Holly Sugar will expand

New $11.7 million facility

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Imperial Holly Corporation will build a new $11.7 million ion exclusion plant in Hereford, it was announced this morning at a news conference.

The new plant, which will be ready for the 1991 sugar campaign, will increase the amount of sugar produced at the Hereford plant by about 500,000 hundredweight of sugar a year. The newly-developed process will increase the amount of sugar refined from beets from 75 percent to 85 percent.

The new facility will also create about 20 new jobs, said Rick Hopping, production manager for the new facility.

The process will use new technology to separate sucrose (sugar) from other resins in molasses. Currently, the molasses produced in the beet refining process are sold as cattle feed.

Roger Hill, president of Holly, said the new, less-sweet molasses can still be for cattle feed, citing the high protein content of the by-product. Hill said the area's cattle feeding industry was one of the reasons Holly decided to build the new plant here.

"Hereford was our prime choice of our eight (sugar beet) facilities because of the spirit and support of the Hereford community," Hill said. "The Hereford area also provides us with a strong market."

The new plant, for which groundbreaking will be held on Sept. 13, will allow Holly to keep its main plant operating longer through the year. Currently, most of the plant runs only from September, when sugar beet harvest begins, through February, when the final refining processes are finished.

The new plant will separate the sucrose from other parts of the molasses, then the reclaimed sucrose will be refined in the existing plant. The ion exclusion facility will be operating about 330 days a year.

The new plant was praised by Bill Cleavinger, president of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association.

"We are privileged to be associated with this company, with its high standards," Cleavinger said. "This announcement is good for us. We feel like this plant shows confidence in our growers and the community, and we are proud to be suppliers of the raw product that makes all of this possible."

The new plant won't increase sugar beet acreage, which Cleavinger said was at its "maximum" at just over 42,000 acres, but Cleavinger said, "what is good for Holly Sugar is good for the growers. We know we will share in their success."

"This is a red letter day for Hereford, Deaf Smith County and the entire area," said Mike Carr, executive vice president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. "This will have a tremendous impact on our area and the surrounding area."

Hereford Mayor Wes Fisher, who moved to Hereford in 1963 as the first manager of the Holly Sugar plant

Holly to expand

Holly Sugar President Roger Hill announced this morning that the company will expand its Hereford facility with a new $11.7 million ion exclusion plant. The plant will create 20 new jobs and will lead to more sugar being extracted from sugar beets grown in the Hereford area.

here, said he was "elated and excited" about the new plant. "We appreciate the confidence Holly has shown in our community," said Fisher. "Holly Sugar is an integral part of our community, with an annual payroll of over $5 million, and their payments to their 400 growers. We congratulate Holly Sugar on its wise decision, and look forward to its completion. Your success is our success."

Thrifths post larger losses

WASHINGTON (AP) - Operating losses at the 350 bankrupt savings institutions controlled by the government at the end of March soared 35 percent from a year earlier when they were still privately run, the government says.

The Resolution Trust Corp., created a year ago to conduct the S&L cleanup, said operating losses in the January-March quarter totaled $1.35 billion, up from $1 billion in the same period of 1989.

However, the operating losses were down from $1.61 billion in the last three months of 1989, the RTC said Thursday.

Analysts said the rise in operating losses from a year earlier does not necessarily mean the failed thrifths are being managed poorly by the government.

"It may indicate the institutions are worse run or it may just indicate they've had another year to deteriorate. ... Also, interest rates have shifted" making it more difficult to earn profits, economist Martin Regalia of the National Council of Savings Institutions.

The figures do underscore the value of the government's efforts to shut the thrifths down quickly, even when it must keep and warehouse the inherited real estate, sour loans and other assets, he said.

The RTC noted that $443 million of the $1.35 billion operating loss occurred in 155 institutions that in the following quarter were either closed or sold to new investors.

"Keeping these institutions open doesn't seem to help them," Regalia said. "It would be nice if you could say we closed them all down ... but that's what the RTC is trying to do."

The agency announced plans recently to close or sell another 130 failed thrifths in the second half of 1990. But, unless Congress provides more bailout funds as requested by the Bush administration, it would have to drastically slow its operations after September and fall short of the goal.

At the same time, additional S&Ls are failing - 66 since March 31. In the next two years, the agency could end up taking over 230 to 550 more insolvent thrifths.

"That's why it's imperative that they get the money to do their job," Regalia said.

Total losses for the failed thrifths in the first quarter of 1990 were $3.1 billion, down from $1.67 billion a year earlier and $6.39 billion in the fourth quarter of 1989.

But, analysts said comparing those figures are less meaningful because they largely reflect when regulators force institutions to recognize past mistakes and long-delinquent loans.

Total losses are largely "the accumulated losses that occurred two, three, four, five years ago and are finally being recognized," said Bert Ely, a financial institutions analyst in Alexandria, Va.

"Operating losses are the cost of carrying these institutions. ... It's an unavoidable cost until we get rid of these turkeys," he said.

The RTC's first quarter report was released two weeks after the Office of Thrift Supervision reported that the 2,505 S&Ls under private management lost $271 million.

Thus, losses for the entire industry totaled $3.41 billion, down from $3.6 billion a year ago and $6.5 billion in the previous three-month period. It was the best overall result in a year and a half.

US picks up more allies

By The Associated Press

The United States got further backing in putting military and economic pressure on Iraq, and a U.S. mobilization to protect Saudi Arabia pushed on while Arab leaders sought a diplomatic way out of Iraq's invasion of Kuwait.

The United States talked of multiplying its "Desert Shield" deployment in Saudi Arabia to as many as 250,000 troops - the most since the Vietnam War - and hinted at a possible naval blockade to choke off Iraq's oil exports.

But Iraqi President Saddam Hussein remained defiant a week after launching the invasion of the oil-rich kingdom of Kuwait. Iraq on Thursday reportedly massed forces at the northern border with Turkey and southward toward Kuwait and Saudi Arabia. Israel test-fired a missile in apparent response to Iraqi threats.

The Baghdad government also closed its borders to foreigners trying to leave Iraq or Kuwait, where a total of about 3,400 Americans remain. After annexing Kuwait on Wednesday, it told all foreign embassies in Kuwait to move their operations to Baghdad by Aug. 24.

A day after the United Nations condemned the annexation, Arab leaders prepared for an emergency summit in Cairo today to give Iraq a "last chance" to withdraw and avoid international military intervention.

Secretary of State James A. Baker III and other NATO foreign ministers were set to meet at about the same time in Brussels to consult on the Persian Gulf crisis, determined to stand by Turkey if Iraq threatens their ally.

Britain, France and Australia on Thursday announced they were sending ships and planes to the gulf in response to U.S. appeals for help with a multinational force to defend Saudi Arabia - the world's largest oil exporter.

In Saudi Arabia, more U.S. fighter planes arrived to bolster the buildup of U.S. combat troops.

A Pentagon source, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said the United States was prepared to put "many divisions" in Saudi Arabia in the face of a continued Iraqi buildup in Kuwait.

"We have contingency plans that could result in the insertion of up to 200,000 to 250,000 ground forces before it's all done," said the source, who spoke on condition that further identification be withheld. Such moves could take up to two months, the source said.

The U.S. troop commitment in Vietnam reached 550,000 at its peak, plus additional personnel in other Southeast Asian countries.

The United States was dispatching about 140 F-15s, F-16s and other warplanes, including "tank killer" A-10s, Pentagon and other sources reported. Three aircraft carrier groups were also being stationed in the region.

The Pentagon reported that 50,000 Iraqi combat units were moving south inside Iraq, and that if they entered Kuwait, the total invasion force would number "about 170,000."

Lubbock survey: forge on in Iraq

By CHIP BROWN
Associated Press Writer

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - In the latest "Pulse of America" survey conducted in Lubbock County - President Bush's adopted sounding board for America - support was high for Bush's decisions regarding the Middle East turmoil.

Sixty-four percent of the 400 people questioned said they would support the president if he decided to use military force to drive Iraqi soldiers out of Kuwait and return the Kuwaiti government to power.

Twenty-one percent did not support military use; 12 percent were undecided; and three percent gave no answer. The survey was released Thursday.

But, if given the chance to personally advise Bush, 45 percent said they would prefer economic sanctions and a blockade against Iraq instead of military force or staying out of the conflict.

Twenty-five percent said they would advise Bush to activate troops; 17 percent said the United States should stay out of the situation; eight percent were undecided and five percent had no answer.

The survey, which was faxed to Bush early Thursday, was conducted Aug. 6-8 in Lubbock by Southwest Research Associates. The survey has a plus or minus 4 percent margin of error.

"Bush has said he really appreciates the survey and reads it with keen interest," said Jane Anne Stinnett, a partner in Southwest Research. "We can't say how much influence it has, but the fact that it goes up there is interesting."

Ms. Stinnett said the Pulse of America poll evolved after the president said during a March 1989 news conference: "Now wait just a minute. I talked to a friend in Lubbock, Texas, and he says everything is just fine."

Bush had been asked several questions about the state of the union, she said.

She said the surveys may have an impact on decisions in coming out of Washington.

"It could be incidental, but in one of our surveys people said if they had to be taxed, they would rather have taxes on beer and liquor," she said. "And that is one of the things now being considered."

In other poll questions, 47 percent of those surveyed approved of Bush's performance as president so far. Twenty-seven percent were somewhat pleased, 15 percent were very pleased, eight percent were not pleased at all and three percent had no answer.

Lubbock residents also were asked if Congress should take its summer recess before working out an agreement with the president on a budget ceiling and deficit reduction plan.

Seventy percent said the House and Senate should forego summer vacation plans and reach an agreement. Twenty-four percent said senators and congressmen should take a recess; four percent were undecided; and two percent had no answer.

When asked if the president or Congress comes closest to representing their views on budget matters, 39 percent said Bush shares their views. Twenty-nine percent said Congress better represents them.

On the subject of campaign finance reform, 85 percent said taxpayers should not underwrite a portion of Senate campaigns. Eleven percent said taxpayers should help pay for the campaigns, two percent were undecided and two percent had no answer.

The Senate recently passed its version of campaign reform which calls for lower overall spending and taxpayers to underwrite a portion.

Carpenter criticizes Gramm for comparisons to Lyndon

AUSTIN (AP) - Liz Carpenter, former press secretary to Lady Bird Johnson, is criticizing Republican U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm for a campaign commercial that claims the senator has "brought home more for Texas than anyone since LBJ."

Gramm has voted against many programs that President Lyndon Johnson, a Democrat, would have favored, Ms. Carpenter said.

"I knew Lyndon Johnson. He was my friend. I worked for Lyndon Johnson, and Phil Gramm, you are no LBJ," she said.

At a news conference called by Democratic candidate Hugh Parmer's campaign, Ms. Carpenter rapped Gramm for votes against a recent civil rights bill, meals on wheels programs and federal education spending.

"Phil Gramm's record has absolutely nothing in common with LBJ's," she said.

"Funny thing about Republicans. Every time they get in a sweat - and they've gotten into one now - they compare themselves to our great Democratic leaders. Ronald Reagan claimed FDR, Dan Quayle compared himself to JFK. And now Phil Gramm claims political kinship with LBJ," she said.

Responding, Gramm spokesman Larry Neal said Gramm's record backs up his commercial.

"It may be that Parmer and Carpenter think the tooth fairy brought the superconducting super collider and home to our state, but the people of Texas know better," Neal said.

Today's complaint is part of the series of weekly whines from the Parmer campaign. He's running out of weeks," Neal said.

In another campaign development, it was reported Thursday that Clayton Williams' proposal to save $25 million a year by giving private engineers more state highway department design work appears to have hit a mathematical pothole.

The Republican gubernatorial candidate's numbers differed from those provided by the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation, the Houston Chronicle reported.

Williams said savings could be made by giving at least half of the department's road design work to private contractors rather than the state's 5,000 engineering workers.

But the Chronicle reported that the highway department already pays engineers in the private sector to design more than half its projects. Department spokesman Pete Haight said that in 1989, $30.5 million of the $51 million in design work for state projects was handled by private firms.

"During the last three years, design work represented 3.3 percent of project costs when done by engineers on the state payroll, compared with 6.1 percent when done by the private sector, Haight said. However, the costs of personnel benefits for state workers apparently wasn't included.

Williams said the state spends $125 million a year on the work of state engineers. Haight said the most the state ever spent on design work in a year was $108 million in 1987.

Asked about the differences, Williams press secretary Gordon Hensley said the candidate's information was based on an analysis of statements supplied by the Federal Highway Administration for 1981-87.

Oil companies respond to outcry over pricing

NEW YORK (AP) - The outcry over alleged price gouging is apparently what has led big oil companies to trim or freeze their gasoline prices, with some cutting nearly a nickel a gallon.

Others said they are keeping their prices steady and will honor requests from President Bush and lawmakers to practice pricing restraint with tensions rising over the Persian Gulf.

Four big companies - Texaco Inc., BP America Inc., Phillips Petroleum Co. and Conoco Inc. - on Thursday announced cuts in gas prices ranging from a penny to 4 cents a gallon. The Phillips reduction of 1.8 cents a gallon was the second cut in two days.

Those announcing temporary price freezes included Amoco Corp., Unocal Corp. and Getty Petroleum Corp.

The companies said they largely were responding to the recent easing of oil prices following a sharp runup after the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait on Aug. 2. But industry analysts say the companies also couldn't ignore the public's cries of price gouging and the president's admonition.

Service station owners applauded the action and many are expected to eventually pass on their savings to motorists.

"A random sampling shows that some already have lowered their prices 1 or 2 cents a gallon. Those that don't will at least keep their prices the same," said Joseph L. Koach, executive director of the Service Station Dealers of America in Washington.

A spot check of gas stations Thursday by the American Automotive Association of America said prices on average continued to increase nationally but at a much slower rate than in recent days. It said the average price of self-service unleaded regular was $1.237 a gallon, up 1 to 2 cents from Wednesday.

Unleaded gas has risen more than 16 cents a gallon since Iraq invaded Kuwait.

On Wednesday, Atlantic Richfield Co. froze its wholesale gas prices for a week and Phillips cut its price by 4.5 cents a gallon after Bush by a nationally televised speech urged big oil companies to show price restraint.

Other big companies like Exxon Corp., Chevron Corp., Mobil Corp. and Shell Oil Co. said they haven't raised prices in recent days and would practice restraint. All the companies said any pricing decisions would be directly at market conditions.

The oil companies have denied allegations by consumer groups and politicians that they've been using instability in the Persian Gulf as an excuse to drive up prices at the pump.

The companies said the increases reflected a huge jump in crude prices on the open markets as well as the threat that oil supplies might be disrupted.

"Since the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait, crude prices have increased approximately 35 percent and the openly traded market for gasoline supplies has jumped about 20 cents a gallon," Shell Oil Co. said in a statement.

Oil companies have been criticized frequently since gas prices soared from about 39 cents a gallon in 1973 to 53 cents a year later following the Arab oil embargo. Prices climbed to 69 cents by 1978 and surged above $1 when Iranian supplies were cut off after that country's 1979 revolution.

More recently, prices jumped after the Exxon Valdez spill in Alaska last year and heating oil skyrocketed during a severe December freeze.

Despite allegations, no profiteering or collusion by companies was proved.

IRAQ

Only a day earlier, the intelligence estimates had put the Iraqi force at 100,000 men.

However, Pentagon spokesman Pete Williams said the Iraqi troops in Kuwait "seem to be in a defensive posture."

Fifteen vessels, the biggest of them the aircraft carrier USS Independence, were in the gulf or near its entrance. About 20 more will be in the Persian Gulf by next week, including the battleship Wisconsin, bristling with cruise missiles programmed for targets in Iraq.

In addition, Air Force and other sources reported that B-52 bombers were available at Diego Garcia, a U.S. island base in the Indian Ocean, and F-111 bombers at a base in Turkey.

Thousands of nervous Saudis, Americans and other foreigners lined up at Saudi immigration offices Thursday to get exit visas to leave the kingdom. Banks reported heavy withdrawals of cash and individual withdrawals of as much as $2 million abroad.

Lawmakers should listen to teachers

AUSTIN (AP) - The Legislature should pay attention to teachers who gave high marks to the no-pass-no-play rule and smaller class sizes but judged their jobs too low-paying and restrictive, said a teacher spokesman.

"We think it's time to stop and listen to the real experts, the classroom teachers, who are on the front lines every day," said John Cole, president of the Texas Federation of Teachers.

Cole on Thursday released results of a survey measuring progress in Texas schools since reforms were passed in 1984.

"The good news is that some of the reforms have worked," Cole said.

Teachers gave an 'A' to smaller classes in lower grades. They gave a 'B' to requiring students to pass their courses before participating in extracurricular activities, and to prekindergarten and kindergarten programs.

"The bad news is that the exchange that we've made for those took away something from teachers, took away their ability to deal with children as individuals, took away their freedom to teach, and it's shackled them with tons of paperwork," Cole said.

The salary level for teachers - an average $27,000 in Texas, compared to nearly $30,000 nationwide, Cole said - got the only 'F' on the statewide survey, which included about 50,000 responses from 55 school districts.

Teacher autonomy, career ladder, evaluation system and paperwork load each got a 'D.'

"We urge the Legislature to consider keeping the good parts and discarding the bad parts of these reforms," Cole said.

The survey was completed in April, before lawmakers passed an education reform law that affects school funding and administration.

Cole criticized a part of the new law that allows model school districts to be exempt from a number of state regulations.

Cole also responded to criticism this week from state prison board Chairman Charles Terrell of Dallas, who denounced the job public schools are doing.

Terrell said inmates arrive with an average 6th grade education but catch up quickly once they take classes in prison.

"We've done the best we could with the money we've been given," Cole said.

"Who knows, had we had a prekindergarten program and the smaller class sizes in 1969, that 18- or 19-year-old thug might have been kept in school. We are doing some things now that should show up ... down the road," he said.

"But I would be less than candid to say that the things we are doing are adequate," Cole said. "Some of these children we're dealing with, it might be well if we had armed guards and bars."

Insurance experts explain workers compensation

The workers compensation system has evolved over the years to provide an important safety net for American workers. It's not simply a system of remuneration for loss or injury, but is also designed to help employers reduce or eliminate on-the-job injuries and to provide rehabilitation when such injuries occur—rehabilitation that gets injured workers back on the job as quickly as possible. To achieve this goal, the system has developed a partnership, involving all participants in the system—employers, employees and insurers.

Employers assume the full liability for the cost of the workplace accidents as part of their overall cost of doing business.

Employees give up their right to sue the employer when an accident occurs and rely on workers compensation for reimbursement when they are injured.

Insurers assume the employer's liabilities and pay the claims that arise from workplace accidents, regardless of fault. They also offer engineering services to improve safety in the workplace.

Workers compensation pays all medical costs associated with the injury or occupational disease and replacing a portion of the injured worker's wages. The actual amount of wage replacement will vary with the income of the worker, subject to the state's maximum.

In short, workers compensation insures, workers and insured businesses all have the same goals, the chief of which are the elimination or reduction of injuries and the medical treatment and compensation of those who are injured.

The National Council on Compensation Insurance is a voluntary, non-profit ratemaking organization which prepares rating plans for workers compensation insurance.

Athletes get physicals

Brooke Seiver was among approximately 225 Hereford athletes to get a physical exam Thursday. Dr. Jesse Perales checks her reflexes in this photo. HHS gridders, volleyball players and cross-country runners are getting ready for a new season. The football team starts 2-a-day drills Monday.

On the Road with Sam Waller

AUSTIN—Something I have learned: it is a very long drive from Hereford to Austin, especially by way of Arlington.

After finally getting to St. Edward's University about 3 a.m. Monday, it only took about 5 hours to get checked in. Actually, it only took five minutes, but the public relations office for the Dallas Cowboys doesn't open until 8 a.m. I didn't mind the wait too much since I had a great view of the full moon setting over the Main Building.

Monday's morning session was something of a letdown. After psyching myself to watch some NFL hitting, I was treated to two hours of working on the kick game. No contact, just punting, kickoffs, field goals. Troy Aikman didn't even break a sweat.

Practice session have gotten more physical since then. Coach Jimmy Johnson has kept his promise to get the team in better condition, sort of.

After Sunday's scrimmage contained more mistakes than Johnson could stand, the team finished up with a ton of "gas" (wind sprints to you and me), in an effort to improve conditioning. After the workout, Johnson said he was pleased with the physical conditioning.

Wait a sec, didn't you say yesterday that...

Johnson explained that it was the mental conditioning of the team he thought needed improvement. "We can't afford mistakes late in a game like we were having Sunday," he said. "We've got to be ready mentally when everybody's hot and tired after being out there for three-and-a-half quarters."

Johnson was to get one more chance to make everybody hot and tired Thursday. With preparations for Saturday's game in San Diego underway, Thursday's morning workout was canceled, but the afternoon session was moved to 1 p.m., prime heat time in Austin.

Wadkins leads PGA

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) - Bobby Wadkins had the lead but not much fun.

"It's a driving contest, in my opinion," Wadkins said. "It takes a little fun out of the game."

It came down to a battle of avoiding the thick Bermuda rough on the Shoal Creek layout.

Wadkins did miss three fairways, but managed to shoot a 4-under-par 68 Thursday for a one-shot lead in the opening round of the 72nd PGA national championship.

Fred Couples, a long hitter who often strays out of the fairway, was greatly surprised to be sharing second place with Mark O'Meara, one shot off the pace.

"People say I'm long and crooked," Couples said. "I didn't miss a fairway. I probably couldn't go out there with a 7-iron and hit every fairway."

"For me to hit every fairway is like Michael Jordan not missing a free throw for a year."

"There is an art to chipping out of this type of grass, and I'm not one to do very well out of this grass," Couples added. "I wasn't very excited about this week."

"If you don't drive it well, you are hosed right off the bat," Wadkins said. "If you hit bad, you are already thinking how to hit your third shot."

Wadkins, never a winner in 16 years on the PGA Tour, salvaged par once but took a double bogey and bogey on the other two times he missed the fairway.

His lead came with some torrid scoring on the back nine, a 5-under 31 that included three birdies in the 15-25-foot range and capped by birdie putts of six feet on the final two holes.

Asked what he'd do if he made this major his first career victory, Wadkins said, "I would probably retire and go fishing. I did catch a 10-pound bass on Tuesday, so this is going to be a great week."

There was a large group at 77, including Australian Greg Norman, Spain's Seve Ballesteros, three-time U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin, two-time PGA winner Larry Nelson and Lee Trevino, who won this title at Shoal Creek six years ago with a 15-under-par total.

Jack Nicklaus, who includes five PGA titles among his record 18 major professional crowns, was unable to get anything going on the course he designed. He shot 78, including a fat 40 on the front side.

Curtis Strange, winner of two of the last three U.S. Opens, shot 79. Two former U.S. Amateur champions shared fourth place with 70s - Scott Verplank and Billy Mayfair.

Verplank was 5-under after 14 holes, but fell back with a bogey on 15 and a double bogey-7 on 17 when he got into the woods and had to hack his way out.

England's Nick Faldo and defending champion Payne Stewart head a group of 10 players tied at 71.

Tim Simpson, also lodged in the group at 71, complained about the hardness of the greens, saying some were like bricks, others like granite. "I don't think a shotput could dent them," he said.

Unknown takes lead in LPGA tourney

STRATTON MOUNTAIN, Vt. (AP) - Nancy Harvey isn't invited to many tournaments, and when she is, she doesn't stick around very long. So it's understandable why her heart was pounding a bit Thursday as she lined up her final putt.

"I've never been a first-round leader," she said after sinking the 2-footer in one of the final three-putts of the day. The putt gave her a 4-under-par 68 and a share of the lead with Cindy Figg-Currier in the $450,000 LPGA Stratton Mountain Classic.

Harvey, 28, of Mesa, Ariz., is only in her second year on the tour, and has never led after any round. She won only $932 in 15 events last year. This year has been worse.

She didn't even expect to be invited to this tournament until a few late withdrawals left an opening for her.

Figg-Currier, of Austin, Texas, also a non-winner in seven years on the tour, grabbed a share of the lead despite an erratic finish.

After scoring three birdies without a bogey on her first nine holes, she bounced around like a yo-yo on the final nine with four bogeys, three birdies and an eagle.

But her finish was spectacular. After dropping to 1-under because of several bad approaches, she sank a 40-foot putt on the second-to-last hole, then reached the final green with a wood from 228 yards. She buried a 25-footer for an eagle to pick up three strokes on the last two holes.

Eighteen players managed to beat par on the course that still is drying out from six inches of rain earlier in the week. Most of the better scores, including the two leaders, came in the afternoon after the sun had been out much of the day.

Amy Benz and Karen Davies were one stroke back at 69 in this first LPGA event ever played in Vermont. Rosie Jones, Donna White, Deb Richard, Kris Monaghan, Lynn Connelly and Laura Hurlbut were tied at 70 in the race for the $67,500 first prize.

Jane Geddes led a group of eight at 71 and Pat Bradley and Jan Stephenson were in a bunch at 72. Finishing at 73.

Reds lose again; brawl helps Mets

By JOHN KREISER
AP Sports Writer

A pre-game meeting did nothing to help the reeling Cincinnati Reds. A brawl did wonders for the New York Mets.

The Reds, who've seen most of their 11-game lead in the NL West disappear in the last 17 days, held a 53-minute, closed-door meeting before Thursday night's game with Los Angeles. Thus inspired, they matched their worst first inning of the season as the Dodgers scored five times off Jack Armstrong and coasted to a 10-3 victory.

"Well, there's not much you can say about that one," Reds manager Lou Piniella said. "They came out swinging and put it away in the first two innings. I thought Armstrong threw the ball pretty hard. The harder he threw it, the harder they hit it."

The Mets, who had lost four of their last five games, were trailing 3-1 in the fifth inning when Philadelphia's Pat Combs drilled Dwight Gooden just above the left knee with a pitch. Gooden, who had hit two Phillies with pitches earlier in the game, charged the mound and the battle was on.

It took the umpires 20 minutes to get the game started again, with Gooden and Combs among the seven ejections. It took the Mets only one inning to take command, as Howard Johnson's two-run homer and Kelvin Torpe's two-run pinch-double lifted New York to a 5-4 victory.

"It did seem to motivate us," Mets manager Bud Harrelson said of the fight. "The fans got heated and involved."

The Mets' victory, combined with Pittsburgh's 7-6 loss in 10 innings to Montreal, cut the Pirates' NL East lead to one-half game. The Reds, now 4-13 in their last 17 games, lead San Francisco by 4 1/2 and the Dodgers by seven. The Giants had a day off before beginning a four-game showdown with the Reds tonight at Riverfront Stadium.

In other games, San Diego beat Atlanta 7-0 and St. Louis beat Chicago 3-1.

Dodgers 10, Reds 3

Armstrong and the Dodgers' Ramon Martinez were teammates on the NL All-Star squad, but they've gone opposite ways since July 10.

Martinez (15-4) won his sixth straight start, allowing six hits and striking out 10 in eight innings.

Armstrong (11-8), who started for the NL, hasn't won since the break.

Kirk Gibson's two-run homer started the Dodger onslaught and RBI singles by Eddie Murray, Alfredo Griffin and Martinez made it 5-0.

Slaughter to score the winning run.

After Tim Lincecum's ninth-inning RBI single tied the game, Galarraga drew a walk from Bill Landrum (4-3) to start the 10th and was sacrificed to second. Mike Fitzgerald then chopped the ball off home plate and was thrown out by Slaughter. But the catcher was late getting back to the plate and Galarraga scored from second, running over Slaughter to give the Expos the win.

Padres 7, Braves 0

The Padres continued their surge as Bruce Hurst scattered six hits and drove in the first run of his major league career in a five-run first inning.

Hurst (7-8) struck out seven and walked two.

The left-hander capped the Padres' five-run first inning with a run-scoring single to left off loser Charlie Leibrandt (4-6).

Cardinals 3, Cubs 1

St. Louis snapped Chicago's five-game winning streak as Ken Hill allowed four hits in eight-plus innings and Lance Dickson lost in his first major league appearance.

Hill (3-1) pitched 5 1-3 hitless innings and had a shutout until the ninth, when Jerome Walton led off with his first home run in a year. Lee Smith got the last three outs for his 20th save.

Dickson allowed eight hits, walked one and struck out three in six innings.

Red Sox, Rangers win in AL

By DICK BRINSTER
AP Sports Writer

A night after a tough loss, the Boston Red Sox figured all would go well because Roger Clemens was on the mound. They figured right.

"We just wanted to get a few runs, because that's all Roger needs," said Tom Brunansky, who had three of Boston's 17 hits Thursday night in 14-3 rout of the California Angels.

The blowout came on the heels of an 8-6 loss in 11 innings, during which the Red Sox blew a 6-2 lead in the eighth.

The victory Thursday night moved the Red Sox two games ahead of Toronto in the American League East.

Clemens (16-5) allowed eight singles and struck out six in 6 2-3 innings for his fourth straight victory. He was trying for his third complete-game shutout in four starts, but loaded the bases on three singles with two outs in the seventh.

Johnny Ray, who had all three California RBIs, drove in two runs after Joe Hesketh replaced Clemens.

"When you get six runs, it makes pitching easy," Clemens said. "Once you get up that much, you don't want to let guys on base.

"I just went as long as I could. I'm just pretty tired right now, and I'm looking forward to my next start."

Ellis Burks and Mike Greenwell led the Boston attack with three RBIs each as the Red Sox pounded Jim Abbott (7-10). Burks hit a two-run triple in the three-run first and Greenwell hit a two-run homer with two outs in the three-run third.

Elsewhere, it was Oakland 5, Baltimore 2; Texas 13, Cleveland 5; Detroit 5, Toronto 4; Kansas City 5, Chicago 3, and New York 1, Seattle 0.

Athletics 5, Orioles 2

Dave Henderson's two-run homer, a 440-foot shot off Dave Johnson (11-7) in the sixth inning, gave Oakland a three-run lead and Mike Moore (10-10) teamed with four relievers on an eight-hitter.

Moore (10-10) allowed six hits in 5 2-3 innings, struck out three and walked four.

Dennis Eckersley got three outs for his 37th save in 38 opportunities. Rangers 13, Indians 5

Texas scored nine runs in the sixth inning on nine straight hits, one short of the major league record, and Bobby Witt won his eighth consecutive decision.

In all, 11 straight Rangers - nine on hits and two on walks - reached safely in the sixth against three Cleveland pitchers. Walks do not break up a consecutive hits streak. Texas finished with 21 hits.

Ruben Sierra, whose 15-game hitting streak ended the previous night, had four hits for Texas.

Witt (11-8) is 8-0 in his last 10 starts. Bud Black (10-7) was chased in the sixth-inning massacre.

Tigers 5, Blue Jays 4

A three-run homer by Larry Sheets wiped out a two-run deficit and led an 11-hit Detroit attack.

With Detroit trailing 3-1, Sheets connected off Todd Stottlemyre in the sixth inning.

Jeff Robinson (9-9) pitched seven innings plus, allowing four runs on six hits for the Tigers. Jerry Don Gleaton worked the last two innings for his sixth save. Stottlemyre (10-13) allowed four runs on seven hits in 5 2-3 innings.

Royals 5, White Sox 3

George Brett drove in three runs as Kansas City beat Chicago with 14 hits.

Kevin Appier (7-4) went 6 1-3 innings, allowed nine hits, struck out three and walked none as the Royals won for the fourth time in five games. Steve Farr pitched the ninth for his first save.

Bill Pecota tripled off Adam Peterson (2-4) with one out in the Kansas City first and scored when Brett grounded out. Kevin Seitzer singled to start the Royal third, took third on a one-out hit by Brett and scored on a single by Gerald Perry.

Yankees 1, Mariners 0

Tim Lincecum allowed two hits in 8 1-3 innings to beat Matt Young, who gave up only three.

Leary (6-14) allowed a double to Jeffrey Leonard in the second and an infield single to Harold Reynolds in the sixth.

Bob Geren singled in the only run, in the second inning against Young (5-12) who struck out six and walked three.

Diaper Derby Saturday

Nick, 10-month-old foster son of Bob and Debra Perry, is ready to enter the upcoming Diaper Derby 1990 and claim this T-shirt as his own. It will then serve as his uniform as he competes with other crawling toddlers in the event on Saturday at Dameron Park at 1 p.m. The Diaper Derby will be held in conjunction with the Town 'n' Country Jubilee. Co-chairing the event, which is being sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Women's Division, are Kim Buckley and Donna West.

Awards displayed

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post #4818 met in regular session with Betty Boggs presiding over the meeting. All the awards presented to the auxiliary for the past year were on display.

Ruth Morris was presented with a five-year membership pin and members were reminded of the VFW National Convention in Baltimore, Md. on Aug. 17-24.

MANY ARE DIETING

AKRON, Ohio (AP) - Some 40 million adult Americans are currently on some form of diet, according to national statistics.

About half of all women and one out of every four men in this country are dieting, says Charles Sekeres, president of Physicians Weight Loss Centers. They do so either to lose or maintain their current weight. Sekeres says about a quarter of all American adults today are overweight.

Dieters are mostly in the 25-44 age group.

The District 13 VFW Convention will be held in Plainview on Aug. 25-26 with State President Betty Royston in attendance.

Bears will be given to a children's home and each auxiliary will have a box of toiletries to be given to the V.A. Hospital in Amarillo.

The next meeting is scheduled for Sept. 10.

World premiere scheduled

The premiere performance of a one-act folk opera composed, written, directed, and sung by Gene Murray is set for Sunday, Aug. 12, at 3 p.m. in Amarillo College Concert Hall Theater.

"The Whirligig" is based on a short story by O. Henry. It is being offered by Amarillo Opera Inc. (the new, Panhandle opera production company) and BRAVO! (currently-forming opera support organization). The public is invited.

"This is a gift from Amarillo Opera/BRAVO! to the Panhandle and the performance is free," according to Margaret Formby of Hereford, Texas, Area Representative for the Opera. "Anyone who loves a 'horse opera in the movies or TV will have fun with this Panhandle original," Formby says.

Gene Murray, best known as Uncle Henry in the Palo Duro Canyon musical "TEXAS", composed the opera while rehearsing TEXAS. He wrote the part of "Ariella" for Mila Gibson-Burkhard, Director of Amarillo Opera. Murray plays the role of the Justice of the Peace and the tenor is Jerry Perales. Music (guitar, string base, and piano) for "Whirligig" is conducted by Alan Marshall.

As an added attraction, there will be an exhibit of original art in the Commons of the Concert Hall Theater. Whose art? Gene Murray's of course! And hosts for a reception after the Aug. 12 "Whirligig" will be Mr. and Mrs. Gene Murray.

"The Whirligig" is the first offering of the 1990-91 season by Amarillo Opera/Bravo! Also scheduled: "The Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart--Sept. 13-16, 1990 and "Die Fledermaus" (The Bat) by Johannes Strauss -- March 15-17, 1991.

Membership is BRAVO! ($50 to $250) is invited. Membership benefits include two tickets to Amarillo Opera performances, an invitation to the Members Only Party, and the opportunity to support opera education outreach to area towns and schools.

Amarillo College Division of Fine Arts is a partner to Amarillo Opera/BRAVO! in the presentation of "Whirligig." For information or an invitation to membership call 806-364-5252.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

A BIBLICAL "EFFICIENCY EXPERT", PAR EXCELLENCE!

WHEN PHARAOH WAS ADVISED BY JOSEPH TO STORE UP ALL THE FOOD GROWN IN THE LAND, DURING SEVEN YEARS OF PLENTY, AGAINST THE TIME WHEN THERE WOULD BE SEVEN YEARS FAMINE, ALL OF WHICH JOSEPH HAD PREDICTED BY INTERPRETING PHARAOH'S DREAM (GENESIS 41:25-44), PHARAOH WAS SO PLEADED HE MADE JOSEPH RULER OF THE ENTIRE LAND, SECOND ONLY TO PHARAOH, HIMSELF!

JOSEPH IMMEDIATELY HAD HUGE STORE-HOUSES BUILT TO HOARD EGYPT'S PRODUCE AND, WHEN THE FAMINE SET IN THERE WAS FOOD APLENTY—BUT JOSEPH DIDN'T GIVE THE FOOD TO THE PEOPLE—HE SOLD IT TO THEM AND, WHEN THEY RAN OUT OF MONEY, HE TOOK THEIR ANIMALS IN PAYMENT ON THE GRAIN THEY NEEDED FOR FOOD AND TO PLANT AS SEED....

FINALLY, WHEN THE FARMERS NEEDED MORE FOOD AND GRAIN, THEY HAD NOTHING LEFT BUT THEIR LAND WHICH JOSEPH TOOK TITLE TO IN THE NAME OF PHARAOH IN PAYMENT FOR MORE FOOD AND GRAIN—SO THE PHARAOH WOUND UP OWNING ALL THE LAND OF EGYPT WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THOSE LANDS OWNED BY THE PRIESTHOOD! THE PRIESTS, WHO BY TRADITIONAL LAW, WERE FED FROM PHARAOH'S STORES, HENCE THEY HADN'T HAD TO BUY ANY FOOD OR GRAIN AND KEPT THEIR LANDS!

AFTER THAT, JOSEPH GAVE THE PEOPLE FREE GRAIN WITH WHICH TO PLANT MORE CROPS BUT THEY HAD TO GIVE TO PHARAOH ONE-FIFTH OF ALL THAT THEIR LAND PRODUCED, FROM THEN ON! WITHOUT A DOUBT, THIS WAS THE MOST EFFECTIVE TAKE-OVER OF A LAND BY ONE MAN THAT HISTORY HAS EVER RECORDED—"EFFICIENCY EXPERT" IS A MILD TERM FOR A MAN OF JOSEPH'S CALIBER, WHO HAD COME INTO EGYPT AS A SLAVE AND, IN DUE TIME, ENSLAVED THE ENTIRE NATION—ALL BY HIMSELF!

NEXT WEEK: TAKING OFF OF A SHOE IS A VERY SERIOUS MATTER!!

A high-dollar bass tournament was held on Lake Baylor near Childress and the results are now official. A total of 85 dedicated fishermen paid their entry fees and gave it their best shot.

The fish, on the other hand, knew something was different that Saturday. Never before had so many fishermen been on the water one hour before sunrise. Never before had these fishermen just sat quietly in their boats watching their watches and sharpening their hooks. Never before had 85 fishermen made their first cast at exactly the same time—6 a.m., Saturday, Aug. 4.

It still isn't clear exactly what happened or how, but when the fishing day was completed, the fish had won, sure, some of the eager young fish had fallen for plastic worms and a few even tried to eat some floating plastic minnows, but as a rule the quality fish had resisted all temptations from some of the Panhandle's best fishermen.

With the lake record black bass of 11.97 lbs. caught by Joe Holland this past spring, expectations were high that it would take a "hawg" to win this tournament.

Ronnie Griffith had waited until the last minute before registering in the tournament. He then waited until only 20 minutes of fishing time remained before boating the winning bass of 5.6 lbs. For his efforts, Griffith pocketed $2,200. One of the nicest guys in the Panhandle not only won a bass tournament, he earned the respect of his peers.

Second place prize money of $595 went to Dwayne Busby for his 4.17 lb. bass. Third place fell to Rod Haseloff with a 4.04 lb. bass earning him $340.

An evening Fun Tournament at Lake Meredith was scheduled Aug. 9 from 6 to 9 p.m. Anglers could enter one or both categories—bass or walleye. This fun tournament paid cash and prizes to the top 10 places. One unique feature was that trolling and live bait was permitted.

I understand that the bass and walleye have been known to jerk the rod out of your hand if live crawdads are used as bait. Be careful, rods and reels are expensive!

Lake records at Lake Meredith:

Walleye—11.88 lbs., held by Hank McWilliams; Smallmouth—6.29 lbs. by David Condit; Largemouth—7.89 lbs. caught last month by Melvin Kaylor.

Steelers whip Patriots; Detroit downs Houston

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Steelers liked the noise in Montreal's Olympic Stadium.

It may have been the rumble of their own feet as they ran over the New England Patriots 30-14 in an NFL exhibition game Thursday night that was hardly a success for its organizers.

Only 26,869 showed up in the 60,000-seat stadium. But those NFL fanatics were noisy and enthusiastic — mostly for the Steelers, who built a 16-0 halftime lead.

"I was impressed with how much noise they made," Steelers coach Chuck Noll said. "This was like playing in France or something. It was great."

In another NFL exhibition game Thursday night, Detroit defeated Houston 34-10.

The NFL exhibition schedule continues with 11 games Saturday, with the Los Angeles Rams facing Kansas City in West Berlin; Atlanta vs. Washington at Chapel Hill, N.C.; Miami at Chicago; Cleveland at Green Bay; Cincinnati at Tampa Bay; the New York Jets at Philadelphia; New Orleans at Minnesota; Denver at Indianapolis; the Los Angeles Raiders at San Francisco, Dallas at San Diego and Seattle at Phoenix.

The Steelers' offensive line bullied the Patriots for 240 yards along the ground, including touchdowns by running backs Warren Williams and Kimble Anders. The effective Pittsburgh running attack set up three field goals by Gary Anderson.

"I was happy with the way we came off the ball," Noll said. "We were able to run some traps and I don't know if they were ready for that out of training camp."

The game was called the American Bowl and was one of four preseason games to be played outside the United States as part of the NFL's bid to expand its television and souvenir markets. The others were in Tokyo, Berlin and London.

For Montreal businessmen Gerry Snyder and Ron Wilson, it was a chance to show off the game and strengthen their 20-year-old bid for an NFL franchise.

The turnout was hardly promising, although ticket prices of up to $35 likely kept many away.

Steelers president Dan Rooney said the game would have little bearing on future decisions of the NFL's expansion committee, but he was "impressed with the city. And I'm on the expansion committee and I'll say so when it does come up."

Rooney said the ticket prices were "higher than I would have recommended, but I had no say in that. It was a very positive experience for us. The players enjoyed coming here and it seemed the crowd was supporting the Steelers."

The Patriots struggled in implementing their new offensive system. In the first half, they were held to minus-2 yards rushing, had only four first downs, all by passing, and were outgained by the Steelers in total

Lions 34, Oilers 10

Detroit dominated the battle of run-and-shot offenses, and just about every other aspect of the game.

Included in the Lions' scoring was a 23-yard interception return by Terry Taylor and Mel Gray's 73-yard punt return.

Detroit's defense swarmed Warren Moon, who completed all four of his passes for 57 yards, but was sacked three times for losses totaling 24 yards. Houston's offense didn't get a first down until the final 34 seconds of the first quarter as the Lions built a 24-7 lead at the half.

As a team, the Lions had eight sacks for 60 yards in losses, including three by Mark Brown and two by Michael Cofer.

Rodney Peete, who played the first half for Detroit, completed 14 of 25 passes for 173 yards.

Agassi, McEnroe among top seeds to fall in ATP

MASON, Ohio (AP) - In tennis, the big names include Andre Agassi and John McEnroe. Both were ousted from the ATP Championships on Thursday.

Richard Fromberg will never be tennis' version of a rock star. Nor will he ever become a walking billboard of sports endorsements.

He is as different from Agassi as Tasmania is from Las Vegas.

But Fromberg, almost unknown outside his native Tasmania, is in the quarterfinals of the ATP Championship.

Fromberg advanced by eliminating the second-seeded Agassi 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, thus breaking the hearts of the mob of squealing teen-age girls who follow Agassi.

Three other seeds also tumbled Thursday, including McEnroe, Jay Berger and Aaron Krickstein.

Unseeded Jakob Hlasek upset No. 5 Krickstein 6-2, 6-4, while 11th-seeded Jim Courier topped No. 6 Berger 6-2, 6-2.

The eighth-seeded McEnroe - plagued by 12 double-faults, including six in one marathon game - fell 6-3, 5-7, 6-4 to unseeded Scott Davis.

McEnroe showed flashes of his brilliance of 10 years ago in his loss to Davis, but also looked like a 31-year-old struggling to find his old form.

On a day of upsets, Fromberg said he knew he could beat Agassi.

"I felt I had the game to do well against that type of player - a big server who likes the ball pretty low. I hit the ball high to his backhand."

"It was a really close match, and it could have gone either way. But I was able to make the plays."

Agassi said he suffered from a lack of timing and the "distractions" supplied by his young fans.

"I didn't feel good (in the second round)," said Agassi, a native of Las Vegas. "I practiced for an hour and a half trying to get a better feel. ... There were a lot of distractions, a lot of followers and fans here. Sometimes they can make it a little distracting off the court."

After losing to Fromberg, Agassi took the time to throw his sweatbands and a towel into the stands to a group of fans, causing a minor riot. beaten anyone ranked higher than 20th before, started the year with career earnings of just over $79,000 and has already won $163,092 this season.

Seeded winners included No. 3 Andres Gomez, who beat Darren Cahill 7-6 (7-3), 6-3; defending champion and No.4-seeded Brad Gilbert, who eliminated Guy Forget 6-1, 6-2; and No. 7 Michael Chang, who defeated No. 10 Pete Sampras 7-5, 6-4.

Top-seeded Stefan Edberg needed just 53 minutes to knock out Andrew Sznajder of Canada 6-1, 6-0.

Grijalva will play in junior state tourney

Sabino Grijalva of Hereford has qualified for the Texas Junior Golf Championship tournament in Fort Worth, Aug. 20, at the Fossil Creek Golf Course.

Grijalva will compete in the 12-13 age division at the state tourney. He won four first-places on the West Texas Junior Golf Tour this summer, winning two titles at Borger and one each at Pampa and Vega.

Grijalva competed in the West Texas Junior Tourney recently in Andrews and will be one of four boys representing West Texas in the state tourney. He accumulated enough points on the summer tour to qualify for the state berth.

Cowboys leave camp for San Diego game

AUSTIN (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys left for California today, after completing a three-week football training camp that Coach Jimmy Johnson said couldn't have been better.

Some Austin merchants would agree.

The camp at St. Edward's University opened July 19, and drew 97,647 spectators, including more than 2,000 for the final session Thursday in 94-degree heat, according to the team's count.

"I can't think of anything that I'd want to change," Johnson said. "I'm sure after St. Edward's and Austin have a year under their belt, they'll have some things better. But I couldn't imagine anything being any better than what it is this year."

Johnson was out 30 minutes early Thursday, signing autographs and posing with fans for pictures. Nearly a half hour after practice, he was still talking to reporters as a lone Cowboy, offensive lineman Nate Newton, shuffled around the field, trying to get down to a playing weight of about 320 pounds.

Team owner Jerry Jones estimated the Cowboys saved $250,000 by moving its camp from Thousand Oaks, Calif., where they had trained for 27 years.

Johnson said, "We really feel good about what's taken place here in Austin. I think a lot has been said about the camp itself and the people. And I'm going to keep on saying it - it's been fantastic the way we've been treated here and the way people have responded."

"Not just the Austin people, because I know a tremendous amount of fans came down from Dallas and from other parts of the country."

James Dodson, director of sports and marketing for the Austin Chamber of Commerce, said the chamber had estimated an economic impact of $2.25 million from the Cowboys' 31-week stay, based on 300 out-of-town visitors each day.

But attendance of nearly 100,000 resulted in a revised estimate of 600 visitors a day and a new economic impact estimate of $3.725 million.

"We're thrilled to death about that," Dodson said.

Home health care coverage can make recovery more comfortable.

Full recovery from a serious illness can take much longer than a stay in the hospital... especially if the patient is elderly. Recuperation at home can be more comfortable and secure. It can also cost your parents or your family a lot of money for which Medicare does not reimburse you.

That's why the CNA Insurance Companies, one of several major companies our independent agency represents, created a new Home Health Care Plan. It provides coverage your parents and your own family may need to help pay the costs of professional health services performed at home.

Contact our agency for a discussion that can make your whole family more comfortable about the future.
