RUSH OF SULLEN FLOODS WIDENING TO MENACE MORE CITIES

GRAVE CONCERN FELT FOR LIVES ALONG THE RIVER

COAST GUARD MOBILIZED TO ASSIST IN THE RELIEF WORK

NEW ORLEANS SAFE

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND ARE HOMELESS IN DISASTER

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, April 30.—The nation's most disastrous flood was spreading tonight with increasing rapidity and federal and state officials made no effort to conceal their apprehension of the dangers in connection with the flood situation.

Driven madly by the slowly moving flood crest, the Mississippi swelled over a part of the levee at Vicksburg, flooding the lower section of that city, and sloughed off a hundred feet of the main levee at Glascock, La., 25 miles south of Natchez, threatening inundation of Concordia and parts of bordering parishes.

Arkansas Under Water

Increasing volumes of water flowing through the three gaps in the Arkansas river embankments rapidly were making complete the flooding of southeastern Arkansas, inundating the town of Gould and adding to the flood depth in half a dozen other towns which may be destroyed.

Flood waters around Yazoo City and northward in Mississippi continued their spread, devastating new fields and causing half a million dollars worth of damage to cotton stored in compress in that city.

While news of these major events in the flood area were trickling in, foreboding rumors of still more serious and dangerous floods yet to come, the weather bureau announced that "the greatest flood of record" was in prospect next week to strike Ouachita and Black rivers, adding that "a serious situation exists in northeastern Louisiana."

To Strengthen Levees

As a result of the break at Glascock, Charles H. West, a member of the Mississippi river commission, announced that "every possible effort should be made to immediately raise and strengthen the levees from the mouth of the Red River to New Orleans."

The commissioner said the water plunging through the Glascock crevasse would join with the Arkansas flood waters which are sweeping into Louisiana and for the present should lower the river stage from Natchez, where the highest stage of record, is recorded, to the mouth of Red River.

There was one bright spot in the dark picture, the gauge at New Orleans showing a drop of one-tenth of a foot in five hours as a result of the crevasse deliberately opened at Cameron, fifteen miles below the city. The first effort at damming the river by partially successful, the engineers continued blasting today until they had a great rush of waters from the Mississippi flowing into the now all most deserted parishes of St. Bernard and Plaquemine.

So serious is the situation presented in the remainder of the state, however, that the coast guard, acting on requests of former Governor John M. Parker, civilian flood director for this state, is concentrating here and at Natchez, the largest relief expedition in its history.

Aviator Killed In Raid On Smugglers

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—(AP)—Arthur A. Daugherty, 24, aviator, was shot and killed, seven other aviators were taken into custody and three airplanes seized by federal immigration officers, early today in what they declared was the breaking up of an airplane alien smuggling ring. The officers said Daugherty was fired upon when he attempted to escape in his plane as the three planes landed at Eagle Airport after being reported by federal agents to have taken aboard ten Chinese in Tijuana, Mexico, last night.

Chief Immigration Inspector Walter Carr declared that Hugh McLenny, owner of the Red Top distillery in Tijuana, was the financial backer of the Eagle Airport and of the entire alleged air smuggling ring.

An all day search by police and sheriff's deputies had failed to find any trace of the ten aliens asserted by the immigration officers probably to have unloaded in an out field somewhere on the outskirts of the city. The officers said bunches of green coats caught on the running gear of two of the planes, they said the arrested aviators failed to make any explanation of the presence of the coats.

Rex Purcell, one of the arrested aviators, and a witness of the shooting of Daugherty, declared that he was killed without a chance for his life.

FRANK GARCIA IS SLAIN IN ROW AT "LITTLE JUAREZ"

TWO MEXICANS JAILED AS SUSPECTS IN KILLING

ANOTHER WOUNDED

IS HECTIC NIGHT IN MEXICAN QUARTER OF CITY

While a Mexican mother weeps over the body of her dead son, imploring him to speak, a fellow countryman named Buzon, son of "Mexican Frank" and a second drunk to give his name, blink stupidly in jail, faced with possible murder charges in connection with the fatal shooting of Frank Garcia, near Frank's Restaurant in "Little Juarez" about 2:30 Sunday morning.

The killing followed a dance and night of high excitement and undercover controversy in Little Mexico, in which a second Mexican had been shot through the neck and seriously injured an hour before by an unknown assailant.

Garcia who had returned to his home after the dance, told his mother that Buzon, who lived a few yards away, had taken his gun and $30 from him earlier in the night, officers said. Leaving his house a few minutes later, he was shot while at a point about midway between his house and that of Buzon's, the bullet entering his skull, just behind the ear. Officers found him lying in a pool of blood while excited Mexicans gesticulated and talked loudly.

Buzon was arrested at the rear of his residence a few minutes later by Constable Roberts, while in the act of drinking a bottle of beer. Roberts stated that he had threatened Buzon with his gun to prevent him from using his knife, and that he made every effort to escape.

A second Mexican, whose face was skinned up and who had blood upon his trousers leg was arrested by Deputy Terrell Williamson, while he was hurrying away from the scene of the murder. Williamson stated that he also had considerable difficulty in taking his prisoner to jail.

Officers state that a thorough probe of all circumstances leading up to the shooting will be made.

DANCING IN "LITTLE JUAREZ"

While dancing in a hall in "Little Juarez" shortly after one o'clock this morning, Vicente Ontiveros, Mexican employee of the Santa Fe, was shot by an unknown assailant from the outside of the house. The bullet entered the left side of the neck and traveled in a downward direction, passing out near his right shoulder blade and barely missing the vertebrae. Dr. J. W. Rodde, city health officer, was notified and gave first aid to the wounded man before carrying him to a local hospital.

The wounded man has a family in Fort Worth, his companion reported this morning. He is familiar with the hospital in Mexico where he was wounded, they said. He will recover from his present injuries.

Thompson Will Quit If Pay Not Boosted

AUSTIN, April 30.—(AP)—Resignation of R. A. Thompson, state highway engineer, unless the fortieth legislature in special session grants him an annual salary of $10,000 seemed probable tonight.

Thompson today announced he will quit Monday from a consulting engineering position he holds with the city of Dallas, in line with his intention announced some time ago.

Questioned as to his attitude toward action of the senate finance committee in cutting recommendations for his salary from $10,000 to $8,000 Thompson declared he was "promised $10,000 a year and expected the promise to be fulfilled. If the legislature fails to approve, I then shall announce what I will do."

The highway commission's employment of Thompson, with Governor Dan Moody's sanction, Thursday drew various "comments" from angered senators in a row precipitated in the senate finance committee room between the commission and various senators. In the heat of the argument, the open threat was made that campaign will be made against Governor Moody "next election day" with the commission's administration one of the issues.

LUBBOCK TRACKMEN WIN ABERNATHY MEET

FRISCH SWATS TWO HOMERS BUT CARDS AND REDS DIVIDE

REYNOLDS, WESTERNER SPRINTER, LEADS IN POINTS; AMARILLO IS SECOND WITH FLOYDADA THIRD

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)
ABERNATHY, April 30.—The Lubbock high school Westerners again proved their supremacy in track and field events here today to win the fourth annual Inter-County track and field classic in the Class A division to count up a total score of 58 and 2-3 points with Amarillo 55 and Sandstormers a close second with 53 points. Floydada was third with a total of 30 points. It was the Westerners' second time to win the meet of the four years. Amarillo won the second and third annual events with the performers trailing a close second in both seasons.

Even though Coach E. J. Lowery, won the meet here today he was with out several of his best talent. Cyrus Leland, 100 and 220 yard dashman who runs in close second with Reynolds, winner of the century and 220 yard dashes here today, was not with the Lub City crew. Morton J. Smith, hurdler and 440 yard man was not here. Larry DeLoach, 220 yard sprinter, Audrey Brown and Emory Ing, relay men of the Westerner club were not present either. Closely estimating the meet had these Westerners been present would have probably stacked up their points as high as 72 for a total—but they were not there and the meet was run off and in good shape.

Hubbers Win Six Firsts
The Hubbers carried away six first places in the meet and Amarillo took three with Floydada taking four. In the pole vault Lubbock and Amarillo tied for first place. Smythe Reynolds, Lubbock dashman, was high point man for the day with three first places to his credit, the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes.

According to Coach Pinky Lowery two of the Westerner machine, John Garland and K. Smith lettered in track through their efforts here today. Garland lettered in taking second place in the broad jump and Smith lettered by tying for first place pole vault.

The meet was promoted and fostered by the Abernathy Chamber of Commerce and a huge loving cup was presented to the Lubbock track and field team for their achievements in the events here today. Hale Coover won the Class B division in yesterday's events.

Wholesalers Meet Shallowater Today

"Terrible" Terry and his Wholesalers will invade the Shallowater territory this afternoon with his highly heralded city league pennant competitors. Terry has rounded out a good machine and has some real talent in club. In meeting with the Shallowater club the Wholesalers are looking into a combination of "old timers" with the newer lineups of Littlefield, "Red" Galter, former Hubber recruit and recently a member of the Corpus Christi line of the Gulf Coast League, and "Barnie" Blackman, another former Hubber connected with the Shallowater ranks.

Since it is very evident that the athletes of this city, which was once a strong base ball city, are refusing to back into fold in the "Hub" city Terry and his Wholesalers have come to the front and will assume the duty to give to Lubbock baseball.

The game will start at three o'clock at the Shallowater baseball park.

Westerner Gridmen Match Three Tilts

Spring training in the Westerner high school camp will be concluded after a three game series which will be played at the Texas Tech gridiron between the "Jellies" and "Tuffies". The two clubs consist of members of the Westerner aggregation that have had several weeks of spring training under the direction of Coach Henry Frank, football mentor of the homecoming circles.

Mark Cummins, line captain of last season, will have charge of the Jelly Bears and Raymond "Red" Burton, battling Westerner tackle, will direct the tough lads. These two Westerner line men will push their clubs through some strenuous workouts before the initial game which will be played Thursday afternoon.

Twenty players have been allotted to each club from the spring camp and Coach Frank is giving each team two separate and different styles of football. By giving the two teams opposite plays for the series more interest and life will be shown in the grid program.

After the third and last game of the series between the "Jellies" and "Tuffies" it will mark a culmination of four and one-half months of football in Lubbock high school for 1927.

Wealthy New York Golf Bugs Hold Weird Obstacle Meet To Establish Championship Of Hartsdale Country Club

Here's some action from the annual weird-obstacle tournament recently staged by members of the Hartsdale, N. Y. Golf club. The golfers, who spend most of their time in Wall Street when not at home or on the links, made all right-handed golfers play left. One hole had to be made in pool-room fashion, and drives had to be made through barrels and out of pans of water. The top photograph shows the 18th hole being made in billiard fashion. The players are, left to right, A. N. Morris, Charles Nicholson, Arthur Myles and Bill Nye. The bottom picture shows Bill Nye teeing off from the pan of water on the first tee.

High School Boys And Girls Are To Clash On Diamond

Monday afternoon at the Merrill Park beginning at 4 o'clock probably one of the most unusual athletic fetes ever staged in this city will be exhibited when the junior class and senior class of the Lubbock high school clash in a nine inning contest. It is not so unusual in that it is a game between juniors and seniors but it will be a mixed affair as it has been arranged that the girls of both classes will start the game and play the first two sessions.

A result of game conflicts that were apparently a trouble that could not be settled other than from source of sport event and the base ball classic was chosen to settle affairs during the late class troubles.

It is thought that an imported umpire will call the game to prevent any trouble that may arise on the diamond that would in the least show partiality. The entire student body has been stirred up over the coming exhibition and from all indications a great crowd will throng to the local base ball park for the season's most unusual sport classic.

Seven Records Fall In Drake Contests

(By Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 30.—(AP)—Seven record breaking performances ushered in the two day Drake relay carnival Friday as 2,796 athletes from 229 universities, colleges and high schools battled for places in the preliminaries in events in which they will compete in the finals tomorrow.

In addition to the trials, finals were decided today in events involving high school and some major competition.

The Iowa State quartette, made up of Caslin, Wilmer, Thornburg and Conger, turned in the principal record smashing by clipping 31.8 seconds off the university medley, one of the outstanding events of the games. The performances of the Cyclones was one of the best shown in any relay carnival held so far this year. The distances were 580 yards, 440, 440, and a mile. The old record of 5:49 was established by Illinois in 1926.

The Ames quartette was chased all the way by Minnesota and one time Wexman, the Minnesota anchor runner passed Conger who ran in a similar position for Ames. The Gopher picked up a lead of thirty yards but on the back stretch of the final lap, Conger again went in the lead and finished with a burst of speed, which carried him over the line in the record breaking time.

The University of Kansas, quarter mile relay team turned in another outstanding record smashing by whirling around the track in the 440 yard event in 41.8 to qualify for the final that will be run off tomorrow.

Woods, McNair, Cooper and Grady made up the Jayhawkers combination. Their performances eclipsed the former Drake record of 42:50 seconds, also held by Kansas and established in 1925.

The other Drake records also were cracked. Moraines college of Sioux City accounted for a record in the half mile relay for Iowa colleges stopping off the distance in 2:9.10, shattering the former record of 3:24.10 made in 1925.

The crack Haskell Institute medley quartette clipped eight tenths of a second off the Drake record for the college medley, reeling it off in 7:43.1-10 chiefly through the superb running of Ossie, America's amateur six mile champion.

SAN ANTONIO BEATS WACO, SPUDS WALLOP STEERS, SPORTS DEFEAT ATZ CREW AS BUFS WIN OVER BEAUMONT

(By The Associated Press)
WACO, April 30.—San Antonio evened the two game series with the Cubs here today by taking the final game by a score of 11 to 7. Errors behind Benge had much to do with the final count.

The Cubs started off in fine fashion, after the visitors had talked once in the first. Blakerby hit a homer with two on to put the Cubs in front. Windie tied the count in the third with a homer, after the Bears had counted three in their half. San Antonio made two in their half of the fifth and Pratt tied the count again with a homer scoring one runner ahead of him. Phipps, clinched the game for the visitors with a circuit blow with two on in the eighth.

Bunched hits in the sixth and 7th, innings when they hammered Hurler, Wachtel, Kerr and Howard and gave the home town the game. Fort Worth was the first to score and put men on bases in every inning but the eighth.

Base Hits Are Numerous

HOUSTON, April 30.—Buff and Exporter ball players were dizzy on base hits, and tired from running about the bases here Saturday after Houston faltered Beaumont, 16 to 9, in a slugfest contest that was certainly hard on the twirlers. Ten doubles, and three triples were included in the 25 safe wallops.

Each team used three twirlers, and none showed anything remarkable although Tex "Kildee" Carlton, third baseman, was touched for only three hits and two runs in two and one-third innings, which was considered good twirling considering how the other batters were maltreated.

Spuders Dash Onward

DALLAS, April 30.—(AP)—The mad dash of the Wichita Falls Spuders continued at Steer park here today when the husky hitters from the oil fields won the opening game of a three day series from the Steers 5 to 1. It was Dick Shuman's ill luck to draw the fire of the invaders while his outfield is demoralized with illness and inability to hit the ball. He pitched a good game but lack of fielding and hitting behind him brought the inevitable result.

Five A. & M. Stars Bidding For Honors
Special to Avalanche-Journal
COLLEGE STATION, April 30.—Five members of the A. & M. baseball team are expected to make strong bids for honors on the All-Southwestern nine this season. The five outstanding performers of the Aggies are J. V. Sikes, pitcher; H. W. Schumann, second baseman; Hollis Tucker, Houston, short stop; S. J. "Punk" Baker, Fort Worth, third baseman; and L. M. Williamson, Houston, outfielder.

The Aggies have a major league prospect in Sikes, who ranks with Redman Hume of S. M. U. and Neal Baker of the Longhorns as the three leading hurlers in the conference. Sikes allowed but one run in his first three games and permitted but two runs in his fourth game, both of which were the results of errors.

In Schumann, Coach Rothberg has a steady star catcher this season, including Albert of the Longhorns. All-north of the Owls, and Craig of the Mustangs.

Captain Hollis Tucker of the Aggies is as good a shortstop as the conference has boasted since Heinie Odom went up for trial with the New York Yankees. His fielding is always dependable, and he gets away his throws in sturdily. He is a fair hitter and has been improving in recent games.

Punk Baker, who is the best hitter on the team, is a sure fielder and has a good chase. He, too, is a hard fighter and serves to steady the entire Aggie team.

Williamson is the smallest man on the team and is perhaps the smallest player in the conference. But he is a dangerous hitter and takes a splendid cut at the ball. He also is extremely hard to pitch to on account of his small stature, and is adept at looking over the pitcher's offerings. He is as fast as a rabbit in the field and has a good arm.

A better natural course for such a player would be to go to the outfield, but he is a natural center fielder. Last Sunday was the first time that such an event has ever been held anywhere in the Southwest and was one of the few steeple chases held in America although they are common in England.

The chase was held last Sunday and proved so interesting that it will be held again Sunday, May 1st. Last Sunday was the first time that such an event has ever been held anywhere in the Southwest and was one of the few steeple chases held in America although they are common in England.

Polo Tournament At Crowell Will Be Ended Today
(Special to The Avalanche-Journal)
CROWELL, April 30.—Sunday's program at the Minkip Polo Tournament will be by far the largest of the nine day affair and will bring to an end the only ranch polo tournament held in America. Besides the final polo game to determine the winner, a steeple chase, airplane circus, and quarter mile horse race will be given on the regular program and will precede the polo game.

It is difficult to predict teams that will play in the final game for championship of the polo tournament however, it seems assured that the Wichita Falls Polo club of which Chas. Featherstone is captain, will be one of the contestants. Oklahoma University and Dallas are also to be considered for the final game. Fort, one's team has a very strong team but have lost two games by small margins to Wichita Falls. Crowell has a chance in the finals if they defeat Dallas in Thursday's game.

Interest In Steeple Chase
The steeple chase is creating almost as much interest as the final polo game and over twenty horses from many sections of the Southwest will be entered in it.

The chase was held last Sunday and proved so interesting that it will be held again Sunday, May 1st. Last Sunday was the first time that such an event has ever been held anywhere in the Southwest and was one of the few steeple chases held in America although they are common in England.

A better natural course for such a player would be to go to the outfield, but he is a natural center fielder. Last Sunday was the first time that such an event has ever been held anywhere in the Southwest and was one of the few steeple chases held in America although they are common in England.

Some of the finest and fastest horses in the Southwest will be entered in the quarter mile race preceding the polo game. This event had eleven entries last Sunday and it is almost assured that this number will be doubled in Sunday's race. This event like the steeple chase is open to everybody and a loving cup will be given the winner of each event. Three sets of four cups each will be given the winners of the polo tournament.

The airplane circus will include two planes owned by Ray Shiffert, widely known stunt flyer, who will give a program shortly after noon. Among the stunts to be given will be the changing from a plane while in the air at full speed to the polo field by one of the flyers by means of a rope.

Waners Learned To Hit With Corncobs
PITTSBURGH, April 30.—You've heard about pitchers who gained control by throwing at a hole in the wall. Well, here's a couple of hard-hitting outfielders who learned how to sock 'em on the nose by hitting at corn-cobs down on the farm!

Lloyd and Paul Waner, Pirate outfielders, describe their hitting process to such a process.

"A corn-cob takes all kinds of shots and curves," explains the older Waner. "We used 'em for baseballs down on the farm and if you don't think it is a job hitting a fast corn-cob, try it some time."

WHOLESALE TO MEET BANK CLUB IN FIRST CLASH

Tuesday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock at the Meritt park the Lubbock City League will open with the Bankers and the Wholesalers club in the opening performance. These games, a week will be played by each team in the league this season as arranged by schedule that will be released within the next few days. The league organization is thought to be the strongest that the Hub city has had since the establishment of city league baseball in Lubbock. Rules, regulations, and by-laws have been drawn up this season that are far more than in previous seasons.

Since this is opening week and the clubs have had but few days workouts only three games will be played this week. Every game this year will begin at six-thirty o'clock sharp and should a club fail to show up within ten minutes after time of game the game shall be forfeited to the opposing club.

Must File Club Roster
Every club should have its club roster filed with the league president before Monday noon. Contract copies may be secured at the offices of the Avalanche-Journal for the players and all should be properly filled out and filed with the officers of the league. Last season much confusion and trouble was encountered when players roved around play first with one club and then another; but this season a player must be contracted with one certain club and in the event he is transferred he will not be permitted to play for fifteen days after the transfer.

The opening games for the initial week will be: Bankers vs Wholesalers Tuesday; Rix vs Postoffice Tailors Wednesday; and Auto-Barbers vs City-Lubbock Laundry, Thursday. In the first game of the opening week, the Bankers and Wholesalers, both clubs are original members of the city loop and have veteran machines. The Bankers are managed by Judge Raley, former member of the T. C. U. nine and for three seasons leaders of the money changers. Manager Haley states that his team while not in the best of condition for the opening number will give the Wholesalers a good game.

The second game for the opening week, Rix against Postoffice-Tailors, will also present two veteran city loop machines. A couple of Sanders, A. C. and J. C., are in charge of the respective clubs. A. C. "Bub" Sanders, a furniture peddler and undertaker, is leading the Rix ranks and states he is going to "knock 'em dead." Jakey Sanders, manager of the Postoffice-Tailor aggregation, will draft out Uncle Sam's clerks, postman, and carriers to mix with the cleaners and pressers to complete his organization. With such a mixture as the one to be made by Jakey Sanders he should find a good combination.

The last game of the opening week, Auto-Barbers and City-Lubbock Laundry, should present a fast and interesting exhibition. Roy Chisum, mechanic of the Dodge Service department, is handling the city shavers and barbers this year and has some very good men in line for the season's action. No doubt the Lubbock Laundry and City employees will have a fast crew as they have a large field to draw players from. All city of Lubbock employees are included in the line-up for the season and from that field there is no question as to what may be developed. The city crew can include all players from Mayor Pink L. Parrish to the dog catchers, including city policemen, city commissioners, firemen and other departments.

One other interesting feature of the city loop this season is that all teams are required to be in uniform for every scheduled contest. The least number of players that may be without uniform this season is two players of each team. By having the team in uniform better and faster baseball will be the result.

Managers of all clubs in the city league are requested to meet Monday night at the offices of the Avalanche-Journal to make final preparations for the opening week.

Maid Of Today Is Versatile Huntress Like Canada's M. P. They 'Get The Man'

Recently because my friend could think of nothing better to do, and when he was talking to me while I had something else to do, he suggested how about a story on "The Method That Gets 'Em," meaning men by that last monosyllable.

But because I, like some other girls I have heard of, never have been able to get the right man on his knees at the right moment, I protested that I couldn't very well speak with authority on how to get them. Anyway, it has been by experience that married women seem to have formed some sort of a union the rules of which forbid them to divulge their methods of getting husbands to single girls but allow the widow to use her method a second time and haul in all those handsome men that the poor working girl has her heart set on.

But after that every time he bought me a coke and couldn't think of something else to say he mentioned this story again, so here I am.

Learn By Observation

All my friends and some of my rivals have frequently discussed just this question and this week I went around and started a few more conversations about how come the wedding bells sometimes ring for who they do and we can't figure it out, although we have watched some of these girls doing their stuff.

Our only explanation is that perhaps their style was cramped because of our presence.

Now what it is that gets the men is something that perhaps no one knows and maybe Clara Bow and whoever it was that got up her cinema hit was right about "it." If anyone knew how to get the right man just when he was wanted, all the department stores would be selling the recipes and women would quit howling about their rights and careers. They would just haul off and have a career until they got ready to marry and then they would get a husband.

Gloria Swanson Has Idea

The other day Allene Sumner was quoting Gloria Swanson as saying that if a girl is really smart she will spend every cent she can rake and scrape for clothes because "By sailing away every penny, she may rake together a thousand dollars or so, but by spending every penny and then some, she may rake in a rich guy." And Gloria ought to know.

But even though clothes and good looks help, they don't get you a trip down the church aisle to the tune of "Here Comes the Bride."

It's something else. Now some girls are just plain sweet, some girls roll their eyes, some girls babble baby talk, some girls flatter the "big strong man," some girls use a little of the cave man stuff and go after them.

Girls have been known to weep and wall on the shoulder of some man just because he is his kind who can stand anything except a woman crying, and who is then all sympathy. These girls can manage to have manifested awful and terrible things happen to them which are so bad that they need a lot of many encouragement and advice to keep going. And then when they discover that they have no more hard-boiled bosses or unreasonable landladies, they create a few tales to occasion a weeping spell on a manly shoulder.

"Lines" Change With Individual
All girls develop a set of "lines" just as men do and apply them according to the individual.

With one man a girl is the happy little Pollyanna who can cook and sew and ha spent the day at home ironing and watering the flowers. With another, she is the sophisticated miss who knows not a butter paddle from the kind which father holds "neath the shade of the apple tree. Sometimes she is devilish, sometimes she is very dumb but anxious to acquire some of the vast knowledge of her friend. Sometimes she is good, sometimes she is bad, frequently enigmatical, occasionally she is fathomable. Usually she is selfish and lacking in sympathy, at other times "she wouldn't hurt a fly."

Sometimes these methods work and sometimes they don't. And as to the method that gets 'em, why ask the married women.

C. Of C. Members To Meet Again Monday

Chamber of Commerce members will be busy again Monday working out plans for a program of work for the coming year.

The directors of the organization are eager to have every member of the Chamber of Commerce attend one group meeting, and a letter has gone out to all those who missed their meetings last Friday asking them to attend one of the meetings which will be held Monday.

Three meetings are planned for Monday with twenty-five members scheduled to attend each meeting in addition to those who missed the meetings called Friday.

J. A. Rix is chairman of the meeting which will be called to order at nine o'clock Monday morning. W. T. Rybon will be chairman of a meeting at 10:30 and Homer D. Grant will call his 25 members in at two o'clock.

Disappointed By Absence

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce is greatly disappointed that you were unable to attend the group meeting to which you were invited Friday for the purpose of helping in building a program of work, the letter to those who did not attend read:

"These group meetings are the most important feature in the new policy of the organization and we want your help and assistance in working out a program for the officers, directors, and committees to follow as a chart or guide."

The letter which was signed by H. D. Woods, vice president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, pointed out that each of the meetings have begun on time and have adjourned on time. The members who missed Friday are invited to attend either of the three meetings Monday.

violations upon which to base said rumors and complaints and that said complaints and rumors are false.

"We have investigated a rumor current among the citizens of this city and county which has to do with a certain transaction concerning the water supply of this city, and which transaction has caused a former city official to be unjustly criticised and for the information of the public and in justice to said former city official we have codified from the minutes of the city of Lubbock certain resolutions, letters and reports made by the city commission which are as follows:

"These minutes are recorded at pages 555, 537, 540, 541 and 542, book three, and we ask that all citizens go inspect this record for themselves that they may determine for themselves the truth about the transaction concerning the water supply of this city.

"This body believes that the record shows absolute proof that there were no irregularities connected with this transaction and ought to set at naught any rumors to the contrary.

"We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to all officials who have worked with our body and given aid to our investigations.

"Having finished our work, we respectfully request the court to discharge our body for the term.

BOND ELECTION

valuation of city property if necessary to finance city, while at present only one-half percent is being collected, allowing issuance of many more warrants under charter provisions if such became necessary.

Issue Needed

Many months ago, members of the commission saw an eventual bond issue to reduce the rate of interest and group all outstanding indebtedness under one head, and seeing this, had the foresight to include in warrants issued the past year or two a clause providing for the exercise of a re-financing option if such should be desired after submitted to a vote of the people. And further, all options were made to read on or about the same time. The right to exercise this option expires during May of this year, and unless exercised, the warrants now out standing can never be recalled on a re-financing plan to reduce the interest rate.

Under the re-financing plan as outlined for the election Tuesday, tax payers of Lubbock will save $151,814 during the life of the fourteen warrant issues involved in the proceedings. This having is in interest alone. The warrants mature in from eleven to thirty years, at a saving of from $722 to $36,000 on each of the various issues.

Is Good Business

"The proposition is merely a good business transaction, heartily endorsed by me in every respect, and I cannot see how any taxpayer can argue against saving himself his pro rata part of the $151,814." Mayor Pink L. Parrish said. "It is the same proposition as any individual who owes a bank or other institution one note or several notes, and his banker agrees to assume all the indebtedness in a new note at a much lower rate of interest and extend payments over a longer period of time."

"I can safely say that members of City Commission are unanimous in their effort to reduce the tax rate, and we are now on the eve of an election for this purpose," A. V. Weaver, commissioner said. "We have $650,000 out standing in the form of warrants drawing six percent. If the election carries, we exchange these warrants for a bond drawing five percent, thereby saving the taxpayer the difference. Some of these warrants run for thirty years and the total saving amounts to more than $150,000 over the period. In my opinion, there is only one side to it. It is simply good business to vote the bonds."

"City officials are exerting every effort to reduce the tax rate here," J. O. Jones, another commissioner said, "and this bond issue, if carried, will mean much toward this end. I consider the proposition the biggest placed before our people in some time. The warrants are outstanding as an obligation against the city and will be paid, whether at six percent under the present contracts, or five percent under the proposed bond issue. The proposition is good business, but the final decision is in the hands of taxpayers, as to whether or not they want to effect the saving."

Commissioners Walter S. Posey and J. H. Hankins concurred in each of the statements made by their fellow members, and urged a large vote Tuesday, "to demonstrate to the world that the people of Lubbock know a good business proposition when they see it."

A classified ad in the Avalanche and Journal at one-price is a sure fire result getter.

MISSING BROTHER FOUND

Potter's Grave Yields Body of Rich Florida Produce Dealer Ending Long Quest of Relative

VICTORIA, Texas, April 30 (AP)—Potter's field here today gave up the body of Louis E. Overstreet, prominent produce man of Lake Worth, Fla., missing since June 6, and believed to have been a victim of a mania for jumping from trains. The body was exhumed today and identified by his brother, H. R. Overstreet, of Alamo, Texas.

The Lake Worth man wired his brother on April 6 that he was coming to Texas. Nothing was heard of him since, but it has been established that he bought a railroad ticket at New Orleans for San Benito, Texas. A few days later, press dispatches re-

Admits He's Slayer Revenge On Birger

BENTON, Ill., April 30 (AP)—Charles Birger, notorious southern Illinois gangster, who was directly charged with plotting the murder of Mayor Joe Adams, of West City, a friend of the rival Shelton gangsters was involved in a confession in open court here today by Harry Thomason, 19.

The youth declared Birger hired him and his brother, Elmo, 17, now dead, to kill Mayor Adams. He also charged that Birger and his associates were responsible for the dynamiting and firing of Shady Rest, Birger's road house, the night of January 9, in which Elmo Thomason and Mr. and Mrs. Steve George were burned to death.

"My brother, Elmo, and I killed Joe Adams, but Charley Birger made us do it," the youth asserted. "Birger promised $50 for ever shot that hit Adams."

"We each got $50 after we killed him and Ray Hyland got $50 for driving our car."

Circuit Judge Charles H. Miller, interrupted the recital of how the mayor was assassinated at the front door of his home last December 12, by asking:

"Why are you so insistent on pleading guilty of murder?"

"Because Charley Birger, Art Newman, Connie Ritter and Freddie Wooten, blew up Shady Rest cabin and killed my brother."

Thus it was that Thomason had come from the reformatory at Pontiac, where he was serving a sentence of from ten years to life for robbery, to have revenge.

ported that a man answering his description had jumped out of a train window between Beaumont and Houston. Then, when the finding of a body at Pinedo was announced, the brother came here to investigate.

BODY OF MISSING GIRL IS DISCOVERED IN BELFREY

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 30 (AP)—The body of 11 year old Floella McDonald, mysteriously missing from her home here for three weeks, was found late today in the Belfrey of the fashionable First Presbyterian church.

A negro janitor of the church finding blood stains in the basement, notified police and thorough search of the building led to the finding of the body.

Handcuffed to Bed by Bandits

To make their getaway sure, two men who stole valuable diamonds from Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Miller of Kansas City handcuffed the couple to a bed in their apartment. Mrs. Miller collapsed before help arrived. A detective is shown sawing away the handcuffs which were an old model and for which no key could be found.

'Know Your Stuff' If You Visit Juarez Picturesque Old City Has Its Pitfalls

South of El Paso and the sunbaked region of southwest Texas lies the picturesque city of Juarez in old Mexico, the gateway to the United States and rendezvous of tourists.

Juarez, contrast of the old world with the new. Ox-drawn carts dispute their way with powerful American automobiles down the one long paved street of the city. Vendors of fruits and vegetables line the curb before modernized cigarette and cafe, crying monotonously the curious names of their wares.

Beer-strewn sidewalks click with bottles, satisfying desires the full 24 hours of the day. Small curio shops display in helter skelter fashion rugs, beads, cigarettes, postcards, leather goods, and an endless variety of useless tokens.

All Types Are Seen

The municipal park presents an interesting study of diversified humanity. Beggars of life, beggars of pleasure, and beggars of money. Haggard and worn, wanting physiques, wrinkled brown faces with sharp black eyes ask piteously of pleasure seekers who seek comfort in shaded benches. Confidence men tactfully choose their victims.

Men who live by their wits know several tricks, but occasionally they classify the apparent nonchalant with the dumb. Sometimes a supposedly sane, prey gets loose and explodes a game or two employed by confidence men.

Laxity of law enforcement permits the "sucker" to prosper in Juarez, provided, of course, that he has a good scheme and chooses victims discriminately. Here is a game employed which might fool some men: "Young man in sartorial splendor halts a prospect making some comment on the weather. Gives him a humorous card and points out the joke—Tries to make him laugh. Tells him he is in the lumber business in Wisconsin. Asks him to have a drink with him. So to the saloon."

The "Show" Begins

Shortly after being seated at a table an intriguing woman passes and speaks to the "lumberman" who acknowledges her attention with a wave of the hand. Presently a man enters the saloon, glances hurriedly through the crowd, settles against the table and begs pardon. He is excited. Asks the "lumberman" if he had seen such and such a woman (which he describes profusely), explaining that she had "gyped" him of $20. The "lumberman" laughs heartily. Asks the strange man to have a seat and drink to his "tough" luck.

The "woman chaser" says that he is an Englishman, now residing in Canada, just touring the country. He criticizes the petty selfishness and lack of sportsmanship on the part of Americans.

He illustrates his point by telling of his observation that the American Legion, which crashed in a shallow marsh near Langley Field, Va., during a test flight preparatory to an attempted non-stop flight from the United States to Paris. The two pilots, who expected to make the Paris trip—Lieut. Com. Noel Davis and Lieut. Stanton Hall Wootter—were instantly killed when the huge plane suddenly took a nose dive into the marsh. The Legion had hoped that its plane would be the first to make the Paris flight and thus be a harbinger of the American Legion convention there next September. This picture was rushed from Langley Field to New York by airplane and then transmitted by telephone.

"Perhaps he was matching," the "lumberman" suggests.

"What is matching?" queries the Englishman.

"I will illustrate," replies the "lumberman." "You flip a coin and cover it with your hand on the table. I will do likewise. Now, I will match you. If your coin has 'heads' up, and should mine also be 'heads' then I win. But if my coin should have tails up, I lose. Do you understand?"

"For five dollars," says the "lumberman."

"Eight," responds the Englishman. The Englishman loses—pays off promptly.

"Have you any more money?" asks the "lumberman."

"MONEY!" He pulls out a huge roll of bills. "Wait till I get some change."

Now for the "Frame-Up!"

In the absence of the "sporty" Britisher, the "lumberman" whispers, confidently, to the "poor sap" who has watched the show for several minutes.

The Englishman has several hundred dollars. He pretends to be a good loser. Now, when he returns, I will suggest that we play "odd man" for $5 each throw. You throw heads and I'll flip tails each time. We'll break him. Get me?"

If the prospect is a well chosen dupe, it works. Often a poor boy is forced in this manner to wire dad for money.

Here is the way it works, according to a student of Juarez. The fleecers allow the money-crazed stranger to win several times. Then he goes into a gambling orgy. The Englishman, after allowing the fool to win an appreciable sum, starts throwing heads while his friend, the "lumberman," rakes in the money. Before awakening, the "dupe" has lost $50 or more. And so on throughout the day suckers are found every minute.

Racing Has Dupe, Too

The racing board fakes is a busy worker. He spots an interested spectator of the board. In a clever manner he starts a conversation. "Are you betting?" he asks. Regardless of the answer, he directs the attention of his prospect to a man who is busy over some papers.

"See that man. I've been watching him. He's won $1,000 on the races. Ask him what horse he's betting on now. Maybe we can pick up a valuable tip."

Granting that the prospect is dumb, he touches the successful gambler on the shoulder, and timidly asks a favor. For a while the gambler appears inhis picture shows the wreckage of the giant three-motored plane, "The American Legion," which crashed in a shallow marsh near Langley Field, Va., during a test flight preparatory to an attempted non-stop flight from the United States to Paris. The two pilots, who expected to make the Paris trip—Lieut. Com. Noel Davis and Lieut. Stanton Hall Wootter—were instantly killed when the huge plane suddenly took a nose dive into the marsh. row on row, mile upon mile of cotton, a new chapter has been written in the history of cotton production by the invention and use of a unique method of gathering the crop. The farmer waits until practically all the cotton is open and then uses a sled which runs over the stalks stripping them of all their bolls. In this way a man with a horse hitched to a sled can gather as much cotton in a day as he could pick by hand in three or four weeks. Its quality is lowered but West Texas has the most modern cotton gins in the world. Some modification of the sled idea will eventually solve the question of a cotton picker for this and other sections of somewhat similar terrain.

Harvester Being Developed
A time there are six firms of individuals known to be working on some type of cotton harvester, especially suited for use in West Texas.

The Texas agricultural experiment station estimates that there is still in excess of 20,000,000 acres of virgin soil in 62 counties of West and northwest Texas that is suitable for cultivation. Of this potential crop area it is conservatively estimated that 10,000,000 acres will eventually go into cotton production. Everything considered this section can at the present time more economically produce and market a bale of cotton than any other part of the world. No wonder cotton production in West Texas has increased 300 per cent in the last 10 years.

Clayton Talks Of West Texas

The vast cotton resources of West Texas were touched upon in Houston recently by W. L. Clayton, of the cotton firm of Anderson and Clayton, who addressed the Salesmanship club on "Houston as a Cotton Center." Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Tech, said yesterday that Mr. Clayton, as a large cotton dealer, is highly interested in this section of the state as a cotton producer and that he has written two letters to the college here inquiring about the situation.

The part of Mr. Clayton's talk which stressed West Texas, is reproduced here, as taken from a Houston paper:

Touches On Low Cost

That vast area comprising West and northwest Texas is a natural cotton field, practically free of insects and with little grass and weeds to contend with.

The level character of the land lends itself to the use of mechanical means of preparing, cultivating and gathering the crop. Tractor power and two and four row implements for cultivating and planting are coming more and more into general use, greatly increasing man's efficiency and substantially reducing the cost of production.

Forty-One Millions Required By State

AUSTIN, Apr. 30 (AP)—A rough aggregate of about $41,000,000 to run the state for the next two fiscal years is called for in the four major appropriation bills to be put up to the fortieth legislature's special session, May 9, by the senate finance committee, Senator A. E. Wood, of Granger, chairman, announced today.

This is an increase of some $3,000,000 over the board of control recommendations because of changes in the disbursement situation since the recommendations were made.

The house bills are not ready yet and totals are not available. Only the education budget remains to be passed on, however. The Eleemosynary budget was agreed upon today, with much less reduction from the board of control recommendations than was made by the senate finance committee. It was estimated by house committee-men.

Education Budget Cut

The senate committee slashed the educational and eleemosynary budgets submitted by the board of control, but had to increase the departmental and judiciary budgets. Increase in the departmental budget was occasioned by a change in providing for operation of the state prison system. Under the reorganization bill passed at the regular session, prison revenues will go into the general revenue funds and then be appropriated. Increase in this case thus is only a matter of book-keeping. In the judiciary budget, however, an actual increase was necessary to take care of the judges' salary raises and certain fee increases made by the fortieth legislature.

Adopting a policy of economy, which the house also is committed to, the senate finance committee, cut $1,401,455 from the recommended educational budget of $17,900,162 and $811,000 from the recommended eleemosynary institution budget of $9,832,805.

Departmental Budget Raised

The departmental budget, which carries the new prison budget, will carry something more than $3,000,000 more than was recommended by the board of control. A rough $1,000,000 increase will be carried in the judiciary budget. This includes, besides the judges' salary raise, an increased mileage and per diem fee for witnesses, and increased expense allowances for district attorneys, who have more than one county.

A final check over on the completed bills will be made next week by the senate committee, while the house committee completes its educational hearings.

Representative J. F. Wallace, of the house committee, has it figured out that the state's revenue for the next two years will run close to $15,000,000 counting the prison revenues heretofore not counted in the general fund. He declares that there will be very little deficit at the end of the present fiscal year, August 31, if any.

The total ginnings of Littlefield gins for 1926-27 were 14,000 bales, 12,200 more than the last season.

GAS FIRM GIVEN TIME EXTENSION IN LAYING LINE

CITY COMMISSION GRANTS
PLEA FOR THIRTY DAY ADDITION

The West Texas Gas company, backed by A. J. McMahon and associates, of Oklahoma City, and eastern capital, has been granted an extension of time in construction of the line by the city of Lubbock in construction of the line from the Panhandle oil field to the South Plains to serve this territory with natural gas. It was announced following a special meeting of the City Commission here Saturday.

The time of beginning was extended from May 1 to June 1. If this time is required by the company, but under the contract the line must be completed and in operation on or before December 31. Max Cunningham, chief engineer of the Benham Engineering company, of Chicago, who is here in supervision of the project, said, however, that work is already under way and will not be halted until the line is completed. He added that the volume of construction planned has not been reached, on account of failure to get pipe deliveries, but that the project will be started in earnest with several crews on the job probably by the middle of May.

New Yorker Attends Session

Douglas L. Cullison, of G. E. Barrett and company, finance bankers, of New York City, who was in the session, assured the commission that the project is amply financed, and that all is in readiness so far as this phase of the program is concerned. His company, he said, recently purchased or made firm commitment to purchase $2,850,000 worth of first mortgaged bonds, and $1,250,000 second mortgaged bonds, from the West Texas Gas company, the fund to be used in construction of the line to the South Plains. He said further that conditions all along the proposed line are excellent, and that construction work in real earnest will be started in the immediate future.

State Senator W. H. Bledsoe, attorney here for the gas company, appeared before the commission on the plea for the extension of time, explained that the company has complied with its contract with the city to have not less than one mile of main line constructed before May 1, and urged that a few days more time be given to permit concentration of equipment and delivery of pipe.

Cullison Makes Talk

Mr. Cullison explained that his banking firm several major similar projects in Texas in the past year or two, and cited the Rio Grande Valley Gas company line from Webb county to Mission and Brownsville and International points, a distance of 171 miles, at a cost of about $2,500,000, and the Southern Gas Company's project of $4,200,000 in 1925, financing the project from Webb county to San Antonio.

The project by which nearly a dozen towns on the South Plains will be served will cost between $5,550,000 and $6,000,000, engineers say. The line is to be 16 inch from the field to Amarillo, 14 inch from Amarillo to Plainview, 12 inch to Lubbock, and eight inch serving Slaton and Lovelock and Floydada. It is planned to have work go on simultaneously on the main line and distribution systems at the various towns, but Mr. Cunningham said Saturday that work probably will start first on the distribution systems on account of pipe shipments.

Lubbock Peaceful In Wee, Sma' Hours

"Twelve o'clock and all's well," Lubbock sleeps an undisturbed sleep. At 11 o'clock show-goers window shoppers and idlers of myriad types go home for a rest. Theater lights cease to advertise. Soda fountains, cafes and drug stores darken. Streets become quiet, save for the occasional noise of a motor. The tramp of hoofs becomes audible for several blocks. Night watchmen are left alone. There is a noise heard in the rear of a store. A man is seen, and L. I. Sides enters with a flashlight guiding his path. It was the owner of the store searching through files for a certain letter. "Hello Jim. Trying to rob yourself?" A few words are exchanged and then follows a "good-night."

"Lubbock is peaceful. Few disturbances," says Mr. Sides. "Occasionally an automobile is found parked in some dark street or alley. Upon my approach it departs."

"Boys with dates will sometimes stay out as late as 1 o'clock. They seem to find pleasure in just motoring around the square and up Main and Broadway. A few of them are at times unnecessarily vociferous," he said.

The campus of Texas Tech is as quiet as a cemetery. B. J. Hightower, the nightwatchman, gets lonesome, so he says. Seldomly an automobile will park near one of the street lights. In most cases it will be filled with couples who stop to eat some sandwiches. "All occupants of cars which stop out here seem to be orderly," explains Mr. Hightower. "Once in a while drinking parties will race around the campus, but they never stop."

"It is almost 'watermelon time,'" Mr. Hightower smiled. "That is when many cars stop around the campus, and believe me I eat plenty of watermelon. Never a party parks for a feast without offering me some watermelon. Last year some of the boys would buy a melon and drive out here to offer me a slice."

Observation Of National Music Week Begins Today In City; Programs Are Scheduled; Music Club Will Banquet

Beginning today, National Music Week will be observed in Lubbock with a series of programs continuing through Saturday. The programs are open to the public.

Special music has been furnished for many of the churches of the city today by the Lubbock Music Club, which is sponsoring the observance, and a program is to be given each evening this week.

A luncheon Saturday at Hotel Lubbock will honor musical composers of the city and Music club officers for the coming year will be installed.

Instrumental Concert
The orchestra and band of the high school are to give a joint program at the high school auditorium tomorrow evening under the direction of Miss Anna Owens and J. W. Crowley.

A program will be given Tuesday evening at the First Methodist church by junior pupils of Mrs. John L. Ratliff and Miss Daisy Baskin. Technological college music pupils under Miss Margaret Huff and A. G. Huff will appear in recital Wednesday evening at the First Methodist church and senior music pupils of the public schools will give a recital at the same church Thursday evening. Mrs. Mamie I. Neal and Mrs. Carl Scoggin have prepared this program.

Miss Louise Ocker is presenting public school music pupils in recital Friday evening, showing the progress in music from the kindergarten through the high school. This program will be at the high school auditorium.

Special Music Today

Special music will be given at the following churches today by members of the Music Club.

Cumberland Presbyterian church, "Eye Hath Not Seen" (A. R. Gault), Mrs. G. N. Atkinson, accompanied by Mrs. A. W. McKee; Methodist church, "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled" (Frank Brumby); Miss Scott Paralels, accompanied by Mrs. Mamie I. Neal; First Baptist church, "The Endless Day" (Johnson), Miss Louise Ocker, accompanied by Mrs. John L. Ratliff; First Christian church, "The Old Refrain" (Crisler), a violin solo, Miss Anna Owens, accompanied by Miss Mary Dunn; First Presbyterian church, "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes" (Evil), Mrs. Carl Scoggin, accompanied by Miss Margaret Huff.

In keeping with this observance of National Music Week, the public schools are giving a series of musical and dramatic programs prior to the closing of the school term.

The first of these was given Friday evening when Miss Stella Thurman, principal, and faculty members of the K. Carter school presented about 250 children in a picturesque operetta, "In Little Folk's Town". The Sanders school children are to have an outdoor twilight May Fete on May 13 and the Central ward school is to present "The Stolen Flower Queen" on the evening of May 20.

Buffett Supper Served Marry Twenty-four Club Friday

One of the prettiest parties of the week was given Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Rayburn, 1104 16th Street, when they entertained the Merry Twenty-four club.

A buffet supper was served early in the evening after which games of chance were played by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Gammon. The high score prizes in the games.

Using red and white in the party appointments, a large bouquet of American beauty rose buds were placed in the center of Mrs. Rayburn's dining room table. The first course was served from this table by Mesdames E. E. Swindell, J. A. Swindell and Dwight Hale. The last course was served by Mesdames Evelyn and Roberta Rayburn in the living room. Candles furnished soft light for the supper. Home made candies were served during the bridge games.

Guests for the party were Messrs. A. M. Hendley, 2115 6th street, to members of the Las Chapparitas club. Misses Pearl Hendley, Edna Younge, Afton Gilkerson and Mrs. Royce Waters were hostesses.

The table was in the club colors of black, yellow and red and was dressed with balloons, animal toys, confetti and other things that spoke of a circus. The dinner of hamburgers, pickles, olives, potato chips, red lemonade, strawberry ice cream and cakes were served from paper plates with tin knives and forks.

Guests were Mesdames Novelle Hemphill, Sylvia Wilson, Verna Wilson, Alameda Murray, Floyd Pryor, Marjorie Lehand, Mamie Wolfarth, Marjorie Hughes, Mary Louise Middleton, Ruth Starnes, Cynbol Patterson, Mattie Mae Renfro, Blanche Bradley, Pauline Scott and Cecil Dawson.

Asking The Way To Chic Slimness

QUESTIONNAIRE CRAZE INVADERS THE FIELD OF FAT AS PLUMP MAIDS AND MATRONS RACK BRAINS AND RETARD OBESITY ALL AT SAME TIME

The Woman's Day

By Allene Summer

Why are women such fools? "Plain fools" is what George Remé, a French gentleman burglar sentenced to prison for 30 years, calls them. His raffles has received nearly 2000 marriage proposals from the charming girls since he began serving his sentence. Any warden of any penitentiary anywhere will tell you of prison morale shattered by maddening woman sympathizers who make the prisoner believe he is a much-abused, wronged soul. Sometimes, though, poets in such rapt about this very quality in women. They call it the "maternal instinct" rather than "plain foolishness."

RECTOR ENDORSES FAGS
The rector of our city's "most exclusive church," the moneyed, blue-book church, has taken members of his church to task who, as employers, have this rector, that it's perfectly atrociously awful the way poor girls labor all afternoon long with no time out for tea and a cigarette. He advocates 15-minute "afternoon recesses" for working girls. Moreover, he believes that the employer should furnish the tea and cakes and fags. Just wait until the National Woman's party hears this. How'll they fume, unless the divine means that male employees also should have their tea and fags!

FAIR OYSTER FARMER
Betty Ann Herrold will soon have her degree which means Doctor of Oyster Farming. Miss Herrold is the only girl among 5,000 students in the college of fisheries at the University of Washington. It certainly is getting difficult these days for a girl to find a novel occupation. I haven't a doubt that about the time Miss Herrold buys her oyster farm she will find that her next door neighbor is an oyster farmerette, also.

PAINT YOUR HOME
"No Grouches in Colorful Homes." This is the slogan of one of the paint companies which advocate blue, green, rose, yellow, orchid and what-have-you chairs and tables and everything in the home. But if we all have green and gold tables and chairs in our own dining rooms what will the tea rooms do to give us a thrill? They'll have to go in for golden oak or mahogany.

"MOTHER KNOWS BEST"
You may not exactly fancy opening a new book to learn it begins with the funeral of the heroine on the first page, with an enumeration of the shelves of roses, the blanket of lilacs, and the pillow of camellias. But that's what happens in Edna Ferber's new book called "Mother Knows Best." Mother is "Ma Quill," who is "swathed in expensive mourning which transformed her into a sable pillar of woe." She gave the impression that she was counting the hours. Sally, the girl in the casket, was an actress. Despite the funeral opening, you'll read the book and like it.

Problems Of Vacation Are Discussed By Dean Gordon

Dean J. M. Gordon, of the Technological college, made a splendid talk on the vacation needs of supervised play and entertainment for school children at a meeting of the Dupre Parent-Teacher association Friday evening.

Dr. R. B. Hutchinson made a short talk on the care of the teeth, and a program was given on the value of trees by children in Mrs. Agnes Priddy's room. A solo was sung by Mrs. H. B. Hawkins and Mrs. T. A. White entertained with a reading. Punch and wafers were served to the seventy-five patrons and teachers in attendance.

Circus Dinner Served Las Chapparitas Club Members

A circus dinner was served Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hendley, 2115 6th street, to members of the Las Chapparitas club. Misses Pearl Hendley, Edna Younge, Afton Gilkerson and Mrs. Royce Waters were hostesses.

The table was in the club colors of black, yellow and red and was dressed with balloons, animal toys, confetti and other things that spoke of a circus. The dinner of hamburgers, pickles, olives, potato chips, red lemonade, strawberry ice cream and cakes were served from paper plates with tin knives and forks.

Guests were Mesdames Novelle Hemphill, Sylvia Wilson, Verna Wilson, Alameda Murray, Floyd Pryor, Marjorie Lehand, Mamie Wolfarth, Marjorie Hughes, Mary Louise Middleton, Ruth Starnes, Cynbol Patterson, Mattie Mae Renfro, Blanche Bradley, Pauline Scott and Cecil Dawson.

"The constitution has been amended how many times?" asks the attendant of Lucy as she pedals away her obesity in a reducing cabinet. "Nineteen," puffs Lucy, "but that's nothing to how my constitution's being amended right now." Above is an electric horse at the anti-fat institute and below, a flesh roller.

BY JULIA BLANSHARD

NEA Service Writer.

NEW YORK, April 30.—"Now You Ask One," and the questionnaire craze have invaded the field of fat. The very latest wrinkle in reducing methods de luxe hinges on this invasion. For while ladies, stout but alas not stylish, slough their awful pounds to oblivion in one of the world's most up-to-date reducing institutes, attendants regale them with the question-answer game.

Picture a huge hall-room in an old brown-stone house. Reducing apparatus lines the walls in 24 varieties; all going full tilt on patients—spiral rollers, an electric horse like the President's, a vibration table, an electric camel and electric cabinets. From the top of each cabinet protrudes a hot, fat face. The rest of the lady is busily peddling a bicycle inside while the hot lights sizzle off the fat. Stolidly, the lady's eyes watch a slim white-clad attendant who victim a question to each reducing machine in turn. An old-fashioned spelling bee—modernized!—And thus thousands of pounds of unwanted fat enter but never emerge from this brownstone house, dedicated to the new silhouette. Sixty-eight of them belong to the champion loser, a Committees from the various clubs were instructed to watch for spots that may be converted in beauty plots or small parks throughout the town, as they make their inspection trips in the clean-up campaign being sponsored by the women. The City Federation is to encourage the establishment of parks throughout the city, also. That evening they were guests of the women of the First Baptist church at a banquet and yesterday afternoon the girls were special guests of the American Association of University Women at a musical tea at Hotel Lubbock.

A. W. Jackson speaks. Coffee was laid for 170 when women of the First Baptist church served a three-course banquet to seniors Friday evening at the church. This is the second annual such banquet served by these women.

A. W. Jackson, of the Technological college faculty, made the principal address of the evening in a program that was given between courses. J. William Mason presided as toastmaster. Superintendent M. The group left here about 6 o'clock that morning in thirty cars and went to Igou ranch where breakfast was prepared. During the day the students enjoyed bathing, roving and fishing, returning to the original camp for dinner. Miss Kula Hurst, class sponsor, accompanied the group.

District Parent-Teacher Associations May Meet In Lubbock Next Spring; Dr. Paul W. Horn Granted Life Membership

The fifth annual meeting of the eighth district Texas Conference of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations probably will be in Lubbock, although official announcement of the place had not been made yesterday, according to delegates who returned late Friday night from Memphis where they attended the fourth annual conference for three days.

The invitation to meet in Lubbock next year was extended by Mrs. R. W. Camp, president of the P. T. A. council, who said yesterday that she was told by many of the delegates that they wanted to come to Lubbock next year and who was assured by members of the executive board that the meeting will be in Lubbock next spring.

Seven local women, who made up one of the largest delegations and Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the Technological college, were at the meeting. A talk made by Dr. Horn Wednesday evening on "Moral Training in the Home" was one of the outstanding addresses of the conference.

Horn Given Membership. President Horn was extended a particular honor at this conference when he was presented a life membership in the state association by the executive board of the eighth district.

The Lubbock associations had some of the best reports of the association and the fact that five life memberships have been taken in the state organization were the occasion of particular congratulation from Mrs. S. M. N. Mays for these societies. Mrs. Camp said. Wichita Falls and Amarillo had the best all-round reports from associations and their state high school organizations have been doing excellent work this year, she said.

Two New Associations. Of the 25 new associations which were reported for this year, two were in Lubbock, and both of these had representatives at the conference. They were the Sanders school, which was represented by Mrs. E. M. Smith, and the Duane school, which was represented by Mrs. Harry Hall. The convention, other delegates were Mrs. B. W. Camp, from the council, Mrs. G. T. Scales from the K. Carter school, Mrs. R. T. Campbell from Central ward school and Mrs. C. Y. Partain from the junior high school.

The women were very eager in their praise of the hospitality of Memphis and of the systematic way in which the convention was handled. Until two months ago there was no parent-teacher association in Memphis and the convention went there upon the invitation of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce. Last spring there was only one parent-teacher association in Hall county and it was at Salisbury, a place near Memphis, where a chicken barbecue was given Thursday evening for the visitors at the convention.

Many Social Events. Many social courtesies were extended the delegates giving them then an opportunity to become better acquainted. Among these were a luncheon at Memphis Hotel Thursday extended by the Chamber of Commerce, a luncheon Friday served by the federated missionary societies and a tea Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. A. Powell, given by the Memphis P. T. A. Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, of Bangor, state president, was at the meeting and made addresses each day on the parent teacher work, stressing particularly the summer round up.

Other outstanding speakers were Mrs. S. M. N. Mays, of Austin, national vice-president and educational secretary of the Texas congress; Mrs. Ira L. Cain, of Wichita Falls, state chairman of juvenile protection, and Miss Bess Edwards, home demonstration agent of A. and M. college, College Station.

Need Physical Training. One thing that received particular mention in the club reports and in the addresses that were given was that the progressive school has physical examinations for the students and gives a prominent place in the curriculum to physical education. Mrs. Camp related. Girl scouts of Memphis were present for the convention and Miss Pauline Wherry, of Dallas, regional director, was at the meeting.

A talk on "Cooperation of superintendent and the P. T. A." given Thursday afternoon by W. A. McIntosh, superintendent of Amarillo schools, was received with interest. The president of this district, Mrs. J. I. Kendrick, is a resident of Amarillo.

"An informed P. T. A." is to be the slogan for this district next year and in keeping with this a course in P. T. A. work is to be offered here in connection with the Technological college summer school, beginning on June 13 and lasting a week, Mrs. Camp stated yesterday.

Clean-up Campaign To Be Continued Under Club Sponsorship

The clean up and beautification campaign which was inaugurated in Lubbock last week under the particular sponsorship of the City Federation of Women's clubs, is to continue for several more weeks. It was announced yesterday. The women are urging especially that in cleaning premises people put their trash into containers in an alley in order that it may be picked up by city wagons and hauled off.

Smart Sportswear, Too, Is Found in Paris

SILK IS NOW THE THING FOR SPORTS, GERMAINE OPINES

Paris, April 30

Dear Cousin: Sports clothes? Well, my dear the minute you changed your mind about needing some. Aunt Louise and I opened our eyes and began looking around.

We saw everything from an entire calfskin riding habit worn by Miss Louquet of the Moulin Rouge on her early morning center to some adorable little track pants of brown flannel and a mottled brown and tan sweater top with a zipper opening worn by a sport girl who was playing handball outdoors.

Sporty Silks. It is my candid opinion that she who sports in silks this summer will be smartest. Jerseys lead now on the streets but the latest styles are two-piece silks. And such silks—they look like woollens or tweeds or cottons such as exquisite ginghams but they have that slinky something about them that endears them to the feminine heart.

I'm sending you two models. An innocent grace has the gray Crepe-lera Russian blouse frock. Chic signs its name to it with a smashing bow on the left shoulder, by two-inch tucked inserts running around the full skirt and by great pompons embroidered in chenille in that rich dark blue that misses black and yet is not navy.

Blue and Lavender. "Pansy" might be the name of the other sports model. Worth sure knew his colors when he fashioned it. Its feld blue skirt takes a canary yellow jumper blouse embroidered in lavender angras. The hat is green with a dozen little bandings of the colors of the dress. Angora, by the way, is quite the latest thing in trimming. This suit has one startling innovation—behold the sleevelet. I looked at it several times before I could believe it was there. Everything else I saw had long sleeves or none. It is whispered that this short sleeve heralds hundreds of the same type.

Getting away from sports temporarily, do let me tell you of the new play, "La Poupée Française" in which Madeleine Carlier is a "new woman" who carves her own life by dominating all the men who love her. Her titian bob, in the first place, is intriguing. The back is sleek as a man's but the front has irregular bangs that give her an urchin look. She wore a huge square linked bracelet in one arm and with it a heavy chain of square links which carried a square flat motif of black onyx that turned out to be her vanity case. Her clothes for this unusual mannish play, curiously, were very feminine. All of which stresses the fact that every day in every way women are getting more like their old selves, so far as dress is concerned.

French hostess is developing personality. I counted 12 different kinds of clocks and fancy heels on as many women at the Ritz. Inserts of dark color in light stockings is good form.

Monograms. Handkerchiefs deserve mention, though I know you are buying your own. The monogram is shortest. But monograms have grown sophisticated. They are intricate designs and you must know how to get through a labyrinth to decipher just what the lady's initials are. A rather intriguing touch for the man who would know a woman's name right away?

Your letter fretted us both a bit. You will make a mistake if you start in too heavily on post-lenten parties. Don't get all tired out for the real bridal parties that are scheduled for the last few days before the wedding. There's nothing on earth worse than a tired-out looking bride. Girls are often silly, but you won't be, will you?

Let me know which frocks you want.
Love,
GERMAINE.

Nurses Examinations Given Eighteen Graduates

Eighteen graduate nurses from Ft. Worth, Lubbock, Amarillo and Plainview yesterday completed a two day series of examinations given them by the state board. The examinations were given in the nurses classrooms of the Lubbock sanitarium, under the direction of Miss Edna Tweedle, superintendent of nurses in that institution. Ten subjects were included in the examinations and before a graduate nurse can receive her state certificate she must make a grade of at least 70 percent in each subject. C. E. Hunt, business manager stated.

The following nurses took the examinations, results of which will not be known for several weeks: Misses Zona Crouch, Mildred Garrett, Neeta Farr, Elsie McCombs, Bertha Andre, Eva Jones, Maude Watson, Mary Chappell, all of Amarillo; Mrs. Clara John, Fort Worth; Misses Alice Watson and Stella Sellers, of Plainview; Misses Jewel Motley, Gladys Meyers, Irene Abernathy, Mary Anderson, Laura Brown, Mrs. Gladys Scott-Hawes and Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder, all of Lubbock.

Mrs. J. S. Johnson Hostess At Large Bridge Party Complimentary To Mmes Hagerty And Martin, Visitors In City

As a farewell courtesy to Mrs. Roy N. Hagerty, of St. Paul, Minn., and Mrs. Marion Martin, of Houston, who have returned to their homes after visiting here Mrs. J. S. Johnson was hostess at bridge Friday afternoon at her home, 2002 Broadway.

Mrs. Hagerty, who has been the house guest of her aunt, Mrs. A. V. Weaver, 1901 Broadway, left for her home Friday night and Mrs. Martin, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. L. A. Posey, left yesterday for her home. Mrs. Martin was formerly Miss Frances Posey.

Attractive floral decorations were used by the hostess for her party with different colors in each of three rooms. Bunches of pink carnations and orchid sweet peas were used in the living room, yellow iris and orchid sweet peas were in the dining room and American beauty roses were arranged in the parlor. Old-fashioned ladies were painted on the score cards.

Mrs. A. N. Weaver received the high score favor in the games of bridge and Mrs. Colquitt Williams received low score. The honorees were each presented with a gift by the hostess.

There were a number of out-of-town guests for the party. They were Mrs. I. A. Hampton, of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Robert Jennings, of Dallas; Mrs. Colquitt Williams, of Comanche; and Mrs. James Pryor, of Amarillo.

Other guests were Mesdames Claude Harbut, R. C. Smith, Kenneth I. Kimbro, Lawrence Bacon, Tom E. Dugan, Floyd Beall, Ned H. Wright, Sam Denman, Frank Jones, A. V. Weaver, D. K. Bondurant, Charles Read, Velton Spikes, Roscoe Wilson, Dorrance D. Roderick, Herbert Lowery, E. D. Ewin, J. A. McCreary, Greenville G. Johnson, Carl Roberts, Jr., Floyd Bowen, William J. Miller, O. L. Peterman, L. E. Davis, John B. Cifer, W. E. Pomeroy, Hub Jones and Misses Evelyn Posey, Mary Staton, Irma Dalrymple and Lulu Mae Cravens.

Mrs. Johnson was assisted by Mrs. Frank Jones in serving afternoon snack, bread and butter sandwiches, olives, individual strawberry short cake and iced tea to the guests.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

16th Street and Avenue J.

What a fine thing it is that humanity has been given in the Providence of God, one day in seven that we can lay aside the numerous activities that so occupy our time and weigh down upon our shoulders. So the Lord's Day is a rest day. A day when we can meditate upon His wonderful blessings; and go to church and meet with our fellow-travelers along life's journey. Sing together and pray together and worship together.

You of course will be found today in the church at your choice, and then you will go to your work on Monday with a greater zeal for humanity and things worth-while.

The Young People's week starts today, and at the morning services in all the churches of our city the services will be in keeping with the Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls. This will give a good start for the strenuous program planned for the whole week, as you have already seen published in our daily papers.

Our Bible school begins at 9:45 a. m. with Harold H. Griffith, superintendent. The pastor will have for his sermon theme at 11:00 a. m. Seeking God in Life's morning. This sermon will be especially to the young people.

At 8:00 p. m. the services will be in two divisions. Twenty minutes will be given to the graduation of the young men and women who graduated in the Export Endeavor school—they will receive diplomas.

Then the pageant "The Keeper of the Keys" will be given, under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Watson. You will not want to miss this pageant. It is one of the most interesting and inspirational ever presented in our church. We extend a cordial invitation to the general public to all services. The choir and orchestra will furnish special music.

"I was glad when they said unto me let us go into the house of the Lord."

Rev. W. P. Jennings, pastor.

Messenger Boy Is A Part Of Business

Alert Youngsters In City Are Happy

Hurrying to and fro with the impersonality of an automaton while he bears the vital life, messages of love, death, protest, triumph and disappointment, so completely is the messenger boy overshadowed by the news he bears that the ordinary person seldom notices him at all, unless it is when the motorist catches his breath, as on his bicycle, he wheels and weaves with hawk-like accuracy through traffic, bent upon continual errands.

No complete in his detachment that when addressed by some impatient customer, ordinarily, the words are, "Here boy."

Yet there is no person who is more of an individualist, who complements a fuller philosophy of life and acuteness in judging human nature than the telegraph lad. Humanity is his text book from which he receives his education and the stock he trades in.

Part of Business Day

Bent upon the discharge of his duties, the olive drabbed figure is hardly noticed among the every day throng of Lubbock, yet when particular notice is taken he is always found to be included in the hurry and scurry of the business of the day.

Lubbock, according to Ira Jenkins, local Western Union manager who has spent several years with the company in various towns, has the best squad of messengers of any he has ever worked. He is proud of the work the boys are doing and is endeavoring to keep their interest at its height all the time.

Six youngsters between the ages of 15 and 16 years carry Lubbock's messages to and fro. They traverse the town many times in their calls. A check-up on the records of the company for the past 28 days reveals that the boys have made a total of 2,567 trips, each averaging approximately four blocks. By doing a little calculating, it is found that each boy averages about 50 calls each day. During the past 28 days they have delivered a total of 5,233 messages, and picked up messages which are sent out of town, a total of 1,573.

Boys are interested in these messengers, we do not find any boys who are working merely because the work is a "job." They are interested in the work and intend to climb higher.

Number 1 messenger of the squad is Otto Wiers, a small, freckled red haired chap who has been with the company for the past two years, thereby attaining the position he now holds. Otto is the chief of the squad and has charge of a greater part of their work during the day. He does office work mostly, yet when there is a message to be delivered or a call to be made he is always ready. Starting to work at 7:30 in the morning, he is on duty until 6:30 in the afternoon. Left an orphan at an early age, the lad has managed to support himself and store up a goodly sum along also. It may sound like an Alger story, but at present the boy is the proud owner of a lot in Highland Heights and also has a $1,000 insurance policy. His salary runs a little more than $50 each month. Otto will not hold his present position very much longer. At present he is taking lessons in telegraphy and already, after barely four months study, is able to send with the aptness of a veteran. He plans to go in as an operator in the near future.

Number 2 position is occupied by Warner Barnes, while Clyde Wheeler holds down messenger number 3's place. Charles Connelly is messenger number 4 and R. A. Carmichael is number 5 and his brother, Leo, is number 6 messenger. Albert Osborne, a former member of the squad, holds a relief position now. Very few changes are made in the squad unless sickness, or something else intervenes. A majority of the boys leave the service after they reach the age of 18.

Efficiency, accuracy and speed are the three things which determine the work of the boys and things which they each try to observe. The city of Lubbock is divided into 8 zones and a certain allotment of time is given for a trip to each zone. For instance, five minutes is allowed to deliver a message in zone A, which is hardly more than a block from the office. Zone B, which is still longer from the office requires 10 minutes for delivery, while as the zones widen out, the time allowed for delivery is greater. Zone C deliveries are allowed 14 minutes; zone D, 20 minutes; zone E, 25 minutes; zone F, 33 minutes; zone G, 45 minutes, and zone H, 60 minutes. As the town grows more zones are added and more time is allowed for deliveries to the zones.

Job Not So Hard, They Say

"We don't have so much of a hard time," one of the boys said. "I like my job and intend to stay with it." One of the greatest difficulties in making deliveries, the boys say, is in riding during wet and muddy weather where there are no sidewalks. Dogs, too, are a bother, the boys say. They are often tempted to turn back when confronted with a big dog at the front door or on the porch.

"It's funny, this matter of getting messages," the boys say. "People always get excited when we arrive on the scene." Many interesting and queer incidents of the behavior of individuals upon the receipt of messages can be related one after another by the boys.

System is one of the keynotes of the work of the boys also. They are required to keep a check on each message they deliver and each one they bring in for sending out. Regulations concerning the personal appearance of the boys are lax, but still they are strong enough. Each boy must own the greater part of his equipment. His olive drab uniform is furnished by the company. He has to keep it laundered each week. He must always keep his hair combed and his hands and face well cleaned. When entering an office, the boys are taught to always remove their caps. Stop and think, have you ever seen a messenger boy who did not remove his cap before entering the office, he is called to, no matter if there is no one in the room but himself and a few business men.

They Do Delivery Work

Besides their regular duties as messenger boys, the various stores and businesses over town who do not have such large deliveries, send for the boys to deliver their packages for them. A large amount of money is made by the boys each month in this manner. During the past 28 days, the boys have earned $96.25 by carrying packages on their routes. Tips come with their work also, although this practice is discouraged by the company. The company is to give each boy a certain per cent of this money in the future.

Even though their salaries are comparatively low, the boys manage to get along all right. Two of the boys support themselves, while two are giving their money to the support of their mother. Their duties are many and varied, the boys say. They are called upon to run errands of many kinds throughout the night. Even one of the boys acted as a nurse for a woman's baby while she went to the show last week. Household duties receive a great deal of attention from these boys also. Acting as guides and various other duties are included in their work too.

It's not so hard after all, $50 to $45 per month are not bad salaries. And you must remember the boys are still youngsters. They will be able to remain dear to the hearts of many for the kind deeds they have rendered. Remember when you come down to work some morning and see a little olive drabbed youngster riding ahead of you, you are sure that something has been done, will be done or is being done.

Even though the lads are seen every day upon the streets, they will always earn more when they grow up.

Change It!

Now they have phonographs that change their own records and play hours without stopping. They'd better not try to play ours without stopping. If these machines could play two or three different tunes at once they'd be almost as good as the radio. There's an untried solution to this broadcasting station problem. Put them in the hands of the receivers. They say there are still thousands of saxophone players. But there are so many thousands who are not still. It is in favor of trying it.

MANY PLAY-GROUNDS OF WEST TEXAS BECKON TO WEEK-END VACATIONISTS

Answering a lure just beyond mental grasp, splashed with comedy of gatherte at times, are the things Lubbock does on Sunday.

From the college youth that just wants to watch the people to the man infected with picnic germs, who with a galloping horse as a firing carpet, goes scuttling away each idle moment

to later in spots of scenic grandeur,
the city has them all.

The business man takes to the links to abuse his golf score.

Another, intrigued with some soul-satisfying quality to be derived from digging ones hands in the dirt, battles sun and wind to create a small oasis of flowers and grass, which the neighbors all admire.

An English professor goes out to the municipal park and tries to get the purrer to talk (it called a player a-liar once while he was adding up his score and he has been interested ever since).

Two young people, snared by the weird, lonely appeal of the plains' lunar nights, drive and drive with never a word, going nowhere in particular and wrapped in a warm silence which somehow has a language of its own.

The humorist traps some novice into his auto and takes him over the humps, getting fiendish glee out of each frightened squeal coming from the cowering rear of his car as he makes the waves in the county playground.

Recreation is Offered

But to the man who knows where,
and with an auto as an open sesame the plains offers recreation second to none. Most any filling station can offer a tip in the regard.

A vision of marshmallows and wein-ies bubbling over yellow coals, of a cork bobbing lazily in a pool, or the pleasant churn of water as you do the crawl stroke, weekly draws a large percentage of the city's population into the ranks of the vacationers, who frequent the pleasure spots of the Plains.

For members only is Lubbock's own pleasure resort, just completed at Buffalo Springs. Here boating, fishing, swimming and other pleasures are to be had. If you wish, you can climb the hills above the springs and see if you can throw rocks to the water.

Forty five miles east is Silver Falls, with boating, swimming, and on weeknights dancing. Rugged scenery and ideal picnic grounds are found here.

An equal distance to Fort is Two-draw lake, with more boats, and swimming, and with the scout camp nearby.

Palo Duro is Popular

North is the Palo Duro canyon, a yawning chasm several hundred feet below the level of the Plains, with its striking, broken scenery. Included is sun spots as the Devil's kitchen on the Harding ranch, a freakish formation after the style of a cave with a large round hole or skylight in the top looking out through the rocks high above, which is said to have served as "The Devil's smokestack".

A modern pleasure resort, with horseback riding and other sports has been established there, together with ample conveniences.

Following Yellowhouse canyon south from this city, one finds many ideal spots for picnicking and laying away
the time.

A days drive south and west of Roswell the White Mountains and the pleasure resort of Ruidoso, thousands of feet above sea level, bring chill beverages and wine-like mountain air to the vacationer while West Texas is sweltering under a summer sun.

Fishing At San Angelo
Southward toward San Angelo is Devil's river, and other nationally fishing grounds, and on further the Davis Mountains, where an ideal vacation can be spent.

For a week end trip, one can drive to the Carlsbad cavern, one of the wonders of the world. The journey can be made from here by starting Saturday, going through the Cavern Sunday, and driving back that night.

Not Everyone Trades at Grollman's

so this is a message to those.

We are unafraid of the verdict to be rendered by the many thousands of people of the South Plains who favored Grollman's with an inspection of the store's merchandise and PRICE during the Demon-

We have no reason to doubt but that these thousands know that good merchandise can be bought at Grollman's as cheap or cheap-

Grollman's store enjoys an unique buying position — New York resident buyers and Mr. Grollman's own personal experience and former connectioi with WHOLESALERS. Regardless of the name — NO
OTHER store on the South Plains can buy CHEAPER—or more ad-

Now we have the pleasant opportunity of showing you what Grollman's REGULAR EVERYDAY PRICES will mean to you. We propose to thoroughly convince you that any day in the week is the

LUBBOCK, LUBBOCK COUNTY, TEXAS SUNDAY, MAY, 1, 1927

MEANS "BY ASSOCIATED PRESS"

PLAN TO REDUCE INTEREST PAID BY CITY ON WARRANTS WILL BE PLACED BEFORE CITIZENS ON NEXT TUESDAY

The citizenship of Lubbock will vote next Tuesday, May 2, on a funding bond issue of $450,000, the plan that has been adopted by the City Commission to reduce the interest paid by the city on warrants by $4,500 annually over a period of years ranging from eleven to thirty. The total amount that will be saved in interest on the several issues during the entire period of the life of the warrants, if the bonds are voted, will be $151,814, approximately.

All the warrants now outstanding against the city treasury, all of which it is planned to refinance by the bond issue, total $650,598, and all bear six per cent interest, without an exception. The city commission recently contracted for sale of the bond issue contingent upon the success of the election, at the interest rate of five per cent, bringing a saving of one per cent annually on all warrants, and this saving calculated over the long period that the warrants run, will be approximately $151,814, or about one-fifth of the total amount of the warrants.

Some comment has been heard occasionally that the bond issue to be voted is not all a funding proposition, but tabulation of the order for the election which has been carried in the Sunday Avalanche-Journal for three or four weeks reveals that the total of the amounts outstanding in warrants is $568 more than the bond issue is called for.

Election Order Explained
 Reducing the election order to the amounts outstanding and the date of maturity of the final warrant, it is found: (Interest saving given in round numbers).

No. 1, for $50,000 issued for waterworks and sewer extension, series of 1923, dated January 10, 1923 and maturing finally January 10, 1927. One per cent annual interest saving on this issue amounts to $10,000 over the twenty year period from the present time.

No. 2, for $18,000, funding warrants dated April 15, 1924 and maturing finally January 10, 1940. Interest saved on this issue will be $2,340 over the thirteen year period from present.

No. 3, for $24,600, for improvements at electric plant, dated October 26, 1924, maturing finally February 1, 1939. Interest saving by the bond issue is $2,568.

No. 4, for $21,818, for incinerator plant, dated May 1, 1925, maturing finally February 1, 1945 after 20 years. Interest saving by bonds is $3,927.

No. 5, for $29,880, for light plant improvements, dated July 15, 1925, maturing finally July 15, 1945, 18 years from present. Interest saving by bonds $3,778.

No. 6, for $60,000, electric light plant improvement, dated January 1, 1926, maturing finally January 1, 1951, 24 years from present. Interest saving by bonds $12,800.

Big Saving Here
 No. 7, for $150,000, funding warrants to group several smaller issues, dated May 20, 1926, maturing finally May 20, 1951, 24 years from present. Interest saving by bonds $36,000.

No. 8, for $45,000, funding warrants to group smaller issues, dated August 16, 1926, maturing finally May 20, 1948, 21 years from present. Interest saving by bonds $9,450.

No. 9, for $40,000, funding warrants to group smaller issues, dated November 1, 1926, maturing finally May 20, 1951, 24 years from present. Interest saving by bonds $8,000.

No. 10, $4,500, waterworks improvement, dated December 10, 1926, maturing finally May 20, 1938, eleven years from present. Interest saving by bonds $722.

No. 11, $44,650, electric light plant improvement, dated March 25, 1927, maturing finally May 20, 1957, 30 years from present. Interest saving by bonds $12,395.

No. 12, for $75,000, funding warrants to group smaller issues and build new water tower and sub-station for fire department, dated March 25, 1927, maturing finally May 20, 1957. Interest saving by bonds $18,750.

No. 13, for $57,000, waterworks extension, dated March 21, 1927, maturing finally May 20, 1957, 30 years from date. Interest saving by bonds $17,100.

No. 14, for $28,800, funding warrants to group smaller issues, dated March 31, 1927, maturing finally May 20, 1957, 30 years from date. Interest saving by bonds $8,400.

Support is Pledged

Various civic organizations of the city, including the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, and women's organizations have pledged whole-hearted support of the refinancing bond issue, and in view of the great saving that will be effected, little opposition to the issue is anticipated by city officials and others.

The question is wholly whether or not the people of Lubbock want to save themselves in taxes the more than $150,000 in reduced interest payments. Mayor Frank L. Parrish said:

Polls will be maintained at the city hall, opening Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock. A strong appeal is going out for a large vote. R. T. Penney, W. E. Ballew and J. B. Hearrell have been named as election judges.

MCDONALD WINS TRAPSHOOT OF AMARILLO GUN CLUB

Mr. McDonald broke 47 out of a possible 56. The cup was formerly in the possession of E. E. Finkler. McDonald is a member of both the Hereford Gun Club and the Amarillo Gun Club.

Cattle Governor

Colorado has hired a pilot 15 years older than the state—Governor William H. Adams, known to Colorado people as Governor Billy. The new executive has divided most of his 65 years between the ranch saddle and a Senate seat. He was first elected to the legislature in '85. He has more than 4000 cattle on his ranches.

HIGHWAY MEETING IS HELD IN ROTAN

SECOND CO-OPERATIVE SESSION IS HELD TO PLAN FOR BETTER ROADS

The second co-operative movement for continuous hard surfaced highways in West Texas was launched Friday evening in a meet at Rotan of representatives from all towns along state highway No. 84 in seven counties west from the western border of Texas when attendants from the various towns pledged themselves to support and put over bond issues in the seven counties to finance the counties' part of the project. Pettus Hamphill, division engineer of the State Highway department said here Saturday after returning from the meeting.

Representatives at the meeting came from the counties of Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Fisher and Jones, the connecting link on the hard surface highway between Fort Worth and Roswell. Major Hamphill said he told the gathering that he believed the State Highway department would be glad to participate in such a project of concerted effort, and urged voting of bonds by the various counties affected.

Kent County Plans Laid

Kent county already had plans under way on its part of the project, backed by a bond issue voted recently in the amount of $350,000. Engineers are now engaged in finishing up plans and specifications, and these will be in shape for advertising for bids in about 20 days, it was said.

The representatives from Fisher county at the meeting agreed to support and put over bond issue of $250,000 to finance their part of the project, and representatives from other counties at the meeting pledged a bond issue of $30,000 per mile to aid the project.

The other co-operative movement in West Texas, on a part of which work is already under way, is the Lee highway east and west across a tier of nine counties from Vernon to Farwell. Two or three of these nine counties already have voted bond issues, and others are contemplating a vote on similar issues in the immediate future. Wilbarger, Foard, Cottle, Motley, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Bailey and Parker counties are affected by this project.

LaVerne Kershner Snake-Bite Victim

LaVerne Kershner, Lubbock man, who has been sojourning in the Rio Grande Valley in the interest of his health the past several weeks, was bitten by a rattlesnake while on a recent fishing trip and the first finger on his right hand must be amputated as a result, Mrs. Kershner said yesterday. The injured man is now in a Brownsville hospital awaiting the operation which will come the early part of this week. His oldest son, Randall, is at his side. Following the bite, Mr. Kershner was forced to walk 15 miles through the rain to get a car to carry him to Brownsville, his wife reports.

Machines Surpass Man in Making Auto Parts

(This is the sixth in a series of stories on how the modern automobile is made.)

By ISRAEL KLEIN
 NEA Service Writer

One reason why your dollar goes farther in the purchase of an automobile than any other commodity these days is the use of labor saving and time saving machinery.

This was seen in the manufacture of the parts that go to make up the engine—in a lathe that takes the place of 10 men, in another that takes the place of six, in instruments that eliminate the human element of error.

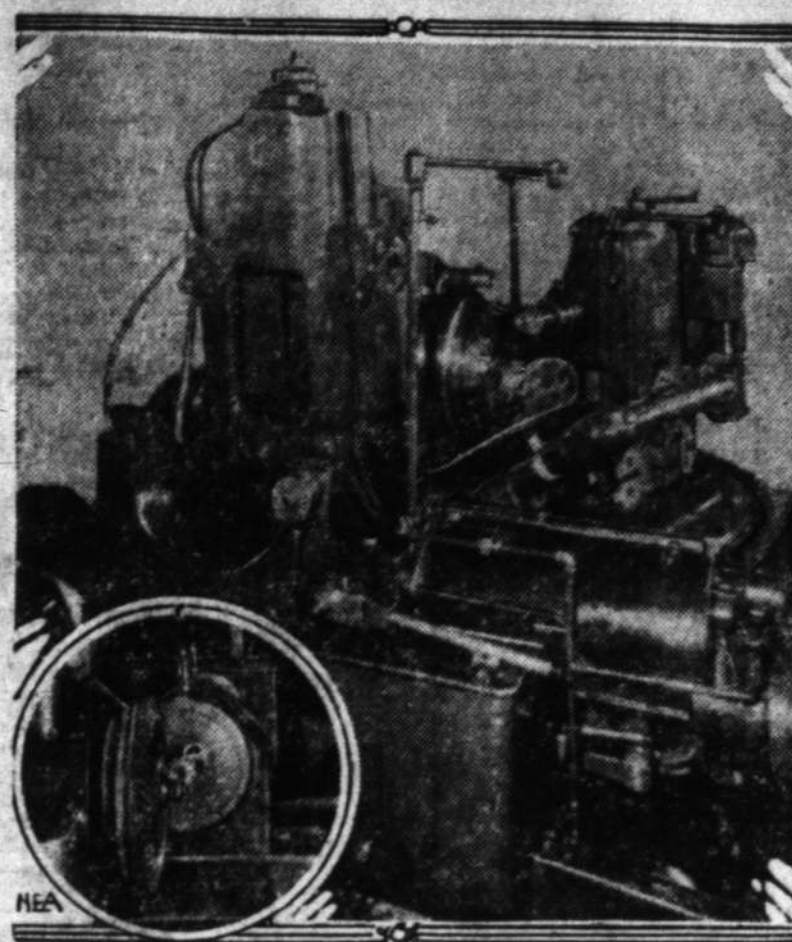

This is further brought out in the manufacture of the remaining parts of the car. Heavy, cumbersome machinery is lined up along the floors of automobile plants nowadays, each working electrically, each doing its share automatically, accurately and without the slightest difference among the parts turned out.

There is one gear cutting machine, for instance, that requires only a man's supervision. It goes through four different operations, moving first this way, then that, cutting a tooth to shape and size, then moving on to the next.

After being cut down the gears are ground down to exact size and cross-section instruments for exactness of dimensions and angles.

Hardened by Heat and Oil
 Gears, because of the heavy strain they must undergo, are "heat treated."

Swinging in, out and around, this machine cuts the teeth of an entire gear without the aid of man. Inset shows a set of gears on test in the silent room.

IMPORTANT CASES READY FOR TRIAL IN DISTRICT COURTS HERE; CITY IS FACING $25,000 SUIT FOR DAMAGES

M. Lucera, Mexican, is to be arraigned for trial on the first of three cases charging violation of the prohibition laws Monday morning in 72nd criminal district court here before Judge Homer L. Pharr, while the 99th court, presided over by Judge Clark M. Mulligan, will open trial of a civil case against the city of Lubbock wherein Grace Thompson, widow of Claude Thompson, is seeking collection of $25,000 alleged damages as the result of the death of Mr. Thompson July 5, 1925, by an electric current line from the city's plants.

Fifteen cases are slated for trial in 72nd criminal court during the week, including three against Lucera. Others are: Frank Lynch (two cases), Earnest Westbrook (two cases), Dan Althoff, W. N. Heacock, J. L. Denning, H. E. Gibson (three cases), Spencer Miles and John Brooks, all charging violation of the prohibition laws. Two similar cases, filed against C. Weisinger and J. C. Anderson were continued until the following week.

Other Cases Set
 Other cases than that against the city set for trial during the week in 99th court before Judge Mulligan are: O. M. Unger vs. L. F. Piwonka et al.; G. A. Gunn vs. Mrs. J. J. Baker; M. P. Brock vs. C. S. Inman; Myrick Hardware company vs. Mrs. Jessie Summers Killin, Mayer and Kiser vs. C. A. Pierce.

Mrs. Thompson, in her original petition against the city, charges that her husband, then an employee of the Gentry garage, was killed by an electric current from the city's lines due to negligence on the part of the city in permitting too heavy a charge of electricity to course over the line that entered the garage, and which was being handled by her husband when he was killed. Mrs. Thompson is joined in the suit by her daughter, Frances Neal Thompson, a minor, and asks $25,000 damages.

Mr. Thompson was electrocuted by a light line the evening of July 5, 1925, while working in the Gentry shop in the north part of the city. Hedges and Crenshaw will represent the plaintiff, and Bean, Klett and Bean will represent the defendant, city.

BILLIONS IN INDUSTRY
 The automobile industry's greatness may be surmised from the fact that it pays out $6,000,000,000 a year in wages to 3,500,000 persons, pays $700,000,000 in taxes and ranks third in the value of its exports and first in the value of its product.

Leading Public Preference In a Wave of Eight Buying

As predicted months ago, the Hupmobile Eight has not only precipitated a sweeping swing toward eights, but is making its influence felt in the matters of motor car prices and public preference.

Hupmobile proves that the finest eight performance has come down from the higher price ranges—that utmost motor-ing distinction and quality can be bought for $2500.

By its constantly refined engineering, by new beauties of line and color and by unusually complete equipment—added to its unsurpassed smoothness and ease—Hupmobile Eight continues today to increase its leadership among the eights.

It is supplanting both costlier eights and high-priced sixes, because it provides for the first time the embodiment of eight-cylinder superiorities with sound simplicity and exceptional economy.

A half-hour's ride in the latest series Hupmobile Eight will reveal new qualities of brilliant performance—will convince you that higher expenditure can bring no greater return in luxury motoring.

Nyda rose, posing a little self-consciously, with one long, slim hand on her hip. "Mother had already gone to work when your telegram came this morning, Mr. Curtis. I hope it's all right for me to come alone—"

"I have been casting about for weeks for a plan by which I could bring happiness to at least a few members of the only family I have left—my store family. It has struck me, during the years that I have been an employer, that girls have a much harder time of it than young men. If circumstances force them to go to work early, any high ambitions they may have are sacrificed to the immediate necessity of making a living. It was to keep your ambitions that During the year that you will be my foster daughters—if you accept my offer—each of you will be trained for the work for which you have expressed a big ambition."

Billy was forced to utter admiration for Nyda's self-control. Not by a flicker of her pet black eyelashes did she betray the fact that her ambition had been born in Eddie Banning's fertile, crafty brain, and that she disliked children with all her lazy, man-crazy nature.

"Well, for words, T. Q. jeered at her. 'Billy, I have heard you play. I believe you have genius. I hear that my son believes you are destined to be the greatest American violinist. He should know, for he has heard the best musicians alive today. Now, little girl, you're going to have your chance. First—how do you like this?'"

"I hope all three of you will decide to accept my offer. I shall do my utmost to make you happy. Good morning."

CHRYSLER GAINING IN EXPORT TRADE

Evidence of pronounced improvement in world trade conditions is seen by Chrysler officials in marked gains that their recent export business has been registering over even the high totals it reached in 1926.

Chrysler overseas sales during the month of March were the largest in any month of the company's history it is announced and the first three months of 1927 ran far ahead of any previous Chrysler quarter. March gains represented an increase of 88.5 per cent over the same month last year, it is stated, while the first quarter of 1927 was 74.1 per cent above the first three months of 1926, which marked a high point in Chrysler exports until the present totals were recorded.

Heavier Volume Seen

A feature of the export figures according to the Chrysler officials, is the fact that orders are being received in heavier volume from practically every part of the world, indicating an encouraging revival of prosperity on a widespread basis. The only exception to this condition is found in the few parts of the globe where political disturbances have demoralized industry, while everywhere else the desire and ability of the people to buy American automobiles reflect much improved business and employment conditions.

Chrysler business abroad has never been as good as now, company spokesmen declare. Expansion of the company's export trade last year led to an increase in 1926 export totals over 1925 of approximately 50 per cent, but with the development of overseas sales now manifesting itself, confidence is expressed that the gain during 1927 will be even greater.

PONTIAC NOW MADE IN DELIVERY FORM

DELUXE COMMERCIAL CHASSIS IS ANNOUNCED BY OAKLAND MOTOR CAR CO.

PONTIAC, Mich., April 30.—The Oakland Motor Car Co. announces the Pontiac Six DeLuxe Delivery chassis without body, in addition to the two models, with screen and panel bodies, already introduced. While the screen and panel body types meet most business requirements, certain lines need other types of bodies, and it is to such users that the chassis is offered.

The chassis has the famous Pontiac Six engine, which has demonstrated its stamina and dependability in both passenger and commercial vehicles. Interchangeable bronze backed bearings, large piston pins, honed cylinders, and a lubrication system which circulates 250 gallons of oil an hour at an average speed of 35 miles per hour, are among the unusual features. It has heavy duty tires and heavier rear springs.

Cowl Is Harmonizing

The chassis is fitted with a cowl especially designed to harmonize with any body which may be selected. Pro-

Mud Roads Take Annual Spring Toll, Proving The Value Of Good Highways

By NEA Service

CHICAGO, April 30.—Poor road conditions have thrown rural district into their annual spring slump.

To make some sort of progress, however, motor truck loads have been or-tempt marketing because of the high cost of reduced by state highway commissions. In Indiana the reduction varies from one-fourth to one-half.

Practically all northern and many mid-western and eastern states long ago empowered their highway commissions to reduce truck loads over dirt and gravel roads during wet periods when heavily loaded wheels would convert them into impassable bogs.

These states include Colorado, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Idaho, Indiana, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Nevada, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Wisconsin and Rhode Island.

Weight reduction only partially solves the problem, highway authorities point out. Farmers are unable to market their crops quickly and profitably and in many cases where light loads are permitted it is undesirable to st-cost and uncertainty of reaching the city.

Accurate figures compiled by a truck company reveal that a heavily loaded truck will travel twice as far on a gallon of gasoline over a good pavement as when traveling over a dirt road.

STUDEBAKER SETS NEW SPEED RECORD

COMMANDER ON COAST GIVEN CREDIT FOR MANY NEW ENDURANCE MARKS

CULVER CITY, Calif., April 30.—In one of the most remarkable and gruelling tests ever made with an automobile, a Studebaker Commander has just established six new speed and endurance records for fully equipped American-made stock cars. The Contest Board of the American Automobile Association, whose representatives checked and observed the entire test, today announced the result of the run which was completed April 3 at Culver City, Calif.

The Studebaker Commander covered 5000 miles in 4909 minutes, maintaining an average speed of 61.12 miles per hour. In establishing this record, the Commander also set four other records for American stock cars. A record for 2500 miles was set by the elapsed time of 40 hours, 12 minutes and 54 seconds, an average speed of 62.16 miles per hour. In 50 elapsed hours, the car had covered 3102 1/2 miles, setting an average of 62.05 miles per hour.

Nearly 57 Hours Consumed
At 3500 miles, the elapsed time equaled 56 hours, 47 minutes, 32 1/2 seconds, an average speed of 61.22 miles per hour. At the end of 72 hours elapsed time, the car had travelled at a standstill. Mail deliveries are behind time and frequently the only touch the rural resident has with the outside world is through the telephone and radio.

In certain counties in Illinois rural roads were impassable a full third of the year before paving. This entailed a loss to farmers because of inaccessible primary markets. However, thru a sagacious application of highway funds Illinois has built six thousand miles of good hard pavements which have resulted in year-round farm activity.

4414 miles at an average of 61.3 miles per hour. The completion of the run, 5000 miles, was made at 3.03 a. m., April 2. The elapsed time for this distance was 81 hours, 48 minutes, 22 seconds. The average speed, 61.12 miles per hour. No automobile or other vehicle in America has ever traveled so far, at such a terrific speed.

The total elapsed time included for stopping for fuel, relief of drivers, etc. In view of this, the average speed of the car under actual running was far greater than a mile a minute. Except for one punctured tire, the replacement of a grease cup and two chassis lubrication cups damaged in quick greasing operations, no repairs were made on the car during the entire run.

Harry Hartz, champion race driver, started and finished the run. He was relieved by Eddie Hearn, also one of America's great speed kings, Louis Wilson, another race driver, and Ab Jenkins, who finished all previous records last June when he drove a Studebaker Sheriff from New York to San Francisco in 86 hours, 20 minutes.

GENERAL MOTORS EARNINGS GREAT

NEARLY 53 THOUSAND DOLLARS EARNED BY FIRM IN FIRST QUARTER

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., President, General Motors Corporation, made the following statement regarding the earnings of the Corporation for the first quarter:

Net earnings of General Motors Corporation, including equity in subsidiary operations, applicable to dividends for the first quarter ending on March 31, 1927, were $52,551,408. This compares with $44,911,518 for the corresponding period of a year ago, an increase of $7,639,790. For the sake of this comparison there has been included in the last year's earnings the minority interest in Fisher Body Corporation at that time outstanding. After deducting dividends on preferred and Delacorte stock, there remains applicable to Common stock $50,498,378 for the current period as compared with $43,009,983 a year ago, the comparison being made on the same basis. The earnings in the first quarter of 1927 equaled $5.80 per share on the common stock. In corresponding quarter last year, not including the minority interest in the Fisher Body Corporation, earnings amounted to $5 per share.

on the Common stock then outstanding after making allowance for the increased number of shares resulting from the stock dividend paid September 14, 1926.

Current conditions are satisfactory. Detailed statement will be forwarded to stockholders in due course.

SAINT AND SINNER

COPYRIGHT 1926 NEA

"Now, Mr. Anderson," Churchill advanced upon the witness, a sheaf of notes in his hand. "You have testified here that the defendant, Mrs. Wiley, cried out to her husband, 'You made me do it!' Had there been anything in her previous conversation to indicate to you what she meant by it?"

MACHINES-MAN

That changes their crystal structure and hardens them.

Heat treatment includes putting a part into a furnace and bringing it up to a definite temperature, when the metal becomes red hot. It is then dipped into an oil bath where it is kept for a definite time to satisfy the demands for hardening.

The gear at the end of the camshaft has to be hardened by heat treatment, but the shaft itself must remain tough and comparatively soft and tensile. So all of the shaft except the gear end is copper coated by an electroplating process. This protects the shaft itself from the process of hardening.

After the gears are finished and heat treated, they are set up in experimental transmission cases, in small enclosed rooms. Here each transmission set is run by a motor outside, to be tested for silence.

The least noise is detected and located, the motor is stopped and the gears are ground down further by means of a portable grinding machine. They are also tested for play with an instrument, similar to hundreds scattered through the plant, that multiplies any deviation from the true ten-fold.

How Carburetor is Made

The carburetor, too, is tested on the shaft of a motor for ease and positiveness in operation, after its many intricate parts have been tested individually.

Even finer is the carburetor in its manufacture. Here is perhaps the most complicated part in the entire car, and the most sensitive. Every measurement, every angle and thread must be accurate to make it an efficient mechanism.

The modern carburetor, with its thermostat arrangement, its fly valve for backfire control and all its other useful gadgets, goes through 43 distinct operations in its manufacture.

The simplest operation here might be some respects become complicated and precise. In one case a large monitor lathe takes six manipulations to a small hole and cut a thread in the carburetor. One man handles this, where formerly several had to cover the operation, or it took one many times as long.

Quick Work on Chassis

One of the greatest labor savers is a gang drill, which drills as many as 32 holes at the same time, all of varying sizes, into each channel bar of the chassis frame.

The chassis itself, especially in the higher grade cars, is electrically welded or riveted, as required. After this there is the completion of the radiator and fenders and the construction of the body, to have all the parts necessary for the final assembly.

The rear transmission and axle are first put together and tested by a dynamometer. They are put into the chassis and this part takes its first run along a floor-conveyor through a series of assembly operations that bring it up in the end a complete chassis, needing only the installation of the engine.

Engine Assembly and Test

The engine assembly is separate, going along from bare crankcase and cylinder block, in a slow steady line through the process of installing crankshaft and camshaft, gears and pistons and connecting rods—each step being checked for trueness. The ignition system, usually bought outside, is attached by electrical experts, and the finishing touches are put on the whole engine.

Before the engine is attached to the chassis, it goes through a dynamometer test. It is run, in a large, high vaulted airy room and under natural gas as fuel. After a run of eight hours the engine is turned over and tested again for excessive wear or play in the moving parts.

The chassis gets a similar dynamometer test of even longer duration, and when the chassis and engine are together the entire assembly is taken out for a test run of from one to five hours.

I. C. C. Cotton Rate Decision Aids West

STAMFORD, April 30.—The West Texas chamber of commerce has scored again in its work for the interest of its cotton growers, cotton markets, and compresses.

According to word from U. S. Paw-kett, San Antonio, traffic manager of the West Texas organization, the Interstate Commerce Commission has sustained West Texas' contentions in every part of the so-called "Houston Cotton Case". The case was one in which Houston sought continuance of a two rate plan and reduction in charges of interior compresses and several cases which would all have resulted in favor of Houston. R. Q. Lee, of the West Texas chamber of commerce, testified in the hearing at Dallas, outlining the West Texas side of the question.

The Interstate Commerce order in this case, in line exactly with the West Texas chamber of commerce contentions, approved the plan for making the same rate apply either at the water front or back of water front facilities at the port and found that the existing compress and concentration arrangements were not discriminatory and therefore legal and lawful.

Dr. Hill To Address Scouts At Hereford

HEREFORD, April 30.—Dr. J. A. Hill of Canyon, president of the Boy Scout Foundation of the Panhandle, will make an address here Monday evening on "Scouting in the Panhandle", at the big community sing-song, and special court of honor. The community sing-song will be a feature of the program planned for National Music Week. The Hereford high school band will give a thirty minutes concert on the courthouse lawn to open the program. The Boy Scout troops of Hereford will give some special scout songs, and the whole community will join in a part of the singing.

Rev. Jas. T. Ross will conduct the Court of Honor, a feature of which will be the awarding of the Eagle Badge to Frank Cogdell. Representatives of Summerfield, Black and Dinnitt and a number of officials of the Panhandle Council will be here for the program.

F. D. Craft, Area Executive for the Panhandle Council was in Hereford the first of the week helping with the final arrangements for the program. He is enthusiastic over the interest that local folks are taking in this work.

GAS IS POWERFUL

A pint of gasoline contains about 25,000 British thermal heat units, which represents energy enough to raise 12,000,000 pounds one foot. That can blow a light car a mile high.

WHERE ENERGY GOES

One-third of the energy from the engine of an automobile is lost to the cooling water, another third to the exhaust gases and about two-thirds of the remainder is used in overcoming friction. Road and wind resistance and excess power take up the rest.

CHEVROLET IN USE IN NEW GOLD RUSH

POPULAR CARS ARE BEING USED BY GOLD HUNTERS IN NEW FINDINGS

Recalling the thrilling days of Virginia City, Goldfield and other famous Nevada mining camps in the period that succeeded the rush of the Forty-Niners to California, the new gold excitement at Weepah in Nevada promises to provide more material for romantic present-day writers just as these early-day mining camps gave inspiration to Bret Harte and Mark Twain for their immortal fiction.

The father of the latest gold craze is Frank Horton, Jr., the actual discoverer of the new ledge, with Frank Horton, Sr., as his guide and backer. Whether their gold claims warrant the wild excitement that has been aroused or not, Weepah already is a flourishing community of some four hundred tents and cabins—with the lowly burrow displaced in most cases either by shiny new automobiles or cars of ancient vintage.

Father Is Millionaire
Morton Sr. is said to be worth a million himself. He is a former Californian and did not appear upon the scene of his son's discovery until word of his boy's rich strike in Nevada was brought to him in his California home. Early visitors to the camp found Chevrolet to be the favorite means of transport among those busily engaged in mining operations. The automobile was declared to be more economical, less unruly and far more trustworthy than the pack-animals of an earlier era for the long trips across desert and mountain country which are incidents of a mining engineer and prospector's life.

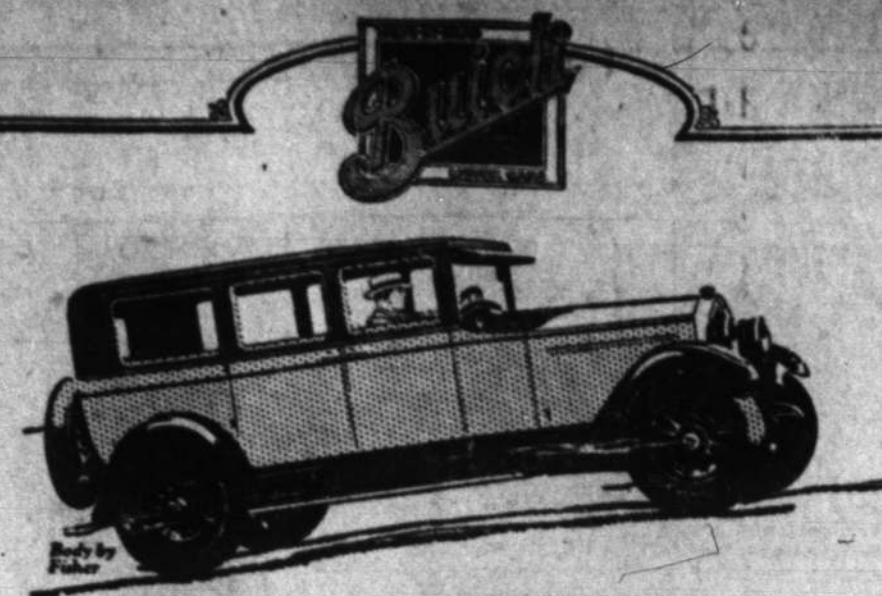

Chevrolets may be found everywhere about the camp.

A law passed the other day prohibits the shining of shoes on Sunday in New York. However, it's all right to get a shine on your nose.

Buick Power is proved on the "24-Hour Hill"

Buick does not guess about the power of the Buick Valve-in-Head Engine.

Buick knows this famous engine produces more power for its size than any other automobile engine on earth.

Buick has proved this fact decisively, in comparison with many cars, at the great Proving Ground of General Motors, on the "24-Hour Hill"—a mechanical device which faithfully fully duplicates the pull of any hill for any number of miles.

By means of this mechanical "hill" Buick cars prove their ability to climb anywhere that wheels can get traction.

New Counties Added To Tri-State Fair

AMARILLO, April 30.—The addition of Grayson and Collin counties to the list of agricultural exhibits at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo, September 11-17, inclusive, is the result of work by C. H. Amacker, secretary, to broaden the scope and territory of this great organization.

Grayson and Collin counties are two of the best agricultural counties of North and East Texas. They show at other big state fairs.

In previous years, county exhibits that have won or placed high at the Tri-State Fair have been at the top at the State Fair at Dallas. This is one of the reasons the Collin and Grayson county exhibits are being brought here. Their entry also shows a wider recognition of the great Panhandle institution.

Every department of the Tri-State Fair will be larger than ever this year and indications are that the buildings will be filled beyond capacity in many of the departments.

Virtually every county in the Panhandle of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico are again entering the fair.

P. C. Bennett, Amarillo, is superintendent of the agricultural department and his years of experience and study assure that department the best of management.

Plainview Booster Favors Irrigation

PLAINVIEW, April 30.—That irrigation will be greatly developed in the Plainview country, and can be more cheaply and certainly practiced here than in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas is the belief of E. M. Carter, pioneer business man, farmer, and capitalist of Plainview, who has watched the development of the Plains country for the past third of a century.

"Even with as small a tract as ten acres per farm under irrigation the benefits to the whole country will be enormous. Ten acres will give year-round pasture for sufficient hogs, dairy cattle, and poultry to make the farmer independent. Markets will get better all the time for dairy products."

"I don't know how it will come about but I believe that if a development company would install small plants and equip small acreages and sell them out, that there 'popularity' would come in and the real development would start," said Mr. Carter.

Ft. Worth Lawyer To Practice Here

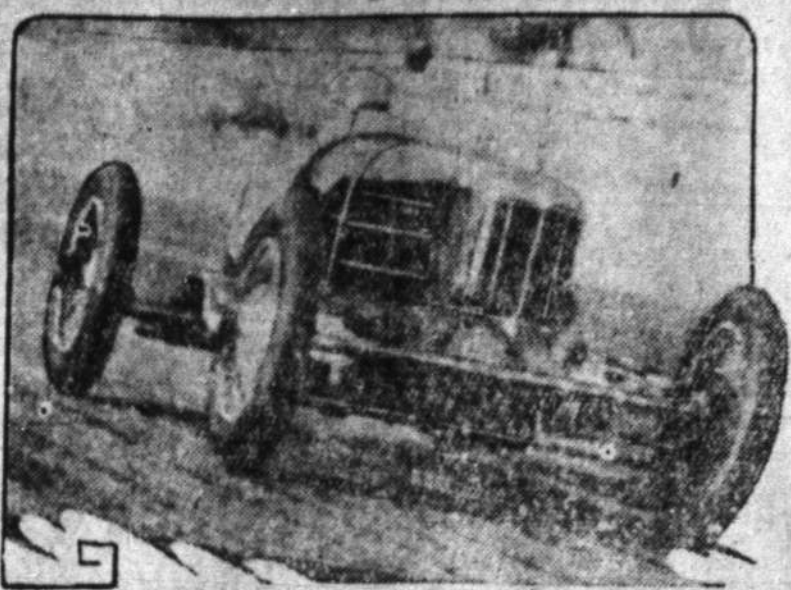

Alfred M. Scott, for the past five years engaged in the practice of law with Bryan, Stone, Wade and Argenton, of Fort Worth, will arrive in Lubbock early this week to be associated with Richard L. Douglas, attorney in the Temple Ellis building, Mr. Douglas said yesterday.

Mr. Scott, an Alabamian by birth, was reared in Texas and graduated from the law school of the University of Texas in 1922, following service in the army as a first lieutenant. He was prominent in the university. Mr. Douglas says, having been a member of the Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity; Phi Delta Phi, honorary legal fraternity; Hildebrand Law society; editorial board of the Texas Law Review; Scribblers; Chancellor and was Law School Quizmaster.

GIBSON NOT GUILTY IN SLAYING OF EAST TEXAN

CHICKETT, Texas, April 30. (AP)—Jesse Gibson was found not guilty here Thursday by a jury in district court of the charge of killing Frank Johnson in the Center Point community, 25 miles from here, a year ago. Johnson was dragged from his bed and shot and killed. Three days previously he had been wounded in a fight in which Homer Gibson, brother of Jesse Gibson, was shot and killed. Jesse Gibson offered witnesses to prove that he was in Groveton, 16 miles from Johnson's home, the night Johnson was slain.

Coming Races Will Unleash Terrific Speeds

Like a flash of lightning Leon Duray, famous racing driver, whizzed by the camera that took this photo. He was going 120 miles an hour, as was shown by a check of his time around the mile and a quarter track at Culver City, Calif. The car he was driving was a new Miller "Baby 91" front-drive special.

By NEA Service

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 30.—

The track is being groomed, pits, garages, grand stands are being repaired, entries are already coming in for the Indianapolis Speedway races on Memorial day.

This year promises another burst of speed and perhaps a new record in the smallest-engined cars that ever swept over the 360 mile tour. Records have been made with them in Europe. Last year's highest speed, made on the same track, is sure to be surpassed this year.

A liter and a half—a little over a quart and a half—is the total capacity of the eight little cylinders that comprise the engine of each racer to take part in this annual carnival. That makes each cylinder content less than half a pint—about the size of a small tumbler.

The speed at which such small engines must run to attain the requisite power to push the cars at a fast rate over the track is far beyond that of the larger engines. Yet the two-quart engines of 1925 struck up a rate of 5,800 revolutions a minute at the record speed of almost 135 miles an hour.

Must Pump Fast

That's terrific compared with the 1,500 to 2,500 revolutions a minute we experience in our own stock automobiles on the highways. To compare with this, the speed of the smaller engines, however, will have to attain the record of 6,500 or more revolutions a minute. This means that each of the eight small pistons in the tumbler sized cylinders must move 5,200 times up and 6,500 times down in one minute.

That's changing direction 13,000 times a minute, more than 216 times a second. Let alone that tremendous speed, but the heat engendered by the explosions in the cylinders is even more surprising. At every fourth stroke of each cylinder there's an explosion. That makes 2,500 explosions a minute in each cylinder, or a total of 20,000 bursts of hot gas a minute in all.

the eight cylinders. The heat is so great that the manila folds get red hot and the leather from the driver's shoes back of the engine almost burns off.

Severe Ordeal, but Helpful
The valves pop up and down 5,500 times a minute for each, making a total of 104,000 valve movements a minute in the whole engine—a strain that would tear the average automobile engine apart.

Multiply that by 300, to account for the five or more hours it takes to run the course of 500 miles, and we have an idea of the speed and work an engine has to undergo during such an ordeal.

Yet past experience has shown that these races, with their severe demands, have brought the small engine into actual practice, with results that surpass those of former cars.

Now the supercharger has been brought to such perfection through thorough testing on the race course that it is expected soon to be incorporated with engines of the better cars.

Soon thereafter may come the front drive automobile, for it has already proven its worth on the Indianapolis speedway. In 1925 Dave Lewis brought a front-drive Miller special to the finish within a minute of the winner, and last year Earl Cooper joined him in testing this type of car on the track.

For the coming races it is believed Harry Harts, winner of last year's event, will pilot a front drive racer, and he'll be accompanied by Peter De Palola and Frank Lockhardt, each in the same type of car.

HOW TIRES WEAR

At a speed of 15 miles an hour the tire wear on a macadam road has been found to be four-tenths of a pound of the tire for every 100 miles. At 25 miles speed, the wear is 55 hundredths pounds for the same distance.

LEGION WILL TALK CONVENTION PLANS

MEETING IS CALLED ON MONDAY NIGHT TO DISCUSS COMING SESSION IN LUBBOCK

Allen Bros. Post of the American Legion will meet in regular session here Monday night in the basement of the Temple Ellis building at 8:00 o'clock, when matters bearing on the Fifth Division convention that meets here May 21 and 22 will be discussed, and every ex-service man in the city and vicinity is urged to be in attendance. P. D. Ruse, commander of the post said Saturday.

The convention is said by officials of the post to be the main thing now ahead of the organization here, and attention is being given to even the minutest details. Various committees have been named and have been active for two or more weeks, including committees on general arrangements, headed by H. D. Woods, executive, committee on this district, housing, headed by Chas. Whitacre; registration, headed by Amos Howard; program, headed by Homer L. Pharr; music and bands, headed by J. A. Riley; and stunts, headed by H. L. Allen.

While the program has not definitely been completed in every phase, much information concerning this is expected to be announced at the Monday night meeting. The program of Saturday, May 21, will include a giant dutch banquet when a king will be crowned, and the local post's boxing cup will be brought into prominence.

According to information received here, it is probable that probably a thousand ex-service men and members of their families will be in attendance. Large delegations already have signified their intention of coming from many points in this vicinity.

Business men of this city are backing the convention in every manner possible, including a great amount of decorations, with present indications that the city will be a riot of colors during the two-day meeting.

A good program with plenty of music and good eats has been arranged for the Monday night meet.

WILLYS-OVERLAND'S NEW PLANT, COST A MILLION AND A QUARTER, IS NOW IN OPERATION IN CITY OF TOLEDO

The completion of the new forge and heat treat department at the Willys-Overland plant in Toledo, Ohio, at a cost of more than $1,250,000 marks one of the most advanced steps yet taken by the Toledo manufacturer to equip the organization as one of the most progressive and modern in the world.

Although a large force had been at work for months on the new forge department which occupies the old site with additions, it was necessary to engineer the installation of the new equipment so as not to interfere or retard the everyday work of the department.

Production Is Doubled

The completion of this modern forge shop means an increase of 100 per cent production, officials of the company declare. This department is now equipped to turn out all the forgings necessary for a car with a capacity of finished parts for 1500 cars daily. Under the old order of things the forge shop capacity was limited to production of parts for only 500 cars a day.

Hammer equipment in the new forge shop consists of 65 hammers ranging in size from 1,000 to 12,000 pounds each in falling weight. Formerly much of the heavier forge work was done elsewhere but with the newly installed hammers Willys-Overland now can turn out every piece heavy or light.

New Power House Built

The construction of the new forge department also necessitated the rebuilding of the power house, new boilers and stockers being installed and the operation of the department. Air compressors of the latest type have been added as well as a new water softening system, automatic ash disposal, forced draught stokers, new stack and a complete new system of piping.

To insure the huge new boilers require 15 tons of coal each hour for when the forge shop is running at capacity it requires 4,000 to 6,000 boiler horsepower. Every detail in the construction of the new department not only provides for increased efficiency and production but waste has been reduced to a negligible factor. In fact, 75 per cent of the entire factory is heated from the exhaust steam coming from the hammers in the forge department. This re-use of the steam effects a saving of thousands annually in fuel bills.

The old forge shop had 50,000 square feet of floor space as compared with the 125,000 square feet in the new department. In addition there are thousands of square feet in the basement for storage of materials.

Storage Yards Are Near

Adjacent to the forge shop are the steel storage yards where tons and tons of steel are received, cut into billets of the proper size then forged, heat treated and sent to the various other departments of the plant for machining and eventual installation in the motor cars.

The new conveyor system constitutes another progressive step, saving time and labor and increasing efficiency and production. This conveyor system facilitates the handling of large tonnage, doing away with individual handling.

Conditions for safeguarding the health of the employees have not been overlooked in the construction of the new forge department. This factor being one of the most seriously studied in the development of plans for the shop. The type of construction employed in the new building is such as to provide an abundance of fresh air at the same time carrying off immediately all gases and fumes. Plenty of light is furnished by means of 65,000 square feet of glass windows.

Heat Treatment Modern

The heat treat department is one of the most modern in the industry and provides one of the interesting operations. As the various parts are forged, they are passed on to the expert handlers for the heat treatment which gives them the proper temper and hardness.

Then by conveyor the parts are carried to the new pickling department which is equipped to handle 75,000 pounds of steel per day.

From morning to nightfall, even far into the night the dull thud of the giant hammers may be heard in all sections of the mammoth factory, each thumping the turning out of another part, which in a short time will become part of a finished motor car.

How She Hittin'?

BY ISRAEL KLEIN
Science Editor, NEA Service

ONE of the most ticklish problems Motor H. O. D. Squire had to meet when he drove his thousand-horsepower Sunbeam special at 200 miles an hour over the Daytona beach was that of steering.

In New York, after his demonstration, he was driven about in a little Marmon sedan, which seemed to respond almost instantly to the slightest turn of the wheel.

"It brought to my mind vividly the difference in control at same speeds and the speed at which I had to travel to make a new world's record," he remarked. "With the throttle wide open, the great Sunbeam was cutting up space at 200 feet a second, and a turn of the steering wheel meant nothing."

"This is in great contrast to the instant response of the Marmon as we drove around the city at ordinary speeds."

"Covering a mile in 17 seconds, as the Sunbeam did, means that the driver must begin to work on his steering wheel at least half a mile before he really wishes a change effected in his car's direction."

The case is cited not to point out the efficiency of the new Marmon's steering system, as it is to emphasize the importance of a steady, responsive and well-kept steering system on all cars.

On the steering gear depends the safety of the passengers in the car, for failure to respond immediately to a turn of the wheel might carry the car and its occupants to destruction.

Therefore it is essential that the steering gear be kept tight by frequent inspection and maintenance. It should be solidly anchored to the main frame, the points at which much of the steering strain and shock centers when the front wheels hit obstructions in the road.

There should be the smallest possible play, without causing binding in any position. With all play taken out when the wheels are directed straight ahead, the steering should be perfectly free to the extreme right and left.

What hurts the steering system, ever more than striking ruts and other obstructions in the road, is trying to twist the wheels while the car is standing still. That puts the entire opposition of the car's inertia against the comparatively frail steering gears. It is especially harmful with balloon tires on the wheels.

It requires quick manipulation, especially in parking within a small space, to turn the wheels back and forth while the car is moving, but that is the only way to do so without burning the steering system. It can be done, however, by easy stages and deliberate motions.

MORE CARS RECOVERED

Despite the great increase in thefts of automobiles last year, recovery of such cars has proceeded at a much higher rate. Cars stolen last year amounted to $5,225, more than three times those stolen in 1918. But only 11 per cent of these weren't recovered, while the recovery in 1918 was all but 21 per cent.

Women And The Death Penalty!

Six White Women Have Been Executed in U. S.—Many Beauties Freed

THESE WERE ACQUITTED

THESE WERE CONVICTED

BY ALLENE SUMNES
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, April 28.—If Mrs. Ruth Snyder, a blond preferred by a gentleman not her husband—a gentleman now on trial with his erstwhile paramour for the murder of that husband, Albert Snyder—is found guilty of murder—

If she is not only found guilty, but is sentenced to death—

If this sentence is not reversed—

If she is not pardoned—

If she really dies for the murder which she once confessed and now denies—

She will be a member of a much more exclusive set than if she merely becomes one more of the vast army of ladies who have faced murder charges, and then escaped death or even prison terms.

Fourteen Put to Death

For, while murderers have not been few in this country, the best information obtainable indicates that only 14 women in the history of this country have paid the death penalty, while men by the hundreds have breathed lethal gas, dangled from the noose or sat in the electric chair to expiate their crimes.

Of this number, it is believed six were white women and the rest negroes. The names of the negro women are not available.

As to the white women, it was way back in 1830 that Polly Barclay hanged in Wilkes county, Ga., for the murder of her husband. In 1869 a Susan Riehardt, also of Georgia, was hung for complicity in choking to death the wife of her lover.

To Prison for Life

Georgia almost added the name of a third white woman to its execution list when Mrs. Ella Hughes, 26, was sentenced to hang on March 14, 1924, for the murder of her mother-in-law. But the sentence of pretty Mrs. Hughes was commuted from hanging to life imprisonment.

On July 1, 1865, Mrs. Mary Surratt hung for her part in the assassination of President Lincoln. In 1899 Mrs. Martha Place of Brooklyn was executed at Sing Sing for hacking to bits with an ax her husband. She first blinded with acid her step-daughter, of whom she was jealous.

Ten years later Mrs. Mary Farmer sat on the same death seat in Sing Sing, paying for the murder of a neighbor woman, Mrs. Sarah Brennan, whose property she hoped to obtain through a ruse.

Mrs. Mary Mahel Rogers was hanged in Vermont in 1905.

An Eye for An Eye

These few names represent the practical grand total of society's demands in this country for an eye for an eye when it is a woman who has taken life.

The list of women who have been condemned to death, only to be saved from the noose or chair at the last second, is another story, of course.

In 1925 the first white woman in the history of the state of Illinois was given the death sentence. She was Mrs. Sabella Nitti Crudelle, convicted of plotting with her lover to slay her husband. She was found guilty of hitting him on the head with a heavy hammer and helping throw his body into a catch basin on their farm.

She was condemned to death. Then the racket began. There had been an epidemic of women murder cases. Scores of them had been acquitted. The acquitted ones had been beautiful women. This woman condemned to death was nothing but an ugly peasant woman. Shrieking this fact, and demanding justice for ugly murderers as well as pretty ones, Chicago women got a reprieve for the condemned woman.

Served Three Years

In the same year Mrs. Ann Buzzell of New York was sentenced to electrocution in Sing Sing. She had been found guilty of murdering Frederick Schneider, wealthy contractor, with whom she had lived for seven years, and whom she killed when he grew restless and showed interest in another woman. After nearly three years in prison with one new trial after another, Mrs. Buzzell was free.

The number of women murders who received punishments other than death and life sentences is much larger.

There was Mrs. Pearl Odell, sentenced to 20 years for helping to whip a former lover to death.

There was Mrs. Clara Phillips, who beat a woman to death with a hammer and escaped from a Los Angeles prison where she was sentenced for 10 years.

There was Mrs. Ivy Giberson in prison for life for shooting her husband, Dorothy Perkins, Paulette Saludes, Lillian Ralzen, are in Auburn, N. Y., for man killings.

Mrs. Tillie Klinek went to the penitentiary for life for her murder party with her third husband, Mrs. Klinek was very homely.

There was Mrs. Augusta Nock, who served a term in Auburn for the murder of her lover, Guldensuppe, whom she, with her new paramour, lured to a lonely cottage and hacked to death.

Kitty Mahm of Chicago helped kill a watchman. She got life.

The Largest Group

One could go on listing several other murderers who have served long or short sentences, but now we come to the largest group of all—women charged with murder who were either acquitted or, after due court preamble, pardoned even when found guilty.

The name of Mrs. Cora Isabelle Gethweln may be familiar. She admitted shooting her lover, Herbert Ziegler, at Chicago. But the jury found her "not guilty." She was quite comely.

Mrs. Beulah Annan was called "the prettiest woman ever tried for murder in Chicago." Although she was found in her suite with a married man dead at her feet, she was found "not guilty."

Mrs. Bianca De Saule, Spanish beauty, wife of Jack De Saule, Yale football player, shot and killed her husband, but paid no penalty.

The Jury Wept

You may remember the tale of Lillian Rowland, who shot her dentist husband, whom she had sent through school by acting as a waitress, when he spurned her when success came.

The jury wept and set her free. Nan Patterson, one of the original Klondike sextet, shot to death her lover, Cesar Young, a wealthy bookmaker, as he rode in a cab to the pier where he was about to sail for Europe. She was acquitted. She was described as "like a dewy rose" in court.

And, by no means last on the list, there was Clara Smith Hamon, acquitted of slaying Jake Hamon, oil magnate and national Republican committeeman.

Pretty Madelynn Connor Ochealin heard her story of the murder of her sweetheart, J. Helton Kennedy, told before five juries. The case was dismissed. She had won many a campus beauty contest when in Northwestern University.

And the list grows and grows. Many Cases Pending. Many cases involving women as Beauty counts when a woman is on trial for murder, these pictures seem to say. The trials of the women pictured above were sensations in their day. Compare the faces. Below is Mrs. Ruth Snyder, now being tried with Henry Judd Gray for the murder of her husband. How will she fare with an American jury?

Murderesses are pending in the courts right now.

Mrs. Bertha Heilman and Mrs. Alma Olson of Chicago are charged with murdering their husbands, and Miss Florence Stokes of the same city is charged with the murder of her sweetheart, James J. Glenon.

Three women went on trial in New York and New Jersey for murder on the very day that the Snyder case opened, and a fourth woman murder trial is booked for New Jersey soon.

Mrs. Christine Stoble was sentenced to ten years at Freehold, N. J., for the murder of her daughter, whom she slew when the daughter gave birth to a child.

Mrs. Lucy Baxter Barley is on trial at Newburgh, N. Y., charged with poisoning her husband for love of an Italian.

Mrs. Edwin Raser of New Jersey will soon face the grand jury on a charge of helping a hired man kill her husband.

Now can we forget that Mrs. J. R. McIntyre of Vancouver, B. C., who shot her husband, was found by the jury of only acting in self-defense. She has just learned that her husband's will left her his estate of $27,000.

Nearly 50 per cent of the stock-investments made in the United States in 1925 were of cotton, says someone who has counted them. There must be an awful lot of men in this country who never have felt the silk.

Maybe the reason the United States takes so little interest in the rest of the world is because it takes so little out.

An American pilfered documents of state in Mexico, says a dispatch. It appears we have a few diplomats after all.

Hey! Look! Major Hoople Is Back Again He Writes Advice For Lubbock Golfers

By MAJOR AMOS HOOPLE

Avalanche-Journal Philosopher

For more than three months we have been silent, probably not from choice, but because we have been out of the city. However, the first thing we noticed upon our return was the need of advice, and as it costs you nothing we shall give it to you.

First you see, the people of this city pretty straight, but when we let them have their own way for three months a lot of them went to the dogs. Of course that's their own business, still we feel that maybe some of them may yet be salvaged—maybe they are not too far gone to mend their ways.

They're Never Tired

Just at this time a major portion of Lubbock's most promising young men are spending their time at golf. Men who are too tired to help their wives "dry clean" will run all over a 40-acre pasture chasing a golf ball and never complain of being tired. Men too weak to bring in a scuttle of coal can knock the very day-lights out of a golf ball, carry 60 pounds of clubs on their backs and jumps over a 16-foot hazard and still be able to work next day without complaining.

It takes just as hard a lick to knock a golf ball as it does to cut cord wood, but one is work and the other is play. If all the licks might be hit with a double bladed axe, the average golf player would cut about two cords of wood each afternoon.

Of course we are not saying golf is the worst thing in the world—it isn't but it may be when all the boot-lickers are in jail. If there was any excuse for golf we would kick, but up to this happy hour we have never been able to find a person who could give any excuse for its existence. It is like a bad cold—catching, and the harder a fellow "thinks" he has to work the easier he is persuaded to play golf—he needs the exercise to build up his broken-down body.

Use The Rug

Well, is gripping a club and swinging one's arms tend to build up one's system we suggest that one use the family rug for an objective. Just get in broom and dust the rug—that's exercise and a profitable piece of work as well.

For the benefit of the few readers we have who do not play golf and who know nothing of the game we will state that the game is played something like this: A rubber or composition ball slightly smaller than an egg is placed on or near the ground. The player then backs, over the situation, feels of his clubs, tells a few lies about "how many it took him to do it yesterday" and then "whams" the ball.

He selects the widest and longest open space he can find and then tries to send the ball a few hundred yards further than its natural destination. This done he then hunts the "ball." If he finds it he "whams" it again—if he does not he is out the price of another ball. In either case he is loser. If he loses the ball he is crippled financially—if he fails to find it, he loses his headed and is crippled mentally.

Most anybody can play golf—if they have the price. The same might be said with reference to poker, only we prefer the latter as one doesn't have to let his creditors know how much money he is blowing in for games. Men who can't pay their grocery bill can buy golf clubs and balls, but it makes the grocer mighty "sore" when he learns of it. If he plays poker he can sneak off and very likely no one will be any wiser. He is not forced to get out on the "green" to advertise his foolishness.

But even at that there may be other things equally as bad as golf. For instance, chucking some old woman's house just to hear her rave, or tying cans to some stray dog's tail.

There is no law against playing golf, but there probably should be—it should be given no more protection than poker, and as a member of the Amalgamated Grocer-Poker Players of America we object to the discrimination. But there will never be a law against golf—it looks too harmless—something like a wolf in sheep's clothing. But if players are forced to meet conditions—may have as much as a dollar on deposit at the bank, and a statement from their grocer that their bills are paid promptly—you have no idea how many ardent golf fans will fall out of line.

But that's their business and so far as the Major is concerned they may look after it. One duck who read this before it got into type suggested that the only thing that kept us from playing was that no one would sell us golf supplies on the credit. Who knows but that he is right?

Anyway golf is like the chickenpox, and she people of this city are "broke out" all over. They have the chuk chuk, pin feathers and all, so there is no use gnawing any longer. Time only will heal them, and while this is being done we will be doing something else.

Ohio is considering a tax on cigarettes. It does seem no more than right that the ladies should help out with the taxes.

Library Recluse Stirs Politics

Retired Lawyer, Kindly, Studious, Well-to-Do, Is Author of Letters to Al Smith

Charles C. Marshall, who likes to think in terms of "issues."

BY LEE TRENHOLM
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, April 26.—From the quiet, book-lined, thick-carpeted library of a stately home in New York's aristocratic 55th street came the questioning theories on the relation of religion to politics by which Charles C. Marshall, retired lawyer, shot Governor Al Smith into heightened national prominence.

Marshall's "open letters" to Smith, raising the issue whether an adherent to the Catholic religion properly might discharge presidential duties, were written not by a sleek, frock-coated politician but by an elderly student-mild, dignified, somewhat of a sentimentalist.

For decades Marshall was just one of New York's many practicing lawyers. He retired about 15 years ago—retired to his library.

Never A Politician

"Politics? I am not and never have been affiliated either actively or nominally with any political organization," he told me. "Politics has nothing to do with the questions I have raised. My concern is solely and simply that of an American citizen and a student."

As he never has belonged to any political organization, so, he added, he never has been identified with any religious body save his own church. Marshall is the type of student who likes to think and talk in terms of "issues" rather than of men and current events.

"Here, as I see it, is an issue, a very clearly defined issue," he said. "In the terms by which it is most familiarly known, it is the old conflict of church and state. Down the ages it has had various outcroppings. Its recent manifestations have been the Vatican's difficulties with the Calles government in Mexico and with Mussolini, and the announcement of the Vanderbilt-Marlborough marriage."

Intends No Reflections

"Now, here in the United States I see potentially embodied in Governor Smith and his presidential prospects the issue of whether the American principle of universal and complete religious tolerance is to continue."

"That the man in question is Governor Smith is incidental. I do not intend my views to be reflections upon his or anybody's candidacy for public office. He is an admirable governor."

"Vote for him? No, I never did, but that was not because of religious considerations. I can venture no forecast as to his chances of nomination or election. I am not a follower of present-day politics. About what sort of president he would make, I have no idea whatsoever."

"From the present discussion I could hope for no more than the dawn of an era during which the Church of Rome should begin to amend those of its tenets at variance with civil and religious liberty. When she does, the whole Christian world will be one with her, and her policy will be in harmony with the modern state."

New York always has been Marshall's home. He belongs to no clubs. Though no longer active, he retains his membership in the bar.

The ornamentation of his home clearly reflects artistic tastes, and the means to gratify them.

John D. Lives Nearby

A short distance away is the famous 54th street residence of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

Marshall has met Smith personally only once, he said. This was at a bar association dinner where Smith made an address.

In retirement, Marshall has devoted much of his study to canonical law—the rules and regulations of the various religious denominations. His own religious faith is Protestant Episcopal.

On several previous occasions he has written articles for the more serious magazines.

From this quiet, relatively obscure man, aloof from organized politics, came what to pro-Smith and anti-Smith politicians alike is one of the sensations of the year.

James L. Smith Is Dead In Amarillo

James L. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the Walker-Smith Wholesale grocery company, died at his home in Amarillo early Saturday. Allan Hill, manager of the Lubbock branch, said.

No announcement has been received here regarding the funeral or the trouble which caused Mr. Smith's death. The Lubbock branch was closed at noon yesterday. About a year ago Mr. Smith was in an automobile accident from which he never seemed to fully recover, Mr. Hill said.
