After Two Years...

Mexico, U.S. Close Deal On Natural Gas

By Robert B. Cullen
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)-The United States and Mexico, after two years of negotiations, have reached an agreement for the sale of Mexican natural gas to U.S. pipeline firms, State Department officials said today.

The announcement of the agreement was scheduled for this afternoon.

The initial price of the gas will be $3.625 per thousand cubic feet, said the sources, who declined to be identified. The price will rise in the future, based on an index that ties it to the price of fuel oil.

Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher reached the agreement in a trip to Mexico City this week, spurred by Carter administration desire to complete it in time for the visit to Washington next week of Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo.

The purchase price of the Mexican gas is well above the current American market price of about $2.25, but it is also considerably below what Mexico originally wanted.

However, the Mexicans did manage to peg the price of gas to the ever-rising cost of oil.

Originally, Mexico wanted the price tied to the cost to high-grade heating oil delivered to New York. The equivalence is calculated by determining how much gas would be required to match the potential heating power of a barrel of oil.

Under that formula, officials say, Mexican gas would be priced at about $4.95 per thousand cubic feet.

Former Energy Secretary James R. Schlesinger balked at that price last year, in part because the Carter administration was then trying to persuade Congress to mandate a much lower controlled price for American producers.

The negotiations stalled, then resumed early this year. The U.S. negotiators succeeded in persuading Mexico to peg the price of gas to an index, and a key ingredient in the index is to be less expensive grade called residual oil.

The initial quantities of gas piped in from Mexico will be small. But officials say they view the agreement as important because it establishes the rules for U.S. access to the Mexican gas reserves, which are believed to be potentially among the largest in the world.

The head of the Western Co. of North America pinpointed inflation, energy, over-regulation and bureaucracy as the biggest threats to "the American dream," and he put the blame squarely on government.

He said inflation is caused by a government that spends more than it takes in by continually borrowing and then printing more money despite the fact that the nation's assets are not keeping pace with the printing presses.

He said Washington's answer to the energy shortage was the creation of a $14-billion-dollar-a-year Department of Energy to be run by people who know nothing about the energy business.

He said rules and regulations have stifled the country's free enterprise industries, especially in the field of energy exploration and production, to the point that the energy shortage has become one of the biggest problems.

The maze of bureaucracy that exists in government today has too many people on the public payroll who do nothing "but think up things to do to us," he continued.

"We need a fence between the hogs and the trough," Chiles declared.

As a remedy, he called upon voters to get set for the 1980 elections and send people to Austin and Washington who are sensitive to these major problems and who will have the courage to do something about them.

"We've got too many people in government who never worked at anything," Chiles chided.

He said he favored some limitations on the terms of public officials.

"I believe Congressmen and Senators should be forced to come back after a few years and live under the laws they made," he said.

Chiles was introduced by Kenneth Wyatt, Tulia artist, who served as master of ceremonies for the banquet.

Five awards were presented earlier in the banquet program. They included the McLaughlin Memorial Award, accepted by Charlie Lantrip on behalf of Chevron U.S.A., presented by Roy McQueen; the William A. Vestal Award for outstanding community service to Henry F. Clark, presented by Mayor John Fagin; the Harrie Winston Memorial Award for contribution to agri-business to Milton Stephens, presented by Carl Williams; the Goldcoater-of-the-year award to Paul Sizemore, presented by Sonny Greenfield; and the past president's award, to Roy Kidd, presented by Dalton Walton, 1979 chamber president.

Dinner music was presented by Jane Womack on an organ provided especially for the occasion by the Gallery of Music. The Rev. Miller F. Robinson gave the invocation.

Walton welcomed guest and presided over a drawing to determine the owners of the first 10 numbered sets of buckles being offered for sale by the chamber. The buckle sets include one of sterling silver and another of brass and sell for $300. They were designed by Norman Cutliff for the chamber and the Scurry County Board of Development. The No. 1 set will go on permanent display in the courthouse, while the remaining 350 in the number series are being offered to collectors.

Keeping tab on our neighbors:

James Roberts of the Andrews County News says those 3,000 Russian Combat troops in Cuba are indeed frightening.

"The way things are in this country at the present time, 3,000 well-organized, trained and unfettered troops could probably invade and take over the southeastern part of the United States before we could move," says Roberts.

"Because of Watergate, the Central Intelligence Agency is so decimated and demoralized that they probably couldn't warn us of an impending invasion until they read about the event in the Washington Post.

"We couldn't stop them on the plains of Florida because our new tanks can't travel but 75 miles before dust clogs up the turbine engines.

"And we couldn't shut down the advance of the invading forces with Air Force action because the way things work in this country nowadays, certain steps would have to be taken before any bombing could occur.

"For one thing, an environmental impact statement would have to be developed before our Air Force could swing into action. Studies would have to be made on the long-range effect of bombing upon wildlife in the area, the immediate effect on the Tennessee Snail Darter, and the possibility of damage to migratory waterfowl.

"Too, the State Department would have to clear any defensive action with Israel, Egypt, the Third World nations and special shuttle diplomat Robert Strauss.

"And finally, before the Air Force could become engaged in any defensive maneuvers to stop the advance of the Russian-Cuban troops, it would have to seek clearance from Hamilton Jordan in the White House. And Jordan would have to talk to advisors on the effect the bombing would have on Carter's election next year."

Still Pushing For Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (AP)-Smarting from three straight defeats, House supporters of a congressional pay raise today opened a determined new drive for passage of the politically sensitive measure.

The stage was set when the House Appropriations Committee voted Thursday to report a new bill containing a proposed 5.5 percent pay increase for members of Congress and top-level bureaucrats.

That committee action came shortly after the House rejected a 7 percent pay hike by a 212-196 margin.

The Rules Committee, which sets the ground rules for House action, then decreed that any amendment anyone wants to offer would be in order during the pay raise debate on the House floor.

That gave opponents the opportunity to kill the pay raise outright or to try to exclude Congress from any salary increase while giving some cost-of-living raise to the 22,000 bureaucrats and federal judges who make $47,500 a year or more.

A 5.5 percent boost would increase current congressional salaries from $57,500 to just over $60,600. In contrast, the 7 percent hike would have raised those salaries to $61,525.

House and Senate leaders get more than $57,500 a year, so any percentage hike would raise their salary even more in dollar amounts. House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., and Vice President Walter Mondale, who presides over the Senate, both currently make $75,000 a year, for example. Five other House and Senate leaders get $65,000 a year.

Rail Strikers Defying Carter

CHICAGO (AP)-In defiance of a presidential back-to-work order, striking employees of the Rock Island Railroad stayed off their jobs today, while the beleaguered carrier's officials sought a $30 million federal grant to cover start-up costs.

President Carter used his emergency powers Thursday under the National Railway Act to direct strikers back to work at the financially-crippled Rock Island for a 60-day cooling-off period.

The Rock Island operates freight trains in 13 states and runs commuter service in the Chicago area. Neither service was in operation today.

"Forget it," said a Chicago mass transit information service employee when asked if the Rock Island commuter trains were running today. "Just because the president ordered them doesn't mean they'll go back to work."

Fred Kroll, president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Airlines Clerks which led the strike Aug. 28 and was followed by a second union, called the order "nothing but a strike-breaking action."

A spokesman for the United Transportation Union, which represents 2,500 striking members, said Thursday he expected his union to obey the order. But Greg Carter, a special agent of the railroad's police force, said today that he doubted that UTU members would cross picket lines.

First Federal Acquires Site For Offices

The site is located at the corner of 31st St. and College Avenue, across College from Varsity Square and across 31st from Bell-Seale Funeral Home. It was purchased from Charles H. Cooper III and Sandra Johnson Davis.

Brenda Hedges, assistant vice president and manager of First Federal's office here, said the property was purchased with a view toward construction of new offices, but that actual plans will be developed later. First Federal now occupies a building at College and 26th St. on the southwest corner of the square.

Q-Someone left a note on my car reminding that my license tags had expired, but I have not received the notice from Austin. Several people say this has happened to them. Why are we not receiving these forms?

A--It appears that a computer foul-up resulted in no notices for August expirations for many Scurry County vehicle owners. Clarence Minton, county tax assessor-collector, said he contacted Austin when his office became aware that many car owners here failed to receive notices and, after some checking, they confirmed that some of Scurry County's notices did not go out. Minton said he later learned that Jones County had the same problem. If you don't get your notice from Austin, you can still renew your tags by taking your car title to the county tax office.

Administration Sources Say...

U.S. Not Demanding Russians Leave Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is not asking the Soviet Union to withdraw its combat brigade from Cuba, Carter administration sources said today.

Instead, said the sources who requested anonymity, the administration is working to achieve a settlement that would eliminate the combat capability of the Soviet troops, making plain they are acting only as advisers.

The officials refused to disclose specifically what steps they hoped to persuade the Soviets to take.

But they said it was "unrealistic and unncessary" to ask for a complete withdrawal of the troops, which the Soviets have insisted are only advisers and have a right to be in Cuba.

The White House says President Carter is prepared to take "whatever actions are appropriate" to settle the troops issue satisfactorily if high-level negotiations with the Russians do not produce results.

The president's options are believed to include a variety of economic, trade and diplomatic initiatives. A White House official who asked not to be named emphasized that no military action is contemplated against either Cuba or the Soviet Union.

Carter told congressional leaders Thursday he will not accept the continued Cuban presence of a Soviet combat brigade. That situation could be changed through negotiations, the president was quoted as saying, "or by action on our part."

He said the U.S.-Soviet talks are just now approaching the bargaining stage, Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance met with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin for the fifth time Thursday.

Vance is planning one more session with Dobrynin before a time is set to meet with Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in New York, State Department officials said.

The unnamed White House official told reporters the talks so far have not dealt directly with the status of the 2,000-3,000 man Soviet deetachment but have been fact-finding, information-gathering efforts.

putting clout to use

It is said that the only difference between rich people and poor people is the rich have money.

It could be said that the only difference between the establishment in Washington and the great unwashed is that the establishment has clout and knows how to use It.

Be that as it may, it's interesting to note that a prominent segment of congressional wives in Washington are in the lucrative real estate business. According to the magazine, Real Estate Washington, some openly use political connections to get clients.

A wife of one of the members of the lower house has been selling homes less than a year but has already had nearly $1 million in sales. She had enough business savvy about her to contact every new member of congress after the last election - first offering them congratulations and then telling them she would like to sell them new digs.

Of course, $1 million in sales in Washington may not figure out to very many sales, considering the fact that the asking price for half-way decent living quarters in and around Washington is way out of line, when compared with those in most other parts of the country.

Antionette Hatfield, wife of the Republican senator from Oregon, takes issue with those who say she trades on her husband's name.

"Nobody gives any wife credit for being able to do any thing in this town without her husband," Mrs. Hatfield remarked recently. "The fact is, that without their wives, most of the men would not be here."

Score one for the ladies.

Lou Bevill, wife of an Alabama Democrat, Tom Bevill, says being a congressman's wife has disadvantages. She recalls one client spotted a congressional license plate on a saleswoman's car and decided to take his business elsewhere on grounds a congressional wife does not need the money.

"If you're rubbing elbows with a number of people who are in motion, the kind of people who move frequently, like congressmen, then you have access to an important part of the buying public," he explained. "It's quite lucrative."

The magazine estimates that congressional wives as a group had sales of more than $15.5 million in real estate last year, even though most have been selling less than three years and some work only part-time. The wife of one solon saw her sales soar toward the $4 million in 1976, which means her commissions likely exceeded the salary paid her husband.

Congressional wives turn to real estate because they can't be in dodges not considered respectable. For instance, none could work as a hostess in a night club.

No matter whether they are active in the business world or are content to serve alongside their mates, congressional wives are much more visible than they were half a century ago, thanks to the wonders of television and the curiosities of the Washington newsman.

The first time I became aware of how intimidating elevators really are was back in 1952. I had been to the doctor's office (sixth floor) and my husband was pacing the hallway.

"What did he say?" he asked.

"The doctor said I was going to have a ..." The elevator door opened and we both got on mechanically faced the front without expression. We rode six floors in complete silence. The doors opened in the lobby. We walked off and I said, "...baby."

Somewhere it is written that no one talks on elevators. It has nothing to do with being around strangers. We talk to one another at football games, stores, and banks. But the moment several people enter a little cubicle and the doors close, we all stand there facing the same direction with our eyes glued to the light panel like we are awaiting the second coming.

I feel people want to change, but no one has the guts. I sense that more and more people are beginning to look at one another in the elevator, but as soon as they are caught they assume the old monk-at-prayer stance.

Somewhere it is written that if indeed someone talks on an elevator, it must be in a whisper, and only ONE PERSON AT A TIME. The others must stand around and pretend they can't hear him or wait for an opening.

Because elevators are basically boring, I've been tempted to provide teasers as I enter, like "What Andrew Young really said was ... tell you later." Or, "And he's selling gasoline for 75 cents a gallon ...UNLEADED." My favorite is, "You eat and drink everything and lose six pounds a week."

It's ridiculous when you think about it. Here we all are thrown together, our bodies touching one another (I once asked a man draped over my shoulder what his favorite silver pattern was), and the only exchange we have is when the door opens and someone shouts, "Coming out, please."

Last week I entered an elevator and it was the same old story until a man got on with a lighted cigar.

"Who said?" growled the cigar smoker.

"I said," came the voice. "I'll thank you not to exhale."

"I'll thank you to mind your own business."

"How would you like me to make an ashtray out of your face?"

You see? All elevators need is an "ice breaker".

How well do you know Texas? Sure you remember that the Bluebonnet is the state flower and maybe you remember that the Pecan is the state tree and that the Mockingbird is the state bird but what is the state song? The state motto?

At the fair I picked up this pamphlet put out by the Texas Department of Agriculture called "About Texas". Flipping through its pages brings back so many memories of junior high geography class that I can almost feel a pimple popping out.

You may have known that Texas is number one in the production of cattle, sheep and natural fibers, but did you know that Texas is number two in fresh market vegetables, peanuts and sugarcane?

On the average, says the pamphlet, each farmer can now grow enough to feed himself and 52 others. That is a big increase over 30 years ago when the average farmer produced enough food and fiber to supply only ten people.

If you are a farmer here is one that you can easily believe but may find hard to swallow. "Farmers in Texas pay more than $210 million annually in farm property taxes."

Whatever you are here is something that is easy to swallow but hard to believe. The buying power of your food and fiber dollar has increased. Today only $18.50 out of every $100 is spent on food compared to the $23 spent in the 1950s.

Texas is the nation's leading producer of cotton with over 35 million bales a year. Cotton is the world's most versatile fabric.

It is made wrinkle resistant, flame retardant, water repellent and mildew-proof. Besides being used in three fifths of all your clothes, it is also used in money, dynamite, surgical dressings and X-rays. (I swear. That's what is says right here.)

Cotton is also the largest export item accounting for nearly one fourth of all U.S. cotton exports.

Besides agriculture, the pamphlet also pays tribute to the petroleum industry.

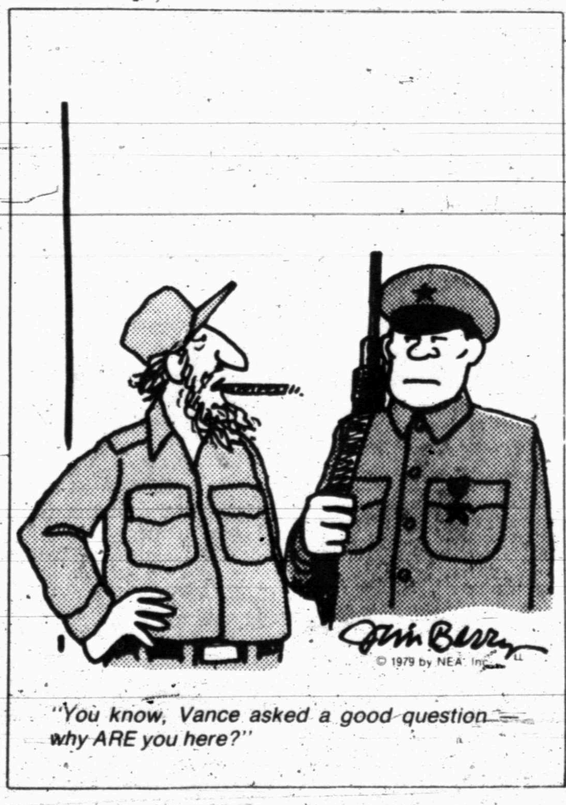

"Early in the twentieth century, oil was discovered and Texas became one of the most important oil producers in the world. Texas matured economically and the frontier pioneers were replaced by farmers and businessmen."

Over 35 percent of the U.S. crude oil is produced in Texas from more than 200,000 wells. Texas produces almost half of the country's natural gas. Texas also produces one third of the nation's sulphur and leads in overall mineral production.

Texas contains 267,339 square miles, has 254 counties and with over 12 million people calling it home, qualifies as the third most populous state.

The name Texas, originates from the Caddo Indian word, "Texia" pronounced "tejas" by the Spanish explorers and means "friends" or "allies." And oh yes, the state song is "Texas Our Texas" and "Friendship" is the state motto.

WASHINGTON (AP) — After speeding to the scene of a major train derailment, volunteer firefighters from the nearby rural community are confronted by an overturned tank car spewing acid fumes over the countryside.

An ominous-sounding, five-syllable chemical name is stenciled in 4-inch-high letters on the other side of the ruptured car, but it provides no answers to the countless questions racing through the fire chief's mind as he struggles to avert disaster.

Will the vapors be toxic to the fire and rescue workers? Is evacuation of homes and stores imperative? Can the fire in another derailed car lead to ignition or explosion of the chemicals? Will water produce an unwanted chemical reaction?

Crucial technical assistance can be obtained in such cases by placing a single toll-free call to the Chemical Transportation Emergency Center, known as CHEMTREC, a Washington facility operated around the clock every day of the year.

CHEMTREC's significance lies in the story of who does -- and who does not -- support the valuable emergency center.

The federal government has nothing to do with it, even though a 1974 law specifically required the Department of Transportation to "establish and maintain a central reporting system and data center so as to provide the law enforcement and firefighting personnel of communities ... with technical and other information and advice for meeting emergencies connected with the transportation of hazardous materials."

CHEMTREC is financed and operated by the Chemical Manufacturers Association, the leading trade association in an industry that long has been a target for critics who allege that producers of industrial chemicals cynically refuse to acknowledge their responsibility to society.

Those corporations may not be candidates for sainthood, but they have poured at least $3 million into CHEMTREC in an effort to minimize the impact of rail, truck, air and ship accidents involving their toxic, volatile or flammable products.

Since it was established eight years ago, the emergency center has received more than 90,000 incoming calls, including occasional requests for assistance from Great Britain, Belgium, Israel and other nations.

In handling almost 215,000 incidents during that period, CHEMTREC personnel have relied heavily upon a set of elaborate files that afford instant access to the information needed in the crucial minutes following an accident.

If provided only with the trade or brand name of a chemical, a duty officer can identify the product by both its generic designation and its producer. Also on file are detailed instructions on how to handle each compound in an emergency.

Perhaps the operation's greatest strength is the willingness of many chemical companies to provide voluntary assistance in handling potentially calamitous situations, often dispatching teams of experts to accident locations.

What about the government, which has the primary responsibility for protection of the public's health, welfare and safety? Almost five years after passage of the law requiring a federal emergency center, the Department of Transportation continues to drag its feet.

The department does require elaborate post-accident reports, but it makes no effort to evaluate that information to aid in dealing with future accidents.

When a House subcommittee held hearings last year on the situation, Rep. John L. Burton, D-Calif., and a Maryland fire chief engaged in this illuminating discussion about a chemical accident?

Burton: You were able to reach CHEMTREC but not any federal agency?

Chief: Not only federal but state. It took over seven hours for the state ... man to get there. ... The federal government showed up two days after.

Burton: They wanted to know what had happened?

Chief: Yes. They congratulated us on doing a very, very fine job ... which was very nice but didn't help me at the time.

DEAR ABBY: A mother wrote complaining that her daughter preferred calling relatives long distance to thank them for Christmas, birthday and graduation gifts rather than write thank-you notes. You said, "A letter is better, but a telephone call is better than nothing."

Well, I work for the telephone company, and more and more I am faced with the upleasant task of disconnecting the telephone service of a parent or grandparent for non-payment of a large telephone bill because some child or grandchild has made long-distance calls all over the country without the slightest thought of the cost involved.

Perhaps we have made it too easy to dial long distance or even overseas, promoting the idea of long-distance calls because it's more profitable for us.

If a phone bill is not paid because of indiscriminate calling by irresponsible children (or adults), the responsible paying customers will end up paying the bill in higher monthly rates. Please let your readers know this, Abby.

He's a business person who deals with the public, so I worry about what other people might think.

I keep thinking maybe he needs to see a dentist, but holy cow, the man is 33 and I hate to suggest it.

I have an idea he knows his breath is bad because he's always sucking on mints or chewing gum, but it doesn't help. He's a very sensitive guy and I wouldn't hurt his feelings for the world. Somebody should tell him. But who?

CHICKEN IN DETROIT

DEAR CHICKEN: You! It would be an act of kindness. If a dentist can't help him, he should see a doctor. Chronic bad breath can be a symptom of a serious physical ailment, and masking it with breath-fresheners, mints, mouthwashes or chewing gum is NOT a proper solution. If you love him, tell him!

DEAR ABBY: My husband wears a hearing aid, and when we're at a cocktail party he turns it off and sits in a corner all by himself. Many people think he's anti-social or snobbish, but it's not true. He says that when some folks (especially women) get a few drinks in them, they tend to laugh and shriek extra loud, and the sound, when amplified through his hearing aid, feels like a "knife" in his ear.

Abby, you would be doing people who wear hearing aids a big favor if you asked your readers to be a little more considerate.

SAN DIEGO

DEAR SAN: I can ASK, but I fear that my plea will fall on deaf ears.

DEAR ABBY: Can a person ever REALLY forgive and forget?

LEE

DEAR LEE: Not as long as that person keeps asking himself that question.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

South's one-heart response to one club effectively stopped a heart lead.

The opening diamond lead was very helpful to declarer. He won in his hand and discarded a heart from dummy.

Declarer now deviated from the normal way of playing the club suit. He purposefully blocked the suit by playing low to the ace and low back to the queen.

If clubs had divided 3-2 declarer would have six club tricks, two diamond tricks and two spade tricks. When clubs did not divide, South fell back to a second plan.

He played the jack of spades from his hand at trick four and when it was covered by the queen he made the contract by taking four spade tricks, two diamonds and three clubs.

If South had routinely led the queen of clubs from his hand at trick two and continued clubs he would not have been able to take the spade finesse.

By playing clubs in this unusual fashion declarer was able to be in his hand at the crucial moment, knowing everything about the club suit.

Art Guild Club Meets

Rev. James Jackson, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church and president of the Ministerial Alliance, presented a program to the Art Guild Study Club explaining the purpose and work of the alliance in Snyder.

"The purpose of the alliance is to give a united front to the spiritual needs of the community," Rev. Jackson said. The Alliance works in cooperation with the police department, he told the group. He further explained how funds are raised and how transients as well as local citizens are helped in time of need.

The meeting, held in the Martha Ann Woman's Club Sept. 18 at 7:30 p.m., was presided over by president Mrs. Hugh C. Lowry who was also hostess and program leader. She served refreshments to 13 club members and one guest.

Sorority Visits Museum

Beta Sigma Phi met for their regular meeting at the Scurry County Museum with 21 members present. They were given a guided tour by Sheri Rose, secretary of the museum.

After the tour they returned to the Woman's Club for a business meeting, with president Marie Boone presiding. Final plans were made for the western dance on Sept. 29 at the Armory. Everyone was reminded of the Martha Ann Woman's Club style show on Oct. 6. The West Texas area convention in Lubbock was discussed.

Following the business meeting, a surprise baby shower was given for Nancy Ballinger. Hostesses were Betty League and Laura Greene.

80th BIRTHDAY-W.B. (Buddy) Willingham of Snyder Oaks Care Center was honored on his 80th birthday Sept. 19. On hand to help him celebrate the occasion were his brothers and sisters and two sons. Dunnam Descendants Gather At Coleman

Descendants of the late Andrew B. and Minnie Brown Dunnam family held a reunion in Coleman recently. Mr. and Mrs. Dunnam and their six children moved to Scurry County in 1922. In 1925 they established the Dunnam Mattress Factory, which was operated by the family for 50 years before being sold because of the ill health of B.W. (Burney) Dunnam.

The firm continues under the same name today but is not associated with the Dunnam family.

Five of the Dunnam children are still living. All were present for the reunion. They are Lula Jones, Burney W. Dunnam, both of Snyder, Fred Dunnam of Fluvanna, Ruby Knight of Weatherford, and Edna Mae Bunt of Coleman. Also present were Mrs. Fred Dunnam of Fluvanna and Joe Bunt of Coleman and Willis W. Knight.

Ten of the 11 Dunnam grandchildren were present for the reunion, the 11th being Joe M. Bunt, a member of the U.S. Air Force.

Grandchildren and their families present were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knight, Michelle, Teri, Kathy and Denise of Everman; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dunnam, Todd and Dale of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Lee Knight, Eric and Kevin of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grinslade, Bobby, Jody and Killi of Andrews; Jeffery Don Dunnam of Fluvanna; John Dunnam of Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Barker, Veronica, Vance and Rachel of Meridian; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown of Old Glory; Mr. and Mrs. Junious J. Arrant and David, Susie Bunt, all of Austin.

Fortune Speaks To Study Club

"Energy Conservation in the Home" was the topic of the Amitie Study Club's Tuesday evening meeting.

Guest speaker Phil Fortune, representing Texas Electric Service Company, presented slides and a program on ways to save energy and cut energy costs in the home.

Fortune encourages reduction in these areas by setting thermostats to 68 degrees in winter and 78 degrees in summer and adjusting the thermostat when gone from home; insulating walls, ceilings, crawl spaces and the venting system; setting hot water heater at 140 degrees; and fixing leaky faucets and caulking and weather stripping, windows, doors and even around porch lights.

He said pamphlets on energy saving hints and an evaluation form to find out how energy efficient a home is, are available at the Texas Electric office.

The first meeting of the current year was held in the home of Nancy Mavroulis. Guests were Dale Neves, LaTrix Gladson, Karen Sears and Donna Johnson.

Jordan Charged With Attending Wild Party

WASHINGTON (AP)— Hamilton Jordan, facing possible appointment of a special prosecutor over allegations of cocaine use, is being described as a participant in a "licentious" 1977 party in Los Angeles Leo. Wyles, a former Carter fund-raiser, says Jordan and two other White House staff members attended a party at his home. And he told CBS News Thursday night that he felt their "approach to this relaxation was one of .... drugs and girls."

Waterbed Shop Set To Open Saturday

The Waterbed Shop, Snyder's newest business, will open tomorrow at 1908 37th St., in the 37th St. Shopping Center.

Approximately 10 to 12 waterbeds will be on display, said store manager Ellen Martinez, and there will also be chests of drawers, dressers, and bedroom suites available.

Our bed prices will range from $299 to about $1,000," said Mrs. Martinez. "We'll have all the accessories including sheets, spreads, and vibrators."

Owners of the store are Larry and Terry Mashburn and Bill Miller, all of Abilene. They are also the owners of the Abilene Waterbed Shop.

Store hours will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Arrest Made After High Speed Chase

A chase, a criminal mischief complaint, and three minor traffic accidents were worked by city police officers yesterday.

The pursuit began about 11:15 p.m. at the College Ave. entrance of Towle Park over an alleged traffic violation and ended about 15 minutes later at the intersection of Farm to Market Roads 1609 and 1607.

Taken into custody was a 27-year-old man who was charged with fleeing to elude a peace officer. Speeds in the chase ranged up to 85 to 90 miles and hour, said officers.

Reporting the criminal mischief was Charles Jones. He said a windshield on his vehicle was broken while the vehicle was parked at the Wild Country Club parking lot. Damage was pegged to be in excess of $200.

The first traffic accident was a hit and run discovered and reported about 11:15 a.m. in an alley off the 100 block of 20th Place. An unknown vehicle struck a concrete block fence owned by A.E. Chaney and then fled the scene. Damage was set at $50.

In a separate hit and run incident, police know the car that was involved in the accident but are trying to ascertain who the driver of the vehicle was.

That mishap was reported at 12:55 p.m. at The Shack parking lot and involved a parked 1977 Chevrolet owned by Jerry Webb that was struck by a 1977 Chevrolet.

The final mishap Thursday was at 2:50 p.m. in the 3100 block of College Ave. Involved in that collision was a 1973 Pontiac driven by Marquette Helms York and a 1978 AMC driven by Betty Riley Loper.

Seminar For AM Personnel Set At WTC

A seminar on Human Relations and Communications for management personnel from American Magnesium will be held Saturday at Western Texas College.

Conducting the sessions will be Betty Sandel, management instructor, and Gil Fleer, associate professor of sociology and counselor.

The seminar is being arranged through the adult vocational division at WTC and is designed to address specific areas of interest to persons involved in personnel management. A second section will be held on Oct. 6. Business firms and organizations interested in similar programs for their employees or members may contact Rex Hopkins, director of continuing education at WTC, for information and suggestions.

Brahman Trots Through Bank

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—It was business as usual in the Rapides Banks and Trust Co. - at least until the Brahman Bull calf strolled through and out a back door.

Police captured one of the calves that escaped out of a truck, but wound up chasing the other through downtown Tuesday before losing it in some woods at the edge of town. It was captured several hours later. There were no injuries, but more than a few shocked looks.

"He just came trotting through with no one behind him," said bank vice president Bob Levines. "We don't know where he came from or where he went."

Kennedy Getting Protection

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, facing increased threats in the two weeks since he said he might challenge President Carter, is under Secret Service protection ordered by the president.

Neither White House aides nor Kennedy's staff would discuss whether the threats received by the senator's office had increased, but it was learned that the number was sharply higher since Kennedy disclosed he is considering running for president.

Dispatched by Carter, several agents appeared at Kennedy's office on the second floor of the Dirksen Senate Office Building shortly before 6 p.m. Thursday.

BIRTHS

Weldon and Elizabeth Wyatt of 1201 28th are parents of a 7 lb. 10½ oz. baby girl born at Cogdell Hospital Sept. 20 at 11:24 a.m.

Unlike meat, fish contains little connective tissues and does not require long, slow cooking. Fish cooked quickly at a high temperature will retain its flavor and be moist and juicy.

Sunshine Group Rehearsals Set

The Sunshine Group, a choir made up of Senior Citizens, has scheduled rehearsals at the Senior Center on Friday afternoons and hopes to be ready for public performances within the near future, Gloria Shaw, Senior Center Director, said.

The choir presently has about 30 members, and Senior Citizens who would like to work with the singers are invited to contact Mrs. Shaw, any choir officer, or to attend the rehearsal starting at 1 p.m. next Friday.

The Sunshiners are now working on a program of songs from Broadway musicals. Folk songs and other types of music will be added to enable the choir to give a varied program of music, and some special ensembles will be formed as time and other factors permit. Clubs or organizations who would like to have the Sunshine Choir perform may make arrangements by calling the Senior Center office at 573-0104.

Chuck Weatherford, who joined the staff at First United Methodist Church on Aug. 1, is serving as director for the choir. He came to Snyder from Kingsport, Tenn., and is a graduate of East Tennessee State University.

Dissolving bones

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have not been drinking milk regularly for the last few years and I've had quite a few fractured bones. I was wondering if they become weak from lack of calcium. If so, and I start drinking milk regularly, will my bones become strong again?

DEAR READER — I don't know how old you are or what has caused your fractures but it's certainly true that older people and women after the menopause tend to develop dissolving bones, called osteoporosis. These are particularly prone to fractures. That's why a lot of older people have fractured hips and other fractures with minor falls. At a younger age the bones wouldn't have fractured. Some people call these brittle bones.

It's also well established that people who are on a calcium deficient diet are more likely to develop osteoporosis. In fact, the figures are that women on a calcium deficient diet are five times as likely to develop osteoporosis as those who are getting enough calcium.

I strongly advise everyone to get enough calcium in their diet. This is particularly important for women after the menopause and especially for women of small build.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 6-10 on Osbeoporosis to give you more information about this problem. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents in check or coin with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

As The Health Letter I'm sending you points out, increasing the calcium in your diet won't necessarily correct the disorder once it has occurred but it's an important measure in helping to prevent progression of the disease.

There is also some evidence that providing female hormones to women after the menopause will help to slow down or delay the onset of such problems.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like to ask if a woman has a lump in her breast and the doctor tells her the lump is suspicious, what does he mean? Should the breast be removed if it is suspicious? If it's not malignant, is there any other treatment to save the breast?

DEAR READER — Suspicious means the doctor doesn't know for sure what the lump is. He's concerned that it might be malignant but he can't tell. The truth is in most instances doctors have to guess what the lump is as long as all they can do is feel it through the skin.

The obvious solution whenever there is a lump in the breast, and you can't be absolutely certain what it is, is to remove the lump. Then it can be examined under a microscope, to tell whether it's malignant or benign. If it's benign, no further treatment is indicated. Many women have benign lumps removed from their breast and it doesn't interfere with the appearance of their breast or require further treatment.

Women with lumps in their breast or a tendency to having lumps in the breast should be particularly careful about using female hormones at the time of the menopause and afterward.

Hubbard Visiting 1st Presbyterian

A former local pastor, the Rev. Ronald E. Hubbard, is in Snyder this weekend to lead in special services at First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Hubbard served the local Presbyterian congregation as pastor in 1952-55. He chose early retirement in July and now lives in Dallas.

During his visit here he is speaking to the early morning men's group at First Presbyterian Church and will teach the weekly Bible study group, said the Rev. Gary West, pastor.

Rev. Hubbard also will preach during the 11 a.m. worship services Sunday. Immediately following the Sunday morning services, a luncheon at the church will honor Rev. and Mrs. Hubbard.

Rev. Hubbard attended public schools in San Antonio and received the bachelor of arts degree at Trinity University. After receiving the bachelor of divinity degree at McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, he did graduate study at Harvard and at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

He has served pastorates at Frederick, Okla., Kermit, Snyder, Pampa and Richardson and as a chaplain in the U.S. Army during World War II. He now serves as part-time minister of visitation for Northminster Presbyterian Church in Dallas.

During his pastorate in Snyder, Rev. Hubbard was active and held offices in the Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club and the Ministerial Alliance. He has served as moderator of three Presbyteries, as moderator of the Texas Synod, and chairman of the General Council of Texas Synod and is now serving as vice moderator of Grace Union Presbytery.

Mrs. Hubbard has worked with the Head-start pre-school program of Dallas County for 11 years, and now is assistant director of the program and has charge of the nine centers in Dallas County.

Bumper Cotton Crop Forecast Maddens Some

LUBBOCK (AP)-Some cotton farmers whose crops were battered by hail say they are not pleased with a recent government estimate forecasting a bumper crop.

Farmers told Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland, who toured South Plains cotton fields Thursday, that not enough emphasis was placed on the hail damage in the Department of Agriculture's monthly estimate.

A bumper crop estimate tends to drive prices down, the farmers said.

Bergland said the department tries to get the information right, but some people do not truthfully report their crops. He said the department is limiting the survey list to those who report sound data on yields and acreage.

The UDSA report acknowledged the hailstorms had created a hardship for many individual farmers but contended that crops on the non-damaged fields had offset the storm losses and estimated the largest crop in the area's history.

Farmers in the American Agricultural Movement asked Bergland how he could help them stay in farming. Bergland said no one who wanted to keep farming would have to worry about loan foreclosures.

The Texas Department of Agriculture will get an $825,000 grant for developing a marketing system for feeder cattle and cotton, Bergland said.

The department will use $325,000 to set up a demonstration model for trading cattle through an electronic marketing system. The electronic system would be like an auction with buyers and sellers at distant locations participating in price negotiations.

The remaining $500,000 will be used to evaluate mechanical instruments used to measure the quality of cotton.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown said Texas A&M University will handle the computer auction program, and Lamesa Cotton Growers Association will test instruments for determining cotton quality.

Jim Brown, now a movie actor, led the National Football league in rushing eight times while playing for the Cleveland Browns.

Cats, Steers Square Off In Traditional Rivalry

BIG SPRING--Rip up the prediction sheets, throw the past into the wind, Snyder and Big Spring tee it up at 8 o'clock here tonight and anything can and probably will happen.

Probably no greater rivalry exists in the area than this annual confrontation between the Tigers and Steers, and that's a treat for fans from both sides.

"A good, clean rivalry is great," says Snyder Coach Mike Jenkins. "That's what makes athletics so good. There has always been a rivalry between the two teams and there always will be. These kids play each other all the way through school. They know each other, and a lot of time the parents know each other."

Call it the climax to a week of rivalry then. Snyder and Big Spring volleyball teams met Tuesday. On Thursday eighth, ninth and junior varsity football teams played, both here and at Snyder.

The Tigers might go into the game a slight favorite - if the rivalry didn't play such a big factor. Since Coach Jenkins and staff arrived at Snyder three full seasons ago the Tigers have won each game...but always in the waning moments, and never by more than seven points.

Both teams go into the contest with win-loss records of 1-1. Snyder lost to Midland Lee, 13-0, and defeated Monahans last week, 14-13. The Steers were crushed 40-6 by Andrews, but bounced back to slam Hobbs, N.M., 7-0.

"Anytime we play Big Spring, Snyder is seeing them at their best," contends Jenkins. "They (the Steers) haven't played up to their potential this season. They're a much better team than indicated. It's their last non-conference game, and I'm sure they'll want to improve as much as they can."

Especially working in Big Spring's favor is that 7-0 win last week. It broke a 19-game losing string.

"I expect they'll be sky high. Not just because they won last week, but because they're playing Snyder. They always play Snyder tough. I think it will be another typical Snyder-Big Spring game, going right down to the final minutes," says Jenkins.

The Steers may start as many as six players offensively and defensively tonight. Dual players include 165-senior Mike Domino at slip and strong corner, 165-junior David Coffey at running back and safety, 134-senior Joe Willie Jones at split end and quick corner, 190-senior Mark Knight at tight end and defensive end, 239-senior Jack Odom at tackle, and 243-senior Steve Painter at guard.

Along the defensive line, Painter, a Steer veteran, uses his 245 pounds to advantage. Knight and Greg Jones (229 junior) are other assets used by the Big Spring coaching staff.

Snyder's starters remain the same as last week, and it's goals are the same, too.

"We're not going to change anything we're doing, we're just going to try to do what we do better. This is what we look for in every game we play," notes the coach.

Snyder ground out 308 total yards last week, despite losing the ball five times on turnovers. It is the turnovers and mental mistakes which Jenkins hopes will be eliminated tonight, giving Snyder's offense a chance to perform to current potential for the first time this season.

Freshmen Pop Big Spring, 26-8

BIG SPRING—Snyder freshmen lept into the winner's column here last night, thumping the Steers 26-8. The Tigers play at home next Thursday, hosting undefeated Andrews.

On the second play from scrimmage, tailback Kirk Herrley broke open and raced for 56 yards to put Snyder on the scoreboard. Later in the first period, Curtis Gafford intercepted a Steer pass to set up a second Tiger TD. Gafford did the scoring honors as well, going in on fourth down from 10 yards out.

Enter Herrley for the third Tiger touchdown. He fielded a Big Spring punt, utilized a wall of blockers well, and raced 57 yards to score in the second quarter. Fullback Matt Davis ran the two-point conversion.

Later in the first half, Big Spring scored on a long pass to make the intermission score 20-6.

In the second half, Gafford, Joseph Yruegas and Billy Clayton all had interceptions. Ross Bawcum recovered a fumble.

Yrugas' interception set up Snyder's final points, which came on a 15-yard pass play from quarterback Brent Roemisch to Gafford. With only 1½ minutes left in the game, Big Spring recovered a fumbled punt snap in the Tiger end zone for a safety, making the final score 26-8.

"You could certainly tell we had more time to work out this week," commented Coach Larry Scott. "Defense was our mainstay again. Offensively we looked a lot better. Everytime we got down inside, we scored."

Scott also praised the kicking team, which includes punter Bawcum and kicker David Gutierrez.

Tigers Zap Bovines; Spin Record To 2-1

Snyder junior varsity won its second consecutive gridiron contest here last night, riding herd on Big Spring's Steers, 20-0. In other action the Tiger eighth grade Black team lost, 8-6.

Fullback Perry Echols, who ignited for 122 yards on the night, found daylight early in the second quarter for Snyder's first points. Echols capped an 80-yard drive by speeding 52 yards to score. The Tigers made the margin 8-0 when tailback Mark Shaw scored the two-point conversion.

Snyder made perhaps its best drive of the season after the second-half kickoff, going 80 yards. Shaw punched the ball across the goal from three yards away.

The final score came in the fourth stanza when quarterback Brad Robertson - who did a good job filling in for an ailing Gary Don Edmiaston - found Shaw open on a 27-yard pass play.

Shaw, who appeared cornered after sharing the toss, broke several tackles and dashed for the end zone. He picked up 91 yards on the ground and 34 through the air for the night.

Defensively, linebacker Jessie Hernandez, noseguard Bryan Limmer, Echols and Raymond Jeffery at the ends and tackle Oziel Gonzales were standouts.

Snyder's offense churned for 298 yards, while defensively allowing only 131. The Tigers who expect quarterback Edmiaston and tailback Robby Davenport back in the lineup for next Thursday's game at Andrews, are 2-1 for the year.

Felines Trade Tourney Wins

MONAHANS -- Snyder High School Tigers were knocked into the consolation bracket of the Monahans Volleyball Tournament yesterday afternoon. Last night, the Cats proved they would make a bid for that title.

Up against a familiar foe of late, San Angelo Central, the Tigers lost 8-13 and 12-15 in the afternoon contest. That result makes this year's series with the Bobcats 1-3; the victory coming on Snyder's home ground, where it hasn't lost in over a year.

In the evening contest, Snyder easily handled Fort Stockton, 15-4 and 15-6 to advance in the consolation bracket. The Tigers were to play Denver City at noon today. Denver City lost to Kermit and defeated El Paso Ysleta yesterday.

Against Central, Snyder's Kim Harlin scored 8 points, followed by Patsy Casas with 6, Billie Owens with 3, Lisa Cobb with 2 and Sherry Mayes with 1.

Cobb led with 14 against Fort Stockton, while Casas, Harlin and Owens had 4 each, Suzy Fisher noted 3 and Mayes had 1.

"The girls played fairly well against Central," noted Coach Joyce Elrod. "Not as well as we have played against them, but I'm not displeased with the way we played."

Consolation finals will be held here - Monahans High School Gym - at 6:30 Saturday. The third place battle will be at 7:30, with the championship match at 8:30. Snyder is the favorite in the consolation bracket. Central is the overall favorite to win the tournament.

Junior Bowling Begins Saturday

Saturday will be the first day of bowling for the junior bowlers of Snyder. Youths from age 5 to 11 yrs. will begin at 1:00 P.M., and ages from 12 to 21 yrs. will begin at 2:30 P.M.
