay at the scene long enough to carry the most seriously injured girl—10-year-old Cheryl Howard—out of the alley and leave her in high weeds.

As neighbors attended the unconscious girl, the boys got back into the vehicle and took off.

The alley where the accident occurred was marked with warning signs. It long has been a favorite of fast drivers seeking thrills over its course of hills.

The Howard girl, whose legs and arms were fractured, showed improvement Tuesday.

Demos Feel Humphrey Is Likely Choice

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Democrats turn from convention battles to the loud but peaceful ritual tonight of acclaiming President Johnson as their nominee and hearing finally his choice of a running mate.

All hands — including Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's — pointed to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the bustling quick-talking party whip in the Senate as the man Johnson wants for vice president.

McCarthy, who had been another favorite in the vice-presidential derby, declared today in favor of Humphrey, a fellow Minnesotan.

McCarthy sent a telegram to Johnson this morning, acknowledging he had been interested for several weeks in the job but concluding:

"It is my opinion the qualifications that you have listed or which you are said to have listed as most desirable in the man who would be vice president with you would be met admirably by Senator Humphrey.

"I wish therefore to recommend for your primary consideration Senator Hubert H. Humphrey."

There was no immediate comment from the White House in Washington. Press Secretary George Reedy said he knew nothing about the McCarthy telegram except for news accounts on it.

Sometime in the next few hours, Johnson will — one way or another — make his choice known.

But no one professed in advance to know just how or when.

Delegates who eddied around in this football field-sized hall had gone through all of the characteristic motions of a Democratic convention and now were ready for the big show.

They had adopted a platform giving the Republicans what-for but carefully tailored to fit Johnson's prescription for a consensus party within which Southern conservatives could labor alongside Northern liberals in the campaign vineyard for the President's election in November.

They patched up a compromise nobody liked over the question of seating a Mississippi delegation not pledged to support the national ticket.

Five members of the predominantly Negro Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party gained entrance to the hall and sat down in the all-but-empty seats under the state's banner, where they weren't supposed to be.

Successor Named For Italian Red

ROME (AP)—Luigi Longo, a veteran Communist leader, today formally succeeded the late Palmiro Togliatti as secretary-general of the Italian Communist party.

As expected, the party elected Longo at a closed meeting on the morning after Togliatti's funeral.

Longo, 64, became Togliatti's deputy after World War II and helped him organize the West's largest Communist party.

Togliatti died Friday.

Shoes Obviously Weren't Custom Made

PARK FOREST, Ill. (AP) — A policeman took one look at a 14-year-old boy Tuesday and concluded he was wearing a shoe stolen 12 days ago from a local department store.

The shoe, which the youth was wearing over his regular shoe, was a display model — size 25D, weighed three pounds, was 20 inches long and had a sole ¾ inches thick. He said another boy gave it to him.

Cleo Turns For Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Cleo made a northward turn today and aimed directly for the southeast Florida coast. The Weather Bureau hoisted gale warnings for south Florida and the western Bahamas.

Rising northeasterly winds will reach gale force this afternoon and tonight, forecasters said, and small craft sailors were urged to seek safe harbor.

The Florida warning area extended from Sombrero Light, 40 miles northeast of Key West, to Fort Lauderdale on the lower east coast of the Florida mainland and included populous Miami.

Cleo, with at least 64 dead in her wake, moved off the north Cuba coast over the Florida Straits shortly before 10 a.m. (EST).

Unable to get hurricane hunter planes into the storm over Cuban territory, forecasters were uncertain how much the storm had weakened over the island.

Radar scanning indicated that Cleo's highest winds had dropped below hurricane force, probably as low as 50 miles an hour, but forecasters said she would re-intensify quickly over the warm water of the straits.

The turn in direction took the lower keys out of the danger zone and Chief Forecaster Gordon Dunn said the switch might take the hurricane's eye closer to Bimini, Bahamas Island 60 miles east of the Florida coast, than to Miami.

Coming off the north coast of Cuba, over the warm waters of the Florida Strait, the hurricane could quickly regain some of its lost power. Its winds, which hit 140 miles an hour over Haiti, dropped to 75 over Cuba.

Reports from Cuba on the storm's position were not complete.

The Weather Bureau estimated that the storm was centered at 8 a.m. (EST) near latitude 22.3 north, lontigude 79.6 west. This is 210 miles southeast of Kew West and 250 miles south-southeast of Miami.

Integrators Given Judicial Setback

DALLAS (AP)—Negroes seeking total and immediate integration of all Dallas schools have been handed a setback by U.S. District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson.

Judge Davidson Tuesday denied the petition of 10 Negro children and their parents asking immediate relief and left in force the grade-a-year, stairstep plan of integration started here in 1961.

The first through fourth grades will be desegregated with the opening of school here on Sept. 8.

Fred Finch, one of the three Negro lawyers, said he felt sure the ruling by Judge Davidson will be appealed.

In his opinion, Judge Davidson said:

"The court feels it would be to the disadvantage of the child of either or both races to change the present arrangements and that the annual progression of grade to grade will eventually leave a better relationship between the children than one in which they would be suddenly thrust together as has been done in some places."

Judge Davidson said on the basis of testimony and evidence presented in the two-day hearing, he found the school board of Dallas had "substantially complied" with the decree approving the grade-a-year plan.

Negro parents and attorneys Finch, W. J. Durham and Norman Amaker were lectured by Judge Davidson. He told them "you already have all your legal rights.

"If a key doesn't open a lock the first time you try, you work with the key in the lock and after a while it usually opens. If you get impatient, however, and take a wrench and turn the key in the lock, you will either break the lock or the key."

He cautioned against impatience. "It took the Puritans 100 years to get through killing the Quakers," he said.

Amaker, a New York attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, made three major claims in his closing argument:

1. That Dallas school officials, through zoning and changing the designation of several schools from "white" to "Negro," have continued to segregate students.

2. That there is no indication that there would be any disruption of the educational process if total desegregation is immediately ordered.

3. That Negro children—particularly in the area of vocational training—are being deprived of opportunities available to white children.

NEW CONTRACTS OK'D

Strike Against Pan-Am Ended

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Transport workers returned today to their jobs at Pan American Airways following a strike-ending agreement on a new labor contract which one union official called the best ever negotiated in the industry.

The strike of AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union members lasted less than 24 hours but crippled the airline's operations to foreign points from New York, Miami, Washington, Seattle, Wash., Portland, Ore., San Francisco, Los Angeles and Houston, Tex.

Pan American operates no domestic flights.

The air line recalled all its employes to duty shortly after the agreement was reached. Board Chairman Juan Trippe said extra planes will be operated in transatlantic service to accommodate any backlog of traffic.

Details of the new contract covering 12,000 union members — maintenance and ground service personnel and flight stewards and stewardesses —were not disclosed pending ratification by rank and file union members.

This is expected to be completed by the middle of next week, the union said.

About 9,000 workers were involved in the strike over wages, working conditions and fringe benefits.

James J. Horst, international vice president and director of the union's Air Transport Division, called the contract the best ever negotiated in the industry.

The walkout began about 2 a.m. Tuesday after negotiations between union and management reached a stalemate.

The union had sought wage increases of 15 per cent, improved working conditions and fringe benefits including a reduction in the 40-hour work week to 37½ hours and more liberal insurance and pension provisions.

Present wages average $3.31 an hour for mechanics, $2.55 for ground service personnel, $2.83 for port stewards and $475 monthly for flight stewards, stewardesses and pursers.

S. Rhodesia Declares State Of Emergency

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — The Southern Rhodesian government declared a state of emergency today in Salisbury's African Highfield Township and called out a battalion of white troops to help police enforce order.

The government sealed off this major township and declared a ban on two major African nationalist political parties.

A government broadcast said the state of emergency would last three months and said it had been applied because of persistent lawlessness, violence and intimidation in the township.

Airport Use Discussed

The Scurry County commissioners court, along with the county judge and the county attorney, met for a special called meeting to discuss Air Force use of Winston Field.

The meeting was called at the request of Col. A. F. Taute, commanding officer of Webb Air Force Base.

Col. Taute and Capt. Joel Blackwell, deputy operations officer at Webb, presented the Air Force's problem to the court, and asked their help in making another landing strip available for the training of future Air Force pilot officers.

Col. Taute said that the Air Force had raised the class load from 40 students to 62 in each class without providing any more facilities for training purposes. Also, he said, that major repairs would be done at Webb next spring which would cause the closing of one of their two runways.

Another runway was definitely needed, he said, and would have to be obtained. He said he hoped that Snyder would welcome the Air Force. The matter of the right of the Federal Government as set forth in the 1951 and 1957 contracts with Scurry County regarding use of the airport here were also discussed.

The commissioners court referred the problem to the County Airport Board which met for a called meeting Tuesday evening.

The text of the letter, issued by the Airport Board following that meeting is as follows:

"The Airport Board met tonight in response to your letter forwarding a request from the U.S. Government for the use of the Scurry County Airport by Webb Air Force Base. After full discussion of the matter, the Airport Board voted to advise the Commissioners' Court that its formal position of March 24, 1964 had not changed. At that time the Airport Board voted unanimously to grant a long-time contract for the use of the Airport by Webb Air Force Base. There were advantages to Scurry County, one of which was that the Air Force would maintain the airport and do so on a higher standard than we would be able to do ourselves. A second reason was that needed storage space for certain Air Force vehicles which Webb Air Force Base was required to rent would permit Scurry County to construct the much needed hangar and amortize the same over a period of time at a calculated no cost to the Scurry County taxpayer.

"The particular letter of July 28, 1964 which has the latest request for the use of Scurry County Airport by Webb Air Force Base for one year we approve if a longer-term agreement is not possible at this time. The maintenance and op-

Texas Servicemen Get Texas Voting Rights

SAN ANTONIO (AP) —A three judge federal court ruled today that servicemen stationed in Texas have the right to vote in state elections regardless of where they entered the service.

The court upset a provision of the Texas Constitution which restricts military personnel to voting only in the country in which they resided when they entered military service.

Two San Antonio servicemen brought the suit against Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Bexar County tax assessor-collector Charles Davis contending the law discriminated against them solely because of their occupation.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a wife who keeps asking her husband, age 64, when he is going to retire? The husband is a successful business man who enjoys being in business, is in good health, and never thinks about retiring until his wife brings it up.

Also, what would you think if this wife took out TWO additional policies on her husband's life while she was his bookkeeper and was authorized to sign his checks? (This wasn't discovered by the husband until several years later.) This same wife reads every magazine article she can find on things a widow should know. She claims she is only being "realistic." I would like your opinion.

SOMEBODY'S HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: Your wife's waging a war of nerves — and winning! Relax, or you'll accommodate her sooner than you both think.

DEAR ABBY: I am mad! I just returned from a friends house and she slyly accused me of having amorous feelings about my doctor! What's with people? They think the milkman, postman, salesmen and repair men are all the secret lovers of every woman who looks at them sideways. Some people can't forgot about sex for one minute! Why can't people be motivated by art, music, world peace or something else?

DEAR ABBY: I enjoyed the letter in your column from a pair of identical twins who said they didn't like to be called "Twin" or "Twinny," and they were disgusted with people who asked, "Are you twins?" That last complaint is so familiar to me because I have an identical twin brother, and when we were young we were dressed alike, and still people would ask, "Are you twins?" My mother told us that when we were about three years old she was walking down the street with one of us on each side of her, when a strange woman stopped us and asked my brother, "Are you brothers?" And he replied, "No, ma'am, we're sisters."

eration by Webb Air Force personnel in the past during the time which they have used the Scurry County Airport has been quite satisfactory, and therefore this Board would recommend a service contract with Webb Air Force Base. However, if the U.S. Government prefers a regular lease and contract, the same is acceptable to the Scurry County Airport Board.

"You are advised that when the Airport was built in 1951 the Commissioners' Court of 1951 entered into a contract with the Department of Commerce of the U.S. Government that all facilities of the Airport developed with Federal aid would be available to the U.S. at all times without charge for military and naval aircraft in common with other aircraft, except that if such use is substantial, a reasonable share, proportionate to such use, of the cost of operating and maintaining facilities so used, may be charged. This same agreement was entered into when the East - West runway was constructed in 1957, and these agreements will remain in force through 1977. Accordingly, the U.S. Government may at any time it wishes use this Airport for military aircraft provided they pay certain compensation and do not preclude the availability of the Airport for use by civilian aircraft."

Some People Just Won't Read Directions

BOSTON (AP)—Teller Robert Mathias of the Suffolk-Franklin Bank in Park Square was handed a note Tuesday.

"You will act quite natural and follow the instructions explicitly. Your failure to do so or to give an alarm will force me to shoot you or anyone who interferes, regardless of my personal safety. Now quickly put all the bills in the envelope. If you are not still I will open fire on anyone."

Mathias dropped to the floor and shouted, "Robbery! Robbery!"

The bandit fled.

Actress Distraught After Being Replaced

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Joan Crawford says she cried for nine hours straight after hearing from newsmen that she was being replaced in a movie for the first time in her career.

Producer-director Robert Aldrich replaced the ailing Miss Crawford with Olivia de Havilland as costar — with Bette Davis—in "Hush, Hush Sweet Charlotte."

"I'm used to having people look me straight in the eye — not this indirect treatment," she said from her bed in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

She is there for the second time with a persistent case of pneumonia. Her illness forced shutdown of the multimillion-dollar movie.

Lady Bird Attends Convention

By FRANCES LEWINE

The First Lady flies from Washington with her daughter, Luci, 20, aboard a chartered plane for the late afternoon official welcome.

Gov. and Mrs. Richard J. Hughes and 4 of their 10 children will lead the greeting party.

Convention sign painters have been busy making "Welcome Lady Bird" placards and a 36-foot-long welcoming streamer.

Instead of the traditional key to the city, the Hughes children will give the First Lady a tercentenary gold pin, set with emeralds, to mark New Jersey's 300th anniversary.

Mrs. Johnson and both her daughters — Luci, 17, arrived Monday — will be in the presidential box tonight for the nomination of President Johnson and his vice presidential running mate.

A spokesman for Mrs. Johnson says the First Lady isn't planning to attend any social events tonight.

President Johnson arrives Thursday to make his acceptance speech and celebrate with his family and fellow Democrats at a giant presidential birthday party.

Ladies Attend The Horse Races

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

"I can't remember whether my husband told me to put two dollars on No. 8 in the fourth race or four dollars on No. 2 in the eighth race," mused a lady from Utah in a big L.B.J. hat. She compromised by putting five dollars on No. 7, Champion Lady, in the third race.

The big brown filly cut out from the field in the back stretch, just beyond where a sign on the infield grass said "Welcome Democrats," and romped on home. She could have made it the rest of the way in snow shoes, and the lady from Utah pocketed $18.75.

It went pretty much like that the rest of the afternoon.

The ladies at the convention had a choice between attending the races and touring a china factory famous for making the White House dinnerware for Presidents Wilson, Truman and Franklin Roosevelt. Twice as many ladies showed up to inspect the two-dollar platers running at the Atlantic City course as turned out to view the presidential crockery.

"I bet one dollar at Monte Carlo last year and one dollar at Las Vegas and here I'm in for two dollars already," exclaimed Alice Narducci of Lambertville, N.J..

The Arkansas delegation hit it big early as a result of one of those hairpin turns of feminine logic that leave veteran horse players talking to themselves long after the lights have gone out on the tote board.

Inez Jones, a delegate and the wife of the state auditor, didn't like Lady Optimist in the first race, but Louise Porter, a delegate and president of the Arkansas Democratic Women's Club, did, because she regards herself as a lady optimist. So Mrs. Jones bought a ticket on Lady Optimist for Mrs. Porter because it was Mrs. Porter's birthday. Get it?

Mrs. Porter did anyway, along with $19.20.

Dedicated Democrats all, the ladies spent almost as much time handicapping the vice-presidential field as they did the resident oat burners. They thought Hubert Humphrey showed early foot while his stablemate Eugene McCarthy was gaited for the long pull, but they feared that Rhode Island's Sen. John Pastore may have emerged as the dark horse to jeopardize Minnesota's double entry on the basis of his early convention workout.

And, without consulting the Owl, Riley, Turfcaster and the other local touts, the lady prognosticators did rule out such long shots as California's Pat Brown and Connecticut's Tom Dodd.

"It'll be a horse race, you can be sure of that," opined Louise Campolo of Roselle Park, N.J.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a wife who keeps asking her husband, age 64, when he is going to retire? The husband is a successful businessman who enjoys being in business, is in good health, and never thinks about retiring until his wife brings it up.

Also, what would you think if this wife took out TWO additional policies on her husband's life while she was his bookkeeper and was authorized to sign his checks? (This wasn't discovered by the husband until several years later.) This same wife reads every magazine article she can find on things a widow should know. She claims she is only being "realistic." I would like your opinion.

SOMEBODY'S HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: Your wife's waging a war of nerves — and winning! Relax, or you'll accommodate her sooner than you both think.

DEAR ABBY: I am mad! I just returned from a visit to a friend's house and she slyly accused me of having amorous feelings about my doctor! What's with people? They think the milkman, postman, salesmen and repair men are all the secret lovers of every woman who looks at them sideways. Some people can't forgot about sex for one minute! Why can't people be motivated by art, music, world peace or something else?

"VIVA LA SENSE" IN FT. WAYNE

DEAR VIVA: Some people ARE! What's with you?

DEAR ABBY: I enjoyed the letter in your column from a pair of identical twins who said they didn't like to be called "Twin" or "Twinny," and they were disgusted with people who asked, "Are you twins?" That last complaint is so familiar to me because I have an identical twin brother, and when we were young we were dressed alike, and still people would ask, "Are you twins?" My mother told us that when we were about three years old she was walking down the street with one of us on each side of her, when a strange woman stopped us and asked my brother, "Are you brothers?" And he replied, "No, ma'am, we're sisters."

eration by Webb Air Force personnel in the past during the time which they have used the Scurry County Airport has been quite satisfactory, and therefore this Board would recommend a service contract with Webb Air Force Base. However, if the U.S. Government prefers a regular lease and contract, the same is acceptable to the Scurry County Airport Board.

"You are advised that when the Airport was built in 1951 the Commissioners' Court of 1954 entered into a contract with the Department of Commerce of the U.S. Government that all facilities of the Airport developed with Federal aid would be available to the U.S. at all times without charge for military and naval aircraft in common with other aircraft, except that if such use is substantial, a reasonable share, proportionate to such use, of the cost of operating and maintaining facilities so used, may be charged. This same agreement was entered into when the East - West runway was constructed in 1957, and these agreements will remain in force through 1977. Accordingly, the U.S. Government may at any time it wishes use this Airport for military aircraft provided they pay certain compensation and do not preclude the availability of the Airport for use by civilian aircraft."

BOSTON (AP)—Teller Robert Mathias of the Suffolk-Franklin Bank in Park Square was handed a note Tuesday.

"You will act quite natural and follow the instructions explicitly. Your failure to do so or to give an alarm will force me to shoot you or anyone who interferes, regardless of my personal safety. Now quickly put all the bills in the envelope. If you are not still I will open fire on anyone."

Mathias dropped to the floor and shouted, "Robbery! Robbery!"

The bandit fled.

Actress Distraught After Being Replaced

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Joan Crawford says she cried for nine hours straight after hearing from newsmen that she was being replaced in a movie for the first time in her career.

Producer-director Robert Aldrich replaced the ailing Miss Crawford with Olivia de Havilland as costar — with Bette Davis—in "Hush, Hush Sweet Charlotte."

"I'm used to having people look me straight in the eye — not this indirect treatment," she said from her bed in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

She is there for the second time with a persistent case of pneumonia. Her illness forced shutdown of the multimillion-dollar movie.

Lady Bird Attends Convention

By FRANCES LEWINE

The First Lady flies from Washington with her daughter, Lynda, 20, aboard a chartered plane for the late afternoon official welcome.

Gov. and Mrs. Richard J. Hughes and 4 of their 10 children will lead the greeting party.

Convention sign painters have been busy making "Welcome Lady Bird" placards and a 36-foot-long welcoming streamer.

Instead of the traditional key to the city, the Hughes children will give the First Lady a tercentenary gold pin, set with emeralds, to mark New Jersey's 300th anniversary.

Mrs. Johnson and both her daughters — Luci, 17, arrived Monday — will be in the presidential box tonight for the nomination of President Johnson and his vice presidential running mate.

A spokesman for Mrs. Johnson says the First Lady isn't planning to attend any social events tonight.

Demos Political Convention Is Strictly Cut And Dried

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —This is the dullest political convention since the one the Republicans held in 1956, and for the same reason. Yet, it has its own special fascination in the things unseen and unsaid.

In 1956 the Republicans met to go through the motions of approving the uncontested renomination of President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Here the Democrats are doing the same for the uncontested nomination of President Johnson.

Then and now there was the usual routine of blasting the opposition.

But the Democratic speakers, reciting the wonders of the administrations of Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy, bracket both men in their eulogies without mentioning the differences between them.

Perhaps the greatest difference was this: Kennedy was an individual kind of president; Johnson is far more the organization man.

Kennedy at the time of his death was still young enough to give a sense of youth to the presidency. Johnson can't. He is deeper in middle age.

The words of Kennedy, a far better read man than Johnson and therefore more literary in his thinking, had a sparkle which Johnson's more pedestrian speeches never achieve.

There was a sense of gaiety about Kennedy, a wit and detachment about himself and his job, which is lacking in Johnson who sounds more deadly serious and sometimes even doleful.

But Kennedy wasn't in the same league with Johnson in unrelenting presidential drive aimed at persuading people — particularly in Congress — to melt their differences to do what he wanted or some of what he wanted.

He works at organizing his forces in a way Kennedy, just because of his detachment, might never have mastered. It seems a basic part of Johnson's make-up that he must succeed, if not entirely, at least a bit.

It's this part of Johnson which showed up at this convention while he remained in Washington. There can hardly be any doubt his guiding hand is running the show.

If the tone of this convention could be summed up in one word it would be: moderation. The moderation has a double purpose obvious before the convention ever opened here Monday.

The object is keeping the Democrats united while attracting as many independents and Republicans as possible. This is the usual political tactic, of course, but this year it has a special significance.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, by his positions on issues and the uncompromising tactics of his supporters at this year's Republican convention, has antagonized a number of Republicans.

The proof is in the fact that after the convention he found it necessary to have a unity meeting with some of the Republican leaders.

To preserve party unity Johnson from the beginning took the opposite course, although total unity seems impossible in those Southern areas where whites have already expressed their antagonism on the racial issue.

But, as the platform shows, Johnson tried to straddle this ticklish situation by the language of compromise.

In a clear effort to keep Southerners and Negroes under the Democratic tent the platform assured the latter the Johnson administration would enforce their rights while saying so in language so mild it is calculated not to inflame the South.

For those Republicans who may find Goldwater too forceful or too conservative for their taste, the Democratic platform's moderate liberalism is offered as an inducement to go along with Johnson.

Guidelines To Distinguish The Sexes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It is a truism of our times that the sexes are getting more alike in America.

As a matter of fact, it is getting harder and harder to tell them apart.

In the Middle Ages there was no such problem. If a creature had long hair and wore a long dress, it was a woman. If it had on a suit of metal and clanked when it walked, it was a man. Each could tell the sex of the other on sight.

But since knighthood no longer is in flower, the identity of the sexes has become more puzzling. The spread of the equal rights movement and the rise of the togetherness cult have so intermingled the historic roles of men and women that both have become somewhat confused.

Women and men now work at the same jobs. They play the same sports. They dress alike, particularly in their youthful years, and they talk about the same things.

As an inevitable result, they look more alike. As a matter of fact, teen-agers now look so much alike that only their own parents can tell which is son, which is daughter.

But it is almost as hard to tell Pop from Mom when both put on slacks to go golfing, or Grandpa from Grandma when they dress up in old clothes to go fishing.

What we need is a kind of Baedecker of Sex to tell the genders apart. Here are a few ways it still can be done:

If it smiles when you address it as "Ma'am," it is feminine. If it grunts and growls, it is masculine.

If it strikes a kitchen match on the seat of its trousers, it's a him. If it waits coyly for you to light its cigarette, it's a her.

If it takes off its shoes at the movies, it's a woman. If it gets down on its hands and knees and starts looking for the shoes, it's a man.

Does it do its fair share of pushing while going through a revolving door? It's a gentleman for sure. Does it leap in front of you and grab the taxi you just flagged down? It's a lady — every time.

If it brags about the steaks it cooked in the backyard, it's a man. If it dimples when you praise the roast it cooks indoors, it's a woman.

If it wears a red ribbon in its hair, it's a lass. If it combs its hair like the north end of a duck going south, it's a lad.

If two go to the supermarket, the one that pushes the loaded cart is the mister. The missus is the one that holds up the line at the checkout counter as she fumbles through the wilderness of her purse.

If you open the door to it and it tries to sell you a box of cookies, it's a Girl Scout. If it helps old ladies across a street, it's a Boy Scout.

Does it bring its paycheck home in its mouth? It's a man. Does it think money grows on trees? It's a woman.

If it writes newspaper columns such as this, It's a him. If it reads columns such as this and loses its temper, It's a her.

Junior Editors Quiz on MONA LISA

QUESTION: Why is the Mona Lisa so famous?

ANSWER: This picture was painted by the great Italian Leonardo da Vinci, who lived between 1452 and 1519. It is a portrait of the wife of a merchant, Francesco del Giocondo, and is often called La Gioconda. Up to that time, pictures had mostly been of events or religious ideas. This was one of the unusual portraits of a real human being, of special interest because she seems so warm and human; we can almost see her thinking. What is she thinking about? Perhaps this is the secret of La Gioconda's fame—everyone is trying to guess her secret. The faintest of smiles plays over her lips—but again, what is she smiling about? Everyone has his own idea. Here is our artist's special theory: "Most people in portraits," he says, "give me the feeling they are thinking about themselves. But this wise, lovely lady looks deeply into your eyes and seems to think about you rather than herself. Somehow, she seems to have guessed your secret. And she gives the impression that even if she shares my secret, she will keep it in confidence."

FOR YOU TO DO: Find a color reproduction of the Mona Lisa and look deeply into her eyes. See if you agree with out artist. If not, work out your own explanation of that wise but tantalizing smile. 8-26

Pizarro Is Enjoying Best Year In Majors

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Juan Pizarro has been a potential 20-game winner since he started throwing rocks in Santurce, P.R., 11 years ago.

Al Lopez is betting a World Series ticket that the White Sox left-hander makes the charmed circle in 1964.

Pizarro pitched Chicago to within a game of first place Tuesday night when he blanked Minnesota 1-0 on a masterful five-hitter. The victory was No. 17, tops in the American League, for the 27-year-old fireballer and the shutout lowered his earned run average to a brilliant 2.00.

He has never been this close to the 20-victory mark before, though tagged "another Bob Feller" before he had thrown a pitch in anger in the major leagues.

Juan started the 1954 Winter League season as the Santurce club's batboy but wound up on the pitching staff when he discovered he could fling rocks harder than the team's pitchers could throw baseballs.

Two years later he was Milwaukee's prize farmhand, striking out 318 batters for the Braves' Jacksonville club in the old Sally League. The Braves had paid Santurce $35,000 for his contract, but they never got a return on their investment.

Pizarro and the Milwaukee management suffered through four seasons with equally unimpressive results.

Finally, in 1960, the Braves traded him to the White Sox and Lopez made him reclamation project No. 1. Pizarro has been a winner ever since.

Elsewhere in the AL Tuesday night, Cleveland upended league-leading Baltimore 5-3; third place New York topped Washington 4-1; Los Angeles defeated Kansas City 5-3 and Detroit slugged Boston 11-6.

National League-leading Philadelphia was beaten by Milwaukee 7-5; Cincinnati trimmed the New York Mets 7-2; St. Louis nipped Pittsburgh 7-6 in 13 innings; the Los Angeles Dodgers beat San Francisco 3-1 and Houston edged the Chicago Cubs 5-4.

Pizarro, 17-6, pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the top of the ninth before the White Sox broke through lefty Dick Stigman in the bottom of the inning.

Stigman checked the Sox on three hits until Jim Landis led off the ninth with a single. One out later, Floyd Robinson singled. Bill Skowron lined out before Ron Hansen broke it up with a run-scoring hit to left.

It was the 10th complete game and fourth shutout for Pizarro, who was a spring holdout until March 25, but got off to the best start of his career, reeling off five successive victories.

The Indians struck for five runs in the eighth inning, the last three on Bob Chance's two-run homer and Leon Wagner's solo shot, to overtake Baltimore.

Orioles starter Milt Pappas gave up Cleveland's fourth hit of the game, a double to Tito Francona, and walked Woody Held before being replaced by Harvey Haddix in the eighth. Max Alvis' pinch single scored one run. Chico Salmon singled, loading the bases, and the second run crossed while Dick Howser was grounding into a double play. Then Chance and Wagner connected back-to-back.

Luis Aparicio's two-run homer had helped the Orioles to a 3-0 lead.

Whitey Ford won his first game since July 15 when the Yankees came from behind with four runs in the eighth. Mickey Mantle's third hit of the night, a two-run double, was the key blow.

Ford worked eight innings, leaving for a pinch hitter in the Yankees' winning rally. Al Downing nailed down the victory by fanning the side in the ninth.

Dean Chance picked up his 15th victory of the season as the Angels did all their scoring in the fifth inning, with singles by Bobby Knoop, Albie Pearson and Lou Clinton, plus a bases-loaded walk and wild pitch delivering the runs.

Bob Lee relieved Chance in the seventh, when the Athletics scored their last two runs on Doc Edwards' single, Bert Campaneris' triple and a pinch single by Manny Jimenez.

Don Demeter's three-run homer in the sixth paced Detroit's 15-hit attack against the Red Sox. Demeter's 18th circuit broke a 6-6 tie and the Tigers wrapped it up with two more in the seventh after Carl Yastrzemski's two-base error opened the gate.

Dick McAuliffe also homered for Detroit while Dick Stuart, Ed Bressoud and Bob Tillman connected for the Red Sox.

Houston Set To Platoon

HOUSTON (AP)—Bill Yeoman has revealed his University of Houston football team will be a two-platoon outfit this season.

Yeoman, beginning his third year as UH head coach, made the announcement at the team's annual pre-practice dinner Tuesday.

The Cougars begin fall training Thursday after picture day today.

This will be Houston's first platoon-system team since 1952 when J. D. Kimmel and Bobby Clatterbuck combined to fashion an 8-2 record.

Colts Have Best Streak

HOUSTON (AP)—Jim Owens came to Ken Johnson's aid Tuesday night to protect a 5-4 victory over Chicago for Houston that extended the Colts' winning streak to a season's high of six games.

That also equaled their all-time winning streak, accomplished annually in 1962 and 1963.

The Colts made some early hay at the expense of southpaw John Flavin, freshly arrived from Salt Lake City and making his first big league start.

He lasted less than three innings, starting a parade of five Chicago pitchers, and was charged with six hits and all five of Houston's runs.

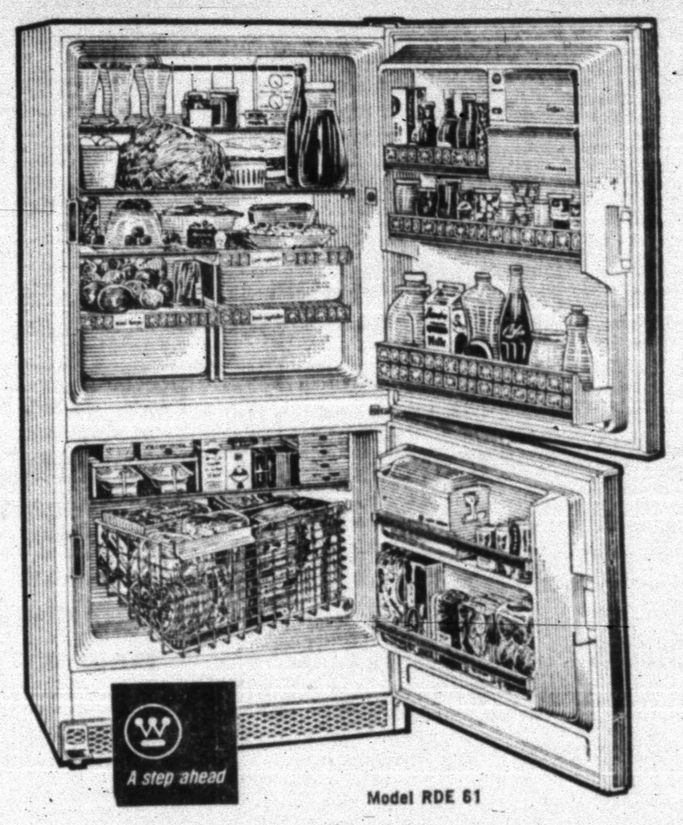

Cub relievers Sterling Slaughter, Don Elston, Lindy McDaniel and Bob Buhl retired the last 16 Colts in order, but the damage was done.

Johnson, winning his 10th game against 13 losses, left the scene with the score 5-2 in the sixth, one out and two on.

Venturi Favored In Carling Meet

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Arnold Palmer has the putting "yips". Jack Nicklaus has a crook in his elbow, and Ken Venturi has nothing but confidence and an uncanny feeling for the flag.

So it's Venturi, the reigning National Open champion, and not the Big Two who will be favored when 155 golfers from 14 nations tee off Thursday in the first $200,000 Carling World Championship.

First prize in the 72-hole, four-day test is 35,000, a year's salary for many top executives, and it's the kind of purse which usually brings out the best in the blacksmith-strong Palmer and power-driving Nicklaus.

However, both are off top form — Palmer on the putting greens and Nicklaus on the tees — while Venturi is currently the hottest article on the circuit.

After three years of frustration during which he almost gave up the game, the 33-year-old picture swinger from San Francisco found himself in the National Open last June in Washington's suffocating heat. His confidence has been soaring ever since.

Venturi won the American Golf Classic at Akron, Ohio, last week by a record five shots and with a record tournament score of 275.

Tuning up for the event here over the 6,907-yard, par 70 Oakland Hills course he had four straight birdies on the front nine for a four-under-par 31, then birdied the 11th and eagled the 566-yard 12th to go seven under.

"I started thinking then that this was just a practice run, and I didn't want to get a monkey on my back before the tournament started," Ken said. "So I sluffed off a few holes and finished with about 67.

"I am playing so well, I am so sure of myself on shots to the green that it startles me."

Palmer, who has had four second places and two thirds in his last six tournaments, continued to experiment with beat up, lead-headed putters without finding a satisfactory one.

"From five feet in, I used to never miss a putt," Palmer said. "Now I miss them, and it's costing me."

Nicklaus, also beaten out in recent tournaments although he continues as the year's leading money winner, thinks he has found the reason for his erratic driving.

"I was crooking my left arm," he said. "I even noticed that my divots were hooking."

HERMLEIGH QBC SCHEDULES EVENT

HERMLEIGH — The Hermleigh Quarterback Club has scheduled a barbecued chicken supper for Thursday evening, Bernie Finch, president of the organization, has announced.

The event will be held at 6:30 p.m. at the school cafeteria. The supper will feature "all you can eat for $1," and the proceeds will be used to support the Hermleigh High School football team and pep squad.

Political Terms In Plain English

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The layman is often confused by the terms used at a political convention.

Actually, they all are quite simple when you understand them. Here are some of the terms heard frequently this week around the Democratic convention and their simple explanations:

Delegation — This is a group of 132 people who come to the convention to cast 12 votes. Included are all persons in the state who contributed more than $1,000 to the party in the last year, and all persons in the state who know what happened to the contributions. There are also three men who are able to breathe in smoke-filled rooms.

Delegate — A member of a delegation. Each delegate casts about 1-16th of a vote — less in some states — whenever he is asked, which is seldom.

Caucus — A meeting of a delegation called to cast votes and decide important questions. All members of the delegations attend except the officers, who are busy at a meeting of party leaders casting votes and deciding important questions.

Informal caucus — Same thing, only drinks are served.

Starting time — A mythical figure selected at random from a spilled type case at the print shop. It is listed in the official program, but bears no relation to the time the program actually starts.

Prime time — The hours on the television schedule between the kiddie cartoons and the late show, during which the commercials are played more often and cost more."

Suspended Human Animation Looms

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A pioneer in kidney transplants forecast today that victims of organic ailments may eventually be frozen in suspended animation and later returned to life when replacement organs are available.

Dr. Richard Lillehei of the University of Minnesota said that might be possible when top statesmen, scientists, humanitarians, athletes and other outstanding persons die from diseased hearts or other organs.

He said such a concept would raise ethical questions as to who should be so preserved, but expressed a belief such problems might be worked out.

He also envisioned the day when space voyagers could be kept in controlled cold storage in their spaceships for trips beyond the solar system lasting as long as 300 years.

He said that might be possible not long after the turn of the century.

It's conceivable, he said, that such deep-frozen astronauts could be so preserved that their bodies would not age, and could be automatically thawed out, and be ready for exploration when they reached their interstellar objective.

He and a number of associates told about the developments in technical reports to the first annual meeting of the Society for Cryobiology, an organization devoted to studying the preservative effects of applying extreme cold to living tissues.

Lillehei in an interview said recent advances have been made at the University of Minnesota in taking kidneys from human corpses, preserving them for up to 11 hours after the patient's death at temperatures just above freezing, and then transplanting them into patients facing death from kidney ailments.

People Just Watch As Thief Makes Haul

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—A thief broke the side window of a station wagon and stole $6,000 worth of clothing in broad daylight while three persons watched, police reported Tuesday.

None of them reported the theft and officers quoted one of them as saying later that he did not want to get involved.

RIGHTS APPEAL HEARING SET

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to hear on Oct. 5 an appeal questioning constitutionality of the public accommodations sections of the new Civil Rights Act.

The court's action was announced by its clerk, John F. Davis. The tribunal is now in summer adjournment.

Davis said the argument will concern only the Heart of Atlanta Motel Corp. The Pickrick Restaurant, also of Atlanta, Ga., was involved in preliminary steps in the case but will not be concerned directly in the Oct. 5 argument.

The motel and restaurant were principals in the decision by a special three-judge federal tribunal in Atlanta. The special court upheld validity of the public accommodations section. The case was the first in which a ruling was given under the New Civil Rights Act.

Oct. 5 is the first day of the Supreme Court's new fall term, and ordinarily the tribunal does not hear arguments or transact other than routine business on that day.

Houston Wages All-Out Battle

By ED STAATS

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Houstonians by the thousands battled the encephalitis-carrying mosquito and its breeding places today as the number of suspected cases of the sleeping sickness rose to 216.

Free insecticide was doled out by the city and residents armed themselves for the war with the female culex mosquito, now blamed for 18 deaths the past 30 days.

Residents in this city of one million flocked to fire stations for the spray chemical they hoped would protect them from the mosquitoes, which carry the disease, commonly called sleeping sickness.

Firemen at 55 fire stations mixed the insecticide and citizens patiently waited for it carrying pickle jars, jugs, buckets, plastic bottles and even empty paint cans.

At Colt Stadium, baseball fans stayed away in droves. Attendance Monday was 4,499, and 3,353 paid Tuesday night. The average attendance this season has been 10,284.

Many parents said they refused to let their children play outside after dark and stayed home evenings.

Chief W. C. Simonton, in charge of distributing the chemical to the fire stations, said: "Tuesday we sent out approximately 5,000 gallons of condensed liquid. Each gallon makes 100 gallons. That's 500,000 gallons of spray."

A helicopter and 40 trucks were spraying and fogging ditches and bayous — prime mosquito breeding places.

Dr. C. A. Pigford, city health director, said the epidemic — first recognized as such last Thursday — is probably at its peak.

"Outbreaks usually last about 12 to 19 weeks, with the peak in the sixth to eighth week, and we are in our eighth week now."

He warned, however, recent rains could increase the swarms of mosquitoes and cause an upsurge in cases a week or 10 days from now.

Judge Must Approve Texoma Exploration

AUSTIN (AP)—Permission of the county judge of Grayson County is required before seismograph blasts can be made in county land submerged under Lake Texoma, the state attorney general held Tuesday.

The opinion went to Grayson Co. Atty. Dean Martin at Sherman.

Lake Texoma is on the Texas-Oklahoma border, backed up by Denison Dam on the Red River.

State law bars underwater explosions to kill or catch fish, and requires a county judge's approval for blasts necessary in construction work or such operations as oil exploration, the opinion said.

Ft. Worth Negro Charged With Murder

FORT WORTH (AP)—Negro funeral director Harold Barnes Baker, 42, has been charged with murder in Monday's fatal stabbing of his 9-year-old daughter, Jacqueline.

Baker is hospitalized with stab wounds which police said were self-inflicted.

Baker's wife and 6-year-old son, James, also were stabbed in an outburst of violence which occurred at the Baker home. Police said Baker apparently went berserk.

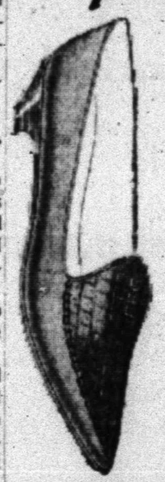

Air Strike Strands Tourists In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A number of tourists have been stranded here as a result of a strike against Pan American World Airways, which transports about 30 passengers daily through the city.

A walkout of transport workers forced cancellation of flights at the height of the tourist season. About 100 employes were idled.

"We're doing everything possible to take care of our passengers, but its a hard job," a spokesman said.

Foreigners' Share Of Assets Rises

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Foreigners' share of American assets have gone up strikingly in recent months. And American investments abroad are setting records.

But there's a difference. The money flow is something short of making it two-way street.

In the case of Americans the big cause of the jump in dollar holdings outside the United States has been expansion of American-owned businesses abroad. This is a trend which the U.S. Department of Commerce sees continuing.

Most of the gain in foreigners' stake in the American economy has come of late from the increased market value of their previously acquired holdings and only a little from new investments.

The department says that the total of American private holdings abroad climed to $66 billion at the end of 1963, with that figure continuing to rise so far in 1964 at last year's rate, which is dubbed massive.

The investments here by foreign individuals and companies were put at $23 billion.

The U.S. government is hoping to attract more foreign investments here, both long-term and short-term, to help hold down the U.S. deficit in international payments that has been a problem in recent years.

But in 1963, when the value of foreign boldings rose by $2.6 billion, about $2 billion represented increase in prices of foreign-held American securities.

American private investment abroad rose a record $6.3 billion in 1963. About $4.3 billion was new capital from this country and $1.5 billion was earnings from previous investments reinvested in foreign enterprises. Some $500 million represented gains in the market value of securities.

U.S. investors have been sending dollars abroad for several reasons. In the short-term securities market the lure was higher yields there compared to interest rates obtainable here. In long-term securities the goal was a rising stock market abroad that accompanies the big postwar economic boom. But this largely dried up when Western European stock prices turned down for while.

The big outflow of dollars, however, has been in the founding and expansion of American industrial subsidiaries abroad, or in the teaming up with foreign industrial concerns. The department puts such investment now as close to $41 billion.

Milkmen Give Views

DALLAS (AP)—Handlers and producers of milk had an opportunity today to give their views on a proposed emergency increase in the price of milk.

The Dallas hearing, before chief hearing examiner Will Rogers for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, was one of three being held this week. The others will be held in St. Louis and Memphis, Tenn.

Their purpose is to determine whether temporary increases of 25 cents per hundredweight of bottling milk, as requested by dairy cooperatives, is justified.

The increase, sought because of exended drought, generally would be effective from September, 1964, to March, 1965. Markets operating under six federal milk marketing orders in Texas are involved.

If the rise is recommended, dairy farmers supplying milk to each of the markets must give their approval.

Vehicle Planned For Travel On Moon

SEATTLE (AP)—Plans for a six-wheeled vehicle capable of taking two astronauts for a 14-day, 250-mile jaunt on the surface of the moon were disclosed Tuesday by the Boeing Co.

Boeing, which is heading a nine-month study for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration on payloads for the Apollo logistics support system calls the moon vehicle Molab, short for mobile laboratory.

The vehicle would be sent to the moon aboard an Apollo spacecraft. If radio signals showed it landed safely, the astronauts would follow in another Apollo.

The wheels of the vehicle would be five or six feet in diameter, wire-wrapped and covered with steel mesh to cope with jagged rubble on the moon's surface.
