'Peace By Fear' Is Protested By President

Precedent-Shattering Speech Condemning Force As Policy Of World Governments

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27—The United States, through President Roosevelt, served notice on the world today it would protect the western hemisphere from foreign interference and, while desiring disarmament, would not disarm "while neighbor nations arm to the teeth."

The president, in his first pronouncement on American foreign policy since the Czechoslovakian crisis, made a virtually precedent-shattering condemnation of nations which employ force, exile and repression as instruments of national policy.

NAZI PRESS CRITICAL

BERLIN, Oct. 27. (AP)—The controlled German press today sharply criticized President Roosevelt's address warning against "peace by fear" and his mention of "disperson all over the world of millions of helpless and persecuted wanderers."

The Hamburger Fremdenblatt advised him to "remember the indians when sobbing about the Jews."

The Berlin Lokalanzeiger said his mention of foreign armaments and their purposes was merely an apology for America's own armament program.

DNB (official German news agency) captioned its brief account of the president's broadcast last night: "Election Speech of Roosevelt at the Expense of Other Countries."

Both the news agency and the Lokalanzeiger contrasted his address with that of former President Hoover, especially emphasizing Mr. Hoover's description of the four-power Munich accord as a contribution to peace.

He declared that the governments of foreign nations "must not threaten the world with disaster of war" and asserted no useful purpose is served to suggest "either to the American people or the peoples of other nations that the American government in its policies, its practices and its servants are actuated by motives of dishonor or corruption.

"To do so," he said, "is, of necessity, an attack on the American system of constitutional representative government itself"

The president voiced his views last night in an address broadcast from the White House to the eighth annual New York Herald-Tribune Forum on current problems.

The chief executive followed his

Court Restrains Hague Actions

(By The Associated Press)

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 27—The CIO and allied organizations won a federal court order today restraining Mayor Frank Hague and fellow Jersey City officials from "deporting" members, or interfering with their rights to speak in public parks, distribute leaflets and carry placards.

POLICE USE NIGHT STICKS

NEWARK, Oct. 27. (AP) — One hundred policemen used their night sticks early today to halt disorders as a hostile group of several hundred attacked uniformed members of the German-American Wolkshund as they attempted to leave a meeting. Five men were arrested.

The decision was handed down by Circuit Court Judge William Clark, who sat as district judge at the trial last spring of an injunction suit brought by the Committee for Industrial Organization, the American Civil Liberties union, and several co-plaintiffs. They asked that Hague and his colleagues on the city administration be enjoined from interfering with their organizational activities.

Filing of the suit followed interruption of the CIO's attempt last November to distribute literature and organize workers in Jersey City—a move which Hague called an "invasion." Police arrested 13 organizers and sympathizers and escorted scores of others from the city.

In his opinion today, which Judge

Connally Guest Of City And Tech Today

Senator Attacks Seditious-Intent Powers

Equality For Business Is Proclaimed

Business Men Hear Senator At Luncheon Today Noon; Territory Is Praised

By H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

Equality of business opportunity protected from "powerful industrial autocrats" was proclaimed by Senator Tom Connally as an inherent American right here at noon today.

The occasion was a luncheon at which he was guest of honor in Lubbock hotel and to which the Kiwanis club was the official host, joined also by members of the Rotary, Lions and American Business club, and officials and citizens by scores.

Capacity Is Taxed

The audience, made up almost wholly of business and professional men, was one which taxed the utmost capacity of the combined ballrooms of the hotel. It was numerically the equal of the largest gatherings ever to be entertained at a luncheon there.

After remarking that American people have come to accept religious and political freedom as their natural right, Senator Connally continued that "we also must have economic and business freedom so that our citizens may carve out a business career and so that they have that part of the national income which is justly theirs because of their own enterprise and efforts."

Entitled To Protection

"The American citizen," the senator declared, "is entitled not alone to political, religious and business freedom, but he is entitled also to protection from the few who, unless controlled, would exercise mastership over the necessities and comforts of life. He is entitled to protection against those who would engage in unjust manipulation of economic laws."

But the time has come, he warned, that conservation of natural resources has become necessary, "even in this area of Texas which is almost virgin because the years are unwinding."

"We must conserve, we must develop," he declared, "so that every

Moreland Named To State Board Again

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (AP)—Gov. James V. Allred announced today the reappointment of Patrick D. Moreland for a six-year term on the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission.

The appointment was on the second anniversary of the signing of the unemployment compensation law and the governor seized the occasion to "point out the outstanding record made by the commission."

"In marked contrast to certain other states, Texas has had little, if any, criticism of the manner in which the unemployment compensation commission has administered the law. On the contrary, both labor and management have praised highly the administrative machinery set up by Orville S. Carpenter, C. R. Miller and Moreland," Allred said.

Since payment of benefits began last January, Allred said, benefits approximating $7,500,000 had been paid, and in addition an average of 30,000 persons monthly had been placed by the employment service.

Cash Income To Texas Farmers Increased During September

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (AP)—Cash income to Texas farmers in September rose over the preceding month but the increase was less than the usual seasonal gain, resulting in an index of 66.3 compared with 69.7 for August.

The bureau of business research of the University of Texas reported income, exclusive of government subsidies, was $75,667,000 in September, compared with $100,957,000 in September, 1937.

UNITED STATES SENATOR TOM CONNALLY waves a greeting to the South Plains upon arrival at Slaton this morning. Photo by Reeves.

Senator Connally Is Presented With All-Tech Suit Today At Convocation At Gymnasium

Evidence of the regard of Lubbock and the South Plains for Sen. Tom Connally was not found exclusively in applause and handshaking.

When he completed an address this morning at Texas Technological college he was presented with a white wool and cotton suit, all materials having been grown by the aggie division of the school and all spinning and weaving done by students of the textile engineering department there.

Others Have Gotten Suits

Similar suits had been presented to President Roosevelt, Vice President Garner and other national leaders.

The gift was from the South Plains and had been held here since Jan. 12, 1935, pending an expected visit.

The idea was born in the Evening Journal columnist "The Plainsman," Chas. A. Guy, editor of Avalanche-Journal publications. The writer invited the public to contribute to costs of the suit, which cost approximately $20 "but which could not be bought retail for less than $65," said L. D. Thomas, Lubbock tailor who made it from specifications sent by the senator.

Tailoring Niceties Provided

Tailoring made provision for such niceties as a "secret" pocket, reinforced cuffs where the heels rub and pencil and pen pockets.

Size? The more-trim-than-expected senator is 6 feet 11-2 inches tall and weighs approximately 180 pounds. He had the suit fashioned for a 39 1-2 inch waist, a chest of 41 inches and a back length of 31 1-2 inches, which would make the coat long in typical senatorial fashion.

Earl Heard, head professor of textile engineering, made the presentation, explaining the wool had been scoured, carded, spun and woven, and the cotton had been picked, carded, drawn, placed on the rolling frames, spun and woven—all processes at the college. Heard expressed hope the cotton laboratory would be established in Lubbock so that furthering of such ingenious manufacture would result.

Shebly Man Has His Own Plan Of Solving Unemployment But It Gets Him In Trouble

BEAUMONT, Oct. 27. (AP) — Bewhiskered Tom Scarborough of Shelby county had his own system of solving his personal unemployment problem—but it went around in federal court today.

He told Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, jr.; "I set fire to the timber (in Sabine National park) so I could get a job. I figured that they'd hire me to help put out the fire."

Tom waited today to find out if federal justice would find some way for him to spend his time.

'Our Territory Posted,' Says Tom Connally

Senator From Marlin Has Busy Schedule Today In Visit To Lubbock

By R. C. HANKINS
Journal Staff Writer

Sen. Tom Connally leveled a barrage cautioning "groping powers exercising seditious intent pointed at the American concepts of government" that "our territory is posted" and "I say to them they'd better keep out!" in addressing more than 1,000 persons this morning at Texas Technological college.

The junior senator from Marlin, continuing a round of addresses that began at a Senior High school convocation soon after he was taken off a train early in the morning and driven here by automobile, and which will be concluded late tonight, spiked his oratorical guns after training them on a general theme of preparedness.

In Typical Connally Manner

In typical Connally manner that has made him feared by opponents on the floor of the senate no less than leaned on by proponents, the senator alternately had the crowd of students and townsfolk roaring with laughter at his wit and sitting tense on the edge of seats at his interpretation of a bristling international political development.

Senator Connally, likewise up to his usual form in sweeping verbally a panoramic scope, took occasion in a section of his speech as well defined as a preamble to "congratulate" the college on its growth "that staggers the imagination" and to analyze complex forces that are elements in that growth.

Presented With Tech Suit

At conclusion of his address he was presented with a suit "grown and fabricated at Texas Technological college," one of 11 colleges in this country teaching textile engineering.

"Insidious" evidences of foreign spies and propagandists in the United States and on the North and South American continents have caused the United States president and the federal government to "propose the greatest navy that floats on the seven seas."

"Want To Live In Peace"

"We want to live in peace with the world," he shouted, breaking through a wall of applause. "We want no indemnity wrung by the

Oil Men Ask Tax Relief

BY OLEN W. CLEMENTS
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 27.—The cry of unjust and confiscatory taxes against the oil industry was raised today at the annual convention of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association.

Charles P. McGaha of Wichita Falls, president of the association and Raymond M. Myers of Dallas, chairman of the social security committee of the organization, led the fight for a reduction in taxes imposed on the rich industry in Texas.

O'Daniel To Be Heard

W. Lee O'Daniel, gubernatorial nominee, arrived early in the morning and was to address the convention during the afternoon. The delegates looked forward to O'Daniel's speech in the hope he would explain how and where he hopes to get money for the $30 a month pensions he promised the aged in July. The industry fears it will be called upon to foot most of the bill.

President McGaha asked state and national lawmakers not to burden the industry with unwise legislation and heavier taxes.

The Wichita Falls oil man, in his report to the association's nineteenth annual convention, claimed the petroleum industry pays a Texas oil tax of 8.4 cents a barrel while Illinois collects 2 cents a barrel. Ad-

Minnie, The Original Singng Mouse, Dead Today Of Old Age

WOODSTOCK, Ill., Oct. 27. (AP)—Minnie, the orighal singing mouse which started that wave of warbling rodents back in 1936—remember?—was dead today, probably of old age.

Fame and fan mail no end came to Minnie after her discovery in basement of the Chicago Industrial school in December, 1936. Imitators were found in virtually every state, and England, not to be out-done, discovered a couple, too.

'Unwarranted Interference' Is Protested

Continuance Of 'Open Door' Policy In Far East Is Demanded In Statement

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—The United States government has told Japan in a strongly-worded note to stop "unwarranted interference" with American rights in China.

The 3,000-word statement, presented by Ambassador Joseph C. Grew in Tokyo Oct. 6 but made public only today, demanded continuance of the "open door" policy in the Orient.

Early Reply Requested

An early reply was requested. The unofficial interpretation here was that if a favorable answer did not arrive soon, relations between the two countries would become strained.

The United States accused Japan of seeking to make another Manchoukuo out of the portions of China she has occupied, and listed a long series of violations of American business and property rights.

The note charged Japan with trying to monopolize all trade in China through setting up pseudo-Chinese monopolies; with manipulating the currency in North China; with altering the tariffs; with keeping American business men from their properties; with censoring and interfering with American mail and telegrams at Shanghai.

Raps Japanese Changes

It called Japan's changes in the customs offices "arbitrary and illegal assumptions of authority for which the Japanese government has an inescapable responsibility."

All these violations, said the note, "indicate clearly that the Japanese authorities are seeking to establish in areas which have come under Japanese military-occupation general preferences for, and superiority of, Japanese interests, an inevitable effect of which will be to frustrate the practical application of the principle of the open door and se-

Japs Push On In Conquest

By LLOYD LEHRBAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Oct. 27.—The Japanese conquerors of Canton and Hankow pushed ahead today with three objectives.

One was to disperse Chinese troops retreating from Hankow, erstwhile provisional capital which fell Tuesday, before they could consolidate new positions.

To Occupy Railway

Another was to occupy 685 miles of railway linking Canton, conquered last week, and Hankow.

The third called for the penetration of intervening areas in Kwangtung (Canton), Kiangsi, Hunan and Hupeh (Hankow) provinces.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's armies were taking up positions southwest of Hankow and claimed to have repulsed Japanese attacks designed to cut the railway north of Sienning.

Other Drives To Follow

The occupation of the remaining 685 miles was scheduled to be followed by drives on Yochow, a strategic position controlling both the railroad and the Yangtze river 150 miles upriver from Hankow, and Changsha, 230 miles from Hankow.

Plainview Plans For Greatest Football Migration In History Of City; Special Train, Cars To Bring Fans Here For Game Friday

Plans went ahead in Plainview this morning for the biggest football migration Friday in the history of that city.

Pete H. Smith, manager of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, advised The Evening Journal by long distance that a special train has been chartered which will bring many of the fans to Lubbock for the Plainview-Lubbock High school football game under the lights in Texas Technological college stadium.

He added that more than 900 tickets have been sold in Plainview for the game, the number not including the band of 60 musicians nor the pep squad of 80 snappily costumed girls.

The special train of eight coaches, he said, will arrive here about 7:30 o'clock and will remain on the siding adjacent to the football field. Departure will follow soon after the game.

The band and pep squad will occupy section R on the east side of the field. Every ticket in section S has been sold, Smith reported, and those in section T, which were rushed to Plainview Wednesday were "going like hot cakes."

City and school authorities, he said, have decided against a motorcade, although several hundred automobile loads of fans probably will make the trip, Smith said. The motorcade was abandoned in favor of the special train as a highway precautionary measure, Smith explained. The band and pep

Old People Are Honored Again

(Special To The Journal)

HALE CENTER, Oct. 27.—Eighteen octogenarians and nine others past 70 were guests here Wednesday afternoon at the ninth annual octogenarian banquet sponsored by the Hale Center Merchants association in their honor.

Composed of 18 men and nine women, the aged group reminisced during the banquet at the Methodist church.

J. H. Lutrick, who achieved the distinction of becoming an octogenarian this year, and who has farmed for 4 seasons on the same farm, almost stole the show from Congressman George Mahon of Colorado, the main speaker. Lutrick, who explained he had not had much formal education and was "not a speaker—I can't make a speech," talked so interestingly of his experiences in Hale county, that after the meeting the audience crowded around him to congratulate him on his talk.

Lutrick came from Henderson county, in East Texas, driving a wagon pulled by oxen, with his wife and children riding in an old hack. He settled near Clesbee, as "Hale City and Epworth did not agree."

The speaker recalled the then frontier section, the few people living here and commented at length on early day experiences.

Program Is Given

Before the serving began Rev. G. I. Brittain of Plainview gave the invocation. After the meal the Hale Center high school choral club sang four numbers, "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginny," "When You and I Were Young," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and "The Little Brown Church." Webb Jenkins, instructor of music, directed the group.

Rev. W. R. Burnett, pastor, welcomed the guests of the group in a brief talk. He used as the basis of his talk the Twenty-third psalm. "The older we grow, our faith has come to be more firmly grounded," he said. The psalm, he pointed out, was written as David grew older and was a summation of his experiences.

Vet Tells Of Trip

R. W. (Uncle Bob) Lemond, Confederate veteran who attended the recent diamond jubilee of Confederate and Union former soldiers at Gettysburg in July, briefly described his experiences. He said he had always desired to meet some of his former foes and when he received the invitation he made plans to attend.

With the leaders of both sides gone, only a few of the rank and file were left, he said. The leaders had always been against a reunion; with them out of the way, the privates could arrange a meeting. "We had no more ill feeling for them than you have," he added. After arrival in Gettysburg, Uncle Bob said, his son had him put in a hospital, because of his physical condition, so he did not get to see as much as he wanted to of the battlefield.

Congressman Mahon said the experience was for him, "something new," he having never attended such a gathering. "We often are prone to disregard the loved ones around us," he pointed out. "We pay homage today to those old timers who have meant so much to us," he added.

"There is nothing wrong with this old world—except with the people who live here," Mahon pointed out. His recent trip to China, where he had a chance to see how the people of other lands lived, was briefly commented on, to show how much better American living is than that in other nations.

Rev. Mr. Brittain was called on for a brief talk. "Some of us are not old—but we have lived a long time," he said. Growing old requires patience and "patience is a grace," he commented.

Dr. J. A. Longmire, 78, resident of the territory for a quarter of a century, reviewed the changes here since he first came to this section. "We ran out the prairie dogs and the wolves and we built a town where they used to have a town." Mrs. Mary Ross, 78, declared "I have never dreaded old age," adding "one can get a great deal of satisfaction in looking back over a busy life."

Others Are Called On

A number of others were called on by Dr. S. J. Underwood, toastmaster but most of them declined to speak much other than to express their appreciation of being invited and able to attend.

Col. T. J. Tilson, Plainview, a former member of the state legislature, recalled some of his experiences in southeastern Virginia, where he lived prior to the Civil war. He and William Franklin Elkins, 91, came from the same general area. Colonel Tilson recalled pre-war experiences with negroes.

Mrs. W. B. Nicholson was in charge of the memorial for those who have passed on. The list included, A. R. Ritchey, W. M. Mullican, J. W. Sears, R. M. Babb, R. G. Browne, G. D. Allen, J. A. Wheeler, T. D. Weddington, J. W. Smiley, Mrs. Smiley, D. A. Burham, Mrs. R. J. Walls, Mrs. S. E. Sears, Mrs. Mary Norfleet and Mrs. Sarah Neely. At the close one verse of "Close to Thee" was sung.

Some Unable To Attend

Several guests were unable to attend, because of their physical condition.

Octogenarians present were, R. W. Lemond and W. F. Elkins, 91; T. J. Tilson and S. A. Bird, 90; Mrs. Nancy Taylor, 88; J. F. Sageser, 87; Dr. M. J. Shaw of Plainview, and Dudley Wardlow, 86; H. N. Ritchey, Dr. Brittain, J. M. Caudle, M. P. Routzahn and S. S. Howard, 83; Mrs. Nancy Bell, 82; J. D. McMennamy, 82; Mrs. Josephine Robinson, 81 and J. H. Lutrick and Mrs. Lena Lemond, 80.

Others included, Mrs. Mary E. Ross, Dr. R. J. Longmire, T. R. Galt, W. B. Jones, and Mrs. S. A. Bird, 78; Mrs. H. N. Ritchey, Mrs. Susan F. Petty, 77; J. Frank Norfleet, 76 and Mrs. Ella McWhorter and Mrs. McMennamy, 70.

Soil Moisture May Prove To Be The Key To Long-Range Forecasts For U. S. Crops

A cross-section of wheatland soil, showing how borings are made to get samples for moisture tests.

(By Associated Press Feature Service)

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 21.—Farm experts this fall are going to try to forecast nearly a year ahead of time the approximate size of wheat yields in the western dry land farm belt.

They hope to take some of the gamble out of wheat raising through soil moisture tests.

Experts of the bureau of agricultural economics, working at the Kansas experiment stations, discovered that depth of soil moisture at the time wheat is planted in the fall apparently largely determines the size of the crop harvested the following summer.

Experiments Revealed

"Experiments indicate western Kansas wheat seeded in dry beds will result in complete failure 71 times out of 100," says H. L. Collins, statistician for the department of agriculture at Topeka.

"With one foot of soil moisture there will be a crop failure 34 times out of 100; with two feet of soil moisture there are failures 15 times out of 100; with three feet, 10 times out of 100."

To test the new method on a wide scale holes will be drilled every 10 miles over a 3,500-mile route in Kansas and a similar route in Nebraska. Depth of soil moisture then will be compared to crop production on the land that is drilled.

"The purpose is to supply wheat growers information relating to depth of soil moisture at seeding time and assist them in determining whether they should seed wheat acreage. It also gives additional information upon which to base an early season forecast of probable wheat production," Collins said.

Run Down Folk!

Take A Tip From Nature

You know what usually happens to growing things when you add new nourishment to the soil. Plants shoot up straight and sturdy, flowers bloom in rich colors and fragrance, trees grow heavy with their fruit. And all because of receiving proper nourishment. So, run down folks, take a tip from Nature. See what proper nourishment may do for you.

If your appetite is finicky, your digestion faulty, no wonder you are rundown, listless, feel gassy, belchy, bloated. Without proper nourishment your blood is weak—fails to supply the precious tissue-building elements every fibre in your body is crying for.

Your trouble may be functional and therefore to get the right help and nourishment you should try B-L Tonic. This tonic will make your appetite keen, improve your faulty digestion, thus enriching the blood, which, flowing like sap in the trees, will stir you to new strength and energy. It costs only ten cents a day to get this new hold on life. Starts B-L Tonic today on a money-back guarantee.—(Adv.)

Got Anything To Swap! You Can Find Someone Else For A Deal In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 27. (AP)—What have you to swap—it's open season here?

The "swaps" column of a newspaper (Post-Dispatch) disclosed that someone wishes to swap a cemetery lot for an automatic stoker or oil burner.

Others would like to bargain this way: Typewriter for some cedar fence posts; complete set of trap drums for an 8-inch circle saw and drill press; furniture for a late model car; radio for a shot gun; accordion for coal and auto tires, and a good heater for golf clubs and an outboard motor.

Parents' Failure To Understand Girls Is Cause Of Runaways, Says Policewoman

BY RUTH MILLETT

Most runaway girls have one thing in common—parents who do not understand the young viewpoint.

For 27 years dissatisfied girls have told their story to Mrs. Mary Sullivan, head of the Bureau of New York Policewomen. And during all that time she has also had an open ear for the parents' side of the story. But experience has taught her to save most of her sympathy for youth.

Mrs. Sullivan is quite a remarkable woman. A bright-eyed grandmother who can listen with shining, sympathetic eyes to a girl's story—and then say abruptly, "Now begin all over again and tell me the truth—starting with your right name." Somewhere in her busy life she has found time to set down her more exciting experiences in a newly published book, "My Double Life."

But back to the things she told me about runaway girls. Dissatisfaction is always deepened during adolescence. This is the time when parents should try hardest to understand their own children, try to appreciate the young viewpoint, no matter how foolish it seems, and make up their minds not to crush the boundless energy of youth with old-fashioned ideas and standards.

Forget This Is Free Country

The worst offenders, so far as refusing to admit that young people have rights of their own, are foreign-born parents, who forget that they are bringing up their children in a freer country than their own.

But many other parents, too, refuse to give their children the freedom their friends have, and this is almost always a cause for rebellion. A grown daughter is sure to be resentful when her parents refuse to let her go on outings with her crowd, forbid her to date a certain boy, meet her at the door when she is half an hour late, nag at her for smoking, make her account for every hour of her life. It is resentment against just such repression that often makes a girl a problem for Mrs. Sullivan—or a policewoman in some other city.

Mrs. Sullivan never talks to a runaway girl in front of her parents. She talks to each separately, usually working hardest on the parents, who almost always need to be "re-educated."

And she never tells a runaway girl that she must return home. Instead she sees that she has shelter (not as a delinquent) as long as she feels that she can't go back to a home life that seems unbearable.

But after being lonely for a few days the strict parent and the rebellious girl are usually willing to try again. So the brief vacation sometimes does real good.

If possible, Mrs. Sullivan would find work in New York for the girls who seem to have been "miscast" at home. "But," she says, "what can you do with an untrained 17-year-old when colleges are grinding out graduates so fast they have taken over even the most menial jobs?"

Military Chic

Mrs. Hans G. Spitzer, the former Princess Daria Obolensky, went to the polo championships at Westbury, L. I., in this chic fall suit with a slightly military jacket. Of Oxford gray flannel, the skirt is slim and straight, the jacket finished with black lapels, shoulder straps of self material, edged in black, and bronze buttons. She carries a casual coat of fleecy wool with a deep collar.

TALLOW YIELDS TO LARD

Stains from candles dripping on table linen occasionally resist ordinary laundering procedure. Use a dull knife to scrape off as much as possible without injuring the linen. Rubbing lard into the spot often loosens the tallow sufficiently, so that the ordinary soap and water bath removes it entirely. If it is still stubborn, try a reliable dry-cleaning fluid.

Cooperative Program Is Discussed At Dinner

The 12-month cooperative program of homemaking and agriculture for Lubbock county schools was discussed at a meeting of professional people directly interested at Mexican Inn Monday night.

Directly after dinner, a program in the form of reports of cooperative plans for the year from the various schools in the county were given. The reports were from Idalou, New Deal, Cooper, Slaton, Lubbock senior and junior high, Roosevelt and Frenship. Others present offered suggestions and comments.

Interested schools out of Lubbock county also sent representatives. Superintendents of schools, homemaking teachers, and agriculture teachers came from the following towns and communities: Crosbyton, Wolfforth, Whitharral, New Deal, Anton, Meadow, Roosevelt, New Home, McAdoo, Slaton, Cooper, Lubbock, Meadow, Idalou and Shallowater.

Special guests were Claude Hale, county superintendent-elect, Misses Vivian Johnson and Doris Buchanan, Messrs. Ray Chappelle and T. L. Leach, teacher trainers from Texas Technological college; O. T. Ryan and Miss Esther Sorensen, district vocational supervisors, and R. L. Thurman, agriculture graduate student.

To remove cream stains from garments or linens rub the stained area with cold water and soap and then rinse it thoroughly in cold water.

Constipated? Then Ask Yourself This Question!

If constipation has you bogged down so you feel tired, sunk, all played out—it's time you asked yourself a question!

What have you had to eat lately? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? It's no surprise you're constipated! The chances are you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is what you lack, your ticket is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains both "bulk" and the great intestinal tonic, vitamin B1. And it's not a drug, not a medicine!

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and take a new lease on life! All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

SMARTNESS WITH COMFORT

Gloves designed and patented by Merry Hull

These gloves are made on a new principle—with panels that go over the finger-tips—so that you can wiggle all ten digits in complete comfort! Another example of this trend towards comfort in things women wear, is Modess. This sanitary napkin is made on a different principle, too. The filler in Modess is soft and fluffy—unlike napkins made of crepey, close-packed layers. That's why women everywhere say, "For comfort, there's nothing like Modess!"

A miracle of comfort!

Warning Made Against Growth Of Communism Below Rio Grande

Kansan Gives Forum Speech

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Henry J. Allen, former Kansas governor, last night declared the government's policy in respect to Mexico's expropriation of American property might foster the growth of communism below the Rio Grande.

Speaking before the New York Herald Tribune Forum on current problems, he predicted a "savage battle between the radical left and radical right . . . will move into Mexico because a great nation pretending to control order and justice under the Monroe doctrine deliberately bowed itself out of the situation."

"Patterned By Trotsky"

The editor of the Topeka State Journal declared he was convinced the confiscations were "not only inspired but patterned" by Trotsky, one-time Russian communist leader now living in Mexico, and charged that Edwin S. Smith, a member of the National Labor Relations board who attended the recent labor conference in Mexico, "endorsed the Mexican confiscations and the principles of communism expressed at the meeting."

"That which concerns us," he said, "is whether we are going to allow to be builded south of the Rio Grande a communistic hell which will harbor all the crooked reds on earth.

"If our state department would establish an honest policy under Mr. Hull's interpretation of international law, announce it with courage and vigor, Mexico would be obliged to respond to it.

"That country could not withstand an economic boycott by the United States for a month. The so-called Republic is already tottering toward an economic collapse . . .

J. N. Farr's Hen Isn't Worried Over Governmental Production Control; Lays Oversize Egg

A six-months-old Leghorn pullet of J. N. Farr of three miles northwest of Lubbock isn't worried with government legal entanglements.

Barely of age—not subject to child labor laws—she apparently scoffs at overproduction.

Tuesday the pullet launched her egg-laying career, quite auspiciously, thank you. She laid a projectile-like egg, measuring 3 1-8 inches from stem to stern, 5 1-2 inches in circumference, and weighing two ounces.

"She's got a flock of sisters who are envious of her record," Farr said. "My roosters haven't been reconciled."

Farr has 82 fowls in his flock, which he "hatched and raised this spring."

Aeronautical Unit To Be Formed Here

Organization of a Lubbock chapter of the National Aeronautical association is scheduled at a meeting called for 8 o'clock Monday night in Hilton hotel, according to announcement Wednesday.

Charles A. Rowe, state head of the organization, will be here Thursday to assist in completion of the work, the announcement said further.

Clent Breedlove, manager of Municipal airport, said the NAA sponsors most of the record flights of the nation, including races, altitude attempts and the like.

The chapter will be signed Sunday night, dues paid and all made ready for Rowe's visit. Rowe will fly here in the plane he uses in association with his representing a major oil company.

Membership allows one to receive the official magazine, an identification card, lapel wings and special rates for airmen in numerous hotels of the country.

Organization here intends "more support of aviation," said Breedlove, who said membership is not limited to fliers and that "the more who attend the better for local aviation."

Roosevelt FFA Is To Sponsor Amateur Program On Nov. 4

An amateur program sponsored by the FFA chapter and Homemaking club is planned in the auditorium of Roosevelt Rural High school the night of Nov. 4, according to plans announced Wednesday.

Proceeds from the entertainment will be placed in a fund for taking the members of the two organizations to Yellowstone National park early next summer, according to announcement by Roy M. Monk, vocational agricultural teacher and FFA advisor.

C. H. Hutto will be master of ceremonies and will be in charge of the presentation. Cash prizes will be awarded winners.

Roosevelt school authorities announced the entries in the contest must be amateurs.

"We will adhere strictly to that rule," Monk said. Winners will be determined by applause.

Strickland Rites To Be Conducted Today

Funeral services for W. A. Strickland, 75, retired contractor of 1812 Avenue E, opened at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Sanders Funeral home, with W. W. Richeson, Lubbock, officiating.

Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

Mr. Strickland died at 6 o'clock Wednesday night in a hospital here of a malignant ailment.

He is survived by two sons, W. M. and Orville Lee Strickland of Rogers, N. M.; a daughter, Mrs. Addie Sims of Pilot Point; a sister, Mrs. R. A. Purser of Raymondville; and two grandsons, Roy Sims of College Station and Marvin Sims of Pampa.

Pallbearers will be L. C. Ellis, George R. Bean, Jack Hightower, J. L. Hinsley, H. L. Woolverton, and John Austin.

Strickland had been a Lubbock resident 17 years.

So Much Interest Being Shown In Revival More Seats Needed

Much interest is being shown in the revival in progress at the Church of God, 424 Avenue G, according to report Wednesday by Rev. S. O. Whitman of Seattle, evangelist, and Rev. R. M. Nolen, pastor. Additional seats had to be installed.

Although the revival is scheduled to close Sunday night, the pastor said, it may be prolonged another week. The evangelist's subject tonight will be, "Let Us Reason Together," and will be an inter-denominational sermon.

Special music by the choir, a quartet and stringed groups is presented at each service, the minister said.

CORRECTION

The Centennial Bridge club will meet Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock at Mexican Inn, instead of today as announced in the social calendar. Miss Della Wilkinson will be hostess.

Connally Pays Visit To City

sword, we want no new subjects, and we do not want a single mile of foreign soil.

"But no foreign nation must ever seek to take an inch of our own."

"We not only want political freedom, but economic freedom, as well . . . we want the right to go into the world with expectation of recompense commensurate with effort. . . .

Preparedness For Peace

"The government is embarked on a program of national preparedness—not for war, but for peace; not for conquest, but for defense; not for propaganda, but for ideals. . . ."

"We want a great navy to insure our continuance of good neighbor policy and our pursuit of honest commerce.

"But," he shouted, "we don't propose that we ever shall be attacked successfully by any foreign power. . . . In this time when wild men are abroad and when outlaws are on the oceans—when mad rulers knock over their peoples and their peoples' concepts of government and possibilities of happiness—it is time for peaceful people to defend their own institutions against the vaulting ambition of would-be Caesars and Napoleons."

Threat Is Cited

When the republican concept of government, he said, is threatened by Nazi, Fascist and Communistic creeds of other nations where individuals openly assume "power descended from on high, rather than our own belief it is a delegation from the people," there is, if not open, "insidious, persuasive and hostile" threat to other ethnic states.

The republican state, he said, was based on governmental limitations assuring liberty in its forms of trial by jury, free speech and press, as well as the numerous inalienable other manifestations. In direct oppositiveness, he defined the totalitarian states and communism as exponents of "tyranny, despotism like that of any Caesar who ever sat on a throne, and of rule under one master."

Offer Good To Greatest

The jarring concepts offer, on the other hand, the greatest good for the greatest number and, on the other hand, personal aggrandizement and potential misery and suffering, he said.

Hammering away at "the indoctrination" of our masses by hostile agents from abroad, Senator Connally asked a rhetorical question:

"What is the answer?"

"We can not suppress sedition and incitation to rebel by force," he said. "The answer is with you educated young men and women who have read of the decadence of nations in the past and the danger of alien purposes of the present . . . Let a communist talk. Free discussion will be the solution, he said.

After being introduced by Charles C. Crenshaw, Lubbock attorney, Senator Connally replied to allusions that had been made.

Has Been Watching Tech

Waving the crowd back to its seats and smiling briefly at his ovation, he told a humorous story then made a not-so-dry statement Tech evidently likes it football as well as its mathematics.

"I've been watching Tech since its establishment," he explained, "since the days of the late Dr. Horne (first president). In those days there was little as compared with now, unless you except the longhorn cattle—and the women were long-haired then, too. And we didn't have the chance of having our pictures taken every few minutes." He was referring to flashing bulbs of cameramen in front of him.

Education he defined as being no less cultural but more practical than in the past. Obligation of students to taxpayers who provide education "so close to home" was cited as a "debt" that must be repaid through the exactitudes of good citizenship.

Dean James G. Allen called Dr. W. F. Fry, head of the Bible chair of the college, who offered an invocation. The dean introduced Crenshaw.

Ranged in a crescent behind the senator were C. E. Maedgen, banker; Chas. A. Guy, editor of Avalanche-Journal publications; Sen. G. H. Nelson; Crenshaw; Earl Heard, head professor of textile engineering at the college; Dean Allen; W. T. Gaston, business manager of the college; Cong. George Mahon; Representative-nominate Alvin R. Allison; George W. Dupree, attorney, and Dean James M. Gordon of the division of arts and sciences at the college.

The senator had been met at 8:20 o'clock (the train was almost an hour late) at Slaton by Crenshaw, Maedgen, Congressman Mahon, Guy, a reporter and a cameraman, and he was taken by Crenshaw to Lubbock, where in the downstairs private dining room of Lubbock hotel he had breakfast with Crenshaw, Dupree, W. B. Irvin, superintendent of Lubbock public schools, Chas Whitacre, chairman of the chamber of commerce Good Neighbor committee; A. B. Davis, manager of the chamber of commerce; Hubert L. Allen, executive of the Texas-New Mexico Utilities company; Congressman Mahon; Maedgen; Dr. G. H. Ater, dentist high in the councils of the Knights of Pythias, of which Senator Connally is a grand lodge official; Ray F. Hinchey, vice president of West Texas Gas company, and Guy.

Speaks At High School

Whisked away immediately after he was shaved, he spoke to approximately 1,200 students and townsmen at the high school. He delivered an inspirational address, drawing parallel between those graduates of Eton school in England who are allowed to write their names on ancient walls if they have made successes later and those of the present who have opportunities to write theirs figuratively in their attainments.

This afternoon the senator will have no time to mark time. He will be taken from engagement to engagement.

To Talk With Committee

At noon he addressed a joint session of service clubs. Soon afterward he conferred with an all-Lubbock cotton committee on a proposed location and schedule of a southern cotton research laboratory.

He will be guest at an informal public reception afterward until 4:30 o'clock, when he will be guest of college and club women at a tea in the lounge of the women's dormitory at the college.

Dinner will be served in the men's lounge. There will be a smoker in the men's dormitory afterward.

Then the senator faces another address. At 7:30 o'clock he will be at a special meeting of the Pythians. Numerous representatives of South Plains and Permian basin lodges are expected.

Texas Agricultural Association Favors Present AAA Program

WACO, Oct. 27. (AP)—The Texas Agricultural association favors the present AAA program but thinks certain changes are necessary, including a process tax.

Ending its annual convention here yesterday the association included that in resolutions which also favored cooperation in the work for a farm research laboratory in Texas and proclaimed President Roosevelt "the greatest friend of the farmer that has ever occupied the White House."

C. H. Day of Plainview was elected president for the ensuing year.

man may share in the division of our resources in proportion to his ability and energy. We must not permit brigandage in the development."

Senator Connally was especially warm in his praise of the citizenship of such areas of the South Plains, crediting their vision, industry and "optimism" with major responsibility for what has been accomplished with abundant natural resources. He recalled his first visit to Lubbock in 1913, and remarked that if he actually had not seen the evidences of progress "I could not have believed it would have been possible."

"I wish the people of the rest of the United States, of the rest of Texas, could catch the picture of what you have wrought only after you had dreamed it," said Connally. "These things did not just happen. You had to do them. If others could see that vision, it would imbue them with a new inspiration."

Applause Interrupts Talk

Connally's address was interrupted by applause a number of times, once with his reference that although depressions have visited the nation, "The United States of America still is a pretty good place to live." He contrasted conditions of freedom prevailing in this nation with those of the rest of the world.

He held his audience tense, also, when he pictured the constitution as not having been the result of the few years immediately preceding nor during the War of the Revolution. It was the result when finally drafted, he insisted, of the accumulated experience, suffering, trials and determination of more than 150 years—during all the period from the moment when white man first established settlement in the country.

Dr. O. W. English, president of Kiwanis, presided at the luncheon and introduced, among others, Congressman George Mahon, State Senator G. H. Nelson and state Representative-Nominate Alvin R. Allison of Levelland.

George W. Dupree, Lubbock attorney and long-time friend of the senator, was applauded with enthusiasm when he introduced the speaker as "one of America's foremost statesmen."

Issue Awaiting Final Approval

Formality of collecting the cash on $150,000 in city school bonds voted last Nov. 2 was a step nearer this morning.

A. C. Jackson, school district manager, reported that the bonds, in denominations of $1,000 each, were signed by R. F. Bayless, secretary of approval by the attorney general there.

Sample Bond Approved

Since the attorney general already has approved a sample bond, that procedure is a necessary technicality, it was explained. The issue then will be delivered to Brown-Crummer company of Wichita, Kan., the purchaser which paid par and a premium of approximately $750 for the securities, Jackson said.

The bonds draw 3 per cent interest, a net of 2.94 per cent when allowance is made for the premium, school officials said.

The bonds were signed in New York City late last week by Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president of the school board. The issue was sent by airmail to Dr. Hutchinson who returned them in the same manner.

Officials still were uncertain as to when the building program for which the bonds make provisions will be started. Delay at this time is due, it was explained, to the fact that an application is now pending with the Public Works administration for a grant of approximately $125,000 to assist in carrying out the program.

However, if no word is received within a few weeks or should the grant not be made available, officials said, expectation is that building will be started without delay.

Improvements for which the bonds make provision include three new school buildings and additions and modernization of several others.

FIRST SERVICES SET

HALE CENTER, Oct. 27.—First services will be held Sunday in the recently dedicated Methodist church, said the Rev. W. R. Burnett, pastor. Guest speakers will appear on the program.

Only the old church annex remains of the original structure, the auditorium having been razed and rebuilt.

Formerly, seats faced north in the old auditorium. They are turned west, now. Where entrances were on the southeast and southwest corners, the church now has an east front with one entrance there.

The interior will be of a special wall-board, painted a light color. Sunday school class rooms will be arranged more conveniently under the new plans, says Burnett.

Mr. and Mrs. Erle Thompson and Mrs. Pebbie Talley are leaving Friday for a ten-day visit on the ranch of Mrs. Talley's daughter, Mrs. J. R. Hext, near Apache Creek, N. M. Mr. Thompson plans to hunt for deer while there.

U. S. Navy Day Is Observed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—America observed the seventieth Navy day with gala, bunting-draped displays on her sea forces, but there was a serious note in the festivities.

While the naval service decked out in holiday array afloat and ashore to receive millions of visitors, the sober business of building a fleet designed to meet any aggression went steadily on behind the scenes.

Two statements by President Roosevelt gave the annual observance a grimmer significance.

Must Continue To Arm

The chief executive said in a radio speech last night that America must continue to arm "to meet with success any application of force against us" until other nations were willing to accept general disarmament.

In a letter to Secretary Swanson, Mr. Roosevelt declared the fleet must be ready to insure "positive protection against any aggressor."

Even as he wrote, huming shipyards and aircraft plants gave evidence of the accelerated pace of warship and plane construction started by this year's billion-dollar expansion act.

U. S. Building Its Greatest Navy--To Keep Right Behind British

Total Of 502 Ships Planned

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
Associated Press Feature Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. — Navy Day finds Uncle Sam welding new links into the nation's "first line of defense"—on the sea, under it and in the air.

Speeding expansion of the navy to keep pace with that of Great Britain—long the No. 1 sea force—the government is building:

Six new super-dreadnoughts mightier than any battleships that have ever put out to sea.

Two large airplane carriers and an undisclosed number of the biggest bombing planes ever built.

Thirty-seven destroyers, 16 submarines and seven cruisers of the most modern type.

Besides these 68 warships, congress has authorized but not yet provided funds for three additional battleships, 55 destroyers, 18 submarines and eight cruisers.

The 153 new ships, combined with 349 already in service, would bring the total to 502 — a new high in United States naval strength. A navy air force of 1,800 planes, already rated the world's finest, is to be increased to 3,000 planes.

Each of the nine new battleships will be armed with nine 16-inch guns, which can hurl tremendously destructive shells 20 miles as well as smaller guns and anti-aircraft artillery. These "bulldogs" of the fleet will cost about $70,000,000 apiece.

Our main naval objective is to keep the battle fleets a close second in size to those of Great Britain which must protect far flung lines of empire communication. Japan does not now exchange naval statistics but she is rated a strong third in sea power.

Lined-Up Of Powers

The battleship lineup of the three powers is: Britain, 16; United States, 15 and Japan 10. The British are building 7 compared with 6 building here and three others approved. The Japanese are believed to be constructing a few battleships.

The British top the list in under-age cruisers with 40 to our 30 and Japan's 26. In modern destroyers the count is 91 for Japan; 89 for Britain and 50 for the United States. The Japanese lead in under-age submarines with 41 to 40 for Britain and 28 for this country.

Under naval treaty limitations, a ship which is over-age is theoretically obsolete. It may, however, be quite serviceable.

This year congress appropriated $600,000,000 for naval construction, and it is now expected the annual naval budget may run around three-quarters of a billion dollars for some years to come.

Damage Case Is Affirmed

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (AP)—The supreme court affirmed judgments Wednesday of lower courts giving Mrs. Nuavitte Rust of Tarrant county $2,000 damages in connection with her arrest on accusations she had stolen 25 cents worth of tatting from the store of S. H. Kress and company in Fort Worth.

Testimony in the trial was that Mrs. Rust was apprehended by two saleswomen after she had left the store, returned to a dressing room and in process of search of her person was stripped nude. Mrs. Rust denied she had taken the tatting. She had $300 in her purse.

Signed Document

Mrs. Rust testified that at the city hall where she was taken by detectives called by an executive of the store she signed "under duress" a document purporting to release the company from all liability in exchange for an apology by the executive and payment of $1. She said she feared she would be thrown in jail if she did not sign.

Rejecting the company's contention she had signed a legal release, the supreme court said:

"She was under arrest at the time, and, as the matter stands before this court, had been subjected to extreme humiliation and embarrassment."

It was agreed with the other courts that the arrest was without "probable cause."

McDonald To Talk At Crosbyton And Hale Center Soon

(Special To The Journal)

CROSBYTON, Oct. 27.— J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture, is scheduled to speak here next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Commissioner McDonald will discuss the domestic allotment plan. He is on a tour of this section in the interests of the program.

Invitations have been broadcast to farmers of the county and this section to attend and hear discussed the cotton program. A reception committee of 25 business men has been named to entertain him while here.

Hale Center Merchants Club Is Arranging For Speech

HALE CENTER, Oct. 27.—The local merchants club is arranging for a visit of J. E. McDonald, Texas state commissioner of agriculture who is to speak here Tuesday night.

The club is not sponsoring McDonald, merely providing a place for the talk and giving the event publicity, said Vic Lamb, secretary.

Subject of McDonald's talk, which will be delivered at the Ward school auditorium, was not announced. In light of recent criticism by McDonald of the federal farm program, local farmers predicted he would speak along this line here, since the south votes Dec. 12 on the question of continuing the program.

Oklahoma Student Is Charged In Passing Of Hot Checks

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 27. (AP)—A 23-year-old part time University of Oklahoma student enrolled as Otis Peterson, Austin, Tex., was held here today on a charge of passing worthless checks at Gallup, N. M.

W. W. Jennings, Norman police chief, said the youth would be turned over to Gallup officials. The police chief said Peterson told him he left Austin by bus for Los Angeles a month ago.

The youth was enrolled as an auditor in several classes at the university.

New Labor Party Swings To Democrats

Republican and Democratic politicians wondering which way the young American Labor Party would swing had their doubts settled on the opening day of the A. L. P.'s first State convention in New York. Democrats won support for the three major offices, the 954 delegates nominating by acclamation Governor Herbert H. Lehman and United States Senator Robert F. Wagner for re-election, and Supreme Court Justice Charles Poletti for Lieutenant Governor. Above delegates from counties all over the State parade enthusiastically. Pictured below are three leading convention figures Sidney Hillman (left), President of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' Union; Elinore Herrick, vice-president of the A. L. P., and David Dubinsky, President of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union.

Glad For Giving Gly-Cas A Trial

Mrs. Lena McKenzie Adds Her Name To The Hundreds Who Have Found Gly-Cas To Be Just What They Had Been Needing For Years

MRS. LENA McKENZIE

"Gly-Cas has been all that it claimed to be and more," said Mrs. Lena McKenzie, 1204 S. 11th St., Temple, Texas. "All my life I had had to take something to overcome my constipation but as years went on I grew worse continually. Gas formed in the pit of my stomach after every meal I ate, even a drink of water often would upset my stomach and my back was so sore I could not stand to lean back in a chair. In trying many different medicines I found they would always wear-out in my case. Finally I began to hear so much praise for Gly-Cas I decided it was at least worth a trial.

"Never in all my experience with medicines have I taken one that did its work as well as Gly-Cas," continued Mrs. McKenzie. "From the very first dose I have been greatly pleased with the herbal remedy. My stomach and bowels were regulated quickly and I am now eating and enjoying my meals without distress afterwards. It is wonderful to be so well again, sleep good and feel like an entirely different person. Gly-Cas certainly gives the health nature intended."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns. Adv.

Crack British Troops Make Intensive Drive Against Arab Rebels

Sabotage Is In Evidence

By JAMES A. MILLS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HAIFA, Palestine, Oct. 27.—Several thousands of Britain's best troops today began the biggest military operation in Palestine since the arrival of reinforcements with an intensive drive against Arab rebels in the districts of Acre and Galilee.

Preceded by land "minesweepers," armored cars, and wireless wagons, detachments of troops with light mountain artillery, machineguns, rifles and bombs moved into the area of 300 square miles under the command of Brig.-Gen. John Francis Evetts, new military governor of the Galilee district.

Have Rebels On The Run

By courtesy of the British high command, along with a group of other newspaper correspondents, I joined the attacking column as it moved through this worst of rebel-infested sections.

After a day of major campaigning, authorities said they believed they now had the Arab rebels "on the run."

I saw British forces proceed to blow up with dynamite about a dozen houses in an Arab village from which shots twice were fired at the troops.

The commander of the rebel forces had threatened to lead his army against the British forces if they dynamited the houses of offending Arab villages.

But when I left there was little else remaining of the village except a pile of mangled masonry.

Weeping Women Nearby

Outside the ruins stood the headman of the village with a few weeping women.

"Your old Turkish masters would have killed you all if you had fired on the Turkish army," General Evetts reminded the crestfallen, homeless villagers.

"If you will make peace we will make peace, but if you will continue to resist us we will fight you," the commander continued.

Piloted by the minesweeper cars, I bumped over mile after mile of highways.

Communications Sabotaged

Everywhere there was evidence of sabotage, especially to communications.

"This sabotaging was so skillfully done, and carried out so carefully," said one official, "that it undoubtedly was done by foreign technicians in the service of the rebels, possibly Germans."

Officers said they had found numerous German rifles among the Arab rebels.

As we made our way through the hills the sound of firing from the Arabs, who are rebelling against British rule and Jewish immigration into what they regard as their homeland, could be heard.

Frequent halts were called by the British commander, while British machinegunners and riflemen rushed ahead of the main column to return the fire.

Ancient peoples of the world often classed leather with gold, silver, ivory, and gems, and often gave gifts of leather to kings and gods as tribute.

Optimistic?

The grim countenance of Dr. Castillo Najera, above, Mexican ambassador to the United States, belies his optimistic report to Washington newspapermen after a conference with Secretary of State Cordell Hull. Dr. Najera said there were "good hopes" the dispute over expropriation of American properties in Mexico may soon be settled.

Plaintiffs Awarded Judgments By Default In Insurance Suit

Plaintiffs were awarded judgments by default in the cases of Mrs. Samuel S. Rendleman, a widow, against Kansas City Life Insurance company, suits on insurance, Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. deputy district clerk, said Wednesday.

Judgments were entered upon motions of attorneys for Mrs. Rendleman because no answers had been filed by defense attorneys in the time limit specified in new rules of procedure in federal court, it was explained.

The two actions were transferred from the district court in Hockley county and transcripts placed on file in the office of Mrs. Fluke Sept. 28. According to new procedure, defendants had five days in which to file an answer. Upon failure of the defense to answer, judgments were ordered entered.

Other than her parents, she is survived by a brother, Leroy Smith.

Ted Walters Is Given Life Sentence In Theft Trial

MONTAGUE, Oct. 27. (AP)—A jury Wednesday sentenced Ted Walter to life imprisonment for the same truck theft which Tuesday brought a five-year sentence for his outlaw running mate, Floyd Hamilton.

Jesse Keithly, also indicted for the theft, gave for the state testimony similar to that in Hamilton's trial.

When Keithly told defense questioners he believed he would be released from the pending indictment, Walters lunged forward in his chair, shouting: "You're expecting a suspended sentence for playing stool pigeon like you have in these other cases, you dirty rat."

Family Feud Called Off

By Collier Parris

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT we'd set aside to see some family football feudin' out at the baseball park, but the feud reached such pre-game proportions that it was thought unsafe to risk actual combat . . . So the Fred Rich-Bob Rich, Cooper-Frenship game not only has been checked off the local slate, but probably will not be played at all. . . . The brothers Rich had an old fashioned family argument over the "split" of the gate receipts and over certain other things with the result that they aren't even speaking to each other, much less playing football, each charging the other with being unable to "take it." . . .

So the game is definitely off, and we can hope only for an early reconciliation between the brothers, who are nice boys at heart, even if they do provide a lot of fun for fans and readers by their queer antics on and off the field, be it diamond or gridiron . . .

Friday night's game, however, has NOT been called off, so far as we know, and that'll be some feudin' what is feudin' . . . When the Lubbocks and the Plainviews get together at Tech Stadium tomorrow night—well, it'll be something to see and hear . . . Plainview figures it has the best chance in modern District 1 history to defeat the Westerners and move into the sectional championship . . . And if the Bulldogs DO beat the Westerners, they're just about as good as in . . .

First prize for the biggest "Merkel" in the sports writing racket this season is being offered Hugh Fullerton, nationally known newspaper syndicate and magazine scribe, who makes himself a large goat, the honor shared by a well known editor of a well known weekly magazine, in a yarn of current reading . . . Fullerton, one of whose chief claims to fame is his luck in forecasting results of athletic events, must have prepared the current yarn last year . . . In it, he sets forth to pick the Whizzer White of 1938, the outstanding gridder for the season . . . He names several prospects, winds up by nominating Ernie Lain of Rice (explaining that Rice is just about a sure thing for the Rose Bowl) for the national honor . . .

It's a laugh now, just as Rice is a laugh this season . . . Lain probably is one of the biggest disappointments in collegiate football . . . Of course, he may show something yet, the season isn't over . . . But the big blow-up of Lain isn't Fullerton's only bust; he suggests Sloan of Arkansas, Morrison of S. M. U. and Popovich of Montana as other outstanding collegians this season . . . And they might be—if they hadn't been graduated last year and were not playing professional ball this year . . . Oh, well . . . maybe we'll make a boner sometime and Fullerton can kid us . . . .

Here's another "name" lineup suggested by the A. P. as starting teams for Fordham vs. Pittsburgh . . . Any similarity between these names and those of actual players on the squads is purely intentional . . . The players are on the squads as noted, and many are considered outstanding gridders:

FORDHAM		PITTSBURGH
Yudikaitis	LE	Daddio

Cotton Bowl's Plans Talked

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 26—Directors of the Cotton Bowl Athletic association gathered today to formulate plans for permanent structure of a post-season football classic centered around the Southwest conference titleholders.

Not expected to gain official promises from the conference faculty committee that the champion will be delivered for the Dallas game annually, the meeting was designed to build closer relations between the association and the conference.

One Proposal Killed

Conference faculty committeemen are reported to have approved a plan whereby conference teams could accept Cotton Bowl invitations at their option, without seeking a vote of the conference committee, but killed a proposal to automatically deliver the championship team.

Come what may, J. Curtis Sanford, youthful East Texas oil man and organizer of the classic, will be retained as director of the event and will positively stage a football game on next New Year's day.

Pitt Already Contacted

Already the dapper father of the spectacle has contacted Pittsburgh, the nation's No. 1 team, on a feeler proposition.

Three representatives from each conference school and Dallas business leaders comprise the board of the association. Plans have been made to hold a four-day cotton festival prior to the game. Burris Jackson, president of the Texas Cotton association, promised that body's cooperation.

In the first year of the game, Texas Christian defeated Marquette while Rice walloped Colorado, undefeated Rocky Mountain power, last New Year's day.

Raiders To See Bear-Frog Go

Fifty varsity football players of Texas Tech leave here early Saturday morning for Fort Worth where they will witness the Baylor-Texas Christian Southwest conference tussle that afternoon.

Assistant Coach Ed McKeever is in charge of the squad in the absence of Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith. Latter will be on scouting trips this week-end.

First Breathing Spell

This is first breathing spell for the Red Raiders since the opening game with Montana State Sept. 17. They will be guests of Lubbock business men at the Frog-Bear game.

Something new is in store for Raider fans. Wednesday afternoon in scrimmage Elmer Tarbox and Ray Flusche were seen tossing the pigskin on new plays given the team this week.

They, Dudley Akins, Gene Barnett, Woodrow Ramsey and Johnny Sims completed approximately 95 per cent of their heaves in scrimmage against a defense ordered "to bat them down."

It was a pleasing offensive workout. Coach McKeever will put the squad through its paces this afternoon and tomorrow.

Sandy-Pampa And Local Tilt Co-Featured

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff Writer

Amarillo's Golden Sandies, longtime rulers of Panhandle football, meet the first major challenge in defense of their district title as the feature of Texas schoolboy play this week.

Pampa's Harvesters, traditional foe of the Sandies, play Amarillo Saturday and the result will help cut the field to two contenders for the district 1 championship.

Local Game Is Feature

Lubbock's Westerners, rated the best chance to unseat Amarillo, play Plainview, the fourth unbeaten team, Friday as a co-feature of the district campaign.

Six other districts have important games among the half hundred battles scheduled throughout the far-flung league race with the Sherman-Denison tilt at Denison Friday ranking as a standout. It also will eliminate a strong contender for the district title, the winner to be rated as the team due to fight it out with Gainesville for the crown in sector 5.

Abilene Meets Sweetwater

Abilene makes a last-ditch stand in the western division of the Oil Belt. Reeling against the ropes after three consecutive ties, Abilene must defeat Sweetwater to remain in the district 3 race.

Woodrow Wilson, the pre-season favorite in the Dallas district, is in much the same category as Abilene. Defeated by Dallas Tech in an upset last week, the Wolves face Adamson, a highly rated team that, along with Sunset, remains unbeaten in conference play.

Tyler gets Texarkana in district 9. Texarkana last week played the defending State Champion Longview Lobos to a scoreless tie. The result of the Tyler-Texarkana game will indicate whether Longview can hope to again edge through with the title.

Houston District Scrambled

The scrambled Houston district features unbeaten San Jacinto against Conroe and Lamar vs. Austin. It's the test that tells the story for San Jacinto and the Lamar-Austin game will eliminate at least one contender from the championship drive.

A survival-of-the-fittest game is scheduled in the upper bracket of the Rio Grande valley district with Harlingen and McAllen furnishing the fireworks. Both are undefeated in conference play. Brownsville, the other unbeaten team, has a practice tilt this week.

Thirty-seven conference games are scheduled along with seven inter-district tilts and four intersectionally battles.

This week's schedule by districts:

1 Friday: Plainview at Lubbock (conference); Saturday: Pampa at Amarillo (conference).

2 Friday: Olney at Vernon (conference); Wichita Falls at Electra (conference); Graham at Quanah (conference).

3 Thursday: Mineral Wells at Brownwood (conference); Friday: Big Spring at San Angelo (conference); Abilene at Sweetwater (conference); Cisco at Eastland (conference); Breckenridge at Stephenville (conference).

4 Friday: Austin (El Paso) at Roswell, N. M.; Odessa at Midland; El Paso High at Yuma (conference); Mesa, Ariz., at Bowie (El Paso).

5 Friday: Sherman at Denison (conference); Paris at Hugo, Okla.; Bonham at Gainesville (conference).

6 Friday: Sunset (Dallas) at Greenville; Dallas Tech at Highland Park (Dallas); Weatherford at Denton; McKinney at Sulphur Springs (conference).

7 — Thursday: Masonic Home (Fort Worth) vs. Fort Worth Tech (conference); Friday: Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) at Riverside (Fort Worth) conference; Saturday: Beaumont at Paschal (Fort Worth).

8 Friday: North Dallas vs. Forest (Dallas), conference. Saturday: Adamson (Dallas) vs. Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), conference.

9 Friday: Athens at Marshall (conference); Longview at Kilgore (conference); Texarkana at Tyler (conference).

10 Friday: Livingston at Mexia (conference); Nacogdoches at Jacksonville (conference); Henderson at Palestine (conference); Lufkin at Gastonon (conference).

11—Friday: Hillsboro at Temple (conference); Waxahachie at Corsicana (conference); Waco at Bryan (conference).

12—Friday: Robstown at Brackenridge (San Antonio); Harlandale (San Antonio) at Kerrville (conference). Saturday: Kingsville at San Antonio Tech.

13 Thursday: Reagan (Houston) vs. Sam Houston (Houston), conference. Friday: San Jacinto (Houston) at Conroe (conference); Davis (Houston) vs. Milby (Houston), conference. Saturday: Austin (Houston) vs. Lamar (Houston), conference.

14—Friday: Galveston at South Park (Beaumont), conference. Mexico City All-Stars at Goose Creek. Humble at Orange.

15—Friday: Jefferson (San Antonio) at Corpus Christi.

16—Friday: Harlingen at McAllen (conference); Edinburg at San Benito (conference); Pharr-San Juan-Alamo at Brownsville, Mission at Weslaco (conference).

NEW YORK DOG WINS

GALVESTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—Champion Blakeen Jung Frau, a white poodle owned by Blakeen Kennels of Katonah, N. Y., was chosen best dog in the Treasure Island Kennel club's annual all-breed show here Wednesday. Winners were picked in 37 breeds from 284 dogs entered.

CANZONERI WINS

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 27. (AP)—Tony Canzoneri, former featherweight and lightweight champion, won Referee Whitey Healey's decision over Howard Scott, of Washington, in a close eight-round battle last night. Canzoneri weighed 140, Scott 138.

Sailor Watkins Wins Over Joe Kopecky

Sailor Tex Watkins made it two-straight by taking the main event from Joe Kopecky at the Auditorium Wednesday night in a rough and tumble match.

The Sailor won the first fall after 20 minutes with a crab, but succumbed to Kopeky's back-breaking inverted crotch in the second. They cuffed each other around throughout most of the match.

In the deciding fall, Watkins took a lot of the South Texan's punches, dealt some himself, then bashed Kopeky's head into the corner ropes.

He fell on him for the fall and the bout in 13 minutes.

John Nemanic touched off his enmity with Referee Big Train Clements in the semifinal and lost the match to Walter Stratton. Clements got the worst of activities.

Scotty William and Sheik Ben Ali Mar Allah fought to a draw in the curtain raiser.

Tennessee Youth Said Headed For Nation's Scoring Honors

KINGSPORT, Tenn., Oct. 27 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Bobby Cifers, 183-pound triple threat star on the Kingsport High school football team appeared today to be headed toward high school scoring honors for the year.

With four more games to play, he already has run up 166 points in seven games—25 touchdowns and 16 points after from placement.

Friends say he has an excellent chance to tie or exceed the 211 points scored for Austin high, Chicago, last year by Bill de Correvont, who is now a freshman at Northwestern university.

SAFETY FIRST

PITTSBURGH. — Ray Carnelly, Carnegie Tech quarterback, is not permitted to scrimmage in practice because he tackles so fiercely. He already has broken his nose a half dozen times.

'Keyed-Up' Bulldog Is Coming Friday

In weight and experience the Lubbock Westerners and the Plainview Bulldogs stack up just about evenly.

However, the nature of their clash Friday night makes it dangerous for the locals. Coach Vernon Mauldin will bring a "keyed-up" club here ready to take its first victory in the annual game since 1935.

Lubbock Slightly Heavier

Lubbock's line averages barely one pound more than the Bulldog forward wall. The Westerner backfield is a bit the heavier.

Six lettermen returned to the Bulldog camp this fall. Other five regulars are not new to the game.

Miller Needham, 170-pound center, is about the class of District 1 pivot men. Rarely does he meet his match in this league. He lettered last year.

Both Wingmen Veterans

Both wingmen won spurs in 1937. Lawson Kemp was a regular on the team that bowed to the Westerners last year. Richard Sherley is his running mate.

At tackles are a pair of newcomers, E. B. Mitchell and Clay Johnson. Wayne McClain earned a letter at tackle this year. He is back, teamed with Raymond Hale, a 160-pounder deprived of a letter by an injury in 1937.

Heading the scoring corps are W. A. Graham and Winston Barry, regulars returned. They get aid from Ray Schneider, quarterback, and Fullback Douglas Coker.

The Westerners will taper off preparations with a light drill under the lights at Texas Tech field tonight.

Brownfield To Meet Tahoka

Brownfield opens its race Friday for honors in the southern half of District 5B as host to the Tahoka Bulldogs, losers of two conference games.

The Cubs have confined play to outside teams and meet other three members of the division in the last five weeks of the season.

Levelland At Olton

A pair of conference games in the upper half of the district will give observers a better slant on the chase. Levelland goes to Olton and Littlefield plays at Ralls. The Lobos and Wildcats are undefeated in district play. Each has won one game.

Class C O'Donnell journeys to Crosbyton to joust the Chiefs. Slaton's B team is host to Hale Center, strong Class C unit.

First Division Clubs Pitted Against Second Floor Teams

First division clubs in District 4B are pitted against second floor teams in all but one instance Friday as eight teams clash in conference competition.

Lockney, Flomot and Floydada will be favored to win from elevens of the lower bracket, while Spur, undefeated to date, may have trouble with Silverton. The Owls have lost only once in three games.

Estelline travels to Lockney to meet the leaders. Flomot plays the Matadors at Matador, while the Whirlwinds will be guests of Paducah.

Drake University Debate Teams To Compete With Tech Debaters

Acceptance of Texas Technological debate teams of an invitation to meet men's and women's teams of Drake university of Des Moines here Dec. 9 was given Wednesday, according to Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, speech professor and debate director.

The Drake university teams will come here when on a tour.

Approximately 25 Tech students are debating this year. They are entering practice matches and teams will be chosen later. Tech will be represented by men's and women's teams at the Inter-state Debate tournament at Winfield, Kas., Nov. 25-26. Question to be debated is "Resolved, that the United States should cease to use public money for purpose of stimulating business."

Although he was rated as one of the fightingest men in baseball and participated in 1482 games, Mickey Cochrane never was banished by an umpire.

Grid Madness To Hit Peak On Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The great autumn madness reaches new heights Saturday when Pittsburgh plays Fordham and Notre Dame invades the East to play Army in two of the most important games of this or any season.

The rest of the schedule shows enough class and color to make it a banner day, but these two meetings steal the show. Some 75,000 expect to pack the Panther stadium and about the same number will jam Yankee stadium to watch the Irish and the Cadets.

The game at Pittsburgh is the more important from a national standpoint, but while Army and Notre Dame may not have quite the class but they have traditional color.

In the Mid-West there are Northwestern-Minnesota—danger for the Gophers there — Michigan-Illinois, Wisconsin-Indiana and Michigan State-Santa Clara. Texas Christian will be tested by Baylor in the Southwest. Unbeaten Duke meets an old rival, North Carolina in one of the South's big games, and Mississippi comes north Friday night to meet George Washington. All over the South they're wishing Ole Miss met the Green Wave of Tulane this season. Out on the coast U.C.L.A. plays Stanford and Southern California faces Oregon.

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER
(Pinch-Hitting for Ed Brietz)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP) — Note to Tony Lazzeri, San Francisco: Is it the Brownies or an American association spot you have your eyes on, signor? . . . And can it be you're just a leetle bit sorry about turning down Ossie Vitt's offer of a job with the Indians last season? . . . That's quite a trick the Minnesota coaches use for finding out when a groggy player should come out of a ball game. . . . They ask him, so the story goes, "Who's your coach?" . . . If he answers, "Bernie Bierman," he stays in. . . . If he says "Ben Bernie," they yank him pronto. . . . Are ya lis'nin', Mr. Winchell? . . . Col. Eddie Brietz has taken an indefinite leave of absence from this corner. . . . So we hope all you boys and girls will be as kind to this department as to the colonel. . . .

Sh-h-h—the secret's out. . . . The reason Louisiana State let Tulane grab ball-carrying Bob Kellogg was (1) 'cause he's married and the Tigers turn thumbs down on benedicts. . . . And (2) he played a year of junior college ball, so LSU heads decided 'twouldn't be worth while developing a player just for two years work. . . .

The rave notices for hammerin' Hennery Armstrong's 35 kayoes in 39 bouts sort of overlook the fact that Ceferino Garcia, who'll fight the hammer for the welterweight crown next Wednesday, is a pretty fair sleepmaker too. . . . He's put the crusher on in 11 of his last 12 starts. . . . Texas Oliver wishes his Oregon football squad would come up with some of the chunky boys instead of the rangy kind for a change. . . . When the chunky fellers hit the other guy, says Tex, they stay hit.

Yale And Michigan "Snap The Whip"

Just as the cameraman clicked his shutter, a long line of scrambling Michigan and Yale huskies in Yale Bowl accidentally jelled into the unusual "snap-the-whip" formation shown above and gave the illusion of "snapping" Yale's right halfback Albert Wilson (carrying the ball) into a short gain for his side. Although plays like this gave Yale a 13 to 8 lead over Michigan until the last seven minutes of their recent game, a last-stab touchdown by Michigan brought the Wolverines a 15 to 13 victory.

Think Pitt Good--Consider Lincoln High (Colored) Bumblebees Of Port Arthur; Haven't Had Close Shave On Grid In 4 Years

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 27—Sure Pitt is good, but did you ever hear of the Lincoln High Bumblebees, a Port Arthur negro eleven? Well, they just won their 40th straight game, an 18-0 workout with the Corpus Christi Yellowjackets . . . Four years without even a close shave.

Touchdown leader of the nation last year was Dean Bagley, a San Saba High schooler . . . Now it's Lendon Davis, 165-pound Mount Vernon high halfback who is after the honor . . . he has 121 points in five games . . . and tied for the national collegiate high scoring spot is Leroy Fry of Texas A. and I., who has six touchdowns and six conversion points for 66 total.

Publicist J. Willard Ridings of TCU, who never has found the bottom of his statistical sack, drags out comparative figures to enlighten the citizens on the question of whether Davey O'Brien is as good a passer as his former master, Sammy Baugh. . . . The Slinger, in his senior year, hurled 203 passes and completed 104 for 1,196 yards and 10 touchdowns. . . . Master Davey, in five games to date, has heaved 85, completed 44 for 782 yards and 10 touchdowns. . . . O'Brien already had produced a similar number of scores.

Some 2,000 students from Denton's Texas State College for Women, will join some 5,000 "brother" Aggies on a double ecrps trips of the state schools to the Aggie-SMU game at Dallas on Nov. 5 . . . and speaking of women, it was "ladies night" at Texas Tech's touchdown club meeting this week. . . . Coach Pete Cawthon enlightened the fair fans on several football puzzlers which had come up in Red Raider games.

Out of season, but in line with the weather: Five 1938 Texas league managers are due to be absent at the opening next spring . . . Including are Jack Fitzpatrick of Oklahoma City; Jim Levey of Dallas; Hub Northern of Shreveport; Jackie Reid of Fort Worth and Ira Smith of Houston.

Elon (Chief) Hogsett, Washington Senator hurler, is doing a bit of gold mining down around Llano. . . . Wally Lawson, Texas' hardworking fullback, is a straight "A" student. . . . And Coach Morley Jennings of Baylor joined the army of "believers," including all coaches who have fretted through an Aggie game, by pronouncing Dick Todd of the Cadets the best running back his team has faced since he took over in 1926.

Freshman Coach Ed Price of Texas once had a hand in the development of two great forward passers—neither of whom went to Texas! Bill Patterson of Baylor was a Hillsboro High student when Price coached there and Ken Heineman, the Texas School of Mines sensation, was an El Paso High senior when Price switched to that school. . . . Heineman, incidentally, was tagged for Texas Christian once but forgotten when he broke a leg that appeared would be slow in mending.

That noise from West Texas is Line Coach Dutchy Smith of Texas Tech blowing the trumpets for his two tackles, Abe Murphy, 200, and Bill Davis, 225, standouts in Tech's unbeaten team.

Every Sign Points To 'Up In Air' Tilt

(By The Associated Press)

Every sign pointed to the conclusion today that both Baylor university and Texas Christian university will be "up in the air" most of the afternoon when they clash at Fort Worth Saturday in the Southwest conference's football headliner.

Here seems to be the spot for a record number of passes—but, not if the opposing coaches have anything to do with it, will there be a record number of completions.

Major Point Stressed

Pass defense has been the major point stressed in the two camps.

The Texas Aggies appear to be taking their game with Arkansas seriously enough.

Arkansas Has Injured

Arkansas had Center Simington and End Owen on the injured list and Line Coach Glen Rose was seeking replacements.

Coach Matty Bell gave his Southern Methodist university Mustangs new stuff for use against the Texas Longhorns.

The Rice Owls prepared to welcome Auburn's Tigers who furnish the opposition at Houston Saturday. Auburn departed today for Houston.

Striking out 17 batters is good enough in any company, but when you fan 14 of them in succession in a no-hit victory, you get your picture in the paper. That is what George Bock, above, of Nappanee, Ind., high school did against Millersburg high in an autumn league game.

St. Mary's Galloping Gaels To Practice On Tech Grid Late Today

Team Will Be Greeted Here

Thirty-five squad members of the St. Mary's university football team, their coaches, headed by Slip Madigan, approximately 90 fans, and six California sports writers will be guests of Lubbock this afternoon.

The delegation, en route to New York where the gridders meet the Fordham Rams Nov. 5, for an hour or more during a stopover here at 5:30 o'clock.

More Cars Needed

Transportation of visitors in a sightseeing trip over Lubbock and the gridsters to Texas Tech field, where they will practice, has been arranged by the chamber of commerce. A few more cars were needed, however, this morning, so other football fans are asked to meet the train.

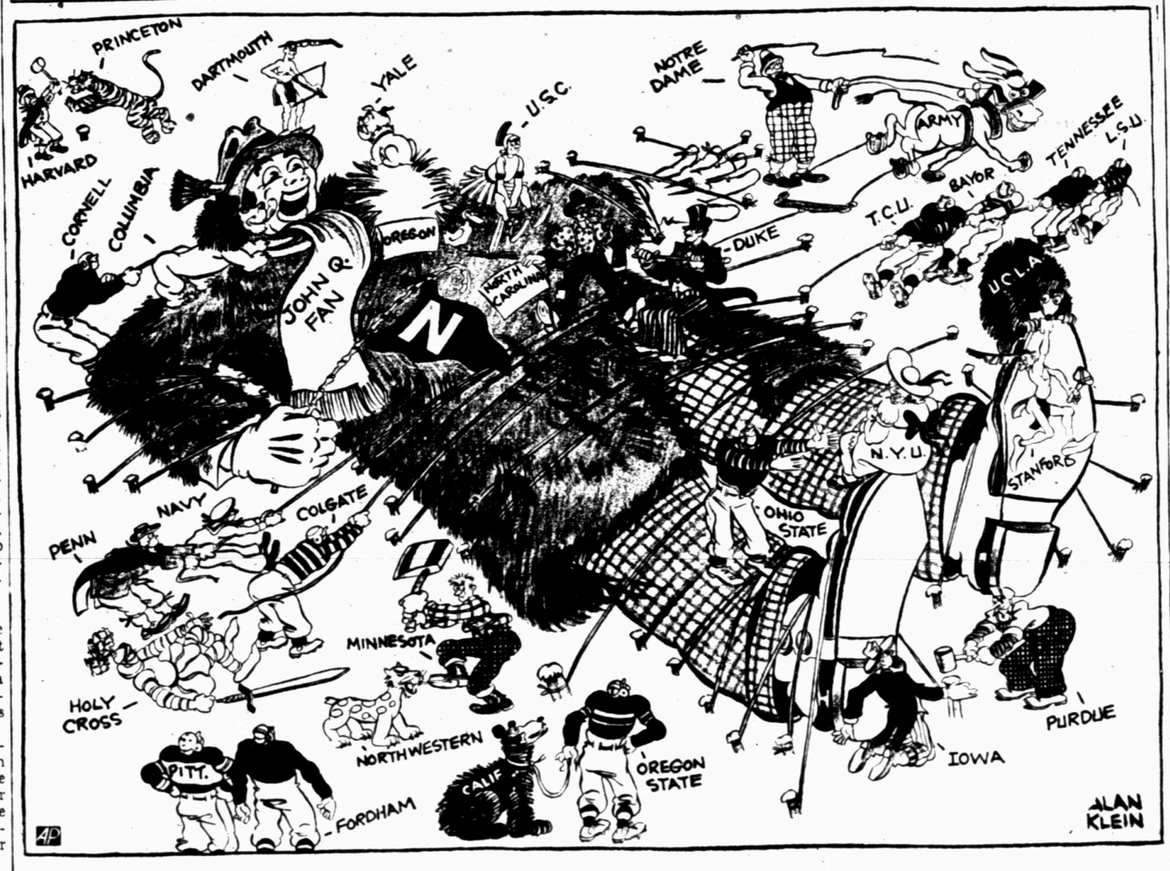

Included among the sports editors and writers are: Pat Frayne, sports editor of the San Francisco Call-Bulletin; Prescott Sullivan, football editor of the San Francisco Examiner; Art Rosenbaum, football editor of the San Francisco Chronicle; Art Cohn, sports editor of the Oakland Tribune; Jack Rosenbaum, sports writer of the San Francisco Daily News, and Bud Teheny, football editor of the Oakland Post-Examiner.

Second Visit Here

It will be the second visit of the Gaels to Lubbock. They worked out at Tech field two years ago on another jaunt to New York for a clash with Fordham. Coach Madigan lectured at the last two Texas Tech coaching schools.

Neither Head Coach Pete Cawthon nor Line Coach Dutchy Smith will be here today to welcome the visitors. Smith left Wednesday for New Orleans where he will scout the Loyola Wolfpack in its game Saturday. Cawthon left early today for Milwaukee to scout Marquette.

Ship's Cat Is Saved By Captain From Blazing Schooner At Sea

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP) — The story of a ship's cat saved by the captain, who popped it into a laundry bag as he dived into the sea from a blazing schooner, was told when the rescued crew of the Pioneer arrived on the Liner American Banker.

The Pioneer, a gloucester schooner owned by Capt. Hans G. Milton, rocked helplessly three days 400 miles off Halifax after last month's hurricane, and finally foundered.

With the ship taking water, the crew soaked blankets in gasoline, ignited them and ran them to the mast year. The schooner caught fire, and was burning briskly when the American Banker hove to on Oct. 22 and rescued the crew of five.

The last man off was Capt. Milton, who saved the ship's sextant along with the cat.

SAYS SAVINGS TO RESULT

AUSTIN, Oct. 27 (AP)—Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall said today greater savings in property and lives should result from the supreme court's validation of a law requiring $150 minimum monthly pay for firemen in Texas cities of more than 75,000 population.

"The people of Texas are putting their money on a 'sure thing,'" Hall said.

Football teams of England are choosing girl "Queens" for mascots.

Work Toward Removal Of Good Specimen In Dickens Planned

A fossilized elephant buried in a red clay creek bank near Spur will be removed through work that will be continued at various times this winter, Dr. W. C. Holden, curator of the West Texas museum on Texas Technological college campus, said Wednesday.

Part of a leg has been removed. A party from Tech worked at the scene Sunday.

The Pleistocene age elephant apparently became trapped in a bog and died. The skeleton is in an upright position. Normal erosion of the soil resulted in exposure of part of the skeleton.

Porter Montgomery, museum assistant, placed plaster on the bones to protect them until further work could be done. The radius and ulna of a foreleg has been removed.

The animal is thought to have lived about 20,000 years ago.

BODY IS RECOVERED

LAREDO, Oct. 27. (AP)—The body of Miss Eloisa Leon, 17, who plunged into the Rio Grande from the international bridge Sunday, was recovered today two miles downstream.

Juan Cabrera, 23, who tried to rescue the girl, was drowned.

Sales of American products in India are expected to increase shortly.

Sweet Potatoes Are Stored In Carlisle School By Growers

Several thousand bushels of sweet potatoes have been placed in the Carlisle school building seven miles west of Lubbock on the Levelland highway, according to officers of the sweet potato growers association of Lubbock county.

The building was obtained by the association after a recent meeting. Although the organization is separate from the Lubbock county irrigation association, most of the members of the potato growers' group also are members of the irrigation association.

Several potato growers reported a yield of 400 bushels to the acre.

Ralph Lowe, secretary of the potato growers association, announced there was space for several thousand more bushels. Farmers wishing to make arrangements for space should communicate with men at the school house, it was announced.

Cooper Parent-Teacher Group Hears Dr. Albert Barnett

Meeting of the Cooper Parent-Teacher association in the school auditorium Wednesday night was addressed by Dr. Albert Barnett, professor of education of Texas Technological college. Mrs. Herbert Cade is president of the group.

B. M. Hays, superintendent of Cooper school, spoke on objectives of the Parent-Teacher association. George Buckingham compared modern schools with older methods and praised the newer systems.

The association voted to present the school with a first aid kit.

Jesse Johnson, vocational agricultural teacher, and members of the Cooper chapter of the Future Farmers of America, initiated six new members as a part of the program. The FFA hill billy band composed of Russell, Wallace, and Cecil Phillips, played three selections.

Dr. Barnett used as a subject "Social Advantages of Consolidated Schools."

Next meeting will be Nov. 30.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 27. (AP)—Lieut. Benjamin S. Kelsey flew a new army pursuit plane from Dayton, Ohio, to Buffalo Wednesday in an average speed of 350 miles per hour, which he said was a record for any army air corps ship.

Kelsey said he came to confer with officials of an aircraft factory on a still newer army pursuit plane.

Young Wichita Falls Man Wants To Attend School At Tech But He Wants Suitable Residence

A suitable place to stay is all a young Wichita Falls man asks while planning to enter Texas Technological college.

So he asked the chamber of commerce in a letter received Wednesday to assist.

He wants a place where adequate care can be provided for one who is underweight, suffers from digestive ills, has acne (pimples), hay fever and "other ailments." His condition, the letter explained, requires goat milk.

The chamber of commerce promised to do what it can.

Hearings Open On Finances

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. — A subgroup of the senate finance committee Wednesday began a new phase of its difficult task of attempting to reconcile demands for governmental economy to equally insistent pleas for expanding services.

Beginning a series of hearings on departmental budgets, it heard from Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, a request for $761,884 each year of the next biennium beginning Sept. 1, 1939.

That department received $321,000 last year and $316,000 this year.

Committeemen who would like to slice state expenses 20 per cent asked departmental spokesmen whether it wasn't foolish to spend more money than was available.

"When people are sick they can not pay taxes," said Dr. J. W. E. H. Beck, a department official.

"When you cure them they can pay their taxes."

Chairman John S. Redditt of Lufkin said the committee would welcome appearances today and Friday of all department heads, taxpayers and anyone else interested in the departmental appropriation measure.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says marriage is a lot like using the telephone: you don't always get the right party.

Some motorists are in such a hurry to get into the next county that they go right into the next world!

IT'S getting so now that in some of the snootier hotels a guest has to hold a lengthy conversation with the telephone operator before he can get his number called.

Especially if a guest is calling a friend at another hotel is he likely to wear out his voice before he gets his party.

Here's the way it goes:

The guest picks up the phone in his room. The operator says:

"Good morning," all trilly like.

"Good morning," returns the guest. "Get me the Zilch hotel."

"All right, thank you," trills the "voice with the smile" downstairs.

"You're welcome," returns the guest.

A few minutes later the operator at the Zilch hotel answers and she's not to be outdone. Another gal whose voice is filled with sweetness and light, she carols:

"Good morning, this is the Zilch hotel."

"Good morning," growls the now exasperated guest. "Ring Mister Umph's room, please."

"Miser Umph?" questions the happy voice.

"Yes, Mister Umph."

"Thank you," trills the Zilch's operator preparatory to filling the recever full of popping noises.

"You're welcome," gasps the guest, ready to faint—especially if it is early in the morning and he hasn't yet had his breakfast!

And that isn't the only way the hotels have gone ga-ga over telephone service in recent years.

Suppose you are a guest who wishes to wake up at a certain time. The night before you leave a call for 7 o'clock.

Seven chimes rolls around and the phone shrills. You grope for it.

"Good morning," merrily sings the operator. "It's 7 o'clock—"

"Thanks," you return, trying to stop her there—but to no avail.

"It's 7 o'clock," she continues still happily but very firmly. "The temperature is 68; there was .009 of precipitation last night; the humidity is 6 and 7-8ths and the sun is behind a cloud!"

"Thanks," you gasp again, holding back with might and main the desire to holler "aw, nuts!" back at her, because after all it's not her fault.

IT used to be a lot of fun for yokels like The Plainsman to stop at a hotel. But that was before they started running them like penitentiaries, regimenting bellboys, phone operators, clerks, guests, elevator men and cigar counter queens.

A week in a modern hotel nowadays fits the guest up fine for another week in a sanitorium—that is, if he lets all the "ultra" service get under his hide!

That Man on Avenue Q says matrimony is a partnership with one silent partner!

IN offering a welcome today to United States Senator Tom Connally the people of Lubbock, the South Plains, and the faculty and student body of Texas Technological college are not merely showing customary courtesy due a man who, for years, has been honored by his friends and neighbors by being placed and kept in a position of high public trust.

They are, in addition to all that, paying honor to one of the few real statesmen of the current era.

Senator Connally's courage, his sincerity of purpose, his refusal to subjugate principle to political expediency, and his giant stature in official circles long have marked him as an outstanding American.

Unlike too many men in high places, Senator Connally is no demagogue; he is no back-slapping, ward-heeling, flag-waving politician.

Instead, he is a thoughtful, purposeful, fearless member of the most powerful body of men in the world—a man who considers the good of his country and of his state first, and thinks of his own political destiny later, if at all.

WHETHER or not he agrees with Senator Connally in that gentleman's every official action, the Texan who loves his state and his country and who desires honest representation cannot help admiring Senator Connally. No "fence-rider," no "rubber stamp," no "yes-man," the tall, handsome statesman from Marlin refuses to be stampeded by whim and fancy, preferring, instead, to weigh the nation's problems for their worth and then attempt to solve them as they come.

Lubbock, the South Plains and Texas Tech are rightfully proud of having here today one of the outstanding United States Senators of the century.

May his stay here be pleasant and instructive to both him and to us—and may he have many more years of service to all Texas and to the nation as well.

FROM time to time in the past, authorities at Texas Technological college have asked the City of Lubbock to furnish complete fire and police protection on the campus, just as it protects, along those lines, the corporate areas of the community.

Upon the occasion of each request, the city very properly has declined to set the precedent, since the college campus is not in corporate Lubbock and cannot be made a part of corporate Lubbock without going through a lot of red tape, including a special act of the legislature.

However, the city for a long time has been sending its night police cars thrcugh the campus; it has assured the college that in case of a fire, city equipment will be available to fight it; and in many other ways, including engineering service on paving, etc.; the municipality has generously extended a helping hand to the great educational institution on our western boundaries.

The city should, of course, continue its policy of helping Tech in every possible way.

Yet it cannot and must not "get out on a limb" and accept the college as a part of the city to be serviced just as corporate parts of Lubbock are serviced.

If the city should adopt such a policy, we soon would find that the expenditure involved would become top-heavy and a

THE STORY SO FAR: In love with dashing Gary Brent, Judith Goodloe marries Reuben Oliver for his money—only to learn he is bankrupt. Birth of twins, unemployment and poverty follow. Then Reuben gets work in a lumber camp Gary manages and joyfully sends for Judith. On Judith's arrival Gary provides a cabin for her and takes her dancing. Returning from the woods Reuben discovers what has happened. Blindly angry he removes the babies to his tent. Terror, then rage grip Judith when she comes back to the empty house.

Chapter 32

The End Or The Beginning?

Moving hastily about the dim, fragrant bedroom, picking up small garments, comb, brush, her faded blue linen—flinging them all into the open bag, Judith tried vainly to down her growing resentment. Why couldn't he have left her here to this white bath, to these firm smooth beds, to comfort for just one night?

Judith shut her ears to common sense. Reuben was sulking. Jealous of her comfort. A dog in the manger. Because he had failed to provide all this himself. Her nerves were still quivering, her pulses not quite steady.

The tent at Plot 16 was dark as Egypt under its pine-tree. Neither Judith nor Gary saw the khaki clad figure sitting in the opening.

Bringing the old car to a wobbly halt Gary said: "I don't notice any light in the window to guide the wanderer home."

"Everything is right as a trivet." Judith assured him. "Drive my Rolls back to your place, Gary. You can return it tomorrow."

"I'm thanking you for the most wonderful evening!" Terribly he wanted to kiss her but he didn't even touch her hand. "Goodnight, Judy."

"Goodnight, Gary!"

He got into the car and rattled away. Judith stood for a moment watching the red tail light disappear, then she turned and went slowly up the slight incline to the tent. A tall figure arose wraithlike and filled the opening.

"Reuben!"

At the sight of him her anger burst into a flame that defied suppression. He had been listening, eavesdropping. "Why didn't you pop up sooner, Jack-in-the-box?"

Weariness and black rage tied his tongue. He stepped aside to allow her to enter the tent ahead of him.

Judith held back. "You go first and make a light."

Stooping his tall length Reuben went inside. Judith followed, slowly, uncertainly, blinking at the sudden harsh light which Reuben switched on.

For a fleeting second they stood staring, silent — the width of the world between them. Each knew it was there. Neither tried to span it.

Judith was startlingly aware of a new virility, a new poise about the man who was her husband. His hair, so lately released from the barber's administrations, had been worried by erstless fingers until every hair stood tumbled, vital and duliy bronze. His shirt, turned in at the neck, displayed a length of sunburnt throat. It modelled his superb shoulders. Shining puttees drew attention to his straight legs—

With effort Judith turned her attention from him to the tent with its taut white sides, its sloping top—deep enough to divide into three rooms—

Useless to pretend interest in the tent. Reuben's masculinity dominated it; filled it to overflowing. This new thing between them sizzled and seethed like water too hot and too long confined in steam pipes. An explosion was inevitable.

Dully, but with a mixture of surprise and relief, Judith thought: "This is the end—the end of my marriage."

With caveman exultance Reuben thought: "This is where I should have started that day before the bishop. This is the beginning."

Their eyes locked in hostile combat. One would go down to defeat. Each watched for the other to make the first move.

Now Or Never

The beginning or the end? They had come to grips with Life, with each other. Judith and Reuben, who until now had so very carefully avoided combat.

Judith, hardly knowing what she did, picked a piece of wrapping paper from the floor and started to fashion a shade for the electric bulb. "No use to awaken the children."

Reuben made no attempt to steady the swaying light. "I don't believe dynamite could disturb them."

If they had essayed no more conversation all might have been well. Fate was giving them a chance but they would have none of it. Reuben said: "You drive up?" His tone conveyed resentment.

"I bought Jeff Snow's old car." Her tone conveyed defiance.

"A waste of money." It was not what he mean to say at all.

"It's been so long since I had any you can hardly blame me for not handling it wisely."

This was the kind of thing he could not fight. He felt himself weakening. Felt his anger oozing. He didn't want it to ooze. He reminded himself that sooner or later one must take life by the horns or be tossed up in the wreckage. That now or never he must assert himself. She had belittled him publicly—"You were lucky to get here."

"How do you mean—lucky?"

"In that pile of junk." She had let Gary Brent drive it. Let him see their poor makeshifts. Let him see the pass to which her marriage had brought her—

"The drive up was pleasant compared to my arrival here."

"Not trying to tell me you didn't enjoy meeting Brent?"

"I was referring to having no place to go. To feeling like a homeless animal." She knew she was being unfair but she kept right on. "You provided no place for me. If it hadn't been for Gary—"

If it hadn't been for Gary! The banked storm of his anger burst in its fury. He could fight now. "And so you accepted the loan of a house."

Judith shrugged: "What's a roof between friends?"

"If you take that attitude—"

"What other can I take? Where else could I go?" asked Judith reasonably—a shade too reasonably.

"You could have waited an hour or two until Pike got your tent up. You preferred to humiliate me."

"I didn't give you a thought."

"Your frankness is refreshing. What sort of fool do you think I am?"

Landslide

Her shrug was more deadly insulting than words.

"You're going to give me a thought from now on," hotly.

"Yes?" lazily.

"How long do you think you can go on cheapening me?"

"I—? Cheapening YOU? Impossible."

He looked at her—a dark woman in white, with blue beads around her neck—the woman he had put on a pedestal; the woman who could make a mushroom of him—coldly and critically he looked at her and hated her!

All the suppressed resentment that had been seething against her since his wedding day took fire. Every superior smile and uplifted eyebrow; every veiled sneer; every real or imagined condescension clamored for outlet, for retaliation. It was like the beginning of a landslide—rocks, trees, houses, grass, earth—all being loosened, seeping and tumbling down a vast mountain, colliding violently one with the other, swept by the hurricane of his rage. "Cheapening me to Brent—"

Her laughter scorched like hot lava spit from a volcano: "You over rate your importance."

"You over rate yours. You're a woodsman's wife," he gloated, "just a woodsman's wife."

"Need you remind me?"

"Yes. When you accept favors I can't return—"

"No one expects you to return them."

"So?" If her eyes had not been so contemptuous—"As Brent's wife you'd have perfect right to one of those cabins. It's too bad you didn't marry him before I came along."

"He didn't want me—then."

"You're trying to tell me?"

"It may not be too late." Mad beyond all power of reasoning.

"Aha!" The white sides of the tent seemed inadequate to hold his rage. Any second now it would rend those walls, go bellowing through the forest. Unconsciously he came a step nearer. The manila paper shaded light threw a brownish shadow upon his face. From the coppery gleam in his eyes, the sardonic twist to his lips, it might have belonged to the Prince of Darkness himself; "I might have known—"

"What?"

"That for all your high faluting prating you have a yellow streak a yard wide."

"Be careful, Reuben, you'll be sorry."

"Oh no I won't! I'm through trying to live your blasted codes. You need to hear the truth. You still have what you bartered for—house, boxwood, all your motheaten grandeur—but you're squirming out of your bargain—crying for the moon! You've not a thought beyond yourself, your pride! Well—I have a certain brand of pride myself, but you've never suspected or respected it. You've never even suspected I might be human!"

Tomorrow: Reuben sees Gary.

A WORTHWHILE WARNING

Even the most rabid member of the Democratic party is apt to listen when Senator Borah of Idaho discusses our dealings with foreign nations.

His long service and his long and prominent membership on the senate committee on foreign affairs, combined with an astuteness which has won world recognition, makes him one of our foremost authorities on international affairs.

Therefore additional weight is borne by his warning that we must avoid sending protests and other notes which deal with the internal or external problems of other powers. Senator Borah's statement was provoked by the proposal that the United States government protest England's rumored intent to close Palestine to Jewish immigration.

Our people as a whole will have little defense to offer for Great Britain's handling of the Palestine situation. Most of our people may agree that the Holy Land has been scene of inexcusable outrages for which the British are responsible.

But unless we are prepared to go to war in behalf of Palestine, we had best shun notes and protests. Else, before we realize it, we may find ourselves so inextricably involved that shedding of blood will be inescapable.

"Two Price System" Suggested By Wallace Is Presenting Many Problems; Will It Work?

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—The one big question asked about the proposed "two-price" system, designed to transfer farm surpluses to low income families at low prices, is: "Will it work—and how?"

Friends of the idea think most of the objections and difficulties can be overcome. Various alleged ways and means are being discussed in secret huddles at the Department of Agriculture.

The specter of huge subsidies frightens many. Those who have thought about the theory longest insist that in the case of some products it can be worked out, with very little subsidy and in other cases with none at all. Top officials may decide otherwise.

Dutcher

But AAA has educated farmers to expect direct bounties. No one knows how much money it takes to make them curtail crops except that the sum apparently must be bigger each year. Of farm program money available, consequently, no great part seems likely to go for operating a two-price system. The $400,000,000 which might be raised from processing taxes now proposed is about three per cent of the annual income of the "lower one-third," or less than $10 a person. And the "one-third" would be paying about one-fifth of the processing taxes.

Here Are Questions

Is the scheme "socialistic" because it means the government will enter the distribution system? That depends on how it's run.

How can poor people be segregated from others who will want to buy at the lower prices?

How can competition with existing merchants and distributors be avoided?

How about the fact that raw cotton and wheat, which can't be sold to the poor direct, are but a small part of the cost in finished cotton goods and bread?

How could such a system be operated on a vast, national scale?

The two-price thinkers say, first that the principle should be applied wherever it can be shown the poor would buy more of a given type of food or cheap clothing if they had more money. On some items, they think, it probably won't work.

In cotton, with the government holding 7,000,000 bales, with a crop nearly twice consumption size and with millions in need of cotton goods, textile manufacturers will be called in. The cost of processing, Secretary Wallace says, is about twice the cost of raw cotton and that of finished goods about five times as much. The prevalent idea is to furnish specifications and ask bids on specific types of goods which can be produced with economy in large scale operations. Cheap cotton cloth, mattresses, towels, sheeting, overalls and work shirts are suggested. Some subsidy such as government contribution of the raw cotton probably will be planned.

Then comes the problem of cheap distribution. Under one proposed scheme, an income rating and identification cards would be required for purchase of "second price" goods. As in New York's municipal cheap milk distribution, poor families would ask the lower price privilege and be granted it by the government. Low-cost distribution of low-price food and goods would probably be largely a local problem.

Another possibility is that cheap goods, such as overalls and work shirts, can be dumped on the market through regular commercial channels with assurance that only the poor will buy them. This is also suggested for nutritive foods in less attractive, cheaper but relatively non-competitive forms—such as dried eggs, dried milk and canned fruit juices.

Theory Stumbles

The two-price theory admittedly becomes extremely difficult when applied to wheat. Bread is a basic food in low-income family diets.

The system is much more easily applied to such products as milk, butter, eggs, fruits, vegetables and meats where there is no major manufacturing problem such as that in cotton. Specially licensed markets run on wholesale lines, with consumers coming to buy and only one operation after the stuff arrives in town, might handle such items of farm surplusage. The principle of cheapest possible distribution costs presumably would be preserved, with no inconvenience to the purchaser (early-morning sales periods, standing in line, etc.), and an identification card system probably would be held necessary.

Although there are as yet no official answers to the questions posed by the two-price proposal and the unofficial answers by the two-price thinkers are but tentative and partial, the federal government already is concerned in one two-price venture and the nation's largest city is engaged in another.

The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(Letters from readers are invited and welcomed. They will be published gladly whenever they do not violate the laws of libel, or the rules of decency, and when they do not exceed 300 words in length. Letters criticising individuals, firms or organizations must be signed by the true name of their writers.

THANKS JOURNAL

Dear Plainsman: I wish to take this means of expressing to you our appreciation for the splendid write-ups and space you alloted to our recent La Remuda. Our show was a success, both from the entertainment standpoint, and financially, and we want you to know that you helped make it so. We do sincerely appreciate the cooperation you give our college at all times.

Very truly yours,
W. L. Stangel,
Head Department of Animal Husbandry, Texas Tech college.

The Plainsman

burden on the taxpayers of Lubbock who technically are no more responsible for Texas Tech than the citizens of Galveston, for instance.

THE present situation in Cambridge, Mass., may well serve as a warning to Lubbock in this regard.

It was Cambridge, if memory serves us right, which originally was poetically described as the locality where Lowells speak only to Cabots and Cabots speak only to the Dietv. And Cambridge is as indissolubly linked with Harvard university as it is with Lowells and Cabots.

But now Cambridge wants to unlink itself.

It wants Harvard university to set up housekeeping as a city in its own right. And the Cambridge City council—comparable to Lubbock's City commission—has intimated to Harvard authorities that it will be darn glad to see the college go.

* * *

This must not be interpreted as a reflection on the academic or social status of dear, old Harvard, which is Cambridge's crowning glory.

The Cambridge city fathers' motives are purely financial.

Harvard's constant acquisition of real estate, which becomes tax-exempt as soon as it is taken over for educational purposes, has decreased Cambridge's tax revenues by many hundreds of thousands of dollars. The councilmen wouldn't mind this so much, if Harvard paid for its own police and fire protection—and other municipal services—which it does not.

So the Cambridge City council has unanimously adopted a resolution instructing the city attorney to draft legislation designed to set up Harvard as a separate municipality. Many Harvard men will like that. Others will not. Maybe some Cambride citizens won't like it either, but the commissioners think the taxpayers will.

We haven't heard how the Lowells and Cabots stand on the issue but that hardly matters.

THE Plainsman merely passes this information along for what it is worth to the citizens of Lubbock.

No one knows better than the writer what Texas Tech means to Lubbock, its past, present and future.

Yet Lubbock, too, means a lot to Texas Tech and a great deal of credit for the college's unparalleled expansion is due the people of the city who have always worked hand-in-hand with the college—frequently at great expense, time and trouble.

As we see it, the municipality, which already spends hundreds upon hundreds of dollars of tax money helping Tech every year, should continue to do so as long as it is able and to do so is practicable.

Yet we must ever keep in mind not to extend our resources in that direction any further than we can afford.

If that $30 Every Thursday Utopia goes over in California, the young folks may not only leave the baby with the grandparents for the evening, but also borrow 10 bucks of their pension money for expenses!

HERE AND THERE: American soldiers soon are to wear uniforms made of wool treated in a manner guaranteed to prevent shrinking . . . Nigh gowns with matching coat are a recent mode in New York . . . They cost plenty . . . Avenida de Francisco Madero is Mexico City's principal street, named for the man who overthrew the Diaz dynasty . . . Al Kaswa, favorite camel of Mahomet, was one of the few animals credited with having been admitted to the Moslem paradise . . . Canadian business leaders predict that an era of prosperity will be the aftermath of Europe's recent and worst war scare. . . . They believe that European nations, convinced that peace has now been assured for at least a few years, will divert into useful channels some of the money which has gone into preparations for war . . . Farm debts in Japan are estimated to have increased more than 700 per cent in the last 25 years—from an average of $40 per farm in 1913 to an avarage of more than $300 in 1938 . . . Italy continues to take military charge of the upbringing of youth reaching four years per age. . . . They then are enrolled in what is known as the Lictor—Giovent ziana del Litterio . . . Even the girls come under government supervision at that age . . . Some day they may be need as nurses—or as replacements for men and mules in the fields.

HORSE AND MULE AUCTION SALE EACH
THURSDAY
CATTLE SALE EVERY WEDNESDAY!
Our market is really opening up here—sales the past two weeks have been very encouraging. Apparently they are also opening up further east as many new buyers are now showing up. This is very encouraging to the consignors of this territory, as most of the stock for the eastern trade is bought here.
This coming Thursday's sale, especially, looks like a mighty good bet for your horses and mules. We are advertising the sale to right at 500 buyers and stressing the fact that, included in the stock to be offered, will be one full carload of young mares and colts which WILL POSITIVELY BE SOLD, HALTERS OFF! This will bring a lot of buyers and get the sale off to a good, hot, start—and should raise the general price level on all stock offered.
For the cattle sale Wednesday, we are expecting a heavy demand, with plenty of buyer competition—especially on stockers, light calves, and light bulls.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP) — Selling of coppers, motors and rubbers interrupted a fairly brisk rally in today's stock market and early gains running to a point or more were substantially reduced or transformed into losses of as much.

Activity in low-priced shares was still pronounced but far from as feverish as on Wednesday. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 1,900,000 shares.

squad will be aboard the train.

Watching traffic on the Plainview-Lubbock highway, according to Capt. W. W. Legge of the highway patrol, will be at least two and perhaps four officers of the patrol.

COOPERATION IS ASKED

Football fans of Lubbock were requested today by Lubbock school officials to cooperate in every way possible at tomorrow night's game at Tech field between Plainview and Lubbock by parking in regular designated spaces on the college campus and not on the driveway of the highway nearby or the college driveways. More than 1,000 cars are expected from Plainview for the game and corrected parking by local fans will be an example for the visitors, state highway patrolmen said.

"Unless correct parking regulations are followed, we're likely to have a tremendous traffic jam out there," Capt. W. W. Legge of the patrol warned officials in asking for cooperation in parking.

Hague Is Restrained

Clark has expressed hope will be appealed, he recommended "a modified form of public censorship"—a requirement that an advance copy of a speech must be furnished to authorities in cases where "the particular persons applying for permits had on previous occasions addressed similar audiences with resulting disturbances."

One Ruling Not Given

The 15,000-word decision did not rule on the plaintiffs' complaint that the Hague administration intimated owners of private meeting halls into refusing to rent to them. The judge ruled there was no competent evidence to connect city officials with the inability to obtain indoor meeting places.

Neither did the decision deal with the prayer for relief from interference with picketing, union organization and other rights under the National Labor Relations act. Judge Clark said he already had upheld these rights in an injunction issued in another case, which is now up on appeal.

Judge Clark's decision, bringing to an end the 10-month-old case in which the American Civil Liberties union joined the CIO and a number of its leaders and affiliates as co-plaintiff, did not once mention communism.

The city of Florence in Italy has been a favorite of poets and writers for centuries. Its visitors have included Milton, Landor, George Eliot, the Brownings, Longfellow, Lowell, and the Hawthornes.

Warning To Japan

prive American nationals of equal opportunity."

Saying Americans already have suffered so greatly from the Sino-Japanese conflict that "an early rehabilitation of American enterprise in China and of American trade with China can not be expected," the note added:

"The American govrenment, therefore, finds it all the more difficult to reconcile itself to a situation in which American nationals must contend with continuing unwarranted interference with their rights at the hands of the Japanese authorities in China and with Japanese actions and policies which operate to deprive American trade and enterprise of equality of opportunity in China. . .

Might Encounter Restrictions

"Your excellency can not fail to recognize the existence of a great and growing disparity between the treatment accorded American nationals and their trade and enterprise by Japanese authorities in China and Japan and the treatment accorded Japanese nationals and their trade and enterprise by the government of the United States in areas within its jurisdiction."

Some students of Far Eastern affairs professed to see in this statement a veiled threat that if Japan did not accord Americans better treatment, Japanese merchants dealing in or with the United States soon might encounter restrictions.

The note set forth that American interests have been largely squeezed out of Manchoukuo by Japan.

Open Door Virtually Closed

"In the opinion of my government," Ambassador Grew wrote, "equality of opportunity or the open door has virtually ceased to exist in Manchuria notwithstanding the assurances of the Japanese government that it would be maintained in that area."

(The word "Manchuria" was used rather than "Manchoukuo," Japanese term for the puppet state it made of Manchuria in 1932. The inference was that the United States has no intention of recognizing Manchoukuo.)

Three Demands Made

The United States made three specific demands in the message:

"1. The discontinuance of discriminatory exchange control and of other measures imposed in areas in China under Japanese control which operate either directly or indirectly to discriminate against American trade and enterprise;

"2. The discontinuance of any monopoly or of any preference which would deprive American nationals of the right of undertaking any legitimate trade or industry in China, or of any arrangement which might purport to establish in favor of Japanese interests any general superiority of rights with regard to commercial or economic development in any region of China; and

"3. The discontinuance of interference by Japanese authorities in China with American property and other rights including such forms of interference as censorship of American mail and telegrams, and restrictions upon residence and travel by Americans and upon American trade and shipping."

predecessor, Herbert Hoover, who urged the United States to initiate resumption of world economic conferences as a vital step towards peace, and Viscount Halifax, the British foreign minister.

The British cabinet minister in a broadcast from London, urged the United States to join hands with Great Britain in establishing world peace, and again defended his nation's course in the recent crisis.

Sitting before a microphone in the oval room of the White House, President Roosevelt deplored armaments competition, but asserted that until foreign nations give something more than verbal assurances that they desire disarmament—until disarmament discussions are actually started, the United States must arm "to meet with success any application of force against us."

Fascist Newspaper Has Criptic Comment

ROME, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Fascist newspaper La Tribuna today said President Roosevelt's speech of last night "fits quite well into the picture of contemporary democratic, Jewish and Masonic activity."

The newspaper said the speech showed that Jews constituted the "real reason rather than the pretext which impels democratic governments to arm themselves to the point of congestion."

This was the information contained in personal letters received this morning by various of those who joined in the invitation.

"However, if there is any change in my schedule, I shall be very happy to attend the game and shall advise if this is possible."

He had delayed reply to the invitations, it was explained, because of the possibility that he might arrange his schedule so as to be here.

Crosby is a graduate of Gonzaga.

Texas Oil Men

ditional taxes by state political subdivisions will drive the oil companies to the wall and force new capital from the state, he said.

Must Accept Responsibility

"Our association must accept responsibility for the legislative problems which confront us in Texas and in Washington," he said. "The depletion allowance, for example, is a matter of vital importance and concern to every oil operator.

"Laws affecting the pollution problem are on the legislative calendar and it is vital to our industry that they be fair in their application," he continued. "The Connally hot oil law will be before congress for re-enactment; approval of the continuation of the oil states compact will be considered, but the basic problem facing us is taxation."

Collects 16.5 Per Cent

McGaha said Texas collects 16.5 per cent of the petroleum industry's gross receipts in taxes. He said 12.71 per cent of the industry's payroll went for compensation insurance.

"For every dollar we spend in wages in Texas," he said, "we spend 56 cents in taxes."

Commenting on the tax trend in Texas today, he said:

"The trend is to increase levies on the oil industry and decrease those on other industries. As a result our industry has had to gradually absorb an increasing proportion of the local tax burden."

Taxes Are Increased

Ad valorem taxes levied on Texas oil properties last year, he said, increased $3,000,000 over 1936 and taxes levied on all other properties decreased $1,000,000.

Because Texas oil must be sold in competition with oil of other states, McGaha said, "operators are not able to pass on tax costs to consumers.

"That means," he explained, "that Texas operators must absorb the difference in cost which the heavy taxes create."

Has Made Bright Spot

The association president said the oil industry had made Texas the bright business spot in the nation during the past seven years, when, he claimed, half of the 5,000,000,000 (billions) barrels of oil produced in Texas thus far came out on the ground.

The success of any state industrialization program, he said, depends on the encouragement to new capital and the incentive to re-invest returns from invested capital.

"Yet our industry has been made the target of repeated attempts to tax it out of existence," he claimed.

Operating On Borrowed Money

In addition to its tax burden, the association leader said, the industry has dumped $1,000,000,000 in non-productive wells.

The industry in Texas alone, he asserted, is operating on $648,376,000 borrowed money, including bonded indebtedness.

"The glamour of big oil strikes, wide open flow and quick riches are things of the past in this business," McGaha concluded. "These have been replaced by orderly business-like development and proration of oil pools."

Last year he said the industry poured $755,000,000 into production of oil and recovered $750,000,000, losing $5,000,000.

Earth Man Is Found Unconscious Here

He said he was attempting to "thumb" a ride to Earth, that he saw a car approaching, and that after that he did not remember what happened. He said he supposed the car struck him.

Bill Mabray, assistant chief of police, said the police department is investigating.

H. B. Brown and Roy Sanford of the police department took Collins to the sanitarium. He was in semi-conscious condition, according to the police report.

The Earth man said he had intended to go to Ranger, but had come this far and decided to return home.

Hart, Schaffner & Marx Feature at

When Winter starts playing a leading role in th edaily weather routine, RAREPACK invariably starts playing a leading role in men's wardrobes . . . why? . . . because Rarepack is by all odds the favorite overcoat among the smarter dressed men of America.

From every standpoint Rarepack "fills the bill" . . . Rarepack is light in weight, soft and very warm . . . it seems to keep its perennial youth no matter how rough the treatment you give it . . . throw it around, wad it up and sit on it and it still doesn't get wrinkled.

The most outstanding point about a Rarepack is that it is made up of over 25,000 closely packed mohair, guanaco, alpaca and wool fibers to the square inch . . . (nearly twice as many as is in any similar fabric) "think of it—about 171,351,936 to each coat. . . . It's "some" coat and you'll agree once you see and feel one and try one on.

They'd Like To Dip $300,000 Out Of That Wishing Well

Walt Disney, cartoon king of the movies, seems to be acquiring a fine wardrobe of suits, what with two of them filed against his organization for alleged music piracy in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" and now two more filed by the singers who warbled for "Snow White" and the Prince. Adriana Caselotti (left), the voice of Snow White, and Harry Stockwell (right), the voice of the Prince, demanded $300,000 in New York Supreme Court. They claimed millions of phonograph records were made from the sound track of the film in violation of their contracts which, they say, restricted their voices to the movie alone. The dark-haired Adriana, who reportedly received less than $1000 for her work, seeks $200,000, and Stockwell, whose pay check was said to be under $500, wants $100,000. The film (a love scene between the Prince and Snow White is shown in center) is reported to be grossing around $10,000,000.
