Royal Air Force Launches Offensive

Nazis Indicate Long-Awaited Drive May Come This Week

German Raiders Monday Enjoy Half-Holiday

All Signs Point Toward Campaign Starting Shortly

As The Germans Tell It

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Aug. 19.—Germany's air fleets took a semi-holiday in the air war against England today, sending over the English channel only minor forces of scouts to check results of more than a week of mass assaults and, apparently, to spot fresh targets.

What the Germans called "armed reconnaissance" today was a far cry from the raids by hundreds of planes which began Aug. 8. But it came amid indications Germany is readying her armed might for the blow which the Nazis hope will knock out England and end the war.

May Be This Week

There were indications the huge assault might come this week.

Just as he had warned during the invasion of the lowlands and France, Adolf Hitler informed Great Britain through Swiss diplomatic channels that the British must treat his parachute troops according to international law or he would visit reprisals upon British aviators in German prison camps.

(Parachute troops played an important role in the western European fighting and Britain has organized thousands of civilians in home defense corps to meet that threat.)

Another intimation that a great attempt against England is in the wind was this expression by authoritative spokesmen:

Need Three Days

"Just give us three days of good weather."

Repeated reports have told of German forces massed at French channel ports, impatiently waiting for the air force to "soften up" the British.

The Reich summarized yesterday's successes as 147 British planes destroyed and 33 balloons shot down from the British balloon barrage. German losses were put at 36.

The Hitler warning on parachute troops asserted it would violate in-

Turks Promise Aid To Greece

(By The Associated Press)

ATHENS, Greece, Aug. 19.—Turkey was reported in informed quarters to have promised Greece today to come to her aid in the event this country is threatened by Italy.

This report was made after the Turkish minister to Greece called on Premier General John Metaxas.

However, officials remained silent on the significance of the minister's visit.

(A bitter press campaign against pro-British Greece has been under way in Italy since an Albanian patriot, Daut Hoggia, was decapitated near the Albanian-Greek border over a week ago.

(Authoritative Italians have insisted Greece has territorial designs on Italian-ruled Albania and some circles have said Premier Mussolini would demand slices of Greece and Yugoslavia for Albania in a "general settlement.")

Export-Import Bank Bill To Be Debated

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP)—The rules committee cleared the way today for the House to debate tomorrow a bill increasing the Export-Import bank's lending authority by $500,000,000 for trade-promoting loans in Latin America.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga) described the legislation as "cock-eyed—at least cross-eyed," while Rep. Crawford (R-Mich) said the United States must go into Latin America on an even bigger scale or "forget" the Monroe doctrine.

PROBE ASKED

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 19. (AP)—Former Gov. James M. Cox today urged a congressional investigation into conduct of the Smithsonian institute for what he said was regarded as the organization's failure to fully recognize the Wright brothers as the first pioneers of aviation.

None Can Fill The Shoes Of Clarabelle

(By The Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 19.—Many newspaper officials have cats but few have been immortalized by "quotations" on the editorial pages as has Clarabelle, the Montgomery Advertiser's office cat.

Since Editor Grover C. Hall gave the yellow and black creature that wandered into his office some four years ago his coffee cream, Clarabelle has been a "newspaper woman."

Editor Hall used her as a medium to express philosophical thoughts.

Editor Hall today pleaded with followers of Clarabelle not to give the Advertiser another cat. He affirmed:

"There is no possible substitute for Clarabelle in this office."

Italians Claim Major Victory In Somaliland

(By The Associated Press)

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 19.—The British middle east headquarters announced tonight that British troops had withdrawn from Berbera, capital of British Somaliland, under heavy Italian attack by tank, artillery and aircraft.

The Italian victory ended the first decisive phase in the vast African war where Italy is trying to rout the British from control of the Suez canal and sever British empire communications.

British airmen rained bombs on troop movements and supply lines stretching from Italian Somaliland clear to the coats through the British protectorate on the gulf of Aden, to cover the retreat.

British naval units embarked native British troops and material, destroying what stores they were unable to move.

Capital Entered

Fascist troops behind their advancing tanks and artillery barrage, entered the capital tonight and Italian aircraft attacked the troop-loaded British ships in the gulf of Aden.

(Italian reports in Rome gave the British strength in Somaliland as about 7,000, mostly Rhodesians and Indians.)

Capture of Berbera came after an Italian drive of 300 miles along the coast from Jibuti, French Somaliland, and the same distance from Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland, across burning deserts.

Italy now has control of African territory extending 1,250 miles from Ethiopia's western frontier to the gulf of Aden, and the same distance from Italian Eritrea in the north to the Indian ocean on the south.

Britain claimed her bombers inflicted heavy damage on the Italians before they reached Berbera.

Troops Reorganized

It's now expected that Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Italian commander in Libya, will launch an offen-

First Entry For Fair Is Received Monday

Two entries in the county agricultural exhibit contest at the Panhandle-South Plains fair were received Monday, more than a month in advance of the show.

C. C. Jobson, superintendent, said Paul Zahn submitted Haskell county's entry, the first entered in the 1940 fair, to be conducted from Sept. 30 to Oct. 5.

The other was that of a regular entry, from Maverick county, in South Texas. R. E. Prewitt of Quemado has brought the Maverick county exhibit here for several years.

Man's Finger Is Lost In Tractor Accident

A badly smashed little finger on the left hand of Roland Bryan, 20, of Cross Plains required amputation of the first joint Monday night in West Texas hospital.

The son of W. L. Bryan of Cross Plains, the youth suffered the injury when the finger was caught in the mechanism of the tractor he was operating. He did not remain in the hospital.

Another Gaines Beer Election Announced

SEMINOLE, Aug. 19.—Gaines county voters will have another beer election on Aug. 28, the commissioner's court announced.

The court approved a petition signed by C. E. Fleming and 357 other persons asking for the election.

U.S.-Canadian Defense Board To Meet Soon

Roosevelt Begins Selection Of His Representatives

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 19.—The first meeting of a permanent United States-Canadian board of defense was projected for early next week as President Roosevelt began today selection of its American members.

By telephone from his ancestral home, Mr. Roosevelt asked state, war and navy department officials in Washington to recommend four or five persons, drawn chiefly from the armed forces, to serve on the board with an equal number of Canadians.

No Indication

There was nothing to indicate whether he would call on the army and navy high command for the personnel or rely on subordinate officers. But he hoped to complete his choice by Thursday in preparation for the board's initial meeting at a place not yet designated.

Meanwhile, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau left his Beacon, N. Y., home today for an undisclosed destination in Canada. There was speculation in Washington that his trip might be in connection with the defense project but here at the summer White House presidential attaches said they had heard nothing of Morgenthau's Canadian visit and were unable to suggest what role, if any, he might play in defense plans.

Ties Are Strengthened

The rapid pace of developments leading to the unprecedented strengthening of U. S. ties with a nation at war emphasized the gravity with which the chief executive viewed the problems of continental defense.

He announced Friday in Washington defense consultations were under way with Canada. That same night he disclosed he was meeting Canadian Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King Saturday at Ogdensburg, N. Y., on the border between the neighbor countries, to discuss "mutual problems of defense."

To Consider Defense

Their agreement to set up a board to consider the defenses of North America and begin immediate studies of "sea, land and air problems, including personnel and material," was announced jointly by the two chiefs of state yesterday.

In the field of politics today, the president gave no indication whether he would answer, much less accept, the challenge of Republican Presidential Candidate Wendell L. Willkie to debate campaign issues.

But by accepting the resignation of his running mate, Henry A. Wallace, as secretary of agriculture, effective Sept. 5, he did sound the signal for the formal start of the New Deal's campaign. Wallace said in his letter of resignation he probably would begin active campaigning the day he gave up his cabinet post.

Wage-Hour Exception Stayed By Protests

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP)—Administrator Philip B. Fleming of the wage-hour division said today a proposed 14-week seasonal exemption from wage and hour regulations for country, sub-terminal and mill grain warehouses had been stayed because of the filing of objections.

The objections to granting the exemptions, Fleming said, came from the Flour, Cereal, Feed and Grain Elevator Workers and the American Federation of Grain Processors council, both AFL affiliates.

A hearing will be held in the fall on the proposal which under the original plan would have become effective August 10.

Louisiana Maneuvers Praised By Officers

CAMP BEAUREGARD, La., Aug. 19. (AP)—As airplanes rained flour "bombs" here, army officers today declared they considered the current national maneuvers a milestone in American history because, for the first time in peace, a unified national guard had been cast into action.

Officers pointed out that a third of a million soldiers were in the field in the four maneuver areas of the country, here and in the states of New York, Washington and Wisconsin.

Germany, Other Nazi Territory Hit By Bombs

Defeat Admitted By Great Britain In Somaliland

As The British Tell It

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 20. (Tuesday)—Conceding defeat by heavy odds in distant Somaliland, Britain flung the full force of air offensive against Germany and the Nazi-held French coast last night and today in the fiercest bombings of three nights of successive raids.

While the Royal Air force launched squadron after squadron across the explosion-lighted English channel, the drone of scattered Nazi planes was heard over almost every quarter of this embattled island.

Boulogne Struck

(Air raid sirens kept more than 4,000,000 Berlin residents under cover for an hour and 40 minutes shortly after midnight, and one by one every other German radio station went off the air, indicating widespread British bombing attacks across the Rhineland.)

Bomb bursts, huge fires, and the flash of anti-aircraft explosions seen clearly in southeastern England showed the intensity of the Royal Air force's third successive overnight pounding of the nearby coast of France.

Three waves of British planes smashed at Boulogne, big Nazi base and center of a wide coastal stretch over which the British fliers ranged.

Hardest Blows

Observers said the new blows were the hardest the British have yet struck along the coast.

In British Somaliland the first phase of the sun-scorched African campaign was chalked up as a victory for the Italians.

As at Dunkerque, when they were forced to flee from Flanders, the British said they stuck to the fight as long as possible to make the Italians pay the highest price for their victory.

Then they made a successful withdrawal by ship, removing much of their material with them and destroyed what was left behind.

Acknowledgement of defeat in Africa came as Germany's storm of bombs against Britain abated mysteriously again.

Control Of Wedge

After dark, however, the drone of motors high overhead indicated the presence of enemy planes. They were heard over towns in the northeast, southeast and Wales. One big German bomber was shot down after a diving attack in which

United States Ship Is In Danger Zone

Safety Assured By Members Of Nazi Embassy

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Unofficial calculations tonight placed the refugee ship American Legion in or near British waters where Germany expressed concern over "mines we cannot control."

Dr. Wilhelm Tannenburg of the German embassy here summoned a press conference to express assurance "that German military authorities will not in any way—even unintentionally — threaten the American Legion" but to renew a warning "about the danger of mines."

Ignorant Of Situation

Aboard the army transport, the 897 passengers, mostly Americans, apparently were ignorant of the situation. Replying to an inqtiry sent Saturday, when the original warning was issued in Berlin, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, minister to Norway, wirelessed the Associated Press from the ship:

"Your message first intimation of newly-mined area. No one aboard informed."

Navy officials declined to discuss the situation aboard the vessel or even to report its position. Unofficially, however, it was calculated that if the ship is travelling at normal speed and the weather is favorable, it should be approaching or already within the "danger zone." It left Petsamo, Finland, Friday night.

Route Suggested

Navy records disclosed, meanwhile, that in declining to alter the ship's course the goverment was acting in line with a previous British warning that shipping should skirt Scotland closely to avoid mines between the Orkney islands and Iceland.

Routine bulletins of the hydrographic office disclosed that on July 22, three days before the American Legion sailed from New York for Petsamo, the British admiralty announced that the waters between the Orkneys and Iceland were dangerous "owing to mines."

Wife Refused To Pay For Use Of Auto

DALLAS, Aug. 19. (AP)—She didn't complain much because her husband made her pay him $5 a week for room and board in their home, a 30-year-old Dallas woman testified in district court here today.

But the final straw, she said, came when he charged her for gas and oil consumed by the family automobile when she used it to run errands.

"Divorce granted," Judge Dick Dixon ordered.

Intensification Of German Air Raids Is Predicted; Extent Of Damage Not Known

BY EDWARD E. BOMAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALTHOUGH many uncertainties cloak the air war over England it is probable that the Nazi raids will be intensified sharply and soon, as Adolf Hitler undertakes to force the issue to an early decision.

As many as 1,000 planes have been sent over Britain in a single day during more than a week of relentless hammering without giving Germany the air control demanded or a successful attempt at invasion or a decisive blockade.

The defending fighters are still battling with such effect that the British claimed for Sunday "the greatest defeat Germany has yet suffered" in the aerial warfare, and Royal Air force bombers are able to harass their foes in France, Germany and Italy in nightly raids.

The air command asserts 513 raiders were shot down in direct combat alone in the last seven days, probably as many as German factories could replace in that time. Fighting of this nature might go on for weeks without a decision.

The signs are multiplying, however, that the full fury of the attack is about to be unleashed, as predicted from Berlin.

The Nazi boast that Britain's air power could be crippled with three more days of favorable weather, a German warning that parachute troops must be treated according to international law, the order making all Britain a defense area, reports from American correspondents with the attackers—all point to the conclusion that the crucial week of the offensive is at hand.

That the Nazi air force is capable of intensifying the raids materially there seems little

Mexico Detains Vessel Of U.S.

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 19.—The Mexican gunboat G22 halted a United States freighter near the Pacific port of Acapulco, Mexico, today, and tonight Foreign Minister Eduardo Hay told the U.S. embassy the ship was "inside Mexican territorial waters" and was detained only briefly for an explanation.

Dispatches from San Francisco, Calif., said a United States destroyer reportedly was steaming toward the area to investigate the boarding of the freighter Herman Frasch, out of San Francisco, Calif., bound for Gulf of Mexico ports via the Panama canal. Informed sources here, however, said the incident was of "no extraordinary nature," and attributed the action to Mexico's increased vigilance against any possible attempts to land arms for a political revolution.

Without Papers

Minister Hay advised the embassy the ship was without Mexican clearance papers but that despite this, and as a courtesy, it was allowed to proceed after a search.

The freighter carries lumber and general cargo. Hay did not give the distance of the ship from the coast, but said it was 70 miles from Acapulco. The position could have put

After praising the Wallace policies, he said:

"I hope that it will be possible for all agricultural groups to help support these policies and to see that they become recognized as an essential part of our defense program."

The Republican presidential nominee sent the following telegram to Chairman Joseph Martin of the Republican national committee:

"Please waste no money in buying radio time to answer Ickes. It is unworthy of answer. Unable to make any reply to the acceptance speech, the New Dealers are evading issue by resort to false personal innuendoes.

"I am not surprised that Ickes would stoop to such levels, but I am astonished that the president of the United States would authorize such a speech.

"The statement of Mr. Ickes that I am or ever was a member of Tammany hall and his implication that I ever approved of the activities of Samuel Insull, or that I have any business connections of any kind today are plain and simple falsehoods."

He Walks 600 Miles Just To Enlist In U. S. Infantry; Now He Can Appreciate Kipling

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Peter Sonts now knows all bout Rudyard Kipling's famous ode to the foot-soldiers, "Boots, Boots, Boots!"

He ought to. He hoofed some 600-odd miles just to become—an infantryman.

The 33-year-old Troy, N. Y., riding instructor—no less—came to town a couple of weeks ago to get a job, then decided to join the army.

"Sorry," said the recruiting sergeant, "—have to have certain affidavits." Sonts, short on cash, started off for Troy—afoot. Upstate, 162 miles. Downstate, 162 miles.

"Still sorry," regretted the army, "—have to have verification your military police service in Hawaii."

Sonts shook his dogs wearily and last Friday started again for Troy. Saturday he began the long trip back, a-boot, so to speak.

He can now look forward to marching in the Panama jungles.

Ambassador Bullitt Is Charged With Something "Little Short Of Treason"

Senators Attack U. S. Diplomat

BY RICHARD L. TURNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Charging William C. Bullitt, the American ambassador to France, with something "very little short of treason," an indignant group of senators hotly attacked the diplomat today for his speech at Philadelphia last night.

Bullitt, warning that the country was in danger of German invasion, advocated conscription and urged that destroyers be made available to Great Britain.

Senators Rap Him

One after another, the senators arose, in the course of the Senate's debate on the peace-time draft, to accuse Bullitt of urging that the United States enter the war, of seeking to promote a dictatorship for this country, and of suspiciously close and friendly relations with Soviet Russia. And, they added an assertion that Bullitt's speech was "not only approved but inspired by the state department."

Their remarks interrupted a Senate discussion of the draft which found Senator Hill (D-Ala) supporting it on the ground that voluntary enlistments place "premium on slackerism and a penalty on patriotism," Senator Capper (R-Kas) opposing the legislation because he believed there was not sufficient danger to justify it, Senator Frazier (R-ND) joining the opposition because the measure "would undermine the entire economy" of the country by creating a huge peacetime war machine," and Senator Tydings (D-Md) drawing a prolonged ovation from the galleries with a supporting speech in which he said that he preferred too much preparedness to too little.

Another defense development saw the Senate appropriations committee quickly approving a record, or near record, appropriation of $5,008,169,277 for beginning the construction of a "two-ocean navy" and providing equipment for an army of 1,200,000 men. Downtown, meanwhile, the war department reported that army recruiting, steadily rising since last May, reached a peak of 8,608 enlistments during the week of Aug. 11.

Italian Victory

sive against Egypt soon in an effort to wrest control of the Suez canal at its Mediterranean entrance.

Reports from Libya said Graziani was busy reorganizing his troop concentrations and supply bases at Bardia after the intense British naval bombardment Saturday.

An air attack yesterday on the aldrome at Addis Ababa, Ethiopian capital, destroyed four hangars and started a fire, the RAF command said.

The fate of the Italian stone fort Capuzzo, shelled along with Bardia, remained undisclosed. Fascist troops were reported to have withdrawn from it, but whether it was destroyed was not known.

All Return Safely

A British naval flier who operated with the navy in the attack said "as shells exploded everything became covered with sand and Fort Capuzzo just disappeared." He did not clarify that statement.

(The Italian high command in Rome said the British bombardment killed one soldier and wounded 11, and that Britain lost seven planes to Italy's three in connection with the Bardia action.)

RAF headquarters here repeated their assertion that 11 Italian planes were lost in the Bardia attack and that all British planes returned safely.

Defense Move Wins Praise

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 19. (U.P.) — The joint defense agreement of the United States and Canada was described today as "the most advanced international political gesture in the history of the North American continent," by Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario.

Hepburn, long a bitter political foe of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, one of the negotiators of the agreement, applauded it, provided it is "applied to the immediate arming of the two countries and aid to Great Britain."

"Having regard for our populations and resources, undoubtedly we are at the moment the most defenseless and most coveted countries in the world," Hepburn said. "On the other hand, should the industry and resourcefulness of our peoples be fully harnessed, we would not only be able to defend ourselves but at the same time render to the British that support to which they are entitled."

Uranium Explosive Is Said Developed

BURBANK, Calif., Aug. 19. (AP)—Dr. Arthur W. Shaudopvsky, former Brussels scientist, said in an interview here a uranium explosive had been developed and tested in the United States which is "at least 15 times more powerful and perhaps almost 100 times more potent than TNT."

Dr. Shaudopvsky, who came here from Wilmington, Del., said he and two other research engineers tested the explosive in a remote spot and found that whereas 1,500 grams of high-power dynamite did 868 foot-pounds of work, the blast from only 100 grams of the uranium explosive accomplished 4,270 foot-pounds of work — with only the downward force measured.

Young Heroine Saves Life Of Playmate

"We were looking at ourselves in the water," Joan said, "and Mary Sue fell in. I could just see her foot sticking out and I thought if it was me I would want her to pull me out. I was real scared but I took hold of her foot and pulled and pulled and she came out."

The two rejoined their elders at the reunion, Mary Sue none the for her dunking.

McDonald previously announced that he will vote for the presidential ticket that has the best program for agriculture.

Britons Told To Wear Caps For Air Raids

LONDON, Aug. 19. (U.P.)—Doctors are urging that civilians should wear Rugby "scrum" caps or something similar in air raids.

Something is necessary as a large number of the casualties reaching Britain are suffering from rupture of the ear drums through intensive bombing on the scale experienced in Flanders.

In the last war all kinds of remedies were tried, but none was successful. Wool impregnated with vaseline was considered the best, as many of the other materials tended to leave debris, and rubber and vulcanite plugs were sometimes difficult to fit and to remove.

Civilians should wear metal flaps attached to the tin helmet or some sort of "scrum" cap to counteract the sirens and whistles said to be used by German dive bombers.

Army Signals Will Prove Difficult For Wire Tappers

CAMP BEAUREGARD, La., Aug. 19. (AP)—If Uncle Sam ever goes into actual war, the enemy is going to have trouble learning his "signals" even if he does tap the communication lines.

Oklahoma and Arizona national guard troops in third army maneuvers here have Indians from 30 or more different tribes, who speak several dialects. During the World war Indians were placed in sectors in which it was found Germans were decoding American messages.

The 141st infantry, Texas national guard, has a number of Mexicans. In 7938 maneuvers in Mississippi this unit put its Mexicans on the telephones when the "enemy" tapped the wires.

Several Louisiana units have "Cajin" Frenchmen available, and officers here point out that U. S. fighting forces have soldiers who speak everything from Finnish to Hawaiian.

German Consul To Go To New Position

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP) — Germany has advised the United States that Dr. Freidrich Reed, one of its consuls in New York, was being transferred from this country as a result of the state department's investigation of his activities.

Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, announced today he had been advised of the proposed transfer by the German embassy.

Reed recently came to this country from Brazil where his activities had proved objectionable to authorities.

It was understood Reed would become consul general at Kobe, Japan.

Hatch Proposes Even Stronger Measure

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP) — Strengthening of the Hatch politics law at points recently involved in controversy between Democratic and Republican party leaders was proposed today by Senator Hatch (D-NM), who also asked that primary elections be covered by the act.

One of his amendments, Hatch said, would "make it clear that the aggregate of political contributions, which may be made by any person, directly or indirectly, in a single calendar year may not exceed $5,000."

British Fliers Launch Attack

it dropped four bombs on a south coast beach.

The withdrawal from Somaliland—British since 1884—gave the Italians unchallenged possession of an East African wedge extending from Eritrea on the north to the border of Britain's Kenya colony on the south—the whole of the "horn of Africa."

Italy has won a strip of coast covering part of the Red sea at the "back door" of the Suez canal, the narrow Rab el Mandeb strait between French Somaliland and Britain's Aden protectorate, the gulf of Aden and the Indian ocean.

Prelude To Attack

Success of the Italian drive on Somaliland, regarded by British observers as a possible prelude to an attack on Egypt, also secures the rear of Italy's East African forces which might attempt a coordinated squeeze on Egypt and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan with Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's Italian army in Libya, on the west.

Withdrawal was decided on, the British announcement said, as an alternative to reinforcing the Somaliland garrison with reserves who were needed elsewhere.

"All guns except two lost in the early stages of the action have been embarked," it said. "A great part of the material stores has also been evacuated and the remainder destroyed. Our wounded have been safely brought away."

The withdrawal apparently was effected from Berbera, capital and chief port of Somaliland, toward which Italian forces had been driving for two weeks.

(Italian reports, which said earlier the British were taking to their ships at Berbera, gave the British strength in Somaliland as about 7,000, mostly Rhodesians and Indians.)

Fighting Continues

British land, sea and air forces continue fighting the Fascist legions on two other African fronts—on the Ethiopian-British Kenya border, where Italian columns have driven some 30 miles into British territory, and the Egyptian-Libyan border, where activity thus far has been confined to air bombings, small raids by both sides and heavy British naval bombardment of Italian bases.

The British, however, expect a major Italian drive on this front shortly, aimed at the all-important Suez canal.

Somaliland was the fourth front from which the British were shoved clear back to their ships in the last five months. First was in Norway, then Flanders, and France.

This latest reversal, however, was blamed squarely on the collapse of France.

Based On Cooperation

"The original Allied dispositions in Somaliland," the British communique said, "were based upon a scheme of close Franco-British cooperation. Under this scheme the French forces at Jibuti (French Somaliland to the north) were to hold the right flank, the pivot of the whole position.

With even Germany's Luftwaffe lull indicating a Nazi attempt to deliver a direct, crushing blow to the British Isles may be near, the whole island kingdom was decreed a defense zone and British airmen struck wholesale at the sources of Nazi might.

The air ministry enumerated as targets of British night raiders, Italian aircraft factories at Milan and Turin, German aluminum and chemical works, the French channel port of Boulogne and German airdromes at Freiburg and Hamsheim, near Mulhouse.

Isolated Forays

(An Italian communique acknowledged Royal Air force bombardment also of Cuneo, but said the British scored no significant military blow. Observers in Switzerland, across from the German frontier, reported hits on one of Germany's biggest aluminum factories and on German armament plants, including the Friedrichshafen zeppelin works.)

Sporadic German attacks on Royal Air force airdromes admittedly caused "a number of casualties" today and a high flying bomber caused others, some fatal, in an attack on a southeast coast town tonight, the second of the day in that area.

Four Nazi bombers were reported shot down but up to evening there had been only these isolated forays.

More Raids Forecast

doubt. At airdromes from Bergen to Brest there are probably 5,000 operating planes, by authorative neutral estimates, with thousands more in reserve. Formidable as it has shown itself, the RAF is certainly smaller.

Britain's aerial frontiers already have been hammered inward, even though Berlin is unable to claim convincingly that command of the air over England has been won. In three days of motoring along the coast between Ostend and Boulogne, an Associated Press correspondent reported seeing no British shipping convoy, but only two German mine sweepers. The RAF's retaliatory bombing raids are being undertaken only under cover of darkness.

Heavy damage unquestionably has been done to the British airdromes on which Nazi bombers have concentrated, and to factories and ports. Just how telling the damage has been appears hidden from top American officials as effectively as it is kept from newspaper readers by wartime censorship.

After several days of the latest phase of the onslaugh, the war department was still without sufficient detailed reports from its own experts to form an official estimate.

IT USED TO BE A HOME—This English man and woman are shown entering their wrecked dwelling to salvage belongings after an air raid by Germans. The caption as approved by the British censor gave no location. The picture was transmitted from London to New York by cable Saturday.

Shakespeare's Method Of Camouflage Wins Army Recognition

CAMP BEAUREGARD, La., Aug. 19. (AP)—Uncle Sam's army has gone to Shakespeare for one of its ideas on camouflage.

Shakespeare's bloody old tyrant, Macbeth, once boasted he would not fall until the woods moved toward him. His end came after a hostile army advanced behind the concealment of branches held before them.

In third army maneuvers here, marching troops have twigs laced on their hats for concealment against airplanes. Scout cars and other vehicles have branches tied over their tops and hoods.

it within a short distance of shore, or a considerable distance at sea, due to the irregular coastline.

One source said the ship was within "about 15 miles" of the shore, and "because the area is virtually a desert beach, with many coves and inlets where a ship might land arms secretly, the gunboat made the search. The fact that the boarding officer was armed is without significance, since officers on such missions for all countries usually carry arms."

It was said authoritatively that the vessel was "detained for only a few minutes, and is now on her way again. To be going to Panama, it was usually close to shore, since the regular route would put it about 70 miles offshore, and not 15."

Voters Warned Of Deadline

L. C. Ellis, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee announced Monday night that those who have not transferred their poll taxes do so today, deadline for such transfers.

Affected are all persons who have moved from one election precinct to another inside Lubbock, or who have moved into Lubbock from outside the city since buying their poll taxes.

"There is a strict penalty for voting illegally—and casting a vote in a precinct not mentioned in your poll tax is illegal," he said, "unless the poll tax is transferred," adding that, "several persons cast illegal votes in the first primary and the votes had to be cast out."

To Name Delegates

Wednesday is the last day for absentee voting, Ellis also announced.

The second primary will be Saturday.

Ellis said he had received a letter from Clarence A. Butcher, secretary of the state Democratic executive committee, advising him that an opinion of the attorney general had reset the state Democratic convention for Sept. 10, instead of Sept. 3 as formerly announced. Ellis was asked to submit an alphabetized list of delegates.

Ellis said precinct conventions would be held Saturday and that the following Saturday the county convention would be held to name delegates to the state convention which will be held in Mineral Wells.

Wheat Growers Insure Crops

With less than two weeks remaining for the deadline for making application for wheat crop insurance, 77 Lubbock county wheat producers have insured their crops next year against all unavoidable hazards, C. E. Lilley of Slaton, chairman of the county Agricultural Adjustment administration committee, said Monday.

"The 77 policies already applied for insure the production of 21,730 bushels of wheat on 3,000 acres next year," he said. Last year 18 policies were issued, guaranteeing production of 4,673 bushels on 789 acres. Indemnity payments on the 1940 crop have been completed, loss claims being paid on 17 policies for indemnities totalling 3,682 bushels. Most of the losses resulted from wind erosion and drouth.

"The increased interest in crop insurance this year indicates that the county's farmers are realizing more and more that insurance on their crops is a routine farming practice," Lilley said. "Applications must be made before the farmer seeds his wheat and the deadline is Aug. 31. None will be accepted after that date."

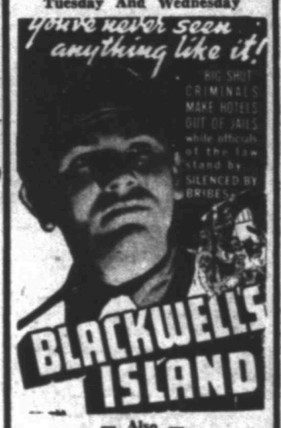

Yugoslavia has ruled that highway transportation companies must help maintain the highways.

Predictions Of Militarists And Poets Are Coming True

By DEVON FRANCIS
Associated Press Aviation Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—From time to time men have forecast holocaust for a world which converted the airplane to military uses, and today there are those of conservative opinion who look on the air warfare in the battle of Britain as only a sample of what the future holds.

The Titanic struggle in the air above the British citadel they regard, as poet and military men have said before them, as a harbinger of terrifying things to come.

Tennyson forecast air warfare.

Kipling hinted at the boundless possibilities of flight.

H. G. Wells wrote fictionally of a world air-dictatorship.

Swarms Of Planes

General Giulio Douhet, the Italian, wrote a make-believe history of a future war in which whole cities were wiped out by bombs.

General "Billy" Mitchell asserted, "with us air people, the future of our nation is indissolubly bound up in the development of air power."

The chief of the army air corps, General H. H. Arnold, sees swarms of planes flying at 500 miles an hour miles above the earth.

A world war flier, airplane designer and manufacturer, Maj. Alexander P. De Seversky, believes that tomorrow's air forces will be on the pattern of surface navies—with huge "battleships" and lesser-sized auxiliary craft.

Tennyson Quoted

However accurate the results of their crystal-gazing, the awesome yet poetic quality of their words has been translated into today's momentous events over the British Isles.

Alfred Lord Tennyson:

"Heard the nation's air navy grappling in the central blue."

Here is a sentence from a last week's report of DNB, the German news agency: "Like gnats over a swamp, so the fighters dance over grey London."

Rudyard Kipling said of the airplane that the world was at the opening verse of the opening chapter of a book of endless possibilities.

Prediction True

Less poetic, but with a sublime belief in air power, the late Billy Mitchell, leader of the American air forces sent to Europe in the war of 1914-18, asserted:

"The surface ship, as a means of making war, will gradually disappear, to be replaced by submarines that will act as transports for air forces and destroyers of commerce."

He added:

"It is probable that future wars again will be conducted by a special class, the air force, as it was by the armored knights in the middle ages."

Special Recognition

Even today Germany, England and Italy have accorded their airmen special recognition. Before the war began, Germany and Italy studiously building up their air power, told their youth that the future of their nations lay in the air.

A tremendous growth in the air forces of world powers is inevitable. Planes will be larger, better-armored, able to withstand assaults by smaller planes bent on destroying them.

Bomber-destroyers probably will take the form of our heavily armed bell airacuda. Bombers themselves will run to tonnages which now seem fantastic. Bombers of 100 tons likely will be built in the next two years. Bombing attacks will occur from altitudes of eight and perhaps ten miles, the crews comfortable in pressurized cabins.

Nearly completed in a west coast factory is a 70-ton plane which will be able to fly 8,000 miles nonstop. Those ranges likely will be stepped up to 10,000 and 15,000 miles.

After the air warfare may be too horrible to contemplate. Perhaps all of mankind will think so, too, and call a halt. Perhaps. . . .

Oil Leasing Reported In Curry County

SNYDER, Aug. 19. (Special)—Borden county has become the scene of land leasing for oil development, as announcement was made of the taking of a 6,320 acre spread in the northwestern part of that county by the Prairie-Sinclair oil corporation.

Block leased is 12 miles northwest of Gail, near the Dawson county line.

Leases in the 10-section spread commanded a price of $1 per acre, an exceptionally good level for acreage located 25 miles east of the nearest production.

Leases filed for record in the county clerk's office at Gail reveal lessees to Prairie-Sinclair were as follows:

W. D. Johnson, jr., 960 acres; C. C. Nunnally et al, 160 acres; Mrs. W. H. Bryan, 720 acres; Peeler Williams, 640 acres; Amicable Life Insurance company, 320 acres; B. B. Street, 640 acres; Mrs. Sallie Street, 640 acres; Mrs. Rosa Prats, 1,280 acres; and S. W. Williams, 1,040 acres.

Dallas Policemen Go On Big Game Hunt To Bag Young Pet Lion

DALLAS, Aug. 19. (AP)—Two Dallas policemen went on a big game hunt last night within the city limits.

A 9-month-old pet lion owned by Dr. James J. Hamiter, Dallas veteranarian, got away. Concerned lest the 75-pound animal frighten someone seriously, Dr. Hamiter notified police asking them to track down the lion and shoot him.

Officers C. J. Sansone and W. E. Lassiter found the big pet and killed him with a pistol and shotgun.

Paving In State Park Virtually Completed

Work on paving the approximately three miles of roads in Mackenzie state park is virtually complete, according to information given Monday by George M. Garrett, division engineer of the state highway department.

Provision for the work was made several weeks ago. Estimated cost of the improvement, which is expected to minimize dust blowing over the picnic grounds, is approximately $6,000.

Width of the heavy two-coat asphalt and crushed rock paving, Garrett said, ranges from 18 to 20 feet. The paving is of the same type, though of less thickness, as that used on most of Lubbock's streets.

Peace Officers Asked To Attend Meeting

Lubbock peace officers Monday received invitations to attend the 62nd annual convention of the Sheriff's Association of Texas to be held Wednesday through Friday of next week in Hotel Texas in Fort Worth.

The association, said the letter from W. E. Neely, editor of the organization's magazine, is the oldest of its kind in the United States. The invitation to attend, he emphasized, includes all peace officers.

Sheriff A. B. Carter and Police Chief Karl Howard of Fort Worth will be the official hosts.

Eight-Day-Old Child Boasts Two Teeth

Not one, but two teeth, have made their appearance in the lower gum of 8-day-old John Bradley Rayburn.

One tooth formerly had been reported from the infant but a relative confirmed Monday afternoon that the infant has two teeth.

The baby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rayburn of 2516 Twenty-fifth street. He was born Aug. 12.

A tooth ordinarily doesn't make its appearance until a baby is five to eight months old, said a physician.

The rare presence of a tooth at birth had been reported Saturday in case of Ruby Pearl Baugh, born last Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Baugh of 1713 Avenue G.

Both of the Rayburn baby's teeth "came through" after birth.

Permits To Drill For Oil Are Reduced

A decline in number of drilling permits issued by the Railroad Commission of Texas was shown last week, the number dropping from 27 to 19 in proven territory and from five wildcats to one.

Number of permits in proven territory for the year was increased to 1,030 and number of wildcats to 81.

Yoakum county had six permits, largest in number; Gaines had two and Cochran one. Cochran also had the lone wildcat.

Last Rites For Mrs. Logsdon Are Read

Last rites for Mrs. Virgie Kathline Logsdon, 45, wife of C. T. Logsdon of the Pettit community, were conducted Sunday afternoon in the Assembly of God church in Levelland.

Mrs. Logsdon died Saturday.

Rev. Mr. Smith and Rev. Mr. Poe were in charge of the services and burial was in Littlefield cemetery. Plains Funeral home was in charge of the burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Logsdon had resided in the community for ten years. Four sons, J. A., H. B., Elba and Marvin, all of Littlefield, and a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Lasley of Levelland, survive.

Civil Service Will Register Half Million

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP)—The Civil Service commission announced today nearly a half million scientists and professional business men would be indexed in the national roster of scientific and specialized personnel being compiled by the commission.

This list of men from private industry will be used to locate skilled persons for special work if and when needed, the commission said.

Speaker Urges Quality Wheat

Need for farmers to use a high quality wheat that will meet the demand of millers for high grade baking flour, was emphasized by P. T. Dines of Amarillo, director of the new Texas Wheat Improvement association in a talk at the Land Use Planning committee monthly meeting Monday afternoon in the courthouse.

Dines showed samples of grain and heads of half a dozen varieties of wheat that are common to the Texas Panhandle. He also showed pictures of loaves of bread baked with flour made from high baking quality wheat and with low quality baking wheat.

Mills are making surveys of wheat growing sections to locate the good and the poor fields so that their buyers and grain buyers can steer clear of the poor quality. Mills also have laboratories to test wheat for protein content and baking quality.

"More high protein content wheat is grown in the Texas Panhandle than in any other area in the United States," Dines added.

Jesse Johnson, vocational teacher at Cooper, presided as chairman. Miss Mona Keeter, assistant home demonstration agent, reported 110 mattresses had been made for low income families and that the second order of cotton had not been received.

In spite of outside disturbances Switzerland's farmers increased their savings in the last year.

Are Your Childs Eyes Ready For School This Fall?

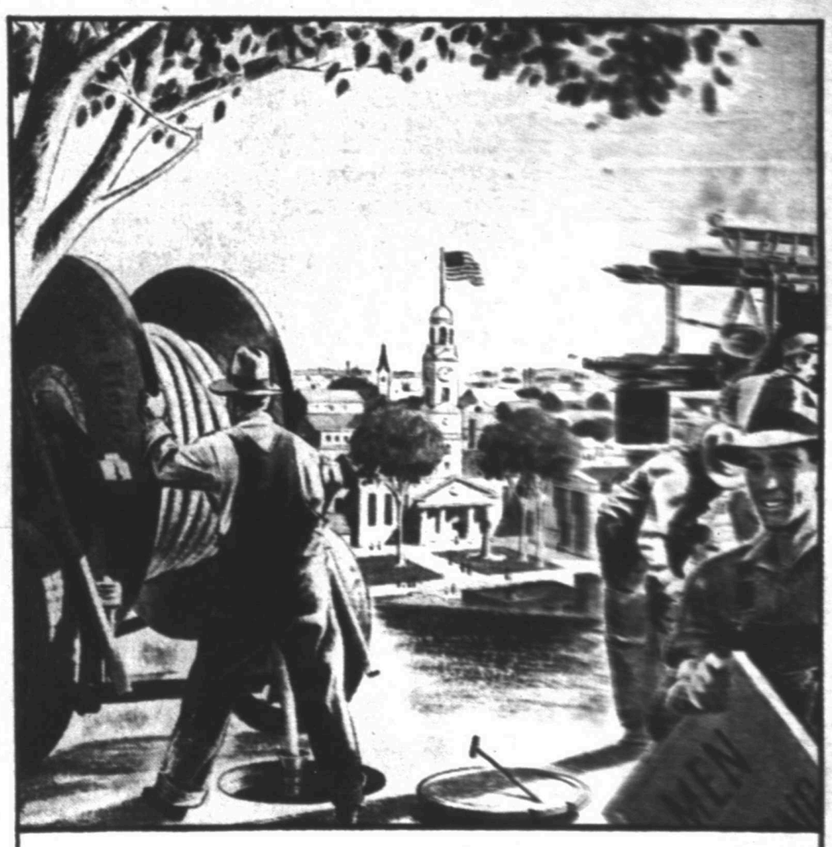

Be Sure Your Childs Eyes Get The Best–Tillyer Lenses

Last year, a number of bright youngsters failed in their studies through no fault of their own—the truth is, their eyes were to blame. Competent authorities tell us that no less than one child in every five needs glasses—and that faulty eyesight is the cause of many failures at school.

Before your youngster returns to school this fall, make sure his eyes are ready for that hard grind ahead. Have your oculist (eye Physician) give his eyes a thorough examination. If the child needs glasses, be sure his tender young eyes get the best—Tillyer Lenses.

EXCUSE US, PLEASE

WHEN we returned from lunch Monday there was a note for us to call Mrs. N. H. Holt, City Federation president, and right away we had a hunch she had called us to discuss the proposed chartered bus trip to Austin for delegates to the Federation meeting in November. Sunday we noted in this column that Amarillo and other Panhandle club women are already hard at work on ideas to raise funds to send their delegates. We wondered what Lubbock women planned to do about the matter.

Well, Mrs. Holt tells us that as long ago as last spring, April 26, if you want exact details, the City Federation asked club representatives present to carry back to their respective study groups the idea that Lubbock have its quota of delegates at the state convention. Some of them are making it their projects for the fall, this need of raising funds for the trip and stay, she said.

It happens that we didn't attend the tea on that April day and the reports we had from that meeting did not concern sending delegates to Austin. They were of matters closer home. But we make this telephone conversation public because we want other Lubbock women to know our study clubs are mindful of their obligation to aid in electing Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview as state president and have been planning to go to Austin for the last six months.

And now to get funds raised to send those delegates!

HINT ON SLACKS

A READER who had seen our protest against the "hind-hang" of most slacks suggests if a wearer fits the slacks to her form in the same manner she does a dress the baggy appearance will be gone.

The matter of altering bought slacks may be accomplished as simply as taking up a dress in the waist or hemming up a skirt, she said.

A salad plate was served to the honoree, and Mesdames J. E. Walter, J. R. Jameson, Richard Walter, Floyd Pipes, Howard Liner and Miss Gene Henry of Long Beach, Calif. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Pipes.

New Bull Registration Requirements Talked At Meeting Of Agents, Dairymen

Improvement Of Herds Planned

The new bull registration requirements of the American Jersey Cattle club, that go into effect Jan. 1, 1942, and which are expected to greatly improve the production of purebred and registered Jerseys, were explained at a meeting of dairymen and county farm agents in the courthouse Monday morning by Prof. C. N. Shepardson of College Station and D. T. Simon of Fort Worth.

R. L. Burdette, President of the Lubbock County Dairy Herd Improvement association, presided and introduced Prof. Shepardson, who is dairy husbandman of Texas A. & M. College and also a director of the A.J.C.C. Simon is field man for the A.J.C.C. and secretary of the Texas Jersey Cattle club, of which W. L. Stangel, of Texas Technological college, is a director.

Quality Reduced

Shepardson pointed out the prevailing practice of dairymen in the past few years to breed beef bulls to Jersey and other milk cows, to produce a larger animal that could bring beef prices if not suited to herd purposes. He said the state average was 60 to 65 per cent of the cows bred to beef bulls, with some sections reporting 70 and 75 per cent and in this section even more.

As a result, he added, quality of dairy cattle has been so reduced that it is a question "whether the dairy cattle we have been getting are a profitable dariy cow." He outlined the work of developing dairy cattle with proven milk production records. There has been, he said "a gradual decreasing interest in dairy bulls." Fifteen years ago the dairy herd improvement association work was started, to develop production.

Good Cattle Scarce

After pointing out that cotton farmers, particularly in South and Central Texas had gone into beef cattle production after acreages had been reduced, he said, "good dairy cows are getting scarce," with an increase in the per capita consumption of dairy products.

"Some of the great dairy sections of the world are going out of the picture," he pointed out, adding Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Belgium were now out as producers of butter and other products. As a result, the stock of butter now on hand in the United States is below the 10-year average.

Simon, who has aided dairymen of this section to improve their herds during the past 15 years or more, recalled the pioneer work of D. F. Eaton, former Lubbock farm agent. P. C. Bennett of Swisher and E. W. Thomas of Hale counties led. Cattle, he added, are hard to find.

Figures Assembled

Lynn Copeland, a statistician of the A.J.C.C., has assembled figures on milk production records. These show, Simon said, that there is an average production of 320 pounds of butterfat for all herds in dairy improvement associations; that the Texas average is 140 pounds for all cows, with a national average of but 176 pounds. Only 10 per cent of the dairy cattle are on test.

Beginning with the first of January, 1942, bulls to be registered with the association must have one of three things, 10 sisters with a production record of 400 pounds of butterfat in 305 days, or be out of a cow with a 400 pound average for a 305 day test or be a star bull. Regulations for eligiblity to the star bull group were explained.

After the talks a number of men asked questions. The meeting lasted several hours. The men left in the afternoon for Tulia and Plainview where they were to conduct meetings last night.

"Inferno Of Bardia" Is Pictured By Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 19. (U.P.)—"The Inferno of Bardia" was described today by Alexander Clifford, London Daily Mail correspondent, who watched the 15-inch guns of the British fleet pound the Italian fortress town on the Libyan Egyptian frontier to "flame and smoke" last Saturday.

Clifford said "the town must have been an inferno at breakfast time when these colossal shells each weighing a ton began to crash down."

(Bardia is said to be one of the jumping off points which the Italian forces in the Libyan desert may use in an eventful offensive against the British in the Egyptian desert.)

Clifford reported that the battle fleet slipped into the coastal waters, trained their guns on Bardia and "then as the hands of the synchronized watches reached seven, hell broke loose."

"After a few seconds we could see a flash and a column of smoke as our first shells landed.

"Through earphones we heard spotters report, 'Okay, direct hit!' soon six-inch guns tuned in with their sharper note and the din increased. Bardia disappeared behind a curtain of smoke and flames."

Three Killed In Shooting

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19. (U.P.)—Elderly Mike Tarzia shot his 21-month-old granddaughter dead early today, killed his daughter-in-law's escort and committed suicide. Police said that he suffered delusions that his daughter-in-law was "chasing around" while his son, a musician, was at work.

Dead in addition to Tarzia were Barbara Jean Tarzia, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tarzia, and Joseph Fraumeni, the escort. Mrs. Josephine Tarzia, the baby's mother, and her sister, Mary Mallamo, were wounded, but not dangerously.

Was In Hospital

Officers said the grandfather accosted Fraumeni, the two women, the baby, and 5-year-old Robert Tarzia, another of his grandchildren, as they left a dance hall. Fraumeni had offered to take the women and children home.

"Who's that man?" the grandfather was quoted when saw Fraumeni.

"This is Joe," his daughter-in-law said.

Tarzia started shooting.

Peter Tarzia told police that his father had been in a psychopathic ward within the last year and suffered from hallucinations that his daughter-in-law was unfaithful to him.

Morgenthau Leaves For Canadian Point

BEACON, N. Y., Aug. 19. (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, jr., left his home early today for an undisclosed Canadian destination.

In Washington, there was some speculation he might have gone to Canada in connection with hemisphere defense, for which plans to set up a joint board of five army and navy men were announced yesterday.

Contest Is Held For Aviators

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (U.P.) — Edward F. Scanlon, 21, of Steubenville, Ohio, Saturday, won the $1,000 scholarship prize as the outstanding airplane pilot trained by the Civil Aeronautics authority.

Scanlon, a Phi Bet Kappa graduate of Kenyon college, at Gambier, Ohio, defeated six of the best CAA pilots in a contest sponsored by the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences by turning in the best performance of flying at Bolling field.

Second prize went to Jefferson Davis Lewis, also 21, of Tallahasse, Fla. Lewis won $750, which he said will be first down payment on a new airplane he bought before the contest. Waldo E. Schroeter, 22, of Reedley, Calif., was third, winning $500.

The prize money, provided by the Shell Oil company, must be used to advance the aviation education of the winners. Scanlon said he would enter the Columbia university medical college to study flight medicine.

Whale Story Is Tragedy

VELASCO, Aug. 19. (U.P.)—Monstro the Whale was a sensation Sunday, but today he was fast becoming a problem.

He was a 70-foot, 50,000-pound whale, a monster which should have been gobbling shrimp in the Atlantic instead of bumping over a sandbar and finaly coming to a spouting stop in shallow water near this little fishing village on the Gulf of Mexico.

They didn't believe Bill Shuster when he came dashing into town Saturday and said he had found a whale. But he really had, and when the news spread, visitors by the hundreds streamed down the coast, over Grady Shanks' little two-car ferry across the intracostal canal to where Monstro—Shuster's own name for his "catch"—was floundering and puffing around.

Monstro died Saturday night. But that didn't hurt his drawing power. They came all day yesterday. In bathing suits and in rolled up slacks, men, women and children waded out and climbed aboard Monstro. The kids skidded over his slick hide. All gazed into his gaping mouth. Shanks worked until early this morning ferrying the cars back to the mainland from the beach.

But today the novelty had worn off and Monstro's presence was fast nearing the unwelcome stage.

Under the right circumstances, his carcass would be worth about $2,000. If the whale blubber could be reduced to whale oil, if the whale bone in his mouth could be extracted and put to use, if a market could be found quickly for his meat, then things would be fine.

Far From Right

The circumstances, however, were far from right. Velasco is just a small town with limited facilities, and none at all for caring for a dead, 70-foot whale.

Residents today were beginning to eye Monstro suspiciously and talk drifted around to means of disposing of him. Townsfolk pondered how soon decomposition would set in.

Truman Brown, mayor of Freeport, across the Brazos river from Velasco, said Monstro was the county commissioners' worry. He said neither Velasco nor Freeport had supervision of the beach where the whale was found. The coast guard said that if Monstro were towed out into the gulf he would become a navigation hazard.

Benny Allen, captain of the fishing boat Anglers, said two men had talked to him about towing the carcass to Freeport, in order to embalm it and place it on exhibition.

"It would take four boats as big as mine to do the job," he protested. "Then it would take several days to make the town, and after we got it to Freeport, we'd probably be ordered very quickly to get rid of it. I'm not interested."

Most residents here believed the county would have to have Monstro dynamited or cut to pieces and buried.

Clovis Here For Flag Raising Game

Hubs Win From Midland, 5 To 1

The Hubbers were in one of their better baseball moods last night, cracked down with fury and finesse to gain ample revenge over Pitcher Rankin Johnson and his Midland maties for a shutout the Lubbock suffered at Midland a few nights ago.

Johnson had his "stuff," as usual, the kind that makes him one of the league's leading pitchers, and he did a fair job of getting out the Hubber "power," putting Ben Drake, Ed Schweda and Chester Hajduk down without a blow.

Williams Bears Down

But Steve Niedziela recovered from a batting slump, got good support from Boyd Watkins, Gene Schlereth and Elvin Mahan, and big Gib Williams pitched proportionately for a nifty 5 to 1 victory. The snappy game was reeled off in an hour and 35 minutes.

Williams, pitching carefully and having fine control of his curve ball, gave up seven hits, and was rarely in trouble. He fanned eight batsmen, only once allowed more than one hit in an inning.

Five of the seven Midland hits, however, were of the two-base variety. Rube Naranjo got two of them, and a single, his first, in the opening inning, batting in Midland's only run after Jennings had walked. Jennings, Hayden Greer and Stanley Bolton connected for two-baggers.

Watkins Hits Homer

Niedziela's triple to star Lubbock's batting, followed by Boyd Watkins' mighty homer over the left center field fence, got the Hubs off to a three-run lead in the first inning. From then until the sixth Mr. Johnson bore down and allowed no Hubber to pass second base.

Watkins beat out a bunt for a base hit in the sixth, went to second when Smitty Williams threw the ball wide to first, scored on Gene Schlereth's one-base wallop to right. Gene took second on the futile play for Watkins at the plate, scored on Elvin Mahan's Texas League single to center.

Mahan had one of his better nights at shortstop, turning in some fine plays, particularly one in the ninth on Rudes' blue darter over second, to help retire the side in order and end the game in short order.

TO HOIST FLAG TONIGHT

The once-postponed flag raising ceremonies at the Hubber field have been re-scheduled for tonight, starting at 8:15 o'clock. Head Coach Pete Cawthon of Texas Tech will make the speech presenting the 1939 West Texas-New Mexico league pennant to the championship Hubbers. Accepting for Lubbock will be Boyd Watkins, center fielder; Mel Kramer and Walter Gorski, pitcher, who were members of the pennant winning club last year. The Clovis Pioneers will be on hand to open a two-game series, starting about 8:30 o'clock or as soon as possible after the flag raising ceremonies. John Jacob Hyma has been nominated by Manager Charlie Engle to pitch for the Hubbers tonight.

Tech Faculty Annexes First Twilight Test

Scoring almost at will, Texas Tech's Faculty ten Monday afternoon forged into the American division finals of the Business-Professional twilight softball playoff with a 17 to 4 decision over the Baptists.

The collegians finished the regular campaign ahead of the pack, the Baptists edging into the senior loop Shaughnessy in third place.

This afternoon, contests are scheduled in both loops. In the American division, the Tech's opponent for Thursday afternoon's final contest will be decided when the Federals meet the Lawyers, originally scheduled to play the Doctors for the fourth slot. The Doctors conceded the game, however, thus moving the Lawyers into the Shaughnessy.

National division play finds the Jaycees tangling with the Lions and Public School Faculty meeting Asbury. The two winners come back Thursday to do battle for the National loop title, the champion to play a two out of three series with the American league titlist next week in the all-city playoff.

Bill Pierce handled the chunking chores for the Techs, Berl Huffman catching. For the losers the hurlers were L. H. Barley, Welles and Phillips, John Haygood handling backstopping duties. Pierce helped win his own ball game with a three-run homer, sending in T. L. Leach and Mule Dowell. Barley paced the losers with a triple.

GUNS OR GRIDIRON, THEY'RE READY—Professional footballers already are in training for their season which opens in mid-September. At the camp of the Philadelphia Eagles, players who may be drafted under the possible conscription law skipped practice long enough to gather around a cannon on the West Chester (Pa.) State Teachers College campus. Left to right are George Sommers, John Cole, Don Looney, Toney Rapaswich, William Schneller, Foster Watkins and Dave DiFilippo.

Open Tennis Pairings Made

Rushing, Moore Top Favorites

Paced by a quartet of shotmakers to whom tournament experience and championships are more or less commonplace, the annual City Open tennis melee roars into actual competition this afternoon on Texas Tech's smooth concrete courts.

With a field of 16 in the novice division, eight combinations in the doubles chase and 13 contenders in the regular singles race, the tournament bids to be one of the best conducted here.

Moore Makes Bid

Seeded players, all veterans of Lubbock and West Texas courts, are W. B. Rushing, who is back defending his singles crown, Sidney Moore, Red Raider No. 1 star performer, H. L. Burgess, who was on the winning doubles duo last year, and Newt Walton, always a threat.

The novice division, a new innovation for Lubbock net circles, is open to all players who have not lettered on University teams or won a tournament.

Public Invited

Play gets under way each afternoon at 5 o'clock. The public is invited to see the contests, the courts being located just north of the old boys' dorm.

Pairings for the men's singles follow: W. B. Rushing vs. Bill Wise; Ed Moore vs. Bye; Bye vs. David Storey vs. Byes McKinnon vs. Hubert Burgess; Newt Walton vs. Bruce Collier; Harold Beckmeyer vs. Bye; Henry Roberts vs. H. C. Burrus; Jack Lovelace vs. Sidney Moore.

Rushing, Storey Paired

For the doubles, the following are first round opponents: Rushing and Storey vs. Cook and Keene; Bill Wise and H. C. Burrus vs. Moore and Moore; Beckmeyer and Lovelace vs. Kornfeld and Lindley; H. Roberts and E. Rawlings vs. Walton and Burgess.

The novice division includes the following first round pairings: John DeGarmo vs. Melvin Robertson; Richard Keene vs. George Dale; Mule Dowell vs. A. E. Cook; Eldon Rawlings vs. Bill Kornfeld; Hugh Dunlap vs. LaVerne Curlee; Warlick Carr vs. Bill Clark; Donald Cook vs. M. F. Cowan; and Rudolph Rice vs. Ed Moore.

A few matches were played Monday afternoon.

Reservations Must Be Made Today At Club

This afternoon at 5 o'clock is deadline for reservations for those planning to participate in Lubbock Country club "ladies day" activities Wednesday a spokesman announced last night.

Play will be over the front nine. Hostess for the day will be Mrs. Cliff Widener. Luncheon will be served at the club at 12:30 o'clock.

Pairings will be made when the group gathers at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

In the men's round robin, which originally was scheduled to end Sunday, several matches are to be made up, all participants having been granted until next Sunday night to turn in their late scores, Charles Akey, club pro, said.

Maybe They Want A Magician—

Indians Plan To Scalp Vitt Even If They Do Cop Flag

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Mr. Fogg and Mr. Bright discuss current events:

Mr. Fogg—It says here that Oscar Vitt is on his way out at Cleveland whether his Indians win, lose or draw. What does it mean by that?

Mr. Bright—Just what it says. He'll get fired even if his team wins the pennant.

Mr. Fogg—Why?

Mr. Bright—Why? Because they don't think he's doing a good job.

Mr. Fogg—If winning the pennant isn't a good job, what is a good job?

Mr. Bright—That isn't the question. The players say they can't play with him around; he gives them the jitters. There must be harmony on a ball club.

Don't Need Friction

Mr. Fogg—If they win without harmony, what's the difference?

Mr. Bright—You don't understand. For instance, if you had an automobile and won a 1000-mile race despite the fact there was too much friction in the engine, you'd eliminate the friction before you started another race, wouldn't you?

Mr. Fogg—I haven't got an automobile.

Mr. Bright—I said if you had an automobile. Here, we'll take another example. Suppose you owned a store and were putting on a big sale, but the clerks and manager annoyed the customers by bickering back and forth, what would you do?

Results Do Count

Mr. Fogg—Did they clean the shelves during the sale?

Mr. Bright—What difference does that make? We'll say they did, anyway.

Mr. Fogg—Why, I'd give the manager a raise and get some more clerks who didn't like him.

Mr. Bright—You're always thinking of results. That has nothing to do with it at all.

Mr. Fogg—I thought the idea was to win.

Mr. Bright—Of course it is, but you want to win with dignity.

Mr. Fogg—Does that count any more in the standings?

Want Public's Respect

Mr. Bright — Certainly not, but you want the respect of the public. If you owned a team which was a laughing-stock because the players openly criticized the manager, what would you do?

Mr. Fogg—Did my team win?

Mr. Bright—There you go again. All right, your team won.

Mr. Fogg—I'd laugh too.

Mr. Bright—You still don't get the finer point involved. Suppose you were walking down the street trying to be very dignified and everybody was laughing at you because your shirt tail was out.

Mr. Fogg—How much money do I have in my pocket?

Doesn't Make Sense

Mr. Bright — What difference would that make? All right, you have a thousand dollars.

Mr. Fogg—I'd laugh too.

Mr. Bright—You're hopeless. Now here's the picture. Oscar Vitt's players don't show proper respect for him, and the club owner doesn't think he should keep him after this year under the circumstances. Isn't that clear enough?

Mr. Fogg — Even if he wins the pennant?

Mr. Bright—Certainly.

Mr. Fogg — Sure, that'se clear enough. Just one little thing. It doesn't make sense.

Holton Wins One-Day Broadview Tourney Over Hale On 28th

Stroking with the same finesse that has carried him to the forefront of numerous tournaments the past several seasons, Alfred Holton edged out Bob Hale, another Lubbock links veteran of the first order, on the extra 28th at Broadview Sunday to carry away top honors in the one-day medal play event.

Leaving a field of 49 behind, Holton and Hale pulled up at the end of the scheduled 27 holes deadlocked with 106's. The extra hole decided the match.

Gets Good Start

Holton had finished the morning qualifying round with a 37, two over regulation figures for the layout, Hale and J. K. Bradshaw copping medalist honors with 35's. Buford Eagan also carved out a 37, the foursome leading off the championship bracket.

As the afternoon's final 18 holes got under way, Holton swept into a lead on the second and held it all the way through the 9 hole route, registering a 32. But on the final round, Hale's game came back as Holton momentarily faltered. Hale, who finished the second 9 with a 37, shooting a 34 while Holton jumped to a 37 for the deadlock. Then came the playoff.

Bradshaw and Manson Allen shared third place prizes in the championship flight with 27 hole scores of 107. Chick Trout, sr., was fourth with a 109.

In the first flight chase, Jack Trammel bested his nearest challenger by three strokes, hanging up a 117 for the 27 holes distance, C. A. Rogers rounding in one stroke ahead of three others for runner-up honors. Tying for third place with 121's were A. G. Barnard, jr., Billy Martin and Nathan White.

Carrying out the Lubbock theme—all winners, both champions and runners-up, were flying local colors incidentally although the rest of the South Plains was well represented with the exception of Slaton—Lee Michie came through in the second flight with a 27 hole total of 123. Four strokes back was L. C. Doyle, taking runner-up prize.

Third place in this flight went to Sam Parkinson with 128 for the day.

Gregory will report to the Padres as soon as possible, probably joining the club at Tulsa.

King Carl Cops 9-2 Game Over Leading Reds

(By The Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, Aug. 19.—The New York Giants bounced back from a double beating by the lowly Phillies Sunday to smash the league leading Reds today 9 to 2 behind the steady seven hit pitching of King Carl Hubbell. The Giants touched four Cincinnati hurlers for 14 blows.

Zale And Soose May Clear Middleweight Situation Wednesday

BY EARL HILLIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Tony Zale and Billy Soose, two star pupils in boxing's 160 pound class, are going to work at Mills Stadium Wednesday night—on each other and the muddled middleweight championship picture.

Zale, recognized by the National boxing association as the middleweight champion, won't be risking his title in this scheduled 10 round affair because it's an overweight match. But the ex-steel mill worker from Gary, Ind., will be risking loss of much prestige both to Soose and Ken Overlin recognized as the 160 pound king by the state of New York.

Zale Slight Favorite

Soose recently beat Overlin in an overweight match at Scranton, Pa., making a great finish to take the decision. On Wednesday night he has the chance to whip a second straight 160 pound titleholder and claim recognition as the No. 1 middleweight in the land even though he'd hold no crown.

Zale, who won his title by knocking out Al Hostak in Seattle last month, likely will be a slight favorite to win and strengthen his claim to ranking as the standout of his division. A terrific body puncher, he has a world of stamina built in two years work in the Gary steel mills.

Reds Convinced They Can't Be Headed Now

CINCINNATI, Aug. 19. (AP)—For the first time this year there was no one at the big union depot today to welcome the Cincinnati Reds back from the outlands but if you think the National league champions are in the dumps, buy another ticket.

It may be whistling in the graveyard moonlight, but there's nobody around the Reds' front office or on the field who gives a good blankety-blank hoy many games the second place Brooklyn Dodgers win, or who doubts that the National league champions will repeat.

Must Keep Fast Pace

"The Reds have been over the bumps" said one of the faithful among the officials, "but they're looking better. Up to a week ago we had lost 12 out of 21, but we won three of the last seven games.

"Besides, we've been playing .700 ball at home all season and don't think that home coming for the next 20 games isn't going to help that hitting slump. The outfield already is hitting better, and if we can play .700 for this home stand, we're in and no foolin'."

Peppers Defeat Richmen, 4-2, For TAAF Title

Two-hit pitching by Paul Reynolds and a blazing seventh-inning rally brought Lubbock's Dr. Peppers a 4 to 2 victory over Fred Rich's Richmen at Fox Park last night.

With the victory goes the District TAAF baseball crown and the right to represent the South Plains in the state playoff, beginning with a three-game series with the Dallas champions at Dallas Saturday and Sunday.

Earns Shutout

Reynolds, who pitched a shutout in the opening game of the tournament, earned a shutout last night but erratic fielding behind him gave the Richmen two runs and almost gave them the ball game.

Going into the seventh and [illegible] inning, the score was tied at [illegible]. First man up for the Peppers, Lefty Bettes, blazed a single through the middle and advanced on Hilliard's sacrifice. After Cy Lingle popped out, Charley Presley singled Bettes to third. Ted Rodgers walked, filling the bases.

Error Proves Costly

Then Whizzer White hit a grounder down to Bill Nordyke at second. Nordyke kicked it, Bettes scored and the bases were still crowded. Then Jack Thompson hit the ball to the fence to unload them, but Rodgers failed to touch third on the way around and only one of the runs counted.

But that was enough. An outfield error put a man on third for the Richmen, but he was thrown out trying to score on a passed ball.

Peppers Score First

The Peppers scored first in the second inning, Whizzer White walking, stealing second and scoring on Mutt Rodgers single. They added another in the next when Bettes scored on a single, two wild pitches and an error.

The Richmen advanced to the final game by slapping Lubbock Sandies 9 to 4 in the first game of the night. Earl Ince, jr., pitched both games for the Richmen, winning the first on five hits but giving up nine hits to the Peppers.

The Richmen scored four runs in the first inning of the Sandie game and were never stopped. Willis James, Sandy skipper, hit the only homer of the night, a smash over the left field wall in the third inning. He also hit a double.

Carver, Nordyke Lead

Lefty Carver and Bill Nordyke led the hitting for the winners, each with a double and single.

Following players were certified as members of the team to participate in the state playoff: Ernest Minyard, Paul Reynolds and Frank Smith, pitchers; Cy Lingle, Scott Prather and Willis James, catchers; R. M. Thomas, Lefty Bettes, Win Breedlove, Blackie Hilliard, J. B. White and Gene Sullivan, infielders; Jack Thompson, Charley Presley, Ted Rodgers and Mutt Rodgers, outfielders.

"Friendly Continental Solidarity" Is Advocated By Ambassador To Mexico

Daniels Talks To Legionnaires

LAREDO, Aug. 19. (AP)—"Friendly continental solidarity" was advocated by Josephus Daniels, ambassador to Mexico, today as the American hemisphere's protection from "outside permeation."

He urged state American legion members in convention here to turn "eyes south" in this "critical hour in world history."

"Too long have we in the United States looked too exclusively to countries across the Atlantic," the World war navy secretary said.

"Likewise if I might eventure a command to our sister republics south of the Rio Grande I would say, eyes north. Some of them, like our republic, have looked too exclusively to European countries.

Should Take Lead

"The manifest destiny, welfare, protection and safety of this hemisphere from outside permeation lies in friendly continental solidarity."

Daniels praised the legion which he said for 20 years was the only voice raised to demand national defense.

"It is no fault of the American legion that in the present crisis provision is lacking to make available every man and dollar in the event America is threatened with invasion," he said.

Legionnaries were counselled by State Highway Commissioner Robert Lee Bobbitt to take the lead in the nation's preparations for defense.

Girl Learns To Fly In Just Eight Hours

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19 (U.P.)—From 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. weekdays—eight hours a day—Angel Stevens, 24, works in an office as a stenographer. In 26 minutes more than a working day, Miss Stevens yesterday learned how to take a plane off, fly it and land it, solo.

She had never had a lesson when Instructor Buck Gordon took her up at 5:16 a. m. in a dual-controlled, 50-horsepower monoplane. Gordon showed her everything he knew, in short doses. She rested between lessons just long enough to replace the powder the wind had blown from her nose.

After six hours in the air, she was "beginning to get tired." She soon became "air sick," but at sundown Gordon let her take the plane up by herself. After flying about a few minutes, she made a perfect landing. Learning time elapsed: 8 hours, 26 minutes.

Large Crowd Watches Humphries Brothers Pace Boat Contests

Plenty of experience plus a boat that can "put out" seems to be the recipe for a winner on the water.

That is, that formula works to advantage when the case of Harold and Horace Humphries comes up for consideration. The two brothers and ardent boating enthusiasts today are proud owners of a major portion of the prizes offered at Buffalo Lakes when the Lubbock Boat club sponsored a big Water Carnival, replete with 10 special events.

With approximately 2,000 persons witnessing contests seldom seen in such proportion in this section, the Humphries boys stole the show. Harold who is commodore of the club, capturing three firsts and two third place prizes while Horace came over the finish line in front of the field twice, over once in third place.

Big Field Entered

All winners topping the field of 50 participants were from Lubbock with the exception of George Taylor of Plainview who took second in the second heat of the aquaplane races.

Results of each event with winners named in order of finish follow:

Fishing boat race—George Etz, jr., Allen Webb and Bobby Jean Rhodes; 9 HP race—Horace Humphries, V. E. Tudor and Harold Humphries; 16 HP race—Doyle McLeod, Ikey Rhodes and Harold Humphries; 22 HP race, first heat—Horace Humphries, C. T. Williams and Bill Bayless; 22 HP race, second heat—G. V. Fulton, I. Weathered and Bob Gee; 33 HP race—Pete Love, Dow Smallin and George Taylor.

Free for all—Harold Humphries, Doyle McLeod and Bill Bayless; aquaplane race, first heat—Harold Humphries, Jerry Fulton and Bob Gee; aquaplane race, second heat—Bill Moncrief, George Taylor and Horace Humphries; water ski race—Harold Humphries and George Taylor.

Judges for the day were K. N. Clapp, Earl Hunt, Mule Dowell and Mickey Henly. Starters were Ed Miller and Mike Crenshaw. Bob Walker handled the announcing duties and M. F. Dagley was the man behind the air acrobatics.

There were no casualties. Loving cups were presented first place winners, medals awarded to second and third place.

Snead Wins Canadian Open From McSpaden

TORONTO, Aug. 19. (AP)—Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Winchester, Mass., missed a two-foot putt on the 18th green today and let the Canadian Open golf tournament return to Sam Snead of Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., who held it in 1938.

The missed putt gave Snead the 18-hole playoff by a one-stroke margin as 1,500 spectators saw the two Americans decide their 72-hole deadlock. Each finished the regulation four rounds with a 281 total Saturday when McSpaden rallied on the last 36 holes to overtake Snead, who had hacked nine strokes of par on the first two rounds.

Drama On Payoff

Today Snead had a par 71 after a rather shaky start. He was out in 37, one under par, and came back in 34. McSpaden shot 38-34—72. Snead took $1,000 first prize and McSpaden $600 for second.

All the drama of the playoff round was packed into the few minutes spent on the last green. Snead's second shot was only five feet away while McSpaden had a 40 footer to match the West Virginian's likely birdie. Jug's long putt stopped two feet from the cup. Then Snead stepped up, hit his ball and missed. It looked like another nine holes of playoff until McSpaden's ball also failed to drop.

SINGER DIES

Oil Production Figures Quoted

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP)—Since oil was first discovered in Texas in Seepage down in Nacodoches county back in the 1880's, the state has produced more than 6,058,786,433 barrels.

The figure, representing total production up to Jan. 1, 1940, is contained in a comprehensive report on activities of the railroad commission's oil and gas division made public today.

At the start of the year, Texas had 5,867 operators. Each will receive a copy of the report. The state also had 36,942 flowing wells and 52,972 pumping. Production last year totaled 476,550,095 barrels.

Crude oil yield of the state was less than the U. S. bureau of mines demand estimate, ranging from 12,500 barrels under daily in April to 600,900 in August when a 15-day statewide shutdown closed valves in all but wells which would have been physically injured.

In 1939, 48,391 wells produced 1,298,307,000,000 cubic feet of sweet, sour and casinghead gas.

Production Levelled

While crude production levelled off considerably, the number of wells continued to grow but at a lesser rate than in previous years. Total wells increased from 85,387 to 89,914 and currently number more than 93,000.

Estimated Texas oil reserves Jan. 1, 1937, were 6,422,000,000 barrels and leaped to 10,794,055,000 by 1940, despite heavy withdrawals. Sixty-nine new fields were discovered last year.

While in three years Texas oil reserves increased from 49.1 to 54.8 per cent of the nation's total, production in the state declined from 39.9 to 38.3 per cent.

Big Investment

"It is apparent," the report stated, "that Texas' most pressing problem for some years will lie in the discovery of markets rather than oil fields."

The state's 123 refineries processed approximately one-third of the crude refined in the United States last year, and have a maximum capacity of 1,450,000 barrels daily and ran a total of 402,026,464 barrels of oil to stills, recovering 185,616,000 barrels of gasoline.

Thirty-five common carrier pipeline systems with a total length of 31,000 miles moved about 475,000,000 barrels of oil. The pipelines represent an investment of approximately $358,000,000.

There Won't Be Any Debates

ALTHOUGH President Roosevelt is one of the most unpredictable of men, there seems not even the most remote possiblity that he might accept the challenge of Republican President Nominee Wendell Willkie to join in a series of public debates on major issues of the campaign. Nor is there good reason why the challenge should be accepted.

It isn't to be supposed by even the most partisan Willkie supporter that the President would greatly fear such a meeting. On the contrary, there is reason to believe that Mr. Willkie would display more courage than wisdom if he participated in the proposed debates. No matter how brilliant he may be, he doesn't have the platform experience to match the brilliance and the experience of Mr. Roosevelt.

One objection to the proposed debates is that they would require more time than Mr. Roosevelt should take from his duties in these times.

Another, from the President's viewpoint, is that they would not be the smart thing for him politically. He could gain very little; he might lose much. He would be going forth to meet his antagonist on an open field. As it is, he is the strongly entrenched "in" behind the ramparts that Mr. Willkie must storm.

A third objection is that debates would contribute little to the clarification of issues. They will be discussed from every conceivable angle. As a matter of fact, sight of the real issues might be lost in the heat and the fire of the circus-like atmosphere which inescapably would surround the appearance of the two major candidates on the same platform as parts of the same program.

The debates, of course, would be a lot of fun for the voters. They would add a lot of color to the campaign. But they won't happen.

Our Ties With Canada

MASS of the people of this country have given positive proof on many occasions that they refuse to obligate themselves too strongly so far as Europe is concerned. Most of them would place sharp limitations on our responsibility for the more distant South American nations.

But they are in agreement as nearly unanimous as could be possible that ties between the United States and Canada cannot be knit too closely in their mutual endeavor to protect their common interests in their parts of the world.

Therefore it is safe to say that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada can be sure of united support back home if, in their conversations and negotiations, they limit their endeavors to the solidifying of mutual strength for protection. However, if there should be any grounds for suspicion that attempt might be made to use Canada as a cat's-paw to drag us into active participation in Europe's war, then the negotiations are likely to do worse than come to nothing. They are likely to create an irritant in the relationship between the two nations, working against harmony of action if they ever should be called upon to defend the North American continent against invasion.

Reasons for the closest possible U. S. Candian ties are obvious. They are the same kind of people faced by the same perils and problems. It is the most natural alliance of which history offers record. In fact, there may be danger in the very closeness of our ties. They are harp strings on which those of pro-British leanings are beginning to play with increasing vigor in their effort to persuade us that our friendship and kinship requires us to join Canadians in their overseas war. Actually, it is a new coating for an old pill. We refuse to go to Europe for the British Isles and France. Maybe we can be deceived into believing that if we should go to Europe now, it would be for Canada.

We would and should resent and resist any attempted invasion of the Dominions with all the power at our command. Any agreement looking to that end may be assured of instant and whole-hearted approval. But beyond that the people of the United States, as demonstrated in repeated tests, are not willing to go. They aren't willing to cross the ocean to hunt for trouble—not even for Canada.

Big problem confronting the school board is how much more time they should give Adolf before ordering the new geography books for the fall term.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

THE MOST VERSATILE BLIND MAN

John Metcalf of Knaresborough (1717-1810) was a famous horseman and hunter, jockey and guide, soldier and bowler, surveyor, road and bridge maker, although he was blind from the age of 6, as a result of smallpox. He was a successful hunter, and won many races as a jockey. He was a famous bowler, took part as a soldier in the war against Bonnie Prince Charlie, was a very astute horsetrader, and one of the greatest road and bridge builders of the 18th century. His roads and bridges still endure. Most of them he surveyed in person and laid out with his own hands. No climb, however rugged, and no trip, however arduous, ever deterred him, and blindness seemed to be the smallest deterrent in his life.

Casual Slaughters

By VIRGINIA HANSON

YESTERDAY: Kay, Julia and Gerald go back for another swim. While they are in the water they see someone on the barge. Later Ivan is found there, dead.

Chapter 17

Early Wedding

It is easy to look back now and see that Sandra and Ivan between them practically signed his death warrant that night. It is less easy to see why Sandra was not warned by Ivan's death. Which brings up Sandra and her stupidity, that was not so much stupidity as a mixture of credulity and conceit. I believe her successes had convinced her that she was infallible. On top of that she was without discrimination, as her weakness for Ivan shows; and she believed in miracles.

This last is the most important single fact to remember—the essential clue not only to her character but to the terrifying events which followed the death of Ivan.

Sandra's belief in miracles.

She came to my rooms the next morning before I was awake. Julia had not stayed with me after all. Ivan had not needed her room. . . .

I put on a housecoat and opened the door to Sandra, trying not to show my surprise; trying, too, to keep my head from floating loose from my shoulders; it seemed insecurely moored.

A surreptitious glance at my watch told me it was not as early as I thought. I had overslept breakfast. I searched for and found cigarets, which she refused, lit one myself that did not taste too good, and tried to get her to sit down. But she would only stand leaning back against the door, looking at me and twisting her hands in a gesture borrowed from the stage but expressive for once, I thought, of genuine emotion.

Her eyes, swollen with weeping, recalled to me that incredible moment on the barge when I had seen her clinging to Ivan. Could she have loved that mountebank? Apparently she had. Then why, in the name of all the saints, had she promised to marry Jeff?

Perhaps if I had been more fully awake, or if my head had not felt so light and explosive, I might have pressed her for some of the answers; might have caught her off guard, staggered by this calamity which must, for a time at least, have shaken her belief in her patron saint or her rabbit's foot or whatever she did believe in. Perhaps I missed my chance to avert more tragedy. But I do not seriously think so. She would never have confided in me. She was too stupid to be frightened of what she was planning to do; and she must have thought, after Ivan's death, that fate owed her a break.

She said, suddenly, "I had to get out of that house. They—they made fun of him. They're glad. They thought he wasn't good enough—"

Her voice was getting shrill. She choked, said more quietly, "I want to talk to Jeff without their knowing. She's in love with him, you know. But it's me he wants to marry."

There was enough satisfied malice in that to alienate the sympathy I was beginning to feel for her.

Shock Of Dismay

"But if you're not in love with Jeff yourself," I began rather brusquely. She opened her small dark eyes and stared at me as if I were mad.

"Not in love with Jeff?" she repeated incredulously. "Why, how can you say such a thing? It's just because I'm so fond of him—that's why I've decided — why I slipped away this morning. Look—do you mind if I talk to him here? You can send an orderly for him."

"But he'll be at duty—oh, this is Sunday, isn't it? My head's not on tight."

I looked her over, saw that she was once more miraculously composed, and suggested that she find the orderly herself.

"I'll dress and get out as soon as possible," I promised her. "I'm going to the P.Ex. for breakfast."

"Don't leave on my account. There's nothing private about what I have to say to Jeff—I just don't want to be interfered with. I want to handle my own affairs."

I assured her that it was my stomach and not her interview that was sending me forth, and retired into my bedroom to dress. I heard her waylay an orderly in the hall, and before I was quite dressed I heard Jeff's voice in the next room.

Having no wish to eavesdrop, I was nevertheless an unwilling audience to Sandra's demand that they be married at once.

I felt a shock of dismay. Unlike Sandra, I do not believe in miracles, but I do like happy endings. Julia was so desperately in love with Jeff that I would not admit fate could let her lose him. The scene on the barge last night had fed my secret hope that something would happen. If only Julia had been less gentlemanly; if only Jeff had seen what we saw—

His voice was a brief, indistinct rumble—dissenting, I thought, for her strengthening in passionate entreaty.

"But you can apply for earlier leave — and what does it matter, anyway? I can move over here—we can be together—"

Her voice dropped to a caressing murmur. I decided that I had heard enough.

I cleared my throat loudly at the connecting door, opened it and marched past them as casually as possible. They were seated close together on the studio couch, and they paid no attention to me whatever, so that I was able to gratify my curiosity about Jeff. I can't say he seemed actually thawed, but my brief glance found evidences of a slight softening around the edges of his icy reserve. His face was perceptibly flushed and he was staring at Sandra like a hypnotized but frightened bird.

I went out into the corridor and closed the door after me, conscious of resentment and a vague, unpleasant feeling that I had been forced into betraying Julia.

Gerald Beaufort was alone at a table in the Post Exchange restaurant. I joined him with real pleasure.

"You've no idea what a relief it is," I confided to him, after the waiter had brought my order," to be with someone else who is an outsider. Not in the army."

He raised his glass of tomato juice in mocking salute and drained it, looking at me across the rim with gray eyes that were like himself as I was beginning to know him. At first you saw only the outrageous lashes and musical-comedy manner. But under the lashes the eyes were friendly and intelligent; and under the manner, so was Gerald.

Jealous Rage?

"You mean they take themselves a bit seriously," he observed shrewdly, setting down the empty glass.

I nodded, feeling guilty, as if we were guests discussing an absent hostess, which was not a good analogy, for we were both paying for our board and lodging. Nevertheless, I felt disloyal.

"I couldn't help noticing," he went on soberly, "that it wasn't so much the fact that poor devil being killed that occasioned the indignation last night, as the fact that it happened on the reservation."

"You can't blame them for that. Murder makes ugly headlines." And, changing the subject not altogether happily, "I left Sandra and Jeff in my rooms planning an early wedding."

His eyes flew to my face and his butter knife hesitated over the toast.

"Too bad." He sounded as if he meant it.

"Why?"

"Julia is a much nicer person."

I studied him for a moment while he went on prosaically consuming bits of toast.

"No disagreement about that," I said at last carefully. "But she's known Jeff all her life. I don't suppose he seems very romantic to her."

"Oh, doesn't he?"

There was literally no expression to the words—an effect which I know from experience is almost impossible to achieve. It rang a little bell somewhere in my brain—like the one on my typewriter that I pay no attention to. I didn't pay much attention to this, either, in the sense of getting scared and thinking, this man could be a murderer; I was pretty sold on him. But the thought did just cross my mind that he might have depths.

"That's not the only reason it's too bad," he observed presently. And the gray eyes were so open and candid that I forgot about the depths.

"What else?"

"Murder investigation," he reminded me. "Wife can't testify against her husband. I've studied a bit of law," he added modestly, and then quite obviously said no more.

"But—but you surely don't think Je——" I began and, with sudden horror, remembered Sandra in Ivan's arms and Jeff coming up the ladder. Could he have seen? Could he have killed Ivan in a jealous rage?

Gerald did not appear to notice my discomposure.

"I know less about it than the newest recruit," he assured me. "Here's your check. If you girls will vote you must take the bitter with the sweet and learn not to depend on masculine chivalry. If I had invited you to breakfast I should simply have to stand for your eating up fifteen cents, but since this is virtually a pickup, I must insist that you pay your way."

The cashier's goggling stare pursued us to the street.

"But I still think it's too bad," Gerald said with no change of tone.

The News Behind The News

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.
(Subbing for Ray Tucker)

INTERIOR SECRETARY ICKES, who originated the "draft Roosevelt for a third term" drive, and Harry Hopkins, who directed it from a hotel room at Chicago, have been quietly relegated to background of the Presidential campaign.

The new Democratic National chairman, Ed Flynn, was not over-impressed with Hopkins' handling of the situation at Chicago. Flynn told FDR, when he agreed to direct the President's campaign, that he had two absolute conditions: That he would not deal through intermediaries, and that none of the "inner circle" group would crowd in on his management of the campaign, or interfere in any way.

Moreover, he demand definite assurances that all campaign speeches would clear through the Democratic National committee and that Ickes, et al, would not be making unauthorized blasts.

Incidentally, Flynn accepted the Democratic chairmanship, only "for the duration of the campaign." Win or lose, he has told the President he will quit after the November elections.

CURIOUS: Labor radicals can hardly believe their eyes and ears on the House-approved bill to deport their West Coast maritime leader, Harry Bridges. They're finding anew that tags of "liberal" and "conservative" don't always make liberals and conservatives.

In the House, many of the most loudly advertised liberals voted in favor of the Bridges deportation, and some of them went so far as to make public statements in favor of the bill. The most active Senate opponent of the bill has been Senator Ed Burke of Nebraska, bombarded for years with charges of "conservative" and even "reactionary," particularly by labor radicals themselves. Burke was one of the earliest crusaders against the National Labor Relations board, and introduced the first Senate proposal for an investigation of it.

He isn't even a member of the Immigration committee which has the Bridges bill under consideration, but nevertheless has gone out of his way to make an extensive study of the case, and with Senator Lewis Schwellenbach of Washington, is directing the fight against it.

REPORT: Burke says he holds no brief for Bridges, and inclines to agree that the country might be better off if he were sent back to Australia, but he contends that legislation to deport one specific individual is setting a dangerous precedent.

Backers of the bill array court decisions, which they claim establish the right of Congress to do so, to which Burke merely shrugs his shoulders. He replies that he cares nothing about that. Deportation, he says, is punishment, and punishment should not be inflicted on specific individuals by Act of Congress, particularly without trial or hearings.

The bill, now in the hands of a subcommittee, will get an unfavorable report to the full committee. Senators Austin and Schwellenbach are opposed; Senator King of Utah will vote aye. Sponsors are now huddling, to concoct a substitute which will meet Burke's objections, and still get Bridges out of the country.

ITCHING: When Vice President Garner packed off to Uvalde, Texas, at the close of the Chicago convention, Senate cloakroom information was that he had left for good, but recent letters to closest friends in Congress contain unmistakable clues that the ruddy Vee-Pee is getting restless for his Senate rostrum chair.

The letters contain such lines as "I have had a grand rest"—in the past tense—and "How are things getting along, at the good old capitol" and "When I see you I'll tell you more." To one friend he mentioned specifically that he is thinking of coming back to Washington late in September, to remain through the rest of his vice-presidential term, which ends January. A few old timers are betting that the fever will gain momentum. They think he may show up as early as Labor Day.

On one point, all of his letters are clear: Garner will not give any active support to the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket in the campaign, will not stump for it, and will not make any radio appearances for it. However, feelers from the Willkie camp concerning a possible "walk" have met an icy shoulder.

NEW YORK

By Richard Waldo

AMERICAN broadcasting chains have been following each mile of the German expansion march in the hourly expectancy that war would hit wireless communications. Like gas warfare the jamming of wave frequencies of the enemy has failed to develop, for reasons just now getting an answer.

It is understood by our air technicians that both England and Germany have the mechanical setup for the blackout of the other's military, commercial and diplomatic wave lengths. Each general staff values its own communication safety so highly, it won't dare the retaliation that would formerly have worked both ways. Up to the fall of France, in fact, the British, with cable, plane and ship communication open, could have hurt the Nazi machine far more than counter jamming would have hurt England.

Radio authorities now have reason to believe the Nazis will combine the long delayed war of static with the blitzkrieg during the climaxing days of the battle. By this report, Germany's air arm would fly the channel under blanket orders requiring no communication with Berlin. Similarly all internal communication within the Reich would be shifted in advance to wire and manual routes, and British efforts at jamming would be discounted ahead of time. The objective is to isolate England's ships at sea, also the aircraft carriers and all military outposts of the Empire which rely largely on wireless.

SQUEEZED: The Congressional proposal to give conscripts a moratorium on rent bills and private debts may lose most of its value by the time it becomes law. The credit departments of New York banks are already going over the lists of borrowers and under lining names in the age bracket 21-to-30. Unmatured loans can't be called in willy-nilly, but the boys who were in line for renewals or extensions will find a frigid lack of understanding at the little caged windows.

The Washington tipoff incidentally has already had results in the small loan, 33 per cent field. One of the heaviest classes of borrowers are youths on their first jobs within the Army's age bracket. It will be denied of course, but most of their outstanding loans now go on a priority list for special attention of collection agents. Since most applications request the maximum repayment time limit of 18 monthly installments, the boys will get offers to discount for cash if they pay up before moving out of town.

EXPOSED: Industrialists familiar with the area describe Italian Piedmont and Lombardy as a setup for aerial bombing. Just as the British delayed anti-aircraft defenses on the assumption the war would be on the Continent, Italy counted on a late entry that would permit the war being carried abroad.

This military planning in fact was executed to the letter in the timing of the war on France. Britain's air squadrons of the Mediterranean are not considered a match—numerically—for Italian aviation, so the defenses of the northern factories were allowed to remain strategic rather than tactical—that is, British planes must be kept away, rather than repulsed by counter-attack measures.

There is little likelihood that London can spare sufficient ships to make the long bombing from Dover to Turin a regular thing. To the extent that craft can be spared, the flights will net dividends because Italian defense relies almost entirely on aircraft. Ground defenses, bomb shelters, camouflage were all subordinated to the late General Balbo's enthusiasm for fighting in the clouds.

MISLED: While most of the papers are speculating about the terrible effects of the British blockade on Continental Europe, the shortage of certain raw materials in England is assuming alarming proportions. Not a word about it is printed anywhere. All of Europe is depicted as starving to death next winter and our sympathy is properly aroused. But England is much less self-sufficient in foodstuffs than is France, for example, or Spain. And all experts agree that Britishers' chances of starving, comparatively speaking, are much greater than others'. Yet to speak of English wants is still heresy or fifth column talk.

Here And There In Texas

By L. C. SLOAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

A MAN had an idea. A newspaper furthered it. Everybody joined in. A community enterprise resulted.

Now sunburned necks and blistered hands are marks of civic pride at San Angelo where citizens are occupying their spare time at labor on a new community gymnasium.

The cost thus far has been negligible. Building concerns furnished without charge materials being processed by free labor battalions of athletes, skilled and unskilled workers and thick waisted business and professional men.

Furthermore, Sports Editor Blondy Cross who single-handedly promoted the project has gifts of more than $5,000 cash to be used for additional material as necessary.

Foundation work for a 120 by 120-foot structure is near completion and concrete buttresses to support the walls and roof are being raised rapidly.

Cross conceived the idea of a gymnasium which he calls "by the citizens and for the citizens" about a year ago. He started promotion of it in his column "Top O'Morn" in the San Angelo Standard-Times.

Response Is Enthusiastic

West Texas sportsmen responded enthusiastically. Cash contributions rolled in with the donors, unless they preferred to remain unknown, listed on the "honor roll" in Cross' column. Lumber yards agreed to give some materials and sell all others at cost. Offers of free labor came from carpenters, electricians, plumbers and others.

Cross sketched the plans for his "dream gymnasium" and then obtained the assistance of an architectural engineer in calculation weights.

Incidentally, Cross says the gymnasium will have the widest roof span unimpeded by trusses or pillars of any in the Southwest. The walls will be of type of concrete manufactured at San Angelo.

FROM the city commission was wrangled a lot on which rose a high rock bluff overlooking the North Concho river near the center of town. The county commission agreed to level the bluff and use the rock for road repairs.

Cross proclaimed the call to work soon after school closed and Mayor W. A. Halamicek turned the first shovelful. Football coaches led their squads to labor and were joined by members of the baseball team. Labor unionists worked side by side with non-union men. The foundation was driven into almost solid rock by pick and shovel work.

The four Connor brothers provided a concrete mixer and their labor. The utilities company strung lights to enable many who held regular jobs to get in a few licks at night.

For instance, the day force of the police department formed bucket brigades one night and filled two buttresses with concrete. The Standard-Times force—mechanical men, reporters, editors and the janitor—turned to. Such organizations as the Knights of Pythias and the city recreation department did and are doing their stint.

It's For Everybody

"Our idea is to build a gymnasium which everybody can use at a minimum fee, or free, to the underprivileged," Cross said. "Instead of seeking government aid and floating a bond issue we went out and did a lot of work. This is something the citizens are building themselves and they can take a lot of pride in it."

Cross figures the building will provide floor space for all regular gymnasium activities including a basketball court, volley ball court, handball courts and facilities for training work of boxers and wrestlers.

"At this time we have plans for everything in the way of indoor athletics except a race track and swimming pool. But if the boys keep moving like they are on volunteer labor and money we may add the swimming pool along with a croquet court and bowling alley."

CROSS drew the plans so that the building can be made 20 feet deeper, adding 2,400 square feet of floor space, whenever money is available.

"The city and park board tell us we can keep on building a quarter of a mile on the North Concho river," he said.

"Over a span of time, this thing is likely to run on down to the river, which means we can add boy and girl scout headquarters, more locker rooms and almost anything else except an indoor football field. Anytime we get more labor and money we'll just move it back."

Cross estimates the gymnasium will be ready for use at the opening of the basketball season.

He has been raising money by sponsoring boxing matches and softball games in the name of the gymnasium which takes the profits and absorb the losses of these ventures.

Cross says he "cried on a lot of shoulders" to get the gymnasium underway.

He's still doing it.

The Peoples' Choices

There were more angles in the July Democratic primary election than the return of Governor O'Daniel to office.

In Rockport, County Treasurer David Rockport Scrivner, 82 years old, was started on his 43rd consecutive year in the office. Scrivner was the first white child born in Rockport and bears the town's name.

Sheriff J. A. Brundrett was elected to begin his 23rd straight year as chief police officer of the county.

In Longview, Dush Shaw was elected county clerk for the 22nd consecutive time. He won every box.

China Defense Move Is Made

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19. (U.P.)—Godfrey Phillips, secretary of Shanghai Municipal council, announced today that the Shanghai volunteer corps will take over the defense of section "B" of the British sector until a dispute over its control has been settled by the United States and Japan.

Section "B" embraces the central district of Shanghai including the Bund and the British area north of the Soochow creek.

(This area north of Soochow creek includes the Chinese district court over which the Japanese have been trying to obtain control for a long time.)

Announcing the municipal council's decision, Phillips said, "It has been decided that the marines are to postpone carrying out of the compromise plan which the majority of the defense committee passed, pending the outcome of the negotiations between the American and Japanese governments. The authorities acquiesced in the proposal that the volunteers relieve the British in the 'B' sector."

The volunteer corps will be composed of a paid white Russian regiment.

Selection Of Alumni Secretary Delayed

The executive committee of the Alumni and Ex-Students association of Texas Technological college deferred selection of an administrative secretary until next Sunday, when applicants will be interviewed, it was announced Monday following a committee meeting which was held Sunday afternoon in the alumni office.

Four applications for the position have been filed. Any others wishing to appear before the committee Sunday first must mail formal applications to the association president, Raymond Lee Johns of Lamesa.

The committee approved the audit of last fiscal year, which ended June 15. A gain of $42 was shown by the audit. Adoption of a budget for this year was deferred.

Those present were Johns; Mrs. J. W. Jackson of Lubbock, executive secretary; Joe Webb of Slaton and Arch L. King of Lubbock, directors, and W. E. Street of Lubbock, alumni representative to the athletic council.

Next Sunday afternoon's meeting will be held at 2 o'clock in the alumni office.

Excavation For New Hall To Take 12 Days

Expected to require about 12 days, excavation began Monday at site of second women's dormitory to be constructed at Texas Technological college.

Construction of the dormitory is to be completed within 325 calendar days from Aug. 12, according to the contract.

Two basements are being excavated, one for trunk storage and one for mechanical installations, and a utilities tunnel is to be dug to join the tunnel in front of the present women's dormitory, said W. G. McMillan, who has the general contract.

The contractor said local men would be employed in construction of the dormitory. Approximately 60 will be employed.

Violinist Plays His Way Out Of Municipal Court

NEW YORK, Aug. 19. (U.P.)—Jean Dix, 20-year-old wandering minstrel from California, who plays the violin so well that even a judge gave him $1, was cleared of a disorderly conduct charge today and is in a good way to pay off the balance of his $1,500 Guarnarius.

Dix was arrested last night while playing to a crowd in Times Square. He told Magistrate William Ringel that he was trying to collect enough money to pay for his violin. The judge asked the youth to play "The Old Refrain" and was so moved by the rendition that he suspended sentence and then contributed to the cause.

Playing Since Five

Dix said he had been playing since he was five but that it was not until he got to a California reform school—he had taken an unauthorized trip in another's car—that his talent ripened. There, authorities gave him instruction and he won a scholarship at Whittier college at Los Angeles where he studied from 1935 to 1937. Then he started East.

He persuaded a music dealer in Cleveland to lend him a $25 violin and within three days he had paid for it with his collections. From then on he progressed to better instruments until a few months ago, when, after giving a dealer some $1,400 of his savings, he was entrusted with the Guaranaris. He hopes to pay off the remaining $100 on it within a short time.

The judge was so impressed by the youth's efforts that he told him to check the violin in the police station every night lest it be stolen.

Japan had its first women lawyers when three began practice recently.

SLOW SESSION

NEW YORK, Aug. 19. (AP)—War news—or lack of it—received the principal blame today for a virtually stalemated stock market and one of the slowest sessions on record.

The list jogged along unevenly from the start and finished with slight gains and losses about evenly divided at the close. Numerous issues held to Saturday's final quotations and a wide assortment never appeared on the ticker tape.

Transfers of 129,650 shares compared with 312,300 last Friday and were the smallest for any full day since 1916. In that year only 540 individual issues were listed on the stock exchange against 1,233 at the beginning of 1940. On this basis, some estimated the volume actually at a historical low.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .1 of a point at 41.2. Of 402 issues traded, 136 were down, 132 up and 134 without any variation.

While Wall street seemed to believe the chances of the British to repel the Nazis were growing better, even this slightly bullish factor seemed to have scant influence on speculative sentiment. Potential buyers, brokers suggested, inclined to step carefully pending more definite information regarding the shifting tides of conflict. Claims and counter-claims of belligerents still were viewed as a confusing element marketwise.

Among shares ending ahead fractions to a point or so were Westinghouse, du Pont, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Kennecott, Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Boeing Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone and North American.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 19. (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16-inch cotton today at 10 designated Southern spot markets was 2 points lower at 9.87 cents a pound.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 19. (AP)—Cotton futures advanced 1 to 5 points today in the face of sturdy opposition which developed on slight rises.

The market was susceptible to modest buying and selling orders but at the finish buying forces were the more active.

Hedging pressure appeared throughout the session, plus liquidation traceable to reports of beneficial rains in sections of the western cotton belt.

The trade furnished most support. Liverpool and Japanese accounts also propped prices, in addition to local professional demand.

Southern advices indicated spot buying was only fair although several large mills were said to be inquiring actively for this season's needs of new crop staple.

While Worth street reported light actual business, inquiries were numerous and prices held up well at unchanged levels.

Exports Saturday nil; season so far 35,-635. Port receipts 12,537. Port stocks 2,496,473.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 19 (AP) — Cotton futures fluctuated over a narrow range here today. Closing prices were steady unchanged to 5 points net higher.

British Flier Dies But Scores Victory

LONDON, Aug. 19. (UP)—A German Heinkel 111 bomber attacked a British training plane over southwest England today. The British plane had no armament and was at the mercy of the swift and heavily armed German.

A moment later, the score was 5 to 1 for Britain. The British pilot whipped his tiny plane around and crashed head on into the bomber.

The bomber crashed and its crew of five died. The British pilot also was killed.

Ickes Lashes Out At Republican Nominee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP)—Secretary Ickes, sarcastically calling Wendell Willkie a "simple, barefoot Wall street lawyer," tonight accused the Republican presidential nominee of "unpatriotic demagoguery" and "unpardonable references" to President Roosevelt.

In a radio speech described as a reply to Willkie's acceptance address, the interior department head asserted that Willkie's criticism of Mr. Roosevelt's conduct of foreign affairs was "contemptible."

Concerning Willkie's challenge to Mr. Roosevelt to meet him on the same platform in joint debates, Ickes said:

"One cannot challenge the president of the United States to go about the country barnstorming after the pre-radio fashion of the past century, without laying himself open to the charge that he is indulging in cheap bravado."

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 19. (AP) — Wheat prices dipped 1⅛ cents at one time today to within about a cent of the year's lowest here, but then rallied.

Closing figures were only ⅛ to ⅜ lower than Saturday, with September at 68⅝@68¾c and December 70⅛@70⅜c.

Hedging sales in connection with the largest receipts of the season at spring wheat terminals, liquidation of September contracts which become deliverable in two weeks, and trade nervousness over the war accounted for the selling. Buying attributed mostly to mills helped the rally.

Corn closed unchanged to ⅜ down, September 60⅞c, December 54¼@54⅜c; oats unchanged to ⅛ off; rye ¼ to ⅜ down and lard 5 lower to 3 higher.

Traders who considered that Chicago wheat prices were about 12 cents under the government loan rate while Minneapolis prices were 30 cents lower than the value of wheat stored as collateral there were not inclined to press the market.

Minneapolis and Duluth, the principal spring wheat terminals, received 2,499 cars compared with 1,159 a week ago and 1,650 a year ago but not much of this grain was put up for sale.

Injuries Prove Fatal For Wreck Victim

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 19. (Special)—Darrell Rodgers, 15, who died Saturday night of injuries suffered Aug. 10, was buried in Littlefield cemetery this afternoon after last rites were read in Bula Baptist church.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rodgers of the Enochs community died of internal injuries in Payne-Shotwell hospital here.

The accident in which the youth was fatally injured happened in midafternoon Aug. 10 when he an a brother, Clyde, 18, had started in the family car to the mailbox several hundred yards from the Rodgers home.

Clyde was driving when the car hit loose dirt, swerved from the road and overturned. Darrell was taken immediately to the hospital here.

Burial today was directed by Hammons Funeral home.

Wife Gets Dress As Hubby Dodges Fine

TULSA, Aug. 19. (AP)—A Tulsa housewife got a new dress today and her husband escaped a fine.

The husband, accused by his wife of getting drunk at home, came before Municipal Judge Walter Kimmel.

"I'll let you off if you buy her a new dress," said the judge.

The husband agreed. His wife beamed.

Stolen Car Is Found In Dallas

Dallas police officials Monday informed Sheriff Tom Abel an automobile stolen June 14 from Claude Keeton of 1711 Seventeenth street had been recovered there.

Driver of the car was arrested. A car theft charge was filed in justice court of Walter Davies against the suspect, Edgar Joseph, and Sheriff Abel and his deputy, Grady Harris, will go to Dallas today to return the man and the car here.

Harris signed the complaint, prepared by Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney.

Other Thefts

A 20-year-old man, already in jail on a burglary charge, further became enmeshed in suspicion when he admitted theft of a $125 camera March 22. Paul Boggs of 2401 Twentieth street was owner. The camera was recovered from a youth to whom it had been sold.

J. T. Inmon, justice of peace, accepted a forgery complaint against a man who had not been reported arrested Monday night.

Drunk driving was charged to J. P. Bowen in Judge Inmon's court.

Police activity subsided considerably after a busy week-end in which drunks had a big part.

Mrs. O. L. Elliott of East Broadway reported theft of a Bible and an alarm clock from her automobile and C. J. Ward of 1906 Avenue Q said an electric charger was stolen from him.

Nazi, British Raids Watched

BY J. W. T. MASON
United Press War Expert

Although emotional interest throughout the world is concentrated on Germany's air bombardment of Britain, military interest is divided between the raids over Britain and the British counter-attacks over Germany and German-occupied areas, and Italy. Any analysis of the effect of the present air conflict must take into consideration British offensive power as well as German. Both sides are blitzkrieging.

The German attacks are predominantly daylight raids. Night fighting in the air has not been attractive to the Germans since the start of the war. One principal reason is the British balloon defense which cannot be widely distinguished in the dark and is a potent danger to aircraft flying blind. It is noticeable that when the Germans attack at night they usually avoid the coast and move inland where the balloons are not so numerous.

Better At Night

As the British invented the tank, the only new weapon evolved in the last war, so they have created the balloon defense, the only novel instrument of the present conflict. The Germans did not realize the possibilities of the tank until late in the World war, just as they now are behind in balloon defense.

British counter-attacks are thus able to operate more advantageously at night than are the Germans, while at the same time the British have developed a specialized ability in the technique of blind flying. British pilots all must undergo an intensive course in the "link trainer," another British invention which reproduces an airplane fixed in a room.

Britons Practice

The pilot has a hood over his head while the stationary machine is so minipulated as to give every effect of real flying. The least deviation from the pilot's course is traced on a chart. This training is primarily responsible for the successes the British aviators have been gaining in their night assaults.

German policy is one of close concealment while British policy is much more open. Reports which British pilots bring home, however, indicate continuously extensive damage is being inflicted on the totalitarian countries. Confirmation is received at time from neutral sources, as for instance—yesterday's report from Vichy that the British raid over Boulogne on Saturday night "virtually destroyed the city's commercial port and naval and air bases."

Three Objectives

An air offensive has three prime objectives; to annihilate the enemy's aviation strength, to destroy combatant bases and factories, and to depress civilian morale. There is no reason to believe either belligerent can overwhelm the other's air power in the present phase of operations. It is possible to assume, however, that molestation of totalitarian combatant bases may have been more extensive than in Britain because they are much more numerous owing to the larger areas open to attack and because night assaults meet with less effective opposition than daylight raids.

In the long run, the consequences of factory destruction must be to the disadvantage of Germany because Great Britain can draw upon Canadian productivity and can purchase factory output from the United States where there is a constant increase of available material for British use. As for morale, the air war has not yet been long enough or sufficiently intensive to have any serious effect upon either Germany or Great Britain. Italy may be the first to show this consequence because of the higher emotionalism of the Italian people.

It would seem, therefore, that as long as Great Britain can give Germany blow for blow, Hitler's expectation of destroying British resistance from the air will have to be revised. Either Germany will have to show new tactics in offensive operations and stronger defense against night counter-attacks, or there will shortly be a diminution of the German assaults.

German casualties are too high, anyway, for Hitler to allow them to continue indefinitely at the present rate. Germany must hold back a large reserve in case of trouble with Russia or in the Balkans.

Orchestra Musician Says He Actually Blew Out A Lung

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 19. (U.P.)—Clifford McClure, orchestra player, claims he literally "blew out" a lung tooting a trumpet in a dance band.

He filed suit in common pleas court today to compel the state industrial commission to pay him workmen's injury compensation because he says his lung collapsed while playing with the band.

Rules For Registration Of Aliens Are Received Here

Regulations governing the registration of all aliens in Lubbock, were received Monday from Washington, Postmaster Amos Howard said, but no blanks were received. Registration is scheduled to start next Tuesday and to continue through Dec. 26.

Howard expects to designate an employe this week to handle the aliens. He said he thought the blank form would be received in a few days.

To Fill 4 Forms

Under the regulations four forms are to be filled out: AR-1, the application; AR-2, the registration; AR-3, the registration receipt or identification and AR-4, the fingerprint form.

"All information is strictly confidential," Howard said. The forms will be available to Department of Justice for its use, however.

Registration is to be done by all first and second class postoffices, and in county seat towns where the postoffice is not in either the first or second class.

All Over 14

Aliens who have passed their 14th birthday must be fingerprinted; those who have not reached that age need not be, but they must do so when they become 14 years old. Aliens are required to answer all questions put to them regarding information asked for on the blanks. They should give all data possible.

Postmaster Howard said he expected the greater proportion of aliens to register here would be Mexicans, as there are not very many of other nationalities in this part of the state. He was unable to estimate the probably number of registrations.

Aliens who have filed applications for naturalization, but have not received their citizenship, should register, Mrs. Olive Fluke, deputy U. S. court clerk pointed out. They do not become citizens until they have taken the oath of allegiance, she said. Net naturalization day for the Lubbock division of the Northern district of Texas is late in November.

Contract To Be Let For 'Phone Extension

Contract for an extension of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., exchange building 1408 Broadway will be announced, probably within the next few days, said L. R. Grimes, company manager. Some weeks ago the company announced an expansion program.

Bids were opened in Fort Worth Aug. 12 and were taken under advisement by company officials, Grimes said. The work will involve the extension of the present building a distance of about 40 feet back to the alley.

It will be one of the first steps in the preparations for establishing the dial telephone system in Lubbock, Grimes said.

HALE CUTS RATE

PLAINVIEW—Hale county taxpayers will have the lowest tax rate for 1940 in 22 years, Frank R. Day, county judge, said in reporting the commissioner's court set the rate at 83 cents. This is 12 cents under last year.

German Citizen Is Assessed $2,000 Fine

ANCON, C. Z., Aug. 19. (U.P.)—Dr. Emil Wolff, German citizen taken from a Japanese ship by United States officials, pleaded guilty in Canal Zone district court today to two charges in connection with activity as a foreign agent, and was fined $2,000.

Wolff was arrested last month and charged with acting as a foreign agent without notifying the U. S. secretary of state and with failing to file a foreign agency registration with the secretary of state.

He was sentenced to three months in jail and fined $1000 on the first charge but the jail sentence was suspended on condition that he pay the fine. He was fined $1,000 on the second charge. It was believed his fine would be paid from the $10,000 bail put up by German officials here when he was arrested.

Negro Admits He Is Slayer Of Woman

AUGUSTA, Ark., Aug. 19. (AP) — Sheriff E. T. Ramsey said today that John Mooney, 27-year-old negro, wounded and held for safekeeping in a death cell at Tucker state prison farm, had confessed the slaying of Miss Ruby Montgomery, Woodcuff county farm girl, on July 21.

The negro is under a murder charge, and the grand jury, meeting here today, was expected to consider the case.

Miss Montgomery died after being assaulted in a cornfield while returning home from church.

Listerine Company Named In Complaint

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (U.P.)—A Federal Trade commission complaint today charged Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, with dissemination of misleading representations in the sale of Listerine antiseptic.

The complaint said the company represented Listerine as a corrective for halitosis by halting food fermentation in the mouth and for dandruff by killing a germ causing the scalp condition. It contended that comparatively few offensive breath odors arise from decayed food particles in the mouth and that dandruff is not recognized as having an infectuous origin.

The company has 20 days to answer the charges and the right of appeal to federal courts any FTC action before the action is effective.
