A Tradition

Bill Durfey Chosen Tech "Red Raider"

LUBBOCK.—A shy, red-haired Texas Tech senior, who grew up on horses, is this year's traditional masked Red Raider.

He is Bill Durfey, 21 year old animal husbandry major from Wellington, who made his Tech "debut" Saturday night, Sept. 22, by leading the football team on the field.

Durfey will carry the "red and black" around the state this year, but will have to miss the Tech-Boston College game due to the long distance.

"I'm very happy to have been chosen by the animal husbandry department to carry on the tradition," he said. "I'm hoping for a big year at Tech in football, and I'm glad I can continue my interest in horses and support the team at the same time."

Durfey, the head horse herdsman on the Tech farm, will give special attention to Tech Brandy, the 8-year-old registered quarterhorse mare used to bring the team on the field for the past three years.

Tech Beauty is "coal-black" with two white stocking hind legs, which Durfey plans to keep "snow-white."

Born on a farm and ranch near Wellington, Durfey was vice president of his high school FFA chapter and the radio broadcaster for the FFA teams. He received the DeKalb Award in Agriculture and a Sears Foundation Scholarship to Tech upon graduation from Wellington high school.

Asked why he came to Tech since he has a sister, who is a North Texas State University alumnae and a younger sister at McMurray College, Durfey quickly responded: "Tech is the best school in Texas as far as

County Agent-Guard Commander

Lynch to McGregor Experiment Station

Bob Lynch, county agricultural agent here since January 1958, has resigned to become assistant agronomist and farm supervisor in charge of the experiment farm field work at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Substation No. 23 at McGregor.

His resignation is effective Oct. 1, and he and his family will move to McGregor immediately after that.

"My family and I hate to leave Wellington, for we have never lived a place where we had more personal friends," Lynch said, "but it is an opportunity to move up and to get in a specialized field, agronomy, in which I am interested."

Lynch also is resigning as commanding officer of National Guard Company E, which he has headed since December of 1961.

His successor has not been named for either agricultural agent or Guard commander.

The McGregor substation, near Waco, is the largest experiment station in Texas and is in a process of growth. It combines experiments on two soil types, the blackland prairie and grand prairie, and research is carried on for both soil types.

Lynch's work will be with cotton improvement, cotton root rot studies, and the development of better stripper varieties of cotton.

Lynch regards as his major work here the continued development of the Northwest Texas Research Demonstration pro-

Jack Seale Brings Campaign to Collingsworth

Jack Seale, Republican candidate for Congress from the 18th district, met with two Republican leaders in Wellington Saturday, Sept. 22.

He was guest at a coffee on Saturday morning when Mrs. Jimmie Cochran and Mrs. Charles Allen were hostesses. Here, Seale told a group of women of the county that he was against continued wasteful government spending; against a disarmament program that will destroy the armed forces of the United States and destroy our freedoms; against bureaucratic control; and against unrealistic foreign policy that appeases and makes enemies.

Pointing out what he is for, Seale declared he is for the United States—first, last, and always; for a sensible farm program that will increase economic opportunity for farm people and strengthen the free market system; for education controlled and financed on the local level; for a firm foreign policy and a balanced budget.

Seale then met with Republican leaders of the county at a lunch at Cecil's Steak House. This was in the form of an organizational meeting to push Seale's campaign in the county.

At Lowe Station

Loss to Burglars Friday Exceeds $200

Burglars Friday night, Sept. 21, took between $75 and $100 in cash, cigarettes and lighters, playing cards and a shotgun and rifle from the Jim Lowe Station at Quail. But so as not to break the glass door by which they entered, the quarter rounds were removed and the pane carefully laid aside, Sheriff John Rainey reported. The night latch was then released.

The sheriff said entry was made some time Friday night through a side door. Part of the money was taken from the cash register and part from a cash box underneath.

Other missing items were listed by Sheriff Rainey as 25 cartons of cigarettes, with a value of more than $70; four cigarette lighters; a carton of playing cards; a shotgun, and a .22 rifle belonging to Lowe. The burglary was discovered by Lowe when he opened the business Saturday morning, and the sheriff was notified at about 7 a.m.

The Lowe Station and Grocery is located at the intersection of Highway 203 and FM 1036 leading through Quail.

Opinion Asked on Trial of Quail Youth

In a hearing before County Judge C. C. Bishop Tuesday, Sept. 25, Kirby Lee Word, 16-year-old Quail area youth, pled not guilty to a charge of second degree negligent homicide, growing out of an accident on Sept. 10 in which a 7-year-old Quail girl, Phyllis Jean Cramer, was killed.

Bond, set at $1,500 was posted by Word.

Judge Bishop then requested that County Attorney R. L. Templeton secure an opinion from the attorney general as to whether the youth can be tried on that charge in county court, Judge Templeton told The Wellington Leader.

Highway Patrolman David Croslin, who investigated the accident, signed a complaint before the county attorney, who filed it in county court Monday, Sept. 24.

The complaint alleges that on "Sept. 10, Kirby Lee Word did unlawfully commit negligent homicide in the second degree in causing the death of Phyllis Jean Cramer while passing a school bus without stopping and at an excessive rate of speed."

In speaking of the county court hearing, Judge Templeton said: "The question came up whether he could be tried for negligent homicide or not. A new law allows juveniles to be tried for traffic violations in county court and lists the violations, but does not list articles 1242

Rain-Drenched County Sees Overall Gain from Moisture

Drenched by rains that have measured from three to ten inches during a ten-day period, Collingsworth farmers and farm observers believe that overall the moisture has done more good than harm, and they are definite in saying it has given an excellent ground se-son to look toward 1963. For wheat farmers, the moisture was all on the positive side. A considerable amount of wheat is planted around Wellington, but in the north part of the county and around Dodson, as well as in other scattered sections, many wheat fields lay unplanted.

Around Dodson there have been a few reports of the heavy rains last week washing out wheat that was in the ground. The reaction of cotton growers has varied, depending on the part of the county and the condition of their cotton.

"Overall, I believe the rain has helped more than it hurt," Ed Crowder of Dodson reported. Most of the cotton that is now open is burned and of a poorer quality, and the rain will benefit the later crop, he pointed out.

Neither was there damage to grain sorghums. Most of the ripe had been cut, and so far there is only one report of grain being blown down.

Rain at Dodson, after the all-day fall Tuesday, Sept. 25, totals around 7 1/2 inches.

Before Tuesday's moisture, Carl Crosnoe reported a total of 6 1/2 inches since Sept. 17 and Pete Nipper about the same. They added that 9 inches was reported from the vicinity of the John Sherman farms south of Dodson.

Quail got approximately an inch out of the Tuesday fall, and from different spots in the area up to 6 inches for the entire fall was reported.

Death Takes Mrs. Beulah Gentry Tuesday

Her home was at 801 Second Street here.

Mrs. Gentry was born in Arkansas Dec. 22, 1887. She came to Texas while still young, living in Erath county prior to coming here. She was the daughter of Lafayette and Dora Smith Williams.

Her home for a number of years had been in Wellington. Mrs. Gentry was a member of the Assembly of God church.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Assembly of God Friday at 2 p.m. with the Rev. A. D. Stewart officiating. Burial was in North Wellington Cemetery under the direction of Kelson Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Paul King, Wayne Knowles, Don King, Ted Gentry, William Carr, and Richard Boyles.

Surviving Mrs. Gentry are four daughters and three sons: Mrs. Frank Boyles of Wellington, Mrs. Paul King of Holiday, Mrs. C. D. Knowles, Miss Mary Ruth Gentry and Claude

Two City Wells Caved by Rain

Two city water wells at the well farm have flooded and caved during the recent rains, Russell Yates, waterworks superintendent, said this week.

Both wells will be pumped out and reconditioned, he added.

"It's a good thing it came this late in the season and not at the peak of our water use," Yates remarked.

The two wells, drilled about 1948, had a combined capacity of around 200 gallons a minute.

Beef Cattle Short Course Set at Norwood October 1-4

A beef cattle short course for adult farmers will be held Oct. 1-4 under the sponsorship of the Samnorwood high school vocational agriculture department, according to Orville Cunningham, superintendent, and John E. Dwyer, teacher of vocational agriculture.

George Garretson, beef cattle specialist with the vocational agriculture division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Husbandry at Texas A&M will be the instructor in the course.

Garretson is a graduate of Texas A&M College in the field of animal husbandry, range management and agronomy. He has had a wide and varied experience in training livestock and meats teams for state competition, as well as teaching vocational agriculture at Mason, Texas. He has experience as a commercial beef cattle producer and served as a beef grader for two years while in the Army. He has worked closely with registered breeders, commercial cattlemen and vocational students in the field of beef cattle production. Garretson has had an extensive steer-feeding program under his supervision and has made an impressive record in the show ring.

"Many beef cattle short courses in various parts of the state have been taught by Mr. Garretson and all have met with outstanding success," according to Walter Labay, area supervisor of vocational agriculture, Plainview. Arrangements for the adult education short course in beef cattle and in other fields are made through Mr. Labay's office.

The short course at Samnorwood is scheduled to begin Oct. 1 at 8 p.m. in the vocational agriculture building. Other meetings in the series of short courses will be held Oct. 2, 3 and 4. During the dates of the short course, Garretson will be available to assist cattlemen with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, according to John E. Dwyer.

Cattlemen interested in attending the short course should write or call the superintendent of schools, Mr. Cunningham, or the teacher of vocational agriculture, Mr. Dwyer. An entry fee of $2 will be charged. Beef cattle short course certificates are to be presented to each cattleman who attends all the training sessions.

Garretson states that the field of beef cattle production must take a close look at efficiency of production in the future. With land prices, feed, and taxes rising, the producer is meeting more and more competition for the consumers' dollar at the meat counter.

From the economic view of the beef cattle business, there is every indication that in comparing the producer of yesterday and the producer of tomorrow, beef must be produced to sell cheaper in order to be a profit-making business.

He indicates that the beef cattle short course will deal with the methods of producing beef at a lower cost and ways (Continued on back page)

Strict Enforcement

Motorists Must Stop for School Buses

Vigorous prosecution of motorists failing to stop for school buses unloading children was promised this week by Sheriff John Rainey.

"I have received three reports from school bus drivers of people passing them while they were unloading children since the accident in which a Quail girl died September 10," Sheriff Rainey declared.

"I have instructed these school bus drivers to get the license numbers of any vehicles passing them while they are unloading or taking on children, and the drivers will be prosecuted—and I mean they will be prosecuted," he emphasized.

The state criminal law requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past it at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

This same law applies when a motorist is meeting a stopped school bus.

Failure to follow the law can lead to a fine up to $200 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties may be more serious.

County Attorney R. L. Templeton joined with Sheriff Rainey in urging all motorists to strictly observe the law requiring that they stop for all school buses loading or unloading children.

They're Big Boys

Rockets Meet Tulia Hornets Here Friday

Returning to their home field the Skyrockets meet the big, fast Tulia Hornets Friday night September 28 in a game that will offer the Wellington boys some problems.

"Tulia has an outstanding quarterback and fullback. Their guards are also outstanding," Head Coach Don Beck said in appraising the Rockets' next opponents.

"Both of their halfbacks have good speed and both their tackles are about 195 pounds," he added.

"Tulia completely demolished Memphis 76 to 0 in the season opener, but Memphis had that we know of, three starters out and possibly more," Beck said.

The following week Tulia defeated White Deer 14 to 12 and it was all they could do to take the victory. In the third game, the Hornets won over Muleshoe 21 to 0, but this was not the runaway game the score might indicate.

"We feel like if we stop this good quarterback and fullback offensively, and keep their fast halfbacks contained, that we'll be in the running," the Rocket coach said.

"Offensively, if we can handle their five big interior linemen, we will move the ball on."

The Hornets' head coach is Jim Keeling.

So far, the Rockets have had no injuries, but last week flu struck heavily at the team and several boys were not up to par for the Paducah game, the coach indicated.

School Sets Hearings on $331,000 Budget

The budget hearing of the Wellington schools is set for Monday night, Oct. 8, and the public is invited to attend and see how the school spends its money. The meeting will be held at the school at 7:30 p.m.

This year's proposed budget is $331,000, Supt. J. L. Harper said. This is an increase of more than $10,000 over last year's figure.

This increase, Mr. Harper explained, is due to increase in costs. Salaries, as an example, take more, he said. A salary increase of $108 per teacher was allowed by the state this year. Part of this is paid out of state funds and the remainder comes from local funds.

"There are 43 teachers and you can see how it amounts up," the superintendent remarked.

"Everything will be detailed out," Mr. Harper said. "You can know what every dollar goes for."

Last year, although the budget hearing was publicized, only two school patrons appeared.

Dodson Woman Hurt in Wreck

A Dodson woman, Mrs. Tom Underwood, was painfully injured Monday, Sept. 24, when her car and a pickup driven by Gene Nelson collided on Highway 83, in front of Corry's Flower Shop.

The accident occurred shortly before 1 p.m. according to Sheriff John Rainey.

Mrs. Underwood was traveling north and made a left turn in front of the south-bound pickup, according to the sheriff.

Mrs. Underwood was driving a 1955 Chevrolet while Nelson was in a Soil Conservation Service pickup, and both vehicles were heavily damaged.

Mrs. Underwood was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for a cut on her head and ankle injuries, according to Police Chief Troy Marsh. She was released following treatment.

Highway Patrolman David Croslin helped with the investigation.

Highway 83 Is International, Let's Make the Most of It

Highway 83, that cuts Collingsworth from north to south, may get a Spanish accent.

Already it is an international highway that extends from the tip of Texas well into Canada. Now the groundwork is being laid to propose to officials of Mexico renumbering the connecting Mexico Highway 85 to 83.

This would give a highway beginning at Churchill, Manitoba, Canada, and ending at Mexico City and Acapulco, Mexico. Wellington would be in the south central part of this route.

More than this, Highway 83 is the connecting link to the Alcan Highway into Alaska and the Pan-American Highway which already is finished into Guatemala and British Honduras in Central America.

Designation of Highway 83 in Mexico is sought by the U.S.-Canada Great Plains Highway 83 Association, more generally called the Highway 83 Association. Its headquarters are almost in our back door, at Liberal, Kansas. It is the organization that has done much to publicize Highway 83. Wellington is not a member of the association, although many towns along the route in this section are.

This is simply to point out that the road we travel so casually when we go north or south out of town may offer potentialities if we only develop them. Tourism is big business, as anyone who has been to a tourist center can tell you.

But it is only in direct proportion to the way we present ourselves to tourists—to the services we offer them and how well they are offered, that we will benefit from these travelers.

Chevrolet Introduces 4 Distinct Lines Sept. 28

DETROIT.—Four distinctive lines of 1963 Chevrolet automobiles will go on sale in Chevrolet dealerships across the nation this Friday, Sept. 28.

Offering 33 models in four separate categories — each aimed at a specific segment of the market—the 1963 cars represent faith in a continued strong national economy by Chevrolet, which is already on its way to setting an all-time industry sales record for 1962.

There are significant styling changes in the regular Chevrolets, a continuation of their unique automotive personalities by the Chevy II and the Corvair, and two entirely new bodies and a new chassis for the Corvette sports car. All models have significant mechanical improvements.

Taking the four members of the Chevrolet family one at a time:

Regular Chevrolets

The traditional big car emphasis upon luxurious transportation is continued in the 1963 regular Chevrolets, offered in 13 models in the Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne series.

There is a sleek, longer look with all-new styling. Straight windshield pillars improve access for driver and passengers. The new front grille of anodized aluminum extends the full width of the vehicle, while a depressed center area adds new interest to the broad rear deck lid.

Smooth, straight-line styling gives the side of the new Chevrolets a flowing look of motion. A horizontal line highlights the sculpture of the side, extending from the foremost point of the front fender to the extended point of the rear fender. Lower, a slender accent rib from midway down the front fender skims the top of the rear wheel and carries through to the rear bumper.

Throughout the line, ventilated rocker panels provide a new measure of protection from corrosion. Door locks are improved to enhance passenger safety.

The Impala sport sedan has a fleet, new roofline and an optional vinyl top is available for the Impala sport coupe. Fifteen solid colors and eleven two-tone combinations are available in the regular Chevrolets. Interiors of the cars are entirely new and more luxurious for 1963.

Mechanically there are the following new features:

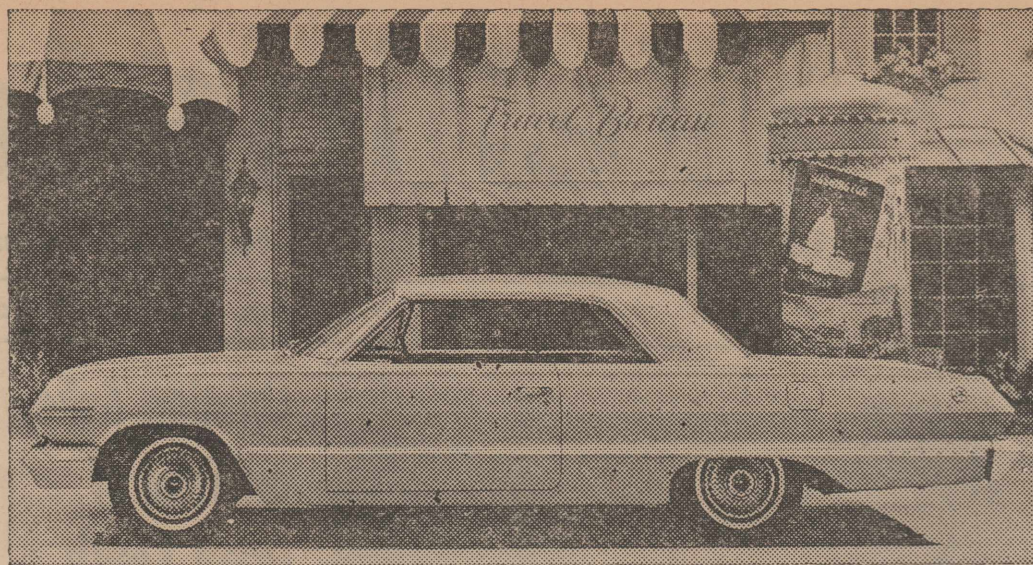

—A new six-cylinder 140 horsepower engine, higher in horsepower and yet 23% lighter than its 1962 counterpart, teams with a revised 238 cubic inch V8 and five other V8 engines to offer engines ranging from 140 to 425 horsepower.

—Brakes are self-adjusting, mufflers will have longer life, and the lightweight Powerglide transmission used with the 327 cubic inch engine option in 1962 is extended to all models.

—Delcotron generators are standard on all models, assuring ample reserve electrical power for added accessories and longer battery life.

—All radios are transistorized for 1963.

—The standard equipment heater is new as are the optional all-weather and custom air conditioners.

Chevy II

In its second year on the market, Chevy II continues the basic styling of the previous model with new exterior and interior appointments. There are ten models in three series.

There is a new grille and a wide hood and deck lid emblems to give a more massive look to the car. There are new body side moldings for the 300 and Nova 400 series.

For 1963, Chevy II offers Super Sport options on its Nova 400 sport coupe and convertible, featuring bucket seats and all-vinyl interiors. Fifteen solid colors and eleven two-tone combinations are available on Chevy II models.

Mechanically, the Chevy II has self-adjusting brakes and Delcotron generators. Four-and six-cylinder engines again are offered, with minor improvements. Longer-life mufflers are standard on all models. Radios are completely transistorized.

Corvair

Chevrolet's distinctive small car enters its fourth year on the market with an ever-growing following among those who want a sports car feel in a less expensive car.

Styling changes are confined to ornamentation and molding details. Otherwise, America's first rear-engine car continues its unique personality.

There are eight models of Corvair, ranging in variety from the Monza Spyder convertible to two models of the popular Corvair Greenbrier sports wagon. Fifteen solid colors plus two-tone combinations are offered.

Mechanically, Corvair has self-adjusting brakes, more durable exhaust system and changes in front suspension and steering linkage. Engines have numerous improvements, and radios are transistorized.

Especially dramatic are the retractable headlights which rotate up from the airfoil-shaped front end at the touch of a switch by the driver. Both Corvair models are

Corvette

In its tenth year on the market, America's only production sports car is redesigned and re-engineered for the first time.

In addition to the convertible (with optional hardtop) model offered in the past, there is a new "fast-back" sport coupe.

For the first time, Corvette offers optional power steering, power brakes and air conditioning for the customer who wants a sports car but also wishes to retain the driving conveniences to which he has become accustomed.

Mechanically, there are a host of improvements, including a completely new chassis, four-wheel independent suspension, self-adjusting brakes, improved steering and Delcotron generators.

Especially dramatic are the retractable headlights which rotate up from the airfoil-shaped front end at the touch of a switch by the driver. Both Corvair models are known as the "Sting Ray." Their sleek aerodynamic fiberglass bodies will be available in seven high quality acrylic lacquer finishes.

Corvettes for 1963 are two inches lower and four inches shorter in wheelbase than 1962 models. In addition to their exterior styling, interiors have been completely redesigned for 1963.

OLD FOLKS BOARD FACES PROBLEM

AUSTIN.—Board for State Hospitals, faced with a report that 3,000 of its patients in state mental hospitals aren't sick—but just old—will ask the legislature to do something about it.

Reports indicate county judges are "committing" aged persons to state hospitals mainly because they and their families find it inconvenient to care for them.

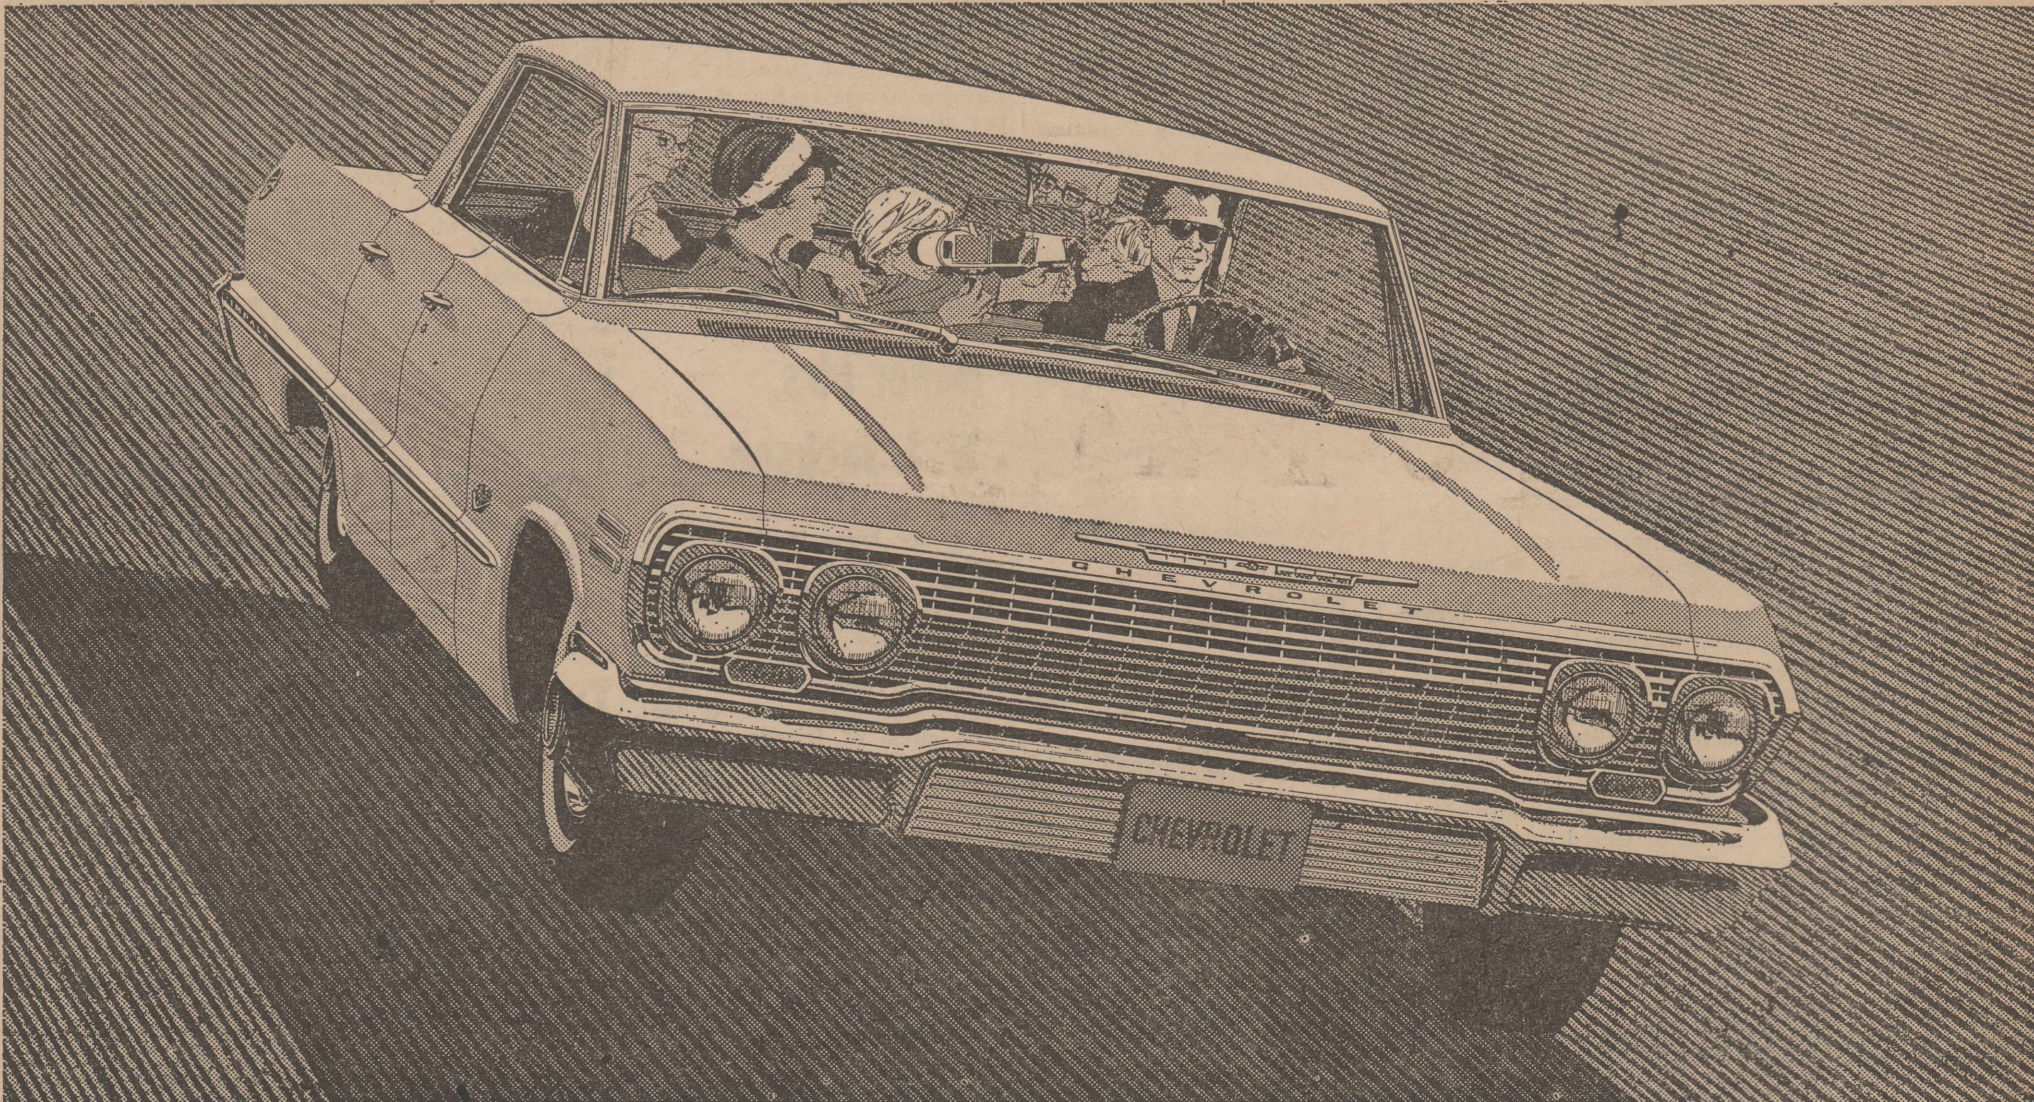

Board suggests the state pay part of the cost of placing such persons in privately-owned nursing homes. Sons and daughters would be required to pay the balance. Problem is one of welfare, rather than psychiatry, says the Board.

"We now have older persons crowding facilities that are supposed to be used for the mentally ill," it says.

LAW OVERHAUL

AUSTIN.—A State Bar of Texas committee is recommending to the 1963 legislative session the first full-scale revision of court procedure in Texas history.

If the Legislature proves receptive, the state's criminal law, as well as procedure, may undergo extensive legislative scrutiny as a result of scandals which have shaken the state this year.

FUSARIAN WILT IDENTIFIED IN COTTON HERE THIS YEAR

Fusarian wilt and fusarian nematode complex has appeared in sandy land cotton this year more than in previous years, and to an extent that it is included in the research work of the Northwest Texas Research Demonstration program.

Dwayne Scott is in charge of the study.

"This is what we see about the time the cotton begins to put on bolls, and it goes into a severe wilt and dies," County Agent Bob Lynch explained. This is especially true during drouth.

Lynch gave this explanation of the disease:

The cambium layer of the cotton stalks, which carry plant food and water, plug up with fungus material, cutting off the plant's nourishment. The complex system is attacked by nematodes, or microscopic worms.

"There are scattered fields where we found several acres taken out of a field by fusarian wilt. As much as 25% will have died and the remainder is so stunted it produces little cotton," Lynch explained.

The condition is scattered over the county. In some fields only individual plants are affected.

Scott's research in fusarian wilt is similar to that done in other areas, and includes a spray attachment on the cotton planter, which puts down a combination nematode and fungicide at the time the cotton is planted. One nozzle puts the spray in the seed row, a second nozzle puts it on top of the ground.

This, however, is not economically feasible for the treatment of entire fields, Lynch pointed out.

In past years here there has not been enough solid infestation in fields to carry on the research, he added.

Lynch also recommended crop rotation in fields where fusarian wilt and nematodes have been found. This will break the disease cycle, he explained.

Boll Weevil Control Adds 286,000 Bales

By JOHN THOMAS
Area Entomologist, Texas
Agricultural Extension Service

In a recent survey of 25 counties in the Red Rolling Plains where the boll weevil has been a problem for the past four years, cotton producers and county agricultural agents are firmly convinced that effective boll weevil control will result in an increase in excess of 286,000 bales of cotton in 1962.

All cotton fields in the 25 counties surveyed did not require boll weevil control during 1962. However, for the purpose of the survey, farmers and county agents were asked, "What has been the value of boll weevil control to the cotton industry in your county where the practice was properly followed?"

The 25 counties surveyed have a total of 1,144,191 acres of cotton which will be harvested in 1962. Cotton producers and county agents in these counties estimate that effective boll weevil control during the season has resulted in saving an average of 1/8 to 1/4 bale per acre for the county as a whole. This represents an increase in yield as the result of effective weevil control.

Using these figures, a total increase in yield of 143,024 to 286,048 bales will result from boll weevil control in 1962.

Based on the conservative figure of 1/8 bale increase per acre, this means an additional value of over $21,500,000 for the 1962 crop.

Certainly this added income did not occur without addition

New Inspection Stickers for Motor Vehicles

AUSTIN.—Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today a new-type motor vehicle inspection sticker is now available for the new inspection year beginning Sept. 1. "The only thing new is the sticker itself," he said. "This new sticker is a dry mount decal which we believe will adhere regardless of weather conditions and one which has been used very successfully in other states."

More than five million vehicles registered in the state are required by law to be inspected at one of the 5,000 official inspection stations between this date and April 16, 1963. Owners of vehicles not displaying the current inspection sticker after that date will be in violation of the law. Garrison urged motorists to get their vehicles inspected as early as possible, and pointed out:

"With hard summer driving coming to an end, fall is an excellent time to have vehicles safety checked in preparation for the winter months."

Mrs. Mildred Starr and daughter, Miss Pat Starr, visited Mrs. G. N. Scruggs Sunday.

Says Coach

Over-Confident Rockets Could Do Better

By COACH DON BECK

Of course we are always glad when we win, but we were a little bit disappointed in our kids because they went to Paducah over confident.

I told Coach Harold Lamb before the game that we had four or five kids who weren't going to play a good ball game. I could tell by the way they were acting. And it held true because one of the those boys was a kid who had been doing an outstanding job on both offense and defense, and he played real poor on both offense and defense.

And there were four or five in about the same boat as he was.

But some of our kids gave their best and Coach Lamb and I felt like overall team tackling was good hard tackling. We felt like Raymond Sanders ran real well; we felt like Bobby Hudson ran real well. Felt like Lynn McLain threw the ball real well and we thought Herbie Duncan did a good job of running with the ball after he caught it.

We felt like Glen Thomas did a real fine job of blocking; felt like Ronnie Nix did a good job of blocking and Craig Bergvall has been a steady stand-out for us every week, although we haven't pointed him out as much as some of the others because we knew he was going to do us a good job, but we have been real proud of him each week.

We had many busted assignments on offense and we must correct these if we are going to beat Tulia. Defensively, Don Roark did an outstanding job; Craig Bergvall also did; Tim Bailey did quite well on defense.

Our inside linebackers, Sanders and Thomas, improved a good deal since the Hollis game. But we are going to have to improve even more and play superbly for us to defeat Tulia.

Defensively we had boys going around blocks instead of playing through the men. We also had boys keying certain on offense and they did not read their keys, therefore Paducah hurt us offensively.

All in all we were proud of our kids, because any time you get 110 yards penalties and get two touchdowns called back and drop three touchdown passes, you're not going to beat anybody too bad. We made 302 total yards rushing and 22 first downs to our opponents' 11 first downs.

If we can eliminate the penalties and get our boys high enough, and eliminate all busted assignments, then we will defeat Tulia.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Morris visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Martin last week end.

AGENT DISCUSSES USE OF DEFOLIANTS, DESICCANTS

With cotton growers of the county already beginning defoliating operations, County Agent Bob Lynch this week discussed the use of both defoliants and desiccants in this area.

"Defoliants are used on the leaves so they will drop off and bring on earlier maturity, and we normally use these for quicker harvesting," Lynch pointed out.

Desiccants are the chemicals recommended for mechanical stripper harvesting. The plant is killed but the leaves do not fall, it was explained.

"For stripper harvesting, there is no need for the leaves to drop off," Lynch said, "because they are blown out and beat out as the cotton goes through the stripper."

They are simpler to use since the cotton plants must be in the proper condition for the use of defoliants.

There are two types of desiccants, those with arsenic acids and those with penta. Each is marketed under several trade names, Lynch said, adding that in each case instructions on the package should be followed.

The Extension Service recommends that cotton be treated either with defoliants or desiccants when 60% of the bolls are open. The remainder of the bolls should be hard enough that they cannot be cut with a knife.

"If cotton is defoliated too early, fiber development is interrupted and you very likely will get wasty cotton," he explained.

With proper methods used, there should be no loss of grade in cotton harvested by machinery.

Lynch said defoliant guides are available in his office.

Quail Youth Attends LCC

Oct. 1 Deadline to Apply for Gas Tax Refund

Monday, Oct. 1 is the deadline for farmers to file applications for gas tax refunds, County Agent Bob Lynch reminded.

These refunds are for the period of July 1, 1961 through June 30, 1962.

Farmers who have filed applications in prior years should have received cards through the mail, but if these were missed, applications may be had from the county agent, or from some gas dealers, Lynch explained.

"It is also permissible for the farmer to receive the refund on any gas used for custom operation on his farm," Lynch says, "as legally speaking you used the gas on your farm when you paid the cost of the custom work."

BANKERS FIGHT

A new organization, Association of Texas State Chartered Banks, has been formed to fight for preservation of the dual banking system and the independence of state banks.

McGuire Leaves School Board

Travis McGuire has resigned as a member of the Quail school board, which he served as president, Herman Moseley, superintendent, announced this week.

Lonnie Neeley was elected as president to succeed McGuire. Elvis Pitts of the Buck Creek community was appointed to fill McGuire's unexpired term, which runs until April 1964.

Other officers of the board are Carl Wischkaemper, vice president and John Carson, secretary.

"Mr. McGuire has served on the board 13 years, and his children have finished school. He told us he felt he should be replaced by someone who has children in school," Moseley reported.

Pitts has a daughter in high school and one in the elementary grades.

Pete Smith of Samnorwood has enrolled in Texas Technological College on a scholarship he received as valedictorian of the Samnorwood graduating class this spring. He is the son of Mrs. Allen I. Smith.

Naval ROTC Tests Set for Students

Vice Admiral W. R. Smedberg, III, Chief of Naval Personnel, announced today that the 17th annual national competitive examination for the Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps will be given to eligible high school seniors and graduates on Dec. 8. Application forms are now available and must be mailed by Nov. 16.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice that has an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for not more than four years. During the summer the student goes on interesting training cruises as a midshipman.

After successfully completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty as a prospective career officer with the Navy's modern fleets. Immediate challenging assignments to flight training or to submarine training will offer varied career potential to those who apply and qualify.

High school seniors and graduates who have reached the 17th anniversary of birth and have not reached the 21st anniversary of birth on 30 June 1963 may apply for the aptitude test for NROTC. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid medical exam early in 1963. From the number of qualified young men remaining in competition, more than 2000 will be selected to begin their naval careers in college next September.

Application forms are available at high schools, Navy recruiting stations, or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington 25, D. C.

Rockets Down Dragons in Non-Conference Tilt

By JACK FORD

A combination of a passing-running offense, and a stiff defense in the right places at the right time gave the Skyrocket football team a 14-0 victory over an aggressive but undermanned Paducah eleven at Paducah Friday, Sept. 21.

Paducah won the toss of the coin and chose to receive the ball. The Rockets chose to defend the south goal. Raymond Sanders kicked off for the Skyrockets and Paducah's T. Porter received the ball on the Paducah 25 yard line, where he was immediately tackled by Don Roark. A 15 yard penalty against the Rockets moved the ball to Paducah's 40 yard line. After two attempts at the middle of the Rocket defensive line (including a 5 yard penalty against the Rockets), Paducah fumbled and Rocket Skippy Duncan fell on the ball for a Rocket recovery on the Paducah 43. In two running plays to the right side Sanders carried the ball to the 30. After two attempts by Sanders and Lynn McLain netted just 6 yards, Sanders plowed his way up the middle to the 7. At this point an offside penalty against the Rockets moved the ball back to the 12. Bergvall and Martin moved the ball to the 5. Sanders then carried it over the double stripe, but a 5 yard penalty nullified the Rocket touchdown.

On the next play Sanders carried to the 7, Lynn McLain then rolled out to his left and threw a pass to Herbie Duncan in the end zone for the counter. The try for extra point failed.

The rest of the first half was spent by both teams trying to get the ball in good position on the field, the highlights being the passes thrown by Lynn McLain, with three of these being dropped by the receivers inside the Paducah 20 yard line.

The second half started as if the Rocket offense was about to get going. Sanders picked up the Paducah kickoff on the Rocket 25 and was hit by a host of Paducah tacklers. He lateraled to H. Duncan who took the ball down the sideline to the 50.

McLain, Hudson and Bergvall moved to the Dragons' 35. Sanders then ran all the way for a touchdown that was nullified by a 15 yard penalty on Paducah's 20. McLain passed to Hudson on the 15, then Bergvall and Sanders moved to the 10, where Paducah took over. After three plays they had to kick and the Rockets took over, and moved from Paducah's 40 to the 24 where they fumbled.

The fourth quarter produced the only threat by Paducah, when a sustained drive with end sweeps by Quarterback Neskorik and runs by the halfbacks moved the ball to the Rocket 16, where a fumble was recovered by the Rockets. A 15 yard penalty and a tough Paducah defense forced the Rockets to kick.

After three attempts and a 15 yard penalty the Dragons were on their own 20. They punted and the ball went out of bounds on their 43. On the Rockets' first play McLain pitched out to Bobby Hudson who ran all the way down the sideline for the last Rocket touchdown. Sanders ran for the two extra points, making the score Rockets 14, Paducah 0.

The game ended three and a half minutes later.

A TESTIMONIAL

The following testimonial was submitted voluntarily to me by friends in Ashdown, Arkansas who had an earnest desire to help me in my race for county judge of Collingsworth County.

We, having known Emil Kersten as a boy and as a young man, take pleasure in endorsing him as a worthy candidate for County Judge of Collingsworth County.

As a young man, Mr. Kersten ranked at the top in honesty, loyalty, scholarship and ambition.

At times, Mr. Kersten had a hard struggle financially, since he had many family responsibilities, but there was never a complaint nor did he tell the public about his troubles.

Knowing Mr. Kersten as we did, we hope you will give him your consideration when you go to vote.

SIGNED BY:

Mrs. C. I. Bowles, a former teacher
R. W. Lowry, Ex county judge
Noble Daniel, Supt. Water and Sewage Dept.
C. D. Franks, Superintendent of Schools
J. H. Welch, Ex-school board secretary
Mr. and Mrs. John Gill, neighbors
C. I. Bowles, city engineer
Ira Hyatt, Kansas City Southern Agent
E. E. Cowling, Mayor elect
Audry Thrash, Sheriff and Collector
Eddie Craig, Deputy Sheriff
Weaver Estwood, Circuit and Chancery Clerk
Effie Draper Garrett, Schoolmate
Myrtle F. Jester, Schoolmate

To Whom it May Concern:

It is a pleasure for me to recommend highly a very deserving young man who was a scholar in his school days. He was well-behaved, studious, courteous and very thoughtful to all. I was one of his teachers and can truthfully say Emil Kersten was a model young man. He deserves the best consideration and I am still 100 per cent for him.

Lucy T. Furlow, Teacher

In addition to these it is my desire that you know some of the things in which I believe.

First: Waste of taxpayers money on any level is wrong.

Second: The people of the county have a right to know exactly where their money goes and if elected it will be my pleasure to see that an itemized statement will be printed at least twice a year.

The tax monies are yours and you have the same privilege of checking them as you have over your money in the bank.

Third: My judgment is that a jail should be built on a conservative program without the necessity of an expensive bond issue.

This would actually prevent money being sent out of the county for prisoners "board and room" and would in the course of a few years pay back the price of a jail with monies now being spent to house prisoners in other counties.

Fourth: It is my belief that much can be done in spot road improvements, such as was my privilege to see during World War II without adding working hours or equipment.

It is my sincere belief that I can make you a "working" county judge, who is worthy of his hire and all will be done that can be done to make you proud of your county government if it is your choice to elect me.

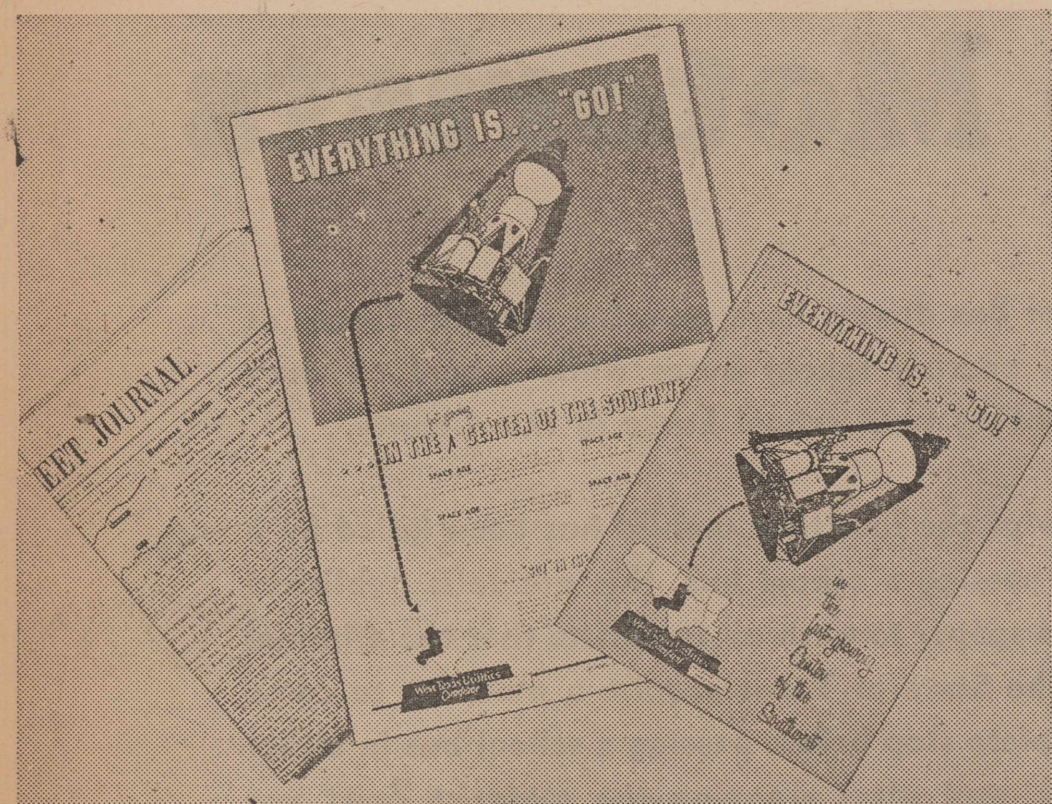

I feel that when any one takes the oath of office administered at the beginning of service, his or her time belongs to the tax payers and every effort should be made to diligently discharge the duties to the best interest of all the people, without regard to age, classification or precinct in which they live.

Older people who have made their homes in the county either by choice or by natural habitat are entitled to all the consideration and help the county judge can give and you may rest assured that all efforts will be made in your behalf without the denial of personal responsibility.

Other items of interest to all will be published from time to time until November 6.

We are telling the Nation's industrial leaders that...

EVERYTHING IS... "GO!"

...in this West Texas area

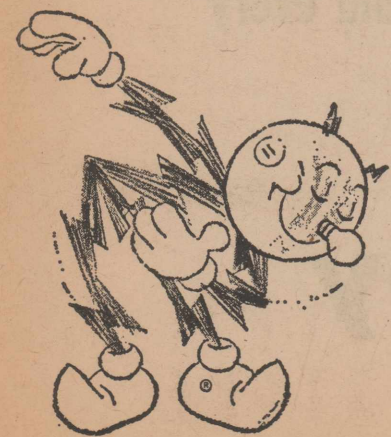

Because the space age we live in is a fast moving period of business and industrial expansion, we are working hard to see that this area gets its share.

We advertise the area's industrial advantages in national publications, and send factual mailing pieces to selected lists of business leaders. The Wall Street Journal advertisement and the colorful area folder shown above are current examples of this material.

In addition, our Area Development Representatives make periodical trips to the North and East, for personal contacts with these business executives.

WTU is enthusiastically engaged in this continuing program because we are convinced the Center of the South-west faces GROWTH UNLIMITED.

We are backing this belief with a multi-million dollar expansion program of our own to serve more people, more businesses, more industries.

As the date for the Sabin oral vaccine program approaches we might as well get acquainted with the advantages of such a mass immunization against the dread polio. The Sabin vaccine is superior to the Salk vaccine in that it is lasting whereas the Salk requires booster shots. It will prevent you from being a carrier as well as keep you from contracting the disease. If the goal of 5,000 vaccinated people is reached there will be no outbreak of epidemic proportions such as have occurred in some parts of the nation in other years.

County officials intend to take action against drivers who fail to come to a complete stop when a school bus has stopped in front of them. The fatal accident near Quail that plunged two families into tragedy in a few seconds has brought the grievous realization that many of the drivers of the county have been guilty of violating the school bus law. The core of the law is simple. A driver must come to a complete stop when a school bus is stopped and then can proceed past the bus at a speed no greater than 10 miles an hour. This applies whether you are coming up from behind the bus or whether it is facing you. School boards should require drivers to report the license number of any vehicle whose driver passes his bus in violation of the law. The Highway Patrolmen have requested that this be done, but they do not have the direct control over the bus drivers that school officials do.

George Scott, the usually cheerful grocer, takes a dim view of the Negro schools being turned out during the wet spell. It is his opinion that they might as well have resumed school the day after the rains started for when the rains start at this time of the year the unsettled weather generally lasts for a week or two. Fortunately Quail and Samnorwood had not turned out when the monsoon season arrived and have lost no school days.

There was a certain coolness in our home Sunday morning after the Tech-West Texas game. My wife went to Tech and I attended West Texas State. If Tech should pull an upset this week end and defeat mighty Texas, and they are capable of doing it, things will probably go from bad to worse next Sunday. I also attended the University of Texas.

Wonder how the people feel who journeyed all the way to Amarillo and then paid $5 to see the two-minute championship fight? It did not cost Wellington viewers a dime. You could pay for the cable for quite a spell for what it would have cost to take a car full of people to Amarillo counting the meals, gasoline, admission and all.

The lawyers of Billy Sol Estes have succeeded in having his trial at Tyler postponed for a month. Evidently they do not have the same philosophy as Josh Billings, who once wrote: "When I was a boy, I'd rather be licked twice than postponed once."

Pearly Lee Price says that you will be wasting your time trying to tell one Negro woman about dry West Texas. The woman arrived from East Texas to pull bolls a few days before the big rain that flooded some of the houses in the flats last Friday. She stuck one foot out of bed into about half a foot of water and hollered "Oh Lawd, I've been in the days of Noah."

Essay-Poster Contests for City Students

Two contests, one stressing farm-city relations and the other Americanism, will be conducted among high school and junior high students under the sponsorship of the 1924 Study Club, Mrs. B. M. Sims, president, has announced.

The essay contest will concern Farm-City Week, which will be observed in early November. Entries will be judged on correct form, originality and content.

The poster contest will have as its theme "Know Your America," and these will be displayed in local business firms during "Know Your America" week. Artistic portrayal, historic content and patriotic significance will be considered in judging the posters, Mrs. Sims said.

The deadline for both contests is November 5, and entries are to be turned in to Mrs. Sims, who can also furnish additional information to those wishing it.

Money prizes will be given the first and second place winners.

Improve Gas Lines in East Part of Town

Conversion of gas lines in the east part of Wellington from low pressure to intermediate pressure was announced this week by Billy Joe Thogmartin, manager of the Lone Star Gas office here.

This will eliminate the drop in pressure experienced in the area during extreme low temperatures in past years, he explained. Lines are not disturbed, but the increase in pressure comes through the installation of new type meters.

The area in which the change is made extends from Dallas to Houston streets and from 10th to 15th. Approximately 145 customers are affected.

Contractor for the job is V. J. (Catline) Jones of Abilene. The improvement job will cost around $5,000, Thogmartin said.

Lynch came here after three years with the Extension Service at Sherman. He grew up near Paris and was graduated from Texas A&M in 1950. He returned to do graduate work in 1953.

During World War II he served as an enlisted man and as a lieutenant in the Korean War. He held the rank of Captain in the Army Reserve, then transferred to the National Guard.

In Wellington he has served as a director of the Kiwanis Club two years and a steward in the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Lynch has been active in the 1954 Study Club and is a past president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church. They have two daughters, Carol 11, and Nancy 5.

"We have two distinct crops of cotton, early and late," he said. "About one-third of the early crop was open and that will be damaged some." Late cotton probably will benefit less here than in other sections.

The rain also was too late to do much good to the grain sorghum.

While some land washed, here again wonderful ground season was reported.

Wellington received 1.5 inches of rain Monday night and Tuesday, and 6.6 for the entire month of September. 2.56 inches fell Thursday, Sept. 20. This was the rain that washed the land.

Moisture was lighter in the Rolla community, where a total of around 3 inches fell in the 10 days.

In the northwest part of the county, Commissioner Buck Breeding reported 4.6 inches fell from Sept. 17 to 24. This was before the Tuesday rain. Farms in that section of the county suffered considerable damage from washing, he said.

Course in Border Spanish Offered Here

A course in border Spanish, the type spoken by Mexican workers coming into this area, will be offered in Wellington if a class can be formed, Police Chief Troy Marsh announced.

Charles Skelton of Hereford, who spent seven years with the Border Patrol in the Rio Grande Valley, will be the instructor. All persons interested in enrolling are asked to contact Chief Marsh by this week end. "Classes will be limited to around 30 and we already have 15 who want the course," he said.

"It is for farmers, business men—in fact, anyone who has contact with the Mexicans here. Local law enforcement officers plan to take it," Marsh added.

Tuition will be $25 per person, and there will be an additional few dollars to cover the cost of textbooks, and rent on a building if that is necessary.

Skelton has said that the only requirements for enrolling are that the student wants to learn and that he have a knowledge of basic English grammar.

The course will be one night each week for 12 weeks, with each session two hours long. There will be outside study also.

Skelton, a brother-in-law of Horace Small, was sheriff of Deaf Smith county one and one half terms and did not run for re-election. He now operates a
