Yarbrough assessed five-year sentence

By ROBERT HEARD

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Don Yarbrough's perjury trial jury assessed the former Texas Supreme Court justice five years in prison Friday night, denying him the probated sentence for which he had pleaded.

The trial had centered around whether he would get probation.

Yarbrough admitted he lied to a Travis County grand jury, but the defense argued it was not aggravated perjury because the grand jury knew what he was going to say.

"We'll definitely appeal. That's about all I want to say," said Yarbrough's chief attorney, Waggoner Carr.

Yarbrough himself had no comment. He herded his wife and daughters down the courthouse stairway, ignoring reporters' questions.

The judge set Feb. 9 for the sentencing date, but defense lawyers said they would file a motion for a new trial, which would move the sentencing date back.

Defense lawyer Tom McCorkle of Dallas, in urging for probation for Yarbrough, had alluded to former President Richard M. Nixon. He said the jury should give Yarbrough probation because "he's no worse than the biggest one of all, who didn't get anything."

District Attorney Ronnie Earle of Austin urged the jury to give Yarbrough the maximum 10-year prison sentence.

"What is probation? Probation is a kiss on the cheek and out—you get away with it," Earle said.

"The community needs to be secure in the knowledge that its laws are being enforced equally, against supreme court justices, heads of banks as well as 7-11 robbers," Earle said. "I'm sorry the news media camped on their lawn. That's bad manners. But that was a consequence of a choice Don Yarbrough made" when he lied to a Travis County grand jury.

Waggoner Carr, the chief attorney for the former Supreme Court justice, told the jury it offended his sense of fairness for Yarbrough's former business associate, Bill Rothkopf, to sit on the front row in the court room, a free man.

"He blamed everything on Don Yarbrough. Now he sits on the front row, voluntarily, I suppose, enjoying the torture that this man is going through. He walks the street today, a free man. Hasn't served a day," Carr said.

Rothkopf made a secret tape recording of a meeting in an Austin motel last May 16 when Yarbrough told him how to forge a car title. Yarbrough told the grand jury Jun 28 he did not meet with Rothkopf.

District Attorney Carol Vance of Houston told the jury Yarbrough put on the "black robe by day, yet by night met this witness (Rothkopf) to keep him secreted."

It was not one mistake Vance said, but a "criminal state of mind" revealed by this secretion over a two-year period.

"Anything less than a substantial term of years, anything less than 10 years would be making a mockery of justice," Vance said.

Earlier, Yarbrough's wife pleaded tearfully with the jury to grant her husband probation because "I just couldn't live without him in our house."

The prosecution called 12 witnesses who testified that the former Texas Supreme Court justice's reputation for being a peaceful and law-abiding citizen was bad.

The defense called six witnesses, including his wife, but none were asked about his reputation. Instead, the defense asked about Yarbrough's physical and mental state during the period of his grand jury investigation and a legislative proceeding to remove him from office.

They used such words as "frantic," "very tense," "in very bad shape," and his wife said, "I really thought he was going to kill himself."

Reporters came to their house, she said. "They were always there. They'd call in the middle of the night, sometimes 30 times a night. They'd ask my children questions if I wasn't there."

"It was terrible. You'd walk out to pick up the paper and want to throw up," she said.

Yarbrough also wept when he testified, although he contorted his face until it was red in an effort not to. Several times, he pulled a new tissue from a box and blew his nose.

He said God had forgiven him for his wrongdoing, but when he told that to the world, "It was not well received."

When he was asked why he lied to a Travis County grand jury last June 28 about meeting with a former business associate May 16 and instructing him to forge a car title, Yarbrough paused. "Did you hear my question, Don?" asked his chief lawyer, Waggoner Carr.

"Yes, sir. It's not a simple answer. There's a swirling vortex, like a whirlpool. I can't relate it in a simple answer. I was just cornered into it," he said.

A few days after that grand jury meeting, Yarbrough called a news conference and confessed he had done wrong. But he said he was ridiculed for his reference to God's forgiveness, and attacks on him grew even worse.

"There was pride now. There was pride now. It's a very destructive force. Pride was involved," he said.

Henry Oncken, assistant district attorney from Houston, suggested to Yarbrough that the "series of events that just pushed me up into a situation—I didn't have a choice" was created by Yarbrough alone.

"For the most part, yes sir," Yarbrough replied.

Mideast peace talks to resume

By LARRY THORSON

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Egyptian and Israeli defense ministers will resume talks early next week in Cairo on plans for Israel's withdrawal from the Sinai Peninsula, official sources said here Friday.

The talks will start Monday, said one source who asked anonymity. He said the official decision on sending Israeli Defense Minister Ezer Weizman to Cairo is to be made Sunday by Prime Minister Menachem Begin's cabinet.

There was no immediate comment from Egypt.

In Washington, U.S. officials said quiet American mediation has brought Israel and Egypt closer to agreement on a declaration of principles for a settlement. The officials predicted progress on the principles could serve as the glue to patch an Israeli-Egyptian rift opened last week in the dialogue begun by Egyptian President Anwar Sadat when he visited Jerusalem last November.

Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan has said agreement on principles — a blueprint for an eventual settlement — "is within our reach."

But the Israelis said "we have heard nothing yet from Egypt."

Political talks in Jerusalem focusing on the peace principles came to a halt Jan. 18 when Sadat recalled his delegation. Both sides began an acrimonious exchange, blaming each other for sabotaging the talks. Last Sunday, Israel countered the Egyptian recall by refusing to authorize Weizman's return to Cairo for the scheduled resumption of military talks.

An American call for a moratorium on tough talk took hold earlier this week and Assistant Secretary of State Alfred L. Atherton reported progress on peace principles in behind-the-scenes bargaining.

Atherton traveled from Jerusalem to Amman, Jordan Friday to confer with the U.S. ambassadors to Israel, Egypt, Syria, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia on Mideast strategy.

The American mediator will meet Saturday with King Hussein and is expected to try to draw the Jordanian monarch into Israeli-Egyptian peace talks. However, neither Israeli nor American officials expect Atherton to have much success at this point.

The officials paint Atherton's trip to Cairo on Monday as being more important because it will open a channel for an Egyptian response to the compromise principles drafted in Jerusalem.

U.S. officials in Washington said the two sides were approaching a compromise on the wording of two key peace provisions.

No man-made radiation located

OTTAWA (AP) — Scientists decided Friday that radioactivity found in the Northwest Territories came from natural sources or faulty detection equipment, not from the debris of a fallen Soviet satellite as originally suspected.

The scientists said no man-made radioactive material has been found and they do not expect further searches to discover any.

Admiral R. H. Falls, chief of the Canadian defense staff, said at a news conference late Friday that U.S.-Canadian teams have recorded a number of radioactive readings in the Northwest Territories. Falls said the readings were due either to equipment malfunctions or natural outcroppings of uranium.

"It is unlikely there is anything on the ground" from the Soviet Cosmos 954 spy satellite that fell out of orbit Tuesday morning, Falls said.

The admiral said the search for debris from the satellite probably will conclude this weekend.

David Jackson of the U.S. Department of Energy said earlier the only thing U.S. analysts were sure of was that an unnatural source of radiation was found Wednesday night in an area 230 miles southwest of Baker Lake in the Northwest Territories.

Although Falls confirmed there was a major radiation reading Wednesday

THOUSANDS of the 42,000 pounds of cargo — flattened Budweiser beer cartons — broke through the roof of this 18-wheel tractor trailer after the Fairfield, Calif.-bound truck overturned on Interstate Hwy. 20 south of Midland late Friday afternoon. The driver, Nicholas Postovolt, 24, of Mansfield, Conn., and co-driver James Legg, 28, of Eureka, Calif., were slightly injured in the one-truck mishap. Postovolt reportedly lost control of the truck after it veered to the highway's soft shoulder. The truck was low on fuel and the driver was looking for a diesel station. The cargo of beer cartons was being shipped from Monroe, La., to the Bud brewery at Fairfield, Calif. (Staff Photo)

Craddick makes bid for sixth House term

State Rep. Tom Craddick of Midland Friday formally announced he is seeking re-election to a sixth term from the 68th District.

That district includes Midland, Glasscock, Reagan and Upton counties.

Craddick is chairman of the Natural Resources Committee which is holding hearings on both statewide and West Texas water plans. He is the first Republican in this century to be named chairman of a permanent House committee.

Craddick said his committee will be reporting its findings to the Texas House in order to continue to sponsor legislation of benefit to the state and to West Texas.

Craddick serves on the House Energy Committee. In his announcement he said the energy situation would be one of the major focal points in the next session.

Craddick also represents Texas as a member of the Natural Resources Task Force of the National Conference of State Legislatures and serves as a member of the Environmental Quality and Natural Resources Committee of the Council of State Governments' Legislative Conference.

Craddick said, "I have enjoyed the challenge of representing the 68th

Tom Craddick

District and I look forward to continuing to serve the people of this area."

He and his wife, Nadine, live in Midland with their two children, Christi and Tommy.

He is vice president of Weil Fluids Corp. and owner of Craddick Properties.

North still fighting effects of record storm

By The Associated Press

Thousands remained stranded Friday and millions tried to dig out after a record-breaking blizzard that passed across the nation's North.

At least 65 persons were killed in the storm. Sixty were stalled for more than 12 hours aboard a train stranded in an Indiana snowdrift. Denver hotels were reported full of airline passengers diverted from Eastern airports. Police issued warnings in the Midwest for drivers to stay off roads.

Ohio was having severe problems with what the governor called the "worst blizzard in history" and officials said that even the federal help that had been promised — including aid from the Army — was not enough.

"We just haven't gotten what we had hoped to get at this time," said Adj. Gen. James Clem of the Ohio National Guard. "I've got to lay it on the line."

President Carter declared a federal state of emergency in Ohio and Indiana, but Clem said that was not enough. He said federal equipment had not been freed for state use.

The foul weather which crossed the East on Thursday included the blizzard in the North, hurricane force winds through the South, heavy rains, and flooding in West Virginia and elsewhere.

Ohio Gov. James Rhodes said, "The picture is not good. It may not be good for the next two or three days."

And the National Weather Service could add no encouragement as it predicted more snow for the upper Midwest.

Thousands still were trying to deal with the effects of the storm. Work crews finally dug through a wall of snow Friday morning to rescue the 60 persons stranded aboard an Amtrak train that stalled in Indiana.

Gifts highlight chamber meeting

ODESSA — A surprise highlight of the quarterly meeting of the executive committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce held here Thursday night and Friday was the announcement of gifts of $5,000 each to Midland College and Howard College at Big Spring for teaching of the free enterprise system.

The donors are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rochester of Odessa. Rochester announced the gifts, which were accepted for the two colleges by W.H. "Bill" Collins of Midland and Ralph McLaughlin of Big Spring.

Collins, editor of The Midland Reporter-Telegram, is chairman of the board of the West Texas Chamber and McLaughlin is chairman of its Private Enterprise Development Committee.

Strengthening of the free enterprise system is a continuing project of the regional chamber.

Rochester, a long-time ardent advocate of the free enterprise system, last year was recognized for his leadership in and practice of free enterprise at a citywide luncheon given in his honor here.

He is a real estate and insurance executive and has extensive real estate and other business holdings in Midland and other West Texas cities, as well as Odessa.

The executive committee meeting opened with a dinner Thursday, with the business session held Friday morning. Jay Alvey of Odessa was the emcee at the dinner-meeting, with WTCC President E. Bruce Street of Graham presiding at the Friday morning business session.

Reports of standing committees were heard and several resolutions were adopted. One of the resolutions reaffirmed the chamber's opposition to the signing of the Panama Canal treaty.

A nominating committee was appointed, including Collins, Claude Brown of McCamey and Frank Jannell of San Angelo. The panel will report at the regional chamber's annual meeting to be held in April at Lubbock.

Ed C. Coltharp, WTCC's executive vice president, announced the promotion of staff member Phil Neighbors to development director. Coltharp also announced that Hart Brooks of Abilene has been employed to fill a staff vacancy.

Midlanders attending the meeting included Mr. and Mrs. L.H. Byrd, Harry Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kloesel, Col. and Mrs. M.D. Sutterlin, David Godfrey and Mr. and Mrs. Collins.

Weatherization program begun

Home improvements aimed at conserving energy have begun for poverty-level residents of Midland under a $24,000 federal grant administered by the Midland Community Action Agency.

Albert Jones, "weatherization" director for MCAA, said he hoped to improve some 200 dwellings in Midland with the grant.

To qualify for the program, Midlanders must submit an application to MCAA, said Jones. The Social Security office here that their income is within federal poverty-level guidelines.

The overall purpose of the program, Jones said, is to conserve energy by stopping the penetration of cold air into the home and preventing the loss of heat.

Labor for the program is provided by a crew in job-training programs underwritten by both the federal government and the state. There is no age limit on applications, but special emphasis is given to helping the elderly and the handicapped, Jones said.

Jones said that the improvements would be of the kind you would expect — repairing broken windows, caulking, weather stripping and patching leaky roofs.

He said he had received complaints from applicants who registered early that those who signed up later were getting the first improvements. He said this is not a "first come, first served" program.

A project advisory committee assigns priorities based on such factors as the age and health of the applicant, and the size of his heating bill.

The grant on hand now comes from U. S. fiscal budget of 1977. Jones said he thinks there will also be a grant in the 1978 budget.

Corn crop increases

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina's corn production for the 1976-77 harvest year reached 8.3 million tons, up 41.8 percent over the previous harvest, the Secretary of Agriculture and Livestock has reported.

The tonnage is 6.4 percent over the average harvest for the last five years. Other grain harvests, as well as grain exports, were generally higher than in 1975-76.

Verdict returned

In a verdict returned shortly before midnight Thursday, a Midland man was found innocent of rape charges.

Lloyd C. Tiegart was found innocent of the charges in 238th District Court.

Rev. Robert Harrison

Guest to lead revival services

The Rev. Robert Harrison, a minister and gospel magician, will conduct revival services next week at Midland's First Church of the Nazarene, 1208 W. Wall Ave.

The Rev. Harold Quarles, host pastor, has announced that the revival will begin Wednesday and continue through the following Sunday. Services will be at 7:30 p.m. each weekday, with services on Sunday, Feb. 5, beginning at 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. Quarles and the congregation of the First Church of the Nazarene are inviting the public to attend the services.

The guest evangelist is a former pastor of churches in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Michigan. He has conducted evangelistic services from Central America to Canada.

THE REV. KENNETH B. MCINTOSH, executive with the Board of Global Ministries of the United Methodist Church, will preach at the Sunday morning worship service of St. Luke's United Methodist Church, 3011 W. Kansas Ave., to conclude a "missionary weekend" currently under way there. The public is invited to hear him.

THE TRANSITION SINGERS are featured in the Christ in Youth crusade being held this weekend at the Christian Church of Midland, 2608 Neely Ave. Services at 7 p.m. today and Sunday also will feature magician Scott Middleton. The events will be open to the public.

Annual meeting scheduled

The annual meeting of the Midland Association of Churches will take place at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the fellowship hall of St. Luke's United Methodist Church, 3011 W. Kansas Ave.

The dinner meeting will be open to all interested persons in the city and surrounding area. Tickets are priced $2.50 each and reservations must be made no later than noon Monday through the office of St. Luke's Church, 694-2571.

Among highlights of the annual meeting will be the installation of officers to serve the association during 1978, and the presentation of reports from permanent departments, or committees, of the organization. Stephen Spain, organist and choir director for First Christian Church, will provide special music.

Featured speaker at the meeting will be Dr. Charles Lutrick, senior minister of First United Methodist Church, whose topic is to be "New Insights Into Ecumenicity." Dr. Lutrick this past summer attended the Salamanca Ecumenical Institute at Orientale College of the Pontifical University in Salamanca, Spain.

RELIGIOUS ROUND UP

RICHMOND, VA. (AP) — A professor at the Baptist-related University of Richmond has been transferred in the wake of a speech in which he told an atheist group that Jesus "never really claimed to be God."

The Rev. Dr. Robert S. Alley, a tenured professor, was transferred from his post as chairman of the department of religion to chairmanship of a newly created interdisciplinary studies program, reportedly at his request.

He had been sharply criticized by many Virginia Baptists after the speech last Dec. 6. University trustees had met repeatedly about the matter and university President E. Bruce Heilman had apologized for the comment.

NEW YORK (AP) — An out-of-court settlement has been reached in a suit against the Bristol-Myers Co. by a community of Roman Catholic nuns who claimed the company's marketing of infant formula in poorer, undeveloped countries contributed to infant malnutrition.

The Sisters of the Precious Blood, who own 1,000 shares of the company's stock, and the Interfaith Center, an arm of the National Council of Churches that represented the sisters in their suit, have withdrawn their appeal of a U. S. district court decision dismissing it.

THE SPEER FAMILY, one of the nation's best-known gospel singing groups, will be heard in a special program at 7 p.m. today in Gardens Assembly of God, West Kansas Avenue and Andrews Highway. Widely known as "America's First Family of Gospel Music," the ensemble is now in its third generation. The Speers' music combines the "Nashville Sound" with their own unique style to provide an experience that is the essence of Christianity in fine music, said the Rev. Paul Cox, pastor of Gardens Assembly. He is inviting the public to attend tonight's concert.

City pastor resigns, accepts CROP post

The Rev. Elmer E. Burrall will become regional director for CROP, the world hunger and clothing appeal of Church World Service. His work for CROP will be in Oklahoma and he will have headquarters at Oklahoma City.

CROP, begun in 1947 as Christian Rural Overseas Program, a multi-denominational agency for combatting world hunger, has national offices in Elkhart, Ind., and carries out its work in the U. S. through 22 regional offices.

Burrall points out that in 1977, more than $9 million was raised by CROP, with funds to be used to finance a variety of self-help programs in Africa, Asia and South and Central America.

Burrall, who came here from a church in Arizona, has been active in the Midland Association of Churches, the Midland Ministerial Alliance, the Midland College United Campus Ministry, the Midland County Committee on Aging and the Midland Commission for Housing Rehabilitation. He is a former Lutheran missionary to India. He will return to Midland weekends to fill the pulpit at Hope Lutheran until Easter, or until a new pastor is called.

Joint service slated

The congregation of St. Paul United Methodist Church, 4501 Thomason Drive, will be host to the pastor and congregation of Midland's Greater St. Luke Methodist Church at the Sunday evening worship service.

The Rev. V. T. Herron, pastor of Greater St. Luke Church, will deliver the sermon, and the choir of his church will join the choir of St. Paul Church in presenting special music. The joint service has been arranged by St. Paul Church's Council on Ministries.

The service will begin at 7 p.m. and the public will be welcomed, said the Rev. Tommy Nelson, host pastor.

Choir planning pancake supper

The adult Chancel Choir of First United Methodist Church is making plans for its 17th annual Shrove Tuesday pancake supper.

Proceeds from the annual event help finance various projects sponsored by the choir.

The supper is scheduled for 5 to 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 7, Shrove Tuesday is the traditional final day of "feasting" before the start of Lenten "fasting."

Choir members

Church to install officers

An annual service of installation of elders, deacons and deaconesses of First Christian Church will be held Sunday during the morning worship hour.

Participating in the service will be the congregation's 12 elders, 24 deacons and 12 deaconesses. Trustees, department chairmen and members of the church's 1978 executive committee also will be installed.

The worship and installation service will begin at 10:50 a.m. It will be open to the public.

Parish plans program on human development

St. Ann's Catholic parish is offering a multimedia study program in human and spiritual development.

The program, titled Genesis 2, brings together the insights of the traditional Christian spiritual masters with the findings of modern developmental psychology. It consists of six units, each of which is subdivided into three two-hour sessions. The units bear such titles as The Spiritual Journey, Spiritual Growth and Self-Concept, The Adventures of Self-Discovery and The Many Paths of Prayer.

Designed to be used by groups of adult Christians seeking to grow both in awareness of themselves and in spiritual maturity, the program is based on the conviction that people are capable of development and that far from being limited to childhood, this development is a lifelong event.

Approximately 90 people have enrolled for the 12-week program at St. Ann's. Others who are interested in participating in the series are invited to contact Sister Marcia Huber, religious education coordinator for St. Ann's parish.

Service set in new home

The Mt. Calvary Missionary Baptist Church will hold services Sunday in its new location, 303 E. Shandon Ave.

The church formerly occupied a structure at 1508 S. Main St.

The Rev. H. F. Doyle is pastor of Mt. Calvary Baptist Church.

Abilene, Cooper prevail

Abilene and Abilene Cooper took District 5-4A basketball victories Friday night to keep pace with Midland and Midland Lee in the second half of the race with 2-0 records.

Abilene, the first half champion, whipped Odessa Permian, 72-62, while Cooper struggled to a 50-47 win over the Odessa Bronchos.

The Eagles chalked up their 27th victory in 30 games over Mojo with David Little and Cisco Smith paving the way with 27 and 24 points. High for Permian, which is now 13-13 on with the year, was Randy Wilson with 24.

Bobby Miers tallied 14 points and Woody Martin 11 as Cooper was bringing its season mark to 24-4. Lorenzo Pineda led OHS with 19. OHS is now 4-25 on the year and 0-2 on in league play, the same as Mojo.

Midland Lee strings up San Angelo 'Cats, 62-50

By BOB DILLON

Balance is usually the key to any victory.

And balance it was Friday night as the Robert E. Lee Rebels posted a 62-50 basketball victory over the San Angelo Central Bobcats in the Lee Gymnasium.

Lee had four players in the double figures and a fifth with eight points in racking up its 19th victory of the season against eight losses.

Mike Oestmann, 6-5 senior center, dumped in 16 points followed by teammates Dave Stueckler, Ernest Merritt and Joe Garner. Stueckler tallied 13 points while Merritt and Garner netted 11 and 10, respectively. Mike Richard was right behind them with eight points.

LEE ZOOMED out in front, 18-8, at the end of the first period, but the tion. Lee's victory keeps the Rebels even with Abilene, Abilene Cooper and Midland which had wins Friday night over Permian, Odessa and Big Spring.

In the preliminary junior varsity game, Lee took a 49-39 win with Ken Van Hoozer and Forrest Allen scoring 10 points for Coach Greg Wright's outfit. High for San Angelo was Tim Gray and David Rose with 11 and 10 points.

Tanner upsets Borg in Indoor net play

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Roscoe Tanner, a hard-hitting left-hander from Palm Springs, Calif., fired a final point service ace to oust Sweden's Bjorn Borg from the $225,000 U.S. Indoor Tennis Tournament 6-4, 7-6 Friday night.

The 26-year-old Tanner's upset of Borg, one of the men locked in a fight for No. 1, vaulted him into Saturday's semifinal against Eddie Dibbs of Miami Beach, Fla.

Dibbs earlier won his quarter-final match over Sandy Mayer, 7-6, 3-6, 6-4.

In Friday night's second quarter-final match, Brian Gottfried of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., celebrated his 26th birthday with a 6-1, 6-3 triumph over 18-year-old John McEnroe, a Stanford University freshman. Gottfried meets the winner of a quarter-final between Jimmy Connors, another contender for No. 1 in the world, and Mexico's Raul Ramirez.

Tanner won the match when he broke Borg's service in the 10th game as the Swede hit into the net.

Tanner won the second-set tiebreaker 7-2 on a first serve the Swede never even tried to hit. He simply ran to the net to congratulate the winner.

Tanner, a 6-foot, 170-pounder, won the Australian Open last year and earned $224,268 on the pro tour. He was seeded 10th in this tournament and moved into the quarter-finals with victories over Australia's Syd Ball, Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia and Romania's Ilie Nastase.

NFL plans no change

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Football League says it doesn't plan to lift its voluntary ban on blackouts of sold out home games, but there is legislation before Congress in case it does.

The NFL says it anticipates no change in its current voluntary policy although there was a report in New York Thursday that the league is considering whether to reinstate the original rule which banned the televising of a game in the city where it is played.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle declined to predict which way the league might go on the issue, according to the report, but he pointed out that 26 teams lost 185,000 season ticket holders since 1973.

Midland topples Steers

By PAUL DOMOWITZ R-T Sports Writer

BIG SPRING — The Dempsey-Tunney fights couldn't hold a candle to this classic. The "Thrilla in Manila" was just kid's stuff in comparison. This was "Friday Night At The Fights" at its finest. This was war.

Midland High survived a surge of uppercuts and left hooks by Big Spring that had them staggering early, before finally putting away the pesky Steers in the fifth round here last night to win the heavyweight championship of basketball.

It really was a basketball game, but you never would have guessed it by being at ringside — I mean outside. These two teams went after each other as if it were a back-alley brawl, with Midland, battered and bloodied but still standing, winning the game in overtime, 70-66, to remain unbeaten in the second half of District 5-4A play.

"It's the most physical game we've played all year," explained Midland Coach Don Humphrey after it was all over. "The referees decided to call it loose and they let us beat up on each other. It was brutal out there tonight."

It certainly was. There were 51 fouls called in the contest — 26 on Big Spring and 25 on Midland — and if the

String of 10 threes gives Jay Haas lead

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Jay Haas, a 24-year-old former national collegiate champion, splashed a gaudy string of 10 threes on his card, finished with an 8-under-par 64 and established a 3-stroke lead Friday in the second round of the $200,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open Golf Tournament.

"Now that looks real pretty," said Haas, who won the NCAA national championship at Wake Forest in 1975.

"The key to my round was that the greens were holding a little better and I made a lot of putts," said the slender Haas, who collected $32,000 as a tour rookie last season. Haas, who was tutored in the game by his uncle, former Masters champ Bob Goaly, compiled a 36-hole total of 136, 8 under par. He matched par 72 Thursday in the first round over the 7,047-yard South course, then mastered the shorter, easier, 6,067-yard North course with a 30 on the back nine that included a string of four consecutive birdies.

The final two rounds will be played on the South course only. Lanky Andy North, who scored his first tour victory in the Westchester Classic last year, Gary McCord and Jack Spradlin shared second at 139. North had a 66, McCord 68 and Spradlin matched par 72 in mild, humid, hazy weather.

First round leader Mark Pfeil slipped to a 74 and was tied at 140 with Doug Tewell and Fuzzy Zoeller. The hard-hitting Zoeller shot 70, Tewell 71.

Tom Watson, a two-time winner already this season and the defending champion here, managed a 71.

Big Spring had led by as much as seven after the third quarter, but the 6-foot-4 Sanders, who had only two points in the first three periods, hit for 12 in the fourth stanza to rally the Pack.

Midland's Roy Lee Jefferson hit on a basket just seconds into the overtime to give the Pack the lead, and they never relinquished it.

Buerkle beats Bayi in mile

NEW YORK (AP) — Youngsters Renaldo Nehemiah and Houston McTear smashed world indoor records Friday night and Dick Buerkle handed Filbert Bayi his fourth straight defeat, winning the mile at the Millrose Games before a capacity crowd of 18,118 at Madison Square Garden.

The 18-year-old Nehemiah, the outstanding high school track and field athlete last year and now a freshman at the University of Maryland, broke the world indoor 60-yard hurdles record for an electronically timed race with a front-running victory in 7.07 seconds.

McTear, a 20-year-old attending Cerritos Junior College in California, who has been helped in his career by world heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali, also led all the way in shattering the indoor record for an automatically 60-yard dash, winning in 6.11 seconds.

San Angelo wins JV golf

BIG SPRING — San Angelo posted a 672 to win first place in the Big Spring Junior Varsity Golf Tournament Thursday and Friday. Kenny Springfield, Permian, shot a medal 156 in leading the Panthers to second place with a 680.

Midland Lee was third with a 699 as Mark Leonard shot a 166 for third low.

Rangers post win

Greenwood's boys basketball team rolled to its 24th victory in 28 starts, beating Water Valley, 63-35, in district action Friday night.

The Rangers, who won the first half, are 1-1 in the second half while Water Valley is 0-2. Mark Swafford with 15 points, Rex Evans 14, Joe Mobley 10 and Vondell Woolfolk 10 led Greenwood while Joe Blair had 10 for the losers.

Jenny Anderson scored 31 points, Lavonda Pruitt 14 and Missy Duke eight as Greenwood's girls beat Water Valley, 55-34.

TEE TIME Hogan Park GC shows profit

BY REX WORRELL
Hogan Park Golf Pro

Hogan Park Golf Course shows an operating profit for the 1976-77 fiscal year. The City's fiscal year is from Sept. 30 to Oct. 1. Increased play and the increase in fees accounted for a total income for the year of $163,088.87, the expenditures for operation of the golf course for the year amounted to $139,167.77, which resulted in a profit from the operation at Hogan Park Golf Course of $23,921.10.

We are looking forward to an even more successful year this fiscal year as the green fee increase will be in effect the entire year, whereas, last year's increase was in effect for only six months.

TWO OF the Permian Basin's top assistant golf professionals moved up to head pro positions. Alan Pursley, formerly assistant at Midland Country Club, assumed duties in January at Andrews Golf Course in Andrews. Mike Horton, formerly Odessa Country Club assistant, assumed duties at the John Pittman Golf Course in Hereford.

As you golfers travel around, be sure to stop by and visit with Mike and Alan if you are in their areas. They would be happy to see some of the golfers of the Permian Basin.

THE HOGAN Park Women's Golf Association held a call meeting of the general membership Thursday to discuss computerized handicaps. If you have any questions after reading your 1978 Yearbook, please contact Merla Ketner, Handicap chairman, or Barbara Worrell.

The 1978 Yearbooks are ready to be picked up by members. They are in the ladies' room and have the members' names on them. When you pick up your Yearbook, please read the handicapping section. It lists the changes and explains the new system. Due to the extreme cold chill factor Thursday, the ladies were unable to

Ex-cager is sentenced

BALTIMORE (AP) — Former pro basketball player Skip Wise was sentenced Friday to 12 years in prison for his conviction on charges of possession and distribution of heroin.

Wise, 22, was convicted Dec. 8 of selling 12 grams of heroin to a federal narcotics agent.

It was the second heroin conviction for Allen Harper Wise, who was given a one-year suspended sentence earlier this year for heroin possession.

Carner downs rookie Lopez

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — JoAnne Carner, a seven-year veteran on the Ladies Mission Hills Country Professional Golf Club.

Also advancing to Saturday's semifinals were Sandra Post, a 1-up winner over Pat Bradley; Nancy Lopez, 1-up in the $105,000 Triple Crown match play championship.

Carner, a long-driving 36-year-old with 19 LPGA victories to her credit, moved to within 1 of Lopez on the 14th when she sank a par putt and Lopez took a bogey 4. Carner evened the match with a birdie 3 on No. 15, then moved ahead with a par on 16, while Lopez had another bogey.

The two matched bogey

Mutual bags SWC football

DALLAS (AP) — The Southwest Conference awarded the exclusive radio broadcast rights to SWC football games to the Mutual Broadcasting System on Friday, ending the Exxon Network's 44-season domination of the rights.

Mutual reportedly obtained a five-year contract for more than $1 million. The agreement guarantees the SWC of more widespread coverage area.

Exxon had limited its broadcasts to the Texas and a few stations in New Mexico and Arkansas, while Mutual plans to carry the games via more than 250 stations into a nine-state region including Arkansas, Arizona, Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Texas.

The ARN is separate from Exxon's network that included the other eight SWC schools.

WEST TEXAS HUNTING AND FISHING

Rabbits disappearing

BY JON CHASE

Back in the late fifties and early sixties, you could drive down any dirt road or highway around Midland and see, literally, hundreds of cottontails and jack rabbits. Many a fisherman on a tight budget arrived at the lake with a ready supply of trotline bait by picking up a few of the rabbits he inadvertently hit on the highway.

The number of rabbits to be seen now has dwindled to a small fraction of what it used to be. On a recent trip to Lake Amistad during the early morning hours, I saw a grand total of three jack rabbits along the road, zero cottontails and hundreds of deer.

The deer seemed to outnumber the rabbits 100 to 1. This bothered me a lot and I wondered if maybe something wasn't wrong.

THE DWINDLING rabbit population that I have noticed in Texas brought to mind the incredulity that I encountered while working in Michigan, when I stated that there was no closed season or bag limit on rabbits in our state.

The eastern cottontail is a highly sought game animal in Michigan and

Steadman's job hung in balance

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Removal of two head coaches during the disastrous 1977 football season and the public outcry that resulted nearly forced Jack Steadman to resign as president of the Kansas City Chiefs, he revealed Friday.

In an interview with Joe McGuff, sports editor of The Kansas City Star, Steadman said there was a two-week period earlier in the season when he considered finding "a more enjoyable lifestyle."

"I remember a saying that if you're going to fly a kite you have to go into the wind, but I feel as if I've been going into a tornado," Steadman said.

He has been under attack for the mid-season firing of Paul Wiggin as head coach, the dismissal of interim Coach Tom Bettis, a 2-12 mark worst in the National Football League club's history, and now a mandatory season ticket package that includes pre-season games.

"Through the years I've been able to build some financial interests so that I feel somewhat secure," Steadman said. "Had Lamar (owner Lamar Hunt) not remained strong in support of me and the steps we are taking, I would have packed it in. One of the reasons I didn't is that I feel a responsibility to Lamar. I have been with him for a long time and obviously he has developed confidence in my ability."

SPORT IN BRIEF

Warfield, Bell share golf lead

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Two teams — Buddy Bell of the Cleveland Indians and Paul Warfield of the Cleveland Browns, and Bob Tucker of the Minnesota Vikings and Bobby Murcer of the Chicago Cubs — tied for the lead Friday in first-round play of best-ball, footballbaseball partner golf.

Each shot a 16-under-par 36 at McCormick Ranch golf course in the 54-hole handicap event which ends Sunday.

Holman shaves

Roth's lead

GRAND PRAIRIE, Texas (AP) — Marshall Holman averaged 230 for eight games and chipped away at tournament leader Mark Roth's whopping margin Friday in the fifth round of the $100,000 Professional Bowlers Association tournament.

Roth, who led by 420 pins after four rounds, saw his lead sliced to 186 pins after averaging only 207 and losing five of Friday afternoon's eight match-play games.

Holman of Medford, Ore., who began the fifth round in third place, rolled games of 193, 248, 195, 280, 224, 191, 268 and 244 to move into second place.

He has not been beaten since Dec. 14, 1974, when he lost to Mario Roman in Mexico on a cut.

Vandals take NCAA probation in stride

A one-year probation slapped on his University of Idaho basketball program won't effect the Vandals this season, and might not hurt recruiting, says Coach Jim Jarvis.

Jarvis said his squad was in good spirits despite the news. Idaho is winless in the Big Sky Conference and 3-12 overall. The NCAA ruled Idaho ineligible for televised games or post-season play until Jan. 17, 1979 as a result of recruiting violations.

MONTE PEARSON, a pitching star for the New York Yankees in the 1930s, died Friday after a lengthy bout with cancer. Pearson, 69, won four World Series games for the Yankees, topped by a victory over Carl Hubbell in the fourth game of the 1936 Series. Pearson retired in 1941 with a 100-62 record.

Fordham University's decision to dismiss Dick Stewart as head basketball coach followed repeated

Government 'believes' Flood aide's charges

By MICHAEL J. SNIFFEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal prosecutor says the government believes statements by a convicted felon who accused his former boss, Rep. Daniel Flood, of peddling his government influence for potentially illegal payments of well over $100,000.

One month after Flood's former administrative aide, Stephen Elko, began cooperating with the government, Assistant U.S. Attorney David R. Hinden told a federal court in Los Angeles that Elko "has been providing us with significant information relating to certain criminal activities. We believe that information to be truthful."

In a statement released Friday, Flood said, "I emphatically state that these allegations are not true and I have no further comment on the situation at this time."

Hinden's statement came at the Jan. 9 sentencing of Elko, 49, and his girlfriend, Patricia Brislin, on bribery and related charges. After his conviction Oct. 19, Elko was granted immunity from further prosecution and began cooperating in an effort to obtain a lighter sentence.

The immunity for Elko was requested by the office of U.S. Attorney David W. Marston in Philadelphia, where one of two federal grand juries is investigating the case. Marston also reportedly was investigating Rep. Joshua Eilberg, D-Pa., who pressed President Carter in a telephone call Nov. 4 to fire Republican Marston. That call fed the controversy surrounding Marston's ouster last Friday by Attorney General Griffin Bell.

Citing Elko's statements, Hinden further told the Los Angeles court that "much of that information is along the lines contained in the affidavit that I submitted to the court at the time we moved for a continuance of the sentence."

Hinden had filed this affidavit with the court in secret on Dec. 6. A copy of it was obtained from the public records of the court.

According to Hinden's affidavit, Elko alleged that Flood, a 75-year-old Democrat from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., took money in return for arranging contacts with federal officials for businessmen and helping them win federal contracts.

Now in his 30th year in Congress, Flood has for 10 years held the powerful chairmanship of the House appropriations subcommittee on labor, health, education and welfare. He also sits on the defense appropriations subcommittee.

The bribery charges against Elko stemmed from payments of $4,000 to $15,000 in 1972 and 1973 from the operator of five trade schools, seeking accreditation that would make the schools eligible for lucrative federal contracts. Elko used Flood's name to press the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for the accreditation.

Elko was sentenced to three years in prison; and Ms. Brislin to one year — far less than the maximum penalty on conviction of bribery, perjury, obstruction of justice and conspiracy charges.

Loss of cash, checks reported

Cash and checks totaling $5,317 were reported stolen Friday from West Texas Beer Distributors Co.

According to the Midland County sheriff's office the money and checks was taken from a safe in a back office. No one was in the office, reports indicated.

There were no signs of forced entry, a spokesman for the sheriff's office said. The theft was reported about 11:15 a.m. Friday and had been taken sometime Friday morning, the spokesman said.

OIL REPORTED TAKEN

Theft of 40 barrels of crude oil, valued at a total of $480, was reported Friday to Midland County sheriff's office.

The oil reportedly was taken from a tank battery six miles east of Midland on the U.S. 80 service road sometime after a reading was taken Jan. 24.

TELEVISION MISSING

A color television set, valued at $500, was reported taken Friday afternoon from a meeting room in the Midland Hilton.

According to police reports, the theft took place Thursday afternoon and was reported Friday morning.
