For Seventy Years a Builder in Collingsworth County

Volume LXXI | WELLINGTON, COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY, TEXAS 79095 THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1980 | Number 16

Reagan Wins County, State and Nation

Collingsworth voters followed the national trend and gave their vote to Ronald Reagan and fellow Texas George Bush as president and vice president of the United States for the next four years. The margin was approximately 5 to 4.

The Reagan-Bush vote totaled 1020, while President Jimmy Carter and Vice President Walter Mondale received 798 votes.

Independent Candidates John B. Anderson and Pat Lucey received 18 votes and Ed Clark and David Koch, Libertarians, polled 15. There were no write-in votes.

Thirteenth District Congressman Jack Hightower was favored over Canyon businessman Ron Slover 1150 to 657.

In the other race of local importance, Democrat Bill Sarpalius upset 31st District State Senator Bob Price 1316 to 488. Sarpalius probably waged the most intensive drive in Collingsworth of any candidate in this election.

State Representative Foster Whaley of the 66th District was unopposed and polled 1270 votes.

The Collingsworth vote was heavy, even for a presidential election year. The combined presidential candidates polled 1851 votes out of a potential vote of 2743, just over 67 percent.

County residents approved proposed constitutional amendment No. 7, which would authorize counties with population under 5,000 to perform private roadwork 962 to 445.

The voters barely approved local option bingo, No. 4, 735 to 724.

No. 1, authorizing banks to use unmanned teller machines, failed 768 to 685.

No. 2, authorizing appeal of certain pretrial rulings lost 812 to 467.

No. 3, single tax appraisal and equalization boards, lost 636 to 722.

No. 5, governor's exercise of fiscal control over certain appropriated funds was voted down 362 to 1015;

No. 6, authorizing the governor to remove appointed officers, carried 749 to 643.

No. 8, changing the names and qualification of appelate courts and judges failed 869 to 436, and Proposition No. 9, allowing spouses to agree on division of income arising from separate property carried 810 to 572.

Judge Charles L. Reynolds, seeking the office of Chief Justice, Court of Civil Appeals, 7th District, received 1259 votes in this race for an unexpired term.

Judge Robert E. Montgomery, 100th District, polled 1288 votes for re-election and David M. McCoy had 1318 as 100th District attorney.

Railroad Commissioner: Buddy Temple, 908; Henry C. (Hank) Grover, 498; Railroad Commissioner, unexpired term: James E. (Jim) Nugent, 1083; H.J. (Doc) Blanchard, 446; and

VIGIL

Donnitta Ward and C.A. Winton kneel Tuesday, Nov. 4 at a vigil altar at Glynn Moore Post, VFW, during a 12-hour vigil for the American hostages held by Iran for one year. The vigil also included a flag lowering ceremony by Wellington Boy Scouts, "The Star Spangled Banner" by members of the Wellington High School band, and a brief address by Air Force Col. Sim Goodall, Ret.

Skyrocket Broncho Game May Decide 2-AA Winner

The Wellington-Clarendon game Friday night Nov. 7 could well determine the championship of District 2-AA, although one more game remains on the schedule.

It will be played on Broncho Field at 8 p.m. and both teams share the championship game projection.

At this point, Clarendon leads the district with a 3-0 record and it has given the fleet Bronchos added momentum. Excitement among their fans is at high pitch.

The Bronchos have behind them victories over both Wheeler and Canadian the two teams that pre-season predictions named as probably district winners.

Wellington, on the other hand, has lost to Wheeler by one point and has yet to meet Canadian. Their 2-1 record includes victories over both Memphis and Shamrock.

"We're looking at this as the big game, too," said Coach James Williams, adding that the Rockets are spending this week getting ready and doctoring their hurts.

Chris Lynch was in the Shamrock game last week for only one play. Paul Estes, who had a cracked cartilage in one knee, played last week and will try to play the season out before he receives medical attention. Tim Anderson came out of the Shamrock game with a bruised hip and there are other bruises on the team.

"We're kind of lame, but we've got to go with what we've got," Williams summed it up. "Our kids had a tough pre-season schedule and they've made a tremendous comeback in the district. They've been improving and they'll improve some more this week.

As to players, the Bronchos have two outstanding backs with lots of speed, Bobby Weatherton and Hosea Hearn.

Hospital Administrator Resigns Monday, Nov. 3

Collingsworth General Hospital board at special meeting Monday, Nov. 3 voted 6-0 with one abstention to accept the resignation of hospital administrator Morris Barcroft effective immediately.

Voting for acceptance were hospital board members Robert Owens, Lyman Daniel, Corky Bowen, Bill Henard, Buddy Carter and Elmer Feemster. Dee Coleman abstained.

In the wake of that resignation, the director of nurses, Irene Thomas, and four nurses, Myrtle L. Fincher, Edna Benton, Susan Murray and Lela Myers have also resigned.

At special meeting Tuesday, Nov. 4 the board appointed Judy Naylor as acting administrator. Board president Robert Owens and vice president Lyman Daniel will act as liaison officers between the staff and the board during the interim until a new permanent administrator is named.

The board also appointed Sharon Bowen and Dena Williams as acting co-directors of nursing. Charley Harvey remains director of x-ray, lab and maintenance.

Mrs. Naylor is the hospital's bookkeeper and Mrs. Bowen and Mrs. Williams are registered nurses on the hospital's staff.

School Meeting Slated Nov. 18

The Wellington Schools will observe American Education Week Sunday through Saturday, November 16-22, with emphasis on letting patrons and other district residents know of improvements made in the system during the last year.

Supt. Kenneth McKay announced plans for the event.

A program for the parents and other area residents will be held Tuesday, Nov. 18 at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

One part of the program will be a slide presentation which shows improvements made in the school system. This was prepared, organized and developed by Bob Allen, junior high school principal.

Afterward there will be a question and answer period for those present to ask pertinent questions relating to their school system, McKay explained.

"We have made a lot of improvements this summer and we will show some of these improvements as well as what is planned for the future.

The superintendent cited improvements in one field of the school's operation.

"West Texas Utilities Company and the City of Wellington have done an excellent job of helping us get better lighting around the school buildings," he said.

McKay explained that Public School Week will be observed March 2 through 6, 1981, and at that time open house will be held when area residents will visit through the buildings.

"Now we just want to have this meeting to let the people know what we have done and what we are attempting to do and to answer questions," he said.

This is the first year that Wellington Schools have observed American Education Week, but because of improvements made in the system in recent months, the administration felt this was an excellent time for the public to visit.

US 83 Work Complete for Winter

The 4.7 mile stretch of Highway US 83 from Elm Creek Hill to the Wheeler County line should be completed at the end of this week except for the final seal coat which will be applied in April 1981.

The announcement was made Monday by Glenn McLain, who is in charge of the Wellington residency of the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

This also completes the upgrading of US 83 through Collingsworth County.

McLain explained that November 1 is the final date to shoot asphalt courses in this part of the state. A minimum 90-day waiting period is also required between the two courses.

This week DePauw Construction Co., is putting the final touches on the job, which includes a little blading on the ditches.

Later the Wellington office will be responsible for putting down the center stripe.

As there will be a small amount of loose rock on the road to begin with, McLean cautioned that drivers use a little consideration for other motorists.

Work on this project began in June, with DePauw Construction Co. of Amarillo holding the low bid of $645,822.

The old concrete pavement was crushed with four inches of sandstone and 8 inches of new base materials, that the contractors secured from the O'Neil Ranch, about four miles west of the project.

Altogether, 32,000 tons of this base material was used.

The asphalt course put down was what is referred to as a winter asphalt, which has a different reaction to temperature from that laid in summer months, and which allows the rock base beneath to adhere to it.

"Our department has come up with a nice job from these former Collingsworth County people, said McLain of the DePauw company. "It was a pleasure to work with them."

Work under way at present is confined to US 287 from Clarendon north to the Donley County line, 11.6 miles.

The westbound lane was reworked and it will be left as it is for the winter.

The old pavement was taken up, recycled, and laid down again as a black asphalt base mixture.

Kent Nowlin Construction Co., of Albuquerque, N.M. holds this contract for $1,636,194.

Cattle Stolen Near Dozier

Seventy head of cattle have been reported stolen from the Frank Sharp place north of Dozier, according to Sheriff John Rainey.

He said the owner told him it is believed the cattle were taken from the place October 20, but the loss was not reported to the sheriff's office until Saturday, Rainey said. He and chief Deputy Terry Floyd worked at the place that day and again Monday, but he said that so far, no evidence has been uncovered as to who may have taken the cattle. "So far we haven't any leads," he said.

The loss includes 60 head of heifers and 10 steers, weighing 500 to 700 pounds.

According to the Sheriff, Sharp, who lives at Tulia, comes to the place about every other week to look after the stock.

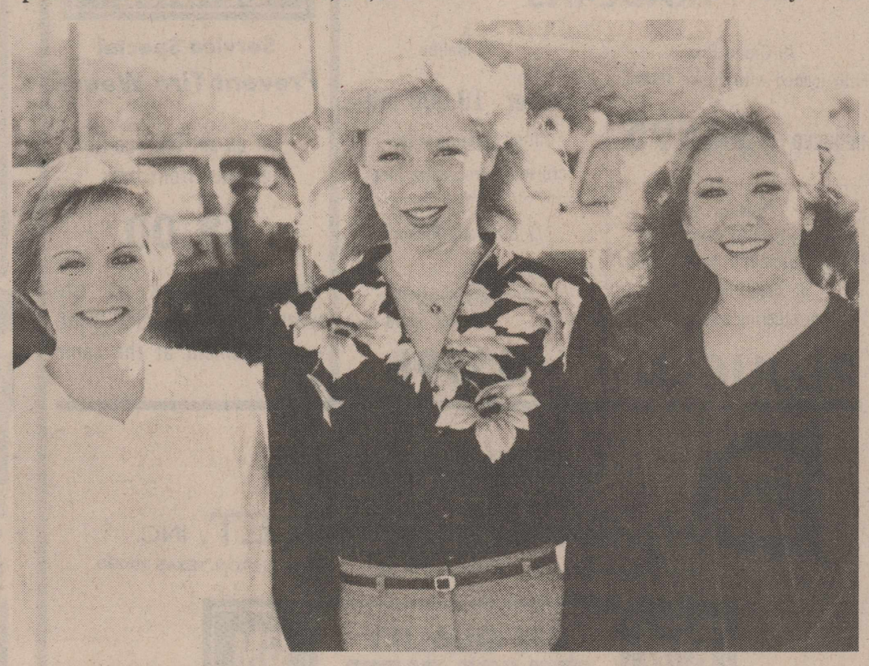

This time it had been three weeks since he was down, he told officers. The farm is located just south of the county line.

Rainey has also notified the Texas and Southwestern Cattlemen's Association, also Texas Ranger Bill Baten, and Brand Inspectors Cates of Canadian and Charles "Lucky" Thompson of Clarendon.

Council Reviews Airport Grant, Calls Public Hearing Nov. 17

Wellington City Council devoted most of its Monday night meeting to a discussion of the $75,000 improvement grant awarded Marian Airpark by the Texas Aeronautics Commission and a review of the next steps to be taken.

A public hearing on the grant was called for Monday, November 17, at 7 p.m. in the City Council chamber, and any interested persons are urged to be present.

This is a matching fund grant with the city's part to be "in kind" that is, in the form of work by city employees or use of city-owned machinery.

It will give a combined approximate $150,000 in improvement at the municipal airport.

This is a two-year program, and the $75,000 matching fund grant is for the first year only.

The TAC has assured City Manager Glen Taylor that it will help by providing expertise and other technical assistance.

Improvement calls for a 4,000 x 60 foot runway which will enable Marian Airpark to receive any type of craft up to and including Lear jets or other executive type planes.

There is a possibility that the city can build another 2,500 foot runway, the length of the present runway, which would be used principally by local flyers.

There has been much complaint in recent years of the short runways which prevent flyers using small jets from coming into the Wellington airport. These presently must land at either Childress or Altus, Oklahoma and come into Wellington by car.

The Albuquerque, N.M. office of the Federal Aviation Administration has been notified of the grant being awarded to Marian Airpark.

In other action, the council approved a standard building code for Wellington, Ordinance No. 420.

This introduces nothing new in Wellington's building requirements but codifies requirements that are scattered through the ordinances under various headings.

Section I provides that no building shall be built, enlarged or altered after the effective date except in accord with the Southern Building Code Congress International, Inc., and the International Association of Electrical Inspectors;

Section II: requires a building permit, which costs $1.00, a bond of $500 and license for the first year with a $10 renewal fee,

Section III: calls for inspection of the construction of buildings as necessary, including electrical and plumbing installations.

Inspection fees are $10 each.

Section 4 sets the penalty for failure to comply, which is cancellation of all future permits and licenses.

Revenue Sharing Status Concerns Commissioners

Members of Collingsworth County Commissioners Court will decide this week if they will be represented at the November 13 Rally in Washington, D.C. in behalf of the $4.6 billion Revenue Sharing Bill, which was not approved by Congress before it recessed, Judge Bob Watson said this week.

The bill was still in the joint committee on finance on the last days of the session, Watson said, and must be brought out of committee and also receive clearance by both houses of Congress and President Carter's signature during the upcoming Lame Duck session.

Without this, counties and cities will receive no revenue sharing money after December 15, 1980.

However, Congressman Jack Hightower told The Wellington Leader Tuesday, Nov. 4;

"I can't see any reason why Revenue Sharing won't be passed within a week or 10 days after we go back, and there hasn't been anything to make me change my opinion."

The rally which some of the court members are considering attending is sponsored by the Texas Association of Counties, of which the court is a member, and the National Association of Counties.

The county is due to receive approximately $80,000 in revenue sharing funds during the current fiscal year, which will be used to fund the law enforcement program and jail expenses. The commissioners concern comes from the fact that if the Revenue Sharing Bill should fail to pass, they will have to find $80,000 from some other source to pay the bill.

"If we do not receive this revenue sharing money, the county will go in the red on its operation this fiscal year," Watson said.

Since Revenue sharing began in 1972, Collingsworth County has received over $600,000, the judge reported. At first this had to be used for capital improvements but later was released to be used for general expenditures.

The City of Wellington wants its Revenue Sharing money, also, but it is under less pressure than the county. The City used this money for capital improvement and has only one more payment on its trash collection system before this improvement is clear of debt. Mayor Bill Hatch and City Manager Glen Taylor have said they are not worried about the bill's passage.

However, any loss of revenue sharing by the city would probably mean it would have to postpone construction of its new fire station and remodeling of that portion of Bura Handley Community Center that how houses the fire department.

The city has received $227,425 in Revenue Sharing since 1973 through 1980, with an additional $45,000 projected in 1981 for a total of $272,425.

backs, too, with Tim Anderson, Darrell Thomas and Jody Coleman giving speed. Now Kenneth Warren has come into the starting lineup and Coach Williams has a good runner in him also.

"So they'll have to contain all our backs instead of just two as the teams did earlier in the season," the Wellington head coach noted.

Defensively, the teams are about equal, he believes, and the team that has the speed Friday night is probably the team that's going to win.

"If we can do like we've been doing the last two weeks we have every chance to win. It's taken our kids a while to get everything together, but I think they're finally pretty good," he said.

By comparison, in non-district play, both Wellington and Clarendon have met Quanah, Childress and River Road, Amarillo. Childress defeated Clarendon 27-16, while Wellington lost 12-27 in hard rain. On the same night the Bronchos tied River Road 12-12. In better weather, Wellington was nudged out by the Amarillioans by one point, 14-15.

Quanah won over Clarendon 35-7 and defeated Wellington by the narrower margin of 27-18.

In district games, Clarendon defeated Wheeler 32-11, Shamrock 13-7, and last week rolled over Canadian 24-13, after being down 13-3 at halftime.

Because of the Wheeler game, Clarendon will go into the Friday night contest favored to win.

"We're going to need all the backing we can get, and we're going to need the Skyrocket fans there with us," Williams declared.

Donley 4-H Slates Supper

Donley County 4-H Club is sponsoring its annual cornbread and bean supper Friday night, November 7, before the Clarendon-Wellington football game.

It will be in Clarendon School Cafeteria from 5 to 7 p.m., said Ronald Gooch, extension agent.

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1.50 for students. Children 6 years and under get in free.

We invite all the Rocket fans to come over and eat with us," Gooch said.

Some of the 4-H boys will cook the beans and mothers of 4-H girls will cook the cornbread, along with pies and cakes.

The cafeteria is just across the street from Broncho Stadium, where the game will be played.

THOMAS NURSING CENTER NEWS

By Ilene Brinkley

First of all we want to welcome our new resident E.C. Gillette from McCamey. He is in room 3 on B Wing.

Our game winners this week were Mrs. Martha Reeves and Mrs. A.Y. Bell.

Our Tuesday afternoon sing-a-long was conducted by Mrs. Lois Ratliff, Mrs. John Harper and Mrs. Ola Parker, Carrie Langford came and sang for us also. This was a special treat for our residents.

Wednesday afternoon Bible study was conducted by R.B. Lucus and other members of the Faith Baptist Church.

Wednesday evening the Church of Christ children sang for us.

Friday evening the Lighthouse Quartet came and our annual Halloween Party was held. Several residents and our volunteers dressed for the occasion. Everyone had a hilarious time.

Sunday morning Bible Study was conducted by Judge Bob Watson from the Church of Christ.

Sunday afternoon Bible study was conducted by Rev. Bob Odle from the First Christian Church.

OUR VISITORS:

Visiting Mrs. A.Y. Bell were her daughter Mrs. Dorothy Walker from Lubbock, Mrs. Dorothy Wilson from Odessa, and Mrs. Ethlyn Goodner from Childress.

Visiting Mrs. Maude Vaughan were Rev. and Mrs. Jim Boswell from Memphis.

Mrs. Eva Needham visited Sunday with her son and family Mr. and Mrs. Jack Needham.

Visiting Mrs. Emma Jones were her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jones from Hollis, her nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Neldon Hobbs from Amarillo, and a niece, Mrs. Beth Hobbs from Olympia, Washington.

Visiting Bill Turner was his brother Jack Turner from Durant, Oklahoma.

Visiting Mrs. Ruby Tenison were her sister-in-law Mrs. Geneva Jones from Dumas and her niece Mrs. Bill Morris also from Dumas.

Visiting Mrs. Annie Bryant was her daughter Mrs. Loyce Kelley from Childress.

Visiting Mrs. Mary Plunkett were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Plunkett from Midwest City, Oklahoma.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson was a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mary Ann Cunningham from Shamrock.

Visiting A.M. (Short) Saunders were his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Regie Judd and Brent from Fritch.

Visiting Mrs. Edna Kesler were her nephew and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Dan Culp from Amarillo.

Visiting Mrs. Lerona Walker and Tom Walker were a niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Blevins from Lubbock.

HOW WE'RE HELPING YOU HOLD DOWN YOUR UTILITY BILLS.

Again in 1979, for the fourth straight year, Lone Star Gas did a better job of controlling distribution expenses than any of the other major intrastate gas utilities in Texas.*

These expenses include maintenance and repairs, leases on offices and facilities, supplies and many other items.

Controlling our expenses is one way we can save you money. And we'll be working just as hard in 1980 to hold down the price you pay for natural gas service.

*Annual reports filed with the Texas Railroad Commission, 1976-1977-1978-1979, based on the operating expenses of the total Texas distribution system.

Comradship of World War II Remains with Men

The comradship that grows between men who serve together in war has no parallel in civilian life. It is now 35 years since World War II ended, and many men are still in touch with those by whom they fought. For some it is an individual thing. Others remain in contact through organizations made up of the men of their wartime units.

Buster Hughs, who served in the 36th Division and belongs to its association, feels these should be better known and has asked a group of men to write either their feelings about these associations or memories of their World War II experiences for this Veteran's Day, Nov. 11

R.L. TEMPLETON

R.L. Templeton, a sergeant pilot in the American Eagle Squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Force, speaks here of the men who were heroes of World War II, and what it was like to know these men.

First he tells of shipping overseas in February 1942 in a 40-ship convoy.

"We lost only three ships out of the 40 in our convoy, and I did not know why my ship was right in the middle. Even the troop ships were further out of the middle than we were. When I got to Glasgow, I found out the reason we were in the middle was because my ship, with its crew of Marines and the 50 volunteer pilots, had a cargo of airplane bombs, and if a torpedo had hit us, there wouldn't have been any 40-ship convoy. Just a hole in the ocean," he said.

The American Eagle Squadron's Recreational Center was in Leicester Square, London. The strongest thing to drink was hot British tea.

"But it wasn't very far across the street to a Pub so that was where you got kind of lathered up. Here reunions were a different sort.

"You would see pilots shouting and screaming in the pub because they had seen some friend that they hadn't seen since he went to the Hospital after some airplane crash. There would be a reunion, a hugging, you talk about being glad to see each other again. Maybe they'd come through the crashes together and one of them had spent a lot more time in the hospital than the other. Anyway, it was a great, great experience to be there.

"The other thing I remember about being there is you'd be walking up or down the stairs and suddenly you'd see a pilot, and under his pilots wings, the red and white stripes of the decoration of a Victoria Cross, the highest medal of honor that can be won, the equivalent of the American Congressional Medal of Honor.

Wherever you saw it, the man was walking with burns across face or his arm in a cast. You stopped and stared at him as he passed, because, you said, "My God, there goes a hero."

Templeton speaks of his two brothers who died in combat: "My younger brother Pat was 19 when he was killed. He was a bomber pilot with not quite 1,000 flying hours. He knew he was going to die and he did, on September 6, 1942, when his British bomber, Vickers Armstrong Wellington, twin engine bomber crashed and burned. My older brother John, was killed in a (U.S.) B-26 bomber in France March 18, 1945." Pat Templeton was the first Collingsworth man to die in World War II combat. R.L. Templeton's four roommates also died in combat. John Templeton is believed to be the last from here to die.

"One thing I think that our young people don't know and haven't experienced and won't experience, that was the glamour of being a pilot in World War II. Wherever you went, everybody when they saw the Royal Air Force Wings on your chest, said can I buy you a drink. They were honored to sit by you and have a few minutes of your time."

Fear is another experience todays young men should know.

"The reason one of my sergeants turned grey-haired overnight was because when you are flying through a fog, there is no way to land except to fly through it. Get down or bail out, but in flying through a fog you're scared to death."

"There is another experience that should be communicated. This is the tremendous religious elation you get when you're flying at night, 5 miles in the sky, by yourself. When you're up there the way you feel when you look down on earth, it looks so tiny and so beautiful. There is just something about it that makes you never doubt that there is a God. You can never be an agnostic or disbeliever. You'll always know there's a God because you got pretty close to Him."

M.W. PASCHALL

M.W. Paschall has probably remained closer to the men with whom he served in World War II than any other living in this area. He was a tank commander in the First Armored Division, which chased and fought with the famed German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel across North Africa, and finally accepted his surrender. This was the general the world thought no one could defeat. Paschall, and other men from Collingsworth were in the unit that did.

The First Division veterans, now scattered through the country, form the First Division Association, which Paschall has served as a director. He has attended most of their meetings, held in widley separated areas of the country.

The 1st Division is now stationed in Germany with NATO forces. In 1971, an attempt was made to disband the division, but letters from the men who had fought in it prevented this.

American forces went into North Africa November 8, 1942, and on November 28, the chase of Rommel began. It did not end until May 1943. Paschall was a tech sergeant and company commander. The troops drove their tanks over mountains, through wadis and most of all through dirt and sand, with Rommel's troops fighting all the way. There was no place to take a bath except pour a little water in a helmet beside the tank, Paschall remembers. Dirt was ground into their skin, and it took a while after they got home to get it out.

Paschall was almost captured in Africa. With his tank blazing, the four crew members were taken. As commander, Paschall was last man out and was able to crawl away unseen.

In May, the troops were aware that Rommel could not go much farther and one night they watched fires burn in his camp. He was destroying his equipment. Next morning, the field marshal everyone thought was invensible surrendered.

Paschall also participated in the invasions of Sicily, Sardenia and Italy. His tank unit attempted to cross a bridge to make a landing at Monte Cassino, an ancient abby.

Unable to cross, the unit then moved south and went into Italy at Anzio beachhead. He fought north through Italy and into a peaceful Rome, which had been declared an open city. Farther on, another tank was shot out from under Paschall, and finally at Viterby, in the Po Valley, he was rotated back to the United States, wearing four battle stars. The 1st Armored Division at the end of the war had a record of the most days of combat experience of any division in the U.S. Army.

Until he received his discharge, Paschall was stationed at a Prisoner of War Camp at Muskogee, Okla. There he met German prisoners his unit had contacted in North Africa. Even then, he felt no enmity, but respected them as fine fighting men, doing the job they were trained to do, just as he was doing.

Paschall believes Ameri can troops in the African campaign often went into combat with obsolete equipment. The French 75 mm guns were the largest they had and the superior German 88s could put a hole right through a tank. By the time he came home, superior equipment was arriving, and ultimately, it was United States mass production that won the war, he believes.

JOHN R. HENARD

Former members of the 346th Fighter Squadron from over the United States gathered at the Menger Hotel in San Antonio October 24 through 26, for their annual reunion. Mr. and Mrs. John R. Henard, Jr., attended.

Texania and western dress was the order of the day. Non-Texans bought "Texas Hats" and other regalia for the Fiesta at La Villita Friday night. Typical Tex-Mex food, including chili rellenos, tacos al carbon, nachos and bunelos were featured. A mariachi band provided music.

Saturday many of the group visited the Alamo, Market Square, the Tower of the Americas and Paseo del Rio. Saturday night, a banquet was held. During that banquet, two members, John Henard and Bill Wagner, celebrated birthdays, with a cake shaped as a World War II vintage airplane. The cake was a gift of Ben and Jane Davis.

Sunday's activities began with a buffet breakfast and business meeting. Time was also given to visiting, looking at wartime pictures and scrap books compiled 346th members. Activities were co-ordinated by Col. Al Alexander (Ret) and Mrs. Alexander.

The next reunion will be held somewhere in Calf. in 1982.

BUSTER HUGHS

The veteran who first suggested that Collingsworth men in World War II, who have continued in close contact with their buddies, set down some of their memories, was Buster Hughs, who served in the famed Texas 36th Division.

Hughs and his wife, Frances, attended the 36th annual convention of the 36th Division Association, held in August at the AMFAC Hotel at Dallas/Ft. Worth Airport.

For the first time, the 36th was host to one of its component groups the "Go For Broke" 442nd Infantry Regimental Combat Team, which won fame for its rescue of the Division's 2nd battalion 141st Infantry, "The Lost Battalion" during fighting in France.

At the beginning of World War II, Japanese Americans were prohibited from serving in the Armed forces. In 1943, the 442nd Infantry Regimental Combat Team was formed, composed exclusively of Japanese Americans.

The convention's guest speaker, Hon. Daniel K. Inouye, senior U.S. Senator from Hawaii was one of these. The unit became, for its size and length of service, the most decorated unit in American History. In addition to more than 15,000 individual medals and decorations, this unit won 7 Presidential citations, Hughs recalls.

"800 T Patchers welcomed 400 men and their families of the 442nd in a great reunion. It was the first time we have been together since the battle, 36 years ago. The 442nd brought with them four tons of donated fruit.

"I enjoyed visiting with these buddies of the 442nd. We joined the 36th Division together in France, arriving on the same ship, later being a part of the rescue of the "Lost Battalion," Hughs continued. "We met and made many new friends from all parts of the States. The meeting was filmed by NBC's "Real People" for National television showing later.

"This being spook day reminds me of doing guard duty at the Frankenstein Castle, which was built on a hill above a railway tunnel. In the little cemetery below the castle was a grave marked Dr. Frankenstein.

"Many people will remember the 36th Division as the First American Division to land in Italy, at Salerno. Milburn Derryberry and Raymond Horton are two of the local boys who made that landing."

JOHN COLEMAN

November 11th reminds me of each service man in the United States that has come to the defense of their Nation in all past wars. This date, November

11th, once was in remembrance of those men that offered their lives for the defense of our great Nation in World War One. Now our national Congress has declared it to be Veterans Day for all veterans that have served in our armed forces. It is a reminder to all people of our nation and for those people that have sacrificed their lives and service for the defense of our country.

It is an appropriate time for those to reminiscence that still live, of those that have offered their lives for their country. Were not for these soldiers there would be no free United States. They have sacrificed their time and many of them their lives for those of us that still live that we might have peace and prosperity in our nation.

We are thankful to our God that we have been allowed to live and enjoy happiness and freedom of this Great Nation.

SIDNEY J. DIXON

Some World War II veterans were in units made up of men from other parts of the country and they do not have buddies here with whom to reminisce. Sidney J. Dixon, who has lived here about 20 years, is one of these.

Entering the Army from Abilene, he was a member of the 13th Engineers, 7th Division, which cleared Attu, a rocky island in the westernmost part of the Aleutian Chain, one of the few places which the Japanese invaded and secured during World War II.

"It sure had the Japs there," Dixon remembers. "They were dug in the mountains. They (the American Command) had underestimated them and when we started landing the Japs just came up like ants.

"The officers had told us--they preached to us all the way over that the Japs were much better than us with bayonets and knives, but when it came to a showdown, we were better than them."

"They gave us a counter attack, and after it was over, there were dead Japs everywhere. Of course we had some dead soldiers, too, but the Japs were just laying in piles," Dixon remembers.

The fighting lasted 31 days and nights before the U.S. Troops took the island.

The 13th engineers went in May, but it was still so cold that 200 men were sent back to the states with frozen feet.

The fighting ended, the 7th division returned to Hawaii for training in jungle warfare.

"This was not enough time. You can't learn it in two weeks," Dixon remembers. The unit was shipped to the Marshall Islands. Dixon was wounded in that fighting and returned to the United States. He was in service two years and four months.

C.A. WINTON

Some veterans' reunions are held by phone.

C.A. Winton, who served in the European Theatre of Operations, tells of one:

I have been asked to write something of what the Flag means to me, on November 11 or any other day, having gone through a war, as so many others did.

Even 35 years later, it is not easy to discuss most of it, because no one else would understand. We have lots of good friends where the white crosses stand in row after row for miles and we have not forgotten because our Flag is still there.

A few months back I had a phone call from one of my friends who I had lost contact with during the war.

I had last seen him in 1945 in Hanau, Germany, when I got on a truck headed for the train station of the first leg of my journey home. He had no word from me since, and thought I had gone down on a ship in a storm near the [illegible]es Island.

You can imagine what a reunion we had on the telephone, when we found each other and neither of us knew the other was still alive and had survived to get home and start life again.

In times like these, there is a certain bond between friends that will never be forgotten. Somehow, they will lay their life on the line for a friend without even thinking about it.

That, I think, is why all service personnel are especially proud and thankful for those friends and the American Flag and what it means, especially on November 11.

CHEERING MESSAGE

Johnny Roberts, retired Ft. Worth and Denver Railway agent, has been a friend of Wellington High School students many years. Just before the Rocket-Memphis game, when cheerleaders directed painting spirit messages on windows of business houses and they included his car. "This was what I needed. I was feeling low," Roberts commented.

DERBY WINNERS

Cub Derby Winners Announced

Robert Watts was first place winner in the annual Pinewood Derby held by Cub Scouts Thursday night, October 23, Mrs. Ray Cozad, chairman, announced following the event.

Boys and their fathers worked jointly to make the minature wooden cars which raced down an incline in the American Legion Hall.

Second place went to Mark Myrick and consolation to Kevin McDanel.

Daryon Brown's car was judged as being the best looking.

In the preliminary races, Robert Watts also placed first, while Dennis Cudd II was second and Brandon Porter won consolation. Other contestants were Bill Odle, Greg Cozad, Chad Feemster, Wiley Fires, Bruce Jones and Scott Covey.

Den 3: Lonnie Colson, first; Jay Don McCann, second and Robert Long, consolation. Mike Maxwell was the other contestant.

Den. 5: Brent Martin, first; Shane Popwell, second; and Joe Kent Clark, consolation. Others participating were Jason Clark, Shannon Settle, Gary Davis, Erick Harvey, David Duncan, Larry Hammons and Frederic Schmidt.

Den 6: Mark Myrick, first; Greg Martin, second; Rodrick Perez, consolation. Also participating were Ronny Mote, Jamie Morgan, Jessie Castillo, Rex Henard and Billy Stanley.

Webelow: Kevin McDanel, first; Redgie Perez, second; Danny Davis, consolation. Other contestants were Tony Fike, Daryon Brown, Steven Owens and Britt Schmidt.

Judges were Tommy Hudson and Walter Clements III.

Boys of Cub Pack 431 also made and distributed in business houses the posters urging Wellington citizens to vote in the General Election November 4.

7th Drops Game 26-0

Injuries cut into the effectiveness of the 7th Grade football team, and Wellington's team lost to Shamrock 26-0 here Thursday night, Nov. 30.

Shamrock made 20 of these points in the first half.

During the second, the Rocket defense stiffened to the point that the Irish youngsters could cross the goal line only once.

Wellington made one serious threat, reaching the Shamrock 10 yard line, then fumbling.

Johnny Nash bruised one foot on the second play of the game and was lost for the game. Wellington was counting on his backfield effectiveness. In addition, Shawn Davis was still out from an injury received a week earlier, accoring to coach Bryan Hill.

"I was real proud of the defense," declared the coach.

Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Patterson Honored on Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS A.C. PATTERSON

The family of Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Patterson honored them on their golden wedding anniversary Saturday, November 1, with a dinner followed by a reception.

Both events were held in Bura Handley Community Center during the evening.

Hosts were the couple's children, their husbands and wives. Earl and Delores Patterson, Virgil and Genevieve Patterson, P.J. and Rose White, and Jim and Rite Chanslor of New Iberia, La.

Both the dinner and reception were for family members, and all were present except one grandson, whose work schedule would not permit his coming.

Bronze chrysanthemums accented with gold daisies in a footed bowl were the centerpiece on a table covered with white lace over gold. A minature bride and groom topped the tiered wedding cake, and gold appointments and candles were used.

Mrs. Warren Merrell of Quitaque and Mrs. George Brewer of Amarillo served the anniversary cake while Valerie Butts of Canyon and Lesa White poured. Mrs. Bart Patterson of Stewart, Oklahoma sang "You Light Up My Life," for the couple.

Guests were registered by Mrs. James Howard Jones of Amarillo and Michelle Chanslor of New Iberia, La.

Alford Clayton Patterson and Alma Marie Hartman were married November 1, 1930 at Hollis, although both lived near Wellington.

Their entire married life has been spent farming and ranching west of Wellington.

Patterson is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Kirkland Patterson and attended school in New Mexico, Oklahoma, and at Buck Creek.

The family came here in 1921 from Roff, Oklahoma and he started farming with his father as a young man. His brothers and sisters are Johnny Patterson of Hereford; Billy Joe Patterson; Mrs. Johnny (Hazel) Guill of McLean and Mrs. Jack (Ruby) Brown.

Mrs. Patterson was born at Comanche and her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Hartman, Sr., brought their family here in 1916. She attended Buck Creek and Wellington Schools, where she graduated in 1930.

Other members of her family are a sister, Mrs. Dennis (Rene) Lacy and three brothers, Pete Hartman and J.C. Hartman, Jr., of Wellington and Shorty Hartman of Lockney.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Patterson are members of Friendship Baptist Church at Buck Creek, and he belongs to Farm Bureau.

In addition to their four children, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson have 11 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren.

Grandchildren who were present for the celebration, were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Merrell of Quitaque, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney White, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sexton, Mr. and Mrs. George Brewer and Mrs. James Jones of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Bart Patterson of Stewart, Oklahoma, Michelle and Crissy Chanslor of New Iberia, La., Pat White, Kirk Patterson and Lesa White.

Great grandchildren were Warren, Clay and PJay Merrell of Quitaque; Shannon and Leslee White, Shane Jones of Amarillo and Candace Blevins.

Birthday Party Honors Nora Mae Buske Wed.

Nora Mae Buske was honored with a birthday party at First Baptist Church, Wednesday, October 22, from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. She is a nursery worker.

Members of the nursery, their mothers and friends attended.

Mrs. Billie Ward, Mrs. Mike Hughes and Mrs. John Scott made three different birthday cakes for the affair.

Those attending were Mrs. Ollie Buske, Mrs. Scott, Laci and Cami, Mrs. Ronny O'Rear, Reagan and Joe, Mrs. G.N. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hollingsworth, Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Hughes, Sarah and James, Mrs. Hughes and Joe, Mrs. Joe Woods, Jody and Amanda,

Mrs. John DeVoss and Amber, Mrs. Carla Green and Joey, Mrs. Ward, Amy and Dennis, Mrs. Joe Blacksher, Hattie and Jodie, Mrs. Billy Wilkerson, Bobby and Janie, Mrs. Zeldon Jenkins, Ronnie and Rickv. Mrs. Kenneth Patterson and Crystal, Mrs. Raymond Hodges, Mrs. Becky Blevins and Anthony, Mrs. Andi Wauer and Ramey, Mrs. George Porter and Clay and the honored Miss Buske.

Library Friends Elect Officers

Friends of Collingsworth County library met Thursday, October 30, at 9 a.m. to elect new officers.

Mrs. B.B. Martin of Dodson was chosen as president, succeeding Miss Bonnie Willis. Mrs. Jerry Scott is the vice president; Mrs. David Caison, secretary-reporter; Mrs. George Porter, treasurer; and Mrs. Randy Motsenbocker, project chairman.

Plans were discussed for another paper drive.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Nov. 20, at 9 a.m. in the county library.

SANDRA KAY McGILL

McGill-Wright Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGill, 1606 Ellison Street, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Kay, of Austin, to Charles T. (Chuck) Wright, of San Antonio.

Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Jean Wright and Charles Wire Wright of Canyon.

A Christmas season wedding is planned, on Saturday, December 27, in First United Methodist Church, Canyon.

Miss McGill graduated from Wellington High School in 1971, and from Dallas Fashion Merchandising School the following year. She received a bachelor of science degree from West Texas State University, Canyon in 1976.

Her fiance is a 1972 graduate of Canyon High School and received a B.A. degree in Business Agriculture from WTSU in 1976.

Autumn Bridal Shower Given To Mrs. Wayne Delaney

A bridal shower given Saturday, October 25, in the Heritage Room, honored Mrs. Wayne Delaney, the former Susan Lowe.

Hostesses were Mrs. B.M. Sims, Mrs. Leon Hartman, Mrs. Earl Patterson, Mrs. Virgil Patterson, Mrs. P.J. White, Mrs. Kent Clark, Mrs. Jack Campbell, Mrs. Carl Wishchkaemper, Mrs. Roy Canada, Mrs. Sam McGill, Mrs. Jones Singley and Mrs. N.E. Childers.

Mrs. Steve Davis registered the guests and presented them to Mrs. Delaney, her mother, Mrs. Bill Lowe, and the mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. J.E. Delaney of Loco.

Fall colors were used in the silk flower arrangement that centered the refreshment table. The beige linen cloth, bordered in lace, was set with silver and crystal appointments. Mrs. Reece Bowen poured.

Out of town guests attending included Mrs. Lanora Fowler of Kingsland, grandmother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Dan Honeyfield of Midland, his sister; and the bride's aunts, Mrs. Leatha Brownlee of Amarillo and Mrs. George Barth of Shamrock.

Guidepost Christmas Package Features Former County Woman

DORIS C. CRANDALL

A former Collingsworth County resident Doris C. Crandall is the author of an article entitled "Our Out of the Blue Christmas" which has been published in the "Guideposts Family Christmas Celebration Package" of songs, stories, Scripture readings, and other inspirational material.

Born in Shamrock, the former Miss Doris Clay, moved with her family to Dozier in 1933, and her story is about her family's first Christmas in this county. She graduated from Dozier and Samnorwood schools and attended West Texas State University. She holds a diploma from the Children's Institute of Literature in Redding Ridge Connecticut.

Doris has previously authored articles which have appeared in Grit, Accent West, Power for Living, Insight and Guideposts magazines, as well as area newspapers. She also has a devotional in Daily Guideposts 1981, a book of spirit-lifting thoughts for every day of the year.

Mrs. Crandall, her husband, Richard, and their sons Richard Perry and Russell Brian now live in Amarillo. Doris is a member of Panhandle Pen Women and is currently serving as an officer of the group. She is also associated with The Mended Hearts, Inc., Chapter 54 of Amarillo and the surrounding area. Crandall is Assistant District Engineer of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, District 4, headquartered in Amarillo.

Both "Daily Guideposts 1981" and the "Guideposts Family Christmas Celebration Package" are published by Guideposts Magazine, Carmel, N.Y. 10512, and may be purchased by mail only. "The Guideposts Family Christmas Celebration Package," consists of a specially prepared stereo LP album (also available in 8-track cartridge or cassette) of songs and stories; a Guideposts Family Christmas Book containing Christmas stories, devotional messages, prayers, and remembrances; a Guideposts 1981 devotional calendar; and a Christmas tree ornament designed exclusively for Guideposts. It comes in an attractive gift box for Christmas giving.

Mrs. Crandall is sister to Mrs. Estelle Surber of Shamrock, Mrs. Lottie Cole of Wheeler, Mrs. Vivian Sikes of Little Rock, Arkansas, and Mrs. Dolly Bradstreet of Tucson, Arizona, all graduates of Samnorwood Rural High School. They are the daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. A.R. (Ott) Clay.

Fire Truck Theme of Party Honoring Timothy Hightower

Timothy Hightower was honored Sunday afternoon, November 2 with a birthday party in the fellowship hall of the Dodson Nazarene Church. He is the three year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hightower.

A "fire truck" theme was used, with the birthday cake in the shape of a fire truck.

Refreshments of cake, ice cream and punch were served to the guests and then the honoree opened his gifts.

Those attending were Paul Covey, Crysta and Jared Caswell, Misti Beanland, Melissa Mead, Jenifer and Faith Hayes, Rev. and Mrs. Dennis Hayes, Lucyanne Hayes, Shanna Urban, Roy Cardwell, Mrs. Sandy Covey, Mrs. Randell Caswell, Mrs. Doug Mead, Mrs. Raymond Ford, Mrs. Garland Hightower, Mrs. Tommy Hightower and the honoree, Timothy Hightower.

PRISCILLA BERGGREN- STANLEY PARKER

Berggren-Parker Wedding Planed

Mr. and Mrs. George Berggren of Quincy, Illinois announce the engagement of their daughter, Priscilla, to Dr. Stanley Parker, son of Lorraine Parker and the late Wayne Parker of Wellington.

Miss Berggren, who is a senior dental student at Baylor College of Dentistry of Dallas, received her bachelor's degree from Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington, Illinois.

Dr. Parker received his bachelor of science degree from West Texas State University and a D.D.S. from Baylor College of Dentistry in 1979. He is presently doing a residency in orthodontics at Baylor.

Gold Star 4-H Members Of Panhandle Honored

AMARILLO--Forty outstanding members of 4-H Clubs in the Texas Panhandle were honored here Saturday night, Nov. 1.

In addition to receiving the Gold Star Award, highest honor presented at the county level, the youths and their guests were challenged by Gray County Judge Carl Kennedy to place service to their fellowman high in their priorities for life.

Joining the youths at the awards banquet at The Inn were parents, government officials, Extension leaders, fellow 4-H'ers and other community leaders. Hosts for the banquet were five member-owned electric cooperatives serving the Panhandle District of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The co-ops are Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, Inc., Hereford; Rita Blanca Electric Cooperative, Inc., Dalhart; North Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., Perryton; Swisher Electric Cooperative, Inc., Tulia, and Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Inc., Wellington. The 4-H youth program in Texas is directed by Extension.

Honored from Collingsworth County were Ed Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Campbell of Wellington; and Stacy Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Scott of Wellington.

Attending the banquet with the Gold Star guests of honor were their parents along with Extension Agent Don Reeves and Mrs. Reeves.

Focusing on the banquet theme, "Expanding Horizons in 4-H," Kennedy urged the audience to analyze what each could do to make their life more meaningful. He urged the youths to make their top priorities an acknowledgment of God and a concern for their fellowman.

"Serving others is one of the greatest joys to be found," he said. He cited county Extension agents as a prime example of "the thrill that comes with serving."

Guests were welcomed by Miss Adelle Elkins of Swisher County Electric Cooperative. Albin Peters of Moore County, chairman of the district 4-H Council, was master of ceremonies. Entertainment was by Rhonda Woods, Gray County 4-H delegate, and the Googenheim Boys, a country-western band from Oldham County.

Other 4-H'ers on the program were Teresa Woods, Gray County; Mary Jo Turpin, Randall County; Shannon Batton, Wheeler County; Teresa Martin, Wheeler County; Glena West, Deaf Smith County; Kimi Collier, Moore County, and Flynn Farris, Dallam County.

The Gold Star Awards were presented by Mrs. Sue Farris and Paul Gross, district Extension directors.

Singer at Keenagers

Keenagers of First Baptist Church met in the Fellowship Hall Friday, October 31 for their regular luncheon.

Todd Roberson brought the program, singing several religious songs.

Members of the hospitality committee were Mrs. Mary Fulcher, Mrs. Jamesy Keller, Mrs. Lucille Savage, Mrs. Claudia Sweat and Mrs. Bertha Mae Keller.

Guests included Roberson, Charles Hollingsworth, Mrs. Stanley Hughes with Sarah and James, and Barbara Ayne Lennon.

Members present were Mrs. Viola Maroney, Mrs. Virgie Jones, Alva Cristy, Mrs. Nora Parker Myers, Mrs. Cordie Cunningham, Mrs. Maude Vaughan, Mrs. Donnie Huston, Mrs. Susie Crawford, Mrs. Ethel Lowrie, Mrs. Rowena Thigpen, Mrs. Vera Roberson, Mrs. Nell Cook, Mrs. Bernice Simpson, Mrs. Loren Lennon, Mrs. Eva Fulcher and Mrs. Ben Wilhelm.

Myra Hays Club Speaker

Myra Hays, B&PW Club legislative chairman, was the speaker when club members held their dinner meeting Tuesday, October 28, in Bura Handley Community Center.

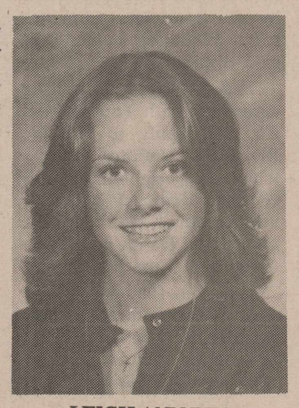

In "Time of Action for 'legislation," she discussed the legislative platform adopted by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at its annual meeting this year.

This calls for equality in certain Social Security provisions relating to divorced women and to the homemaker.

Another provision relates to research by B&PW in prevention of family violence against women and children.

Guests were Elaine Smith and Mrs. Rhuia Ketchum, and members present were Mrs. Dudley Phipps, Mrs. Glenn McLain, Mrs. Pearl Harwell, Ms. Cheryl Brown, Mrs. Goldie Barnett, Mrs. Clara Mote, Mrs. Truman Estes, Mrs. Ernest Harwell, Miss Hays, Mrs. D.R. McKinney, Mrs. Kenneth Foster and Mrs. Erma Kersten.

Society Taps Leigh Beam For Outstanding Studies

LEIGH ANN BEAM

Leigh Ann Beam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Beam of Amarillo, has been selected as a member of the Society of Distinguished American High School Students. The family formerly lived here.

The society, one of the nation's foremost high school honoraries, taps students because of their demonstrated excellence in scholastic leadership and civic achievement. Only two percent of all students in the U.S. are accepted.

Miss Beam was nominated by her sponsor at First Baptist Church in Amarillo, where she plays the flute in the church orchestra and is in the chapel choir.

She will represent Tascosa High School, where she is a senior and member of the National Honor Society.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dickey of Dimmitt and the great granddaughter of Mrs. Joe Thompson, 1201 El Paso Street, and Mrs. Essie Helvey of Dimmitt, formerly of Wellington.

Weight, Exercise Class Announced

Extension Service will once again begin a Nutrition Weight Control Tomorrow and Exercise Workshop in Collingsworth County.

The workshop first meeting will be Thursday, November 6, 1980, 7:00 p.m. at the National Guard Armory.

Thirty million Americans are over weight and 15 million Americans are obese to a degree that actually shortens their lives said, Jean Chandler, Extension Agent-Home Economics.

There is a significant correlation between obesity and ill health including cardiovascular disease, hypertension, diabetes and arthritis.

The purpose of the Nutrition Today Weight Control Tomorrow and Exercise workshop is to help people learn proper eating habits and to exercise properly to become physically fit.

Miss Chandler, will enroll adults 18 years of age and older who are interested in improving their health.

Additional information about the workshop may be obtained by contacting Miss Chandler at her office in the county courthouse in Wellington, phone 447-2313.

A computer analysis revealed that the square most likely to be landed on in the game Monopoly is Illinois Avenue, followed by Go, the B&O Railroad and Free Parking.

Mrs. Jerry Barton and Misty Honored Saturday at Shower

Mrs. Jerry Barton and her new daughter, Misty, were honored with a baby shower Saturday, November 1, in the Heritage Room.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ray Menge, Mrs. Mike Hughes, Mrs. George Porter, Mrs. John Blevins, Mrs. Keith Upchurch, Mrs. Raymond Hodges, Mrs. John Scott and Mrs. Fred Mayhugh.

The theme was "Nursery Time," and ABC blocks centered the refreshment table. The pink cake was trimmed in white that spelled out "Misty." An ivory Quaker lace cloth was used.

The register table was covered with ivory linen, edged in lace. A single colonial candleholder with a pink candle complimented the baby book.

Friends called from one-thirty to three-thirty in the afternoon. Speical guests were Misty's grandmother, Mrs. Raymond Barton of Quail, and her great-grandmother Mrs. Morris Barton.

NRTA Meets November 11

The county unit of the Retired Teachers Association will hold its Thanksgiving meeting Tuesday, Nov. 11, in the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church. Starting time is 2 p.m. Members will sing God Bless America, and Garell Forehand minister of the Church of Christ, will speak on "Let's Be Thankful."

Hostesses will be Mrs. J.D. Coleman, Miss Bonnie Willis and Mrs. Charley Hill.

Promising Aquaculture

Aquaculture, farming the products of oceans, rivers and bays, is a new word to many, as it offers a new potential for Texas farmers.

Why would arid Texas have a future in aquaculture? The major reason is that Texas isn't all arid. In Wichita County in the midst of searing heat and weeks on end without rain, an irrigated farm near Valley View was raising to marketable size a crop of fresh water shrimp for the market.

Catfish farming long has been a popular pursuit among specialist farmers. Now culture of new species, not the least of which could be the shrimp species raised in Wichita County, is showing enough promise to attract attention in Washington.

Americans eat a lot of fish, and, like television sets and automobiles, a substantial portion of the domestic market is based on imported products. But more than half the fish we consume is imported because the demand cannot be filled by domestic fisheries or American commercial salt water fishermen.

Aquaculture shows promise of reducing the portion of the balance of payments deficit caused by excessive imports of fish. In addition to catfish and fresh water shrimp, Texas fish farmers are breeding bass, forage fish and baitfish. Even an exotic species, tilapia, which can efficiently convert plant matter into protein, shows promise in trials in the state.

Mama Mia!

For the 13th year in a row, Scholastic Aptitude Test scores have declined, but new fear: Here comes the Department of Education, primed with $14.5 billion, 16,000 employees and lots of answers to America's educational crisis.

Just for starters, says the department in a 25-page set of regulations, let's reform bilingual education. Say a given school has at least 25 students deficient in English. Make the school offer basic courses — arithmetic, for example — in the students' native languages. If the school refuses, yank its federal aid.

Of course you won't see many schools renouncing their federal money. What you will see, if the regulations are not rescinded or upset by the federal courts, is schools scrambling to hire new teachers proficient in languages. Certain school districts have students who speak more than 60 different tongues. Imagine the fun, not to say the expense, of fleshing out the language faculty!

If American education's primary needs are for more bureaucracy, less flexibility for local school districts, more expense for the taxpayers, less opportunity for melding foreign-born students into the English-speaking culture — why, the education department's regulations are a thundering success.

As to that, we have rather different ideas; but it's probably impolite to mention how the government has contrived to waste another $14 billion.

FROM HIS WORD . . .

If we as God's chosen vessels on earth could see in the Spirit as Paul did in his letter to the Ephesians, what change there would be in our relationship with ourself and our brothers in Christ.

"For this reason, I bow my knees before the Father, from whom every family in heaven and on the earth derives its name, that He would grant you, according to the riches of His glory, to be strengthened with power through His Spirit in the inner man; so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; and that you, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and heighth and depth, and to know the love of Christ which surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled up to all fulness of God." (Eph. 3:14-19)

Oh! to be filled with the knowledge and fulness of God, what a glory to Him in Christ Jesus to all generations forever and ever. Amen. REO

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—House Speaker Bill Clayton, cleared last week of Brilab charges of influence peddling, has indicated he will run again for Speaker.

Clayton said he will make a formal announcement of his candidacy sometime this week. Already the first person to serve an unprecedented three terms as Speaker, Clayton seeks a fourth term against State Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas.

A third candidate, Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, is a top member of Clayton's conservative team in the Legislature. Lewis held the faction together throughout Clayton's legal woes, and has said he will step down if Clayton runs. Observers are waiting now for Lewis to announce otherwise . . . or withdraw for Clayton.

"I am running. In fact, I have already recontacted enough House members. We already have the election assured," Clayton said last week.

The Lewis Factor

While Clayton struggled with Brilab, his legislative supporters rallied around the candidacy of Lewis, who did a superb job of preventing a splintering into lesser factions. Lewis reportedly maintained some 90-plus votes (76 votes needed to win), and stood stronger than other announced candidates who eventually pledged to him or Bryant.

A fourth candidate, Craig Washington, D-Houston, was named speaker pro tem by Clayton last week. Washington, a black who is generally graded among the ablest lawmakers, is a lawyer who aided Clayton's Brilab defense.

Should Clayton win when the Legislature convenes in January, he will owe much to the pair, particularly Lewis. Lewis will no doubt receive a committee plum for his stewardship, unless he challenges Clayton. The conservative lobby reportedly wanted Lewis to continue his bid, but may now have decided Clayton is not as tainted by Brilab as was expected.

The Bryant Factor

Bryant is generally credited with a solid backing of about 35 votes. An outspoken and gutsy legislator, his hopes may be diminishing. After all, how could he defeat his nemisis Clayton if he could not overcome the surrogate Lewis?

For the first time, serious consideration of a replacement Speaker candidate for Bryant is being heard on the liberal side. If Bryant's strength has peaked, his cause may be better served if the leadership role is given to a more moderate candidate, such as Ron Coleman, D-El Paso, or Lynn Nabors, D-Brownwood.

And, too, many members are tired of the age-old feud between Clayton and Bryant which has bloodied the House on more than one occasion. Although Clayton and Bryant are the most skillful of legislators, fresh faces might be welcome in either camp. Clayton is touted now as a shoo-in, but anything can happen in the next two-and-a-half months.

More Medicaid Flak

Board members of the Texas Department of Human Resources last week hired a private consulting firm to review bids submitted by two insurance companies for a $2 billion state Medicaid contract.

The $100,000 consulting agreement with Touche-Ross Co. will apply to bids by Bradford National Corp., which was originally awarded the Medicaid program, and National Heritage Co., owned by Dallas multi-millionaire H. Ross Perot.

Perot has filed suit to prevent a final contract signing for Bradford in an attempt to keep the contract, now administered by National.

Special Election

Governor Bill Clements called for a special election Nov. 22 to fill the seat of State Rep. Mike Ezzell of Snyder, who resigned last month to serve on a health services state agency.

The special election has ired taxpayers in that district, since the winner will serve only until Jan. 12, when the Legislature convenes. At that time Representative-elect Larry Don Shaw will take his seat in the House, and the special election winner will go home.

Clements' move is seen as a ploy to give some Republican a chance to build name identification for a future race against Democrats. Some locals feel it's a big waste of tax money.

Lubbock Man Manager of Bronco Seed

Guy Blanchard of Lubbock has been named the Wellington manager of Bronco Seed Co., according to an announcement by Gerald Proctor of Stamford, president.

Blanchard has been with the Gustaffson Chemical Co. of Dallas for 6 years.

At the same time, Proctor announced that the plant, which is located in the old Tindall Gin a mile south of Wellington, is in the process of being completed.

"We hope to be able to process seed next week," he said. "We want to know the people of this area and we invite you to come by and have coffee with us and get acquainted. We'll be glad for you to inspect the plant.

"We've never met friendlier people than those we've come in contact with here and we're glad to be part of you."

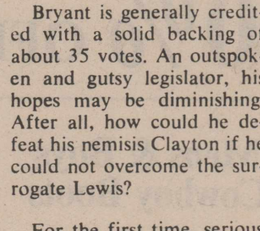

The plant presently is set up for cleaning and processing cotton, and since making the purchase, Proctor has announced plans for a cleaning plant for small grain, should be ready by next summer. A warehouse building and seed storage building are under construction.

Blanchard, a native of Chillicothe, is a graduate of Texas Tech University School of Agriculture. His wife, Mary, is also a West Texan, and the couple have a son four months old.

They are Methodists.

CARC Selects Officer Slate

Officers and three directors of the newly formed County Association of Retarded Citizens were named at a recent meeting, and those interested in work with the area's retarded, heard of several projects which may be proposed.

Bonnie Hall, a staff member of Wellington Family Service Center, was elected president. Auvarie Dodson of Dodson is vice president; Kay Meade, secretary; and Cheryl Brown, who is director of the Wellington Satellite Workshop, is treasurer.

Three board members are Willie B. Harwell, Leona Sosa and Joe Thomas.

Dr. Jack Blackstone, executive director of the Association of Retarded Citizens of Texas, discussed some of the things he would like to see happen to benefit the retarded citizens of the Collingsworth area.

"One of the major things is residential care," Blackstone said, but reminded that during the first year, the association must set a goal and conduct a membership drive.

The regular meeting date will be the Third Thursday of each month, at 5:30 p.m. in the Heritage Room. This is open to any interested person.

In the near future, Janet Weltz, who is with the association in its Amarillo office, will visit Wellington to take slides of training which the handicapped of this area receive as well as other facets of their lives. This will be formulated into a program which Ms. Weltz will show here in February.

In addition to residential care, Blackstone outlined the possibility of a thrift shop, which he called one of the first things that would be done for Wellington, to be operated by the retarded citizens.

Assisting Blackstone in the work in this part of Texas is Terri Bennett, vice president for the region.

Those wishing additional informatiin on the CARC and its proposed work can contact Mrs. Brown.

SAVE $14.00 ON EVERY $50 PURCHASE

By Shopping In Wellington

Did you ever drive 60 miles or more to take advantage of a super special? An item that costs you $50 locally would have to save you $14.40 if you drove 60 miles round-trip to get it and just wanted to break even.

The American Automobile Association certifies that 24.0 cents is what it costs to drive your car one mile. That sweet buy can suddenly turn quite sour.

And each 60 miles takes 3 to 6 gallons of gasoline — gasoline that could be saved — gasoline for which we wouldn't have to import oil.

Local merchants, whether they sell groceries, clothing, drugs, hardware, appliances or whatever, feature top line nationally advertised products at competitive prices. These same merchants support your schools, churches and civic groups. They help us all pay for the improvements that make this a better place to live.

So save yourself some money, help fight the energy crisis and support local merchants. And save the drive to faraway communities. Shopping at home is a wonderfully simple way to do yourself several favors at once.

Skyrockets Down Irish, 22-7

Wellington Skyrockets rolled to a 22-7 win over Shamrock Friday, October 31, at Shamrock to leave the Rockets 2-1 in district play.

Shamrock scored and took the lead on their first possession, driving 66 yards in a ground and passing attack until quarterback Chris Darrow sneaked over from the one yard line. Carl Bennett's extra point kick made it 7-0.

The Rockets came back with Darrell Thomas and Tim Anderson alternating as ball carriers from their own 20, racking up four first downs before the drive stalled at the Shamrock 19. A big third down play by Channy Wood and Doug Gibson forced Shamrock to give the ball back though. This time the Rockets started from the Shamrock 43 and 10 plays later Kenneth Warren followed the left side of the Rocket offensive line's blocking for the touchdown from the 2.

An extra point pass failed, and the Rockets still trailed by a point.

David Castillo made another big third down play that forced a Shamrock punt on their next possession, and stops by Rand Johnson and David Castillo and Kenneth Warren's pass rushes stopped the next Shamrock drive before the half.

After halftime Joe Saldana and David Castillo stalled the Irish with a fumble recovery once, and then on Shamrock's next fourth down, the Irish fumbled again and the ball went over at the Irish 36.

The Rockets took advantage of the bobble with a 10 play drive for the score. Kenneth Warren got things going on a sweep left and a second play following John Paul Munn's block for the first. The Rockets suffered a 15-yard penalty, but Tim Anderson scampered 20 yards and drug two defenders 5 more yards to make it up. Then good execution by the Rocket line on a trap play twice in a row gave Anderson's speed some operating space and the Rockets found themselves on the 5. From the five Tim Anderson made the go-ahead score. Jody Coleman faked the option and kept the ball for two extra points to make it 14-7 at the end of the third quarter.

Paul Estes set up the next Rocket score with a Shamrock fumble recovery in the fourth quarter.

Kenneth Warren and Darrell Thomas turned in exciting runs to move the ball to the Shamrock 14, but a 15-yarder backed the Rockets up. This time Jody Coleman came back with a 15 yard pass to Darrell Thomas, and linemen and backs for the score. Jody Coleman's extra-point pass bounched off two Shamrock defenders and Tim Harris hauled it down for two points to make the final score 22-7.

BLOCKS

Darrell Thomas, 30, threads his way through Shamrock defenders behind the blocks of Doug Gibson, 63, and Channy Wood, 72.

8th Defeats Shamrock 8-0 Thursday

Wellington Firecrackers, 8th grade football team, defeated Shamrock eighth 8-0, here Thursday, Oct. 30, but not before the Irish junior high team gave Wellington a scare.

The only score came in the second period, as Shamrock punted and Wellington took the ball on its own 30. James Benton threw a halfback pass to Jimmy for 40 yards, then Barber and Benton moved the ball to the Shamrock 15.

Mike Souder then hit Jamie McKay in the end zone for 6 points.

The try for two extra points was good, and from there on it was a defensive game.

"Shamrock came out with a single wing formation and I think the last time that was used was when Theodore Roosevelt was president. We didn't know how to work on it. Then they came out with a unbalanced line and that gave us a lot of problems. We made some adjustments at halftime and were lucky enough to hold them," said Coach Ray Bostick.

In the fourth James Bergvall had a 20-yard touchdown run called back because of a penalty.

They were never able to break one on us, although they have a halfback who was ineligible in the last game, but Firecrackers were able to hold him, Bostick said.

Shamrock's deepest penetration was to the Wellington 20.

JV Outscores Shamrock 38-0

Wellington Junior Varisty took its second victory this season over Shamrock Irish JV, a 38-0 win Thursday night, Oct. 30, on Powell Field.

Play was above what the score would indicate, as Shamrock could bring only 15 men while Wellington's squad numbered around 30.

Coach Mark Reasor used three quarterbacks, each of whom turned in an excellent performance. This was to give these boys added experience before the season ends, he pointed out.

Quarterback Darvin Nix put Wellington on the scoreboard with a touchdown on a 10 yard run midway through the first period. The Rocket JV had taken possession of the ball on downs at midfield, and Bruce Alexander, playing fullback at that point, did most of the carrying.

Nix scored again at the beginning of the second quarter, this time on a four yard run around right end.

This score was also set up in midfield with Alexander carrying the ball on most of the plays.

Attempts to kick the extra point failed on both touchdowns.

Alexander moved over to quarterback postition, one which he played while enrolled in WHS last year. Later he left Wellington and this move made him ineligible to play with the varsity this season although he is definitely of varsity material, says Reasor. He also had an arm injury earlier and couldn't throw. With that healed, Reasor felt it was time to give Alexander more quarterback experience.

On the next scoring drive, Alexander broke on the Shamrock 20 and carried the Shamrock one foot line. On the next play he carried the ball over for Wellington's third touchdown. Mark Hunnicutt kicked the extra point.

Reasor calls Alexander "by far the best ball carrier I have."

Just before the half, Shamrock fumbled the ball on its own 40, Wellington recovered and drove the ball down for Shane Cobb to account for the fourth score and Hunnicutt again kicked the extra point to give Wellington a 26-0 lead at halftime.

Early in the third, the Rockets held Shamrock on their own 40, and took the ball on downs. They set up a touchdown on a 25 yard pass play from Alexander to Jeff Barnett, then Barnett ran a double reverse from 15 yards to score. Again the extra point attempt failed.

Wellington's last score came early in the fourth period, as sophomore Joe Bill Munn went in at quarterback and played most of the period.

Munn got possession of the ball at the 50 and threw a pass to Kirby Pennon for good distance. Wellington then drove the ball on runs to the 5 yard line, where Munn threw another pass, this time to Greg Outley that was good for the touchdown. This try for extra point also failed, and the game ended 38-0.

Shamrock got inside the Wellington 20 only once, but the Rocket line held.

Reasor commended the Shamrock JV. "What they had was good but they don't have as many kids as we do in Wellington.

"That says something good for Coach Williams, who keeps the kids coming.

Junior Teams Will Host Clarendon

Wellington junior teams will host Clarendon Thursday, Nov. 6, as the 1980 season nears an end.

Was in the first junior varsity meeting, October 2, that the Rocket JV lost a game to an official's prematurely whistling the ball dead during a Wellington touchdown play although there was no infraction on the Rockets part.

Under UIL rules, the decision stood.

Although they will have an at home disadvantage, Coach Mark Reasor believes his JV is playing considerably better than they were at the time of that game a month ago and he is looking for a win.

The 8th Grade Firecrakers are in contention for the Junior High District Championship, said Bostick. For this round, their record is 2-0-1, and if the Firecrackers can win the next two games, with Clarendon and Canadian, they will also win the championship according to Coach Ray Bostick.

The Clarendon game will be played here, and the Canadian game there.

Bostick cited strength in his defense: Mike Green and Tommy Brown, who blocks well; also Greg Bowen, Rodney Saldana and Eugene Mote.

Wellington's overall record is 3-3-2.

Wellington 7th grade won from Clarendon at their first meeting, and he is convinced they can do this again. Coach Bryan Hill has been playing his younger boys quite a bit in recent games and this will give the Wellington more depth. He considers the teams evenly matched.

The final game will be played November 14, when the JV, 8th and 7th grade teams go to Canadian.

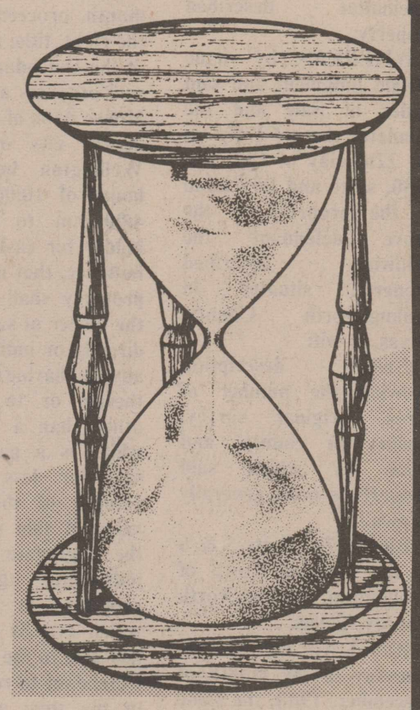

Abundant Life Announces Services

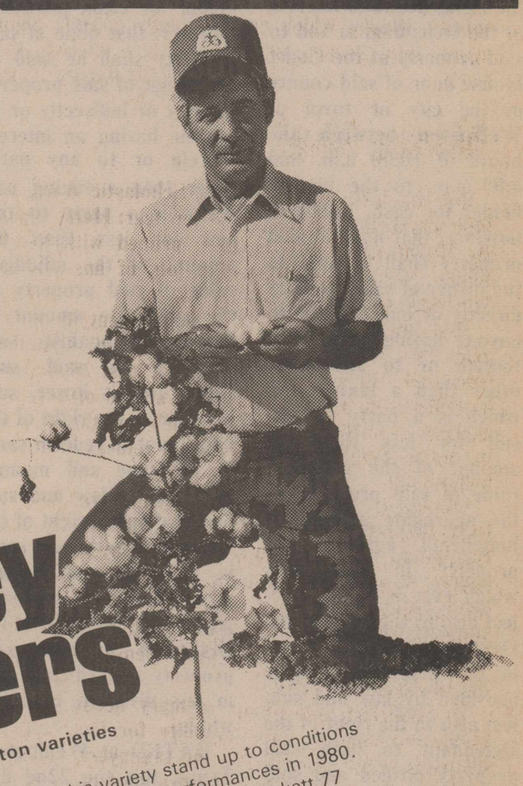

Abundant Life Fellowship (formerly Living Word Bible Center), 9th and Haskell Streets, announced a schedule of regular services this week. Sunday morning worship will be at 9:45 a.m., Sunday evening at 6:00 p.m. and Wednesday evening at 7:00 p.m.

Brother Joe G. Jernigan, pastor, extended an invitation to the public to participate in worship services and Bible classes at the fellowship. "Abundant Life Fellowship will remain interdenominational and full gospel," Jernigan said.

Certified Lockett 77 — We saw this variety stand up to conditions that saw other varieties deliver disappointing performances in 1980. From emergence through fruiting and on into harvest, Lockett 77 showed its strength throughout the season. It demonstrated its resistance to bacterial blight and the fusarium wilt-nematode complex. And it proved itself in a variety of management programs on both irrigated and non-irrigated land. Fiber quality has been good, too.
Certified PR80 — Seed for this variety is hard to come by, so many of our customers will have to wait for PR80 until next season. But we encourage you to keep an eye on this powerful new variety from Pioneer. You'll like its early maturity. And its yields will make you think twice about planting anything else. Along with resistance to many common cotton diseases, PR80 shows good fiber qualities and high gin turnout. We really like the looks of this one! You will, too!

Horace Small, Farmer-Rancher, Dies Thursday

Horace M. Small, a farmer and rancher whose family was one of the earliest to settle in this county, died in Childress General Hospital at 6:45 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 20. He was 64 and had been in failing health for a number of months. For almost 20 years he had lived north of Wellington.

In addition to his own livestock and farming operations, Small was also associated for a number of years with Wellington Livestock Sales and with Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc. Later he was a dispatcher in the office of Sheriff John Rainey, and also was associated with Wellington Veterinary Hospital.

Horace Matthew Small was born February 20, 1916, in Shamrock, the son of H.M. Small, Sr., and Beth Trimble Small. After the death of his mother, he made his home with his grandparents, the late Judge and Mrs. E.H. Small who had settled in the Aberdeen community while it was the headquarters for the Rocking Chair ranche. Later they lived in Shamrock then moved to Wellington in 1936, when Small was 16.

He was a graduate of Wellington High School and belonged to the Church of Christ.

On June 22, 1937, he was married to Miss Pauline Starr. She died February 27, 1960.

Small and Gale Catherall of Childress were married Oct. 5, 1963, at Clovis, N.M.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday, November 1, at 2 p.m. in the Church of Christ, with Garell Forehand, minister, and Rev. Frank Ferrel, pastor of Central Christian Church, Childress, officiating. Burial was in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were John Rainey, Dub Hyso of Amarillo, Jim Henard, Pete Nipper, Emory Hunter, Jimmy Cochran, John R. Henard, Jr., and Dr. Mark Fires.

Survivors are his wife, Gale Small of Wellington; and one sister, Mrs. Charles Skelton of N.M. His only relative now living here is Mrs. L.C. Hill, a cousin.

Girl Scouts Hold Party On Halloween

A costume contest was held, with the girls being judged in four categories.

Misty Burge was judged to be the prettiest contestant; Stacey Fires, the most original; Kim Morris, scariest and Jonny Settle, funniest.

Judges were Mrs. John Holton and Mrs. Bill Beall.

Three gypsies appeared to tell the girls fortunes, then they moved on to have their faces made up as spooks and goblins.

A spook house with all the scarry trimmings was the main attraction for the evening.

Halloween pinatas filled with candy were hung and burst by members to each troop.

Because no Halloween party is complete without bobbing for apples, all the girls came up with apples in their mouths and wet noses.

A puppet show was presented as the girls were served refreshments.

Gross Sales $4 Million

Gross sales in Collingsworth County for the second quarter of 1980 amounted to $4,815,853, according to the office of State Comptroller Bob Bullock. This came from the county's 86 reporting outlets.

Gross taxable sales were the same figure, with deductions amounting to $3,222,398.

This left county sales of $1,596,259 subject to sales tax.

Edgar Lockhart entertained his relatives Sunday. Picture taking and visiting lasted throughout the day. Dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. Regie Judd, Brent and Jason of Fritch, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Judd of Amarillo, Michael Breedlove, Calvin Lockhart, Faron Lockhart, Travis Lockhart and the host, Mr. Lockhart.

Mrs. Bearden, Longtime Area Resident, Dies

A 55-year-resident, Mrs. C.S. Bearden died in Collingsworth General Hospital Thursday at 10:40 p.m. She had been a resident of Thomas Nursing Center two years. She was 79 years of age.

For many years she and the late Mr. Bearden operated one of the fine commercial peach orchards east of Wellington, which was widely known over the Panhandle. Only their retirement brought an end to the operation.

Mrs. Bearden was the former Ivan Mae Mitchell, the daughter of Ivan Mitchell and Lillie Foster Mitchell, and was born in Missouri, Nov. 10, 1900.

Later she lived in Arkansas and was married there to Charley S. Bearden at Rudy, March 8, 1921. He preceded her in death Nov. 30, 1963.

Upon leaving Alma, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Bearden farmed at Shamrock a number of years, then in the Lone Mound community moving to the Wellington area, they lived two miles south of town for 13 years, then moved to the place east of Wellington where they established their orchard.

Mrs. Bearden was a member of First Baptist Church.

Funeral services were conducted at First Baptist Church at 3 p.m. Sunday, with the Rev. Stanley Hughes, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Guy Owens Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Richard Nall, Richard Fourmentin, Bobo Castleberry, James Richardson, Jack Neeley and Rodell Byers.

Survivors are one son, Herbert Bearden of Wellington; two daughters, Mrs. A.B. Cooper, Jr., of Las Vegas, Nevada, and Mrs. Ruth Damron of Portland, Texas; one sister, Mrs. Ethel Brewer of Wellington; 9 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

One son, Lucien Bearden preceded her in death October 4, 1974.

FFA Initiates New Greenhands

Wellington FFA chapter held its traditional Greenhand ceremonies Tuesday, October 28.

The new members were required to furnish ice cream and other food for the event, and to say the FFA creed as part of their initiation into the organization.

After repeating the creed, the new members were presented their pins.

Dee Dee Heisler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Bowen, was selected the new FFA Sweetheart.

Who's New — in the — Wellington Area

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hollingsworth are the parents of a son, Jason Todd, born October 28 at Childress. He weighed seven pounds, thirteen ounces. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Hollingsworth and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Smith, all of Duncan, Oklahoma. The great grandmother is Mrs. Rose E. Smith of Marlow, Oklahoma.

Personal

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hill through last week was their granddaughter, Candace Floyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Floyd of Lubbock. Her parents and sister, Suzanne, came for her over the weekend. Another visitor in the Hill home was her sister, Mrs. Ileta Thomas of Amarillo.
