On Toward the Setting Sun Where Fame and Fortune Await

The above pictures were taken near Odessa, Texas, last Sunday by Bob Hinkle and Sam Shaw of Devol. They presented Tally Sykes with a fund made up by Burkburnett people. They report Sykes and his horses are doing fine, although Sykes has lost about 10 pounds since starting on the trip. The picture shows Hoy Cornstubble and Fred Miller, "hoss wranglers," Tally Sykes and one of his "plough nags" as the Associated Press says, and the pick-up which carries the extra horse.

Tally Sykes In Second Place In "Pony Express" Derby to Coast

Tally Sykes, Burkburnett's representative in the Nocona-San Francisco pony express derby was trailing Shan Davidson of Matador as they left El Paso early this morning. He was eight miles behind but is expected to cut this lead and overtake Davidson sometime during Friday.

Sykes led the express practically all the way from Nocona until Wednesday night when Davidson passed him as Sykes stopped for some much needed rest.

In third place, 20 miles behind, was Chris Usselton of Nocona, who arrived at El Paso about 10 a. m. central standard time. He planned to push on immediately in pursuit of the leaders. Eight other riders trailed over a 100-mile stretch.

The leading contestants will stop tonight at Deming, N. M., and will follow U. S. Highway 80 through Arizona.

Welder Suffers Slight Burns

Jessie Allen, a local welder employed by Rogers Construction Company, was burned slightly about the face when an explosion occurred in the line on which he was welding last Saturday. He returned to work after receiving first-aid treatment from an Electra physician.

NOTICE!

A City Ordinance provides that all owners of chickens living within the city limits must keep them penned. Several complaints have already been registered this year citing damage to yards, flowers, and garadens by chickens running loose.

This notice is to serve as warning to chicken raisers within the city limits to keep their chickens penned.

Intermediate Dept. of Baptist SS Sets Goal 100

A special program, including song services led by C. A. Holcomb, who is conducting all song services for the Baptist revival, will be featured at Sunday school in the Intermediate department at the Baptist church Sunday morning.

Leaders and teachers have been conducting an intensive campaign for accomplishment of their goal of 100 present Sunday, March 12.

Every member of this department is urged to come to Sunday school Sunday and to bring someone with him. More than 100 boys and girls are enrolled in the Intermediate department and if everyone of those who have ever attended Sunday school would just be present Sunday the Intermediate goal would be more than accomplished.

All boys and girls of Intermediate age are invited to come to Sunday school at the Baptist church Sunday morning. The department needs new members and they feel they can fill a need in members for a fuller Christian life.

According to an announcement from the High school Thursday afternoon, all members of the faculty will attend the District Meeting of Texas State Teachers Association which opens in Wichita Falls, at Hardin Junior College, Friday evening at 7:30.

District Seven, of which Supt. C. J. Duncan is vice-president, includes twenty-two counties. At least two thousand teachers are expected to attend the meeting which will last through Saturday evening.

Parker Grocery Has Birthday Sale Celebration

Twenty-two years of extensive growth and progress of the C. H. Parker Cash Grocery Stores will be celebrated in the twelve stores, which make up the organization, with a week's anniversary sale, beginning March 10th, and running through the 16th. During the sales their many customers will be given an opportunity of purchasing articles needed for well balanced meals at greatly reduced prices.

Four of the twelve stores are located in Wichita Falls, and 8 others are located in Electra, Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Henrietta, Archer City, Olney, Graham, and Bowie, each one forming an integral and important part of this widely known organization.

The C. H. Parker Stores came into being in 1917, starting on a very small scale. C. H. Parker opened a store at 611 Indiana avenue, Wichita Falls, with a floor space of 2500 square feet. Since that time the floor space has been increased to 75,00 square feet. Only one person, besides the owner and manager, was employed in that first store, at a payroll of $1,200. Since the first business venture was started, employees have been increased to almost 200 with a payroll well in excess of $200,000 annually. A comparison of the first year's

Gulf Honored "Dad" Collins At Breckenridge

One hundred and fifteen employees and friends of the Gulf Companies honored Thomas Matthew (Dad) Collins with a banquet at the Y. M. C. A. in Breckenridge Monday night.

Mr. Collins went to Breckenridge from Burkburnett some time ago. He and Mrs. Collins returned to their home here on Wednesday.

He has been in the employ of the Gulf Company and its predecessor, the Guffey Petroleum Co., since 1904. He was retired with a pension on March 1.

Honoring his life which led from punching cows along the trails of early Texas to punching holes in the ground for oil then to punching keys in a clock as night watchman, the employees of the Gulf Company presented Mr. and Mrs. Collins with a modern radio with keys to punch to obtain stations.

Among out of town guests present were O. C. Needham of Fort Worth, assistant district superintendent; C. S. Youngblood of Fort Worth, district purchasing agent; and W. J. Needham of Electra.

Livestock Auction Sales Inaugurated At Graham, Texas

A large livestock auction sale will be inaugurated in Graham Thursday, March 9, by the firm Davis and Ray of Olney. The sale will specialize in all types of livestock.

The sale will be weekly and will be held in the Henderson Building on the Breckenridge Road just one block east of the square. Pens, sales ring and seats for the spectators, have already been constructed that will provide for large sales of livestock.

The Graham Chamber of Commerce sponsored the organization of the sale, which livestock men predict will become one of the largest of the state.

Davis and Ray have been operating in Olney for the past year and have trippled the receipts of the sale since taking it over. These men will continue to operate the Olney Sale and will operate in Graham under the name of Graham Livestock Commission Company. Before coming to Olney, the two men worked with auction sales in the Cheyenne and Denver area.

Work To Include Ditch Riprapping

County commissioners Monday authorized filing of a precinct two WPA project application calling for expenditure of $106,000 for widespread road improvements in the Burkburnett precinct during the next 12 months.

Commissioner F. R. Knauth of Burkburnett said the program included asphalting the Burkburnett-Iowa Park road from the former city to the precinct line, widening to 80 feet and otherwise improving the road which leaves the Wichita-Burkburnett highway a short distance south of Burkburnett and extends eastward toward Thornberry, construction of 14 concrete bridges, riprapping 20 miles of ditches to prevent washing, extensive sodding of road shoulders for the same purpose, and extensive other widening and drainage work.

Rotary Members Entertained By Geraldine Artist

Miss Kathleen Benton of Geraldine, Texas, furnished the program at the weekly Rotary luncheon Tuesday at noon.

Jack Daniels had charge of the program and introduced the guest. Miss Benton delighted the club with several accordion solos, among them being "Umbrella Man," "Sharpshooter's March," "You're the Only Star," "Salute to the Colors," and "Medley of Marches." Miss Benton was accompanied to Burkburnett by G. C. Haralson, supt. of the Geraldine school.

Guests at the luncheon included Clyde Bartlett, Paul Woodward, Scotty Scott, Luther Hoffman, Roy Jones and Josh Kimbrough from Wichita Falls. Rev. Taylor Davis, pastor of the local Church of Christ; Bain Leake, former Rotarian of Burkburnett, who was a guest of Josh Kimbrough.

Nazarene Revival Is Well Attended

Rev. Otto C. Perry, pastor of the Nazarene church, and evangelist Rev. R. P. Jarrell are well pleased with results being obtained at the revival being conducted at the Nazarene church.

Much interest is being shown in the sermons, which are full of power and very impressive. Attendance has been unusually good and everyone seems to especially enjoy the song services.

The revival will continue thru next week and everyone is invited to attend the services.

Plans Made For Installation Of Scout Committees

Plans were discussed at a recent Scout Forum held at the Hardin school for the installation of the committees of the Baptist troop to be held on March 23. J. L. Jackson, Jr., of Wichita Falls, will be the principal speaker of the evening.

A report was heard from the finance committee on the recent drive and announcements were made to the effect that the next district committee meeting will be held here on March 27th. The quarterly council meeting will be held in Wichita Falls on March 30th.

Scout Executive R. K. Ayers of Wichita Falls presided at the meeting.

Faculty Makes Choice For "Who's Who" Hi Schools

Stanford McPherson and Mary Margaret Browning were chosen by members of the High school faculty, at a recent meeting, as the most representative boy and girl of Burkburnett High school.

They will be Burkburnett Hi School's nominees for recognition in the "Who's Who Among High School Students of Texas," which is being compiled by C. J. Humphrey of Waco.

A letter was received from Mr. Humphrey last week asking that these nominees be selected and their names, life history, their grades for High school work, a record of their participation in all extra-curricula activities, and what class and club offices they have held.

The teachers made their choice from five students, grading them according to the following qualifications: Leadership, Scholarship, Character, Sportsmanship, Extra Curricula Activities.

The names of the nominees and all the facts concerning them were sent to Mr. Humphrey last Thursday.

KATY WITHDRAWS APPLICATION

The Katy railroad has withdrawn its application to curtail train service on the Northwestern lines of its system, and will maintain the daily service to Burkburnett.

It is good news to Burkburnett and to all the communities affected, but the gratification that is felt should not prompt anyone to ignore the problem that remains. The Katy sought to curtail the service because it was losing money on the trains operated. The responsibility is now upon the communities, including Burkburnett, that have objected to the curtailed service, to try to make the trains pay their way. It is in order for every station on the route to use the railroads as much as it can.

We cannot expect railroads to maintain the service we expect unless we try to make that service profitable. The Katy has hopes that this will happen on this route. It is entitled to nothing less.

A FARM WIFE'S COMPLAINT

A farmer's wife recently sent a letter to the Congressman of her district which gave him something to think about. She complains in her letter that the government policy of indiscriminate relief spending had boomeranged. That should be something for everybody to think about.

Here is her letter, in part:

"I know one family case very well, and it is indicative of thousands of families throughout the land. This family worked for my family three generations ago. Today every one of that family except one boy is on some kind of relief and now the third generation is marrying and bringing children into the world as fast as possible in order to get their share of this good thing while it lasts.

"You cannot get one of them now to work on the farms. They don't like the farm. They would rather work for Uncle Sam and that is just what they are doing.

"The farmers around here cannot get adequate help any more, and if these people do work they want a wage higher than can be afforded on the farm and leave anything for the owner's own work and investment. Most of the old-time farm labor, the class who always earned their living working on the farms, is now on some form of relief."

There is nothing elaborate in this farm wife's economics, nor does she submit a maze of charts and figures to argue her case. It is a simple, sound argument that some people won't work for a living so long as they can live without working.

THE IRONY OF IT!

The very backbone of Americanism is the inalienable right of self-expression of the individual—the citizen's right of free speech. Under other "isms" there is no such right. In fact, in foreign lands where Communism, Fascism or Nazism have replaced other forms of government, free speech has been the first right taken from the citizen.

It is ironical, then, that in America's largest city recently, members of an organization advocating Nazism for the United States should exercise this right of free speech to agitate an overthrow of the Constitutional right that makes that speech free and uncensored. And to see to it that this organization was not molested in its exercise of that right, 1,500 policemen guarded the meeting against any interference.

That is the American way.

Picture a meeting in one of the dictator countries (if your imagination will stretch that far) with speakers extolling the virtues and benefits of Americanism! No doubt the 1,500 policemen would appear—but for a different purpose. The best that the participants could expect would be imprisonment and the leaders would indeed be fortunate to escape a firing squad.

That is the un-American way.

Vignettes of BURKBURNETT BUSINESS INSTITUTIONS

THE FAMOUS

In 1921, while Burkburnett was still enjoying the favor of whatever gods were responsible for the oil boom, Saul's Store No. 2 was opened here in the building now occupied by Kiesling Hardware store.

The store did an unusual amount of business during the years from 1921 to 1926 when Saul sold his holdings to Rice-Stix. The store operated under the name of Saul's however, until 1933, when the name Famous was chosen, and at which time it was decided that larger quarters were needed for the business. The store moved to its present location in that year.

In 1937 all stock was purchased by Henry Grace, local financier, and Leonard Mattingly, who was serving as manager of the institution at that time.

Mr. Mattingly had come to Burkburnett in 1930. He served as manager of the store here for several years, was transferred to Wichita Falls as assistant manager of the Rice-Stix store there and came back to Burkburnett when they sold their interests in Wichita Falls.

He has been in the mercantile business since he was only a boy and is one of our most progressive business men, having made many improvements in the business since he and Mr. Grace bought it. He is always interested in the newest thing in style and is anxious to give his customers the benefit of all that is modern in merchandise.

Eight employees are on the Famous payroll and they are trained to devote themselves to courteous and efficient service. It might be significant to note in passing that all of them consider their present employers "about the best bosses we ever worked for."

It has always been the policy of Mr. Mattingly and Mr. Grace to give their customers the best in quality and in quantity that is possible and this explains their slogan: "Famous For Its Values."

Spring fabrics, shoes, and ready-to-wear for every member of the family are already on sale at the Famous and Mr. Mattingly says that he feels this is really going to be a good year. He has been in the business long enough to know and when he says that the outlook for a good year is very promising, we feel like believing in something again.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of Spirit, not matter," (page 301).

Audience Well Pleased With Junior Play

"That Girl Patsy," Junior class production, played to a full house at the High school auditorium last Friday evening.

The little play was full of laughs and had suspense enough to carry it through the three acts with quite a bit of appeal. Betty Jo Gilchrist as Mrs. Warren, Betty Jane Hill as her daughter, and Robert Gragg as her son, were good. The rest of the cast also turned in very creditable performances.

Miss Ella Billingslea, the stage manager and her assistant, Virginia Andrews and Jean Holt, are to be especially complimented for the manner in which they directed the performance so that there were no unpleasant waits.

The Voice of Texas

By Pierce Brooks

It has well been said that between March 2nd and April 21st, 1836, early Texans wrote more undying history than has ever been chronicled during a similar 50 day period in all the tides of time. Even though the Legislature is in session, the capitol city, as well as the entire state, seems to be mindful of the sacred period now being so plausibly celebrated.

Our proud Republic, our boasted civilization, even Grand Old Texas will someday be different. Change is the order of the universe. The American Legion of Texas in 1933 decided to adopt as its major-state-wide-service program the laudable undertaking of building a state museum to preserve the rich and stirring story of Texas. As a result The Texas Memorial Museum has been built, which great institution now vies with the Capitol itself in importance and interest. It represents an investment of nearly three quarters of a million dollars. The funds received for the museum were raised from the sale of the Texas centennial coins, $225,000 appropriation out of the Texas Centennial bill and $300,000 out of the U. S.-Texas Centennial bill. It is the first state museum south of the Mason and Dixon line, representing a belated beginning on the part of our citizenship to safeguard for the present and for the future the many worth while collections of patriotic, civic and natural history.

In Austin recently from the West Texas Teachers College at Canyon was the popular president of that institution, Dr. Hill. He did not lose an opportunity to mention in his plea for support, the fact, that the college is a pioneer in museum work. The museum at Canyon is rapidly becoming known throughout the country says Dr. Hill, as the great concourse of visitors daily demonstrate. He also reported that the Panhandle Plains Historical Society, will hold their annual meeting in May and it is largely due to the enterprise and patriotism of the members of that organization that the museum there, which bears the name of the society, is now an inspiring reality.

motored over to Walters, Okla., our county seat, Saturday. Sunday they motored over to Waurika to visit with Mrs. Atkins' sister, Mrs. H. F. Spoon.

Grandma Bronson is visiting with her son, W. O. Bronson, and her daughter, Mrs. Fronie Kinnaird, who lives 6 miles south of Randlett.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kinnaird's oldest daughter, Miss Edna May, has been on the sick list for over a week, but at this writing, she is able to be up again and will be able to resume her school duties. Her classmates will be proud to have her back in their class again.

J. R. Brock, who has been living in our neighborhood for years with his family, has bought a fine farm northeast of Walters. He has moved his family to their new home the past week. Their host of friends and neighbors wish them all of the best of success and the very best of health.

Tobe Hardin, and Mrs. Martha Nails spent part of Sunday visiting with the Owens family.

Charlie Nails and his boy friend, Edgar Harris, departed last Saturday for Milburn, Okla., in Eastern Oklahoma to visit with relatives and friends. They will arrive back home Monday evening.

W. O. Bronson, his good helpmate, and their son, have started a chicken and tame duck farm, so Hawkeye has been informed. They have a 360 egg incubator. They are getting their supply of duck eggs from Grady Duke. They intend to have a "duke's mixture" of chickens. Say, boy, don't you know when all of those 400 or 500 chickens get ripe and ready to fry they will have more kinfolks and friends to visit with them. You know that Hawkeye may go too, to spend a day or so visiting with the Bronson family, as Hawkeye is foolish about his fried chicken.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin motored over to Temple, Okla., also to Waurika last Sunday morning.

Well, the month of March is here and she came in pretty windy. To Hawkeye's opinion, she will go out mighty bad. It will be cold and blustery. Folks, you had better not put away your overcoats and furs in your lockers, as you will surely need them before real spring time arrives.

You know that Saturday afternoon was just like spring time. In fact, it was an ideal afternoon for the big trades day event over in Our Friendly Little City, and believe me, thousands of people took advantage of same. Thousands of dollars were spent by the shoppers all day long up till 12:00 p. m.

Hawkeye and his better half and Winnie June Martin were shopping over in Our Friendly Little City Saturday afternoon, and after they got through shopping, Mrs. Owens and the baby suggested going to the Tex Theatre to see the last chapter of the Lone Ranger, also Gene Autrey, in Western Jamboree. Say, folks, it took us several minutes to find a seat as the playhouse was packed plumb full. For over an hour and a half we seen a real picture. It was so entertaining for everyone that at times you couldn't hear for applauding. Fort Worth or Dallas hasn't any better or nicer playhouse in her than our Friendly Little City has in the Palace and the Tex.

Hawkeye is proud to state thru his Big Rabbit Creek news that their friend, Mr. Gammill, is improving rapidly every day down in the General hospital in Wichita Falls. It will be anyhow three weeks before Bro. Will can come home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kinnaird and family spent Sunday visiting with friends up in Randlett.

J. E. Woods for over a week has been on the sick list but at this writing he is much better, as J. E. was on our busy streets Saturday in Our Friendly Little City.

Three-fourths of the listing is completed over in the Big Rabbit Creek neighborhood. All corn land is all listed or flat broke, ready to start planting corn about the 20th of March.

Over two-thirds of Oklahomans were over in Our Friendly Little City Saturday and nearly all of Randlett's population was in the City and all of the Rabbit Creek farmers, amongst those farmers being: Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Babers and family; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kinnaird and family; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wood and family; John Ashton and daughters, and many others.

Gossett Introduces Bill House of Rep.

Congressman Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls introduced in the House of Representatives the same bill introduced a few days ago in the Senate by Senator Tom Connally, which bill seeks to correct inequalities and discrimination in the freight rates in Texas and the Southwest.

Regarding this bill, Gossett stated: "Texas and the Southwest have long suffered from unfair economic inequalities with the rest of the United States. One of the causes of this condition has been and is the high freight rates paid by this section. The gross discriminations and inequalities now existing in the freight rate structure in Texas and the Southwest should be removed. Simple justice demands this."

"This bill seeks to amend certain sections of the Interstate Act and to make unlawful any unreasonable or discriminatory preference given to any shipper or any territory. It requires the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate and determine the location of alleged inequalities and discriminations in freight rates and to remove the same."

The Interstate Commerce Committee of the Senate and the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of the House of Representatives are now conducting hearings on various bills seeking to eliminate unfair rate differentials. Recently, numerous witnesses have appeared from Texas and the Southwest before these Committees to testify as to rates and conditions in the South and the Southwest.

Texas Outlines A Campaign For Economic Changes

An economic "declaration of independence" for Texas was outlined at Austin this week by the Texas Industrial and Commercial Research Council in a 30-page resume of its past work and future objectives in industrializing Texas.

Utilization of the State's great store of natural resources in Texas-made products is the first step away from the State's present role of economic colony of the East, the publication stated.

The Council co-ordinates the work of The University of Texas' Bureaus of Business Research, Industrial Chemistry, Engineering Research and Economic Geology.

On the council's docket were items like these:

Production of potash from the abundant Texas mineral, polyhalite.

Improved processes in lignite mining and water purification.

Creation of an industry manufacturing building "lumber" from gypsum and sugar cane bagasse.

Under "things to do," the Council outlined:

Precise business forecasting showing Texas regions most favorable to certain businesses.

Aid for cotton communities in the $200,000,000 to $3,000,000 annual loss.

Perfection of a device to break natural gas (of which the State loses $19,160,000 annually by the council's estimate) into carbon black and acetylene. More income would result for such by-products as acetylene's transformation into artificial rubber.

"The time has come," the publication stated, "when Texas must begin to measure its resources not in bales of raw cotton, barrels of crude oil, and thousands of cubic feet of gas; but rather in terms of the great treasures hidden in these raw materials which only the trained scientists and industrial economists can draw from them."

Research experts likened their proposed projects to the digging of the Panama Canal. "It requires," they said, "more than a pick and shovel crew."

In engineering research, the nine most urgent projects already under way, as outlined by the Council are (1) petroleum's heaving shale problem, (2) quick freeze for Texas meats, fruits and vegetables, (3) soil problems in construction, (4) corrosion losses in ice plants, oil wells and processes, (5) small power plant use of lignite, (6) evaporated sweet potatoes for Northern markets, (7) lower housing costs with Texas materials, (8) year 'round air-conditioning for Texas homes, and (9) utilization of Texas hydroelectric power to new lighting and power applications.

With cheap electricity in the offing in the construction of Colorado River dams, the Bureau of Economic Geology has focused its immediate attention on economical mining possibilities in the vast Central Mineral Region of Texas.

Bureau reports on those areas have already started one company investigating the magnetite deposits there, the publication stated.

Sinus Treatment Found In Poppies

Save your garden variety of poppy seed and cure your sinus trouble, Junius Evans, University of Texas pharmacy student, would advise.

Evans, who already has his bachelor of arts degree, has begun research on poppy-seed oil of the common garden poppy to see if such oil may be successfully iodized. An iodized poppy-seed oil, now imported from France, is used in treatment of sinus trouble. Placed in the sinus region, the oil gives up its iodine providing the therapeutic powers that Evans hopes to obtain.
