MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

By H. N. F.

Governor Neff has signed the bill prescribing a specific plan for the removal of prison commissioners and it is now law, as the bill carried the emergency clause and was given a two-thirds recorded vote. It was learned by correspondents that the governor has brought the matter to the attention of the attorney general and request made that proceedings be instituted for the removal of W. G. Pryor from the prison commission. The suit is to be brought in Travis county. Pryor refused to resign either at the request of the governor or the legislative committee which investigated the prison system. Because of continued illness he was unable to appear before the investigating committee just before it made its report.

Senator Harry Hertzberg of San Antonio was elected president of the senate of Texas just before adjournment. His nomination was seconded by Senators Page, Wood, McMillin and Parr and carried unanimously. The election of Senator Hertzberg, according to Austin corresponents, came not only as a recognition of his services as a senator of two terms standing, but also as a tribute to his leadership in certain matters vital to the conduct of the state government during the first called session of the legislature. It was Senator Hertzberg who assumed the lead in the fight of the legislature with the governor of Texas to rehabilitate the penitentiary system of the state and launch it forth upon a new policy that is expected, within a period of a few years, to wipe it off the liability ledger of the state and put it in the columns of assets. Senator Hertzberg introduced successively in the senate bills abolishing the use of chains and limiting the use of the bat, the bill providing for the appointment of a penitentiary supervisory board to oversee the general living condition of convicts, and the bill providing for the appointment of a relation committee to move the main penitentiary from Huntsville to some point within 75 miles of Austin, and sell the prison farms. Senator Hertzberg is a stalwart friend of West Texas. He voted for senatorial redistricting; he voted against the Woods amendment; he declared for redistricting along constitutional lines and he made a name for himself as a statesman ever wise and ever just.

Dr. Joseph Taylor is the State Press of the Dallas News. He isn't a medico. He isn't a doctor of divinity. He is a doctor of logic and law and literature. Dr. Taylor is a North Carolinian. His ancestors settled in North Carolina in sixteenth century. He is an all American, a churchman, a democrat, a temperance man and all around champion of clean living and clean human action. Dr. Taylor has a viewpoint that is appealing as well as interesting. This from his pen is worth while: "A Breckenridge constituents using stationery far in advance of the quality supposed to appertain to the correspondence of persons holding forth in oil towns, writes in to solicit a few indices of State Press' attitude toward the Sunday laws in general, and particularly as they apply to Breckenridge. Few people are aware that in Breckenridge it is impossible on the Sabbath day to buy cigarettes or tobacco. Nor can chewing gum or sweet confections be bought, the same being true of gasoline, naphthaline, kerosene and vaseline—one can't buy powder, face, bug or gun." So our correspondent says. Seven-eights of the population are men, our friend continues. Most of them work six days a week, twelve hours a day. On Sundays they desire to come to the city. Surrounding every oil field are houses of questionable repute. The service car drivers note a rise in business with the movie theaters, the confectionery stores and cold drink places closed, we are told. Now, when I ask your opinion on Sunday closing you will perhaps quote me the 'Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy,' concludes our rather difficult customer. And in reply S. P. will indeed say remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. But keeping the Sabbath day holy does not necessarily import its keeping in an overstrained, nerve-racking, artificial manner. Keeping the Sabbath in a way to do more harm than good is not keeping it holy. Keeping it in an intelligent, responsible, self-respecting manner surely does not signify that it is being kept in an unholy manner. Circumstances alter cases and those who can not make their convictions sufficiently elastic to stretch them in the case of a boom town's special needs are certainly liable to ruin them by tearing same. A movie show that is fit to run on weekday afternoons is fit to run on Sunday afternoon in a big town. A thirst that is enabled to be quenched at a cold drink stand on weekdays is fit to be quenched at the same place on Sunday. A cigar that is fit to be smoked on Sunday is fit to be bought on the same day. State Press does not believe in a wide-open town. There are certain limits, certain lines of decency, which must be observed by civilized people everywhere, oil towns or what not. These lines are well known. They must be toed squarely. But there is no justification for narrow and petty restrictions which disgust everybody without improving anybody." Baylor University made State Press Taylor a doctor of logic and law and literature and Dr. Samuel Palmer Brooks was his sponsor. Dr. Brooks is a gentleman who is said to make very few mistakes and there are thousands of Texans who are willing to admit that the president of Baylor University made no mistake when he made the Hon. Joseph Taylor a highbrow straight hitter who "tells it to them" when the hour arrives to tell it.

TRAIL OF "GOLDEN RAINBOW" FROM "SWINDLE" RING LEADS TO MISSING CHICAGO BANKER

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Another $430,518.30 in notes and agreements for the marketing of a couple million dollars more were surrendered today to federal authorities by Rudolph E. Kohn, president of the American Rubber company of Chicago and one of those under arrest with Charles French "alleged master mind" in what Colonel John V. Clinnin, assistant United States district attorney, declared to be a gigantic swindle ring.

With the notes and other papers, Kohn turned over a mass of correspondence between himself and French referring to alleged "kiting" of checks and commercial paper plans in the purchase of banks in Milwaukee and Minneapolis and business deals aggregating many millions.

The total of "paper" wealth already in Colonel Clinnin's hands is estimated to have surpassed the $30,000,000 mark, although no complete check has yet been made, while leads pointing to other deals by French and his associates total as much more.

The paper surrender by Kohn, includes an agreement whereby French's development securities company of Kansas City, was to handle $700,000 in notes of the American Rubber company; and an agreement between Kohn and the commercial club of Centralia, Illinois, whereby the club was to furnish the money to build the company a factory at Centralia.

Kohn told Colonel Clinin he had been caught in the failure of the Michigan Avenue Trust company here when Warren C. Spurgin, its president, fled to Mexico. He took the four checks to the bank to deposit to cover an $8,000 check which Charles W. Littleton, president of the Consolidated Automobile company, was cashing at West Carrollton, a little town near Cleveland, Kohn said. When he reached the bank he found the doors closed.

Littleton's clothes were found in Grant Park here on the morning of August 9, with a farewell note saying he had jumped into the lake. The body, however, has not been recovered.

RECOVER BODY OF AMERICAN FLIGHT SERGEANT FROM ZR-2

By Associated Press.

HULL, Eng., Aug. 26.—The recovery from the wreck of the ZR-2 late today of two more bodies, those of Albert L. Loftin, an American mechanic and flight sergeant, A. P. Martin, of the British crew and the near recovery of another, which slipped from the mass of wreckage just after it was brought to the surface, gave hope to the searchers and officials that they would soon be able to locate other missing members of the crew.

As the salvagers were continuing their work, another brief chapter in the tragedy was written when the coroner's inquest on the bodies of Lieutenant Marcus H. Esterly of Washington, D. C., Lieutenant Charles G. Little of Newburyport, Mass., and Lieutenant R. S. Montgaue of British personnel was opened. The session however, was a brief one and after the taking of some evidence adjournment was taken until October 4. The formality enabled the coroner to issue burial certificates so that the bodies could be taken away. Further inquiry is impossible at present, owing to the lack of evidence and the fact that the important witnesses, flight lieutenant A. H. Wann, is still in a hospital where he must remain for another fortnight.

The American air force was represented by Lieutenants oJhn B. Lawrence, Jos. B. Anderson and William Taylor.

A number of British officials were present. John H. Grout, the American consul at Hull, was present as an observer.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America to call a joint conference of mine workers and operators of Migo county, West Virginia, with the view of reaching an agreement that would end the industrial conflict that has continued there for several months.

Mr. Lewis' message proposed that the conference first consider the abolishment of what he termed the guard system maintained by operators through a private detective agency and second that it consider an adjustment between the operators and miners "upon any honorable basis which can be found."

In concluding his message of more than 600 words, Mr. Lewis pledged the co-operation of the international union in an honorable attempt to adjust the Mingo county situation and offered to arrange for the miners representation at any conference called by President Harding.

HALT MARCH OF MINERS INTO ZONE

By Associated Press.

MADISON, W. Va., Aug. 26.—The advance guard of the marching miners on their way from Marmet to Mingo as a protest against Governor Morgan's martial law was turned back by Charley F. Keeny, president of District No. 17, United Mine Workers, and Fred Mooney, secretary, after it had passed through Madison shortly after noon today.

The men numbering some two hundred or three hundred, had camped in a hotel near here for dinner and then pressed on their way toward the Logan county line.

Keeny and Mooney, who left Charleston early this morning, with the avowed intention of stopping the march, reached Madison within half an hour after the men left. After a brief conference with county officials, they hurried down the road and overtaking the party induced it to march back to Madison.

Mr. Kenney said he was trying to have a train here tonight. It is only a short run over the coal river branch of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad to St. Albans, on the main line and an equally short run from there to Charleston.

He planned, he said, to get the men here aboard the train at the earliest possible moment, for they were footsore and weary and many of them had marched a long distance before they reached Marmet.

A meeting of the advance guard of about 200 marching miners was held in the baseball park here. Enough stragglers had come in along the Peytona-Madison road to swell the gathering to about 600.

Mr. Kenney explained that Brigadier General H. H. Bandholtz, U. S. A., representing the war department, had insisted that the march end at once. Mr. Kenney promptly told them to go back home.

That broke up the meeting and some of the men who had joined the marching force from this vicinity, immediately started for their homes.

Mr. Kenney said it was expected the marchers would be out of the country within the next two days.

With a strong windstorm and a slight hint of rain which sent the thermometer down 14 degrees within an hour after five o'clock Friday afternoon a promise was seen of the breaking up of a heat wave which for intensity and duration has shattered all previous records—the thermometer going above 100 degrees for 11 consecutive days, and on Sunday of this week registering more than 110—the maximum reading given by the thermometer—and breaking all previous heat records for the year.

The readings were taken from the recording thermometer of the Art Jewelry company, which shows the temperature prevailing for every hour of the day or night.

The record shows that the present heated spell began on Tuesday, August 16, the temperature going "over the top" late in the forenoon and attaining it's greatest intensity shortly before two o'clock in the afternoon, when it treaded along at about 104 until after three in the afternoon. The drop was slight from that point until about six to eight, when the drop became faster, with another ac-

THE TRUTH ABOUT IRELAND

What is the truth about the Irish question? Do the common people of southern Ireland want complete independence, or would they be satisfied with Dominion home rule? Are the common people of Ulster unanimous in opposition to the proposal that all Ireland shall be under one government? What is the attitude of the English people toward the question of home rule? Why does the British government oppose complete liberty for Ireland?

These are some of the questions thoughtful Americans have been asking of late. And in order that they might have the correct answers Victor McNaught, a trained newspaper reporter, has gone to the British Isles, where for several weeks he has carefully investigated conditions both in England and Ireland. He has not gleaned his information primarily from official utterances, but has gone to the very hearts of the people themselves, questioning high and low alike. In this way he has discovered how the common people feel, what they want.

As a result of his investigations Mr. McNaught will write a series of articles about the Irish situation. The Record News has secured these articles for exclusive publication in Wichita Falls. The first of the series will be published tomorrow. Look for it in The Record News.

LLOYD GEORGE SENDS ANSWER TO DE VALERA

British Prime Minister Reiterates That Ireland Cannot Have Complete Independence.

Asserts That Prolonged Negotiations Will Serve to Play Into Hands of Extremists.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, today sent a prompt rejoinder to the letter of Eamonn De Valera, president of the Irish republic, which rejected the British government's terms for peace in Ireland.

The premier's note constituted a firm reiteration of the government's former standpoint, that Ireland could not be permitted to withdraw from the empire. He said he thought he had made it clear in conversations and previous communications that the government "can discuss no settlement which involves a refusal on the part of Ireland to accept a free, equal and loyal partnership in the British commonwealth under one sovereign."

Mr. Lloyd George, in concluding his note, still held open the door for further negotiations with Mr. De Valera and his colleagues if they are prepared to examine how far the government's consideration "can be reconciled with the aspiration you represent." He declared, however, that the government "could not prolong a mere exchange of notes."

In his communication Mr. Lloyd George preserved the same friendly tone that characterized his former letters to Mr. DeValera. Today he but stressed the government's standpoint by quotations from Irish patriots and Abraham Lincoln. He warned Mr. DeValera that a needless prolongation of the negotiations would serve to play into the hands of the extremists, who he declared, were only anxious to wreck the negotiations and terminate the truce.

A hopeful aspect of the situation as it is viewed in London political circles is that neither Mr. DeValera, s

NO ARRESTS MADE YET IN ASSAULT CASE

Expected developments in the solution of the mystery surrounding the attack on Mrs. W. D. Bennett, local resident on the afternoon of August 1 had failed to materialize Friday night. County officers expressed the opinion Friday that an important arrest in connection with the case would be made within twenty-four hours.

No information was given Friday night other than that the arrest had not been made. One precinct officer said that the whereabouts of the person wanted by the officers was known and the arrest would probably be made within a few days.

Mrs. Bennett was attacked at her residence on Sixteenth street, and severely beaten. She said at the time that her assailant was a negro. A negro was arrested and a lynching was narrowly avoided that night at the county jail. The negro afterwards proved an alibi and was released. Doubt has been expressed since as to whether the assailant was a negro.

The troop winning the pennant three consecutive times retains it as permanant property. Ice cream was served to the scouts by the mothers. Troop six decided to hold an overnight hike next Friday leaving the city at 5 p. m., and returning Saturday morning early.

Troops one and four reported good meetings with a good attendance. Mr. Taylor stated that scouting in Wichita Falls was on a boom. He says that the boys are returning from their vacations full of pep and ready to take up scout work with a vim.

HAWKINS HERE ON DISPUTE

Completing a tour of Northwest Texas for the purpose of gathering data and evidence for the protection of persons holding property in the territory involved by the river boundary dispute between Texas and Oklahoma, Assistant Attorney General Wallace Hawkins, spent Friday in Wichita Falls on his return trip to Austin.

Mr. Hawkins declared that some of the persons owning rich farm lands in this district, especially in Hardeman and Wilbarger counties were showing little interest in the case, despite the fact that they stand in danger of losing everything they have accumulated.

The final Oklahoma county seat hearings are scheduled to start on Monday at Oklahoma City and the Texas hearings are expected to begin early in September at New Boston, continuing at Clarksville, Paris, Sherman, Gainesville, Nocona, Henrietta, Wichita Falls, Vernon and Quanah. The last four named hearings may be combined at Wichita Falls, according to Mr. Hawkins.

STORY TOLD BY THIS MERCHANT IS REMARKABLE

Really Sounds Incredible But Well Known Man Testifies to Truth Of It.

Writing from Maxeys, Ga., A. J. Gillen, proprietor of a large department store at that place, says:

"I have a customer here who was in bed for three years and did not go to a meal at any time. She had five physicians and they gave her out. One bottle of Tanlac got her up, on the second bottle she commenced keeping house an on the third she did all the cooking and housework for a family of eight."

This sounds really incredible, but it comes unsolicited from a highly creditable source and is copied verbatim from the letter.

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Store; in Electra by Tarlton Drug Store; in Burkburnett by West End Drug Store; and by all leading druggists.—Adv.

SELL BONDS FOR HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

"Entire issue accepted and paid for," was the contents of a telegram received Friday afternoon by Judge J. P. Jones of the county court from H. R. Wilson, district attorney and E. L. Fulton, county attorney, regarding the $1,500,000 deposited to the credit of the First National Bank and Empire Mortgage company of this city who purchased the bonds from the county.

County officials expressed themselves as well pleased with the final sale of thee bonds. It is known that there has been a substantial decrease in the bond market since the county entered into an agreement as to the purchase of the bonds previous to the election. There is a difference amounting to several thousand dollars in the value of the bonds at the present time and that at the time there were sold it is said. The sale was worked out by Frank Kell and W. M. McGregor.

The sale of the bonds assures that there will be no further delay in the county road work from lack of finances. Although under the agreement with the local purchasers the county is to receive only $100,000 a month for road work until the winter months assurance has been given that larger amounts can be obtained if they are needed.

It is expected that within the next week work will not only be resumed on the Poots and Prentice contract but also the sub-contracts of the Zimmerman Construction company at Iowa Park, H. K. McCullom Construction company at Electra and the Whitham Construction company in this city. With all work under way more than the $100,000 a month will be needed for the next few months.

CHASE NETS GROCER HIS $5 "CHANGE"

Giving chase in an automobile about ten minutes after a smooth shaven young man had left his place of business after working an old scheme of counter change trickstare which netted the alleged swindling of $5, J. N. Carter, proprietor of the Model Grocery Co., 1305 Holliday street, Friday afternoon caught a young man, about 23 years of age, when he turned over to the police on a charge of swindling. The young man also was identified by J. C. Wolfe, proprietor of the Wolf Grocery Co., 1914 Kemp Boulevard as one of two young men, who he alleges swindled him out of $5 in the same manner.

According to the two grocerymen the alleged swindlers came into their places during a business rush, buying small articles for which a ten dollar bill was offered in payment. After the change was placed on the counter the buyer would suddenly find that he had small change and offer the groceryman back change for a five dollar bill. When the merchant placed out another five dollar bill to obtain the money of smaller denomination, it is then the swindler's practice to push one of the five dollar bills and the currency of smaller denomination to the merchant and place the ten and other five dollar bill in his pocket.

J. N. Hobbs of the Hobbs Grocery Co., 1911 Taylor street, identifed the young man caught by Mr. Carter as one of two, who attempted to work the swindle in his place early Friday and R. E. Wyatt, proprietor of the Smith No. 1, 2152 Clarence street declared that the man attempted the scheme in his place about a month ago.

Police were searching Friday for a local youth, whom they believe was working with the man now being held in custody.

PLACE LAST STEEL WORK ON BRIDGE

Work has started on putting the last steel girder in place on the Wichita Falls and Southern's Brazor bridge and the entire bridge will be completed and the prest temporary structure removed within two weeks, according to C. L. Fontaine, assistant manager of the road.

When this completed bridge is put into service much better time will be possible than at present, on account of the present delay of approximately 30 minutes on each trip over the bridge, he said.

ASKS PUPILS TO RECEIVE RATING SOON

School students contemplating entering the Wichita Falls senior high school, who were not enrolled in the city schools last year are requested to see Principal S. H. Rider during the coming week, in order that credits for work accomplished in other schools may be straightened out before the beginning of actual school work, it was announced Friday from the office of Superintendent Lee Clark. A large number of new students are expected during the coming year, according to teachers.

The teachers are expected to begin arriving in numbers by the middle of next week, in oder to be ready to take up work with the inter-county tachers institute, which opens on September 5.

A school board meeting, scheduled to be held Friday afternooon for the purpose of opening bids on the new school building to be erected in the Bowie addition was postponed because of the lack of a quorum. The meeting probably will be held Monday afternoon.

Is the Memphis Ball Park a Long Walk From the Gayosa Hotel?

SPUDDERS KID KRAFT KRUELLY, MASSAGE MARBLE MERCILESSLY AND GRAB GAME GLORIOUSLY

By C. F. CARTER

Oh, Shufflin' Phil Douglas was sure a bear
When he battered Pittsburg down,
When he held the Pirates to one lone hit
Back east in the One-Big-Town.

But I rises to state with consid'able force
That the pitchers is rare indeed,
Who can "break the heart" of the Spudder clan
With curves, or blinding speed.

Takes more'n a Douglas, a Faber, a Kerr,
To bust the heart of a Spud,——
And as for Lou Kraft, gosh! how I laffed,
When they changed Lou's name to "Mud!!"

—By Me Myselluf.

Everybody happy? Sure thing! Anybody worrying about the outfield situation? Nope, not a soul. Are the Spudders sittin' on top of the world? Absopositutely. Is Bob Bescher still in Wichita Falls? Yeah, we're saving Bob for the play-off with Fort Worth, and the Memphis series. Is Jake Miller back in the line-up? No, sir; giving Jake a little rest. Is Bischoff playing center field? No, ma'am; George hurt his finger, and can't play. Well, who we got in that outfield, anyway? Oh, hum, just McElwee, Danny Gross and Griggs—and we may play Knadler, Ramsey and Uncle Jimmy Sewell out there today; anybody'll do in the outfield; just want somebody out there to throw the ball in now and then!

The "bush league" Spudders, poor, decrepit, crippled, old collection of bums and has-beens, knocked the tar out of the Exporters yesterday, 7 to 1—just stepped out in the eighth inning with the count 1 to 0 against 'em, pounded Lou Kraft to a fare-thee-well and chased seven runs across the platter for a cinch victory.

It ain't the Spudders who need outfielders in this Texas league, fans, we're here to tell you—'its the team the Spudders happen to be playing that needs outfielders; needs more than three fast men in the outfield to chase the hits that come flying from the bats of Spudder infielders!

Lou Kraft became yesterday a member in good standing of the Ancient Order of Twirlers Who Almost Beat the Spudders. Lou was a sonuvagun of a pitcher for seven innings, holding the Spuds to four widely isolated hits—and Lou probably thought he was a regular he-hurler when he strolled to the mound at the start of the eighth inning. But all Lou did in the eighth was to throw the ball, and then dodge! And the Beaumont infield blew up with a beautiful booming sound, as so many infields do when that famous Spudder onslaught begins.

Easy for Rabbit.

Rabbit Dorough had a pleasant afternoon. In the opening frame Cedric Durst poled one over the fence for the circuit, but thereafter Rabbit yielded only five bingles and time and again poured it on the Exporters in a pinch when they threatened to approach home plate. The boys told Rabbit, of course, not to worry; that they'd get him a nice lot of pretty little runs for him to play with, if he'd be a good boy; so Rabbit didn't swear or do anything naughty, and he WAS a nice boy and the Spudders DID get him a nice lot of pretty little runs.

You want to hear about that heroic eighth? Here she goes. Faded? Right-o; shower down; read 'em and weep!

Doyle booted one, and Caddy Works was safe at first base. Frank Kitchens crossed up the whole United States by belting a two-bagger over the right field fence. Frank used to be a left field hitter, but he's foxy; now he hits 'em where the fence is nearest!

All right; Caddy on third and Frank on second. Rabbit Dorough bounced one to Smith, and Brennan, still dazed by Frank's unexpected wallop high over his head, dropped the throw. Bass soused, and Leland McElwee up.

Mac did 'er; poked a single to right that brought Caddy home with the tieing run, and left the bases still densely populated. Buddy Tanner, best li'l feller in a pinch there is, promptly soaked a single to center, and brought his old side kick Kitchens across the rubber with another marker. Bases still loaded, and that poor old wreck, Tex McDonald, lazily meandering up to the plat to look things over.

Tex Still Hitting.

Tex stops to kid the umpire, and exchange a few words with the catcher. He lest a high one on the outside go past, and halts the game while he steps out of the batter's box to rub dirt on his hands and take a hitch in his panties. Then he strolls back again, galvanizes into sudden action—and socks a stinging single to center, scoring Dorough and McElwee and putting Buddy on third.

Danny Clark slammed one at Doyle, and all hands were safe when Doyle made a useless attempt to get Tex at second, Buddy scoring on the play. Kraft threw out Danny Gross, Tex going to third and Clark to second. Cecil Griggs soaked a single to right scoring Tex, and putting Clark on the third sack. Works lifted a sacrifice fly to Durst, bringing Danny in to port—and then Frank Kitchens, having started the dirty work with that two-bagger, decided enough runs were in, and so ended the frame by fanning the ozone.

That's the way it happened, fans, or else the wire operator is a liar. The Exporters, aside from that lone home run in the first, were helpless—while you know the Spudders; they're never helpless until three men are retired in the ninth.

The Spudders will remove the shells from the Galveston Sand Crabs today. It's tough on the Crabs, but it must be done. The score:

AMATEUR LEAGUE

The Motor Supply company team of the Twilight league added two games to its column of victories this week by taking the Morgan Seeders into camp twice, by scores of 5 to 1 and 4 to 3.

The game between the two clubs last evening was a pitchers' battle between Davidson, of the Motors, and Higginbotham, of the Seeders, with the latter having the best of it until the fifth inning, when rugged support behind him helped the Motors to shove over five runs and win the game.

Score by innings		R.	H.	E
Motors	000 05—5	5	4	2
Seeders	100 00—1	1	3	5

Batteries: Motors, Davidson and Dodson; Seeders, Higginbotham and Webb.

The other game won by the Motors was played last Tuesday, having been postponed from the regular schedule of several weeks ago.

BLACK SPUDDERS TO OPEN SERIES HERE TODAY WITH CRABS

Today is going to be a tough day for Crabs. While the Spudders are making life dreary for Roy Ellam's Galveston crew in the city on the gulf, the Wichita Falls Black Spudders will be opening here a three-game series with the Galveston Black Sand Crabs—and this series in Wichita Falls will be a battle royal, as there has been little love lost this year between the colored ball tossers of Wichita Falls and Galveston.

The Black Spudders are not leading the league, but they have a hustling outfit that has been strengthened considerably of late. The Black Crabs have a pretty sweet ball team, and these two aggregations of colored pill chasers should furnish a good brand of baseball for the fans who trek to Athletic park this afternoon.

Arrangements have been completed whereby returns of the Texas league Spudders battle in Galveston will be announced at the park between innings.

The Black Spudders will play the Black Sand Crabs a doubleheader Sunday, the first game starting at 3:00 o'clock. Today's game, and Monday's battle will begin at 4:00 p. m.

TOM BEATEN IN FT. WORTH SEMI-FINALS

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 26.—After a heart-breaking, uphill battle, Tommy Cochran, Wichita alls staFr, golfer, lost in the semi-finals of the River Crest Golf club's annual invitation tournament to Jimmy Kennedy, Oklahoma state champion, by the narrow margin of 2 down.

Only Cochran, Kennedy, Jay Renfro, of Fort Worth, and Jonathan Ballard, Boston Tech star, were left when the 36-hole semi-finals started today. Cochran got away to a bad start in his match with the Oklahoma champion, and was four down at eight hole. From that point, however, the Wichita Falls player staged a spectacular come-back, and after squaring the match battled on even terms for many holes.

Kennedy was on the top of his form, and finally took the lead again when the match was nearing its close. At the 36th tee Cochran was dormie one, and needed the last hole to carry the match into extra holes. The task was too formidable however, and Kennedy earned his way to the finals by winning on the 36th green.

Jay Renfro, 19-year-old Fort Worth youngster, defeated Ballard 1 up in another battle that went to the last green. He and Kennedy will meet tomorrow in the finals.

Chick Evans will be there, of course, to defend his title. In addition to his two leading rivals, Francis Ouimet and Bobby Jones, the list of celebrities fighting for the first honors will include Willie Hunter, the British amateur champion, and Jerry Travers, former national amateur title holder.

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

Yes, as Brainy Billy Smith, Shreveport manager, remarked to Buzzin' Billy Bee of Fort Worth, "the Spudders are a weak road team." With a crippled outfield, they have succeeded thus far in the heat of a terrific race in winning only eight games out of thirteen on the road. Sure, the Spudders are weak on the road—weak from laughing at some of the fool stories printed about 'em!

Nervousness and insomnia are rampant in Fort Worth. If ever there was a city wherein the nerves of the fans are raw, it is our Tarrant county neighbor. Even Pop Boone and his assistants have collapsed under the strain; Pop Boone a month ago didn't believe the ball team was in existance that could lick the Cats, and Pop had volumes of praise on tap always regardless of what the Panthers did or failed to do. But have you read the story on Pop Boone's sport page of the split doubleheader between Fort Worth and Houston Wednesday.

Just at random, without referring to the innings in which the plays occurred, here are a few of the Fort Worth Record's remarks:

"The last game was a grewsome affair." (Houston won it, you may recall).

"Kraft ended the session with his usual fly."

"Bailey hit to Topner Rigney, who suffered with toe jam, and Bailey got a lease on life."

"Darringer scored on one of Paul Wachtel's wild heaves that he usually uncorks."

"Kraft also did his usual stunt (at bat) of breezing three."

"Hoffman surprised no one and went out second to first."

Don't that make you snicker? The Clawin' Cats, or the Fort Worth Rampagers as Pop Boone loved to call 'em when they led the loop, now are striking out and making wild heaves, etc., etc., "as usual." Isn't that significant of a breakdown in the morale of Jakey Atz's Panthers? There is something wrong with that Fort Worth ball club, a weakness somewhere, a lack of pep and dash and fight, or the veteran scribes in Fort Worth would not be noticing it, and sticking those fretful little moans into their stories of the games.

Horace McCoy, Dallas scribe, is another who can't get the sad news through his head that the Spudders have a real ball club. Horace has contributed an article to the Sporting News in which he remarks, speaking of the Spudders, that "their sudden and savage slugging not only startled the fans but themselves." Since when have we all been surprised by the slugging of the Spudders? Were they ever registered on the book as a club never to be dreaded on the attack?

Horace also rises to remark, apropos of the last Dallas Wichita Falls series, that "there is no denying that the Spudders were lucky to get away with four games, as the umpiring turned in by Paul Sentell was dramatic to a camera degree, and favored the home club."

We don't deny that Paul Sentell was considerable "oof color," during that series, but he certainly didn't favor anyone. He called 'em badly right and left, on the Spudders and the Marines alike. Dallas was simply played off her feet, and the only thing that cannot be denied is that the luck was with the Marines in that they were able to get one game out of the five in that particular series.

Nashville, Tenn., fans are wild over the sale of Bill Stellbauer to Fort Worth, and there appears to be a "nigger in the woodpile" somewhere. Bill Stellbauer apparently wasn't for sale just to any club, but for sale only to Fort Wooth—at least, that is the impression conveyed by the comment of Nashville sporting writers. Hamilton Love, writing in the Sporting News, states that "Acting Manager Chick Knaupp announced from Chattanooga that the president of the club, without Chick's knowledge or consent, had sold Bill Stellbauer to the Fort Worth club, and to take his place Chick had to sign Abe Bayer, a Chattanooga semi-pro."

President Sloan then tried to cover up the deal by issuing a statement in which it was implied that Stellbauer had been soll because he was a "lisorganizer' and was "dissatisfied." All in all, it looks very much as though Paul LaGrave and Jakie Atz and Bill Stripling, of Fort Worth, had worked under cover with Brother Sloan of Nashville, and that pressure not of a financial nature was brought to bear in order to obtain Stellbauer. It wasn't money that got him, for Sloan let Stellbauer go "for a measly $1,800 although he originally cost the Vols $1,500," according to Love

And all of that is just further proof of how simple it sometimes is for a club like Fort Worth, with its connections of years, to step out and grab a good ball player every now and then, while it is almost impossible for a new club like Wichita Falls to "put over" the same kind of a shenanigan.

There is frequently more to getting a ball player than merely being willing to part with the cash.

But we should worry. It's kinda nice at that, to know that our own Sluggin' Spudders are playing baseball these days, and not politics!

COTTON HAS NEW ADVANCE OF 44 POINTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—There was a continuation of the advance in cotton, heavy realizing sales being readily absorbed until prices had worked above 15 1-2 cents for October and up to 16 cents for May. The profit-taking then made more impression, with December selling off from 15.88 to 18.47 in the late trading, but closing at 15.60. The general market closed steady at an advance of 25 to 44 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 1 to 10 points under realising and selling for a reaction which was encouraged by the relatively easy Liverpool cables, the easier opening of foreign exchange and the extent of recent advances. These offerings were soon absorbed by a broadening of general commission house demand promoted by the reiteration of Bullish crop advices, low private condition figures and renewed reports of increasing trade activity. Realizing continued active, but failed to check the advance or cause reactions of more than 10 to 15 points until well along in the afternoon when active months were 52 to 59 points above last night's closing figures. October contracts sold at 15.54 and January 15.92 making advances of about 275 to 285 points from recent low levels and of between 4 and 4 1-2 cents per pound from the low records of last June.

The demand then became a little less active and alter fluctuations were extremely nervous and irregular as a result of profittaking. There may also have been some selling for a reaction owing to reports of showers following extreme temperatures in the southwest and prospects for coooler weather in Texas. Three more private crop reports were published during the morning, two of them making the condition 51, and the crop indication from 7,250,000 to 2,700,000 bales while the third placed the condition at 51.4. These reports were about in line with the two reports issued earlier in the week and probably served to strengthen expectations that the bureau will not be much over 51, compared with 64.7 last month. Expectations of increased spot offerings at the higher prices helped to check the advance, but very little southern selling was reported here today. Port receipts 12,549. United States port stocks 1,308,190. Exports today, 29,300, making 310,307 so far this season against 136,377 last year.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 26.—The upward movement in cotton was continued in the early part of the session today but in the later trading recent buyers went to making profits on a large scale and they caused recessions of importance, nearly all of the advance being wiped out at one time. The close, however, was steady at net gains on the day of 24 to 28 points with October at 14.93. At the highest levels the trading months were 60 to 62 points over the close of yesterday with October at new high price for the season of 15.28. All months made new high levels March climbing to 15.66.

In the early trading it was an irregular market with sharp upturns and equally sharp declines, owing to effect of overnight buying orders and considerable volume on the one hand, and a poor Liverpool on the other.

Soon after the call prices were 100 to 16 points under the finals of yesterday and this reces[illegible] the heaviest buying of the day, the soft spot being what many belated bulls were looking for. Outside buying became very heavy and prices mounted swiftly, highest prices being reached toward the middle of the day.

Back of the buying were further complaints of crop damage, the drouth in Texas and two private bureau condition reports, both placing the condition of the crop at 51 per cent of normal and one putting the indicated yield at 7,250,000 bales and the other at 7,300,000 bales.

STOCKS MAKE GAINS AFTER LOWER PRICES

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The stock market today made substantial recoveries from its long sustained declines. Dealings were the largest and most diversified of any session this month.

The extent of the rebound which began at the outset and continued for the most part to the close, took the shorts by surprise and resulted in the wiping out of a large amount of paper profits.

Leaders of today's advance compromised oils, motors, steels, equipments, shippings, rails and leathers at gross gains of one to five points. Textiles, chemicals, motion picture, mail order, tobacco and copper issues also showed material improvement with leading and junior rails. The only noteworthy laggards were United States rubber, common and first preferred, United Drug, Willys-Overland preferred, Pierce Arrow American Smelting and Philadelphia company, all declining to new low records.

Monetary conditions, favored the movement, call money on the exchange opening and renewing into next week at five per cent with plenty of outside funds available at four per cent. International remittances moved against this center, however, London bills reacted about 1 1-2 cents with lower quotations for all continental points except Denmark and Norway.

Liberty issues and several of the better known railway convertibles were among the stronger features of the bond list, but the foreign group was mixed, containing many net advances and declines, all within fractional limits.

DUN'S REVIEW

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

As the end of summer approaches, hopes of further gains in business are strengthened and sentiment grows more confident. Nothing in the present situation suggest that sudden and general activity will follow the recent slow and irregular improvement but a strong basis now exists for subsequent betterment of conditions. A gradual dimunition of price uncertainties as markets become more settled is a potent factor in certain quarters, and some relaxation of credit restrictions as monetary strains are modified is also a constructive influence. Progress in trades that were quickest to experience recovery from depression, as in textiles, has met with no interruption, while some lines that have been laggards in the movement, notably iron and steel, are beginning to participate moderately in the current revival. After many months of conspicuous dullness in various channels, any change now may conceivably be in the right direction, and evidence that buyers interests is being rekindled appears in the increasing number of future orders and inquiries.

CALVES SELL AT ADVANCES ON TEXAS MART

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 26.—An excellent calf trade with values around 25c higher, featured today's livestock market. Receipts amounted to 1000 cattle, 1500 calves, 1000 hogs and 1500 sheep.

Nothing of real quality showed up in the steer division, several loads of stockers brining $3.75. The market was steady. Only scattering bunches of cows were shown, these bringing steady values. Calves were strong to 25c higher, with several loads at $6.50. The stocker market also ruled steady.

Hogs were met with a slow reception but the market looked close to steady. An outsider made a $9.35 top early in the game. Scattering consignments of sheep sold on a steady basis. Quotations:

WHEAT DROPS ON OFFERING FROM OUTSIDE

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Lack of outside buying and advices that Canadian wheat was being offered at the seaboard on the same basis as American grain caused a slump in wheat today and tended to nullify an otherwise strong market on the Chicago board of trade.

Wheat finished 1-4 to 1c lower, corn ruled unchanged to 1-8c higher and oats were steady to 1-4 higher. In provisions meats were generally unchanged but lard was from 5 to 17 1-2 points higher.

After some early wavering wheat worked upward with fair steadiness until at noon December was $1.2c above the low point of last Monday. Houses with eastern connections bought to remove hedges against exports and the local trade became bullish on statements that the farm loan law bound to help business.

The high point brought out increased pressure, the longs showing anxiety to unload when the advance failed to stimulate business from outside sources.

Corn was active and higher, the chief factors being hot weather damage reports from Kansas and Nebraska and high export sales.

Oats followed the other grains but trade was dull and the range narrow.

Provisions were slightly more active and there was some trade in September pork for the first time in several days. Export demand and bullish sentiment were factors in forcing the advance in lard.

PRESIDENT OBREGON READY FOR THE OIL MEN.

President Obregon of Mexico will grant an audience to the American oil men without delay. An early settlement of the oil tax difficulties is predicted by American correspondents in the City of Mexico. President Obregon in June issued his decree doubling the export tax on shipments of crude and refined oils from Mexico. This led to the suspension of production in the Tampico fields. In other words, Standard Oil struck back and E. L. Doheny and his allies backed Standard Oil. Walter C. Teagle is president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. He is the chairman of the committee now in Mexico. The committee is composed of W. C. Teagle, president Standard Oil Company (N. J.); E. L. Doheny president Mexican Petroleum Company; J. W. Van Dyke, president Atlantic Refining Company; H. F. Sinclair, chairman Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation and Amos L. Beatty, president the Texas Company.

Government officials of Mexico, having indicated a willingness to confer with representatives of the American oil companies, with a view of discussing and if possible adjusting the differences growing out of the recent tax decrees, led to this prompt action on the part of the American producers of Mexican crude and refined oils. It has been contended all along in Wall Street financial circles that the crisis in the Mexican oil tax situation would be reached about the end of August, as that would be the time when the revenues derived from the oil taxes would be most missed.

The new expert taxes, which have been the cause of all the difficulties and which were responsible for many of the leading companies suspending operations, were made effective on July 1. Shipments for June, however, were exceptionally large, as many of the companies speeded up production in order to transport as much oil as possible before the new taxes were imposed.

Tax payments for the June shipments, however, were not due until the latter part of July, consequently in that month the Obregon Administration received in fact more revenue than in June.

During July shipments of crude oil from Mexico fell off sharply on account of the suspension of operations on the part of the American-controlled companies. The greater part of the oil exported from that country was for the account of British-owned concerns, and 6,000,000 barrels as compared with shipments of more than 17,500,000 barrels in June.

Tax payments for the July shipments are due about this time, and the loss of the revenue is believed to be seriously felt by the Mexican government. It has been estimated that the revenue derived as a result of the oil taxes total revenue collected by the government.

Mexican crude is on the free list. Mexican refined oils are on the free list. If the Mexican government recalls the export tax decree the American companies will have won a great victory.

President Obregon all along has refused to change the decree. His refusal led to the retaliatory program of the American companies.

In the contest before the house ways and means committee they whipped the independent producers almost to a frazzle. They kept oil importations on the free list.

Now they hope to compel President Obregon to recall his decree of June and to accept the terms dictated by the representatives of the powerful interest in the United States.

Regardless of all this after congress has reconvened the representatives of the independent producers say they are going to ask the upper house of the American congress to rewrite or revise the Fordney tariff measure and to place a heavy tariff on oil importations.

Senator Harreld of Oklahoma is a republican. He butted his head against a stone wall when he appealed to President Harding to do something for the independent producers.

Now Senator Curtis of Kansas, a standpatter who is able to read the sign language of the people, has been asked to butt his head against the Harding wall and to do something for Senator Harreld's "twenty-one thousand independent producers who are facing bankruptcy."

It is an interesting kettle of political fishes. To quote from the vocabulary of the late Dr. George C. Rankin, "On with the battle."

Texas lawmakers decided that the State University and the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Bryan could get by without the assistance of the publicity agents employed by these institutions. This decision of the law-makers is going to work a heavy hardship especially on the publicity agents. They may be compelled to seek new jobs.

SENATOR REED AND HIS REMARKS.

Congress is enjoying a recess regardless of the fate of the anti-beer bill. Senator "Jim" Reed of Missouri just before adjournment, issued a statement in which he said that published reports of his speech last week on the search and seizure amendment had placed him in a false position. The senator said he had no quarrel with prohibitionists and had not attacked prohibitionists and prohibition laws in general at all —"only a few fanatics who would tear down the Constitution in their endeavor to enact drastic measures."

The Missouri senator reiterated his opposition to any law that would invade the Constitution.

Senator Reed's statement of position and correction of published reports of his stand follows:

"Several press reports sent out and published widely place me in a very false position. Among other things it has been said that I attacked prohibitionists and likened them to the burners of witches. Also statements have been made which give the impression that I attacked prohibitory laws in general. I have never criticised any man because he is a prohibitionist. I recognise the right of every individual to believe in and to advocate absolute prohibition. I stated in my speeches that the eighteenth amendment, being a part of the Constitution, was binding on me and everybody else. I stated that I had made no opposition to the Volstead act, because I recognised the fact that the eighteenth amendment was the fundamental law of the land. That is still my position. But the issue now before the congress is not prohibition or anti-prohibition. The question now presented is whether the fourth amendment to the Constitution, which guarantees the citizen against unreasonable searchers and seizures, and provides that searchers and seizures can only be made pursuant to a warrant issued in a court, shall be nullified by statute insofar as a statute can work that outrageous end. When it comes to such a question as that, I propose to stand by the fourth amendment. It is as old as the magna charta. It has been repeatedly referred to by the greatest judges as guaranteeing one of the most important rights secured to a free people. Mr. Justice Clark of the supreme court of the United States, with the approval of the entire court, as late as February 21, 1921, declared:

"'The effect of the decision of the courts cited is that such rights are declared to be indispensible to the full enjoyment of personal security, personal liberty, and private property. They are regarded as of the very essence of constitutional liberty, and that the guarantee of them is as important and fundamental rights of the individual citizen, as imperative as are the guarantees of other the right to trial by jury, the right of habeas corpus and to due process of law.'

"The books are full of similar expressions. The whole contest now before the senate grows out of the insistence that in the enforcement of all laws these fundamental rights must be respected. It is idle to say that the prohibitory law cannot be enforced without destroying the Constitution. But, if we were forced to choose between a failure to enforce the prohibitory law and the destruction of the Constitution what American citizen would hesitate for a moment in deciding that the Constitution must be preserved? But, I repeat, the prohibitory law can be enforced without violating the Constitution. There are certain fanatics whom I did denounce and whom I now denounce, who are willing to destroy the Constitution in order to enforce this law. Men of that kind are very dangerous citizens."

The Stanley amendment, which the senate insisted upon, would prevent the search of private property as well as residences without a search warrant. The conference report would require a search warrant for an enforcement officer to enter a private home, but would exclude public places, motor cars and the like from the exemption.

The Stanley amendment has been hailed without foundation, as legalizing the making of home brew. It does not. But the fact that an enforcement officer would have to obtain a search warrant means that the average home brew maker for home consumption likely would be undisturbed. Even the conference report did not affect that situation.

The real point of difference is whether the necessity for a search warrant is to be extended beyond the private home or not.

Senator Henry H. Ashurst of Arizona is a democrat and a dry. He is an ardent champion of the Stanley amendment and yet one of the most ultra of the prohibitionists of the West. This is an excerpt from the speech made by the Arizona senator in defense of those who voted for the amendment offered by the senator from Kentucky: "I have never struck an opponent in the back, and I do not think I ever will; but the liquor traffic is one thing in the economy of this country that I am willing to strike in the back or below the belt, but I am unwilling to strike the rights of the American people below the belt or in the back. Since it has been adverted to that the amendment was passed upon by those senators friendly to prohibition, I want to say that is true. I have never cast a vote that could be called a "wet" vote. It is a matter of principle with me. I believe that one of the ravaging, destructive things of our national life was the use of alcoholic liquor, ardent spirits, and it was a great day in the history of America when the Sheppard amendment to the Constitution was ratified. * * * But there are other great questions. One of them is the assurance that we shall not impair the rights of American citizens for which governments themselves exist, and when such rights of the citizens no longer exist the government ought to fall and will fall."

It is a most interesting contest with many of the ablest republican senators arrayed on the side of the Stanley amendment and battling for what they call the preservation of the constitutional rights of an American citizen. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts is for the Stanley amendment and Senator Lodge is the majority leader. There will be another count of noses after the recess with the senate overwhelmingly for the Stanley amendment and the house leaders clamoring for a compromise.

Governor Len A. Small of Illinois will be a candidate for re-election. Just now his republican friends who are his enemies say he is an unwilling candidate for the penitentiary. His lieutenant governor, who was indicted with him, has turned in a check for $300,000 to the state treasurer of Illinois to square his account with the people. Isn't it a confession of guilt when a man accused of crooked practices makes necessary restitutions?

COTTON AND THE FUTURE.

Now it is announced that the War Finance Corporation will soon complete arrangements for advancements to finance exports sales of 200,000 bales of cotton for the Oklahoma Cotton Growers' Association and 300,000 bales for the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association. Texas farmers will gather the smallest crop in years and unless the signs are misleading the American production this year will not go beyond 7,500,000 bales. When the demand does come for cotton those who own cotton are certain to reap a harvest. This is a prediction based on world condition as they appear to exist today. There is a minimum crop and when normalcy returns to Europe the cotton spinners will call for a minimum supply. This is admitted by the wisest writers on cotton economics. Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

HAPPINESS.

In Canada my childhood years were spent, 'mid snow and rime; and though often I frose my ears, I had a bully time. The winter started in the fall and lasted through the spring, and bitter tempests used to brawl, but I would smile and sing. For I was born a happy guy, my heart was full of glee, and January or July was all the same to me. In Kansas long I made my home; 'tis there the wild winds chase; they blew the ringlets from my dome, the whiskers from my face. A cyclone hoisted me at times, and while I rode the blast I jotted down those cheer-up rhymes that made you stand aghast. On Arizona's scorching plain I dwelled a year or more, with Gila monsters in my train, and rattlesnakes before. My pelt dried up and wrinkled off beneath the burning rays, but I was still a cheerful toff, and I had happy days. If one is born the child of mirth, no ills can stop his song, not all the ordeals of the earth can wilt him very long. It is a rare and wondrous gift, the cheerful frame of mind, that sees the heavy cloudbanks drift, and knows they're silver lined. There is no envy in my heart for gifts that others own; they may be wise, they may be smart, and in their class alone; and they may scale the shining heights that I can ne'er achieve, but I am warbling days and nights, while they cave round and grieve.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

SENATOR EDWIN F. LADD.

Much to the surprise of his colleagues in the senate, Senator Edwin F. Ladd of North Dakota, it has been discovered, is a chemist and served in chemical laboratories as a teacher for nearly 40 years. His colleagues were not acquainted with this side of the senators' life until he appeared before the finance committee on the dyes embargo hearings. The senator told his colleagues that he has been in the past the need of building up organic chemistry, which has not been possible because of the fact that the Germans apparently have had complete control of the industry.

"I think we can render a distinct service at this time to chemistry and to the industries of this country," Senator Ladd said, "by protecting the organic chemical industry and the dye industry. Means of training our young men, graduates of educational institutions in chemistry, would thus be furnished for work along lines necessary for development in this country."

Senator Ladd was born in Starks, Me., December 13, 1859. He graduated from the University of Maine in 1884. He was assistant chemist and chief chemist, New York State Experiment Station, 1884-90; dean of the School of Chemistry and Pharmacy and professor of chemistry at the North Dakota Agricultural college, 1890-1916, also state chemist. In 1916 he became president of the N. D. Agricultural college. He has been editor of the North Dakota Farmer since 1890. His immense contributions to the science of farming caused the Non-Partisan League, a farmers' political organization, to nominate Prof. Ladd for the United States senate a year ago. He was elected by large majority.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

BYRON.

Byron, grand dreamer, mighty pessimist,
How beauteous are your tears, how sweet your sighs!
When'er you sing a god groans in the skies.
A multitude wails! 'Tis Byron's deep voice—list!

What organ tones! What symphonies! Lisst,
Possessed of music's powers, scarcely vies
With such majestic verse and chart-rent cries.
This dreamer holds with Israfel a tryst.

Don Juan, Childe Harold, Manfred, the Corsair—
All of these supermen are you; your dreams,
Your melancholy permeates them e'er.
And yet you are no misanthrope, it seems,

What roar the waves eternal on the shore?
natural more."
—Frederick Schenck Schlesinger.

SKOWHEGAN SOCIETY NEWS.

Dear Roy—A prominent member of Skowhegan society has met with an unfortunate accident, according to one of the local papers.

"Master Joseph Houghton had the misfortune to stick a fork tine thru his toe last Thursday. He jumped from his cart with the fork in his hand, intending to put it into the ground, but instead the tine went into his leg."

Another item of interest is the following:

"About one hundred and sixty relatives, friends and neighbors attended the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jackson at the home of her parents Saturday evening, July 16th. Games were enjoyed by all. A treat of candy, peanuts and apples was passed around. A large lot of nice presents, consisting of quilts, pillows, towels, cut glass, silverware, pyrex ware, chinaware, lamp, a sum of money. Her father presented her with a cow."—Marcel Steinbrugge.

BOLL WEEVILS DAMAGE COTTON IN THIS COUNTY

Evidence of the ravages of boll weevil in cotton in the Wichita Falls district was brought to this city Friday by T. W. Matthews, former living six miles south of town.

Mr. Matthews declared that the boll weevil had made its appearance in this district since the heavy rains about two weeks ago and have already practically destroyed the late cotton. BAYLOR COUNTY COTTON CROP TO BE 5,000 BALES

Special to the Record News.
SEYMOUR, Texas, Aug. 26.—The cotton crop in Baylor county this year will be about one-third an average crop. Estimates place the production as low as 5000 bales while the county's average yield is about 16000 bales. A 40 per cent reduction in cotton acreage was made in the county this year and the hot dry weather of the past sixty days have deteriorated the plant and cut the output considerably. The staple is shorter than usual, but the grade is good and 50 bales marketed here have run strict middling without an exception. In the extreme western part of the county the crop is better and some cotton in the Red Springs community promises one-half bale to the acre. Rains covered this area which other parts of the county did not get.

Feed crops in the county are good and were matured before the dry weather set in. Corn has averaged 40 bushels and maize about one ton per acre. The acreage in these crops was larger than usual.

Despite the continued dry weather breaking land for next year's crop being carried on extensively and farmers report the land plowing better than it did two weeks ago.

his latest communication, nor Mr. Lloyd George has yet closed the door on the negotiations.

Text of Reply

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The text of the reply of Premier Lloyd George to Eamonn DeValera is as follows:

Sir, the British government are profoundly disappointed by your letter of August 24. You write of the conditions of the meeting between us as though no meeting had even taken place.

"I must remind you, therefore, that when I asked you to meet me six weeks ago, I made no preliminary conditions of any sort. You came to London on that invitation and exchanged views with me at three meetings of considerable length. The proposals I made to you after those meetings were based upon full and sympathetic consideration of the views which you expressed.

"They were not made in any haggling spirit. On the contrary, my colleagues and I went to the very limit of our powers in endeavoring to reconcile British and Irish interests. Our proposals have gone far beyond all precedent and have been approved as liberal by the whole of the civilized world.

"Even in quarters which had shown sympathy with the most extreme of the Irish claims they are regarded as the utmost which the empire can reasonably offer or Ireland expect.

Further Negotiations Futile

"The only criticism of them I have yet heard outside Ireland is from those who maintain that our proposals have overstepped both warrant and wisdom in their liberality. Your letter shows no recognition of this, and further negotiations must, I fear, be futile, unless some definite progress is made toward acceptance of a basis.

"You declare our proposals involve the surrender of Ireland's whole national tradition and reduce her to subservience. What are the facts? Under the settlement we outlined Ireland would control every nerve and fiber of her national existence. She would speak her own language and make her own religious life; she would have complete power over taxation and finance, subject only to an agreement for keeping trade and transport as free as possible between herself and Great Britain, her best market.

"She would have unconditional authority over education and the moral and spiritual interests of her race; she would have it also over law and order; over land and agriculture; over conditions of labor and industry; over the health and homes of her people and over her own defense.

More Free Than American States.

"She would, in fact, within the shores of Ireland, be free in every respect of national activity, national expression and national development. The states of the American union, sovereign they may be, enjoy no such range of rights.

"Our proposals go even further, for they invite Ireland to take her place as a partner in the great commonwealth of free nations, united by allegiance to the king.

"We consider these proposals completely fulfill your wish that the principle of government by consent of the governed should be the broad and guiding principle of the settlement which your plenipotentiaries are to negotiate. That principle was first developed in England and is the mainspring of the representatives institutions which she was first to create. It was spread by her throughout the world and is now the very life of the British commonwealth.

"We could not have invited the Irish people to take their place in that commonwealth or any other principle and we are convinced that through it we can heal old misunderstandings and achieve an enduring partnership as honorable to Ireland as to he othert nations of which the commonwealth consists.

Cannot Accept Charge.

"But when you argue that the relations of Ireland with the British empire are comparable in principle to those of Holland or Belgium with the German empire, I find it necessary to repeat once more that those are premises which no British government, whatever its complexion, can never accept.

"In demanding that Ireland should be treated as a separate sovereign power, with no allegiance to the crown and no loyalty to the sister nations of the commonwealth you are advancing claims which the most famous nationalist leaders in Irish history, from Grattan to Parnell and Redmond, have explicitly disowned.

"Grattan, in a famous phrase declared that the ocean protests against separation and the sea against union. Daniel O'Connell, most eloquent perhaps of all the spokesmen of the Irish national cause, protested thus in the house of commons in 1830.

" 'Never did Monarch receive more undivided allegiance than the present king from the men who in Ireland agitate the repeal of the union. Never was there grosser calumny than to assert that they wish to produce separation between the two countries. Never was there a greater mistake, than to suppose that we wish to dissolve the connection."

Redistricting Bill Gives Wichita County Two More Representatives

Special to the Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 27.—Representative John E. Davis of Dallas county is the author of the representative redistricting bill, which was finally passed and sent to the governor. As enacted the total number of representatives is held to 150, the constitutional limit. There are at present 142. Representative Davis is serving his fifth term. He resides at Mesquite and is the editor of the Mesquiter, a weekly newspaper, that calls itself "simon pure democratic," whatever that may be. Representative Davis is responsible for the following explanation of his bill, including a list of the districts as they will now be constituted:

"The representative redistricting bill, by John E. Davis of Dallas, which went to the governor this morning, provides for the constitutional limit of 150 members. In order to satisfy members from Northeast Texas, particularly Hopkins county, the free conference committee reduced the number of members allowed Dallas and Bexar counties from six to five, and two new districts were created in the section above referred to, and Hopkins county, although it has but little more population than is required for one member, was given a local representative and is a dominating county in a flotorial district.

"The number of members provided for the counties containing the four largest cities of the state are as follows:

"Dallas, five members and in a flotorial district with Rockwall and Kaufman; Bexar, five members; Harris, five members; Tarrant, four members and in a flotorial district with Denton.

"The principal gain in representation is in the Panhandle section of the state, in Wichita and Eastland counties, and in the counties containing the largest cities named above, and some parts of East, Central and Southwest Texas, lost in representation, due to a loss in population, this being particularly true of the section of the state with Tom Green county as the center.

"This is the third time that the house has passed this bill since the regular session of the thirty-seventh legislature convened, as it was passed finally in the house during the regular and first called sessions but died in the senate."

FIND BODY OF WELL DRESSED MAN IN HOTEL

which the man stopped said that the deceased retired to his room at about 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening, asking that he be called at 5 o'clock Friday morning. He said that he called the man at 5 and again at 5:30, but was unable to get a response either time and decided that he did not wish to rise until later in the day. On coming back to duty about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, the proprietor said that he was informed by the day desk clerk that the man had not yet risen and that he went to another room and looked in. Believing the man to be dead he then called the police.

No bottle could be found in the room, which gave indication of having contained carbolic acid. Police, however, reported that broken bits of glass were found in the adjoining bath room, which they declared led to the belief that the deceased may have broken the bottle.

Justice R. V. Gwinn, who conducted the inquest rendered a verdict that death was due to a dose of carbolic acid, self administered.

The body was removed to the parlors of the Hines Undertaking company where it is being held while efforts are being made to locate relatives of the deceased.

celeration after nine o'clock. By 6:30 in the morning, the coolest part of the day, the thermometer reading was about 82, about the low average for that time.

The succeeding days ran practically the same schedule, with the exception of the maximum readings. On Wednesday the heat took another hitch, and the reading became about 104 where it remained until the Sunday afternoon spurt which went the limit one better.

Although hardly apparent to human sensitiveness, the heat slackened up slightly after the Sunday sprint, 107 being the approximate prevailing high temperature for the rest of the week.

With the winstorm late Friday afternoon the needle started on almost straight down perpendicular shoot, and was standing shortly after six o'clock at a temperature which it has rarely reached before midnight during the "heated" session.

The previous high record for the season was held during the heat wave of late in July when the needle touched 108 1-2.

"I have had that thermometer about eight years now, and it had been here about two years when I got it," said J. L. Art Friday, "and never in all my experience with it have I ever seen it climb so high, nor keep on it's high perch so long. It breaks all records that I know of."

The thermometer is tended, kept in repair and tested for accuracy by the jewelrs connected with the Art store.

The hoped for rain, for which the wind had been taken as a slight promise, had failed to materialize in this section of the state, as far as could be learned Friday night. Advices from Fort Worth in the late afternoon were however to the effect that rain was falling there—a good hard rain according to one report.

INSURGENT BANDS GATHER MISCHIEF BENT IN MALABAR.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Bands of insurgents are concentrating around Tiru and Ponani, in the Malabar district of Southern India, and apparently are bent on mischief, says a Reuter's dispatch from Calicut. A mob has looted a police station and the public offices at Tiru and carried off munitions. The rioters liberated prisoners and held up seventeen policemen the dispatch declares. A green flag, bearing the Turkish crescent, is said to have been conspicuous during recent disturbances along the Malabar coast.

Another Reuter's dispatch from Lahore, Northwestern India, says that a mass meeting presided over by Lala Lajpta Rai, the India nationalist leader, adopted a resolution stating that "while the wounds resulting from material law in Punjab are still unheated, the Khilafat pledges are unredeemed and famine conditions prevailed throughout the country, the people of Lahore are not prepared to extend a welcome to the Prince of Wales, who is due in India on a visit this fall."

The Lahore municipal committee also decided to boycott the prince's visit.
