PROSPERITY OF CITY SHOWS IN BANK REPORTS

INSTITUTIONS ARE IN FINE CONDITION AS SPRING OPENS

Proving that an era of prosperity is being experienced in Lubbock, statements issued last yesterday by the three banking institutions of the city revealed that deposits are above expectations and greater than at any same period in past years. A total of $4,522,756.33 is now on deposit in the three banks, the statements show. The Citizens National has $1,469,987.50; First National, $1,852,157.67, and the Lubbock National, $1,270,780.68. Loans and discounts are smaller and only total $2,269,906.07. Cash exchange in the three institutions totals $1,469,983.44. Indications are that the institutions will experience their greatest year of business during 1928, officials and discount are estimated this morning, making no predictions, however. Moisture has been greater in January and February than in many years, they said, and agriculture will probably be at its peak during the coming crop season.

CLUE TO FATE OF LOST GIRL IS THOUGHT NEAR

POLICE HOLD MAN WHO DEMANDED RANSOM FROM SMITHS

(By The Associated Press) NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Mar. 7.—With the arrest of a man who removed from a postoffice box a decoy package mailed in response to a ransom demand of $50,000, postal inspectors and police hoped today that they might be nearing a solution of the mystery of the disappearance of Miss Frances St. John Smith. Michael Buinickas, 32-year-old telegraph mill employe of this city, postal inspectors said, confessed that he had rented the post-office box under an assumed name three days before Miss Smith, a student at Smith college, dropped out of sight on January 13. After questioning Buinickas for hours, the inspectors went into conference with a state detective and Major Thomas J. Hammond, legal adviser to the wealthy St. John Smith, father of the girl and a retired New York broker. Heavy bail was sought pending an investigation into the possibility that they might hold the key to the disappearance of the 19-year-old freshman for whom a nationwide search was conducted. The Smith family two weeks ago received a letter which directed that $50,000 in bills, unregistered and unsigned, be mailed to postoffice box 315. Acting under directions, the family mailed a package which was stuffed with paper and bore a New York City cancellation. When the package arrived here a string was attached to it which ran from the box to an electric buzzer in the postmaster's office. Buinickas was nabbed last night just after he opened the box. After long questioning he broke down, the inspectors declared, and admitted he had hired the box and written the letter. "I must have been drunk," he quoted him as saying. He was unable to explain however, how he had come to acquire the box three days before the girl disappeared. He has lived here for 16 years and has a wife and three children. For seven years he has had a regular postoffice box under his own name.

Helfin Plan Draws Unfavorable Report

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7 (AP)—An adverse report was ordered today by the Senate Foreign Relations committee on the Helfin resolution proposing withdrawal of American Marines from Nicaragua. COLUMBIA'S FLIGHT TO HAVANA MERE 'PRACTICE JAUNT' FOR MABEL BOLL; LEVINE AFTER NEW RECORD, IS CLAIM

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Mar. 7.—Friends of Charles A. Levine today suggested that his New York-to-Havana flight was merely a practice hop to see how Miss Mabel Boll, his passenger, could endure long distance flying. If she proved to be a good air traveler, they said, Levine probably would take her on a really long-distance flight, probably to South America. Miss Boll made repeated efforts in Paris last summer to purchase a place in an airplane for a flight to New York. That South America may be the goal of the Columbia in an attempt to break the world long distance record it established on its flight to Germany was indicated by facts disclosed at the time of the plane's proposed mystery flight of several weeks ago. At that time Levine and his pilot, Wilmer Stultz, said the destination was Havana but the Columbia was loaded with as much gas as she carried on her Transatlantic flight, much more than was needed for the 1,400 miles to Havana. An official of the National Aeronautic association was here from Washington at that time, too, waiting to put a sealed barograph aboard—a pointless procedure if Havana had been the goal as such a flight establishes no new record. Mrs. Levine, asked if she knew of her husband's future plans, said she wouldn't even try to guess. She said if he decides to stay in Havana longer than this week she is to join him there. She was enthusiastic in her praise of Miss Boll.

David E. Kaufman, international lawyer and philanthropist of Philadelphia, soon may be appointed to an important diplomatic post in one of the South American countries by President Coolidge.

BOARD MAKING PLAN TO FIGHT COTTON PESTS

BREWSTER COUNTY IS ONLY ONE IN DANGER OF COTTON BAN

(By The Associated Press) AUSTIN, Mar. 7.—After having announced that it would recommend a "non-cotton" zone for Brewster county only, the State Pink Boll Worm commission today is celebrating means of eradication of the pest from 14 West Texas counties, seven of which are newly infested, got the second day of its executive session under way here Wednesday. The commission declared it would recommend to Gov. Moody that he proclaim semi-quarantine regulations for the area affected, except in Brewster county, one of the original seven counties which for years has been fighting the pest. Brewster, the commission found, has "but a single (cotton) plantation and regulations can not be provided to cope with the situation there. The body will issue a formal and complete report to the governor, probably late Wednesday.

MORE TELEVISION

Ship And Shore Are Linked Together Successfully

S. S. BERENGARIA, March 7 (AP)—Ship has been linked to shore for the first time by television. Spectators aboard the Cunard liner Berengaria in the mid Atlantic last night saw persons appear before the transmitting apparatus in a London studio. They saw the subjects move and in one case the image that came across the Atlantic was recognized.

The test lasted for two hours and at times the vision from London was stated to be remarkably clear. Captain is Operator The receiving apparatus of the television aboard the Berengaria was in charge of Captain O. G. Hutchinson, managing director of the Baird Television Development company, of London. The persons whose images were sent by television appeared before the transmitting apparatus in the London studio of the Baird company. The television used was only slightly differed from that used on February 8 when in a darkened cellar in Hartsfield, N. Y., spectators saw a man and woman in the London studio.

On the screen of the receiving apparatus aboard the ship appeared the image of Miss Dora Selvy, finance of Chief Radio Operator Stanley Brown, of the Berengaria, who was present at the tests. Brown recognized Miss Selvy when she first appeared on the screen by the characteristic way she has of arranging her hair. Recognition was established beyond a doubt when spectators saw her turn so as to display her profile.

Brown, at whose request Miss Selvy was invited to appear before the transmitter in London, said it was the most thrilling experience he had encountered. He asserted he looked forward eagerly to the immediate commercial development of the new science.

The television tests did not interfere with operation of the ship's radio which continued as usual during the period. LONDON, Mar. 7 (AP)—Highly elated over the successful transmission of images of persons from a London studio to the steamship Berengaria in mid-ocean, John L. Baird, inventor of the apparatus, said that it was only a matter of time until one half of the world could not only hear what the other half was doing, but would see as well. "Television," he said, "is merely (Turn to Page 8, Column 1, Please)

Dearest Mom:

You're a very clever maier, after all. I'll bet you knew I wouldn't be frightened into telling Alan about the jamboree with the motor cycle cop. But when you talk about being true to my principles it's a rebra with a very different stripe design. I do try to be fifty-fifty most of the time. So I told Alan—that is, I told him about giving the cop the wrong steer but I kept mum about just how fast we were going.

He thought it was a good joke. You see we know Beatrice Wendley. She's really going to take the plunge next week and the papers said some kind relative had given her a new patrol wagon for a wedding present. I just took a long chance that the cop didn't know her or the man she's going to bless with her everlasting companionship.

Alan used to have a lot of bad luck with the cops when he drove the old car and he's strong for any racket that will help put one over on 'em. Of course, I didn't mention about Billy putting his arms around my neck. Sometimes I think Alan has old-fashioned ideas.

Well, we nickered the checkbook for a car and I'm thrilled sick. Only thing is I've got to learn to drive all over because I've never driven anything but the Model T. But Alan says he'll have me running the thing in half an hour. I'm not so sure, though. He seems to be having a little trouble himself getting used to the change.

You know if you sit by a driver you can almost run the car yourself. But when I try to tell Alan a few simple tricks he gets like they say of the scrambled egg—all hot and bothered.

Aren't men funny? He'd rather stall the car than pay attention to what I tell him. And he won't let me touch the wheel until he "masters" it himself.

CHAMPION YANKEES WILL ENTER FRAY WITH SAME SHOCK TROOPS BUT MORE POWERFUL RESERVE LINEUP TO STAND

BY BRIAN BELL (Associated Press Sports Writer)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 7.—From the pinnacle of a world's championship the New York Yankees are standing pat with their shock troops and preparing for baseball war in time of peace only by bolstering their reserve forces.

Manager Huggins contemplates no immediate changes in the lineup that was good enough to turn back all American league opposition and vanquish the National league champions in four straight games.

The infield will remain as constituted at the close of the last season with Lou Gehrig at first, Tony Lazzeri playing second, Mark Koenig taking care of short and Joe Dugan at third. His gates have the jump on Lazzeri in early training but it is expected that he will come on and catch up.

Infield Reserve Strong

Dugan will be given a lift at third when necessary by Gene Robertson, back in the major leagues after a stay with St. Paul, and going at a great clip in the spring workouts. The former St. Louis player gets extra speed by discarding his stockings and goes in his bare legs way around third base in high gear at all times.

Old Catchers Back

The Yankees have their three 1927 catchers intact, Collins, Benough and Grabowski, and three more in the camp. Two of the new comers were college stars, Bryant, once of Oglethorpe and Eismann, who caught for Syracuse. The third, Bill Dietz, just 21 years of age, but an inch over six feet in height, has impressed Manager Huggins and the members of the gallery who deserted the horse shoe pitching to see the Yankees practice. There is no indication that anyone of the youngsters will be able to crowd out a member of the trio equally dividing the catching burden last year but they will probably be back later.

Two young pitchers, both from the American association, have shown enough to insure their places on the staff, Henry Johnson, from Milwaukee and El Shealy from St. Paul. Herb Pennock, Waite Hoyt, George Piggas, Wiley Moore and Myles Thomas will know their way about the Yankee stadium without a guide.

Piggas, Moore Are Stars

Piggas and Moore start their first season as definite first string American league players, found himself last year and climaxed his season's work with a great World series game. Moore successfully made the long jump from a class "B" league to the majors and proceeded to show opposition players a "sinker" ball they did not quite understand.

Shocker, a veteran, may reconsider a determination to retire, and join the team. Stanby Kowalek, former Cleveland and Washington pitcher, is attempting to put on a comeback. No one, not even the pitcher himself, knows what answer his arm will make to the important question.

Ruth In Good Shape

Babe Ruth, tanned to a crisp, waffle-like brown from long days on the golf courses, reported for duty in great condition, hopeful of a crushing knock on his record of three score home runs last season. Lou Gehrig, junior member of the homerun team, got an early start, playing baseball while Babe was playing golf and the Bronx boy is ready to start hitting them now.

Nudie Moore, brother of the famous Wiley, hopes that the Yankees will let him complete a family pitching duo. There can be no "Big and Little Poison," as the Waners of the Pirates, are called. Maybe "Big and Bigger Sinkers" will do, for Nudie is almost as big as Wiley. The youngster lacks experience and Huggins will decide if he will acquire it in the minors or on the Yankee bench to furnish a combination rivaling the Waters and Sewells of today and the DeLahantys of yesterday.

WASHINGTON IS AGOG; RUMORS FLY ABOUT COLONEL'S PLANS

(The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Wherever there is secrecy rumors will abound and the national capital was agog today with rumors about Colonel Lindbergh.

The plane he used still was at Bolling field early today, but officers said they would not be surprised to see him pop up anywhere any minute.

One Report Given

One report going the rounds today, emanating from employees of the club where the aviator spent the day and night, was that he conferred, by appointment, yesterday afternoon with J. Barr Peat, business associate of L. J. Hendershot, 29-year old West Elizabeth Pa., inventor of what has been called a fusible motor or generator.

Hendershot and Peat were said to have arrived here Sunday, registering at one hotel and ordering their mail sent to another.

Major Thomas G. Lanphier, of Selfridge field, Michigan, personal friend of Colonel Lindbergh, is stopping at the same club, but both were "out" to reporters.

Another report was that Lindbergh planned to take a rest cure at Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore because he was near a breakdown from nervous strain. Authorities at the institution had heard of the rumors, but said the flying Colonel had not communicated with them.

HICKMAN CASE NEARS FINISH

FATE OF 'FOX' WELBY HUNT TO GO TO THE JURY SOON

(By The Associated Press)
 LOS ANGELES, Calif., Mar. 7.—One more witness in the jury trial of William Edward Hickman and Welby Hunt remained today to be called by the prosecution in closing its rebuttal testimony against the insanity claims of Hickman. Chief Defense Attorney Jerome Walsh said he would call only three or four persons in a brief defense rebuttal.

Although Walsh announced yesterday that he would call Hickman to the stand in his own defense, court observers doubted the legality of the move. Under Hickman's insanity defense, it is pointed out, he is not qualified to testify.

The one remaining prosecution witness is Dr. Thomas J. Orban, alienist. The psychiatrist was on the stand yesterday when court adjourned.

Yesterday's testimony was mainly a continuation of medical testimony with four prosecution alienists taking up the greater part of the day.

Five Millions Sent By Russia Puzzle To Recipients

(By The Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Five million dollars in gold, which the Soviet government shipped to this country February 21 to help promote trade, lay under a treasury ban today in two New York banks.

On the advice of the Department of Justice, the treasury held that the gold bars could not be accepted for assaying without violating the embargo against Russian gold importations placed in effect in 1921 or unless the two banks guaranteed title to it. The banks had offered the gold to the mint for purchase merely as agents of the Soviet Bank of Moscow and not as owners.

Officials Uninformed
 While officials here are uninformed as to the ultimate disposition to be made of the gold, the Chase National bank and Equitable Trust company, New York consignees, there are believed to be only two courses left open to the Soviet government: withdrawal of the gold or let it lie idle in the vaults.

It is considered more likely that the first step will be taken since the gold, now valueless, is causing a loss to the Soviet of about $700 a day in interest. This now amounts to more than $16,000.

POLLARD'S STAND OUTLINED IN OIL LEASE DISCUSSION

AUSTIN, Mar. 7.—Attorney General Claude Pollard's stand, announced by him several weeks ago, in the dispute involving the constitutionality of the entire system of mineral and oil leases, is outlined in his brief filed in the Supreme court in the Thiesen vs. Land Commissioner J. T. Robinson case.

Coming into the case as a "friend of the court," Mr. Pollard will oppose the contentions of Commissioner J. T. Robinson, upholding the mineral act making leases subject to competitive bidding, but will uphold the older leasing statute carrying a flat rental. The University of Texas, which has extensive oil lands in West Texas, is attacking both laws in an effort to reserve to itself all the mineral rights of its leased lands.

The Thiesen case is one of about 19 affecting mineral leases to be submitted to the Supreme court March 16. Numerous briefs have been filed in them, including some from oil companies holding leases.

The fate of several million dollars worth of leases are involved in the 19 cases.

DAKOTA WANTS SMITH, MOODY

NOMINATIONS FOR TWO PARTIES INCLUDE LOWDEN, DAWES

(By Associated Press)
 PIERRE, S. D., Mar. 7.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, Democrat, and Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, Republican, have been named by their respective parties in South Dakota for nomination as president of the United States.

Governor Smith's running mate, as named at yesterday's Democratic state proposal men's meeting, would be Governor Dan Moody of Texas. Vice President Charles G. Dawes was chosen for renomination by the Republicans.

Lowden was the unopposed and unanimous choice of the Republicans. But Governor Smith's name was opposed by that of United States Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana. One ballot was enough to decide the issue, with Governor Smith receiving 49,876 votes to 41,213 for Senator Walsh. Each proposalman cast the number of votes polled in his county at the last gubernatorial election, a majority being enough for endorsement.

Egyptians Warned In British Letter

CAIRO, Egypt, March 7.—British objections to recent Egyptian legislation which it was felt would weaken authority in dealing with the maintenance of public order and the protection of life and property throughout Egypt are reported to have been expressed in a circular handed by Lord Lloyd, British high commissioner, to Sarwat Pasha, who resigned Sunday as premier.

Newspapers, describing the note as "grave" say that it points out that recent legislation, although accepted by the Egyptian executive, weakens his authority in maintaining order.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT
NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 7 (AP)—Following an opening gain the cotton market turned easy on the favorable weekly weather and crop report and reports of some rain in the western drought section.

First trades showed gains of 6 to 7 points in response to higher Liverpool cables, but these prices proved to be the high of early trading as offering increased on the bearish weather influence and May traded off to 18.18, July 18.04, and October 17.73, 9 points off from the highs and 2 to 3 points below yesterday's close.

At the end of the first half hour the market was quiet and at or near the low.

The decline extended to 1811 for May, 17.98 for July and 17.68 for October, 14 to 16 points down from the highs and 8 to 9 points under the previous close. The Senate's committee investigation and other measures pending in Congress which affect cotton are believed to be restricting trading and consequently depriving the market of needed support.

At noon the market was quiet but 4 to 5 points above the low.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 6 points on the relatively steady showing of Liverpool. The advance met some selling on reports of light rains in Central Texas which some thought might spread into the western part of the state while there was also favorable comment on the weekly report of the weather bureau indicating the much needed rain had been prepared during the past week, particularly in the western cotton belt.

Prices eased back to about yesterday's closing quotations in consequence, but trading was in small volume and the market was quiet at the end of the first hour. The first months showing net losses of 1 to 4 points.

WALL STREET REPORT
NEW YORK, Mar. 7 (AP)—Initial changes both up and down were more pronounced than for some time in the stock market today. A number of important issues showed variations of a point or two from yesterday's final figures.

new high record, went quickly to 184-1/4 and then retreated to 149-3/4. Case threshing machine American Linsed, American Steel Foundries, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, Freeport, Texas, Greene Cananea Copper and Lorillard were substantially higher while Dupont, International Nickel, Gold Dust and Occidental rubber moved decidedly the other way, the last named falling to the year's lowest at 57.

Selling for both accounts in General Motors supplemented by extensive offerings of U. S. Steel undetermined the market before the end of the first hour. General Motors sank to 148-3/4, while steel retreated about a point under the previous close. A violent drop in U. S. Rubber first preferred, which fell 63-4 points to 83, the lowest since 1924 was an aftermath of another bad break in rubber futures. The common stock sank 3 points to 40-1/4 and Goodrich sagged 21-4 to 79, both new low prices for the year.

Concurrent weakness occurred in some of the recently popular shares, such as Radio, International Nickel, American Can, General Electric, General Motors, Signal and Montana Power, but a few stocks made substantial early advances, notably Rock Island, which was bought on the possibility that the annual dividend rate might be raised from 4 to 6 per cent. at today's meeting. Signal, which also made material advances, notably Liggett & Meyers, Atlantic Gulf and West Indies, Butterick company, Victor Talking Machine convertible preferred and Stromberg Carborator, the first named advancing 4-3/4 points.

All futures sold at the lowest levels in the history of the exchange, the March option declining to 28 cents a pound.

ARE YOU RUN DOWN, WEAK, NERVOUS?
To have plenty of firm flesh and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two-year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just take a teaspoonful of Tanlac before meals.

Mrs. B. L. Foster, of 1212 N. Asbury Ave., Houston, Texas, says: "I was nervous, irritable, and down in weight from 140 lbs. to 94 lbs. After three bottles of Tanlac I could eat anything and sleep well. I lost all nervousness and gained 20 lbs."

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist. Your money back if it doesn't help.

Meanwhile, the convention had before it the word of Prohibition Commissioner James Moran that the dry laws can and will be enforced, and that it was time the people realized that prohibition has become a permanent fact.
Addressing the gathering last night, he declared that the Eighteenth amendment had contributed to the moral and spiritual well-being of the nation by affording better living conditions and increased cultural advantages, which made of it a "good law."

At the same time, however, he urged more complete cooperation, on the part of states with federal enforcement officials, without which he declared, satisfactory results never would be obtained.

The afternoon session of the convention was devoted to the first women speakers of the convention, headed by Mrs. Mollie Nicholson, Chery Chase, Md., president of the Woman's Democratic Law Enforcement league, and Mrs. Henry W. BOX BILL OK., TEXAN STATES

SAYS MEXICAN DRIVES AMERICAN LABORER FROM TEXAS

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—The Mexican laborer is driving the American working man out of Texas, Charles McKamey, commissioner of labor in the Lone Star state, declared today in urging the House immigration committee to act favorably upon the Box-Harris bill to restrict Western Hemisphere immigration.
The American common laborer "is almost a thing of the past in Texas," McKamey said, adding that the American laborer can not compete with Mexicans because of the "deplorable" living conditions of the Mexican.
"Driven Off Farms"
He asserted that American tenant farmers are being driven out of the rural districts by landowners who "make conditions such that the American will not remain on the farm."
The Texas commissioner followed Dr. Harry H. Laughlin, of New York, a biologist with the Carnegie Institute, who outlined the results of biological studies on the possible effect of continued unrestricted Mexican immigration.
He suggested a proposal in the bill to restrict immigration to the White race which he said would bar the peon of mixed blood, but would admit the high caste Mexican of Castilian blood.

SENATE HEARS MINER LEADER

LEWIS TELLS OF WOES OF WORKERS IN COAL MINING SECTIONS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Congress among the railroads, misuse of the judicial function, and the exercise of the sovereign powers of the state by private police in the central bituminous coal field were charged today before a Senate committee by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.
Appearing as the first witness at the opening of the inquiry ordered by the Senate into conditions in the coal fields, Lewis declared that among the first companies to abrogate their wage agreements with the union miners were the Consolidation Coal company, of which, he said, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is "a controlling factor," and the Pittsburgh Coal company, which is generally recognized in the financial world as a Mellon company.
Charges Non-Union Drive
"Due to its large financial resources and political affiliations," Lewis said, the Pittsburgh company "was able to inaugurate a non-union drive in a big way to de-unionize its coal mines."
"Wholesale employment of coal and iron police, detectives and deputy sheriffs followed," he said.

POSTMASTER REQUESTS MERCHANTS TO AID IN MAIL WORK

Improved mail service can be given Lubbock through the aid of the Lubbock merchants, Postmaster John L. Vaughan said today in making a plea for a distribution of business mail over the day, avoiding a congestion of night mail in the office. If the merchants would dispatch most of their mail in the morning and before 3:45 in the afternoon, the office would be relieved of much congestion caused by the change of train schedules of the Santa Fe recently.
Northbound mail should be in the office by 9 o'clock in the morning and southbound by 12 o'clock. Other mail should be dispatched by 3:45 instead of at 9:40 at night as has been the case since the change. Mail sent out at night should be in the office by eight o'clock.
The residents will receive the bulk of their mail in the afternoon now, Mr. Vaughan said, due to the fact that the carriers now make two deliveries instead of one in the afternoon. One delivery is made to the residents in the morning.

THE JAZZ SINGER

Novelized by Arline De Haas
Taken from the scenario 'The Jazz Singer' starring Al Jolson.

SYNOPSIS

Because Jackie, son of Cantor Rabinowitz, prefers jazz to synagogue music, he leaves home. Ten years elapse. Jackie, now Jack Robin, obtains through Mary Dale, a dancer, the role of jazz singer in a musical comedy. The Cantor, discovering his son's profession, disowns him. Jack's show is opening the eve of Yom Kippur. Dillings, the banker, jealous of Mary's love for Jack, takes his money out of the show, leaving Lee, the producer, dependent on Jack for success. Yudelson, the Cantor's friend, comes to tell Jack his father is ill and asks him to sing in the synagogue that night in his father's place.

"Oh, Jack! Jack, I want to see you a minute," Jack heard Lee calling him from across the stage during a lull in the music.

"I'm over here, Mr. Lee. Can you come here?" He saw the producer coming behind the drop. "Mr. Lee, listen a minute. I don't know how I'm going to explain this—but excuse me—Mr. Lee, this is Mr. Yudelson, an old friend of my family. He's just come up to tell me my father down on the East Side is very sick—and—"

"Your father—on the East Side?" Lee looked at Jack, questioningly, and surveyed Yudelson with a puzzled air.

"Yes, I know I held out on you, Mr. Lee—that other afternoon when I didn't want to talk about my people," Jack was talking against time, quickly, nervously. "But I had quarreled with my father—he's a cantor in a synagogue—about going on the stage and I felt that I never wanted to go back there again—I wanted to live my own life in another way. But tonight is the eve of the Day of Atonement; Mr. Yudelson's come to tell me that my father is sick—my mother sent him to ask me to come down and sing in my father's place tonight. My father trained me to be a cantor—until I ran away—and—"

"But my dear boy, you know as well as I do that's impossible!" Lee almost laughed aloud at the suggestion, so preposterous it seemed to him.

"Isn't there any way we could arrange it?"

"Only tonight and tomorrow until sundown," Yudelson added his plea to Jack's. "Absolutely not," Lee returned emphatically, including both Jack and Yudelson in his answer. "I'm banking on you only in this show, and that's you, Jack. Let me tell you something—I've been an actor myself—ah, yes, I've been through the mill, too. My mother died one afternoon, and I went on that night. Furthermore, Jack," he turned to the singer and spoke in low tones, "something happened just a little while ago—that leaves me in a pretty tight position—more than you know. It means that I'm depending so much on you, now, that it isn't even funny. I've given you your chance—now give me mine. Tell him you can't do it," he nodded towards Yudelson and turned away.

"Is that your boss?" Yudelson asked as Lee crossed the stage. "Yes-s-s," Jack considered slowly. He was trying to think of some way to please Yudelson and understand his position—some way of appealing to him. "Listen, Yudelson," he began, "do you know how much it costs to put on a show like this? Do you know that Mr. Lee and other people have put thousands and thousands of dollars into all this, he waved his hand towards the stage. "Just as everything stands now this show has cost—well, somewhere around two hundred thousand dollars."

"Oh—oh, oh! Two hundred thousand dollars?" Yudelson looked amazed. "Is that true, Jack?"

"Yes, the big musical shows all cost about that much—and sometimes more. You heard Mr. Lee say he was depending on me to put this over. Now, I ask you, you're a business man—can I walk out on Mr. Lee after he's staked all this money on—on—well, on me—and just because my mama wants me to sing one night in a synagogue don't you understand, now, Yudelson?"

Yudelson shrugged his shoulders, but reason was beginning to dawn. "Yeh, Jackie, I suppose so. You can't sing tonight—so I'll have to tell your mama and listen to that voice from Levy's."

"Levy? That's the sexton, isn't it? Why, he's got a fine voice," Jack tried to lighten the blow. "Yeh, like a nanny goat," Yudelson sneered. "Nu, what can I do. You're sure you can't come," he asked once more.

"If I could, I would. But you see how it is, try to explain to mama and the committee."

"All right, Jackie. So, good-bye, Lezhono Tovo Tikosamu," he held out his hand.

"Thank you, Yudelson," Jack shook hands, "and happy New Year to you, too."

"See, you didn't forget, did you Jackie?" the jeweler smiled, pleased at Jack's remembrance of the salutation. "No, I didn't forget," Jack answered. He watched his visitor out of sight and then sat down heavily on a chair in a corner. He sighed brokenly and his head dropped disconsolately. Was this right—this thing he had done, he questioned himself. To whom did he owe allegiance? To his mother, his father, his race—or to this new, demanding mistress, the theater? His father sick—for the first time unable to sing in the synagogue. His father had called him to do his duty as a son and a cantor—and he had refused to sing at Yom Kippur.

"The old boy gone?" Lee interrupted Jack's thoughts and brought him to with a start. "Did you make him understand you couldn't go down there?"

"Yes, I told him—I explained," Jack scarcely noticed what he was saying.

"That's right! Now, come on, brace up. You've got to go on in a minute. You haven't time to get your make-up on now, but get it on during intermission. God, boy! Dress rehearsal's on—just this, and then the big opening tonight! Aren't you thrilled? Your name in all the papers tomorrow—your name all over Broadway—"

"And he won't be able to sing tonight—for the first time in his life he won't be able to sing in synagogue," Jack was murmuring to himself, scarcely heeding Lee's words.

"Hurry, here, Jack, snap out of it," Lee shook the boy by the shoulders. "You're all right, now. You're going to be the hit of the show." He pushed Jack not at all unkindly towards his entrance.

Jack shook himself and threw back his shoulders, but he was following hard. "I'll do the best I can—tonight—Mr. Lee," he forced the words from his lips. "I only hope I won't disappoint you."

With a crash the music took up the ribald air of a jazz tune, and Jack stepped onto the stage.

CHAPTER XV
The still quiet of impending gloom hung over the home of Cantor Rabinowitz. People moved to and fro with uneasy, hushed steps; spoke in unnatural, lowered voices. The odor of medicines and anti-septic hung heavily to the air. Neighbors came and went on tip toe, bringing little bowls and baskets covered with white cloths. The Cantor was desperately ill—so ill that Dr. O'Shaughnessy had ordered a hospital bed immediately, but at Mrs. Rabinowitz's insistent pleadings had compromised by sending while in the hospital to look after the sick man. Mrs. Rabinowitz herself was worn and pale with nights of watching and interminable efforts to do something—anything, that might provide comfort for her husband.

Now she waited anxiously for the return of Yudelson and the news he would bring from the theater and her Jackie. The Cantor rested uneasily, under the supervision of the day nurse, and she could do but little. To her mind however, there could be only one answer—Jackie would come and sing "Kol Nidre." Jackie might have done many things, but he was a good son and he would not fail in his duty to his parents and his religion. He might sing jazz in the theater, but when the call of the synagogue came, he would respond. She opened the door in answer to Yudelson's knock, almost expecting to find Jack there with him. But as she saw the downcast mien and the somber look of the jeweler, she gasped.

MOTOR STOCKS JUMP PUZZLES

GENERAL MOTORS RISE OPENS RUMORS OF PLANE FACTORY

(By the Associated Press)
 NEW YORK, Mar. 7.—The reason for the violent uprush on the New York Stock exchange of the common stock of General Motors, which carried it to a new high of 150, adding $180,225,000 to its open market value in three days, was a mystery to financial commentators today.

Although a good part of yesterday's buying, which totalled 442,900 shares and raised the stock's market value $60,000,000, was said to represent urgent short covering, brokerage houses reported that the outside public was buying the stock in large volume.

Plans Are Rumored
 Rumors that General Motors plans to enter the airplane business, and that a plan is afoot to make every owner of a General Motors car a stockholder, lacked confirmation.

Announcement did come from Muncie, Ind., that the company has purchased the Durant Motors plant there and that a new unit of the corporation for the manufacture of electrical storage batteries would be started as soon as possible, but this came after the market's close. The announcement was made by C. E. Wilson, of Anderson, Ind., president of the Delco-Remy corporation, who said the Muncie plant would be operated as a unit of the Delco-Remy operations with headquarters at Anderson.

LEAGUE TO LOOK INTO HUNGARIAN GUN PROPOSITION

VIENNA, Mar. 7.—Both Rumania and Hungary today accepted the proposal of Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign minister, that a small committee be appointed with the power to call experts to deal with the situation arising from the discovery of machine gun parts at St. Gotthard.

The council of the League of Nations accepted Sir Austen's proposal. It decided that the committee should be comprised of the delegates of Holland, Chile and Finland on the league council.

BRITAIN READY TO DO BATTLE

FORCE MARSHALLED IN IRAK AS KING SAUD STARTS ADVANCE

(By The Associated Press)
 LONDON, March 7.—British aircraft was ready today for combat in a Holy War.

The possibility that Ibn Saud, King of Hedjaz and Sultan of Nejd, would attack the borders of Iraq and Transjordan, mandated British territory, was met with active preparations by Great Britain.

Advices from Basra, Iraq, said an airplane base was established at Kuwait at the head of the Persian gulf, of ten bombing machines, ten armored cars and numerous transport vehicles and ambulance cars.

Plenty of Air Equipment
 The royal air force detachment in Iraq, to the north of Kuwait, consists of 45 bombing planes and a dozen Bristol fighters. The correspondent of the London Evening Star said he had learned from an authoritative source that arrangements were made to hold in readiness aerial reinforcements in Egypt, Palestine and India.

Ibn Saud, who was reported in an Exchange telegraph dispatch from Jerusalem to have made formal declaration of hostilities against the mandated district, was estimated to be able to place 30,000 fighting fatalities in the field.

No Law Against At Least One Thing

FORT WORTH, Mar. 7.—(AP)—Fearing she would not be expected in time to prepare her mistress' dinner, Elma Washington, negro, called as a witness in a misdemeanor case in criminal court today asked the court if it was against the law for her to string beans in the court room.

When informed there was no statute on the books forbidding such practice, Elma calmly pulled a tin pan and a sack of snap beans from beneath her apron and began work. The job was completed just as the court recessed her because the case was continued.
